The prophet Jeremiah was heartbroken as he witnessed the extent of his people's sin and foresaw the judgment coming upon them. The books of Jeremiah and Lamentations express this grief so frequently and poignantly that Jeremiah has been called the "weeping prophet." Many who imagine a prophet probably picture an angry malcontent railing against society, but Jeremiah's righteous anger was fueled by his passion for his people as well as his God.

The Book of Jeremiah contains prophecies given during the lowest point in Judah's history—the start of the Babylonian exile. Ironically, about the time that Jeremiah commenced his ministry, King Josiah had begun instituting reforms, and Judah seemed to be making a turnaround. Nevertheless, the Lord's judgment was certain. The wickedness of Manasseh, Josiah's grandfather, added to a pile of sins that the nation had been heaping up for years. As a result, God vowed to allow Judah to go into captivity (2 Kin. 21:10–15), repeating His intentions even as Josiah was having repairs made to the temple (22:15–20).

This devastating judgment came to pass during Jeremiah's lifetime. The Babylonians attacked Jerusalem three times, finally destroying the city in 587 B.C. Through it all, Jeremiah continued to warn his people to turn back to God, to give up their idols, to practice piety toward the Lord and integrity toward each other, and to refrain from shoring up the nation's faltering defenses by making military alliances with foreign countries, particularly Egypt. At one point Jeremiah was led by the Lord to visit a potter's house, where the Lord spoke to him, explaining that just as the potter may refashion his clay vessels into new creations as he sees fit, so the Lord could just as easily transform Israel as He saw fit, promising to destroy it or build it up according to its just deserts.

Judah's population generally ignored these warnings. They doubted that God would actually allow foreigners to capture Jerusalem, and they thought it inconceivable that their temple could ever be destroyed. They assumed their covenant with God gave them special protection regardless of whether they honored their side of the agreement.

This attitude signaled the need for a new relationship between God and His people. Jeremiah outlined this change in his prophecy of a new covenant (31:31–34). The new covenant would not only encourage but empower people to live out God's will. In Jeremiah's words, God's law would be written no longer on tablets of stone but on their minds and hearts (31:33). It would be a covenant not of law and condemnation but of grace and forgiveness. This bright promise anticipated by five hundred years the work of grace accomplished by Jesus Christ through His death on the cross and by the Holy Spirit coming to indwell believers.

The Book of Jeremiah was written by the prophet Jeremiah (see his profile at Jer. 1:1), and his personality and emotions are evident throughout the book. His prophecies contain many literary styles including poetry, prose, lament, allegory, correspondence, parable, history, and biography. The material is not organized in chronological order, making reading the book as an account of history a challenge.

Jeremiah's call to be a prophet occurred around 626 B.C. His work continued through the reigns of five kings—Josiah, Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, and Zedekiah (see "The Life and Times of Jeremiah" at Jer. 1:3)—and the governorship of Gedaliah, who was appointed by the Babylonians to manage Jerusalem after its fall in 587 B.C.

After Gedaliah was assassinated, the city's citizens fled to Egypt, taking Jeremiah along. Because of its close association with the theme, style, and topic of Jeremiah, the Book of Lamentations is also believed to have been written by that prophet.

The Book of Jeremiah focuses on Jerusalem, but the kingdoms of Babylon to the northeast and Egypt to the southwest, along with other nations in the ancient Middle East, also play important parts in these prophecies (see the "Judgment and Redemption for the Nations" at Jer. 46:1).

Key Verses in Jeremiah

- "Your iniquities have turned these things away, and your sins have withheld good from you" (Jer. 5:25).
- "Is there no balm in Gilead?" (Jer. 8:22).
- "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, let not the mighty man glory in his might, nor let the rich man glory in his riches; but let him who glories glory in this, that he understands and knows Me, that I am the LORD, exercising lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth. For in these I delight" (Jer. 9:23, 24).
- "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; who can know it?" (Jer. 17:9).
- "As the clay is in the potter's hand, so are you in My hand" (Jer. 18:6).
- "Cursed be the day in which I was born! Let the day not be blessed in which my mother bore me!" (Jer. 20:14).
- "Seek the peace of the city" (Jer. 29:7).
- "For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, says the LORD, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope" (Jer. 29:11).

- “I will put My law in their minds, and write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people” (Jer. 31:33).

Jeremiah 1

[1]The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests who were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin, Jeremiah

[2]to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

[3]It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month. The Life and Times of Jeremiah

The Prophet Is Called

4Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

> [5]"Before I formed you in the womb I knew you;
> Before you were born I sanctified you;
> I ordained you a prophet to the nations."

[6]Then said I:

> "Ah, Lord GOD!
> Behold, I cannot speak, for I am a youth."

[7]But the LORD said to me:

> "Do not say, 'I am a youth,'
> For you shall go to all to whom I send you,
> And whatever I command you, you shall speak.
> [8]Do not be afraid of their faces,

For I am with you to deliver you,” says the LORD.

9Then the LORD put forth His hand and touched my mouth, and the LORD said to me:

“Behold, I have put My words in your mouth.
10See, I have this day set you over the nations and over the kingdoms,
To root out and to pull down,
To destroy and to throw down,
To build and to plant.”

11Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, “Jeremiah, what do you see?” And I said, “I see a branch of an almond tree.”

12Then the LORD said to me, “You have seen well, for I am ready to perform My word.”

13And the word of the LORD came to me the second time, saying, “What do you see?” And I said, “I see a boiling pot, and it is facing away from the north.”

14Then the LORD said to me:

“Out of the north calamity shall break forth
On all the inhabitants of the land.
15For behold, I am calling All the families of the kingdoms of the north,” says the LORD;
“They shall come and each one set his throne
At the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, Against all its walls all around,
And against all the cities of Judah.
16I will utter My judgments

Against them concerning all their wickedness,
Because they have forsaken Me,
Burned incense to other gods,
And worshiped the works of their own hands.

17 “Therefore prepare yourself and arise,
And speak to them all that I command you.
Do not be dismayed before their faces,
Lest I dismay you before them.
18 For behold, I have made you this day
A fortified city and an iron pillar,
And bronze walls against the whole land—
Against the kings of Judah, Against its princes,
Against its priests,
And against the people of the land.
19 They will fight against you,
But they shall not prevail against you.
For I am with you,” says the LORD, “to deliver you.”

Jeremiah 2

God's Case Against Israel

1 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 "Go and cry in the hearing of Jerusalem, saying, 'Thus says the LORD:

"I remember you,
The kindness of your youth,
The love of your betrothal,
When you went after Me in the wilderness,
In a land not sown.
3 Israel was holiness to the LORD,
The firstfruits of His increase.
All that devour him will offend;
Disaster will come upon them," says the LORD.' "

4 Hear the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob and all the families of the house of Israel.
5 Thus says the LORD:

"What injustice have your fathers found in Me,
That they have gone far from Me,
Have followed idols,
And have become idolaters?
6 Neither did they say, 'Where is the LORD,
Who brought us up out of the land of Egypt,
Who led us through the wilderness,
Through a land of deserts and pits,
Through a land of drought and the shadow of death,

Through a land that no one crossed
And where no one dwelt?’
7I brought you into a bountiful country,
To eat its fruit and its goodness.
But when you entered, you defiled My land
And made My heritage an abomination.
8The priests did not say, ‘Where is the LORD?’
And those who handle the law did not know Me;
The rulers also transgressed against Me;
The prophets prophesied by Baal,
And walked after things that do not profit.

9“Therefore I will yet bring charges against you,” says the LORD,
“And against your children’s children I will bring charges.
10For pass beyond the coasts of Cyprus[a] and see,
Send to Kedar[b] and consider diligently,
And see if there has been such a thing.
11Has a nation changed its gods,
Which are not gods?
But My people have changed their Glory
For what does not profit.
12Be astonished, O heavens, at this,
And be horribly afraid;
Be very desolate,” says the LORD.
13“For My people have committed two evils:
They have forsaken Me, the fountain of living waters,
And hewn themselves cisterns—broken cisterns that can hold no water.

14"Is Israel a servant?
Is he a homeborn slave?
Why is he plundered?
15The young lions roared at him, and growled;
They made his land waste;
His cities are burned, without inhabitant.
16Also the people of Noph[c] and Tahpanhes
Have broken the crown of your head.
17Have you not brought this on yourself,
In that you have forsaken the LORD your God
When He led you in the way?
18And now why take the road to Egypt,
To drink the waters of Sihor?
Or why take the road to Assyria,
To drink the waters of the River?[d]
19Your own wickedness will correct you,
And your backslidings will rebuke you.
Know therefore and see that it is an evil and bitter thing
That you have forsaken the LORD your God,
And the fear of Me is not in you,"
Says the Lord GOD of hosts.

20"For of old I have broken your yoke and burst your bonds;
And you said, 'I will not transgress,'
When on every high hill and under every green tree
You lay down, playing the harlot.
21Yet I had planted you a noble vine, a seed of highest quality.
How then have you turned before Me
Into the degenerate plant of an alien vine?

22 For though you wash yourself with lye, and use much soap,
Yet your iniquity is marked before Me," says
the Lord GOD.

23 "How can you say, 'I am not polluted,
I have not gone after the Baals'?
See your way in the valley;
Know what you have done:
You are a swift dromedary breaking loose in her ways,
24 A wild donkey used to the wilderness,
That sniffs at the wind in her desire;
In her time of mating, who can turn her away?
All those who seek her will not weary themselves;
In her month they will find her.
25 Withhold your foot from being unshod, and your throat from thirst.
But you said, 'There is no hope.
No! For I have loved aliens, and after them I will go.'

26 "As the thief is ashamed when he is found out,
So is the house of Israel ashamed;
They and their kings and their princes, and their priests and their prophets, 27 Saying to a tree, 'You are my father,'
And to a stone, 'You gave birth to me.'
For they have turned their back to Me, and not their face.
But in the time of their trouble
They will say, 'Arise and save us.'

28 But where are your gods that you have made for yourselves?
Let them arise,
If they can save you in the time of your trouble;
For according to the number of your cities
Are your gods, O Judah.

29 "Why will you plead with Me?
You all have transgressed against Me," says
the LORD.
30 "In vain I have chastened your children;
They received no correction.
Your sword has devoured your prophets
Like a destroying lion.

31 "O generation, see the word of the LORD!
Have I been a wilderness to Israel,
Or a land of darkness?
Why do My people say, 'We are lords;
We will come no more to You'?
32 Can a virgin forget her ornaments,
Or a bride her attire?
Yet My people have forgotten Me days without number.

33 "Why do you beautify your way to seek love?
Therefore you have also taught
The wicked women your ways.
34 Also on your skirts is found
The blood of the lives of the poor innocents.
I have not found it by secret search,
But plainly on all these things.
35 Yet you say, 'Because I am innocent,

Surely His anger shall turn from me.’
Behold, I will plead My case against you,
Because you say, ‘I have not sinned.’
[36]Why do you gad about so much to change your way?
Also you shall be ashamed of Egypt as you were ashamed of Assyria.
[37]Indeed you will go forth from him
With your hands on your head;
For the LORD has rejected your trusted allies,
And you will not prosper by them.

Jeremiah 3

Israel Is Shameless

1 “They say, ‘If a man divorces his wife,
And she goes from him
And becomes another man’s,
May he return to her again?’
Would not that land be greatly polluted?
But you have played the harlot with many lovers;
Yet return to Me,” says the LORD.

2 “Lift up your eyes to the desolate heights and see:
Where have you not lain with men?
By the road you have sat for them
Like an Arabian in the wilderness;
And you have polluted the land
With your harlotries and your wickedness.
3 Therefore the showers have been withheld,
And there has been no latter rain.
You have had a harlot’s forehead;
You refuse to be ashamed.
4 Will you not from this time cry to Me,
‘My Father, You are the guide of my youth?
5 Will He remain angry forever?
Will He keep it to the end?’
Behold, you have spoken and done evil
things,
As you were able.”

A Call to Repentance

6The LORD said also to me in the days of Josiah the king:
“Have you seen what backsliding Israel has done? She has gone up on every high mountain and under every green tree, and there played the harlot.
7“And I said, after she had done all these things, ‘Return to Me.’ But she did not return. And her treacherous sister Judah saw it.
8“Then I saw that for all the causes for which backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a certificate of divorce; yet her treacherous sister Judah did not fear, but went and played the harlot also.
9“So it came to pass, through her casual harlotry, that she defiled the land and committed adultery with stones and trees.
10“And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah has not turned to Me with her whole heart, but in pretense,”
says the LORD.
11Then the LORD said to me, “Backsliding Israel has shown herself more righteous than treacherous Judah.
12“Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say:

‘Return, backsliding Israel,’ says the LORD;
‘I will not cause My anger to fall on you.
For I am merciful,’ says the LORD;
‘I will not remain angry forever.
13Only acknowledge your iniquity,
That you have transgressed against the LORD your God,
And have scattered your charms
To alien deities under every green tree,
And you have not obeyed My voice,’ says the LORD.

14 “Return, O backsliding children,” says the LORD; “for I am married to you. I will take you, one from a city and two from a family, and I will bring you to Zion.
15 “And I will give you shepherds according to My heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding.
16 “Then it shall come to pass, when you are multiplied and increased in the land in those days,” says the LORD, “that they will say no more, ‘The ark of the covenant of the LORD.’ It shall not come to mind, nor shall they remember it, nor shall they visit it, nor shall it be made anymore.
17 “At that time Jerusalem shall be called The Throne of the LORD, and all the nations shall be gathered to it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem. No more shall they follow the dictates of their evil hearts. Repentance and Evangelism 18 “In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given as an inheritance to your fathers.
19 “But I said:

‘How can I put you among the children
And give you a pleasant land,
A beautiful heritage of the hosts of nations?’

“And I said:

‘You shall call Me, “My Father,”
And not turn away from Me.’
20 Surely, as a wife treacherously departs from her husband,
So have you dealt treacherously with Me,
O house of Israel,” says the LORD.

21 A voice was heard on the desolate heights,

Weeping and supplications of the children of Israel.
For they have perverted their way;
They have forgotten the LORD their God.

22“Return, you backsliding children,
And I will heal your backslidings.”

“Indeed we do come to You,
For You are the LORD our God.
23Truly, in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills,
And from the multitude of mountains;
Truly, in the LORD our God
Is the salvation of Israel.
24For shame has devoured
The labor of our fathers from our youth—
Their flocks and their herds,
Their sons and their daughters.
25We lie down in our shame,
And our reproach covers us.
For we have sinned against the LORD our
God,
We and our fathers,
From our youth even to this day,
And have not obeyed the voice of the LORD
our God.”

Jeremiah 4

[1]“If you will return, O Israel,” says the LORD, “Return to Me;
And if you will put away your abominations out of My sight,
Then you shall not be moved.
[2]And you shall swear, ‘The LORD lives,’
In truth, in judgment, and in righteousness;
The nations shall bless themselves in Him,
And in Him they shall glory.”

3For thus says the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem:

“Break up your fallow ground,
And do not sow among thorns.
[4]Circumcise yourselves to the LORD,
And take away the foreskins of your hearts,
You men of Judah and inhabitants of
Jerusalem,
Lest My fury come forth like fire,
And burn so that no one can quench it,
Because of the evil of your doings.”

An Imminent Invasion

5Declare in Judah and proclaim in Jerusalem, and say:

“Blow the trumpet in the land;
Cry, ‘Gather together,’
And say, ‘Assemble yourselves,
And let us go into the fortified cities.’

6 Set up the standard toward Zion.
Take refuge! Do not delay!
For I will bring disaster from the north,

7 The lion has come up from his thicket,
And the destroyer of nations is on his way.
He has gone forth from his place
To make your land desolate.
Your cities will be laid waste,
Without inhabitant.
8 For this, clothe yourself with sackcloth, Lament and wail.
For the fierce anger of the LORD
Has not turned back from us.

9 “And it shall come to pass in that day,” says
the LORD,
“That the heart of the king shall perish,
And the heart of the princes;
The priests shall be astonished,
And the prophets shall wonder.”

10 Then I said, “Ah, Lord GOD!
Surely You have greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, Saying, ‘You shall have peace,’ Whereas the sword reaches to the heart.”

11 At that time it will be said
To this people and to Jerusalem, “A dry wind of the desolate heights blows in the wilderness
Toward the daughter of My people—
Not to fan or to cleanse—

12 A wind too strong for these will come for Me;
Now I will also speak judgment against
them.”

13 “Behold, he shall come up like clouds,
And his chariots like a whirlwind.
His horses are swifter than eagles.
Woe to us, for we are plundered!”

14 O Jerusalem, wash your heart from wickedness,
That you may be saved.
How long shall your evil thoughts lodge within you?
15 For a voice declares from Dan
And proclaims affliction from Mount Ephraim:
16 “Make mention to the nations,
Yes, proclaim against Jerusalem,
That watchers come from a far country
And raise their voice against the cities of Judah.
17 Like keepers of a field they are against her
all around,
Because she has been rebellious against Me,” says the LORD.
18 “Your ways and your doings
Have procured these things for you.
This is your wickedness,
Because it is bitter,
Because it reaches to your heart.”

Sorrow for the Doomed Nation

19 O my soul, my soul!

I am pained in my very heart!
My heart makes a noise in me;
I cannot hold my peace,
Because you have heard, O my soul,
The sound of the trumpet,
The alarm of war.
20 Destruction upon destruction is cried,
For the whole land is plundered.
Suddenly my tents are plundered,
And my curtains in a moment.
21 How long will I see the standard,
And hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 "For My people are foolish,
They have not known Me.
They are silly children,
And they have no understanding.
They are wise to do evil,
But to do good they have no knowledge."

23 I beheld the earth, and indeed it was without form, and void;
And the heavens, they had no light.
24 I beheld the mountains, and indeed they trembled,
And all the hills moved back and forth.
25 I beheld, and indeed there was no man,
And all the birds of the heavens had fled.
26 I beheld, and indeed the fruitful land was a wilderness,
And all its cities were broken down
At the presence of the LORD,
By His fierce anger.

27 For thus says the LORD:

“The whole land shall be desolate;
Yet I will not make a full end.
28For this shall the earth mourn,
And the heavens above be black,
Because I have spoken.
I have purposed and will not relent,
Nor will I turn back from it.
29The whole city shall flee from the noise of the horsemen and bowmen.
They shall go into thickets and climb up on the rocks.
Every city shall be forsaken,
And not a man shall dwell in it.

30“And when you are plundered,
What will you do?
Though you clothe yourself with crimson,
Though you adorn yourself with ornaments of gold,
Though you enlarge your eyes with paint,
In vain you will make yourself fair;
Your lovers will despise you;
They will seek your life.

31“For I have heard a voice as of a woman in labor,
The anguish as of her who brings forth her first child,
The voice of the daughter of Zion bewailing herself;
She spreads her hands, saying,
‘Woe is me now, for my soul is weary
Because of murderers!’

Jeremiah 5

The Justice of God's Judgment

1 "Run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem;
See now and know;
And seek in her open places
If you can find a man,
If there is anyone who executes judgment,
Who seeks the truth,
And I will pardon her. Not One Righteous Person
2 Though they say, 'As the LORD lives,' Surely they swear falsely."

3 O LORD, are not Your eyes on the truth?
You have stricken them,
But they have not grieved;
You have consumed them,
But they have refused to receive correction.
They have made their faces harder than rock;
They have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, "Surely these are poor.
They are foolish;
For they do not know the way of the LORD,
The judgment of their God.
5 I will go to the great men and speak to
them,
For they have known the way of the LORD,
The judgment of their God."

But these have altogether broken the yoke

And burst the bonds.
6 Therefore a lion from the forest shall slay
them,
A wolf of the deserts shall destroy them;
A leopard will watch over their cities.
Everyone who goes out from there shall be torn in pieces,
Because their transgressions are many;
Their backslidings have increased.

7 "How shall I pardon you for this?
Your children have forsaken Me
And sworn by those that are not gods.
When I had fed them to the full,
Then they committed adultery
And assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses.
8 They were like well-fed lusty stallions;
Every one neighed after his neighbor's wife.
9 Shall I not punish them for these things?"
says the LORD.
"And shall I not avenge Myself on such a nation as this?

10 "Go up on her walls and destroy,
But do not make a complete end.
Take away her branches,
For they are not the LORD's.
11 For the house of Israel and the house of Judah
Have dealt very treacherously with Me,"
says the LORD.

12 They have lied about the LORD,
And said, "It is not He.

Neither will evil come upon us,
Nor shall we see sword or famine.
13And the prophets become wind,
For the word is not in them.
Thus shall it be done to them."

14Therefore thus says the LORD God of hosts:

"Because you speak this word, Behold, I will make My words in your mouth
fire,
And this people wood,
And it shall devour them.
15Behold, I will bring a nation against you
from afar,
O house of Israel," says the LORD.
"It is a mighty nation,
It is an ancient nation,
A nation whose language you do not know,
Nor can you understand what they say.
16Their quiver is like an open tomb;
They are all mighty men.
17And they shall eat up your harvest and your bread,
Which your sons and daughters should eat.
They shall eat up your flocks and your herds;
They shall eat up your vines and your fig trees;
They shall destroy your fortified cities,
In which you trust, with the sword.

18"Nevertheless in those days," says the LORD, "I will not make a complete end of you.

19"And it will be when you say, 'Why does the LORD our God do all these things to us?' then you shall answer them,

‘Just as you have forsaken Me and served foreign gods in your land, so you shall serve aliens in a land that is not yours.’

20 “Declare this in the house of Jacob
And proclaim it in Judah, saying, 21 ‘Hear this now, O foolish people, Without understanding,
Who have eyes and see not,
And who have ears and hear not:
22 Do you not fear Me?’ says the LORD.
‘Will you not tremble at My presence,
Who have placed the sand as the bound of the sea,
By a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass beyond it?
And though its waves toss to and fro,
Yet they cannot prevail;
Though they roar, yet they cannot pass over it.
23 But this people has a defiant and rebellious heart;
They have revolted and departed.
24 They do not say in their heart,
“Let us now fear the LORD our God,
Who gives rain, both the former and the latter, in its season.
He reserves for us the appointed weeks of the harvest.”
25 Your iniquities have turned these things away,
And your sins have withheld good from you.

26 ‘For among My people are found wicked men;

They lie in wait as one who sets snares;
They set a trap;
They catch men.
27 As a cage is full of birds,
So their houses are full of deceit.
Therefore they have become great and grown rich.
28 They have grown fat, they are sleek;
Yes, they surpass the deeds of the wicked;
They do not plead the cause,
The cause of the fatherless;
Yet they prosper,
And the right of the needy they do not defend.
29 Shall I not punish them for these things?" says the LORD.
'Shall I not avenge Myself on such a nation as this?'

30 "An astonishing and horrible thing
Has been committed in the land:
31 The prophets prophesy falsely,
And the priests rule by their own power;
And My people love to have it so.
But what will you do in the end?

Jeremiah 6

Impending Destruction from the North

1 “O you children of Benjamin,
Gather yourselves to flee from the midst of Jerusalem!
Blow the trumpet in Tekoa,
And set up a signal-fire in Beth Haccerem;
For disaster appears out of the north,
And great destruction.
2 I have likened the daughter of Zion
To a lovely and delicate woman.
3 The shepherds with their flocks shall come to her.
They shall pitch their tents against her all around.
Each one shall pasture in his own place.”

4 “Prepare war against her;
Arise, and let us go up at noon.
Woe to us, for the day goes away,
For the shadows of the evening are lengthening.
5 Arise, and let us go by night,
And let us destroy her palaces.”

6 For thus has the LORD of hosts said:

“Cut down trees,
And build a mound against Jerusalem.
This is the city to be punished.
She is full of oppression in her midst.
7 As a fountain wells up with water,

So she wells up with her wickedness.
Violence and plundering are heard in her.
Before Me continually are grief and wounds.
8 Be instructed, O Jerusalem,
Lest My soul depart from you;
Lest I make you desolate,
A land not inhabited."

9 Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"They shall thoroughly glean as a vine the remnant of Israel;
As a grape-gatherer, put your hand back into the branches."

10 To whom shall I speak and give warning,
That they may hear?
Indeed their ear is uncircumcised,
And they cannot give heed.
Behold, the word of the LORD is a reproach to them;
They have no delight in it.
11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD.
I am weary of holding it in.
"I will pour it out on the children outside,
And on the assembly of young men together;
For even the husband shall be taken with the wife,
The aged with him who is full of days.
12 And their houses shall be turned over to others,
Fields and wives together;
For I will stretch out My hand

Against the inhabitants of the land," says the LORD.
13"Because from the least of them even to the greatest of them,
Everyone is given to covetousness;
And from the prophet even to the priest,
Everyone deals falsely.
14They have also healed the hurt of My people slightly,
Saying, 'Peace, peace!'
When there is no peace.
15Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination?
No! They were not at all ashamed;
Nor did they know how to blush.
Therefore they shall fall among those who fall;
At the time I punish them,
They shall be cast down," says the LORD.

16Thus says the LORD:

"Stand in the ways and see,
And ask for the old paths, where the good way is,
And walk in it;
Then you will find rest for your souls.
But they said, 'We will not walk in it.'
17Also, I set watchmen over you, saying,
'Listen to the sound of the trumpet!'
But they said, 'We will not listen.'
18Therefore hear, you nations,
And know, O congregation, what is among
them.
19Hear, O earth!

Behold, I will certainly bring calamity on this people—
The fruit of their thoughts,
Because they have not heeded My words
Nor My law, but rejected it.
20For what purpose to Me
Comes frankincense from Sheba,
And sweet cane from a far country?
Your burnt offerings are not acceptable,
Nor your sacrifices sweet to Me."

21Therefore thus says the LORD:

"Behold, I will lay stumbling blocks before this people,
And the fathers and the sons together shall
The neighbor and his friend shall perish."

22Thus says the LORD:

"Behold, a people comes from the north country,
And a great nation will be raised from the farthest parts of the earth.
23They will lay hold on bow and spear;
They are cruel and have no mercy;
Their voice roars like the sea;
And they ride on horses,
As men of war set in array against you, O daughter of Zion."

24We have heard the report of it;
Our hands grow feeble.
Anguish has taken hold of us,
Pain as of a woman in labor.

25 Do not go out into the field,
Nor walk by the way.
Because of the sword of the enemy,
Fear is on every side.
26 O daughter of my people,
Dress in sackcloth
And roll about in ashes!
Make mourning as for an only son, most bitter lamentation;
For the plunderer will suddenly come upon us.

27 "I have set you as an assayer and a fortress among My people,
That you may know and test their way.
28 They are all stubborn rebels, walking as slanderers.
They are bronze and iron,
They are all corrupters;
29 The bellows blow fiercely,
The lead is consumed by the fire;
The smelter refines in vain,
For the wicked are not drawn off.
30 People will call them rejected silver,
Because the LORD has rejected them."

Jeremiah 7

Trusting in Lying Words

1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 "Stand in the gate of the LORD's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, all you of Judah who enter in at these gates to worship the LORD!' " What Is Religion?

3 Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

4 "Do not trust in these lying words, saying, 'The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD are these.'

5 "For if you thoroughly amend your ways and your doings, if you thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbor,

6 "if you do not oppress the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and do not shed innocent blood in this place, or walk after other gods to your hurt,

7 "then I will cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers forever and ever.

8 "Behold, you trust in lying words that cannot profit.

9 "Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, burn incense to Baal, and walk after other gods whom you do not know,

10 "and then come and stand before Me in this house which is called by My name, and say, 'We are delivered to do all these abominations'?

11 "Has this house, which is called by My name, become a den of thieves in your eyes? Behold, I, even I, have seen it," says the LORD.

12 “But go now to My place which was in Shiloh, where I set My name at the first, and see what I did to it because of the wickedness of My people Israel.
13 “And now, because you have done all these works,” says the LORD, “and I spoke to you, rising up early and speaking, but you did not hear, and I called you, but you did not answer, 14 “therefore I will do to the house which is called by My name, in which you trust, and to this place which I gave to you and your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.
15 “And I will cast you out of My sight, as I have cast out all your brethren—the whole posterity of Ephraim.
16 “Therefore do not pray for this people, nor lift up a cry or prayer for them, nor make intercession to Me; for I will not hear you.
17 “Do you not see what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? On the Eve of Destruction 18 “The children gather wood, the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead dough, to make cakes for the queen of heaven; and they pour out drink offerings to other gods, that they may provoke Me to anger.
19 “Do they provoke Me to anger?” says the LORD. “Do they not provoke themselves, to the shame of their own faces?”
20 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, My anger and My fury will be poured out on this place—on man and on beast, on the trees of the field and on the fruit of the ground. And it will burn and not be quenched.” 21 Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices and eat meat.
22 “For I did not speak to your fathers, or command them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices.

23 “But this is what I commanded them, saying, ‘Obey My voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be My people.
And walk in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well with you.’ Reaching Forward 24 “Yet they did not obey or incline their ear, but followed the counsels and the dictates of their evil hearts, and went backward and not forward.
25 “Since the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt until this day, I have even sent to you all My servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them.
26 “Yet they did not obey Me or incline their ear, but stiffened their neck. They did worse than their fathers.
27 “Therefore you shall speak all these words to them, but they will not obey you. You shall also call to them, but they will not answer you.

Judgment on Obscene Religion

28 “So you shall say to them, ‘This is a nation that does not obey the voice of the LORD their God nor receive correction. Truth has perished and has been cut off from their mouth.
29 ‘Cut off your hair and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on the desolate heights; for the LORD has rejected and forsaken the generation of His wrath.’ 30 “For the children of Judah have done evil in My sight,” says the LORD. “They have set their abominations in the house which is called by My name, to pollute it.
31 “And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I did not command, nor did it come into My heart.
32 “Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when it will no more be called Tophet, or the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter; for they will bury in Tophet until there is no room.

33 “The corpses of this people will be food for the birds of the heaven and for the beasts of the earth. And no one will frighten them away.

34 “Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride. For the land shall be desolate.

Jeremiah 8

1 “At that time,” says the LORD, “they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of its princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves.
2 “They shall spread them before the sun and the moon and all the host of heaven, which they have loved and which they have served and after which they have walked,
which they have sought and which they have worshiped.
They shall not be gathered nor buried; they shall be like refuse on the face of the earth.
3 “Then death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of those who remain of this evil family, who remain in all the places where I have driven them,” says the LORD of hosts.

The Peril of False Teaching

4 “Moreover you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD:

“Will they fall and not rise?
Will one turn away and not return?
5 Why has this people slidden back,
Jerusalem, in a perpetual backsliding?
They hold fast to deceit,
They refuse to return.
6 I listened and heard,
But they do not speak aright.
No man repented of his wickedness,
Saying, ‘What have I done?’
Everyone turned to his own course,
As the horse rushes into the battle.

7 “Even the stork in the heavens Knows her appointed times;
And the turtledove, the swift, and the swallow Observe the time of their coming.
But My people do not know the judgment of the LORD.

8 “How can you say, ‘We are wise,
And the law of the LORD is with us’?
Look, the false pen of the scribe certainly works falsehood.
9 The wise men are ashamed,
They are dismayed and taken.
Behold, they have rejected the word of the LORD;
So what wisdom do they have?
10 Therefore I will give their wives to others,
And their fields to those who will inherit them;
Because from the least even to the greatest
Everyone is given to covetousness;
From the prophet even to the priest
Everyone deals falsely.
11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of My people slightly,
Saying, ‘Peace, peace!’
When there is no peace. False Security
12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination?
No! They were not at all ashamed,
Nor did they know how to blush.
Therefore they shall fall among those who fall;
In the time of their punishment

They shall be cast down,” says the LORD.

13“I will surely consume them,” says the
LORD.
“No grapes shall be on the vine,
Nor figs on the fig tree,
And the leaf shall fade;
And the things I have given them shall pass away from them.” ’ ”

14“Why do we sit still?
Assemble yourselves,
And let us enter the fortified cities,
And let us be silent there.
For the LORD our God has put us to silence
And given us water of gall to drink,
Because we have sinned against the LORD.

15“We looked for peace, but no good came;
And for a time of health, and there was trouble!
16The snorting of His horses was heard from
Dan.
The whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of His strong ones;
For they have come and devoured the land
and all that is in it,
The city and those who dwell in it.”

17“For behold, I will send serpents among
you,
Vipers which cannot be charmed,
And they shall bite you,” says the LORD.

The Prophet Mourns for the People

18I would comfort myself in sorrow;
My heart is faint in me.
19Listen! The voice,
The cry of the daughter of my people
From a far country:
“Is not the LORD in Zion?
Is not her King in her?”

“Why have they provoked Me to anger
With their carved images—
With foreign idols?”

20“The harvest is past,
The summer is ended,
And we are not saved!”

21For the hurt of the daughter of my people I am hurt.
I am mourning;
Astonishment has taken hold of me.
22*Is there* no balm in Gilead,
Is there no physician there?
Why then is there no recovery
For the health of the daughter of my people?

Jeremiah 9

1 Oh, that my head were waters,
And my eyes a fountain of tears,
That I might weep day and night
For the slain of the daughter of my people!

The Heart of a Prophet

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness
A lodging place for travelers;
That I might leave my people,
And go from them!
For they are all adulterers,
An assembly of treacherous men.

3 "And like their bow they have bent their tongues for lies.
They are not valiant for the truth on the earth.
For they proceed from evil to evil,
And they do not know Me," says the LORD.
4 "Everyone take heed to his neighbor,
And do not trust any brother;
For every brother will utterly supplant,
And every neighbor will walk with slanderers.
5 Everyone will deceive his neighbor,
And will not speak the truth;
They have taught their tongue to speak lies;
They weary themselves to commit iniquity.
6 Your dwelling place is in the midst of deceit;
Through deceit they refuse to know Me,"
says the LORD.

7Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts:

"Behold, I will refine them and try them;
For how shall I deal with the daughter of My people?
8Their tongue is an arrow shot out;
It speaks deceit;
One speaks peaceably to his neighbor with his mouth,
But in his heart he lies in wait.
9Shall I not punish them for these things?" says the LORD.
"Shall I not avenge Myself on such a nation as this?"

10I will take up a weeping and wailing for the mountains,
And for the dwelling places of the wilderness a lamentation,
Because they are burned up,
So that no one can pass through;
Nor can men hear the voice of the cattle.
Both the birds of the heavens and the beasts have fled;
They are gone.

11"I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins, a den of jackals.
I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant."

12Who is the wise man who may understand this? And who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD has spoken, that he may declare it? Why does the land perish and burn up like a wilderness, so that no one can pass through?

13 And the LORD said, “Because they have forsaken My law which I set before them, and have not obeyed My voice, nor walked according to it, 14 “but they have walked according to the dictates of their own hearts and after the Baals, which their fathers taught
them,”
15 therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Behold, I will feed them, this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.
16 “I will scatter them also among the Gentiles, whom neither they nor their fathers have known. And I will send a sword after them until I have consumed them.”

The People Mourn in Judgment

17 Thus says the LORD of hosts:
“Consider and call for the mourning women,
That they may come;
And send for skillful wailing women,
That they may come.
18 Let them make haste
And take up a wailing for us,
That our eyes may run with tears,
And our eyelids gush with water.
19 For a voice of wailing is heard from Zion:
‘How we are plundered!
We are greatly ashamed,
Because we have forsaken the land, Because we have been cast out of our dwellings.’ ”

20 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O women, And let your ear receive the word of His mouth;
Teach your daughters wailing,

And everyone her neighbor a lamentation.
21For death has come through our windows,
Has entered our palaces,
To kill off the children—no longer to be outside!
And the young men—no longer on the streets!

22Speak, “Thus says the LORD:

‘Even the carcasses of men shall fall as refuse on the open field,
Like cuttings after the harvester,
And no one shall gather them.’ ”

23Thus says the LORD:

“Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom,
Let not the mighty man glory in his might,
Nor let the rich man glory in his riches;
24But let him who glories glory in this,
That he understands and knows Me,
That I am the LORD, exercising lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth.
For in these I delight,” says the LORD.

25“Behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “that I will punish all who are circumcised with the uncircumcised —

26“Egypt, Judah, Edom, the people of Ammon, Moab, and all who are in the farthest corners, who dwell in the wilderness. For all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.”

Jeremiah 10

Idols and the True God

1 Hear the word which the LORD speaks to you, O house of Israel.
2 Thus says the LORD:

"Do not learn the way of the Gentiles;
Do not be dismayed at the signs of heaven,
For the Gentiles are dismayed at them.
3 For the customs of the peoples are futile;
For one cuts a tree from the forest,
The work of the hands of the workman, with the ax.
4 They decorate it with silver and gold;
They fasten it with nails and hammers
So that it will not topple.
5 They are upright, like a palm tree,
And they cannot speak;
They must be carried,
Because they cannot go by themselves.
Do not be afraid of them,
For they cannot do evil,
Nor can they do any good."

6 Inasmuch as there is none like You, O
LORD
(You are great, and Your name is great in might),
7 Who would not fear You, O King of the nations?
For this is Your rightful due.
For among all the wise men of the nations,

And in all their kingdoms,
There is none like You.
8But they are altogether dull-hearted and foolish;
A wooden idol is a worthless doctrine.
9Silver is beaten into plates;
It is brought from Tarshish,
And gold from Uphaz,
The work of the craftsman
And of the hands of the metalsmith;
Blue and purple are their clothing;
They are all the work of skillful men.
10But the LORD is the true God;
He is the living God and the everlasting King.
At His wrath the earth will tremble,
And the nations will not be able to endure His indignation.

11Thus you shall say to them: "The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth shall perish from the earth and from under these heavens." The Work of Errors

12He has made the earth by His power,
He has established the world by His wisdom,
And has stretched out the heavens at His discretion.
13When He utters His voice,
There is a multitude of waters in the heavens:
"And He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth.
He makes lightning for the rain,
He brings the wind out of His treasuries."[a]

14 Everyone is dull-hearted, without knowledge;
Every metalsmith is put to shame by an image;
For his molded image is falsehood,
And there is no breath in them.
15 They are futile, a work of errors;
In the time of their punishment they shall perish.
16 The Portion of Jacob is not like them,
For He is the Maker of all things,
And Israel is the tribe of His inheritance;
The LORD of hosts is His name.

The Coming Captivity of Judah

17 Gather up your wares from the land,
O inhabitant of the fortress!

18 For thus says the LORD:

"Behold, I will throw out at this time
The inhabitants of the land,
And will distress them,
That they may find it so."

19 Woe is me for my hurt!
My wound is severe.
But I say, "Truly this is an infirmity,
And I must bear it."
20 My tent is plundered,
And all my cords are broken;
My children have gone from me,
And they are no more.
There is no one to pitch my tent anymore,
Or set up my curtains.

21For the shepherds have become dull-hearted,
And have not sought the LORD;
Therefore they shall not prosper,
And all their flocks shall be scattered.
22Behold, the noise of the report has come,
And a great commotion out of the north
country,
To make the cities of Judah desolate, a den of jackals.

23O LORD, I know the way of man is not in himself;
It is not in man who walks to direct his own steps.
24O LORD, correct me, but with justice;
Not in Your anger, lest You bring me to nothing.
25Pour out Your fury on the Gentiles, who do not know You,
And on the families who do not call on Your name;
For they have eaten up Jacob,
Devoured him and consumed him,
And made his dwelling place desolate.

Jeremiah 11

The Broken Covenant

1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 “Hear the words of this covenant, and speak to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem;

3 “and say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel: “Cursed is the man who does not obey the words of this covenant

4 “which I commanded your fathers in the day I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, ‘Obey My voice, and do according to all that I command you; so shall you be My people, and I will be your
God,’

5 “that I may establish the oath which I have sworn to your fathers, to give them ‘a land flowing with milk and honey,’[a] as it is this day.” ’ ” And I answered and said, “So be it, LORD.”

6 Then the LORD said to me, “Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying:
‘Hear the words of this covenant and do them.

7 ‘For I earnestly exhorted your fathers in the day I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, until this day, rising early and exhorting, saying, “Obey My voice.”

8 ‘Yet they did not obey or incline their ear, but everyone followed the dictates of his evil heart; therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but which they have not done.’ ”

9 And the LORD said to me, “A conspiracy has been found among the men of Judah and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 “They have turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers who refused to hear My words, and they have gone after other gods to serve them; the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken My covenant which I made with their fathers.” 11 Therefore thus says the LORD: “Behold, I will surely bring calamity on them which they will not be able to escape; and though they cry out to Me, I will not listen to
them.
12 “Then the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem will go and cry out to the gods to whom they offer incense, but they will not save them at all in the time of their trouble.
13 “For according to the number of your cities were your gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem you have set up altars to that shameful thing, altars to burn incense to Baal.
14 “So do not pray for this people, or lift up a cry or prayer for them; for I will not hear them in the time that they cry out to Me because of their trouble.

15 “What has My beloved to do in My house, Having done lewd deeds with many?
And the holy flesh has passed from you.
When you do evil, then you rejoice.
16 The LORD called your name,
Green Olive Tree, Lovely and of Good Fruit.
With the noise of a great tumult
He has kindled fire on it,
And its branches are broken.

17 “For the LORD of hosts, who planted you, has pronounced doom against you for the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke Me to anger in offering incense to Baal.”

Jeremiah’s Life Threatened

18Now the LORD gave me knowledge of it, and I know it;
for You showed me their doings.
19But I was like a docile lamb brought to the slaughter;
and I did not know that they had devised schemes against me, saying, “Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be remembered no more.”

20But, O LORD of hosts,
You who judge righteously,
Testing the mind and the heart,
Let me see Your vengeance on them,
For to You I have revealed my cause.

21“Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the men of Anathoth who seek your life, saying, ‘Do not prophesy in the name of the LORD, lest you die by our hand’—
22“therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘Behold, I will punish them. The young men shall die by the sword, their sons and their daughters shall die by famine;
23‘and there shall be no remnant of them, for I will bring catastrophe on the men of Anathoth, even the year of their punishment.’ ”

Jeremiah 12

Jeremiah's Question

[1]Righteous are You, O LORD, when I plead
with You;
Yet let me talk with You about Your judgments.
Why does the way of the wicked prosper?
Why are those happy who deal so treacherously?
[2]You have planted them, yes, they have taken root;
They grow, yes, they bear fruit.
You are near in their mouth
But far from their mind.

[3]But You, O LORD, know me;
You have seen me,
And You have tested my heart toward You.
Pull them out like sheep for the slaughter,
And prepare them for the day of slaughter.
[4]How long will the land mourn,
And the herbs of every field wither?
The beasts and birds are consumed,
For the wickedness of those who dwell there,
Because they said, "He will not see our final end."

The LORD Answers Jeremiah

5"If you have run with the footmen, and they have wearied you,
Then how can you contend with horses?
And if in the land of peace,

In which you trusted, they wearied you,
Then how will you do in the floodplain[a] of the Jordan?
6For even your brothers, the house of your father,
Even they have dealt treacherously with you;
Yes, they have called a multitude after you.
Do not believe them,
Even though they speak smooth words to
you.

7"I have forsaken My house, I have left My heritage;
I have given the dearly beloved of My soul into the hand of her enemies.
8My heritage is to Me like a lion in the forest;
It cries out against Me;
Therefore I have hated it.
9My heritage is to Me like a speckled vulture;
The vultures all around are against her.
Come, assemble all the beasts of the field,
Bring them to devour!

10"Many rulers[b] have destroyed My vineyard,
They have trodden My portion underfoot;
They have made My pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.
11They have made it desolate;
Desolate, it mourns to Me;
The whole land is made desolate,
Because no one takes it to heart.
12The plunderers have come

On all the desolate heights in the wilderness,
For the sword of the LORD shall devour
From one end of the land to the other end of the land;
No flesh shall have peace.
13 They have sown wheat but reaped thorns;
They have put themselves to pain but do not profit.
But be ashamed of your harvest
Because of the fierce anger of the LORD."

14 Thus says the LORD: "Against all My evil neighbors who touch the inheritance which I have caused My people Israel to inherit—behold, I will pluck them out of their land and pluck out the house of Judah from among them. A Gesture of Grace

15 "Then it shall be, after I have plucked them out, that I will return and have compassion on them and bring them back, everyone to his heritage and everyone to his land.

16 "And it shall be, if they will learn carefully the ways of My people, to swear by My name, 'As the LORD lives,' as they taught My people to swear by Baal, then they shall be established in the midst of My people.

17 "But if they do not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 13

Symbol of the Linen Sash

1 Thus the LORD said to me: “Go and get yourself a linen sash, and put it around your waist, but do not put it in water.” The Spoiled Sash
2 So I got a sash according to the word of the LORD, and put it around my waist.
3 And the word of the LORD came to me the second time,
saying,
4 “Take the sash that you acquired, which is around your waist, and arise, go to the Euphrates,[a] and hide it there in a hole in the rock.”
5 So I went and hid it by the Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me.
6 Now it came to pass after many days that the LORD said to me, “Arise, go to the Euphrates, and take from there the sash which I commanded you to hide there.” 7 Then I went to the Euphrates and dug, and I took the sash from the place where I had hidden it; and there was the sash, ruined. It was profitable for nothing.
8 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 9 “Thus says the LORD: ‘In this manner I will ruin the pride of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem.
10 ‘This evil people, who refuse to hear My words, who follow the dictates of their hearts, and walk after other gods to serve them and worship them, shall be just like this sash which is profitable for nothing.
11 ‘For as the sash clings to the waist of a man, so I have caused the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to cling to Me,’ says the LORD, ‘that they may become My people, for renown, for praise, and for glory; but they would not hear.’

Symbol of the Wine Bottles

12 “Therefore you shall speak to them this word: ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel: “Every bottle shall be filled with wine.” ’ And they will say to you, ‘Do we not certainly know that every bottle will be filled with wine?’

13 “Then you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD: “Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land—even the kings who sit on David’s throne, the priests, the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem—with drunkenness!

14 “And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together,” says the LORD. “I will not pity nor spare nor have mercy, but will destroy them.” ’ ”

Pride Precedes Captivity

15 Hear and give ear:
Do not be proud,
For the LORD has spoken.
16 Give glory to the LORD your God
Before He causes darkness,
And before your feet stumble
On the dark mountains,
And while you are looking for light,
He turns it into the shadow of death
And makes it dense darkness.
17 But if you will not hear it,
My soul will weep in secret for your pride;
My eyes will weep bitterly
And run down with tears,
Because the LORD’s flock has been taken captive.

18Say to the king and to the queen mother, “Humble yourselves;
Sit down,
For your rule shall collapse, the crown of your glory.”
19The cities of the South shall be shut up,
And no one shall open them;
Judah shall be carried away captive, all of it;
It shall be wholly carried away captive.

20Lift up your eyes and see
Those who come from the north.
Where is the flock that was given to you,
Your beautiful sheep?
21What will you say when He punishes you?
For you have taught them
To be chieftains, to be head over you.
Will not pangs seize you,
Like a woman in labor?
22And if you say in your heart,
“Why have these things come upon me?”
For the greatness of your iniquity
Your skirts have been uncovered,
Your heels made bare.
23Can the Ethiopian change his skin or the leopard its spots?
Then may you also do good who are accustomed to do evil.

24“Therefore I will scatter them like stubble
That passes away by the wind of the wilderness.
25This is your lot,
The portion of your measures from Me,” says the LORD,

“Because you have forgotten Me
And trusted in falsehood.
[26]Therefore I will uncover your skirts over your face,
That your shame may appear.
[27]I have seen your adulteries
And your lustful neighings,
The lewdness of your harlotry,
Your abominations on the hills in the fields.
Woe to you, O Jerusalem!
Will you still not be made clean?”

Jeremiah 14

Sword, Famine, and Pestilence

1 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the droughts. Disobedience Truly Brings Sadness

2 "Judah mourns,
And her gates languish;
They mourn for the land,
And the cry of Jerusalem has gone up.
3 Their nobles have sent their lads for water;
They went to the cisterns and found no
water.
They returned with their vessels empty;
They were ashamed and confounded
And covered their heads.
4 Because the ground is parched,
For there was no rain in the land,
The plowmen were ashamed;
They covered their heads.
5 Yes, the deer also gave birth in the field,
But left because there was no grass.
6 And the wild donkeys stood in the desolate heights;
They sniffed at the wind like jackals;
Their eyes failed because there was no grass."

7 O LORD, though our iniquities testify against us,
Do it for Your name's sake;
For our backslidings are many,
We have sinned against You.

[8]O the Hope of Israel, his Savior in time of trouble,
Why should You be like a stranger in the land,
And like a traveler who turns aside to tarry for a night?
[9]Why should You be like a man astonished,
Like a mighty one who cannot save?
Yet You, O LORD, are in our midst,
And we are called by Your name;
Do not leave us!

10Thus says the LORD to this people:

"Thus they have loved to wander;
They have not restrained their feet.
Therefore the LORD does not accept them;
He will remember their iniquity now,
And punish their sins."

11Then the LORD said to me, "Do not pray for this people, for their good.

[12]"When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and grain offering, I will not accept them. But I will consume them by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence."

13Then I said, "Ah, Lord GOD! Behold, the prophets say to them, 'You shall not see the sword, nor shall you have famine, but I will give you assured peace in this place.' "

[14]And the LORD said to me, "The prophets prophesy lies in My name. I have not sent them, commanded them, nor spoken to them; they prophesy to you a false vision, divination, a worthless thing, and the deceit of their heart.

[15]"Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who prophesy in My name, whom I did not send, and who say, ‘Sword and famine shall not be in this land’—‘By sword and famine those prophets shall be consumed!

16‘And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; they will have no one to bury them—them nor their wives, their sons nor their daughters—for I will pour their wickedness on them.’

17“Therefore you shall say this word to them:

‘Let my eyes flow with tears night and day,
And let them not cease;
For the virgin daughter of my people
Has been broken with a mighty stroke, with a very severe blow.
18If I go out to the field,
Then behold, those slain with the sword!
And if I enter the city,
Then behold, those sick from famine!
Yes, both prophet and priest go about in a land they do not know.’ ”

The People Plead for Mercy

19Have You utterly rejected Judah?
Has Your soul loathed Zion?
Why have You stricken us so that there is no healing for us?
We looked for peace, but there was no good;
And for the time of healing, and there was trouble.
20We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness
And the iniquity of our fathers,
For we have sinned against You.
21Do not abhor us, for Your name’s sake;
Do not disgrace the throne of Your glory.

Remember, do not break Your covenant with us.
22 Are there any among the idols of the nations that can cause rain?
Or can the heavens give showers?
Are You not He, O LORD our God?
Therefore we will wait for You,
Since You have made all these.

Jeremiah 15

The LORD Will Not Relent

1 Then the LORD said to me, "Even if Moses and Samuel stood before Me, My mind would not be favorable toward this people. Cast them out of My sight, and let them go forth.
2 "And it shall be, if they say to you, 'Where should we go?' then you shall tell them, 'Thus says the LORD:

"Such as are for death, to death;
And such as are for the sword, to the sword;
And such as are for the famine, to the famine;
And such as are for the captivity, to the captivity." '

3 "And I will appoint over them four forms of destruction," says the LORD: "the sword to slay, the dogs to drag, the birds of the heavens and the beasts of the earth to devour and destroy.
4 "I will hand them over to trouble, to all kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for what he did in Jerusalem.

5 "For who will have pity on you, O
Jerusalem?
Or who will bemoan you?
Or who will turn aside to ask how you are doing?
6 You have forsaken Me," says the LORD,
"You have gone backward.

Therefore I will stretch out My hand against you and destroy you;
I am weary of relenting!
7And I will winnow them with a winnowing fan in the gates of the land;
I will bereave them of children;
I will destroy My people,
Since they do not return from their ways.
8Their widows will be increased to Me more than the sand of the seas;
I will bring against them,
Against the mother of the young men,
A plunderer at noonday;
I will cause anguish and terror to fall on them suddenly.

9"She languishes who has borne seven;
She has breathed her last;
Her sun has gone down
While it was yet day;
She has been ashamed and confounded.
And the remnant of them I will deliver to the sword
Before their enemies," says the LORD.

Jeremiah's Dejection

10Woe is me, my mother,
That you have borne me,
A man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth!
I have neither lent for interest,
Nor have men lent to me for interest.
Every one of them curses me.

11The LORD said:

“Surely it will be well with your remnant;
Surely I will cause the enemy to intercede
with you
In the time of adversity and in the time of affliction.
12Can anyone break iron,
The northern iron and the bronze?
13Your wealth and your treasures
I will give as plunder without price,
Because of all your sins,
Throughout your territories.
14And I will make you cross over with[a] your enemies
Into a land which you do not know;
For a fire is kindled in My anger,
Which shall burn upon you.”

15O LORD, You know;
Remember me and visit me,
And take vengeance for me on my persecutors.
In Your enduring patience, do not take me
away.
Know that for Your sake I have suffered rebuke.
16Your words were found, and I ate them,
And Your word was to me the joy and rejoicing of my heart;
For I am called by Your name,
O LORD God of hosts.
17I did not sit in the assembly of the mockers,
Nor did I rejoice;
I sat alone because of Your hand,
For You have filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my pain perpetual
And my wound incurable,
Which refuses to be healed?
Will You surely be to me like an unreliable stream,
As waters that fail?

The LORD Reassures Jeremiah

19 Therefore thus says the LORD:

"If you return,
Then I will bring you back;
You shall stand before Me;
If you take out the precious from the vile,
You shall be as My mouth.
Let them return to you,
But you must not return to them.
20 And I will make you to this people a fortified bronze wall;
And they will fight against you,
But they shall not prevail against you;
For I am with you to save you
And deliver you," says the LORD.
21 "I will deliver you from the hand of the wicked,
And I will redeem you from the grip of the terrible."

Jeremiah 16

Jeremiah's Lifestyle and Message

1 The word of the LORD also came to me, saying,

2 "You shall not take a wife, nor shall you have sons or daughters in this place."

3 For thus says the LORD concerning the sons and daughters who are born in this place, and concerning their mothers who bore them and their fathers who begot them in this land:

4 "They shall die gruesome deaths; they shall not be lamented nor shall they be buried, but they shall be like refuse on the face of the earth. They shall be consumed by the sword and by famine, and their corpses shall be meat for the birds of heaven and for the beasts of the earth."

5 For thus says the LORD: "Do not enter the house of mourning, nor go to lament or bemoan them; for I have taken away My peace from this people," says the LORD, "lovingkindness and mercies.

6 "Both the great and the small shall die in this land. They shall not be buried; neither shall men lament for them, cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 "Nor shall men break bread in mourning for them, to comfort them for the dead; nor shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or their mother.

8 "Also you shall not go into the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat and drink."

9 For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Behold, I will cause to cease from this place, before your eyes and in your days, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.

10 “And it shall be, when you show this people all these words, and they say to you, ‘Why has the LORD pronounced all this great disaster against us? Or what is our iniquity?
Or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?’
11 “then you shall say to them, ‘Because your fathers have forsaken Me,’ says the LORD; ‘they have walked after other gods and have served them and worshiped them, and have forsaken Me and not kept My law.
12 ‘And you have done worse than your fathers, for behold, each one follows the dictates of his own evil heart, so that no one listens to Me.
13 ‘Therefore I will cast you out of this land into a land that you do not know, neither you nor your fathers; and there you shall serve other gods day and night, where I will not show you favor.’

God Will Restore Israel

14 “Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “that it shall no more be said, ‘The LORD lives who brought up the children of Israel from the land of Egypt,’ 15 “but, ‘The LORD lives who brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north and from all the lands where He had driven them.’ For I will bring them back into their land which I gave to their fathers.
16 “Behold, I will send for many fishermen,” says the LORD, “and they shall fish them; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain and every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.
17 “For My eyes are on all their ways; they are not hidden from My face, nor is their iniquity hidden from My eyes.
18 “And first I will repay double for their iniquity and their sin, because they have defiled My land; they have filled My inheritance with the carcasses of their detestable and abominable idols.”

19O LORD, my strength and my fortress,
My refuge in the day of affliction,
The Gentiles shall come to You
From the ends of the earth and say, “Surely our fathers have inherited lies, Worthlessness and unprofitable things.”
20Will a man make gods for himself,
Which are not gods?

21“Therefore behold, I will this once cause them to know,
I will cause them to know
My hand and My might;
And they shall know that My name is the LORD.

Jeremiah 17

Judah's Sin and Punishment

[1]"The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron;
With the point of a diamond it is engraved
On the tablet of their heart,
And on the horns of your altars,
[2]While their children remember
Their altars and their wooden images[a]
By the green trees on the high hills.
[3]O My mountain in the field,
I will give as plunder your wealth, all your treasures,
And your high places of sin within all your borders.
[4]And you, even yourself,
Shall let go of your heritage which I gave you;
And I will cause you to serve your enemies
In the land which you do not know;
For you have kindled a fire in My anger which shall burn forever."

5Thus says the LORD:

"Cursed is the man who trusts in man
And makes flesh his strength,
Whose heart departs from the LORD.
[6]For he shall be like a shrub in the desert,
And shall not see when good comes,
But shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness,

In a salt land which is not inhabited.

7 “Blessed is the man who trusts in the
LORD,
And whose hope is the LORD.
8 For he shall be like a tree planted by the waters,
Which spreads out its roots by the river,
And will not fear[b] when heat comes;
But its leaf will be green,
And will not be anxious in the year of drought,
Nor will cease from yielding fruit.

9 “The heart is deceitful above all things,
And desperately wicked;
Who can know it?
10 I, the LORD, search the heart,
I test the mind,
Even to give every man according to his ways,
According to the fruit of his doings.

11 “As a partridge that broods but does not hatch,
So is he who gets riches, but not by right;
It will leave him in the midst of his days,
And at his end he will be a fool.”

12 A glorious high throne from the beginning
Is the place of our sanctuary.
13 O LORD, the hope of Israel,
All who forsake You shall be ashamed.

“Those who depart from Me

Shall be written in the earth,
Because they have forsaken the LORD,
The fountain of living waters."

Jeremiah Prays for Deliverance

14Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed;
Save me, and I shall be saved,
For You are my praise.
15Indeed they say to me,
"Where is the word of the LORD?
Let it come now!"
16As for me, I have not hurried away from being a shepherd who follows You,
Nor have I desired the woeful day;
You know what came out of my lips;
It was right there before You.
17Do not be a terror to me;
You are my hope in the day of doom.
18Let them be ashamed who persecute me,
But do not let me be put to shame;
Let them be dismayed,
But do not let me be dismayed.
Bring on them the day of doom,
And destroy them with double destruction!

Hallow the Sabbath Day

19Thus the LORD said to me: "Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, by which the kings of Judah come in and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem;

20"and say to them, 'Hear the word of the LORD, you kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, who enter by these gates.

21 ‘Thus says the LORD: “Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem;
22 “nor carry a burden out of your houses on the Sabbath day, nor do any work, but hallow the Sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers.
23 “But they did not obey nor incline their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear nor receive instruction.
24 “And it shall be, if you heed Me carefully,” says the LORD, “to bring no burden through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day, but hallow the Sabbath day, to do no work in it, 25 “then shall enter the gates of this city kings and princes sitting on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their princes, accompanied by the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall remain forever.
26 “And they shall come from the cities of Judah and from the places around Jerusalem, from the land of Benjamin and from the lowland, from the mountains and from the South, bringing burnt offerings and sacrifices, grain offerings and incense, bringing sacrifices of praise to the house of the LORD.
27 “But if you will not heed Me to hallow the Sabbath day, such as not carrying a burden when entering the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day, then I will kindle a fire in its gates, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.” ’ ”

Jeremiah 18

The Potter and the Clay

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying:

The Parables of Jeremiah

2 “Arise and go down to the potter’s house, and there I will cause you to hear My words.” 3 Then I went down to the potter’s house, and there he was, making something at the wheel.
4 And the vessel that he made of clay was marred in the hand of the potter; so he made it again into another vessel, as it seemed good to the potter to make.
5 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying:
6 “O house of Israel, can I not do with you as this potter?”
says the LORD. “Look, as the clay is in the potter’s hand, so are you in My hand, O house of Israel!
7 “The instant I speak concerning a nation and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, to pull down, and to destroy it, 8 “if that nation against whom I have spoken turns from its evil, I will relent of the disaster that I thought to bring upon it.
9 “And the instant I speak concerning a nation and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it, 10 “if it does evil in My sight so that it does not obey My voice, then I will relent concerning the good with which I said I would benefit it.
11 “Now therefore, speak to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: “Behold, I am fashioning a disaster and devising a plan against you. Return now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.” ’ ”

God's Warning Rejected

12 And they said, "That is hopeless! So we will walk according to our own plans, and we will every one obey the dictates of his evil heart."

13 Therefore thus says the LORD:

"Ask now among the Gentiles,
Who has heard such things?
The virgin of Israel has done a very horrible thing.
14 Will a man leave the snow water of Lebanon,
Which comes from the rock of the field?
Will the cold flowing waters be forsaken for strange waters?

15 "Because My people have forgotten Me,
They have burned incense to worthless idols.
And they have caused themselves to stumble in their ways,
From the ancient paths,
To walk in pathways and not on a highway,

The Worship of Work

16 To make their land desolate and a perpetual hissing;
Everyone who passes by it will be astonished
And shake his head.
17 I will scatter them as with an east wind
before the enemy;
I will show them[a] the back and not the face
In the day of their calamity."

Jeremiah Persecuted

18Then they said, “Come and let us devise plans against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet.
Come and let us attack him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.”

19Give heed to me, O LORD,
And listen to the voice of those who contend with me!
20Shall evil be repaid for good?
For they have dug a pit for my life.
Remember that I stood before You
To speak good for them,
To turn away Your wrath from them.
21Therefore deliver up their children to the famine,
And pour out their blood
By the force of the sword;
Let their wives become widows
And bereaved of their children.
Let their men be put to death,
Their young men be slain
By the sword in battle.
22Let a cry be heard from their houses,
When You bring a troop suddenly upon
them;
For they have dug a pit to take me,
And hidden snares for my feet.
23Yet, LORD, You know all their counsel
Which is against me, to slay me.
Provide no atonement for their iniquity,
Nor blot out their sin from Your sight;
But let them be overthrown before You.
Deal thus with them
In the time of Your anger.

Jeremiah 19

The Sign of the Broken Flask

1 Thus says the LORD: “Go and get a potter’s earthen flask, and take some of the elders of the people and some of the elders of the priests. Show and Tell

2 “And go out to the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the Potsherd Gate; and proclaim there the words that I will tell you,

3 “and say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Behold, I will bring such a catastrophe on this place, that whoever hears of it, his ears will tingle.

4 “Because they have forsaken Me and made this an alien place, because they have burned incense in it to other gods whom neither they, their fathers, nor the kings of Judah have known, and have filled this place with the blood of the innocents

5 “(they have also built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings to Baal, which I did not command or speak, nor did it come into My mind),

6 “therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD,
“that this place shall no more be called Tophet or the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter.

7 “And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies and by the hands of those who seek their lives; their corpses I will give as meat for the birds of the heaven and for the beasts of the earth.

8 “I will make this city desolate and a hissing; everyone who passes by it will be astonished and hiss because of all its plagues.

9 “And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and everyone shall eat the flesh of his friend in the siege and in the desperation with which their enemies and those who seek their lives shall drive them to despair.” ’ 10 “Then you shall break the flask in the sight of the men who go with you,
11 “and say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Even so I will break this people and this city, as one breaks a potter’s vessel, which cannot be made whole again; and they shall bury them in Tophet till there is no place to bury.
12 “Thus I will do to this place,” says the LORD, “and to its inhabitants, and make this city like Tophet.
13 “And the houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah shall be defiled like the place of Tophet, because of all the houses on whose roofs they have burned incense to all the host of heaven, and poured out drink offerings to other gods.” ’ ” 14 Then Jeremiah came from Tophet, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the Lord’s house and said to all the people,
15 “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
‘Behold, I will bring on this city and on all her towns all the doom that I have pronounced against it, because they have stiffened their necks that they might not hear My words.’ ”

Jeremiah 20

The Word of God to Pashhur

1 Now Pashhur the son of Immer, the priest who was also chief governor in the house of the LORD, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things.
2 Then Pashhur struck Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the LORD.
3 And it happened on the next day that Pashhur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then Jeremiah said to him, "The LORD has not called your name Pashhur, but Magor-Missabib.[a]
4 "For thus says the LORD: 'Behold, I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends; and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and your eyes shall see it. I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive to Babylon and slay them with the sword.
5 'Moreover I will deliver all the wealth of this city, all its produce, and all its precious things; all the treasures of the kings of Judah I will give into the hand of their enemies, who will plunder them, seize them, and carry them to Babylon.
6 'And you, Pashhur, and all who dwell in your house, shall go into captivity. You shall go to Babylon, and there you shall die, and be buried there, you and all your friends, to whom you have prophesied lies.' "

Jeremiah's Unpopular Ministry

7 O LORD, You induced me, and I was persuaded;

You are stronger than I, and have prevailed.
I am in derision daily;
Everyone mocks me.
8For when I spoke, I cried out;
I shouted, “Violence and plunder!”
Because the word of the LORD was made to me
A reproach and a derision daily.
9Then I said, “I will not make mention of Him, Nor speak anymore in His name.”
But His word was in my heart like a burning fire Shut up in my bones;
I was weary of holding it back,
And I could not.
10For I heard many mocking:
“Fear on every side!”
“Report,” they say, “and we will report it!”
All my acquaintances watched for my stumbling, saying,
“Perhaps he can be induced;
Then we will prevail against him,
And we will take our revenge on him.”

11But the LORD is with me as a mighty, awesome One.
Therefore my persecutors will stumble, and will not prevail.
They will be greatly ashamed, for they will not prosper.
Their everlasting confusion will never be forgotten.
12But, O LORD of hosts,
You who test the righteous,

And see the mind and heart,
Let me see Your vengeance on them;
For I have pleaded my cause before You.

13Sing to the LORD! Praise the LORD!
For He has delivered the life of the poor
From the hand of evildoers.

14Cursed be the day in which I was born!
Let the day not be blessed in which my mother bore me!
15Let the man be cursed
Who brought news to my father, saying,
"A male child has been born to you!"
Making him very glad.
16And let that man be like the cities
Which the LORD overthrew, and did not relent;
Let him hear the cry in the morning
And the shouting at noon,
17Because he did not kill me from the womb,
That my mother might have been my grave,
And her womb always enlarged with me.
18Why did I come forth from the womb to see labor and sorrow,
That my days should be consumed with shame?

Jeremiah 21

Jerusalem's Doom Is Sealed

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur the son of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, saying,

2 "Please inquire of the LORD for us, for Nebuchadnezzar[a] king of Babylon makes war against us. Perhaps the LORD will deal with us according to all His wonderful works, that the king may go away from us."

3 Then Jeremiah said to them, "Thus you shall say to Zedekiah,

4 'Thus says the LORD God of Israel: "Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, with which you fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldeans[b] who besiege you outside the walls; and I will assemble them in the midst of this city.

5 "I Myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger and fury and great wrath.

6 "I will strike the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast; they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 "And afterward," says the LORD, "I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, his servants and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence and the sword and the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those who seek their life; and he shall strike them with the edge of the sword. He shall not spare them, or have pity or mercy." '

8 "Now you shall say to this people, 'Thus says the LORD:
"Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death.

9 “He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; but he who goes out and defects to the Chaldeans who besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be as a prize to him.
10 “For I have set My face against this city for adversity and not for good,” says the LORD. “It shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.” ’

Message to the House of David

11 “And concerning the house of the king of Judah, say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, 12 ‘O house of David! Thus says the LORD:

“Execute judgment in the morning;
And deliver him who is plundered
Out of the hand of the oppressor,
Lest My fury go forth like fire
And burn so that no one can quench it,
Because of the evil of your doings.

13 “Behold, I am against you, O inhabitant of the valley,
And rock of the plain,” says the LORD,
“Who say, ‘Who shall come down against us?
Or who shall enter our dwellings?’
14 But I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings,” says the LORD;
“I will kindle a fire in its forest,
And it shall devour all things around it.” ’ ”

Jeremiah 22

1 Thus says the LORD: “Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and there speak this word,
2 “and say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, you who sit on the throne of David, you and your servants and your people who enter these gates!
3 “Thus says the LORD: “Execute judgment and righteousness, and deliver the plundered out of the hand of the oppressor. Do no wrong and do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, or the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place.
4 “For if you indeed do this thing, then shall enter the gates of this house, riding on horses and in chariots, accompanied by servants and people, kings who sit on the throne of David.
5 “But if you will not hear these words, I swear by Myself,” says the LORD, “that this house shall become a desolation.” ’ ”
6 For thus says the LORD to the house of the king of Judah:

“You are Gilead to Me,
The head of Lebanon;
Yet I surely will make you a wilderness,
Cities which are not inhabited.
7 I will prepare destroyers against you,
Everyone with his weapons;
They shall cut down your choice cedars
And cast them into the fire.

8 “And many nations will pass by this city; and everyone will say to his neighbor, ‘Why has the LORD done so to this great city?’

9“Then they will answer, ‘Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshiped other gods and served them.’ ”

10Weep not for the dead, nor bemoan him;
Weep bitterly for him who goes away,
For he shall return no more,
Nor see his native country.

Message to the Sons of Josiah

11For thus says the LORD concerning Shallum[a] the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, who went from this place: “He shall not return here anymore, 12“but he shall die in the place where they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13“Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness
And his chambers by injustice,
Who uses his neighbor’s service without wages
And gives him nothing for his work, The Cost of Extravagance 14Who says, ‘I will build myself a wide house with spacious chambers,
And cut out windows for it, Paneling it with cedar
And painting it with vermilion.’

15“Shall you reign because you enclose yourself in cedar?
Did not your father eat and drink,
And do justice and righteousness?

Then it was well with him. Knowing God 16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy;
Then it was well.
Was not this knowing Me?" says the LORD.
17 "Yet your eyes and your heart are for nothing but your covetousness,
For shedding innocent blood,
And practicing oppression and violence."

18 Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah:

"They shall not lament for him, Saying, 'Alas, my brother!' or 'Alas, my sister!'

They shall not lament for him,
Saying, 'Alas, master!' or 'Alas, his glory!'
19 He shall be buried with the burial of a donkey,
Dragged and cast out beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 "Go up to Lebanon, and cry out,
And lift up your voice in Bashan;
Cry from Abarim,
For all your lovers are destroyed.
21 I spoke to you in your prosperity,
But you said, 'I will not hear.'
This has been your manner from your youth,
That you did not obey My voice.
22 The wind shall eat up all your rulers,
And your lovers shall go into captivity;

Surely then you will be ashamed and humiliated
For all your wickedness.
23O inhabitant of Lebanon,
Making your nest in the cedars,
How gracious will you be when pangs come upon you,
Like the pain of a woman in labor?

Message to Coniah

24"As I live," says the LORD, "though Coniah[b] the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, were the signet on My right hand, yet I would pluck you off;
25"and I will give you into the hand of those who seek your life, and into the hand of those whose face you fear—the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and the hand of the Chaldeans.
26"So I will cast you out, and your mother who bore you, into another country where you were not born; and there you shall die.
27"But to the land to which they desire to return, there they shall not return.

28"Is this man Coniah a despised, broken idol—
A vessel in which is no pleasure?
Why are they cast out, he and his descendants,
And cast into a land which they do not know?
29O earth, earth, earth,
Hear the word of the LORD!
30Thus says the LORD:
'Write this man down as childless,

A man who shall not prosper in his days;
For none of his descendants shall prosper,
Sitting on the throne of David,
And ruling anymore in Judah.’ ”

Jeremiah 23

The Branch of Righteousness

1 “Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of My pasture!” says the LORD. Bad Shepherds and the Good Shepherd 2 Therefore thus says the LORD God of Israel against the shepherds who feed My people: “You have scattered My flock, driven them away, and not attended to them. Behold, I will attend to you for the evil of your doings,” says the
LORD.
3 “But I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all countries where I have driven them, and bring them back to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and increase.
4 “I will set up shepherds over them who will feed them; and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, nor shall they be lacking,” says the LORD.

5 “Behold, the days are coming,” says the
LORD,
“That I will raise to David a Branch of righteousness;
A King shall reign and prosper,
And execute judgment and righteousness in
the earth.
6 In His days Judah will be saved,
And Israel will dwell safely;
Now this is His name by which He will be called:

THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.[a]

7 “Therefore, behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “that they shall no longer say, ‘As the LORD lives who brought up the children of Israel from the land of Egypt,’ 8 “but, ‘As the LORD lives who brought up and led the descendants of the house of Israel from the north country and from all the countries where I had driven them.’ And they shall dwell in their own land.”

False Prophets and Empty Oracles

9 My heart within me is broken
Because of the prophets;
All my bones shake.
I am like a drunken man,
And like a man whom wine has overcome,
Because of the LORD,
And because of His holy words.
10 For the land is full of adulterers;
For because of a curse the land mourns.
The pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up.
Their course of life is evil,
And their might is not right.

11 “For both prophet and priest are profane;
Yes, in My house I have found their wickedness,” says the LORD.
12 “Therefore their way shall be to them
Like slippery ways;
In the darkness they shall be driven on
And fall in them;
For I will bring disaster on them,
The year of their punishment,” says the LORD.
13 “And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria:
They prophesied by Baal

And caused My people Israel to err.
14 Also I have seen a horrible thing in the prophets of Jerusalem:
They commit adultery and walk in lies;
They also strengthen the hands of evildoers,
So that no one turns back from his wickedness.
All of them are like Sodom to Me,
And her inhabitants like Gomorrah.

15 "Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets:

'Behold, I will feed them with wormwood,
And make them drink the water of gall;
For from the prophets of Jerusalem
Profaneness has gone out into all the land.' "

16 Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"Do not listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you.
They make you worthless;
They speak a vision of their own heart,
Not from the mouth of the LORD.
17 They continually say to those who despise
Me,
'The LORD has said, "You shall have peace" ';
And to everyone who walks according to the dictates of his own heart, they say,
'No evil shall come upon you.' "

18 For who has stood in the counsel of the
LORD,
And has perceived and heard His word?

Who has marked His word and heard it?
19 Behold, a whirlwind of the LORD has gone forth in fury—
A violent whirlwind!
It will fall violently on the head of the wicked.
20 The anger of the LORD will not turn back Until He has executed and performed the thoughts of His heart.
In the latter days you will understand it perfectly.

21 "I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran.
I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.
22 But if they had stood in My counsel,
And had caused My people to hear My words,
Then they would have turned them from their evil way
And from the evil of their doings.

23 "Am I a God near at hand," says the LORD,
"And not a God afar off?
24 Can anyone hide himself in secret places,
So I shall not see him?" says the LORD;
"Do I not fill heaven and earth?" says the LORD.

25 "I have heard what the prophets have said who prophesy lies in My name, saying, 'I have dreamed, I have dreamed!'

26 “How long will this be in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies? Indeed they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart, 27 “who try to make My people forget My name by their dreams which everyone tells his neighbor, as their fathers forgot My name for Baal.

28 “The prophet who has a dream, let him tell a dream;
And he who has My word, let him speak My word faithfully.
What is the chaff to the wheat?” says the
LORD.
29 “Is not My word like a fire?” says the
LORD,
“And like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces?

30 “Therefore behold, I am against the prophets,” says the LORD, “who steal My words every one from his neighbor.
31 “Behold, I am against the prophets,” says the LORD,
“who use their tongues and say, ‘He says.’
32 “Behold, I am against those who prophesy false dreams,” says the LORD, “and tell them, and cause My people to err by their lies and by their recklessness. Yet I did not send them or command them; therefore they shall not profit this people at all,” says the LORD.
33 “So when these people or the prophet or the priest ask you, saying, ‘What is the oracle of the LORD?’ you shall then say to them, ‘What oracle?’[b] I will even forsake you,”
says the LORD.
34 “And as for the prophet and the priest and the people who say, ‘The oracle of the LORD!’ I will even punish that man and his house.

35“Thus every one of you shall say to his neighbor, and every one to his brother, ‘What has the LORD answered?’
and, ‘What has the LORD spoken?’ 36“And the oracle of the LORD you shall mention no more. For every man’s word will be his oracle, for you have perverted the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts,
our God.
37“Thus you shall say to the prophet, ‘What has the LORD answered you?’ and, ‘What has the LORD spoken?’ 38“But since you say, ‘The oracle of the LORD!’ therefore thus says the LORD: ‘Because you say this word, “The oracle of the LORD!” and I have sent to you, saying, “Do not say, ‘The oracle of the LORD!’ ” 39‘therefore behold, I, even I, will utterly forget you and forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and will cast you out of My presence.
40‘And I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.’ ”

Jeremiah 24

The Sign of Two Baskets of Figs

1 The LORD showed me, and there were two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD, after Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.

2 One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first ripe; and the other basket had very bad figs which could not be eaten, they were so bad.

3 Then the LORD said to me, "What do you see, Jeremiah?" And I said, "Figs, the good figs, very good; and the bad, very bad, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad."

4 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

5 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Like these good figs, so will I acknowledge those who are carried away captive from Judah, whom I have sent out of this place for their own good, into the land of the Chaldeans.

6 'For I will set My eyes on them for good, and I will bring them back to this land; I will build them and not pull them down, and I will plant them and not pluck them up.

7 'Then I will give them a heart to know Me, that I am the LORD; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God, for they shall return to Me with their whole heart.

8 'And as the bad figs which cannot be eaten, they are so bad'—surely thus says the LORD—'so will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, his princes, the residue of Jerusalem who remain in this land, and those who dwell in the land of Egypt.

9 ‘I will deliver them to trouble into all the kingdoms of the earth, for their harm, to be a reproach and a byword, a taunt and a curse, in all places where I shall drive them.
10 ‘And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they are consumed from the land that I gave to them and their fathers.’ ”

Jeremiah 25

Seventy Years of Desolation

1 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah (which was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon),
2 which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying:
3 "From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even to this day, this is the twenty-third year in which the word of the LORD has come to me; and I have spoken to you, rising early and speaking, but you have not listened.
4 "And the LORD has sent to you all His servants the prophets, rising early and sending them, but you have not listened nor inclined your ear to hear.
5 "They said, 'Repent now everyone of his evil way and his evil doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD has given to you and your fathers forever and ever.
6 'Do not go after other gods to serve them and worship them, and do not provoke Me to anger with the works of your hands; and I will not harm you.'
7 "Yet you have not listened to Me," says the LORD, "that you might provoke Me to anger with the works of your hands to your own hurt.
8 "Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Because you have not heard My words, 9 'behold, I will send and take all the families of the north,' says the LORD, 'and Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant, and will bring them against this land, against its inhabitants, and against these nations all around, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, a hissing, and perpetual desolations.

10 ‘Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones and the light of the lamp.

11 ‘And this whole land shall be a desolation and an astonishment, and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12 ‘Then it will come to pass, when seventy years are completed, that I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation, the land of the Chaldeans, for their iniquity,’ says the LORD; ‘and I will make it a perpetual desolation.

13 ‘So I will bring on that land all My words which I have pronounced against it, all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah has prophesied concerning all the nations.

14 ‘(For many nations and great kings shall be served by them also; and I will repay them according to their deeds and according to the works of their own hands.)’ ”

Judgment on the Nations

15 For thus says the LORD God of Israel to me: “Take this wine cup of fury from My hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send you, to drink it.

16 “And they will drink and stagger and go mad because of the sword that I will send among them.”

17 Then I took the cup from the LORD’s hand, and made all the nations drink, to whom the LORD had sent me:

18 Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, its kings and its princes, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse, as it is this day;

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, his servants, his princes, and all his people;

20 all the mixed multitude, all the kings of the land of Uz, all the kings of the land of the Philistines (namely, Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod);
21 Edom, Moab, and the people of Ammon; 22 all the kings of Tyre, all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the coastlands which are across the sea; 23 Dedan, Tema, Buz, and all who are in the farthest corners;
24 all the kings of Arabia and all the kings of the mixed multitude who dwell in the desert; 25 all the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes;
26 all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world which are on the face of the earth. Also the king of Sheshach[a] shall drink after them.
27 "Therefore you shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Drink, be drunk, and vomit!
Fall and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you." ' 28 "And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup from your hand to drink, then you shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: "You shall certainly drink!
29 "For behold, I begin to bring calamity on the city which is called by My name, and should you be utterly unpunished? You shall not be unpunished, for I will call for a sword on all the inhabitants of the earth," says the LORD
of hosts.'
30 "Therefore prophesy against them all these words, and say to them:

'The LORD will roar from on high,
And utter His voice from His holy habitation;
He will roar mightily against His fold.

He will give a shout, as those who tread the grapes,
Against all the inhabitants of the earth.
31 A noise will come to the ends of the earth—
For the LORD has a controversy with the nations;
He will plead His case with all flesh.
He will give those who are wicked to the sword,' says the LORD."

32 Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"Behold, disaster shall go forth
From nation to nation,
And a great whirlwind shall be raised up
From the farthest parts of the earth.

33 "And at that day the slain of the LORD shall be from one end of the earth even to the other end of the earth. They shall not be lamented, or gathered, or buried; they shall become refuse on the ground.

34 "Wail, shepherds, and cry!
Roll about in the ashes,
You leaders of the flock!
For the days of your slaughter and your dispersions are fulfilled;
You shall fall like a precious vessel.
35 And the shepherds will have no way to flee,
Nor the leaders of the flock to escape.
36 A voice of the cry of the shepherds,
And a wailing of the leaders to the flock will be heard.

For the LORD has plundered their pasture,
37And the peaceful dwellings are cut down
Because of the fierce anger of the LORD.
38He has left His lair like the lion;
For their land is desolate
Because of the fierceness of the Oppressor,
And because of His fierce anger.”

Jeremiah 26

Jeremiah Saved from Death

1 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came from the LORD,
saying,
2 "Thus says the LORD: 'Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak to all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command you to speak to them. Do not diminish a word.
3 'Perhaps everyone will listen and turn from his evil way, that I may relent concerning the calamity which I purpose to bring on them because of the evil of their doings.'
4 "And you shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD: "If you will not listen to Me, to walk in My law which I have set before you,
5 "to heed the words of My servants the prophets whom I sent to you, both rising up early and sending them (but you have not heeded), 6 "then I will make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth." ' "
7 So the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.
8 Now it happened, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people seized him, saying, "You will surely die!
9 "Why have you prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, 'This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without an inhabitant'?" And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

10When the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king’s house to the house of the LORD and sat down in the entry of the New Gate of the LORD’s house.
11And the priests and the prophets spoke to the princes and all the people, saying, “This man deserves to die! For he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your ears.” Martyrs in Scripture 12Then Jeremiah spoke to all the princes and all the people, saying: “The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city with all the words that you have heard.
13“Now therefore, amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; then the LORD will relent concerning the doom that He has pronounced against you.
14“As for me, here I am, in your hand; do with me as seems good and proper to you.
15“But know for certain that if you put me to death, you will surely bring innocent blood on yourselves, on this city, and on its inhabitants; for truly the LORD has sent me to you to speak all these words in your hearing.” 16So the princes and all the people said to the priests and the prophets, “This man does not deserve to die. For he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.” 17Then certain of the elders of the land rose up and spoke to all the assembly of the people, saying:
18“Micah of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spoke to all the people of Judah, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts:

> “Zion shall be plowed like a field,
> Jerusalem shall become heaps of ruins,
> And the mountain of the temple[a]

Like the bare hills of the forest.” ’[b]

19“Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah ever put him to death? Did he not fear the LORD and seek the LORD’s favor? And the LORD relented concerning the doom which He had pronounced against them. But we are doing great evil against ourselves.”

20Now there was also a man who prophesied in the name of the LORD, Urijah the son of Shemaiah of Kirjath Jearim, who prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went to Egypt.

22Then Jehoiakim the king sent men to Egypt: Elnathan the son of Achbor, and other men who went with him to Egypt.

23And they brought Urijah from Egypt and brought him to Jehoiakim the king, who killed him with the sword and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people.

24Nevertheless the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, so that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

Jeremiah 27

Symbol of the Bonds and Yokes

1 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim[a] the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,[b]
2 "Thus says the LORD to me: 'Make for yourselves bonds and yokes, and put them on your neck, 3 'and send them to the king of Edom, the king of Moab, the king of the Ammonites, the king of Tyre, and the king of Sidon, by the hand of the messengers who come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah.
4 'And command them to say to their masters, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel—thus you shall say to your masters:
5 'I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are on the ground, by My great power and by My outstretched arm, and have given it to whom it seemed proper to Me.
6 'And now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant; and the beasts of the field I have also given him to serve him.
7 'So all nations shall serve him and his son and his son's son, until the time of his land comes; and then many nations and great kings shall make him serve them.
8 'And it shall be, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and which will not put its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation I will punish,' says the LORD, 'with the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand.
9 'Therefore do not listen to your prophets, your diviners, your dreamers, your soothsayers, or your sorcerers, who speak to you, saying, “You shall not serve the king of Babylon.”

10 ‘For they prophesy a lie to you, to remove you far from your land; and I will drive you out, and you will perish.

11 ‘But the nations that bring their necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serve him, I will let them remain in their own land,’ says the LORD, ‘and they shall till it and dwell in it.’ ” ’ ”

12 I also spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, “Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live!

13 “Why will you die, you and your people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD has spoken against the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon?

14 “Therefore do not listen to the words of the prophets who speak to you, saying, ‘You shall not serve the king of Babylon,’ for they prophesy a lie to you;

15 “for I have not sent them,” says the LORD, “yet they prophesy a lie in My name, that I may drive you out, and that you may perish, you and the prophets who prophesy to you.”

16 Also I spoke to the priests and to all this people, saying, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Do not listen to the words of your prophets who prophesy to you, saying, “Behold, the vessels of the LORD’s house will now shortly be brought back from Babylon”; for they prophesy a lie to you.

17 ‘Do not listen to them; serve the king of Babylon, and live! Why should this city be laid waste?

18 ‘But if they are prophets, and if the word of the LORD is with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, do not go to Babylon.’

19 “For thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, concerning the Sea, concerning the carts, and concerning the remainder of the vessels that remain in this city,
20 “which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem—21 “yes, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah and of
Jerusalem:
22 ‘They shall be carried to Babylon, and there they shall be until the day that I visit them,’ says the LORD. ‘Then I will bring them up and restore them to this place.’ ”

Jeremiah 28

Hananiah's Falsehood and Doom

1 And it happened in the same year, at the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year and in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, who was from Gibeon, spoke to me in the house of the LORD in the presence of the priests and of all the people,
saying,

2 "Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: 'I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

3 'Within two full years I will bring back to this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place and carried to Babylon.

4 'And I will bring back to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah who went to Babylon,' says the LORD, 'for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.' "

5 Then the prophet Jeremiah spoke to the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests and in the presence of all the people who stood in the house of the LORD,

6 and the prophet Jeremiah said, "Amen! The LORD do so;
the LORD perform your words which you have prophesied, to bring back the vessels of the LORD's house and all who were carried away captive, from Babylon to this place.

7 "Nevertheless hear now this word that I speak in your hearing and in the hearing of all the people:

8 "The prophets who have been before me and before you of old prophesied against many countries and great kingdoms—of war and disaster and pestilence.

9 “As for the prophet who prophesies of peace, when the word of the prophet comes to pass, the prophet will be known as one whom the LORD has truly sent.” 10 Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke off the prophet Jeremiah’s neck and broke it.
11 And Hananiah spoke in the presence of all the people, saying, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Even so I will break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the space of two full years.’ ” And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.
12 Now the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, 13 “Go and tell Hananiah, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD:
“You have broken the yokes of wood, but you have made in their place yokes of iron.”
14 ‘For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “I have put a yoke of iron on the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him. I have given him the beasts of the field also.” ’ ”
15 Then the prophet Jeremiah said to Hananiah the prophet, “Hear now, Hananiah, the LORD has not sent you, but you make this people trust in a lie. The Trouble with Lies 16 “Therefore thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, I will cast you from the face of the earth. This year you shall die, because you have taught rebellion against the LORD.’ ” 17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

Jeremiah 29

Jeremiah's Letter to the Captives

1 Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the remainder of the elders who were carried away captive—to the priests, the prophets, and all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon.
2 (This happened after Jeconiah the king, the queen mother, the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen, and the smiths had departed from Jerusalem.)
3 The letter was sent by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, saying,

> 4 Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, to all > who were carried away captive, whom I have caused > to be carried away from Jerusalem to Babylon: Seeking the Peace of the City
>
> 5 Build houses and dwell in them; plant gardens and > eat their fruit.
> 6 Take wives and beget sons and daughters; and take > wives for your sons and give your daughters to > husbands, so that they may bear sons and daughters—> that you may be increased there, and not diminished.
> 7 And seek the peace of the city where I have caused > you to be carried away captive, and pray to the LORD > for it; for in its peace you will have peace.
> 8 For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
> Do not let your prophets and your diviners who are in your midst deceive you, nor listen to your dreams which you cause to be dreamed.

9For they prophesy falsely to you in My name; I have not sent them, says the LORD.

10For thus says the LORD: After seventy years are completed at Babylon, I will visit you and perform My good word toward you, and cause you to return to this place.
11For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, says the LORD, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope.
12Then you will call upon Me and go and pray to Me, and I will listen to you.
13And you will seek Me and find Me, when you search for Me with all your heart.
14I will be found by you, says the LORD, and I will bring you back from your captivity; I will gather you from all the nations and from all the places where I have driven you, says the LORD, and I will bring you to the place from which I cause you to be carried away captive.

15Because you have said, “The LORD has raised up prophets for us in Babylon”—
16therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king who sits on the throne of David, concerning all the people who dwell in this city, and concerning your brethren who have not gone out with you into captivity—
17thus says the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will send on them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like rotten figs that cannot be eaten, they are so bad.

18And I will pursue them with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence; and I will deliver them to trouble among all the kingdoms of the earth—to be a curse, an astonishment, a hissing, and a reproach among all the nations where I have driven them, 19because they have not heeded My words, says the LORD, which I sent to them by My servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; neither would you heed, says the LORD.
20Therefore hear the word of the LORD, all you of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon.

21Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy a lie to you in My name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall slay them before your eyes.
22And because of them a curse shall be taken up by all the captivity of Judah who are in Babylon, saying, “The LORD make you like Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire”;
23because they have done disgraceful things in Israel, have committed adultery with their neighbors’ wives, and have spoken lying words in My name, which I have not commanded them. Indeed I know, and am a witness, says the LORD.

24You shall also speak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,
25Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: You have sent letters in your name to all the people who are at Jerusalem, to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

[26]“The LORD has made you priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, so that there should be officers in the house of the LORD over every man who is demented and considers himself a prophet, that you should put him in prison and in the stocks.
[27]Now therefore, why have you not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth who makes himself a prophet to you?
[28]For he has sent to us in Babylon, saying, ‘This captivity is long; build houses and dwell in them, and plant gardens and eat their fruit.’ ”

29Now Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the hearing of Jeremiah the prophet.
[30]Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying:
[31]Send to all those in captivity, saying, Thus says the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, and I have not sent him, and he has caused you to trust in a lie—[32]therefore thus says the LORD: Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his family: he shall not have anyone to dwell among this people, nor shall he see the good that I will do for My people, says the LORD, because he has taught rebellion against the LORD.

Jeremiah 30

Restoration of Israel and Judah

1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,
2 “Thus speaks the LORD God of Israel, saying: ‘Write in a book for yourself all the words that I have spoken to you.
3 ‘For behold, the days are coming,’ says the LORD, ‘that I will bring back from captivity My people Israel and Judah,’ says the LORD. ‘And I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.’ ” 4 Now these are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and Judah.
5 “For thus says the LORD:

‘We have heard a voice of trembling,
Of fear, and not of peace.
6 Ask now, and see,
Whether a man is ever in labor with child?
So why do I see every man with his hands on his loins
Like a woman in labor,
And all faces turned pale?
7 Alas! For that day is great,
So that none is like it;
And it is the time of Jacob’s trouble,
But he shall be saved out of it.

8 ‘For it shall come to pass in that day,’
Says the LORD of hosts,
‘That I will break his yoke from your neck,
And will burst your bonds;
Foreigners shall no more enslave them.
9 But they shall serve the LORD their God,

And David their king,
Whom I will raise up for them.

10 ‘Therefore do not fear, O My servant
Jacob,’ says the LORD, ‘Nor be dismayed, O Israel;
For behold, I will save you from afar,
And your seed from the land of their captivity.
Jacob shall return, have rest and be quiet,
And no one shall make him afraid.
11 For I am with you,’ says the LORD, ‘to save you;
Though I make a full end of all nations
where I have scattered you,
Yet I will not make a complete end of you.
But I will correct you in justice,
And will not let you go altogether unpunished.’

12 “For thus says the LORD:

‘Your affliction is incurable,
Your wound is severe.
13 There is no one to plead your cause,
That you may be bound up;
You have no healing medicines.
14 All your lovers have forgotten you;
They do not seek you;
For I have wounded you with the wound of an enemy,
With the chastisement of a cruel one,
For the multitude of your iniquities,
Because your sins have increased.
15 Why do you cry about your affliction?

Your sorrow is incurable.
Because of the multitude of your iniquities,
Because your sins have increased,
I have done these things to you.

16 ‘Therefore all those who devour you shall be devoured;
And all your adversaries, every one of them,
shall go into captivity;
Those who plunder you shall become plunder,
And all who prey upon you I will make a prey.
17 For I will restore health to you
And heal you of your wounds,’ says the
LORD,
‘Because they called you an outcast saying:
“This is Zion;
No one seeks her.” ’

18 “Thus says the LORD:

‘Behold, I will bring back the captivity of Jacob’s tents,
And have mercy on his dwelling places;
The city shall be built upon its own mound,
And the palace shall remain according to its own plan.
19 Then out of them shall proceed thanksgiving
And the voice of those who make merry;
I will multiply them, and they shall not diminish;
I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.

20 Their children also shall be as before,
And their congregation shall be established before Me;
And I will punish all who oppress them.
21 Their nobles shall be from among them,
And their governor shall come from their midst;
Then I will cause him to draw near,
And he shall approach Me;
For who is this who pledged his heart to approach Me?’ says the LORD.
22 ‘You shall be My people,
And I will be your God.’ ”

23 Behold, the whirlwind of the LORD
Goes forth with fury,
A continuing whirlwind;
It will fall violently on the head of the wicked.
24 The fierce anger of the LORD will not return until He has done it,
And until He has performed the intents of His heart.

In the latter days you will consider it.

Jeremiah 31

The Remnant of Israel Saved

1 “At the same time,” says the LORD, “I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be My people.”
2 Thus says the LORD:

“The people who survived the sword
Found grace in the wilderness—
Israel, when I went to give him rest.”

3 The LORD has appeared of old to me,
saying:
“Yes, I have loved you with an everlasting
love;
Therefore with lovingkindness I have drawn
you.
4 Again I will build you, and you shall be rebuilt,
O virgin of Israel!
You shall again be adorned with your tambourines,
And shall go forth in the dances of those who rejoice.
5 You shall yet plant vines on the mountains of Samaria;
The planters shall plant and eat them as ordinary food.
6 For there shall be a day
When the watchmen will cry on Mount Ephraim,
‘Arise, and let us go up to Zion,
To the LORD our God.’ ”

7For thus says the LORD:

“Sing with gladness for Jacob,
And shout among the chief of the nations;
Proclaim, give praise, and say,
‘O LORD, save Your people,
The remnant of Israel!’
8Behold, I will bring them from the north country,
And gather them from the ends of the earth,
Among them the blind and the lame,
The woman with child
And the one who labors with child, together;
A great throng shall return there.
9They shall come with weeping,
And with supplications I will lead them.
I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters,
In a straight way in which they shall not stumble;
For I am a Father to Israel,
And Ephraim is My firstborn.

10“Hear the word of the LORD, O nations,
And declare it in the isles afar off, and say,
‘He who scattered Israel will gather him,
And keep him as a shepherd does his flock.’
11For the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
And ransomed him from the hand of one stronger than he.
12Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion,
Streaming to the goodness of the LORD—
For wheat and new wine and oil,
For the young of the flock and the herd;

Their souls shall be like a well-watered garden,
And they shall sorrow no more at all.

13 “Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance,
And the young men and the old, together;
For I will turn their mourning to joy,
Will comfort them,
And make them rejoice rather than sorrow.
14 I will satiate the soul of the priests with abundance,
And My people shall be satisfied with My goodness, says the LORD.”

Mercy on Ephraim

15 Thus says the LORD:

“A voice was heard in Ramah,
Lamentation and bitter weeping,
Rachel weeping for her children,
Refusing to be comforted for her children,
Because they are no more.”

16 Thus says the LORD:

“Refrain your voice from weeping,
And your eyes from tears;
For your work shall be rewarded, says the
LORD,
And they shall come back from the land of the enemy.
17 There is hope in your future, says the
LORD,
That your children shall come back to their own border.

18“I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning
himself:
‘You have chastised me, and I was chastised,
Like an untrained bull;
Restore me, and I will return,
For You are the LORD my God.
19Surely, after my turning, I repented;
And after I was instructed, I struck myself on the thigh;
I was ashamed, yes, even humiliated,
Because I bore the reproach of my youth.’
20*Is* Ephraim My dear son?
Is he a pleasant child?
For though I spoke against him,
I earnestly remember him still;
Therefore My heart yearns for him;
I will surely have mercy on him, says the LORD. Prodigal Children

21“Set up signposts,
Make landmarks;
Set your heart toward the highway,
The way in which you went.
Turn back, O virgin of Israel,
Turn back to these your cities.
22How long will you gad about,
O you backsliding daughter?
For the LORD has created a new thing in the earth—
A woman shall encompass a man.”

Future Prosperity of Judah

23Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “They shall again use this speech in the land of Judah and in its cities, when I bring back their captivity: ‘The LORD bless you, O home of justice, and mountain of holiness!’

24“And there shall dwell in Judah itself, and in all its cities together, farmers and those going out with flocks.

25“For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.”

26After this I awoke and looked around, and my sleep was sweet to me.

27“Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and the seed of beast.

28“And it shall come to pass, that as I have watched over them to pluck up, to break down, to throw down, to destroy, and to afflict, so I will watch over them to build and to plant, says the LORD.

29“In those days they shall say no more:

> ‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
> And the children’s teeth are set on edge.’

30“But every one shall die for his own iniquity; every man who eats the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.

A New Covenant

31“Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah— Written on Their Hearts

32“not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, My covenant which they broke, though I was a husband to them,[a] says the LORD.

33“But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD: I will put

My law in their minds, and write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

34 “No more shall every man teach his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, ‘Know the LORD,’ for they all shall know Me, from the least of them to the greatest of them, says the LORD. For I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin I will remember no more.”

35 Thus says the LORD,
Who gives the sun for a light by day,
The ordinances of the moon and the stars for a light by night,
Who disturbs the sea,
And its waves roar
(The LORD of hosts is His name):

36 “If those ordinances depart
From before Me, says the LORD,
Then the seed of Israel shall also cease
From being a nation before Me forever.”

37 Thus says the LORD:

“If heaven above can be measured,
And the foundations of the earth searched out beneath,
I will also cast off all the seed of Israel
For all that they have done, says the LORD.

38 “Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, that the city shall be built for the LORD from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate.

39 “The surveyor’s line shall again extend straight forward over the hill Gareb; then it shall turn toward Goath.

40 “And the whole valley of the dead bodies and of the ashes, and all the fields as far as the Brook Kidron, to the corner of the Horse Gate toward the east, shall be holy to the LORD. It shall not be plucked up or thrown down anymore forever.”

Jeremiah 32

Jeremiah Buys a Field

1The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar.

2For then the king of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Judah's house.

3For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, "Why do you prophesy and say, 'Thus says the LORD: "Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it;

4"and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape from the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him face to face,[a] and see him eye to eye;

5"then he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there he shall be until I visit him," says the LORD; "though you fight with the Chaldeans, you shall not succeed" '?"

6And Jeremiah said, "The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

7'Behold, Hanamel the son of Shallum your uncle will come to you, saying, "Buy my field which is in Anathoth, for the right of redemption is yours to buy it." '

8"Then Hanamel my uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison according to the word of the LORD, and said to me, 'Please buy my field that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is yours, and the redemption yours; buy it for yourself.' Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

9 “So I bought the field from Hanamel, the son of my uncle who was in Anathoth, and weighed out to him the money—seventeen shekels of silver.
10 “And I signed the deed and sealed it, took witnesses, and weighed the money on the scales.
11 “So I took the purchase deed, both that which was sealed according to the law and custom, and that which was open;
12 “and I gave the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel my uncle’s son, and in the presence of the witnesses who signed the purchase deed, before all the Jews who sat in the court of the prison.
13 “Then I charged Baruch before them, saying, 14 ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Take these deeds, both this purchase deed which is sealed and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may last many days.”
15 ‘For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
“Houses and fields and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.” ’

Jeremiah Prays for Understanding

16 “Now when I had delivered the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD, saying:
17 ‘Ah, Lord GOD! Behold, You have made the heavens and the earth by Your great power and outstretched arm. There is nothing too hard for You.
18 ‘You show lovingkindness to thousands, and repay the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them—the Great, the Mighty God, whose name is the LORD
of hosts.
19 ‘You are great in counsel and mighty in work, for your eyes are open to all the ways of the sons of men, to give everyone according to his ways and according to the fruit of his doings.

20 ‘You have set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, to this day, and in Israel and among other men; and You have made Yourself a name, as it is this day.

21 ‘You have brought Your people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs and wonders, with a strong hand and an outstretched arm, and with great terror;

22 ‘You have given them this land, of which You swore to their fathers to give them—“a land flowing with milk and honey.”[b]

23 ‘And they came in and took possession of it, but they have not obeyed Your voice or walked in Your law. They have done nothing of all that You commanded them to do; therefore You have caused all this calamity to come upon them.

24 ‘Look, the siege mounds! They have come to the city to take it; and the city has been given into the hand of the Chaldeans who fight against it, because of the sword and famine and pestilence. What You have spoken has happened; there You see it!

25 ‘And You have said to me, O Lord GOD, “Buy the field for money, and take witnesses”!—yet the city has been given into the hand of the Chaldeans.’ ”

God’s Assurance of the People’s Return

26 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,

27 “Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh. Is there anything too hard for Me?

28 “Therefore thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

29 ‘And the Chaldeans who fight against this city shall come and set fire to this city and burn it, with the houses on whose roofs they have offered incense to Baal and poured out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke Me to anger;

30 ‘because the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done only evil before Me from their youth. For the children of Israel have provoked Me only to anger with the work of their hands,’ says the LORD.

31 ‘For this city has been to Me a provocation of My anger and My fury from the day that they built it, even to this day; so I will remove it from before My face

32 ‘because of all the evil of the children of Israel and the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke Me to anger—they, their kings, their princes, their priests, their prophets, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 ‘And they have turned to Me the back, and not the face; though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not listened to receive instruction.

34 ‘But they set their abominations in the house which is called by My name, to defile it.

35 ‘And they built the high places of Baal which are in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire to Molech, which I did not command them, nor did it come into My mind that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.’

36 “Now therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city of which you say, ‘It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence:

37 ‘Behold, I will gather them out of all countries where I have driven them in My anger, in My fury, and in great wrath; I will bring them back to this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 ‘They shall be My people, and I will be their God;

39 ‘then I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear Me forever, for the good of them and their children after them.
40 ‘And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from doing them good; but I will put My fear in their hearts so that they will not depart from
Me.
41 ‘Yes, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will assuredly plant them in this land, with all My heart and with all My soul.’
42 “For thus says the LORD: ‘Just as I have brought all this great calamity on this people, so I will bring on them all the good that I have promised them.
43 ‘And fields will be bought in this land of which you say, “It is desolate, without man or beast; it has been given into the hand of the Chaldeans.”
44 ‘Men will buy fields for money, sign deeds and seal them, and take witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, in the places around Jerusalem, in the cities of Judah, in the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South; for I will cause their captives to return,’
says the LORD.”

Jeremiah 33

Excellence of the Restored Nation

1 Moreover the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah a second time, while he was still shut up in the court of the prison, saying,
2 "Thus says the LORD who made it, the LORD who formed it to establish it (the LORD is His name):
3 'Call to Me, and I will answer you, and show you great and mighty things, which you do not know.'
4 "For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city and the houses of the kings of Judah, which have been pulled down to fortify[a] against the siege mounds and the sword:
5 'They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but only to fill their places[b] with the dead bodies of men whom I will slay in My anger and My fury, all for whose wickedness I have hidden My face from this city.
6 'Behold, I will bring it health and healing; I will heal them and reveal to them the abundance of peace and truth.
7 'And I will cause the captives of Judah and the captives of Israel to return, and will rebuild those places as at the first.
8 'I will cleanse them from all their iniquity by which they have sinned against Me, and I will pardon all their iniquities by which they have sinned and by which they have transgressed against Me.
9 'Then it shall be to Me a name of joy, a praise, and an honor before all nations of the earth, who shall hear all the good that I do to them; they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness and all the prosperity that I provide for it.'

10 “Thus says the LORD: ‘Again there shall be heard in this place—of which you say, “It is desolate, without man and without beast”—in the cities of Judah, in the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast, Jerusalem: From Desolation to Joy

11 ‘the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of those who will say:

> “Praise the LORD of hosts,
> For the LORD is good,
> For His mercy endures forever”— and of those who will bring the sacrifice of praise into the house of the LORD. For I will cause the captives of the land to return as at the first,’ says the LORD.

12 “Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘In this place which is desolate, without man and without beast, and in all its cities, there shall again be a dwelling place of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.

13 ‘In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the lowland, in the cities of the South, in the land of Benjamin, in the places around Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, the flocks shall again pass under the hands of him who counts them,’ says the LORD.

14 ‘Behold, the days are coming,’ says the LORD, ‘that I will perform that good thing which I have promised to the house of Israel and to the house of Judah:

> 15 ‘In those days and at that time
> I will cause to grow up to David
> A Branch of righteousness;
> He shall execute judgment and > righteousness in the earth.
> 16 In those days Judah will be saved,

And Jerusalem will dwell safely.
And this is the name by which she will be called:

THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.'[c]

17 "For thus says the LORD: 'David shall never lack a man to sit on the throne of the house of Israel;
18 'nor shall the priests, the Levites, lack a man to offer burnt offerings before Me, to kindle grain offerings, and to sacrifice continually.' "

The Permanence of God's Covenant

19 And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
20 "Thus says the LORD: 'If you can break My covenant with the day and My covenant with the night, so that there will not be day and night in their season,
21 'then My covenant may also be broken with David My servant, so that he shall not have a son to reign on his throne, and with the Levites, the priests, My ministers.
22 'As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, nor the sand of the sea measured, so will I multiply the descendants of David My servant and the Levites who minister to Me.' "
23 Moreover the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
24 "Have you not considered what these people have spoken, saying, 'The two families which the LORD has chosen, He has also cast them off'? Thus they have despised My people, as if they should no more be a nation before them.
25 "Thus says the LORD: 'If My covenant is not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth, 26 ‘then I will cast away the descendants of Jacob and David My servant, so that I will not take any of his descendants to be rulers over the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. For I will cause their captives to return, and will have mercy on them.’ ”

Jeremiah 34

Zedekiah Warned by God

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army, all the kingdoms of the earth under his dominion, and all the people, fought against Jerusalem and all its cities, saying,

2 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him, "Thus says the LORD: 'Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

3 'And you shall not escape from his hand, but shall surely be taken and delivered into his hand; your eyes shall see the eyes of the king of Babylon, he shall speak with you face to face,[a] and you shall go to Babylon.' " '

4 "Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah! Thus says the LORD concerning you: 'You shall not die by the sword.

5 'You shall die in peace; as in the ceremonies of your fathers, the former kings who were before you, so they shall burn incense for you and lament for you, saying, "Alas, lord!" For I have pronounced the word, says the LORD.' "

6 Then Jeremiah the prophet spoke all these words to Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem,

7 when the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem and all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and Azekah; for only these fortified cities remained of the cities of Judah.

Treacherous Treatment of Slaves

8 This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people who were at Jerusalem to proclaim liberty to them:

An Empty Gesture

9 that every man should set free his male and female slave
—a Hebrew man or woman—that no one should keep a Jewish brother in bondage.

10 Now when all the princes and all the people, who had entered into the covenant, heard that everyone should set free his male and female slaves, that no one should keep them in bondage anymore, they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterward they changed their minds and made the male and female slaves return, whom they had set free, and brought them into subjection as male and female slaves.

12 Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

13 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage,
saying,

14 "At the end of seven years let every man set free his Hebrew brother, who has been sold to him; and when he has served you six years, you shall let him go free from you." But your fathers did not obey Me nor incline their ear.

15 'Then you recently turned and did what was right in My sight—every man proclaiming liberty to his neighbor; and you made a covenant before Me in the house which is called by My name.

16 'Then you turned around and profaned My name, and every one of you brought back his male and female slaves, whom he had set at liberty, at their pleasure, and brought them back into subjection, to be your male and female slaves.'

17 "Therefore thus says the LORD: 'You have not obeyed Me in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother and every one to his neighbor. Behold, I proclaim liberty to you,' says the LORD—‘to the sword, to pestilence, and to famine! And I will deliver you to trouble among all the kingdoms of the earth.

18‘And I will give the men who have transgressed My covenant, who have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before Me, when they cut the calf in two and passed between the parts of it—

19‘the princes of Judah, the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, the priests, and all the people of the land who passed between the parts of the calf—

20‘I will give them into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their life. Their dead bodies shall be for meat for the birds of the heaven and the beasts of the earth.

21‘And I will give Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes into the hand of their enemies, into the hand of those who seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon’s army which has gone back from you.

22‘Behold, I will command,’ says the LORD, ‘and cause them to return to this city. They will fight against it and take it and burn it with fire; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without inhabitant.’ ”

Jeremiah 35

The Obedient Rechabites

1 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, 2 "Go to the house of the Rechabites, speak to them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink."
3 Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, his brothers and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites, 4 and I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door.
5 Then I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups; and I said to them, "Drink wine."
6 But they said, "We will drink no wine, for Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, commanded us, saying, 'You shall drink no wine, you nor your sons, forever.
7 'You shall not build a house, sow seed, plant a vineyard, nor have any of these; but all your days you shall dwell in tents, that you may live many days in the land where you are sojourners.'
8 "Thus we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, or our daughters,
9 "nor to build ourselves houses to dwell in; nor do we have vineyard, field, or seed.

10 “But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed and done
according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.
11 “But it came to pass, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, ‘Come, let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans and for fear of the army of the Syrians.’ So we dwell at Jerusalem.”
12 Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying, 13 “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Go and tell the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, “Will you not receive instruction to obey My words?” says
the LORD.
14 “The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, which he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed; for to this day they drink none, and obey their father’s commandment. But although I have spoken to you, rising early and speaking, you did not obey Me.
15 “I have also sent to you all My servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, ‘Turn now everyone from his evil way, amend your doings, and do not go after other gods to serve them; then you will dwell in the land which I have given you and your fathers.’ But you have not inclined your ear, nor obeyed Me.
16 “Surely the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them, but this people has not obeyed Me.” ’ 17 “Therefore thus says the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Behold, I will bring on Judah and on all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the doom that I have pronounced against them; because I have spoken to them but they have not heard, and I have called to them but they have not answered.’ ”
18 And Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Because you have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts and done according to all that he commanded you, 19 ‘therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not lack a man to stand before Me forever.” ’ ”

Jeremiah 36

The Scroll Read in the Temple

1 Now it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying:

2 "Take a scroll of a book and write on it all the words that I have spoken to you against Israel, against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spoke to you, from the days of Josiah even to this day.

3 "It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the adversities which I purpose to bring upon them, that everyone may turn from his evil way, that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin."

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote on a scroll of a book, at the instruction of Jeremiah,[a] all the words of the LORD which He had spoken to him.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, "I am confined, I cannot go into the house of the LORD.

6 "You go, therefore, and read from the scroll which you have written at my instruction,[b] the words of the LORD, in the hearing of the people in the LORD's house on the day of fasting. And you shall also read them in the hearing of all Judah who come from their cities.

7 "It may be that they will present their supplication before the LORD, and everyone will turn from his evil way.
For great is the anger and the fury that the LORD has pronounced against this people."

8 And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading from the book the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.

9Now it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people who came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem.

10Then Baruch read from the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court at the entry of the New Gate of the LORD's house, in the hearing of all the people.

The Scroll Read in the Palace

11When Michaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, heard all the words of the LORD from the book,

12he then went down to the king's house, into the scribe's chamber; and there all the princes were sitting—Elishama the scribe, Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, Elnathan the son of Achbor, Gemariah the son of Shaphan, Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13Then Michaiah declared to them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read the book in the hearing of the people.

14Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, to Baruch, saying, "Take in your hand the scroll from which you have read in the hearing of the people, and come." So Baruch the son of Neriah took the scroll in his hand and came to them.

15And they said to him, "Sit down now, and read it in our hearing." So Baruch read it in their hearing.

16Now it happened, when they had heard all the words, that they looked in fear from one to another, and said to Baruch, "We will surely tell the king of all these words."

17 And they asked Baruch, saying, “Tell us now, how did you write all these words—at his instruction?”[c] 18 So Baruch answered them, “He proclaimed with his mouth all these words to me, and I wrote them with ink in the book.”
19 Then the princes said to Baruch, “Go and hide, you and Jeremiah; and let no one know where you are.”

The King Destroys Jeremiah’s Scroll

20 And they went to the king, into the court; but they stored the scroll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe, and told all the words in the hearing of the king.
21 So the king sent Jehudi to bring the scroll, and he took it from Elishama the scribe’s chamber. And Jehudi read it in the hearing of the king and in the hearing of all the princes who stood beside the king.
22 Now the king was sitting in the winter house in the ninth month, with a fire burning on the hearth before him.
23 And it happened, when Jehudi had read three or four columns, that the king cut it with the scribe’s knife and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the scroll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.
24 Yet they were not afraid, nor did they tear their garments, the king nor any of his servants who heard all these words.
25 Nevertheless Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah implored the king not to burn the scroll; but he would not listen to them.
26 And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king’s[d] son, Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to seize Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet, but the LORD hid them.

Jeremiah Rewrites the Scroll

27 Now after the king had burned the scroll with the words which Baruch had written at the instruction of Jeremiah,[e] the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying:
28 "Take yet another scroll, and write on it all the former words that were in the first scroll which Jehoiakim the king of Judah has burned.
29 "And you shall say to Jehoiakim king of Judah, 'Thus says the LORD: "You have burned this scroll, saying, 'Why have you written in it that the king of Babylon will certainly come and destroy this land, and cause man and beast to cease from here?' "
30 'Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: "He shall have no one to sit on the throne of David, and his dead body shall be cast out to the heat of the day and the frost of the night.
31 "I will punish him, his family, and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring on them, on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and on the men of Judah all the doom that I have pronounced against them; but they did not heed." ' " 32 Then Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote on it at the instruction of Jeremiah[f] all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire. And besides, there were added to them many similar words.

Jeremiah 37

Zedekiah's Vain Hope

1 Now King Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah. Godly Fathers with Troubled Sons

2 But neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land gave heed to the words of the LORD which He spoke by the prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, "Pray now to the LORD
our God for us."

4 Now Jeremiah was coming and going among the people, for they had not yet put him in prison.

5 Then Pharaoh's army came up from Egypt; and when the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem heard news of them, they departed from Jerusalem.

6 Then the word of the LORD came to the prophet
Jeremiah, saying,

7 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'Thus you shall say to the king of Judah, who sent you to Me to inquire of Me: "Behold, Pharaoh's army which has come up to help you will return to Egypt, to their own land.

8 "And the Chaldeans shall come back and fight against this city, and take it and burn it with fire." '

9 "Thus says the LORD: 'Do not deceive yourselves, saying, "The Chaldeans will surely depart from us," for they will not depart.

10 'For though you had defeated the whole army of the Chaldeans who fight against you, and there remained only wounded men among them, they would rise up, every man in his tent, and burn the city with fire.’ ”

Jeremiah Imprisoned

11And it happened, when the army of the Chaldeans left the siege of Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh’s army, 12that Jeremiah went out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin to claim his property there among the people.

13And when he was in the Gate of Benjamin, a captain of the guard was there whose name was Irijah the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he seized Jeremiah the prophet, saying, “You are defecting to the Chaldeans!”

Blowing the Whistle with Wisdom

14Then Jeremiah said, “False! I am not defecting to the Chaldeans.” But he did not listen to him. So Irijah seized Jeremiah and brought him to the princes.

15Therefore the princes were angry with Jeremiah, and they struck him and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe. For they had made that the prison.

16When Jeremiah entered the dungeon and the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days,

17then Zedekiah the king sent and took him out. The king asked him secretly in his house, and said, “Is there any word from the LORD?” And Jeremiah said, “There is.” Then he said, “You shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon!”

18Moreover Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, “What offense have I committed against you, against your servants, or against this people, that you have put me in prison?

19“Where now are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, ‘The king of Babylon will not come against you or against this land’?

20 “Therefore please hear now, O my lord the king. Please, let my petition be accepted before you, and do not make me return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.”

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should commit Jeremiah to the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread from the bakers’ street, until all the bread in the city was gone. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

Jeremiah 38

Jeremiah in the Dungeon

1 Now Shephatiah the son of Mattan, Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, Jucal[a] the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchiah heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken to all the people, saying,
2 "Thus says the LORD: 'He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; but he who goes over to the Chaldeans shall live; his life shall be as a prize to him, and he shall live.'[b] 3 "Thus says the LORD: 'This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which shall take it.' "
4 Therefore the princes said to the king, "Please, let this man be put to death, for thus he weakens the hands of the men of war who remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, by speaking such words to them. For this man does not seek the welfare of this people, but their harm."
5 Then Zedekiah the king said, "Look, he is in your hand.
For the king can do nothing against you."
6 So they took Jeremiah and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the king's[c] son, which was in the court of the prison, and they let Jeremiah down with ropes. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire. So Jeremiah sank in the mire.
7 Now Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs, who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon. When the king was sitting at the Gate of Benjamin, Africans in the Bible 8 Ebed-Melech went out of the king's house and spoke to the king, saying:

9“My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon, and he is likely to die from hunger in the place where he is. For there is no more bread in the city.”

10Then the king commanded Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian, saying, “Take from here thirty men with you, and lift Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon before he dies.”

11So Ebed-Melech took the men with him and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took from there old clothes and old rags, and let them down by ropes into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12Then Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, “Please put these old clothes and rags under your armpits, under the ropes.” And Jeremiah did so.

13So they pulled Jeremiah up with ropes and lifted him out of the dungeon. And Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

Zedekiah’s Fears and Jeremiah’s Advice

14Then Zedekiah the king sent and had Jeremiah the prophet brought to him at the third entrance of the house of the LORD. And the king said to Jeremiah, “I will ask you something. Hide nothing from me.”

15Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “If I declare it to you, will you not surely put me to death? And if I give you advice, you will not listen to me.”

16So Zedekiah the king swore secretly to Jeremiah, saying, “As the LORD lives, who made our very souls, I will not put you to death, nor will I give you into the hand of these men who seek your life.”

17Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “Thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘If you surely surrender to the king of Babylon’s princes, then your soul shall live;

this city shall not be burned with fire, and you and your house shall live.

18‘But if you do not surrender to the king of Babylon’s princes, then this city shall be given into the hand of the Chaldeans; they shall burn it with fire, and you shall not escape from their hand.’ ”

19And Zedekiah the king said to Jeremiah, “I am afraid of the Jews who have defected to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they abuse me.”

20But Jeremiah said, “They shall not deliver you. Please, obey the voice of the LORD which I speak to you. So it shall be well with you, and your soul shall live.

21“But if you refuse to surrender, this is the word that the LORD has shown me:

22‘Now behold, all the women who are left in the king of Judah’s house shall be surrendered to the king of Babylon’s princes, and those women shall say:

> “Your close friends have set upon you
> And prevailed against you;
> Your feet have sunk in the mire,
> And they have turned away again.”

23‘So they shall surrender all your wives and children to the Chaldeans. You shall not escape from their hand, but shall be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon. And you shall cause this city to be burned with fire.’ ”

24Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “Let no one know of these words, and you shall not die.

25“But if the princes hear that I have talked with you, and they come to you and say to you, ‘Declare to us now what you have said to the king, and also what the king said to you; do not hide it from us, and we will not put you to death,’

[26]“then you shall say to them, ‘I presented my request before the king, that he would not make me return to Jonathan’s house to die there.’ ”

[27]Then all the princes came to Jeremiah and asked him. And he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they stopped speaking with him, for the conversation had not been heard.

[28]Now Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken. And he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

Jeremiah 39

The Fall of Jerusalem

1 In the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem, and besieged it.
2 In the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, the city was penetrated.
3 Then all the princes of the king of Babylon came in and sat in the Middle Gate: Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarsechim, Rabsaris,[a] Nergal-Sarezer, Rabmag,[b] with the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon.
4 So it was, when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, that they fled and went out of the city by night, by way of the king's garden, by the gate between the two walls. And he went out by way of the plain.[c]
5 But the Chaldean army pursued them and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. And when they had captured him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he pronounced judgment on him.
6 Then the king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes in Riblah; the king of Babylon also killed all the nobles of Judah.
7 Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with bronze fetters to carry him off to Babylon.
8 And the Chaldeans burned the king's house and the houses of the people with fire, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem.
9 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive to Babylon the remnant of the people who remained in the city and those who defected to him, with the rest of the people who remained.

10But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left in the land of Judah the poor people, who had nothing, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

Jeremiah Goes Free

11Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying,

12"Take him and look after him, and do him no harm; but do to him just as he says to you."

13So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent Nebushasban, Rabsaris, Nergal-Sharezer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babylon's chief officers;

14then they sent someone to take Jeremiah from the court of the prison, and committed him to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should take him home. So he dwelt among the people.

15Meanwhile the word of the LORD had come to Jeremiah while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

16"Go and speak to Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Behold, I will bring My words upon this city for adversity and not for good, and they shall be performed in that day before you.

17"But I will deliver you in that day," says the LORD, "and you shall not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid.

18"For I will surely deliver you, and you shall not fall by the sword; but your life shall be as a prize to you, because you have put your trust in Me," says the LORD.' "

Jeremiah 40

Jeremiah with Gedaliah the Governor

1 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD after Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him bound in chains among all who were carried away captive from Jerusalem and Judah, who were carried away captive to Babylon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah and said to him: "The LORD your God has pronounced this doom on this place.

3 "Now the LORD has brought it, and has done just as He said. Because you people have sinned against the LORD, and not obeyed His voice, therefore this thing has come upon you.

4 "And now look, I free you this day from the chains that were on your hand. If it seems good to you to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will look after you. But if it seems wrong for you to come with me to Babylon, remain here.
See, all the land is before you; wherever it seems good and convenient for you to go, go there."

5 Now while Jeremiah had not yet gone back, Nebuzaradan said, "Go back to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people. Or go wherever it seems convenient for you to go." So the captain of the guard gave him rations and a gift and let him go. Soldiers in Scripture

6 Then Jeremiah went to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people who were left in the land.

7And when all the captains of the armies who were in the fields, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed to him men, women, children, and the poorest of the land who had not been carried away captive to Babylon, 8then they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah—Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah[a] the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.

9And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, took an oath before them and their men, saying, "Do not be afraid to serve the Chaldeans. Dwell in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

10"As for me, I will indeed dwell at Mizpah and serve the Chaldeans who come to us. But you, gather wine and summer fruit and oil, put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that you have taken."

11Likewise, when all the Jews who were in Moab, among the Ammonites, in Edom, and who were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, 12then all the Jews returned out of all places where they had been driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruit in abundance.

13Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields came to Gedaliah at Mizpah, 14and said to him, "Do you certainly know that Baalis the king of the Ammonites has sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to murder you?” But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam did not believe them.

15Then Johanan the son of Kareah spoke secretly to Gedaliah in Mizpah, saying, “Let me go, please, and I will kill Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no one will know it. Why should he murder you, so that all the Jews who are gathered to you would be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?”

16But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah, “You shall not do this thing, for you speak falsely concerning Ishmael.”

Jeremiah 41

Insurrection Against Gedaliah

1 Now it came to pass in the seventh month that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal family and of the officers of the king, came with ten men to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, at Mizpah. And there they ate bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men who were with him, arose and struck Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, with the sword, and killed him whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.

3 Ishmael also struck down all the Jews who were with him, that is, with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans who were found there, the men of war.

4 And it happened, on the second day after he had killed
Gedaliah, when as yet no one knew it,

5 that certain men came from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, eighty men with their beards shaved and their clothes torn, having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD.

6 Now Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he went along; and it happened as he met them that he said to them, “Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam!”

7 So it was, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah killed them and cast them into the midst of a pit, he and the men who were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them who said to Ishmael, “Do not kill us, for we have treasures of wheat, barley, oil, and honey in the field." So he desisted and did not kill them among their brethren.

9 Now the pit into which Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, because of Gedaliah, was the same one Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel. Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with the slain.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the rest of the people who were in Mizpah, the king's daughters and all the people who remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces that were with him heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done,

12 they took all the men and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah; and they found him by the great pool that is in Gibeon.

13 So it was, when all the people who were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, that they were glad.

14 Then all the people whom Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned around and came back, and went to Johanan the son of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, took from Mizpah all the rest of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah after he had murdered Gedaliah the son of Ahikam—the mighty men of war and the women and the children and the eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and dwelt in the habitation of Chimham, which is near Bethlehem, as they went on their way to Egypt,
18 because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had murdered Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had made governor in the land.

Jeremiah 42

The Flight to Egypt Forbidden

1 Now all the captains of the forces, Johanan the son of Kareah, Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people, from the least to the greatest, came near 2 and said to Jeremiah the prophet, “Please, let our petition be acceptable to you, and pray for us to the LORD your God, for all this remnant (since we are left but a few of many, as you can see), 3 “that the LORD your God may show us the way in which we should walk and the thing we should do.”
4 Then Jeremiah the prophet said to them, “I have heard.
Indeed, I will pray to the LORD your God according to your words, and it shall be, that whatever the LORD answers you, I will declare it to you. I will keep nothing back from
you.”
5 So they said to Jeremiah, “Let the LORD be a true and faithful witness between us, if we do not do according to everything which the LORD your God sends us by you.
6 “Whether it is pleasing or displeasing, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God to whom we send you, that it may be well with us when we obey the voice of the LORD
our God.”
7 And it happened after ten days that the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah.
8 Then he called Johanan the son of Kareah, all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, 9 and said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your petition before
Him:

10 ‘If you will still remain in this land, then I will build you and not pull you down, and I will plant you and not pluck you up. For I relent concerning the disaster that I have brought upon you.
11 ‘Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom you are afraid; do not be afraid of him,’ says the LORD, ‘for I am with you, to save you and deliver you from his hand.
12 ‘And I will show you mercy, that he may have mercy on you and cause you to return to your own land.’ 13 “But if you say, ‘We will not dwell in this land,’ disobeying the voice of the LORD your God, 14 “saying, ‘No, but we will go to the land of Egypt where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor be hungry for bread, and there we will dwell’— 15 “Then hear now the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah! Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘If you wholly set your faces to enter Egypt, and go to dwell
there,
16 ‘then it shall be that the sword which you feared shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt; the famine of which you were afraid shall follow close after you there in Egypt; and there you shall die.
17 ‘So shall it be with all the men who set their faces to go to Egypt to dwell there. They shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence. And none of them shall remain or escape from the disaster that I will bring upon them.’
18 “For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘As My anger and My fury have been poured out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so will My fury be poured out on you when you enter Egypt. And you shall be an oath, an astonishment, a curse, and a reproach; and you shall see this place no more.’
19 “The LORD has said concerning you, O remnant of Judah, ‘Do not go to Egypt!’ Know certainly that I have admonished you this day.

20 “For you were hypocrites in your hearts when you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, ‘Pray for us to the LORD our God, and according to all that the LORD your God says, so declare to us and we will do it.’

21 “And I have this day declared it to you, but you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, or anything which He has sent you by me.

22 “Now therefore, know certainly that you shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence in the place where you desire to go to dwell.”

Jeremiah 43

Jeremiah Taken to Egypt

1 Now it happened, when Jeremiah had stopped speaking to all the people all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, all these words,
2 that Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men spoke, saying to Jeremiah,
"You speak falsely! The LORD our God has not sent you to say, 'Do not go to Egypt to dwell there.' 3 "But Baruch the son of Neriah has set you against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death or carry us away captive to Babylon." 4 So Johanan the son of Kareah, all the captains of the forces, and all the people would not obey the voice of the LORD, to remain in the land of Judah.
5 But Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces took all the remnant of Judah who had returned to dwell in the land of Judah, from all nations where they had been driven—6 men, women, children, the king's daughters, and every person whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch the son of Neriah.
7 So they went to the land of Egypt, for they did not obey the voice of the LORD. And they went as far as Tahpanhes.
8 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying, Time Capsules in Tahpanhes 9 "Take large stones in your hand, and hide them in the sight of the men of Judah, in the clay in the brick courtyard which is at the entrance to Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes;

10 “and say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant, and will set his throne above these stones that I have hidden. And he will spread his royal pavilion over them.

11 “When he comes, he shall strike the land of Egypt and deliver to death those appointed for death, and to captivity those appointed for captivity, and to the sword those appointed for the sword.

12 “I[a] will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burn them and carry them away captive. And he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd puts on his garment, and he shall go out from there in peace.

13 “He shall also break the sacred pillars of Beth Shemesh[b] that are in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians he shall burn with fire.” ’ ”

Jeremiah 44

Israelites Will Be Punished in Egypt

1 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who dwell in the land of Egypt, who dwell at Migdol, at Tahpanhes, at Noph,[a] and in the country of Pathros, saying,
2 "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'You have seen all the calamity that I have brought on Jerusalem and on all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are a desolation, and no one dwells in them, 3 'because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke Me to anger, in that they went to burn incense and to serve other gods whom they did not know, they nor you nor your fathers.
4 'However I have sent to you all My servants the prophets, rising early and sending them, saying, "Oh, do not do this abominable thing that I hate!" 5 'But they did not listen or incline their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense to other gods.
6 'So My fury and My anger were poured out and kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as it is this day.'
7 "Now therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: 'Why do you commit this great evil against yourselves, to cut off from you man and woman, child and infant, out of Judah, leaving none to remain, 8 'in that you provoke Me to wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt where you have gone to dwell, that you may cut yourselves off and be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

9‘Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, the wickedness of the kings of Judah, the wickedness of their wives, your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?
10‘They have not been humbled, to this day, nor have they feared; they have not walked in My law or in My statutes that I set before you and your fathers.’ 11“Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Behold, I will set My face against you for catastrophe and for cutting off all Judah.
12‘And I will take the remnant of Judah who have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to dwell there, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the land of Egypt. They shall be consumed by the sword and by famine. They shall die, from the least to the greatest, by the sword and by famine; and they shall be an oath, an astonishment, a curse and a reproach!
13‘For I will punish those who dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence,
14‘so that none of the remnant of Judah who have gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there shall escape or survive, lest they return to the land of Judah, to which they desire to return and dwell. For none shall return except those who escape.’ ” 15Then all the men who knew that their wives had burned incense to other gods, with all the women who stood by, a great multitude, and all the people who dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying: 16“As for the word that you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD, we will not listen to you!
17“But we will certainly do whatever has gone out of our own mouth, to burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. For then we had plenty of food, were well-off, and saw no trouble.

18 “But since we stopped burning incense to the queen of heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have lacked everything and have been consumed by the sword and by famine.”

19 The women also said, “And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven and poured out drink offerings to her, did we make cakes for her, to worship her, and pour out drink offerings to her without our husbands’ permission?”

20 Then Jeremiah spoke to all the people—the men, the women, and all the people who had given him that answer —saying:

21 “The incense that you burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and did it not come into His mind?

22 “So the LORD could no longer bear it, because of the evil of your doings and because of the abominations which you committed. Therefore your land is a desolation, an astonishment, a curse, and without an inhabitant, as it is this day.

23 “Because you have burned incense and because you have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD or walked in His law, in His statutes or in His testimonies, therefore this calamity has happened to you, as at this day.”

24 Moreover Jeremiah said to all the people and to all the women, “Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah who are in the land of Egypt!

25 “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying:
‘You and your wives have spoken with your mouths and fulfilled with your hands, saying, “We will surely keep our vows that we have made, to burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her.” You will surely keep your vows and perform your vows!’ 26 “Therefore hear the word of the LORD, all Judah who dwell in the land of Egypt: ‘Behold, I have sworn by My great name,’ says the LORD, ‘that My name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, “The Lord GOD lives.” 27 ‘Behold, I will watch over them for adversity and not for good. And all the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by famine, until there is an end to them.
28 ‘Yet a small number who escape the sword shall return from the land of Egypt to the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah, who have gone to the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words will stand, Mine or theirs.
29 ‘And this shall be a sign to you,’ says the LORD, ‘that I will punish you in this place, that you may know that My words will surely stand against you for adversity.’
30 “Thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies and into the hand of those who seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, his enemy who sought his life.’ ”

Jeremiah 45

Assurance to Baruch

1 The word that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the instruction of Jeremiah,[a] in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, Baruch

2 "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to you, O
Baruch:

3 'You said, "Woe is me now! For the LORD has added grief to my sorrow. I fainted in my sighing, and I find no rest." '

4 "Thus you shall say to him, 'Thus says the LORD:
"Behold, what I have built I will break down, and what I have planted I will pluck up, that is, this whole land.

5 "And do you seek great things for yourself? Do not seek them; for behold, I will bring adversity on all flesh," says the LORD. "But I will give your life to you as a prize in all places, wherever you go." ' "

Jeremiah 46

Judgment on Egypt

1 The word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the prophet against the nations. Judgment and Redemption for the Nations
2 Against Egypt.
Concerning the army of Pharaoh Necho, king of Egypt, which was by the River Euphrates in Carchemish, and which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon defeated in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah:

3 "Order the buckler and shield,
And draw near to battle!
4 Harness the horses,
And mount up, you horsemen!
Stand forth with your helmets,
Polish the spears,
Put on the armor!
5 Why have I seen them dismayed and turned back?
Their mighty ones are beaten down;
They have speedily fled,
And did not look back,
For fear was all around," says the LORD.
6 "Do not let the swift flee away,
Nor the mighty man escape;
They will stumble and fall
Toward the north, by the River Euphrates.

7 "Who is this coming up like a flood,
Whose waters move like the rivers?
8 Egypt rises up like a flood,
And its waters move like the rivers;

And he says, ‘I will go up and cover the
earth,
I will destroy the city and its inhabitants.’
9Come up, O horses, and rage, O chariots!
And let the mighty men come forth:
The Ethiopians and the Libyans who handle
the shield,
And the Lydians who handle and bend the bow.
10For this is the day of the Lord GOD of hosts,
A day of vengeance,
That He may avenge Himself on His adversaries.
The sword shall devour;
It shall be satiated and made drunk with their blood;
For the Lord GOD of hosts has a sacrifice
In the north country by the River Euphrates.

11“Go up to Gilead and take balm,
O virgin, the daughter of Egypt;
In vain you will use many medicines;
You shall not be cured.
12The nations have heard of your shame,
And your cry has filled the land;
For the mighty man has stumbled against the mighty;
They both have fallen together.”

Babylonia Will Strike Egypt

13The word that the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet, how Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon would come and strike the land of Egypt.

14 “Declare in Egypt, and proclaim in Migdol;
Proclaim in Noph[a] and in Tahpanhes;
Say, ‘Stand fast and prepare yourselves,
For the sword devours all around you.’
15 Why are your valiant men swept away?
They did not stand
Because the LORD drove them away.
16 He made many fall;
Yes, one fell upon another.
And they said, ‘Arise!
Let us go back to our own people
And to the land of our nativity
From the oppressing sword.’
17 They cried there,
‘Pharaoh, king of Egypt, is but a noise.
He has passed by the appointed time!’

18 “As I live,” says the King,
Whose name is the LORD of hosts,
“Surely as Tabor is among the mountains
And as Carmel by the sea, so he shall come.
19 O you daughter dwelling in Egypt,
Prepare yourself to go into captivity!
For Noph[b] shall be waste and desolate,
without inhabitant.

20 “Egypt is a very pretty heifer,
But destruction comes, it comes from the north.
21 Also her mercenaries are in her midst like fat bulls,
For they also are turned back,
They have fled away together.
They did not stand,

For the day of their calamity had come upon
them,
The time of their punishment.
22 Her noise shall go like a serpent,
For they shall march with an army
And come against her with axes,
Like those who chop wood.

23 "They shall cut down her forest," says the LORD,
"Though it cannot be searched,
Because they are innumerable,
And more numerous than grasshoppers.
24 The daughter of Egypt shall be ashamed;
She shall be delivered into the hand
Of the people of the north."

25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, says: "Behold, I will bring punishment on Amon[c] of No,[d] and Pharaoh and Egypt, with their gods and their kings—Pharaoh and those who trust in him.
26 "And I will deliver them into the hand of those who seek their lives, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and the hand of his servants. Afterward it shall be inhabited as in the days of old," says the LORD.

God Will Preserve Israel

27 "But do not fear, O My servant Jacob,
And do not be dismayed, O Israel!
For behold, I will save you from afar,
And your offspring from the land of their
captivity;
Jacob shall return, have rest and be at ease;
No one shall make him afraid.

28 Do not fear, O Jacob My servant,” says the
LORD,
“For I am with you;
For I will make a complete end of all the nations
To which I have driven you,
But I will not make a complete end of you.
I will rightly correct you,
For I will not leave you wholly unpunished.”

Jeremiah 47

Judgment on Philistia

1 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Philistines, before Pharaoh attacked Gaza.
2 Thus says the LORD:

"Behold, waters rise out of the north,
And shall be an overflowing flood;
They shall overflow the land and all that is in
it,
The city and those who dwell within;
Then the men shall cry,
And all the inhabitants of the land shall wail.
3 At the noise of the stamping hooves of his strong horses,
At the rushing of his chariots,
At the rumbling of his wheels,
The fathers will not look back for their children,
Lacking courage,
4 Because of the day that comes to plunder
all the Philistines,
To cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper who remains;
For the LORD shall plunder the Philistines,
The remnant of the country of Caphtor.
5 Baldness has come upon Gaza,
Ashkelon is cut off
With the remnant of their valley.
How long will you cut yourself?

6 "O you sword of the LORD,

How long until you are quiet?
Put yourself up into your scabbard, Rest and be still!
7How can it be quiet,
Seeing the LORD has given it a charge Against Ashkelon and against the seashore?
There He has appointed it.”

Jeremiah 48

Judgment on Moab

1 Against Moab.
Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:

"Woe to Nebo!
For it is plundered,
Kirjathaim is shamed and taken;
The high stronghold[a] is shamed and dismayed—
2 No more praise of Moab.
In Heshbon they have devised evil against her:
'Come, and let us cut her off as a nation.'
You also shall be cut down, O Madmen![b]
The sword shall pursue you;
3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim:
'Plundering and great destruction!'

4 "Moab is destroyed;
Her little ones have caused a cry to be heard;[c]
5 For in the Ascent of Luhith they ascend with continual weeping;
For in the descent of Horonaim the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 "Flee, save your lives!
And be like the juniper[d] in the wilderness.
7 For because you have trusted in your works and your treasures,
You also shall be taken.

And Chemosh shall go forth into captivity,
His priests and his princes together.
8And the plunderer shall come against every city;
No one shall escape.
The valley also shall perish,
And the plain shall be destroyed,
As the LORD has spoken.

9“Give wings to Moab,
That she may flee and get away;
For her cities shall be desolate,
Without any to dwell in them.
10Cursed is he who does the work of the LORD deceitfully,
And cursed is he who keeps back his sword from blood.

11“Moab has been at ease from his[e] youth;
He has settled on his dregs,
And has not been emptied from vessel to vessel,
Nor has he gone into captivity.
Therefore his taste remained in him,
And his scent has not changed.

12“Therefore behold, the days are coming,”
says the LORD,
“That I shall send him wine-workers
Who will tip him over
And empty his vessels
And break the bottles.
13Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh,
As the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel, their confidence.

14 “How can you say, ‘We are mighty
And strong men for the war’?
15 Moab is plundered and gone up from her cities;
Her chosen young men have gone down to the slaughter,” says the King,
Whose name is the LORD of hosts.

16 “The calamity of Moab is near at hand,
And his affliction comes quickly.
17 Bemoan him, all you who are around him;
And all you who know his name,
Say, ‘How the strong staff is broken,
The beautiful rod!’

18 “O daughter inhabiting Dibon,
Come down from your glory,
And sit in thirst;
For the plunderer of Moab has come against
you,
He has destroyed your strongholds.
19 O inhabitant of Aroer,
Stand by the way and watch;
Ask him who flees
And her who escapes;
Say, ‘What has happened?’
20 Moab is shamed, for he is broken down.
Wail and cry!
Tell it in Arnon, that Moab is plundered.

21 “And judgment has come on the plain
country:
On Holon and Jahzah and Mephaath,
22 On Dibon and Nebo and Beth Diblathaim,

23 On Kirjathaim and Beth Gamul and Beth Meon,
24 On Kerioth and Bozrah,
On all the cities of the land of Moab, Far or near.
25 The horn of Moab is cut off,
And his arm is broken,” says the LORD.

26 “Make him drunk,
Because he exalted himself against the
LORD.
Moab shall wallow in his vomit,
And he shall also be in derision.
27 For was not Israel a derision to you?
Was he found among thieves?
For whenever you speak of him,
You shake your head in scorn.
28 You who dwell in Moab,
Leave the cities and dwell in the rock,
And be like the dove which makes her nest
In the sides of the cave’s mouth.

29 “We have heard the pride of Moab
(He is exceedingly proud),
Of his loftiness and arrogance and pride,
And of the haughtiness of his heart.”

30 “I know his wrath,” says the LORD,
“But it is not right;
His lies have made nothing right.
31 Therefore I will wail for Moab,
And I will cry out for all Moab;
I[f] will mourn for the men of Kir Heres.
32 O vine of Sibmah! I will weep for you with the weeping of Jazer.

Your plants have gone over the sea,
They reach to the sea of Jazer.
The plunderer has fallen on your summer fruit and your vintage.
33Joy and gladness are taken From the plentiful field
And from the land of Moab;
I have caused wine to fail from the winepresses;
No one will tread with joyous shouting—
Not joyous shouting!

34"From the cry of Heshbon to Elealeh and to Jahaz
They have uttered their voice,
From Zoar to Horonaim,
Like a three-year-old heifer;[g]
For the waters of Nimrim also shall be desolate.

35"Moreover," says the LORD,
"I will cause to cease in Moab
The one who offers sacrifices in the high places
And burns incense to his gods.
36Therefore My heart shall wail like flutes for Moab,
And like flutes My heart shall wail
For the men of Kir Heres.
Therefore the riches they have acquired have perished.

37"For every head shall be bald, and every beard clipped;

On all the hands shall be cuts, and on the loins sackcloth—
38A general lamentation
On all the housetops of Moab,
And in its streets;
For I have broken Moab like a vessel in which is no pleasure," says the LORD.
39"They shall wail:
'How she is broken down!
How Moab has turned her back with shame!'
So Moab shall be a derision
And a dismay to all those about her."

40For thus says the LORD:

"Behold, one shall fly like an eagle,
And spread his wings over Moab.
41Kerioth is taken,
And the strongholds are surprised;
The mighty men's hearts in Moab on that day shall be
Like the heart of a woman in birth pangs.
42And Moab shall be destroyed as a people,
Because he exalted himself against the
LORD.
43Fear and the pit and the snare shall be
upon you,
O inhabitant of Moab," says the LORD.
44"He who flees from the fear shall fall into the pit,
And he who gets out of the pit shall be caught in the snare.
For upon Moab, upon it I will bring
The year of their punishment," says the
LORD.

45“Those who fled stood under the shadow of Heshbon
Because of exhaustion.
But a fire shall come out of Heshbon,
A flame from the midst of Sihon,
And shall devour the brow of Moab,
The crown of the head of the sons of tumult.
46Woe to you, O Moab!
The people of Chemosh perish;
For your sons have been taken captive,
And your daughters captive.

47“Yet I will bring back the captives of Moab
In the latter days,” says the LORD.

Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

Jeremiah 49

Judgment on Ammon

1 Against the Ammonites.

Thus says the LORD:

"Has Israel no sons?
Has he no heir?
Why then does Milcom[a] inherit Gad,
And his people dwell in its cities?
2 Therefore behold, the days are coming,"
says the LORD,
"That I will cause to be heard an alarm of war
In Rabbah of the Ammonites;
It shall be a desolate mound,
And her villages shall be burned with fire.
Then Israel shall take possession of his inheritance," says the LORD.

3 "Wail, O Heshbon, for Ai is plundered!
Cry, you daughters of Rabbah,
Gird yourselves with sackcloth!
Lament and run to and fro by the walls;
For Milcom shall go into captivity
With his priests and his princes together.
4 Why do you boast in the valleys,
Your flowing valley, O backsliding daughter?
Who trusted in her treasures, saying,
'Who will come against me?'
5 Behold, I will bring fear upon you,"
Says the Lord GOD of hosts,

“From all those who are around you;
You shall be driven out, everyone headlong,
And no one will gather those who wander off.
6But afterward I will bring back
The captives of the people of Ammon,” says the LORD.

Judgment on Edom

7Against Edom.
Thus says the LORD of hosts:

“Is wisdom no more in Teman?
Has counsel perished from the prudent?
Has their wisdom vanished?
8Flee, turn back, dwell in the depths, O inhabitants of Dedan!
For I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him,
The time that I will punish him.
9If grape-gatherers came to you,
Would they not leave some gleaning grapes?
If thieves by night,
Would they not destroy until they have enough?
10But I have made Esau bare;
I have uncovered his secret places,[b]
And he shall not be able to hide himself.
His descendants are plundered,
His brethren and his neighbors,
And he is no more.
11Leave your fatherless children,
I will preserve them alive;
And let your widows trust in Me.”

12For thus says the LORD: “Behold, those whose judgment was not to drink of the cup have assuredly drunk. And are you the one who will altogether go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you shall surely drink of it.

13“For I have sworn by Myself,” says the LORD, “that Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse. And all its cities shall be perpetual wastes.”

14I have heard a message from the LORD,
And an ambassador has been sent to the nations:
“Gather together, come against her,
And rise up to battle!

15“For indeed, I will make you small among nations, Despised among men.
16Your fierceness has deceived you,
The pride of your heart,
O you who dwell in the clefts of the rock,
Who hold the height of the hill!
Though you make your nest as high as the eagle,
I will bring you down from there,” says the LORD.[c]

17“Edom also shall be an astonishment;
Everyone who goes by it will be astonished
And will hiss at all its plagues.
18As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah
And their neighbors,” says the LORD,
“No one shall remain there,
Nor shall a son of man dwell in it.

19 “Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the floodplain[d] of the Jordan
Against the dwelling place of the strong;
But I will suddenly make him run away from her.
And who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her?
For who is like Me?
Who will arraign Me?
And who is that shepherd
Who will withstand Me?”

20 Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD that He has taken against Edom,
And His purposes that He has proposed against the inhabitants of Teman:
Surely the least of the flock shall draw them
out;
Surely He shall make their dwelling places desolate with them.
21 The earth shakes at the noise of their fall;
At the cry its noise is heard at the Red Sea.
22 Behold, He shall come up and fly like the eagle,
And spread His wings over Bozrah;
The heart of the mighty men of Edom in that day shall be
Like the heart of a woman in birth pangs.

Judgment on Damascus

23 Against Damascus.

“Hamath and Arpad are shamed,
For they have heard bad news.
They are fainthearted;

There is trouble on the sea;
It cannot be quiet.
24 Damascus has grown feeble;
She turns to flee,
And fear has seized her.
Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
25 Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,
And all the men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD of hosts.
27 "I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus,
And it shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad."[e]

Judgment on Kedar and Hazor

28 Against Kedar and against the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon shall strike.
Thus says the LORD:

"Arise, go up to Kedar,
And devastate the men of the East!
29 Their tents and their flocks they shall take away.
They shall take for themselves their curtains,
All their vessels and their camels;
And they shall cry out to them,
'Fear is on every side!'

30 "Flee, get far away! Dwell in the depths,
O inhabitants of Hazor!" says the LORD.

“For Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has taken counsel against you,
And has conceived a plan against you.

31“Arise, go up to the wealthy nation that dwells securely,” says the LORD, “Which has neither gates nor bars,
Dwelling alone.
32Their camels shall be for booty,
And the multitude of their cattle for plunder.
I will scatter to all winds those in the farthest corners,
And I will bring their calamity from all its sides,” says the LORD.
33“Hazor shall be a dwelling for jackals, a desolation forever;
No one shall reside there,
Nor son of man dwell in it.”

Judgment on Elam

34The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet against Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying,
35“Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘Behold, I will break the bow of Elam,
The foremost of their might.
36Against Elam I will bring the four winds
From the four quarters of heaven,
And scatter them toward all those winds;
There shall be no nations where the outcasts of Elam will not go.
37For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies
And before those who seek their life.

I will bring disaster upon them,
My fierce anger,’ says the LORD;
‘And I will send the sword after them
Until I have consumed them.
38I will set My throne in Elam,
And will destroy from there the king and the princes,’ says the LORD.

39‘But it shall come to pass in the latter days:
I will bring back the captives of Elam,’ says the LORD.”

Jeremiah 50

Judgment on Babylon and Babylonia

1 The word that the LORD spoke against Babylon and against the land of the Chaldeans by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 “Declare among the nations,
Proclaim, and set up a standard;
Proclaim—do not conceal it—
Say, ‘Babylon is taken, Bel is shamed.
Merodach[a] is broken in pieces;
Her idols are humiliated,
Her images are broken in pieces.’
3 For out of the north a nation comes up against her,
Which shall make her land desolate,
And no one shall dwell therein.
They shall move, they shall depart,
Both man and beast.

4 “In those days and in that time,” says the
LORD,
“The children of Israel shall come,
They and the children of Judah together;
With continual weeping they shall come,
And seek the LORD their God.
5 They shall ask the way to Zion,
With their faces toward it, saying,
‘Come and let us join ourselves to the LORD
In a perpetual covenant
That will not be forgotten.’

6 “My people have been lost sheep.

Their shepherds have led them astray;
They have turned them away on the mountains.
They have gone from mountain to hill;
They have forgotten their resting place.
7 All who found them have devoured them;
And their adversaries said, 'We have not offended,
Because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice,
The LORD, the hope of their fathers.'

8 "Move from the midst of Babylon,
Go out of the land of the Chaldeans;
And be like the rams before the flocks.
9 For behold, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon
An assembly of great nations from the north country,
And they shall array themselves against her;
From there she shall be captured.
Their arrows shall be like those of an expert warrior;[b]
None shall return in vain.
10 And Chaldea shall become plunder;
All who plunder her shall be satisfied," says the LORD.

11 "Because you were glad, because you rejoiced,
You destroyers of My heritage,
Because you have grown fat like a heifer threshing grain,
And you bellow like bulls,
12 Your mother shall be deeply ashamed;

She who bore you shall be ashamed.
Behold, the least of the nations shall be a wilderness,
A dry land and a desert.
13 Because of the wrath of the LORD
She shall not be inhabited,
But she shall be wholly desolate.
Everyone who goes by Babylon shall be horrified
And hiss at all her plagues.

14 "Put yourselves in array against Babylon
all around,
All you who bend the bow;
Shoot at her, spare no arrows,
For she has sinned against the LORD.
15 Shout against her all around;
She has given her hand,
Her foundations have fallen,
Her walls are thrown down;
For it is the vengeance of the LORD.
Take vengeance on her.
As she has done, so do to her.
16 Cut off the sower from Babylon,
And him who handles the sickle at harvest time.
For fear of the oppressing sword
Everyone shall turn to his own people,
And everyone shall flee to his own land.

17 "Israel is like scattered sheep;
The lions have driven him away.
First the king of Assyria devoured him;
Now at last this Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has broken his bones."

18 Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:

"Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land,
As I have punished the king of Assyria.
19 But I will bring back Israel to his home,
And he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan;
His soul shall be satisfied on Mount Ephraim and Gilead.
20 In those days and in that time," says the
LORD,
"The iniquity of Israel shall be sought, but there shall be none;
And the sins of Judah, but they shall not be found;
For I will pardon those whom I preserve.

21 "Go up against the land of Merathaim, against it,
And against the inhabitants of Pekod.
Waste and utterly destroy them," says the
LORD,
"And do according to all that I have commanded you.
22 A sound of battle is in the land,
And of great destruction.
23 How the hammer of the whole earth has been cut apart and broken!
How Babylon has become a desolation among the nations!
I have laid a snare for you;
24 You have indeed been trapped, O Babylon,
And you were not aware;
You have been found and also caught,

Because you have contended against the
LORD.
25The LORD has opened His armory,
And has brought out the weapons of His indignation;
For this is the work of the Lord GOD of hosts
In the land of the Chaldeans.
26Come against her from the farthest border;
Open her storehouses;
Cast her up as heaps of ruins,
And destroy her utterly;
Let nothing of her be left.
27Slay all her bulls,
Let them go down to the slaughter.
Woe to them!
For their day has come, the time of their punishment.
28The voice of those who flee and escape from the land of Babylon Declares in Zion the vengeance of the LORD
our God,
The vengeance of His temple.

29"Call together the archers against Babylon.
All you who bend the bow, encamp against it
all around;
Let none of them escape.[c]
Repay her according to her work;
According to all she has done, do to her;
For she has been proud against the LORD,
Against the Holy One of Israel.
30Therefore her young men shall fall in the streets,

And all her men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD.
31"Behold, I am against you, O most haughty one!" says the Lord GOD of
hosts;
"For your day has come,
The time that I will punish you.[d]
32The most proud shall stumble and fall,
And no one will raise him up;
I will kindle a fire in his cities,
And it will devour all around him."

33Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"The children of Israel were oppressed,
Along with the children of Judah;
All who took them captive have held them fast;
They have refused to let them go.
34Their Redeemer is strong;
The LORD of hosts is His name.
He will thoroughly plead their case,
That He may give rest to the land,
And disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

35"A sword is against the Chaldeans," says
the LORD,
"Against the inhabitants of Babylon,
And against her princes and her wise men.
36A sword is against the soothsayers, and they will be fools.
A sword is against her mighty men, and they will be dismayed.
37A sword is against their horses,
Against their chariots,

And against all the mixed peoples who are in her midst;
And they will become like women.
A sword is against her treasures, and they will be robbed.
38 A drought[e] is against her waters, and they will be dried up.
For it is the land of carved images,
And they are insane with their idols.

39 "Therefore the wild desert beasts shall dwell there with the jackals,
And the ostriches shall dwell in it.
It shall be inhabited no more forever, Nor shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.
40 As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah
And their neighbors," says the LORD,
"So no one shall reside there,
Nor son of man dwell in it.

41 "Behold, a people shall come from the north,
And a great nation and many kings Shall be raised up from the ends of the earth.
42 They shall hold the bow and the lance;
They are cruel and shall not show mercy.
Their voice shall roar like the sea;
They shall ride on horses,
Set in array, like a man for the battle,
Against you, O daughter of Babylon.

43 "The king of Babylon has heard the report about them,

And his hands grow feeble;
Anguish has taken hold of him,
Pangs as of a woman in childbirth.

44 “Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the floodplain[f] of the Jordan
Against the dwelling place of the strong;
But I will make them suddenly run away from her.
And who is a chosen man that I may appoint
over her?
For who is like Me?
Who will arraign Me?
And who is that shepherd
Who will withstand Me?”

45 Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD
that He has taken against Babylon,
And His purposes that He has proposed against the land of the Chaldeans:
Surely the least of the flock shall draw them
out;
Surely He will make their dwelling place
desolate with them.
46 At the noise of the taking of Babylon
The earth trembles,
And the cry is heard among the nations.

Jeremiah 51

The Utter Destruction of Babylon

1 Thus says the LORD:

"Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, Against those who dwell in Leb Kamai,[a]
A destroying wind.
2 And I will send winnowers to Babylon,
Who shall winnow her and empty her land.
For in the day of doom
They shall be against her all around.
3 Against her let the archer bend his bow,
And lift himself up against her in his armor.
Do not spare her young men;
Utterly destroy all her army.
4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans,
And those thrust through in her streets.
5 For Israel is not forsaken, nor Judah,
By his God, the LORD of hosts,
Though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Israel."

6 Flee from the midst of Babylon,
And every one save his life!
Do not be cut off in her iniquity,
For this is the time of the LORD's vengeance;
He shall recompense her.
7 Babylon was a golden cup in the LORD's hand,
That made all the earth drunk.

The nations drank her wine;
Therefore the nations are deranged.
8Babylon has suddenly fallen and been destroyed.
Wail for her!
Take balm for her pain;
Perhaps she may be healed.

9We would have healed Babylon,
But she is not healed.
Forsake her, and let us go everyone to his own country;
For her judgment reaches to heaven and is lifted up to the skies.
10The LORD has revealed our righteousness.
Come and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.

11Make the arrows bright!
Gather the shields!
The LORD has raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes.
For His plan is against Babylon to destroy it,
Because it is the vengeance of the LORD,
The vengeance for His temple.
12Set up the standard on the walls of Babylon;
Make the guard strong,
Set up the watchmen,
Prepare the ambushes.
For the LORD has both devised and done
What He spoke against the inhabitants of Babylon.
13O you who dwell by many waters, Abundant in treasures,

Your end has come,
The measure of your covetousness.
14The LORD of hosts has sworn by Himself:
“Surely I will fill you with men, as with locusts,
And they shall lift up a shout against you.”

15He has made the earth by His power;
He has established the world by His wisdom,
And stretched out the heaven by His understanding.
16When He utters His voice—
There is a multitude of waters in the heavens:
“He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth;
He makes lightnings for the rain;
He brings the wind out of His treasuries.”[b]

17Everyone is dull-hearted, without
knowledge;
Every metalsmith is put to shame by the carved image;
For his molded image is falsehood,
And there is no breath in them.
18They are futile, a work of errors;
In the time of their punishment they shall
perish.
19The Portion of Jacob is not like them,
For He is the Maker of all things;
And Israel is the tribe of His inheritance.
The LORD of hosts is His name.

20“You are My battle-ax and weapons of war:

For with you I will break the nation in pieces;
With you I will destroy kingdoms;
21With you I will break in pieces the horse and its rider;
With you I will break in pieces the chariot
and its rider;
22With you also I will break in pieces man and woman;
With you I will break in pieces old and young;
With you I will break in pieces the young man and the maiden; 23With you also I will break in pieces the shepherd and his flock;
With you I will break in pieces the farmer and his yoke of oxen;
And with you I will break in pieces governors and rulers.

24"And I will repay Babylon
And all the inhabitants of Chaldea
For all the evil they have done
In Zion in your sight," says the LORD.

25"Behold, I am against you, O destroying mountain,
Who destroys all the earth," says the LORD.
"And I will stretch out My hand against you,
Roll you down from the rocks,
And make you a burnt mountain.
26They shall not take from you a stone for a corner
Nor a stone for a foundation,

But you shall be desolate forever,” says the LORD.

27Set up a banner in the land,
Blow the trumpet among the nations!
Prepare the nations against her,
Call the kingdoms together against her:
Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz.
Appoint a general against her;
Cause the horses to come up like the bristling locusts.
28Prepare against her the nations,
With the kings of the Medes,
Its governors and all its rulers,
All the land of his dominion.
29And the land will tremble and sorrow;
For every purpose of the LORD shall be performed against Babylon,
To make the land of Babylon a desolation without inhabitant.
30The mighty men of Babylon have ceased fighting,
They have remained in their strongholds;
Their might has failed,
They became like women;
They have burned her dwelling places,
The bars of her gate are broken.
31One runner will run to meet another,
And one messenger to meet another,
To show the king of Babylon that his city is taken on all sides;
32The passages are blocked,
The reeds they have burned with fire,
And the men of war are terrified.

33For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:

"The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor
When it is time to thresh her;
Yet a little while
And the time of her harvest will come."

34"Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon
Has devoured me, he has crushed me;
He has made me an empty vessel,
He has swallowed me up like a monster;
He has filled his stomach with my delicacies,
He has spit me out.
35Let the violence done to me and my flesh be upon Babylon,"
The inhabitant of Zion will say;
"And my blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea!"
Jerusalem will say.

36Therefore thus says the LORD:

"Behold, I will plead your case and take vengeance for you.
I will dry up her sea and make her springs dry.
37Babylon shall become a heap,
A dwelling place for jackals,
An astonishment and a hissing,
Without an inhabitant.
38They shall roar together like lions,
They shall growl like lions' whelps.
39In their excitement I will prepare their feasts;

I will make them drunk,
That they may rejoice,
And sleep a perpetual sleep
And not awake," says the LORD.
40"I will bring them down
Like lambs to the slaughter,
Like rams with male goats.

41"Oh, how Sheshach[c] is taken!
Oh, how the praise of the whole earth is seized!
How Babylon has become desolate among the nations!
42The sea has come up over Babylon;
She is covered with the multitude of its waves.
43Her cities are a desolation,
A dry land and a wilderness,
A land where no one dwells,
Through which no son of man passes.
44I will punish Bel in Babylon,
And I will bring out of his mouth what he has swallowed;
And the nations shall not stream to him anymore.
Yes, the wall of Babylon shall fall.

45"My people, go out of the midst of her!
And let everyone deliver himself from the fierce anger of the LORD.
46And lest your heart faint,
And you fear for the rumor that will be heard in the land
(A rumor will come one year,
And after that, in another year

A rumor will come,
And violence in the land,
Ruler against ruler),
47Therefore behold, the days are coming
That I will bring judgment on the carved images of Babylon;
Her whole land shall be ashamed,
And all her slain shall fall in her midst.
48Then the heavens and the earth and all that is in them Shall sing joyously over Babylon;
For the plunderers shall come to her from the north,” says the LORD.

49As Babylon has caused the slain of Israel to fall,
So at Babylon the slain of all the earth shall fall.
50You who have escaped the sword,
Get away! Do not stand still!
Remember the LORD afar off,
And let Jerusalem come to your mind.

51We are ashamed because we have heard reproach.
Shame has covered our faces,
For strangers have come into the sanctuaries of the LORD’s house.

52“Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD,
“That I will bring judgment on her carved images,
And throughout all her land the wounded shall groan.

[53]Though Babylon were to mount up to heaven,
And though she were to fortify the height of her strength,
Yet from Me plunderers would come to her,”
says the LORD.

54The sound of a cry comes from Babylon,
And great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans,
[55]Because the LORD is plundering Babylon
And silencing her loud voice,
Though her waves roar like great waters,
And the noise of their voice is uttered, [56]Because the plunderer comes against her,
against Babylon,
And her mighty men are taken.
Every one of their bows is broken;
For the LORD is the God of recompense,
He will surely repay.

[57]“And I will make drunk
Her princes and wise men,
Her governors, her deputies, and her mighty men.
And they shall sleep a perpetual sleep
And not awake,” says the King,
Whose name is the LORD of hosts.

58Thus says the LORD of hosts:

“The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly broken,
And her high gates shall be burned with fire;
The people will labor in vain,

And the nations, because of the fire;
And they shall be weary.”

Jeremiah’s Command to Seraiah

59The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. And Seraiah was the quartermaster.

60So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that would come upon Babylon, all these words that are written against Babylon.

61And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, “When you arrive in Babylon and see it, and read all these words, 62“then you shall say, ‘O LORD, You have spoken against this place to cut it off, so that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but it shall be desolate forever.’

63“Now it shall be, when you have finished reading this book, that you shall tie a stone to it and throw it out into the Euphrates. Babylon: A Sinking Empire

64“Then you shall say, ‘Thus Babylon shall sink and not rise from the catastrophe that I will bring upon her. And they shall be weary.’ ” Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 52

The Fall of Jerusalem Reviewed

1 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.
2 He also did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.
3 For because of the anger of the LORD this happened in Jerusalem and Judah, till He finally cast them out from His presence. Then Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.
4 Now it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and encamped against it; and they built a siege wall against it all around.
5 So the city was besieged until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.
6 By the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, the famine had become so severe in the city that there was no food for the people of the land.
7 Then the city wall was broken through, and all the men of war fled and went out of the city at night by way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden, even though the Chaldeans were near the city all around. And they went by way of the plain.[a] 8 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and they overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. All his army was scattered from him.
9 So they took the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he pronounced judgment on him.

10 Then the king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes. And he killed all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 He also put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in bronze fetters, took him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

The Temple and City Plundered and Burned

12 Now in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, who served the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.

13 He burned the house of the LORD and the king's house;
all the houses of Jerusalem, that is, all the houses of the great, he burned with fire.

14 And all the army of the Chaldeans who were with the captain of the guard broke down all the walls of Jerusalem
all around.

15 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive some of the poor people, the rest of the people who remained in the city, the defectors who had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the craftsmen.

16 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left some of the poor of the land as vinedressers and farmers.

17 The bronze pillars that were in the house of the LORD, and the carts and the bronze Sea that were in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans broke in pieces, and carried all their bronze to Babylon.

18 They also took away the pots, the shovels, the trimmers, the bowls, the spoons, and all the bronze utensils with which the priests ministered.

19 The basins, the firepans, the bowls, the pots, the lampstands, the spoons, and the cups, whatever was solid gold and whatever was solid silver, the captain of the guard took away.
20 The two pillars, one Sea, the twelve bronze bulls which were under it, and the carts, which King Solomon had made for the house of the LORD—the bronze of all these articles was beyond measure.
21 Now concerning the pillars: the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, a measuring line of twelve cubits could measure its circumference, and its thickness was four fingers; it was hollow.
22 A capital of bronze was on it; and the height of one capital was five cubits, with a network and pomegranates all around the capital, all of bronze. The second pillar, with pomegranates was the same.
23 There were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides; all the pomegranates, all around on the network, were one hundred.

The People Taken Captive to Babylonia

24 The captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest,
Zephaniah the second priest, and the three doorkeepers.
25 He also took out of the city an officer who had charge of the men of war, seven men of the king's close associates who were found in the city, the principal scribe of the army who mustered the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land who were found in the midst of the city.
26 And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took these and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.
27 Then the king of Babylon struck them and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive from its own land.

28These are the people whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year, three thousand and twenty-three Jews;
29in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred and thirty-two persons;
30in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred and forty-five persons. All the persons were four thousand six hundred.

Jehoiachin Released from Prison

31Now it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth day of the month, that Evil-Merodach[b] king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah and brought him out of prison.
32And he spoke kindly to him and gave him a more prominent seat than those of the kings who were with him in Babylon.
33So Jehoiachin changed from his prison garments, and he ate bread regularly before the king all the days of his life.
34And as for his provisions, there was a regular ration given him by the king of Babylon, a portion for each day until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

Jeremiah

Jer. 1:1

Name means: “The Lord Hurls.”

Not to be confused with: Eight other men in the Old Testament with the same name, including a Rechabite mentioned in the Book of Jeremiah (Jer. 35:3).

Home: Anathoth, a Levitical city a few miles northeast of Jerusalem.

Family: Son of Hilkiah the priest, not to be confused with Hilkiah the high priest who found the Book of the Law during Josiah’s reign; possibly a descendant of Abiathar, high priest during David’s reign; remained unmarried in obedience to God’s command.

Occupation: Prophet to the southern kingdom of Judah in the late seventh and early sixth centuries B.C.

Best known as: The “weeping prophet” whose tearful confessions and anguished outbursts (Jer. 8:18–9:2; 12:1–4; 20:7–18) combined with forceful denunciations of sinful society to give rise to the term jeremiad. His message of Jerusalem’s impending judgment made him many enemies and led to frequent imprisonments (37:15, 16, 21; 38:6, 28). Some traditions report that he died in Egypt after being dragged there by survivors of Jerusalem’s siege (43:1–7). Others suggest that he was moved from Egypt to Babylon after the Babylonian invasion of 587 B.C.

More: Jeremiah’s secretary was a courageous, loyal friend named Baruch. See his profile at Jer. 45:1.

Think About It: Circumstances did not go well for Jeremiah even though he obeyed God faithfully. How do you keep obeying even when difficult experiences persist?

Repentance and Evangelism

Jer. 3:17

As Jeremiah demanded that God's people forsake their idols, he charged them with serious offenses: spiritual adultery, treachery, backsliding, breaking the Lord's commands, and disobeying God's voice (Jer. 3:9–13).

Despite these sins, God invited the nation to reconcile with Him and obtain His mercy and healing. His people should return to Him by confessing and abandoning sin (3:13, 22).

This call to repentance also revealed God's love for every nation. Once Israel had returned to the Lord, all nations would gather to Him in Jerusalem. People from all over the world would quit following the "dictates of their evil hearts" (3:17) and serve God.

The Lord's offer of salvation still extends to everyone on earth, and His people remain His primary means for drawing the world to Himself.

Judah's unfortunate history should push us to ask ourselves whether our sins keep others from the Lord. Our repentance may be the door that opens for others to see God's good character and to yearn to come to know God.

Not One Righteous Person

Jer. 5:1

The prophets often compared Jerusalem to Sodom, an ancient city destroyed for persistent rebellion. The Lord would have spared Sodom had He found within it even ten righteous people, but the city fell short (Gen. 18:32, 33; 19:24, 25). The Lord promised to preserve Jerusalem if it contained only one righteous citizen, but Jeremiah searched in vain for that one. He found that the poor were ignorant of justice and truth (Jer. 5:4), and leaders who could read the Law, rediscovered by Josiah (2 Kin. 22:8–23:3), had nevertheless left God's ways (Jer. 5:5). Jerusalem was doomed.

How would God evaluate our communities? Are they as lacking in morality as Sodom—or Jerusalem? If Jeremiah searched our hometowns for God's followers, would he count us among them? How many others would he find? How will you improve what God sees in your community?

More: God destroyed Sodom and three other "cities of the plain" for sins such as sexual immorality and failure to care for the poor. See Sodom and Gomorrah's profile at Gen. 18:20.

What Is Religion?

Jer. 7:2–4

Devout religion involves caring for orphans and widows and keeping oneself morally untainted (James 1:27). By that measure, the religion of Jeremiah's day could not have been more lacking. The people . . .

- failed to act justly in business,
- oppressed the weak and disadvantaged,
- committed manslaughter,
- practiced idolatry,
- stole from each other,
- committed adultery, and
- lied under oath and went back on their word (Jer. 7:5–9).

And yet even after committing these "abominations," the Lord's people came to the temple expecting God to bless them (7:10). They believed the false prophets who assured them that prosperity would continue as long as they kept up a pretense of worship (7:4, 8).

The Lord told Jeremiah to stand in the temple gate and denounce this hypocrisy and warn the people to change their ways (7:1–3). God looks not for pious words but for altered behavior. If we claim to be God's people, we must worship Him with more than words.

More: Like Jeremiah, Isaiah said that true worship must include public service and an advocacy of social justice. See "Real Worship" at Is. 58:6–12.

On the Eve of Destruction

Jer. 7:17

Jerusalem's future was grim. By the time Jeremiah arrived on the scene to speak for God, sin was openly tolerated and obvious to all but those who were committing it. God's people habitually engaged in fraud, corruption, sexual immorality, injustice, murder, and idolatry. The Lord promised a firestorm of judgment (Jer. 4:4; 5:14; 6:29; 7:20).

The Lord told Jeremiah to cry out to his fellow citizens to avert the wrath coming on a day of "disaster from the north" (4:6–9, 20; 6:1–5, 19; 10:22). The imminent Babylonian invasion could be avoided if Judah returned to God and reaffirmed its covenant with Him (3:12–4:4; 7:5–7). But the prophet was severely persecuted for his unpopular warning, and the people refused to come back to God.

No one knows whether modern cities stand under God's impending judgment. But where we see sin like what became the norm in Jerusalem, we know by God's character, revealed in Scripture, that He will not allow evil to go unchecked forever. There were several reasons why Jerusalem fell under God's wrath:

1. Leaders failed to address problems. Despite King Josiah's reforms (3:6; 2 Kin. 22–23) and Assyria's sobering decimation of Israel (Jer. 3:7–10), Judah continued to rebel. Jerusalem's leadership pursued worthless idols (2:11), vain wealth (4:30), and illusory power (2:36, 37). These predators took the necessities, property, and even the lives of others (5:26–28). No one upheld justice and truth (5:1). The blood of "poor innocents" was spilled not in secret but plainly for all to see (2:34). And where there should have been justice and mercy, there was injustice and idolatry. Instead of addressing the city's failures, leaders offered only false assurances: "Peace, peace!" they cried, when there was no peace (6:14; 8:11).

2. Jerusalem lost its vision. God established Jerusalem as a city of justice, a model of peace, and a light to the nations. But its citizens forgot their special place in God's plan (2:2–7). Rulers, prophets, and priests left their holy calling to pursue unholy alliances and false gods (2:8–37; 5:31; 7:1–8:3; 10:1–16). Jerusalem became as wicked as Sodom (23:14; Lam. 4:6; see also "Not One Righteous Person" at Jer. 5:1).
3. Citizens chose to do nothing. A century earlier, the Lord had allowed Israel to be ransacked as a result of the people's idolatry and other sins (7:12–15; 2 Kin. 17). Now Judah had crossed the line of rebellion. Measured by God's standards, the nation was found wanting, even more than its "stiff-necked" forefathers in the wilderness (Jer. 7:23–26). Judah could avoid destruction, waste, and captivity by thoroughly amending its ways (7:5–7), or it could remain hard-hearted. The nation's existence depended on its choice. But Jerusalem and the cities of Judah did nothing to mend their ways.

Many modern communities face social, moral, and spiritual problems like those of Jerusalem—and they face similar opportunities for renewal. While God's specific promises to Jerusalem do not necessarily apply today, any community can expect God to bless efforts to remove immorality, greed, corruption, and violence. Our well-being is connected to the well-being of our communities. "Seek the peace of the city," Jeremiah wrote to the captives in Babylon, "for in its peace you will have peace" (29:7).

Think About It: A first reaction when communities or leaders go corrupt is to point fingers. Instead invite God to evaluate you. Where is He proud of your behavior and attitudes? What unholy alliances does He recommend severing? Where will you call on His power to mend your ways?

Reaching Forward

Jer. 7:23, 24

God's people faced the consequences of turning from Him—they "went backward and not forward." Instead of pursuing a relationship of sustained obedience, they went their own way and chased the "dictates of their evil hearts."

Faith is a lifelong journey. At any moment, we either move backward or forward. We make progress when we step toward the Lord as best we know how. If we fail and fall, God invites us to get back on our feet and move forward to Him. Paul described his own experience of this dynamic spiritual movement: "Forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward to those things which are ahead, I press toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus" (Phil. 3:13, 14).

False Security

Jer. 8:11

Jeremiah's world grew more dangerous by the day. The declining Assyrian empire created an atmosphere of political instability. Seeing an opportunity for its own advancement, Egypt launched offensive campaigns from the south. Babylon was also on the rise as a new superpower.

Despite these ever-increasing threats, false prophets comforted Judah with peace-filled words. Citizens huddled in their walled cities, assuming that their defenses ensured safety from hostile forces (Jer. 8:14). And they ignored the gravest danger of all: sin was already inside their gates, because they had turned their backs on God (8:5, 8–12).

We might attempt to find safety today by moving to the suburbs or settling inside gated communities. But evil is not easily excluded (8:15). It cannot be stopped just by controlling our environment, because we bring sin with us wherever we go. The only lasting way to deal with sin is through repentance (25:4–7; 35:15; Matt. 11:28) and behavior change. God does not fault us for protecting ourselves and our families. But true peace does not come from shutting out external evil. We must also stop sin inside. We must embrace righteous actions. God will equip us to do so.

The Heart of a Prophet

Jer. 9:1, 2

Prophets are too often portrayed as angry, wild-eyed people who probably enjoy predicting others' misfortunes. Similar stereotypes persist about believers today. We can learn much from Jeremiah who, as he reflected on Jerusalem's impending destruction, didn't sneer or gloat.

His heart broke for his people and their grand city. And even as the peril advanced, Jeremiah did not abandon his fellow citizens. This weeping prophet may have wanted to flee to safety in the wilderness, but he stood by the doomed of Jerusalem.

The Lord's true messengers are not numb to the pain and suffering they foresee. They are driven by compassion, not rage. Their aim is to heal and to help others avert danger, not to triumph over their misfortunes.

The Work of Errors

Jer. 10:11–17

The Lord vowed to overthrow the false gods that proliferated in Judah. The Lord is the all-powerful Creator, but idols are completely without power. They are a "work of errors" and a "worthless doctrine" (Jer. 10:8). The Lord's declaration that He is God and there is no other is in direct conflict with widespread modern ideas about God and religion. But on this point God leaves no room for compromise.

A Gesture of Grace

Jer. 12:14–17

The cultures around Israel taught the Lord's people to "swear by Baal," that is, to worship and serve their gods. This idolatry broke Israel's covenant with the Lord and led to the nation's captivity.

These "evil neighbors" may have been remnants of the Canaanite tribes dispelled from the land by early Israelites. They could have been nations marched into captivity alongside Judah, such as Moab, Syria, and Ammon. Or they may have been the Babylonians, captors of the Lord's people in exile. The Israelites imported and worshiped gods from all three of these groups.

Whatever the identity of these "evil neighbors," God reached out to them with an amazing promise: He would allow them to learn about Him, just as they had taught the Israelites about their gods. Rather than destroying them for leading His chosen people into sin, the Lord gave them an opportunity to turn from their worthless idols and serve the true God.

We can be God's vehicles for offering this opportunity, as guided by Him and with His insight.

The Spoiled Sash
Jer. 13:1–11

Jeremiah often acted out parables and employed word pictures to convey truth. The linen sash was an appropriate symbol for proud Judah. Costly linen (Is. 3:23) was often imported from Egypt (Prov. 7:16). It was saved for exquisite furnishings like those inside the tabernacle (Ex. 26:1, 31, 36) or for fine garments worn by priests (28:39) or favored people (Esth. 8:15; Ezek. 16:10, 13).

The Lord at first warned Jeremiah not to let his linen sash get wet—in other words, to avoid ruining the costly material. But later God instructed the prophet to hide the sash along the Euphrates River to allow water to spoil the belt. It became a powerful image of Judah—a people intended for worthy purposes now rotted and worthless because of sinful arrogance. Just as Jeremiah's sash was ruined, so the pride of God's people destroyed their ability to fulfill His purpose. Their evil ways made them "profitable for nothing" (Jer. 13:10).

Disobedience Truly Brings Sadness
Jer. 14:1

The droughts that Judah suffered were proof that God keeps His word. Hundreds of years earlier, God had promised that He would bless the land so long as His people followed the Law. If they disobeyed the Law and worshiped other gods, the Lord would turn annual rains to "powder and dust" (Deut. 28:24; compare Lev. 26:18, 19).

As Judah surpassed Israel in idolatry and wickedness, the Lord kept His word by sending a series of droughts. Jeremiah pleaded for mercy, but God told him that it was too late. He had already put Judah's discipline into motion (Jer. 14:11, 12).

We dare not presume we can disobey and get away with it. Nor should we want to since God is the only one who is always selflessly on our side.

There was irony in sending drought as punishment. The Israelites had abandoned God to worship Canaanite gods who supposedly had power over nature (see "The Gods of the Canaanites" at Deut. 32:39). By holding back rain, God demonstrated the futility of these idols (Jer. 14:22).

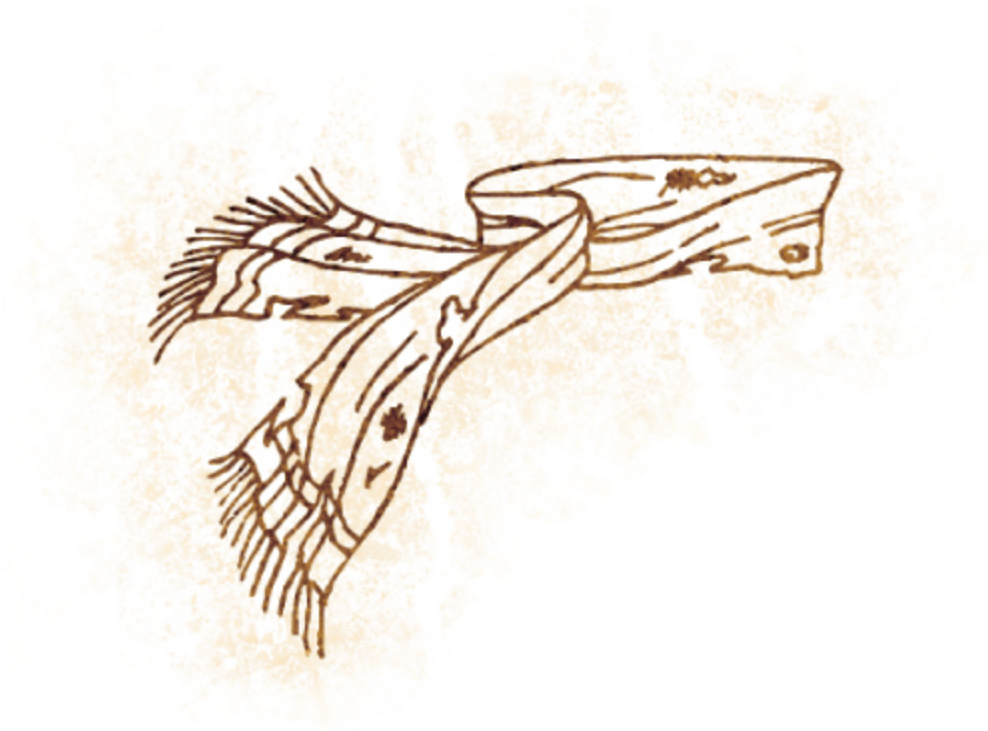
The Parables of Jeremiah

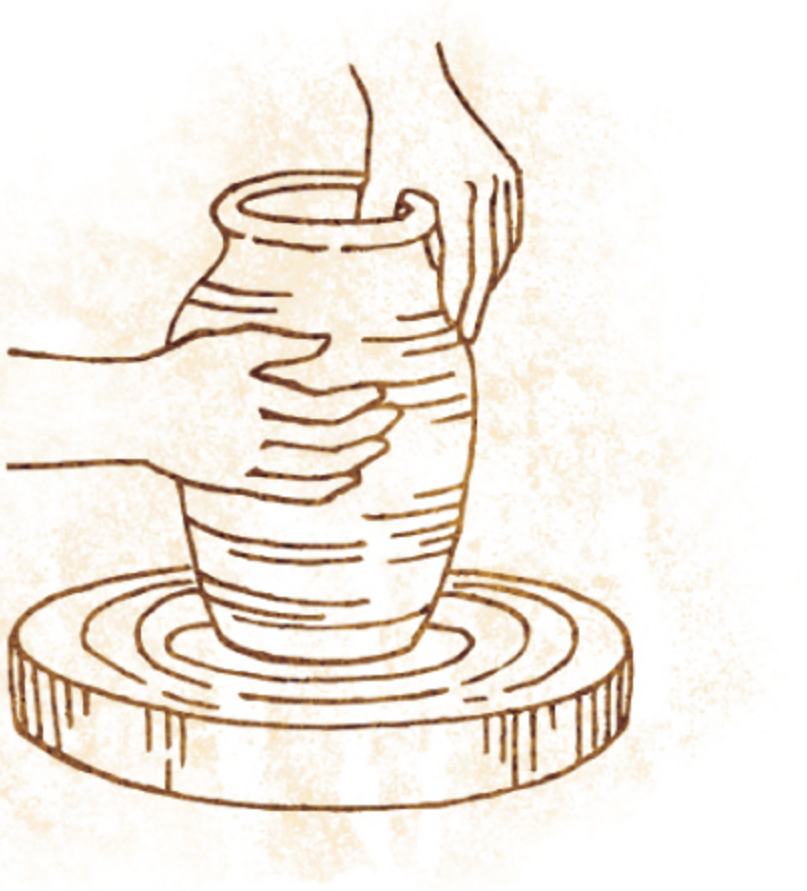
Jer. 18:1–10

A parable is a truth wrapped in a memorable story or word picture. A parable can be fictional, dramatized, or the result of a vision. Jesus delivered much of His teaching through parables (see "The Parables of Jesus" at Luke 8:4) as did several Old Testament prophets. Note Jeremiah's parables and the points he made:

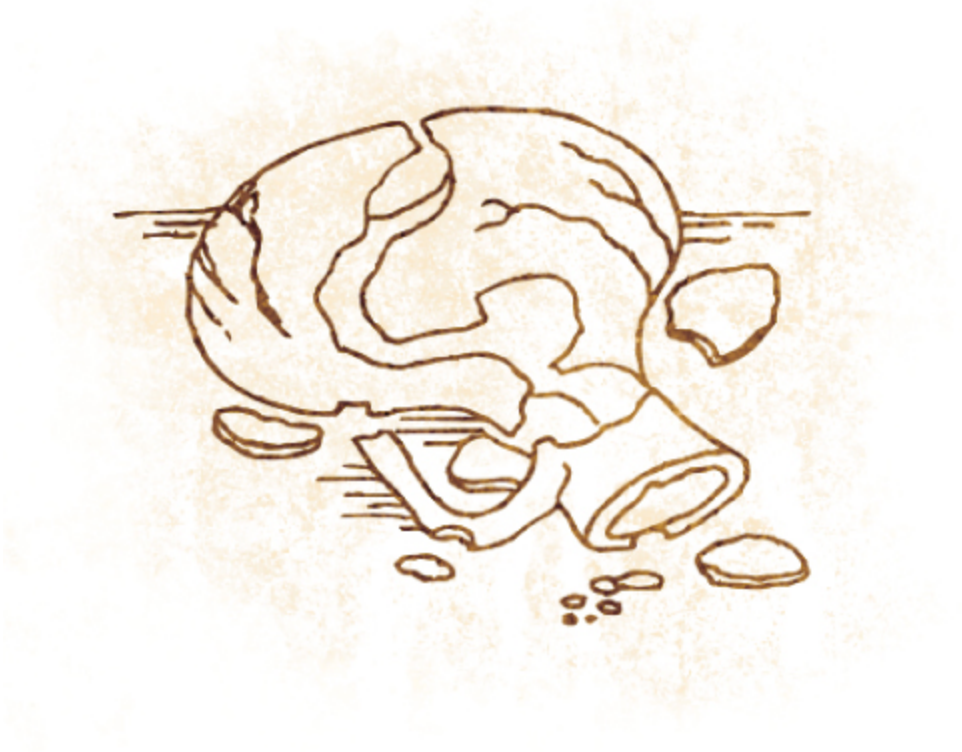
1. The Boiling Pot (Jer. 1:13–16)
Symbolized God’s impending judgment of idolatrous Judah.



2. The Ruined Sash (13:1–11)
Illustrated the ruin that Judah’s pride had caused in its relationship with God.



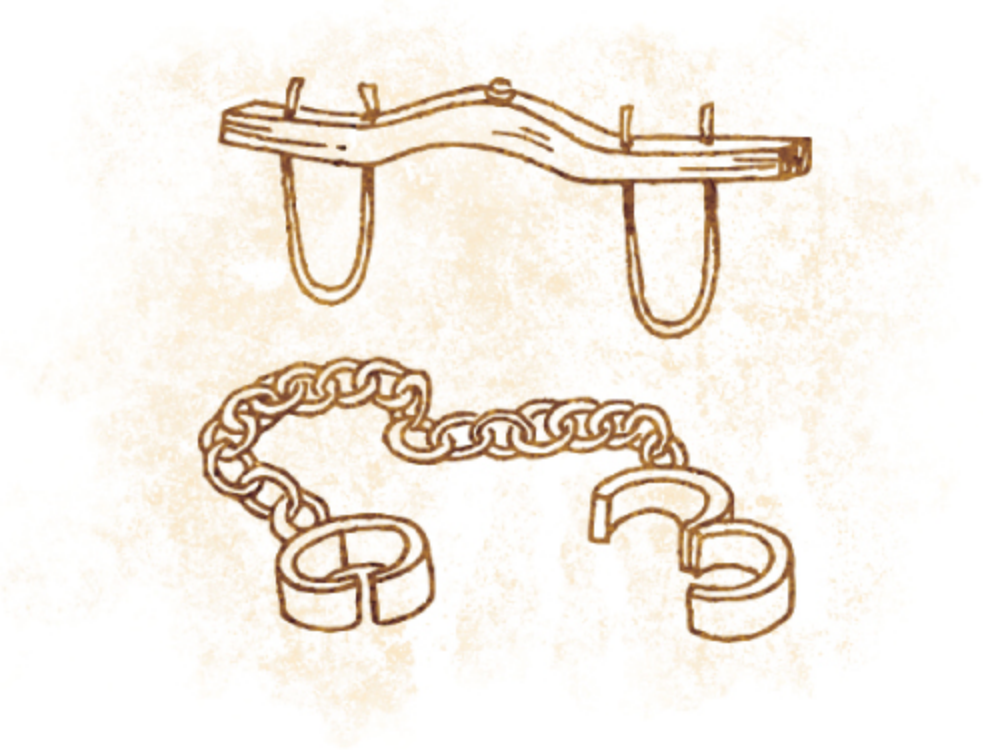
3. The Potter and the Clay (18:1–10)
Showed God’s sovereign role in raising up and pulling down nations, including Judah.



4. The Broken Flask (19:1–13)
Illustrated how God would shatter Judah for its wickedness.

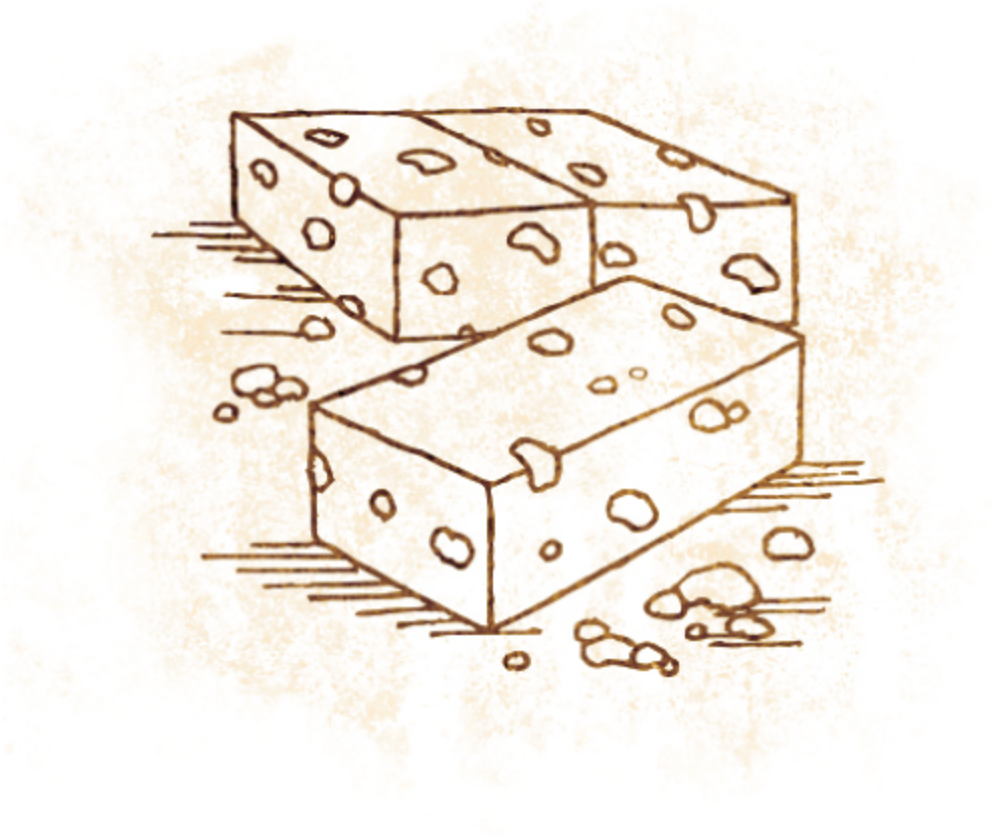
5. The Good and Bad Figs (24:1–10)

Demonstrated two ways that God would deal with his people: accepting good and rejecting evil.



6. The Bonds and Yokes (chs. 27–28)
Advised Judah’s leaders to submit to Babylonian rule.

7. The Deed of Purchase (ch. 32)
Testified that God would eventually bring back survivors from Babylon who would buy and sell fields in Judah.



8. The Stones in the Clay (43:8–13)
Foretold that God would allow the Babylonians to dominate Egypt.

More: Ezekiel and Zechariah also used parables to communicate their messages. See "The Parables of Ezekiel" at Ezek. 15:1–8 and "The Parables of Zechariah" at Zech. 5:1–4.

Think About It: Ponder what Bible parables have taught you about living for Jesus. Live one of those this very day.

The Worship of Work
Jer. 18:15

We reject wood and stone idols as objects of worship, incredulous that anyone could think they are gods. But just as the Israelites worshiped the work of their hands (Jer. 10:3, 4, 8, 9), we may be guilty of worshiping our handiwork, or the process and product of our careers. Work can easily become a god, the controlling center and defining identity of life.

Our society sees overworking as an acceptable, even admirable addiction. A person can sacrifice everything on the altar of work—family, friends, even personal health—and be rewarded for showing drive and initiative.

That is a profound tragedy. God designed work as a satisfying means of serving Him (see "People at Work" at Ps. 8:6). He is a worker, and He created us in His image as His coworkers (see "God the Creator" at Gen. 1:1–31 and "God: The Original Worker" at John 5:17). But work was never meant to be an end unto itself, and was certainly never intended to become an idol. Work may express who we are, but it was never meant to become who we are.

In part to keep us from idolizing work, the Lord modeled an essential principle by ceasing from His creative labors on the seventh day. In doing this He showed us that life is about more than work. Our jobs have a place in life, but there are other things that occupy more important places—and the most important place of all is that of the Lord Himself. The point of the Sabbath in the Old Testament and the Lord's Day in the New Testament is to express our ultimate trust in and devotion to God.

We should not overlook the fact that the people of Jeremiah's day abused the Sabbath at the same time that they engaged in rampant idolatry (Jer. 17:21–27). Sins of work and sins of worship often go hand in hand.

More: To consider other idols present in our world today, see "Modern-Day Idols" at Is. 46:5–10.

Show and Tell

Jer. 19:1–15

The prophet Jeremiah used visual aids, such as a broken flask, to help his listeners grasp the meaning behind his message. It could be argued that Jeremiah's demonstrations were unproductive, because apparently few of his listeners took his words to heart. But the prophet's words live on today, taken to heart by many modern believers even though they were rejected in his own lifetime.

Like Jeremiah, we should do everything we can to communicate clearly and effectively to our society, and often that requires giving people something to see as well as hear. Imagery, both in language and in visual media, can be a powerful method of reaching our culture, but the most commanding way to illustrate God's messages is to act as a living example of His ways. Our lives are the clearest communicators of our hearts.

Without words and illustrations people won't know the reasons for our actions. But without the type of honorable compassion that Jeremiah showed, no illustration will be effective.

The Cost of Extravagance

Jer. 22:13, 14

King Jehoiakim indulged his fondness for cedar even while his people paid heavy taxes (2 Kin. 23:35) and labored for minimal wages.

Cedar was imported from Phoenicia in Lebanon. Always expensive, it was probably becoming even more costly in Jehoiakim's time. Extrabiblical sources report that the Babylonian king Nebuchadnezzar was also importing huge quantities from what was a dwindling source.

Jehoiakim may have had illusions of returning the kingdom to Solomon's glory days. But unlike Solomon, who honored the Lord in his younger years, Jehoiakim rejected God's ways from the start of his reign (2 Kin. 23:36, 37). He would later die in disgrace, and his body would be tossed on a garbage heap like the carcass of a donkey (Jer. 22:18, 19).

More: Due to the extravagance of many ancient rulers, the forests of Lebanon were decimated by overcutting. See "The Cedar Trade" at 1 Kin. 7:2.

Think About It: What do you do that's extravagant in a bad way? How might this hurt people today, and people in the next generations?

Knowing God
Jer. 22:15, 16

Scripture seems to suggest two ways we can know God. The first happens when we enter into and enjoy a personal relationship with Him (see "Written on Their Hearts" at Jer. 31:31–34). We can know God in this way because Christ's death and resurrection removed the barrier of sin that separated us from Him (Gal. 4:3–9; Heb. 8:11, 12).

This kind of knowing God goes hand in hand with a second way of knowing God: living a godly lifestyle. If we claim to know God, our actions should prove it (James 2:17; 1 John 1:6; 4:7).

It was on this point that Jeremiah challenged King Jehoiakim. The ruler had been appointed king by the Egyptians, who deposed his brother Jehoahaz after only three months on the throne (2 Kin. 23:31–34). Judah became a tributary of Egypt, paying one hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold, probably annually. To raise that sum, Jehoiakim levied taxes, creating hardship for the poor (Jer. 22:16, 17). At the same time, he launched extravagant building projects that oppressed the working class (22:13, 14).

On top of these sins, Jehoiakim reintroduced the idols that his father Josiah had removed (Ezek. 8:5–17) and hunted down a prophet of the Lord and had him executed (Jer. 26:20–23). God assessed this king to be a man committed only to his own covetousness (22:17).

Jehoiakim may have thought that because he was an Israelite and the son of a man who knew the Lord, he automatically knew God as well. But he was badly mistaken. Josiah matched his words with actions, living with justice and righteousness and not merely talking about them. Josiah truly knew the Lord.

Having a personal relationship with God, based on faith in Christ, is essential. And when it comes to knowing God, reflecting our relationship with Him in what we do is equally important—especially in how we treat others, particularly the disadvantaged. We must be careful about claiming to know God if we act as if we have never heard of Him (Luke 6:46–49).

Bad Shepherds and the Good Shepherd

Jer. 23:1

The shepherds that Jeremiah condemned were not literal animal herders. They were Judah's rulers, people of power and influence. These corrupt politicians led people astray, acting more like predators than shepherds (see "On the Eve of Destruction" at Jer. 7:17).

God vowed to judge opportunistic leaders (23:2). What evaluation would He give of how you used your influence today? Did you gossip or handle a frustration directly? Did you complain or did you find a solution? Did you highlight what the person brings to the table or protect your turf?

God also promised to send a future leader who would restore the people and do what is just and right (23:5, 6; compare 33:15, 16; Ezek. 34:23–31). This is Jeremiah's clearest reference to Jesus the Messiah, the Good Shepherd who came to care for the lost sheep of Israel (Matt. 10:5–7; John 10:1–18).

Martyrs in Scripture

Jer. 26:11

Faith in God can be so unpopular that it triggers death threats. Jeremiah was threatened with death in response to his message of God's impending judgment of Jerusalem and its people. The prophet's influential friends prevented harm from touching him (Jer. 26:16, 24), but many others in Scripture and throughout history were touched by harm. Their sacrifice challenges us to examine our hearts carefully even if we live where we are not fiercely persecuted. We should ask ourselves how we would be courageous and loyal, like those who have already faced death for following the Lord.

Abel (Gen. 4:1–8)	Killed by his brother Cain for offering a better sacrifice to God; Jesus praised him as a model of righteousness (Matt. 23:35).
Zechariah (2 Chr. 24:20–22)	A prophet stoned by his fellow citizens, including the previously faithful King Joash, for rebuking their idolatry; Jesus applauded him as one whose "righteous blood" was unjustly spilled (Matt. 23:35).
Urijah (Jer. 26:20–23)	A prophet hunted down and murdered by King Jehoiakim.
John the Baptist (Mark 6:17–29)	Executed by order of King Herod after his wife Herodias demanded John's death for criticizing their adulterous marriage.
Peter (John 21:18, 19)	Jesus' follower and a leader of the early church; tradition holds that he was crucified under orders of the emperor Nero, and by his request, upside down.
Stephen (Acts 7:54–60)	An early evangelist stoned to death by members of the Jewish Council after delivering a scathing speech implicating them in Jesus' death.
Unnamed martyrs (Heb. 11:37; Rev. 17:6)	Faithful people killed because of their unswerving loyalty to God.
Antipas (Rev. 2:13)	A little-known member of the early church at Pergamos, whose death gave other followers of Christ an opportunity to stand firm for the Lord.

The Trouble with Lies

Jer. 28:15–17

Ethicists debate whether some circumstances justify deception, but Scripture seems to indicate that honesty is always the best policy. Furthermore, deceit often turns on its source, who pays an even higher price in the long run than if he or she had told the truth in the first place.

Hananiah the prophet misled Judah by denouncing Jeremiah's unpleasant message and speaking his own prophecy, announced with the words, "Thus says the LORD." But the Lord had not spoken to him (Jer. 28:10, 11). False prophecy was a serious sin punishable by death (Deut. 13:1–5), and it was no surprise when the Lord made Hananiah pay for his deception with his life (Jer. 28:15–17).

The Bible offers multiple examples demonstrating that the Lord hates dishonesty (Prov. 6:16, 17) and that "he who speaks lies shall perish" (19:9):

- A lie brought sin and death into the world (Gen. 3:1–7; 1 Tim. 2:14).
- Cain tried to lie his way out of answering for the murder of his brother Abel, then spent a lifetime in fear of meeting a similar fate (Gen. 4:1–16).
- Rebekah and Jacob told Isaac a lie in order to steal the family blessing from Esau. The result was family estrangement and hostility, which endured for generations (27:5–17, 41–46).
- Joseph's brothers lied to their father Jacob about selling Joseph to slave traders, causing Jacob profound heartache (Gen. 37:28–35).
- Potiphar's wife lied in order to frame Joseph for attempted rape, resulting in an unjust prison sentence (39:7–20).

- David caused Uriah's murder in order to cover up his affair with Bathsheba. His deceit caused his child to die and his family to suffer profound conflict (2 Sam. 11–12).
- Peter denied knowing the Lord, bringing shame and sorrow on himself (Matt. 26:69–74).
- Ananias and Sapphira lied to the church and the Holy Spirit about a financial gift, inviting their untimely death (Acts 5:1–11).

Jesus spoke clearly about the nature of lying when he declared that lies are of the devil (John 8:44). By contrast, Jesus is the source of all truth, and those who speak and practice the truth demonstrate that they belong to Him (14:6; 1 John 3:19).

Seeking the Peace of the City

Jer. 29:4–7

As Christians we live with hope in the return of Christ and eternity with Him. In the meantime, we are visitors on earth (1 Pet. 2:11). As we wonder about our purpose in this less-than-perfect world, we can gain insight from the Lord's instructions to the Judean captives living in Babylon.

The Babylonians struck Judah in 605 B.C. and again in 599–597 B.C. After each attack, they carried off the nation's brightest leaders (2 Kin. 24:14–16; Jer. 27:20; 29:2; Dan. 1:1–6). These exiles were settled along the Chebar River (Ezek. 1:1), possibly near a canal of the Euphrates on the eastern side of Babylon.

Shortly after the second deportation, the false prophet Hananiah announced to Zedekiah and the people left in Jerusalem that the captives would come home within two years (Jer. 28:1–4). Prophets in Babylon apparently were saying the same thing (29:8, 9). Jeremiah denounced this claim (28:15, 16), and within two months, Hananiah died (28:17).

Jeremiah wrote to tell the exiles that they should expect seventy years of Babylonian captivity (29:1, 10). His message opened with startling news: God Himself had caused the exiles to be carried away to Babylon (29:4). Their plight was not just the result of Nebuchadnezzar's policies but of God's purposes. The captives were sent to fulfill a mission.

Part of that mission was to live out the seventy years of exile in submission to God's judgment. So Jeremiah told the refugees to build houses, plant gardens, marry, and have children (29:5, 6). The captives were not going anywhere for at least a couple of generations, so they might as well make the best of their lot. After all, the Lord also intended for His people to survive the captivity so that He could bring a remnant back to the Promised Land.

But another part of the exiles' mission was to "seek the peace of the city" of Babylon (29:7). This must have been unthinkable—to pray and work for the good of enemies who had dragged them from their homeland and would soon demolish their capital and its temple! Yet Jeremiah affirmed that the exiles' well-being was tied to that of the Babylonians (29:7).

This hints at how we should interpret the circumstances in which God places us today. Like the exiles of Judah, we may live in communities and countries that do not uphold God's values—they may even actively promote evil. Nevertheless, we should seek the peace of these places where we go about our lives.

The "peace" (Hebrew: shalom) that God wants us to pursue is a just peace—not peace without justice, or justice without peace, but justice and peace together, in harmony. This responsible compassion happens through prayer and hard work, and it demonstrates that God is with us (James 3:17, 18).

Prodigal Children

Jer. 31:20

Few heartaches run deeper than the pain of a parent whose child grows up to be an obstinate rebel, or who grows up to simply withdraw quietly from the good he'd formerly invested in. A parent experiencing that inconsolable sorrow may react with hostility and rejection, as if the wayward child no longer deserves love—or with self-recrimination, as if the parent deserves all the blame for how a child turns out.

Scripture offers a model for the parent of a difficult child—God Himself. His dear son Ephraim—the northern kingdom of Israel—had completely abandoned God's commands in favor of pagan religion (2 Kin. 17:7–18). As a result, the Lord allowed Assyria to take the Israelites into exile in 722 B.C. But God never forgot His people, nor did He stop loving them. Like the merciful father in Jesus' parable of the prodigal son (Luke 15:22–32), the Lord never wavered in His affection for Israel. He stood ready to welcome His people back whenever they wished to halt their rebellion. And Jesus Himself was the supreme evidence of God's loyalty to His faithless children: "He came to His own, and His own did not receive Him" (John 1:11). Yet he came nonetheless.

When we find ourselves parenting a prodigal child, we can remember that the one-and-only perfect Parent raised wayward children. As we wonder how to best deal with our children, we can ask God to empower us with strategies, with loving actions, with wisdom, and with grace.

Written on Their Hearts

Jer. 31:31–34

Knowing God begins with entering into and enjoying a personal relationship with Him because of what He accomplished on the cross. Yet centuries before Jesus arrived, Scripture outlined what personal intimacy with God would be like. The Lord gave Jeremiah a vision of a "new covenant" that Jesus would initiate. The prophet foresaw that . . .

- God's children would know Him firsthand, not just know about Him (Jer. 31:34).
- God would teach His people (31:34) just as He taught Jesus (John 5:19; 8:28; 12:49; 14:10).
- God's teaching would go beyond moral precepts or an external code of ethics to inscribing His Word (or His law) on His children's hearts to shape their identity and behavior (Jer. 31:33).

The New Testament discloses that the words that God writes on human hearts are inscribed by the Holy Spirit (2 Cor. 3:1–3), who empowers God's followers to live in a way that reflects His character. This profound truth of a new covenant is so significant that Jeremiah 31 is quoted three times in the New Testament (John 6:45; Heb. 8:10; 10:16, 17).

We are designed to experience this close connection with the Lord. It begins by calling out to God, confessing our sinfulness and thanking Him for the forgiveness He extends to us as a result of Jesus' death and resurrection.

Jerusalem: From Desolation to Joy

Jer. 33:10, 11

The holy city of Jerusalem was destroyed by the Babylonians in 587 B.C., but Jeremiah envisioned the city's restoration and a return to prosperity and joy (Jer. 32:42–44). His prophecy was partially fulfilled when Ezra and Nehemiah led exiles back to rebuild the temple and the city walls. But Jerusalem's joy would fully and finally come about through the new covenant (31:31), initiated at Christ's coming (Heb. 8:6–13). God withdrew from Jerusalem for a time as a consequence of His people's violation of their original covenant with Him (Jer. 32:28–42). But under the new covenant, His people would know Him up close, turning the city of desolation into a city of joy.

Looking through your own history will spotlight times of joy that God has created following, or even in the midst of pain. To expand the joy find even tiny ways to obey God.

An Empty Gesture

Jer. 34:8–11

When King Zedekiah tried to halt a form of slavery in Jerusalem, he discovered the difficulties of stopping institutionalized sin.

Old Testament law allowed people who could not satisfy debts to become slaves of their creditors. But the length of servitude could not exceed a maximum of six years. In the seventh year, or Sabbath year, slaves were to be released. Not only were debts to be forgiven, but former owners were to send off freed slaves with material provisions (Deut. 15:12–18).

As Judah's economy faltered, the wealthy devised ways to keep their neighbors in permanent bondage (compare Is. 3:14, 15). Faced with the Lord's imminent judgment, Zedekiah arranged for the people to renew the covenant and release their slaves. But once the slave-owners perceived that the threat of punishment had passed, they broke their commitments and returned their debtors to slavery. Renewing the covenant was no more than an empty gesture.

Institutionalized evil demands fundamental change from the top to the bottom of society. Because Judah never undertook that kind of reformation, the nation eventually fell under the Lord's judgment (Jer. 34:17–22; 52:4–27).

More: God warned the Israelites to honor their commitments to Him and to others. See "Watch the Promises You Make" at Num. 30:2.

Godly Fathers with Troubled Sons

Jer. 37:1, 2

Although Scripture urges parents to raise their children "in the training and admonition of the Lord" (Eph. 6:4), it never guarantees how children will turn out. Each individual must decide whether to follow the Lord or ignore His commands. Even though parents point their children in the right direction, emerging adults determine which way they will go.

That fact explains why godly parents can have spiritually rebellious children—and why people of enormous faith and compassion can come from homes where God was dishonored or unknown.

Josiah was a faithful man and conscientious ruler (see his profile at 2 Chr. 34:1). But all three of his sons disobeyed God and paid a tragic price. Note these other fathers in Scripture who honored the Lord but whose sons largely deserted His ways:

Father	Son(s)
Isaac: pleaded with God to give his wife Rebekah a child (Gen. 25:21).	Jacob: used deception to deprive his brother of his father's blessing, which set off generations of conflict (Gen. 27:6–29, 41–46); he later began to fear the Lord (32:24–32).
Aaron: helped lead the people of Israel during the Exodus and was consecrated as the nation's first high priest (Ex. 28:1).	Nadab and Abihu: dishonored God in their official duties by offering "profane fire" before the Lord (Lev. 10:1–3).
Gideon: obeyed God's call to lead the Israelites in a successful rout of the Midianites (Judg. 6:11–14; 7:19–22).	Abimelech: hired assassins to murder his 70 brothers and led a treacherous assault on Shechem (Judg. 9).
Manoah: worshiped the Lord during a period of great spiritual darkness (Judg. 13).	Samson: dishonored his parents' Nazirite vow, visited prostitutes, and gave little indication of fearing the Lord until the end of his life (Judg. 14–16).

Samuel: judged Israel with integrity and anointed its first two kings (1 Sam. 3:19–21; 9:27–10:1; 16:11–13).

Joel and Abijah: accepted bribes and violated justice in their positions as judges in Beersheba (1 Sam. 8:1–5).

David: appointed as God's choice for Israel's king and described as a "man after God's own heart" (1 Sam. 13:14).

- Absalom: had Amnon assassinated and later led a rebellion against his father David, hoping to seize the throne for himself (13:21–33; 15:1–18:33).
- Adonijah: schemed to wrest the right of succession away from his brother Solomon (1 Kin. 1).
- Solomon: feared the Lord in his youth but later turned away from Him, influenced by the idolatry of his many wives (11:1–8).

Solomon: was granted unprecedented wisdom by God (1 Kin. 3:5–15) and built and dedicated the temple (5:1–6:38; 8:1–64).

Rehoboam: rejected his father's wise counselors in favor of his own companions, whose advice triggered a permanent split in the kingdom (1 Kin. 12:1–19).

Hezekiah: enacted numerous reforms and remained faithful to the Lord during an Assyrian siege of Jerusalem (2 Kin. 18–20).

Manasseh: thoroughly reversed his father's reforms, reinstituted idolatry, and ruled by violence (2 Kin. 21).

Josiah: cleaned out the temple, renewed the covenant, and restored proper worship of the Lord (2 Kin. 22:1–23:30).

- Jehoahaz: rejected his father's example during a brief reign marked by evil (2 Kin. 23:31–33).
- Jehoiakim: returned to idolatry, overtaxed the people, had the prophet Urijah executed, and actively opposed Jeremiah (23:35–37; Jer. 26:20, 21; 36:26).
- Zedekiah: continued the pattern of evil initiated by his brothers (2 Kin. 24:18–20), serving as a weak, vacillating ruler.

Blowing the Whistle with Wisdom

Jer. 37:13, 14

God instructed Jeremiah to point out Judah's flagrant sins and warn of impending judgment. But as the prophet delivered this unpopular message, crowds attacked the messenger. He was arrested and jailed on a fabricated charge of defecting to the enemy.

Like Jeremiah, we are at times called to expose evil. We might wish we could block out our concerns about unjust, oppressive, or dangerous situations. Or we might want to confront an issue but not know how. The complexity of each situation demands its own finely crafted response, but one point is universally true: Scripture never encourages us to close our eyes to wrongdoing.

We are to "abhor what is evil" and "cling to what is good" (Rom. 12:9). We are not to be "overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good" (12:21).

This does not mean we should ignore the potential hazards of speaking out against wrongs. Nor should we always remain silent if the cons seem to outweigh the pros. But we should consider the costs of speaking up, and Jeremiah's life offers ten guidelines for exposing evil with courage and wisdom:

1. No matter how righteous your cause, speak with brokenness and compassion. Jeremiah had plenty of reasons to be outraged. But instead of delighting in the judgments he saw coming upon his opponents, he agonized over their fate (9:1, 2; 13:17; Lam. 3:1–33).
2. Be sure that your charges are true and can be substantiated. Jeremiah stood in the temple and accused worshipers of committing several specific sins (see "What Is Religion?" at Jer. 7:2–4). Anyone could easily verify whether Jeremiah's charges were true.

3. Consider whether God has called you to the task. Jeremiah knew with certainty that God had called him to be a prophet (1:4–10). Before you open your mouth, pray long and hard about how God might want you to proceed.
4. Don't expect quick acceptance of your message. The people who heard Jeremiah seemed firmly committed to rejecting whatever he said (Jer. 5:21–31; 43:1–7).
5. Anticipate that others may present a different version of the facts. Jeremiah battled false prophets who questioned his honesty and contradicted his message (5:30, 31; 27:16–22; 28:1–17; 29:24–32).
6. Document your position with written evidence. Jeremiah had his scribe Baruch record his prophecies for future reference. In the long run, these records vindicated the prophet (Jer. 36; compare Ezra 1:1; Dan. 9:2).
7. Be prepared to pay the price of speaking out. Jeremiah was assaulted and jailed (20:1, 2); unjustly tried for treason, an offense punishable by death (26:7–11; 38:4); and imprisoned without parole (38:1–28). God also told him to forgo marriage and children (16:1, 2).
8. Expect to feel depressed in the midst of conflict. Jeremiah often felt low—even to the point that he wished he was dead (15:10–18, 20:14–18). He frequently cried out to God in deep despair.
9. Be prepared to depend on God during consequences. When Jeremiah faced persecution, he turned to God rather than turning on his enemies (11:18–20). God may not take suffering away, but He will give you strength to stand (38:5, 6, 28).
10. Don't be surprised if God supplies unexpected help. Leaders and ordinary people came to Jeremiah's side when he was on trial for his life. Their support won his case (26:12–24). And as he was starving in a deserted dungeon, a strategically placed foreigner quietly intervened with the king to save his life (38:7–13).

More: Public exposure is not the only way to deal with wrongdoing. Jesus gave His followers another strategy intended to retrieve people from sin. See Matt. 18:15–35.

Africans in the Bible

Jer. 38:7

The official who unexpectedly came to Jeremiah's aid—Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian—is one of many Africans mentioned in the Bible. The fact that Africans played a significant role in Israel's history largely resulted from the nation's location at the intersection of Africa and Asia.

The majority of Africans connected with the Israelites were Egyptians. Contact between these two peoples began when Abraham visited Egypt to secure food during a severe famine (Gen. 12:10). The family of his grandson Jacob later relocated to Egypt for the same reason (41:53–47:31). The Israelites remained in that foreign land for more than four hundred years before returning to Canaan (Ex. 12:41), and throughout the rest of Israel's history, Egypt served sometimes as a resource and sometimes as a menace.

Many other Africans mentioned in the Bible came from Ethiopia (also known as Cush or Nubia), a term designating both a country and unknown lands south and southwest of Egypt, or from Libya, probably the same as Put, the lands west of Egypt. Ophir, renowned for its gold, may also have been located on the African continent.

After Judah's collapse, the Jews founded many colonies in Africa, mostly in Egypt but also at Cyrene. This led to a recruitment of many proselytes to Judaism, including some present at Pentecost (Acts 2:10). The gospel probably arrived in Africa by way of these African Jewish colonies. Tradition holds that John Mark (see his profile at Acts 15:37) was the first evangelist to reach Alexandria in Egypt and the first bishop of that city.

Africans in the Bible

Hagar	The Egyptian maidservant of Abraham's wife Sarah and the mother of Ishmael (see her profile at Gen. 16:1).
The pharaohs	Rulers of Egypt who played important roles in God's plan.

The "mixed multitude" of the Exodus	A group of Gentiles who left Egypt with the Israelites; some were probably Egyptians (Ex. 12:37, 38).
Moses' Ethiopian wife	A woman whose presence created a crisis among Israel's leaders (Num. 12:1, 2).
The Cushite messenger	A runner who brought David the news of Absalom's death after losing a footrace to Ahimaaz (2 Sam. 18:20–33).
Lubim, Sukkiim, and Ethiopian mercenaries	Probably Libyan and Ethiopian soldiers in an Egyptian army that battled King Rehoboam and Judah's army (2 Chr. 12:3).
The Shulamite	The bride in Solomon's love poem who was possibly of African descent (Song 1:5, 6; 6:13).
Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian	An official of King Zedekiah who advocated for the starving and imprisoned Jeremiah and later was promised the Lord's protection for his kindness (Jer. 38:7–16; 39:16–18).
Simon of Cyrene	A man from the port city of Cyrene in northern Africa who helped Christ carry His cross on the way to His crucifixion; his family may have been part of the early church.
The treasurer of Ethiopia	An official of Queen Candace who was returning from Jerusalem when he met Philip and heard the gospel (see "The Message Spreads to Africa" at Acts 8:27–39).
Simeon (Niger)	A prophet in the early church at Antioch, probably of African descent (Acts 13:1).
Lucius of Cyrene	A leader at Antioch originally from the port city of Cyrene in north Africa (Acts 13:1).
Apollos	A Jew from Alexandria who became a powerful apologist in the early church (Acts 18:24–28).

More: Africa played an important role in Jesus' life. See "Jesus the Refugee" at Matt. 2:13–15.

Think About It: What is the joy in discovering how God weaves all nations together to do His good work? How will you demonstrate an "us" mentality, rather than "me against you?"

Soldiers in Scripture

Jer. 40:5

The Bible lists numerous military personnel, including the Babylonian officer Nebuzaradan. Some of these soldiers disdained God, while others revered Him. The Lord used many to accomplish His purposes.

Commanders

Joshua	Israel's first commander-in-chief, who led the nation in conquering Canaan (Ex. 17:8–10; Josh. 1:1–10).
Barak	The general recruited by the judge Deborah to defeat a Canaanite army led by Sisera (Judg. 4).
Jephthah	A judge in Gilead who led the Israelites against the Ammonites (Judg. 11:6).
Abner	King Saul's general (1 Sam. 14:50).
Joab	King David's general (1 Chr. 18:15).
Naaman	A Syrian general healed of leprosy by Elisha (2 Kin. 5:1–19).
The Tartan, the Rabsaris, and the Rabshakeh	Heads of the Assyrian army of King Sennacherib, whose troops were miraculously defeated during a siege of Jerusalem (2 Kin. 18:17).
Nebuzaradan	Leader of the Babylonian army of King Nebuchadnezzar, which captured Jerusalem in 587 B.C. (2 Kin. 25:8–17).
Hananiah	Appointed by Nehemiah to be commander of the military in Jerusalem (Neh. 7:2).

Officers and Regulars

Potiphar	An Egyptian military officer who employed and then imprisoned Joseph due to a false accusation (Gen. 39:1).
Caleb	An Israelite scout during the conquest of Canaan (Num. 13:25–14:9; Josh. 14:6–13).
Goliath	A Philistine military champion killed by young David (1 Sam. 17:48–54).
Uriah	A loyal Israelite soldier whose death was arranged by David in order to cover up his own sin (2 Sam. 11).
Abishai	A warrior under David who was celebrated because of his prowess in battle (1 Chr. 11:20).
Irijah	An Israelite officer stationed in Benjamin who arrested Jeremiah on a trumped-up charge of attempted defection (Jer. 37:13).
An unnamed centurion	A Roman officer based at Capernaum who sought healing from Jesus for his dying servant (Luke 7:1–10).
An unnamed centurion	A Roman officer at Jesus' crucifixion who acknowledged Jesus as the Son of God (Matt. 27:54).
Cornelius	A Roman centurion whose faith in God was rewarded with Peter's arrival with the gospel (Acts 10).
Julius	A centurion who led the guards transporting Paul to Rome (Acts 27).

Think About It: How have, will, or could, you serve God well through military service?

Time Capsules in Tahpanhes

Jer. 43:8–13

In the waning days of the kingdom of Judah, the Lord told Jeremiah to hide large stones in clay bricks to signify a prophecy against the Egyptians.

Jeremiah predicted that the Babylonians would someday rule Egypt from Pharaoh's courtyard in the city of Tahpanhes. This assertion was probably laughable to the Egyptians, who had withstood Assyria for generations and aspired to reassert control over the western lands of the Middle East.

But Jeremiah's prophecy came to pass. Shortly after the successful siege of Jerusalem around 587 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar attacked Egypt to punish it for helping Zedekiah rebel against Babylon (Jer. 37:5). Nebuchadnezzar apparently formed an alliance with the new pharaoh, Ahmose II, but even as the two rulers settled their differences, Jeremiah's stones testified to the truth that God's word had come to pass.

Recent excavations in Tahpanhes may have uncovered the fortress of Psammetichus I, the pharaoh who reigned not long before Jeremiah spoke. Traces of a brick platform have been found at the site.

More: Jeremiah would have been able to place stones in bricks because of how they were made, often by wet clay that was pressed into molds before being left to dry in the sun.

Baruch

Jer. 45:1

Name means: "Blessed."

Not to be confused with: Two men who lived in the time of Nehemiah (Neh. 3:20; 11:5).

Home: Unknown; but like Jeremiah he may have been from Anathoth, especially since he witnessed the prophet's redemption of family lands (Jer. 32:12–15).

Family: Son of Neriah; brother of Seraiah, an official of King Zedekiah.

Occupation: Probably a scribe.

Best known as: Jeremiah's secretary and lifelong friend.

More: The Book of Jeremiah may have been a product of both Baruch's and Jeremiah's efforts.

Think About It: How have, will, or could you team up with another Christian to do more together than either of you could do alone? How will each of you keep the other bolstered?

Judgment and Redemption for the Nations

Jer. 46:1

Jeremiah 46–51 announced the Lord's judgment on nine nations. Each one contributed in some way to the Israelites' downfall, so even as the Lord judged His own people, He paid back their political and spiritual enemies. And while the Lord preserved and revived the Israelites, He allowed these nations to fade into obscurity. It is essential to remember two points as we read these sobering words:

1. God's wrath is never without cause. The Lord had definite justification for His wrath: the people of these nations had turned from their Creator to worship and serve false gods. Every nation was guilty, and God's holy nature required justice.
2. God's wrath is never without remedy. Just as God had called Judah to repent throughout the years of Jeremiah's ministry,

He had also invited these nations to turn to Him and be saved (see "A Gesture of Grace" at Jer. 12:14–17). They now faced God's wrath because they had refused God's offer of grace.

The Lord's judgment always has redemption as its purpose. He wants no one to perish (2 Pet. 3:9), and repentance is available as an alternative to wrath right to the very end. The nations in these chapters included the Egyptians, the Philistines, the Moabites, the Ammonites, the Edomites, the Damascines, the Kedarites, the Elamites, and the Babylonians.

There was always a possibility that the nations addressed in these chapters—or even a handful of individuals in those countries—would fear God's judgment and come back to Him.

1. The Egyptians (Jer. 46). God's disapproval of the Egyptians dated back to the days of the Exodus, when Pharaoh refused to let the Israelites leave Egypt. Throughout Israel's history, the Egyptians alternated between using Israel as a bu er against nations to the north and east, and attempting to control the country. The Hebrews had brought Egyptian idolatry with them into the Promised Land, which became fully entrenched in their culture when Solomon married Pharaoh's daughter (1 Kin. 11:1, 2).

2. The Philistines (Jer. 47). The Philistines were Israel's longtime enemies to the southwest. They migrated to Canaan shortly before the Hebrews and harassed God's people throughout their history. One of the Philistines' goddesses, Ashtoreth, was also a goddess of the Canaanites and was a particular temptation to the Israelites (1 Sam. 7:3, 4).
3. The Moabites (Jer. 48). This nation stood under a curse for seducing Israel into idolatry and opposing them before they entered Canaan (Num. 25; Deut. 23:3, 4). Nevertheless, the Moabites' principal god Chemosh frequently became an object of Israelite worship. Solomon even erected a shrine to Chemosh outside of Jerusalem after arranging political marriages with Moabite women (1 Kin. 11:1, 7).
4. The Ammonites (Jer. 49:1–6). Like the Moabites, the Ammonites were prohibited from marrying Israelites. Yet again, Solomon not only married Ammonite women but built them idolatrous worship sites for their god Milcom (possibly the same as Molech; 1 Kin. 11:1, 5, 7).
5. The Edomites (Jer. 49:7–22). The Israelites constantly feuded with their cousins (through Esau; Gen. 36) the Edomites (for example, Num. 20:14–21; 1 Kin. 11:15, 16; 2 Chr. 28:17). After Jerusalem fell to the Babylonians, the Edomites celebrated in song (Ps. 137:7). As with other nations, the false religious beliefs and practices of the Edomites became entrenched in Israelite culture through Solomon's political marriages (1 Kin. 11:1, 8).
6. The Damascenes (Jer. 49:23–27). The city-state of Damascus was especially troublesome to Israel during the period of the divided monarchy. In 732 B.C. Damascus was captured by the Assyrians as predicted by Isaiah (Is. 17:1). However, the circumstances led to the worship of Syrian idols in the temple at Jerusalem (2 Chr. 28:23).
7. The Kedarites (Jer. 49:28–33). This tribe of nomadic Ishmaelites controlled the caravan routes between Palestine and Egypt in the desert region that Jeremiah refers to as Hazor. They were notorious for their fierce, warlike ways (see "Bent Toward Belligerence" at Ps. 120:5–7). Isaiah also predicted their downfall (Is. 21:16, 17), which took place in 599 B.C. through an attack by King Nebuchadnezzar.

8. The Elamites (Jer. 49:34–39). Elam was one of the nations that vied with Asssyria and Babylonia for control of Mesopotamia. Some of the captives of the northern kingdom of Israel were relocated to regions associated with Elam (Is. 11:11), and Elamites were transplanted to Canaan (Ezra 4:9). They brought with them their pagan rites, which they attempted to blend with worship of the Lord (2 Kin. 17:24–33). Later, God allowed Elam to be strengthened in order to join with the Medes and the Persians in crushing Babylon.
9. The Babylonians (Jer. 50–51). Babylon was raised up by God to discipline His people in Judah, but the nation also stood condemned for its harsh treatment of them. Furthermore, the Babylonians faced judgment for their worship of Bel and other false gods (50:2; 51:44).

Babylon: A Sinking Empire

Jer. 51:63, 64

Jeremiah's prophecies end with a parable about Babylon: like a book (or scroll) tied to a stone and thrown into the Euphrates River, the empire of Babylon will sink to oblivion, never to rise again.

The Babylonian empire fell in October 539 B.C., when the armies of Cyrus the Persian captured the capital city by diverting the Euphrates. Babylonian provinces came under Persian rule. The heavily damaged city of Babylon lingered as a provincial capital, but it was eventually destroyed by Xerxes in 478 B.C.

The city of Babylon became an abandoned ruin, but its name remained symbolically significant for God's people. Centuries after Jeremiah's prophecy, the apostle John offered another vision of the city's demise. The New Testament used Babylon as a code name for Rome, but its name also symbolized evil. John's mention of Babylon assured first-century Christians, and Christians today, that Jesus will prevail over sin, Satan, and every dark foe.

Just as the prophet Jeremiah had predicted, the land had been conquered and Jerusalem had fallen. Jeremiah had warned his neighbors of the impending disaster that would strike if the people did not turn from their wrongdoing, especially their worship of idols and neglect of their fellow citizens in need. The Book of Lamentations records the prophet's grief over the capture and destruction of the holy city. Jeremiah saw the horrors of the siege and its aftermath with his own eyes, and the Hebrew title of this book, meaning "How!" was a characteristic wail of mourners at a funeral.

The first four chapters of Lamentations are arranged in a literary style called an acrostic. The Hebrew alphabet contains twenty-two letters, and each letter is used, in the order it appears in the alphabet, as the first letter of the first word of each verse in chapters 1, 2, and 4, and as the first letter of the first word of each three-line stanza in chapter 3 (translated into six-line stanzas here).

Acrostics were sometimes used in ancient literature as a memorization tool, and they appear elsewhere in ancient Hebrew poetry. The acrostic form provided the composers of certain psalms with a ready-to-use poetic structure. But it seems more likely that the primary purpose for the use of acrostics in Lamentations was as a formal way of exploring, in exhaustive detail, the nation's grief over Jerusalem's demise. Instead of the spontaneous outbursts of pain we find in other biblical passages, such as Psalm 13 or Psalm 88, the Book of Lamentations conveys its sorrow in a carefully structured, fully developed way—in effect, from A to Z.

Many Jews today read Lamentations each year in August to recall the temple's destruction and to express sorrow for their sins. Yet the book bears obvious relevance for Christians as well. Through these scriptures we can enter into a fuller understanding of the excruciating sadness of fellow followers of God and, indeed, of ourselves, when human beings learn the costly lesson that sin does not pay. Yet we can also be warmed by God's comfort. The captives in Babylon thought they were alone, exiled not only from their homeland but from the presence of their God. Lamentations shows that the Lord was yet with them, still watching over them with His steady love (Lam. 3:22, 23).

The Book of Lamentations is set in the most painful era of Israel's history, when God's people were carried to captivity in Babylon. Tradition credits the book to Jeremiah, the prophet who mourned, "Oh, that my head were waters, and my eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!" (Jer. 9:1). The book's close association with the themes and style of the Book of Jeremiah also support the theory that the book was written by this same prophet.

Key Verses in Lamentations

- "How lonely sits the city that was full of people!" (Lam. 1:1).
- "Remember my affliction and roaming, the wormwood and the gall" (Lam. 3:19).
- "Through the LORD's mercies we are not consumed, because His compassions fail not. They are new every morning; great is Your faithfulness" (Lam. 3:22, 23).
- "I called on Your name, O LORD, from the lowest pit. You have heard my voice. . . . You drew near on the day I called You, and said, ‘Do not fear!’ ” (Lam. 3:55–57).

- “The joy of our heart has ceased; our dance has turned into mourning” (Lam. 5:15).
- “Turn us back to you, O LORD, and we will be restored” (Lam. 5:21).

Lamentations 1

Jerusalem in Affliction

1 How lonely sits the city
That was full of people!
How like a widow is she,
Who was great among the nations!
The princess among the provinces
Has become a slave! From Arrogance to Shame

2 She weeps bitterly in the night,
Her tears are on her cheeks;
Among all her lovers
She has none to comfort her.
All her friends have dealt treacherously with her;
They have become her enemies.

3 Judah has gone into captivity,
Under affliction and hard servitude;
She dwells among the nations,
She finds no rest;
All her persecutors overtake her in dire straits.

4 The roads to Zion mourn
Because no one comes to the set feasts.
All her gates are desolate;
Her priests sigh,
Her virgins are afflicted,
And she is in bitterness.

5 Her adversaries have become the master,

Her enemies prosper;
For the LORD has afflicted her
Because of the multitude of her transgressions.
Her children have gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion
All her splendor has departed.
Her princes have become like deer
That find no pasture,
That flee without strength
Before the pursuer.

7 In the days of her affliction and roaming, Jerusalem remembers all her pleasant things
That she had in the days of old.
When her people fell into the hand of the enemy,
With no one to help her,
The adversaries saw her
And mocked at her downfall.[a]

8 Jerusalem has sinned gravely,
Therefore she has become vile.[b]
All who honored her despise her Because they have seen her nakedness;
Yes, she sighs and turns away.

9 Her uncleanness is in her skirts;
She did not consider her destiny;
Therefore her collapse was awesome;
She had no comforter.
"O LORD, behold my affliction,
For the enemy is exalted!" Start Today

10 The adversary has spread his hand
Over all her pleasant things;
For she has seen the nations enter her sanctuary,
Those whom You commanded
Not to enter Your assembly.

11 All her people sigh,
They seek bread;
They have given their valuables for food to restore life.
"See, O LORD, and consider,
For I am scorned."

12 "Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by?
Behold and see
If there is any sorrow like my sorrow,
Which has been brought on me,
Which the LORD has inflicted
In the day of His fierce anger.

13 "From above He has sent fire into my bones,
And it overpowered them;
He has spread a net for my feet
And turned me back;
He has made me desolate
And faint all the day.

14 "The yoke of my transgressions was bound;[c]
They were woven together by His hands,
And thrust upon my neck.
He made my strength fail;
The Lord delivered me into the hands of those whom I am not able to withstand.

15 “The Lord has trampled underfoot all my mighty men in my midst;
He has called an assembly against me
To crush my young men;
The Lord trampled as in a winepress
The virgin daughter of Judah.

16 “For these things I weep;
My eye, my eye overflows with water;
Because the comforter, who should restore my life,
Is far from me.
My children are desolate
Because the enemy prevailed.”

17 Zion spreads out her hands,
But no one comforts her;
The LORD has commanded concerning Jacob That those around him become his adversaries;
Jerusalem has become an unclean thing
among them.

18 “The LORD is righteous,
For I rebelled against His commandment.
Hear now, all peoples,
And behold my sorrow;
My virgins and my young men
Have gone into captivity. Corporate Confession

19 “I called for my lovers,
But they deceived me;
My priests and my elders
Breathed their last in the city,

While they sought food
To restore their life.

20 “See, O LORD, that I am in distress;
My soul is troubled;
My heart is overturned within me,
For I have been very rebellious.
Outside the sword bereaves,
At home it is like death.

21 “They have heard that I sigh,
But no one comforts me.
All my enemies have heard of my trouble;
They are glad that You have done it.
Bring on the day You have announced,
That they may become like me.

22 “Let all their wickedness come before You,
And do to them as You have done to me
For all my transgressions;
For my sighs are many,
And my heart is faint.”

Lamentations 2

God's Anger with Jerusalem

[1]How the Lord has covered the daughter of Zion
With a cloud in His anger!
He cast down from heaven to the earth
The beauty of Israel,
And did not remember His footstool
In the day of His anger.

[2]The Lord has swallowed up and has not pitied
All the dwelling places of Jacob.
He has thrown down in His wrath
The strongholds of the daughter of Judah;
He has brought them down to the ground;
He has profaned the kingdom and its princes.

[3]He has cut off in fierce anger
Every horn of Israel;
He has drawn back His right hand
From before the enemy.
He has blazed against Jacob like a flaming fire
Devouring all around.

[4]Standing like an enemy, He has bent His bow;
With His right hand, like an adversary,
He has slain all who were pleasing to His eye;
On the tent of the daughter of Zion,

He has poured out His fury like fire.

5The Lord was like an enemy.
He has swallowed up Israel,
He has swallowed up all her palaces;
He has destroyed her strongholds,
And has increased mourning and lamentation
In the daughter of Judah.

6He has done violence to His tabernacle,
As if it were a garden;
He has destroyed His place of assembly;
The LORD has caused
The appointed feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion.
In His burning indignation He has spurned the king and the priest. How Far Will God Go?

7The Lord has spurned His altar,
He has abandoned His sanctuary;
He has given up the walls of her palaces
Into the hand of the enemy.
They have made a noise in the house of the LORD
As on the day of a set feast.

8The LORD has purposed to destroy
The wall of the daughter of Zion.
He has stretched out a line;
He has not withdrawn His hand from destroying;
Therefore He has caused the rampart and wall to lament;
They languished together.

9 Her gates have sunk into the ground;
He has destroyed and broken her bars.
Her king and her princes are among the nations;
The Law is no more,
And her prophets find no vision from the LORD.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion
Sit on the ground and keep silence;
They throw dust on their heads
And gird themselves with sackcloth.
The virgins of Jerusalem
Bow their heads to the ground.

11 My eyes fail with tears,
My heart is troubled;
My bile is poured on the ground
Because of the destruction of the daughter of my people,
Because the children and the infants
Faint in the streets of the city. The Tears of Men

12 They say to their mothers,
"Where is grain and wine?"
As they swoon like the wounded
In the streets of the city,
As their life is poured out
In their mothers' bosom.

13 How shall I console you?
To what shall I liken you,
O daughter of Jerusalem?
What shall I compare with you, that I may comfort you,

O virgin daughter of Zion?
For your ruin is spread wide as the sea;
Who can heal you?

14 Your prophets have seen for you
False and deceptive visions;
They have not uncovered your iniquity,
To bring back your captives,
But have envisioned for you false prophecies and delusions.

15 All who pass by clap their hands at you;
They hiss and shake their heads
At the daughter of Jerusalem:
"Is this the city that is called
'The perfection of beauty,
The joy of the whole earth'?"

16 All your enemies have opened their mouth
against you;
They hiss and gnash their teeth.
They say, "We have swallowed her up!
Surely this is the day we have waited for;
We have found it, we have seen it!#8221;

17 The LORD has done what He purposed;
He has fulfilled His word
Which He commanded in days of old.
He has thrown down and has not pitied,
And He has caused an enemy to rejoice over
you;
He has exalted the horn of your adversaries.

18 Their heart cried out to the Lord,
"O wall of the daughter of Zion,

Let tears run down like a river day and night;
Give yourself no relief;
Give your eyes no rest.

19 “Arise, cry out in the night,
At the beginning of the watches;
Pour out your heart like water before the face of the Lord.
Lift your hands toward Him
For the life of your young children, Who faint from hunger at the head of every street.”

20 “See, O LORD, and consider!
To whom have You done this?
Should the women eat their offspring,
The children they have cuddled?[a]
Should the priest and prophet be slain
In the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 “Young and old lie
On the ground in the streets;
My virgins and my young men
Have fallen by the sword;
You have slain them in the day of Your anger,
You have slaughtered and not pitied.

22 “You have invited as to a feast day
The terrors that surround me.
In the day of the LORD’s anger
There was no refugee or survivor.
Those whom I have borne and brought up
My enemies have destroyed.”

Lamentations 3

The Prophet's Anguish and Hope

1 I am the man who has seen affliction by the rod of His wrath.
2 He has led me and made me walk
In darkness and not in light.
3 Surely He has turned His hand against me
Time and time again throughout the day.

4 He has aged my flesh and my skin,
And broken my bones.
5 He has besieged me
And surrounded me with bitterness and woe.
6 He has set me in dark places
Like the dead of long ago.

7 He has hedged me in so that I cannot get
out;
He has made my chain heavy.
8 Even when I cry and shout,
He shuts out my prayer.
9 He has blocked my ways with hewn stone;
He has made my paths crooked.

10 He has been to me a bear lying in wait,
Like a lion in ambush.
11 He has turned aside my ways and torn me in pieces;
He has made me desolate.
12 He has bent His bow
And set me up as a target for the arrow.

13 He has caused the arrows of His quiver
To pierce my loins.[a] 14 I have become the ridicule of all my people
Their taunting song all the day.
15 He has filled me with bitterness,
He has made me drink wormwood.

16 He has also broken my teeth with gravel,
And covered me with ashes.
17 You have moved my soul far from peace;
I have forgotten prosperity.
18 And I said, “My strength and my hope Have perished from the LORD.”

19 Remember my affliction and roaming,
The wormwood and the gall.
20 My soul still remembers
And sinks within me.
21 This I recall to my mind,
Therefore I have hope.

22 Through the LORD’s mercies we are not consumed,
Because His compassions fail not. Never Forsaken,
Never Alone
23 They are new every morning;
Great is Your faithfulness.
24 “The LORD is my portion,” says my soul,
“Therefore I hope in Him!”

25 The LORD is good to those who wait for Him,
To the soul who seeks Him.

26 It is good that one should hope and wait quietly
For the salvation of the LORD.
27 It is good for a man to bear
The yoke in his youth.

28 Let him sit alone and keep silent,
Because God has laid it on him;
29 Let him put his mouth in the dust—
There may yet be hope.
30 Let him give his cheek to the one who strikes him,
And be full of reproach.

31 For the Lord will not cast off forever.
32 Though He causes grief,
Yet He will show compassion
According to the multitude of His mercies.
33 For He does not afflict willingly,
Nor grieve the children of men.

34 To crush under one's feet
All the prisoners of the earth,
35 To turn aside the justice due a man
Before the face of the Most High,
36 Or subvert a man in his cause—
The Lord does not approve.

37 Who is he who speaks and it comes to pass,
When the Lord has not commanded it?
38 Is it not from the mouth of the Most High
That woe and well-being proceed?
39 Why should a living man complain,

A man for the punishment of his sins? No Excuses Allowed 40 Let us search out and examine our ways,

And turn back to the LORD;
41 Let us lift our hearts and hands
To God in heaven.
42 We have transgressed and rebelled;
You have not pardoned.

43 You have covered Yourself with anger
And pursued us;
You have slain and not pitied.
44 You have covered Yourself with a cloud,
That prayer should not pass through.
45 You have made us an offscouring and refuse
In the midst of the peoples.

46 All our enemies
Have opened their mouths against us.
47 Fear and a snare have come upon us,
Desolation and destruction.
48 My eyes overflow with rivers of water
For the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 My eyes flow and do not cease,
Without interruption,
50 Till the LORD from heaven
Looks down and sees.
51 My eyes bring suffering to my soul
Because of all the daughters of my city.

52 My enemies without cause
Hunted me down like a bird.
53 They silenced[b] my life in the pit
And threw stones at me.
54 The waters flowed over my head;
I said, “I am cut off!”

55 I called on Your name, O LORD,
From the lowest pit.
56 You have heard my voice:
“Do not hide Your ear
From my sighing, from my cry for help.”
57 You drew near on the day I called on You,
And said, “Do not fear!”

58 O Lord, You have pleaded the case for my soul;
You have redeemed my life.
59 O LORD, You have seen how I am wronged;
Judge my case.
60 You have seen all their vengeance,
All their schemes against me.

61 You have heard their reproach, O LORD,
All their schemes against me,
62 The lips of my enemies
And their whispering against me all the day.
63 Look at their sitting down and their rising up;
I am their taunting song.

64 Repay them, O LORD,
According to the work of their hands.

65 Give them a veiled[c] heart;
Your curse be upon them!
66 In Your anger,
Pursue and destroy them
From under the heavens of the LORD.

Lamentations 4

The Degradation of Zion

1 How the gold has become dim!
How changed the fine gold!
The stones of the sanctuary are scattered
At the head of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zion,
Valuable as fine gold,
How they are regarded as clay pots,
The work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the jackals present their breasts
To nurse their young;
But the daughter of my people is cruel,
Like ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the infant clings
To the roof of its mouth for thirst;
The young children ask for bread,
But no one breaks it for them.

5 Those who ate delicacies
Are desolate in the streets;
Those who were brought up in scarlet Embrace ash heaps.

6 The punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people
Is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom,
Which was overthrown in a moment,

With no hand to help her! Equal Sin and Unequal Punishment

7 Her Nazirites[a] were brighter than snow
And whiter than milk;
They were more ruddy in body than rubies,
Like sapphire in their appearance.

8 Now their appearance is blacker than soot;
They go unrecognized in the streets;
Their skin clings to their bones,
It has become as dry as wood.

9 Those slain by the sword are better off
Than those who die of hunger;
For these pine away,
Stricken for lack of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the compassionate women
Have cooked their own children;
They became food for them
In the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The LORD has fulfilled His fury,
He has poured out His fierce anger.
He kindled a fire in Zion,
And it has devoured its foundations.

12 The kings of the earth,
And all inhabitants of the world,
Would not have believed
That the adversary and the enemy
Could enter the gates of Jerusalem—

13 Because of the sins of her prophets

And the iniquities of her priests,
Who shed in her midst
The blood of the just.

14 They wandered blind in the streets;
They have defiled themselves with blood,
So that no one would touch their garments.

15 They cried out to them,
"Go away, unclean!
Go away, go away,
Do not touch us!"
When they fled and wandered,
Those among the nations said,
"They shall no longer dwell here."

16 The face[b] of the LORD scattered them;
He no longer regards them.
The people do not respect the priests
Nor show favor to the elders.

17 Still our eyes failed us,
Watching vainly for our help;
In our watching we watched
For a nation that could not save us.

18 They tracked our steps
So that we could not walk in our streets.
Our end was near;
Our days were over,
For our end had come.

19 Our pursuers were swifter
Than the eagles of the heavens.
They pursued us on the mountains
And lay in wait for us in the wilderness.

20 The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD,
Was caught in their pits,
Of whom we said, “Under his shadow
We shall live among the nations.”

21 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom,
You who dwell in the land of Uz!
The cup shall also pass over to you
And you shall become drunk and make yourself naked. Gloating

22 The punishment of your iniquity is accomplished,
O daughter of Zion;
He will no longer send you into captivity.
He will punish your iniquity,
O daughter of Edom;
He will uncover your sins!

Lamentations 5

Prayer for Restoration

1 Remember, O LORD, what has come upon
us;
Look, and behold our reproach!
2 Our inheritance has been turned over to aliens,
And our houses to foreigners.
3 We have become orphans and waifs,
Our mothers are like widows.

4 We pay for the water we drink,
And our wood comes at a price.
5 They pursue at our heels;[a]
We labor and have no rest.
6 We have given our hand to the Egyptians And the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers sinned and are no more,
But we bear their iniquities.
8 Servants rule over us;
There is none to deliver us from their hand.
9 We get our bread at the risk of our lives,
Because of the sword in the wilderness.

10 Our skin is hot as an oven,
Because of the fever of famine.
11 They ravished the women in Zion,
The maidens in the cities of Judah.
12 Princes were hung up by their hands,

And elders were not respected.
13 Young men ground at the millstones;
Boys staggered under loads of wood.
14 The elders have ceased gathering at the gate,
And the young men from their music.

15 The joy of our heart has ceased;
Our dance has turned into mourning.
16 The crown has fallen from our head.
Woe to us, for we have sinned!
17 Because of this our heart is faint;
Because of these things our eyes grow dim;
18 Because of Mount Zion which is desolate,
With foxes walking about on it.

19 You, O LORD, remain forever;
Your throne from generation to generation.

God's Throne Remains Forever

20 Why do You forget us forever,
And forsake us for so long a time?
21 Turn us back to You, O LORD, and we will be restored;
Renew our days as of old,
22 Unless You have utterly rejected us,
And are very angry with us!

From Arrogance to Shame

Lam. 1:1

You know how arrogant behavior affects you. No one likes to be around someone who's convinced he's all that and a chocolate bar. Scripture makes it clear that God opposes the proud (James 4:6), offering countless examples of people whose pride was brought low through God's discipline, including Pharaoh (Ex. 14:26–15:10), Samson (Judg. 16:21–24), David (2 Sam. 12:7–15), and Herod Agrippa I (Acts 12:21–23).

God let the people of Judah suffer humiliation because of their arrogant rebellion. Lamentations likens Jerusalem to a woman put to shame. Note the reversals brought about by the Lord's judgment:

- from wife to widow (Lam. 1:1),
- from princess to slave (1:1),
- from friend to enemy (1:2),
- from honor to shame (1:8), and
- from respectability to prostitution (1:9).

God intended for the Israelites to enjoy the honor of being His people, but their sinful ways left them despised by the nations.

This may not happen quickly, but at times we may see our contemporaries face a similar reversal of fortune. When their wrongdoings come to light, they fall from honor and prominence to shame and disrepute. Nations can suffer the same upheaval.

We can expect that sooner or later God will humble a government that openly defies Him and establishes laws that oppose His truth and values. God does not allow people to ignore Him forever. He will be honored.

More: Several years before Jeremiah's birth, the Lord made an example of a government official who persisted in pride when he should have cried for mercy. See "God Humbles the Proud" at Is. 22:15–23.

Lam. 1:9

For generations, Judah ignored the Law's obvious commands against idolatry, oppressing the poor, cheating in the marketplace, relying on foreign governments for security, and other sins of public life. Though the people kept up temple rituals and maintained a pretense of worship, their hearts and actions had turned against God (see "What Is Religion?" at Jer. 7:2–4). When the Lord sent prophets to notify the Judeans of impending disaster, they shut out His words (2 Chr. 36:15, 16). Despite all of God's warnings, the people were stunned when the Babylonians arrived and destroyed their way of life.

Just as the people of Judah failed to think through their actions and their potential consequences, there may be decisions in our lives that we fail to confront—a relationship that needs healing, a problem that needs solving, a habit that needs changing. Let's make today the day to get started on mending the broken places in our lives—before it's too late.

More: Failure to consider consequences often stems from laziness. See "Let Go of Laziness" at Prov. 24:30–34.

Corporate Confession

Lam. 1:18

We rarely feel responsible for other people's sins. Yet the Bible teaches us about corporate sin and accountability—an entire group of people held liable for the sins of some members. And where there is corporate sin, there is a need for corporate confession.

Lamentations offers an example. Jeremiah spoke in terms of personal sin when he said, "I rebelled. . . . Behold my sorrow." Yet Jeremiah's first-person statements refer not only to his individual guilt but also to the collective guilt of Judah, for Jeremiah identified deeply with his fellow Judeans. Years later, Nehemiah also engaged in corporate confession, using the term we as he prayed for his people's forgiveness and restoration to the Promised Land (Neh. 1:4–11).

We, too, bear corporate responsibilities. We may not have contributed directly to past wrongs, but just as we inherit benefits from our predecessors, so we must accept legacies of sin. Like Jeremiah, we should humbly confess and seek healing for what we have done as a people. We must recognize that past sins may cause consequences to linger with us, and we should ponder the impact of our choices on future generations.

More: To learn more, see "Group Sin" at Lev. 4:13, 14. Corporate solidarity helps us understand much of Scripture, including David's encounter with Goliath. See "Corporate Solidarity" at 1 Sam. 17:8–10.

How Far Will God Go?

Lam. 2:6–9

Jerusalem's destruction revealed an astonishing fact: God goes to extraordinary lengths to draw His people back to Himself.

The people of Judah were not irreligious. On the contrary, for the most part they maintained religious rituals. They gathered in the temple week after week to offer sacrifices and observe the Sabbath. But during the rest of their days, they ignored God's Law. They ignored what Jesus later called the "weightier matters" of the Law—justice, mercy, and faith (Matt. 23:23; compare Mic. 6:8).

The people strayed from God. They confused means and ends. They forgot that the sacrificial system, the Sabbath, the temple, and even the Law were only means to the far more important end of knowing and serving God (see "Knowing God" at Jer. 22:15, 16). God eventually took these means away, as important and valuable as they were.

- He destroyed Jerusalem.
- He pulled down the temple and its furnishings.
- He did away with religious rituals.
- He removed the king and the high priest.
- He stopped giving visions to the prophets.

God was determined to get His people's attention and rebuild their relationship on a fresh foundation.

Our religious activities and resources have value, but they are not the sum of life. True spirituality affects each and every element of life. God Himself is what matters, and He will do whatever it takes to remind us of that fact.

The Tears of Men

Lam. 2:11

The men of the Bible seem to have had little or no shame about weeping. They felt free to express both grief and joy through their tears. Jeremiah, for example, wept bitterly over his people's desperate plight after Jerusalem fell to the Babylonians (compare Jer. 9:1). Many other men in Scripture also shed tears. Samples:

- Abraham wept and mourned when his wife Sarah died (Gen. 23:2).
- Jacob cried joyful tears when he met his cousin Rachel (Gen. 29:11).
- David and Jonathan cried as they parted company after Saul's vicious attacks (1 Sam. 20:41, 42).
- Elisha wept as he forsaw the cruelty that Hazael would inflict on Israel's women and children (2 Kin. 8:11, 12).
- Jesus was moved to tears at the tomb of His friend Lazarus (John 11:33–36).
- Peter wept with bitter shame after realizing that he had betrayed his Lord (Matt. 26:75).

- John wept when he realized that no one in heaven was worthy to read a scroll (Rev. 5:4).

Never Forsaken, Never Alone

Lam. 3:22–24

The destruction of Jerusalem was the darkest moment of Jeremiah's life. The city's demise crushed the prophet and his peers. The Israelites' magnificent temple was reduced to ashes, the city walls were pulled down, and most of the populace was dead or gone. The only inhabitants who remained were starving women, children, and the elderly (Lam. 2:10–12).

Only one thing kept hope alive when God's people were tempted to despair: assurance of the Lord's mercies. That mercy (Hebrew: chesed; see "The God of Mercy" at Deut. 7:9) involved His undying love and loyalty. The Lord had committed Himself in a covenant with Israel, and He could be counted on to keep that pledge. He might discipline His wayward children, or allow them to be ravaged by enemies, or even let their temple and the Law be destroyed (Lam. 2:9), but He would never abandon His people.

The same is true today. God extends mercy and grace to all who are in Christ Jesus (Rom. 8:1), and nothing will ever separate us from His love (8:31–39). So we possess hope (5:1–5; 1 Pet. 1:3–5) even in the midst of the worst of circumstances (2 Cor. 1:8–11).

More: Jeremiah's eloquent expression of God's faithfulness and compassion formed the basis of the hymn "Great Is Thy Faithfulness." For other hymns drawn from Scripture, see "Psalms into Hymns" at Ps. 103:1.

No Excuses Allowed

Lam. 3:39

Jeremiah wondered how anyone could complain about being punished for sin. Scripture teaches that sin brings consequences. That's one reason God forbids certain actions: because He knows those actions hurt people, separate person from person, and create anguish for both the person and those observing. Those are punishment enough.

But then there's the matter of holiness. We betray ourselves and our God when we sin. Sinners in the hands of a just God should expect judgment. Yet often we expect the Lord to overlook our transgressions. We make excuses for our offenses against His holiness. We rationalize our wrongdoing. We convince ourselves that we do not deserve God's wrath. We claim to want justice—just not in our case.

The only honest way we can deal with sin is to admit what it is—wrong—and to turn back to God in humble repentance (Lam. 3:40; 1 John 1:8–10). We find there the love we feared losing. Instead of complaining about whatever punishment comes our way, we should acknowledge the Lord's righteousness and thank Him for showing us how to live.

Equal Sin and Unequal Punishment

Lam. 4:6

In an ultimate sense, no sin is worse than another. Every transgression violates God's holiness and is subject to His righteous judgment (Rom. 1:8; 3:21–23; James 2:10). But even if there are not degrees of sin, there are degrees of punishment. Jesus declared that a servant who knows his master's will yet disobeys will receive harsher judgment than a slave who lacks that knowledge. "To whom much is given," He said, "from him much will be required" (Luke 12:48).

The Lord gave much to the Israelites, particularly to Judah. Yet despite the presence of God in their temple, their awareness of God's will in the Law, and the evidence of God's wrath against the northern kingdom, the Judeans remained obstinate. Judah surpassed the evils that Israel had committed, sins that were, in turn, worse than those committed by the unbelieving Canaanites (2 Kin. 17:19; 21:9).

The Lord responded to this continual rebellion by allowing the Babylonians to overrun the land and destroy Jerusalem. Jeremiah commented that the nation suffered an even greater punishment than the city of Sodom (Lam. 4:6; compare Gen. 19:24, 25). Yet this greater judgment was justified; while Abraham had failed in his search for ten righteous people living in Sodom (see "The Legacy of Sodom and Gomorrah" at Gen. 19:29), Jeremiah had searched in vain for even one righteous person living in Jerusalem (see "Not One Righteous Person" at Jer. 5:1).

God will hold us accountable for how we use our privileges, resources, and opportunities—which should not only be used wisely but also for the sake of others (2 Cor. 1:4). Because God has given us much, He will expect much from us.

Gloating
Lam. 4:21

The Edomites were delighted to hear the news of Jerusalem's fall (Lam. 4:21; compare Ps. 137:7). These neighbors to Judah's south were the Israelites' sworn enemies despite their common ancestry (see "The Edomites: Perpetual Enemies of the Israelites" at Gen. 36:9). During the years of Babylonian domination, the Edomites took the opportunity to raid Judah and seize more territory (Obad. 10–14). Later, after Nebuchadnezzar had deported the Judean captives to Babylon, he gave some of Judah's lands to Edom.

God rebuked the Edomites for their hateful behavior. His exhortation to "rejoice and be glad" (Lam. 4:21) was spoken ironically. The Lord was essentially saying, "Enjoy your gloating while it lasts, because it won't last for long." Soon it would be Edom's turn for judgment (compare Jer. 49:17, 18).

Scripture never encourages God's people to enjoy the suffering of others, even if they get what they deserve. The love that God calls us to "does not rejoice in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth" (1 Cor. 13:6). Instead of gloating over our enemies' misery, we should pray that their circumstances will turn them toward the Lord and away from evil (Rom. 12:14–21).

More: As Jeremiah reflected on the tragic destruction that he knew was coming on Jerusalem, he reacted not with gloating but with compassion. See "The Heart of a Prophet" at Jer. 9:1, 2.

God's Throne Remains Forever

Lam. 5:19

The Book of Lamentations ends with a powerful piece of wisdom, affirming that the Lord remains forever. This truth dramatically contrasts with the stark scene of Mount Zion, silent and deserted except for a few wild animals that wandered through its ruins (Lam. 5:18). Jerusalem was no more. But God remains.

So it is throughout Scripture. God always has the final word. The Flood carries away a wicked generation, but God remains (Gen. 7:21–23). Job despairs of life, but discovers that God remains (Job 42:5, 6). A generation of rebellious Israelites dies in the sand, but God remains (Ps. 90:2). Empires rise and fall—Assyrian, Babylonian, Persian, Alexandrian, Roman—but God remains (Dan. 4:34, 35; 7:13, 14). Even the world itself is destroyed and remade, but God remains (Rev. 21:5, 6; 22:13).

This fundamental truth lends perspective to the events of our lives and of history. Families, careers, communities, nations—everything in this world comes and goes. But God remains forever. Therefore, as Solomon concluded, "Fear God and keep His commandments, for this is man's all" (Eccl. 12:13).

In 597 b.c. the Babylonian king Nebuchadnezzar relocated Judah's king and ten thousand of Jerusalem's leading citizens to Babylon. Likely included in this group was a young priest-in-training named Ezekiel. About four years later, God called this man to prophesy to His people in their captivity.

Like most prophets, Ezekiel faced plenty of rejection from his audience. The Lord forewarned Ezekiel that the Jewish exiles in Babylon were a hard-hearted group who had already proven unwilling to listen to the Lord (3:7). Yet He also reminded His messenger that regardless of his listeners' response, it was his duty to proclaim God's word.

This was a uniquely difficult assignment because to most of the exiles, the worst was already past prevention. Fear of capture was no longer a factor. They had already endured resettlement nearly a thousand miles from home. Family and friends had long been claimed by the cruelties of their captors on the journey and on the battlefield. Still, the people needed to be reminded that their circumstances were the result of God's judgment, which was far from over. Jerusalem would soon be destroyed, and their captivity would last at least half a century longer. The prophet delivered this message in Ezekiel 4–24.

In addition to addressing the Jews, Ezekiel's prophecies heralded God's judgment of the Gentile nations surrounding Judah—Ammon, Moab, Edom, Philistia, Tyre, Sidon, and Egypt. These warnings were given in Ezekiel 25–32.

The final portion of the book offered words of hope. Ezekiel 33–48 declared that God would eventually restore

His people to their land. Ezekiel's vision of dry bones coming to life (ch. 37) represented part of that promise. The theme of hope continued in Ezekiel 40–48, in which God described a restored temple and the renewal of sacrifices and authentic worship.

One of the most important messages that Ezekiel gave to the exiles was about personal accountability. While corporate responsibility is important (see "Corporate Confession" at Lam. 1:18), the people of Ezekiel's day had a strong sense of group identity that tended to dismiss their individual need to follow God's will. Some even believed that future generations would pay the price of their sins. Ezekiel challenged this thinking by declaring that "the soul who sins shall die" (Ezek. 18:20). Every individual must make a personal decision to follow the Lord. No one can depend on the faith of another to gain acceptance with God.

The Book of Ezekiel can make for difficult reading. The prophet's call (chs. 1–4) is described in highly symbolic language, and some of the methods that Ezekiel used to communicate his message are perplexing. For example, he illustrated the extent of God's wrath against Judah by refraining from grief when his wife died on the day Jerusalem was attacked for the third and final time (24:16–24). He built a clay model of Jerusalem to symbolize its impending fall (4:1–8), and he shaved his head and burned some of his hair to portray the fate of the city's people (5:1–10).

These actions may well seem strange to us. But like the people of Ezekiel's day, through careful study we can perceive lessons in the prophet's object parables. Fortunately, the book follows a straightforward chronology, with an explanation usually following the prophet's parables and one-man dramas.

The Book of Ezekiel was written by Ezekiel. The prophet spoke to his fellow exiles living in various settlements, such as Tel Abib, located along the Chebar River between Babylon and Nippur. The primary focus of his prophecies was not on Babylon, however, but on Jerusalem and a handful of nations surrounding Judah.

Key Verses in Ezekiel

- "Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel" (Ezek. 3:17).
- "I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within them . . . and they shall be My people, and I will be their God" (Ezek. 11:19, 20).
- "I will remember My covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish an everlasting covenant with you. . . . Then you shall know that I am the LORD . . . when I provide you an atonement for all you have done" (Ezek. 16:60, 62, 63).
- "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge" (Ezek. 18:2).
- "The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not bear the guilt of the father, nor the father bear the guilt of the son" (Ezek. 18:20).
- "I have no pleasure in the death of one who dies. . . . Therefore turn and live!" (Ezek. 18:32).
- "I Myself will search for my sheep and seek them out. . . . I will seek what is lost and bring back what was driven away, bind up the broken and strengthen what was sick; but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and feed them in judgment" (Ezek. 34:11, 16).
- "O dry bones, hear the word of the LORD!" (Ezek. 37:4).
- "The name of the city from that day shall be: THE LORD IS THERE" (Ezek. 48:35).

Ezekiel 1

Ezekiel's Vision of God

1 Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the River Chebar, that the heavens were opened and I saw visions[a] of God. Ezekiel The Life and Times of Ezekiel

2 On the fifth day of the month, which was in the fifth year of King Jehoiachin's captivity,

3 the word of the LORD came expressly to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans[b] by the River Chebar; and the hand of the LORD was upon him there.

4 Then I looked, and behold, a whirlwind was coming out of the north, a great cloud with raging fire engulfing itself; and brightness was all around it and radiating out of its midst like the color of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 Also from within it came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had the likeness of a man.

6 Each one had four faces, and each one had four wings.

7 Their legs were straight, and the soles of their feet were like the soles of calves' feet. They sparkled like the color of burnished bronze.

8 The hands of a man were under their wings on their four sides; and each of the four had faces and wings.

9 Their wings touched one another. The creatures did not turn when they went, but each one went straight forward.

10 As for the likeness of their faces, each had the face of a man; each of the four had the face of a lion on the right side, each of the four had the face of an ox on the left side, and each of the four had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces. Their wings stretched upward; two wings of each one touched one another, and two covered their bodies.
12 And each one went straight forward; they went wherever the spirit wanted to go, and they did not turn when they went.
13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches going back and forth among the living creatures. The fire was bright, and out of the fire went lightning.
14 And the living creatures ran back and forth, in appearance like a flash of lightning.
15 Now as I looked at the living creatures, behold, a wheel was on the earth beside each living creature with its four faces.
16 The appearance of the wheels and their workings was like the color of beryl, and all four had the same likeness.
The appearance of their workings was, as it were, a wheel in the middle of a wheel.
17 When they moved, they went toward any one of four directions; they did not turn aside when they went.
18 As for their rims, they were so high they were awesome; and their rims were full of eyes, all around the four of them.
19 When the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.
20 Wherever the spirit wanted to go, they went, because there the spirit went; and the wheels were lifted together with them, for the spirit of the living creatures[c] was in the wheels.
21 When those went, these went; when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up together with them, for the spirit of the living creatures[d] was in the wheels.

22The likeness of the firmament above the heads of the living creatures[e] was like the color of an awesome crystal, stretched out over their heads.

23And under the firmament their wings spread out straight, one toward another. Each one had two which covered one side, and each one had two which covered the other side of the body.

24When they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of many waters, like the voice of the Almighty, a tumult like the noise of an army; and when they stood still, they let down their wings.

25A voice came from above the firmament that was over their heads; whenever they stood, they let down their wings.

26And above the firmament over their heads was the likeness of a throne, in appearance like a sapphire stone; on the likeness of the throne was a likeness with the appearance of a man high above it.

27Also from the appearance of His waist and upward I saw, as it were, the color of amber with the appearance of fire all around within it; and from the appearance of His waist and downward I saw, as it were, the appearance of fire with brightness all around.

28Like the appearance of a rainbow in a cloud on a rainy day, so was the appearance of the brightness all around it. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD.

Ezekiel Sent to Rebellious Israel

So when I saw it, I fell on my face, and I heard a voice of One speaking.

Ezekiel 2

1 And He said to me, “Son of man, stand on your feet, and I will speak to you.” Different Callings, Same Purpose 2 Then the Spirit entered me when He spoke to me, and set me on my feet; and I heard Him who spoke to me.
3 And He said to me: “Son of man, I am sending you to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that has rebelled against Me; they and their fathers have transgressed against Me to this very day.
4 “For they are impudent and stubborn children. I am sending you to them, and you shall say to them, ‘Thus says
the Lord GOD.’
5 “As for them, whether they hear or whether they refuse —for they are a rebellious house—yet they will know that a prophet has been among them.
6 “And you, son of man, do not be afraid of them nor be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns are with you and you dwell among scorpions; do not be afraid of their words or dismayed by their looks, though they are a rebellious house.
7 “You shall speak My words to them, whether they hear or whether they refuse, for they are rebellious.
8 “But you, son of man, hear what I say to you. Do not be rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat what I give you.”
9 Now when I looked, there was a hand stretched out to me; and behold, a scroll of a book was in it.
10 Then He spread it before me; and there was writing on the inside and on the outside, and written on it were lamentations and mourning and woe.

Ezekiel 3

1 Moreover He said to me, “Son of man, eat what you find;
eat this scroll, and go, speak to the house of Israel.”
2 So I opened my mouth, and He caused me to eat that scroll.
3 And He said to me, “Son of man, feed your belly, and fill your stomach with this scroll that I give you.” So I ate, and it was in my mouth like honey in sweetness.
4 Then He said to me: “Son of man, go to the house of Israel and speak with My words to them.
5 “For you are not sent to a people of unfamiliar speech and of hard language, but to the house of Israel, 6 “not to many people of unfamiliar speech and of hard language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely, had
I sent you to them, they would have listened to you.
7 “But the house of Israel will not listen to you, because they will not listen to Me; for all the house of Israel are impudent and hard-hearted.
8 “Behold, I have made your face strong against their faces, and your forehead strong against their foreheads.
9 “Like adamant stone, harder than flint, I have made your forehead; do not be afraid of them, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house.” 10 Moreover He said to me: “Son of man, receive into your heart all My words that I speak to you, and hear with your ears.
11 “And go, get to the captives, to the children of your people, and speak to them and tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD,’ whether they hear, or whether they refuse.” 12 Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me a great thunderous voice: “Blessed is the glory of the LORD from His place!”

13 I also heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the noise of the wheels beside them, and a great thunderous noise.

14 So the Spirit lifted me up and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit; but the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

15 Then I came to the captives at Tel Abib, who dwelt by the River Chebar; and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

Ezekiel Is a Watchman

16 Now it came to pass at the end of seven days that the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

17 “Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; therefore hear a word from My mouth, and give them warning from Me:

18 “When I say to the wicked, ‘You shall surely die,’ and you give him no warning, nor speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life, that same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood I will require at your hand.

19 “Yet, if you warn the wicked, and he does not turn from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you have delivered your soul.

20 “Again, when a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die; because you did not give him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he has done shall not be remembered; but his blood I will require at your hand.

21 “Nevertheless if you warn the righteous man that the righteous should not sin, and he does not sin, he shall surely live because he took warning; also you will have delivered your soul.”

22Then the hand of the LORD was upon me there, and He said to me, “Arise, go out into the plain, and there I shall talk with you.”

23So I arose and went out into the plain, and behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, like the glory which I saw by the River Chebar; and I fell on my face.

24Then the Spirit entered me and set me on my feet, and spoke with me and said to me: “Go, shut yourself inside your house.

25“And you, O son of man, surely they will put ropes on you and bind you with them, so that you cannot go out among them.

26“I will make your tongue cling to the roof of your mouth, so that you shall be mute and not be one to rebuke them, for they are a rebellious house.

27“But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD.’ He who hears, let him hear; and he who refuses, let him refuse; for they are a rebellious house.

Ezekiel 4

The Siege of Jerusalem Portrayed

1 “You also, son of man, take a clay tablet and lay it before you, and portray on it a city, Jerusalem. Parables Performed 2 “Lay siege against it, build a siege wall against it, and heap up a mound against it; set camps against it also, and place battering rams against it all around.
3 “Moreover take for yourself an iron plate, and set it as an iron wall between you and the city. Set your face against it, and it shall be besieged, and you shall lay siege against
it. This will be a sign to the house of Israel.
4 “Lie also on your left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it. According to the number of the days that you lie on it, you shall bear their iniquity.
5 “For I have laid on you the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days; so you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.
6 “And when you have completed them, lie again on your right side; then you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days. I have laid on you a day for each year.
7 “Therefore you shall set your face toward the siege of Jerusalem; your arm shall be uncovered, and you shall prophesy against it.
8 “And surely I will restrain you so that you cannot turn from one side to another till you have ended the days of your siege.
9 “Also take for yourself wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and spelt; put them into one vessel, and make bread of them for yourself. During the number of days that you lie on your side, three hundred and ninety days, you shall eat it.

10 “And your food which you eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day; from time to time you shall eat it.

11 “You shall also drink water by measure, one-sixth of a hin; from time to time you shall drink.

12 “And you shall eat it as barley cakes; and bake it using fuel of human waste in their sight.”

13 Then the LORD said, “So shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, where I will drive them.”

14 So I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Indeed I have never defiled myself from my youth till now; I have never eaten what died of itself or was torn by beasts, nor has abominable flesh ever come into my mouth.”

15 Then He said to me, “See, I am giving you cow dung instead of human waste, and you shall prepare your bread over it.”

16 Moreover He said to me, “Son of man, surely I will cut off the supply of bread in Jerusalem; they shall eat bread by weight and with anxiety, and shall drink water by measure and with dread, 17 “that they may lack bread and water, and be dismayed with one another, and waste away because of their iniquity.

Ezekiel 5

A Sword Against Jerusalem

1 “And you, son of man, take a sharp sword, take it as a barber’s razor, and pass it over your head and your beard;
then take scales to weigh and divide the hair.
2 “You shall burn with fire one-third in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are finished; then you shall take one-third and strike around it with the sword, and one-third you shall scatter in the wind: I will draw out a sword after them.
3 “You shall also take a small number of them and bind them in the edge of your garment.
4 “Then take some of them again and throw them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire. From there a fire will go out into all the house of Israel.
5 “Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘This is Jerusalem; I have set her in the midst of the nations and the countries all around her.
6 ‘She has rebelled against My judgments by doing wickedness more than the nations, and against My statutes more than the countries that are all around her; for they have refused My judgments, and they have not walked in My statutes.’
7 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you have multiplied disobedience more than the nations that are all around you, have not walked in My statutes nor kept My judgments, nor even done[a] according to the judgments of the nations that are all around you’— 8 “therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Indeed I, even I, am against you and will execute judgments in your midst in the sight of the nations.

9 ‘And I will do among you what I have never done, and the like of which I will never do again, because of all your abominations.
10 ‘Therefore fathers shall eat their sons in your midst, and sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments among you, and all of you who remain I will scatter to all the winds.
11 ‘Therefore, as I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely, because you have defiled My sanctuary with all your detestable things and with all your abominations, therefore I will also diminish you; My eye will not spare, nor will I have any pity.
12 ‘One-third of you shall die of the pestilence, and be consumed with famine in your midst; and one-third shall fall by the sword all around you; and I will scatter another third to all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after
them.
13 ‘Thus shall My anger be spent, and I will cause My fury to rest upon them, and I will be avenged; and they shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken it in My zeal, when I have spent My fury upon them.
14 ‘Moreover I will make you a waste and a reproach among the nations that are all around you, in the sight of all who pass by.
15 ‘So it[b] shall be a reproach, a taunt, a lesson, and an astonishment to the nations that are all around you, when I execute judgments among you in anger and in fury and in furious rebukes. I, the LORD, have spoken.
16 ‘When I send against them the terrible arrows of famine which shall be for destruction, which I will send to destroy you, I will increase the famine upon you and cut off your supply of bread.
17 ‘So I will send against you famine and wild beasts, and they will bereave you. Pestilence and blood shall pass through you, and I will bring the sword against you. I, the LORD, have spoken.’ ”

Ezekiel 6

Judgment on Idolatrous Israel

1 Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

2 “Son of man, set your face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,

3 “and say, ‘O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD! Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains, to the hills, to the ravines, and to the valleys: “Indeed I, even I, will bring a sword against you, and I will destroy your high places.

4 “Then your altars shall be desolate, your incense altars shall be broken, and I will cast down your slain men before your idols.

5 “And I will lay the corpses of the children of Israel before their idols, and I will scatter your bones all around your altars.

6 “In all your dwelling places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate, so that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, your idols may be broken and made to cease, your incense altars may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7 “The slain shall fall in your midst, and you shall know that I am the LORD. You Shall Know That I Am the Lord

8 “Yet I will leave a remnant, so that you may have some who escape the sword among the nations, when you are scattered through the countries.

9 “Then those of you who escape will remember Me among the nations where they are carried captive, because I was crushed by their adulterous heart which has departed from Me, and by their eyes which play the harlot after their idols; they will loathe themselves for the evils which they committed in all their abominations.

10 “And they shall know that I am the LORD; I have not said in vain that I would bring this calamity upon them.”

11 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Pound your fists and stamp your feet, and say, ‘Alas, for all the evil abominations of the house of Israel! For they shall fall by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence.

12 ‘He who is far off shall die by the pestilence, he who is near shall fall by the sword, and he who remains and is besieged shall die by the famine. Thus will I spend My fury upon them.

13 ‘Then you shall know that I am the LORD, when their slain are among their idols all around their altars, on every high hill, on all the mountaintops, under every green tree, and under every thick oak, wherever they offered sweet incense to all their idols.

14 ‘So I will stretch out My hand against them and make the land desolate, yes, more desolate than the wilderness toward Diblah, in all their dwelling places. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.’ ” ’ ”

Ezekiel 7

Judgment on Israel Is Near

1 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 "And you, son of man, thus says the Lord GOD to the land of Israel:

'An end! The end has come upon the four corners of the land.
3 Now the end has come upon you,
And I will send My anger against you;
I will judge you according to your ways,
And I will repay you for all your
abominations.
4 My eye will not spare you,
Nor will I have pity;
But I will repay your ways,
And your abominations will be in your midst;
Then you shall know that I am the LORD!'

5 "Thus says the Lord GOD:

'A disaster, a singular disaster;
Behold, it has come!
6 An end has come,
The end has come;
It has dawned for you;
Behold, it has come!
7 Doom has come to you, you who dwell in the land;
The time has come,
A day of trouble is near,
And not of rejoicing in the mountains.

8 Now upon you I will soon pour out My fury,
And spend My anger upon you;
I will judge you according to your ways,
And I will repay you for all your
abominations.

9 ‘My eye will not spare,
Nor will I have pity;
I will repay you according to your ways,
And your abominations will be in your midst.
Then you shall know that I am the LORD who strikes.

10 ‘Behold, the day!
Behold, it has come!
Doom has gone out;
The rod has blossomed,
Pride has budded.
11 Violence has risen up into a rod of wickedness;
None of them shall remain,
None of their multitude,
None of them;
Nor shall there be wailing for them.
12 The time has come,
The day draws near.

‘Let not the buyer rejoice,
Nor the seller mourn,
For wrath is on their whole multitude.
13 For the seller shall not return to what has been sold,
Though he may still be alive;
For the vision concerns the whole multitude,
And it shall not turn back;

No one will strengthen himself
Who lives in iniquity.

14 ‘They have blown the trumpet and made everyone ready,
But no one goes to battle;
For My wrath is on all their multitude.
15 The sword is outside,
And the pestilence and famine within.
Whoever is in the field
Will die by the sword;
And whoever is in the city,
Famine and pestilence will devour him.

16 ‘Those who survive will escape and be on the mountains
Like doves of the valleys,
All of them mourning,
Each for his iniquity.
17 Every hand will be feeble,
And every knee will be as weak as water.
18 They will also be girded with sackcloth;
Horror will cover them;
Shame will be on every face,
Baldness on all their heads.

19 ‘They will throw their silver into the streets,
And their gold will be like refuse;
Their silver and their gold will not be able to deliver them
In the day of the wrath of the LORD;
They will not satisfy their souls,
Nor fill their stomachs,

Because it became their stumbling block of iniquity.

20 ‘As for the beauty of his ornaments,
He set it in majesty;
But they made from it
The images of their abominations—
Their detestable things;
Therefore I have made it
Like refuse to them.
21 I will give it as plunder
Into the hands of strangers,
And to the wicked of the earth as spoil;
And they shall defile it.
22 I will turn My face from them,
And they will defile My secret place;
For robbers shall enter it and defile it.

23 ‘Make a chain,
For the land is filled with crimes of blood,
And the city is full of violence.
24 Therefore I will bring the worst of the Gentiles,
And they will possess their houses;
I will cause the pomp of the strong to cease,
And their holy places shall be defiled.
25 Destruction comes;
They will seek peace, but there shall be none.
26 Disaster will come upon disaster,
And rumor will be upon rumor.
Then they will seek a vision from a prophet;
But the law will perish from the priest,
And counsel from the elders.

27 “The king will mourn,
The prince will be clothed with desolation,
And the hands of the common people will tremble.
I will do to them according to their way,
And according to what they deserve I will judge them;
Then they shall know that I am the LORD!’ ”

Ezekiel 8

Abominations in the Temple

1 And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house with the elders of Judah sitting before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell upon me there.

2 Then I looked, and there was a likeness, like the appearance of fire—from the appearance of His waist and downward, fire; and from His waist and upward, like the appearance of brightness, like the color of amber.

3 He stretched out the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my hair; and the Spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven, and brought me in visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the north gate of the inner court, where the seat of the image of jealousy was, which provokes to jealousy.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, like the vision that I saw in the plain.

5 Then He said to me, "Son of man, lift your eyes now toward the north." So I lifted my eyes toward the north, and there, north of the altar gate, was this image of jealousy in the entrance.

6 Furthermore He said to me, "Son of man, do you see what they are doing, the great abominations that the house of Israel commits here, to make Me go far away from My sanctuary? Now turn again, you will see greater abominations."

7 So He brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, there was a hole in the wall.

8 Then He said to me, "Son of man, dig into the wall"; and when I dug into the wall, there was a door.

9And He said to me, “Go in, and see the wicked abominations which they are doing there.”

10So I went in and saw, and there—every sort of creeping thing, abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed all around on the walls.

11And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in their midst stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan. Each man had a censer in his hand, and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12Then He said to me, “Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the room of his idols? For they say, ‘The LORD does not see us, the LORD has forsaken the land.’ ”

13And He said to me, “Turn again, and you will see greater abominations that they are doing.”

14So He brought me to the door of the north gate of the LORD’s house; and to my dismay, women were sitting there weeping for Tammuz.

15Then He said to me, “Have you seen this, O son of man? Turn again, you will see greater abominations than these.”

16So He brought me into the inner court of the LORD’s house; and there, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about twenty-five men with their backs toward the temple of the LORD and their faces toward the east, and they were worshiping the sun toward the east.

17And He said to me, “Have you seen this, O son of man? Is it a trivial thing to the house of Judah to commit the abominations which they commit here? For they have filled the land with violence; then they have returned to provoke Me to anger. Indeed they put the branch to their nose.

18“Therefore I also will act in fury. My eye will not spare nor will I have pity; and though they cry in My ears with a loud voice, I will not hear them.”

Ezekiel 9

The Wicked Are Slain

1 Then He called out in my hearing with a loud voice, saying, “Let those who have charge over the city draw near,
each with a deadly weapon in his hand.”

2 And suddenly six men came from the direction of the upper gate, which faces north, each with his battle-ax in his hand. One man among them was clothed with linen and had a writer’s inkhorn at his side. They went in and stood beside the bronze altar.

3 Now the glory of the God of Israel had gone up from the cherub, where it had been, to the threshold of the temple.[a]
And He called to the man clothed with linen, who had the writer’s inkhorn at his side;

4 and the LORD said to him, “Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and put a mark on the foreheads of the men who sigh and cry over all the abominations that are done within it.” A Mark of Mercy

5 To the others He said in my hearing, “Go after him through the city and kill; do not let your eye spare, nor have any pity.

6 “Utterly slay old and young men, maidens and little children and women; but do not come near anyone on whom is the mark; and begin at My sanctuary.” So they began with the elders who were before the temple.

7 Then He said to them, “Defile the temple, and fill the courts with the slain. Go out!” And they went out and killed in the city.

8 So it was, that while they were killing them, I was left alone; and I fell on my face and cried out, and said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Will You destroy all the remnant of Israel in pouring out Your fury on Jerusalem?”

9Then He said to me, “The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great, and the land is full of bloodshed, and the city full of perversity; for they say, ‘The LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD does not see!’

10“And as for Me also, My eye will neither spare, nor will I have pity, but I will recompense their deeds on their own head.”

11Just then, the man clothed with linen, who had the inkhorn at his side, reported back and said, “I have done as You commanded me.”

Ezekiel 10

The Glory Departs from the Temple

1 And I looked, and there in the firmament that was above the head of the cherubim, there appeared something like a sapphire stone, having the appearance of the likeness of a throne.
2 Then He spoke to the man clothed with linen, and said,
"Go in among the wheels, under the cherub, fill your hands with coals of fire from among the cherubim, and scatter them over the city." And he went in as I watched.
3 Now the cherubim were standing on the south side of the temple[a] when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.
4 Then the glory of the LORD went up from the cherub, and paused over the threshold of the temple; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.
5 And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even in the outer court, like the voice of Almighty God when He speaks.
6 Then it happened, when He commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, "Take fire from among the wheels, from among the cherubim," that he went in and stood beside the wheels.
7 And the cherub stretched out his hand from among the cherubim to the fire that was among the cherubim, and took some of it and put it into the hands of the man clothed with linen, who took it and went out.
8 The cherubim appeared to have the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9And when I looked, there were four wheels by the cherubim, one wheel by one cherub and another wheel by each other cherub; the wheels appeared to have the color of a beryl stone.

10*As for* their appearance, all four looked alike—as it were, a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

11When they went, they went toward any of their four directions; they did not turn aside when they went, but followed in the direction the head was facing. They did not turn aside when they went.

12And their whole body, with their back, their hands, their wings, and the wheels that the four had, were full of eyes all around.

13As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing, "Wheel."

14Each one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, the second face the face of a man, the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15And the cherubim were lifted up. This was the living creature I saw by the River Chebar.

16When the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also did not turn from beside them.

17When the cherubim[b] stood still, the wheels stood still, and when one[c] was lifted up, the other[d] lifted itself up, for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

18Then the glory of the LORD departed from the threshold of the temple and stood over the cherubim. Parted from His Presence

19And the cherubim lifted their wings and mounted up from the earth in my sight. When they went out, the wheels were beside them; and they stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD’s house, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

20 This is the living creature I saw under the God of Israel by the River Chebar, and I knew they were cherubim.

21 Each one had four faces and each one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same as the faces which I had seen by the River Chebar, their appearance and their persons. They each went straight forward.

Ezekiel 11

Judgment on Wicked Counselors

1 Then the Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the East Gate of the LORD's house, which faces eastward; and there at the door of the gate were twenty-five men, among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2 And He said to me: "Son of man, these are the men who devise iniquity and give wicked counsel in this city, Stand for Truth

3 "who say, 'The time is not near to build houses; this city is the caldron, and we are the meat.'

4 "Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man!"

5 Then the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said to me, "Speak! 'Thus says the LORD: "Thus you have said, O house of Israel; for I know the things that come into your mind.

6 "You have multiplied your slain in this city, and you have filled its streets with the slain."

7 "Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "Your slain whom you have laid in its midst, they are the meat, and this city is the caldron; but I shall bring you out of the midst of it.

8 "You have feared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you," says the Lord GOD.

9 "And I will bring you out of its midst, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and execute judgments on you.

10 "You shall fall by the sword. I will judge you at the border of Israel. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.

11 "This city shall not be your caldron, nor shall you be the meat in its midst. I will judge you at the border of Israel.

12 “And you shall know that I am the LORD; for you have not walked in My statutes nor executed My judgments, but have done according to the customs of the Gentiles which are all around you.” ’ ”

13 Now it happened, while I was prophesying, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then I fell on my face and cried with a loud voice, and said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Will You make a complete end of the remnant of Israel?”

God Will Restore Israel

14 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

15 “Son of man, your brethren, your relatives, your countrymen, and all the house of Israel in its entirety, are those about whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, ‘Get far away from the LORD; this land has been given to us as a possession.’

16 “Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Although I have cast them far off among the Gentiles, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet I shall be a little sanctuary for them in the countries where they have gone.” ’ A Little Sanctuary

17 “Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “I will gather you from the peoples, assemble you from the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.” ’

18 “And they will go there, and they will take away all its detestable things and all its abominations from there.

19 “Then I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within them,[a] and take the stony heart out of their flesh, and give them a heart of flesh, 20 “that they may walk in My statutes and keep My judgments and do them; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God.

21 “But as for those whose hearts follow the desire for their detestable things and their abominations, I will recompense their deeds on their own heads,” says the Lord
GOD.
22 So the cherubim lifted up their wings, with the wheels beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was high above them.
23 And the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city and stood on the mountain, which is on the east side of the city.
24 Then the Spirit took me up and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea,[b] to those in captivity. And the vision that I had seen went up from me.
25 So I spoke to those in captivity of all the things the LORD had shown me.

Ezekiel 12

Judah's Captivity Portrayed

1 Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

2 "Son of man, you dwell in the midst of a rebellious house, which has eyes to see but does not see, and ears to hear but does not hear; for they are a rebellious house.

3 "Therefore, son of man, prepare your belongings for captivity, and go into captivity by day in their sight. You shall go from your place into captivity to another place in their sight. It may be that they will consider, though they are a rebellious house.

4 "By day you shall bring out your belongings in their sight, as though going into captivity; and at evening you shall go in their sight, like those who go into captivity.

5 "Dig through the wall in their sight, and carry your belongings out through it.

6 "In their sight you shall bear them on your shoulders and carry them out at twilight; you shall cover your face, so that you cannot see the ground, for I have made you a sign to the house of Israel."

7 So I did as I was commanded. I brought out my belongings by day, as though going into captivity, and at evening I dug through the wall with my hand. I brought them out at twilight, and I bore them on my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

9 "Son of man, has not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said to you, 'What are you doing?'

10 "Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "This burden concerns the prince in Jerusalem and all the house of Israel who are among them.” ’

11 “Say, ‘I am a sign to you. As I have done, so shall it be done to them; they shall be carried away into captivity.’

12 “And the prince who is among them shall bear his belongings on his shoulder at twilight and go out. They shall dig through the wall to carry them out through it. He shall cover his face, so that he cannot see the ground with his eyes.

13 “I will also spread My net over him, and he shall be caught in My snare. I will bring him to Babylon, to the land of the Chaldeans; yet he shall not see it, though he shall die there.

14 “I will scatter to every wind all who are around him to help him, and all his troops; and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 “Then they shall know that I am the LORD, when I scatter them among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries.

16 “But I will spare a few of their men from the sword, from famine, and from pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the Gentiles wherever they go. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.”

Judgment Not Postponed

17 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 “Son of man, eat your bread with quaking, and drink your water with trembling and anxiety.

19 “And say to the people of the land, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the land of Israel: “They shall eat their bread with anxiety, and drink their water with dread, so that her land may be emptied of all who are in it, because of the violence of all those who dwell in it.

20 “Then the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall become desolate; and you shall know that I am the LORD.” ’ ”

21 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

22 “Son of man, what is this proverb that you people have about the land of Israel, which says, ‘The days are prolonged, and every vision fails’?

23 “Tell them therefore, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “I will lay this proverb to rest, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel.” But say to them, “The days are at hand, and the fulfillment of every vision.

24 “For no more shall there be any false vision or flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 “For I am the LORD. I speak, and the word which I speak will come to pass; it will no more be postponed; for in your days, O rebellious house, I will say the word and perform it,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

26 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

27 “Son of man, look, the house of Israel is saying, ‘The vision that he sees is for many days from now, and he prophesies of times far off.’

28 “Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “None of My words will be postponed any more, but the word which I speak will be done,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

Ezekiel 13

Woe to Foolish Prophets

1 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who prophesy, and say to those who prophesy out of their own heart, ‘Hear the word of the LORD!’ ”

3 Thus says the Lord GOD: “Woe to the foolish prophets, who follow their own spirit and have seen nothing!

4 “O Israel, your prophets are like foxes in the deserts.

5 “You have not gone up into the gaps to build a wall for the house of Israel to stand in battle on the day of the
LORD.

6 “They have envisioned futility and false divination, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD!’ But the LORD has not sent them; yet they hope that the word may be confirmed.

7 “Have you not seen a futile vision, and have you not spoken false divination? You say, ‘The LORD says,’ but I have not spoken.”

8 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Because you have spoken nonsense and envisioned lies, therefore I am indeed against you,” says the Lord GOD.

9 “My hand will be against the prophets who envision futility and who divine lies; they shall not be in the assembly of My people, nor be written in the record of the house of Israel, nor shall they enter into the land of Israel.
Then you shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

10 “Because, indeed, because they have seduced My people, saying, ‘Peace!’ when there is no peace—and one builds a wall, and they plaster it with untempered mortar—

11 “say to those who plaster it with untempered mortar, that it will fall. There will be flooding rain, and you, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall tear it down.

12 “Surely, when the wall has fallen, will it not be said to you, ‘Where is the mortar with which you plastered it?’ ”
13 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “I will cause a stormy wind to break forth in My fury; and there shall be a flooding rain in My anger, and great hailstones in fury to consume it.
14 “So I will break down the wall you have plastered with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundation will be uncovered; it will fall, and you shall be consumed in the midst of it. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.
15 “Thus will I accomplish My wrath on the wall and on those who have plastered it with untempered mortar; and I will say to you, ‘The wall is no more, nor those who plastered it, 16 ‘that is, the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who see visions of peace for her when there is no peace,’ ” says the Lord GOD.
17 “Likewise, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people, who prophesy out of their own heart; prophesy against them,
18 “and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Woe to the women who sew magic charms on their sleeves[a] and make veils for the heads of people of every height to hunt souls! Will you hunt the souls of My people, and keep yourselves alive?
19 “And will you profane Me among My people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, killing people who should not die, and keeping people alive who should not live, by your lying to My people who listen to lies?”
20 ‘Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, I am against your magic charms by which you hunt souls there like birds. I will tear them from your arms, and let the souls go, the souls you hunt like birds.

21 “I will also tear off your veils and deliver My people out of your hand, and they shall no longer be as prey in your hand. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.
22 “Because with lies you have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and you have strengthened the hands of the wicked, so that he does not turn from his wicked way to save his life.
23 “Therefore you shall no longer envision futility nor practice divination; for I will deliver My people out of your hand, and you shall know that I am the LORD.” ’ ”

Ezekiel 14

Idolatry Will Be Punished

1 Now some of the elders of Israel came to me and sat before me. A Gift of the Exile
2 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
3 "Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their hearts, and put before them that which causes them to stumble into iniquity. Should I let Myself be inquired of at all by them?
4 "Therefore speak to them, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Everyone of the house of Israel who sets up his idols in his heart, and puts before him what causes him to stumble into iniquity, and then comes to the prophet, I the LORD will answer him who comes, according to the multitude of his idols, Idolatry of the Heart 5 "that I may seize the house of Israel by their heart, because they are all estranged from Me by their idols." '
6 "Therefore say to the house of Israel, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Repent, turn away from your idols, and turn your faces away from all your abominations.
7 "For anyone of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who dwell in Israel, who separates himself from Me and sets up his idols in his heart and puts before him what causes him to stumble into iniquity, then comes to a prophet to inquire of him concerning Me, I the LORD will answer him by Myself.
8 "I will set My face against that man and make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of My people. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.
9 "And if the prophet is induced to speak anything, I the LORD have induced that prophet, and I will stretch out My hand against him and destroy him from among My people Israel.

10 “And they shall bear their iniquity; the punishment of the prophet shall be the same as the punishment of the one who inquired,

11 “that the house of Israel may no longer stray from Me, nor be profaned anymore with all their transgressions, but that they may be My people and I may be their God,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

Judgment on Persistent Unfaithfulness

12 The word of the LORD came again to me, saying:

13 “Son of man, when a land sins against Me by persistent unfaithfulness, I will stretch out My hand against it; I will cut off its supply of bread, send famine on it, and cut off man and beast from it.

14 “Even if these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they would deliver only themselves by their righteousness,” says the Lord GOD. Salvation by Proxy

15 “If I cause wild beasts to pass through the land, and they empty it, and make it so desolate that no man may pass through because of the beasts,

16 “even though these three men were in it, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they would deliver neither sons nor daughters; only they would be delivered, and the land would be desolate.

17 “Or if I bring a sword on that land, and say, ‘Sword, go through the land,’ and I cut off man and beast from it,

18 “even though these three men were in it, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they would deliver neither sons nor daughters, but only they themselves would be delivered.

19 “Or if I send a pestilence into that land and pour out My fury on it in blood, and cut off from it man and beast,

20 “even though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they would deliver neither son nor daughter; they would deliver only themselves by their righteousness.”
21 For thus says the Lord GOD: “How much more it shall be when I send My four severe judgments on Jerusalem—the sword and famine and wild beasts and pestilence—to cut off man and beast from it?
22 “Yet behold, there shall be left in it a remnant who will be brought out, both sons and daughters; surely they will come out to you, and you will see their ways and their doings. Then you will be comforted concerning the disaster that I have brought upon Jerusalem, all that I have brought upon it.
23 “And they will comfort you, when you see their ways and their doings; and you shall know that I have done nothing without cause that I have done in it,” says the Lord
GOD.

Ezekiel 15

The Outcast Vine

1 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying: The Parables of Ezekiel

2 “Son of man, how is the wood of the vine better than any other wood, the vine branch which is among the trees of the forest?
3 “Is wood taken from it to make any object? Or can men make a peg from it to hang any vessel on?
4 “Instead, it is thrown into the fire for fuel; the fire devours both ends of it, and its middle is burned. Is it useful for any work?
5 “Indeed, when it was whole, no object could be made from it. How much less will it be useful for any work when the fire has devoured it, and it is burned?
6 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Like the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so I will give up the inhabitants of Jerusalem;
7 ‘and I will set My face against them. They will go out from one fire, but another fire shall devour them. Then you shall know that I am the LORD, when I set My face against
them.
8 ‘Thus I will make the land desolate, because they have persisted in unfaithfulness,’ says the Lord GOD.”

Ezekiel 16

God's Love for Jerusalem

1 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 "Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

3 "and say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD to Jerusalem: "Your birth and your nativity are from the land of Canaan; your father was an Amorite and your mother a Hittite. Skeletons in the Closet

4 "As for your nativity, on the day you were born your navel cord was not cut, nor were you washed in water to cleanse you; you were not rubbed with salt nor wrapped in swaddling cloths.

5 "No eye pitied you, to do any of these things for you, to have compassion on you; but you were thrown out into the open field, when you yourself were loathed on the day you were born.

6 "And when I passed by you and saw you struggling in your own blood, I said to you in your blood, 'Live!' Yes, I said to you in your blood, 'Live!'

7 "I made you thrive like a plant in the field; and you grew, matured, and became very beautiful. Your breasts were formed, your hair grew, but you were naked and bare.

8 "When I passed by you again and looked upon you, indeed your time was the time of love; so I spread My wing over you and covered your nakedness. Yes, I swore an oath to you and entered into a covenant with you, and you became Mine," says the Lord GOD.

9 "Then I washed you in water; yes, I thoroughly washed off your blood, and I anointed you with oil.

10 “I clothed you in embroidered cloth and gave you sandals of badger skin; I clothed you with fine linen and covered you with silk.
11 “I adorned you with ornaments, put bracelets on your wrists, and a chain on your neck.
12 “And I put a jewel in your nose, earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown on your head.
13 “Thus you were adorned with gold and silver, and your clothing was of fine linen, silk, and embroidered cloth. You ate pastry of fine flour, honey, and oil. You were exceedingly beautiful, and succeeded to royalty.
14 “Your fame went out among the nations because of your beauty, for it was perfect through My splendor which I had bestowed on you,” says the Lord GOD.

Jerusalem’s Harlotry

15 “But you trusted in your own beauty, played the harlot because of your fame, and poured out your harlotry on everyone passing by who would have it.
16 “You took some of your garments and adorned multicolored high places for yourself, and played the harlot on them. Such things should not happen, nor be.
17 “You have also taken your beautiful jewelry from My gold and My silver, which I had given you, and made for yourself male images and played the harlot with them.
18 “You took your embroidered garments and covered them, and you set My oil and My incense before them.
19 “Also My food which I gave you—the pastry of fine flour, oil, and honey which I fed you—you set it before them as sweet incense; and so it was,” says the Lord GOD.
20 “Moreover you took your sons and your daughters, whom you bore to Me, and these you sacrificed to them to be devoured. Were your acts of harlotry a small matter,

21 “that you have slain My children and offered them up to them by causing them to pass through the fire?
22 “And in all your abominations and acts of harlotry you did not remember the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, struggling in your blood.
23 “Then it was so, after all your wickedness—‘Woe, woe to you!’ says the Lord GOD—24 “that you also built for yourself a shrine, and made a high place for yourself in every street.
25 “You built your high places at the head of every road, and made your beauty to be abhorred. You offered yourself to everyone who passed by, and multiplied your acts of harlotry.
26 “You also committed harlotry with the Egyptians, your very fleshly neighbors, and increased your acts of harlotry to provoke Me to anger.
27 “Behold, therefore, I stretched out My hand against you, diminished your allotment, and gave you up to the will of those who hate you, the daughters of the Philistines, who were ashamed of your lewd behavior.
28 “You also played the harlot with the Assyrians, because you were insatiable; indeed you played the harlot with them and still were not satisfied.
29 “Moreover you multiplied your acts of harlotry as far as the land of the trader, Chaldea; and even then you were not satisfied.
30 “How degenerate is your heart!” says the Lord GOD, “seeing you do all these things, the deeds of a brazen harlot.

Jerusalem’s Adultery

31 “You erected your shrine at the head of every road, and built your high place in every street. Yet you were not like a harlot, because you scorned payment.

32“You are an adulterous wife, who takes strangers instead of her husband.
33“Men make payment to all harlots, but you made your payments to all your lovers, and hired them to come to you from all around for your harlotry.
34“You are the opposite of other women in your harlotry, because no one solicited you to be a harlot. In that you gave payment but no payment was given you, therefore you are the opposite.”

Jerusalem’s Lovers Will Abuse Her

35‘Now then, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD!
36‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because your filthiness was poured out and your nakedness uncovered in your harlotry with your lovers, and with all your abominable idols, and because of the blood of your children which you gave to
them,
37“surely, therefore, I will gather all your lovers with whom you took pleasure, all those you loved, and all those you hated; I will gather them from all around against you and will uncover your nakedness to them, that they may see all your nakedness.
38“And I will judge you as women who break wedlock or shed blood are judged; I will bring blood upon you in fury and jealousy.
39“I will also give you into their hand, and they shall throw down your shrines and break down your high places.
They shall also strip you of your clothes, take your beautiful jewelry, and leave you naked and bare.
40“They shall also bring up an assembly against you, and they shall stone you with stones and thrust you through with their swords.
41“They shall burn your houses with fire, and execute judgments on you in the sight of many women; and I will make you cease playing the harlot, and you shall no longer hire lovers.

42 “So I will lay to rest My fury toward you, and My jealousy shall depart from you. I will be quiet, and be angry no more.

43 “Because you did not remember the days of your youth, but agitated Me[a] with all these things, surely I will also recompense your deeds on your own head,” says the Lord GOD. “And you shall not commit lewdness in addition to all your abominations.

More Wicked than Samaria and Sodom

44 “Indeed everyone who quotes proverbs will use this proverb against you: ‘Like mother, like daughter!’ Three Sinful Sisters

45 “You are your mother’s daughter, loathing husband and children; and you are the sister of your sisters, who loathed their husbands and children; your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amorite.

46 “Your elder sister is Samaria, who dwells with her daughters to the north of you; and your younger sister, who dwells to the south of you, is Sodom and her daughters.

47 “You did not walk in their ways nor act according to their abominations; but, as if that were too little, you became more corrupt than they in all your ways.

48 “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “neither your sister Sodom nor her daughters have done as you and your daughters have done.

49 “Look, this was the iniquity of your sister Sodom: She and her daughter had pride, fullness of food, and abundance of idleness; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 “And they were haughty and committed abomination before Me; therefore I took them away as I saw fit.[b]

51 “Samaria did not commit half of your sins; but you have multiplied your abominations more than they, and have justified your sisters by all the abominations which you have done.
52 “You who judged your sisters, bear your own shame also, because the sins which you committed were more abominable than theirs; they are more righteous than you.
Yes, be disgraced also, and bear your own shame, because you justified your sisters.
53 “When I bring back their captives, the captives of Sodom and her daughters, and the captives of Samaria and her daughters, then I will also bring back the captives of your captivity among them, 54 “that you may bear your own shame and be disgraced by all that you did when you comforted them.
55 “When your sisters, Sodom and her daughters, return to their former state, and Samaria and her daughters return to their former state, then you and your daughters will return to your former state.
56 “For your sister Sodom was not a byword in your mouth in the days of your pride, 57 “before your wickedness was uncovered. It was like the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria[c] and all those around her, and of the daughters of the Philistines, who despise you everywhere.
58 “You have paid for your lewdness and your abominations,” says the LORD.
59 ‘For thus says the Lord GOD: “I will deal with you as you have done, who despised the oath by breaking the covenant.

An Everlasting Covenant

60 “Nevertheless I will remember My covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish an everlasting covenant with you.

61 “Then you will remember your ways and be ashamed, when you receive your older and your younger sisters; for I will give them to you for daughters, but not because of My covenant with you.

62 “And I will establish My covenant with you. Then you shall know that I am the LORD, 63 “that you may remember and be ashamed, and never open your mouth anymore because of your shame, when I provide you an atonement for all you have done,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

Ezekiel 17

The Eagles and the Vine

1 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 “Son of man, pose a riddle, and speak a parable to the house of Israel,
3 “and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“A great eagle with large wings and long pinions,
Full of feathers of various colors,
Came to Lebanon
And took from the cedar the highest branch.
4 He cropped off its topmost young twig
And carried it to a land of trade;
He set it in a city of merchants.
5 Then he took some of the seed of the land
And planted it in a fertile field;
He placed it by abundant waters
And set it like a willow tree.
6 And it grew and became a spreading vine of low stature;
Its branches turned toward him,
But its roots were under it.
So it became a vine,
Brought forth branches,
And put forth shoots.

7 “But there was another[a] great eagle with large wings and many feathers;
And behold, this vine bent its roots toward him,
And stretched its branches toward him,

From the garden terrace where it had been planted,
That he might water it.
8It was planted in good soil by many waters,
To bring forth branches, bear fruit,
And become a majestic vine.” ’

9“Say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Will it thrive?
Will he not pull up its roots,
Cut off its fruit,
And leave it to wither?
All of its spring leaves will wither,
And no great power or many people
Will be needed to pluck it up by its roots.
10Behold, it is planted,

Will it thrive?
Will it not utterly wither when the east wind touches it?
It will wither in the garden terrace where it grew.” ’ ”

11Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

12“Say now to the rebellious house: ‘Do you not know what these things mean?’ Tell them, ‘Indeed the king of Babylon went to Jerusalem and took its king and princes, and led them with him to Babylon.

13‘And he took the king’s offspring, made a covenant with him, and put him under oath. He also took away the mighty of the land,

14‘that the kingdom might be brought low and not lift itself up, but that by keeping his covenant it might stand.

15‘But he rebelled against him by sending his ambassadors to Egypt, that they might give him horses and many people. Will he prosper? Will he who does such things escape? Can he break a covenant and still be delivered?

16‘As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely in the place where the king dwells who made him king, whose oath he despised and whose covenant he broke—with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17‘Nor will Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company do anything in the war, when they heap up a siege mound and build a wall to cut off many persons.

18‘Since he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, and in fact gave his hand and still did all these things, he shall not escape.’ ”

19Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “As I live, surely My oath which he despised, and My covenant which he broke, I will recompense on his own head.

20“I will spread My net over him, and he shall be taken in My snare. I will bring him to Babylon and try him there for the treason which he committed against Me.

21“All his fugitives[b] with all his troops shall fall by the sword, and those who remain shall be scattered to every wind; and you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken.”

Israel Exalted at Last

22Thus says the Lord GOD: “I will take also one of the highest branches of the high cedar and set it out. I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one, and will plant it on a high and prominent mountain.

23“On the mountain height of Israel I will plant it; and it will bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a majestic cedar. Under it will dwell birds of every sort; in the shadow of its branches they will dwell.

24 “And all the trees of the field shall know that I, the LORD, have brought down the high tree and exalted the low tree, dried up the green tree and made the dry tree flourish; I, the LORD, have spoken and have done it.”

Ezekiel 18

A False Proverb Refuted

1 The word of the LORD came to me again, saying,
2 "What do you mean when you use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying:

> 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
> And the children's teeth are set on edge'?

Blaming Parents

3 "As I live," says the Lord GOD, "you shall no longer use this proverb in Israel.

> 4 "Behold, all souls are Mine;
> The soul of the father
> As well as the soul of the son is Mine;
> The soul who sins shall die.
> 5 But if a man is just
> And does what is lawful and right;
> 6 If he has not eaten on the mountains, > Nor lifted up his eyes to the idols of the > house of Israel,
> Nor defiled his neighbor's wife,
> Nor approached a woman during her > impurity;
> 7 If he has not oppressed anyone,
> But has restored to the debtor his pledge;
> Has robbed no one by violence,
> But has given his bread to the hungry
> And covered the naked with clothing;
> 8 If he has not exacted usury
> Nor taken any increase,

But has withdrawn his hand from iniquity
And executed true judgment between man and man;
9 If he has walked in My statutes
And kept My judgments faithfully—
He is just;
He shall surely live!”
Says the Lord GOD.

10 “If he begets a son who is a robber
Or a shedder of blood,
Who does any of these things
11 And does none of those duties,
But has eaten on the mountains
Or defiled his neighbor’s wife;
12 If he has oppressed the poor and needy,
Robbed by violence,
Not restored the pledge,
Lifted his eyes to the idols,
Or committed abomination;
13 If he has exacted usury
Or taken increase—
Shall he then live?
He shall not live!
If he has done any of these abominations,
He shall surely die;
His blood shall be upon him.

14 “If, however, he begets a son
Who sees all the sins which his father has done,
And considers but does not do likewise;
15 Who has not eaten on the mountains,
Nor lifted his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel,

Nor defiled his neighbor's wife;
16 Has not oppressed anyone,
Nor withheld a pledge,
Nor robbed by violence,
But has given his bread to the hungry
And covered the naked with clothing;
17 Who has withdrawn his hand from the poor[a]
And not received usury or increase,
But has executed My judgments
And walked in My statutes—
He shall not die for the iniquity of his father;
He shall surely live!

18 "As for his father,
Because he cruelly oppressed,
Robbed his brother by violence,
And did what is not good among his people,
Behold, he shall die for his iniquity.

Turn and Live

19 "Yet you say, 'Why should the son not bear the guilt of the father?' Because the son has done what is lawful and right, and has kept all My statutes and observed them, he shall surely live.

20 "The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not bear the guilt of the father, nor the father bear the guilt of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself.

21 "But if a wicked man turns from all his sins which he has committed, keeps all My statutes, and does what is lawful and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die.

22 "None of the transgressions which he has committed shall be remembered against him; because of the righteousness which he has done, he shall live.

23 “Do I have any pleasure at all that the wicked should die?” says the Lord GOD, “and not that he should turn from his ways and live?

24 “But when a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and commits iniquity, and does according to all the abominations that the wicked man does, shall he live? All the righteousness which he has done shall not be remembered; because of the unfaithfulness of which he is guilty and the sin which he has committed, because of them he shall die.

25 “Yet you say, ‘The way of the Lord is not fair.’ Hear now, O house of Israel, is it not My way which is fair, and your ways which are not fair? Life Is Not Fair

26 “When a righteous man turns away from his righteousness, commits iniquity, and dies in it, it is because of the iniquity which he has done that he dies.

27 “Again, when a wicked man turns away from the wickedness which he committed, and does what is lawful and right, he preserves himself alive.

28 “Because he considers and turns away from all the transgressions which he committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die.

29 “Yet the house of Israel says, ‘The way of the Lord is not fair.’ O house of Israel, is it not My ways which are fair, and your ways which are not fair?

30 “Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways,” says the Lord GOD. “Repent, and turn from all your transgressions, so that iniquity will not be your ruin.

31 “Cast away from you all the transgressions which you have committed, and get yourselves a new heart and a new spirit. For why should you die, O house of Israel?

32 “For I have no pleasure in the death of one who dies,” says the Lord GOD. “Therefore turn and live!”

Ezekiel 19

Israel Degraded

1 “Moreover take up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,
2 “and say:

‘What is your mother? A lioness:
She lay down among the lions;
Among the young lions she nourished her cubs.
3 She brought up one of her cubs,
And he became a young lion;
He learned to catch prey,
And he devoured men.
4 The nations also heard of him;
He was trapped in their pit,
And they brought him with chains to the land of Egypt.

5 ‘When she saw that she waited, that her hope was lost,
She took another of her cubs and made him a young lion.
6 He roved among the lions,
And became a young lion;
He learned to catch prey;
He devoured men.
7 He knew their desolate places,[a]
And laid waste their cities;
The land with its fullness was desolated
By the noise of his roaring.
8 Then the nations set against him from the provinces on every side,

And spread their net over him;
He was trapped in their pit.
9They put him in a cage with chains,
And brought him to the king of Babylon;
They brought him in nets,
That his voice should no longer be heard on the mountains of Israel.

10‘Your mother was like a vine in your bloodline,[b]
Planted by the waters,
Fruitful and full of branches
Because of many waters.
11She had strong branches for scepters of rulers.
She towered in stature above the thick branches,
And was seen in her height amid the dense foliage.
12But she was plucked up in fury,
She was cast down to the ground,
And the east wind dried her fruit.
Her strong branches were broken and withered;
The fire consumed them.
13And now she is planted in the wilderness,
In a dry and thirsty land.
14Fire has come out from a rod of her branches
And devoured her fruit,
So that she has no strong branch—a scepter for ruling.’ ”

This is a lamentation, and has become a lamentation.

Ezekiel 20

The Rebellions of Israel

1It came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and sat before me.

2Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

3"Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Have you come to inquire of Me? As I live," says the Lord GOD, "I will not be inquired of by you." '

4"Will you judge them, son of man, will you judge them? Then make known to them the abominations of their fathers.

5"Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "On the day when I chose Israel and raised My hand in an oath to the descendants of the house of Jacob, and made Myself known to them in the land of Egypt, I raised My hand in an oath to them, saying, 'I am the LORD your God.'

6"On that day I raised My hand in an oath to them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had searched out for them, 'flowing with milk and honey,'[a] the glory of all lands.

7"Then I said to them, 'Each of you, throw away the abominations which are before his eyes, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.'

8"But they rebelled against Me and would not obey Me. They did not all cast away the abominations which were before their eyes, nor did they forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I said, 'I will pour out My fury on them and fulfill My anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.'

9 “But I acted for My name’s sake, that it should not be profaned before the Gentiles among whom they were, in whose sight I had made Myself known to them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt. Our Conduct Puts God’s Reputation at Stake

10 “Therefore I made them go out of the land of Egypt and brought them into the wilderness.

11 “And I gave them My statutes and showed them My judgments, ‘which, if a man does, he shall live by them.’[b]

12 “Moreover I also gave them My Sabbaths, to be a sign between them and Me, that they might know that I am the LORD who sanctifies them.

13 “Yet the house of Israel rebelled against Me in the wilderness; they did not walk in My statutes; they despised My judgments, ‘which, if a man does, he shall live by them’;[c] and they greatly defiled My Sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out My fury on them in the wilderness, to consume them.

14 “But I acted for My name’s sake, that it should not be profaned before the Gentiles, in whose sight I had brought them out.

15 “So I also raised My hand in an oath to them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, ‘flowing with milk and honey,’[d] the glory of all lands,

16 “because they despised My judgments and did not walk in My statutes, but profaned My Sabbaths; for their heart went after their idols.

17 “Nevertheless My eye spared them from destruction. I did not make an end of them in the wilderness.

18 “But I said to their children in the wilderness, ‘Do not walk in the statutes of your fathers, nor observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

19 ‘I am the LORD your God: Walk in My statutes, keep My judgments, and do them;

20 ‘hallow My Sabbaths, and they will be a sign between Me and you, that you may know that I am the LORD your
God.’
21 “Notwithstanding, the children rebelled against Me;
they did not walk in My statutes, and were not careful to observe My judgments, ‘which, if a man does, he shall live by them’;[e] but they profaned My Sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out My fury on them and fulfill My anger against them in the wilderness.
22 “Nevertheless I withdrew My hand and acted for My name’s sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the Gentiles, in whose sight I had brought them out.
23 “Also I raised My hand in an oath to those in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the Gentiles and disperse them throughout the countries, 24 “because they had not executed My judgments, but had despised My statutes, profaned My Sabbaths, and their eyes were fixed on their fathers’ idols.
25 “Therefore I also gave them up to statutes that were not good, and judgments by which they could not live; 26 “and I pronounced them unclean because of their ritual gifts, in that they caused all their firstborn to pass through the fire, that I might make them desolate and that they might know that I am the LORD.” ’ 27 “Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel, and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “In this too your fathers have blasphemed Me, by being unfaithful to Me.
28 “When I brought them into the land concerning which I had raised My hand in an oath to give them, and they saw all the high hills and all the thick trees, there they offered their sacrifices and provoked Me with their offerings. There they also sent up their sweet aroma and poured out their drink offerings.

29 “Then I said to them, ‘What is this high place to which you go?’ So its name is called Bamah[f] to this day.” ’ 30 “Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Are you defiling yourselves in the manner of your fathers, and committing harlotry according to their abominations?
31 “For when you offer your gifts and make your sons pass through the fire, you defile yourselves with all your idols, even to this day. So shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will not be inquired of by you.
32 “What you have in your mind shall never be, when you say, ‘We will be like the Gentiles, like the families in other countries, serving wood and stone.’

God Will Restore Israel

33 “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “surely with a mighty hand, with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out, I will rule over you.
34 “I will bring you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries where you are scattered, with a mighty hand, with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out.
35 “And I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there I will plead My case with you face to face.
36 “Just as I pleaded My case with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so I will plead My case with you,” says the Lord GOD.
37 “I will make you pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant; 38 “I will purge the rebels from among you, and those who transgress against Me; I will bring them out of the country where they dwell, but they shall not enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

39 “As for you, O house of Israel,” thus says the Lord GOD:
“Go, serve every one of you his idols—and hereafter—if you will not obey Me; but profane My holy name no more with your gifts and your idols.
40 “For on My holy mountain, on the mountain height of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “there all the house of Israel, all of them in the land, shall serve Me; there I will accept them, and there I will require your offerings and the firstfruits of your sacrifices, together with all your holy things.
41 “I will accept you as a sweet aroma when I bring you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries where you have been scattered; and I will be hallowed in you before the Gentiles.
42 “Then you shall know that I am the LORD, when I bring you into the land of Israel, into the country for which I raised My hand in an oath to give to your fathers.
43 “And there you shall remember your ways and all your doings with which you were defiled; and you shall loathe yourselves in your own sight because of all the evils that you have committed.
44 “Then you shall know that I am the LORD, when I have dealt with you for My name’s sake, not according to your wicked ways nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

Fire in the Forest

45 Furthermore the word of the LORD came to me,
saying,
46 “Son of man, set your face toward the south; preach against the south and prophesy against the forest land, the South,[g]
47 “and say to the forest of the South, ‘Hear the word of the LORD! Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, I will kindle a fire in you, and it shall devour every green tree and every dry tree in you; the blazing flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be scorched by it.

48 “All flesh shall see that I, the LORD, have kindled it; it shall not be quenched.” ’ ”

49 Then I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! They say of me, ‘Does he not speak parables?’ ”

Ezekiel 21

Babylon, the Sword of God

1 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, set your face toward Jerusalem, preach against the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel;

3 “and say to the land of Israel, ‘Thus says the LORD:
“Behold, I am against you, and I will draw My sword out of its sheath and cut off both righteous and wicked from you.

4 “Because I will cut off both righteous and wicked from you, therefore My sword shall go out of its sheath against all flesh from south to north,

5 “that all flesh may know that I, the LORD, have drawn
My sword out of its sheath; it shall not return anymore.” ’

6 “Sigh therefore, son of man, with a breaking heart, and sigh with bitterness before their eyes.

7 “And it shall be when they say to you, ‘Why are you sighing?’ that you shall answer, ‘Because of the news; when it comes, every heart will melt, all hands will be feeble, every spirit will faint, and all knees will be weak as water.
Behold, it is coming and shall be brought to pass,’ says the Lord GOD.”

8 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

9 “Son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the LORD!’
Say:

> ‘A sword, a sword is sharpened
> And also polished!
> 10 Sharpened to make a dreadful slaughter,
> Polished to flash like lightning!
> Should we then make mirth?

It despises the scepter of My son,
As it does all wood.
11 And He has given it to be polished,
That it may be handled;
This sword is sharpened, and it is polished
To be given into the hand of the slayer.'

12 "Cry and wail, son of man;
For it will be against My people,
Against all the princes of Israel.
Terrors including the sword will be against
My people;
Therefore strike your thigh.

13 "Because it is a testing,
And what if the sword despises even the scepter?
The scepter shall be no more,"

says the Lord GOD.

14 "You therefore, son of man, prophesy,
And strike your hands together.
The third time let the sword do double damage.
It is the sword that slays,
The sword that slays the great men,
That enters their private chambers.
15 I have set the point of the sword against all their gates,
That the heart may melt and many may stumble.
Ah! It is made bright;
It is grasped for slaughter:

16 "Swords at the ready!

Thrust right!
Set your blade!
Thrust left—
Wherever your edge is ordered!

17 “I also will beat My fists together,
And I will cause My fury to rest;
I, the LORD, have spoken.”

18 The word of the LORD came to me again, saying:
19 “And son of man, appoint for yourself two ways for the sword of the king of Babylon to go; both of them shall go from the same land. Make a sign; put it at the head of the road to the city.
20 “Appoint a road for the sword to go to Rabbah of the Ammonites, and to Judah, into fortified Jerusalem.
21 “For the king of Babylon stands at the parting of the road, at the fork of the two roads, to use divination: he shakes the arrows, he consults the images, he looks at the liver.
22 “In his right hand is the divination for Jerusalem: to set up battering rams, to call for a slaughter, to lift the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to heap up a siege mound, and to build a wall.
23 “And it will be to them like a false divination in the eyes of those who have sworn oaths with them; but he will bring their iniquity to remembrance, that they may be taken.
24 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are uncovered, so that in all your doings your sins appear—because you have come to remembrance, you shall be taken in hand.
25 ‘Now to you, O profane, wicked prince of Israel, whose day has come, whose iniquity shall end,
26 ‘thus says the Lord GOD:

“Remove the turban, and take off the crown;
Nothing shall remain the same.
Exalt the humble, and humble the exalted.
27Overthrown, overthrown,
I will make it overthrown!
It shall be no longer,
Until He comes whose right it is,
And I will give it to Him.” ’

A Sword Against the Ammonites

28“And you, son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD concerning the Ammonites and concerning their reproach,’ and say:

‘A sword, a sword is drawn,
Polished for slaughter,
For consuming, for flashing—
29While they see false visions for you,
While they divine a lie to you,
To bring you on the necks of the wicked, the slain
Whose day has come,
Whose iniquity shall end.

30‘Return it to its sheath.
I will judge you
In the place where you were created,
In the land of your nativity.
31I will pour out My indignation on you;
I will blow against you with the fire of My wrath,
And deliver you into the hands of brutal men who are skillful to destroy.
32You shall be fuel for the fire;
Your blood shall be in the midst of the land.

You shall not be remembered,
For I the LORD have spoken.’ ”

Ezekiel 22

Sins of Jerusalem

1 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 “Now, son of man, will you judge, will you judge the bloody city? Yes, show her all her abominations!
3 “Then say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “The city sheds blood in her own midst, that her time may come; and she makes idols within herself to defile herself.
4 “You have become guilty by the blood which you have shed, and have defiled yourself with the idols which you have made. You have caused your days to draw near, and have come to the end of your years; therefore I have made you a reproach to the nations, and a mockery to all countries.
5 “Those near and those far from you will mock you as infamous and full of tumult.
6 “Look, the princes of Israel: each one has used his power to shed blood in you.
7 “In you they have made light of father and mother; in your midst they have oppressed the stranger; in you they have mistreated the fatherless and the widow.
8 “You have despised My holy things and profaned My Sabbaths.
9 “In you are men who slander to cause bloodshed; in you are those who eat on the mountains; in your midst they commit lewdness.
10 “In you men uncover their fathers’ nakedness; in you they violate women who are set apart during their impurity.
11 “One commits abomination with his neighbor’s wife; another lewdly defiles his daughter-in-law; and another in you violates his sister, his father’s daughter.

12 “In you they take bribes to shed blood; you take usury and increase; you have made profit from your neighbors by extortion, and have forgotten Me,” says the Lord GOD.
13 “Behold, therefore, I beat My fists at the dishonest profit which you have made, and at the bloodshed which has been in your midst.
14 “Can your heart endure, or can your hands remain strong, in the days when I shall deal with you? I, the LORD, have spoken, and will do it.
15 “I will scatter you among the nations, disperse you throughout the countries, and remove your filthiness completely from you. Faith in Context 16 “You shall defile yourself in the sight of the nations;
then you shall know that I am the LORD.” ’ ”

Israel in the Furnace

17 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, 18 “Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to Me; they are all bronze, tin, iron, and lead, in the midst of a furnace; they have become dross from silver.
19 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you have all become dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.
20 ‘As men gather silver, bronze, iron, lead, and tin into the midst of a furnace, to blow fire on it, to melt it; so I will gather you in My anger and in My fury, and I will leave you there and melt you.
21 ‘Yes, I will gather you and blow on you with the fire of My wrath, and you shall be melted in its midst.
22 ‘As silver is melted in the midst of a furnace, so shall you be melted in its midst; then you shall know that I, the LORD, have poured out My fury on you.’ ”

Israel’s Wicked Leaders

23And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

24"Son of man, say to her: 'You are a land that is not cleansed[a] or rained on in the day of indignation.'

25"The conspiracy of her prophets[b] in her midst is like a roaring lion tearing the prey; they have devoured people; they have taken treasure and precious things; they have made many widows in her midst.

26"Her priests have violated My law and profaned My holy things; they have not distinguished between the holy and unholy, nor have they made known the difference between the unclean and the clean; and they have hidden their eyes from My Sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them.

27"Her princes in her midst are like wolves tearing the prey, to shed blood, to destroy people, and to get dishonest gain.

28"Her prophets plastered them with untempered mortar, seeing false visions, and divining lies for them, saying, 'Thus says the Lord GOD,' when the LORD had not spoken.

29"The people of the land have used oppressions, committed robbery, and mistreated the poor and needy; and they wrongfully oppress the stranger.

30"So I sought for a man among them who would make a wall, and stand in the gap before Me on behalf of the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found no one. The Go-Between 31"Therefore I have poured out My indignation on them; I have consumed them with the fire of My wrath; and I have recompensed their deeds on their own heads," says the Lord GOD.

Ezekiel 23

Two Harlot Sisters

1 The word of the LORD came again to me, saying:

2 "Son of man, there were two women,
The daughters of one mother.
3 They committed harlotry in Egypt,
They committed harlotry in their youth;
Their breasts were there embraced,
Their virgin bosom was there pressed.
4 Their names: Oholah[a] the elder and Oholibah[b] her sister;
They were Mine,
And they bore sons and daughters.
As for their names,
Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem is Oholibah.

The Older Sister, Samaria

5 "Oholah played the harlot even though she was Mine;
And she lusted for her lovers, the neighboring Assyrians, 6 Who were clothed in purple,
Captains and rulers,
All of them desirable young men,
Horsemen riding on horses.
7 Thus she committed her harlotry with them,
All of them choice men of Assyria;
And with all for whom she lusted,
With all their idols, she defiled herself.

8 She has never given up her harlotry brought from Egypt,
For in her youth they had lain with her,
Pressed her virgin bosom,
And poured out their immorality upon her.

9 "Therefore I have delivered her
Into the hand of her lovers,
Into the hand of the Assyrians,
For whom she lusted.
10 They uncovered her nakedness,
Took away her sons and daughters,
And slew her with the sword;
She became a byword among women,
For they had executed judgment on her.

The Younger Sister, Jerusalem

11 "Now although her sister Oholibah saw this, she became more corrupt in her lust than she, and in her harlotry more corrupt than her sister's harlotry.

12 "She lusted for the neighboring Assyrians,
Captains and rulers,
Clothed most gorgeously,
Horsemen riding on horses,
All of them desirable young men.
13 Then I saw that she was defiled;
Both took the same way.
14 But she increased her harlotry;
She looked at men portrayed on the wall,
Images of Chaldeans portrayed in vermilion,
15 Girded with belts around their waists,
Flowing turbans on their heads,
All of them looking like captains,

In the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea,
The land of their nativity.
16As soon as her eyes saw them,
She lusted for them
And sent messengers to them in Chaldea.

17"Then the Babylonians came to her, into the bed of love,
And they defiled her with their immorality;
So she was defiled by them, and alienated herself from them.
18She revealed her harlotry and uncovered her nakedness.
Then I alienated Myself from her,
As I had alienated Myself from her sister.

19"Yet she multiplied her harlotry
In calling to remembrance the days of her youth,
When she had played the harlot in the land
of Egypt.
20For she lusted for her paramours,
Whose flesh is like the flesh of donkeys,
And whose issue is like the issue of horses.
21Thus you called to remembrance the lewdness of your youth,
When the Egyptians pressed your bosom
Because of your youthful breasts.

Judgment on Jerusalem

22"Therefore, Oholibah, thus says the Lord GOD:

'Behold, I will stir up your lovers against
you,

From whom you have alienated yourself,
And I will bring them against you from every side:
23The Babylonians,
All the Chaldeans,
Pekod, Shoa, Koa,
All the Assyrians with them,
All of them desirable young men,
Governors and rulers,
Captains and men of renown,
All of them riding on horses.
24And they shall come against you
With chariots, wagons, and war-horses,
With a horde of people.
They shall array against you
Buckler, shield, and helmet all around.

'I will delegate judgment to them,
And they shall judge you according to their judgments.
25I will set My jealousy against you,
And they shall deal furiously with you;
They shall remove your nose and your ears,
And your remnant shall fall by the sword;
They shall take your sons and your daughters,
And your remnant shall be devoured by fire.
26They shall also strip you of your clothes
And take away your beautiful jewelry.

27'Thus I will make you cease your lewdness and your harlotry
Brought from the land of Egypt,
So that you will not lift your eyes to them,
Nor remember Egypt anymore.'

28 “For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Surely I will deliver you into the hand of those you hate, into the hand of those from whom you alienated yourself.
29 ‘They will deal hatefully with you, take away all you have worked for, and leave you naked and bare. The nakedness of your harlotry shall be uncovered, both your lewdness and your harlotry.
30 ‘I will do these things to you because you have gone as a harlot after the Gentiles, because you have become defiled by their idols.
31 ‘You have walked in the way of your sister; therefore I will put her cup in your hand.’
32 “Thus says the Lord GOD:

‘You shall drink of your sister’s cup,
The deep and wide one;
You shall be laughed to scorn
And held in derision;
It contains much.
33 You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow,
The cup of horror and desolation,
The cup of your sister Samaria.
34 You shall drink and drain it,
You shall break its shards,
And tear at your own breasts;
For I have spoken,’
Says the Lord GOD.

35 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

‘Because you have forgotten Me and cast Me behind your back,
Therefore you shall bear the penalty
Of your lewdness and your harlotry.’ ”

Both Sisters Judged

36 The LORD also said to me: “Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then declare to them their abominations.
37 “For they have committed adultery, and blood is on their hands. They have committed adultery with their idols, and even sacrificed their sons whom they bore to Me,
passing them through the fire, to devour them.
38 “Moreover they have done this to Me: They have defiled My sanctuary on the same day and profaned My Sabbaths.
39 “For after they had slain their children for their idols, on the same day they came into My sanctuary to profane it;
and indeed thus they have done in the midst of My house.
40 “Furthermore you sent for men to come from afar, to whom a messenger was sent; and there they came. And you washed yourself for them, painted your eyes, and adorned yourself with ornaments.
41 “You sat on a stately couch, with a table prepared before it, on which you had set My incense and My oil.
42 “The sound of a carefree multitude was with her, and Sabeans were brought from the wilderness with men of the common sort, who put bracelets on their wrists and beautiful crowns on their heads.
43 “Then I said concerning her who had grown old in adulteries, ‘Will they commit harlotry with her now, and she
with them?’
44 “Yet they went in to her, as men go in to a woman who plays the harlot; thus they went in to Oholah and Oholibah, the lewd women.
45 “But righteous men will judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women who shed blood, because they are adulteresses, and blood is on their hands.

46“For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Bring up an assembly against them, give them up to trouble and plunder.
47‘The assembly shall stone them with stones and execute them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn their houses with fire.
48‘Thus I will cause lewdness to cease from the land, that all women may be taught not to practice your lewdness.
49‘They shall repay you for your lewdness, and you shall pay for your idolatrous sins. Then you shall know that I am
the Lord GOD.’ ”

Ezekiel 24

Symbol of the Cooking Pot

1 Again, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me,
saying,
2 "Son of man, write down the name of the day, this very day—the king of Babylon started his siege against Jerusalem this very day.
3 "And utter a parable to the rebellious house, and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD:

"Put on a pot, set it on,
And also pour water into it. The Boiling City
4 Gather pieces of meat in it,
Every good piece,
The thigh and the shoulder.
Fill it with choice cuts;
5 Take the choice of the flock.
Also pile fuel bones under it,
Make it boil well,
And let the cuts simmer in it."

6 'Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

"Woe to the bloody city,
To the pot whose scum is in it,
And whose scum is not gone from it!
Bring it out piece by piece,
On which no lot has fallen.
7 For her blood is in her midst;
She set it on top of a rock;
She did not pour it on the ground,

To cover it with dust.
8That it may raise up fury and take vengeance,
I have set her blood on top of a rock,
That it may not be covered.”

9“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

“Woe to the bloody city!
I too will make the pyre great.
10Heap on the wood,
Kindle the fire;
Cook the meat well,
Mix in the spices,
And let the cuts be burned up.

11“Then set the pot empty on the coals,
That it may become hot and its bronze may burn,
That its filthiness may be melted in it,
That its scum may be consumed.
12She has grown weary with lies,
And her great scum has not gone from her.
Let her scum be in the fire!
13In your filthiness is lewdness.
Because I have cleansed you, and you were not cleansed,
You will not be cleansed of your filthiness anymore,
Till I have caused My fury to rest upon you.
14I, the LORD, have spoken it;
It shall come to pass, and I will do it;
I will not hold back,
Nor will I spare,
Nor will I relent;

According to your ways
And according to your deeds
They[a] will judge you,”
Says the Lord GOD.’ ”

The Prophet’s Wife Dies

15Also the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
16“Son of man, behold, I take away from you the desire of your eyes with one stroke; yet you shall neither mourn nor weep, nor shall your tears run down.
17“Sigh in silence, make no mourning for the dead; bind your turban on your head, and put your sandals on your feet; do not cover your lips, and do not eat man’s bread of sorrow.”
18So I spoke to the people in the morning, and at evening my wife died; and the next morning I did as I was commanded.
19And the people said to me, “Will you not tell us what these things signify to us, that you behave so?”
20Then I answered them, “The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
21‘Speak to the house of Israel, “Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Behold, I will profane My sanctuary, your arrogant boast, the desire of your eyes, the delight of your soul; and your sons and daughters whom you left behind shall fall by the sword.
22‘And you shall do as I have done; you shall not cover your lips nor eat man’s bread of sorrow.
23‘Your turbans shall be on your heads and your sandals on your feet; you shall neither mourn nor weep, but you shall pine away in your iniquities and mourn with one another.
24‘Thus Ezekiel is a sign to you; according to all that he has done you shall do; and when this comes, you shall know that I am the Lord GOD.’ ”

25 ‘And you, son of man—will it not be in the day when I take from them their stronghold, their joy and their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that on which they set their minds, their sons and their daughters:

26 ‘on that day one who escapes will come to you to let you hear it with your ears;

27 ‘on that day your mouth will be opened to him who has escaped; you shall speak and no longer be mute. Thus you will be a sign to them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.’ ”

Ezekiel 25

Proclamation Against Ammon

1 The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 “Son of man, set your face against the Ammonites, and prophesy against them.
3 “Say to the Ammonites, ‘Hear the word of the Lord GOD! Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because you said, ‘Aha!’ against My sanctuary when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel when it was desolate, and against the house of Judah when they went into captivity,
4 “indeed, therefore, I will deliver you as a possession to the men of the East, and they shall set their encampments among you and make their dwellings among you; they shall eat your fruit, and they shall drink your milk.
5 “And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels and Ammon a resting place for flocks. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.”
6 ‘For thus says the Lord GOD: “Because you clapped your hands, stamped your feet, and rejoiced in heart with all your disdain for the land of Israel,
7 “indeed, therefore, I will stretch out My hand against you, and give you as plunder to the nations; I will cut you off from the peoples, and I will cause you to perish from the countries; I will destroy you, and you shall know that I am the LORD.”

Proclamation Against Moab

8 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because Moab and Seir say, ‘Look! The house of Judah is like all the nations,’ 9 “therefore, behold, I will clear the territory of Moab of cities, of the cities on its frontier, the glory of the country,

Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kirjathaim.

10 “To the men of the East I will give it as a possession, together with the Ammonites, that the Ammonites may not be remembered among the nations.

11 “And I will execute judgments upon Moab, and they shall know that I am the LORD.”

Proclamation Against Edom

12 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because of what Edom did against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and has greatly offended by avenging itself on them,”

13 ‘therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “I will also stretch out My hand against Edom, cut off man and beast from it, and make it desolate from Teman; Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 “I will lay My vengeance on Edom by the hand of My people Israel, that they may do in Edom according to My anger and according to My fury; and they shall know My vengeance,” says the Lord GOD.

Proclamation Against Philistia

15 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because the Philistines dealt vengefully and took vengeance with a spiteful heart, to destroy because of the old hatred,”

16 ‘therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “I will stretch out My hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites and destroy the remnant of the seacoast.

17 “I will execute great vengeance on them with furious rebukes; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I lay My vengeance upon them.” ’ ”

Ezekiel 26

Proclamation Against Tyre

1 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 2 "Son of man, because Tyre has said against Jerusalem,
'Aha! She is broken who was the gateway of the peoples;
now she is turned over to me; I shall be filled; she is laid waste.'
3 "Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Behold, I am against you, O Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against you, as the sea causes its waves to come up.
4 'And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre and break down her towers; I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.
5 'It shall be a place for spreading nets in the midst of the sea, for I have spoken,' says the Lord GOD; 'it shall become plunder for the nations.
6 'Also her daughter villages which are in the fields shall be slain by the sword. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.'
7 "For thus says the Lord GOD: 'Behold, I will bring against Tyre from the north Nebuchadnezzar[a] king of Babylon, king of kings, with horses, with chariots, and with horsemen, and an army with many people.
8 'He will slay with the sword your daughter villages in the fields; he will heap up a siege mound against you, build a wall against you, and raise a defense against you.
9 'He will direct his battering rams against your walls, and with his axes he will break down your towers.
10 'Because of the abundance of his horses, their dust will cover you; your walls will shake at the noise of the horsemen, the wagons, and the chariots, when he enters your gates, as men enter a city that has been breached.

11 ‘With the hooves of his horses he will trample all your streets; he will slay your people by the sword, and your strong pillars will fall to the ground.

12 ‘They will plunder your riches and pillage your merchandise; they will break down your walls and destroy your pleasant houses; they will lay your stones, your timber, and your soil in the midst of the water.

13 ‘I will put an end to the sound of your songs, and the sound of your harps shall be heard no more.

14 ‘I will make you like the top of a rock; you shall be a place for spreading nets, and you shall never be rebuilt, for I the LORD have spoken,’ says the Lord GOD.

15 “Thus says the Lord GOD to Tyre: ‘Will the coastlands not shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded cry, when slaughter is made in the midst of you?

16 ‘Then all the princes of the sea will come down from their thrones, lay aside their robes, and take off their embroidered garments; they will clothe themselves with trembling; they will sit on the ground, tremble every moment, and be astonished at you.

17 ‘And they will take up a lamentation for you, and say to you:

> “How you have perished,
> O one inhabited by seafaring men,
> O renowned city,
> Who was strong at sea,
> She and her inhabitants,
> Who caused their terror to be on all her inhabitants!
> 18 Now the coastlands tremble on the day of your fall;

Yes, the coastlands by the sea are troubled at your departure.” ’

19 “For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘When I make you a desolate city, like cities that are not inhabited, when I bring the deep upon you, and great waters cover you, 20 ‘then I will bring you down with those who descend into the Pit, to the people of old, and I will make you dwell in the lowest part of the earth, in places desolate from antiquity, with those who go down to the Pit, so that you may never be inhabited; and I shall establish glory in the land of the living.
21 ‘I will make you a terror, and you shall be no more;
though you are sought for, you will never be found again,’
says the Lord GOD.”

Ezekiel 27

Lamentation for Tyre

1 The word of the LORD came again to me, saying,
2 “Now, son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyre,
3 “and say to Tyre, ‘You who are situated at the entrance of the sea, merchant of the peoples on many coastlands, thus says the Lord GOD:

“O Tyre, you have said,
‘I am perfect in beauty.’
4 Your borders are in the midst of the seas.
Your builders have perfected your beauty.
5 They made all your planks of fir trees from Senir;
They took a cedar from Lebanon to make you a mast.
6 Of oaks from Bashan they made your oars;
The company of Ashurites have inlaid your planks
With ivory from the coasts of Cyprus.[a] 7 Fine embroidered linen from Egypt was what you spread for your sail;
Blue and purple from the coasts of Elishah was what covered you.

8 “Inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were your oarsmen;
Your wise men, O Tyre, were in you;
They became your pilots.
9 Elders of Gebal and its wise men
Were in you to caulk your seams;
All the ships of the sea

And their oarsmen were in you
To market your merchandise.

10"Those from Persia, Lydia,[b] and Libya[c]
Were in your army as men of war;
They hung shield and helmet in you;
They gave splendor to you.
11 Men of Arvad with your army were on your walls all around,
And the men of Gammad were in your towers;
They hung their shields on your walls all around;
They made your beauty perfect.

12"Tarshish was your merchant because of your many luxury goods. They gave you silver, iron, tin, and lead for your goods.
13 "Javan, Tubal, and Meshech were your traders. They bartered human lives and vessels of bronze for your merchandise.
14 "Those from the house of Togarmah traded for your wares with horses, steeds, and mules.
15 "The men of Dedan were your traders; many isles were the market of your hand. They brought you ivory tusks and ebony as payment.
16 "Syria was your merchant because of the abundance of goods you made. They gave you for your wares emeralds, purple, embroidery, fine linen, corals, and rubies.
17 "Judah and the land of Israel were your traders. They traded for your merchandise wheat of Minnith, millet, honey, oil, and balm.
18 "Damascus was your merchant because of the abundance of goods you made, because of your many luxury items, with the wine of Helbon and with white wool.

19 “Dan and Javan paid for your wares, traversing back and forth. Wrought iron, cassia, and cane were among your merchandise.
20 “Dedan was your merchant in saddlecloths for riding.
21 “Arabia and all the princes of Kedar were your regular merchants. They traded with you in lambs, rams, and goats.
22 “The merchants of Sheba and Raamah were your merchants. They traded for your wares the choicest spices, all kinds of precious stones, and gold.
23 “Haran, Canneh, Eden, the merchants of Sheba,
Assyria, and Chilmad were your merchants.
24 “These were your merchants in choice items—in purple clothes, in embroidered garments, in chests of multicolored apparel, in sturdy woven cords, which were in your marketplace.

25 “The ships of Tarshish were carriers of your merchandise.
You were filled and very glorious in the midst of the seas.
26 Your oarsmen brought you into many waters,
But the east wind broke you in the midst of the seas.

27 “Your riches, wares, and merchandise,
Your mariners and pilots,
Your caulkers and merchandisers,
All your men of war who are in you,
And the entire company which is in your
midst,
Will fall into the midst of the seas on the day
of your ruin.
28 The common-land will shake at the sound of the cry of your pilots.

29 “All who handle the oar,
The mariners,
All the pilots of the sea
Will come down from their ships and stand on the shore.
30 They will make their voice heard because of you;
They will cry bitterly and cast dust on their heads;
They will roll about in ashes;
31 They will shave themselves completely bald because of you,
Gird themselves with sackcloth,
And weep for you
With bitterness of heart and bitter wailing.
32 In their wailing for you
They will take up a lamentation,
And lament for you:
‘What city is like Tyre,
Destroyed in the midst of the sea?

33 ‘When your wares went out by sea,
You satisfied many people;
You enriched the kings of the earth
With your many luxury goods and your merchandise.
34 But you are broken by the seas in the depths of the waters;
Your merchandise and the entire company will fall in your midst.
35 All the inhabitants of the isles will be astonished at you;
Their kings will be greatly afraid,
And their countenance will be troubled.

[36]The merchants among the peoples will hiss at you;
You will become a horror, and be no more forever.’ ” ’ ”

Ezekiel 28

Proclamation Against the King of Tyre

1 The word of the LORD came to me again, saying,
2 "Son of man, say to the prince of Tyre, 'Thus says the Lord GOD:

"Because your heart is lifted up,
And you say, 'I am a god,
I sit in the seat of gods,
In the midst of the seas,'
Yet you are a man, and not a god,
Though you set your heart as the heart of a god
3 (Behold, you are wiser than Daniel!
There is no secret that can be hidden from you!
4 With your wisdom and your understanding
You have gained riches for yourself,
And gathered gold and silver into your treasuries;
5 By your great wisdom in trade you have increased your riches,
And your heart is lifted up because of your riches),"

6 'Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

"Because you have set your heart as the heart of a god,
7 Behold, therefore, I will bring strangers against you,
The most terrible of the nations;

And they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom,
And defile your splendor.
8They shall throw you down into the Pit,
And you shall die the death of the slain
In the midst of the seas.

9“Will you still say before him who slays you,
‘I am a god’?
But you shall be a man, and not a god,
In the hand of him who slays you.
10You shall die the death of the uncircumcised
By the hand of aliens;
For I have spoken,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

Lamentation for the King of Tyre

11Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
12“Son of man, take up a lamentation for the king of Tyre, and say to him, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“You were the seal of perfection,
Full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.
13You were in Eden, the garden of God;
Every precious stone was your covering:
The sardius, topaz, and diamond,
Beryl, onyx, and jasper,
Sapphire, turquoise, and emerald with gold.
The workmanship of your timbrels and pipes Was prepared for you on the day you were created.

14“You were the anointed cherub who covers;
I established you;

You were on the holy mountain of God;
You walked back and forth in the midst of fiery stones.
15You were perfect in your ways from the day you were created,
Till iniquity was found in you.

16"By the abundance of your trading
You became filled with violence within,
And you sinned;
Therefore I cast you as a profane thing
Out of the mountain of God;
And I destroyed you, O covering cherub,
From the midst of the fiery stones.

17"Your heart was lifted up because of your beauty;
You corrupted your wisdom for the sake of your splendor;
I cast you to the ground,
I laid you before kings,
That they might gaze at you.

18"You defiled your sanctuaries
By the multitude of your iniquities,
By the iniquity of your trading;
Therefore I brought fire from your midst;
It devoured you,
And I turned you to ashes upon the earth
In the sight of all who saw you.
19All who knew you among the peoples are astonished at you;
You have become a horror,
And shall be no more forever." ' "

Proclamation Against Sidon

20 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
21 "Son of man, set your face toward Sidon, and prophesy against her,
22 "and say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD:

"Behold, I am against you, O Sidon;
I will be glorified in your midst;
And they shall know that I am the LORD,
When I execute judgments in her and am hallowed in her.
23 For I will send pestilence upon her,
And blood in her streets;
The wounded shall be judged in her midst
By the sword against her on every side;
Then they shall know that I am the LORD.

24 "And there shall no longer be a pricking brier or a painful thorn for the house of Israel from among all who are around them, who despise them. Then they shall know that I am the Lord GOD."

Israel's Future Blessing

25 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "When I have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and am hallowed in them in the sight of the Gentiles, then they will dwell in their own land which I gave to My servant Jacob.
26 "And they will dwell safely there, build houses, and plant vineyards; yes, they will dwell securely, when I execute judgments on all those around them who despise them. Then they shall know that I am the LORD their God." ' "

Ezekiel 29

Proclamation Against Egypt

1 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 2 "Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt.
3 "Speak, and say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD:

"Behold, I am against you,
O Pharaoh king of Egypt,
O great monster who lies in the midst of his rivers,
Who has said, 'My River[a] is my own;
I have made it for myself.'
4 But I will put hooks in your jaws, And cause the fish of your rivers to stick to your scales;
I will bring you up out of the midst of your rivers,
And all the fish in your rivers will stick to
your scales.
5 I will leave you in the wilderness,
You and all the fish of your rivers;
You shall fall on the open field;
You shall not be picked up or gathered.[b]
I have given you as food
To the beasts of the field
And to the birds of the heavens.

6 "Then all the inhabitants of Egypt
Shall know that I am the LORD,

Because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel.
7 When they took hold of you with the hand,
You broke and tore all their shoulders;[c]
When they leaned on you,
You broke and made all their backs quiver.”

8 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Surely I will bring a sword upon you and cut off from you man and beast.
9 “And the land of Egypt shall become desolate and waste;
then they will know that I am the LORD, because he said,
‘The River is mine, and I have made it.’
10 “Indeed, therefore, I am against you and against your rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate, from Migdol[d] to Syene, as far as the border of Ethiopia.
11 “Neither foot of man shall pass through it nor foot of beast pass through it, and it shall be uninhabited forty years.
12 “I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate; and among the cities that are laid waste, her cities shall be desolate forty years; and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries.”
13 Yet, thus says the Lord GOD: “At the end of forty years
I will gather the Egyptians from the peoples among whom they were scattered.
14 “I will bring back the captives of Egypt and cause them to return to the land of Pathros, to the land of their origin, and there they shall be a lowly kingdom.
15 “It shall be the lowliest of kingdoms; it shall never again exalt itself above the nations, for I will diminish them so that they will not rule over the nations anymore.

16“No longer shall it be the confidence of the house of Israel, but will remind them of their iniquity when they turned to follow them. Then they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.” ’ ”

Babylonia Will Plunder Egypt

17And it came to pass in the twenty-seventh year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18“Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon caused his army to labor strenuously against Tyre; every head was made bald, and every shoulder rubbed raw; yet neither he nor his army received wages from Tyre, for the labor which they expended on it.

19“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Surely I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; he shall take away her wealth, carry off her spoil, and remove her pillage; and that will be the wages for his army.

20‘I have given him the land of Egypt for his labor, because they worked for Me,’ says the Lord GOD.

21‘In that day I will cause the horn of the house of Israel to spring forth, and I will open your mouth to speak in their midst. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.’ ”

Ezekiel 30

Egypt and Her Allies Will Fall

1 The word of the LORD came to me again, saying,
2 “Son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Wail, ‘Woe to the day!’
3 For the day is near,
Even the day of the LORD is near;
It will be a day of clouds, the time of the Gentiles.
4 The sword shall come upon Egypt,
And great anguish shall be in Ethiopia,
When the slain fall in Egypt,
And they take away her wealth,
And her foundations are broken down.

5 “Ethiopia, Libya,[a] Lydia,[b] all the mingled people, Chub, and the men of the lands who are allied, shall fall with them by the sword.”
6 ‘Thus says the LORD:

“Those who uphold Egypt shall fall,
And the pride of her power shall come down.
From Migdol to Syene
Those within her shall fall by the sword,”
Says the Lord GOD.

7 “They shall be desolate in the midst of the desolate countries,
And her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are laid waste.

8 Then they will know that I am the LORD,
When I have set a fire in Egypt
And all her helpers are destroyed.
9 On that day messengers shall go forth from Me in ships
To make the careless Ethiopians afraid,
And great anguish shall come upon them,
As on the day of Egypt;
For indeed it is coming!”

10 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“I will also make a multitude of Egypt to cease
By the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.
11 He and his people with him, the most terrible of the nations,
Shall be brought to destroy the land;
They shall draw their swords against Egypt,
And fill the land with the slain.
12 I will make the rivers dry,
And sell the land into the hand of the wicked;
I will make the land waste, and all that is in
it,
By the hand of aliens.
I, the LORD, have spoken.”

13 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

“I will also destroy the idols,
And cause the images to cease from Noph;[c]
There shall no longer be princes from the land of Egypt;

I will put fear in the land of Egypt.
14 I will make Pathros desolate,
Set fire to Zoan,
And execute judgments in No.[d] 15 I will pour My fury on Sin,[e] the strength of Egypt;
I will cut off the multitude of No,
16 And set a fire in Egypt;
Sin shall have great pain,
No shall be split open,
And Noph shall be in distress daily.
17 The young men of Aven[f] and Pi Beseth shall fall by the sword,
And these cities shall go into captivity.
18 At Tehaphnehes[g] the day shall also be darkened,[h]
When I break the yokes of Egypt there.
And her arrogant strength shall cease in her;
As for her, a cloud shall cover her,
And her daughters shall go into captivity.
19 Thus I will execute judgments on Egypt,
Then they shall know that I am the
LORD.” ’ ”

Proclamation Against Pharaoh

20 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, on the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

21 “Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and see, it has not been bandaged for healing, nor a splint put on to bind it, to make it strong enough to hold a sword.

22 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Surely I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, both the strong one and the one that was broken; and I will make the sword fall out of his hand.

23 ‘I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them throughout the countries.

24 ‘I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon and put My sword in his hand; but I will break Pharaoh’s arms, and he will groan before him with the groanings of a mortally wounded man.

25 ‘Thus I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; they shall know that I am the LORD, when I put My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon and he stretches it out against the land of Egypt.

26 ‘I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.’ ”

Ezekiel 31

Egypt Cut Down Like a Great Tree

1 Now it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his multitude:

‘Whom are you like in your greatness?
3 Indeed Assyria was a cedar in Lebanon,
With fine branches that shaded the forest,
And of high stature;
And its top was among the thick boughs.
4 The waters made it grow;
Underground waters gave it height,
With their rivers running around the place where it was planted,
And sent out rivulets to all the trees of the field.

5 ‘Therefore its height was exalted above all the trees of the field;
Its boughs were multiplied,
And its branches became long because of the abundance of water,
As it sent them out.
6 All the birds of the heavens made their nests in its boughs;
Under its branches all the beasts of the field brought forth their young;
And in its shadow all great nations made their home.

7 ‘Thus it was beautiful in greatness and in the length of its branches, Because its roots reached to abundant
waters.
8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide it;
The fir trees were not like its boughs,
And the chestnut[a] trees were not like its branches;
No tree in the garden of God was like it in beauty.
9 I made it beautiful with a multitude of branches,
So that all the trees of Eden envied it,
That were in the garden of God.’

10 “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you have increased in height, and it set its top among the thick boughs, and its heart was lifted up in its height, 11 ‘therefore I will deliver it into the hand of the mighty one of the nations, and he shall surely deal with it; I have driven it out for its wickedness.
12 ‘And aliens, the most terrible of the nations, have cut it down and left it; its branches have fallen on the mountains and in all the valleys; its boughs lie broken by all the rivers of the land; and all the peoples of the earth have gone from under its shadow and left it.

13 ‘On its ruin will remain all the birds of the heavens,
And all the beasts of the field will come to its branches—

14 ‘So that no trees by the waters may ever again exalt themselves for their height, nor set their tops among the thick boughs, that no tree which drinks water may ever be high enough to reach up to them.

> ‘For they have all been delivered to death,
> To the depths of the earth, > Among the children of men who go down to > the Pit.’

15 “Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘In the day when it went down to hell, I caused mourning. I covered the deep because of it. I restrained its rivers, and the great waters were held back. I caused Lebanon to mourn for it, and all the trees of the field wilted because of it.

16 ‘I made the nations shake at the sound of its fall, when I cast it down to hell together with those who descend into the Pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the depths of the earth.

17 ‘They also went down to hell with it, with those slain by the sword; and those who were its strong arm dwelt in its shadows among the nations.

18 ‘To which of the trees in Eden will you then be likened in glory and greatness? Yet you shall be brought down with the trees of Eden to the depths of the earth; you shall lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with those slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude,’ says the Lord GOD.”

Ezekiel 32

Lamentation for Pharaoh and Egypt

1 And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 "Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say to him:

> 'You are like a young lion among the nations,
> And you are like a monster in the seas,
> Bursting forth in your rivers,
> Troubling the waters with your feet,
> And fouling their rivers.'

3 "Thus says the Lord GOD:

> 'I will therefore spread My net over you with > a company of many people,
> And they will draw you up in My net.
> 4 Then I will leave you on the land;
> I will cast you out on the open fields,
> And cause to settle on you all the birds of > the heavens.
> And with you I will fill the beasts of the > whole earth.
> 5 I will lay your flesh on the mountains,
> And fill the valleys with your carcass.
>
> 6 'I will also water the land with the flow of > your blood,
> Even to the mountains;
> And the riverbeds will be full of you.

7 When I put out your light,
I will cover the heavens, and make its stars dark;
I will cover the sun with a cloud,
And the moon shall not give her light.
8 All the bright lights of the heavens I will make dark over you,
And bring darkness upon your land,'
Says the Lord GOD.

9 'I will also trouble the hearts of many peoples, when I bring your destruction among the nations, into the countries which you have not known.
10 'Yes, I will make many peoples astonished at you, and their kings shall be horribly afraid of you when I brandish My sword before them; and they shall tremble every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of your fall.'
11 "For thus says the Lord GOD: 'The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon you.
12 'By the swords of the mighty warriors, all of them the most terrible of the nations, I will cause your multitude to fall.

'They shall plunder the pomp of Egypt,
And all its multitude shall be destroyed.
13 Also I will destroy all its animals
From beside its great waters;
The foot of man shall muddy them no more,
Nor shall the hooves of animals muddy them.
14 Then I will make their waters clear,
And make their rivers run like oil,'
Says the Lord GOD.

15 'When I make the land of Egypt desolate,

And the country is destitute of all that once filled it,
When I strike all who dwell in it,
Then they shall know that I am the LORD.

16‘This is the lamentation
With which they shall lament her;
The daughters of the nations shall lament
her;
They shall lament for her, for Egypt,
And for all her multitude,’
Says the Lord GOD.”

Egypt and Others Consigned to the Pit

17It came to pass also in the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

18“Son of man, wail over the multitude of Egypt,
And cast them down to the depths of the
earth,
Her and the daughters of the famous
nations,
With those who go down to the Pit:
19‘Whom do you surpass in beauty?
Go down, be placed with the uncircumcised.’

20“They shall fall in the midst of those slain
by the sword;
She is delivered to the sword,
Drawing her and all her multitudes.
21The strong among the mighty Shall speak to him out of the midst of hell
With those who help him:

‘They have gone down,
They lie with the uncircumcised, slain by the sword.’

22“Assyria is there, and all her company,
With their graves all around her,
All of them slain, fallen by the sword.
23Her graves are set in the recesses of the Pit,
And her company is all around her grave,
All of them slain, fallen by the sword,
Who caused terror in the land of the living.

24“There is Elam and all her multitude,
All around her grave,
All of them slain, fallen by the sword,
Who have gone down uncircumcised to the lower parts of the earth,
Who caused their terror in the land of the living;
Now they bear their shame with those who go down to the Pit.
25They have set her bed in the midst of the slain,
With all her multitude,
With her graves all around it,
All of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword;
Though their terror was caused
In the land of the living,
Yet they bear their shame
With those who go down to the Pit;
It was put in the midst of the slain.

26“There are Meshech and Tubal and all their multitudes,
With all their graves around it,
All of them uncircumcised, slain by the
sword,
Though they caused their terror in the land of the living.
27They do not lie with the mighty
Who are fallen of the uncircumcised, Who have gone down to hell with their weapons of war;
They have laid their swords under their heads,
But their iniquities will be on their bones, Because of the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.
28Yes, you shall be broken in the midst of the
uncircumcised,
And lie with those slain by the sword.

29“There is Edom,
Her kings and all her princes,
Who despite their might
Are laid beside those slain by the sword;
They shall lie with the uncircumcised,
And with those who go down to the Pit.
30There are the princes of the north,
All of them, and all the Sidonians,
Who have gone down with the slain
In shame at the terror which they caused by their might;
They lie uncircumcised with those slain by
the sword,
And bear their shame with those who go down to the Pit.

31“Pharaoh will see them
And be comforted over all his multitude, Pharaoh and all his army,
Slain by the sword,”
Says the Lord GOD.

32“For I have caused My terror in the land of the living;
And he shall be placed in the midst of the uncircumcised
With those slain by the sword,
Pharaoh and all his multitude,”
Says the Lord GOD.

Ezekiel 33

The Watchman and His Message

1 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, speak to the children of your people, and say to them: ‘When I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from their territory and make him their watchman,

3 ‘when he sees the sword coming upon the land, if he blows the trumpet and warns the people,

4 ‘then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet and does not take warning, if the sword comes and takes him away, his blood shall be on his own head.

5 ‘He heard the sound of the trumpet, but did not take warning; his blood shall be upon himself. But he who takes warning will save his life.

6 ‘But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet, and the people are not warned, and the sword comes and takes any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood I will require at the watchman’s hand.’

7 “So you, son of man: I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; therefore you shall hear a word from My mouth and warn them for Me.

8 “When I say to the wicked, ‘O wicked man, you shall surely die!’ and you do not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood I will require at your hand.

9 “Nevertheless if you warn the wicked to turn from his way, and he does not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you have delivered your soul.

10 “Therefore you, O son of man, say to the house of Israel: ‘Thus you say, “If our transgressions and our sins lie upon us, and we pine away in them, how can we then live?” ’
11 “Say to them: ‘As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live. Turn, turn from your evil ways!
For why should you die, O house of Israel?’

The Fairness of God’s Judgment

12 “Therefore you, O son of man, say to the children of your people: ‘The righteousness of the righteous man shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall because of it in the day that he turns from his wickedness; nor shall the righteous be able to live because of his righteousness in the day that he sins.’
13 “When I say to the righteous that he shall surely live, but he trusts in his own righteousness and commits iniquity, none of his righteous works shall be remembered; but because of the iniquity that he has committed, he shall die.
14 “Again, when I say to the wicked, ‘You shall surely die,’ if he turns from his sin and does what is lawful and right, 15 “if the wicked restores the pledge, gives back what he has stolen, and walks in the statutes of life without committing iniquity, he shall surely live; he shall not die.
16 “None of his sins which he has committed shall be remembered against him; he has done what is lawful and right; he shall surely live.
17 “Yet the children of your people say, ‘The way of the LORD is not fair.’ But it is their way which is not fair!
18 “When the righteous turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, he shall die because of it.

19 “But when the wicked turns from his wickedness and does what is lawful and right, he shall live because of it.
20 “Yet you say, ‘The way of the LORD is not fair.’ O house of Israel, I will judge every one of you according to his own ways.”

The Fall of Jerusalem

21 And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, on the fifth day of the month, that one who had escaped from Jerusalem came to me and said,
“The city has been captured!”
22 Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me the evening before the man came who had escaped. And He had opened my mouth; so when he came to me in the morning, my mouth was opened, and I was no longer mute.

The Cause of Judah’s Ruin

23 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying:
24 “Son of man, they who inhabit those ruins in the land of Israel are saying, ‘Abraham was only one, and he inherited the land. But we are many; the land has been given to us as a possession.’
25 “Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “You eat meat with blood, you lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood. Should you then possess the land?
26 “You rely on your sword, you commit abominations, and you defile one another’s wives. Should you then possess the land?” ’
27 “Say thus to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “As I live, surely those who are in the ruins shall fall by the sword, and the one who is in the open field I will give to the beasts to be devoured, and those who are in the strongholds and caves shall die of the pestilence.

28 “For I will make the land most desolate, her arrogant strength shall cease, and the mountains of Israel shall be so desolate that no one will pass through.
29 “Then they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land most desolate because of all their abominations which they have committed.” ’

Hearing and Not Doing

30 “As for you, son of man, the children of your people are talking about you beside the walls and in the doors of the houses; and they speak to one another, everyone saying to his brother, ‘Please come and hear what the word is that comes from the LORD.’ Faith as Entertainment 31 “So they come to you as people do, they sit before you as My people, and they hear your words, but they do not do them; for with their mouth they show much love, but their hearts pursue their own gain.
32 “Indeed you are to them as a very lovely song of one who has a pleasant voice and can play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they do not do
them.
33 “And when this comes to pass—surely it will come—then they will know that a prophet has been among them.”

Ezekiel 34

Irresponsible Shepherds

1 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying, Lead with Care

2 “Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to the shepherds: “Woe to the shepherds of Israel who feed themselves! Should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 “You eat the fat and clothe yourselves with the wool; you slaughter the fatlings, but you do not feed the flock.

4 “The weak you have not strengthened, nor have you healed those who were sick, nor bound up the broken, nor brought back what was driven away, nor sought what was lost; but with force and cruelty you have ruled them.

5 “So they were scattered because there was no shepherd; and they became food for all the beasts of the field when they were scattered.

6 “My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and on every high hill; yes, My flock was scattered over the whole face of the earth, and no one was seeking or searching *for
them*.”

7 ‘Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:

8 “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “surely because My flock became a prey, and My flock became food for every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, nor did My shepherds search for My flock, but the shepherds fed themselves and did not feed My flock”—

9 ‘therefore, O shepherds, hear the word of the LORD!

10 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, I am against the shepherds, and I will require My flock at their hand; I will cause them to cease feeding the sheep, and the shepherds shall feed themselves no more; for I will deliver My flock from their mouths, that they may no longer be food for them.”

God, the True Shepherd

11 ‘For thus says the Lord GOD: “Indeed I Myself will search for My sheep and seek them out.
12 “As a shepherd seeks out his flock on the day he is among his scattered sheep, so will I seek out My sheep and deliver them from all the places where they were scattered on a cloudy and dark day.
13 “And I will bring them out from the peoples and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land; I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, in the valleys and in all the inhabited places of the country.
14 “I will feed them in good pasture, and their fold shall be on the high mountains of Israel. There they shall lie down in a good fold and feed in rich pasture on the mountains of Israel.
15 “I will feed My flock, and I will make them lie down,”
says the Lord GOD.
16 “I will seek what was lost and bring back what was driven away, bind up the broken and strengthen what was sick; but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and feed them in judgment.”
17 ‘And as for you, O My flock, thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, I shall judge between sheep and sheep, between rams and goats.
18 “Is it too little for you to have eaten up the good pasture, that you must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture—and to have drunk of the clear waters, that you must foul the residue with your feet?
19 “And as for My flock, they eat what you have trampled with your feet, and they drink what you have fouled with your feet.”

20 ‘Therefore thus says the Lord GOD to them: “Behold, I Myself will judge between the fat and the lean sheep.
21 “Because you have pushed with side and shoulder, butted all the weak ones with your horns, and scattered them abroad,
22 “therefore I will save My flock, and they shall no longer be a prey; and I will judge between sheep and sheep.
23 “I will establish one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them—My servant David. He shall feed them and be their shepherd.
24 “And I, the LORD, will be their God, and My servant
David a prince among them; I, the LORD, have spoken.
25 “I will make a covenant of peace with them, and cause wild beasts to cease from the land; and they will dwell safely in the wilderness and sleep in the woods.
26 “I will make them and the places all around My hill a blessing; and I will cause showers to come down in their season; there shall be showers of blessing.
27 “Then the trees of the field shall yield their fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase. They shall be safe in their land; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke and delivered them from the hand of those who enslaved them.
28 “And they shall no longer be a prey for the nations, nor shall beasts of the land devour them; but they shall dwell safely, and no one shall make them afraid.
29 “I will raise up for them a garden of renown, and they shall no longer be consumed with hunger in the land, nor bear the shame of the Gentiles anymore.
30 “Thus they shall know that I, the LORD their God, am with them, and they, the house of Israel, are My people,”
says the Lord GOD.’ ” 31 “You are My flock, the flock of My pasture; you are men, and I am your God,” says the Lord GOD.

Ezekiel 35

Judgment on Mount Seir

1 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2 “Son of man, set your face against Mount Seir and prophesy against it,
3 “and say to it, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:

> “Behold, O Mount Seir, I am against you;
> I will stretch out My hand against you,
> And make you most desolate;
> 4 I shall lay your cities waste,
> And you shall be desolate.
> Then you shall know that I am the LORD.

5 “Because you have had an ancient hatred, and have shed the blood of the children of Israel by the power of the sword at the time of their calamity, when their iniquity came to an end,
6 “therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will prepare you for blood, and blood shall pursue you; since you have not hated blood, therefore blood shall pursue you.
7 “Thus I will make Mount Seir most desolate, and cut off from it the one who leaves and the one who returns.
8 “And I will fill its mountains with the slain; on your hills and in your valleys and in all your ravines those who are slain by the sword shall fall.
9 “I will make you perpetually desolate, and your cities shall be uninhabited; then you shall know that I am the LORD.
10 “Because you have said, ‘These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess them,’ although the LORD was there,

11 “therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will do according to your anger and according to the envy which you showed in your hatred against them; and I will make Myself known among them when I judge you.
12 “Then you shall know that I am the LORD. I have heard all your blasphemies which you have spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, ‘They are desolate; they are given to us to consume.’
13 “Thus with your mouth you have boasted against Me and multiplied your words against Me; I have heard them.” 14 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “The whole earth will rejoice when I make you desolate.
15 “As you rejoiced because the inheritance of the house of Israel was desolate, so I will do to you; you shall be desolate, O Mount Seir, as well as all of Edom—all of it!
Then they shall know that I am the LORD.” ’

Ezekiel 36

Blessing on Israel

1 “And you, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel, and say, ‘O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD!
2 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because the enemy has said of you, ‘Aha! The ancient heights have become our possession,’ ” ’
3 “therefore prophesy, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD:
“Because they made you desolate and swallowed you up on every side, so that you became the possession of the rest of the nations, and you are taken up by the lips of talkers and slandered by the people”—
4 ‘therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD! Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains, the hills, the rivers, the valleys, the desolate wastes, and the cities that have been forsaken, which became plunder and mockery to the rest of the nations all around—5 ‘therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Surely I have spoken in My burning jealousy against the rest of the nations and against all Edom, who gave My land to themselves as a possession, with wholehearted joy and spiteful minds, in order to plunder its open country.” ’ 6 “Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains, the hills, the rivers, and the valleys, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, I have spoken in My jealousy and My fury, because you have borne the shame of the nations.”
7 ‘Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “I have raised My hand in an oath that surely the nations that are around you shall bear their own shame.

8 “But you, O mountains of Israel, you shall shoot forth your branches and yield your fruit to My people Israel, for they are about to come.
9 “For indeed I am for you, and I will turn to you, and you shall be tilled and sown.
10 “I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, all of it; and the cities shall be inhabited and the ruins rebuilt.
11 “I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and bear young; I will make you inhabited as in former times, and do better for you than at your beginnings. Then you shall know that I am the LORD.
12 “Yes, I will cause men to walk on you, My people Israel; they shall take possession of you, and you shall be their inheritance; no more shall you bereave them of children.”
13 Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because they say to you,
‘You devour men and bereave your nation of children,’
14 “therefore you shall devour men no more, nor bereave your nation anymore,” says the Lord GOD.
15 “Nor will I let you hear the taunts of the nations anymore, nor bear the reproach of the peoples anymore, nor shall you cause your nation to stumble anymore,” says
the Lord GOD.’ ”

The Renewal of Israel

16 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying:
17 “Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own ways and deeds; to Me their way was like the uncleanness of a woman in her customary impurity.
18 “Therefore I poured out My fury on them for the blood they had shed on the land, and for their idols with which they had defiled it.

19 “So I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed throughout the countries; I judged them
according to their ways and their deeds.
20 “When they came to the nations, wherever they went,
they profaned My holy name—when they said of them,
‘These are the people of the LORD, and yet they have gone out of His land.’
21 “But I had concern for My holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations wherever they went.
22 “Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “I do not do this for your sake, O house of Israel, but for My holy name’s sake, which you have profaned among the nations wherever you went.
23 “And I will sanctify My great name, which has been profaned among the nations, which you have profaned in their midst; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD,” says the Lord GOD, “when I am hallowed in you before their eyes.
24 “For I will take you from among the nations, gather you out of all countries, and bring you into your own land.
25 “Then I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you shall be clean; I will cleanse you from all your filthiness and from all your idols.
26 “I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit within you; I will take the heart of stone out of your flesh and give you a heart of flesh.
27 “I will put My Spirit within you and cause you to walk in My statutes, and you will keep My judgments and do
them.
28 “Then you shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; you shall be My people, and I will be your God.
29 “I will deliver you from all your uncleannesses. I will call for the grain and multiply it, and bring no famine upon

you.
30 “And I will multiply the fruit of your trees and the increase of your fields, so that you need never again bear the reproach of famine among the nations.
31 “Then you will remember your evil ways and your deeds that were not good; and you will loathe yourselves in your own sight, for your iniquities and your abominations.
32 “Not for your sake do I do this,” says the Lord GOD, “let it be known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel!” 33 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “On the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will also enable you to dwell in the cities, and the ruins shall be rebuilt.
34 “The desolate land shall be tilled instead of lying desolate in the sight of all who pass by.
35 “So they will say, ‘This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden; and the wasted, desolate, and ruined cities are now fortified and inhabited.’ 36 “Then the nations which are left all around you shall know that I, the LORD, have rebuilt the ruined places and planted what was desolate. I, the LORD, have spoken it, and I will do it.”
37 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “I will also let the house of Israel inquire of Me to do this for them: I will increase their men like a flock.
38 “Like a flock offered as holy sacrifices, like the flock at Jerusalem on its feast days, so shall the ruined cities be filled with flocks of men. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.” ’ ”

Ezekiel 37

The Dry Bones Live

1 The hand of the LORD came upon me and brought me out in the Spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones.
2 Then He caused me to pass by them all around, and behold, there were very many in the open valley; and indeed they were very dry.
3 And He said to me, “Son of man, can these bones live?”
So I answered, “O Lord GOD, You know.”
4 Again He said to me, “Prophesy to these bones, and say to them, ‘O dry bones, hear the word of the LORD!
5 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to these bones: “Surely I will cause breath to enter into you, and you shall live.
6 “I will put sinews on you and bring flesh upon you, cover you with skin and put breath in you; and you shall live.
Then you shall know that I am the LORD.” ’ ”
7 So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and suddenly a rattling; and the bones came together, bone to bone.
8 Indeed, as I looked, the sinews and the flesh came upon them, and the skin covered them over; but there was no breath in them.
9 Also He said to me, “Prophesy to the breath, prophesy, son of man, and say to the breath, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live.” ’ ” 10 So I prophesied as He commanded me, and breath came into them, and they lived, and stood upon their feet, an exceedingly great army.

11Then He said to me, “Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. They indeed say, ‘Our bones are dry, our hope is lost, and we ourselves are cut off!’
12“Therefore prophesy and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, O My people, I will open your graves and cause you to come up from your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel.
13“Then you shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, O My people, and brought you up from your graves.
14“I will put My Spirit in you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land. Then you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken it and performed it,” says the LORD.’ ”

One Kingdom, One King

15Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 16“As for you, son of man, take a stick for yourself and write on it: ‘For Judah and for the children of Israel, his companions.’ Then take another stick and write on it, ‘For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel, his companions.’
17“Then join them one to another for yourself into one stick, and they will become one in your hand.
18“And when the children of your people speak to you, saying, ‘Will you not show us what you mean by these?’— 19“say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Surely I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel, his companions; and I will join them with it, with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they will be one in My hand.” ’ 20“And the sticks on which you write will be in your hand
before their eyes.
21“Then say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Surely I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, wherever they have gone, and will gather them from every side and bring them into their own land;

22 “and I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king over them all; they shall no longer be two nations, nor shall they ever be divided into two kingdoms again.

23 “They shall not defile themselves anymore with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions; but I will deliver them from all their dwelling places in which they have sinned, and will cleanse them. Then they shall be My people, and I will be their God.

24 “David My servant shall be king over them, and they shall all have one shepherd; they shall also walk in My judgments and observe My statutes, and do them.

25 “Then they shall dwell in the land that I have given to Jacob My servant, where your fathers dwelt; and they shall dwell there, they, their children, and their children’s children, forever; and My servant David shall be their prince forever.

26 “Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them, and it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; I will establish them and multiply them, and I will set My sanctuary in their midst forevermore.

27 “My tabernacle also shall be with them; indeed I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

28 “The nations also will know that I, the LORD, sanctify Israel, when My sanctuary is in their midst forevermore.” ’ ”

Ezekiel 38

Gog and Allies Attack Israel

1 Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, set your face against Gog, of the land of Magog, the prince of Rosh,[a] Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3 “and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, I am against you, O Gog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal.

4 “I will turn you around, put hooks into your jaws, and lead you out, with all your army, horses, and horsemen, all splendidly clothed, a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords.

5 “Persia, Ethiopia,[b] and Libya[c] are with them, all of them with shield and helmet;

6 “Gomer and all its troops; the house of Togarmah from the far north and all its troops—many people are with you.

7 “Prepare yourself and be ready, you and all your companies that are gathered about you; and be a guard for them.

8 “After many days you will be visited. In the latter years you will come into the land of those brought back from the sword and gathered from many people on the mountains of Israel, which had long been desolate; they were brought out of the nations, and now all of them dwell safely.

9 “You will ascend, coming like a storm, covering the land like a cloud, you and all your troops and many peoples with you.”

10 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “On that day it shall come to pass that thoughts will arise in your mind, and you will make an evil plan:

11 “You will say, ‘I will go up against a land of unwalled villages; I will go to a peaceful people, who dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates’— 12 “to take plunder and to take booty, to stretch out your hand against the waste places that are again inhabited, and against a people gathered from the nations, who have acquired livestock and goods, who dwell in the midst of the land.
13 “Sheba, Dedan, the merchants of Tarshish, and all their young lions will say to you, ‘Have you come to take plunder? Have you gathered your army to take booty, to carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to take great plunder?’ ” ’ 14 “Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “On that day when My people Israel dwell safely, will you not know it?
15 “Then you will come from your place out of the far north, you and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a mighty army.
16 “You will come up against My people Israel like a cloud, to cover the land. It will be in the latter days that I will bring you against My land, so that the nations may know Me, when I am hallowed in you, O Gog, before their eyes.” 17 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Are you he of whom I have spoken in former days by My servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied for years in those days that I would bring you against them?

Judgment on Gog

18 “And it will come to pass at the same time, when Gog comes against the land of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “that My fury will show in My face.

19 “For in My jealousy and in the fire of My wrath I have spoken: ‘Surely in that day there shall be a great earthquake in the land of Israel, 20 ‘so that the fish of the sea, the birds of the heavens, the beasts of the field, all creeping things that creep on the earth, and all men who are on the face of the earth shall shake at My presence. The mountains shall be thrown down, the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.’
21 “I will call for a sword against Gog throughout all My mountains,” says the Lord GOD. “Every man’s sword will be against his brother.
22 “And I will bring him to judgment with pestilence and bloodshed; I will rain down on him, on his troops, and on the many peoples who are with him, flooding rain, great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.
23 “Thus I will magnify Myself and sanctify Myself, and I will be known in the eyes of many nations. Then they shall know that I am the LORD.” ’

Ezekiel 39

Gog's Armies Destroyed

1 "And you, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say,
'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Behold, I am against you, O
Gog, the prince of Rosh,[a] Meshech, and Tubal;
2 "and I will turn you around and lead you on, bringing you up from the far north, and bring you against the mountains of Israel.
3 "Then I will knock the bow out of your left hand, and cause the arrows to fall out of your right hand.
4 "You shall fall upon the mountains of Israel, you and all your troops and the peoples who are with you; I will give you to birds of prey of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be devoured.
5 "You shall fall on the open field; for I have spoken," says
the Lord GOD.
6 "And I will send fire on Magog and on those who live in security in the coastlands. Then they shall know that I am
the LORD.
7 "So I will make My holy name known in the midst of My people Israel, and I will not let them profane My holy name anymore. Then the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel.
8 "Surely it is coming, and it shall be done," says the Lord GOD. "This is the day of which I have spoken.
9 "Then those who dwell in the cities of Israel will go out and set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and bucklers, the bows and arrows, the javelins and spears; and they will make fires with them for seven years.
10 "They will not take wood from the field nor cut down any from the forests, because they will make fires with the weapons; and they will plunder those who plundered them, and pillage those who pillaged them," says the Lord GOD.

The Burial of Gog

11 "It will come to pass in that day that I will give Gog a burial place there in Israel, the valley of those who pass by east of the sea; and it will obstruct travelers, because there they will bury Gog and all his multitude. Therefore they will call it the Valley of Hamon Gog.[b]

12 "For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them, in order to cleanse the land.

13 "Indeed all the people of the land will be burying, and they will gain renown for it on the day that I am glorified," says the Lord GOD.

14 "They will set apart men regularly employed, with the help of a search party,[c] to pass through the land and bury those bodies remaining on the ground, in order to cleanse it. At the end of seven months they will make a search.

15 "The search party will pass through the land; and when anyone sees a man's bone, he shall set up a marker by it, till the buriers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon Gog.

16 "The name of the city will also be Hamonah. Thus they shall cleanse the land." '

A Triumphant Festival

17 "And as for you, son of man, thus says the Lord GOD, 'Speak to every sort of bird and to every beast of the field:

> "Assemble yourselves and come;
> Gather together from all sides to My sacrificial meal
> Which I am sacrificing for you,
> A great sacrificial meal on the mountains of Israel,

That you may eat flesh and drink blood.
18 You shall eat the flesh of the mighty,
Drink the blood of the princes of the earth,
Of rams and lambs,
Of goats and bulls,
All of them fatlings of Bashan.
19 You shall eat fat till you are full,
And drink blood till you are drunk,
At My sacrificial meal
Which I am sacrificing for you.
20 You shall be filled at My table
With horses and riders,
With mighty men
And with all the men of war," says the Lord GOD.

Israel Restored to the Land

21 "I will set My glory among the nations; all the nations shall see My judgment which I have executed, and My hand which I have laid on them.

22 "So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God from that day forward.

23 "The Gentiles shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they were unfaithful to Me, therefore I hid My face from them. I gave them into the hand of their enemies, and they all fell by the sword.

24 "According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions I have dealt with them, and hidden My face from them." '

25 "Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Now I will bring back the captives of Jacob, and have mercy on the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for My holy name—

26 ‘after they have borne their shame, and all their unfaithfulness in which they were unfaithful to Me, when they dwelt safely in their own land and no one made them afraid.

27 ‘When I have brought them back from the peoples and gathered them out of their enemies’ lands, and I am hallowed in them in the sight of many nations,

28 ‘then they shall know that I am the LORD their God, who sent them into captivity among the nations, but also brought them back to their land, and left none of them captive any longer.

29 ‘And I will not hide My face from them anymore; for I shall have poured out My Spirit on the house of Israel,’ says the Lord GOD.”

Ezekiel 40

A New City, a New Temple

1 In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city was captured, on the very same day the hand of the LORD was upon me; and He took me there.
2 In the visions of God He took me into the land of Israel and set me on a very high mountain; on it toward the south was something like the structure of a city.
3 He took me there, and behold, there was a man whose appearance was like the appearance of bronze. He had a line of flax and a measuring rod in his hand, and he stood in the gateway.
4 And the man said to me, "Son of man, look with your eyes and hear with your ears, and fix your mind on everything I show you; for you were brought here so that I might show them to you. Declare to the house of Israel everything you see."
5 Now there was a wall all around the outside of the temple.[a] In the man's hand was a measuring rod six cubits long, each being a cubit and a handbreadth; and he measured the width of the wall structure, one rod; and the height, one rod.

The Eastern Gateway of the Temple

6 Then he went to the gateway which faced east; and he went up its stairs and measured the threshold of the gateway, which was one rod wide, and the other threshold was one rod wide.
7 Each gate chamber was one rod long and one rod wide;
between the gate chambers was a space of five cubits; and the threshold of the gateway by the vestibule of the inside gate was one rod.

8 He also measured the vestibule of the inside gate, one rod.

9 Then he measured the vestibule of the gateway, eight cubits; and the gateposts, two cubits. The vestibule of the gate was on the inside.

10 In the eastern gateway were three gate chambers on one side and three on the other; the three were all the same size; also the gateposts were of the same size on this side and that side.

11 He measured the width of the entrance to the gateway, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

12 There was a space in front of the gate chambers, one cubit on this side and one cubit on that side; the gate chambers were six cubits on this side and six cubits on that side.

13 Then he measured the gateway from the roof of one gate chamber to the roof of the other; the width was twenty-five cubits, as door faces door.

14 He measured the gateposts, sixty cubits high, and the court all around the gateway extended to the gatepost.

15 From the front of the entrance gate to the front of the vestibule of the inner gate was fifty cubits.

16 There were beveled window frames in the gate chambers and in their intervening archways on the inside of the gateway all around, and likewise in the vestibules. There were windows all around on the inside. And on each gatepost were palm trees.

The Outer Court

17 Then he brought me into the outer court; and there were chambers and a pavement made all around the court; thirty chambers faced the pavement.

18 The pavement was by the side of the gateways, corresponding to the length of the gateways; this was the lower pavement.
19 Then he measured the width from the front of the lower gateway to the front of the inner court exterior, one hundred cubits toward the east and the north.

The Northern Gateway

20 On the outer court was also a gateway facing north,
and he measured its length and its width.
21 Its gate chambers, three on this side and three on that side, its gateposts and its archways, had the same measurements as the first gate; its length was fifty cubits and its width twenty-five cubits.
22 Its windows and those of its archways, and also its palm trees, had the same measurements as the gateway facing east; it was ascended by seven steps, and its archway was in front of it.
23 A gate of the inner court was opposite the northern gateway, just as the eastern gateway; and he measured from gateway to gateway, one hundred cubits.

The Southern Gateway

24 After that he brought me toward the south, and there a gateway was facing south; and he measured its gateposts and archways according to these same measurements.
25 There were windows in it and in its archways all around like those windows; its length was fifty cubits and its width twenty-five cubits.
26 Seven steps led up to it, and its archway was in front of them; and it had palm trees on its gateposts, one on this side and one on that side.
27 There was also a gateway on the inner court, facing south; and he measured from gateway to gateway toward the south, one hundred cubits.

Gateways of the Inner Court

28Then he brought me to the inner court through the southern gateway; he measured the southern gateway according to these same measurements.
29Also its gate chambers, its gateposts, and its archways were according to these same measurements; there were windows in it and in its archways all around; it was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.
30*There were* archways all around, twenty-five cubits long and five cubits wide.
31Its archways faced the outer court, palm trees were on its gateposts, and going up to it were eight steps.
32And he brought me into the inner court facing east; he measured the gateway according to these same measurements.
33Also its gate chambers, its gateposts, and its archways were according to these same measurements; and there were windows in it and in its archways all around; it was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.
34Its archways faced the outer court, and palm trees were on its gateposts on this side and on that side; and going up to it were eight steps.
35Then he brought me to the north gateway and measured it according to these same measurements—36also its gate chambers, its gateposts, and its archways.
It had windows all around; its length was fifty cubits and its width twenty-five cubits.
37Its gateposts faced the outer court, palm trees were on its gateposts on this side and on that side, and going up to it were eight steps.

Where Sacrifices Were Prepared

38 There was a chamber and its entrance by the gateposts of the gateway, where they washed the burnt offering.
39 In the vestibule of the gateway were two tables on this side and two tables on that side, on which to slay the burnt offering, the sin offering, and the trespass offering.
40 At the outer side of the vestibule, as one goes up to the entrance of the northern gateway, were two tables; and on the other side of the vestibule of the gateway were two tables.
41 Four tables were on this side and four tables on that side, by the side of the gateway, eight tables on which they slaughtered the sacrifices.
42 There were also four tables of hewn stone for the burnt offering, one cubit and a half long, one cubit and a half wide, and one cubit high; on these they laid the instruments with which they slaughtered the burnt offering and the sacrifice.
43 Inside were hooks, a handbreadth wide, fastened all around; and the flesh of the sacrifices was on the tables.

Chambers for Singers and Priests

44 Outside the inner gate were the chambers for the singers in the inner court, one facing south at the side of the northern gateway, and the other facing north at the side of the southern gateway.[b] 45 Then he said to me, "This chamber which faces south is for the priests who have charge of the temple.
46 "The chamber which faces north is for the priests who have charge of the altar; these are the sons of Zadok, from the sons of Levi, who come near the LORD to minister to Him."

Dimensions of the Inner Court and Vestibule

47And he measured the court, one hundred cubits long and one hundred cubits wide, foursquare. The altar was in front of the temple.
48Then he brought me to the vestibule of the temple and measured the doorposts of the vestibule, five cubits on this side and five cubits on that side; and the width of the gateway was three cubits on this side and three cubits on that side.
49The length of the vestibule was twenty cubits, and the width eleven cubits; and by the steps which led up to it there were pillars by the doorposts, one on this side and another on that side.

Ezekiel 41

Dimensions of the Sanctuary

1 Then he brought me into the sanctuary[a] and measured the doorposts, six cubits wide on one side and six cubits wide on the other side—the width of the tabernacle.
2 The width of the entryway was ten cubits, and the side walls of the entrance were five cubits on this side and five cubits on the other side; and he measured its length, forty cubits, and its width, twenty cubits.
3 Also he went inside and measured the doorposts, two cubits; and the entrance, six cubits high; and the width of the entrance, seven cubits.
4 He measured the length, twenty cubits; and the width, twenty cubits, beyond the sanctuary; and he said to me,
"This is the Most Holy Place."

The Side Chambers on the Wall

5 Next, he measured the wall of the temple, six cubits.
The width of each side chamber all around the temple was four cubits on every side.
6 The side chambers were in three stories, one above the other, thirty chambers in each story; they rested on ledges which were for the side chambers all around, that they might be supported, but not fastened to the wall of the temple.
7 As one went up from story to story, the side chambers became wider all around, because their supporting ledges in the wall of the temple ascended like steps; therefore the width of the structure increased as one went up from the lowest story to the highest by way of the middle one.

8 I also saw an elevation all around the temple; it was the foundation of the side chambers, a full rod, that is, six cubits high.
9 The thickness of the outer wall of the side chambers was five cubits, and so also the remaining terrace by the place of the side chambers of the temple.
10 And between it and the wall chambers was a width of twenty cubits all around the temple on every side.
11 The doors of the side chambers opened on the terrace, one door toward the north and another toward the south;
and the width of the terrace was five cubits all around.

The Building at the Western End

12 The building that faced the separating courtyard at its western end was seventy cubits wide; the wall of the building was five cubits thick all around, and its length ninety cubits.

Dimensions and Design of the Temple Area

13 So he measured the temple, one hundred cubits long;
and the separating courtyard with the building and its walls was one hundred cubits long; 14 also the width of the eastern face of the temple, including the separating courtyard, was one hundred cubits.
15 He measured the length of the building behind it, facing the separating courtyard, with its galleries on the one side and on the other side, one hundred cubits, as well as the inner temple and the porches of the court, 16 their doorposts and the beveled window frames. And the galleries all around their three stories opposite the threshold were paneled with wood from the ground to the windows—the windows were covered—

17 from the space above the door, even to the inner room,[b] as well as outside, and on every wall all around, inside and outside, by measure.
18 And it was made with cherubim and palm trees, a palm tree between cherub and cherub. Each cherub had two faces,
19 so that the face of a man was toward a palm tree on one side, and the face of a young lion toward a palm tree on the other side; thus it was made throughout the temple all around.
20 From the floor to the space above the door, and on the wall of the sanctuary, cherubim and palm trees were carved.
21 The doorposts of the temple were square, as was the front of the sanctuary; their appearance was similar.
22 The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and its length two cubits. Its corners, its length, and its sides were of wood; and he said to me, "This is the table that is before
the LORD."
23 The temple and the sanctuary had two doors.
24 The doors had two panels apiece, two folding panels:
two panels for one door and two panels for the other door.
25 Cherubim and palm trees were carved on the doors of the temple just as they were carved on the walls. A wooden canopy was on the front of the vestibule outside.
26 There were beveled window frames and palm trees on one side and on the other, on the sides of the vestibule—also on the side chambers of the temple and on the canopies.

Ezekiel 42

The Chambers for the Priests

1 Then he brought me out into the outer court, by the way toward the north; and he brought me into the chamber which was opposite the separating courtyard, and which was opposite the building toward the north.
2 Facing the length, which was one hundred cubits (the width was fifty cubits), was the north door.
3 Opposite the inner court of twenty cubits, and opposite the pavement of the outer court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.
4 In front of the chambers, toward the inside, was a walk ten cubits wide, at a distance of one cubit; and their doors faced north.
5 Now the upper chambers were shorter, because the galleries took away space from them more than from the lower and middle stories of the building.
6 For they were in three stories and did not have pillars like the pillars of the courts; therefore the upper level was shortened more than the lower and middle levels from the ground up.
7 And a wall which was outside ran parallel to the chambers, at the front of the chambers, toward the outer court; its length was fifty cubits.
8 The length of the chambers toward the outer court was fifty cubits, whereas that facing the temple was one hundred cubits.
9 At the lower chambers was the entrance on the east side, as one goes into them from the outer court.
10 Also there were chambers in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, opposite the separating courtyard and opposite the building.

11 There was a walk in front of them also, and their appearance was like the chambers which were toward the north; they were as long and as wide as the others, and all their exits and entrances were according to plan.

12 And corresponding to the doors of the chambers that were facing south, as one enters them, there was a door in front of the walk, the way directly in front of the wall toward the east.

13 Then he said to me, "The north chambers and the south chambers, which are opposite the separating courtyard, are the holy chambers where the priests who approach the LORD shall eat the most holy offerings. There they shall lay the most holy offerings—the grain offering, the sin offering, and the trespass offering—for the place is holy.

14 "When the priests enter them, they shall not go out of the holy chamber into the outer court; but there they shall leave their garments in which they minister, for they are holy. They shall put on other garments; then they may approach that which is for the people."

Outer Dimensions of the Temple

15 Now when he had finished measuring the inner temple, he brought me out through the gateway that faces toward the east, and measured it all around.

16 He measured the east side with the measuring rod,[a] five hundred rods by the measuring rod all around.

17 He measured the north side, five hundred rods by the measuring rod all around.

18 He measured the south side, five hundred rods by the measuring rod.

19 He came around to the west side and measured five hundred rods by the measuring rod.

[20]He measured it on the four sides; it had a wall all around, five hundred cubits long and five hundred wide, to separate the holy areas from the common.

Ezekiel 43

The Temple, the LORD's Dwelling Place

1 Afterward he brought me to the gate, the gate that faces toward the east.
2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east. His voice was like the sound of many waters; and the earth shone with His glory.
3 It was like the appearance of the vision which I saw—like the vision which I saw when I[a] came to destroy the city.
The visions were like the vision which I saw by the River
Chebar; and I fell on my face.
4 And the glory of the LORD came into the temple by way of the gate which faces toward the east.
5 The Spirit lifted me up and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the temple.
6 Then I heard Him speaking to me from the temple, while a man stood beside me.
7 And He said to me, "Son of man, this is the place of My throne and the place of the soles of My feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever. No more shall the house of Israel defile My holy name, they nor their kings, by their harlotry or with the carcasses of their kings on their high places.
8 "When they set their threshold by My threshold, and their doorpost by My doorpost, with a wall between them and Me, they defiled My holy name by the abominations which they committed; therefore I have consumed them in My anger.
9 "Now let them put their harlotry and the carcasses of their kings far away from Me, and I will dwell in their midst forever.

10“Son of man, describe the temple to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure the pattern.

11“And if they are ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the design of the temple and its arrangement, its exits and its entrances, its entire design and all its ordinances, all its forms and all its laws. Write it down in their sight, so that they may keep its whole design and all its ordinances, and perform them.

12“This is the law of the temple: The whole area surrounding the mountaintop is most holy. Behold, this is the law of the temple.

Dimensions of the Altar

13“These are the measurements of the altar in cubits (the cubit is one cubit and a handbreadth): the base one cubit high and one cubit wide, with a rim all around its edge of one span. This is the height of the altar:

14“from the base on the ground to the lower ledge, two cubits; the width of the ledge, one cubit; from the smaller ledge to the larger ledge, four cubits; and the width of the ledge, one cubit.

15“The altar hearth is four cubits high, with four horns extending upward from the hearth.

16“The altar hearth is twelve cubits long, twelve wide, square at its four corners;

17“the ledge, fourteen cubits long and fourteen wide on its four sides, with a rim of half a cubit around it; its base, one cubit all around; and its steps face toward the east.”

Consecrating the Altar

18And He said to me, “Son of man, thus says the Lord GOD: ‘These are the ordinances for the altar on the day when it is made, for sacrificing burnt offerings on it, and for sprinkling blood on it.

19 ‘You shall give a young bull for a sin offering to the priests, the Levites, who are of the seed of Zadok, who approach Me to minister to Me,’ says the Lord GOD.

20 ‘You shall take some of its blood and put it on the four horns of the altar, on the four corners of the ledge, and on the rim around it; thus you shall cleanse it and make atonement for it.

21 ‘Then you shall also take the bull of the sin offering, and burn it in the appointed place of the temple, outside the sanctuary.

22 ‘On the second day you shall offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they cleansed it with the bull.

23 ‘When you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer a young bull without blemish, and a ram from the flock without blemish.

24 ‘When you offer them before the LORD, the priests shall throw salt on them, and they will offer them up as a burnt offering to the LORD.

25 ‘Every day for seven days you shall prepare a goat for a sin offering; they shall also prepare a young bull and a ram from the flock, both without blemish.

26 ‘Seven days they shall make atonement for the altar and purify it, and so consecrate it.

27 ‘When these days are over it shall be, on the eighth day and thereafter, that the priests shall offer your burnt offerings and your peace offerings on the altar; and I will accept you,’ says the Lord GOD.”

Ezekiel 44

The East Gate and the Prince

1Then He brought me back to the outer gate of the sanctuary which faces toward the east, but it was shut.

2And the LORD said to me, “This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter by it, because the LORD God of Israel has entered by it; therefore it shall be shut.

3“As for the prince, because he is the prince, he may sit in it to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by way of the vestibule of the gateway, and go out the same way.”

Those Admitted to the Temple

4Also He brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple; so I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD; and I fell on my face.

5And the LORD said to me, “Son of man, mark well, see with your eyes and hear with your ears, all that I say to you concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD and all its laws. Mark well who may enter the house and all who go out from the sanctuary.

6“Now say to the rebellious, to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “O house of Israel, let Us have no more of all your abominations.

7“When you brought in foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in My sanctuary to defile it—My house—and when you offered My food, the fat and the blood, then they broke My covenant because of all your abominations.

8“And you have not kept charge of My holy things, but you have set others to keep charge of My sanctuary for

you.”

9 “Thus says the Lord GOD: “No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart or uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter My sanctuary, including any foreigner who is among the children of Israel.

Laws Governing Priests

10 “And the Levites who went far from Me, when Israel went astray, who strayed away from Me after their idols, they shall bear their iniquity.

11 “Yet they shall be ministers in My sanctuary, as gatekeepers of the house and ministers of the house; they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister to them.

12 “Because they ministered to them before their idols and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore I have raised My hand in an oath against them,” says the Lord GOD, “that they shall bear their iniquity.

13 “And they shall not come near Me to minister to Me as priest, nor come near any of My holy things, nor into the Most Holy Place; but they shall bear their shame and their abominations which they have committed.

14 “Nevertheless I will make them keep charge of the temple, for all its work, and for all that has to be done in it.

15 “But the priests, the Levites, the sons of Zadok, who kept charge of My sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from Me, they shall come near Me to minister to Me; and they shall stand before Me to offer to Me the fat and the blood,” says the Lord GOD.

16 “They shall enter My sanctuary, and they shall come near My table to minister to Me, and they shall keep My charge.

17 “And it shall be, whenever they enter the gates of the inner court, that they shall put on linen garments; no wool shall come upon them while they minister within the gates of the inner court or within the house.
18 “They shall have linen turbans on their heads and linen trousers on their bodies; they shall not clothe themselves with anything that causes sweat.
19 “When they go out to the outer court, to the outer court to the people, they shall take off their garments in which they have ministered, leave them in the holy chambers, and put on other garments; and in their holy garments they shall not sanctify the people.
20 “They shall neither shave their heads nor let their hair grow long, but they shall keep their hair well trimmed.
21 “No priest shall drink wine when he enters the inner court.
22 “They shall not take as wife a widow or a divorced woman, but take virgins of the descendants of the house of Israel, or widows of priests.
23 “And they shall teach My people the difference between the holy and the unholy, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.
24 “In controversy they shall stand as judges, and judge it according to My judgments. They shall keep My laws and My statutes in all My appointed meetings, and they shall hallow My Sabbaths.
25 “They shall not defile themselves by coming near a dead person. Only for father or mother, for son or daughter, for brother or unmarried sister may they defile themselves.
26 “After he is cleansed, they shall count seven days for
him.
27 “And on the day that he goes to the sanctuary to minister in the sanctuary, he must offer his sin offering in the inner court,” says the Lord GOD.

28“It shall be, in regard to their inheritance, that I am their inheritance. You shall give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession.

29“They shall eat the grain offering, the sin offering, and the trespass offering; every dedicated thing in Israel shall be theirs.

30“The best of all firstfruits of any kind, and every sacrifice of any kind from all your sacrifices, shall be the priest’s; also you shall give to the priest the first of your ground meal, to cause a blessing to rest on your house.

31“The priests shall not eat anything, bird or beast, that died naturally or was torn by wild beasts.

Ezekiel 45

The Holy District

1 “Moreover, when you divide the land by lot into inheritance, you shall set apart a district for the LORD, a holy section of the land; its length shall be twenty-five thousand cubits, and the width ten thousand. It shall be holy throughout its territory all around. Holiness Is More Than a Place

2 “Of this there shall be a square plot for the sanctuary, five hundred by five hundred rods, with fifty cubits around it for an open space.

3 “So this is the district you shall measure: twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand wide; in it shall be the sanctuary, the Most Holy Place.

4 “It shall be a holy section of the land, belonging to the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, who come near to minister to the LORD; it shall be a place for their houses and a holy place for the sanctuary.

5 “An area twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand wide shall belong to the Levites, the ministers of the temple; they shall have twenty chambers as a possession.[a]

Properties of the City and the Prince

6 “You shall appoint as the property of the city an area five thousand cubits wide and twenty-five thousand long, adjacent to the district of the holy section; it shall belong to the whole house of Israel.

7 “The prince shall have a section on one side and the other of the holy district and the city’s property; and bordering on the holy district and the city’s property, extending westward on the west side and eastward on the east side, the length shall be side by side with one of the tribal portions, from the west border to the east border.

8 “The land shall be his possession in Israel; and My princes shall no more oppress My people, but they shall give the rest of the land to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.”

Laws Governing the Prince

9 Thus says the Lord GOD: “Enough, O princes of Israel! Remove violence and plundering, execute justice and righteousness, and stop dispossessing My people,” says the Lord GOD.

10 “You shall have honest scales, an honest ephah, and an honest bath.

11 “The ephah and the bath shall be of the same measure, so that the bath contains one-tenth of a homer, and the ephah one-tenth of a homer; their measure shall be according to the homer.

12 “The shekel shall be twenty gerahs; twenty shekels, twenty-five shekels, and fifteen shekels shall be your mina.

13 “This is the offering which you shall offer: you shall give one-sixth of an ephah from a homer of wheat, and one-sixth of an ephah from a homer of barley.

14 “The ordinance concerning oil, the bath of oil, is one-tenth of a bath from a kor. A kor is a homer or ten baths, for ten baths are a homer.

15 “And one lamb shall be given from a flock of two hundred, from the rich pastures of Israel. These shall be for grain offerings, burnt offerings, and peace offerings, to make atonement for them,” says the Lord GOD.

16 “All the people of the land shall give this offering for the prince in Israel.

17 “Then it shall be the prince’s part to give burnt offerings, grain offerings, and drink offerings, at the feasts, the New Moons, the Sabbaths, and at all the appointed seasons of the house of Israel. He shall prepare the sin offering, the grain offering, the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make atonement for the house of Israel.”

Keeping the Feasts

18 “Thus says the Lord GOD: “In the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall take a young bull without blemish and cleanse the sanctuary.

19 “The priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering and put it on the doorposts of the temple, on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the gateposts of the gate of the inner court.

20 “And so you shall do on the seventh day of the month for everyone who has sinned unintentionally or in ignorance. Thus you shall make atonement for the temple.

21 “In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall observe the Passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 “And on that day the prince shall prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering.

23 “On the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bulls and seven rams without blemish, daily for seven days, and a kid of the goats daily for a sin offering.

24 “And he shall prepare a grain offering of one ephah for each bull and one ephah for each ram, together with a hin of oil for each ephah.

25 “In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, at the feast, he shall do likewise for seven days, according to the sin offering, the burnt offering, the grain offering, and the oil.”

Ezekiel 46

The Manner of Worship

1 “Thus says the Lord GOD: “The gateway of the inner court that faces toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the Sabbath it shall be opened, and on the day of the New Moon it shall be opened.
2 “The prince shall enter by way of the vestibule of the gateway from the outside, and stand by the gatepost. The priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings. He shall worship at the threshold of the gate.
Then he shall go out, but the gate shall not be shut until evening.
3 “Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the entrance to this gateway before the LORD on the Sabbaths and the New Moons.
4 “The burnt offering that the prince offers to the LORD on the Sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish;
5 “and the grain offering shall be one ephah for a ram, and the grain offering for the lambs, as much as he wants to give, as well as a hin of oil with every ephah.
6 “On the day of the New Moon it shall be a young bull without blemish, six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish.
7 “He shall prepare a grain offering of an ephah for a bull, an ephah for a ram, as much as he wants to give for the lambs, and a hin of oil with every ephah.
8 “When the prince enters, he shall go in by way of the vestibule of the gateway, and go out the same way.
9 “But when the people of the land come before the LORD on the appointed feast days, whoever enters by way of the north gate to worship shall go out by way of the south gate; and whoever enters by way of the south gate shall go out by way of the north gate. He shall not return by way of the gate through which he came, but shall go out through the opposite gate.

10 “The prince shall then be in their midst. When they go in, he shall go in; and when they go out, he shall go out.

11 “At the festivals and the appointed feast days the grain offering shall be an ephah for a bull, an ephah for a ram, as much as he wants to give for the lambs, and a hin of oil with every ephah.

12 “Now when the prince makes a voluntary burnt offering or voluntary peace offering to the LORD, the gate that faces toward the east shall then be opened for him; and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings as he did on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and after he goes out the gate shall be shut.

13 “You shall daily make a burnt offering to the LORD of a lamb of the first year without blemish; you shall prepare it every morning.

14 “And you shall prepare a grain offering with it every morning, a sixth of an ephah, and a third of a hin of oil to moisten the fine flour. This grain offering is a perpetual ordinance, to be made regularly to the LORD.

15 “Thus they shall prepare the lamb, the grain offering, and the oil, as a regular burnt offering every morning.”

The Prince and Inheritance Laws

16 “Thus says the Lord GOD: “If the prince gives a gift of some of his inheritance to any of his sons, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance.

17 “But if he gives a gift of some of his inheritance to one of his servants, it shall be his until the year of liberty, after which it shall return to the prince. But his inheritance shall belong to his sons; it shall become theirs.

18 “Moreover the prince shall not take any of the people’s inheritance by evicting them from their property; he shall provide an inheritance for his sons from his own property, so that none of My people may be scattered from his property.” ’ ”

How the Offerings Were Prepared

19 Now he brought me through the entrance, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests which face toward the north; and there a place was situated at their extreme western end.

20 And he said to me, “This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the grain offering, so that they do not bring them out into the outer court to sanctify the people.”

21 Then he brought me out into the outer court and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and in fact, in every corner of the court there was another court.

22 In the four corners of the court were enclosed courts, forty cubits long and thirty wide; all four corners were the same size.

23 There was a row of building stones all around in them, all around the four of them; and cooking hearths were made under the rows of stones all around.

24 And he said to me, “These are the kitchens where the ministers of the temple shall boil the sacrifices of the people.”

Ezekiel 47

The Healing Waters and Trees

1 Then he brought me back to the door of the temple; and there was water, flowing from under the threshold of the temple toward the east, for the front of the temple faced east; the water was flowing from under the right side of the temple, south of the altar.

2 He brought me out by way of the north gate, and led me around on the outside to the outer gateway that faces east;
and there was water, running out on the right side.

3 And when the man went out to the east with the line in his hand, he measured one thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters; the water came up to my ankles.

4 Again he measured one thousand and brought me through the waters; the water came up to my knees. Again he measured one thousand and brought me through; the water came up to my waist.

5 Again he measured one thousand, and it was a river that I could not cross; for the water was too deep, water in which one must swim, a river that could not be crossed.

6 He said to me, "Son of man, have you seen this?" Then he brought me and returned me to the bank of the river.

7 When I returned, there, along the bank of the river, were very many trees on one side and the other.

8 Then he said to me: "This water flows toward the eastern region, goes down into the valley, and enters the sea. When it reaches the sea, its waters are healed.

9 "And it shall be that every living thing that moves, wherever the rivers go, will live. There will be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters go there; for they will be healed, and everything will live wherever the river goes.

10 “It shall be that fishermen will stand by it from En Gedi to En Eglaim; they will be places for spreading their nets. Their fish will be of the same kinds as the fish of the Great Sea, exceedingly many.

11 “But its swamps and marshes will not be healed; they will be given over to salt.

12 “Along the bank of the river, on this side and that, will grow all kinds of trees used for food; their leaves will not wither, and their fruit will not fail. They will bear fruit every month, because their water flows from the sanctuary. Their fruit will be for food, and their leaves for medicine.”

Borders of the Land

13 Thus says the Lord GOD: “These are the borders by which you shall divide the land as an inheritance among the twelve tribes of Israel. Joseph shall have two portions.

14 “You shall inherit it equally with one another; for I raised My hand in an oath to give it to your fathers, and this land shall fall to you as your inheritance.

15 “This shall be the border of the land on the north: from the Great Sea, by the road to Hethlon, as one goes to Zedad, 16 “Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim (which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath), to Hazar Hatticon (which is on the border of Hauran).

17 “Thus the boundary shall be from the Sea to Hazar Enan, the border of Damascus; and as for the north, northward, it is the border of Hamath. This is the north side.

18 “On the east side you shall mark out the border from between Hauran and Damascus, and between Gilead and the land of Israel, along the Jordan, and along the eastern side of the sea. This is the east side.

19 “The south side, toward the South,[a] shall be from Tamar to the waters of Meribah by Kadesh, along the brook to the Great Sea. This is the south side, toward the South.

20 “The west side shall be the Great Sea, from the southern boundary until one comes to a point opposite Hamath. This is the west side.

21 “Thus you shall divide this land among yourselves according to the tribes of Israel.

22 “It shall be that you will divide it by lot as an inheritance for yourselves, and for the strangers who dwell among you and who bear children among you. They shall be to you as native-born among the children of Israel; they shall have an inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

23 “And it shall be that in whatever tribe the stranger dwells, there you shall give him his inheritance,” says the Lord GOD.

Ezekiel 48

Division of the Land

1 “Now these are the names of the tribes: From the northern border along the road to Hethlon at the entrance of Hamath, to Hazar Enan, the border of Damascus northward, in the direction of Hamath, there shall be one section for Dan from its east to its west side;
2 “by the border of Dan, from the east side to the west,
one section for Asher;
3 “by the border of Asher, from the east side to the west, one section for Naphtali;
4 “by the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west, one section for Manasseh; 5 “by the border of Manasseh, from the east side to the west, one section for Ephraim; 6 “by the border of Ephraim, from the east side to the west, one section for Reuben; 7 “by the border of Reuben, from the east side to the west,
one section for Judah;
8 “by the border of Judah, from the east side to the west, shall be the district which you shall set apart, twenty-five thousand cubits in width, and in length the same as one of the other portions, from the east side to the west, with the sanctuary in the center.
9 “The district that you shall set apart for the LORD shall be twenty-five thousand cubits in length and ten thousand in width.
10 “To these—to the priests—the holy district shall belong:
on the north twenty-five thousand cubits in length, on the west ten thousand in width, on the east ten thousand in width, and on the south twenty-five thousand in length. The sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the center.

11 “It shall be for the priests of the sons of Zadok, who are sanctified, who have kept My charge, who did not go astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 “And this district of land that is set apart shall be to them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 “Opposite the border of the priests, the Levites shall have an area twenty-five thousand cubits in length and ten thousand in width; its entire length shall be twenty-five thousand and its width ten thousand.

14 “And they shall not sell or exchange any of it; they may not alienate this best part of the land, for it is holy to the LORD.

15 “The five thousand cubits in width that remain, along the edge of the twenty-five thousand, shall be for general use by the city, for dwellings and common-land; and the city shall be in the center.

16 “These shall be its measurements: the north side four thousand five hundred cubits, the south side four thousand five hundred, the east side four thousand five hundred, and the west side four thousand five hundred.

17 “The common-land of the city shall be: to the north two hundred and fifty cubits, to the south two hundred and fifty, to the east two hundred and fifty, and to the west two hundred and fifty.

18 “The rest of the length, alongside the district of the holy section, shall be ten thousand cubits to the east and ten thousand to the west. It shall be adjacent to the district of the holy section, and its produce shall be food for the workers of the city.

19 “The workers of the city, from all the tribes of Israel, shall cultivate it.

20 “The entire district shall be twenty-five thousand cubits by twenty-five thousand cubits, foursquare. You shall set apart the holy district with the property of the city.

21 “The rest shall belong to the prince, on one side and on the other of the holy district and of the city’s property, next to the twenty-five thousand cubits of the holy district as far as the eastern border, and westward next to the twenty-five thousand as far as the western border, adjacent to the tribal portions; it shall belong to the prince. It shall be the holy district, and the sanctuary of the temple shall be in the center.

22 “Moreover, apart from the possession of the Levites and the possession of the city which are in the midst of what belongs to the prince, the area between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin shall belong to the prince.

23 “As for the rest of the tribes, from the east side to the west, Benjamin shall have one section;

24 “by the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west, Simeon shall have one section;

25 “by the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west, Issachar shall have one section;

26 “by the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west, Zebulun shall have one section;

27 “by the border of Zebulun, from the east side to the west, Gad shall have one section;

28 “by the border of Gad, on the south side, toward the South,[a] the border shall be from Tamar to the waters of Meribah by Kadesh, along the brook to the Great Sea.

29 “This is the land which you shall divide by lot as an inheritance among the tribes of Israel, and these are their portions,” says the Lord GOD.

The Gates of the City and Its Name

30 “These are the exits of the city. On the north side, measuring four thousand five hundred cubits The Perfect City

31 “(the gates of the city shall be named after the tribes of Israel), the three gates northward: one gate for Reuben, one gate for Judah, and one gate for Levi;

32 “on the east side, four thousand five hundred cubits, three gates: one gate for Joseph, one gate for Benjamin, and one gate for Dan;

33 “on the south side, measuring four thousand five hundred cubits, three gates: one gate for Simeon, one gate for Issachar, and one gate for Zebulun;

34 “on the west side, four thousand five hundred cubits with their three gates: one gate for Gad, one gate for Asher, and one gate for Naphtali.

35 “All the way around shall be eighteen thousand cubits; and the name of the city from that day shall be: THE LORD IS THERE.” [b]

Ezekiel

Ezek. 1:1

Name means: “God Will Strengthen.”

Also called: “Son of man,” a term used 93 times in the Book of Ezekiel.

Home: Tel Abib, near the Chebar River in Babylon.

Family: Son of Buzi, probably a priest in the line of Zadok; married to an unnamed woman who died at the beginning of the final siege of Jerusalem (c. 588 B.C.).

Occupation: Priest and prophet.

Best known for: His extraordinary visions that appear at the beginning and end of the Book of Ezekiel. His prophecies, often laden with props and theatricality, were met with stubborn resistance from his original hearers but greatly influenced later readers.

Think About It: Thank God for the ordinary ways He communicates with you: through the Bible (including the Book of Ezekiel), through peace, through conviction of what to do and not to do, and through deep-seated contentment.

Different Callings, Same Purpose

Ezek. 2:1–5

Few people experience a calling as dramatic as did the prophet Ezekiel (see "The Christian's Calling" at Heb. 3:1). Nevertheless, all Christians experience a calling. God has called all of His followers to serve Him with all of their lives (see "All Christians Are Called, in All of Life" at 1 Sam. 3:1–21). This call impacts every part of our existence—family, identity, faith, relationships, career, even our outlook on the future.

People in the Bible experienced a wide variety of callings. Yet the same God invited them to the same purpose—to devote themselves to Him.

Person	Occupation When Called	Outcome of God's Call
Abraham	Unknown	Left his homeland and relocated to Canaan (Gen. 11:31–12:4; Acts 7:2–5).
Isaac	Wealthy livestock owner	Remained in Canaan, where he carried on his father's faith and work (Gen. 26:2–6).
Jacob	Wealthy livestock owner	Lived with the hope that the God of his father and grandfather would bring him back to Canaan (Gen. 28:12–29:1; 33:18–20).
Moses	Adopted son of the royal family of Egypt; shepherd in Midian	Became the liberator and leader of the Israelites (Ex. 3:1–12; 5:1).
Nehemiah	Cupbearer to	Negotiated with the king to lead a group

	the Persian king Artaxerxes I	of Jews back to Jerusalem to rebuild the city and its walls (Neh. 1:1–2:10).
Esther	Wife of King Ahasuerus of Persia	Intervened to save the Jews, her people, from a genocidal plot (Esth. 4:1–6:10).
Ezekiel	Priest	Became a prophet who spoke God's message to the Jewish exiles in Babylon (Ezek. 2:1–5).
Daniel	A youth deported to Babylon	Became an advisor to kings and a prophet (Dan. 1:19; 7:1).
Jonah	Unknown	After initially running from the Lord, went to Nineveh and warned them of God's judgment, bringing the city to repentance (Jon. 1:1–3; 3:1–10).
Rich Young Ruler	Member of Israel's upper class	Turned from Jesus because he could not part with his possessions (Matt. 19:16–21).
Barnabas	Unknown	Became a friend and mentor to young believers, including Saul (Acts 9:26, 27; 11:25, 26 and John Mark (15:36–39).
Saul	Tentmaker; Pharisee dedicated to persecuting Christians	Served as God's principal spokesman during the latter part of the first century A.D. (Acts 9:15).
Believers in General	Varied	Are brought to salvation and a transformed lifestyle through faith in Christ (Rom. 1:6, 7; 8:28–30; 12:1, 2).

Parables Performed

Ezek. 4:1

During the years of his prophetic ministry, Ezekiel acted out numerous symbolic dramas to communicate his message.

Drama	Significance
Laid siege to a clay tablet (Ezek. 4:1–3).	Symbolized the Babylonians' impending siege of Jerusalem.
Lay on his left side for 390 days and on his right side for 40 days (Ezek. 4:4–8).	Represented the number of years that Israel and Judah would endure God's judgment.
Ate bread cooked over unclean fuel (Ezek. 4:9–16).	Symbolized the dispersion of the Jews among the Gentiles as well as famine conditions during the siege of Jerusalem.
Shaved his head, weighed the hair, and disposed of it in various ways (Ezek. 5:1–4).	Symbolized the suffering of Jerusalem's inhabitants (Ezek. 5:11, 12).
Dug a tunnel and prepared for flight (Ezek. 12:1–16).	Represented the breach of Jerusalem's walls, the capture of King Zedekiah, and the exile of survivors to Babylon.
Ate and drank with trembling (Ezek. 12:1–16).	Signified the dread that would fall on Judah.
Sighed loudly (Ezek. 21:6, 7).	Signified news of the Lord's impending judgment.
Erected a signpost at a fork in a road (Ezek. 21:18–24).	Indicated the two paths that Nebuchadnezzar's army would take to Jerusalem and Ammon.
Refrained from mourning the death of his wife (Ezek. 24:15–24).	Represented the silent grief that the exiles would feel after Jerusalem's fall.
Joined two sticks together (Ezek. 37:15–28).	Symbolized the Jews enjoying a reunited kingdom under God's leadership.

More: Using drama to communicate prophecy is common in Scripture. Symbolic acts were also performed by the prophets Ahijah (1 Kin. 11:29–39), Zedekiah (1 Kin. 22:11), Elisha (2 Kin. 13:15–19), Isaiah (Is. 20:1–6), Jeremiah (Jer. 13:1–14; 19:1–13), and Agabus (Acts 21:10, 11).

Think About It: We like watching drama because it shows us how to do life. What real life drama—the way you treat people in your home, at your workplace, in your community—shows what God is like and why He is a trustworthy guide to life? What misrepresents God?

You Shall Know That I Am the Lord

Ezek. 6:7

The Lord sent Ezekiel with His words to the Judean captives in Babylon (Ezek. 2:1–5; 3:14, 15). The Babylonians had twice invaded Judah in fulfillment of Jeremiah's warnings, yet the exiles still did not grasp why God had allowed these calamities to occur or why they had been deported to Babylon. They still did not understand that the nation's troubles came as a result of their idolatry and other sins against God.

Through Ezekiel, the Lord endeavored to open His people's eyes to this truth. Over a period of at least twenty years, the prophet repeatedly detailed the people's sins and warned of the certainty of God's wrath. Nevertheless, the people remained willfully blind to their condition.

This stubbornness explains why the phrase "You [or they] shall know that I am the LORD" is repeated more than sixty times in the Book of Ezekiel (6:7, 10, 13, 14). These declarations often fall in the middle of a promise of God's wrath: "The slain shall fall" (6:7); "I would bring this calamity" (6:10); "thus will I spend My fury" (6:12); "I will . . . make the land desolate" (6:14).

The choice is ours whether we know the Lord's grace and mercy, or His wrath and fury. We choose with each word, each attitude, and each action whether to honor God or to snub him. We truly can choose how we feel, because when we do rightly, good feelings follow.

Regardless of how we respond, God is determined to be heard. Sooner or later all will know that He is the Lord. Why not know Him in the happier ways?

A Mark of Mercy

Ezek. 9:4

In Ezekiel's vision of Jerusalem, the Lord commanded angels to mark the foreheads of all who quit taking part in "abominations," leaving the rest to be slain. The people's sins—bloodshed and idolatry—were "exceedingly great" (Ezek. 9:9). But all who demonstrated concern for holiness were shown mercy.

This vision recalls the killing of the firstborn in Egypt, when the Hebrews were spared because they had marked their doorposts with blood according to the Lord's command (Ex. 12:1–36). God marked some for mercy even at the height of His judgment.

Amazingly, the mark Ezekiel mentioned is Tau, the last letter of the Hebrew alphabet. Tau is the equivalent of the letter T in the modern English alphabet, but in Jeremiah's day it was written like the English letter X and was often used as a signature (Job 31:35). Early Christians noticed the similarity between Ezekiel's "mark" and the sign of the cross. Both were symbols of God's mercy and sinners' redemption.

The judgment foreseen by Ezekiel demonstrates that even as God executes judgment, He always looks for repentance. Those who resist Him and continue in their willful rebellion can expect His wrath. But those who "sigh and cry" over their sins and the sins of others will know His comfort (Ezek. 9:4; compare James 4:8–10). They can then start anew to create goodness and happiness. Forgiveness requires repentance, but it is available to all.

Parted from His Presence
Ezek. 10:18

Ezekiel 10 draws us in with a spectacular vision of cherubim and wheels within wheels. But the real story in this passage is the Lord's departure from His temple. Given the temple's history and significance, Judah could suffer nothing more tragic.

The temple was the "house of the LORD" designed by David and built by Solomon (2 Chr. 5:1), a place God met in a special way with His people. God blessed the magnificent structure by filling it with His glory and presence (5:14). The temple was revered as a hallowed symbol of God's presence (6:20).

Yet Ezekiel watched God depart from the temple. There is no question why the Lord left. Because the Hebrews had turned the "house of the LORD" into a home of idolatrous abominations, God chose to leave His temple and go "far away" from His people (Ezek. 8:6–17; compare 11:23). Judah's end was at hand.

There is no greater heartbreak than the loss of the Lord's presence (compare Gen. 4:13, 14). Ezekiel's vision appeals to us to repent and not to allow ourselves to be separated by sin from our God. We can make no bigger misstep than driving God away when He longs to bless us with His presence (Heb. 6:4–12).

More: God departed from the temple but did not abandon His people. As He scattered them throughout the world, He assured those who feared Him that He would be a "little sanctuary" for them wherever they went. See "A Little Sanctuary" at Ezek. 11:16. Brother Lawrence, author of The Practice of the Presence of God*, wrote that his soul was in a "habitual, silent, secret conversation with God."*

Stand for Truth

Ezek. 11:2, 3

Ezekiel's listeners deluded themselves with appealing falsities that took on an air of truth. Ezekiel spoke out against these misconceptions just as Peter denounced scoffers who ridiculed the promise of Christ's return (2 Pet. 3:3–13).

Scripture asserts that it is better for God's people to honor His truth than to bend to the shifting winds of public opinion. In the case of Ezekiel, the Bible records four specific examples of God calling the prophet to go against popular thought:

- God told Ezekiel to stand against twenty-five elders of Jerusalem who claimed that the city would never be taken (Ezek. 11:2–4).
- God told Ezekiel to rebuke the people for dismissing his prophecies as forecasts of a distant future rather than Judah's imminent fall (Ezek. 12:26–28).
- God told Ezekiel to denounce false prophets, whose lies were overlooked because of a popular maxim that their words could be ignored since no one lived long enough to see prophecies come to pass (12:21–25; compare Deut. 18:22).
- God told Ezekiel to oppose the claim that the present generation was innocent and that whatever troubles they faced were the fault of past generations (18:2).

Delivering a hard truth means risking that people will discard our message—and they may also reject us as its messengers. But if we go along with others when we know that they are mistaken, we fail to demonstrate God's true love and His love of truth.

More: Sojourner Truth, born Isabella Baumfree, experienced a vision in which God gave her the name Sojourner because she was to travel in spreading the gospel, and He gave her the name Truth because she was to "declare the truth to the people."

A Little Sanctuary

Ezek. 11:16

The captives were far from home. They felt torn from the temple, where God's presence dwelled. Like others the Lord had scattered across the ancient world, they lived with a crushing sense of isolation.

The scattering of God's people was a major theme for the prophet Ezekiel, who repeatedly declared that the Lord would send His people abroad (Ezek. 5:10, 12; 6:8; 11:16; 12:15; 20:23; 21:15; 34:6; 36:19)

Yet wherever these refugees went, the Lord promised to be their "little sanctuary." Furthermore, He vowed to eventually bring them home to Israel (11:17; 20:34, 41; 28:25; 34:13; 36:24; 37:21; 38:8, 12; 39:27).

Wherever God's followers go, God goes with them. The assurance of His presence comforts us when we find ourselves alone among people who neither know nor honor God. Whatever the circumstances around us, we can call on Him. Wherever we go, the Lord is with us.

More: God promised to be a "little sanctuary" for Old Testament followers, but in the New Testament, the Christian is described as a "temple" for God. See "Called Alongside" at John 14:16–18 and read 1 Cor. 6:19, 20.

A Gift of the Exile

Ezek. 14:1

The Babylonian exile became a blessing in disguise by encouraging a form of Judaism that was more mobile, cross-cultural, and well-informed than that which had existed in Judah. The synagogue was a key factor in this development.

In Judah the Lord's people had looked to Jerusalem's temple as the center of their cultural and religious life. But the temple's destruction in 587 B.C. called for new ways of maintaining Jewish identity. Faced with the impossibility of constructing a temple in Babylon, the captives began to meet in local assemblies for worship, education, and political discussion. It was likely leaders from one or more of these groups who came before Ezekiel to inquire of the Lord (Ezek. 14:1; 20:1).

Known to us by their Greek name as synagogues ("gatherings" or "assemblies"), these groups began to assume formal responsibilities as Jewish exile communities vested them with authority. Synagogues were led by laity and could be organized by as few as ten laymen. Synagogues did not continue the animal sacrifices of the temple, but they enabled the people to worship the Lord and gather under a shared identity.

When the Exile ended, the former captives carried the synagogue model back to Judah, where it competed for loyalty with the new temple and its priests. Synagogues also spread to Jewish enclaves throughout the ancient world. The rapid expansion of the Christian faith during the first century was significantly aided by synagogues, which existed almost everywhere the gospel was preached.

The Babylonians had assumed that destroying the temple would extinguish the Jewish faith. But they unintentionally helped spread the faith of Abraham by forcing the development of new methods and structures for religious worship and community. The synagogue was a gift of the Exile.

More: Synagogues were well-established throughout Israel by Jesus' time. See "The Synagogue" at Mark 1:21. The scattering of God's people also resulted in the creation of the Septuagint, the Greek translation of the Old Testament. See "The Septuagint" at Acts 18:24.

Idolatry of the Heart

Ezek. 14:4–8

An idol is more than a figure crafted by human hands as an object of prayer and sacrifice. The Lord defined an idol as anything set up in a way that causes a person to stumble into sin. It is any godless craving or commitment that rules a human heart. It can look perfectly innocent, but be twisted from its original purpose by severing it from God. For example, a romance is good but when that romance is based in anything but both persons honoring God, the romance becomes an idol.

The people of Ezekiel's day served these "idols of the heart" even as they engaged in rituals prescribed by God. They gave themselves to ungodly worship but still expected the prophets to reveal messages from the Lord. God promised to set Himself against these hypocrites, who would become an example to the people of the consequences of sin.

This is a sobering condemnation. It is possible to commit ourselves to beliefs and practices utterly opposed to God yet expect blessings even as we pursue those things. For the Lord to show us favor in our hypocrisy would be a terrible act. We would find ourselves forever ensnared by worthless loyalties rather than liberated to enjoy the genuine goodness of the living God.

Salvation by Proxy

Ezek. 14:14

The people of Ezekiel's day assumed that God would never destroy Jerusalem because a handful of godly residents held back His judgment. Most of the population flaunted God's standards but figured they could evade God's wrath because it would be "unfair" to their righteous neighbors if the entire city fell.

This flawed philosophy ignored individual accountability for sin (Ezek. 33:20) and failed to recognize the ubiquity of evil. Although the presence of ten righteous people might have saved Sodom (Gen. 18:32), a thorough search revealed that Jerusalem contained not a single good person (see "Not One Righteous Person" at Jer. 5:1). Judgment was certain and imminent.

We might count on benefits to come our way because someone close to us loves and follows God—a family member, a friend, a pastor, or a community figure. But it is foolish to count on another person's good deeds and prayers as a substitute for our own faith and obedience. The lives of others make a difference—but only to a point. Eventually we each face God alone.

More: The only Person whose righteousness can substitute for our own is Christ. See "Salvation: Past, Present, and Future" at Rom. 5:6–11.

The Parables of Ezekiel

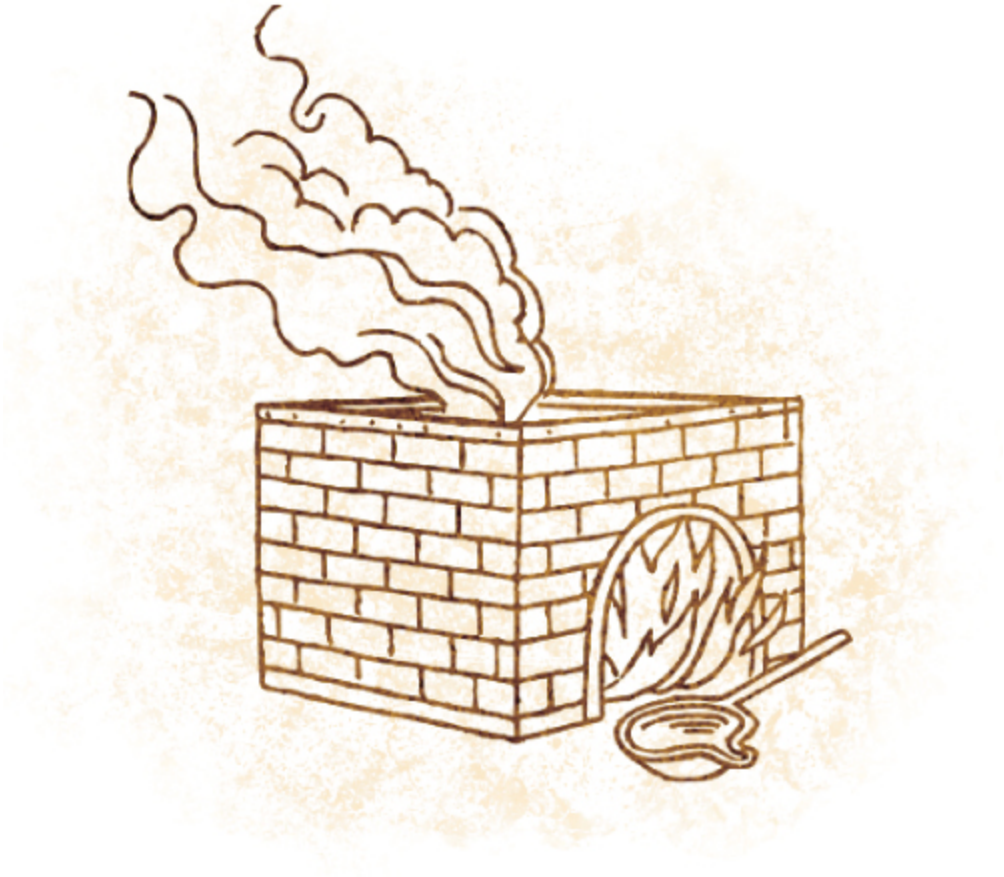
Ezek. 15:1–8

A parable is a truth wrapped in a memorable story or word picture. Jesus delivered much of His teaching through parables (see "The Parables of Jesus" at Luke 8:4), as did several Old Testament prophets, including Ezekiel.

1. The Wood of the Vine (Ezek. 15:1–8)
Symbolized how Judah had become useless and now served no other purpose than to be burned up.

2. The Foundling (ch. 16)
Illustrated the nation’s betrayal of God’s love and compassion.

3. The Eagles and the Cedar (ch. 17)
Illustrated the foolishness of King Zedekiah, whose rebellion invited Nebuchadnezzar’s troops to destroy Jerusalem.



4. The Fiery Furnace (22:17–22)
Foretold that God would purify His people through the siege of Jerusalem.

5. The Two Harlots (ch. 23)
Symbolized the spiritual adultery of Israel and Judah.

6. The Cooking Pot (24:1–14)
Symbolized how God would use the “heat” of hardship to purge Jerusalem of its impurities.

7. The Shipwreck (ch. 27)
Foretold the judgment of Tyre.

8. The Irresponsible Shepherds (ch. 34)

Revealed how God would deal with Jerusalem’s poor leaders.

9. The Dry Bones (ch. 37)
Symbolized the spiritual renewal of Israel.

More: Jeremiah and Zechariah also used parables to communicate their message. See “The Parables of Jeremiah” at Jer. 18:1–10 and “The Parables of Zechariah” at Zech. 5:1–4.

Skeletons in the Closet

Ezek. 16:3

God rebuked the people of Jerusalem and the surrounding country by delivering three symbolic statements that called their proud self-image into question. The Lord said . . .

- They were born to Canaanite parents (Ezek. 16:3). The Lord had commanded the Israelites to drive the idolatrous Canaanites from the Promised Land (see "Abominations: How Not to Act" at Lev. 18:24–30 and "The Gods of the Canaanites" at Deut. 32:39; see also 2 Kin. 17:7–19). The Israelites failed to carry out this charge; instead, they disobeyed the Law by intermarrying with the Canaanites and adopting their idolatrous practices (for example, Judg. 3:5, 6; 1 Chr. 2:3; 1 Kin. 11:1, 5, 7; Ezra 9:1). Thus the Lord reminded Israel of its sins, illustrating their need of forgiveness.
- They were abandoned at birth (Ezek. 16:4, 5). This emotional passage reminded the Israelites of their humble origins. Their patriarch Abraham and his family were outsiders in Canaan (Gen. 23:4; Heb. 11:9–10). His descendants were slaves in Egypt and sojourners in the desert until God gave them a land. Israel was the "least of all peoples" when God called them (Deut. 7:7), and it was God alone who watched over them.
- They were adopted (Ezek. 16:6, 7). In His sovereign grace, the Lord chose the Hebrews to be His people. He revealed Himself to Abraham, a native of the Sumerian city of Ur in southern Mesopotamia, then chose Abraham and his wife Sarah to give birth to a people through whom He would bless "all the families of the earth" (Gen. 12:1–3). All of the Israelites' blessings, from the beginning, had come from the Lord, their adoptive Father.

The Lord raised these issues to challenge His people's self-righteousness and guide them toward humility. We can also find ourselves in these words. We, too, were born outside God's family. We, too, are lost apart from His grace. We, too, have been adopted into God's family. And we, too, need to evaluate whether we live with humility and gratitude, honoring the Lord in thought, word, and deed. To live any other way is to forget that we owe every good thing to God. Only He can sweep away the skeletons in our closets, forgiving yesterday's mistakes and clearing the way for a brighter tomorrow.

Three Sinful Sisters

Ezek. 16:44–47

Just as we say "Like father, like son," the people of Ezekiel's day apparently said "Like mother, like daughter." Ezekiel applied that proverb to Jerusalem, implying that it was born to a Hittite mother and an Amorite father.

Ezekiel did not claim that the Israelites had literally descended from a Canaanite couple; he knew that God's people traced their family line to Abraham and Sarah, who were Arameans (Deut. 26:5, where "Syrian" means Aramean). Ezekiel meant that, because of their extensive idolatry, the Israelites might as well be children of the notoriously idolatrous Canaanites (see "Abominations: How Not to Act" at Lev. 18:24–30).

Ezekiel also linked Jerusalem to two other symbols of sin and idolatry, the cities of Sodom and Samaria. Like these "sisters," Jerusalem tolerated so many evils that it would eventually be destroyed. Sodom (see Sodom and Gomorrah's profile at Gen. 18:20) and her four daughter cities were consumed by brimstone and fire for sins that included sexual immorality (Jude 7) and unjust treatment of the poor in an environment of incredible wealth (Ezek. 16:49). The northern Israelite capital Samaria (see the city's profile at 1 Kin. 16:24) and her daughter cities fell to the Assyrians in 722 B.C. as a reprimand for their entrenched idolatry (2 Kin. 17).

The Judeans who thought that God would overlook their idols were wrong. They had created their downfall. Devastating wrath was coming because Jerusalem had outdone her sinful sister cities in turning to other gods (Ezek. 16:48–52).

We often see ourselves as separate from others who have fallen because of their errors. But we endanger ourselves if we adopt the spiritual attitudes and practices of cultures that disobey, dishonor, or disbelieve God. We might as well be members of the same broken family.

Blaming Parents

Ezek. 18:2

The children of Ezekiel's day had good reason to complain about their parents. They were growing up as exiles in a foreign land because their parents and grandparents had forsaken God. The younger generation had a saying that blamed parents for children's troubles.

God declared that His people should quit talking that way (Ezek. 18:3), explaining at length that sin and righteousness are not inherited. Every person reaps what he or she sows. Each individual is responsible for his or her own choices regarding matters like idolatry (18:6, 12, 15), sexuality (18:6, 11, 15), the use or abuse of money (18:7, 8, 13, 16, 17), and the treatment of the poor (18:7, 12, 16, 17).

Blame for wrongdoing falls to no one but the perpetrator. God warned that those who sin will pay the penalty (18:4, 13, 18), while those who honor Him will be rewarded for their righteousness (18:21–29).

The decisions of our parents do not diminish our own accountability. Even if our families give us a bad start, God calls us to take responsibility for our own lives. Even with a difficult background, we can enjoy the Lord's forgiveness, healing, and righteousness. God delights to give fresh starts.

Life Is Not Fair

Ezek. 18:25

As they reacted to God's declarations about guilt and innocence, Ezekiel's hearers sang a sad song of injustice: "It's not fair!"

Their protest displayed a human tendency to determine right and wrong based on what we personally experience. But our own satisfaction with how we are treated is a limited, subjective standard that can never make life fairer for all. Only God's broader perspective can bring true and ultimate justice.

This principle appears throughout Scripture. People of great faith such as Noah (Gen. 6), Deborah (Judg. 4), and Daniel (Dan. 1) ignored their surrounding culture and conducted themselves according to God's standards. In contrast, the Bible's most colossal moral failures occurred when people lived by their own rules—for example, Korah (Num. 16), Samson (Judg. 13–16), and Jezebel (1 Kin. 19, 21).

Every person answers to God for his or her response to the Lord's absolute standards. Ezekiel offered three possibilities:

- A person lives righteously and serves others justly (Ezek. 18:5–9). Not many people in Judah fit that description, but the nation could look back on recent righteous figures such as King Hezekiah (2 Chr. 29:1, 2) and the prophetess Huldah (34:21, 22).
- A person is born to righteous parents but grows up to pursue evil (Ezek. 18:10–13). Many Judeans fit that category, including Hezekiah's son Manasseh (2 Chr. 33:1, 2) and Josiah's son Jehoahaz (2 Kin. 23:31, 32).
- A person is born to wicked parents but grows up to live righteously (Ezek. 18:14–18). Few people matched that description, but Manasseh's grandson Josiah is one impressive example (2 Chr. 34:1, 2).

When we focus on the negative experiences, life will always feel unfair. But if we are genuinely concerned with justice, then we will work for it for others as well as for ourselves. We will also submit to God's objective and absolute standards.

We see these standards in action when principled judges run honest courtrooms, unbiased referees apply rules impartially, and even-handed regulators ensure that all businesses abide by the law. In a far more perfect way, God has established absolute standards of justice and love. By living according to His commands, we pursue justice for all people.

Our Conduct Puts God's Reputation at Stake

Ezek. 20:9

Aside from what the Lord revealed in Scripture and through the life and work of Jesus Christ, His primary way of making Himself known is through men and women who live committed to Him and His commands. They are the light of the world, and their good works shine the way to the Lord (Matt. 5:14–16)—which means that our conduct puts God's reputation at stake.

The Lord made a covenant with Israel to be His people (Ezek. 20:5, 6). Yet even before the escaped slaves arrived at the Promised Land, they went back on their commitment and worshiped idols they had served in Egypt—not once, but on three occasions. The Lord threatened to pour out His fury (20:8, 13, 21), but He spared them for one reason: He wanted the world's nations to know who He is (20:9, 14, 22).

If Israel were destroyed, the nations would lose a crucial witness to the living God. Moses pointed this out at Mount Sinai, when the Lord wanted to destroy the idol-loving Israelites and make Moses the father of a new nation. Moses argued that the Egyptians and other nations would misinterpret God's purpose for leading the people out of Egypt (Ex. 32:9–14).

We should scrutinize our own reputations and ask ourselves whether our lifestyles make us faithful witnesses for God. Do our actions attract people to Him? Are our lives appealing? Are we caring, honest, and chock-full of integrity? Is God honored by the things we do and say?

More: If our actions keep others from God, we need to repent before attempting to evangelize others in any significant way. See "Repentance and Evangelism" at Jer. 3:17. Daniel Defoe explored the poignant experience of true repentance in his novel Robinson Crusoe.

Faith in Context

Ezek. 22:15

The Bible presents an extensive range of people who faced widely varying circumstances. Each had opportunity to respond well to God in those very different circumstances. They showed that no matter the need we can exercise faith, or deny it, in ways that fit who and where we are.

Ezekiel ministered in a foreign land among exiles who were prisoners of war. Faith had to take into account the sobering reality that God had judged them and scattered them from Judah. Just as they had to discern how to live for God in their unique setting, other people in Scripture were compelled to find distinctive ways to live out their faith:

- Agrarian settlers. God placed the Bible's first family—Adam and Eve and their sons—in the Garden of Eden and gave them responsibility to manage it (Gen. 2:15). The family later relocated but remained farmers (3:23–4:2). Note that after Adam and Eve's sin, God came to them while "walking in the garden" (3:8).
- Nomadic herders. The Bible's early chapters suggest that Abraham and Sarah, Isaac and Rebekah, and Jacob and Rachel were all livestock owners who moved frequently. Their dealings with God often took place on the way to and from temporary settlements (13:14; 26:1, 2; 28:10–12).
- Oppressed slaves. The faith of the Hebrews in Egypt was marked by cries for justice and deliverance (Ex. 3:7). It involved finding ways to survive and overcome tyranny, including civil disobedience (1:15–21).
- Wandering refugees. After escaping from Egypt, the Israelites spent forty years traveling through the Sinai Desert. Issues of survival and community surfaced as the community developed into an organized society. The stress of the journey produced tests of faith, some of which the people failed.
- Citizens of a powerful empire. Under David and Solomon, Israel became an international power in politics and trade. Government and commercial systems were established more officially than under the judges. The nation's religious life became formalized as a temple was built and staffed.

- Citizens of a nation in conflict. Israel's split into northern and southern kingdoms was more than political. It tore at the nation's faith. Idolatry became even more widespread, and prophets became prominent. Faith directly impacted international relations as Egypt, Assyria, and Babylonia dominated the Middle East.
- Displaced settlers. After Assyria overran Israel and Babylon conquered Judah, most survivors were deported east to southern Mesopotamia. Ezekiel prophesied to a group of these displaced settlers. Many stories of faith that emerge from this context are of minority Jews working their way into influential positions in the majority culture—Nehemiah, Esther, and Daniel, for example.
- Angry inhabitants of an occupied territory. In the Gospels we see Israel occupied by the Romans and the people exhibiting all the marks of an angry populace under military control: political factions and infighting, class warfare, ethnic hostility, and a constant fever of insurrection. When Jesus came along with His claim of Messiahship, the people wondered if He would liberate them from the Romans. Jesus' teaching pointed to a new way of dealing with conflict—love instead of violence, prayer instead of curses—and a new measure for spirituality—the spirit of the Law, not just its letter.
- A persecuted movement. The early church suffered intense persecution almost from its beginning. The situation was complicated as the movement spread beyond Palestine. Key themes of faith under these circumstances were suffering, community, prayer, and qualifications for membership in the movement.
- Urban dwellers. An additional context for many, if not most, first-century followers of Jesus was their life in the city. Faith had to handle questions of business and trade, law, money, taxes, ethnic and racial differences, authority, and other issues common to cities everywhere. New Testament Christianity thrived in this urban context (see "Churches Unlock Communities" at Acts 11:22).

Each of these contexts remains a challenge in the modern world, and people of faith are found in each. Considering settings where God's people live trains us to appreciate our differences—the various ways to live out loyalty to God. Yet no matter where we find ourselves, our one Lord will equip us to live the one faith.

The Go-Between

Ezek. 22:30

The Lord was looking for a strong and righteous person to lead His people out of trouble. But as He surveyed Judah and listed His people's sins, He told Ezekiel that He had searched in vain for someone who could "stand in the gap" between the people's guilt and His righteous wrath. He found no worthy go-between.

The Lord's search recalls Jeremiah's futile attempt to locate even one righteous person whose presence would save Jerusalem (see "Not One Righteous Person" at Jer. 5:1). There was not a single individual who was not guilty of abandoning God's ways.

Ultimately, only Christ is righteous enough to connect a holy God and sinful humanity (1 Tim. 2:5; Heb. 9:15). Apart from Him, none of us would be free of God's wrath, for all of us have sinned (Rom. 3:21–26). Because Jesus took on Himself the judgment for our sin, we can have unimpeded access to God.

But we can also become go-betweens in this troubled world, standing in the gap to bridge chasms of prejudice and indifference. We can do a great deal to halt evil and inform others of the opportunity to know God through Christ. And we can intercede moment by moment in prayer.

The Boiling City

Ezek. 24:3–5

The Babylonians began a two-year siege of Jerusalem around 588 B.C., with one brief respite. The attack culminated in the fall of the city. Hundreds of miles away in Babylon, the Lord told Ezekiel to tell the people a parable about a pot of stew. Jerusalem was a cauldron full of water, spices, and choice meats, with logs or "fuel bones" blazing underneath.

Some believe that Ezekiel based his parable on a folk song that was sung as food was prepared. The parable began with a recipe for stew. But just as sin made God's people odious and distasteful, scum or rust in the pot spoiled the stew and made it inedible (Ezek. 24:6). The Lord's remedy was to "turn up the heat" (24:9) to make the water evaporate, the meat burn up, the pot red hot, and the scum melt away (24:10, 11). God would thus cleanse the city of impurities. That was what the Babylonian siege accomplished.

If a modern community is relatively healthy, it can stand some heat. But a community perishes if it ignores problems and lets spiritual and moral decline go unchecked. Jerusalem did not survive the heat they created. Our task is to prevent a similar fate for our communities.

Faith as Entertainment

Ezek. 33:30–33

Ezekiel must have had quite a following. When it appeared that the Lord was about to reveal something through him, news of the event raced through the community. His prophecies were like a performance, with his listeners hanging on every word.

But when the show was over, so was the people's interest. They heard Ezekiel's words but did nothing to put them into action. They enjoyed the presentation but ignored the message. Even when they talked as if they exhibited real concern for others, they continued to live for their own interests. Their curiosity about Ezekiel's sermons did not change their lives.

When faith becomes more about entertainment than genuine commitment, we become spectators rather than players, concerned more with What is the latest word from God? than What am I going to do with what God has said? If we only hear the word and never put it into practice, we deceive ourselves (James 1:22).

Self-deception is the worst thing about a faith that exalts entertainment. True conversion and true obedience involve not just expanded knowledge about spiritual things or good feelings toward God, but changed purposes, commitments, and actions. As Jesus pointed out, true love for God means living according to His will (John 14:15, 21, 23, 24).

Lead with Care

Ezek. 34:1, 2

Each of us has a measure of influence. Attend to the way you lead. Ezekiel's prophecy against Israel's leaders pointed out a critical truth: if those led are neglected or suffering, their so-called leader is probably incompetent or evil.

God found that Israel's "shepherds" fed themselves instead of their flock (Ezek. 34:2–8), giving the people nothing but leftovers (34:18, 19). The shepherds not only neglected the most vulnerable—the weak, the sick, the broken, the refugees—they actively exploited them (34:4–6, 21). Removing these leaders was the only remedy (34:9, 10). God Himself would heal the hurting, restore the scattered, and feed His flock (34:11–16).

Centuries later, Jesus prescribed "shepherd leadership" for one of His followers (John 21:15–19). As the Good Shepherd, Jesus modeled this true leadership by laying down His life for His sheep (10:11–17). As we exercise authority at home, work, church, or in community, our task is to put those we lead before ourselves, giving our utmost as we tend to their needs. They are not resources for us to use. They are people with needs for whom we are responsible.

Holiness Is More Than a Place

Ezek. 45:1–5

God called the Israelites at various times in history to dedicate places and people in a way that reminded God's followers that they were His own. Monuments, the tabernacle, the temple, and mountains—along with leaders, priests, and prophets—were designated as holy: consecrated or set apart to God.

This pattern continued in Ezekiel's vision of the new temple. Access to this holy place was highly restricted (Ezek. 44:1–9), and a holy district was to be established in the restored land.

Yet although holiness is often associated with certain places, the call to holy living is never confined to one location or another. All of life is to be holy—good as defined by God—no matter where we are. Ezekiel pinpoints some very practical dimensions of holiness:

- To stop violence and oppression (45:9).
- To cease evictions (45:9).
- To restore honesty in business, using high standards of integrity and trustworthiness (45:10–12).
- To donate part of each business transaction to God, whether a merchant is wealthy or poor (45:13–17).
- To mark life with monthly festivals and celebrations that include everyone (45:18–25).
- To restore a six-day work week and protect the Sabbath, with the prince providing for this observance (46:1–15).
- To be careful with inheritances and boundaries, treating aliens and strangers fairly (46:16–18; 47:13–23).
- To provide an area for ordinary people, for homes and shared space (48:15–20).
- To name each of the commercial centers—the exits or gates of the city—after groups of citizens (48:30–35).
- To name the city itself "THE LORD IS THERE," communicating the true extent of holiness: everything in the city is connected to the Lord (48:35).

We may conduct ourselves with more reverence in certain settings and on certain occasions, but we are neither more nor less holy when we enter or exit a particular place. Reverence matters everywhere. Jesus Christ has already invited us into the Most Holy Place, allowing us to live as His set-apart people in everything we do (Heb. 9:11–15; 10:19–25).

More: The patriarchs believed that wherever God had visited the world, that place had become holy. See "Sacred Space" at Gen. 28:22. John Wesley, founder of the Methodist Church, strived to live a holy lifestyle through spiritual disciplines such as the regular study of Scripture.

The Perfect City

Ezek. 48:30–35

Scripture gives us only the barest glimpses of heaven. But we know with certainty that God will be there and that we will never be separated from Him again. With this bright vision of eternity, Ezekiel's book of prophecy draws to a close.

Just as the apostle John saw the New Jerusalem descend from heaven (Rev. 21), so Ezekiel envisioned the day when the city of God would finally be made perfect and complete in every way. Both prophets saw twelve gates facing the four corners of the earth (Ezek. 48:31–34; Rev. 21:12, 13), an indication of accessibility for everyone. Inscribed with the names of Israel's twelve tribes, the gates suggest inclusion, restoration, and fulfillment of everything that God has promised His covenant people. In John's vision, this image is strengthened by the fact that these gates never shut (Rev. 21:25).

The name of this ideal city is "THE LORD IS THERE." This is a fitting climax not only to the Book of Ezekiel but to John's Revelation and to the Bible itself. It shows that a reversal has occurred. Ezekiel saw the Lord withdraw from His temple because of the people's sinfulness (Ezek. 10:18), but now He has returned to a new temple to live among His people forever. And while fellowship with God was cut off by sin in Eden (Gen. 3:22–24), it becomes permanently accessible in the New Jerusalem (Rev. 21:2, 3).

In this life we may at times feel distant from God. We might question whether He knows who we are. But Scripture assures us that one day we will no longer wonder where God is or how much He loves us. We will dwell with Him, enjoying the fulfillment of His perfect grace, forever.

Daniel is the only prophet known to have lived the vast majority of his life in a pagan society. Probably born in Jerusalem, he was deported to Babylon in 605 B.C., where he was immediately placed in a reeducation program to prepare him to serve in the same government that destroyed Jerusalem. He likely became the most powerful Jew of the Exile and its aftermath, serving at least three kings and two governments in a career that spanned nearly seventy years.

Daniel powerfully models how to live and work among people who do not follow God. Although Christians can be found at every level of our own society, we often do not profoundly influence the people around us. We are often where we should be, but we are not always what we should be.

Daniel lived up to the courage of his convictions. In a thoroughly godless culture, after decades of working at the highest levels of government, he could be accused of nothing worse than continuing to honor his God.

The Book of Daniel comprises two distinct sections. Chapters 1–6 offer historical highlights from the lives of Daniel and three other Jewish captives, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. Chapters 7–12 record visions of future events given to Daniel beginning about 553 B.C.

These prophecies are often seen as a panoramic world history from Daniel's time to the Second Coming, although some argue that his prophecies were fulfilled in the centuries soon after Daniel's lifetime. No matter how we interpret these visions, they point to the fundamental truth that God is Lord of the nations.

Although much of this book refers to Daniel in the third person, he is nevertheless believed to be its author. There is no narration of Daniel's call to be a prophet, but we observe that he had a supernatural ability to interpret dreams and visions (Dan. 1:17; 2:19–23) and that God gave him visions (chs. 7–12). His career gives a time frame for the book of 605 to 539 B.C. Daniel lived almost all of his life in Babylon, but his prophecies are worldwide in scope.

Key Events in Daniel

- Daniel and his three friends refuse to eat the king's food (Dan. 1).
- Daniel interprets Nebuchadnezzar's dream (Dan. 2).
- Daniel's three friends are thrown into a fiery furnace (Dan. 3).
- Nebuchadnezzar is reduced to living like a wild animal (Dan. 4).
- Daniel interprets the writing on the wall (Dan. 5).
- Daniel is protected in a lions' den (Dan. 6).
- Daniel sees visions of the future (Dan. 7–12).

Daniel 1

Daniel and His Friends Obey God

1In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it.

2And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with some of the articles of the house of God, which he carried into the land of Shinar to the house of his god;
and he brought the articles into the treasure house of his
god.

3Then the king instructed Ashpenaz, the master of his eunuchs, to bring some of the children of Israel and some of the king's descendants and some of the nobles,

4young men in whom there was no blemish, but good-looking, gifted in all wisdom, possessing knowledge and quick to understand, who had ability to serve in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the language and literature of the Chaldeans. A Secular Education

5And the king appointed for them a daily provision of the king's delicacies and of the wine which he drank, and three years of training for them, so that at the end of that time they might serve before the king.

6Now from among those of the sons of Judah were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. Daniel

7To them the chief of the eunuchs gave names: he gave Daniel the name Belteshazzar; to Hananiah, Shadrach; to Mishael, Meshach; and to Azariah, Abed-Nego.

8But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's delicacies, nor with the wine which he drank; therefore he requested of the chief of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. Stand for Right

9 Now God had brought Daniel into the favor and goodwill of the chief of the eunuchs.

10 And the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel, “I fear my lord the king, who has appointed your food and drink. For why should he see your faces looking worse than the young men who are your age? Then you would endanger my head before the king.”

11 So Daniel said to the steward[a] whom the chief of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah,

12 “Please test your servants for ten days, and let them give us vegetables to eat and water to drink.

13 “Then let our appearance be examined before you, and the appearance of the young men who eat the portion of the king’s delicacies; and as you see fit, so deal with your servants.”

14 So he consented with them in this matter, and tested them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days their features appeared better and fatter in flesh than all the young men who ate the portion of the king’s delicacies.

16 Thus the steward took away their portion of delicacies and the wine that they were to drink, and gave them vegetables.

17 As for these four young men, God gave them knowledge and skill in all literature and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. Native Talent and Supernatural Ability

18 Now at the end of the days, when the king had said that they should be brought in, the chief of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 Then the king interviewed[b] them, and among them all none was found like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah; therefore they served before the king. Daniel: Advisor to Kings 20 And in all matters of wisdom and understanding about which the king examined them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers who were in all his realm.
21 Thus Daniel continued until the first year of King Cyrus.

Daniel 2

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream

1 Now in the second year of Nebuchadnezzar's reign, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams; and his spirit was so troubled that his sleep left him.
2 Then the king gave the command to call the magicians, the astrologers, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans to tell the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king. A Kingdom of Sorcerers 3 And the king said to them, "I have had a dream, and my spirit is anxious to know the dream."
4 Then the Chaldeans spoke to the king in Aramaic,[a] "O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will give the interpretation."
5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, "My decision is firm: if you do not make known the dream to me, and its interpretation, you shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made an ash heap.
6 "However, if you tell the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts, rewards, and great honor.
Therefore tell me the dream and its interpretation." 7 They answered again and said, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will give its interpretation." 8 The king answered and said, "I know for certain that you would gain time, because you see that my decision is firm:
9 "if you do not make known the dream to me, there is only one decree for you! For you have agreed to speak lying and corrupt words before me till the time has changed.
Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can give me its interpretation."

10 The Chaldeans answered the king, and said, “There is not a man on earth who can tell the king’s matter;
therefore no king, lord, or ruler has ever asked such things of any magician, astrologer, or Chaldean.
11 “It is a difficult thing that the king requests, and there is no other who can tell it to the king except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.” 12 For this reason the king was angry and very furious, and gave the command to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.
13 So the decree went out, and they began killing the wise men; and they sought Daniel and his companions, to kill
them.

God Reveals Nebuchadnezzar’s Dream

14 Then with counsel and wisdom Daniel answered Arioch, the captain of the king’s guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon;
15 he answered and said to Arioch the king’s captain, “Why is the decree from the king so urgent?” Then Arioch made the decision known to Daniel.
16 So Daniel went in and asked the king to give him time, that he might tell the king the interpretation.
17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the decision known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions, 18 that they might seek mercies from the God of heaven concerning this secret, so that Daniel and his companions might not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.
19 Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a night vision. So Daniel blessed the God of heaven.
20 Daniel answered and said:

“Blessed be the name of God forever and ever,

For wisdom and might are His.
21And He changes the times and the seasons;
He removes kings and raises up kings;
He gives wisdom to the wise
And knowledge to those who have understanding.
22He reveals deep and secret things;
He knows what is in the darkness,
And light dwells with Him.

23"I thank You and praise You,
O God of my fathers;
You have given me wisdom and might,
And have now made known to me what we asked of You,
For You have made known to us the king's demand."

Daniel Explains the Dream

24Therefore Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon. He went and said thus to him: "Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon; take me before the king, and I will tell the king the interpretation."

25Then Arioch quickly brought Daniel before the king, and said thus to him, "I have found a man of the captives[b] of Judah, who will make known to the king the interpretation."

26The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, "Are you able to make known to me the dream which I have seen, and its interpretation?"

27Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, "The secret which the king has demanded, the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, and the soothsayers cannot declare to the king.

28 “But there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets, and He has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter days. Your dream, and the visions of your head upon your bed, were these:

29 “As for you, O king, thoughts came to your mind while on your bed, about what would come to pass after this; and He who reveals secrets has made known to you what will be.

30 “But as for me, this secret has not been revealed to me because I have more wisdom than anyone living, but for our sakes who make known the interpretation to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart.

31 “You, O king, were watching; and behold, a great image! This great image, whose splendor was excellent, stood before you; and its form was awesome.

32 “This image’s head was of fine gold, its chest and arms of silver, its belly and thighs[c] of bronze,

33 “its legs of iron, its feet partly of iron and partly of clay.[d]

34 “You watched while a stone was cut out without hands, which struck the image on its feet of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces.

35 “Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were crushed together, and became like chaff from the summer threshing floors; the wind carried them away so that no trace of them was found. And the stone that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

36 “This is the dream. Now we will tell the interpretation of it before the king.

37 “You, O king, are a king of kings. For the God of heaven has given you a kingdom, power, strength, and glory;

38 “and wherever the children of men dwell, or the beasts of the field and the birds of the heaven, He has given them into your hand, and has made you ruler over them all—you are this head of gold.
39 “But after you shall arise another kingdom inferior to yours; then another, a third kingdom of bronze, which shall rule over all the earth.
40 “And the fourth kingdom shall be as strong as iron, inasmuch as iron breaks in pieces and shatters everything;
and like iron that crushes, that kingdom will break in pieces and crush all the others.
41 “Whereas you saw the feet and toes, partly of potter’s clay and partly of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; yet the strength of the iron shall be in it, just as you saw the iron mixed with ceramic clay.
42 “And as the toes of the feet were partly of iron and partly of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly fragile.
43 “As you saw iron mixed with ceramic clay, they will mingle with the seed of men; but they will not adhere to one another, just as iron does not mix with clay.
44 “And in the days of these kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people; it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.
45 “Inasmuch as you saw that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold—the great God has made known to the king what will come to pass after this. The dream is certain, and its interpretation is sure.”

Daniel and His Friends Promoted

46Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell on his face, prostrate before Daniel, and commanded that they should present an offering and incense to him.
47The king answered Daniel, and said, “Truly your God is the God of gods, the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, since you could reveal this secret.” 48Then the king promoted Daniel and gave him many great gifts; and he made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief administrator over all the wise men of Babylon. Models of Faith in Hostile Societies
49Also Daniel petitioned the king, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego over the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel sat in the gate[e] of the king.

Daniel 3

The Image of Gold

1 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was sixty cubits and its width six cubits. He set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 And King Nebuchadnezzar sent word to gather together the satraps, the administrators, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

3 So the satraps, the administrators, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces gathered together for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then a herald cried aloud: "To you it is commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages,

5 "that at the time you hear the sound of the horn, flute, harp, lyre, and psaltery, in symphony with all kinds of music, you shall fall down and worship the gold image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up;

6 "and whoever does not fall down and worship shall be cast immediately into the midst of a burning fiery furnace."

7 So at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the horn, flute, harp, and lyre, in symphony with all kinds of music, all the people, nations, and languages fell down and worshiped the gold image which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up. Bowing to God Alone

Daniel's Friends Disobey the King

8Therefore at that time certain Chaldeans came forward and accused the Jews.

9They spoke and said to King Nebuchadnezzar, “O king, live forever!

10“You, O king, have made a decree that everyone who hears the sound of the horn, flute, harp, lyre, and psaltery, in symphony with all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the gold image;

11“and whoever does not fall down and worship shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12“There are certain Jews whom you have set over the affairs of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego; these men, O king, have not paid due regard to you. They do not serve your gods or worship the gold image which you have set up.” SHADRACH, MESHACH, AND ABED-NEGO

13Then Nebuchadnezzar, in rage and fury, gave the command to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. So they brought these men before the king.

14Nebuchadnezzar spoke, saying to them, “Is it true, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, that you do not serve my gods or worship the gold image which I have set up?

15“Now if you are ready at the time you hear the sound of the horn, flute, harp, lyre, and psaltery, in symphony with all kinds of music, and you fall down and worship the image which I have made, good! But if you do not worship, you shall be cast immediately into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. And who is the god who will deliver you from my hands?”

16Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego answered and said to the king, “O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter.

17“If that is the case, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and He will deliver us from your hand, O king.

18“But if not, let it be known to you, O king, that we do not serve your gods, nor will we worship the gold image which you have set up.”

Saved in Fiery Trial

19Then Nebuchadnezzar was full of fury, and the expression on his face changed toward Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. He spoke and commanded that they heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated.
20And he commanded certain mighty men of valor who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, and cast them into the burning fiery furnace.
21Then these men were bound in their coats, their trousers, their turbans, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.
22Therefore, because the king’s command was urgent, and the furnace exceedingly hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego.
23And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.
24Then King Nebuchadnezzar was astonished; and he rose in haste and spoke, saying to his counselors, “Did we not cast three men bound into the midst of the fire?” They answered and said to the king, “True, O king.” 25“Look!” he answered, “I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire; and they are not hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God.”[a]

Nebuchadnezzar Praises God

26Then Nebuchadnezzar went near the mouth of the burning fiery furnace and spoke, saying, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, servants of the Most High God, come out, and come here." Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego came from the midst of the fire.

27 And the satraps, administrators, governors, and the king's counselors gathered together, and they saw these men on whose bodies the fire had no power; the hair of their head was not singed nor were their garments affected, and the smell of fire was not on them.

28 Nebuchadnezzar spoke, saying, "Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, who sent His Angel[b] and delivered His servants who trusted in Him, and they have frustrated the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they should not serve nor worship any god except their own God!

29 "Therefore I make a decree that any people, nation, or language which speaks anything amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made an ash heap; because there is no other God who can deliver like this."

30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego in the province of Babylon.

Daniel 4

Nebuchadnezzar's Second Dream

1 Nebuchadnezzar the king,

To all peoples, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth:
Peace be multiplied to you. The Reign of Nebuchadnezzar
2 I thought it good to declare the signs and wonders that the Most High God has worked for me.

> 3 How great are His signs,
> And how mighty His wonders!
> His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
> And His dominion is from generation to generation.

4 I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace.
5 I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me.
6 Therefore I issued a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream.
7 Then the magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers came in, and I told them the dream; but they did not make known to me its interpretation.
8 But at last Daniel came before me (his name is Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god; in him is the Spirit of the Holy God), and I told the dream before him, saying:

9“Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, because I know that the Spirit of the Holy God is in you, and no secret troubles you, explain to me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and its interpretation.

10“These were the visions of my head while on my bed:

I was looking, and behold,
A tree in the midst of the earth,
And its height was great.
11The tree grew and became strong;
Its height reached to the heavens,
And it could be seen to the ends of all the earth.
12Its leaves were lovely,
Its fruit abundant,
And in it was food for all.
The beasts of the field found shade under it,
The birds of the heavens dwelt in its
branches,
And all flesh was fed from it.

13“I saw in the visions of my head while on my bed, and there was a watcher, a holy one, coming down
from heaven.
14He cried aloud and said thus:

‘Chop down the tree and cut off its branches,
Strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit.
Let the beasts get out from under it,
And the birds from its branches.
15Nevertheless leave the stump and roots in
the earth,
Bound with a band of iron and bronze,

In the tender grass of the field.
Let it be wet with the dew of heaven,
And let him graze with the beasts
On the grass of the earth.
16 Let his heart be changed from that of a man,
Let him be given the heart of a beast,
And let seven times[a] pass over him.

17 ‘This decision is by the decree of the watchers,
And the sentence by the word of the holy ones,
In order that the living may know
That the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, Gives it to whomever He will,
And sets over it the lowest of men.’

18 “This dream I, King Nebuchadnezzar, have seen. Now you, Belteshazzar, declare its interpretation, since all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation; but you are able, for the Spirit of the Holy God is in you.”

Daniel Explains the Second Dream

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonished for a time, and his thoughts troubled him. So the king spoke, and said, “Belteshazzar, do not let the dream or its interpretation trouble you.”

Belteshazzar answered and said, “My lord, may the dream concern those who hate you, and its interpretation concern your enemies!
20 The tree that you saw, which grew and became strong, whose height reached to the heavens and which could be seen by all the earth, 21whose leaves were lovely and its fruit abundant, in which was food for all, under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and in whose branches the birds of the heaven had their home—

22it is you, O king, who have grown and become strong; for your greatness has grown and reaches to the heavens, and your dominion to the end of the earth.
23And inasmuch as the king saw a watcher, a holy one, coming down from heaven and saying, ‘Chop down the tree and destroy it, but leave its stump and roots in the earth, bound with a band of iron and bronze in the tender grass of the field; let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let him graze with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him’;
24this is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the Most High, which has come upon my lord the king:
25They shall drive you from men, your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make you eat grass like oxen. They shall wet you with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over you, till you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever He chooses.
26And inasmuch as they gave the command to leave the stump and roots of the tree, your kingdom shall be assured to you, after you come to know that Heaven rules. Heaven Rules
27Therefore, O king, let my advice be acceptable to you; break off your sins by being righteous, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor. Perhaps there may be a lengthening of your prosperity.” God at Work for His People

Nebuchadnezzar's Humiliation

28All this came upon King Nebuchadnezzar.
29At the end of the twelve months he was walking about the royal palace of Babylon.
30The king spoke, saying, "Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for a royal dwelling by my mighty power and for the honor of my majesty?"
31While the word was still in the king's mouth, a voice fell from heaven: "King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken: the kingdom has departed from you!
32And they shall drive you from men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field. They shall make you eat grass like oxen; and seven times shall pass over you, until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever
He chooses."
33That very hour the word was fulfilled concerning Nebuchadnezzar; he was driven from men and ate grass like oxen; his body was wet with the dew of heaven till his hair had grown like eagles' feathers and his nails like birds' claws.

Nebuchadnezzar Praises God

34And at the end of the time[b] I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted my eyes to heaven, and my understanding returned to me; and I blessed the Most High and praised and honored Him who lives forever:

> For His dominion is an everlasting dominion,
> And His kingdom is from generation to > generation.
> 35All the inhabitants of the earth are reputed > as nothing;

He does according to His will in the army of heaven
And among the inhabitants of the earth.
No one can restrain His hand
Or say to Him, “What have You done?”

36At the same time my reason returned to me, and for the glory of my kingdom, my honor and splendor returned to me. My counselors and nobles resorted to me, I was restored to my kingdom, and excellent majesty was added to me.
37Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven, all of whose works are truth, and His ways justice. And those who walk in pride He is able to put down.

Daniel 5

Belshazzar's Feast

1 Belshazzar the king made a great feast for a thousand of his lords, and drank wine in the presence of the thousand.
2 While he tasted the wine, Belshazzar gave the command to bring the gold and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple which had been in Jerusalem, that the king and his lords, his wives, and his concubines might drink from them.
3 Then they brought the gold vessels that had been taken from the temple of the house of God which had been in Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives, and his concubines drank from them.
4 They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold and silver, bronze and iron, wood and stone.
5 In the same hour the fingers of a man's hand appeared and wrote opposite the lampstand on the plaster of the wall of the king's palace; and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.
6 Then the king's countenance changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his hips were loosened and his knees knocked against each other.
7 The king cried aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. The king spoke, saying to the wise men of Babylon, "Whoever reads this writing, and tells me its interpretation, shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold around his neck; and he shall be the third ruler in the kingdom." Third-in-Command 8 Now all the king's wise men came, but they could not read the writing, or make known to the king its interpretation.

9 Then King Belshazzar was greatly troubled, his countenance was changed, and his lords were astonished.
10 The queen, because of the words of the king and his lords, came to the banquet hall. The queen spoke, saying, “O king, live forever! Do not let your thoughts trouble you, nor let your countenance change.
11 “There is a man in your kingdom in whom is the Spirit of the Holy God. And in the days of your father, light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him; and King Nebuchadnezzar your father—your father the king—made him chief of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers. Government Employees in the Bible 12 “Inasmuch as an excellent spirit, knowledge, understanding, interpreting dreams, solving riddles, and explaining enigmas[a] were found in this Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar, now let Daniel be called, and he will give the interpretation.”

The Writing on the Wall Explained

13 Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king spoke, and said to Daniel, “Are you that Daniel who is one of the captives[b] from Judah, whom my father the king brought from Judah?
14 “I have heard of you, that the Spirit of God is in you, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom are found in you.
15 “Now the wise men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing and make known to me its interpretation, but they could not give the interpretation of the thing.
16 “And I have heard of you, that you can give interpretations and explain enigmas. Now if you can read the writing and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold around your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.”

17Then Daniel answered, and said before the king, “Let your gifts be for yourself, and give your rewards to another; yet I will read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18“O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father a kingdom and majesty, glory and honor.

19“And because of the majesty that He gave him, all peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. Whomever he wished, he executed; whomever he wished, he kept alive; whomever he wished, he set up; and whomever he wished, he put down.

20“But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him.

21“Then he was driven from the sons of men, his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys. They fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till he knew that the Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and appoints over it whomever He chooses.

22“But you his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, although you knew all this.

23“And you have lifted yourself up against the Lord of heaven. They have brought the vessels of His house before you, and you and your lords, your wives and your concubines, have drunk wine from them. And you have praised the gods of silver and gold, bronze and iron, wood and stone, which do not see or hear or know; and the God who holds your breath in His hand and owns all your ways, you have not glorified. A Competition of Gods

24 “Then the fingers[c] of the hand were sent from Him, and this writing was written.
25 “And this is the inscription that was written:

MENE,[d] MENE, TEKEL,[e] UPHARSIN.[f]

26 “This is the interpretation of each word. MENE: God has numbered your kingdom, and finished it; 27 “TEKEL: You have been weighed in the balances, and found wanting;
28 “PERES: Your kingdom has been divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.”[g]
29 Then Belshazzar gave the command, and they clothed Daniel with purple and put a chain of gold around his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

Belshazzar’s Fall

30 That very night Belshazzar, king of the Chaldeans, was slain.
31 And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about sixty-two years old. Darius the Mede

Daniel 6

The Plot Against Daniel

1It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom one hundred and twenty satraps, to be over the whole kingdom; Integrity Incites Jealousy, and Respect

2and over these, three governors, of whom Daniel was one, that the satraps might give account to them, so that the king would suffer no loss.

3Then this Daniel distinguished himself above the governors and satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king gave thought to setting him over the whole realm.

4So the governors and satraps sought to find some charge against Daniel concerning the kingdom; but they could find no charge or fault, because he was faithful; nor was there any error or fault found in him.

5Then these men said, “We shall not find any charge against this Daniel unless we find it against him concerning the law of his God.”

6So these governors and satraps thronged before the king, and said thus to him: “King Darius, live forever!

7“All the governors of the kingdom, the administrators and satraps, the counselors and advisors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute and to make a firm decree, that whoever petitions any god or man for thirty days, except you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions.

8“Now, O king, establish the decree and sign the writing, so that it cannot be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which does not alter.”

9Therefore King Darius signed the written decree.

Daniel in the Lions' Den

10 Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went home. And in his upper room, with his windows open toward Jerusalem, he knelt down on his knees three times that day, and prayed and gave thanks before his God, as was his custom since early days.

11 Then these men assembled and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 And they went before the king, and spoke concerning the king's decree: "Have you not signed a decree that every man who petitions any god or man within thirty days, except you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?" The king answered and said, "The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which does not alter."

13 So they answered and said before the king, "That Daniel, who is one of the captives[a] from Judah, does not show due regard for you, O king, or for the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day."

14 And the king, when he heard these words, was greatly displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he labored till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 Then these men approached the king, and said to the king, "Know, O king, that it is the law of the Medes and Persians that no decree or statute which the king establishes may be changed."

16 So the king gave the command, and they brought Daniel and cast him into the den of lions. But the king spoke, saying to Daniel, "Your God, whom you serve continually, He will deliver you."

17 Then a stone was brought and laid on the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet ring and with the signets of his lords, that the purpose concerning Daniel might not be changed.

Daniel Saved from the Lions

18Now the king went to his palace and spent the night fasting; and no musicians[b] were brought before him. Also his sleep went from him.

19Then the king arose very early in the morning and went in haste to the den of lions.

20And when he came to the den, he cried out with a lamenting voice to Daniel. The king spoke, saying to Daniel, “Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been able to deliver you from the lions?”

21Then Daniel said to the king, “O king, live forever!

22“My God sent His angel and shut the lions’ mouths, so that they have not hurt me, because I was found innocent before Him; and also, O king, I have done no wrong before you.”

23Now the king was exceedingly glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no injury whatever was found on him, because he believed in his God.

Darius Honors God

24And the king gave the command, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions—them, their children, and their wives; and the lions overpowered them, and broke all their bones in pieces before they ever came to the bottom of the den.

25Then King Darius wrote:

> To all peoples, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth:
> Peace be multiplied to you.
> 26I make a decree that in every dominion of my kingdom men must tremble and fear before the God of

Daniel.

For He is the living God,
And steadfast forever;
His kingdom is the one which shall not be destroyed,
And His dominion shall endure to the end.
27 He delivers and rescues,
And He works signs and wonders
In heaven and on earth,
Who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

Daniel 7

Vision of the Four Beasts

1 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head while on his bed. Then he wrote down the dream, telling the main facts.[a]

2 Daniel spoke, saying, “I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of heaven were stirring up the Great Sea.

3 “And four great beasts came up from the sea, each different from the other.

4 “The first was like a lion, and had eagle’s wings. I watched till its wings were plucked off; and it was lifted up from the earth and made to stand on two feet like a man, and a man’s heart was given to it.

5 “And suddenly another beast, a second, like a bear. It was raised up on one side, and had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. And they said thus to it: ‘Arise, devour much flesh!’

6 “After this I looked, and there was another, like a leopard, which had on its back four wings of a bird. The beast also had four heads, and dominion was given to it.

7 “After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, exceedingly strong. It had huge iron teeth; it was devouring, breaking in pieces, and trampling the residue with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns.

8 “I was considering the horns, and there was another horn, a little one, coming up among them, before whom three of the first horns were plucked out by the roots. And there, in this horn, were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking pompous words.

Vision of the Ancient of Days

9 “I watched till thrones were put in place,
And the Ancient of Days was seated;
His garment was white as snow,
And the hair of His head was like pure wool.
His throne was a fiery flame,
Its wheels a burning fire;
10 A fiery stream issued
And came forth from before Him.
A thousand thousands ministered to Him;
Ten thousand times ten thousand stood before Him.
The court[b] was seated,
And the books were opened.

11 “I watched then because of the sound of the pompous words which the horn was speaking; I watched till the beast was slain, and its body destroyed and given to the burning flame.

12 “As for the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away, yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time.

13 “I was watching in the night visions,
And behold, One like the Son of Man,
Coming with the clouds of heaven!
He came to the Ancient of Days,
And they brought Him near before Him.
14 Then to Him was given dominion and glory and a kingdom,
That all peoples, nations, and languages should serve Him.
His dominion is an everlasting dominion,
Which shall not pass away,
And His kingdom the one

Which shall not be destroyed.

Daniel's Visions Interpreted

15 "I, Daniel, was grieved in my spirit within my body, and the visions of my head troubled me.
16 "I came near to one of those who stood by, and asked him the truth of all this. So he told me and made known to me the interpretation of these things:
17 'Those great beasts, which are four, are four kings[c] which arise out of the earth.
18 'But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom forever, even forever and ever.'
19 "Then I wished to know the truth about the fourth beast, which was different from all the others, exceedingly dreadful, with its teeth of iron and its nails of bronze, which devoured, broke in pieces, and trampled the residue with its feet;
20 "and the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn which came up, before which three fell, namely, that horn which had eyes and a mouth which spoke pompous words, whose appearance was greater than his fellows.
21 "I was watching; and the same horn was making war against the saints, and prevailing against them, 22 "until the Ancient of Days came, and a judgment was made in favor of the saints of the Most High, and the time came for the saints to possess the kingdom.
23 "Thus he said:

'The fourth beast shall be
A fourth kingdom on earth,
Which shall be different from all other kingdoms,
And shall devour the whole earth,

Trample it and break it in pieces.
24 The ten horns are ten kings
Who shall arise from this kingdom.
And another shall rise after them;
He shall be different from the first ones,
And shall subdue three kings.
25 He shall speak pompous words against the Most High,
Shall persecute[d] the saints of the Most High,
And shall intend to change times and law.
Then the saints shall be given into his hand
For a time and times and half a time.

26 'But the court shall be seated,
And they shall take away his dominion,
To consume and destroy it forever.
27 Then the kingdom and dominion,
And the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven,
Shall be given to the people, the saints of the Most High.
His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
And all dominions shall serve and obey Him.'

28 "This is the end of the account.[e] As for me, Daniel, my thoughts greatly troubled me, and my countenance changed; but I kept the matter in my heart."

Daniel 8

Vision of a Ram and a Goat

1 In the third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a vision appeared to me—to me, Daniel—after the one that appeared to me the first time.
2 I saw in the vision, and it so happened while I was looking, that I was in Shushan, the citadel, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision that I was by the River Ulai.
3 Then I lifted my eyes and saw, and there, standing beside the river, was a ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other,
and the higher one came up last.
4 I saw the ram pushing westward, northward, and southward, so that no animal could withstand him; nor was there any that could deliver from his hand, but he did according to his will and became great.
5 And as I was considering, suddenly a male goat came from the west, across the surface of the whole earth, without touching the ground; and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.
6 Then he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing beside the river, and ran at him with furious power.
7 And I saw him confronting the ram; he was moved with rage against him, attacked the ram, and broke his two horns. There was no power in the ram to withstand him, but he cast him down to the ground and trampled him; and there was no one that could deliver the ram from his hand.
8 Therefore the male goat grew very great; but when he became strong, the large horn was broken, and in place of it four notable ones came up toward the four winds of heaven.

9And out of one of them came a little horn which grew exceedingly great toward the south, toward the east, and toward the Glorious Land.

10And it grew up to the host of heaven; and it cast down some of the host and some of the stars to the ground, and trampled them.

11He even exalted himself as high as the Prince of the host; and by him the daily sacrifices were taken away, and the place of His sanctuary was cast down.

12Because of transgression, an army was given over to the horn to oppose the daily sacrifices; and he cast truth down to the ground. He did all this and prospered.

13Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to that certain one who was speaking, "How long will the vision be, concerning the daily sacrifices and the transgression of desolation, the giving of both the sanctuary and the host to be trampled underfoot?"

14And he said to me, "For two thousand three hundred days;[a] then the sanctuary shall be cleansed."

Gabriel Interprets the Vision

15Then it happened, when I, Daniel, had seen the vision and was seeking the meaning, that suddenly there stood before me one having the appearance of a man.

16And I heard a man's voice between the banks of the Ulai, who called, and said, "Gabriel, make this man understand the vision."

17So he came near where I stood, and when he came I was afraid and fell on my face; but he said to me, "Understand, son of man, that the vision refers to the time of the end."

18 Now, as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep with my face to the ground; but he touched me, and stood me upright.
19 And he said, “Look, I am making known to you what shall happen in the latter time of the indignation; for at the appointed time the end shall be.
20 “The ram which you saw, having the two horns—they are the kings of Media and Persia.
21 “And the male goat is the kingdom[b] of Greece. The large horn that is between its eyes is the first king.
22 “As for the broken horn and the four that stood up in its place, four kingdoms shall arise out of that nation, but not with its power.

23 “And in the latter time of their kingdom,
When the transgressors have reached their fullness,
A king shall arise,
Having fierce features,
Who understands sinister schemes.
24 His power shall be mighty, but not by his own power;
He shall destroy fearfully,
And shall prosper and thrive;
He shall destroy the mighty, and also the holy people.

25 “Through his cunning
He shall cause deceit to prosper under his rule;[c]
And he shall exalt himself in his heart.
He shall destroy many in their prosperity.
He shall even rise against the Prince of princes;

But he shall be broken without human means.[d]

26 “And the vision of the evenings and mornings
Which was told is true;
Therefore seal up the vision,
For it refers to many days in the future.”

27 And I, Daniel, fainted and was sick for days; afterward I arose and went about the king’s business. I was astonished by the vision, but no one understood it.

Daniel 9

Daniel's Prayer for the People

1In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the lineage of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans— Understanding Prophecy

2in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood by the books the number of the years specified by the word of the LORD through Jeremiah the prophet, that He would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

3Then I set my face toward the Lord God to make request by prayer and supplications, with fasting, sackcloth, and ashes.

4And I prayed to the LORD my God, and made confession, and said, "O Lord, great and awesome God, who keeps His covenant and mercy with those who love Him, and with those who keep His commandments,

5"we have sinned and committed iniquity, we have done wickedly and rebelled, even by departing from Your precepts and Your judgments.

6"Neither have we heeded Your servants the prophets, who spoke in Your name to our kings and our princes, to our fathers and all the people of the land.

7"O Lord, righteousness belongs to You, but to us shame of face, as it is this day—to the men of Judah, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and all Israel, those near and those far off in all the countries to which You have driven them, because of the unfaithfulness which they have committed against You.

8"O Lord, to us belongs shame of face, to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, because we have sinned against You.

9“To the Lord our God belong mercy and forgiveness, though we have rebelled against Him.
10“We have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in His laws, which He set before us by His servants
the prophets.
11“Yes, all Israel has transgressed Your law, and has departed so as not to obey Your voice; therefore the curse and the oath written in the Law of Moses the servant of God have been poured out on us, because we have sinned against Him.
12“And He has confirmed His words, which He spoke against us and against our judges who judged us, by bringing upon us a great disaster; for under the whole heaven such has never been done as what has been done to Jerusalem.
13“As it is written in the Law of Moses, all this disaster has come upon us; yet we have not made our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities and understand Your truth.
14“Therefore the LORD has kept the disaster in mind, and brought it upon us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all the works which He does, though we have not obeyed His voice.
15“And now, O Lord our God, who brought Your people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and made Yourself a name, as it is this day—we have sinned, we have done wickedly!
16“O Lord, according to all Your righteousness, I pray, let Your anger and Your fury be turned away from Your city Jerusalem, Your holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Your people are a reproach to all those around us.
17“Now therefore, our God, hear the prayer of Your servant, and his supplications, and for the Lord’s sake cause Your face to shine on Your sanctuary, which is desolate.

18 “O my God, incline Your ear and hear; open Your eyes and see our desolations, and the city which is called by Your name; for we do not present our supplications before You because of our righteous deeds, but because of Your great mercies.

19 “O Lord, hear! O Lord, forgive! O Lord, listen and act! Do not delay for Your own sake, my God, for Your city and Your people are called by Your name.”

The Seventy-Weeks Prophecy

20 Now while I was speaking, praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God,

21 yes, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, reached me about the time of the evening offering.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, “O Daniel, I have now come forth to give you skill to understand.

23 “At the beginning of your supplications the command went out, and I have come to tell you, for you are greatly beloved; therefore consider the matter, and understand the vision:

24 “Seventy weeks[a] are determined
For your people and for your holy city,
To finish the transgression,
To make an end of[b] sins,
To make reconciliation for iniquity,
To bring in everlasting righteousness,

To seal up vision and prophecy,
And to anoint the Most Holy. Daniel's Prayer Patterns

25 "Know therefore and understand,
That from the going forth of the command
To restore and build Jerusalem
Until Messiah the Prince,
There shall be seven weeks and sixty-two weeks;
The street[c] shall be built again, and the wall,[d]
Even in troublesome times.

26 "And after the sixty-two weeks
Messiah shall be cut off, but not for Himself;
And the people of the prince who is to come Shall destroy the city and the sanctuary.
The end of it shall be with a flood,
And till the end of the war desolations are determined.
27 Then he shall confirm a covenant with many for one week;
But in the middle of the week
He shall bring an end to sacrifice and offering.
And on the wing of abominations shall be one who makes desolate,
Even until the consummation, which is determined,
Is poured out on the desolate."

Daniel 10

Vision of the Glorious Man

1 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a message was revealed to Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar.
The message was true, but the appointed time was long;[a] and he understood the message, and had understanding of the vision.

2 In those days I, Daniel, was mourning three full weeks.

3 I ate no pleasant food, no meat or wine came into my mouth, nor did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 Now on the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, that is, the Tigris,[b]

5 I lifted my eyes and looked, and behold, a certain man clothed in linen, whose waist was girded with gold of Uphaz!

6 His body was like beryl, his face like the appearance of lightning, his eyes like torches of fire, his arms and feet like burnished bronze in color, and the sound of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I, Daniel, alone saw the vision, for the men who were with me did not see the vision; but a great terror fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone when I saw this great vision, and no strength remained in me; for my vigor was turned to frailty in me, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet I heard the sound of his words; and while I heard the sound of his words I was in a deep sleep on my face, with my face to the ground.

Prophecies Concerning Persia and Greece

10Suddenly, a hand touched me, which made me tremble on my knees and on the palms of my hands.

11And he said to me, “O Daniel, man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak to you, and stand upright, for I have now been sent to you.” While he was speaking this word to me, I stood trembling.

12Then he said to me, “Do not fear, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your heart to understand, and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard; and I have come because of your words.

13“But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; and behold, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, for I had been left alone there with the kings of Persia.

14“Now I have come to make you understand what will happen to your people in the latter days, for the vision refers to many days yet to come.”

15When he had spoken such words to me, I turned my face toward the ground and became speechless.

16And suddenly, one having the likeness of the sons[c] of men touched my lips; then I opened my mouth and spoke, saying to him who stood before me, “My lord, because of the vision my sorrows have overwhelmed me, and I have retained no strength.

17“For how can this servant of my lord talk with you, my lord? As for me, no strength remains in me now, nor is any breath left in me.”

18Then again, the one having the likeness of a man touched me and strengthened me.

19And he said, “O man greatly beloved, fear not! Peace be to you; be strong, yes, be strong!” So when he spoke to me I was strengthened, and said, “Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me.”

[20]Then he said, “Do you know why I have come to you? And now I must return to fight with the prince of Persia; and when I have gone forth, indeed the prince of Greece will come.

[21]“But I will tell you what is noted in the Scripture of Truth. (No one upholds me against these, except Michael your prince.

Daniel 11

1 “Also in the first year of Darius the Mede, I, even I, stood up to confirm and strengthen him.) 2 “And now I will tell you the truth: Behold, three more kings will arise in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer than them all; by his strength, through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece.
3 “Then a mighty king shall arise, who shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.
4 “And when he has arisen, his kingdom shall be broken up and divided toward the four winds of heaven, but not among his posterity nor according to his dominion with which he ruled; for his kingdom shall be uprooted, even for others besides these.

Warring Kings of North and South

5 “Also the king of the South shall become strong, as well as one of his princes; and he shall gain power over him and have dominion. His dominion shall be a great dominion.
6 “And at the end of some years they shall join forces, for the daughter of the king of the South shall go to the king of the North to make an agreement; but she shall not retain the power of her authority,[a] and neither he nor his authority[b] shall stand; but she shall be given up, with those who brought her, and with him who begot her, and with him who strengthened her in those times.
7 “But from a branch of her roots one shall arise in his place, who shall come with an army, enter the fortress of the king of the North, and deal with them and prevail.
8 “And he shall also carry their gods captive to Egypt, with their princes[c] and their precious articles of silver and gold;

and he shall continue more years than the king of the North.

9 “Also the king of the North shall come to the kingdom of the king of the South, but shall return to his own land.

10 “However his sons shall stir up strife, and assemble a multitude of great forces; and one shall certainly come and overwhelm and pass through; then he shall return to his fortress and stir up strife.

11 “And the king of the South shall be moved with rage, and go out and fight with him, with the king of the North, who shall muster a great multitude; but the multitude shall be given into the hand of his enemy.

12 “When he has taken away the multitude, his heart will be lifted up; and he will cast down tens of thousands, but he will not prevail.

13 “For the king of the North will return and muster a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come at the end of some years with a great army and much equipment.

14 “Now in those times many shall rise up against the king of the South. Also, violent men[d] of your people shall exalt themselves in fulfillment of the vision, but they shall fall.

15 “So the king of the North shall come and build a siege mound, and take a fortified city; and the forces[e] of the South shall not withstand him. Even his choice troops shall have no strength to resist.

16 “But he who comes against him shall do according to his own will, and no one shall stand against him. He shall stand in the Glorious Land with destruction in his power.[f]

17 “He shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones[g] with him; thus shall he do. And he shall give him the daughter of women to destroy it; but she shall not stand with him, or be for him.

18 “After this he shall turn his face to the coastlands, and shall take many. But a ruler shall bring the reproach against them to an end; and with the reproach removed, he shall turn back on him.
19 “Then he shall turn his face toward the fortress of his own land; but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.
20 “There shall arise in his place one who imposes taxes on the glorious kingdom; but within a few days he shall be destroyed, but not in anger or in battle.
21 “And in his place shall arise a vile person, to whom they will not give the honor of royalty; but he shall come in peaceably, and seize the kingdom by intrigue.
22 “With the force[h] of a flood they shall be swept away from before him and be broken, and also the prince of the covenant.
23 “And after the league is made with him he shall act deceitfully, for he shall come up and become strong with a small number of people.
24 “He shall enter peaceably, even into the richest places of the province; and he shall do what his fathers have not done, nor his forefathers: he shall disperse among them the plunder, spoil, and riches; and he shall devise his plans against the strongholds, but only for a time.
25 “He shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the South with a great army. And the king of the South shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand, for they shall devise plans against him.
26 “Yes, those who eat of the portion of his delicacies shall destroy him; his army shall be swept away, and many shall fall down slain.
27 “Both these kings’ hearts shall be bent on evil, and they shall speak lies at the same table; but it shall not prosper, for the end will still be at the appointed time.

28 “While returning to his land with great riches, his heart shall be moved against the holy covenant; so he shall do damage and return to his own land.

The Northern King’s Blasphemies

29 “At the appointed time he shall return and go toward the south; but it shall not be like the former or the latter.
30 “For ships from Cyprus[i] shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and return in rage against the holy covenant, and do damage. So he shall return and show regard for those who forsake the holy covenant.
31 “And forces[j] shall be mustered by him, and they shall defile the sanctuary fortress; then they shall take away the daily sacrifices, and place there the abomination of desolation.
32 “Those who do wickedly against the covenant he shall corrupt with flattery; but the people who know their God shall be strong, and carry out great exploits.
33 “And those of the people who understand shall instruct many; yet for many days they shall fall by sword and flame, by captivity and plundering.
34 “Now when they fall, they shall be aided with a little help; but many shall join with them by intrigue.
35 “And some of those of understanding shall fall, to refine them, purify them, and make them white, until the time of the end; because it is still for the appointed time.
36 “Then the king shall do according to his own will: he shall exalt and magnify himself above every god, shall speak blasphemies against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the wrath has been accomplished; for what has been determined shall be done.
37 “He shall regard neither the God[k] of his fathers nor the desire of women, nor regard any god; for he shall exalt himself above them all.

38 “But in their place he shall honor a god of fortresses; and a god which his fathers did not know he shall honor with gold and silver, with precious stones and pleasant
things.
39 “Thus he shall act against the strongest fortresses with a foreign god, which he shall acknowledge, and advance its glory; and he shall cause them to rule over many, and divide the land for gain.

The Northern King’s Conquests

40 “At the time of the end the king of the South shall attack him; and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter the countries, overwhelm them, and pass through.
41 “He shall also enter the Glorious Land, and many countries shall be overthrown; but these shall escape from his hand: Edom, Moab, and the prominent people of Ammon.
42 “He shall stretch out his hand against the countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.
43 “He shall have power over the treasures of gold and silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt; also the Libyans and Ethiopians shall follow at his heels.
44 “But news from the east and the north shall trouble him; therefore he shall go out with great fury to destroy and annihilate many.
45 “And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the seas and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and no one will help him.

Daniel 12

Prophecy of the End Time

[1]“At that time Michael shall stand up,
The great prince who stands watch over the sons of your people;
And there shall be a time of trouble,
Such as never was since there was a nation,
Even to that time.
And at that time your people shall be delivered,
Every one who is found written in the book.
[2]And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake,
Some to everlasting life,
Some to shame and everlasting contempt.
[3]Those who are wise shall shine
Like the brightness of the firmament,
And those who turn many to righteousness
Like the stars forever and ever.

[4]“But you, Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book until the time of the end; many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall increase.”

5Then I, Daniel, looked; and there stood two others, one on this riverbank and the other on that riverbank.

[6]And one said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, “How long shall the fulfillment of these wonders be?”

[7]Then I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand to heaven, and swore by Him who lives forever, that it shall be for a time, times, and half a time;

and when the power of the holy people has been completely shattered, all these things shall be finished.

8 Although I heard, I did not understand. Then I said, “My lord, what shall be the end of these things?”

9 And he said, “Go your way, Daniel, for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

10 “Many shall be purified, made white, and refined, but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand.

11 “And from the time that the daily sacrifice is taken away, and the abomination of desolation is set up, there shall be one thousand two hundred and ninety days.

12 “Blessed is he who waits, and comes to the one thousand three hundred and thirty-five days.

13 “But you, go your way till the end; for you shall rest, and will arise to your inheritance at the end of the days.”

A Secular Education

Dan. 1:4

As a young noble, Daniel was deported to Babylon and placed in a program to learn the "language and literature of the Chaldeans," a curriculum that exposed him to practical skills that included mathematics and glassmaking. It also covered subjects opposed to God: sorcery, astrology, and other occult arts; myths, legends, and lore from ancient Chaldea; and prayers and hymns to Babylonian gods. It was a systematic course of study based on a polytheistic and idolatrous worldview.

The purpose of this three-year program was to develop Daniel to "serve before the king" (Dan. 1:5). Daniel was undergoing preparation for a lifetime of employment within a pagan government, a vast departure from the teaching he would have received during the days of godly King Josiah.

As we struggle to understand how Daniel's situation might apply to how we prepare Christian youth to live and work in a secular society, there are several points to keep in mind:

1. Daniel began in a godly environment. Although not explicit in the Bible account, there is little question Daniel came from a family that revered God and obeyed the Law. Daniel would have had to have learned his bold, resolute, godly convictions somewhere (1:8). Given what we know about ancient Jewish culture, the most plausible explanation is he had been raised in a spiritually nurturing family. Whatever choices we make about our children's education, training in God's ways begins at home. Formal education may or may not build on that foundation, but it can never replace it.
2. Daniel had God-given intelligence and discernment. Daniel was a person of great intelligence, a gift that enabled him to discern how to serve God and how to make the most of a superb education. This fact implies that parents today should consider their children's talents and God-given bent as they choose between educational alternatives.
3. Daniel's Babylonian education occurred in a secondary setting. Daniel was likely about fifteen or sixteen years old when he was deported to Babylon. His training in the king's service was in preparation for a specific career, similar to modern vocational, college, and graduate programs. He formed his fundamental views about the world as a young boy in Judah. He brought with him to Babylon a worldview based on God's law. This foundation enabled him to test his Babylonian education against God's absolute truth.

4. Daniel was exposed to Babylonian culture but did not succumb to it. Daniel maintained distinctive beliefs and values even after a lifetime in the service of pagan kings (6:4, 5, 10, 22). Christians face a challenge to remain in the world but not of the world (John 17:15, 16). If we compromise our beliefs the minute we encounter competing belief systems, the world will see no modern-day Daniels.
5. Daniel did not altogether reject Babylonian culture. While Daniel objected to eating the king's food (Dan. 1:8), he apparently did not protest reading the king's books, listening to the king's instructors, or thinking about the king's ideas. We might argue that he had little choice but to cooperate, but the incident with the food shows otherwise. It seems Daniel was able to reject what was unworthy and keep what was useful. He not only survived but thrived.
6. Daniel did not act alone. Three other like-minded youths shared Daniel's challenges of living under Babylonian rule (1:6). Standing against ungodly aspects of our surrounding culture is easier to do alongside other followers of God. Going it alone means forgoing support, encouragement, and prayer that are vital to resisting conformity.

These observations imply Christians have freedom to actively participate in culture even when parts of that culture oppose God. Much of modern culture may be irrelevant, but much is not. Wise followers of God learn to discern the difference and act appropriately.

More: Moses and Paul were other leaders whose educations helped shape how God would use them. See "The Value of Preparation" at Ex. 2:11 and "Answering the Intellectuals" at Acts 17:15–34. Johannes Kepler, Michael Polanyi, and George Washington Carver were all brilliant scientists who also followed God.

Daniel
Dan. 1:6

Name means: "God Is My Judge."

Also known as: Belteshazzar ("Bel Protect His Life"; Dan. 1:7).

Not to be confused with: A man who returned to Jerusalem in Ezra's time (Ezra 8:2; Neh. 10:6).

Home: Probably Jerusalem until he was deported to Babylon (c. 605 B.C.).

Occupation: Advisor to Babylonian and Median rulers; prophet of the Lord.

Noted for: His extraordinary wisdom and ability to interpret dreams by God's power (Dan. 1:17, 20; 2:47; 4:18).

Best known as: The source of one of the Old Testament's four major prophetic books and as a man who stood for God in a sometimes hostile culture.

More: Jeremiah and Ezekiel were Daniel's contemporaries. For perspective on this chaotic period of Judah's history, see "The Life and Times of Jeremiah" at Jer. 1:3 and "The Life and Times of Ezekiel" at Ezek. 1:1.

Stand for Right

Dan. 1:8

Right from the start of their careers, Daniel and his three companions made up their minds to stand for God's values. As ambassadors-in-training in Babylon, they declined to eat the specially prepared food provided by the government.

Scripture does not explain the motives behind their decision. The food may have been offered to idols or blessed by pagan priests, making it ritually unclean according to Jewish law and thus a compromise of their faith. Accepting the royal food may have been a sign of loyalty to King Nebuchadnezzar and a means of obligating the four men to his service. Or the youths may have deemed the rich food and drink of the king's table excessively indulgent.

The important point is that once the four friends realized that eating the king's provisions would result in "defilement," they took a stand. They refused to just go along.

Discerning right from wrong is a matter of intellect and truth. But correct thinking must be paired with courage to do right, which is a matter of the will. Ethics and morality often have less to do with the head than with the heart. Based on well-reasoned principles, Daniel and his friends committed their hearts to what they should or should not do. Then they carried out their plan with determination.

As we face ethical choices, we can choose to stand for right, certain that God will give us strength to deal with whatever consequences come our way. The cost of losing our integrity is infinitely greater than whatever it costs to keep it.

More: Psalm 15 lists ten marks of integrity. See "An Inventory of Integrity" at Ps. 15:1. Scripture tells us to "abhor what is evil" and "cling to what is good" (Rom. 12:9) even if that means speaking out against hidden wrongs. See "Blowing the Whistle with Wisdom" at Jer. 37:13, 14.

Native Talent and Supernatural Ability

Dan. 1:17

The statement that God gave four young men unusual intellectual and spiritual abilities may make us wonder if we should ask God to give us abilities that we do not ordinarily possess.

God can do whatever He wants. Scripture records cases in which faith took people far beyond what they were naturally capable of doing. Frightened people trusted God, for example, and "out of weakness were made strong" (Heb. 11:34). But unusual abilities given by God seem to be consistent with a person's general bent and make use of abilities already present. Daniel and his friends offer an example of this. God gave them unusual insight, even to the point of interpreting visions and dreams. But they had always been smart and quick to learn (Dan. 1:4).

This connection between native talent and supernatural ability is consistent with God crafting us to carry out His special purposes for our life. Our prayers should start with looking for ways to use what the Lord has already given us, but we can always leave room for God to surprise us with unusual—even supernatural—results.

Daniel: Advisor to Kings

Dan. 1:19

Scripture presents Daniel as the only Hebrew prophet to spend his career working as a public servant in pagan empires outside of Israel. He served at least three kings and two governments over nearly seventy years—from around 605 B.C. to at least 539 B.C. Throughout his life, Daniel maintained a reputation for unimpeachable integrity and commitment to God.

If scholars are correct that Daniel was born around 620 B.C., he would have grown up under King Josiah's spiritual and political reforms (c. 640–609 B.C.). Little else is known of Daniel's background except that his family probably had connections to Judah's royal court (Dan. 1:3). This noble status would explain his place among the first Jews deported to Babylon.

Daniel may have been no more than fifteen or sixteen years old at the time of his deportation, but his extraordinary intelligence and wisdom (1:4, 17) distinguished him from fellow exiles. He later used these God-given gifts to advise kings and interpret dreams, but his motivation for work always seemed to come less from displaying intellectual prowess than from furthering God's purposes. He had a heart for the Lord (1:8), which he maintained through a habit of prayer (2:17, 18; 6:10; 9:3, 4).

Daniel's spiritual commitment and strategic placement enabled him to boldly confront kings with God's truths (2:28; 4:26, 34–36; 5:23; 6:22). In effect, he served as an evangelist to his people's captors.

Daniel had to overcome prejudice, persecution, and temptation to remain loyal to God. His life demonstrates that it is not only permissible but also possible to work in the world of governments and business and still honor God (6:4, 5).

A Kingdom of Sorcerers

Dan. 2:2

Many ancient cultures engaged in occult practices, but the Babylonians stood out for institutionalizing magical arts as part of their government. They were especially known for their extensive use of astrology, which was one of the reasons God severely condemned Babylon. Scripture repeatedly warns God's people against the occult. See "The Seduction of Spirits" at Deuteronomy 18:9–14.

Models of Faith in Hostile Societies

Dan. 2:48, 49

There is no single correct way for how God's people should respond to a culture hostile to faith. In the Old Testament, God called the Israelites to develop their own society. He designed laws to keep out pagan influences. But He also sent many Old Testament and New Testament followers into the world to impact unbelieving cultures.

As we reflect on our relationship to societies that are hostile to Christian faith, it helps to consider Old Testament figures who found ways to honor God even after they were plucked from safety and placed in unfriendly circumstances:

Joseph (Gen. 37–47)	• Sold as a slave and taken to Egypt but maintained his godly character despite recurring setbacks. • A model of integrity during both adversity and prosperity.
Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego (Dan. 1–6)	• Taken to Babylon as prisoners of war and trained for service in a pagan government. • Models of integrity and commitment to the Lord while serving unbelievers.
Nehemiah (Neh. 1–6)	• A strategically placed official in the Persian court who was allowed to rebuild Jerusalem's wall. • A model of leveraging position to accomplish God's purposes while overcoming opposition.
Esther and Mordecai (the Book of Esther)	• Members of an ethnic minority who found themselves in a position to influence a godless king. • Models of acting courageously and wisely in order to withstand evil.

The people in the table above had several things in common:

- They were all laypeople. They were not among the priests or Levites, so they had no vocational imperative for exercising faith in their day-to-day work. Yet they carried out God's purposes faithfully.
- They were all believers living in foreign lands. These followers of God did a better job of obeying the Lord in antagonistic societies than some of their contemporaries did back in a Judean society that had been formed around a covenant with God.

- They all remained committed to God, His people, and His Word. The pressures of surrounding cultures deepened their spiritual commitments. They were aware of a larger purpose beyond their immediate circumstances, which enabled them to act wisely. While others surrendered to their culture, these followers of God held on to their fundamental convictions.

More: Esther John secretly converted from Islam to Christianity after reading God's promise of a suffering Servant in Is. 53, and soon became a victim of a hostile society when her new faith was discovered as she engaged in ministry. Today a statue of her stands at the center of ten martyrs of the twentieth century at Westminster Abbey.

Bowing to God Alone

Dan. 3:7

The Bible calls us to obey earthly authorities (Rom. 13:1–7). But it also holds up examples of godly people who resisted human orders that violated God's commands (Acts 4:13–22). There is no simple formula to relieve this tension; the inherent conflict requires us to rely on God rather than on a list of dos and don'ts.

If we never feel tension between the authority of God and the mandates of human beings, we should wonder where our commitments lie. Apparently hardly anyone in Babylon felt any anxiety about bowing down to Nebuchadnezzar's ninety-foot-tall golden image (Dan. 3:8–12), or if they did, they feared the fiery furnace (3:6) more than anything else.

But Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego would not submit. They refused to violate the first and second commandments' prohibitions against idolatry (Ex. 20:3–5). The refusal of these provincial governors to bow so outraged the king that he immediately threw the men into a superheated furnace (3:19–23). This brazen act of disloyalty to the king was a courageous act of loyalty to the Lord.

A similar incident occurred years later, during the reign of Darius. Informers exposed Daniel for violating a decree against praying to any god or ruler except the king (6:6–13). The outcome was similar. Daniel was thrown to the lions (6:16).

On both occasions, God delivered His faithful followers from death—though not from the threat of death. Their courageous stand influenced others to fear God and also resulted in suppressing their enemies (3:26–29; 6:21–27).

Is this how Christians today should respond to laws they disagree with? Again, there are no simple answers. But the following questions may help us discover God's will:

1. Is this truly a matter of biblical principle—or preference, taste, or style?
2. Why do I take issue with what I am being asked to do? Is it an issue of conscience and morality—or something else, such as a personality conflict or simple discomfort?
3. Have I made an effort to understand what is required of me? Have I checked my perceptions by telling those in authority what I think I heard?
4. Do I understand how this conflicts with godly values? Have I studied God's Word, prayed for insight, and thought things through?
5. Is this an either/or situation, or are there alternatives that might satisfy everyone involved? Like Daniel, can I come up with a creative alternative to my superior's command (1:8–16)?

More: Óscar Romero, archbishop of El Salvador rightly took a stand against his hostile society in order to bow to God alone. He fiercely protested rampant poverty, oppression, and violence (including state-supported death squads).

Dan. 3:12

Names mean: “Command of [the God] Aku” (Shadrach); “The Shadow of the Prince” (Meshach); “Servant of Nebo” (Abed-Nego).

Also known as: Hananiah (“The Lord Is Gracious”—Shadrach); Mishael (“Who Is What God Is?”—Meshach); Azariah (“The Lord Has Helped”—Abed-Nego).

Home: Probably Jerusalem until they were deported to Babylon (c. 605 B.C.).

Occupation: Officials who served the Babylonian king (Dan. 1:19; 2:49; 3:12).

Best known as: Daniel’s close friends who refused to bow to an idolatrous gold image set up by King Nebuchadnezzar; they were cast into a fiery furnace but delivered by the Lord (3:1–30).

The Reign of Nebuchadnezzar

Heaven Rules

Dan. 4:26, 27

The spiritual health of a society can be seen in its treatment of the poor. Those that honor God show kindness to and provide tools for the weak and disadvantaged. Those that have abandoned His commands abuse them.

King Nebuchadnezzar had plenty of reasons to be proud. He won countless military battles. His empire spanned the Middle East. He reigned over a grand capital city that was home to one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World. Wealth, power, and prestige were his. But all of these factors caused his heart to so swell with pride that he forgot a basic truth: “Heaven rules.”

God used King Nebuchadnezzar’s dreams to warn that judgment was coming (Dan. 4:1–26), and Daniel challenged the king to change his ways before it was too late. He told the king: “Break off your sins by being righteous, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor” (4:27).

The king apparently disregarded Daniel’s advice, persisting in arrogance and ignoring God. The Lord soon took away his position and power (4:33) until he admitted that Heaven rules (4:34, 35). He subsequently instituted a reign based on truth, justice, and humility (4:36, 37).

What are our attitudes toward the poor? Do we work to ensure them justice? How can we demonstrate that commitment at home, at work, and in our communities?

God at Work for His People

Dan. 4:27

Most of the Jews deported to Babylon resettled along the Chebar River, a canal northeast of the capital city. They were likely conscripted for labor on Nebuchadnezzar’s vast building projects. The Jews were free to live in their own communities but depended on the Babylonians for work. In other words, the situation left them poor and with little hope of changing their circumstances. They lived in enclaves with few freedoms, resources, or advocates.

But Daniel fought for the poor within the government. We do not know how much contact he had with the exiles. They may have been unaware of him, but he was never unmindful of them. God was at work on behalf of the Jews even if they were unaware of it.

God has His people everywhere, in places and positions that we may never imagine. Daniel's strategic placement demonstrates that God never leaves Himself without a means of accomplishing His purposes. He has a way of putting the right person at the right place at the right time.

Third-in-Command

Dan. 5:7

Terrified by the appearance of a hand and its cryptic message on the wall, Belshazzar offered to elevate anyone able to interpret the message to the position of "third ruler in the kingdom." Third-in-command may have been the best he could offer; Belshazzar may have regarded himself as second-in-command of the empire. His father Nabonidus was the supreme ruler of Babylon between about 555 B.C. and 539 B.C., but he left the capital in the hands of his son while he waged military campaigns for ten years in Arabia. Belshazzar allowed the kingdom to slip into the hands of the Persians, and Nabonidus was captured on his return to the city.

Think About It: Terror can be a good learning motivation. But then we can forget the lessons when we no longer feel scared. What have you learned during a frightening time that still nurtures the way you serve God?

Government Employees in the Bible

Dan. 5:11, 12

Daniel spent most of his career in the highest levels of the Babylonian government working as King Nebuchadnezzar's chief advisor (compare Dan. 1:18–21). The Bible tells of others who served God in government positions:

Joseph (Gen. 39–50)	Sold into slavery by his jealous brothers and taken to Egypt, where God arranged for him to eventually become second only to Pharaoh.
Caleb (Num. 13–14)	Spied for Moses when the Israelites prepared to enter Canaan. Years later, he helped divide the land.
Joshua (Num. 13–14; Josh. 1:1–3:17)	Served alongside Caleb and later succeeded Moses as Israel's leader.
Deborah (Judg. 4–5)	Ruled as Israel's only female judge. She helped her military commander achieve victory in battle and led her people in song.
David (1 Sam. 16–31; 2 Sam. 1–24)	Rose from obscurity as a shepherd to become Israel's preeminent king.
Solomon (1 Kin. 3–11)	Succeeded his father David as king. He was best known for wisdom but also succeeded in trade, building, and amassing wealth. He wrote much of Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and probably the Song of Solomon.
Hezekiah (2 Kin. 18–20; 2 Chr. 29–32)	Overcame his birth into the family of evil King Ahaz to rule Judah with unexpected righteousness. He built a strategic water supply system for Jerusalem.
Nehemiah (Neh. 1–6)	Held captive in Babylon but served as cupbearer to King Artaxerxes I. He secured royal support for returning to Jerusalem to lead its redevelopment.
Esther (the	An orphan raised by an older cousin, selected as queen

Book of Esther)	for King Ahasuerus of Persia. She used her position to foil a genocidal plot against her people.
Matthew (Matt. 9:9)	Shunned by his people for collecting taxes for the occupying Roman government. Jesus called him to leave his position and follow Him.
Zacchaeus (Luke 19:1–9)	Worked as Jericho's chief tax collector. After dining with Jesus, he repaid everyone he had cheated and gave half his riches to the poor.
A Roman Centurion (Matt. 27:54)	Oversaw the crucifixion of Jesus but came to believe that Jesus was the Son of God.
The Treasurer of Ethiopia (Acts 8:26–40)	Official under the Ethiopian queen. He met the evangelist Philip and learned the way of salvation in Christ.
Cornelius (Acts 10)	Roman military commander stationed in Caesarea who obeyed God by inviting Peter to his home. He and his household became the first known Gentile followers of Jesus.
The Philippian Jailer (Acts 16:20–36)	Panic-stricken after an earthquake opened cell doors in the jail where he worked, he was amazed to discover Paul and Silas had not escaped. After hearing the gospel, he and his family converted to Christianity.

A Competition of Gods

Dan. 5:23

Victorious armies in the ancient Middle East often subdued conquered peoples by destroying religious shrines and taking idols and relics back to their own houses of worship (1 Sam. 4:10, 11; 5:1, 2). These acts asserted that the gods of the triumphant were more powerful than the gods of the vanquished.

Following this tradition, the Babylonian king Nebuchadnezzar looted the Israelites' temple following the siege of Jerusalem. He took untold riches back to Babylon, including sacred objects carefully set apart for Israel's most holy worship rituals (2 Kin. 25:13–17). Years later, many of these spoils were brought out at the request of drunken Belshazzar and used as tableware at a drinking party (Dan. 5:2–4). Like his predecessor Nebuchadnezzar, Belshazzar apparently thought he had won a game between gods.

But the Lord turned the tables on this foolish king. As Daniel predicted, Belshazzar's city was captured that night, its mighty ziggurats pulled down, its gods removed, and its king killed (5:30).

There is only one true God (Deut. 6:4; 1 Tim. 2:5). Nations may choose to serve other gods. But in the end, the God of heaven will prevail. He has said, "My name shall be great among the Gentiles" (or nations; Mal. 1:11).

More: The phrase "the writing's on the wall" came from this event (Dan. 5:5). The Lord won similar contests over other gods when He defeated Pharaoh in Egypt and burned up the altar Elijah built on Mount Carmel. See "Pharaoh's Submission" at Ex. 12:29.

Darius the Mede

Dan. 5:31

Not to be confused with: The later Persian king Darius I Hystaspis (522–485 B.C.; Ezra 4:5), who helped the Jews who returned from Babylon to Jerusalem (6:1–12).

Family: Son of Ahasuerus, a Mede (Dan. 9:1).

Occupation: King of Babylon after it fell to the Medes and Persians (539 B.C.; 5:31; 9:1).

Best known as: The ruler who threw Daniel to the lions (ch. 6). Some have challenged the biblical account because no known extrabiblical sources mention Darius the Mede. An alternative translation of Dan. 6:28 suggests that Darius may have actually been Cyrus the Persian.

Think About It: Darius admired Daniel but let his staff talk him into an assassination attempt against Daniel. Why? What keeps you doing right no matter who tries to dissuade you?

Integrity Incites Jealousy, and Respect

Dan. 6:1–5

When Darius the Mede conquered Babylon, he needed experienced managers to maintain civil order, collect taxes, and stimulate trade. He selected 120 provincial governors known as satraps, or protectors of the kingdom. Over these he placed three governors, including Daniel.

Darius chose Daniel "because an excellent spirit was in him," that is, he was trustworthy. His reputation was above reproach, and he was known for refusing to participate in bribery or extortion. Daniel's character so distinguished him from other officials that Darius intended to place him over the whole realm. When Daniel's proven leadership resulted in his advancement, his rivals plotted against him. But the only "fault" they found in Daniel was that he was too faithful to God.

God calls us to develop this same "excellent spirit" of trustworthiness and integrity. We honor the Lord, and other people, whenever we carry out our responsibilities with conscientious service—no matter how we are viewed by others. Ultimately we'll win respect. Regularly people will be cared for. Daily we'll like living with ourselves. But during all the good that comes from integrity, some will act jealously.

Understanding Prophecy

Dan. 9:1–7

The meaning and significance of biblical prophecy unfolds when we understand that the prophets were less concerned with prediction than with revelation—that is, whether or not a prophecy pertains to the future, a word from God is significant because it reveals something that He wants His people to know and do today. Prophecy is not just *fore*telling the future; it is *forth*telling the word of the Lord.

Daniel's response to Jeremiah's prophecies demonstrates this point. When Babylon fell to the Persians, Daniel recognized that more than political change was taking place. He perceived God's hand at work. The Bible tells us that he had access to Jeremiah's prophecies. Perhaps he had a copy of Jeremiah's letter to the exiles telling them to expect a seventy-year captivity (Jer. 29:10).

Daniel's careful reflection on this information moved him to repentance. This is a remarkable response. He could have hailed Babylon's fall as a prophetic signal of the end of Judah's captivity. He could have approached Darius and demanded his people's immediate release, in the style of Moses.

He could have become complacent in his duties, figuring that he was on his way home. Instead, Daniel repented. He focused not on dates and timetables but on what was right, and on his own need for heart change. He was less concerned with when the captivity would end than with why it would end. He wondered not How soon will we go home? but Are we ready to go home? The purpose of studying prophecy is to hear God and respond to His words.

Daniel's Prayer Patterns

Dan. 9:24, 25

Daniel talked with God no matter what. This regular communication was likely central to the character Daniel developed. Some observations:

- Daniel prayed after studying Scripture. Daniel's prayer came "in the first year of Darius," around 539 B.C. (Dan. 9:1), the year that Babylon fell to the Persians. This astounding event must have sent Daniel to the Scriptures for insight. As he studied the Law, he found reasons for Judah's exile (9:11–13; compare Lev. 26; Deut. 27–28). He also found promises of restoration—if the people repented of their sins (Lev. 26:40–45).
- Daniel confessed his people's sins. Daniel lived with integrity both before and after his deportation to Babylon. Despite his personal innocence in many areas, he confessed sins as a member of God's wayward people. Four times he told the Lord, "We have sinned" (Dan. 9:5, 8, 11, 15). This exemplifies corporate confession, accepting one's personal responsibility for a people's failings (see "Corporate Confession" at Lam. 1:18).
- Daniel fasted and repented. Daniel demonstrated remorse by wearing sackcloth and smearing himself with ashes, communicating to God that he was sorry for his people's sins. Only after this prolonged confession did Daniel ask for mercy (9:16, 17). He did not raise the possibility of restoration, despite God's promises and Daniel's awareness of Jeremiah's prophecies (9:2). He asked only that the Lord would act according to His own interests (9:18, 19).

Not long after Daniel asked this, Cyrus issued a decree allowing the Jews to return to Jerusalem and rebuild the temple (2 Chr. 36:22, 23). Gabriel indicates that there was a connection between Daniel's prayer, Cyrus's decree, and Jeremiah's prophecies (Dan. 9:23–25).

Prayer does not convince or coerce God to give us what we want. It acknowledges our situation and admits our need for His help. And it connects us to Him.

The prophet Hosea heard and obeyed one of Scripture's most disconcerting commands—an instruction from the Lord to take for himself "a wife of harlotry" (Hos. 1:2). Hosea married a woman named Gomer, who bore him two sons and a daughter, then left the family and resumed her adulterous lifestyle (1:1–2:5). When Hosea found her in the marketplace on sale as a slave, he bought her and brought her home, showing her relentless love (3:2).

Hosea preached to the northern kingdom of Israel during years of temporary prosperity. Although four of the six kings who reigned during this period were assassinated, Assyrian weakness enabled Israel to expand its territory and reinvigorate its financial systems. What was good for the nation's economy, however, was bad for its spiritual life. In the midst of affluence, people rejected God and turned to idolatry as never before. The nation found itself in a pattern of chronic rebellion against the Lord.

The kingdom casually refused to heed the prophet Hosea's message.

But Hosea endured his wife's infidelity as an illustration of God's love for wayward Israel. Through the prophet's life and pleading messages, we see and hear the impact of human infidelity toward God. There is more at stake than unkept commands. God is a brokenhearted husband who longs for a pure relationship with His people. He vows, "I will betroth you to Me forever; yes, I will betroth you to Me in righteousness and justice, in lovingkindness and mercy" (2:19).

Hosea proclaimed his prophecies during the last thirty years before Samaria fell and Israel was taken captive by the Assyrians (722 B.C.). The book sometimes refers to Israel as Ephraim, which was the largest tribe among the ten tribes of the northern kingdom (5:3, 5, 11, 13).

Key Verses in Hosea

- "You are sons of the living God" (Hos. 1:10).
- "I will say to those who were not My people, 'You are My people!' " (Hos. 2:23).
- "I desire mercy and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings" (Hos. 6:6).
- "Sow for yourselves righteousness; reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground, for it is time to seek the LORD, till He comes and rains righteousness on you" (Hos. 10:12).
- "O Death, I will be your plagues! O Grave, I will be your destruction!" (Hos. 13:14).

Hosea 1

1 The word of the LORD that came to Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel. Hosea

The Family of Hosea

2 When the LORD began to speak by Hosea, the LORD said to Hosea:

"Go, take yourself a wife of harlotry
And children of harlotry,
For the land has committed great harlotry
By departing from the LORD."

3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, and she conceived and bore him a son.

4 Then the LORD said to him:

"Call his name Jezreel,
For in a little while
I will avenge the bloodshed of Jezreel on the house of Jehu,
And bring an end to the kingdom of the house of Israel.
5 It shall come to pass in that day
That I will break the bow of Israel in the Valley of Jezreel."

6 And she conceived again and bore a daughter. Then God said to him:

"Call her name Lo-Ruhamah,[a]

For I will no longer have mercy on the house of Israel,
But I will utterly take them away.[b]
7 Yet I will have mercy on the house of Judah,
Will save them by the LORD their God,
And will not save them by bow,
Nor by sword or battle,
By horses or horsemen."

8 Now when she had weaned Lo-Ruhamah, she conceived and bore a son.
9 Then God said:

"Call his name Lo-Ammi,[c]
For you are not My people,
And I will not be your God.

The Restoration of Israel

10 "Yet the number of the children of Israel
Shall be as the sand of the sea,
Which cannot be measured or numbered.
And it shall come to pass
In the place where it was said to them,
'You are not My people,'[d]
There it shall be said to them,
'You are sons of the living God.' 11 Then the children of Judah and the children of Israel
Shall be gathered together,
And appoint for themselves one head;
And they shall come up out of the land,
For great will be the day of Jezreel!

Hosea 2

1 Say to your brethren, ‘My people,’[a]
And to your sisters, ‘Mercy[b] is shown.’

God’s Unfaithful People

2 “Bring charges against your mother, bring charges;
For she is not My wife, nor am I her Husband!
Let her put away her harlotries from her sight,
And her adulteries from between her breasts; Prodigal Wife, Prodigal People
3 Lest I strip her naked
And expose her, as in the day she was born,
And make her like a wilderness,
And set her like a dry land,
And slay her with thirst.

4 “I will not have mercy on her children,
For they are the children of harlotry.
5 For their mother has played the harlot;
She who conceived them has behaved shamefully.
For she said, ‘I will go after my lovers,
Who give me my bread and my water,
My wool and my linen,
My oil and my drink.’

6 “Therefore, behold,
I will hedge up your way with thorns,
And wall her in,

So that she cannot find her paths.
7She will chase her lovers,
But not overtake them;
Yes, she will seek them, but not find them.
Then she will say,
‘I will go and return to my first husband,
For then it was better for me than now.’
8For she did not know
That I gave her grain, new wine, and oil,
And multiplied her silver and gold—
Which they prepared for Baal.

9“Therefore I will return and take away
My grain in its time
And My new wine in its season,
And will take back My wool and My linen,
Given to cover her nakedness.
10Now I will uncover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers,
And no one shall deliver her from My hand.
11I will also cause all her mirth to cease,
Her feast days,
Her New Moons,
Her Sabbaths—
All her appointed feasts.

12“And I will destroy her vines and her fig trees,
Of which she has said,
‘These are my wages that my lovers have given me.’
So I will make them a forest,
And the beasts of the field shall eat them.
13I will punish her

For the days of the Baals to which she burned incense.
She decked herself with her earrings and jewelry,
And went after her lovers;
But Me she forgot," says the LORD.

God's Mercy on His People

14"Therefore, behold, I will allure her,
Will bring her into the wilderness,
And speak comfort to her.
15I will give her her vineyards from there,
And the Valley of Achor as a door of hope;
She shall sing there,
As in the days of her youth,
As in the day when she came up from the land of Egypt.

16"And it shall be, in that day,"
Says the LORD,
"That you will call Me 'My Husband,'[c]
And no longer call Me 'My Master,'[d] 17For I will take from her mouth the names of the Baals,
And they shall be remembered by their name
no more.
18In that day I will make a covenant for them
With the beasts of the field,
With the birds of the air,
And with the creeping things of the ground.
Bow and sword of battle I will shatter from
the earth,
To make them lie down safely.

19"I will betroth you to Me forever;

Yes, I will betroth you to Me
In righteousness and justice,
In lovingkindness and mercy;
20 I will betroth you to Me in faithfulness,
And you shall know the LORD.

21 "It shall come to pass in that day
That I will answer," says the LORD;
"I will answer the heavens,
And they shall answer the earth.
22 The earth shall answer
With grain,
With new wine,
And with oil;
They shall answer Jezreel.[e]
23 Then I will sow her for Myself in the earth,
And I will have mercy on her who had not obtained mercy;[f]
Then I will say to those who were not My people,[g]
'You are My people!' And they shall say, 'You are my God!' "

Hosea 3

Israel Will Return to God

1 Then the LORD said to me, “Go again, love a woman who is loved by a lover[a] and is committing adultery, just like the love of the LORD for the children of Israel, who look to other gods and love the raisin cakes of the pagans.” Love Is a Choice

2 So I bought her for myself for fifteen shekels of silver, and one and one-half homers of barley.

3 And I said to her, “You shall stay with me many days;
you shall not play the harlot, nor shall you have a man—so,
too, will I be toward you.”

4 For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king or prince, without sacrifice or sacred pillar, without ephod or teraphim.

5 Afterward the children of Israel shall return and seek the LORD their God and David their king. They shall fear the LORD and His goodness in the latter days.

Hosea 4

God's Charge Against Israel

1 Hear the word of the LORD,
You children of Israel,
For the LORD brings a charge against the inhabitants of the land:

"There is no truth or mercy
Or knowledge of God in the land.
2 By swearing and lying,
Killing and stealing and committing adultery,
They break all restraint,
With bloodshed upon bloodshed.
3 Therefore the land will mourn;
And everyone who dwells there will waste
away
With the beasts of the field
And the birds of the air;
Even the fish of the sea will be taken away.

4 "Now let no man contend, or rebuke
another;
For your people are like those who contend with the priest.
5 Therefore you shall stumble in the day;
The prophet also shall stumble with you in the night;
And I will destroy your mother.
6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge.
Because you have rejected knowledge,

I also will reject you from being priest for
Me;
Because you have forgotten the law of your
God,
I also will forget your children.

7 "The more they increased,
The more they sinned against Me;
I will change[a] their glory[b] into shame. The Nature of Sin

8 They eat up the sin of My people;
They set their heart on their iniquity.
9 And it shall be: like people, like priest.
So I will punish them for their ways,
And reward them for their deeds.
10 For they shall eat, but not have enough;
They shall commit harlotry, but not increase;
Because they have ceased obeying the
LORD.

The Idolatry of Israel

11 "Harlotry, wine, and new wine enslave the heart.
12 My people ask counsel from their wooden idols,
And their staff informs them.
For the spirit of harlotry has caused them to stray,
And they have played the harlot against their God.
13 They offer sacrifices on the mountaintops,
And burn incense on the hills,
Under oaks, poplars, and terebinths,
Because their shade is good.

Therefore your daughters commit harlotry,
And your brides commit adultery.

14 “I will not punish your daughters when they commit harlotry,
Nor your brides when they commit adultery;
For the men themselves go apart with harlots,
And offer sacrifices with a ritual harlot.[c] Therefore people who do not understand will be trampled.

15 “Though you, Israel, play the harlot,
Let not Judah offend.
Do not come up to Gilgal,
Nor go up to Beth Aven,
Nor swear an oath, saying, ‘As the LORD lives’—

16 “For Israel is stubborn
Like a stubborn calf;
Now the LORD will let them forage
Like a lamb in open country.

17 “Ephraim is joined to idols,
Let him alone.
18 Their drink is rebellion,
They commit harlotry continually.
Her rulers dearly[d] love dishonor.
19 The wind has wrapped her up in its wings,
And they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

Hosea 5

Impending Judgment on Israel and Judah

1 “Hear this, O priests!
Take heed, O house of Israel!
Give ear, O house of the king!
For yours is the judgment,
Because you have been a snare to Mizpah
And a net spread on Tabor.
2 The revolters are deeply involved in slaughter,
Though I rebuke them all.
3 I know Ephraim,
And Israel is not hidden from Me;
For now, O Ephraim, you commit harlotry;
Israel is defiled.

4 “They do not direct their deeds
Toward turning to their God,
For the spirit of harlotry is in their midst,
And they do not know the LORD.
5 The pride of Israel testifies to his face; Therefore Israel and Ephraim stumble in their iniquity;
Judah also stumbles with them.

6 “With their flocks and herds
They shall go to seek the LORD,
But they will not find Him;
He has withdrawn Himself from them.
7 They have dealt treacherously with the
LORD,
For they have begotten pagan children.

Now a New Moon shall devour them and their heritage.

8“Blow the ram’s horn in Gibeah,
The trumpet in Ramah!
Cry aloud at Beth Aven, ‘Look behind you, O Benjamin!’ 9Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke;
Among the tribes of Israel I make known what is sure.

10“The princes of Judah are like those who remove a landmark;
I will pour out My wrath on them like water.
11Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgment,
Because he willingly walked by human precept.
12Therefore I will be to Ephraim like a moth,
And to the house of Judah like rottenness.

13“When Ephraim saw his sickness,
And Judah saw his wound,
Then Ephraim went to Assyria
And sent to King Jareb;
Yet he cannot cure you,
Nor heal you of your wound.
14For I will be like a lion to Ephraim,
And like a young lion to the house of Judah.
I, even I, will tear them and go away;
I will take them away, and no one shall rescue.
15I will return again to My place
Till they acknowledge their offense.

Then they will seek My face;
In their affliction they will earnestly seek Me.”

Hosea 6

A Call to Repentance

1 Come, and let us return to the LORD;
For He has torn, but He will heal us;
He has stricken, but He will bind us up.
2 After two days He will revive us;
On the third day He will raise us up,
That we may live in His sight.
3 Let us know,
Let us pursue the knowledge of the LORD.
His going forth is established as the morning;
He will come to us like the rain,
Like the latter and former rain to the earth.

Impenitence of Israel and Judah

4 "O Ephraim, what shall I do to you?
O Judah, what shall I do to you?
For your faithfulness is like a morning cloud,
And like the early dew it goes away.
5 Therefore I have hewn them by the prophets,
I have slain them by the words of My mouth;
And your judgments are like light that goes forth.
6 For I desire mercy and not sacrifice,
And the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

7 "But like men[a] they transgressed the covenant;
There they dealt treacherously with Me.

[8]Gilead is a city of evildoers
And defiled with blood.
[9]As bands of robbers lie in wait for a man,
So the company of priests murder on the way to Shechem;
Surely they commit lewdness.
[10]I have seen a horrible thing in the house of Israel:
There is the harlotry of Ephraim;
Israel is defiled.
[11]Also, O Judah, a harvest is appointed for you,
When I return the captives of My people.

Hosea 7

1 “When I would have healed Israel,
Then the iniquity of Ephraim was uncovered,
And the wickedness of Samaria.
For they have committed fraud;
A thief comes in;
A band of robbers takes spoil outside.
2 They do not consider in their hearts
That I remember all their wickedness;
Now their own deeds have surrounded them;
They are before My face.
3 They make a king glad with their wickedness,
And princes with their lies.

4 “They are all adulterers.
Like an oven heated by a baker—
He ceases stirring the fire after kneading the dough,
Until it is leavened.
5 In the day of our king Princes have made him sick, inflamed with wine;
He stretched out his hand with scoffers.
6 They prepare their heart like an oven,
While they lie in wait;
Their baker[a] sleeps all night;
In the morning it burns like a flaming fire.
7 They are all hot, like an oven,
And have devoured their judges;
All their kings have fallen.
None among them calls upon Me.

8“Ephraim has mixed himself among the peoples;
Ephraim is a cake unturned. The Decline of Israel
9Aliens have devoured his strength,
But he does not know it;
Yes, gray hairs are here and there on him,
Yet he does not know it.
10And the pride of Israel testifies to his face,
But they do not return to the LORD their God,
Nor seek Him for all this.

Futile Reliance on the Nations

11“Ephraim also is like a silly dove, without sense—
They call to Egypt,
They go to Assyria.
12Wherever they go, I will spread My net on them;
I will bring them down like birds of the air;
I will chastise them
According to what their congregation has heard.

13“Woe to them, for they have fled from Me!
Destruction to them,
Because they have transgressed against Me!
Though I redeemed them,
Yet they have spoken lies against Me.
14They did not cry out to Me with their heart
When they wailed upon their beds.

“They assemble together for[b] grain and new wine,

They rebel against Me;[c]
15 Though I disciplined and strengthened their arms,
Yet they devise evil against Me;
16 They return, but not to the Most High;[d]
They are like a treacherous bow.
Their princes shall fall by the sword
For the cursings of their tongue.
This shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

Hosea 8

The Apostasy of Israel

1 “Set the trumpet[a] to your mouth!
He shall come like an eagle against the
house of the LORD,
Because they have transgressed My covenant
And rebelled against My law.
2 Israel will cry to Me,
‘My God, we know You!’
3 Israel has rejected the good;
The enemy will pursue him.

4 “They set up kings, but not by Me;
They made princes, but I did not acknowledge them.
From their silver and gold
They made idols for themselves—
That they might be cut off.
5 Your calf is rejected, O Samaria!
My anger is aroused against them—
How long until they attain to innocence?
6 For from Israel is even this:
A workman made it, and it is not God;
But the calf of Samaria shall be broken to pieces.

7 “They sow the wind,
And reap the whirlwind.
The stalk has no bud;
It shall never produce meal.
If it should produce,

Aliens would swallow it up.
8 Israel is swallowed up;
Now they are among the Gentiles
Like a vessel in which is no pleasure.
9 For they have gone up to Assyria,
Like a wild donkey alone by itself;
Ephraim has hired lovers.
10 Yes, though they have hired among the nations,
Now I will gather them;
And they shall sorrow a little,[b]
Because of the burden[c] of the king of princes.

11 "Because Ephraim has made many altars for sin,
They have become for him altars for sinning.
12 I have written for him the great things of My law,
But they were considered a strange thing.
13 For the sacrifices of My offerings they sacrifice flesh and eat it,
But the LORD does not accept them.
Now He will remember their iniquity and punish their sins.
They shall return to Egypt.

14 "For Israel has forgotten his Maker,
And has built temples;[d]
Judah also has multiplied fortified cities;
But I will send fire upon his cities,
And it shall devour his palaces."

Hosea 9

Judgment of Israel's Sin

1 Do not rejoice, O Israel, with joy like other peoples,
For you have played the harlot against your God.
You have made love for hire on every threshing floor.
2 The threshing floor and the winepress
Shall not feed them,
And the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in the LORD's land,
But Ephraim shall return to Egypt,
And shall eat unclean things in Assyria.
4 They shall not offer wine offerings to the LORD,
Nor shall their sacrifices be pleasing to Him.
It shall be like bread of mourners to them;
All who eat it shall be defiled.
For their bread shall be for their own life;
It shall not come into the house of the LORD.

5 What will you do in the appointed day,
And in the day of the feast of the LORD?
6 For indeed they are gone because of destruction.
Egypt shall gather them up;
Memphis shall bury them.
Nettles shall possess their valuables of silver;
Thorns shall be in their tents.

7The days of punishment have come;
The days of recompense have come.
Israel knows!
The prophet is a fool,
The spiritual man is insane,
Because of the greatness of your iniquity and great enmity.
8The watchman of Ephraim is with my God;
But the prophet is a fowler's[a] snare in all his ways—
Enmity in the house of his God.
9They are deeply corrupted,
As in the days of Gibeah.
He will remember their iniquity;
He will punish their sins.

10"I found Israel
Like grapes in the wilderness;
I saw your fathers
As the firstfruits on the fig tree in its first season.
But they went to Baal Peor,
And separated themselves to that shame;
They became an abomination like the thing they loved.
11*As for* Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird—
No birth, no pregnancy, and no conception!
12Though they bring up their children,
Yet I will bereave them to the last man.
Yes, woe to them when I depart from them!
13Just as I saw Ephraim like Tyre, planted in a pleasant place,
So Ephraim will bring out his children to the murderer."

14 Give them, O LORD—
What will You give?
Give them a miscarrying womb
And dry breasts!

15 “All their wickedness is in Gilgal,
For there I hated them.
Because of the evil of their deeds
I will drive them from My house;
I will love them no more.
All their princes are rebellious.
16 Ephraim is stricken,
Their root is dried up;
They shall bear no fruit.
Yes, were they to bear children,
I would kill the darlings of their womb.”

17 My God will cast them away,
Because they did not obey Him;
And they shall be wanderers among the nations.

Hosea 10

Israel's Sin and Captivity

1 Israel empties his vine;
He brings forth fruit for himself.
According to the multitude of his fruit
He has increased the altars;
According to the bounty of his land
They have embellished his sacred pillars.
2 Their heart is divided;
Now they are held guilty.
He will break down their altars;
He will ruin their sacred pillars.

3 For now they say,
"We have no king,
Because we did not fear the LORD.
And as for a king, what would he do for us?"
4 They have spoken words,
Swearing falsely in making a covenant.
Thus judgment springs up like hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria fear
Because of the calf[a] of Beth Aven.
For its people mourn for it,
And its priests shriek for it—
Because its glory has departed from it. From Holiness to Harlotry
6 The idol also shall be carried to Assyria
As a present for King Jareb.
Ephraim shall receive shame,

And Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off
Like a twig on the water.
8 Also the high places of Aven, the sin of Israel,
Shall be destroyed.
The thorn and thistle shall grow on their altars;
They shall say to the mountains, “Cover us!”
And to the hills, “Fall on us!”

9 “O Israel, you have sinned from the days of Gibeah;
There they stood.
The battle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity[b]
Did not overtake them.
10 When it is My desire, I will chasten them.
Peoples shall be gathered against them
When I bind them for their two transgressions.[c]
11 Ephraim is a trained heifer
That loves to thresh grain;
But I harnessed her fair neck,
I will make Ephraim pull a plow.
Judah shall plow;
Jacob shall break his clods.”

12 Sow for yourselves righteousness;
Reap in mercy;
Break up your fallow ground,
For it is time to seek the LORD,

Till He comes and rains righteousness on you.

13 You have plowed wickedness;
You have reaped iniquity.
You have eaten the fruit of lies,
Because you trusted in your own way,
In the multitude of your mighty men.
14 Therefore tumult shall arise among your people,
And all your fortresses shall be plundered
As Shalman plundered Beth Arbel in the day of battle—
A mother dashed in pieces upon her children.
15 Thus it shall be done to you, O Bethel,
Because of your great wickedness.
At dawn the king of Israel
Shall be cut off utterly.

Hosea 11

God's Continuing Love for Israel

1 "When Israel was a child, I loved him,
And out of Egypt I called My son.
2 As they called them,[a]
So they went from them;[b]
They sacrificed to the Baals,
And burned incense to carved images.

3 "I taught Ephraim to walk,
Taking them by their arms;[c]
But they did not know that I healed them.
4 I drew them with gentle cords,[d]
With bands of love,
And I was to them as those who take the yoke from their neck.[e]
I stooped and fed them.

5 "He shall not return to the land of Egypt;
But the Assyrian shall be his king,
Because they refused to repent.
6 And the sword shall slash in his cities,
Devour his districts,
And consume them,
Because of their own counsels.
7 My people are bent on backsliding from Me.
Though they call to the Most High,[f]
None at all exalt Him.

8 "How can I give you up, Ephraim?
How can I hand you over, Israel?

How can I make you like Admah?
How can I set you like Zeboiim?
My heart churns within Me;
My sympathy is stirred.
9I will not execute the fierceness of My anger;
I will not again destroy Ephraim.
For I am God, and not man,
The Holy One in your midst;
And I will not come with terror.[g]

10"They shall walk after the LORD.
He will roar like a lion.
When He roars,
Then His sons shall come trembling from the west;
11They shall come trembling like a bird from Egypt,
Like a dove from the land of Assyria.
And I will let them dwell in their houses,"
Says the LORD.

God's Charge Against Ephraim

12"Ephraim has encircled Me with lies,
And the house of Israel with deceit;
But Judah still walks with God,
Even with the Holy One[h] who is faithful.

Hosea 12

1 “Ephraim feeds on the wind,
And pursues the east wind;
He daily increases lies and desolation.
Also they make a covenant with the Assyrians,
And oil is carried to Egypt.

2 “The LORD also brings a charge against Judah,
And will punish Jacob according to his ways;
According to his deeds He will recompense him.
3 He took his brother by the heel in the womb,
And in his strength he struggled with God.[a] 4 Yes, he struggled with the Angel and prevailed;
He wept, and sought favor from Him.
He found Him in Bethel,
And there He spoke to us—
5 That is, the LORD God of hosts.
The LORD is His memorable name.
6 So you, by the help of your God, return;
Observe mercy and justice,
And wait on your God continually.

7 “A cunning Canaanite!
Deceitful scales are in his hand;
He loves to oppress.
8 And Ephraim said,
‘Surely I have become rich,

I have found wealth for myself;
In all my labors
They shall find in me no iniquity that is sin.’

9 “But I am the LORD your God,
Ever since the land of Egypt;
I will again make you dwell in tents,
As in the days of the appointed feast.
10 I have also spoken by the prophets,
And have multiplied visions;
I have given symbols through the witness of the prophets.”

11 Though Gilead has idols—
Surely they are vanity—
Though they sacrifice bulls in Gilgal,
Indeed their altars shall be heaps in the furrows of the field.

12 Jacob fled to the country of Syria;
Israel served for a spouse,
And for a wife he tended sheep.
13 By a prophet the LORD brought Israel out of Egypt,
And by a prophet he was preserved.
14 Ephraim provoked Him to anger most bitterly;
Therefore his Lord will leave the guilt of his bloodshed upon him,
And return his reproach upon him.

Hosea 13

Relentless Judgment on Israel

1When Ephraim spoke, trembling,
He exalted himself in Israel;
But when he offended through Baal worship,
he died.
2Now they sin more and more,
And have made for themselves molded images,
Idols of their silver, according to their skill;
All of it is the work of craftsmen.
They say of them,
"Let the men who sacrifice[a] kiss the calves!"
3Therefore they shall be like the morning cloud
And like the early dew that passes away,
Like chaff blown off from a threshing floor
And like smoke from a chimney.

4"Yet I am the LORD your God
Ever since the land of Egypt,
And you shall know no God but Me;
For there is no savior besides Me.
5I knew you in the wilderness,
In the land of great drought.
6When they had pasture, they were filled;
They were filled and their heart was exalted;
Therefore they forgot Me.

7"So I will be to them like a lion;
Like a leopard by the road I will lurk;

8 I will meet them like a bear deprived of her cubs;
I will tear open their rib cage,
And there I will devour them like a lion.
The wild beast shall tear them.

9 "O Israel, you are destroyed,[b]
But your help[c] is from Me.
10 I will be your King;[d]
Where is any other,
That he may save you in all your cities?
And your judges to whom you said,
'Give me a king and princes'?
11 I gave you a king in My anger,
And took him away in My wrath.

12 "The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up;
His sin is stored up.
13 The sorrows of a woman in childbirth shall come upon him.
He is an unwise son,
For he should not stay long where children are born.

14 "I will ransom them from the power of the grave;[e]
I will redeem them from death.
O Death, I will be your plagues![f]
O Grave,[g] I will be your destruction![h]
Pity is hidden from My eyes." God's Power Over Death

15 Though he is fruitful among his brethren,
An east wind shall come;

The wind of the LORD shall come up from
the wilderness.
Then his spring shall become dry,
And his fountain shall be dried up.
He shall plunder the treasury of every desirable prize.
16 Samaria is held guilty,[i]
For she has rebelled against her God.
They shall fall by the sword,
Their infants shall be dashed in pieces,
And their women with child ripped open.

Hosea 14

Israel Restored at Last

1 O Israel, return to the LORD your God,
For you have stumbled because of your iniquity;
2 Take words with you,
And return to the LORD.
Say to Him,
"Take away all iniquity;
Receive us graciously,
For we will offer the sacrifices[a] of our lips.
3 Assyria shall not save us,
We will not ride on horses,
Nor will we say anymore to the work of our hands,
'You are our gods.'
For in You the fatherless finds mercy."

4 "I will heal their backsliding,
I will love them freely,
For My anger has turned away from him.
5 I will be like the dew to Israel;
He shall grow like the lily,
And lengthen his roots like Lebanon.
6 His branches shall spread;
His beauty shall be like an olive tree,
And his fragrance like Lebanon.
7 Those who dwell under his shadow shall return;
They shall be revived like grain,
And grow like a vine.

Their scent[b] shall be like the wine of Lebanon.

8"Ephraim shall say,
'What have I to do anymore with idols?'
I have heard and observed him.
I am like a green cypress tree;
Your fruit is found in Me."

9Who is wise?
Let him understand these things.
Who is prudent?
Let him know them.
For the ways of the LORD are right;
The righteous walk in them,
But transgressors stumble in them.

Hosea
Hos. 1:1

Name means: “Deliverance.”

Home: Probably Israel, perhaps Samaria.

Family: Son of Beeri; husband of Gomer; father of two sons, Jezreel (“God Scatters”) and Lo-Ammi (“Not-My-People”), and a daughter, Lo-Ruhamah (“No-Mercy”).

Occupation: Prophet (c. 755–710 B.C.).

Best known as: The principal prophet to Israel in the years just prior to its fall to Assyria (722 B.C.).

Think About It: Hosea’s life modeled God’s pursuing love. What feature of God most shines through your actions and attitudes?

Prodigal Wife, Prodigal People
Hos. 2:2

The Lord called Hosea to an unusual marriage, commanding him to take “a wife of harlotry” (Hos. 1:2). Gomer may have been unfaithful to a previous husband, or she may have worked as a prostitute, possibly as a participant in the idolatrous rites practiced by Israel.

Gomer symbolized Israel's spiritual adultery. Israel had almost entirely abandoned worship as prescribed in the Law. The people had adopted the religions of surrounding cultures, particularly the Canaanites, Phoenicians, and Moabites, whose fertility cults involved ritual sexual intercourse with prostitutes attached to pagan temples (see "Abominations: How Not to Act" at Lev. 18:24–30).

God rejected these practices, labeling them "harlotries." The Lord, not the Canaanite god Baal, ruled the land. He was Israel's faithful lover and bountiful provider (Hos. 2:8).

Like Israel, Gomer left her loving husband and returned to her unfaithfulness. She apparently ended up on the slave market, put up for sale by another lover. Hosea bought her back for fifteen shekels and some barley (3:2). This was the common price of a slave, a fairly minor expense. But the purchase represented a costly and painful sacrifice by Hosea, who had been exposed to personal agony and public humiliation by Gomer's wandering ways. The prophet mirrored God's love for His prodigal people, illustrating the reconciliation that would someday take place (3:4, 5).

The New Testament likens the relationship between believers and Christ to marriage (Eph. 5:25–33). When Christians abandon Christ and practice values, practices, and rituals unworthy of Him, they engage in the same unfaithfulness that Israel committed against the Lord (2 Cor. 11:2–4).

Love Is a Choice

Hos. 3:1–3

God called Hosea to pursue a love far deeper than emotional attraction or sexual passion. This love was a conscious choice by Hosea to devote himself to Gomer regardless of her response. Hosea's marriage was a living picture of God's marriage to the spiritually adulterous nation of Israel.

The Old Testament explores all the stages of Israel's relationship with God using the metaphor of marriage. Prophecies by Jeremiah and Ezekiel add to the lessons seen in Hosea:

Stage	Israel's Prophets	Hosea's Marriage
Betrothal	Jer. 2:2	Hos. 1:2
Marriage	Ezek. 16:8–14	Hos. 1:3
Adultery	Jer. 5:7; Ezek. 16:15–34	Hos. 3:1
Estrangement	Jer. 3:8–10; Ezek. 16:35–52	Hos. 3:3, 4
Restoration	Ezek. 16:53–63	Hos. 3:5

The Nature of Sin

Hos. 4:7

Sin can be subtle and or bold, but its outcomes always prove devastating. Hosea attempted to shock God's people into an awareness of the dangers of their patterns of sin and disobedience. Throughout the Book of Hosea, the prophet gives vivid insights into sin's nature and impact.

- Sin brings severe consequences. The pain of sin may not be immediate but it is nevertheless inevitable. The names of Hosea's children illustrate sin's tragic results: Jezreel ("God Scatters"), named for the Valley of Jezreel, where the Lord vowed to punish the nation's transgressions (Hos. 1:3–5); Lo-Ruhamah ("No-Mercy"), indicating that mercy is thwarted by habitual sin (1:6, 7); and Lo-Ammi ("Not-My-People"), indicating the separation that sin causes between people and their Creator (1:8–10).
- Sin deludes and enslaves. Sin causes bondage similar to lust or addiction (4:11–13). The habit of sin is one of the hardest ones to break.
- Sin is each person's responsibility. Wrongdoing cannot be attributed to someone or something else, as with children blaming their parents (see "Blaming Parents" at Ezek. 18:2) or anyone blaming the source of temptation (Hos. 4:14).

- Sin separates a person from God. Uncontrolled appetites distract a person from seeking God (5:4).
- Sin erodes a person's moral resolve. Sin eats away at a person's integrity, self-control, and ability to keep commitments (6:4–11).
- Sin makes life futile. No matter how successful a person may appear on the outside, sin produces nothing of lasting significance (8:7–10).

More: Scripture is straightforward about sin's devastation, but it also reveals God's solution. See "Salvation: Past, Present, and Future" at Rom. 5:6–11.

The Decline of Israel

Hos. 7:8–10

Those who warn of modern society's moral and spiritual decline should study Hosea's approach to speaking up. He used metaphors to help his nation see its spiritual condition. He described Israel as:

- Half-baked (Hos. 7:8). An unturned cake was like a pancake burned on one side and runny on the other. Israel was half-baked because it was concerned with material issues but not with spiritual ones.
- Contaminated (Hos. 7:8). Israel allowed the pagan religions of surrounding nations to pollute its spirituality. The people shamelessly violated the first and second Commandments (Ex. 20:3, 4) and set up defenses through political alliances instead of relying on the Lord (for example, 2 Kin. 16:5, 6).
- Weakened and feeble (7:9). The "aliens" (Hebrew: zarim) Hosea refers to were allies like Assyria and Egypt who only appeared to be friends (2 Kin. 15:17–20; 17:3, 4). These enemy nations "devoured" Israel's strength by requiring heavy tribute. Yet their insidious attack occurred imperceptibly over a period of about forty years, so that the Israelites barely noticed their own decline.

- Arrogant (7:10). Despite many setbacks that took place between the prosperous reign of Jeroboam II (c. 782–753 B.C.) and the foolish reign of Hoshea, Israel's last king (c. 732–722 B.C.), the nation lived under the illusion that it remained strong. The people arrogantly resisted God right up to the end of their kingdom (2 Kin. 17:13–18).

Israel's experience shows that material prosperity cannot sustain a nation forever. Without godliness at the core, moral weakness will hasten a society's collapse.

From Holiness to Harlotry

Hos. 10:5–8

After Solomon's death, Jeroboam I founded the northern kingdom of Israel. Fearing that his people might return to Judah if they made religious pilgrimages to Jerusalem, he set up rival worship centers at Bethel in the south and Dan in the north (1 Kin. 12:28–33). Bethel ("House of God") became so infamous as an idolatrous shrine that it was renamed Beth Aven ("House of Harlotry").

Bethel's transformation from holiness to harlotry was a tragic reversal of the city's legacy. The early Israelites often built an altar to mark a sacred place where God had intervened in human history and fulfilled His promises. Abraham and Jacob had erected pillars at or near ancient Bethel to mark their covenant with God and His promises of blessing (Gen. 12:8; 28:22; 31:13). Under Jeroboam, this sacred space was defiled.

Yet a downward spiral can be reversed. As part of a campaign of sweeping reforms, King Josiah of Judah tore down Jeroboam's idols and high places (2 Kin. 23:15). He proved that with God's help, change can happen for the better. Our communities constantly rise or fall. Our aim is to create cities that deserve names of honor.

God's Power Over Death

Hos. 13:14

The Bible's pages are filled with accounts of dying and death—of the good and the evil, the powerful and the weak, kings and peasants, faithful and sinners. Even God confronted death's painful reality in the crucifixion of His Son Jesus.

But the Bible challenges death's ultimate victory. Hosea, for example, promised that God would ransom His faithful people from the power of the grave: "I will redeem them from death," the Lord vowed. The prophet's declaration is delivered in a taunting song that ridicules death's power. Other biblical writers also affirm God's power over death:

- Adam and Eve's sin in the Garden of Eden allowed death to enter the world. But the words of God's curse also included a word of hope: the tempter who brought sin and death into the world would be conquered (Gen. 3:14, 15). Death will not have the final word.
- Isaiah promised that God will "swallow up death forever, and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces" (Is. 25:8).
- Even as Jeremiah lamented the tragic death of the holy city, he reminded his listeners that God's mercies are "new every morning." They can "hope in Him" because salvation is from the Lord (Lam. 3:22–27).
- Paul echoed Hosea when he asked, "O Death, where is your sting? O Hades, where is your victory?" He added, "Thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ" (1 Cor. 15:55–57).

- John foresaw the end of death in his vision of a new heaven and new earth (Rev. 21:1, 4).

Because Christ offers everlasting life in His presence to those who believe in Him (John 11:25, 26), Christians can grieve with hope at the funerals of fellow believers. Even as mourners lament the loss of loved ones in this life, they can confidently rest in the certain expectation of reuniting with them in heaven.

Joel's listeners enjoyed an easy life until they were caught unaware by devastation unlike anything they or their ancestors had ever seen. Ravenous locusts swarmed across the land and stripped crops bare, with a severe drought further cutting off the people's supply of food and water.

This nationwide disaster pointed to an even greater catastrophe looming on the horizon. What the prophets called "the day of the LORD" would cause calamity far surpassing that of the locust plague. The exact timing of this judgment was unknown, but its arrival was certain. Bible writers describe "the day of the LORD" in a variety of ways, and even within the Book of Joel it carries several distinct meanings.

This imminent judgment called God's people to repent, for the repentant receive the Lord's mercy (2:12–14). Joel promised a restoration for God's humbled people (2:28–32) that included the Lord pouring out His Spirit "on all flesh" (2:28). This promise was fulfilled centuries later when the Holy Spirit descended on early followers of Jesus during the feast of Pentecost (Acts 2:1–4, 16–21).

Joel prophesied to the southern nation of Judah. It is unknown exactly when he lived, but he may have preached during the reign of King Joash of Judah (835–796 B.C.; 2 Kin. 11:4–12:21). Other scholars date him to the time of the prophet Zephaniah, in the years just before Jerusalem was conquered by the Babylonians in 587 B.C.

Key Verses in Joel

- “For the day of the LORD is coming . . . a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness” (Joel 2:1, 2).
- “I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh; your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions” (Joel 2:28).
- “The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the coming of the great and awesome day of the LORD” (Joel 2:31).
- “Whoever calls on the name of the LORD shall be saved” (Joel 2:32).
- “Beat your plowshares into swords and your pruning hooks into spears; let the weak say, ‘I am strong’ ” (Joel 3:10).
- “Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! For the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision” (Joel 3:14).

The Land Laid Waste

2Hear this, you elders,
And give ear, all you inhabitants of the land!
Has anything like this happened in your days,
Or even in the days of your fathers?
[3]Tell your children about it,
Let your children tell their children,
And their children another generation. Sharing the Story

4What the chewing locust[a] left, the swarming locust has eaten;
What the swarming locust left, the crawling locust has eaten;
And what the crawling locust left, the consuming locust has eaten.

5Awake, you drunkards, and weep;
And wail, all you drinkers of wine,
Because of the new wine,
For it has been cut off from your mouth.
[6]For a nation has come up against My land,
Strong, and without number;
His teeth are the teeth of a lion,
And he has the fangs of a fierce lion.
[7]He has laid waste My vine,
And ruined My fig tree;

He has stripped it bare and thrown it away;
Its branches are made white.

For the husband of her youth.
9The grain offering and the drink offering
Have been cut off from the house of the LORD;
The priests mourn, who minister to the LORD.
10The field is wasted,
The land mourns;
For the grain is ruined,
The new wine is dried up,
The oil fails.

11Be ashamed, you farmers,
Wail, you vinedressers,
For the wheat and the barley;
Because the harvest of the field has perished.
12The vine has dried up,
And the fig tree has withered;
The pomegranate tree,
The palm tree also,
And the apple tree—
All the trees of the field are withered;
Surely joy has withered away from the sons of men.

Mourning for the Land

13Gird yourselves and lament, you priests;
Wail, you who minister before the altar;
Come, lie all night in sackcloth,
You who minister to my God;

For the grain offering and the drink offering
Are withheld from the house of your God.
14 Consecrate a fast,
Call a sacred assembly;
Gather the elders
And all the inhabitants of the land
Into the house of the LORD your God,
And cry out to the LORD.

15 Alas for the day!
For the day of the LORD is at hand;
It shall come as destruction from the Almighty.
16 Is not the food cut off before our eyes,
Joy and gladness from the house of our God?
17 The seed shrivels under the clods,
Storehouses are in shambles;
Barns are broken down,
For the grain has withered.
18 How the animals groan!
The herds of cattle are restless,
Because they have no pasture;
Even the flocks of sheep suffer punishment.[b]

19 O LORD, to You I cry out;
For fire has devoured the open pastures,
And a flame has burned all the trees of the field.
20 The beasts of the field also cry out to You,
For the water brooks are dried up,
And fire has devoured the open pastures.

Joel 2

The Day of the LORD

1 Blow the trumpet in Zion,
And sound an alarm in My holy mountain!
Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble;
For the day of the LORD is coming,
For it is at hand:
2 A day of darkness and gloominess,
A day of clouds and thick darkness,
Like the morning clouds spread over the mountains.
A people come, great and strong,
The like of whom has never been;
Nor will there ever be any such after them,
Even for many successive generations.

3 A fire devours before them,
And behind them a flame burns;
The land is like the Garden of Eden before
them,
And behind them a desolate wilderness;
Surely nothing shall escape them.
4 Their appearance is like the appearance of horses;
And like swift steeds, so they run.
5 With a noise like chariots
Over mountaintops they leap,
Like the noise of a flaming fire that devours
the stubble,
Like a strong people set in battle array.

6 Before them the people writhe in pain;

All faces are drained of color.[a] 7 They run like mighty men,
They climb the wall like men of war;
Every one marches in formation,
And they do not break ranks.
8 They do not push one another;
Every one marches in his own column.[b]
Though they lunge between the weapons,
They are not cut down.[c]
9 They run to and fro in the city,
They run on the wall;
They climb into the houses,
They enter at the windows like a thief.

10 The earth quakes before them,
The heavens tremble;
The sun and moon grow dark,
And the stars diminish their brightness.
11 The LORD gives voice before His army,
For His camp is very great;
For strong is the One who executes His word.
For the day of the LORD is great and very terrible;
Who can endure it?

A Call to Repentance

12 "Now, therefore," says the LORD,
"Turn to Me with all your heart,
With fasting, with weeping, and with mourning." A Sorrow unto Repentance 13 So rend your heart, and not your garments;
Return to the LORD your God,

For He is gracious and merciful,
Slow to anger, and of great kindness;
And He relents from doing harm.
14 Who knows if He will turn and relent,
And leave a blessing behind Him—
A grain offering and a drink offering For the LORD your God?

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion,
Consecrate a fast,
Call a sacred assembly;
16 Gather the people,
Sanctify the congregation,
Assemble the elders,
Gather the children and nursing babes;
Let the bridegroom go out from his chamber,
And the bride from her dressing room.
17 Let the priests, who minister to the LORD,
Weep between the porch and the altar;
Let them say, “Spare Your people, O LORD,
And do not give Your heritage to reproach,
That the nations should rule over them.
Why should they say among the peoples,
‘Where is their God?’ ”

The Land Refreshed

18 Then the LORD will be zealous for His land,
And pity His people. Lord of the Land
19 The LORD will answer and say to His people, “Behold, I will send you grain and new wine and oil,
And you will be satisfied by them;

I will no longer make you a reproach among
the nations.

20 “But I will remove far from you the northern army,
And will drive him away into a barren and desolate land,
With his face toward the eastern sea
And his back toward the western sea;
His stench will come up,
And his foul odor will rise,
Because he has done monstrous things.”

21 Fear not, O land;
Be glad and rejoice,
For the LORD has done marvelous things!
22 Do not be afraid, you beasts of the field;
For the open pastures are springing up,
And the tree bears its fruit;
The fig tree and the vine yield their strength.
23 Be glad then, you children of Zion,
And rejoice in the LORD your God;
For He has given you the former rain faithfully,[d]
And He will cause the rain to come down for
you—
The former rain,
And the latter rain in the first month.
24 The threshing floors shall be full of wheat,
And the vats shall overflow with new wine and oil.

25 “So I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten,
The crawling locust,

The consuming locust,
And the chewing locust,[e]
My great army which I sent among you.
26 You shall eat in plenty and be satisfied,
And praise the name of the LORD your God,
Who has dealt wondrously with you;
And My people shall never be put to shame.
27 Then you shall know that I am in the midst of Israel:
I am the LORD your God
And there is no other.
My people shall never be put to shame.

God's Spirit Poured Out

28 "And it shall come to pass afterward
That I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh;
Your sons and your daughters shall
prophesy,
Your old men shall dream dreams,
Your young men shall see visions.
29 And also on My menservants and on My maidservants
I will pour out My Spirit in those days.

30 "And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth:
Blood and fire and pillars of smoke.
31 The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before the coming of the great and awesome
day of the LORD.
32 And it shall come to pass
That whoever calls on the name of the LORD
Shall be saved.

For in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be deliverance,
As the LORD has said,
Among the remnant whom the LORD calls.

Joel 3

God Judges the Nations

1 “For behold, in those days and at that time,
When I bring back the captives of Judah and
Jerusalem,
2 I will also gather all nations,
And bring them down to the Valley of Jehoshaphat;
And I will enter into judgment with them
there
On account of My people, My heritage
Israel,
Whom they have scattered among the
nations;
They have also divided up My land.
3 They have cast lots for My people,
Have given a boy as payment for a harlot,
And sold a girl for wine, that they may drink.

4 “Indeed, what have you to do with Me,
O Tyre and Sidon, and all the coasts of Philistia?
Will you retaliate against Me?
But if you retaliate against Me, Swiftly and speedily I will return your retaliation upon your own head;
5 Because you have taken My silver and My gold,
And have carried into your temples My prized possessions.
6 Also the people of Judah and the people of Jerusalem

You have sold to the Greeks,
That you may remove them far from their borders.

7 “Behold, I will raise them
Out of the place to which you have sold them,
And will return your retaliation upon your own head.
8 I will sell your sons and your daughters
Into the hand of the people of Judah,
And they will sell them to the Sabeans,[a]
To a people far off;
For the LORD has spoken.”

9 Proclaim this among the nations:
“Prepare for war!
Wake up the mighty men,
Let all the men of war draw near,
Let them come up.
10 Beat your plowshares into swords
And your pruning hooks into spears;
Let the weak say, ‘I am strong.’ ”
11 Assemble and come, all you nations,
And gather together all around.
Cause Your mighty ones to go down there, O LORD.

12 “Let the nations be wakened, and come up to the Valley of Jehoshaphat;
For there I will sit to judge all the surrounding nations.
13 Put in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe.
Come, go down;
For the winepress is full,

The vats overflow—
For their wickedness is great.”

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision!
For the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.
15 The sun and moon will grow dark,
And the stars will diminish their brightness.
16 The LORD also will roar from Zion,
And utter His voice from Jerusalem;
The heavens and earth will shake;
But the LORD will be a shelter for His
people,
And the strength of the children of Israel.

17 “So you shall know that I am the LORD your God,
Dwelling in Zion My holy mountain.
Then Jerusalem shall be holy,
And no aliens shall ever pass through her again.”

God Blesses His People

18 And it will come to pass in that day
That the mountains shall drip with new wine,
The hills shall flow with milk,
And all the brooks of Judah shall be flooded with water;
A fountain shall flow from the house of the
LORD
And water the Valley of Acacias.

19 “Egypt shall be a desolation,
And Edom a desolate wilderness,

Because of violence against the people of Judah,
For they have shed innocent blood in their land.
20 But Judah shall abide forever,
And Jerusalem from generation to generation.
21 For I will acquit them of the guilt of bloodshed, whom I had not acquitted;
For the LORD dwells in Zion.”

Joel
Joel 1:1

Name means: “The Lord Is God.”

Not to be confused with: Thirteen other men of the same name in the Old Testament, including a son of Samuel (1 Sam. 8:2) and a Levite who helped cleanse the temple during the reign of King Hezekiah of Judah (2 Chr. 29:12).

Home: Possibly Jerusalem.

Family: Son of Pethuel.

Occupation: Unknown, although his many allusions to agriculture may point to a background in farming; later called to be a prophet.

Best known as: The man who prophesied the outpouring of God’s Spirit (Joel 2:28–32).

Think About It: Name several daily expressions of the outpouring of God’s Spirit in your life (such as being able to hold your temper, calmness during a crisis, and other events only explainable by the power of God).

Sharing the Story
Joel 1:3

Joel urged Judah's elders to tell their descendants about the important, special things that God had done among them. Today, God's people should continue this tradition. Passing along stories of what God has done in our societies and individual journeys requires us first to discern His work, then communicate it well to subsequent generations. We must tell the good and the bad of what we have experienced, the unpleasant along with the pleasant. Our openness will equip our children to walk wisely with God when the time comes for them to "prophesy" and "dream dreams" (Joel 2:28).

Several biblical figures emphasized the importance of older generations passing along their wisdom and experience.

- Joseph engaged in theological reflection, looking back on life and contemplating what God had accomplished (see "Discovering God's Purpose for You" at Gen. 45:5–8).
- Moses coached the Israelites to teach their children and grandchildren what they had seen, heard, and experienced (Deut. 4:9–10). He offered suggestions for teaching God's ways to the young (see "The Faith of Our Children" at Deut. 6:7–9).
- Solomon called children a "heritage," implying that ancestors exert a weighty influence on their descendants. While every individual has the free will to make his or her own choices, one's roots can greatly influence life's most important choices (see "Researching Your Religious Roots" at Heb. 13:24).
- The author of Proverbs (Prov. 2) describes a home in which parents impart valuable wisdom, self-appreciation, understanding, and humility (see also "Learning at Home" at Prov. 4:3, 4).
- Paul urged Timothy to pass on "the things that you have heard from me" to faithful learners who would pass them on to others. This is an example of the far-reaching potential of a mentor relationship (see "Kingdom-Style Mentoring" at 2 Tim. 2:2).

A Sorrow unto Repentance

Joel 2:12–17

Terrifying punishments seem to fill page after page of the Old Testament. The God who hates evil (Ps. 45:7) condemns it whenever and wherever He sees it. The New Testament promises that one day He will halt evil altogether (Rev. 21:4, 5).

The Bible does not shrink from detailing these realities. But it is important to note that these warnings of judgment always leave room for repentance. After Joel's spine-tingling description of "the day of the LORD" (Joel 2:1–11) comes a call to turn to the Lord "with all your heart, with fasting, with weeping, and with mourning" (2:12).

God wants no one to fall into condemnation and face His judgment (2 Pet. 3:9). He warns people ahead of time so that they will recognize their sin and experience the "godly sorrow" that leads to repentance (2 Cor. 7:10) and then to the joy of behaving with love. The God of judgment is also the God of mercy, the one who teaches us how to live well, "slow to anger, and of great kindness" (Joel 2:13).

Lord of the Land

Joel 2:18

"The day of the LORD" is a day of desolation for the earth (Joel 2:1–11). Yet after the destruction, God will clean up the damage. Joel tells the land to rejoice rather than to fear, because God will restore health to nature, bring about new life, and cause the revived land to yield abundant produce (2:19–27). The passage illustrates the close connection between God's redemptive and creative works.

If God is concerned with all of life—the natural as well as the spiritual—then God's people should share that concern. The Lord gives us reason to preserve and wisely manage the environment. He appoints us as His agents "to tend and keep" the earth (Gen. 2:15), and we will one day give an account of this work to our Lord, who cares about the land as well as the people who fill it.

More: For more about the Lord's watchful care of the earth, see "God and the Environment" at Ps. 104:14–23, 35.

The Book of Amos reports that the prophet for whom the book is named was also a sheepbreeder and cultivator of sycamore figs (Amos 7:14). Probably not a wealthy man, Amos herded his own sheep (7:15), perhaps leading them into the highlands in late summer where he could undertake the tedious and time-consuming task of piercing a small hole in thousands of figs to help them ripen. Tekoa, Amos's hometown (1:1), was a short walk from Jerusalem, the capital of the southern kingdom of Judah.

Yet Amos left his flocks and fields and marched to the northern kingdom of Israel to deliver a stinging call for justice. He was a hardworking man, and his messages were full of energy.

Amos preached during a period of renewed economic prosperity and military success for Israel, made possible by a brief era of Egyptian and Assyrian weakness. But Israel's wealthy elite were rich because they exploited the poor and ignored their suffering. Furthermore, the nation had grown dependent on its military prowess and no longer looked to God as their ultimate protection.

Amos probably only preached for a few days, but he took his message directly to the top of Israelite society. He spoke to political leaders and religious authorities and demanded they repent and reform. Within thirty years of ignoring Amos's warnings of judgment, Israel was conquered by the Assyrians, its people killed or led into captivity. Amos prophesied to Israel around 760 B.C., making him slightly older than his contemporaries Hosea and Jonah.

Key Verses in Amos

- “They sell the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of sandals” (Amos 2:6).
- “Can two walk together, unless they are agreed?” (Amos 3:3).
- “Prepare to meet your God” (Amos 4:12).
- “Seek Me and live” (Amos 5:4).
- “Let justice run down like water, and righteousness like a mighty stream” (Amos 5:24).

Amos 1

1 The words of Amos, who was among the sheepbreeders[a] of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

Amos

2 And he said:

"The LORD roars from Zion,
And utters His voice from Jerusalem;
The pastures of the shepherds mourn,
And the top of Carmel withers."

Judgment on the Nations

3 Thus says the LORD:

"For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they have threshed Gilead with implements of iron.
4 But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael,
Which shall devour the palaces of Ben-Hadad.
5 I will also break the gate bar of Damascus,
And cut off the inhabitant from the Valley of Aven,
And the one who holds the scepter from Beth Eden.
The people of Syria shall go captive to Kir,"
Says the LORD.

6Thus says the LORD:

"For three transgressions of Gaza, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they took captive the whole captivity
To deliver them up to Edom.
7But I will send a fire upon the wall of Gaza,
Which shall devour its palaces.
8I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod,
And the one who holds the scepter from Ashkelon;
I will turn My hand against Ekron,
And the remnant of the Philistines shall perish,"
Says the Lord GOD.

9Thus says the LORD:

"For three transgressions of Tyre, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom,
And did not remember the covenant of brotherhood.
10But I will send a fire upon the wall of Tyre,
Which shall devour its palaces."

11Thus says the LORD:

"For three transgressions of Edom, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,

Because he pursued his brother with the
sword,
And cast off all pity;
His anger tore perpetually,
And he kept his wrath forever.
12 But I will send a fire upon Teman,
Which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.”

13 Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of the people of Ammon, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they ripped open the women with child in Gilead,
That they might enlarge their territory.
14 But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah,
And it shall devour its palaces,
Amid shouting in the day of battle,
And a tempest in the day of the whirlwind.
15 Their king shall go into captivity,
He and his princes together,”
Says the LORD.

Amos 2

1 Thus says the LORD:

"For three transgressions of Moab, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because he burned the bones of the king of Edom to lime.
2 But I will send a fire upon Moab,
And it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth;
Moab shall die with tumult,
With shouting and trumpet sound.
3 And I will cut off the judge from its midst,
And slay all its princes with him,"
Says the LORD.

Judgment on Judah

4 Thus says the LORD:

"For three transgressions of Judah, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they have despised the law of the LORD,
And have not kept His commandments.
Their lies lead them astray,
Lies which their fathers followed. Led Astray by Lies
5 But I will send a fire upon Judah,
And it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem."

Judgment on Israel

6Thus says the LORD:

"For three transgressions of Israel, and for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
Because they sell the righteous for silver,
And the poor for a pair of sandals.
7They pant after[a] the dust of the earth which is on the head of the poor,
And pervert the way of the humble.
A man and his father go in to the same girl,
To defile My holy name.
8They lie down by every altar on clothes taken in pledge,
And drink the wine of the condemned in the house of their god.

9"Yet it was I who destroyed the Amorite before them,
Whose height was like the height of the cedars,
And he was as strong as the oaks;
Yet I destroyed his fruit above
And his roots beneath.
10Also it was I who brought you up from the land of Egypt,
And led you forty years through the wilderness,
To possess the land of the Amorite.
11I raised up some of your sons as prophets,
And some of your young men as Nazirites.
Is it not so, O you children of Israel?"
Says the LORD.

12 “But you gave the Nazirites wine to drink,
And commanded the prophets saying,
‘Do not prophesy!’

13 “Behold, I am weighed down by you,
As a cart full of sheaves is weighed down.
14 Therefore flight shall perish from the swift,
The strong shall not strengthen his power,
Nor shall the mighty deliver himself;
15 He shall not stand who handles the bow,
The swift of foot shall not escape,
Nor shall he who rides a horse deliver himself.
16 The most courageous men of might Shall flee naked in that day,”
Says the LORD.

Amos 3

Authority of the Prophet's Message

1 Hear this word that the LORD has spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying:

2 "You only have I known of all the families of
the earth;
Therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities."

3 Can two walk together, unless they are agreed?
4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he has no prey?
Will a young lion cry out of his den, if he has caught nothing?
5 Will a bird fall into a snare on the earth,
where there is no trap for it?
Will a snare spring up from the earth, if it has caught nothing at all?
6 If a trumpet is blown in a city, will not the people be afraid?
If there is calamity in a city, will not the LORD have done it?

7 Surely the Lord GOD does nothing, Unless He reveals His secret to His servants
the prophets.
8 A lion has roared!
Who will not fear?
The Lord GOD has spoken!

Who can but prophesy?

Punishment of Israel's Sins

9"Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod,[a]
And in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say:
'Assemble on the mountains of Samaria;
See great tumults in her midst,
And the oppressed within her.
10For they do not know to do right,'
Says the LORD,
'Who store up violence and robbery in their palaces.' " Agents of Conscience

11Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

"An adversary shall be all around the land;
He shall sap your strength from you,
And your palaces shall be plundered."

12Thus says the LORD:

"As a shepherd takes from the mouth of a lion
Two legs or a piece of an ear,
So shall the children of Israel be taken out
Who dwell in Samaria—
In the corner of a bed and on the edge[b] of a couch!
13Hear and testify against the house of Jacob,"
Says the Lord GOD, the God of hosts,
14"That in the day I punish Israel for their transgressions,

I will also visit destruction on the altars of Bethel;
And the horns of the altar shall be cut off
And fall to the ground.
15 I will destroy the winter house along with the summer house;
The houses of ivory shall perish,
And the great houses shall have an end,”
Says the LORD.

Amos 4

[1]Hear this word, you cows of Bashan, who are on the mountain of Samaria,
Who oppress the poor,
Who crush the needy,
Who say to your husbands,[a] "Bring wine, let us drink!"
[2]The Lord GOD has sworn by His holiness:
"Behold, the days shall come upon you
When He will take you away with fishhooks,
And your posterity with fishhooks.
[3]You will go out through broken walls,
Each one straight ahead of her,
And you will be cast into Harmon,"
Says the LORD.

4"Come to Bethel and transgress,
At Gilgal multiply transgression;
Bring your sacrifices every morning,
Your tithes every three days.[b] [5]Offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving with leaven,
Proclaim and announce the freewill
offerings;
For this you love,
You children of Israel!"
Says the Lord GOD.

Israel Did Not Accept Correction

6"Also I gave you cleanness of teeth in all your cities.
And lack of bread in all your places;

Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.

7“I also withheld rain from you,
When there were still three months to the harvest.
I made it rain on one city,
I withheld rain from another city.
One part was rained upon,
And where it did not rain the part withered.
8So two or three cities wandered to another city to drink water,
But they were not satisfied;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.

9“I blasted you with blight and mildew.
When your gardens increased,
Your vineyards,
Your fig trees,
And your olive trees,
The locust devoured them;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.

10“I sent among you a plague after the manner of Egypt;
Your young men I killed with a sword,
Along with your captive horses;
I made the stench of your camps come up into your nostrils;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.

11“I overthrew some of you,
As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah,

And you were like a firebrand plucked from the burning;
Yet you have not returned to Me,”
Says the LORD.

12“Therefore thus will I do to you, O Israel;
Because I will do this to you,
Prepare to meet your God, O Israel!”

13For behold,
He who forms mountains,
And creates the wind,
Who declares to man what his[c] thought is,
And makes the morning darkness,
Who treads the high places of the earth—
The LORD God of hosts is His name.

Amos 5

A Lament for Israel

1 Hear this word which I take up against you, a lamentation,
O house of Israel:

2 The virgin of Israel has fallen;
She will rise no more.
She lies forsaken on her land;
There is no one to raise her up.

3 For thus says the Lord GOD:

"The city that goes out by a thousand Shall have a hundred left,
And that which goes out by a hundred Shall have ten left to the house of Israel."

A Call to Repentance

4 For thus says the LORD to the house of Israel:

"Seek Me and live;
5 But do not seek Bethel,
Nor enter Gilgal,
Nor pass over to Beersheba;
For Gilgal shall surely go into captivity,
And Bethel shall come to nothing.
6 Seek the LORD and live,
Lest He break out like fire in the house of Joseph,
And devour it,
With no one to quench it in Bethel—
7 You who turn justice to wormwood,

And lay righteousness to rest in the earth!”

8He made the Pleiades and Orion;
He turns the shadow of death into morning
And makes the day dark as night;
He calls for the waters of the sea
And pours them out on the face of the earth;
The LORD is His name.
9He rains ruin upon the strong,
So that fury comes upon the fortress.

10They hate the one who rebukes in the gate,
And they abhor the one who speaks uprightly.
11Therefore, because you tread down the poor
And take grain taxes from him,
Though you have built houses of hewn stone,
Yet you shall not dwell in them;
You have planted pleasant vineyards,
But you shall not drink wine from them.
12For I know your manifold transgressions
And your mighty sins:
Afflicting the just and taking bribes;
Diverting the poor from justice at the gate.
13Therefore the prudent keep silent at that time,
For it is an evil time.

14Seek good and not evil,
That you may live;
So the LORD God of hosts will be with you,
As you have spoken. Justice in the Gate 15Hate evil, love good;

Establish justice in the gate.
It may be that the LORD God of hosts
Will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph.

The Day of the LORD

16 Therefore the LORD God of hosts, the Lord, says this:

"There shall be wailing in all streets,
And they shall say in all the highways,
'Alas! Alas!'
They shall call the farmer to mourning,
And skillful lamenters to wailing.
17 In all vineyards there shall be wailing,
For I will pass through you,"
Says the LORD.

18 Woe to you who desire the day of the LORD!
For what good is the day of the LORD to you?
It will be darkness, and not light.
19 It will be as though a man fled from a lion,
And a bear met him!
Or as though he went into the house,
Leaned his hand on the wall,
And a serpent bit him!
20 Is not the day of the LORD darkness, and not light?
Is it not very dark, with no brightness in it?

21 "I hate, I despise your feast days,
And I do not savor your sacred assemblies.
22 Though you offer Me burnt offerings and your grain offerings,
I will not accept them,

Nor will I regard your fattened peace
offerings.
23 Take away from Me the noise of your songs,
For I will not hear the melody of your stringed instruments.
24 But let justice run down like water,
And righteousness like a mighty stream.

25 "Did you offer Me sacrifices and offerings
In the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?
26 You also carried Sikkuth[a] your king[b]
And Chiun,[c] your idols,
The star of your gods,
Which you made for yourselves.
27 Therefore I will send you into captivity beyond Damascus," Says the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

Amos 6

Warnings to Zion and Samaria

1 Woe to you who are at ease in Zion,
And trust in Mount Samaria,
Notable persons in the chief nation,
To whom the house of Israel comes!
2 Go over to Calneh and see;
And from there go to Hamath the great;
Then go down to Gath of the Philistines.
Are you better than these kingdoms?
Or is their territory greater than your territory?

3 Woe to you who put far off the day of doom,
Who cause the seat of violence to come near;

Evaluating Our Self-Indulgence

4 Who lie on beds of ivory,
Stretch out on your couches,
Eat lambs from the flock
And calves from the midst of the stall;
5 Who sing idly to the sound of stringed instruments,
And invent for yourselves musical instruments like David;
6 Who drink wine from bowls,
And anoint yourselves with the best ointments,
But are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.
7 Therefore they shall now go captive as the first of the captives,

And those who recline at banquets shall be removed.

8The Lord GOD has sworn by Himself,
The LORD God of hosts says:
“I abhor the pride of Jacob,
And hate his palaces;
Therefore I will deliver up the city
And all that is in it.”

9Then it shall come to pass, that if ten men remain in one house, they shall die.

10And when a relative of the dead, with one who will burn the bodies, picks up the bodies[a] to take them out of the house, he will say to one inside the house, “Are there any more with you?” Then someone will say, “None.” And he will say, “Hold your tongue! For we dare not mention the name of the LORD.”

11For behold, the LORD gives a command:
He will break the great house into bits,
And the little house into pieces.

12Do horses run on rocks?
Does one plow there with oxen?
Yet you have turned justice into gall,
And the fruit of righteousness into wormwood,
13You who rejoice over Lo Debar,[b]
Who say, “Have we not taken Karnaim[c] for ourselves
By our own strength?”

14“But, behold, I will raise up a nation
against you,

O house of Israel,”
Says the LORD God of hosts;
“And they will afflict you from the entrance of Hamath
To the Valley of the Arabah.”

Amos 7

Vision of the Locusts

1 Thus the Lord GOD showed me: Behold, He formed locust swarms at the beginning of the late crop; indeed it was the late crop after the king's mowings.
2 And so it was, when they had finished eating the grass of the land, that I said:

"O Lord GOD, forgive, I pray!
Oh, that Jacob may stand,
For he is small!"
3 So the LORD relented concerning this.
"It shall not be," said the LORD.

Vision of the Fire

4 Thus the Lord GOD showed me: Behold, the Lord GOD called for conflict by fire, and it consumed the great deep and devoured the territory.
5 Then I said:

"O Lord GOD, cease, I pray!
Oh, that Jacob may stand,
For he is small!"
6 So the LORD relented concerning this.
"This also shall not be," said the Lord GOD.

Vision of the Plumb Line

7 Thus He showed me: Behold, the Lord stood on a wall made with a plumb line, with a plumb line in His hand.
8 And the LORD said to me, "Amos, what do you see?"
And I said, "A plumb line." Then the Lord said:

“Behold, I am setting a plumb line
In the midst of My people Israel;
I will not pass by them anymore.
9The high places of Isaac shall be desolate,
And the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste.
I will rise with the sword against the house of Jeroboam.”

Amaziah’s Complaint

10Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, “Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel. The land is not able to bear all his words. Jeroboam II
11“For thus Amos has said:

‘Jeroboam shall die by the sword,
And Israel shall surely be led away captive
From their own land.’ ”

12Then Amaziah said to Amos:

“Go, you seer!
Flee to the land of Judah.
There eat bread,
And there prophesy.
13But never again prophesy at Bethel,
For it is the king’s sanctuary,
And it is the royal residence.”

14Then Amos answered, and said to Amaziah:

“I was no prophet,
Nor was I a son of a prophet,
But I was a sheepbreeder[a]

And a tender of sycamore fruit.
15 Then the LORD took me as I followed the flock,
And the LORD said to me,
‘Go, prophesy to My people Israel.’ 16 Now therefore, hear the word of the
LORD:
You say, ‘Do not prophesy against Israel,
And do not spout against the house of Isaac.’

17 “Therefore thus says the LORD:

‘Your wife shall be a harlot in the city;
Your sons and daughters shall fall by the
sword;
Your land shall be divided by survey line;
You shall die in a defiled land;
And Israel shall surely be led away captive
From his own land.’ ”

Amos 8

Vision of the Summer Fruit

1 Thus the Lord GOD showed me: Behold, a basket of summer fruit.
2 And He said, “Amos, what do you see?” So I said, “A basket of summer fruit.” Then the LORD said to me:

“The end has come upon My people Israel;
I will not pass by them anymore.
3 And the songs of the temple Shall be wailing in that day,”
Says the Lord GOD—
“Many dead bodies everywhere,
They shall be thrown out in silence.”

4 Hear this, you who swallow up[a] the needy,
And make the poor of the land fail,

5 Saying:

“When will the New Moon be past,
That we may sell grain?
And the Sabbath,
That we may trade wheat?
Making the ephah small and the shekel
large,
Falsifying the scales by deceit,
6 That we may buy the poor for silver,
And the needy for a pair of sandals—
Even sell the bad wheat?”

7 The LORD has sworn by the pride of Jacob:

“Surely I will never forget any of their works.
8Shall the land not tremble for this,
And everyone mourn who dwells in it?
All of it shall swell like the River,[b]
Heave and subside
Like the River of Egypt.

9“And it shall come to pass in that day,” says
the Lord GOD,
“That I will make the sun go down at noon,
And I will darken the earth in broad daylight;
10I will turn your feasts into mourning,
And all your songs into lamentation;
I will bring sackcloth on every waist,
And baldness on every head;
I will make it like mourning for an only son,
And its end like a bitter day.

11“Behold, the days are coming,” says the Lord GOD,
“That I will send a famine on the land,
Not a famine of bread,
Nor a thirst for water,
But of hearing the words of the LORD.
12They shall wander from sea to sea,
And from north to east;
They shall run to and fro, seeking the word of the LORD,
But shall not find it.

13“In that day the fair virgins
And strong young men Shall faint from thirst.

14 Those who swear by the sin[c] of Samaria,
Who say,
‘As your god lives, O Dan!’
And, ‘As the way of Beersheba lives!’
They shall fall and never rise again.”

Amos 9

The Destruction of Israel

1 I saw the Lord standing by the altar, and He said:

"Strike the doorposts, that the thresholds may shake,
And break them on the heads of them all.
I will slay the last of them with the sword.
He who flees from them shall not get away,
And he who escapes from them shall not be delivered.

2 "Though they dig into hell,[a]
From there My hand shall take them;
Though they climb up to heaven,
From there I will bring them down;
3 And though they hide themselves on top of Carmel,
From there I will search and take them;
Though they hide from My sight at the bottom of the sea,
From there I will command the serpent, and it shall bite them;
4 Though they go into captivity before their enemies,
From there I will command the sword,
And it shall slay them.
I will set My eyes on them for harm and not for good."

5 The Lord GOD of hosts,
He who touches the earth and it melts,

And all who dwell there mourn;
All of it shall swell like the River,[b]
And subside like the River of Egypt.
6He who builds His layers in the sky,
And has founded His strata in the earth;
Who calls for the waters of the sea,
And pours them out on the face of the earth
The LORD is His name.

7"Are you not like the people of Ethiopia to Me,
O children of Israel?" says the LORD.
"Did I not bring up Israel from the land of Egypt,
The Philistines from Caphtor,
And the Syrians from Kir?

8"Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are on the sinful kingdom,
And I will destroy it from the face of the
earth;
Yet I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob,"
Says the LORD.

9"For surely I will command,
And will sift the house of Israel among all
nations,
As grain is sifted in a sieve;
Yet not the smallest grain shall fall to the ground.
10All the sinners of My people shall die by
the sword,

Who say, ‘The calamity shall not overtake nor confront us.’

Israel Will Be Restored

11 “On that day I will raise up
The tabernacle[c] of David, which has fallen down,
And repair its damages;
I will raise up its ruins,
And rebuild it as in the days of old;
12 That they may possess the remnant of Edom,[d]
And all the Gentiles who are called by My name,”
Says the LORD who does this thing.

13 “Behold, the days are coming,” says the
LORD, “When the plowman shall overtake the reaper,
And the treader of grapes him who sows seed;
The mountains shall drip with sweet wine,
And all the hills shall flow with it.
14 I will bring back the captives of My people
Israel;
They shall build the waste cities and inhabit
them;
They shall plant vineyards and drink wine
from them;
They shall also make gardens and eat fruit
from them.
15 I will plant them in their land,
And no longer shall they be pulled up
From the land I have given them,”

Says the LORD your God.

Amos

Amos 1:1

Name means: “Burden Bearer.”

Home: Tekoa, a town about 10 miles south of Jerusalem.

Occupation: Sheepbreeder, sycamore cultivator (Amos 7:14), and prophet during the reign of Jeroboam II (c. 782–753 B.C.).

Best known as: A prophet who denounced the northern kingdom of Israel for its idolatry, injustice, corruption, and oppression of the poor. Amos’s warnings of the Lord’s judgment came to pass when Assyria overran Israel a generation later.

More: As a sheepbreeder, Amos worked in one of the most common occupations in Israel.

Think About It: Corruption and oppression are two sins we don’t see much ranting about. How will you refuse each of the sins Amos warned against?

Led Astray by Lies

Amos 2:4

Deception always leads people astray, and Amos warned that his listeners were already in trouble largely because they were living according to their ancestors' lies. Israel's history shows that patterns of deceit can cause suffering for generations.

We often deceive ourselves about the true nature of lying. Euphemisms like "shading the truth," "telling a white lie," or "skirting the issue" can cloud the issue or even suggest that lying is normal, inevitable, and excusable. The greatest tragedy is when we end up telling and believing lies about God (Rom. 1:25) and ourselves (1 John 1:10).

Lying is not an inescapable fact of human nature. God does not lie (Num. 23:19; Titus 1:2), and in the Ten Commandments He instructs His people not to speak falsehoods (Ex. 20:16). Paul urged Christians not to lie to one another (Eph. 4:25; Col. 3:9). It is possible to speak and live with honesty, and it is self-defeating to practice deception. Sooner or later liars trust no one, including themselves.

More: Scripture is clear that deceit tends to turn on its source. See "The Trouble with Lies" at Jer. 28:15–17.

Agents of Conscience

Amos 3:10

Amos observed an alarming fact about Israel: "They do not know to do right." The nation had discarded its conscience. Its people no longer bothered to discern between right and wrong. And so the nation was in dire trouble. In Israel's case, enemies awaited just around the corner (Amos 3:11, 12).

When people lose their conscience—misplace their ability to tell right from wrong or become apathetic about questions of morality—then we have a responsibility to act as agents of conscience. We can challenge the people around us to consider the consequences of their actions, and we can apprise them of their responsibility to reverence God. We will not always be well received, but God will honor us for standing up for His ways.

Even more valuable, we can examine our own lives for places we might have dulled our consciences.

Justice in the Gate

Amos 5:14, 15

Christian thinking has long asserted that social reform comes from spiritual rebirth—that is, people become more just and loving toward others after experiencing inner change through salvation in Christ. Grace, in other words, leads to justice. But Amos told the Israelites that if they acted more just and loving, God might change His plans to destroy their society. In short, justice would lead to grace.

Amos mandated a threefold formula for change: "hate evil, love good; establish justice in the gate." The "gate" was where civic and commercial matters were handled, the ancient equivalent of city hall (Ruth 4:1; Esth. 2:19–21; Prov. 31:23; see also "The Gates of Hell" at Matt. 16:18). To establish "justice in the gate" meant to do business, enact and enforce laws, and conduct public transactions in ways that honored God and served His people.

The Israelites did the opposite. They loved evil, hated good, and institutionalized injustice (Amos 2:6; 5:11, 12; 8:4–6). Amos demanded that God's people do better. He cried, "Let justice run down like water, and righteousness like a mighty stream" (5:24).

As we ponder our own impact on society, we should consider how our public acts might open people to receive God's grace. Grace does lead to justice; people transformed by Christ treat others in ways that reflect Him (for example, see "Startling Change" at Luke 19:1–10). And when we work toward a just society, we give people hope and earn a hearing for our message of Christ's love.

More: For the Old Testament prophets, true religion and worship were clearly associated with public justice. For example, see "What Is Religion?" at Jer. 7:2–4.

Evaluating Our Self-Indulgence

Amos 6:3–7

The affluent people addressed by Amos enjoyed a selfish lifestyle causing or blessing violence in the process. Their self-indulgence deadened their sensitivity to God.

Amos pushes us to evaluate our own self-indulgence—to consider whether we have constructed our lives to make ourselves feel good, with little thought about others' needs or God's concerns. We can challenge ourselves by carefully reading Amos's description of the Israelites' lifestyle and contemplate the following questions. The point is to focus on how we treat others:

1. Am I solving problems or causing them?
2. What kind of home do I live in? Do I aim to endlessly upgrade or to make others envious? How do I use my home to benefit others?
3. Who do I think about most? Do I spend more on clothing or dining out than I do on helping others? Who benefits from my disposable income?
4. What percentage of my income do I donate to church, religious organizations, or charities? Is my giving increasing or decreasing? How much is my giving determined by tax advantages or other benefits I derive?
5. How much do I spend on pampering myself—hair care, manicures, pedicures, massages, cosmetics?
6. How much do I spend on entertaining myself—movies, television and magazine subscriptions, video games, rich foods?
7. How do I spend my leisure hours? How much time, energy, and money do I give to kindness?

Jeroboam II

Amos 7:10

Name means: “Let the Kinsman Plead.”

Not to be confused with: Jeroboam I, the first king of the northern kingdom of Israel.

Home: Samaria.

Family: Son of Joash (Jehoash); father of Zechariah, his successor.

Occupation: King of Israel (c. 782–753 B.C.).

Best known as: The king who extended Israel’s borders almost to where they stood under Solomon (1 Kin. 14:25). Yet the prophet Amos denounced him for permitting severe injustices during his 40-year reign. Amos’s grim prophecy of the Lord’s sword rising against Jeroboam’s family (Amos 7:9) was fulfilled when an assassin named Shallum killed Zechariah and briefly seized control of Israel (2 Kin. 15:10, 13).

More: Jeroboam was Israel’s last gasp of greatness. A succession of mediocre kings followed, and within a few short decades Israel was overrun by the Assyrians.

Think About It: Why do we excuse injustices?

Obadiah is the Old Testament's shortest book, but it tells a story of mountainous proportions, spanning the Bible from the era of the patriarchs to the last days of the Old Testament, and even into the New Testament era. What began in the womb as a rivalry between twins matured into a long-standing feud between two nations—Israel and Edom.

Bloodshed between the Israelites and the Edomites began during the early days of Israel's monarchy and continued into the era of the divided kingdom until the time when the Lord began to punish His people for their persistent rebellion and idolatry. The Assyrian empire eventually overran Israel (722 B.C.), and the Babylonians gradually took Judah into captivity, finally destroying Jerusalem after a long siege (587 B.C.).

The Edomites reacted to Judah's downfall with great celebration (Ps. 137:7). They gloated over Jerusalem's destruction and derided survivors. Having already eaten away at Judah's territory during the years of Babylonian domination, they gladly seized more of its lands with permission of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon.

It may be this delight in Judah's misfortunes that Obadiah condemns in his prophecy (Obad. 12). Certainly Jeremiah alludes to this period when he predicts that soon it will be Edom's turn for judgment (Jer. 49:17, 18; Lam. 4:21).

Almost nothing is known about the prophet Obadiah. Most scholars believe he was from Judah. Some date his prophecy after the fall of Jerusalem, possibly in the fifth century B.C., while others assign it a ninth-century date.

The nation of Edom lies in the mountainous region south of the Dead Sea.

Key Verses in Obadiah

- “You who dwell in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; you who say in your heart, ‘Who will bring me down to the ground?’ Though you ascend as high as the eagle, and though you set your nest among the stars, from there I will bring you down” (Obad. 3, 4).
- “As you have done, it shall be done to you” (Obad. 15).

Obadiah 1

The Coming Judgment on Edom

[1]The vision of Obadiah.

Thus says the Lord GOD concerning Edom
(We have heard a report from the LORD,
And a messenger has been sent among the nations, saying,
"Arise, and let us rise up against her for battle"): Obadiah

[2]"Behold, I will make you small among the nations;
You shall be greatly despised.
[3]The pride of your heart has deceived you,
You who dwell in the clefts of the rock,
Whose habitation is high;
You who say in your heart,
'Who will bring me down to the ground?'
[4]Though you ascend as high as the eagle,
And though you set your nest among the stars,
From there I will bring you down," says the LORD.

5"If thieves had come to you,
If robbers by night—
Oh, how you will be cut off!—
Would they not have stolen till they had enough?
If grape-gatherers had come to you,
Would they not have left some gleanings?

6 “Oh, how Esau shall be searched out!
How his hidden treasures shall be sought after!
7 All the men in your confederacy
Shall force you to the border;
The men at peace with you Shall deceive you and prevail against you.
Those who eat your bread shall lay a trap[a]
for you.
No one is aware of it.

8 “Will I not in that day,” says the LORD,
“Even destroy the wise men from Edom,
And understanding from the mountains of Esau?
9 Then your mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed,
To the end that everyone from the mountains of Esau
May be cut off by slaughter.

Edom Mistreated His Brother

10 “For violence against your brother Jacob, Shame shall cover you,
And you shall be cut off forever. The Lessons of Obadiah
11 In the day that you stood on the other side
In the day that strangers carried captive his forces,
When foreigners entered his gates
And cast lots for Jerusalem—
Even you were as one of them.

12 “But you should not have gazed on the day of your brother
In the day of his captivity;[b] Nor should you have rejoiced over the children of Judah
In the day of their destruction;
Nor should you have spoken proudly
In the day of distress.
13 You should not have entered the gate of My people
In the day of their calamity.
Indeed, you should not have gazed on their affliction
In the day of their calamity,
Nor laid hands on their substance
In the day of their calamity.
14 You should not have stood at the crossroads
To cut off those among them who escaped;
Nor should you have delivered up those among them who remained
In the day of distress.

15 “For the day of the LORD upon all the nations is near;
As you have done, it shall be done to you;
Your reprisal shall return upon your own head.
16 For as you drank on My holy mountain,
So shall all the nations drink continually;
Yes, they shall drink, and swallow,
And they shall be as though they had never been.

Israel’s Final Triumph

17 “But on Mount Zion there shall be deliverance,
And there shall be holiness;
The house of Jacob shall possess their possessions.
18 The house of Jacob shall be a fire,
And the house of Joseph a flame;
But the house of Esau shall be stubble;
They shall kindle them and devour them,
And no survivor shall remain of the house of Esau,”
For the LORD has spoken.

19 The South[c] shall possess the mountains of Esau,
And the Lowland shall possess Philistia.
They shall possess the fields of Ephraim
And the fields of Samaria.
Benjamin shall possess Gilead.
20 And the captives of this host of the children of Israel
Shall possess the land of the Canaanites
As far as Zarephath.
The captives of Jerusalem who are in Sepharad
Shall possess the cities of the South.[d]
21 Then saviors[e] shall come to Mount Zion
To judge the mountains of Esau,
And the kingdom shall be the LORD’s.

Obadiah
Obad. 1

Name means: “Servant of the Lord.”

Not to be confused with: Eleven other men in the Old Testament with the same name, including an official in charge of Ahab’s palace (1 Kin. 18:3–16).

Occupation: Prophet, and possibly other occupations.

Best known as: The prophet whose vision of the Lord’s judgment on Edom is contained in the shortest book of the Old Testament.

Think About It: Many words are not required for strong messages. What verse in Obadiah gives you the greatest insight into how to live for God? What similarly short messages could you communicate?

The Lessons of Obadiah
Obad. 10–21

1. Nations are brothers and sisters. Obadiah condemned Edom for betraying a family member. What began as a temporary estrangement between brothers became a permanent rift between two nations. Interpersonal conflicts can still shape history today if we allow them to escalate into policies and systems that destroy relations between nations and ethnic groups. (See "Pain That Leads to Prejudice" at Num. 20:14–21.)

2. Foreign policy must be tempered by concern for civil and human rights. Woe to any nation that chooses political expediency or commercial gain over human rights and the value of people. Scripture commands nations as well as individuals to resist their natural tendency to act only in their own self-interests. Rather, they must treat others as they want to be treated. The Edom-Israel conflict illustrates the proverb that what goes around comes around (Obad. 15). According to Obadiah's prophecy, entire nations will be judged by the way they treat other peoples.
3. Injustice and oppression are intolerable. Edom ignored Judah's cries for help. In fact, they celebrated when the Babylonians decimated their enemy. The Lord rebuked the Edomites for aiding and abetting the plunderers of His people (vv. 11–14; see also "Gloating" at Lam. 4:21).
4. Bitter memories die hard. The rivalry between Israel and Edom lasted for centuries, making reconciliation difficult at best. With each successive insult, the Israelites and Edomites further doomed their children to repeating an age-old conflict. Countless conflicts today reflect a similar history of hatred. (See "Brutality Repeats Itself" at 2 Sam. 8:13, 14.)
5. Our security must not be in earthly defenses but in God. The Edomites felt secure in the stony clefts of Petra, but the Lord eventually allowed them to be driven out and absorbed by other ethnic groups. By contrast, after the Jews seemed to have perished as a nation, the Lord brought a remnant back to the land. He also brought to pass His promises of a Messiah despite the attempt of Herod to thwart His plan (Matt. 2:1–18). The "mountains of Esau" would be judged, but "on Mount Zion there shall be deliverance" (Obad. 17, 21). God is the author of justice and mercy, and the Lord of history.

The extraordinary story of Jonah being swallowed by a great fish is one of the most well-known stories in the Old Testament and, indeed, in all of ancient literature. Although many modern readers struggle with the historicity of the account, the New Testament accepts the reality of Jonah's journey in the belly of a fish. Jesus used the dark voyage as an illustration of His own passage through death and resurrection (Matt. 12:39–41), and also referenced Jonah's preaching in Nineveh in one of His sermons (Luke 11:29–32).

The Book of Jonah has much to teach us about sin, forgiveness, and the astonishing lengths God goes to in order to bring us into right relationship with Him. God never relishes judgment. His love reaches to the farthest corners of the earth, extending compassion to sinful people no matter who they are or where they live. He is a "gracious and merciful God, slow to anger and abundant in lovingkindness, One who relents from doing harm" (Jon. 4:2).

When the Lord commanded Jonah to preach repentance to the people of Nineveh, Jonah fled fast and far in the opposite direction (see "Why Jonah Ran" at Jon. 1:10). But a deadly storm and subsequent journey inside a fish convinced Jonah to head in the right direction. Nineveh was the capital of Assyria, a violent pagan nation despised by the Israelites. Yet the Ninevites repented when they heard Jonah's warnings of God's impending judgment, while the Israelites continued to ignore similar messages sent to them.

Thus the Book of Jonah challenged the self-righteous and self-important attitudes of the Israelites. And it continues to prompt us today to look beyond ourselves and practice God's compassion with everyone we meet.

Scholars are unsure whether Jonah wrote the book that bears his name. The book's events date to the eighth century B.C., perhaps during the reign of Jeroboam II over the northern kingdom of Israel.

Key Events in Jonah

- Jonah is swallowed by a great fish (Jon. 1:17).
- Jonah preaches to Nineveh, and the city repents (Jon. 3:1–10).
- God teaches Jonah about compassion (Jon. 4:1–11).

The Geography of Jonah

The Lord told Jonah to preach in the Assyrian capital of Nineveh (Jon. 1:2), about 550 miles northeast of Israel. Jonah instead boarded a ship bound for Tarshish a destination that may have been as far as 2,500 miles in the opposite direction.

Jonah 1

Jonah's Disobedience

1 Now the word of the LORD came to Jonah the son of Amittai, saying, Jonah
2 "Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry out against it; for their wickedness has come up before Me." 3 But Jonah arose to flee to Tarshish from the presence of the LORD. He went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish; so he paid the fare, and went down into it, to go with them to Tarshish from the presence of the LORD.

The Storm at Sea

4 But the LORD sent out a great wind on the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea, so that the ship was about to be broken up.
5 Then the mariners were afraid; and every man cried out to his god, and threw the cargo that was in the ship into the sea, to lighten the load.[a] But Jonah had gone down into the lowest parts of the ship, had lain down, and was fast asleep. Jonah and the Sailors 6 So the captain came to him, and said to him, "What do you mean, sleeper? Arise, call on your God; perhaps your God will consider us, so that we may not perish."
7 And they said to one another, "Come, let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this trouble has come upon us." So they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah.
8 Then they said to him, "Please tell us! For whose cause is this trouble upon us? What is your occupation? And where do you come from? What is your country? And of what people are you?"

9So he said to them, “I am a Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, who made the sea and the dry land.”

Jonah Thrown into the Sea

10Then the men were exceedingly afraid, and said to him, “Why have you done this?” For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.

Why Jonah Ran

11Then they said to him, “What shall we do to you that the sea may be calm for us?”—for the sea was growing more tempestuous.

12And he said to them, “Pick me up and throw me into the sea; then the sea will become calm for you. For I know that this great tempest is because of me.”

13Nevertheless the men rowed hard to return to land, but they could not, for the sea continued to grow more tempestuous against them.

14Therefore they cried out to the LORD and said, “We pray, O LORD, please do not let us perish for this man’s life, and do not charge us with innocent blood; for You, O LORD, have done as it pleased You.”

15So they picked up Jonah and threw him into the sea, and the sea ceased from its raging.

16Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice to the LORD and took vows.

Jonah’s Prayer and Deliverance

17Now the LORD had prepared a great fish to swallow Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

Jonah 2

[1]Then Jonah prayed to the LORD his God from the fish's belly.

[2]And he said:

"I cried out to the LORD because of my affliction,
And He answered me.

"Out of the belly of Sheol I cried,
And You heard my voice.
[3]For You cast me into the deep,
Into the heart of the seas,
And the floods surrounded me;
All Your billows and Your waves passed over me.
[4]Then I said, 'I have been cast out of Your sight;
Yet I will look again toward Your holy temple.'
[5]The waters surrounded me, even to my soul;
The deep closed around me;
Weeds were wrapped around my head.
[6]I went down to the moorings of the mountains;
The earth with its bars closed behind me forever;
Yet You have brought up my life from the pit,
O LORD, my God.

[7]"When my soul fainted within me,
I remembered the LORD;

And my prayer went up to You,
Into Your holy temple.

8 “Those who regard worthless idols
Forsake their own Mercy.
9 But I will sacrifice to You
With the voice of thanksgiving;
I will pay what I have vowed.
Salvation is of the LORD.”

10 So the LORD spoke to the fish, and it vomited Jonah onto dry land.

Jonah 3

Jonah Preaches at Nineveh

1 Now the word of the LORD came to Jonah the second time, saying,
2 "Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach to it the message that I tell you."
3 So Jonah arose and went to Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city, a three-day journey[a] in extent.
4 And Jonah began to enter the city on the first day's walk.
Then he cried out and said, "Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown!"

The People of Nineveh Believe

5 So the people of Nineveh believed God, proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest to the least of
them.
6 Then word came to the king of Nineveh; and he arose from his throne and laid aside his robe, covered himself with sackcloth and sat in ashes.
7 And he caused it to be proclaimed and published throughout Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying,

> Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste > anything; do not let them eat, or drink water. Why Nineveh
>
> Repented
> 8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and > cry mightily to God; yes, let every one turn from his > evil way and from the violence that is in his hands.

9 Who can tell if God will turn and relent, and turn away from His fierce anger, so that we may not perish?

10 Then God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God relented from the disaster that He had said He would bring upon them, and He did not do it.

Jonah 4

Jonah's Anger and God's Kindness

1 But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he became angry.
2 So he prayed to the LORD, and said, "Ah, LORD, was not this what I said when I was still in my country? Therefore I fled previously to Tarshish; for I know that You are a gracious and merciful God, slow to anger and abundant in lovingkindness, One who relents from doing harm.
3 "Therefore now, O LORD, please take my life from me, for it is better for me to die than to live!"
4 Then the LORD said, "Is it right for you to be angry?"
5 So Jonah went out of the city and sat on the east side of the city. There he made himself a shelter and sat under it in the shade, till he might see what would become of the city.
6 And the LORD God prepared a plant[a] and made it come up over Jonah, that it might be shade for his head to deliver him from his misery. So Jonah was very grateful for the plant.
7 But as morning dawned the next day God prepared a worm, and it so damaged the plant that it withered.
8 And it happened, when the sun arose, that God prepared a vehement east wind; and the sun beat on Jonah's head, so that he grew faint. Then he wished death for himself, and said, "It is better for me to die than to live." 9 Then God said to Jonah, "Is it right for you to be angry about the plant?" And he said, "It is right for me to be angry, even to death!" Jonah and the Plant 10 But the LORD said, "You have had pity on the plant for which you have not labored, nor made it grow, which came up in a night and perished in a night.

11 “And should I not pity Nineveh, that great city, in which are more than one hundred and twenty thousand persons who cannot discern between their right hand and their left —and much livestock?” The Rest of Nineveh’s Story

Jonah
Jon. 1:1

Name means: "A Dove."

Not to be confused with: The father of Simon Peter (Matt. 16:17).

Home: Gath Hepher (2 Kin. 14:25), a city about 15 miles west of the Sea of Galilee in the tribal territory of Zebulun.

Family: Son of Amittai.

Occupation: Prophet in Israel during the reign of Jeroboam II (c. 782–753 B.C.).

Best known as: The prophet who survived being swallowed by a fish before obeying God by prophesying to the corrupt city of Nineveh.

Think About It: Jonah's feelings make sense. Disobeying God does not. With what words do you talk with God when you don't want to do something He's commanded? How does He help you harmonize your feelings with what needs to be done?

Jonah and the Sailors
Jon. 1:5–16

The prophet Jonah awoke in the midst of a deadly storm, surrounded by pagan sailors crying out to their gods (Jon. 1:4, 5). The captain berated the rebellious prophet for sleeping rather than praying (1:6). Compared to the mariners' misguided but sincere faith, Jonah's trust in the Lord came up short. These men lacked Jonah's experience of the one true God, yet in a moment of crisis they displayed far more spiritual awareness. In the end, they also extended more compassion to Jonah than Jonah showed to Nineveh's inhabitants.

It is not unusual to find non-Christians who exhibit more faith than Christians, and Jonah's experience is a humbling reminder that people who hold other beliefs can be more spiritually attuned than God's people. God is real. God is true. So people are drawn toward Him. When we find ourselves ignoring these realities, we should follow Jonah's example of confession (1:9) and repentance (2:1, 9), followed by behavior change. Our sincere return to God will restore our vital connection to the Lord who governs every moment of our lives.

Jonah	The Sailors
An Israelite with a rich experience of the Lord's faithfulness.	Gentiles with no known history with the Lord God.
A monotheist who believed in the one true God (Jon. 1:9).	Polytheists who worshiped many false gods (Jon. 1:5).
Related to God as a member of Israel.	Distant from the Lord.
Spiritually insensitive and running from God (Jon. 1:3, 5).	Spiritually sensitive in their prayers (Jon. 1:5), vows, and sacrifices (1:16).
Indifferent toward God's will despite knowing Him.	Concerned about God in spite of little or no knowledge of Him.
Showed no compassion toward Nineveh (Jon. 1:3; 4:1–3).	Showed deep compassion toward Jonah (Jon. 1:11–14).
Rebellious and therefore disciplined although not destroyed (Jon. 1:17).	Persuaded to worship and commit themselves to God (Jon. 1:16).

Jon. 1:10

Scripture does not explain why Jonah ran from God's presence (Jon. 1:3, 10), though it does note that he was acutely aware of the Lord's compassion toward repentant sinners (4:2). Jonah possibly had seen the wickedness of the Assyrians and did not want them to have a second chance; so he fled perhaps because he wanted nothing to do with helping Nineveh escape God's judgment.

Practical concerns may also have driven Jonah to flee. The Assyrians had long menaced Israel, but in Jonah's day, internal strife had reduced Assyria's influence over nations to the west, enabling the Israelites to expand their borders and enjoy a renewed prosperity—an outcome that Jonah had predicted (2 Kin. 14:25). Jonah perhaps recognized that if the Assyrians repented, they would likely reassert their dominance over Israel. So the prophet may have fled to avoid strengthening a potential enemy (or simply to avoid its scorn for a foreign prophet).

Alternatively, Jonah may have acted to avoid being shunned by his own people, who would know it was Jonah who had brought their archenemies to repentance.

Yet another possibility is that Jonah acted in order to avoid the risk of negating his previously fulfilled prophecy about Israel's renewed prosperity—he may have been placing his credibility among peers before his responsibility to his Lord.

Jonah's own lack of compassion may have kept him from overcoming his prejudices.

Yet another factor may have prompted Jonah's flight. Hosea and Amos were active as prophets during the same period of history. Both denounced the Israelites for widespread idolatry and arrogant rebellion against God. In spite of these pointed challenges, however, the Israelites never repented. Jonah may have run from the Lord out of a sense of shame, dreading that the Assyrians were likely to repent even though his own people were not.

Regardless of Jonah's motivation for running, one thing is clear: it wasn't a good enough reason. Nothing can stand as an obstacle to God's grace, which He freely offers to all. We are wise to pray and ask God to help us never disobey Him. We must keep from becoming a hindrance to the extension of His mercy to all mankind.

Why Nineveh Repented

Jon. 3:7

Like Saul of Tarsus in the New Testament (Acts 9:1–22), the Ninevites seemed unlikely candidates for abandoning sin and turning to God. Yet when Jonah arrived and began declaring imminent judgment (Jon. 3:4), they believed God's message and immediately proclaimed a fast to show their sincere sorrow for their wickedness and idolatry (3:5–9).

The fast called by Nineveh's king was an astonishing display of authentic repentance. An entire nation humbled itself before God. Every man, woman, child, and animal was forbidden to eat or drink (3:7), and all were urged to turn from evil and violence (3:8). The fast was not an external religious show but an expression of heartfelt transformation in attitude and actions.

The Ninevites' sudden change of heart may have been due to the fact that the Assyrian empire was facing a temporary decline caused by uprisings among vassal states as well as political unrest at home.

While the exact date of Jonah's visit is unknown, it is believed to have occurred around 759 B.C., following with several important events:

- The death of the young King Shalmaneser IV (c. 773 B.C.), whose passing without a successor created political instability.
- Recurring famine in Nineveh (c. 765 and c. 759 B.C.).
- A military defeat (c. 763 B.C.) that coincided with a total solar eclipse, an event the Assyrians interpreted as a bad omen.
- Floods that followed the eclipse.
- An earthquake that reportedly occurred around the same time.

Like the sailors in the storm who cried out to whatever gods might save them (1:5, 6), the Ninevites were probably ready to try anything to return stability to their land. When they listened to Jonah and heeded God's warning, He relented from judgment (4:10).

God draws people to Himself in many ways, and He often arranges events so people are more likely to turn to Him. As we take a message of repentance and salvation to our family, friends, and the world beyond, we might find our efforts more effective with people who have been prepared to hear a message of grace.

Jonah and the Plant

Jon. 4:9–11

Hatred makes otherwise kind and compassionate people vicious and vindictive.

Unresolved animosity between individuals or nations distorts values, making issues such as wealth, or national or ethnic pride seem more important than human beings.

When God called Jonah to preach hope to the people of Nineveh, Jonah resisted going to these bitter enemies of his people (see "Why Jonah Ran" at Jon. 1:10). Only a near-death experience in the belly of an enormous fish convinced the unwilling prophet to obey (1:17–3:3). But even after his preaching had succeeded and an entire metropolis had been transformed, Jonah's core values remained unchanged. He was bitter about the Ninevites' repentance (4:1–3). He would still have preferred to see them die.

God used a shade plant to open the prophet's eyes to his distorted attitude, explaining that he cared more about a dead plant than the plight of a people God was determined to save:

Jonah and the Plant	God and the People of Nineveh
Jonah cared about a plant.	God cared about the people of Nineveh.

Jonah was concerned about himself.	God was concerned about the welfare of others.
Jonah did not create the plant.	God created all the people, plants, and animals in Nineveh.
Jonah did nothing for the plant.	God took care of Nineveh.
The plant had comparatively small value.	Nineveh's people had far greater spiritual value.
Jonah's main concern was his own personal comfort.	God's main concern was for human life and spiritual reconciliation with Him.
Jonah's values displayed selfishness and a corrupted perspective on life.	God's values displayed His selfless love and a correct perspective on life.

Our attitudes toward others—especially our enemies—reveal our values. If we have allowed our priorities to become distorted by hatred and animosity, we'll find freedom when we step back and think hard about what God holds dear. The Lord wants us to care about what matters to Him and realign our lives with His values.

The Rest of Nineveh's Story

Jon. 4:11

Nineveh's repentance was apparently short-lived. Outside of the Book of Jonah, no other evidence indicates a spiritual awakening among the Assyrians. This suggests that despite sincere remorse and prayers for mercy (Jon. 3:5–9), the nation quickly returned to its old ways.

This fact is clear from the prophecies of Nahum, who predicted God's judgment on Nineveh about one hundred years after Jonah (Nah. 1:1). Jonah's visit to the city is believed to have occurred around 759 B.C., during the reign of Ashur-dan III. Within a few decades, the Assyrians had grown powerful once again and began a series of campaigns in Palestine (c. 734 B.C.). They overran Israel (722 B.C.) and made it an Assyrian province.

Yet even as Assyria was deporting Jews from Palestine and replacing them with citizens of other conquered lands, the Lord was raising up an even more powerful empire. The Babylonians ultimately captured Nineveh (c. 612 B.C.), delivering the judgment that the Ninevites had originally avoided by responding to Jonah's message.

Micah prophesied that God would reduce the northern kingdom of Israel to ruins (Mic. 1:6), a message fulfilled when Assyrian forces captured Samaria, the capital of Israel (722 B.C.). The city's inhabitants were killed or taken into captivity, and the nation was destroyed forever.

Judah, Micah declared, was next in line for God's judgment. Jerusalem held off a siege by King Sennacherib of Assyria (701 B.C.) only through God's intervention, a response to the prayers of godly King Hezekiah (2 Kin. 19:20). As Micah continued to predict catastrophe, religious leaders assumed that their pompous spirituality and the presence of the temple would protect them. But their confidence, founded on outward signs rather than inward ones, had been placed amiss. When disaster struck, even their house of worship would fall (Mic. 3:12).

Micah aimed his prophecies primarily against leaders, denouncing them for using their power and privilege to exploit the poor, mislead the people, compromise God's Word, and persecute the prophets.

Yet in the midst of words of judgment, Micah also spoke words of hope. He named Bethlehem as the birthplace of the Messiah (5:2) some seven hundred years before Christ's birth (Matt. 2:1). Micah also taught God's people how to live out their faith in a rebellious world by behaving justly, loving mercy, and walking humbly with God (Mic. 6:8). His words still offer us a simple outline for serving God in the real world.

Micah was a contemporary of four other prophets of the eighth century B.C.: Isaiah, Amos, Hosea, and Jonah. His ministry extended through the reign of three kings (see "The Three Kings of Micah" at Mic. 1:1).

Key Verses in Micah

- "The mountains will melt under Him, and the valleys will split like wax before the fire" (Mic. 1:4).
- "Woe to those who devise iniquity, and work out evil on their beds!" (Mic. 2:1).
- "They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore" (Mic. 4:3).
- "Arise, plead your case before the mountains, and let the hills hear your voice" (Mic. 6:1).
- "He has shown you, O man, what is good; and what does the LORD require of you but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God?" (Mic. 6:8).

The Coming Judgment on Israel

2 Hear, all you peoples!
Listen, O earth, and all that is in it!
Let the Lord GOD be a witness against you,
The Lord from His holy temple.

3 For behold, the LORD is coming out of His place;
He will come down
And tread on the high places of the earth.
4 The mountains will melt under Him,
And the valleys will split
Like wax before the fire,
Like waters poured down a steep place.
5 All this is for the transgression of Jacob
And for the sins of the house of Israel.
What is the transgression of Jacob?
Is it not Samaria?
And what are the high places of Judah?
Are they not Jerusalem?

6 "Therefore I will make Samaria a heap of ruins in the field,
Places for planting a vineyard;
I will pour down her stones into the valley,
And I will uncover her foundations.

7 All her carved images shall be beaten to pieces,
And all her pay as a harlot shall be burned
with the fire;
All her idols I will lay desolate,
For she gathered it from the pay of a harlot,
And they shall return to the pay of a harlot.”

Mourning for Israel and Judah

8 Therefore I will wail and howl,
I will go stripped and naked;
I will make a wailing like the jackals
And a mourning like the ostriches, 9 For her wounds are incurable.
For it has come to Judah;
It has come to the gate of My people—
To Jerusalem.

10 Tell it not in Gath,
Weep not at all;
In Beth Aphrah[a]
Roll yourself in the dust.
11 Pass by in naked shame, you inhabitant of Shaphir;
The inhabitant of Zaanan[b] does not go out.
Beth Ezel mourns;
Its place to stand is taken away from you.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth pined[c] for good,
But disaster came down from the LORD
To the gate of Jerusalem.
13 O inhabitant of Lachish,
Harness the chariot to the swift steeds

(She was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion),
For the transgressions of Israel were found in you.

14 Therefore you shall give presents to Moresheth Gath;[d]
The houses of Achzib[e] shall be a lie to the kings of Israel.
15 I will yet bring an heir to you, O inhabitant of Mareshah;[f]
The glory of Israel shall come to Adullam.
16 Make yourself bald and cut off your hair,
Because of your precious children;
Enlarge your baldness like an eagle,
For they shall go from you into captivity.

Micah 2

Woe to Evildoers

1 Woe to those who devise iniquity,
And work out evil on their beds!
At morning light they practice it,
Because it is in the power of their hand.
2 They covet fields and take them by violence,
Also houses, and seize them.
So they oppress a man and his house,
A man and his inheritance. Full Pockets, Empty Hearts

3 Therefore thus says the LORD:

"Behold, against this family I am devising disaster,
From which you cannot remove your necks;
Nor shall you walk haughtily,
For this is an evil time.
4 In that day one shall take up a proverb against you,
And lament with a bitter lamentation, saying:
'We are utterly destroyed!
He has changed the heritage of my people;
How He has removed it from me!
To a turncoat He has divided our fields.' "

5 Therefore you will have no one to determine boundaries[a] by lot
In the assembly of the LORD.

Lying Prophets

6 "Do not prattle," you say to those who prophesy.
So they shall not prophesy to you;[b]
They shall not return insult for insult.[c]
7 You who are named the house of Jacob:
"Is the Spirit of the LORD restricted?
Are these His doings?
Do not My words do good
To him who walks uprightly?

8 "Lately My people have risen up as an enemy—
You pull off the robe with the garment
From those who trust you, as they pass by,
Like men returned from war.
9 The women of My people you cast out
From their pleasant houses;
From their children
You have taken away My glory forever.

10 "Arise and depart,
For this is not your rest;
Because it is defiled, it shall destroy,
Yes, with utter destruction.
11 If a man should walk in a false spirit
And speak a lie, saying,
'I will prophesy to you of wine and drink,'
Even he would be the prattler of this people.

Israel Restored

12 "I will surely assemble all of you, O Jacob,
I will surely gather the remnant of Israel;

I will put them together like sheep of the fold,[d]
Like a flock in the midst of their pasture;
They shall make a loud noise because of so many people.
13 The one who breaks open will come up before them;
They will break out,
Pass through the gate,
And go out by it;
Their king will pass before them,
With the LORD at their head.”

Micah 3

Wicked Rulers and Prophets

1 And I said:

"Hear now, O heads of Jacob,
And you rulers of the house of Israel:
Is it not for you to know justice?
2 You who hate good and love evil;
Who strip the skin from My people,[a]
And the flesh from their bones;
3 Who also eat the flesh of My people,
Flay their skin from them,
Break their bones,
And chop them in pieces
Like meat for the pot,
Like flesh in the caldron."

4 Then they will cry to the LORD,
But He will not hear them;
He will even hide His face from them at that time,
Because they have been evil in their deeds.

5 Thus says the LORD concerning the prophets
Who make my people stray;
Who chant "Peace"
While they chew with their teeth,
But who prepare war against him
Who puts nothing into their mouths:
6 "Therefore you shall have night without vision,

And you shall have darkness without divination;
The sun shall go down on the prophets,
And the day shall be dark for them.
7So the seers shall be ashamed,
And the diviners abashed;
Indeed they shall all cover their lips;
For there is no answer from God.”

8But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of
the LORD,
And of justice and might,
To declare to Jacob his transgression
And to Israel his sin.
9Now hear this,
You heads of the house of Jacob
And rulers of the house of Israel,
Who abhor justice
And pervert all equity,
10Who build up Zion with bloodshed
And Jerusalem with iniquity: 11Her heads judge for a bribe,
Her priests teach for pay,
And her prophets divine for money.
Yet they lean on the LORD, and say,
“Is not the LORD among us?
No harm can come upon us.” When We Sell Our Souls
12Therefore because of you
Zion shall be plowed like a field,
Jerusalem shall become heaps of ruins,
And the mountain of the temple[b]
Like the bare hills of the forest.

Micah 4

The LORD's Reign in Zion

1 Now it shall come to pass in the latter days
That the mountain of the LORD's house
Shall be established on the top of the mountains,
And shall be exalted above the hills;
And peoples shall flow to it. The Serenity of Trust
2 Many nations shall come and say,
"Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
To the house of the God of Jacob;
He will teach us His ways,
And we shall walk in His paths."
For out of Zion the law shall go forth,
And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.
3 He shall judge between many peoples,
And rebuke strong nations afar off;
They shall beat their swords into plowshares,
And their spears into pruning hooks;
Nation shall not lift up sword against nation,
Neither shall they learn war anymore.[a]

4 But everyone shall sit under his vine and under his fig tree,
And no one shall make them afraid;
For the mouth of the LORD of hosts has spoken.
5 For all people walk each in the name of his god,

But we will walk in the name of the LORD
our God
Forever and ever.

Zion's Future Triumph

6"In that day," says the LORD,
"I will assemble the lame,
I will gather the outcast
And those whom I have afflicted;
7I will make the lame a remnant,
And the outcast a strong nation;
So the LORD will reign over them in Mount
Zion
From now on, even forever.
8And you, O tower of the flock,
The stronghold of the daughter of Zion,
To you shall it come,
Even the former dominion shall come,
The kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem."

9Now why do you cry aloud?
Is there no king in your midst?
Has your counselor perished?
For pangs have seized you like a woman in labor.
10Be in pain, and labor to bring forth,
O daughter of Zion,
Like a woman in birth pangs.
For now you shall go forth from the city,
You shall dwell in the field,
And to Babylon you shall go.
There you shall be delivered;
There the LORD will redeem you
From the hand of your enemies.

11 Now also many nations have gathered
against you,
Who say, “Let her be defiled,
And let our eye look upon Zion.”
12 But they do not know the thoughts of the
LORD,
Nor do they understand His counsel;
For He will gather them like sheaves to the threshing floor.

13 “Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion;
For I will make your horn iron,
And I will make your hooves bronze;
You shall beat in pieces many peoples;
I will consecrate their gain to the LORD,
And their substance to the Lord of the whole earth.”

Micah 5

[1]Now gather yourself in troops,
O daughter of troops;
He has laid siege against us;
They will strike the judge of Israel with a rod on the cheek.

The Coming Messiah

2"But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, Though you are little among the thousands of Judah,
Yet out of you shall come forth to Me
The One to be Ruler in Israel,
Whose goings forth are from of old,
From everlasting."

[3]Therefore He shall give them up, Until the time that she who is in labor has given birth;
Then the remnant of His brethren Shall return to the children of Israel. Life for the Faithful Few
[4]And He shall stand and feed His flock
In the strength of the LORD,
In the majesty of the name of the LORD His
God;
And they shall abide,
For now He shall be great
To the ends of the earth;
[5]And this One shall be peace.

Judgment on Israel's Enemies

When the Assyrian comes into our land,
And when he treads in our palaces,
Then we will raise against him
Seven shepherds and eight princely men.
6They shall waste with the sword the land of Assyria,
And the land of Nimrod at its entrances;
Thus He shall deliver us from the Assyrian,
When he comes into our land
And when he treads within our borders.

7Then the remnant of Jacob Shall be in the midst of many peoples,
Like dew from the LORD,
Like showers on the grass,
That tarry for no man
Nor wait for the sons of men.
8And the remnant of Jacob Shall be among the Gentiles,
In the midst of many peoples,
Like a lion among the beasts of the forest,
Like a young lion among flocks of sheep,
Who, if he passes through,
Both treads down and tears in pieces,
And none can deliver.
9Your hand shall be lifted against your adversaries,
And all your enemies shall be cut off.

10"And it shall be in that day," says the
LORD,
"That I will cut off your horses from your midst
And destroy your chariots.
11I will cut off the cities of your land

And throw down all your strongholds.
12 I will cut off sorceries from your hand,
And you shall have no soothsayers.
13 Your carved images I will also cut off,
And your sacred pillars from your midst;
You shall no more worship the work of your hands;
14 I will pluck your wooden images[a] from your midst;
Thus I will destroy your cities.
15 And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury
On the nations that have not heard."[b]

Micah 6

God Pleads with Israel

1 Hear now what the LORD says:

"Arise, plead your case before the mountains,
And let the hills hear your voice.
2 Hear, O you mountains, the LORD's complaint,
And you strong foundations of the earth;
For the LORD has a complaint against His people,
And He will contend with Israel.

3 "O My people, what have I done to you?
And how have I wearied you?
Testify against Me.
4 For I brought you up from the land of Egypt,
I redeemed you from the house of bondage;
And I sent before you Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.
5 O My people, remember now
What Balak king of Moab counseled,
And what Balaam the son of Beor answered him,
From Acacia Grove[a] to Gilgal,
That you may know the righteousness of the LORD."

6 With what shall I come before the LORD,
And bow myself before the High God?

Shall I come before Him with burnt offerings,
With calves a year old?
7Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams,
Ten thousand rivers of oil?
Shall I give my firstborn for my transgression,
The fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

8He has shown you, O man, what is good;
And what does the LORD require of you
But to do justly,
To love mercy,
And to walk humbly with your God? Three-Dimensional Spirituality

Punishment of Israel's Injustice

9The LORD's voice cries to the city—
Wisdom shall see Your name:

"Hear the rod!
Who has appointed it?
10Are there yet the treasures of wickedness
In the house of the wicked,
And the short measure that is an abomination?
11Shall I count pure those with the wicked scales,
And with the bag of deceitful weights?
12For her rich men are full of violence,
Her inhabitants have spoken lies,
And their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 “Therefore I will also make you sick by striking you,
By making you desolate because of your sins.
14 You shall eat, but not be satisfied;
Hunger[b] shall be in your midst.
[c]You may carry some away, but shall not save them;
And what you do rescue I will give over to the sword.

15 “You shall sow, but not reap;
You shall tread the olives, but not anoint yourselves with oil;
And make sweet wine, but not drink wine.
16 For the statutes of Omri are kept;
All the works of Ahab’s house are done;
And you walk in their counsels,
That I may make you a desolation,
And your inhabitants a hissing.
Therefore you shall bear the reproach of My people.”[d]

Micah 7

Sorrow for Israel's Sins

1 Woe is me!
For I am like those who gather summer fruits,
Like those who glean vintage grapes;
There is no cluster to eat
Of the first-ripe fruit which my soul desires.
2 The faithful man has perished from the earth,
And there is no one upright among men.
They all lie in wait for blood;
Every man hunts his brother with a net.

Leaning on the Lord

3 That they may successfully do evil with both hands—
The prince asks for gifts,
The judge seeks a bribe,
And the great man utters his evil desire;
So they scheme together.
4 The best of them is like a brier;
The most upright is sharper than a thorn hedge;
The day of your watchman and your punishment comes;
Now shall be their perplexity.

5 Do not trust in a friend;
Do not put your confidence in a companion;
Guard the doors of your mouth
From her who lies in your bosom.

6 For son dishonors father,
Daughter rises against her mother,
Daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law;
A man's enemies are the men of his own household.
7 Therefore I will look to the LORD;
I will wait for the God of my salvation;
My God will hear me.

Israel's Confession and Comfort

8 Do not rejoice over me, my enemy;
When I fall, I will arise;
When I sit in darkness,
The LORD will be a light to me.
9 I will bear the indignation of the LORD,
Because I have sinned against Him,
Until He pleads my case
And executes justice for me.
He will bring me forth to the light;
I will see His righteousness.
10 Then she who is my enemy will see,
And shame will cover her who said to me,
"Where is the LORD your God?"
My eyes will see her;
Now she will be trampled down
Like mud in the streets.

11 In the day when your walls are to be built,
In that day the decree shall go far and wide.[a] 12 In that day they[b] shall come to you
From Assyria and the fortified cities,[c]
From the fortress[d] to the River,[e]
From sea to sea,
And mountain to mountain.

13 Yet the land shall be desolate
Because of those who dwell in it,
And for the fruit of their deeds.

God Will Forgive Israel

14 Shepherd Your people with Your staff,
The flock of Your heritage,
Who dwell solitarily in a woodland,
In the midst of Carmel;
Let them feed in Bashan and Gilead,
As in days of old.

15 "As in the days when you came out of the land of Egypt,
I will show them[f] wonders."

16 The nations shall see and be ashamed of all their might;
They shall put their hand over their mouth;
Their ears shall be deaf.
17 They shall lick the dust like a serpent;
They shall crawl from their holes like snakes of the earth.
They shall be afraid of the LORD our God,
And shall fear because of You.
18 Who is a God like You,
Pardoning iniquity
And passing over the transgression of the remnant of His heritage?

He does not retain His anger forever,
Because He delights in mercy.
19 He will again have compassion on us,
And will subdue our iniquities.

You will cast all our[g] sins
Into the depths of the sea.
20 You will give truth to Jacob
And mercy to Abraham,
Which You have sworn to our fathers
From days of old.

Micah

Mic. 1:1

Name means: “Who Is Like the Lord?”

Not to be confused with: Micah the Ephraimite (Judg. 17–18) or Micaiah, a prophet during Ahab’s reign (1 Kin. 22:8–28; 2 Chr. 18:3–27).

Home: Moresheth, possibly the same as Moresheth Gath (Mic. 1:14), a city in the lowlands of Judah about 22 miles southwest of Jerusalem.

Occupation: Prophet in Judah during the reigns of Jotham (c. 740–731 B.C.), Ahaz (c. 731–715 B.C.), and Hezekiah (c. 715–686 B.C.).

Best known as: A contemporary of Isaiah who denounced Judah for adopting Israel’s idolatrous ways and who criticized Jerusalem’s leaders for oppressing rural citizens.

More: For perspective on the period when Micah lived, see “The Life and Times of Isaiah” at Is. 1:1.

Think About It: Memorize Micah 6:8. Then every day this month do all three of those actions. Let them become God-fed habits.

The Three Kings of Micah

Mic. 1:1

Micah delivered prophecies to Judah under three different rulers. Two revered the Lord, but one did not. Here are the men who set the spiritual tone of the nation that Micah addressed:

- Jotham (c. 740–731 B.C.) came to power even before he was crowned king when his father Uzziah (Azariah) was struck with leprosy (2 Kin. 15:5; see also Uzziah's profile at 2 Chr. 26:1). Like his father, Jotham feared God. He extended Judah's borders, built and fortified cities, and fought off the Ammonites (2 Kin. 15:32–38; 2 Chr. 27:1–9).
- Ahaz (c. 731–715 B.C.), the son of Jotham, committed extreme evil. After his father died, he brought back idolatrous practices, including child sacrifice, and served the gods of the Syrians, who had allied with the Israelites to slaughter and capture untold thousands of his rebellious subjects (2 Chr. 28:1–25). His appeal to the Assyrians for help made Judah a tributary of Tiglath-Pileser. Not even Isaiah's warnings could assuage Ahaz's evil habits (Is. 7:10–17).
- Hezekiah (c. 715–686 B.C.) was a virtuous ruler despite his upbringing as Ahaz's son (see Hezekiah's profile at 2 Chr. 29:1). He combined exceptional faith with effective political leadership and spiritual reforms (2 Kin. 18–20; 2 Chr. 29–32). He survived a siege of Assyrian troops sent by King Sennacherib and miraculously recovered from a terminal illness (Is. 38:1–8).

Think About It: How do you suppose Micah did things the same and differently when addressing each of these kings?

Full Pockets, Empty Hearts

Mic. 2:2

Imagine a society in which powerful citizens seize whatever land and property they want, especially from people too weak or impoverished to defend themselves. This was the situation Micah observed. The wealthy and influential took control of real estate owned by others, using any means necessary (Mic. 2:2; 3:10). Leaders denied justice to the poor and left violence unchecked in order to enrich themselves (3:3, 10; compare Prov. 22:16). The prophet rightly denounced their thieving and murderous practices.

By seizing land assigned by God to fellow Israelites, Judah's wealthy elite violated key principles of the Law. They broke the Ten Commandments (Ex. 20:13, 15, 17), the law of redemption (Lev. 25:23–28), and the law against changing landmarks (Deut. 19:14). In retaliation for defying these laws, the Lord promised to let foreigners steal Judah's lands (Mic. 2:4).

The justice that the Lord expected in Judah is the same justice that He expects today. The New Testament strongly warns against covetousness (Eph. 5:5; James 4:1–5), because longing for more and more things quickly leads to a sinful craving for what belongs to others. An insatiable appetite for material things can lead us to commit all kinds of injustices; even if we stop short of breaking the law, we will find ourselves sacrificing the things that truly matter for those that mean nothing in the long run.

When We Sell Our Souls

Mic. 3:11

A country where justice is for sale will suffer rampant injustice. A nation where truth depends on what a person can afford has lost touch with God. When morality is defined in terms of money, a society is in dire trouble.

Micah saw that his society had sold its soul, and he was appalled. The services of judges, priests, and prophets were all up for the highest bidder. The fact that these people received income was not the issue; they needed to earn a living like anyone else. But Micah observed that they had become corrupt, letting money distort their decisions. Instead of declaring what was true, right, and just, they said whatever they were paid to say. They grew wealthy by exploiting their positions and lost their integrity in the process.

Amazingly, these so-called leaders believed that God would continue to back their hypocritical words. They brushed off prophetic warnings of an impending foreign invasion. “Is not the LORD among us?” they replied. “No harm can come upon us.”

They were badly mistaken. The Lord would judge their impenitence. He was not about to allow them to continue violating His law in peaceful affluence.

When we are in leadership positions—especially where we render moral or ethical decisions or give advice—the Lord calls us to evaluate if we have sold our souls for profit or other personal benefit. If we let anything taint our responsibilities, we have been warned. God does not tolerate corrupt leaders.

The Serenity of Trust

Mic. 4:1–7

Micah offered words of hope to a people living in fear of attack. Because they felt defenseless, their possessions—weapons and food in particular—took on an inflated value. Their energies were consumed by holding on to what little they had left. Micah envisioned a time without war or the weaponry (Mic. 4:3), an era of peace and security when everyone would have plenty of food (4:4).

This was actually God’s original design for the world (Gen. 1:27–31). Humanity’s sinful rebellion initiated the struggle for material well-being that so often leads to conflict (3:17–19; 4:3–14). But according to Micah’s prophecy, the Lord will ultimately resolve issues of war and access to adequate resources. Humanity will live in peace, abundance, and joy (compare Rev. 21:1–5; 22:1–5).

Micah’s encouraging vision reminds us that we can trust God to provide safety, food, and a better future. And because He provides for our needs, we can live as sources of hope to others, sharing the gifts that have been given to us.

Life for the Faithful Few

Mic. 5:3

Holding on to Christian faith and values can make us feel out of step with the society that surrounds us. But rather than make us a member of a lonely minority, this gives us membership in the few and the faithful.

We find longed-for purpose. The Bible describes many followers of God who experienced this purpose even among disconnectedness. Micah and other Old Testament writers referred to these faithful few as a "remnant" (Mic. 5:3, 7, 8).

The term remnant describes survivors who remain after a devastating calamity and form the nucleus of a new community. In the case of Israel, the remnant was made up of people who held on to their faith in the face of opposition at home and persecution abroad. Because of the remnant, faith was preserved until Jesus came into the world.

The Bible frequently addresses how God's followers should live as a minority people, often highlighting the Lord's intent to preserve a godly remnant:

- Moses warned the Israelites that they would be scattered among the nations if they disobeyed God. But the Lord would not completely abandon His people. He would hear their prayers when they finally turned back to Him, and He would not forget His covenant with them (Deut. 4:27–31).
- Isaiah foresaw a day when a remnant of Israel would depend on the Lord instead of on pagan governments (Is. 10:20–23).
- Amos urged his listeners to change their practices in business and government to cause the Lord to be "gracious to the remnant of Joseph" (Amos 5:14, 15).
- Jesus announced God's kingdom and began training His disciples, warning that His followers would encounter opposition and persecution (Matt. 5:1–16).
- Peter wrote primarily to Christians of Jewish descent living in cultures opposed to their beliefs and values. He reminded them of their calling to holiness and pointed out that they were “sojourners and pilgrims” (1 Pet. 1:15, 16; 2:11, 12). In a second letter, he said that “the Lord knows how to deliver the godly out of temptations,” supporting his point with the examples of Noah and Lot, faithful men who lived in corrupt societies (2 Pet. 2:4–11).

- Paul described the church as a “remnant according to the election of grace” that was not unlike the seven thousand faithful Israelites in Elijah’s day (Rom. 11:2–5). He urged Philippian Christians not to be terrified by their adversaries as they suffered for the sake of Christ but to maintain conduct worthy of their Lord (Phil. 1:27–30).

Following God often brings trouble from people who do not know Him. But the trouble is greater if we attempt to travel through life without Him.

Three-Dimensional Spirituality

Mic. 6:8–12

Micah memorably summed up what it means to know and follow the Lord: we are to do justice, love mercy, and walk humbly with our God. This three-dimensional approach encompasses all of life. For example:

- To act with justice keeps us in the real world rather than mired in religious abstractions that cause us to ignore oppression and injustice.
- To love mercy keeps us in touch with the grace of a faithful God rather than in bondage to results-oriented spirituality that produces legalism, weariness, and burnout.
- To walk humbly with God makes us reliant on God’s resources rather than on human solutions, which often put unrealistic pressure on individuals and institutions.

Micah's soaring statement of spiritual virtues is the high point of his book. However, it is important to notice the context of community where we are to live out these values. It is not enough to do justice, love mercy, or walk humbly with God in private. The demands of living publicly are always with us. Justice requires honest business practices and openhandedness with our resources (Mic. 6:10–12). God promises sickness, dissatisfaction, captivity, and death to people who resist His ways (6:13, 14). Clearly, the Lord means for us not merely to admire godly principles but to put them into action in everyday life.

Leaning on the Lord

Mic. 7:2–7

Micah may have felt both brave and lonely as he faced down Jerusalem's proud people. Like Elijah (1 Kin. 19:10), he might have concluded that he was the last faithful person on earth. Wherever the prophet turned, he found people who were corrupt, deceitful, and violent. From domineering rulers and judges to close friends and family, he found no one he could trust.

Surrounded by a hostile world, Micah stayed true to God who takes care of His children no matter what others do (Mic. 7:7). This truth offers hope when we find ourselves among people who do not know or honor God. God will give help us carry life's burdens. And as Micah found, we can always count on God (Heb. 13:8).

God’s wrath fell on Nineveh around 612 B.C. when a coalition of Babylonians, Scythians, and Medes breached the city’s seemingly impenetrable defenses after sudden floods eroded the walls (Nah. 2:6–8). The invaders quickly turned Nineveh—capital of Assyria and second in size only to Babylon among the cities of the region—into a mass of smoking rubble.

This event came nearly 150 years after the Lord sent Jonah to warn the Ninevites of their impending judgment (c. 759 B.C.; Jon. 3). It took a deadly storm and a journey inside the belly of a fish to persuade the reluctant prophet to preach to his enemies (1:11–2:10). But Nineveh’s residents responded to the prophet’s dire warnings with eager repentance, turning from their wickedness and idolatry with sackcloth and fasting. They cried out to God for mercy, and the Lord stayed His hand.

But this spiritual awakening was short-lived. Nineveh resumed its cruelties in war as its armies marched across the Middle East, demolishing the northern kingdom of Israel (722 B.C.; 2 Kin. 17:6) and relenting from its attack on Jerusalem only through God’s miraculous intervention (701 B.C.; 2 Kin. 19:35, 36).

The time for this unrepentant nation had run out. Possibly speaking from southern Judah, Nahum predicted the city’s downfall. To illustrate what Nineveh’s demise would be like, Nahum pointed to No Amon (Thebes) in Egypt (Nah. 3:8–10), a well-defended city destroyed by the Assyrians themselves.

Countless biblical passages teach us the advantages of accepting God’s grace. The Book of Nahum illustrates the dangers of refusing it. Choosing to live for God is the wisest decision we can ever make, but there is nothing more reckless than spurning God's mercy.

Nahum's prophecy was given sometime between 663 and 612 B.C. The prophet's world was essentially the same as that of his predecessor Jonah (see the map below and the map at the introduction to Jonah).

Key Verses in Nahum

- "The LORD is slow to anger" (Nah. 1:3).
- "Behold, on the mountains the feet of him who brings good tidings, who proclaims peace!" (Nah. 1:15).
- "Woe to the bloody city!" (Nah. 3:1).

God's Wrath on His Enemies

2 God is jealous, and the LORD avenges;
The LORD avenges and is furious.
The LORD will take vengeance on His
adversaries,
And He reserves wrath for His enemies;
3 The LORD is slow to anger and great in power,
And will not at all acquit the wicked.

The LORD has His way
In the whirlwind and in the storm,
And the clouds are the dust of His feet. Slow to Anger, Great in Power
4 He rebukes the sea and makes it dry,
And dries up all the rivers.
Bashan and Carmel wither,
And the flower of Lebanon wilts.
5 The mountains quake before Him,
The hills melt,
And the earth heaves[b] at His presence,
Yes, the world and all who dwell in it.

6 Who can stand before His indignation?
And who can endure the fierceness of His anger?
His fury is poured out like fire,
And the rocks are thrown down by Him.

7 The LORD is good,
A stronghold in the day of trouble;
And He knows those who trust in Him.
8 But with an overflowing flood
He will make an utter end of its place,
And darkness will pursue His enemies.

9 What do you conspire against the LORD?
He will make an utter end of it.
Affliction will not rise up a second time.
10 For while tangled like thorns,
And while drunken like drunkards,
They shall be devoured like stubble fully dried.
11 From you comes forth one
Who plots evil against the LORD,
A wicked counselor.

12 Thus says the LORD:

"Though they are safe, and likewise many,
Yet in this manner they will be cut down
When he passes through.
Though I have afflicted you,
I will afflict you no more;
13 For now I will break off his yoke from you,
And burst your bonds apart."

14 The LORD has given a command concerning you:
"Your name shall be perpetuated no longer.
Out of the house of your gods
I will cut off the carved image and the molded image.
I will dig your grave,

For you are vile.”

15Behold, on the mountains
The feet of him who brings good tidings,
Who proclaims peace!
O Judah, keep your appointed feasts,
Perform your vows.
For the wicked one shall no more pass through you;
He is utterly cut off.

The Destruction of Nineveh

1 He who scatters[a] has come up before your face.
Man the fort!
Watch the road!
Strengthen your flanks!
Fortify your power mightily.

2 For the LORD will restore the excellence of Jacob
Like the excellence of Israel,
For the emptiers have emptied them out
And ruined their vine branches.

3 The shields of his mighty men are made red,
The valiant men are in scarlet.
The chariots come with flaming torches
In the day of his preparation,
And the spears are brandished.[b]
4 The chariots rage in the streets,
They jostle one another in the broad roads;
They seem like torches,
They run like lightning.

5 He remembers his nobles;
They stumble in their walk;
They make haste to her walls,
And the defense is prepared.
6 The gates of the rivers are opened,
And the palace is dissolved.

7 It is decreed:[c]
She shall be led away captive,
She shall be brought up;
And her maidservants shall lead her as with the voice of doves, Beating their breasts.

8 Though Nineveh of old was like a pool of water,
Now they flee away.
"Halt! Halt!" they cry;
But no one turns back.
9 Take spoil of silver!
Take spoil of gold!
There is no end of treasure,
Or wealth of every desirable prize.
10 She is empty, desolate, and waste!
The heart melts, and the knees shake;
Much pain is in every side,
And all their faces are drained of color.[d]

11 Where is the dwelling of the lions,
And the feeding place of the young lions,
Where the lion walked, the lioness and lion's cub,
And no one made them afraid?
12 The lion tore in pieces enough for his cubs,
Killed for his lionesses,
Filled his caves with prey,
And his dens with flesh.

13 "Behold, I am against you," says the LORD of hosts, "I will burn your[e] chariots in smoke, and the sword shall devour your young lions; I will cut off your prey from the earth, and the voice of your messengers shall be heard no more.”

Nahum 3

The Woe of Nineveh

1 Woe to the bloody city!
It is all full of lies and robbery.
Its victim never departs.
2 The noise of a whip
And the noise of rattling wheels,
Of galloping horses,
Of clattering chariots!
3 Horsemen charge with bright sword and glittering spear.
There is a multitude of slain,
A great number of bodies, Countless corpses—
They stumble over the corpses—4 Because of the multitude of harlotries of the seductive harlot,
The mistress of sorceries,
Who sells nations through her harlotries,
And families through her sorceries.

5 "Behold, I am against you," says the LORD
of hosts;
"I will lift your skirts over your face,
I will show the nations your nakedness,
And the kingdoms your shame.
6 I will cast abominable filth upon you,
Make you vile,
And make you a spectacle.
7 It shall come to pass that all who look upon
you
Will flee from you, and say,

‘Nineveh is laid waste!
Who will bemoan her?’
Where shall I seek comforters for you?”

8Are you better than No Amon[a]
That was situated by the River,[b]
That had the waters around her,
Whose rampart was the sea,
Whose wall was the sea?
9Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength,
And it was boundless;
Put and Lubim were your[c] helpers.
10Yet she was carried away,
She went into captivity;
Her young children also were dashed to pieces
At the head of every street;
They cast lots for her honorable men,
And all her great men were bound in chains.
11You also will be drunk;
You will be hidden;
You also will seek refuge from the enemy.

12All your strongholds are fig trees with ripened figs:
If they are shaken,
They fall into the mouth of the eater.
13Surely, your people in your midst are women!
The gates of your land are wide open for your enemies;
Fire shall devour the bars of your gates.

14Draw your water for the siege!
Fortify your strongholds!

Go into the clay and tread the mortar!
Make strong the brick kiln!
15There the fire will devour you,
The sword will cut you off;
It will eat you up like a locust.

Make yourself many—like the locust!
Make yourself many—like the swarming locusts!
16You have multiplied your merchants more than the stars of heaven.
The locust plunders and flies away.
17Your commanders are like swarming locusts,
And your generals like great grasshoppers,
Which camp in the hedges on a cold day;
When the sun rises they flee away,
And the place where they are is not known.

18Your shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria;
Your nobles rest in the dust.
Your people are scattered on the mountains,
And no one gathers them.
19Your injury has no healing,
Your wound is severe.
All who hear news of you
Will clap their hands over you,
For upon whom has not your wickedness passed continually?

Nahum
Nah. 1:1

Name means: “Compassionate.”

Home: Elkosh, possibly a city in southern Judah, although other locations have been suggested.

Occupation: Prophet.

Best known for: Prophesying the downfall of Nineveh, capital of the Assyrian empire. He spoke sometime after the fall of the Egyptian city of No Amon (Thebes; c. 663 B.C.; Nah. 3:8). His prediction was fulfilled when a coalition of Babylonians, Scythians, and Medes destroyed Nineveh (c. 612 B.C.).

Think About It: Delivering bad news can lead to good changes. Ponder a time you received difficult words in a way that led to good change (perhaps someone spoke honestly with you about a habit you needed to break).

Slow to Anger, Great in Power
Nah. 1:3

The Book of Nahum points out the limits of short-term repentance. God’s grace is free, but it is not cheap. It does not allow people to go on doing whatever they wish, without guilt or consequence. The Lord leaves rebellious sinners unpunished for only so long (Ex. 34:6, 7). He would not forever allow the lying, killing, abuse, and idolatry of the Assyrians (Nah. 3:1–4). And today, He will never turn His back on cruel injustice or ignore victims' prayers (compare 1:12, 15). Maybe not immediately, but certainly reliably, He will intervene.

The people of Nineveh had experienced God's forgiveness as a result of Jonah's preaching, and their understanding of His mercy made them all the more responsible. To whom much is given—or forgiven—much will be required (Luke 12:48). In the days of Jonah, the Lord had forgiven Nineveh's enormous sins. Yet the Assyrians did not follow through on their repentance with lasting changes, especially in terms of how they acted toward their enemies. If they had, there would have been no reason for Nahum's woeful message.

God will not allow evil to go unchecked forever. Sooner or later, He deals with people who persist in sin. And when He does, His wrath often comes swiftly (Gen. 19:24; 2 Pet. 3:10).

Habakkuk asks questions that resonate deep in our souls. Why do good people suffer? Where is God when evil people succeed? Why doesn't He more quickly put an end to pain and suffering, injustice and oppression, war and disease? If God really exists, why doesn't He show Himself? If He is powerful, why doesn't He act? If He is loving, why doesn't He intervene?

This ancient book shows that perplexing questions like these are nothing new. And we can find encouragement in the fact that God never reproached His servant for asking what was on his mind.

The Lord's care for honest questioners might even be conveyed in the prophet's name, thought to mean "Embrace." In the end, the Lord provided some answers to His servant Habakkuk but also urged the prophet to trust Him to watch over His people and ultimately establish justice, even if His methods are not always easy to understand.

Habakkuk's reference to the Chaldeans (Hab. 1:6, where "Chaldeans" refers to the Babylonians) suggests that his words date to the late seventh century B.C., perhaps shortly after the Battle of Carchemish (605 B.C.). If this is accurate, Habakkuk would have been a contemporary of the prophets Jeremiah and Ezekiel, speaking at a time when the Babylonian empire was on the rise and preparing to march against the nations along the Mediterranean coast.

This atmosphere of political turmoil under the leadership of people who have rejected God's ways may sound familiar. Yet God showed Habakkuk, just as He shows us today, that He can work and will work.

Key Verses in Habakkuk

- “The just shall live by his faith” (Hab. 2:4).
- “Woe to him who builds a town with bloodshed, who establishes a city by iniquity!” (Hab. 2:12).
- “For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea” (Hab. 2:14).
- “The LORD is in His holy temple. Let all the earth keep silence before Him” (Hab. 2:20).
- “Though the fig tree may not blossom, nor fruit be on the vines . . . yet I will rejoice in the LORD” (Hab. 3:17, 18).
- “He will make my feet like deer’s feet, and He will make me walk on my high hills” (Hab. 3:19).

Habakkuk 1

1 The burden[a] which the prophet Habakkuk saw. Habakkuk

The Prophet's Question

2 O LORD, how long shall I cry,
And You will not hear?
Even cry out to You, "Violence!"
And You will not save. The Prophet's Complaints
3 Why do You show me iniquity,
And cause me to see trouble?
For plundering and violence are before me;
There is strife, and contention arises.
4 Therefore the law is powerless,
And justice never goes forth.
For the wicked surround the righteous;
Therefore perverse judgment proceeds.

The LORD's Reply

5 "Look among the nations and watch—
Be utterly astounded!
For I will work a work in your days Which you would not believe, though it were told you.
6 For indeed I am raising up the Chaldeans,
A bitter and hasty nation Which marches through the breadth of the earth,
To possess dwelling places that are not theirs.
7 They are terrible and dreadful;

Their judgment and their dignity proceed from themselves.
8 Their horses also are swifter than leopards,
And more fierce than evening wolves.
Their chargers charge ahead;
Their cavalry comes from afar;
They fly as the eagle that hastens to eat.

9 "They all come for violence;
Their faces are set like the east wind.
They gather captives like sand.
10 They scoff at kings,
And princes are scorned by them.
They deride every stronghold,
For they heap up earthen mounds and seize
it.
11 Then his mind[b] changes, and he transgresses;
He commits offense,
Ascribing this power to his god."

The Prophet's Second Question

12 Are You not from everlasting,
O LORD my God, my Holy One?
We shall not die.
O LORD, You have appointed them for
judgment;
O Rock, You have marked them for correction.
13 You are of purer eyes than to behold evil,
And cannot look on wickedness.
Why do You look on those who deal
treacherously,
And hold Your tongue when the wicked devours

A person more righteous than he?
14 Why do You make men like fish of the sea,
Like creeping things that have no ruler over
them?

15 They take up all of them with a hook,
They catch them in their net,
And gather them in their dragnet.
Therefore they rejoice and are glad.
16 Therefore they sacrifice to their net,
And burn incense to their dragnet;
Because by them their share is sumptuous
And their food plentiful.
17 Shall they therefore empty their net,
And continue to slay nations without pity?

Habakkuk 2

1 I will stand my watch
And set myself on the rampart,
And watch to see what He will say to me,
And what I will answer when I am corrected.

The Just Live by Faith

2 Then the LORD answered me and said:

"Write the vision
And make it plain on tablets,
That he may run who reads it.
3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time;
But at the end it will speak, and it will not lie.
Though it tarries, wait for it;
Because it will surely come,
It will not tarry.

4 "Behold the proud,
His soul is not upright in him;
But the just shall live by his faith. Living by Faith

Woe to the Wicked

5 "Indeed, because he transgresses by wine,
He is a proud man,
And he does not stay at home.
Because he enlarges his desire as hell,[a]
And he is like death, and cannot be satisfied,
He gathers to himself all nations
And heaps up for himself all peoples. Crimes of an Evil Nation

6 “Will not all these take up a proverb
against him,
And a taunting riddle against him, and say, ‘Woe to him who increases
What is not his—how long?
And to him who loads himself with many pledges’?[b]
7 Will not your creditors[c] rise up suddenly?
Will they not awaken who oppress you?
And you will become their booty.
8 Because you have plundered many nations,
All the remnant of the people shall plunder
you,
Because of men’s blood
And the violence of the land and the city,
And of all who dwell in it.

9 “Woe to him who covets evil gain for his
house,
That he may set his nest on high,
That he may be delivered from the power of disaster!
10 You give shameful counsel to your house,
Cutting off many peoples,
And sin against your soul.
11 For the stone will cry out from the wall,
And the beam from the timbers will answer
it.

12 “Woe to him who builds a town with bloodshed,
Who establishes a city by iniquity!
13 Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts
That the peoples labor to feed the fire,[d]
And nations weary themselves in vain?

14 For the earth will be filled With the knowledge of the glory of the LORD,
As the waters cover the sea.

15 "Woe to him who gives drink to his neighbor,
Pressing[e] him to your bottle,
Even to make him drunk,
That you may look on his nakedness!
16 You are filled with shame instead of glory.
You also—drink!
And be exposed as uncircumcised![f]
The cup of the LORD's right hand will be turned against you,
And utter shame will be on your glory.
17 For the violence done to Lebanon will cover you,
And the plunder of beasts which made them afraid,
Because of men's blood
And the violence of the land and the city,
And of all who dwell in it.

18 "What profit is the image, that its maker should carve it,
The molded image, a teacher of lies,
That the maker of its mold should trust in it,
To make mute idols?
19 Woe to him who says to wood, 'Awake!'
To silent stone, 'Arise! It shall teach!'
Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver,
Yet in it there is no breath at all.

20 "But the LORD is in His holy temple.

Let all the earth keep silence before Him.”

The Prophet's Prayer

1 A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet, on Shigionoth.[a] A Song of Trust

2 O LORD, I have heard Your speech and was afraid;
O LORD, revive Your work in the midst of the years!
In the midst of the years make it known;
In wrath remember mercy.

3 God came from Teman,
The Holy One from Mount Paran. Selah

His glory covered the heavens,
And the earth was full of His praise.
4 His brightness was like the light;
He had rays flashing from His hand,
And there His power was hidden.
5 Before Him went pestilence,
And fever followed at His feet.

6 He stood and measured the earth;
He looked and startled the nations.
And the everlasting mountains were scattered,
The perpetual hills bowed.
His ways are everlasting.
7 I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction;
The curtains of the land of Midian trembled.

8O LORD, were You displeased with the rivers,
Was Your anger against the rivers,
Was Your wrath against the sea,
That You rode on Your horses,
Your chariots of salvation?
9Your bow was made quite ready;
Oaths were sworn over Your arrows.[b] Selah

You divided the earth with rivers.
10The mountains saw You and trembled;
The overflowing of the water passed by.
The deep uttered its voice,
And lifted its hands on high.
11The sun and moon stood still in their habitation;
At the light of Your arrows they went,
At the shining of Your glittering spear.

12You marched through the land in indignation;
You trampled the nations in anger.
13You went forth for the salvation of Your people,
For salvation with Your Anointed.
You struck the head from the house of the wicked,
By laying bare from foundation to neck. Selah

14You thrust through with his own arrows
The head of his villages.
They came out like a whirlwind to scatter me;

Their rejoicing was like feasting on the poor in secret.
15 You walked through the sea with Your horses,
Through the heap of great waters.

16 When I heard, my body trembled;
My lips quivered at the voice;
Rottenness entered my bones;
And I trembled in myself,
That I might rest in the day of trouble.
When he comes up to the people,
He will invade them with his troops.

A Hymn of Faith

17 Though the fig tree may not blossom,
Nor fruit be on the vines;
Though the labor of the olive may fail,
And the fields yield no food;
Though the flock may be cut off from the fold,
And there be no herd in the stalls—
18 Yet I will rejoice in the LORD,
I will joy in the God of my salvation.

19 The LORD God[c] is my strength;
He will make my feet like deer's feet,
And He will make me walk on my high hills.

To the Chief Musician. With my stringed instruments.

Habakkuk

Hab. 1:1

Name means: “Embrace.”

Occupation: Prophet of the Lord and possibly also a temple musician or singer (see “A Song of Trust” at Hab. 3:1–19).

Best known as: The prophet whose “burden” (Hab. 1:1) is given in the Book of Habakkuk, possibly written around the same time as the Battle of Carchemish (605 B.C.).

Think About It: Habakkuk taught that good guys may finish last, but ultimately they’re the only ones to finish well. Why do you keep doing the right thing no matter what? Or what right things will you begin doing based on this reality?

The Prophet’s Complaints

Hab. 1:2–4; 1:12–2:1

Habakkuk felt deeply disturbed by the evil he witnessed in the world around him. With an anguished heart he lodged his complaint before God: “O LORD,” he said, “how long shall I cry, and You will not hear? Even cry out to You, ‘Violence!’ and You will not save” (Hab. 1:2). The prophet saw injustice and violence at every turn, the righteous hemmed in by the wicked. Why was the Lord so unresponsive?

But this time the Lord was quick to answer. He would soon send His judgment through the Babylonians (here called Chaldeans). Their fierce military might would bring a swift end to the evil Habakkuk observed.

For the prophet this raised another question. How could God use the vicious and idolatrous Babylonians to execute judgment on His chosen people? Habakkuk prayed, "Why do You look on those who deal treacherously, and hold Your tongue when the wicked devours a person more righteous than he?" (Hab. 1:13).

When the Lord answered again, it was clear that the Babylonians' victory was not to be the end of the story. Rather, the Lord vowed to punish the punishers at an appointed time, putting an end to the cycle of evil. The Babylonians would face the consequences of their crimes just as the Israelites had faced the consequences of theirs. No one is exempt from God's judgment.

Living by Faith

Hab. 2:4

The Lord's announcement to Habakkuk that "the just shall live by his faith" came as the prelude to the prophet's brutally honest words about the corruption and ultimate demise of Babylon. The Lord declared that He would judge the Babylonians because of their pride and failure to fear Him, while people who were "just," or righteous, would receive God's approval and blessing because of their humility and fear (or holy reverence) of Him.

The Hebrew word translated here as "faith," emunah, means "steadfastness" or "faithfulness." In the New Testament, the apostle Paul built on this idea, explaining that living by faith doesn't entail a mere outward observance of the Law, as many Jewish teachers of Paul's day assumed (Rom. 1:17; Gal. 3:10–12). Rather, it involves a heart commitment to the Lord and the recognition that Christ alone makes people righteous. It establishes a proper basis for believers to then live faithful, godly lives. Because we are justified by faith, we can live out our faith in life action. When we are justified by faith and brought into right relationship with God, He empowers us to break free from sin and live virtuous lives.

Martin Luther adopted Habakkuk 2:4 as his watchword during the Protestant Reformation, reclaiming this essential perspective for believers of his day. Many people had forgotten the vital connection between faith and obedience. Their religion boiled down to empty ritual, legalistic standards, and attempts to buy God's favor and forgiveness with money. Luther recovered the powerful truth that God announced to Habakkuk: The just shall live by faith—faith alone!

Crimes of an Evil Nation

Hab. 2:5–19

Because the Babylonians arrogantly lived as if their own interests were all that mattered, God's prophet delivered to them a song of five stanzas, each beginning with a "woe" predicting the affliction that would be paid back to each according to his due. These warnings deserve our attention because all nations—and their citizens—will ultimately answer to God for violating His commands.

1. "Woe to him who increases what is not his" (Hab. 2:6).
   The Babylonians grew wealthy through extortion and robbery, plundering Jerusalem, for example, and carting temple treasures back to Babylon (2 Kin. 25:11–17, Dan. 5:1–4).
2. "Woe to him who covets evil gain for his house" (Hab. 2:9).
   The Babylonians ensured their own security by conquering surrounding nations and thus enlarging their borders, using outlying districts as buffer zones between themselves and potential enemies.
3. "Woe to him who builds a town with bloodshed" (Hab. 2:12).

The Babylonians built impressive cities, including structures said to be among the wonders of the world. But God denounced these extravagant architectural accomplishments because they were financed through violence and built for the sake of vanity.

4. "Woe to him who gives drink to his neighbor . . . that you may look on his nakedness" (Hab. 2:15).
   The Babylonians exploited other nations by diluting their cultures, ravaging their resources, and setting up economic dependencies. King Nebuchadnezzar so severely deforested Lebanon (2:17) that later attempts by the Romans to irrigate and reseed the region were unsuccessful (see "The Cedar Trade" at 1 Kin. 7:2).
5. "Woe to him who says to wood, " 'Awake!' " (Hab. 2:19).
   Along with most of their neighbors in the ancient world, the Babylonians reaped God's judgment for worshiping idols and practicing astrology and magic.

These dire pronouncements still serve as sober warnings to individuals, institutions, corporations, governments, and other alliances. They remind us not to cut moral and ethical corners for any reason. God promises that victims will eventually rise up and retaliate, turning the table on their oppressors (2:7, 8).

Let All the Earth Keep Silence

Hab. 2:20

Worship leaders often use Habakkuk 2:20 to call congregations to reverent silence before God. Yet this passage doesn't merely reflect the respectful silence of a church service. It expresses awe at the awareness of God's judgment. Though we are welcome to bring our honest questions and grievances before the Lord, silence is the only appropriate response to His final judgment. It's a silence based in deep respect and inexpressible awe.

A Song of Trust

Hab. 3:1–19

As Habakkuk observed the epidemic of evil around him, he questioned why God let it happen. Indeed it is right to grieve over evil. When Habakkuk heard God's answers, he feared his nation's fall to the Babylonians.

Habakkuk learned that the Lord sometimes uses unexpected channels to accomplish His purposes. Due to God's character, Habakkuk decided to trust God no matter how desperate things might appear.

God isn't afraid of our doubts, complaints, and questions. While He might not explain everything to our satisfaction—nor are we always capable of understanding everything He might tell us—He assures us that He is good and righteous, and that furthermore, "the just shall live by his faith" (Hab. 2:4). In the end, the ultimate answer to all of our questions is to put our trust in God and to live faithfully toward Him.

Living by faith means living with God's perspective on the troubles around us. When evil forces temporarily triumph, or when financial crises, poor health, or difficult relationships attack us, we can trust that God still reigns. He will show us what to do. We need not fear that life will come undone. Indeed, we need not fear death itself.

The third chapter of Habakkuk is called a "prayer" (Hab. 3:1), but it also appears to be a psalm, a musical composition sung to the accompaniment of instruments (3:19). Habakkuk's psalm expresses not only his reverence for the Lord but also the peace he has found as a result of placing unconditional trust in Him. Even when trees bear no fruit, even when fields are bare, even when no animals fill the barn—even when all seems bleak and hopeless—God will bring us joy. Regardless of how treacherous the journey may seem, He gives us sure footing and enables us to dance on the heights.

By the time the prophet Zephaniah arrived on the scene, the northern kingdom of Israel had been overthrown for nearly a hundred years (since the Assyrian invasion in 722 B.C.; 2 Kin. 17:6). Meanwhile, its neighbor Judah had suffered under the reigns of evil kings such as Manasseh (686–642 B.C.) and Amon (642–640 B.C.). It looked as though the southern kingdom would soon suffer the same fate as the north.

Yet for a time, the nation recovered. Zephaniah began his prophetic work sometime around the reign of Josiah, a magnanimous monarch (c. 640–609 B.C.). The prophet was likely a cousin of the young king, who instituted rigorous spiritual reforms after the rediscovery of the lost Book of the Law, found while repairs were being made to the temple at Jerusalem (2 Kin. 22:8). Throughout Judah and extending into the northern kingdom of Israel, Josiah tore down idols and pagan worship sites (2 Kin. 21:23–23:30), leading his people in spiritual renewal by bringing his predecessors' evil practices to an end.

Although Zephaniah's life and prophecy may have ended before Josiah's reforms, Zephaniah was part of the process of pushing the nation to change. He spoke against the false gods Baal and Milcom as well as the ritual prostitution and child sacrifice that accompanied their worship (Zeph. 1:3–6). He warned that God would not sit back and do nothing; the Lord is never complacent in the face of injustice (1:12). Like his contemporary Jeremiah, Zephaniah prophesied of imminent judgment, focusing on what he called "the day of the LORD." This time of accountability would begin with wrath (1:2–3:8) but eventually give way to joy (3:9–20).

Zephaniah urged God's people to seek the Lord and the righteousness and humility that would allow them to remain "hidden" from God's anger (2:3). Nevertheless, after Josiah's death, Judah rapidly returned to its idolatrous ways, and within a few decades the nation was routed and destroyed by the Babylonians (587 B.C.; 2 Kin. 25:1–21).

Key Verses in Zephaniah

- "Be silent in the presence of the Lord GOD; for the day of the LORD is at hand" (Zeph. 1:7).
- "That day is a day of wrath . . . a day of clouds and thick darkness" (Zeph. 1:15).
- "Seek the LORD, all you meek of the earth, who have upheld His justice. Seek righteousness, seek humility. It may be that you will be hidden in the day of the LORD's anger" (Zeph. 2:3).
- "This is the rejoicing city . . . that said in her heart, 'I am it, and there is none besides me' " (Zeph. 2:15).
- "The LORD your God in your midst, the Mighty One, will save" (Zeph. 3:17).

The Great Day of the LORD

2 "I will utterly consume everything
From the face of the land,"
Says the LORD;
3 "I will consume man and beast;
I will consume the birds of the heavens,
The fish of the sea,
And the stumbling blocks[a] along with the wicked.
I will cut off man from the face of the land,"
Says the LORD.

4 "I will stretch out My hand against Judah,
And against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
I will cut off every trace of Baal from this place,
The names of the idolatrous priests[b] with the pagan priests—
5 Those who worship the host of heaven on the housetops;
Those who worship and swear oaths by the
LORD,
But who also swear by Milcom;[c] 6 Those who have turned back from following
the LORD,

And have not sought the LORD, nor inquired of Him."

7 Be silent in the presence of the Lord GOD;
For the day of the LORD is at hand,
For the LORD has prepared a sacrifice;
He has invited[d] His guests. The Day of the Lord in Zephaniah

8 "And it shall be,
In the day of the LORD's sacrifice,
That I will punish the princes and the king's children,
And all such as are clothed with foreign apparel.
9 In the same day I will punish
All those who leap over the threshold,[e]
Who fill their masters' houses with violence and deceit.

10 "And there shall be on that day," says the LORD,
"The sound of a mournful cry from the Fish Gate,
A wailing from the Second Quarter,
And a loud crashing from the hills.
11 Wail, you inhabitants of Maktesh![f]
For all the merchant people are cut down;
All those who handle money are cut off.

12 "And it shall come to pass at that time
That I will search Jerusalem with lamps,
And punish the men
Who are settled in complacency,[g]
Who say in their heart,

‘The LORD will not do good,
Nor will He do evil.’
13Therefore their goods shall become booty,
And their houses a desolation;
They shall build houses, but not inhabit them;
They shall plant vineyards, but not drink their wine.”

14The great day of the LORD is near;
It is near and hastens quickly.
The noise of the day of the LORD is bitter;
There the mighty men shall cry out.
15That day is a day of wrath,
A day of trouble and distress,
A day of devastation and desolation,
A day of darkness and gloominess,
A day of clouds and thick darkness,
16A day of trumpet and alarm
Against the fortified cities
And against the high towers.

17“I will bring distress upon men,
And they shall walk like blind men,
Because they have sinned against the LORD;
Their blood shall be poured out like dust,
And their flesh like refuse.”

18Neither their silver nor their gold
Shall be able to deliver them
In the day of the LORD’s wrath;
But the whole land shall be devoured
By the fire of His jealousy,
For He will make speedy riddance
Of all those who dwell in the land.

Zephaniah 2

A Call to Repentance

1 Gather yourselves together, yes, gather together,
O undesirable[a] nation,
2 Before the decree is issued,
Or the day passes like chaff,
Before the LORD's fierce anger comes upon
you,
Before the day of the LORD's anger comes upon you! An Opportunity to Repent
3 Seek the LORD, all you meek of the earth,
Who have upheld His justice.
Seek righteousness, seek humility.
It may be that you will be hidden
In the day of the LORD's anger.

Judgment on Nations

4 For Gaza shall be forsaken,
And Ashkelon desolate;
They shall drive out Ashdod at noonday,
And Ekron shall be uprooted.
5 Woe to the inhabitants of the seacoast,
The nation of the Cherethites!
The word of the LORD is against you,
O Canaan, land of the Philistines:
"I will destroy you;
So there shall be no inhabitant."

6 The seacoast shall be pastures, With shelters[b] for shepherds and folds for flocks.

7 The coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah;
They shall feed their flocks there;
In the houses of Ashkelon they shall lie down at evening.
For the LORD their God will intervene for
them,
And return their captives.

8 "I have heard the reproach of Moab,
And the insults of the people of Ammon,
With which they have reproached My
people,
And made arrogant threats against their borders.
9 Therefore, as I live,"
Says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel,
"Surely Moab shall be like Sodom,
And the people of Ammon like Gomorrah—
Overrun with weeds and saltpits,
And a perpetual desolation.
The residue of My people shall plunder
them,
And the remnant of My people shall possess
them."

10 This they shall have for their pride,
Because they have reproached and made arrogant threats
Against the people of the LORD of hosts.
11 The LORD will be awesome to them,
For He will reduce to nothing all the gods of
the earth;
People shall worship Him,
Each one from his place,

Indeed all the shores of the nations.

12"You Ethiopians also,
You shall be slain by My sword."

13And He will stretch out His hand against the north,
Destroy Assyria,
And make Nineveh a desolation,
As dry as the wilderness.
14The herds shall lie down in her midst,
Every beast of the nation.
Both the pelican and the bittern Shall lodge on the capitals of her pillars;
Their voice shall sing in the windows;
Desolation shall be at the threshold;
For He will lay bare the cedar work.
15This is the rejoicing city
That dwelt securely,
That said in her heart,
"I am it, and there is none besides me."
How has she become a desolation,
A place for beasts to lie down!
Everyone who passes by her Shall hiss and shake his fist.

Zephaniah 3

The Wickedness of Jerusalem

1 Woe to her who is rebellious and polluted,
To the oppressing city!
2 She has not obeyed His voice,
She has not received correction;
She has not trusted in the LORD,
She has not drawn near to her God.

3 Her princes in her midst are roaring lions;
Her judges are evening wolves
That leave not a bone till morning.
4 Her prophets are insolent, treacherous
people;
Her priests have polluted the sanctuary,
They have done violence to the law.
5 The LORD is righteous in her midst,
He will do no unrighteousness.
Every morning He brings His justice to light;
He never fails,
But the unjust knows no shame.

6 "I have cut off nations,
Their fortresses are devastated;
I have made their streets desolate,
With none passing by.
Their cities are destroyed;
There is no one, no inhabitant. Loud and Clear
7 I said, 'Surely you will fear Me,
You will receive instruction'—
So that her dwelling would not be cut off,
Despite everything for which I punished her.

But they rose early and corrupted all their deeds.

A Faithful Remnant

8“Therefore wait for Me,” says the LORD, “Until the day I rise up for plunder;[a]
My determination is to gather the nations
To My assembly of kingdoms,
To pour on them My indignation,
All My fierce anger;
All the earth shall be devoured
With the fire of My jealousy.

9“For then I will restore to the peoples a pure language,
That they all may call on the name of the LORD,
To serve Him with one accord.
10From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia
My worshipers,
The daughter of My dispersed ones,
Shall bring My offering.
11In that day you shall not be shamed for any of your deeds
In which you transgress against Me;
For then I will take away from your midst
Those who rejoice in your pride,
And you shall no longer be haughty
In My holy mountain.
12I will leave in your midst
A meek and humble people,
And they shall trust in the name of the LORD.
13The remnant of Israel shall do no unrighteousness

And speak no lies,
Nor shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth;
For they shall feed their flocks and lie down,
And no one shall make them afraid.”

Joy in God’s Faithfulness

14Sing, O daughter of Zion!
Shout, O Israel!
Be glad and rejoice with all your heart,
O daughter of Jerusalem!
15The LORD has taken away your judgments,
He has cast out your enemy.
The King of Israel, the LORD, is in your midst;
You shall see[b] disaster no more.

16In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem:
“Do not fear;
Zion, let not your hands be weak.
17The LORD your God in your midst,
The Mighty One, will save;
He will rejoice over you with gladness,
He will quiet you with His love,
He will rejoice over you with singing.”

18“I will gather those who sorrow over the appointed assembly,
Who are among you,
To whom its reproach is a burden.
19Behold, at that time
I will deal with all who afflict you;
I will save the lame,
And gather those who were driven out;

I will appoint them for praise and fame
In every land where they were put to shame.
20 At that time I will bring you back,
Even at the time I gather you;
For I will give you fame and praise
Among all the peoples of the earth,
When I return your captives before your eyes,”
Says the LORD.

Zephaniah

Zeph. 1:1

Name means: "The Lord Has Hidden," possibly reflecting Zephaniah's birth during the dark days of King Manasseh (c. 686–642 B.C.).

Home: Probably Jerusalem.

Family: Descendant of Hezekiah, probably King Hezekiah of Judah (c. 715–686 B.C.); son of Cushi; likely a cousin and contemporary of King Josiah (c. 640–609 B.C.).

Occupation: Prophet in Judah during the early reign of King Josiah, probably before the spiritual reforms of 621 B.C. (2 Kin. 23:4–20).

Best known as: A prophet from Judah's royal family who warned that the nation's immorality and idolatry made judgment inevitable (Zeph. 1:4–13; 3:1–7). He also predicted that a penitent remnant would survive the coming judgment and enjoy the Lord's blessings (2:1–3; 3:8–20).

Think About It: As you read this Bible book, focus on what Zephaniah can teach you about penitence and enjoying the Lord's blessings.

The Day of the Lord in Zephaniah

Zeph. 1:7

Although the Book of Zephaniah has only fifty-three verses, it contains eighteen references to "the day of the LORD." Like other Old Testament prophets, Zephaniah sees this coming day from a range of perspectives:

- As a day of sacrifice (Zeph. 1:7, 8). Zephaniah refers to "sacrifice" ironically, because the sacrifice turns out to be people—idolaters of Judah who worship Baal, Milcom, or astronomical objects (1:4, 5). The "guests" at this sacrificial meal are the Babylonians, who do the honor of "eating" the sacrifice.
- As a day of wrath or judgment (1:14–2:3; 3:8). As the Lord bursts forth in anger to halt evil, the world spins into chaos and people cry out in terror (1:2, 3, 15–18). Nations are consumed (1:2, 3; 2:4–15), as is Jerusalem (3:1–7).
- As a new day of hope and joy (3:9–20). Once the wrath subsides and the noise of judgment fades, the Lord will restore a righteous people to the world.

An Opportunity to Repent
Zeph. 2:2, 3

Whenever God moves to correct sin, He leaves an escape: the opportunity to repent. Scripture reveals that God is consistently merciful to all who recognize their wrongdoing, confess their sin, and reorient their lives toward Him (see "A Sorrow unto Repentance" at Joel 2:12–17). As Zephaniah described the "great day of the LORD," a looming event of terrifying wrath (Zeph. 1:14, 15), he paused to offer a way out. By seeking the Lord, righteousness, and humility, anyone could hide from God's anger, covered over by His forgiveness.

Zephaniah had strong precedents for offering these terms:

- In response to Jonah's preaching (c. 759 B.C.; Jon. 3), the Ninevites had humbled themselves with fasting, sackcloth, ashes, and prayer, repenting of their immorality and idolatry. The Lord withheld His judgment of the city.
- King Hezekiah (c. 715–686 B.C.) had responded with repentance to God's warnings in the days of Micah the prophet, and the Lord stayed His hand from striking Judah (Jer. 26:17–19).

King Josiah and his fellow Judeans took Zephaniah up on his offer. They enacted extensive spiritual reforms, including widespread demolition of idols and a restoration of true worship (2 Kin. 23:1–25).

These reforms may have already been underway when Zephaniah spoke, but whatever the timing, the Lord delayed His judgment until after Josiah died (22:15–20; 23:26, 27). Even when the Babylonians eventually obliterated Jerusalem (587 B.C.), people who reverenced God survived the ordeal, just as Zephaniah and other prophets had predicted. These survivors included the prophet Jeremiah (Jer. 40:1–6) and an official named Ebed-Melech (38:7–13; 39:15–18).

God's wrath against sin is still real today (Rom. 1:18). If we want to escape His judgment, we are welcome to accept the Lord's mercy much like the people of Zephaniah's day: in repentance from sin and obedience to God. When we trust in Jesus and turn from sin, we can be confident that we will be "hidden in the day of the LORD's anger" (Zeph. 2:3; compare Acts 17:30, 31; 1 Thess. 1:9, 10).

Loud and Clear

Zeph. 3:6, 7

The people who heard Zephaniah preach had grown so complacent to the Lord's warnings that He occasionally took extreme actions to shake them out of their complacency. He "cut off" entire nations and cities—including Israel—as an example of the judgment that was poised to fall. Perhaps His people would "receive instruction" before it was too late. But in spite of the Lord's best efforts, Judah remained stubbornly “rebellious and polluted,” refusing to receive correction (Zeph. 3:1, 2). Rulers, prophets, judges, and priests persisted in doing evil, shutting out God’s urgent warnings (3:3, 4).

Many people—even entire nations—ignore God’s alarms. How are you contributing to a people who listen, and obey our God?

More: Zephaniah’s prophecy was one of many messages in which God warned His people against turning from Him. When judgment finally fell, the people were without excuse.

Some fifty thousand people returned to Jerusalem from Babylon (Ezra 2:64, 65; 8:1–14) after King Cyrus of Persia declared the Hebrews' liberation from captivity. After seventy years in exile, the Jews could finally rebuild the temple of their city to honor their God (1:2–4). These returnees enthusiastically laid the new foundation with great fanfare.

Then the work stopped.

And for sixteen years (4:24), not a stone was added to the temple.

Appalled that the temple lay in ruins while God's people lived in fine houses, the prophet Haggai arrived on the scene with a pointed rebuke from the Lord (Hag. 1:4). The people's lack of dedication resulted in famine and frustration. God would no longer allow His people to be sidetracked by small-minded, worldly concerns. He urged them, "Consider your ways!" (1:5, 7).

Like the people of Haggai's day, we often become preoccupied with money and fine living, forsaking or delaying God's work while we chase after personal gratification.

The Book of Habakkuk challenges us to confront our misplaced priorities, reminding us that inaction can cause as much harm as action. For the Jews, the neglected ruin of the temple at Jerusalem stood as a powerful symbol of their spiritual decay.

Haggai prophesied from August through December of 520 B.C. (Hag. 1:1, 15; 2:1, 10, 20), about eighteen years after Cyrus permitted the Jews to return to their homeland.

Haggai's contemporaries included Zerubbabel, Ezra, Nehemiah, Zechariah, and perhaps Malachi.

Key Verses in Haggai

- "Is it time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, and this temple to lie in ruins?" (Hag. 1:4).
- "Consider your ways! You have sown much, and bring in little; you eat, but do not have enough; you drink, but you are not filled with drink; you clothe yourselves, but no one is warm; and he who earns wages, earns wages to put into a bag with holes" (Hag. 1:5, 6).
- "I am with you, says the LORD" (Hag. 1:13).
- "My Spirit remains among you; do not fear!" (Hag. 2:5).
- "I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations, and I will fill this temple with glory" (Hag. 2:7).

Haggai 1

The Command to Build God's House

1 In the second year of King Darius, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, Haggai

2 "Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, saying: 'This people says, "The time has not come, the time that the LORD's house should be built." ' "

3 Then the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 "Is it time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, and this temple[a] to lie in ruins?"

5 Now therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts: "Consider your ways!

6 "You have sown much, and bring in little;
You eat, but do not have enough;
You drink, but you are not filled with drink;
You clothe yourselves, but no one is warm;
And he who earns wages,
Earns wages to put into a bag with holes." Do Things in Order

7 Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Consider your ways!

8 "Go up to the mountains and bring wood and build the temple, that I may take pleasure in it and be glorified," says
the LORD.

9 "You looked for much, but indeed it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?" says the LORD of hosts. “Because of My house that is in ruins, while every one of you runs to his own house.

10 “Therefore the heavens above you withhold the dew, and the earth withholds its fruit.

11 “For I called for a drought on the land and the mountains, on the grain and the new wine and the oil, on whatever the ground brings forth, on men and livestock, and on all the labor of your hands.”

The People’s Obedience

12 Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people feared the presence of the LORD.

13 Then Haggai, the LORD’s messenger, spoke the LORD’s message to the people, saying, “I am with you, says the LORD.”

14 So the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and worked on the house of the LORD of hosts, their God,

15 on the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month, in the second year of King Darius. Short-Term v. Long-Term

Haggai 2

The Coming Glory of God's House

1 In the seventh month, on the twenty-first of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying:
2 "Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying:
3 'Who is left among you who saw this temple[a] in its former glory? And how do you see it now? In comparison with it, is this not in your eyes as nothing? Here and Now 4 'Yet now be strong, Zerubbabel,' says the LORD; 'and be strong, Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all you people of the land,' says the LORD, 'and work; for I am with you,' says the LORD of hosts.
5 'According to the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, so My Spirit remains among you; do not fear!'
6 "For thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Once more (it is a little while) I will shake heaven and earth, the sea and dry land; Shaking the Nations
7 'and I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations,[b] and I will fill this temple with glory,'
says the LORD of hosts.
8 'The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine,' says the LORD
of hosts.
9 'The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former,' says the LORD of hosts. 'And in this place I will give peace,' says the LORD of hosts."

The People Are Defiled

10On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11"Thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Now, ask the priests concerning the law, saying,

12"If one carries holy meat in the fold of his garment, and with the edge he touches bread or stew, wine or oil, or any food, will it become holy?" ' " Then the priests answered and said, "No."

13And Haggai said, "If one who is unclean because of a dead body touches any of these, will it be unclean?" So the priests answered and said, "It shall be unclean."

14Then Haggai answered and said, " 'So is this people, and so is this nation before Me,' says the LORD, 'and so is every work of their hands; and what they offer there is unclean.

Promised Blessing

15'And now, carefully consider from this day forward: from before stone was laid upon stone in the temple of the LORD—

16'since those days, when one came to a heap of twenty ephahs, there were but ten; when one came to the wine vat to draw out fifty baths from the press, there were but twenty.

17'I struck you with blight and mildew and hail in all the labors of your hands; yet you did not turn to Me,' says the LORD.

18'Consider now from this day forward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid—consider it:

19'Is the seed still in the barn? As yet the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree have not yielded fruit. But from this day I will bless you.' "

Zerubbabel Chosen as a Signet

20And again the word of the LORD came to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying, 21"Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying:

> 'I will shake heaven and earth.
> 22I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms;
> I will destroy the strength of the Gentile kingdoms.
> I will overthrow the chariots
> And those who ride in them;
> The horses and their riders shall come down,
> Every one by the sword of his brother.

23'In that day,' says the LORD of hosts, 'I will take you, Zerubbabel My servant, the son of Shealtiel,' says the LORD, 'and will make you like a signet ring; for I have chosen you,' says the LORD of hosts."

Haggai

Hag. 1:1

Name means: “Festive.”

Home: Possibly born in Babylon; relocated to Jerusalem in 538 B.C.

Occupation: Prophet in postexilic Jerusalem.

Best known for: His eagerness to complete temple construction, in contrast to the apathy of many of his neighbors.

Think About It: What does Haggai teach you about how to overcome apathy?

Do Things in Order

Hag. 1:6

The Jews who left Babylon for Jerusalem struggled like any refugees in the aftermath of war. They were poor, and they lacked basic necessities. Much of their former home lay wrecked and desolate. They faced the arduous task of rebuilding their cities and recovering their heritage. For the Babylonian exiles, this included the reconstruction of the temple, the spiritual hub of their community.

At first the returnees enthusiastically rallied around the temple project. Within a year or two, however, they gave up. For the next sixteen years, temple construction came to a halt while everyone devoted themselves to reestablishing an economy.

To a large extent, they succeeded. Scripture reports that the inhabitants of Jerusalem built paneled houses (Hag. 1:4), a sign of increased wealth. They worked hard, reclaiming and replanting fields and vineyards. But the time for spiritual renewal had been put off for far too long. The Lord sent the prophet Haggai to tell the people to get back to work on the temple, asking, "Is it time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, and this temple to lie in ruins?" (1:4).

The people's work in and of itself was not wrong, but it was out of order given the temple's disrepair (1:6). The people's priorities were misplaced. They were sating their material hungers but starving themselves spiritually. They needed to finish what they had begun: establishing a gathering place for worship (1:9–11).

God longs for us to put first things first, guarding and promoting our spiritual health over any worldly consideration.

More: Solomon learned the truth about material possessions and spiritual poverty the hard way. Read his conclusions in Eccl. 2. Haggai's message does not devalue hard work. We are to work diligently and faithfully, as though working for Christ Himself. See "The Lord's Employees" at Col. 3:22–24 and "People at Work" at Ps. 8:6.

Short-Term v. Long-Term

Hag. 1:15

The prophet Haggai spent four months restarting the stalled project of rebuilding the temple.

Date	Accomplishment
August 29, 520 B.C.	Presented a status report on the situation and helped people see why their failure to complete the temple was a problem (Hag. 1:1–11).

September 21, 520 B.C.	Reaffirmed the Lord's commitment to assist His people; restarted construction (Hag. 1:12–15).
October 17, 520 B.C.	Reviewed the project's long-term significance, promising that the new temple would be more glorious than the old (Hag. 2:1–9).
December 18, 520 B.C.	Announced that God would begin blessing the people again in light of their hard work (Hag. 2:10–19).
December 18, 520 B.C.	Presented a message to Zerubbabel concerning God's plan to "shake heaven and earth," and the news that the Lord had chosen Zerubbabel to play a part in His plan (Hag. 2:20–23).

Haggai's job was to keep the leaders of Jerusalem and their workers focused on the task at hand. But he also had to help them see the larger value of serving God instead of chasing their own comfort (Hag. 1:6–9). Haggai encouraged the people to exchange their short-term view for a long-term view. Often, what makes us happy today can make us miserable later, but what requires sacrifice in the short term leads to happiness and other rewards in the long term (Matt. 6:19–21).

Here and Now

Hag. 2:3–5

As a new temple began to rise on the site where the original house of God had stood, some of the elderly among Jerusalem's citizens remembered the "former glory" of the first temple. Its exquisite cedar paneling, gold overlays, and magnificent furnishings made the new temple seem "as nothing."

The Lord did not stop these people from honoring the past, but He did urge them not to neglect the present. He challenged leaders and laborers to "be strong . . . and work; for I am with you" (Hag. 2:4).

The new structure would not restore Solomon's gilded glories, but it would do something much more important: provide a gathering place for worship and the revitalization of God's community.

Scripture repeatedly encourages people of all ages to remember and honor the past. But it also urges people of all ages to face the reality of the present. God is at work today just as much as yesterday. When we cooperate with what God is doing here and now, who knows what wonders we will accomplish?

Shaking the Nations

Hag. 2:6, 7

Haggai predicted that the Lord planned to rock the nations. Twice he said that God would "shake heaven and earth" (Hag. 2:6, 7, 21, 22). But these twin messages seem to refer to two completely different events, or at least two completely different sides to one event. One deals with salvation, while the other concerns God's judgment:

Salvation (Hag. 2:6, 7)	Judgment (Hag. 2:21, 22)
"Once more . . . I will shake heaven and earth, the sea and dry land; and I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations, and I will fill this temple with glory."	"I will shake heaven and earth. I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms; I will destroy the strength of the Gentile kingdoms. I will overthrow the chariots and those who ride in them; the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother."

These passages show that God sets before the world a choice similar to what Moses put to Israel just before entering the Promised Land—a choice between blessing and curse, salvation and judgment, life and death (Deut. 30:19).

Just as Moses encouraged the Israelites to choose life, God also invites all nations to choose life. When the Lord judges the nations, His judgment will be final. So He "shakes" the earth. He wants everyone to repent of evil and turn toward Him, the "Desire of All Nations." If we persist in turning away, He allows us to self-destruct, "every one by the sword of his brother" (Hag. 2:22).

God judges all people by the same righteous standard. He does not play favorites. His invitation today is the same as in Haggai's day—to turn to Him and find life to live each and every day.

Zechariah was probably a child when the Jews began returning from Babylon to Jerusalem in 538 B.C. As he began delivering prophetic messages around 520 B.C., he worked closely with the prophet Haggai (see his profile at Hag. 1:1), the governor Zerubbabel, and especially the scribe Ezra.

All of these spiritual leaders had one goal in mind: to reestablish God's people in their homeland. The exiles who had returned to Jerusalem wept when they saw the rubble that was once a glorious temple and holy city. They enthusiastically committed to rebuilding the temple and restoring their religious practices and sense of community. Fierce opposition from outsiders and the people's own preoccupation with material wealth caused their efforts to lag, and construction halted for sixteen years (Ezra 4; Hag. 1:4). Two months after the prophet Haggai began to prod the people to resume their work, Zechariah also began to speak.

Zechariah's visions and prophecies encouraged the returnees to obey God and enjoy His blessings (Zech. 1:3). He promoted the completion of the temple (1:16; 6:15), and he looked ahead to a Messiah who would one day rule God's people. The Book of Zechariah is second only to the Book of Isaiah for its volume of prophecies that foreshadow Jesus.

Zechariah 1:1 attributes the book to the prophet for whom the book is named, Zechariah son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet. The book is set in Jerusalem, but the prophet's message touches on God's work across the world and throughout time. Zechariah 1–8 is believed to be contemporaneous with Ezra 5–6.

Key Verses in Zechariah

- " 'Return to Me,' says the LORD of hosts, 'and I will return to you' " (Zech. 1:3).
- " 'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' says the LORD of hosts" (Zech. 4:6).
- "The eyes of the LORD . . . scan to and fro throughout the whole earth" (Zech. 4:10).
- "Behold, your King is coming to you; He is just and having salvation, lowly and riding on a donkey, a colt, the foal of a donkey" (Zech. 9:9).
- "Then they will look on Me whom they pierced. Yes, they will mourn for Him as one mourns for his only son" (Zech. 12:10).
- "Strike the Shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered" (Zech. 13:7).
- "And the Mount of Olives shall be split in two, from east to west" (Zech. 14:4).
- "In that day 'HOLINESS TO THE LORD' shall be engraved on the bells of the horses" (Zech. 14:20).

Zechariah 1

A Call to Repentance

1 In the eighth month of the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying, Zechariah

2 "The LORD has been very angry with your fathers.

3 "Therefore say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts:
"Return to Me," says the LORD of hosts, "and I will return to you," says the LORD of hosts.

4 "Do not be like your fathers, to whom the former prophets preached, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts:
"Turn now from your evil ways and your evil deeds." ' But they did not hear nor heed Me," says the LORD.

5 "Your fathers, where are they?
And the prophets, do they live forever?
6 Yet surely My words and My statutes, Which I commanded My servants the prophets,
Did they not overtake your fathers?

"So they returned and said:

'Just as the LORD of hosts determined to do to us,
According to our ways and according to our deeds,
So He has dealt with us.' " ' "

Vision of the Horses

7 On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet:

8 I saw by night, and behold, a man riding on a red horse, and it stood among the myrtle trees in the hollow; and behind him were horses: red, sorrel, and white.

9 Then I said, “My lord, what are these?” So the angel who talked with me said to me, “I will show you what they are.”

10 And the man who stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, “These are the ones whom the LORD has sent to walk to and fro throughout the earth.”

11 So they answered the Angel of the LORD, who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, “We have walked to and fro throughout the earth, and behold, all the earth is resting quietly.”

The LORD Will Comfort Zion

12 Then the Angel of the LORD answered and said, “O LORD of hosts, how long will You not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which You were angry these seventy years?”

13 And the LORD answered the angel who talked to me, with good and comforting words.

14 So the angel who spoke with me said to me, “Proclaim, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts:

> “I am zealous for Jerusalem
> And for Zion with great zeal.
> 15 I am exceedingly angry with the nations at > ease;
> For I was a little angry,
> And they helped—but with evil intent.”

16 ‘Therefore thus says the LORD:

“I am returning to Jerusalem with mercy;
My house shall be built in it,” says the LORD
of hosts,
“And a surveyor’s line shall be stretched out over Jerusalem.” ’

17 “Again proclaim, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts:

“My cities shall again spread out through prosperity;
The LORD will again comfort Zion,
And will again choose Jerusalem.” ’ ”

Vision of the Horns

18 Then I raised my eyes and looked, and there were four horns.

19 And I said to the angel who talked with me, “What are these?” So he answered me, “These are the horns that have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.”

20 Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen.

21 And I said, “What are these coming to do?” So he said, “These are the horns that scattered Judah, so that no one could lift up his head; but the craftsmen[a] are coming to terrify them, to cast out the horns of the nations that lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.”

Zechariah 2

Vision of the Measuring Line

1 Then I raised my eyes and looked, and behold, a man with a measuring line in his hand.
2 So I said, “Where are you going?” And he said to me, “To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its width and what is its length.”
3 And there was the angel who talked with me, going out;
and another angel was coming out to meet him,
4 who said to him, “Run, speak to this young man, saying:
‘Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls, because of the multitude of men and livestock in it. A World Without Walls
5 ‘For I,’ says the LORD, ‘will be a wall of fire all around her, and I will be the glory in her midst.’ ”

Future Joy of Zion and Many Nations

6 “Up, up! Flee from the land of the north,” says the LORD; “for I have spread you abroad like the four winds of heaven,” says the LORD.
7 “Up, Zion! Escape, you who dwell with the daughter of Babylon.”
8 For thus says the LORD of hosts: “He sent Me after glory, to the nations which plunder you; for he who touches you touches the apple of His eye.
9 “For surely I will shake My hand against them, and they shall become spoil for their servants. Then you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent Me.
10 “Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion! For behold, I am coming and I will dwell in your midst,” says the LORD.

11 “Many nations shall be joined to the LORD in that day, and they shall become My people. And I will dwell in your midst. Then you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent Me to you.
12 “And the LORD will take possession of Judah as His inheritance in the Holy Land, and will again choose Jerusalem.
13 “Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD, for He is aroused from His holy habitation!”

Zechariah 3

Vision of the High Priest

1 Then he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the Angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to oppose him.
2 And the LORD said to Satan, "The LORD rebuke you, Satan! The LORD who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! Is this not a brand plucked from the fire?" Satan the Schemer 3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and was standing before the Angel.
4 Then He answered and spoke to those who stood before Him, saying, "Take away the filthy garments from him."
And to him He said, "See, I have removed your iniquity from you, and I will clothe you with rich robes."
5 And I said, "Let them put a clean turban on his head."
So they put a clean turban on his head, and they put the clothes on him. And the Angel of the LORD stood by.

The Coming Branch

6 Then the Angel of the LORD admonished Joshua, saying,
7 "Thus says the LORD of hosts:

> 'If you will walk in My ways,
> And if you will keep My command,
> Then you shall also judge My house,
> And likewise have charge of My courts;
> I will give you places to walk
> Among these who stand here.
>
> 8 'Hear, O Joshua, the high priest,

You and your companions who sit before
you,
For they are a wondrous sign;
For behold, I am bringing forth My Servant
the BRANCH.
9For behold, the stone
That I have laid before Joshua:
Upon the stone are seven eyes.
Behold, I will engrave its inscription,’
Says the LORD of hosts,
‘And I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.
10In that day,’ says the LORD of hosts,
‘Everyone will invite his neighbor
Under his vine and under his fig tree.’ ”

Zechariah 4

Vision of the Lampstand and Olive Trees

1 Now the angel who talked with me came back and wakened me, as a man who is wakened out of his sleep.
2 And he said to me, “What do you see?” So I said, “I am looking, and there is a lampstand of solid gold with a bowl on top of it, and on the stand seven lamps with seven pipes to the seven lamps.
3 “Two olive trees are by it, one at the right of the bowl and the other at its left.”
4 So I answered and spoke to the angel who talked with me, saying, “What are these, my lord?”
5 Then the angel who talked with me answered and said to me, “Do you not know what these are?” And I said, “No, my lord.”
6 So he answered and said to me:

> “This is the word of the LORD to > Zerubbabel:
> ‘Not by might nor by power, but by My > Spirit,’
> Says the LORD of hosts. Speaking the Truth
> 7 ‘Who are you, O great mountain?
> Before Zerubbabel you shall become a plain!
> And he shall bring forth the capstone
> With shouts of “Grace, grace to it!” ’ ”

8 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

> 9 “The hands of Zerubbabel
> Have laid the foundation of this temple;[a]
> His hands shall also finish it.

Then you will know
That the LORD of hosts has sent Me to you.
10For who has despised the day of small things?
For these seven rejoice to see
The plumb line in the hand of Zerubbabel.
They are the eyes of the LORD,
Which scan to and fro throughout the whole
earth.”

11Then I answered and said to him, “What are these two olive trees—at the right of the lampstand and at its left?”

12And I further answered and said to him, “What are these two olive branches that drip into the receptacles[b] of the two gold pipes from which the golden oil drains?”

13Then he answered me and said, “Do you not know what these are?” And I said, “No, my lord.”

14So he said, “These are the two anointed ones, who stand beside the Lord of the whole earth.”

Zechariah 5

Vision of the Flying Scroll

1 Then I turned and raised my eyes, and saw there a flying scroll. The Parables of Zechariah
2 And he said to me, “What do you see?” So I answered, “I see a flying scroll. Its length is twenty cubits and its width ten cubits.”
3 Then he said to me, “This is the curse that goes out over the face of the whole earth: ‘Every thief shall be expelled,’ according to this side of the scroll; and, ‘Every perjurer shall be expelled,’ according to that side of it.”

4 “I will send out the curse,” says the LORD
of hosts;
“It shall enter the house of the thief
And the house of the one who swears falsely by My name.
It shall remain in the midst of his house
And consume it, with its timber and stones.”

Vision of the Woman in a Basket

5 Then the angel who talked with me came out and said to me, “Lift your eyes now, and see what this is that goes forth.”
6 So I asked, “What is it?” And he said, “It is a basket[a] that is going forth.” He also said, “This is their resemblance throughout the earth:
7 “Here is a lead disc lifted up, and this is a woman sitting inside the basket”;
8 then he said, “This is Wickedness!” And he thrust her down into the basket, and threw the lead cover[b] over its mouth.

9 Then I raised my eyes and looked, and there were two women, coming with the wind in their wings; for they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the basket between earth and heaven.

10 So I said to the angel who talked with me, “Where are they carrying the basket?”

11 And he said to me, “To build a house for it in the land of Shinar;[c] when it is ready, the basket will be set there on its base.”

Zechariah 6

Vision of the Four Chariots

1 Then I turned and raised my eyes and looked, and behold, four chariots were coming from between two mountains,
and the mountains were mountains of bronze.
2 With the first chariot were red horses, with the second chariot black horses,
3 with the third chariot white horses, and with the fourth chariot dappled horses—strong steeds.
4 Then I answered and said to the angel who talked with me, "What are these, my lord?" 5 And the angel answered and said to me, "These are four spirits of heaven, who go out from their station before the Lord of all the earth.
6 "The one with the black horses is going to the north country, the white are going after them, and the dappled are going toward the south country." 7 Then the strong steeds went out, eager to go, that they might walk to and fro throughout the earth. And He said, "Go, walk to and fro throughout the earth." So they walked to and fro throughout the earth.
8 And He called to me, and spoke to me, saying, "See, those who go toward the north country have given rest to My Spirit in the north country."

The Command to Crown Joshua

9 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying:
10 "Receive the gift from the captives—from Heldai, Tobijah, and Jedaiah, who have come from Babylon—and go the same day and enter the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah.

11 “Take the silver and gold, make an elaborate crown, and set it on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest.
12 “Then speak to him, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, saying:

> “Behold, the Man whose name is the > BRANCH!
> From His place He shall branch out,
> And He shall build the temple of the LORD;
> 13 Yes, He shall build the temple of the > LORD.
> He shall bear the glory,
> And shall sit and rule on His throne;
> So He shall be a priest on His throne,
> And the counsel of peace shall be between > them both.” ’

14 “Now the elaborate crown shall be for a memorial in the temple of the LORD for Helem,[a] Tobijah, Jedaiah, and Hen the son of Zephaniah.
15 “Even those from afar shall come and build the temple of the LORD. Then you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent Me to you. And this shall come to pass if you diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.”

Zechariah 7

Obedience Better than Fasting

1 Now in the fourth year of King Darius it came to pass that the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, on the fourth day of the ninth month, Chislev,
2 when the people[a] sent Sherezer,[b] with Regem-Melech and his men, to the house of God,[c] to pray before the
LORD,
3 and to ask the priests who were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and the prophets, saying, "Should I weep in the fifth month and fast as I have done for so many years?"
4 Then the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,
5 "Say to all the people of the land, and to the priests:
'When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh months during those seventy years, did you really fast for Me—for Me? Food for the Fasting
6 'When you eat and when you drink, do you not eat and drink for yourselves?
7 'Should you not have obeyed the words which the LORD proclaimed through the former prophets when Jerusalem and the cities around it were inhabited and prosperous, and the South[d] and the Lowland were inhabited?' "

Disobedience Resulted in Captivity

8 Then the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, saying,
9 "Thus says the LORD of hosts:

'Execute true justice,
Show mercy and compassion
Everyone to his brother.

[10]Do not oppress the widow or the fatherless,
The alien or the poor.
Let none of you plan evil in his heart
Against his brother.’

[11]“But they refused to heed, shrugged their shoulders, and stopped their ears so that they could not hear.
[12]“Yes, they made their hearts like flint, refusing to hear the law and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by His Spirit through the former prophets. Thus great wrath came from the LORD of hosts.
[13]“Therefore it happened, that just as He proclaimed and they would not hear, so they called out and I would not listen,” says the LORD of hosts.
[14]“But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations which they had not known. Thus the land became desolate after them, so that no one passed through or returned; for they made the pleasant land desolate.”

Zechariah 8

Jerusalem, Holy City of the Future

1 Again the word of the LORD of hosts came, saying,
2 “Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘I am zealous for Zion with great zeal;
With great fervor I am zealous for her.’

3 “Thus says the LORD:

‘I will return to Zion,
And dwell in the midst of Jerusalem.
Jerusalem shall be called the City of Truth,
The Mountain of the LORD of hosts,
The Holy Mountain.’

4 “Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘Old men and old women shall again sit
In the streets of Jerusalem,
Each one with his staff in his hand
Because of great age.
5 The streets of the city
Shall be full of boys and girls
Playing in its streets.’

6 “Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘If it is marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days,
Will it also be marvelous in My eyes?’
Says the LORD of hosts.

7 “Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘Behold, I will save My people from the land of the east
And from the land of the west;
8 I will bring them back,
And they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem.
They shall be My people
And I will be their God,
In truth and righteousness.’

9 “Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘Let your hands be strong,
You who have been hearing in these days
These words by the mouth of the prophets,
Who spoke in the day the foundation was laid
For the house of the LORD of hosts,
That the temple might be built.
10 For before these days
There were no wages for man nor any hire for beast;
There was no peace from the enemy for whoever went out or came in;
For I set all men, everyone, against his neighbor.

11 ‘But now I will not treat the remnant of this people as in the former days,’ says the LORD of hosts.

12 ‘For the seed shall be prosperous,
The vine shall give its fruit,
The ground shall give her increase,
And the heavens shall give their dew—

I will cause the remnant of this people
To possess all these.
13And it shall come to pass
That just as you were a curse among the nations,
O house of Judah and house of Israel,
So I will save you, and you shall be a blessing.
Do not fear,
Let your hands be strong.’

14“For thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘Just as I determined to punish you
When your fathers provoked Me to wrath,’
Says the LORD of hosts,
‘And I would not relent,
15So again in these days
I am determined to do good
To Jerusalem and to the house of Judah.
Do not fear.
16These are the things you shall do:
Speak each man the truth to his neighbor;
Give judgment in your gates for truth, justice, and peace;
17Let none of you think evil in your[a] heart against your neighbor;
And do not love a false oath.
For all these are things that I hate,’
Says the LORD.”

18Then the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,
19“Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘The fast of the fourth month,
The fast of the fifth,
The fast of the seventh,
And the fast of the tenth,
Shall be joy and gladness and cheerful feasts
For the house of Judah.
Therefore love truth and peace.’

20 “Thus says the LORD of hosts:

‘Peoples shall yet come,
Inhabitants of many cities;
21 The inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying,
“Let us continue to go and pray before the LORD,
And seek the LORD of hosts.
I myself will go also.”
22 Yes, many peoples and strong nations
Shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem,
And to pray before the LORD.’

23 “Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘In those days ten men from every language of the nations shall grasp the sleeve of a Jewish man, saying, “Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.” ’ ”

Zechariah 9

Israel Defended Against Enemies

1 The burden[a] of the word of the LORD
Against the land of Hadrach,
And Damascus its resting place (For the eyes of men
And all the tribes of Israel
Are on the LORD);
2 Also against Hamath, which borders on it,
And against Tyre and Sidon, though they are very wise.

3 For Tyre built herself a tower,
Heaped up silver like the dust,
And gold like the mire of the streets.
4 Behold, the LORD will cast her out;
He will destroy her power in the sea,
And she will be devoured by fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it and fear;
Gaza also shall be very sorrowful;
And Ekron, for He dried up her expectation.
The king shall perish from Gaza,
And Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 "A mixed race shall settle in Ashdod,
And I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.
7 I will take away the blood from his mouth,
And the abominations from between his teeth.
But he who remains, even he shall be for our
God,

And shall be like a leader in Judah,
And Ekron like a Jebusite.
8I will camp around My house
Because of the army,
Because of him who passes by and him who returns.
No more shall an oppressor pass through them,
For now I have seen with My eyes.

The Coming King

9"Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion!
Shout, O daughter of Jerusalem!
Behold, your King is coming to you;
He is just and having salvation,
Lowly and riding on a donkey,
A colt, the foal of a donkey.
10I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim
And the horse from Jerusalem;
The battle bow shall be cut off.
He shall speak peace to the nations;
His dominion shall be 'from sea to sea,
And from the River to the ends of the earth.'[b]

God Will Save His People

11"As for you also,
Because of the blood of your covenant,
I will set your prisoners free from the waterless pit.
12Return to the stronghold,
You prisoners of hope.
Even today I declare
That I will restore double to you.
13For I have bent Judah, My bow,

Fitted the bow with Ephraim,
And raised up your sons, O Zion,
Against your sons, O Greece,
And made you like the sword of a mighty man.”

14 Then the LORD will be seen over them,
And His arrow will go forth like lightning.
The Lord GOD will blow the trumpet,
And go with whirlwinds from the south.
15 The LORD of hosts will defend them;
They shall devour and subdue with slingstones.
They shall drink and roar as if with wine;
They shall be filled with blood like basins,
Like the corners of the altar.
16 The LORD their God will save them in that day,
As the flock of His people.
For they shall be like the jewels of a crown,
Lifted like a banner over His land—
17 For how great is its[c] goodness
And how great[d] its beauty!
Grain shall make the young men thrive,
And new wine the young women.

Zechariah 10

Restoration of Judah and Israel

1 Ask the LORD for rain
In the time of the latter rain.[a]
The LORD will make flashing clouds;
He will give them showers of rain,
Grass in the field for everyone.

2 For the idols[b] speak delusion;
The diviners envision lies,
And tell false dreams;
They comfort in vain.
Therefore the people wend their way like sheep;
They are in trouble because there is no shepherd.

3 "My anger is kindled against the shepherds,
And I will punish the goatherds.
For the LORD of hosts will visit His flock,
The house of Judah,
And will make them as His royal horse in the battle.
4 From him comes the cornerstone,
From him the tent peg,
From him the battle bow,
From him every ruler[c] together.
5 They shall be like mighty men,
Who tread down their enemies
In the mire of the streets in the battle.

They shall fight because the LORD is with
them,
And the riders on horses shall be put to shame.

6 “I will strengthen the house of Judah,
And I will save the house of Joseph.
I will bring them back,
Because I have mercy on them.
They shall be as though I had not cast them aside;
For I am the LORD their God,
And I will hear them.
7 Those of Ephraim shall be like a mighty
man,
And their heart shall rejoice as if with wine.
Yes, their children shall see it and be glad;
Their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.
8 I will whistle for them and gather them,
For I will redeem them;
And they shall increase as they once increased.

9 “I will sow them among the peoples,
And they shall remember Me in far
countries;
They shall live, together with their children,
And they shall return.
10 I will also bring them back from the land
of Egypt,
And gather them from Assyria.
I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon,
Until no more room is found for them.

11 He shall pass through the sea with affliction,
And strike the waves of the sea:
All the depths of the River[d] shall dry up.
Then the pride of Assyria shall be brought down,
And the scepter of Egypt shall depart.

12 “So I will strengthen them in the LORD,
And they shall walk up and down in His name,”
Says the LORD.

Zechariah 11

Desolation of Israel

1 Open your doors, O Lebanon,
That fire may devour your cedars.
2 Wail, O cypress, for the cedar has fallen,
Because the mighty trees are ruined.
Wail, O oaks of Bashan,
For the thick forest has come down.
3 There is the sound of wailing shepherds!
For their glory is in ruins.
There is the sound of roaring lions!
For the pride[a] of the Jordan is in ruins.

Prophecy of the Shepherds

4 Thus says the LORD my God, "Feed the flock for slaughter, 5 "whose owners slaughter them and feel no guilt; those who sell them say, 'Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich'; and their shepherds do not pity them.
6 "For I will no longer pity the inhabitants of the land," says the LORD. "But indeed I will give everyone into his neighbor's hand and into the hand of his king. They shall attack the land, and I will not deliver them from their hand."
7 So I fed the flock for slaughter, in particular the poor of the flock.[b] I took for myself two staffs: the one I called Beauty,[c] and the other I called Bonds;[d] and I fed the flock.
8 I dismissed the three shepherds in one month. My soul loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.
9 Then I said, "I will not feed you. Let what is dying die, and what is perishing perish. Let those that are left eat each other’s flesh.”

10 And I took my staff, Beauty, and cut it in two, that I might break the covenant which I had made with all the peoples.

11 So it was broken on that day. Thus the poor[e] of the flock, who were watching me, knew that it was the word of the LORD.

12 Then I said to them, “If it is agreeable to you, give me my wages; and if not, refrain.” So they weighed out for my wages thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the LORD said to me, “Throw it to the potter”—that princely price they set on me. So I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw them into the house of the LORD for the potter.

14 Then I cut in two my other staff, Bonds, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the LORD said to me, “Next, take for yourself the implements of a foolish shepherd.

16 “For indeed I will raise up a shepherd in the land who will not care for those who are cut off, nor seek the young, nor heal those that are broken, nor feed those that still stand. But he will eat the flesh of the fat and tear their hooves in pieces.

17 “Woe to the worthless shepherd,
Who leaves the flock!
A sword shall be against his arm
And against his right eye;
His arm shall completely wither,
And his right eye shall be totally blinded.”

Zechariah 12

The Coming Deliverance of Judah

1 The burden[a] of the word of the LORD against Israel. Thus says the LORD, who stretches out the heavens, lays the foundation of the earth, and forms the spirit of man within
him:
2 "Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of drunkenness to all the surrounding peoples, when they lay siege against Judah and Jerusalem.
3 "And it shall happen in that day that I will make Jerusalem a very heavy stone for all peoples; all who would heave it away will surely be cut in pieces, though all nations of the earth are gathered against it.
4 "In that day," says the LORD, "I will strike every horse with confusion, and its rider with madness; I will open My eyes on the house of Judah, and will strike every horse of the peoples with blindness.
5 "And the governors of Judah shall say in their heart, 'The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts, their God.'
6 "In that day I will make the governors of Judah like a firepan in the woodpile, and like a fiery torch in the sheaves; they shall devour all the surrounding peoples on the right hand and on the left, but Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place—Jerusalem.
7 "The LORD will save the tents of Judah first, so that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem shall not become greater than that of Judah.
8 "In that day the LORD will defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; the one who is feeble among them in that day shall be like David, and the house of David shall be like God, like the Angel of the LORD before them.

9 "It shall be in that day that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

Mourning for the Pierced One

10 "And I will pour on the house of David and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Spirit of grace and supplication; then they will look on Me whom they pierced. Yes, they will mourn for Him as one mourns for his only son, and grieve for Him as one grieves for a firstborn.

11 "In that day there shall be a great mourning in Jerusalem, like the mourning at Hadad Rimmon in the plain of Megiddo.[b]

12 "And the land shall mourn, every family by itself: the family of the house of David by itself, and their wives by themselves; the family of the house of Nathan by itself, and their wives by themselves;

13 "the family of the house of Levi by itself, and their wives by themselves; the family of Shimei by itself, and their wives by themselves;

14 "all the families that remain, every family by itself, and their wives by themselves.

Zechariah 13

Idolatry Cut Off

1 “In that day a fountain shall be opened for the house of David and for the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness.

2 “It shall be in that day,” says the LORD of hosts, “that I will cut off the names of the idols from the land, and they shall no longer be remembered. I will also cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to depart from the land.

3 “It shall come to pass that if anyone still prophesies, then his father and mother who begot him will say to him, ‘You shall not live, because you have spoken lies in the name of the LORD.’ And his father and mother who begot him shall thrust him through when he prophesies.

4 “And it shall be in that day that every prophet will be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies; they will not wear a robe of coarse hair to deceive.

5 “But he will say, ‘I am no prophet, I am a farmer; for a man taught me to keep cattle from my youth.’

6 “And one will say to him, ‘What are these wounds between your arms?’[a] Then he will answer, ‘Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.’

The Shepherd Savior

7 “Awake, O sword, against My Shepherd, Against the Man who is My Companion,”
Says the LORD of hosts.
“Strike the Shepherd,
And the sheep will be scattered;
Then I will turn My hand against the little ones. Jesus and the Minor Prophets

8 And it shall come to pass in all the land,”
Says the LORD,
“That two-thirds in it shall be cut off and die,
But one-third shall be left in it:
9 I will bring the one-third through the fire,
Will refine them as silver is refined,
And test them as gold is tested.
They will call on My name,
And I will answer them.
I will say, ‘This is My people’;
And each one will say, ‘The LORD is my God.’ ”

Zechariah 14

The Day of the LORD

1 Behold, the day of the LORD is coming,
And your spoil will be divided in your midst.
2 For I will gather all the nations to battle against Jerusalem;
The city shall be taken,
The houses rifled,
And the women ravished.
Half of the city shall go into captivity,
But the remnant of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then the LORD will go forth
And fight against those nations,
As He fights in the day of battle.
4 And in that day His feet will stand on the Mount of Olives,
Which faces Jerusalem on the east.
And the Mount of Olives shall be split in two,
From east to west,
Making a very large valley;
Half of the mountain shall move toward the north
And half of it toward the south.

5 Then you shall flee through My mountain valley,
For the mountain valley shall reach to Azal.
Yes, you shall flee
As you fled from the earthquake
In the days of Uzziah king of Judah.

Thus the LORD my God will come,
And all the saints with You.[a]

6 It shall come to pass in that day
That there will be no light;
The lights will diminish.
7 It shall be one day
Which is known to the LORD—
Neither day nor night.
But at evening time it shall happen
That it will be light.

8 And in that day it shall be
That living waters shall flow from Jerusalem,
Half of them toward the eastern sea
And half of them toward the western sea;
In both summer and winter it shall occur.
9 And the LORD shall be King over all the earth.
In that day it shall be—
"The LORD is one,"[b]
And His name one.

10 All the land shall be turned into a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem. Jerusalem[c] shall be raised up and inhabited in her place from Benjamin's Gate to the place of the First Gate and the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananel to the king's winepresses.

11 The people shall dwell in it;
And no longer shall there be utter destruction,
But Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12And this shall be the plague with which the LORD will strike all the people who fought against Jerusalem:

Their flesh shall dissolve while they stand on their feet,
Their eyes shall dissolve in their sockets,
And their tongues shall dissolve in their mouths.

13It shall come to pass in that day
That a great panic from the LORD will be among them.
Everyone will seize the hand of his neighbor,
And raise his hand against his neighbor's hand; 14Judah also will fight at Jerusalem.
And the wealth of all the surrounding
nations
Shall be gathered together:
Gold, silver, and apparel in great abundance.

15Such also shall be the plague
On the horse and the mule,
On the camel and the donkey,
And on all the cattle that will be in those camps.
So shall this plague be.

The Nations Worship the King

16And it shall come to pass that everyone who is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

17And it shall be that whichever of the families of the earth do not come up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, on them there will be no rain.

18 If the family of Egypt will not come up and enter in, they shall have no rain; they shall receive the plague with which the LORD strikes the nations who do not come up to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt and the punishment of all the nations that do not come up to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.

20 In that day “HOLINESS TO THE LORD” shall be engraved on the bells of the horses. The pots in the LORD’s house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yes, every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holiness to the LORD of hosts.[d] Everyone who sacrifices shall come and take them and cook in them. In that day there shall no longer be a Canaanite in the house of the LORD of hosts.

Zechariah
Zech. 1:1

Name means: “The Lord Remembers.”

Not to be confused with: At least 27 other men of the same name in the Bible, including the son and successor of Jeroboam II (2 Kin. 14:29; 15:8) and the father of John the Baptist (Zacharias; Luke 1:5).

Home: Probably born in Babylon; relocated to Jerusalem, possibly in the return of 538 B.C.

Family: Grandson of Iddo; son of Berechiah.

Occupation: Probably a Levite (if Neh. 12:16 refers to him); a prophet in postexilic Jerusalem.

Best known for: His eight apocalyptic visions and two prophecies that reprimanded Jerusalem’s citizens and urged them to finish rebuilding the temple.

Think About It: What would Zechariah say are the secrets to staying with a long term project?

A World Without Walls
Zech. 2:4

Zechariah saw a new Jerusalem "without walls," a state unthinkable in that day, when walls were a city's first (and sometimes only) line of defense (see "Five Ways to Capture a Walled City" at 2 Kin. 25:1–4). At the time Zechariah spoke these words (519 B.C.), Jerusalem itself was in "great distress and reproach" (Neh. 1:3), with its walls still in ruins after the Babylonian siege decades earlier.

Walls imply the presence of a hostile world, a world divided into "them" and "us." Yet because God pledged Himself as a "wall of fire all around her" (Zech. 2:5), the new Jerusalem would stand secure. Zechariah echoed prophecies of Isaiah, Haggai, and others who have foreseen that God's new kingdom will be open to all who bow to God no matter their background (Is. 66:18–23; Hag. 2:6, 7). Believers from all nations will reinhabit the holy city and dwell there in peace and safety (Zech. 14:10–11, 16, 17). Because we'll live together for eternity, how can we people of all nations express togetherness on earth?

Satan the Schemer

Zech. 3:2

Scripture presents Satan as a fallen angel in constant and total antagonism to God, creation, and human beings. He is not idle, moreover, but actively pursues our destruction. While we need not cower from Satan, we do need to keep our distance from him. We should be aware of his existence and stay alert to his schemes so that we are not caught off guard by them.

- Satan accuses the faithful, attempting to overload them with guilt (Job 1:6–11; Eph. 4:27; 6:11; Rev. 12:10). The term the devil means "false witness" or "malicious accuser," and appears thirty-five times in the New King James translation of the Bible, always in the New Testament.
- Satan specializes in deceit (Gen. 3:1–7), masquerading as an "angel of light" as if he represents God (2 Cor. 11:14). Jesus called him the father of lies (John 8:44).

- Satan tempts people to do wrong, intending to cause them pain and incite them to break God's commands (Matt. 4:1–11; 1 Cor. 10:13; 1 Thess. 3:5).
- Satan exercises significant influence. Three times Jesus described him in Scripture as the "ruler of this world" (John 12:31; 14:30; 16:11). Paul used similar expressions (2 Cor. 4:4; Eph. 2:2).

The Bible teaches us how to respond to this dangerous enemy:

- We can rejoice that Christ has defeated Satan. We therefore have no reason to submit to the devil or fear him (Heb. 2:14, 15; 1 John 3:8; Rev. 20:10). Jesus met the devil's temptations head on—and won (Luke 4:1–13; Heb. 4:15).
- We need to lean on God for power to recognize and escape Satan's enticements (Eph. 6:11; 1 Cor. 10:13).
- We must stay alert against Satan's schemes. Our battle with Satan is a life-and-death struggle that can result in real casualties (1 Tim. 3:7; 1 Pet. 5:8; Jude 9).
- We flee from Satan, but when he corners us we stand against Satan and cause him to flee (1 Pet. 5:8, 9; James 4:7).
- We must equip ourselves for this constant battle (Eph. 6:13–18).

More: The Bible uses a range of descriptive titles to reveal Satan's evil character. See "Names for Satan in the New Testament" at Rev. 9:11.

Speaking the Truth

Zech. 4:6–10

Few people enjoy being challenged with facts or ideas that contradict their wishes or their established opinions. Even so the Old Testament prophets had to constantly confront people with realities that were hard to accept.

As God's messengers, their job was to speak truth even when it conflicted with their listeners' perceptions. For example, Zechariah gave the governor Zerubbabel a word from the Lord that conflicted on several points with what everyone accepted as truth. He said:

- God does not accomplish His work through worldly force. God's Spirit empowers His causes in the world (Zech. 4:6). Human energy, creativity, and planning can contribute to His work, but they count for little without spiritual strength (compare Ezek. 37:1–14).
- Small things show off God's work (Zech. 4:9, 10). Zerubbabel and his people undertook a project that would never be as glorious as the temple of Solomon's day. Yet God's presence made the building just as significant.
- God determines true standards (4:10). Like a carpenter with a plumb line, the Lord evaluates the whole earth. This truth from Zechariah is similar to Amos's description of God measuring His people's worship and integrity (Amos 7:7–9; compare 2 Kin. 21:13).
- Grace can move enormous mountains, reducing peaks to plains (Zech. 4:7). Zerubbabel saw this firsthand when God removed opponents who stood in the way of the temple's completion (Ezra 4:1–6:12).

The prophets and, indeed, all the Scriptures provide us with revelation from God that equips us to do life. God's revelation is a disclosure of truth that we would otherwise fail to perceive because sin blinds us (Job 42:3; Rom. 1:16–20; Heb. 1:1, 2). God's Word challenges and corrects our misperceptions. Humility enables us to accept that God is right and that we are often wrong. And accepting truth leads to life (Prov. 3:5–8).

The Parables of Zechariah

Zech. 5:1–4

A parable is a truth wrapped in a memorable story or word picture. A parable can be fictional, dramatized, or the result of a vision. Jesus delivered much of His teaching through parables (see "The Parables of Jesus" at Luke 8:4), as did several Old Testament prophets, including Zechariah with his eight visions:

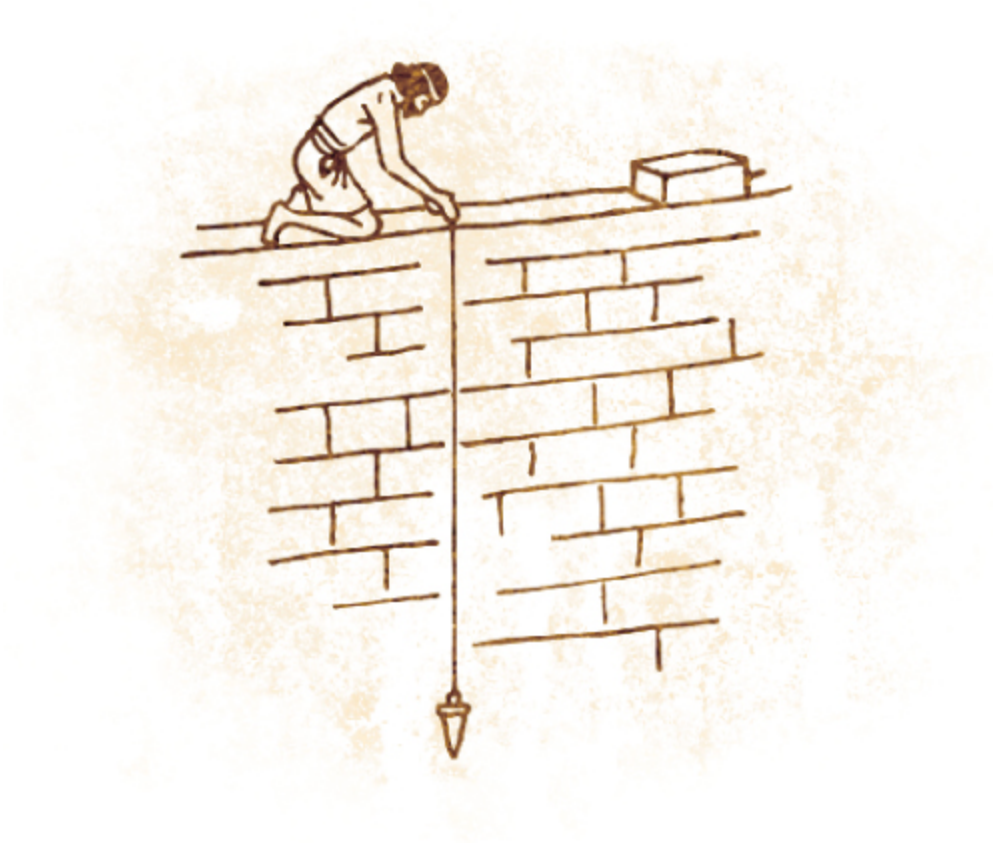
1. The Man and Horses Among Myrtle Trees (Zech. 1:8–17)
Indicated that God would again show mercy to Jerusalem.

2. The Four Horns and the Four Craftsmen (1:18–20)
Revealed that the Babylonians and others who scattered Judah would be cast out.



3. The Man with a Measuring Line (2:1, 2)
Promised that God would be a protective wall of fire around Jerusalem.

4. The Cleansing of Joshua’s Garments (3:1–10)
Illustrated God’s redemptive work for His people.

5. The Golden Lampstand and Olive Trees (4:1–14)
Symbolized how God would empower His people through the Holy Spirit.

6. The Flying Scroll (5:1–4)
Showed the curse that comes to dishonesty.

7. The Woman in the Basket (5:5–11)
Illustrated a removal of wickedness.

8. The Four Chariots (6:1–8)
Revealed that heavenly beings would execute judgment on the whole earth.

More: Jeremiah and Ezekiel also used parables to communicate their message. See "The Parables of Jeremiah" at Jer. 18:1–10 and "The Parables of Ezekiel" at Ezek. 15:1–8.

Food for the Fasting

Zech. 7:5

Fasting is a spiritual discipline that can be especially meaningful for the prosperous. Zechariah called for fasting during a season of financial growth. As the citizens of Jerusalem rebuilt their city, they were making money and moving up the economic ladder. Zechariah challenged these people with fasting within the context of community development and social justice (Zech. 7:6–10). Fasting helps us . . .

1. Feel what it is like to live with hunger.
2. Rely on God's spiritual resources to sustain us.
3. Focus on the Lord.
4. Identify with and gain compassion for the poor.

Scripture teaches us that just as our bodies hunger and thirst for food and drink, so our souls hunger and thirst for the Lord. Jesus promised that those who "hunger and thirst for righteousness . . . will be filled" (Matt. 5:6). Psalm 107:9 proclaims that God "satisfies the longing soul, and fills the hungry soul with goodness." While fasting is not a mandatory practice for modern believers, it can be a valuable method for better understanding our spiritual hunger and the spiritual nourishment our God provides.

More: Scripture also suggests a number of other purposes for fasting. See "The Value of Fasting" at 1 Chr. 10:12.

Jesus and the Minor Prophets

Zech. 13:7

Although many hundreds of years separated Jesus from the minor prophets, He frequently cited their words and ideas. Five centuries after Zechariah spoke (c. 520 B.C.), Jesus applied to Himself the prophet's ancient words about a Shepherd being struck and His sheep scattered (Matt. 26:31). Note Christ's other references to the messages of the minor prophets:

- Pointing out that loyalty to Him might divide families, Jesus referred to Micah's words about parents and children set against each other (Matt. 10:35, 36; Mic. 7:6).

- Defending John the Baptist's role as the forerunner of His arrival, He quoted Malachi: "Behold I send a messenger . . . who will prepare Your way before You" (Matt. 11:10; Mal. 3:1).
- Explaining the kind of faith that He expected from His followers, Jesus quoted Hosea: "I desire mercy and not sacrifice" (Matt. 12:7; Hos. 6:6).
- Revealing His coming death, burial, and resurrection, He alluded to Jonah's experience of "three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish." Then He gave notice: "A greater than Jonah is here" (Matt. 12:40, 41; Jon. 1:17; 3:5–9).
- Denouncing a demand by Pharisees and Sadducees for miraculous signs, He said they would only be given the "sign of the prophet Jonah" (Matt. 16:1–4).
- Responding to a Jewish high priest's query about whether He was the Christ, Jesus cited Daniel: "I am. And you will see the Son of Man . . . coming with the clouds of heaven" (Mark 14:62; Dan. 7:13; Daniel is considered a major prophet, a classification based solely on book length).
- Describing people's grief in reaction to His execution, Jesus quoted a passage from Hosea: "They will begin 'to say to the mountains, "Fall on us!" and to the hills, "Cover us!" ' " (Luke 23:30; Hos. 10:8).

The New Testament shows that Jesus fulfilled the prophets' insights that God would send His Messiah both to save and to judge. These internal confirmations within Scripture give us reason to take God's Word seriously. We can trust the Bible's revelation of this astonishing Savior and the new life He offers.

The last prophet before the New Testament era, Malachi spoke to a people who felt betrayed. The Judeans were part of a movement to rebuild life in and around Jerusalem after decades of captivity in Babylon. But for all their hard work, they were dissatisfied with the outcome. At least some of the people remained impoverished. Relationships were strained. Faith seemed to bring no benefit to everyday life.

What Malachi revealed was that the people were the source of their own problems. When God reminded them of His love, they rejected His tender words (Mal. 1:2, 3). They brought blemished offerings before the Lord (1:8), and they sneered at worship (1:13). Corrupt priests had deserted their responsibility of leading the people to know God and follow His law (2:1, 6–8). The people abandoned their spouses (2:16), failed to pay tithes (3:8), and even accused God of loving evil (2:17).

After rebuking these sins, God revealed His plan to send a messenger to prepare for His own arrival (3:1). The Lord would come and consume sinners—adulterers, liars, unjust employers, and all who fail to stand up for widows, orphans, and foreigners. But for those who fear God, this "Sun of Righteousness" would arise and bring healing. His people would "go out and grow fat like stall-fed calves" (4:2). God would judge the wicked, but He would never abandon His followers (3:16).

With Malachi's words, the prophets fell silent until the arrival of John the Baptist, the promised forerunner to Jesus, the "Sun of Righteousness" of Malachi's prophecy.

Because the name Malachi means "My Messenger," some scholars have suggested that Malachi is not the prophet's name but a descriptive title of the book's author (Mal. 1:1). Whatever his identity, Malachi probably lived in Jerusalem after the second temple was built, sometime in the fifth century B.C., perhaps around the same time as Nehemiah.

Key Verses in Malachi

- "From the rising of the sun, even to its going down . . . My name shall be great among the nations" (Mal. 1:11).
- "Have we not all one Father? Has not one God created us?" (Mal. 2:10).
- "Behold, I send My messenger, and he will prepare the way before Me. And the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to His temple" (Mal. 3:1).
- "But who can endure the day of His coming? And who can stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire" (Mal. 3:2).
- "The Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in His wings" (Mal. 4:2).
- "Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet. . . . And he will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers" (Mal. 4:5, 6).

Malachi 1

1 The burden[a] of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.

Malachi

Israel Beloved of God

2 "I have loved you," says the LORD.
"Yet you say, 'In what way have You loved us?'
Was not Esau Jacob's brother?"
Says the LORD.
"Yet Jacob I have loved; Jacob I Loved, Esau I Hated
3 But Esau I have hated,
And laid waste his mountains and his heritage
For the jackals of the wilderness."

4 Even though Edom has said,
"We have been impoverished,
But we will return and build the desolate places,"

Thus says the LORD of hosts:

"They may build, but I will throw down;
They shall be called the Territory of Wickedness,
And the people against whom the LORD will have indignation forever.
5 Your eyes shall see,
And you shall say,
'The LORD is magnified beyond the border of Israel.'

Polluted Offerings

6 “A son honors his father,
And a servant his master.
If then I am the Father,
Where is My honor?
And if I am a Master,
Where is My reverence?
Says the LORD of hosts
To you priests who despise My name.
Yet you say, ‘In what way have we despised Your name?’

7 “You offer defiled food on My altar,
But say,
‘In what way have we defiled You?’
By saying,
‘The table of the LORD is contemptible.’
8 And when you offer the blind as a sacrifice,
Is it not evil?
And when you offer the lame and sick,
Is it not evil?
Offer it then to your governor!
Would he be pleased with you?
Would he accept you favorably?”
Says the LORD of hosts.

9 “But now entreat God’s favor,
That He may be gracious to us.
While this is being done by your hands,
Will He accept you favorably?”
Says the LORD of hosts.
10 “Who is there even among you who would shut the doors,
So that you would not kindle fire on My altar in vain?

I have no pleasure in you,”
Says the LORD of hosts,
“Nor will I accept an offering from your hands.
11For from the rising of the sun, even to its going down,
My name shall be great among the Gentiles;
In every place incense shall be offered to My name,
And a pure offering;
For My name shall be great among the nations,”
Says the LORD of hosts. Great Among the Nations

12“But you profane it,
In that you say,
‘The table of the LORD[b] is defiled;
And its fruit, its food, is contemptible.’
13You also say,
‘Oh, what a weariness!’
And you sneer at it,”
Says the LORD of hosts.
“And you bring the stolen, the lame, and the sick;
Thus you bring an offering!
Should I accept this from your hand?”
Says the LORD.
14“But cursed be the deceiver
Who has in his flock a male,
And takes a vow,
But sacrifices to the Lord what is blemished —
For I am a great King,”
Says the LORD of hosts,

“And My name is to be feared among the nations.

Malachi 2

Corrupt Priests

1 “And now, O priests, this commandment is for you.
2 If you will not hear,
And if you will not take it to heart,
To give glory to My name,”
Says the LORD of hosts,
“I will send a curse upon you,
And I will curse your blessings.
Yes, I have cursed them already,
Because you do not take it to heart.

3 “Behold, I will rebuke your descendants
And spread refuse on your faces,
The refuse of your solemn feasts;
And one will take you away with it.
4 Then you shall know that I have sent this commandment to you,
That My covenant with Levi may continue,”
Says the LORD of hosts.
5 “My covenant was with him, one of life and peace,
And I gave them to him that he might fear
Me;
So he feared Me
And was reverent before My name.
6 The law of truth[a] was in his mouth,
And injustice was not found on his lips.
He walked with Me in peace and equity,
And turned many away from iniquity.

7 “For the lips of a priest should keep
knowledge,
And people should seek the law from his mouth;
For he is the messenger of the LORD of
hosts.
8 But you have departed from the way;
You have caused many to stumble at the law.
You have corrupted the covenant of Levi,”
Says the LORD of hosts.
9 “Therefore I also have made you contemptible and base
Before all the people,
Because you have not kept My ways
But have shown partiality in the law.”

Treachery of Infidelity

10 Have we not all one Father?
Has not one God created us?
Why do we deal treacherously with one another
By profaning the covenant of the fathers?
11 Judah has dealt treacherously,
And an abomination has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem,
For Judah has profaned
The LORD’s holy institution which He loves:
He has married the daughter of a foreign
god.
12 May the LORD cut off from the tents of Jacob
The man who does this, being awake and aware,[b]

Yet who brings an offering to the LORD of
hosts!

13And this is the second thing you do:
You cover the altar of the LORD with tears,
With weeping and crying;
So He does not regard the offering anymore, Nor receive it with goodwill from your hands.
14Yet you say, “For what reason?”
Because the LORD has been witness Between you and the wife of your youth,
With whom you have dealt treacherously;
Yet she is your companion
And your wife by covenant. Divorce and Spirituality 15But did He not make them one,
Having a remnant of the Spirit?
And why one?
He seeks godly offspring.
Therefore take heed to your spirit,
And let none deal treacherously with the wife of his youth.

16“For the LORD God of Israel says
That He hates divorce,
For it covers one’s garment with violence,”
Says the LORD of hosts.
“Therefore take heed to your spirit,
That you do not deal treacherously.”

17You have wearied the LORD with your words;
Yet you say,
“In what way have we wearied Him?”
In that you say,

“Everyone who does evil
Is good in the sight of the LORD,
And He delights in them,”
Or, “Where is the God of justice?”

Malachi 3

The Coming Messenger

1 “Behold, I send My messenger,
And he will prepare the way before Me.
And the Lord, whom you seek,
Will suddenly come to His temple,
Even the Messenger of the covenant,
In whom you delight.
Behold, He is coming,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

2 “But who can endure the day of His coming?
And who can stand when He appears?
For He is like a refiner’s fire
And like launderers’ soap.
3 He will sit as a refiner and a purifier of silver;
He will purify the sons of Levi,
And purge them as gold and silver,
That they may offer to the LORD
An offering in righteousness.

4 “Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem
Will be pleasant to the LORD,
As in the days of old,
As in former years.
5 And I will come near you for judgment;
I will be a swift witness Against sorcerers,
Against adulterers,
Against perjurers,

Against those who exploit wage earners and widows and orphans,
And against those who turn away an alien—Because they do not fear Me,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

6“For I am the LORD, I do not change;
Therefore you are not consumed, O sons of Jacob.
7Yet from the days of your fathers
You have gone away from My ordinances
And have not kept them.
Return to Me, and I will return to you,”
Says the LORD of hosts.
“But you said,
‘In what way shall we return?’

Do Not Rob God

8“Will a man rob God?
Yet you have robbed Me!
But you say,
‘In what way have we robbed You?’
In tithes and offerings. Social Faith
9You are cursed with a curse,
For you have robbed Me,
Even this whole nation.
10Bring all the tithes into the storehouse,
That there may be food in My house,
And try Me now in this,”
Says the LORD of hosts,
“If I will not open for you the windows of heaven
And pour out for you such blessing That there will not be room enough to receive it. Bible Principles for Managing Money

11 “And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes,
So that he will not destroy the fruit of your ground,
Nor shall the vine fail to bear fruit for you in the field,”
Says the LORD of hosts;
12 “And all nations will call you blessed,
For you will be a delightful land,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

The People Complain Harshly

13 “Your words have been harsh against Me,”
Says the LORD,
“Yet you say,
‘What have we spoken against You?’
14 You have said,
‘It is useless to serve God;
What profit is it that we have kept His ordinance,
And that we have walked as mourners
Before the LORD of hosts?
15 So now we call the proud blessed,
For those who do wickedness are raised up;
They even tempt God and go free.’ ”

A Book of Remembrance

16 Then those who feared the LORD spoke to one another,
And the LORD listened and heard them;
So a book of remembrance was written before Him
For those who fear the LORD
And who meditate on His name.

17 “They shall be Mine,” says the LORD of
hosts,
“On the day that I make them My jewels.[a]
And I will spare them
As a man spares his own son who serves
him.”
18 Then you shall again discern
Between the righteous and the wicked,
Between one who serves God
And one who does not serve Him.

Malachi 4

The Great Day of God

1 “For behold, the day is coming,
Burning like an oven,
And all the proud, yes, all who do wickedly will be stubble.
And the day which is coming shall burn them up,”
Says the LORD of hosts, “That will leave them neither root nor branch.
2 But to you who fear My name
The Sun of Righteousness shall arise
With healing in His wings;
And you shall go out
And grow fat like stall-fed calves.
3 You shall trample the wicked,
For they shall be ashes under the soles of
your feet
On the day that I do this,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

4 “Remember the Law of Moses, My servant,
Which I commanded him in Horeb for all
Israel,
With the statutes and judgments.
5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet Before the coming of the great and dreadful
day of the LORD.
6 And he will turn
The hearts of the fathers to the children,

And the hearts of the children to their fathers,
Lest I come and strike the earth with a curse.”

Malachi
Mal. 1:1

Name means: “My Messenger.”

Home: Probably Jerusalem.

Occupation: Prophet in postexilic Judah, possibly during the time of Nehemiah, given that he addressed many similar sins mentioned by Nehemiah (Mal. 1:6–14; 2:14–16; 3:8–11; compare Neh. 13:7–31).

Best known as: The last prophet in the Old Testament. Some 400 years of silence passed between Malachi and God’s next messenger John the Baptist, who was prophesied by Malachi (Mal. 3:1).

Think About It: If you had to be the lone voice for 400 years, what do you suppose God would have you say? How would you illustrate this message with your life?

Jacob I Loved, Esau I Hated
Mal. 1:2, 3

The Book of Malachi opens with God speaking to Judah. “I have loved you,” He declares. But the people refuse to believe Him. Their reply essentially says, “Prove it!” Then the Lord affirms His love with an intriguing statement: “Jacob I have loved; but Esau I have hated.”

Nowhere else does the Bible say that God despised Esau. The oldest son of Isaac and Rebekah may have turned from God, but the Lord never turned from him. He even made Esau the father of a nation, the Edomites (Gen. 25:23; 36:1–43). And Esau was the first to approach Jacob for reconciliation between the brothers.

Malachi seems to refer not to Esau the person but to his descendants, the Edomites—just as the name Jacob means not the man but his progeny. The Edomites had feuded with the Israelites for centuries. Malachi may have been alluding to Ezekiel's prophecy about Edom's treachery (Ezek. 35:1–15).

The Lord demonstrated His love for Judah by protecting the nation from Edomite hostility (see "The Edomites: Perpetual Enemies of Israel" at Gen. 36:9). He hated Edom's long-standing bitterness, and when the Edomites refused to repent of this sin, they fell under His judgment.

Great Among the Nations

Mal. 1:11

Malachi leaves no doubt about what God is doing in human history. The Lord says, "My name shall be great among the Gentiles [or nations]." This is His overarching plan for us and our world.

God spreads His name behind the scenes by orchestrating the rise and fall of governments and rulers. They may assume that their power is their own, and the rest of the world may think that they hold sway. But God sovereignly installs and removes rulers to move His plan forward (see "Governmental Authority" at Rom. 13:1–7).

God also spreads news of His name openly through the words and acts of Christians. Jesus sent us to make disciples of all "nations" (ethnē, "peoples"; see "To Every Nation" at Matt. 28:19). We are to take the gospel to the ends of the earth, and live out the gospel right where we are—in our homes, workplaces, and communities.

God will bring His name honor among the nations, because that is His purpose throughout history. One day, when history draws to a close, every person on earth will know the Lord's name. Everyone will admit, either reverently or with reluctant submission, that He alone is Lord (Phil. 2:10, 11). The ending has already been decided. Our choice lies in whether we will help God's cause—or stand in His way.

Divorce and Spirituality
Mal. 2:14–16

Ezra and Nehemiah challenged Judah's men to "put away" their foreign wives (Ezra 9–10; Neh. 13:23–27). These divorces were aimed at spiritually cleansing the nation and renewing the people's covenant with God.

Social Faith
Mal. 3:8–10

God commanded the Israelites to give tithes ("a tenth part") of their produce or income for three reasons: to celebrate God's abundant provision (Deut. 14:22–26), to support the Levites (14:27; Num. 18:20–24), and to provide for the poor (Deut. 14:28, 29).

The postexilic Jews who withheld their tithes and offerings not only stole from God but from people who sorely needed assistance. Malachi tried to reawaken corporate responsibility for public worship and for the needy. Obedience to God involved more than a private faith. Our relationship with God has social implications, including giving part of our income to those who need it.

Bible Principles for Managing Money
Mal. 3:10

Money makes a wonderful servant but a horrible master. The love of money can motivate us to exploit others (Mal. 3:5) and rob God (3:8, 9). It unleashes all kinds of evil and grief (Ps. 52:1–7; Matt. 13:22; 1 Tim. 6:6–10; Rev. 3:17). But the Bible offers practical help for overcoming money's seductive power:

- Guard yourself against committing oppression and robbery; do not set your heart on riches (Ps. 62:10; James 5:1–6).
- Be content with what you have rather than envious of what others have (Ex. 20:17; Heb. 13:5).
- Thank God for whatever resources you have, and honor Him by giving to others freely (Deut. 8:11, 17, 18; Prov. 3:9, 10; Matt. 10:8; Acts 20:35).
- Avoid the devastating results of building your reputation with money (Acts 5:1–11).
- Accept wealth as a gift from God with thanksgiving, generosity, and a spirit of stewardship rather than ownership (1 Tim. 6:17, 18; 2 Cor. 8, 9).

The New Testament

Words of Christ in Red

For centuries, Jews had anxiously waited for the Messiah, basing their dreams and expectations on a multitude of Old Testament promises. To Abraham, the father of the nation of Israel, God promised that through him "all the families of the earth [would] be blessed" (Gen. 12:3). To David, Israel's most beloved ruler, God likewise promised an enduring kingdom (2 Sam. 7:16). Through the prophets, God renewed this promise by providing details about the One who would fulfill it (for example, Is. 7:14; 9:6, 7; Dan. 2:44; 7:13, 14).

Over the years, various figures came and went. Some claimed to be the Messiah; some were regarded as likely candidates. But none proved convincing or fulfilled the expectations either of scholars who carefully studied the Scriptures, or of everyday people who developed their own ideas about what the Chosen One would accomplish.

Then along came Jesus. He claimed to be God's Son. He performed extraordinary miracles that seemed to indicate divine power. This rabbi, or teacher, spoke with unprecedented authority and attracted followers from unexpected walks of life. Yet He was largely rejected by the nation's spiritual leaders. He died a criminal's death. How could He be the fulfillment of God's promises? Was He really Israel's Messiah?

Matthew's Gospel answers with a resounding yes! Matthew's account is filled with Old Testament prophecies that point to Jesus as God's Chosen One (Matt. 1:23; 2:6, 15, 18, 23, to mention just a few). The disciple wanted his fellow Jews to study the Scriptures and see that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham, and the Son of God.

However, while this book speaks to Old Testament prophecies, it is more than merely a Jewish Gospel. It is a global Gospel. In Jesus, all peoples of the world may find hope regardless of their ethnic or religious background. All are eligible for God's blessing. All can participate in His salvation. Every human being is welcome to the unparalleled joy of God's ways, love, and values through His Son, Jesus the Messiah.

As a tax collector, Matthew was a member of a group detested by other Jews. Tax collectors were perceived not only as cheats but as mercenaries serving the Romans. Condemned by religious leaders as unrighteous and ostracized by the general public as frauds and traitors, they found friends only among prostitutes, criminals, and other outcasts.

Yet Jesus selected Matthew to follow Him (9:9). Scripture gives no indication why Jesus chose Matthew, but it does record the Lord's comment, "Go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice' [Hos. 6:6]. For I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance" (Matt. 9:13). Apparently the call of Matthew was an act of mercy—a decision that outraged smug religionists like the Pharisees. Jesus never condoned nor glorified sinful choices, but He reached out to people who knew that they were sick and lost. The Book of Matthew shows that Jesus can save anyone—that is, anyone who admits he needs saving.

Early church tradition identifies Matthew as the author of this book. But the Gospel itself does not name its writer, and it is curious that a man who followed Jesus as closely as Matthew did would rely so heavily on the work of Mark, who was not among the Twelve. (The Gospel of Matthew repeats 601 of the 678 verses in the Gospel of Mark, which is believed to have been the first Gospel written.) One possibility is that Matthew collected Jesus' teachings, especially the five discourses that form the structure of the account, but left it to someone else to combine these sayings with much of Mark's Gospel in order to produce what we know as the Gospel of Matthew. However the book came to be written, it was probably completed well before the end of the first century A.D.

Key Events in Matthew

- Wise men search for the King of the Jews and find Jesus (Matt. 2:1–12).
- King Herod orders the execution of all baby boys in and around Bethlehem in an attempt to kill the infant Jesus (Matt. 2:13–18).
- Jesus is tested by Satan in the wilderness (Matt. 4:1–11).
- Jesus delivers the Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5–7).
- Jesus calls Matthew to follow Him (Matt. 9:9).
- Jesus feeds the five thousand (Matt. 14:13–21).
- Peter confesses that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God (Matt. 16:13–28).
- Peter, James, and John witness the transfiguration of Jesus and the appearance of Moses and Elijah (Matt. 17:1–9).
- Crowds cheer as Jesus enters Jerusalem on a donkey (Matt. 21:1–11).
- Pontius Pilate washes his hands, saying he is innocent of Jesus' blood since the multitude is determined to kill Him (Matt. 27:24).
- Jesus is crucified between two thieves (Matt. 27:35–54).
- Jesus rises from the dead (Matt. 28:1–10).
- Jesus commands His followers to make disciples of the nations (Matt. 28:16–20).

The Genealogy of Jesus Christ

1 The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham: Matthew Jesus' Family Tree
2 Abraham begot Isaac, Isaac begot Jacob, and Jacob begot Judah and his brothers.
3 Judah begot Perez and Zerah by Tamar, Perez begot Hezron, and Hezron begot Ram. The Women in Jesus' Genealogy
4 Ram begot Amminadab, Amminadab begot Nahshon, and Nahshon begot Salmon.
5 Salmon begot Boaz by Rahab, Boaz begot Obed by Ruth, Obed begot Jesse,
6 and Jesse begot David the king.
David the king begot Solomon by her who had been the wife[a] of Uriah.
7 Solomon begot Rehoboam, Rehoboam begot Abijah, and Abijah begot Asa.[b]
8 Asa begot Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat begot Joram, and Joram begot Uzziah.
9 Uzziah begot Jotham, Jotham begot Ahaz, and Ahaz begot Hezekiah.
10 Hezekiah begot Manasseh, Manasseh begot Amon,[c] and Amon begot Josiah.
11 Josiah begot Jeconiah and his brothers about the time they were carried away to Babylon.
12 And after they were brought to Babylon, Jeconiah begot Shealtiel, and Shealtiel begot Zerubbabel.
13 Zerubbabel begot Abiud, Abiud begot Eliakim, and Eliakim begot Azor.

14 Azor begot Zadok, Zadok begot Achim, and Achim begot Eliud.
15 Eliud begot Eleazar, Eleazar begot Matthan, and Matthan begot Jacob.
16 And Jacob begot Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus who is called Christ.
17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations, from David until the captivity in Babylon are fourteen generations, and from the captivity in Babylon until the Christ are fourteen generations.

Christ Born of Mary

18 Now the birth of Jesus Christ was as follows: After His mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Spirit. A Month-Long Journey with Jesus 19 Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not wanting to make her a public example, was minded to put her away secretly.
20 But while he thought about these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying,
"Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid to take to you Mary your wife, for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit.
21 "And she will bring forth a Son, and you shall call His name JESUS, for He will save His people from their sins." 22 So all this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying: 23 "Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and bear a Son, and they shall call His name Immanuel,"[d] which is translated, "God with us." God-With-Us 24 Then Joseph, being aroused from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord commanded him and took to him his wife,

25 and did not know her till she had brought forth her firstborn Son.[e] And he called His name JESUS.

Matthew 2

Wise Men from the East

1 Now after Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, wise men from the East came to Jerusalem,
2 saying, “Where is He who has been born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East and have come to worship Him.”
3 When Herod the king heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.
4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he inquired of them where the Christ was to be born.
5 So they said to him, “In Bethlehem of Judea, for thus it is written by the prophet:

> 6 ‘But you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah,
> Are not the least among the rulers of Judah;
> For out of you shall come a Ruler
> Who will shepherd My people Israel.’ ”[a]

7 Then Herod, when he had secretly called the wise men, determined from them what time the star appeared.
8 And he sent them to Bethlehem and said, “Go and search carefully for the young Child, and when you have found Him, bring back word to me, that I may come and worship Him also.”
9 When they heard the king, they departed; and behold, the star which they had seen in the East went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was.
10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy.

11 And when they had come into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary His mother, and fell down and worshiped Him. And when they had opened their treasures, they presented gifts to Him: gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

The Gifts of the Magi

12 Then, being divinely warned in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed for their own country another way.

The Flight into Egypt

13 Now when they had departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, "Arise, take the young Child and His mother, flee to Egypt, and stay there until I bring you word; for Herod will seek the young Child to destroy Him." Jesus the Refugee

14 When he arose, he took the young Child and His mother by night and departed for Egypt,

15 and was there until the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, "Out of Egypt I called My Son."[b]

Massacre of the Innocents

16 Then Herod, when he saw that he was deceived by the wise men, was exceedingly angry; and he sent forth and put to death all the male children who were in Bethlehem and in all its districts, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had determined from the wise men. Grieving the Loss of a Child

17 Then was fulfilled what was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying:

> 18 "A voice was heard in Ramah,
> Lamentation, weeping, and great mourning,
> Rachel weeping for her children,

Refusing to be comforted,
Because they are no more.”[c]

The Home in Nazareth

19 Now when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 saying, “Arise, take the young Child and His mother, and go to the land of Israel, for those who sought the young Child’s life are dead.”
21 Then he arose, took the young Child and His mother, and came into the land of Israel.
22 But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judea instead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. And being warned by God in a dream, he turned aside into the region of Galilee.
23 And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, “He shall be called a Nazarene.”

Matthew 3

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

1 In those days John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness of Judea,
2 and saying, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand!”
3 For this is he who was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah,
saying:

> “The voice of one crying in the wilderness:
> ‘Prepare the way of the LORD;
> Make His paths straight.’ ”[a]

4 Now John himself was clothed in camel’s hair, with a leather belt around his waist; and his food was locusts and wild honey.
5 Then Jerusalem, all Judea, and all the region around the Jordan went out to him
6 and were baptized by him in the Jordan, confessing their sins.
7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, “Brood of vipers!
Who warned you to flee from the wrath to come?
8 “Therefore bear fruits worthy of repentance, 9 “and do not think to say to yourselves, ‘We have Abraham as our father.’ For I say to you that God is able to raise up children to Abraham from these stones.
10 “And even now the ax is laid to the root of the trees.
Therefore every tree which does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.

11“I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance, but He who is coming after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not worthy to carry. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.[b] The Purpose of Strength

12“His winnowing fan is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clean out His threshing floor, and gather His wheat into the barn; but He will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.”

John Baptizes Jesus

13Then Jesus came from Galilee to John at the Jordan to be baptized by him.

14And John tried to prevent Him, saying, “I need to be baptized by You, and are You coming to me?”

15But Jesus answered and said to him, “Permit it to be so now, for thus it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness.” Then he allowed Him.

16When He had been baptized, Jesus came up immediately from the water; and behold, the heavens were opened to Him, and He[c] saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and alighting upon Him.

17And suddenly a voice came from heaven, saying, “This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.”

Matthew 4

Satan Tempts Jesus

1 Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil.
2 And when He had fasted forty days and forty nights, afterward He was hungry.
3 Now when the tempter came to Him, he said, "If You are the Son of God, command that these stones become bread."

Real Temptation

4 But He answered and said, "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God.' "[a] 5 Then the devil took Him up into the holy city, set Him on the pinnacle of the temple,
6 and said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down. For it is written:

'He shall give His angels charge over you,'

and,

'In their hands they shall bear you up,
Lest you dash your foot against a stone.' "[b]

7 Jesus said to him, "It is written again, 'You shall not tempt the LORD your God.' "[c] 8 Again, the devil took Him up on an exceedingly high mountain, and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory. Money Temptations 9 And he said to Him, "All these things I will give You if You will fall down and worship me."

10 Then Jesus said to him, “Away with you,[d] Satan! For it is written, ‘You shall worship the LORD your God, and Him only you shall serve.’ ”[e] 11 Then the devil left Him, and behold, angels came and ministered to Him.

Jesus Begins His Galilean Ministry

12 Now when Jesus heard that John had been put in prison, He departed to Galilee.
13 And leaving Nazareth, He came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the regions of Zebulun and Naphtali,
14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying:

> 15 “The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,
> By the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan,
> Galilee of the Gentiles:
> 16 The people who sat in darkness have seen a great light,
> And upon those who sat in the region and shadow of death
> Light has dawned.”[f]

17 From that time Jesus began to preach and to say, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.” The King Declares His Kingdom

Four Fishermen Called as Disciples

18 And Jesus, walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brothers, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen.

19 Then He said to them, “Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men.”
20 They immediately left their nets and followed Him.
21 Going on from there, He saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets. He called them, 22 and immediately they left the boat and their father, and followed Him.

Jesus Heals a Great Multitude

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people.
24 Then His fame went throughout all Syria; and they brought to Him all sick people who were afflicted with various diseases and torments, and those who were demon-possessed, epileptics, and paralytics; and He healed them.
25 Great multitudes followed Him—from Galilee, and from Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea, and beyond the Jordan.

Matthew 5

The Beatitudes

1 And seeing the multitudes, He went up on a mountain, and when He was seated His disciples came to Him. The Sermon on the Mount 2 Then He opened His mouth and taught them, saying:

3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit,
For theirs is the kingdom of heaven. The Way Up Is Down
4 Blessed are those who mourn,
For they shall be comforted.
5 Blessed are the meek,
For they shall inherit the earth.
6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness,
For they shall be filled.
7 Blessed are the merciful,
For they shall obtain mercy.
8 Blessed are the pure in heart,
For they shall see God.
9 Blessed are the peacemakers,
For they shall be called sons of God.
10 Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake,
For theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 "Blessed are you when they revile and persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely for My sake.
12 "Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Believers Are Salt and Light

13 “You are the salt of the earth; but if the salt loses its flavor, how shall it be seasoned? It is then good for nothing but to be thrown out and trampled underfoot by men. Salt and

Light
14 “You are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hidden.
15 “Nor do they light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a lampstand, and it gives light to all who are in the house.
16 “Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven.

Christ Fulfills the Law

17 “Do not think that I came to destroy the Law or the Prophets. I did not come to destroy but to fulfill. You Have Heard

That It Was Said
18 “For assuredly, I say to you, till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle will by no means pass from the law till all is fulfilled.
19 “Whoever therefore breaks one of the least of these commandments, and teaches men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but whoever does and teaches them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.
20 “For I say to you, that unless your righteousness exceeds the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, you will by no means enter the kingdom of heaven.

Murder Begins in the Heart

21 “You have heard that it was said to those of old, ‘You shall not murder,[a] and whoever murders will be in danger of the judgment.’

22 “But I say to you that whoever is angry with his brother without a cause[b] shall be in danger of the judgment. And whoever says to his brother, ‘Raca!’ shall be in danger of the council. But whoever says, ‘You fool!’ shall be in danger of hell fire.
23 “Therefore if you bring your gift to the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, 24 “leave your gift there before the altar, and go your way.
First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.
25 “Agree with your adversary quickly, while you are on the way with him, lest your adversary deliver you to the judge, the judge hand you over to the officer, and you be thrown into prison.
26 “Assuredly, I say to you, you will by no means get out of there till you have paid the last penny.

Adultery in the Heart

27 “You have heard that it was said to those of old,[c] ‘You shall not commit adultery.’[d] 28 “But I say to you that whoever looks at a woman to lust for her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.
29 “If your right eye causes you to sin, pluck it out and cast it from you; for it is more profitable for you that one of your members perish, than for your whole body to be cast into hell.
30 “And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and cast it from you; for it is more profitable for you that one of your members perish, than for your whole body to be cast into hell.

Marriage Is Sacred and Binding

31 “Furthermore it has been said, ‘Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.’ 32 “But I say to you that whoever divorces his wife for any reason except sexual immorality[e] causes her to commit adultery; and whoever marries a woman who is divorced commits adultery.

Jesus Forbids Oaths

33 “Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, ‘You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform your oaths to
the Lord.’
34 “But I say to you, do not swear at all: neither by heaven, for it is God’s throne;
35 “nor by the earth, for it is His footstool; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King.
36 “Nor shall you swear by your head, because you cannot make one hair white or black.
37 “But let your ‘Yes’ be ‘Yes,’ and your ‘No,’ ‘No.’ For whatever is more than these is from the evil one.

Go the Second Mile

38 “You have heard that it was said, ‘An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.’[f] An Eye for an Eye 39 “But I tell you not to resist an evil person. But whoever slaps you on your right cheek, turn the other to him also.
40 “If anyone wants to sue you and take away your tunic, let him have your cloak also.
41 “And whoever compels you to go one mile, go with him two.
42 “Give to him who asks you, and from him who wants to borrow from you do not turn away.

Love Your Enemies

43 “You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall love your neighbor[g] and hate your enemy.’ Meeting God’s Expectations

44 “But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you,[h]

45 “that you may be sons of your Father in heaven; for He makes His sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 “For if you love those who love you, what reward have you? Do not even the tax collectors do the same?

47 “And if you greet your brethren[i] only, what do you do more than others? Do not even the tax collectors[j] do so?

48 “Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.

Matthew 6

Do Good to Please God

1 “Take heed that you do not do your charitable deeds before men, to be seen by them. Otherwise you have no reward from your Father in heaven. Anonymous Givers 2 “Therefore, when you do a charitable deed, do not sound a trumpet before you as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory from men. Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward.
3 “But when you do a charitable deed, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, 4 “that your charitable deed may be in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will Himself reward you openly.[a]

The Model Prayer

5 “And when you pray, you shall not be like the hypocrites.
For they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men.
Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward.
6 “But you, when you pray, go into your room, and when you have shut your door, pray to your Father who is in the secret place; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly.[b] 7 “And when you pray, do not use vain repetitions as the heathen do. For they think that they will be heard for their many words.
8 “Therefore do not be like them. For your Father knows the things you have need of before you ask Him.
9 “In this manner, therefore, pray:

Our Father in heaven,

Hallowed be Your name.
10 Your kingdom come.
Your will be done
On earth as it is in heaven.
11 Give us this day our daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts,
As we forgive our debtors.
13 And do not lead us into temptation,
But deliver us from the evil one.
For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.[c]

14 "For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.
15 "But if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Fasting to Be Seen Only by God

16 "Moreover, when you fast, do not be like the hypocrites, with a sad countenance. For they disfigure their faces that they may appear to men to be fasting. Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward.
17 "But you, when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, 18 "so that you do not appear to men to be fasting, but to your Father who is in the secret place; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly.[d]

Lay Up Treasures in Heaven

19 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal; Stop Worry 20 "but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

21 “For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

The Lamp of the Body

22 “The lamp of the body is the eye. If therefore your eye is good, your whole body will be full of light.
23 “But if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in you is darkness, how great is that darkness!

You Cannot Serve God and Riches

24 “No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.

Do Not Worry

25 “Therefore I say to you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink; nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food and the body more than clothing?
26 “Look at the birds of the air, for they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?
27 “Which of you by worrying can add one cubit to his stature?
28 “So why do you worry about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin;
29 “and yet I say to you that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
30 “Now if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will He not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?

31 “Therefore do not worry, saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘What shall we wear?’ 32 “For after all these things the Gentiles seek. For your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things.
33 “But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you.
34 “Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble.

Matthew 7

Do Not Judge

1 “Judge not, that you be not judged. Judge Not
2 “For with what judgment you judge, you will be judged; and with the measure you use, it will be measured back to
you.
3 “And why do you look at the speck in your brother’s eye,
but do not consider the plank in your own eye?
4 “Or how can you say to your brother, ‘Let me remove the speck from your eye’; and look, a plank is in your own eye?
5 “Hypocrite! First remove the plank from your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother’s eye.
6 “Do not give what is holy to the dogs; nor cast your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn and tear you in pieces.

Keep Asking, Seeking, Knocking

7 “Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find;
knock, and it will be opened to you.
8 “For everyone who asks receives, and he who seeks finds, and to him who knocks it will be opened.
9 “Or what man is there among you who, if his son asks for bread, will give him a stone?
10 “Or if he asks for a fish, will he give him a serpent?
11 “If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask Him!
12 “Therefore, whatever you want men to do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.

The Narrow Way

13 "Enter by the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and there are many who go in by it.
14 "Because[a] narrow is the gate and difficult is the way which leads to life, and there are few who find it.

You Will Know Them by Their Fruits

15 "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves.
16 "You will know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes from thornbushes or figs from thistles?
17 "Even so, every good tree bears good fruit, but a bad tree bears bad fruit.
18 "A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit.
19 "Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.
20 "Therefore by their fruits you will know them.

I Never Knew You

21 "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father in heaven.
22 "Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name?' 23 "And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you;
depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness!'

Build on the Rock

24 "Therefore whoever hears these sayings of Mine, and does them, I will liken him to a wise man who built his house on the rock:

25 “and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it did not fall, for it was founded on the rock.
26 “But everyone who hears these sayings of Mine, and does not do them, will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand:
27 “and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it fell. And great was its fall.”
28 And so it was, when Jesus had ended these sayings, that the people were astonished at His teaching, 29 for He taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes. Jesus’ Authority

Matthew 8

Jesus Cleanses a Leper

1When He had come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed Him.

2And behold, a leper came and worshiped Him, saying, “Lord, if You are willing, You can make me clean.”

3Then Jesus put out His hand and touched him, saying, “I am willing; be cleansed.” Immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4And Jesus said to him, “See that you tell no one; but go your way, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, as a testimony to them.”

Jesus Heals a Centurion’s Servant

5Now when Jesus had entered Capernaum, a centurion came to Him, pleading with Him, Effective Leaders

6saying, “Lord, my servant is lying at home paralyzed, dreadfully tormented.”

7And Jesus said to him, “I will come and heal him.”

8The centurion answered and said, “Lord, I am not worthy that You should come under my roof. But only speak a word, and my servant will be healed.

9“For I also am a man under authority, having soldiers under me. And I say to this one, ‘Go,’ and he goes; and to another, ‘Come,’ and he comes; and to my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”

10When Jesus heard it, He marveled, and said to those who followed, “Assuredly, I say to you, I have not found such great faith, not even in Israel! A Savior for the Whole World

11“And I say to you that many will come from east and west, and sit down with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.

12 “But the sons of the kingdom will be cast out into outer darkness. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.”
13 Then Jesus said to the centurion, “Go your way; and as you have believed, so let it be done for you.” And his servant was healed that same hour.

Peter’s Mother-in-Law Healed

14 Now when Jesus had come into Peter’s house, He saw his wife’s mother lying sick with a fever.
15 So He touched her hand, and the fever left her. And she arose and served them.[a]

Many Healed in the Evening

16 When evening had come, they brought to Him many who were demon-possessed. And He cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all who were sick,
17 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying:

> “He Himself took our infirmities
> And bore our sicknesses.”[b]

The Cost of Discipleship

18 And when Jesus saw great multitudes about Him, He gave a command to depart to the other side.
19 Then a certain scribe came and said to Him, “Teacher, I will follow You wherever You go.”
20 And Jesus said to him, “Foxes have holes and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay His head.”
21 Then another of His disciples said to Him, “Lord, let me first go and bury my father.”

22 But Jesus said to him, “Follow Me, and let the dead bury their own dead.”

Wind and Wave Obey Jesus

23 Now when He got into a boat, His disciples followed
Him.
24 And suddenly a great tempest arose on the sea, so that the boat was covered with the waves. But He was asleep.
25 Then His disciples came to Him and awoke Him, saying, “Lord, save us! We are perishing!” 26 But He said to them, “Why are you fearful, O you of little faith?” Then He arose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm.
27 So the men marveled, saying, “Who can this be, that even the winds and the sea obey Him?”

Two Demon-Possessed Men Healed

28 When He had come to the other side, to the country of the Gergesenes,[c] there met Him two demon-possessed men, coming out of the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that no one could pass that way.
29 And suddenly they cried out, saying, “What have we to do with You, Jesus, You Son of God? Have You come here to torment us before the time?” Angels and Demons 30 Now a good way off from them there was a herd of many swine feeding.
31 So the demons begged Him, saying, “If You cast us out, permit us to go away[d] into the herd of swine.” 32 And He said to them, “Go.” So when they had come out, they went into the herd of swine. And suddenly the whole herd of swine ran violently down the steep place into the sea, and perished in the water.

33 Then those who kept them fled; and they went away into the city and told everything, including what had happened to the demon-possessed men.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus. And when they saw Him, they begged Him to depart from their region.

Matthew 9

Jesus Forgives and Heals a Paralytic

1So He got into a boat, crossed over, and came to His own city.
2Then behold, they brought to Him a paralytic lying on a bed. When Jesus saw their faith, He said to the paralytic,
"Son, be of good cheer; your sins are forgiven you."
3And at once some of the scribes said within themselves,
"This Man blasphemes!" 4But Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts? The Power of Forgiveness 5"For which is easier, to say, 'Your sins are forgiven you,' or to say, 'Arise and walk'?
6"But that you may know that the Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins"—then He said to the paralytic,
"Arise, take up your bed, and go to your house."
7And he arose and departed to his house.
8Now when the multitudes saw it, they marveled[a] and glorified God, who had given such power to men.

Matthew the Tax Collector

9As Jesus passed on from there, He saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax office. And He said to him,
"Follow Me." So he arose and followed Him.
10Now it happened, as Jesus sat at the table in the house, that behold, many tax collectors and sinners came and sat down with Him and His disciples. Tax Collectors 11And when the Pharisees saw it, they said to His disciples, "Why does your Teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

12 When Jesus heard that, He said to them, “Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick.
13 “But go and learn what this means: ‘I desire mercy and not sacrifice.’[b] For I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.”[c]

Jesus Is Questioned About Fasting

14 Then the disciples of John came to Him, saying, “Why do we and the Pharisees fast often,[d] but Your disciples do not fast?”
15 And Jesus said to them, “Can the friends of the bridegroom mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them?
But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast.
16 “No one puts a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment; for the patch pulls away from the garment, and the tear is made worse.
17 “Nor do they put new wine into old wineskins, or else the wineskins break, the wine is spilled, and the wineskins are ruined. But they put new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved.”

A Girl Restored to Life and a Woman Healed

18 While He spoke these things to them, behold, a ruler came and worshiped Him, saying, “My daughter has just died, but come and lay Your hand on her and she will live.” 19 So Jesus arose and followed him, and so did His disciples.
20 And suddenly, a woman who had a flow of blood for twelve years came from behind and touched the hem of His garment. The Bleeding Woman 21 For she said to herself, “If only I may touch His garment, I shall be made well.”

22 But Jesus turned around, and when He saw her He said, “Be of good cheer, daughter; your faith has made you well.” And the woman was made well from that hour.
23 When Jesus came into the ruler’s house, and saw the flute players and the noisy crowd wailing, 24 He said to them, “Make room, for the girl is not dead, but sleeping.” And they ridiculed Him.
25 But when the crowd was put outside, He went in and took her by the hand, and the girl arose.
26 And the report of this went out into all that land.

Two Blind Men Healed

27 When Jesus departed from there, two blind men followed Him, crying out and saying, “Son of David, have mercy on us!”
28 And when He had come into the house, the blind men came to Him. And Jesus said to them, “Do you believe that I am able to do this?” They said to Him, “Yes, Lord.”
29 Then He touched their eyes, saying, “According to your faith let it be to you.”
30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus sternly warned them, saying, “See that no one knows it.”
31 But when they had departed, they spread the news about Him in all that country.

A Mute Man Speaks

32 As they went out, behold, they brought to Him a man, mute and demon-possessed.
33 And when the demon was cast out, the mute spoke. And the multitudes marveled, saying, “It was never seen like this in Israel!”
34 But the Pharisees said, “He casts out demons by the ruler of the demons.”

The Compassion of Jesus

35 Then Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.[e] Jesus' Urban Ministry

36 But when He saw the multitudes, He was moved with compassion for them, because they were weary[f] and scattered, like sheep having no shepherd.

37 Then He said to His disciples, "The harvest truly is plentiful, but the laborers are few.

38 "Therefore pray the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into His harvest."

Matthew 10

The Twelve Apostles

1 And when He had called His twelve disciples to Him, He gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease.
2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: first,
Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;
3 Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus, and Lebbaeus, whose surname was[a] Thaddaeus;
4 Simon the Cananite,[b] and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

Sending Out the Twelve

5 These twelve Jesus sent out and commanded them, saying: "Do not go into the way of the Gentiles, and do not enter a city of the Samaritans.
6 "But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.
7 "And as you go, preach, saying, 'The kingdom of heaven is at hand.'
8 "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead,[c] cast out demons. Freely you have received, freely give.
9 "Provide neither gold nor silver nor copper in your money belts,
10 "nor bag for your journey, nor two tunics, nor sandals, nor staffs; for a worker is worthy of his food.
11 "Now whatever city or town you enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and stay there till you go out.
12 "And when you go into a household, greet it.

13 “If the household is worthy, let your peace come upon
it. But if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you.
14 “And whoever will not receive you nor hear your words, when you depart from that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet.
15 “Assuredly, I say to you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city!

Persecutions Are Coming

16 “Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves.
Therefore be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.
17 “But beware of men, for they will deliver you up to councils and scourge you in their synagogues.
18 “You will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, as a testimony to them and to the Gentiles.
19 “But when they deliver you up, do not worry about how or what you should speak. For it will be given to you in that hour what you should speak; 20 “for it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.
21 “Now brother will deliver up brother to death, and a father his child; and children will rise up against parents and cause them to be put to death.
22 “And you will be hated by all for My name’s sake. But he who endures to the end will be saved.
23 “When they persecute you in this city, flee to another.
For assuredly, I say to you, you will not have gone through the cities of Israel before the Son of Man comes.
24 “A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his master.
25 “It is enough for a disciple that he be like his teacher, and a servant like his master. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub,[d] how much more will they call those of his household!

26 “Therefore do not fear them. For there is nothing covered that will not be revealed, and hidden that will not be known.

Jesus Teaches the Fear of God

27 “Whatever I tell you in the dark, speak in the light; and what you hear in the ear, preach on the housetops.

28 “And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. But rather fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 “Are not two sparrows sold for a copper coin? And not one of them falls to the ground apart from your Father’s will.

30 “But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

31 “Do not fear therefore; you are of more value than many sparrows.

Confess Christ Before Men

32 “Therefore whoever confesses Me before men, him I will also confess before My Father who is in heaven.

33 “But whoever denies Me before men, him I will also deny before My Father who is in heaven.

Christ Brings Division

34 “Do not think that I came to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword.

35 “For I have come to ‘set a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law’;

36 “and ‘a man’s enemies will be those of his own household.’[e]

37 “He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me. And he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.
38 “And he who does not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.
39 “He who finds his life will lose it, and he who loses his life for My sake will find it.

A Cup of Cold Water

40 “He who receives you receives Me, and he who receives Me receives Him who sent Me.
41 “He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet’s reward. And he who receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man’s reward.
42 “And whoever gives one of these little ones only a cup of cold water in the name of a disciple, assuredly, I say to you, he shall by no means lose his reward.”

Matthew 11

John the Baptist Sends Messengers to Jesus

1 Now it came to pass, when Jesus finished commanding His twelve disciples, that He departed from there to teach and to preach in their cities.
2 And when John had heard in prison about the works of Christ, he sent two of[a] his disciples Evidence of God
3 and said to Him, "Are You the Coming One, or do we look for another?"
4 Jesus answered and said to them, "Go and tell John the things which you hear and see:
5 "The blind see and the lame walk; the lepers are cleansed and the deaf hear; the dead are raised up and the poor have the gospel preached to them.
6 "And blessed is he who is not offended because of Me."
7 As they departed, Jesus began to say to the multitudes concerning John: "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?
8 "But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft garments? Indeed, those who wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.
9 "But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I say to you, and more than a prophet.
10 "For this is he of whom it is written:

'Behold, I send My messenger before Your face,
Who will prepare Your way before You.'[b]

11 "Assuredly, I say to you, among those born of women there has not risen one greater than John the Baptist; but he who is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

12 “And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force.
13 “For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.
14 “And if you are willing to receive it, he is Elijah who is to come.
15 “He who has ears to hear, let him hear!
16 “But to what shall I liken this generation? It is like children sitting in the marketplaces and calling to their companions, 17 “and saying:

‘We played the flute for you,
And you did not dance;
We mourned to you,
And you did not lament.’

18 “For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, ‘He has a demon.’
19 “The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, ‘Look, a glutton and a winebibber, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!’ But wisdom is justified by her children.”[c]

Woe to the Impenitent Cities

20 Then He began to rebuke the cities in which most of His mighty works had been done, because they did not repent:
21 “Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 “But I say to you, it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you.
23 “And you, Capernaum, who are exalted to heaven, will be[d] brought down to Hades; for if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.
24 “But I say to you that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment than for you.”

Jesus Gives True Rest

25 At that time Jesus answered and said, “I thank You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You have hidden these things from the wise and prudent and have revealed them to babes.
26 “Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in Your sight.
27 “All things have been delivered to Me by My Father, and no one knows the Son except the Father. Nor does anyone know the Father except the Son, and the one to whom the Son wills to reveal Him.
28 “Come to Me, all you who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
29 “Take My yoke upon you and learn from Me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls.
30 “For My yoke is easy and My burden is light.”

Matthew 12

Jesus Is Lord of the Sabbath

1 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. And His disciples were hungry, and began to pluck heads of grain and to eat.
2 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said to Him, "Look,
Your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath!"
3 But He said to them, "Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, he and those who were with him:
4 "how he entered the house of God and ate the showbread which was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests?
5 "Or have you not read in the law that on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath, and are blameless?
6 "Yet I say to you that in this place there is One greater than the temple.
7 "But if you had known what this means, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice,'[a] you would not have condemned the guiltless.
8 "For the Son of Man is Lord even[b] of the Sabbath."

Healing on the Sabbath

9 Now when He had departed from there, He went into their synagogue.
10 And behold, there was a man who had a withered hand.
And they asked Him, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?"—that they might accuse Him.
11 Then He said to them, "What man is there among you who has one sheep, and if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will not lay hold of it and lift it out?

12 “Of how much more value then is a man than a sheep?
Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath.” 13 Then He said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” And he stretched it out, and it was restored as whole as the other.
14 Then the Pharisees went out and plotted against Him, how they might destroy Him. Political Intrigue

Behold, My Servant

15 But when Jesus knew it, He withdrew from there. And great multitudes[c] followed Him, and He healed them all.
16 Yet He warned them not to make Him known, 17 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying:

> 18 “Behold! My Servant whom I have chosen,
> My Beloved in whom My soul is well pleased!
> I will put My Spirit upon Him,
> And He will declare justice to the Gentiles.
> 19 He will not quarrel nor cry out,
> Nor will anyone hear His voice in the streets.
> 20 A bruised reed He will not break,
> And smoking flax He will not quench,
> Till He sends forth justice to victory;
> 21 And in His name Gentiles will trust.”[d]

A House Divided Cannot Stand

22 Then one was brought to Him who was demon-possessed, blind and mute; and He healed him, so that the blind and[e] mute man both spoke and saw.

23 And all the multitudes were amazed and said, “Could this be the Son of David?”

24 Now when the Pharisees heard it they said, “This fellow does not cast out demons except by Beelzebub,[f] the ruler of the demons.”

25 But Jesus knew their thoughts, and said to them: “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.

26 “If Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand?

27 “And if I cast out demons by Beelzebub, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges.

28 “But if I cast out demons by the Spirit of God, surely the kingdom of God has come upon you.

29 “Or how can one enter a strong man’s house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man? And then he will plunder his house.

30 “He who is not with Me is against Me, and he who does not gather with Me scatters abroad.

The Unpardonable Sin

31 “Therefore I say to you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven men. The Unpardonable Sin

32 “Anyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven him, either in this age or in the age to come.

A Tree Known by Its Fruit

33 “Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or else make the tree bad and its fruit bad; for a tree is known by its fruit.
34 “Brood of vipers! How can you, being evil, speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.
35 “A good man out of the good treasure of his heart[g] brings forth good things, and an evil man out of the evil treasure brings forth evil things.
36 “But I say to you that for every idle word men may speak, they will give account of it in the day of judgment.
37 “For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned.”

The Scribes and Pharisees Ask for a Sign

38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered, saying, “Teacher, we want to see a sign from You.” 39 But He answered and said to them, “An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and no sign will be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah.
40 “For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.
41 “The men of Nineveh will rise up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, because they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and indeed a greater than Jonah is here.
42 “The queen of the South will rise up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and indeed a greater than Solomon is here.

An Unclean Spirit Returns

43 “When an unclean spirit goes out of a man, he goes through dry places, seeking rest, and finds none.
44 “Then he says, ‘I will return to my house from which I came.’ And when he comes, he finds it empty, swept, and put in order.
45 “Then he goes and takes with him seven other spirits
more wicked than himself, and they enter and dwell there;
and the last state of that man is worse than the first. So shall it also be with this wicked generation.”

Jesus’ Mother and Brothers Send for Him

46 While He was still talking to the multitudes, behold,
His mother and brothers stood outside, seeking to speak with Him.
47 Then one said to Him, “Look, Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, seeking to speak with You.”
48 But He answered and said to the one who told Him,
“Who is My mother and who are My brothers?”
49 And He stretched out His hand toward His disciples and said, “Here are My mother and My brothers!
50 “For whoever does the will of My Father in heaven is My brother and sister and mother.”

Matthew 13

The Parable of the Sower

1 On the same day Jesus went out of the house and sat by the sea. Workplace Analogies
2 And great multitudes were gathered together to Him, so that He got into a boat and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.
3 Then He spoke many things to them in parables, saying:
"Behold, a sower went out to sow.
4 "And as he sowed, some seed fell by the wayside; and the birds came and devoured them.
5 "Some fell on stony places, where they did not have much earth; and they immediately sprang up because they had no depth of earth.
6 "But when the sun was up they were scorched, and because they had no root they withered away.
7 "And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up and choked them.
8 "But others fell on good ground and yielded a crop:
some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.
9 "He who has ears to hear, let him hear!"

The Purpose of Parables

10 And the disciples came and said to Him, "Why do You speak to them in parables?" 11 He answered and said to them, "Because it has been given to you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given.
12 "For whoever has, to him more will be given, and he will have abundance; but whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him.

13 “Therefore I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand.
14 “And in them the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled, which says:

‘Hearing you will hear and shall not understand,
And seeing you will see and not perceive;
15 For the hearts of this people have grown
dull.
Their ears are hard of hearing,
And their eyes they have closed,
Lest they should see with their eyes and
hear with their ears,
Lest they should understand with their
hearts and turn,
So that I should[a] heal them.’[b]

16 “But blessed are your eyes for they see, and your ears for they hear;
17 “for assuredly, I say to you that many prophets and righteous men desired to see what you see, and did not see it, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear it.

The Parable of the Sower Explained

18 “Therefore hear the parable of the sower: 19 “When anyone hears the word of the kingdom, and does not understand it, then the wicked one comes and snatches away what was sown in his heart. This is he who received seed by the wayside.
20 “But he who received the seed on stony places, this is he who hears the word and immediately receives it with joy;

21 “yet he has no root in himself, but endures only for a while. For when tribulation or persecution arises because of the word, immediately he stumbles.
22 “Now he who received seed among the thorns is he who hears the word, and the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becomes unfruitful.
23 “But he who received seed on the good ground is he who hears the word and understands it, who indeed bears fruit and produces: some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.”

The Parable of the Wheat and the Tares

24 Another parable He put forth to them, saying: “The kingdom of heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field;
25 “but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat and went his way.
26 “But when the grain had sprouted and produced a crop, then the tares also appeared.
27 “So the servants of the owner came and said to him, ‘Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have tares?’
28 “He said to them, ‘An enemy has done this.’ The servants said to him, ‘Do you want us then to go and gather them up?’
29 “But he said, ‘No, lest while you gather up the tares you also uproot the wheat with them.
30 ‘Let both grow together until the harvest, and at the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, “First gather together the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn.” ’ ”

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

31 Another parable He put forth to them, saying: “The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field, 32 “which indeed is the least of all the seeds; but when it is grown it is greater than the herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and nest in its branches.”

The Parable of the Leaven

33 Another parable He spoke to them: “The kingdom of heaven is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures[c] of meal till it was all leavened.”

Prophecy and the Parables

34 All these things Jesus spoke to the multitude in parables; and without a parable He did not speak to them, 35 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying:

> “I will open My mouth in parables;
> I will utter things kept secret from the foundation of the world.”[d]

The Parable of the Tares Explained

36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away and went into the house. And His disciples came to Him, saying, “Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field.”
37 He answered and said to them: “He who sows the good seed is the Son of Man.
38 “The field is the world, the good seeds are the sons of the kingdom, but the tares are the sons of the wicked one.
39 “The enemy who sowed them is the devil, the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are the angels.
40 “Therefore as the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of this age.

41 “The Son of Man will send out His angels, and they will gather out of His kingdom all things that offend, and those who practice lawlessness, 42 “and will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be wailing and gnashing of teeth.
43 “Then the righteous will shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears to hear, let him hear!

The Parable of the Hidden Treasure

44 “Again, the kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which a man found and hid; and for joy over it he goes and sells all that he has and buys that field.

The Parable of the Pearl of Great Price

45 “Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant seeking beautiful pearls, 46 “who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

The Parable of the Dragnet

47 “Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet that was cast into the sea and gathered some of every kind, 48 “which, when it was full, they drew to shore; and they sat down and gathered the good into vessels, but threw the bad away.
49 “So it will be at the end of the age. The angels will come forth, separate the wicked from among the just, 50 “and cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be wailing and gnashing of teeth.” 51 Jesus said to them,[e] “Have you understood all these things?” They said to Him, “Yes, Lord.”[f]

52 Then He said to them, “Therefore every scribe instructed concerning[g] the kingdom of heaven is like a householder who brings out of his treasure things new and old.” Treasures Old and New

Jesus Rejected at Nazareth

53 Now it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, that He departed from there.
54 When He had come to His own country, He taught them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished and said, “Where did this Man get this wisdom and these mighty works?
55 “Is this not the carpenter’s son? Is not His mother called Mary? And His brothers James, Joses,[h] Simon, and Judas?
56 “And His sisters, are they not all with us? Where then did this Man get all these things?”
57 So they were offended at Him. But Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor except in his own country and in his own house.”
58 Now He did not do many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

Matthew 14

John the Baptist Beheaded

1 At that time Herod the tetrarch heard the report about Jesus
2 and said to his servants, “This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead, and therefore these powers are at work in him.”
3 For Herod had laid hold of John and bound him, and put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife. Hateful Herodias 4 Because John had said to him, “It is not lawful for you to have her.”
5 And although he wanted to put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.
6 But when Herod’s birthday was celebrated, the daughter of Herodias danced before them and pleased Herod.
7 Therefore he promised with an oath to give her whatever she might ask.
8 So she, having been prompted by her mother, said, “Give me John the Baptist’s head here on a platter.” 9 And the king was sorry; nevertheless, because of the oaths and because of those who sat with him, he commanded it to be given to her.
10 So he sent and had John beheaded in prison.
11 And his head was brought on a platter and given to the girl, and she brought it to her mother.
12 Then his disciples came and took away the body and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

Feeding the Five Thousand

13When Jesus heard it, He departed from there by boat to a deserted place by Himself. But when the multitudes heard it, they followed Him on foot from the cities. Public Faith

14And when Jesus went out He saw a great multitude; and He was moved with compassion for them, and healed their sick.

15When it was evening, His disciples came to Him, saying, “This is a deserted place, and the hour is already late. Send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages and buy themselves food.”

16But Jesus said to them, “They do not need to go away. You give them something to eat.”

17And they said to Him, “We have here only five loaves and two fish.”

18He said, “Bring them here to Me.”

19Then He commanded the multitudes to sit down on the grass. And He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, He blessed and broke and gave the loaves to the disciples; and the disciples gave to the multitudes.

20So they all ate and were filled, and they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments that remained.

21Now those who had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

Jesus Walks on the Sea

22Immediately Jesus made His disciples get into the boat and go before Him to the other side, while He sent the multitudes away.

23And when He had sent the multitudes away, He went up on the mountain by Himself to pray. Now when evening came, He was alone there.

24But the boat was now in the middle of the sea,[a] tossed by the waves, for the wind was contrary.

25 Now in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went to them, walking on the sea.
26 And when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, “It is a ghost!” And they cried out for fear.
27 But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, “Be of good cheer! It is I; do not be afraid.”
28 And Peter answered Him and said, “Lord, if it is You, command me to come to You on the water.”
29 So He said, “Come.” And when Peter had come down out of the boat, he walked on the water to go to Jesus.
30 But when he saw that the wind was boisterous,[b] he was afraid; and beginning to sink he cried out, saying, “Lord, save me!”
31 And immediately Jesus stretched out His hand and caught him, and said to him, “O you of little faith, why did you doubt?”
32 And when they got into the boat, the wind ceased.
33 Then those who were in the boat came and[c] worshiped
Him, saying, “Truly You are the Son of God.”

Many Touch Him and Are Made Well

34 When they had crossed over, they came to the land of[d] Gennesaret.
35 And when the men of that place recognized Him, they sent out into all that surrounding region, brought to Him all who were sick,
36 and begged Him that they might only touch the hem of His garment. And as many as touched it were made perfectly well.

Matthew 15

Defilement Comes from Within

1 Then the scribes and Pharisees who were from Jerusalem came to Jesus, saying, Evaluating Tradition 2 "Why do Your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread."
3 He answered and said to them, "Why do you also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition?
4 "For God commanded, saying, 'Honor your father and your mother';[a] and, 'He who curses father or mother, let him be put to death.'[b] 5 "But you say, 'Whoever says to his father or mother, "Whatever profit you might have received from me is a gift to God"—
6 'then he need not honor his father or mother.'[c] Thus you have made the commandment[d] of God of no effect by your tradition.
7 "Hypocrites! Well did Isaiah prophesy about you, saying:

> 8 'These people draw near to Me with their > mouth,
> And[e] honor Me with their lips,
> But their heart is far from Me.
> 9 And in vain they worship Me,
> Teaching as doctrines the commandments of > men.' "[f]

10 When He had called the multitude to Himself, He said to them, "Hear and understand:

11 “Not what goes into the mouth defiles a man; but what comes out of the mouth, this defiles a man.” 12 Then His disciples came and said to Him, “Do You know that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this
saying?”
13 But He answered and said, “Every plant which My heavenly Father has not planted will be uprooted.
14 “Let them alone. They are blind leaders of the blind.
And if the blind leads the blind, both will fall into a ditch.” 15 Then Peter answered and said to Him, “Explain this parable to us.”
16 So Jesus said, “Are you also still without understanding?
17 “Do you not yet understand that whatever enters the mouth goes into the stomach and is eliminated?
18 “But those things which proceed out of the mouth come from the heart, and they defile a man.
19 “For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies.
20 “These are the things which defile a man, but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile a man.”

A Gentile Shows Her Faith

21 Then Jesus went out from there and departed to the region of Tyre and Sidon.
22 And behold, a woman of Canaan came from that region and cried out to Him, saying, “Have mercy on me, O Lord, Son of David! My daughter is severely demon-possessed.”
23 But He answered her not a word. And His disciples came and urged Him, saying, “Send her away, for she cries out after us.”
24 But He answered and said, “I was not sent except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.” No Racial Division

25 Then she came and worshiped Him, saying, “Lord, help me!”

26 But He answered and said, “It is not good to take the children’s bread and throw it to the little dogs.”

27 And she said, “Yes, Lord, yet even the little dogs eat the crumbs which fall from their masters’ table.”

28 Then Jesus answered and said to her, “O woman, great is your faith! Let it be to you as you desire.” And her daughter was healed from that very hour.

Jesus Heals Great Multitudes

29 Jesus departed from there, skirted the Sea of Galilee, and went up on the mountain and sat down there.

30 Then great multitudes came to Him, having with them the lame, blind, mute, maimed, and many others; and they laid them down at Jesus’ feet, and He healed them.

31 So the multitude marveled when they saw the mute speaking, the maimed made whole, the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel.

Feeding the Four Thousand

32 Now Jesus called His disciples to Himself and said, “I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now continued with Me three days and have nothing to eat. And I do not want to send them away hungry, lest they faint on the way.”

33 Then His disciples said to Him, “Where could we get enough bread in the wilderness to fill such a great multitude?”

34 Jesus said to them, “How many loaves do you have?” And they said, “Seven, and a few little fish.”

35 So He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36 And He took the seven loaves and the fish and gave thanks, broke them and gave them to His disciples; and the disciples gave to the multitude.
37 So they all ate and were filled, and they took up seven large baskets full of the fragments that were left.
38 Now those who ate were four thousand men, besides women and children.
39 And He sent away the multitude, got into the boat, and came to the region of Magdala.[g]

Matthew 16

The Pharisees and Sadducees Seek a Sign

1 Then the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and testing Him asked that He would show them a sign from heaven. Political Parties of Jesus' Day

2 He answered and said to them, "When it is evening you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red';

3 "and in the morning, 'It will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and threatening.' Hypocrites![a] You know how to discern the face of the sky, but you cannot discern the signs of the times.

4 "A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and no sign shall be given to it except the sign of the prophet[b] Jonah." And He left them and departed.

The Leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees

5 Now when His disciples had come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 Then Jesus said to them, "Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the Sadducees."

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, "It is because we have taken no bread."

8 But Jesus, being aware of it, said to them, "O you of little faith, why do you reason among yourselves because you have brought no bread?[c]

9 "Do you not yet understand, or remember the five loaves of the five thousand and how many baskets you took up?

10 "Nor the seven loaves of the four thousand and how many large baskets you took up?

11 "How is it you do not understand that I did not speak to you concerning bread?—but to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

12 Then they understood that He did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Peter Confesses Jesus as the Christ

13 When Jesus came into the region of Caesarea Philippi, He asked His disciples, saying, “Who do men say that I, the Son of Man, am?”

14 So they said, “Some say John the Baptist, some Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets.”

15 He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?”

16 Simon Peter answered and said, “You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.”

17 Jesus answered and said to him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but My Father who is in heaven.

18 “And I also say to you that you are Peter, and on this rock I will build My church, and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it. The Gates of Hell

19 “And I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed[d] in heaven.”

20 Then He commanded His disciples that they should tell no one that He was Jesus the Christ.

Jesus Predicts His Death and Resurrection

21 From that time Jesus began to show to His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised the third day.

22 Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him, saying, “Far be it from You, Lord; this shall not happen to

You!” Grow On Up

23 But He turned and said to Peter, “Get behind Me, Satan! You are an offense to Me, for you are not mindful of the things of God, but the things of men.”

Take Up the Cross and Follow Him

24 Then Jesus said to His disciples, “If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me.

25 “For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake will find it.

26 “For what profit is it to a man if he gains the whole world, and loses his own soul? Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 “For the Son of Man will come in the glory of His Father with His angels, and then He will reward each according to his works.

28 “Assuredly, I say to you, there are some standing here who shall not taste death till they see the Son of Man coming in His kingdom.”

Matthew 17

Jesus Transfigured on the Mount

1 Now after six days Jesus took Peter, James, and John his brother, led them up on a high mountain by themselves;
2 and He was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and His clothes became as white as the light.
3 And behold, Moses and Elijah appeared to them, talking with Him.
4 Then Peter answered and said to Jesus, “Lord, it is good for us to be here; if You wish, let us[a] make here three tabernacles: one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”
5 While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them; and suddenly a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Hear Him!” The Names of Jesus
6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces and were greatly afraid.
7 But Jesus came and touched them and said, “Arise, and do not be afraid.”
8 When they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no one but Jesus only.
9 Now as they came down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, “Tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man is risen from the dead.” 10 And His disciples asked Him, saying, “Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?” 11 Jesus answered and said to them, “Indeed, Elijah is coming first[b] and will restore all things.
12 “But I say to you that Elijah has come already, and they did not know him but did to him whatever they wished.

Likewise the Son of Man is also about to suffer at their hands."

13 Then the disciples understood that He spoke to them of John the Baptist.

A Boy Is Healed

14 And when they had come to the multitude, a man came to Him, kneeling down to Him and saying,

15 "Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is an epileptic[c] and suffers severely; for he often falls into the fire and often into the water.

16 "So I brought him to Your disciples, but they could not cure him."

17 Then Jesus answered and said, "O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him here to Me."

18 And Jesus rebuked the demon, and it came out of him; and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, "Why could we not cast it out?"

20 So Jesus said to them, "Because of your unbelief;[d] for assuredly, I say to you, if you have faith as a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you.

21 "However, this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting."[e]

Jesus Again Predicts His Death and Resurrection

22 Now while they were staying[f] in Galilee, Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man is about to be betrayed into the hands of men, 23 "and they will kill Him, and the third day He will be raised up." And they were exceedingly sorrowful.

Peter and His Master Pay Their Taxes

24 When they had come to Capernaum,[g] those who received the temple tax came to Peter and said, "Does your Teacher not pay the temple tax?"

25 He said, "Yes." And when he had come into the house,
Jesus anticipated him, saying, "What do you think, Simon?
From whom do the kings of the earth take customs or taxes, from their sons or from strangers?"

26 Peter said to Him, "From strangers." Jesus said to him,
"Then the sons are free.

27 "Nevertheless, lest we offend them, go to the sea, cast in a hook, and take the fish that comes up first. And when you have opened its mouth, you will find a piece of money;[h] take that and give it to them for Me and you."

Matthew 18

Who Is the Greatest?

1 At that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Who then is greatest in the kingdom of heaven?”
2 Then Jesus called a little child to Him, set him in the midst of them,
3 and said, “Assuredly, I say to you, unless you are converted and become as little children, you will by no means enter the kingdom of heaven.
4 “Therefore whoever humbles himself as this little child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.
5 “Whoever receives one little child like this in My name receives Me.

Jesus Warns of Offenses

6 “But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to sin, it would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were drowned in the depth of the sea.
7 “Woe to the world because of offenses! For offenses must come, but woe to that man by whom the offense comes!
8 “If your hand or foot causes you to sin, cut it off and cast it from you. It is better for you to enter into life lame or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet, to be cast into the everlasting fire.
9 “And if your eye causes you to sin, pluck it out and cast it from you. It is better for you to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

10 “Take heed that you do not despise one of these little ones, for I say to you that in heaven their angels always see the face of My Father who is in heaven.
11 “For the Son of Man has come to save that which was lost.[a] 12 “What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep, and one of them goes astray, does he not leave the ninety-nine and go to the mountains to seek the one that is straying?
13 “And if he should find it, assuredly, I say to you, he rejoices more over that sheep than over the ninety-nine that did not go astray.
14 “Even so it is not the will of your Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

Dealing with a Sinning Brother

15 “Moreover if your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault between you and him alone. If he hears you, you have gained your brother.
16 “But if he will not hear, take with you one or two more, that ‘by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.’[b]
17 “And if he refuses to hear them, tell it to the church.
But if he refuses even to hear the church, let him be to you like a heathen and a tax collector.
18 “Assuredly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven.
19 “Again I say[c] to you that if two of you agree on earth concerning anything that they ask, it will be done for them by My Father in heaven.
20 “For where two or three are gathered together in My name, I am there in the midst of them.”

The Parable of the Unforgiving Servant

21 Then Peter came to Him and said, “Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? Up to seven times?”
22 Jesus said to him, “I do not say to you, up to seven times, but up to seventy times seven.
23 “Therefore the kingdom of heaven is like a certain king who wanted to settle accounts with his servants.
24 “And when he had begun to settle accounts, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents.
25 “But as he was not able to pay, his master commanded that he be sold, with his wife and children and all that he had, and that payment be made.
26 “The servant therefore fell down before him, saying,
‘Master, have patience with me, and I will pay you all.’
27 “Then the master of that servant was moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.
28 “But that servant went out and found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii; and he laid hands on him and took him by the throat, saying, ‘Pay me what you owe!’
29 “So his fellow servant fell down at his feet[d] and begged him, saying, ‘Have patience with me, and I will pay you all.’[e]
30 “And he would not, but went and threw him into prison till he should pay the debt.
31 “So when his fellow servants saw what had been done, they were very grieved, and came and told their master all that had been done.
32 “Then his master, after he had called him, said to him, ‘You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt because you begged me.
33 ‘Should you not also have had compassion on your fellow servant, just as I had pity on you?’

34 “And his master was angry, and delivered him to the torturers until he should pay all that was due to him.
35 “So My heavenly Father also will do to you if each of you, from his heart, does not forgive his brother his trespasses.”[f]

Matthew 19

Marriage and Divorce

1 Now it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these sayings, that He departed from Galilee and came to the region of Judea beyond the Jordan.
2 And great multitudes followed Him, and He healed them
there.
3 The Pharisees also came to Him, testing Him, and saying to Him, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for just any reason?"
4 And He answered and said to them, "Have you not read that He who made[a] them at the beginning 'made them male and female,'[b]
5 "and said, 'For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh'?[c]
6 "So then, they are no longer two but one flesh.
Therefore what God has joined together, let not man separate."
7 They said to Him, "Why then did Moses command to give a certificate of divorce, and to put her away?" 8 He said to them, "Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, permitted you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it was not so.
9 "And I say to you, whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality,[d] and marries another, commits adultery; and whoever marries her who is divorced commits adultery."
10 His disciples said to Him, "If such is the case of the man with his wife, it is better not to marry."

Jesus Teaches on Celibacy

11 But He said to them, "All cannot accept this saying, but only those to whom it has been given:

12 "For there are eunuchs who were born thus from their mother's womb, and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He who is able to accept it, let him accept it."

Jesus Blesses Little Children

13 Then little children were brought to Him that He might put His hands on them and pray, but the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, "Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Jesus Valued Children

15 And He laid His hands on them and departed from there.

Jesus Counsels the Rich Young Ruler

16 Now behold, one came and said to Him, "Good[e] Teacher, what good thing shall I do that I may have eternal life?"

17 So He said to him, "Why do you call Me good?[f] No one is good but One, that is, God.[g] But if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments."

18 He said to Him, "Which ones?" Jesus said, " 'You shall not murder,' 'You shall not commit adultery,' 'You shall not steal,' 'You shall not bear false witness,'

19 'Honor your father and your mother,'[h] and, 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' "[i]

20 The young man said to Him, "All these things I have kept from my youth.[j] What do I still lack?"

21 Jesus said to him, “If you want to be perfect, go, sell what you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me.” 22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions.

With God All Things Are Possible

23 Then Jesus said to His disciples, “Assuredly, I say to you that it is hard for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven.
24 “And again I say to you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.”
25 When His disciples heard it, they were greatly astonished, saying, “Who then can be saved?” 26 But Jesus looked at them and said to them, “With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.” 27 Then Peter answered and said to Him, “See, we have left all and followed You. Therefore what shall we have?” 28 So Jesus said to them, “Assuredly I say to you, that in the regeneration, when the Son of Man sits on the throne of His glory, you who have followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.
29 “And everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife[k] or children or lands, for My name’s sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and inherit eternal life.
30 “But many who are first will be last, and the last first.

Matthew 20

The Parable of the Workers in the Vineyard

1 “For the kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard.

Wages and Grace

2 “Now when he had agreed with the laborers for a denarius a day, he sent them into his vineyard.
3 “And he went out about the third hour and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, 4 “and said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard, and whatever is right I will give you.’ So they went.
5 “Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour,
and did likewise.
6 “And about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing idle,[a] and said to them, ‘Why have you been standing here idle all day?’
7 “They said to him, ‘Because no one hired us.’ He said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard, and whatever is right you will receive.’[b]
8 “So when evening had come, the owner of the vineyard said to his steward, ‘Call the laborers and give them their wages, beginning with the last to the first.’ 9 “And when those came who were hired about the eleventh hour, they each received a denarius.
10 “But when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise received each a denarius.
11 “And when they had received it, they complained against the landowner, 12 “saying, ‘These last men have worked only one hour, and you made them equal to us who have borne the burden and the heat of the day.’

13“But he answered one of them and said, ‘Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?
14‘Take what is yours and go your way. I wish to give to this last man the same as to you.
15‘Is it not lawful for me to do what I wish with my own things? Or is your eye evil because I am good?’
16“So the last will be first, and the first last. For many are called, but few chosen.”[c]

Jesus a Third Time Predicts His Death and Resurrection

17Now Jesus, going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples aside on the road and said to them,
18“Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and to the scribes; and they will condemn Him to death, 19“and deliver Him to the Gentiles to mock and to scourge and to crucify. And the third day He will rise again.”

Greatness Is Serving

20Then the mother of Zebedee’s sons came to Him with her sons, kneeling down and asking something from Him.
21And He said to her, “What do you wish?” She said to Him, “Grant that these two sons of mine may sit, one on Your right hand and the other on the left, in Your kingdom.”
22But Jesus answered and said, “You do not know what you ask. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?”[d] They said to Him, “We are able.”
23So He said to them, “You will indeed drink My cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with;[e] but to sit on My right hand and on My left is not Mine to give, but it is for those for whom it is prepared by My Father."

24 And when the ten heard it, they were greatly displeased with the two brothers.

25 But Jesus called them to Himself and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and those who are great exercise authority over them. Leaders Serve 26 "Yet it shall not be so among you; but whoever desires to become great among you, let him be your servant.

27 "And whoever desires to be first among you, let him be your slave—

28 "just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many."

Two Blind Men Receive Their Sight

29 Now as they went out of Jericho, a great multitude followed Him.

30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the road, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, "Have mercy on us, O Lord, Son of David!"

31 Then the multitude warned them that they should be quiet; but they cried out all the more, saying, "Have mercy on us, O Lord, Son of David!"

32 So Jesus stood still and called them, and said, "What do you want Me to do for you?"

33 They said to Him, "Lord, that our eyes may be opened."

34 So Jesus had compassion and touched their eyes. And immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed Him.

Matthew 21

The Triumphal Entry

1 Now when they drew near Jerusalem, and came to Bethphage,[a] at the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples, A Humble Parade
2 saying to them, "Go into the village opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her.
Loose them and bring them to Me.
3 "And if anyone says anything to you, you shall say, 'The Lord has need of them,' and immediately he will send
them."
4 All[b] this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying:

> 5 "Tell the daughter of Zion,
> 'Behold, your King is coming to you,
> Lowly, and sitting on a donkey,
> A colt, the foal of a donkey.' "[c]

6 So the disciples went and did as Jesus commanded
them.
7 They brought the donkey and the colt, laid their clothes on them, and set Him[d] on them.
8 And a very great multitude spread their clothes on the road; others cut down branches from the trees and spread them on the road.
9 Then the multitudes who went before and those who followed cried out, saying:

> "Hosanna to the Son of David!
> 'Blessed is He who comes in the name of the > LORD!'[e]

Hosanna in the highest!”

10 And when He had come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, “Who is this?”
11 So the multitudes said, “This is Jesus, the prophet from Nazareth of Galilee.”

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

12 Then Jesus went into the temple of God[f] and drove out all those who bought and sold in the temple, and overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of those who sold doves.
13 And He said to them, “It is written, ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer,’[g] but you have made it a ‘den of thieves.’ ”[h]
14 Then the blind and the lame came to Him in the temple, and He healed them.
15 But when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that He did, and the children crying out in the temple and saying, “Hosanna to the Son of David!” they were indignant
16 and said to Him, “Do You hear what these are saying?”
And Jesus said to them, “Yes. Have you never read,

*‘Out of the mouth of babes and nursing infants
You have perfected praise’?”*[i]

17 Then He left them and went out of the city to Bethany, and He lodged there.

The Fig Tree Withered

18 Now in the morning, as He returned to the city, He was hungry.

19 And seeing a fig tree by the road, He came to it and found nothing on it but leaves, and said to it, "Let no fruit grow on you ever again." Immediately the fig tree withered away.

The Lesson of the Withered Fig Tree

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marveled, saying,
"How did the fig tree wither away so soon?"
21 So Jesus answered and said to them, "Assuredly, I say to you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but also if you say to this mountain, 'Be removed and be cast into the sea,' it will be done.
22 "And whatever things you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive."

Jesus' Authority Questioned

23 Now when He came into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people confronted Him as He was teaching, and said, "By what authority are You doing these things? And who gave You this authority?" A Challenge to Authority 24 But Jesus answered and said to them, "I also will ask you one thing, which if you tell Me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things:
25 "The baptism of John—where was it from? From heaven or from men?" And they reasoned among themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say to us, 'Why then did you not believe him?' 26 "But if we say, 'From men,' we fear the multitude, for all count John as a prophet."
27 So they answered Jesus and said, "We do not know."
And He said to them, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.

The Parable of the Two Sons

28 “But what do you think? A man had two sons, and he came to the first and said, ‘Son, go, work today in my vineyard.’
29 “He answered and said, ‘I will not,’ but afterward he regretted it and went.
30 “Then he came to the second and said likewise. And he answered and said, ‘I go, sir,’ but he did not go.
31 “Which of the two did the will of his father?” They said to Him, “The first.” Jesus said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you that tax collectors and harlots enter the kingdom of God before you. Harlots Enter the Kingdom 32 “For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him; but tax collectors and harlots believed him; and when you saw it, you did not afterward relent and believe him.

The Parable of the Wicked Vinedressers

33 “Hear another parable: There was a certain landowner who planted a vineyard and set a hedge around it, dug a winepress in it and built a tower. And he leased it to vinedressers and went into a far country.
34 “Now when vintage-time drew near, he sent his servants to the vinedressers, that they might receive its fruit.
35 “And the vinedressers took his servants, beat one,
killed one, and stoned another.
36 “Again he sent other servants, more than the first, and they did likewise to them.
37 “Then last of all he sent his son to them, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’
38 “But when the vinedressers saw the son, they said among themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and seize his inheritance.’

39“So they took him and cast him out of the vineyard and killed him.
40“Therefore, when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those vinedressers?”
41They said to Him, “He will destroy those wicked men miserably, and lease his vineyard to other vinedressers who will render to him the fruits in their seasons.”
42Jesus said to them, “Have you never read in the Scriptures:

> ‘The stone which the builders rejected
> Has become the chief cornerstone.
> This was the LORD’s doing,
> And it is marvelous in our eyes’?[j]

43“Therefore I say to you, the kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a nation bearing the fruits of it.
44“And whoever falls on this stone will be broken; but on whomever it falls, it will grind him to powder.”
45Now when the chief priests and Pharisees heard His parables, they perceived that He was speaking of them.
46But when they sought to lay hands on Him, they feared the multitudes, because they took Him for a prophet.

Matthew 22

The Parable of the Wedding Feast

1 And Jesus answered and spoke to them again by parables and said:

2 “The kingdom of heaven is like a certain king who arranged a marriage for his son,

3 “and sent out his servants to call those who were invited to the wedding; and they were not willing to come.

4 “Again, he sent out other servants, saying, ‘Tell those who are invited, “See, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and fatted cattle are killed, and all things are ready. Come to the wedding.” ’

5 “But they made light of it and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his business.

6 “And the rest seized his servants, treated them spitefully, and killed them.

7 “But when the king heard about it, he was furious. And he sent out his armies, destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8 “Then he said to his servants, ‘The wedding is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy.

9 ‘Therefore go into the highways, and as many as you find, invite to the wedding.’

10 “So those servants went out into the highways and gathered together all whom they found, both bad and good. And the wedding hall was filled with guests.

11 “But when the king came in to see the guests, he saw a man there who did not have on a wedding garment.

12 “So he said to him, ‘Friend, how did you come in here without a wedding garment?’ And he was speechless.

13 “Then the king said to the servants, ‘Bind him hand and foot, take him away, and[a] cast him into outer darkness;
there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.’
14 “For many are called, but few are chosen.”

The Pharisees: Is It Lawful to Pay Taxes to Caesar?

15 Then the Pharisees went and plotted how they might entangle Him in His talk.
16 And they sent to Him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, “Teacher, we know that You are true, and teach the way of God in truth; nor do You care about anyone, for You do not regard the person of men.
17 “Tell us, therefore, what do You think? Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?”
18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, “Why do you test Me, you hypocrites?
19 “Show Me the tax money.” So they brought Him a denarius.
20 And He said to them, “Whose image and inscription is this?”
21 They said to Him, “Caesar’s.” And He said to them, “Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.”
22 When they had heard these words, they marveled, and left Him and went their way.

The Sadducees: What About the Resurrection?

23 The same day the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to Him and asked Him, Trick Questions 24 saying: “Teacher, Moses said that if a man dies, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife and raise up offspring for his brother.

25 “Now there were with us seven brothers. The first died after he had married, and having no offspring, left his wife to his brother.
26 “Likewise the second also, and the third, even to the seventh.
27 “Last of all the woman died also.
28 “Therefore, in the resurrection, whose wife of the seven will she be? For they all had her.” 29 Jesus answered and said to them, “You are mistaken, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God.
30 “For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels of God[b] in heaven.
31 “But concerning the resurrection of the dead, have you not read what was spoken to you by God, saying, 32 ‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’?[c] God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.”
33 And when the multitudes heard this, they were astonished at His teaching.

The Scribes: Which Is the First Commandment of All?

34 But when the Pharisees heard that He had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together. What Kind of Love?
35 Then one of them, a lawyer, asked Him a question, testing Him, and saying,
36 “Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?”
37 Jesus said to him, “ ‘You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.’[d]
38 “This is the first and great commandment.
39 “And the second is like it: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’[e]

40 “On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.”

Jesus: How Can David Call His Descendant Lord?

41 While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them,
42 saying, “What do you think about the Christ? Whose Son is He?” They said to Him, “The Son of David.” 43 He said to them, “How then does David in the Spirit
call Him ‘Lord,’ saying:

> 44 ‘The LORD said to my Lord,
> “Sit at My right hand,
> Till I make Your enemies Your footstool” ’?[f]

45 “If David then calls Him ‘Lord,’ how is He his Son?” 46 And no one was able to answer Him a word, nor from that day on did anyone dare question Him anymore.

Matthew 23

Woe to the Scribes and Pharisees

1 Then Jesus spoke to the multitudes and to His disciples, 2 saying: “The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses’ seat.
3 “Therefore whatever they tell you to observe,[a] that observe and do, but do not do according to their works; for they say, and do not do.
4 “For they bind heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on men’s shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.
5 “But all their works they do to be seen by men. They make their phylacteries broad and enlarge the borders of their garments.
6 “They love the best places at feasts, the best seats in the synagogues,
7 “greetings in the marketplaces, and to be called by men, ‘Rabbi, Rabbi.’
8 “But you, do not be called ‘Rabbi’; for One is your Teacher, the Christ,[b] and you are all brethren.
9 “Do not call anyone on earth your father; for One is your Father, He who is in heaven.
10 “And do not be called teachers; for One is your Teacher, the Christ.
11 “But he who is greatest among you shall be your servant.
12 “And whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.
13 “But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut up the kingdom of heaven against men; for you neither go in yourselves, nor do you allow those who are entering to go in.

14 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour widows’ houses, and for a pretense make long prayers. Therefore you will receive greater condemnation.[c]

15 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel land and sea to win one proselyte, and when he is won, you make him twice as much a son of hell as yourselves.

16 “Woe to you, blind guides, who say, ‘Whoever swears by the temple, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the temple, he is obliged to perform it.’

17 “Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that sanctifies[d] the gold?

18 “And, ‘Whoever swears by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gift that is on it, he is obliged to perform it.’

19 “Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that sanctifies the gift?

20 “Therefore he who swears by the altar, swears by it and by all things on it.

21 “He who swears by the temple, swears by it and by Him who dwells[e] in it.

22 “And he who swears by heaven, swears by the throne of God and by Him who sits on it.

23 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faith. These you ought to have done, without leaving the others undone. Tithing

24 “Blind guides, who strain out a gnat and swallow a camel!

25 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you cleanse the outside of the cup and dish, but inside they are full of extortion and self-indulgence.[f] 26 “Blind Pharisee, first cleanse the inside of the cup and dish, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs which indeed appear beautiful outwardly, but inside are full of dead men’s bones and all uncleanness. Whitewashed Tombs
28 “Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.
29 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites!
Because you build the tombs of the prophets and adorn the monuments of the righteous, 30 “and say, ‘If we had lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.’
31 “Therefore you are witnesses against yourselves that you are sons of those who murdered the prophets.
32 “Fill up, then, the measure of your fathers’ guilt.
33 “Serpents, brood of vipers! How can you escape the condemnation of hell?
34 “Therefore, indeed, I send you prophets, wise men, and scribes: some of them you will kill and crucify, and some of them you will scourge in your synagogues and persecute from city to city, 35 “that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah, son of Berechiah, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar.
36 “Assuredly, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation.

Jesus Laments over Jerusalem

37 “O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the one who kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you were not willing!

Jerusalem

38 “See! Your house is left to you desolate;

39 “for I say to you, you shall see Me no more till you say, ‘Blessed is He who comes in the name of the LORD!’ ”[g]

Matthew 24

Jesus Predicts the Destruction of the Temple

1 Then Jesus went out and departed from the temple, and His disciples came up to show Him the buildings of the temple.
2 And Jesus said to them, "Do you not see all these things?
Assuredly, I say to you, not one stone shall be left here upon another, that shall not be thrown down."

The Signs of the Times and the End of the Age

3 Now as He sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things be? And what will be the sign of Your coming, and of the end of the age?"
4 And Jesus answered and said to them: "Take heed that no one deceives you.
5 "For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will deceive many.
6 "And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not troubled; for all[a] these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.
7 "For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. And there will be famines, pestilences,[b] and earthquakes in various places.
8 "All these are the beginning of sorrows.
9 "Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and kill you, and you will be hated by all nations for My name's sake.
10 "And then many will be offended, will betray one another, and will hate one another.
11 "Then many false prophets will rise up and deceive many.

12 “And because lawlessness will abound, the love of many will grow cold.
13 “But he who endures to the end shall be saved.
14 “And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations, and then the end will come.

The Great Tribulation

15 “Therefore when you see the ‘abomination of desolation,’[c] spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place” (whoever reads, let him understand), 16 “then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.
17 “Let him who is on the housetop not go down to take anything out of his house.
18 “And let him who is in the field not go back to get his clothes.
19 “But woe to those who are pregnant and to those who are nursing babies in those days!
20 “And pray that your flight may not be in winter or on the Sabbath.
21 “For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the world until this time, no, nor ever shall be.
22 “And unless those days were shortened, no flesh would be saved; but for the elect’s sake those days will be shortened.
23 “Then if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ!’
or ‘There!’ do not believe it.
24 “For false christs and false prophets will rise and show great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect.
25 “See, I have told you beforehand.

26 “Therefore if they say to you, ‘Look, He is in the desert!’ do not go out; or ‘Look, He is in the inner rooms!’
do not believe it.
27 “For as the lightning comes from the east and flashes to the west, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be.
28 “For wherever the carcass is, there the eagles will be gathered together.

The Coming of the Son of Man

29 “Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken.
30 “Then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in heaven, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.
31 “And He will send His angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they will gather together His elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

The Parable of the Fig Tree

32 “Now learn this parable from the fig tree: When its branch has already become tender and puts forth leaves,
you know that summer is near.
33 “So you also, when you see all these things, know that it[d] is near—at the doors!
34 “Assuredly, I say to you, this generation will by no means pass away till all these things take place.
35 “Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away.

No One Knows the Day or Hour

36 “But of that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels of heaven,[e] but My Father only.
37 “But as the days of Noah were, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be.
38 “For as in the days before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark, 39 “and did not know until the flood came and took them all away, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be.
40 “Then two men will be in the field: one will be taken and the other left.
41 “Two women will be grinding at the mill: one will be taken and the other left.
42 “Watch therefore, for you do not know what hour[f] your Lord is coming.
43 “But know this, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched and not allowed his house to be broken into.
44 “Therefore you also be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

The Faithful Servant and the Evil Servant

45 “Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his master made ruler over his household, to give them food in due season?
46 “Blessed is that servant whom his master, when he comes, will find so doing.
47 “Assuredly, I say to you that he will make him ruler over all his goods.
48 “But if that evil servant says in his heart, ‘My master is delaying his coming,’[g] 49 “and begins to beat his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunkards,

50 “the master of that servant will come on a day when he is not looking for him and at an hour that he is not aware of,
51 “and will cut him in two and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Matthew 25

The Parable of the Wise and Foolish Virgins

1 “Then the kingdom of heaven shall be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom.
2 “Now five of them were wise, and five were foolish.
3 “Those who were foolish took their lamps and took no oil
with them,
4 “but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.
5 “But while the bridegroom was delayed, they all slumbered and slept.
6 “And at midnight a cry was heard: ‘Behold, the bridegroom is coming;[a] go out to meet him!’
7 “Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps.
8 “And the foolish said to the wise, ‘Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.’ 9 “But the wise answered, saying, ‘No, lest there should not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.’
10 “And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding; and the door was shut.
11 “Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, ‘Lord, Lord, open to us!’
12 “But he answered and said, ‘Assuredly, I say to you, I do not know you.’
13 “Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour[b] in which the Son of Man is coming.

The Parable of the Talents

14 “For the kingdom of heaven is like a man traveling to a far country, who called his own servants and delivered his goods to them. Quality, Not Quantity 15 “And to one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one, to each according to his own ability; and immediately he went on a journey.
16 “Then he who had received the five talents went and traded with them, and made another five talents.
17 “And likewise he who had received two gained two more also.
18 “But he who had received one went and dug in the ground, and hid his lord’s money.
19 “After a long time the lord of those servants came and settled accounts with them.
20 “So he who had received five talents came and brought five other talents, saying, ‘Lord, you delivered to me five talents; look, I have gained five more talents besides them.’ 21 “His lord said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant; you were faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord.’
22 “He also who had received two talents came and said, ‘Lord, you delivered to me two talents; look, I have gained two more talents besides them.’
23 “His lord said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant; you have been faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things. Enter into the joy of your
lord.’
24 “Then he who had received the one talent came and said, ‘Lord, I knew you to be a hard man, reaping where you have not sown, and gathering where you have not scattered seed.
25 ‘And I was afraid, and went and hid your talent in the ground. Look, there you have what is yours.’

26 “But his lord answered and said to him, ‘You wicked and lazy servant, you knew that I reap where I have not sown, and gather where I have not scattered seed.
27 ‘So you ought to have deposited my money with the bankers, and at my coming I would have received back my own with interest.
28 ‘So take the talent from him, and give it to him who has ten talents.
29 ‘For to everyone who has, more will be given, and he will have abundance; but from him who does not have, even what he has will be taken away.
30 ‘And cast the unprofitable servant into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.’

The Son of Man Will Judge the Nations

31 “When the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the holy[c] angels with Him, then He will sit on the throne of His glory.
32 “All the nations will be gathered before Him, and He will separate them one from another, as a shepherd divides his sheep from the goats.
33 “And He will set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on the left.
34 “Then the King will say to those on His right hand, ‘Come, you blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:
35 ‘for I was hungry and you gave Me food; I was thirsty and you gave Me drink; I was a stranger and you took Me in;
36 ‘I was naked and you clothed Me; I was sick and you visited Me; I was in prison and you came to Me.’
37 “Then the righteous will answer Him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see You hungry and feed You, or thirsty and give You drink?

38 ‘When did we see You a stranger and take You in, or naked and clothe You?
39 ‘Or when did we see You sick, or in prison, and come to
You?’
40 “And the King will answer and say to them, ‘Assuredly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did it to one of the least of these My brethren, you did it to Me.’
41 “Then He will also say to those on the left hand, ‘Depart from Me, you cursed, into the everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels:
42 ‘for I was hungry and you gave Me no food; I was thirsty and you gave Me no drink; 43 ‘I was a stranger and you did not take Me in, naked and you did not clothe Me, sick and in prison and you did not visit Me.’
44 “Then they also will answer Him,[d] saying, ‘Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to You?’ 45 “Then He will answer them, saying, ‘Assuredly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to Me.’
46 “And these will go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.”

Matthew 26

The Plot to Kill Jesus

1 Now it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, that He said to His disciples, 2 "You know that after two days is the Passover, and the Son of Man will be delivered up to be crucified." 3 Then the chief priests, the scribes,[a] and the elders of the people assembled at the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas, The Religious Power Broker
4 and plotted to take Jesus by trickery and kill Him.
5 But they said, "Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar among the people."

The Anointing at Bethany

6 And when Jesus was in Bethany at the house of Simon the leper, Waste or Worship?
7 a woman came to Him having an alabaster flask of very costly fragrant oil, and she poured it on His head as He sat at the table.
8 But when His disciples saw it, they were indignant, saying, "Why this waste?
9 "For this fragrant oil might have been sold for much and given to the poor."
10 But when Jesus was aware of it, He said to them, "Why do you trouble the woman? For she has done a good work for Me.
11 "For you have the poor with you always, but Me you do not have always.
12 "For in pouring this fragrant oil on My body, she did it for My burial.

13 “Assuredly, I say to you, wherever this gospel is preached in the whole world, what this woman has done will also be told as a memorial to her.”

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

14 Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests Judas’s Betrayal
15 and said, “What are you willing to give me if I deliver Him to you?” And they counted out to him thirty pieces of silver.
16 So from that time he sought opportunity to betray Him.

Jesus Celebrates Passover with His Disciples

17 Now on the first day of the Feast of the Unleavened Bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying to Him, “Where do You want us to prepare for You to eat the Passover?” 18 And He said, “Go into the city to a certain man, and say to him, ‘The Teacher says, “My time is at hand; I will keep the Passover at your house with My disciples.” ’ ” 19 So the disciples did as Jesus had directed them; and they prepared the Passover.
20 When evening had come, He sat down with the twelve.
21 Now as they were eating, He said, “Assuredly, I say to you, one of you will betray Me.” 22 And they were exceedingly sorrowful, and each of them began to say to Him, “Lord, is it I?” 23 He answered and said, “He who dipped his hand with Me in the dish will betray Me.
24 “The Son of Man indeed goes just as it is written of Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been good for that man if he had not been born.”

25 Then Judas, who was betraying Him, answered and said, “Rabbi, is it I?” He said to him, “You have said it.”

Jesus Institutes the Lord’s Supper

26 And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed[b] and broke it, and gave it to the disciples and said, “Take, eat; this is My body.”

27 Then He took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, “Drink from it, all of you.

28 “For this is My blood of the new[c] covenant, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.

29 “But I say to you, I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on until that day when I drink it new with you in My Father’s kingdom.”

30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

Jesus Predicts Peter’s Denial

31 Then Jesus said to them, “All of you will be made to stumble because of Me this night, for it is written:

> ‘I will strike the Shepherd,
> And the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’[d]

32 “But after I have been raised, I will go before you to Galilee.”

33 Peter answered and said to Him, “Even if all are made to stumble because of You, I will never be made to stumble.”

34 Jesus said to him, “Assuredly, I say to you that this night, before the rooster crows, you will deny Me three times.”

35 Peter said to Him, “Even if I have to die with You, I will not deny You!” And so said all the disciples. Unlikely Leaders

The Prayer in the Garden

36 Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and said to the disciples, “Sit here while I go and pray over there.”
37 And He took with Him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and He began to be sorrowful and deeply distressed.
38 Then He said to them, “My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here and watch with Me.” 39 He went a little farther and fell on His face, and prayed, saying, “O My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as You will.”
40 Then He came to the disciples and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “What? Could you not watch with Me one hour?
41 “Watch and pray, lest you enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”
42 Again, a second time, He went away and prayed, saying, “O My Father, if this cup cannot pass away from Me unless[e] I drink it, Your will be done.” 43 And He came and found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy.
44 So He left them, went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.
45 Then He came to His disciples and said to them, “Are you still sleeping and resting? Behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is being betrayed into the hands of sinners.
46 “Rise, let us be going. See, My betrayer is at hand.”

Betrayal and Arrest in Gethsemane

47And while He was still speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, with a great multitude with swords and clubs, came from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48Now His betrayer had given them a sign, saying, “Whomever I kiss, He is the One; seize Him.”

49Immediately he went up to Jesus and said, “Greetings, Rabbi!” and kissed Him.

50But Jesus said to him, “Friend, why have you come?” Then they came and laid hands on Jesus and took Him.

51And suddenly, one of those who were with Jesus stretched out his hand and drew his sword, struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

52But Jesus said to him, “Put your sword in its place, for all who take the sword will perish[f] by the sword.

53“Or do you think that I cannot now pray to My Father, and He will provide Me with more than twelve legions of angels?

54“How then could the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it must happen thus?”

55In that hour Jesus said to the multitudes, “Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs to take Me? I sat daily with you, teaching in the temple, and you did not seize Me.

56“But all this was done that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled.” Then all the disciples forsook Him and fled.

Jesus Faces the Sanhedrin

57And those who had laid hold of Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58But Peter followed Him at a distance to the high priest’s courtyard. And he went in and sat with the servants to see the end.

59 Now the chief priests, the elders,[g] and all the council sought false testimony against Jesus to put Him to death, 60 but found none. Even though many false witnesses came forward, they found none.[h] But at last two false witnesses[i] came forward 61 and said, “This fellow said, ‘I am able to destroy the temple of God and to build it in three days.’ ” 62 And the high priest arose and said to Him, “Do You answer nothing? What is it these men testify against You?” 63 But Jesus kept silent. And the high priest answered and said to Him, “I put You under oath by the living God: Tell us if You are the Christ, the Son of God!” 64 Jesus said to him, “It is as you said. Nevertheless, I say to you, hereafter you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Power, and coming on the clouds of heaven.”
65 Then the high priest tore his clothes, saying, “He has spoken blasphemy! What further need do we have of witnesses? Look, now you have heard His blasphemy!
66 “What do you think?” They answered and said, “He is deserving of death.”
67 Then they spat in His face and beat Him; and others struck Him with the palms of their hands, 68 saying, “Prophesy to us, Christ! Who is the one who struck You?”

Peter Denies Jesus, and Weeps Bitterly

69 Now Peter sat outside in the courtyard. And a servant girl came to him, saying, “You also were with Jesus of Galilee.”
70 But he denied it before them all, saying, “I do not know what you are saying.”
71 And when he had gone out to the gateway, another girl saw him and said to those who were there, “This fellow also was with Jesus of Nazareth.”

72But again he denied with an oath, “I do not know the Man!”

73And a little later those who stood by came up and said to Peter, “Surely you also are one of them, for your speech betrays you.”

74Then he began to curse and swear, saying, “I do not know the Man!” Immediately a rooster crowed.

75And Peter remembered the word of Jesus who had said to him, “Before the rooster crows, you will deny Me three times.” So he went out and wept bitterly.

Matthew 27

Jesus Handed Over to Pontius Pilate

1When morning came, all the chief priests and elders of the people plotted against Jesus to put Him to death.
2And when they had bound Him, they led Him away and delivered Him to Pontius[a] Pilate the governor.

Judas Hangs Himself

3Then Judas, His betrayer, seeing that He had been condemned, was remorseful and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, 4saying, “I have sinned by betraying innocent blood.” And they said, “What is that to us? You see to it!”
5Then he threw down the pieces of silver in the temple and departed, and went and hanged himself.
6But the chief priests took the silver pieces and said, “It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, because they are the price of blood.”
7And they consulted together and bought with them the potter’s field, to bury strangers in.
8Therefore that field has been called the Field of Blood to this day.
9Then was fulfilled what was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, “And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the value of Him who was priced, whom they of the children of Israel priced, 10 “and gave them for the potter’s field, as the LORD directed me.”[b]

Jesus Faces Pilate

11Now Jesus stood before the governor. And the governor asked Him, saying, “Are You the King of the Jews?” Jesus said to him, “It is as you say.”

12And while He was being accused by the chief priests and elders, He answered nothing.

13Then Pilate said to Him, “Do You not hear how many things they testify against You?”

14But He answered him not one word, so that the governor marveled greatly.

Taking the Place of Barabbas

15Now at the feast the governor was accustomed to releasing to the multitude one prisoner whom they wished.

16And at that time they had a notorious prisoner called Barabbas.[c]

17Therefore, when they had gathered together, Pilate said to them, “Whom do you want me to release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?”

18For he knew that they had handed Him over because of envy.

19While he was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, “Have nothing to do with that just Man, for I have suffered many things today in a dream because of Him.”

20But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for Barabbas and destroy Jesus.

21The governor answered and said to them, “Which of the two do you want me to release to you?” They said, “Barabbas!”

22Pilate said to them, “What then shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?” They all said to him, “Let Him be crucified!”

23 Then the governor said, “Why, what evil has He done?”
But they cried out all the more, saying, “Let Him be crucified!”
24 When Pilate saw that he could not prevail at all, but rather that a tumult was rising, he took water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, “I am innocent of the blood of this just Person.[d] You see to it.” 25 And all the people answered and said, “His blood be on us and on our children.”
26 Then he released Barabbas to them; and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered Him to be crucified.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the Praetorium and gathered the whole garrison around Him.
28 And they stripped Him and put a scarlet robe on Him.
29 When they had twisted a crown of thorns, they put it on His head, and a reed in His right hand. And they bowed the knee before Him and mocked Him, saying, “Hail, King of the Jews!”
30 Then they spat on Him, and took the reed and struck Him on the head.
31 And when they had mocked Him, they took the robe off Him, put His own clothes on Him, and led Him away to be crucified.

The King on a Cross

32 Now as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name. Him they compelled to bear His cross.

Ordinary People at the Cross

33 And when they had come to a place called Golgotha, that is to say, Place of a Skull,

34they gave Him sour[e] wine mingled with gall to drink. But when He had tasted it, He would not drink.

35Then they crucified Him, and divided His garments, casting lots,[f] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet:

> "They divided My garments among them,
> And for My clothing they cast lots."[g]

36Sitting down, they kept watch over Him there.

37And they put up over His head the accusation written against Him:

THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38Then two robbers were crucified with Him, one on the right and another on the left.

39And those who passed by blasphemed Him, wagging their heads

40and saying, "You who destroy the temple and build it in three days, save Yourself! If You are the Son of God, come down from the cross."

41Likewise the chief priests also, mocking with the scribes and elders,[h] said,

42"He saved others; Himself He cannot save. If He is the King of Israel,[i] let Him now come down from the cross, and we will believe Him.[j]

43"He trusted in God; let Him deliver Him now if He will have Him; for He said, 'I am the Son of God.' "

44Even the robbers who were crucified with Him reviled Him with the same thing.

Jesus Dies on the Cross

45Now from the sixth hour until the ninth hour there was darkness over all the land.

46And about the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?" that is, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?"[k]

47Some of those who stood there, when they heard that, said, "This Man is calling for Elijah!"

48Immediately one of them ran and took a sponge, filled it with sour wine and put it on a reed, and offered it to Him to drink.

49The rest said, "Let Him alone; let us see if Elijah will come to save Him."

50And Jesus cried out again with a loud voice, and yielded up His spirit.

51Then, behold, the veil of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom; and the earth quaked, and the rocks were split,

52and the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised;

53and coming out of the graves after His resurrection, they went into the holy city and appeared to many.

54So when the centurion and those with him, who were guarding Jesus, saw the earthquake and the things that had happened, they feared greatly, saying, "Truly this was the Son of God!"

55And many women who followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering to Him, were there looking on from afar, 56among whom were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James and Joses,[l] and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

Jesus Buried in Joseph's Tomb

57Now when evening had come, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who himself had also become a disciple of Jesus. Wealthy People in the New Testament

58This man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be given to him.
59When Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60and laid it in his new tomb which he had hewn out of the rock; and he rolled a large stone against the door of the tomb, and departed.
61And Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting opposite the tomb.

Pilate Sets a Guard

62On the next day, which followed the Day of Preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees gathered together to Pilate, 63saying, “Sir, we remember, while He was still alive, how that deceiver said, ‘After three days I will rise.’ 64“Therefore command that the tomb be made secure until the third day, lest His disciples come by night[m] and steal Him away, and say to the people, ‘He has risen from the dead.’ So the last deception will be worse than the first.”
65Pilate said to them, “You have a guard; go your way, make it as secure as you know how.”
66So they went and made the tomb secure, sealing the stone and setting the guard.

Matthew 28

He Is Risen

1Now after the Sabbath, as the first day of the week began to dawn, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the tomb.
2And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door,[a] and sat on it.
3His countenance was like lightning, and his clothing as white as snow.
4And the guards shook for fear of him, and became like dead men.
5But the angel answered and said to the women, "Do not be afraid, for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified.
6"He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay. Surprised by God 7"And go quickly and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead, and indeed He is going before you into Galilee; there you will see Him. Behold, I have told you." 8So they went out quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring His disciples word.

The Women Worship the Risen Lord

9And as they went to tell His disciples,[b] behold, Jesus met them, saying, "Rejoice!" So they came and held Him by the feet and worshiped Him.
10Then Jesus said to them, "Do not be afraid. Go and tell My brethren to go to Galilee, and there they will see Me."

The Soldiers Are Bribed

11 Now while they were going, behold, some of the guard came into the city and reported to the chief priests all the things that had happened.
12 When they had assembled with the elders and consulted together, they gave a large sum of money to the soldiers, 13 saying, "Tell them, 'His disciples came at night and stole Him away while we slept.' 14 "And if this comes to the governor's ears, we will appease him and make you secure." 15 So they took the money and did as they were instructed; and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

The Great Commission

16 Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, to the mountain which Jesus had appointed for them.
17 When they saw Him, they worshiped Him; but some doubted.
18 And Jesus came and spoke to them, saying, "All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth.
19 "Go therefore[c] and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, To Every Nation 20 "teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age." Amen.[d]

Matthew
Matt. 1:1

Name means: “Gift of the Lord.”

Also known as: Levi.

Home: Capernaum, the headquarters of Jesus’ ministry; later, Damascus.

Family: Son of Alphaeus.

Occupation: Tax collector; later, a writer and pastor in Damascus.

Special interests: Collecting Jesus’ sermons and stories. He preserved them in a book regarded by some as a new Torah because it shows Jesus fulfilling Old Testament prophecy and reshaping Mosaic law.

Best known as: The author of the Book of Matthew.

Think About It: What obstacles do you suppose Matthew faced by switching occupations from disreputable tax collector to more honorable work? How might he have managed these?

Jesus’ Family Tree
Matt. 1:1–16

Genealogies may seem irrelevant, but they serve multiple important purposes. Matthew opens his book with Jesus' family tree to demonstrate at least three crucial facts:

1. Jesus was God's Son yet a flesh-and-blood human being. This is a difficult concept but central reality (see "Jesus' Family Line" at Luke 3:23–38). We worship a God who actually knows what it's like to live as a human being (see Heb. 2:17–18; 4:14–16).
2. Jesus was Israel's long-awaited Messiah. Note how prominently David and Abraham appear.
3. Jesus is Savior of every tribe and every nation. His genealogy reaches beyond the Jews to include other ethnic groups (see "The Women in Jesus' Genealogy" at Matt. 1:3–6). Jesus came to "make disciples of all the nations" (28:19).

The Women in Jesus' Genealogy

Matt. 1:3–6

Matthew's genealogy highlights four women in Jesus' background in addition to His mother Mary. Each was touched by scandal, and all were remembered in part as sinners and foreigners. Their inclusion shows that Jesus is the Messiah for women as well as men, and for people disparaged by others for their bloodlines or past behavior. He is the Messiah for all people, regardless of gender, ethnicity, or past mistakes.

Tamar (Matt. 1:3; Gen. 38:1–30)

- Widowed by Er, Judah's firstborn son.
- Married Onan, Judah's second son, who refused to consummate their marriage. His death left her childless and with no means of support.

- Sent home to her own village by her father-in-law Judah, who shirked his responsibility to provide another husband.
- Prostituted herself to trick Judah into fathering an heir to provide for her. The child continued the family line that led to Jesus. Judah acknowledged that Tamar was "more righteous than I" (Gen. 38:26).

Rahab (Matt. 1:5; Josh. 2:1–24; 6:22–25)

- A Canaanite prostitute in Jericho.
- Sheltered two Hebrew spies in exchange for protection from Israelites surrounding the city.
- Married a Hebrew and gave birth to Boaz, David's great-grandfather.
- Praised for her trust (Heb. 11:31) and for putting faith into action (James 2:25).

Ruth (Matt. 1:5; the Book of Ruth)

- A woman from Moab, a nation born through Lot's incest with his daughters (Gen. 19:30–38); Moab was a bitter enemy of Israel.
- Left alone and childless when her Hebrew husband died.
- Migrated to Israel with her mother-in-law Naomi.
- Married Boaz (Rahab's son) and gave birth to Obed, making her David's great-grandmother. Ruth and Boaz's marriage joined hostile nations—Israel and Moab—to accomplish God's will.

Uriah's Wife (Matt. 1:6; 2 Sam. 11:1–12:25)

- Unnamed by Matthew but named in the Old Testament: Bathsheba, wife of Uriah the Hittite.
- Attracted King David's interest while she was taking a bath on her roof.
- Summoned by King David, who committed adultery with her.
- Endured David's murder of her husband and the death of the child she conceived by David as a result of their adultery.
- Married David and gave birth to a second child, David's successor Solomon. If Bathsheba was a Hittite like Uriah, then Solomon was half-Jew, half-Gentile. However, she was more likely a Hebrew who had married a Hittite sojourner.

A Month-Long Journey with Jesus
Matt. 1:18–2:23

The most important thing Apply the Word Study Bible can do is help people know Jesus Christ. Nothing matters more than our relationship with Him. These 31 readings, listed in the order of their occurrence in the New Testament, are a good way to begin getting acquainted with our Savior.

Day 1
Matt. 1:18–2:23
Jesus is born, then becomes a refugee as an evil king seeks to kill Him. Finally, His family returns home.

Day 2
Matt. 4:1–11
Jesus confronts very real temptations.

Day 3
Matt. 13:54–58
Jesus faces rejection based on His family, their work, and the small size of His hometown.

Day 4
Matt. 23:1–39
Jesus speaks out against deceit, pride, and hypocrisy.

Day 5
Matt. 25:31–46
Jesus judges mankind according to mercy and compassion rather than outward displays of spirituality.

Day 6
Mark 4:1–41

Jesus begins to explain the kingdom of God, using stories and images from the workplace.

Day 7
Luke 2:1–52
Luke describes events connected with Jesus' birth and tells of an incident during a boyhood trip to Jerusalem.

Day 8
Luke 4:14–37
Jesus goes public with His purpose and immediately encounters opposition.

Day 9
Luke 6:17–49
Jesus teaches basic truths about attitudes, charity, evaluating others, and making wise decisions.

Day 10
Luke 9:18–36
Jesus talks with His followers about who He is.

Day 11
Luke 22:1–24:53
Jesus is betrayed, judged, executed, buried, resurrected, and reconnected with His followers.

Day 12
John 1:1–18
John, one of Jesus' followers, describes how God became a man through Christ, who is full of grace and truth.

Day 13
John 5:19–47
Jesus explains His relationship with His Father and its implications for us.

Day 14
John 6:35–51
Jesus teaches that He is the Bread of Life and shares how people can find Him.

Day 15
John 8:12–30
Jesus announces that He is the Light of the World.

Day 16
John 10:1–18
Jesus asserts that He is the Good Shepherd who seeks His Father's lost sheep.

Day 17
John 11:1–12:8
Jesus describes His relationship with some of His friends and their profound love and care for each other.

Day 18
John 14:1–15:8
Jesus explains that He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

Day 19
John 21:15–25
Jesus loves Peter, even though he had denied Him and was jealous of another disciple.

Day 20
Acts 2:22–42
Peter explains Jesus to a massive crowd in Jerusalem and welcomes 3,000 people into the faith.

Day 21
Rom. 5:1–21
Paul explains how Jesus sets people free from sin and makes them acceptable to God.

Day 22
1 Cor. 15:1–28
Paul teaches about Jesus' resurrection and the destruction of our enemy, death.

Day 23
Eph. 1:3–14
Paul describes Jesus' work for us from three vantage points: before creation, in the present, and in eternity.

Day 24
Phil. 2:5–16
Paul explains the choices Jesus made in order to become a man, as well as the choices we should make in following Him.

Day 25
Col. 1:15–22

Paul states that Jesus is Lord of all—yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

Day 26
1 Thess. 4:13–5:11
Paul testifies that Jesus will return and bring history to its culmination.

Day 27
Heb. 1:1–2:18
The author of Hebrews describes Jesus' complete and wonderful work on our behalf.

Day 28
Heb. 4:14–5:10
The author of Hebrews asserts that Jesus has experienced every kind of test or trial we will ever face.

Day 29
Heb. 9:23–10:18
Jesus takes away sin, once and for all. Forgiveness is ours in Him.

Day 30
1 Pet. 1:1–12
Peter explains that our salvation in Jesus is a reality that even the angels and Old Testament prophets did not understand.

Day 31
Rev. 5:1–14; 22:1–21
Jesus will rule heaven and earth and will welcome believers to eternal life with Him in heaven.

God-With-Us
Matt. 1:23

Jesus is Immanuel, "God-With-Us" (Is. 7:14). Rather than demand that we attempt the impossible task of reaching Him, God came to us as a human being and took up residence in our world (John 1:14). He showed us how to live. He brought a salvation that invites us not to escape the world but to engage our surroundings. Because God is with us, we can undertake the tasks He has for us right where we live and work. Since He is with us, we have the power to face the world (see "You Shall Receive Power" at Acts 1:8). And rather than taking us out of the turmoil of life in this world, Jesus walks with us through it.

The Gifts of the Magi

Matt. 2:11

Scripture does not say what happened to the gifts that the wise men presented to Jesus. Their "gold, frankincense, and myrrh" were an expression of the Magi's worship of the newborn King. Some have supposed that the costly gifts may have enabled Jesus' family's flight to Egypt (Matt. 2:13–15).

The angel's warning to Joseph was sudden and unexpected. There was no time to save money for the journey, if saving was even an option. Jesus' family was indisputably poor (see "A Lowly Sacrifice for the Highest" at Luke 2:22–24), and the gifts they received from the wise men probably represented more wealth than Joseph and Mary would see in a lifetime. God promises to care for His children's needs (Matt. 6:19–34), and in this case, the offerings of strangers may have paid for a new life in a foreign land.

Jesus the Refugee

Matt. 2:13–15

The nativity story in Matthew shows Jesus as a refugee fleeing certain death in His homeland. The family found political sanctuary in Egypt, avoiding the infanticide ordered by King Herod, the ruthless ruler of Palestine.

The text does not divulge where exactly the family stayed. They may have found refuge among the one million Jews estimated to have lived in Alexandria at the time. We do know that Jesus, perhaps close to two years old at the start of the journey (Matt. 2:16), spent at least some of His formative years in Africa. When the family migrated back to Palestine (2:22, 23), they settled not in a privileged neighborhood but in Nazareth, a small town in rural Galilee.

Jesus identifies with the displaced peoples of the world. He is a worldwide Savior who understands the trauma of being forced to emigrate due to natural disasters, famine, or political unrest.

Grieving the Loss of a Child

Matt. 2:16–18

In Matthew 2:18, Matthew quotes the prophet Jeremiah's description of Rachel as wailing over the exiled tribes (Jer. 31:15). Rachel had lots of experience with tears. Her father tricked her fiancé into marrying her sister. After she did finally get married, she remained childless for years (Gen. 29:1–30:24). And just as Rachel could not be comforted, the weeping in Bethlehem could not have been quickly silenced. The murdered babies of Bethlehem and the scattered exiles of Israel shared a common bond: in both cases, innocent people suffered as a result of the proud, ungodly acts of the powerful.

The tragic account in Matthew 2 shows a wickedly jealous king slaughtering a village's baby boys in order to protect his throne. The scene reminds us that adult sins still take the lives of countless children. Like Rachel, mothers all over the world weep for their children—many in developing nations and abusive homes.

Jesus offers comfort to all who grieve the loss of a child. The deaths of the infant boys of Bethlehem must have been a pain He carried throughout His life and onto the cross. Significantly, Jesus went out of His way to affirm and bless children, and warn adults of the perils of misleading them (Matt. 18:6, 7; 19:13–15). "Let the little children come to Me," Jesus said, "for of such is the kingdom of heaven" (19:14).

The Purpose of Strength

Matt. 3:11

If we think that strength is nothing more than the power to dominate, we will always be intimidated by those who seem to have more than us—more expertise, experience, energy, intelligence. But John the Baptist had a different understanding of strength. It was a gift from God to be used for His purposes. John's humility gave him remarkable energy (Matt. 3:5) to welcome and to serve others—in this case, the Son of God.

More: Like John, Paul challenged God's people to cultivate humility, an incredibly powerful choice. See "Humility: The Scandalous Virtue" at Phil. 2:3.

Real Temptation

Matt. 4:3

The account of Jesus' temptation in Matthew 4:1–11 demonstrates that Jesus understands exactly what we endure, because He faced the same enticements to sin that we encounter in our lives. And because He was able to resist, He can help us do the same (Heb. 2:18). He completely understands our feelings, and He can train us in practical steps toward doing right despite the appeal of doing wrong.

More: Temptation is not sin, but giving in is. See "Persistent Prayer" at Luke 11:5–13. Few Bible teachings have more practical implications than the truth that people are fallen and continually battle urges to do wrong. See "Escaping Temptation" at 1 Cor. 10:12, 13.

Money Temptations
Matt. 4:8–10

As we struggle to follow God in a materialistic culture, we are wise to recognize that a longing for money and all that it symbolizes—prestige, power, luxury, authority—can be a powerful tool in Satan's hands. The devil employed this tool in his attempt to draw Christ away from His mission. When we feel tempted by wealth, whether we have it or yearn for it, Christ's response in verse 10 equips us. He fought off wealth's temptation by recalling that only God is worthy of worship. Serving money will make us a slave. Period.

The King Declares His Kingdom
Matt. 4:17

Jesus began His public ministry with a simple but urgent call for repentance. It was a familiar message—identical, in fact, to sermons given by John the Baptist, Jesus' forerunner (Matt. 3:2). Both men urged their listeners to change their minds and hearts for the sake of what they called "the kingdom." But what did that mean?

Who Is the King?

Most importantly, the kingdom exists because Jesus is King. He is the Messiah, the Savior promised in the Old Testament (1:22, 23; 2:6; Is. 7:14; Mic. 5:2). He is not only King of Israel but Lord over every nation (see "Jesus' Family Tree" at Matt. 1:1–16 and "A Savior for the Whole World" at Matt. 8:10). At the start of His life, the wise men asked Herod where they could find the King of the Jews (2:2). As Jesus neared His death, the Roman governor Pontius Pilate asked Him, "Are you the King of the Jews?" When Jesus affirmed that He was (27:11, 12), Pilate seized upon His response as reason to crucify Him (27:37).

Where Is the Kingdom?

Foretold by Scripture and announced by John the Baptist, Jesus arrived to establish His rule. But His agenda disappointed many of His contemporaries. They looked back in awe on the brief decades of Israel's prosperous, peaceful monarchy under David and his son Solomon. They read Old Testament prophecies as predictions that the Messiah would reestablish that political kingdom, with some seeing the Messiah's arrival as an opportunity to overthrow Rome's iron rule and set up a free Jewish state. But Jesus told Pilate that His kingdom was not of this world and that no army fought on His behalf (John 18:36). He told the Pharisees that the kingdom was not outwardly observable but was "within" (Luke 17:21).

When Is the Kingdom?

No less puzzling is the question of when the kingdom has or will come. As John the Baptist and Jesus began their ministries, they declared that the kingdom was "at hand" (Matt. 3:2; 4:17). A few years later, when Jesus' followers asked whether He was ready to restore Israel's kingdom, He said that the timing of His reign was something that only His Father could know (Acts 1:6, 7). Sometimes the kingdom seemed to be a present reality (Matt. 12:28; 13:18–23; 21:43). At other times, it seemed to be a future hope (16:28; 20:20–23; 26:29).

Theologians still debate if and in what form the kingdom has already been established, whether it is coming presently or in the future, or if it is coming at all. There is no simple way to understand this essential doctrine. Jesus' followers have puzzled over His statements about the kingdom since the moment He made them. But many agree that Christ's kingdom began with His birth, continues to advance as His people live out the gospel message throughout the world, and will not be ultimately realized until He returns.

What Is the Kingdom?

Although we cannot define Christ's kingdom with precision, we can say that it has to do with Christ's reign—and with all the people, places, and things over which He rules. This is why Jesus initiated His ministry with a call to repentance; the repentance of our sins involves a decided change of mind or purpose. In terms of the kingdom, it involves:

1. A change of allegiance. If Christ is the King, He deserves our honor, loyalty, and obedience. We put ourselves under His authority and power. Whatever He says, we do. That is the essence of our request in the Lord's Prayer for His kingdom to come and His will to be done "on earth as it is in heaven" (6:10). The citizens of Christ's kingdom submit to the King's will.

2. A change of expectations. The kingdom can be difficult to perceive when the world seems to grow more distant from God by the day, which makes it tempting to live as if this present life is all that matters. But the Christian hope counts on the fact that there is far more to life than what we presently see. Jesus made extraordinary promises about a future kingdom for all who follow Him as King. The kingdom may not yet be fulfilled completely, but it has been established, is spreading, and will last forever (6:13).
3. A change of values. Modern culture prizes individual achievement, success, independence, and high social status. But kingdom ideals reflect what matters to the King. Jesus described many of His values in Matthew 5:3–10, a section of the Sermon on the Mount known as the Beatitudes (or as some call them, the "beautiful attitudes"). Kingdom people adopt the King's values and make choices in line with those values.
4. A change of priorities. Kingdom living changes how we spend time and money. Jesus made an inescapable connection between His kingdom and our attitude toward material things (6:24–34). Without disparaging the worth of human labor or the things we need to live in this world, He challenges us to incorporate kingdom values into our pursuit of success. To "seek first the kingdom" (6:33) reshapes our goals, processes, and results.
5. A change of mission. Whether we are naturally driven to accomplish great tasks or live from day to day without purpose or direction, Jesus alters our outlook. He gives us a purpose and a mission, commanding us to live as His subjects and promote kingdom values in every part of life. He also wants us to extend His message to the far reaches of earth, giving everyone everywhere the opportunity to bow to Him as their Savior and King (28:18–20).

The Sermon on the Mount

Matt. 5:1, 2

As Jesus began His public ministry in Galilee, He cried out, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Matt. 4:17). His message quickly spread, drawing huge crowds from Galilee, from nearby Syria and the Decapolis, and from as far away as Jerusalem, Judea, and places east of the Jordan River (4:24, 25).

People came to hear about an earthly kingdom. Jesus instead introduced them to a heavenly lifestyle—new attitudes and actions. With perhaps thousands gathered on a hillside or “mountain”—the exact location is unknown—Jesus spelled out the implications of repentance. He required far more than an outward show. He urged His listeners to make such a complete change of heart and action that they would “be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect” (5:48).

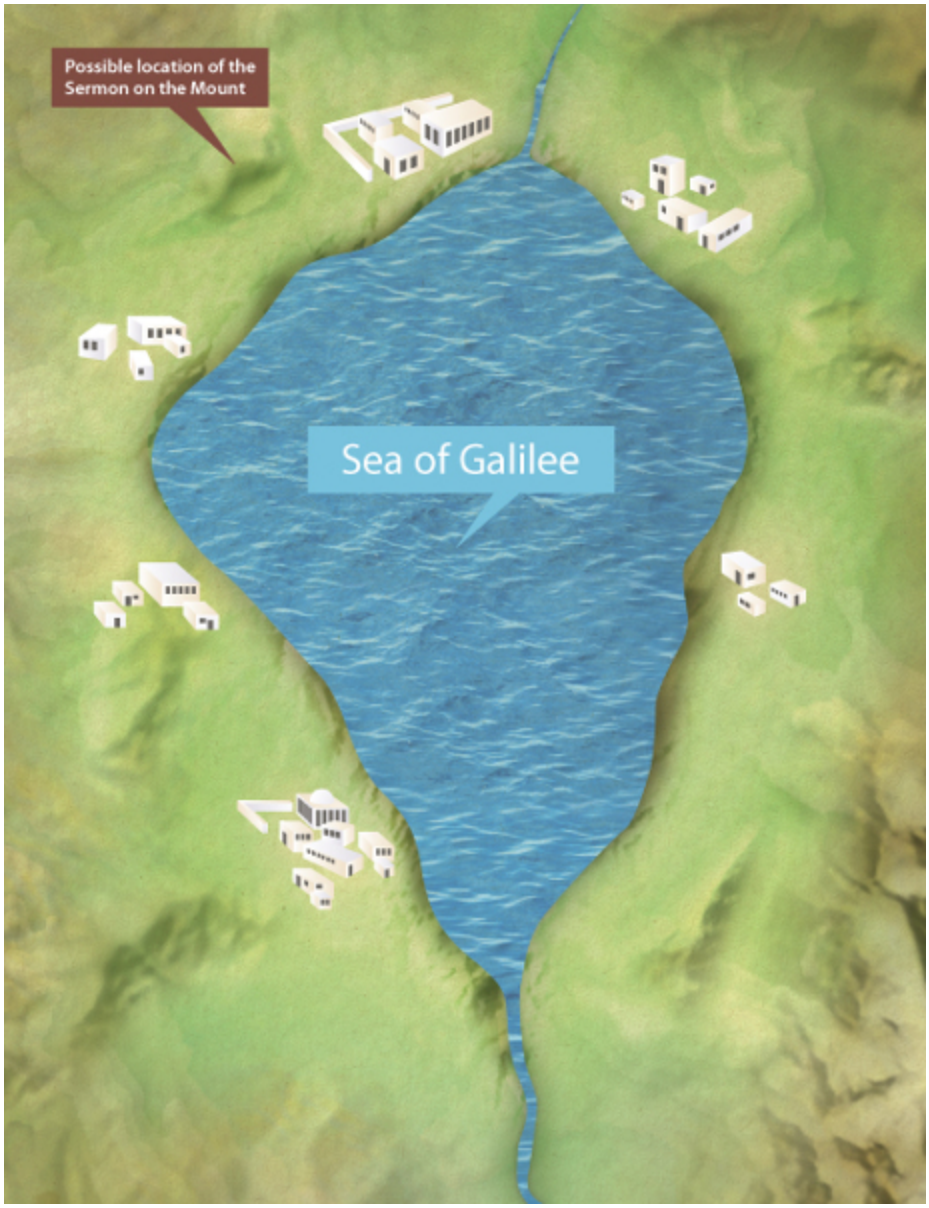
At first glance the Sermon on the Mount appears to be a lengthy speech detailing the kingdom lifestyle, holding it up like a multifaceted jewel to examine from many angles. But Jesus may have delivered the contents of Matthew 5–7 on multiple occasions. Parts of the sermon can be found throughout the Gospels, and like many good teachers, Jesus probably drove home His message by repeating it at other times and places.

The Sermon on the Mount contains the core of Jesus’ moral and ethical teaching:

- Blessings (5:3–12). The Beatitudes show true happiness comes through doing life from God’s perspective.
- Influence (5:13–16). Jesus wants His followers to be salt and light, to influence the world’s moral and spiritual climate.
- Morality (5:17–48). Jesus’ listeners intellectually recognized the Law and the traditions added by generations of rabbis, but Jesus revealed a morality based in the spirit of the Law.
- Spiritual disciplines (6:1–18). Real faith is more than an outward show of religion. It reshapes our inner character.
- Treasures (6:19–34). Jesus does not denounce earthly possessions, but He explained the nature of true treasures.
- Right and wrong (7:1–6). Rather than be quick to point out the moral flaws of others, we should work to remedy our own.
- Asking and receiving (7:7–12). We can take all our requests to God, relying on Him to answer us as a loving Father. Moreover, God expects us to extend to others the same kind of love.

- Obedience (7:13–29). Jesus wraps up His message with a challenge to obey. Living a lifestyle worthy of the kingdom results in life and joy; disobedience to His way brings death and disaster.

When Jesus finished describing this kingdom lifestyle, the people were "astonished" at His teaching (7:28; literally "overwhelmed" or "stunned"). His voice had the ring of authority (7:29). How does His ring of authority change what you do and what you say?



The Sea of the Sermon

The location where Jesus preached the Sermon on the Mount remains unknown, but the hills near Capernaum are a traditionally accepted site. As Jesus taught He probably looked past His listeners down toward the Sea of Galilee, a setting closely connected with His ministry. Much of His teaching and more than half of His recorded miracles occurred on or around this body of water.

Situated some sixty miles north of Jerusalem, the Sea of Galilee is actually a freshwater lake fed by the Jordan River. Its surface is about seven hundred feet below sea level.

The Sea of Galilee supported a thriving fishing industry. Peter, Andrew, and James and John the sons of Zebedee were among Jesus' followers who made their living as fishermen. To learn more, see "The World of the Fishermen" at Luke 5:1–11.

The Way Up Is Down

Matt. 5:3

Of all the virtues Christ commended in the Beatitudes, it is significant that the first is humility, being "poor in spirit," a quality that underlies all the others:

- You cannot mourn (Matt. 5:4) without appreciating how insufficient you are to handle life by your own strength.
- You cannot be meek (5:5) unless you have experienced and admitted a need for gentleness.
- You cannot hunger and thirst for righteousness (5:6) if you consider yourself already good. Unlike a Pharisee who boasted of his righteousness, the humble tax collector of one of Jesus' parables prayed, "God, be merciful to me a sinner!" and went away justified (Luke 18:13).
- You cannot be merciful (Matt. 5:7) without recognizing your own need for mercy.
- You cannot be pure in heart (5:8) if your heart is filled with pride.
- You cannot be a peacemaker (5:9) if you believe that you are always right.

- You cannot stand up for Christ in the face of persecution (5:10–12) without putting Him before yourself.

More: Humility is a mindset completely foreign to our world. See "Humility: The Scandalous Virtue" at Phil. 2:3.

Salt and Light
Matt. 5:13–16

Following Jesus goes far beyond private spirituality. It also involves a believer's public life, particularly through work and participation in the community. Jesus used two everyday metaphors to describe how we should impact our world. He called His followers "salt" and "light."

In Jesus' day, salt was used not only to season food but also to preserve it from decay. This implies that Christians help protect society from moral and spiritual decay, especially through work that affects laws and public opinion. By standing up for Jesus' values, we help to prevent the spread of evil.

Jesus also called us "the light of the world." Light is used both to illuminate and communicate. Jesus wants us to shine not to bring attention to ourselves but to act as a beacon, pointing people toward Him. By living in a way that reflects Jesus' values, Christians fulfill this role, attracting people to the gospel through their actions, which become luminous with Christ's love.

More: It was William Tyndale, in his early English translation of the Bible, who gave us the expression "the salt of the earth" (Matt. 5:13). Spreading Christ's message requires more than broadcasting the facts. See "Faith Impacts the World" at Mark 16:15, 16.

You Have Heard That It Was Said

Matt. 5:17–48

Some say Jesus was nothing more than a good teacher who wanted people to love each other. But Jesus was and is the Son of God. Jesus did command us to love our neighbor (Matt. 22:39); He also taught how to do that, through a wide range of complex personal and moral issues.

In this section of the Sermon on the Mount, some of Jesus' statements sound extreme (for example, Matt. 5:22, 30, 37, 39–42), and several are easy to misinterpret.

Understanding this passage begins by realizing that Jesus' references to "the Law" and "the Prophets" (5:17) were references to the Old Testament's moral teaching. Those Scriptures were to govern the moral conduct and character of His Jewish listeners.

Unfortunately, the people had not heard the true words of the Law and the prophets. They had instead learned a heavily doctored version of the Old Testament's teachings. Their rabbis often stressed the letter of the Law rather than its spirit. At times they favored their own traditions over God's actual teaching (12:9–12; 15:1–9). Sometimes they twisted the Law to fit their own agendas (19:3–8). No wonder Jesus labeled these teachers as hypocrites and warned people not to follow their example (23:1–36).

This background helps to explain a phrase that Jesus repeats in His sermon: "You have heard that it was said . . . but I say to you" (5:21, 22, 27, 28, 33, 34, 38, 39, 43, 44). Jesus spoke with integrity and authority about murder (5:21–26), adultery (5:27–32), vows and oaths (5:33–37), vengeance (5:38–42), and love and hate (5:43–47). He began His remarks with an appeal to fulfill the Law (5:17–20) and concluded with a challenge to act as the Father would act (5:48).

We should not blunt the challenges these words present. We should, instead, be careful to interpret them as Jesus intended: as a correction of mistaken understandings of Old Testament law and as a true expression of His kingdom values.

More: Old Testament law was part of the covenant that set Israel apart as God's people. It governed their worship, their relationship to God, and their social interactions. See "Staying Focused" at Deut. 5:1 and "The Law" at Rom. 2:12.

An Eye for an Eye

Matt. 5:38–42

At times Jesus' demands can seem unrealistic: Should God's people not use force in self-defense? Should they not contest a lawsuit? Should they comply with all demands that help people? Should they give and loan without reserve?

In this section of the Sermon on the Mount, it is important to remember that the Lord was addressing issues of justice with allusions to Old Testament laws dealing with public vengeance. The Law limited damages in criminal cases to no more than the loss suffered, "an eye for an eye" (Ex. 21:24, 25). However, some of Jesus' hearers had appealed to the same texts to justify personal vengeance. Basically, they tried to take the law into their own hands.

Jesus challenged the morality of their approach. He recognized that some circumstances call for resistance and self-defense. The Law sanctioned self-protection when a person was left with no other choice (Ex. 22:2). He Himself protested when He was slapped (John 18:22, 23). But Jesus warned against needless force, particularly for the sake of revenge. Failing to defend ourselves might lead to injury or death. But vengeance inflicts harm after any immediate danger is past. A slap on the cheek is little more than an insult, leaving no reason for a violent response. Vengeance belongs to God alone (Deut. 32:35; compare Rom. 12:19–21), who often uses governing authorities to carry out His judgment (13:4).

In the case of lawsuits (Matt. 5:40), the Law allowed demanding a shirt (tunic) in pledge for a loan but prohibited taking a coat (cloak) overnight, because it was needed for warmth (Ex. 22:26, 27). But in Jesus' day it was common to press for people to inflict heavy damages in court, in effect "suing the pants off each other." Christ's point was that if lawsuits have to go to extremes, it ought to be extremes of charity. Paul made a similar argument in 1 Corinthians 6:1–8.

In the command to go a second mile (Matt. 5:41), the word compels means "to requisition or press into service." Ancient Persian law permitted postal carriers to compel private citizens to help carry their loads. The Romans sometimes inflicted similar demands on bystanders. For example, Roman soldiers compelled Simon of Cyrene to carry Jesus' cross (27:32). Jesus was likely referring to the need to obey those in public positions of authority (see "Governmental Authority" at Rom. 13:1–7) rather than a need to obey anyone who issues a command.

When it comes to the issue of lending, Jesus was likely making a point not merely about personal charity but also about collective, societal issues of debt, loans, and repayment. Old Testament law prohibited charging interest on loans to the poor (Ex. 22:25), required that a person's family be given the opportunity to buy back lands lost due to poverty and persons sold into slavery, and mandated sabbatical and Jubilee years to allow for a regular redistribution of wealth and freedom from servitude (see "The Sabbath Year" at Lev. 25:2–8 and "The Year of Jubilee" at Lev. 25:8–17). These laws were public methods of making room for mercy and justice on behalf of the society's disadvantaged members.

Jesus challenged His followers to respond to injustice in ways that actually stopped it. He urged grace in place of vengeance, integrity in place of self-interest. It is through acts of sacrifice that we are able to become more like Him.

Meeting God's Expectations

Matt. 5:43–48

Jesus does not expect us to meet His high moral standards unaided. When we belong to Him, we are made into new creatures. The Holy Spirit lives in us and changes us to become more like our Lord. See "New Creatures with New Character" at Galatians 5:22, 23.

Anonymous Givers

Matt. 6:1–4

Fundraisers know that people are often motivated to donate large sums of money because of the prestige they receive in return. But Jesus denounced that motivation for giving. He much preferred the poor widow who gave the small amount she could give to the wealthy people who gave the large amounts they would give (Mark 12:41–44). These wealthy men and women may have appeared pious, but Jesus knew that behind the scenes they often neglected "the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faith" (Matt. 23:23).

Here, Jesus suggests that a good way to ensure that we are giving from the right motives is to give anonymously. When the source of our gifts is known only to ourselves and God, Jesus promises that "your Father who sees in secret will Himself reward you openly" (6:4).

Stop Worry

Matt. 6:19–34

Of all the scriptures on the topics of money and work, Jesus' words from the Sermon on the Mount are often misused to imply Jesus is against money or that He considered everyday work a distraction from spiritual matters.

A careful reading of the text shows that Jesus condemned not work but worry (Matt. 6:25, 27, 28, 31, 34). He did not tell us to quit our daily labors (6:32). God provides for us in many ways—including through our everyday jobs.

God makes us responsible for looking after our physical and material needs. But Jesus urged us not to let worry about these things overtake our minds and corrupt our values. Instead of worrying over what might happen, we should work toward everything falling into place. This happens as we "seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness" (6:33).

More: God gives work as a gift. See "People at Work" at Ps. 8:6. Despite what many people think, work is not a curse. See "Work Itself Is a Gift from God" at Gen. 3:17–19. Bringing Christ into our everyday work has a far-reaching impact on how we do our jobs. See "Your Workstyle" at Titus 2:9–11.

Judge Not
Matt. 7:1–5

People tend to read their own meaning into Jesus' command to "judge not." They may assume it means tolerating anything and everything. Or never calling out untruth. Or considering one belief or behavior as valid as the next.

Those each misapply the Lord's teaching. Jesus was not commanding acceptance of all behavior. He was commanding grace toward others. We should not blame, condemn, or put down others while excusing or exalting ourselves. We need to quit picking at the failings of others and start attending to our own failings.

The very next verses command evaluating others. But we are to approach others as Jesus did—with empathy (Matt. 7:12).

Jesus' Authority
Matt. 7:29

Scribes were members of an educated class in Israel who studied Scripture and tradition and who served as copyists, editors, and teachers. But while they held positions of authority, Jesus was the ultimate Person of authority. His expertise, credibility, and power were features of who He was, not what He learned. The scribes had the privilege of learning about Jesus and any authority they had was based in Jesus.

Effective Leaders

Matt. 8:5–13

Like Jesus, the centurion was "a man under authority." The encounter between the two offers essential lessons on authority and leadership:

- Effective leaders admit when they need help. The centurion faced a problem beyond his own power. He recruited Jesus to intervene.
- Effective leaders respond with heart. The centurion felt compassion for his suffering servant and perceived that Jesus possessed power beyond any physician's skill.
- Effective leaders show humility. A Roman officer could have ordered Jesus to act or offered Him money. He instead came in faith, humbly asking for help.
- Effective leaders recognize the nature of authority. The centurion understood submission. When he issued a command, his soldiers obeyed. He saw that Jesus had the same authority over illness.
- Effective leaders notice when someone is worthy of trust. The centurion's faith was impressive because it was invested in the right person. Leadership based on blind faith is foolhardy, but discernment is a mark of a true leader.

A Savior for the Whole World

Matt. 8:10

Matthew's Gospel offers insights into Jesus' Jewish roots and His fulfillment of Old Testament prophecies of a Messiah for Israel. But it also presents Jesus as a worldwide Savior. Note Jesus' interracial connections:

Jesus' Roots

Jesus' genealogy includes at least two and possibly three Gentiles:

- David's great-great-grandmother Rahab was a Canaanite (Matt. 1:5; Josh 2:1–24; 6:22–25).
- David's great-grandmother Ruth was a Moabite (Matt. 1:5; the Book of Ruth).
- David's lover (and later wife) Bathsheba, widow of Uriah (Matt. 1:6; 2 Sam. 11:1–12:25), may have been a Hittite like Uriah, although she was more likely a Hebrew married to a Hittite sojourner.

Wise Men from the East

The first worshipers of Jesus to appear in the Book of Matthew were not Jews but Gentiles from the East (Matt. 2:1–12). The wise men may have been astrologers from Persia (modern-day Iran). Whatever the case, it was a group of foreigners who first came looking for the Messiah.

The Flight to Egypt

Egypt provided a refuge for the baby Jesus from an outraged Herod the Great (Matt. 2:13, 14). Centuries before, this Gentile nation saved Jacob's family from starvation and became the land where a family grew into a nation (Gen. 41:46–46:7).

Jesus' Childhood in Galilee

Jesus grew up in Nazareth, a small town of Galilee in the northern part of Palestine (Matt. 2:22, 23). The region's multicultural population earned it the name “Galilee of the Gentiles” (4:15). Jesus began His ministry in Galilee, and many of His early followers were non-Jews from Syria and the Decapolis, a Gentile region of Palestine (4:23–25).

Living on the Fringes

Matthew shows Jesus breaking His culture’s hardened habits of discrimination by building bonds with Samaritans, Gentiles, and others who lived on the fringes of Jewish society:

Person or Group	Jesus’ Response
A leper, physically diseased and religiously unclean (Matt. 8:2–4)	Touched him when others would not; healed him
A Roman centurion (Matt. 8:5–10)	Healed his servant and praised his faith
Two demon-possessed men from a Gentile region (Matt. 8:28–34)	Delivered them when the town rejected them
Matthew the tax collector and his disreputable friends (Matt. 9:9–13)	Called Matthew as a disciple and dined with his friends
A hemorrhaging woman (Matt. 9:20–22)	Healed her and praised her faith
The Gentile cities of Tyre, Sidon, and Sodom (Matt. 11:20–24)	Said they will be better off than Jewish cities in the judgment because of Jewish unbelief
Nineveh and the queen of the South (Matt. 12:39–42)	Praised their repentance and said they would judge the Jews of His day
The people of Gennesaret, a Gentile region (Matt. 14:34–36)	Healed their sick
A Canaanite woman from the region of Tyre and Sidon (Matt. 15:21–28)	Healed her daughter and praised her faith

Angels and Demons

Matt. 8:29

The Gospels show Jesus' frequent encounters with demons, such as those that possessed the Gergesene men, affirming the reality of potent spiritual forces that exist beyond the visible universe.

Scripture teaches that angels are members of an order of heavenly messengers (Heb. 2:7; 2 Pet. 2:11; see also "Angels" at Rev. 7:1). Unlike God, angels are not all-powerful or all-knowing (Ps. 103:20; 2 Thess. 1:7).

God often sends them to announce good news, such as the birth of Jesus (Luke 1:30, 31). Or they may carry warnings of danger, such as Sodom's looming destruction (Gen. 18:1–19:29).

Angels were involved during the events surrounding Jesus' birth, resurrection, and ascension. They . . .

- Urged Joseph to wed Mary (Matt. 1:20).
- Warned Joseph to flee to Egypt with Mary and infant Jesus (2:13).
- Instructed Joseph to bring his family back to Palestine (2:19).
- Foretold to Zacharias the birth of John the Baptist (Luke 1:11–38).
- Announced to shepherds the birth of Christ (2:8–15).
- Strengthened Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane (22:43).
- Rolled back the stone from Jesus' tomb (Matt. 28:2).
- Announced Jesus' resurrection to women at the empty tomb (Luke 24:4–7, 23; John 20:12).
- Promised Jesus' return after His ascension (Acts 1:9–11).

The frequency of angelic involvement in human events seems to have lessened since Pentecost, possibly because of the Holy Spirit's expanded role in the lives of Christians.

Demons are angels who rebelled against God and were cast out of heaven. They seek to undermine God's righteous purposes in the world (1 Pet. 3:19, 20; 2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6; see also "Demons" at Luke 11:14). Scripture gives them a variety of names: "unclean spirits" (Mark 6:7), "wicked or evil spirits" (Luke 7:21; Acts 19:12, 13),

"spirit of divination" (Acts 16:16), "deceiving spirits" (1 Tim. 4:1), and "spirit of error" (1 John 4:6).

The Power of Forgiveness

Matt. 9:4–8

The crowd that watched Jesus heal a paralytic responded enthusiastically to His dramatic display of power. But they overlooked His more significant ability to forgive sins, an aspect of His authority that deeply troubled the scribes.

Jesus urges us to forgive those who wrong or hurt us (Matt. 6:14, 15; 18:21–35), and in moments of pain and anger we discover the difficulty of authentically extending forgiveness. It can feel almost impossible to lay down our hurt and reach out to pardon an offender. But that powerful act releases our own hearts from bitterness and frees a wrongdoer from paralyzing guilt. It can even change the course of a person's life (James 5:19, 20).

We can forgive others only in Jesus' power.

Tax Collectors

Matt. 9:10

Tax collectors in ancient times were agents who collected government levies. Some translations incorrectly call them publicans, who were usually wealthy non-Jewish men who contracted with the occupying Romans to take responsibility for a district's taxes. They were often backed by military force. Tax collectors were hired by publicans to actually collect monies. They were Jews and usually not wealthy.

Tax collectors gathered several different taxes. Depending on the type of rule in a given Jewish province, Rome levied a land tax, a poll tax, even a tax for the operation of the temple (Matt. 17:24–27). Taxes from provinces such as Galilee, which was not under an imperial governor, remained in the province rather than going to the imperial treasury at Rome. Perhaps it was these inequities that prompted the Pharisees in the imperial province of Judea to ask Jesus, "Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?" (22:17).

Tax collectors often demanded more than the government required and pocketed the excess—a practice that John the Baptist specifically condemned (Luke 3:12, 13). Tax collectors were also hated because fellow citizens saw them as mercenaries working for their Roman oppressors. They were altogether despised by their fellow Jews and were often lumped together with other "sinners" (Matt. 9:10, 11; Mark 2:15).

More: The Jews of Jesus' day were probably paying no less than 30 or 40 percent of their income on taxes and religious dues. See "Taxes" at Mark 12:14. Zacchaeus was called the chief tax collector of Jericho, meaning he may have been a publican. Nevertheless, he responded to Jesus' call. See "Startling Change" at Luke 19:1–10.

The Bleeding Woman

Matt. 9:20–22

The woman in Matthew 9:20–22 had been excluded from worship and was an outcast of society for a dozen years. Jews considered women ritually unclean during menstruation, and a woman who experienced bleeding other than during her menstrual cycle was considered unclean until the bleeding stopped. Anyone who touched a menstruating woman was unclean until evening (Lev. 15:19–27).

By approaching Jesus, the woman broke a rule that held her accountable as an unclean person to stay away from others. In her desperation, she reached out and touched Jesus. The Lord perceived that power had gone out from Him and sought her out. As she explained her disease the crowd probably backed away, not wanting to contaminate themselves. But Jesus did not withdraw. He addressed her with the affectionate term “daughter” and sent her away in peace, healed at last.

When we meet outcasts in the world today, do we back away, or do we embrace them as fellow members of Christ’s family? How can we respond to their needs with Christlike love?

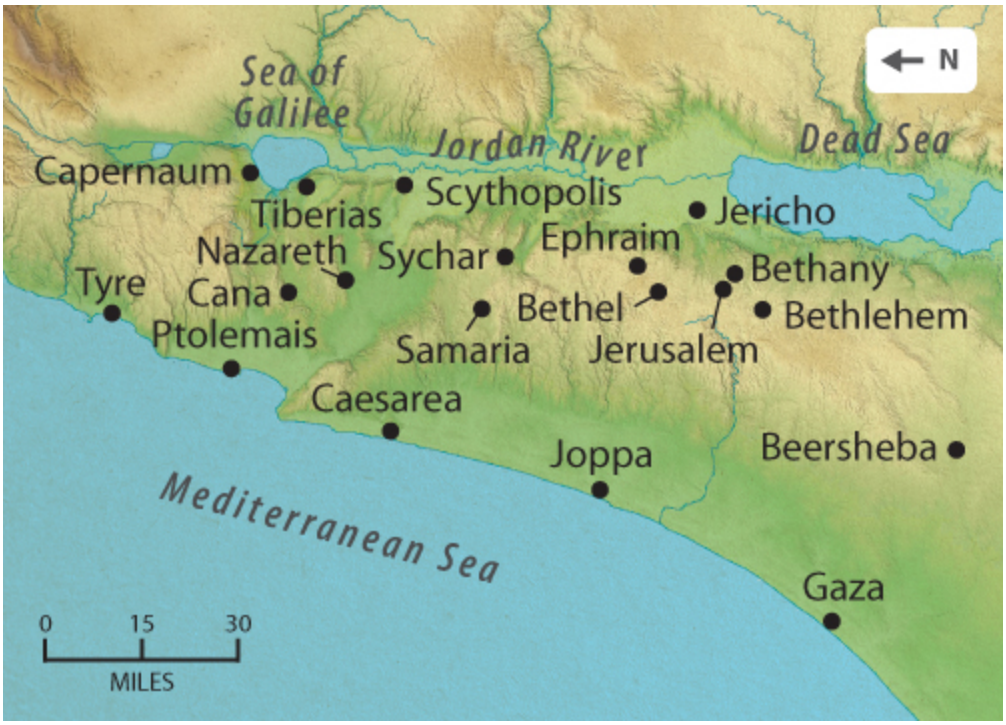
Jesus’ Urban Ministry

Matt. 9:35

Some people imagine Jesus spending His entire life in tiny towns and on long walks in the wilderness. After all, He did begin His life in a manger surrounded by livestock and shepherds. And He seemed to endlessly wander the countryside telling parables with rural themes such as the sower and the seed, the wheat and the weeds, and the lilies of the field. But this image of Jesus—and His world—is simply incorrect.

The Palestine of Jesus’ day experienced rapid urban development. A population of up to three million people lived in preindustrial cities and towns around Jerusalem, the hub of the region. Jerusalem itself had a population that modern scholars conservatively estimate at between fifty-five thousand and ninety thousand. (Josephus, a first-century Jewish historian, placed the number at three million; the Talmud claims an incredible twelve million).

Jesus focused His ministry on Palestine’s cities (Matt. 9:35; 11:1; Luke 4:43; 13:22), and He made at least three visits to Jerusalem. His travels brought Him into contact with a wide variety of people. He attracted large numbers of women, soldiers, religious leaders, the rich, merchants, tax collectors, Gentiles, prostitutes, beggars, and the poor.



Jesus' strategy became a pattern for His followers to imitate. Jesus sent His disciples to preach in cities (Matt. 10:5, 11–14; Luke 10:1, 8–16). The early church later spread throughout the Roman empire by establishing Christian communities in no fewer than forty cities by the close of the first century (see "Churches Unlock Communities" at Acts 11:22).

Jesus cares about urban communities, and His strategy should prompt all of His followers to ask how we are bringing His message to an increasingly urban, multicultural, and pluralistic world. His ministry should be a model for our engagement with the world.

More: Even in ancient times, Canaan was experiencing urbanization. See "Following God in the City" at Deut. 6:10. For more on the explosive start of the early church, see "The Ephesus Approach: How the Gospel Transformed a Community" at Acts 19:8–41.

Evidence of God
Matt. 11:2–6

When John the Baptist wanted reassurance that Jesus was all that He claimed to be, Jesus replied with a list of things He had done that revealed God's presence, power, and love. The most forceful evidence was His work among the poor and broken.

People all around us watch to see whether Jesus is still alive among His people. Like John, they ask whether those of us who claim to follow Christ truly have insight into who God is—or whether they should look somewhere else. They especially pay attention to our approach to the world's suffering people, whether nearby or far away. Onlookers want to know if we care about our neighbors' material needs as well as their spiritual needs. They want to see unmistakable evidence of Christ working within us to spread His love in every way possible.

More: Scripture has much to say about our responsibilities to the poor and needy. See "I Have Not Coveted" at Acts 20:33–38; and "Christ Became Poor" at 2 Cor. 8:8, 9. Mother Teresa's and Francis of Assisi's work for the poor has made them some of the most venerated Christians in history.

Political Intrigue
Matt. 12:14

The Pharisees feared Jesus as much as they hated Him. They were concerned that His popularity might draw additional Roman troops to the area and end what little independence the nation had. So they plotted to destroy Him. The mastermind of their plans was Caiaphas the high priest, a Sadducee who was equally opposed to Jesus. Learn more in "The Religious Power Broker" at Matthew 26:3–5.

The Unpardonable Sin

Many people wonder and worry if it is possible to commit a sin so heinous that God cannot or will not forgive it. Scripture says that this is not possible—and that it is.

The blood that Jesus Christ shed on the cross paid for all of the world's sin (John 1:29; Rom. 5:12–21; 8:3), and there is no wrongdoing that God has not overcome through Christ. So no one ever has to be afraid of going beyond the reach of God's grace or restorative power. No matter what our sins may be, God will forgive them if we come to Him in repentance (Acts 2:38; 1 John 1:9).

However, it is possible to put ourselves beyond the reach of God's grace by persisting in rebellion and resisting His call to repentance. That was the sin of the Pharisees and other Jewish leaders (compare Acts 7:51, 52). When Jesus healed a demon-possessed man through the power of the Holy Spirit (Matt. 12:28), His enemies claimed that He was an agent of Satan (12:24, where Satan is called Beelzebub).

The accusation confirmed that these leaders had rejected Jesus. It also slandered the Holy Spirit and revealed that their moral nature had become so perverted that they were beyond any hope of repentance and faith—and therefore beyond forgiveness.

There is no "unpardonable sin" (12:31) for those who cry out like the tax collector in Jesus' parable, "God, be merciful to me a sinner!" (Luke 18:13). But there is no help for those who count on their own self-righteousness, reject Christ, and slander His Holy Spirit.

Workplace Analogies

Matt. 13:1

Jesus captivated listeners by putting spiritual truths into everyday terms they could understand. He probably spent most of His life working in His family's carpentry business. Although we know little about His youth from adolescence until the start of His public ministry around age thirty, the Bible tells us that His father was a carpenter (Matt. 13:55) and that Jesus also practiced the trade (Mark 6:3). Carpenters worked not only with wood but also with metal and stone to produce household furnishings and farm implements.

Jesus may have continued His occupation even after He began to travel and teach. Rabbis of the day provided for themselves by spending anywhere from one-third to one-half of their time working, usually with their hands. Many of Jesus' opponents were also religious teachers, and while they attacked Jesus on several fronts, they never accused Him of laziness. He was known to them as a carpenter.

That reputation passed on to the early church. One writer described Jesus as "working as a carpenter when among men, making ploughs and yokes, by which He taught the symbols of righteousness and an active life." Jesus' hands-on background stands out in His parables (brief scenes or stories that illustrated moral principles and explained the realities of His kingdom). Matthew 13 collects eight of His workplace analogies that explain His kingdom:

1. The parable of the sower (13:1–23) evaluates the openness of people who hear about the kingdom.
2. The parable of the wheat and the tares (weeds) (13:24–30) warns that people who pretend to be part of the kingdom cannot fool God.
3. The parable of the mustard seed (13:31, 32) promises that the kingdom will become a force to be reckoned with.
4. The parable of the leaven (13:33) describes how the kingdom quietly yet effectively expands to accomplish powerful results.
5. The parable of the hidden treasure (13:44) says that the kingdom is the most important thing anyone can possess.
6. The parable of the pearl of great price (13:45, 46) also declares that the kingdom is worth sacrificing everything to possess.
7. The parable of the dragnet (13:47–50) warns that those who accept the kingdom will be separated from those who reject it.
8. The parable of the householder (13:51, 52) calls those who understand the kingdom to share their insight with others.

Jesus' stories connected spiritual truth with agriculture (sowing, harvesting, growing), the food industry (baking, fishing), real estate (land purchasing, home ownership), and retail (the sale of pearls). His images and language brought His message to life for ordinary people. He also demonstrated that God takes an interest in the workplace and desires us to serve Him wherever we live and work.

More: The prophets Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Zechariah also told parables. See "The Parables of Jeremiah" at Jer. 18:1–10; "The Parables of Ezekiel" at Ezek. 15:1–8; and "The Parables of Zechariah" at Zech. 5:1–4. Like Jesus, the apostle Paul supported himself by means of a secular occupation. See "Paul's Tentmaking" at Acts 18:1–3.

Treasures Old and New

Matt. 13:52

Christian truth is inexhaustible. No matter how long we have followed Jesus or how much theology we master, we can never reach the end of what God reveals in Christ and in the Bible—a fact that Jesus addressed in His parable of the householder.

Understanding this parable starts with the question Jesus asked His followers: "Have you understood all these things?" (Matt. 13:51). "These things" refers to the series of kingdom parables that He had just told (13:1–50). The disciples answered yes. They assumed that they had absorbed everything Jesus had to say. But these men could not possibly have grasped all of the practical applications of these stories, much less the implications of an idea as complex as the kingdom of God. Scholars still debate the full meaning of what Jesus said (see "The King Declares His Kingdom" at Matt. 4:17).

Jesus was aware that the disciples thought they had more insight than they actually possessed, and His parable of the householder poked at their perspective. A householder—the head or master of a home—typically brings out family treasures to entertain or impress a visitor. He might unveil a family heirloom or a recent purchase. Jesus said His disciples were like householders. They would tell people about “old treasures”—the basic tenets of the gospel—and they would tell people about “new treasures”—applications of His teaching to new situations.

His disciples would be like scribes “instructed concerning the kingdom of heaven” (13:52). Scribes were highly educated students of Scripture who worked as copyists, editors, and teachers. They occupied a prestigious position, as only ordained teachers were allowed to transmit and create religious tradition. And just as Jewish scribes taught truths that had been known for centuries as well as fresh insights that applied God’s Word to new situations, the disciples were storing up Jesus’ teaching and would one day repeat and apply His words for the benefit of others. They would pass down “things new and old” (13:52).

The New Testament contains the written record of the disciples’ lifetime of discoveries. Like those early followers, we still uncover treasures both old and new, looking back to fundamental truths that never change and discerning ways to apply biblical principles to new issues.

Hateful Herodias

Matt. 14:3

Herodias enjoyed her privilege and position as the wife of Palestine’s appointed ruler. But she had no control over the outspoken John the Baptist, who had publicly condemned Herodias’s marriage to Herod Antipas. A granddaughter of Herod the Great, Herodias had first married her father’s brother, Herod Philip I. Then she left Philip to marry his half brother Herod Antipas, who divorced his wife to marry Herodias.

When John denounced their immoral behavior, Herodias was determined to silence the troublesome prophet. She persuaded Herod to have John arrested and imprisoned, but she could not bring about an execution until Herod’s promise to give Herodias’s daughter Salome “whatever she might ask” (Matt. 14:7). Not many people remember Herodias’s name, but her evil cunning and violent revenge are far from forgotten two thousand years after she walked the earth.

Whether or not your name is remembered, your actions will teach —perhaps for generations. What are you teaching?

Public Faith

Matt. 14:13, 14

Knowing that God seeks a relationship with every individual on earth, many Christians enthusiastically pursue the private side of spirituality, building habits of prayer, private Bible reading, self-examination and confession, personal holiness, acts of charity, and more. But what about the public side of faith? For example:

- How do we live out our faith in public arenas such as work, school, and politics?
- How strategic and energetic is our collective witness as God’s people to a watching world?
- How do we influence our society as a whole—its ideologies, needs, and values?

These far-reaching questions have no quick answers. But the public side of Jesus’ ministry shows that we cannot ignore them. Many in His day withdrew from society to perfect a private spirituality (such as the Essenes; see “Political Parties of Jesus’ Day” at Matt. 16:1). But Jesus actively engaged His culture. He participated in its rituals. He focused on its cities (see “Jesus’ Urban Ministry” at Matt. 9:35). He interacted with its leaders. He welcomed its crowds. He particularly reached out to its poor, both the financially poor and the “poor in spirit” (5:3).

Jesus rules not only our private lives but also our public lives. As His followers we are more than private individuals. We have been made part of a “royal priesthood” and a “holy nation.” We were once “not a people,” but now we are “the people of God” (1 Pet. 2:9, 10).

We must visibly act on our faith as a united community in order to powerfully impact our world.

Evaluating Tradition

Matt. 15:1–3

Jesus rebuked the scribes and Pharisees for allowing their traditions to supersede God's clear commands. He specifically called out the stringent rabbinical rules regarding ritual washings for preparing and serving food.

Today we do not follow the rigid pronouncements of a priestly class. Yet there are countless traditions and expectations—many unspoken—that govern our behavior, and sometimes cause us to squabble. As Christians, we are called at times to uphold tradition and at other times to create new patterns of life. There are no simple formulas to guide our decisions, but we can start by reflecting on questions like these:

- What values and principles does a particular tradition seek to embody? How do those align with what Christ wants?
- Why does this tradition exist? Why is it maintained? Are there solid reasons to continue it—or to end it?
- Who benefits and who suffers from maintaining this tradition? Who might be helped or hurt by a change?

More: Tradition can preserve values and beliefs for future generations. See "Remembering God's Action" at Ex. 12:26, 27.

No Racial Division

Matt. 15:24

The roots of social division stretched far back into Israel's history, when a remnant of Jews had come home from captivity in Babylon to rebuild Jerusalem around 458 B.C. Ezra, their leader, commanded them to purify themselves from all pagan influences, particularly marriages to foreign-born wives (Ezra 10:2–4). Later, after centuries of Greek and Roman domination, Jews had developed a hatred for Gentiles so strong that it led them to avoid any and all contact with foreigners if at all possible. According to Tacitus, a Roman historian, "they regard the rest of mankind with all the hatred of enemies" (Histories, 5.5).

The Jews who lived in Jesus' day divided the world into two types of people—themselves and everyone else. Jews regarded Gentiles as morally unclean and spiritually lost. Jews were God's people, and they saw all others as outside His family. Peter expressed this attitude when the Lord sent him to meet the Roman centurion Cornelius: "You know how unlawful it is for a Jewish man to keep company with or go to one of another nation," Peter said (Acts 10:28).

Matthew's Gospel shows the tension and the divisions between Jew and Gentile. Jesus was the long-awaited Christ of the Jews (Matt 15:24), the fulfillment of Old Testament messianic prophecies (for example, Matt. 1:23; 2:6, 14, 18, 23). But Jesus also broke down the wall of hatred and separation between Jews and Gentiles. By dealing with both groups alike, Jesus shattered the established systems of His day and shocked His fellow Jews.

Racism and ethnic hatred have no place in God's plan. They originate in sinful human hearts, and Jesus repudiated the evil of bigotry wherever He found it. There is no doubt God will continue to tear down ethnic and racial walls in the modern world. And as His followers, it is our job to lead the way in showing equal acceptance and love for all peoples of the world.

More: While Matthew's Gospel highlights the Jewish roots of Jesus, it also reveals Him as the Messiah for the whole world. See "A Savior for the Whole World" at Matt. 8:10. Samaritans were treated with scorn by their Jewish cousins because they were half-Jew, half-Gentile. See "The Road Less Traveled" at John 4:4–42.

Political Parties of Jesus' Day

Matt. 16:1

Jesus seemed acutely aware of His society's power brokers. He showed remarkable skill at political gamesmanship.

But He functioned in a system completely unlike our own. While we cannot do more than speculate on Jesus' political leanings, we can still grapple with the political dynamics of Palestine during the first half of the first century. Jesus ministered in a tumultuous environment where at least five major political parties flourished among the Jews.

The Herodians: Defenders of the Status Quo

- Took their name from Herod the Great (37–4 B.C.) and his supporters (Acts 12:1, 2).
- Encouraged the spread of Greco-Roman culture and policies in Palestine.
- Favored political autonomy. Fearing military intervention from Rome, they stridently resisted challengers to the status quo, including the Zealots, John the Baptist, Jesus, and the early Christians.
- Joined forces with other parties to eliminate Jesus (Matt. 22:16; Mark 3:6; 12:13).

The Pharisees: Religious Legalists

- Name means "To Separate."
- Held views similar to the Essenes but chose not to flee the larger society. Many chose to study the Law on their own, having lost respect for a corrupt priesthood.
- Many served on the Jewish Council (see "The Council" at Acts 6:12–15).
- Considered the doctors of the Law; scribes were considered laymen.
- Collected and preserved voluminous products of oral tradition and Old Testament commentary.

- Legalistic and fanatically devoted to rabbinic tradition. Some refused to eat with non-Pharisees for fear of contamination from food not ritually cleansed.
- Favored political autonomy.
- Differed with the Sadducees over the doctrine of resurrection.
- Understood the coming kingdom as a literal fulfillment of God's promise to David of a King to reign over Israel forever.
- Developed an elaborate theology of angels and their intervention in human affairs.

The Sadducees: The Urban Elite

- Included many of the aristocrats, priests, merchants, and urban elite in Jerusalem and other cities of Judea.
- Many served on the Jewish Council. Most high priests in the days of Jesus and the early church were Sadducees.
- Denied the existence of angels, a resurrection or life after death, as well as the doctrines of everlasting punishment and a literal kingdom.
- Denied that God controls history, insisting on free will and the responsibility of humans to make wise choices according to the Law.
- Held only to the Law of Moses (the first five books of the Old Testament) as authoritative.

The Zealots: Firebrands of Revolution

- Fervent nationalists who awaited an opportunity to revolt against Rome.
- Resisted paying taxes to Rome or to the temple.
- Their tax revolt led by Judas the Galilean against Rome (6 B.C.) secured Galilee's reputation as a seedbed of revolutionaries.
- Blamed by some for the collapse of Judea to Rome in the war of A.D. 66–70.
- Sided with the Pharisees in supporting the Law.
- Opposed the Herodians and Sadducees, who tried to maintain the political status quo.
- Intolerant of the Essenes and Christians for their tendencies toward nonviolence.
- The Zealots Judas Iscariot and Simon the Canaanite were recruited by Jesus.

The Essenes: Detached Purists

- A sect of ascetics that thrived from the middle of the second century B.C. until the Jewish-Roman war of A.D. 66–70.
- Unlike the Pharisees, they separated from society, withdrawing into monastic communities like Qumran, where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found.
- Known today mostly through secondary sources.
- Lived in groups that held property in common.
- Believed in the immortality of the soul, angels, and an elaborate system of end-times prophecies. Some awaited as many as three different Messiahs.
- Known for celibacy, pacifism, opposition to slavery, caring for their sick and elderly, trading only within their own sect, simple meals and dress, and rejection of all ostentatious display.
- Carefully guarded the Sabbath and paid more attention than the Pharisees to ceremonial purity.
- May have influenced some early Christian practices and rituals.

The Gates of Hell

Matt. 16:18

The citizens of ancient cities built walls to protect themselves from invaders. Along the walls they built massive gates that could be opened to allow traffic into the city and closed to deny entry to bandits or attacking armies.

City gates became thoroughfares of commerce and social debate. Bazaars and forums congregated around a city's gates. Goods changed hands and decision-makers gathered to hear news and deliberate. In some cities, these gates continue to serve as a hub for public life today.

During ancient times, gates eventually became a metaphor for the economic and political life of a city. The powerful and influential did their business “in the gates.” The husband of the virtuous woman of Proverbs 31, for example, is “known in the gates, when he sits among the elders of the land” (Prov. 31:23). Boaz went to the gates to buy a marriage license to marry Ruth (Ruth 4:1–12; compare Deut. 25:7). War plans were drawn up and military treaties were signed in the gates (Judg. 5:8, 11). Kings sat in the gates to address their people (2 Sam. 19:8). Even conspirators hatched their plots and were exposed in the gates (Esth. 2:19–23).

When Jesus mentioned the gates of Hades, His words would have had potent political associations for His listeners, like we might have with the terms city hall, the Capitol, or the White House. The gates of Hades were not a mere spiritual abstraction but real evil forces working through human systems that included government, specifically the Roman government, which was quickly becoming more and more corrupt and anti-Christian.

Jesus alluded to a spiritual warfare of cosmic proportions. His followers battle forces that both attack individual Christians and infiltrate institutions to enlist them in a campaign against Christ. Satan’s guises take many forms (see “Angels and Demons” at Matt. 8:29).

Jesus promised that the gates of Hades will not succeed in the end. He offers hope to all of His followers who cope with challenging situations and battle for good against entities backed by spiritual forces of evil. In the midst of the fight, Jesus has declared, “I will build My church” (16:18).

Grow On Up

Matt. 16:22, 23

Peter liked to take charge and set his own agenda. But he found himself in over his head:

- When Jesus walked on water, Peter tried to confirm Jesus' identity by demanding an invitation to join Him on the water. After a few steps, Peter was overwhelmed by the wind and the waves and sank in fear (Matt. 14:22–32).
- Peter exaggerated his commitment to Christ, claiming that "even if I have to die with You, I will not deny You!" (26:35). Only a few hours later he denied having any connection to Jesus (26:69–75).
- Peter tried to singlehandedly defend Jesus against Roman soldiers who came to arrest Him, even though he had failed to "watch and pray" with Christ (26:36–46; John 18:1–11).
- Peter refused to let Jesus wash his feet at the Last Supper, then begged Him to wash his hands, feet, and head as well (13:5–11).

Peter's leadership impulses were eventually brought under control, and he became a significant figure in the early church. Despite the false starts that resulted from Peter's impetuous nature, Peter grew up. Jesus enlisted this loyal follower to "feed My sheep" (21:17).

Like Peter, our leadership skills may be raw. We might be ready to jump at the first idea that enters our mind. We can instead let Jesus harness our energies and talents for His glory. He has a plan for our growth, and it may require slowing down before speeding up.

More: Peter was not the only follower of Christ who seemed like an unlikely candidate to become a leader. See "Unlikely Leaders" at Matt. 26:35–74.

The Names of Jesus

Matt. 17:5

During the Transfiguration God the Father called Jesus "My beloved Son." Elsewhere, Scripture calls Jesus by names and titles that highlight other aspects of His nature, character, and mission.

Name or Title	Description
Adam (1 Cor. 15:45)	The first Adam's sin brought death to humankind. Jesus, "the last Adam," brought life to humankind.
The Alpha and the Omega (Rev. 21:6)	Jesus is eternal, "The Beginning and the End." Alpha is the first letter of the Greek alphabet, and omega is the last.
Apostle (Heb. 3:1)	Apostle means "messenger." Jesus came to bring the good news of salvation to humanity.
The Bread of Life (John 6:35, 48)	Jesus is the spiritual food God gives to those who ask.
The chief cornerstone (Eph. 2:20)	Jesus is the church's foundation.
The Chief Shepherd (1 Pet. 5:4)	Jesus cares for His flock, the church.
The Christ (Matt. 1:1, 17; 16:16; Luke 2:11; John 1:41)	From the Greek word Christos, "Messiah" or "Anointed One." Jesus fulfills the Old Testament promise of a Messiah for God's people.
The Consolation of Israel (Luke 2:25)	Jesus came to comfort the nation of Israel (Is. 40:1, 2).
The firstborn from the dead (Col. 1:18)	Jesus overcame death to give life to those who believe in Him.
The firstborn over all creation (Col. 1:15)	As God's Son, Jesus rules over everything that exists.
The Good Shepherd (John 10:11, 14; compare Heb. 13:20)	Describes Jesus' relationship to His people.
The head of the body, the church (Eph. 1:22, 23; 4:15, 16; Col. 1:18)	Jesus is His people's leader and their source of life.
High Priest (Heb. 3:1)	Like an Old Testament high priest, Jesus offers an acceptable sacrifice for sin.
The Holy One of God (Mark 1:24; John 6:69)	Jesus is the sinless Messiah promised by God.
I AM (John 8:58)	A name related to the verb "to be," which God used to reveal Himself to Moses (Ex. 3:14).

The image of the invisible God (Col. 1:15)	Jesus expresses God in bodily form.
Immanuel (Matt. 1:23)	"God-With-Us" (Is. 7:14).
Jesus (Matt. 1:21; Luke 1:30; Acts 9:5)	The name that God instructed Joseph and Mary to call their Son.
King of kings and Lord of lords (Rev. 19:16)	The formal title that indicates Jesus' supremacy as the one to whom "every knee should bow" (Phil. 2:9–11).
King of the Jews (Matt. 2:2; 27:11, 12; John 19:19)	As the Messiah, Jesus is Israel's King and the fulfillment of God's promises to David (2 Sam. 7:12–16).
The Lamb of God (John 1:29, 35)	Jesus became the atoning sacrifice for sin.
The Light of the World (John 9:5)	Jesus brings truth and hope to light in the midst of spiritual darkness.
Lord (Luke 2:11; 1 Cor. 2:8; Phil. 2:11)	A title indicating ultimate sovereignty.
Mediator between God and men (1 Tim. 2:5)	Jesus reestablishes the relationship between God and humanity.
The only begotten of the Father (John 1:14)	Jesus is God's only Son.
The Prophet (Mark 6:15; John 7:40; Acts 3:22)	Jesus is the leader that God promised to "raise up" like Moses (Deut. 18:15, 18, 19).
Rabbi (John 1:38; 3:2)	Friends and enemies alike recognized Jesus as Teacher.
Savior (Luke 1:47; 2:11)	Jesus came to save people from their sins.
Seed (of Abraham; Gal. 3:16)	God made promises to Abraham and his "Seed," identified by Paul as Christ (Gen. 13:15; 17:8).
The Son of Abraham (Matt. 1:1)	Jesus descended from Abraham and fulfills God's promises to Abraham (Gen. 22:18).
The Son of David (Matt. 1:1)	Jesus descended from David and fulfills God's promises to David (2 Sam. 7:12–16).

The Son of God (John 1:34; 9:35–37)	Jesus is one of three Persons of the Trinity (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit).
The Son of Man (Matt. 18:11; John 1:51)	Though fully God, Jesus took on a human body (compare Phil. 2:5–8).
The Word (John 1:1; Rev. 19:13)	Jesus is fully God and the full expression of God.

Jesus Valued Children

Matt. 19:14

The warm welcome that Jesus extended to little children spoke loudly about their worth. The disciples who rebuked the mothers for bringing their babies to Jesus (Matt. 19:13) may have reflected the dominant Greco-Roman view of childhood as an insignificant stage of life. Children were necessary for a family's survival but were not valued for their own sake.

Unwanted infants in pagan cultures were routinely abandoned on roadsides and at garbage dumps. Gender and economics often determined an infant's fate: girls were left more often than boys because girls represented a financial burden while boys would eventually contribute to a family's income. Most abandoned infants died. A few were found by others and raised to become slaves, gladiators, or prostitutes. Children were considered so unimportant that professional beggars sometimes mutilated these abandoned children and used their misery to garner sympathy from passersby.

Among the Jews, however, children had traditionally been considered a blessing from God. The Law instructed both fathers and mothers to nurture and care for children, but Jewish fathers had ultimate authority over all aspects of their children's lives. They were obligated to teach their children God's commands and raise them as active members of God's chosen people (Deut. 6:6–8). Children in return were to honor their parents (5:16).

In Jewish culture, mothers usually took care of infants, who typically nursed until the age of two or three. Wealthy Greeks and Romans employed wet nurses, and as the children grew, their care was turned over to slaves. Poor women worked with babies slung on their backs, and children were taught to help in their parents' work as soon as they were able.

Wages and Grace

Anyone who feels underpaid and undervalued can appreciate the reaction of the workers in the parable about wages. Jesus described an employer who hired some workers for a full day, others for two-thirds of a day, others for half a day, and others for even less. Yet he paid them all the same amount. Those who had worked long and hard in the heat of the day felt abused.

The first thing to notice as we struggle to understand this parable is that none of the workers had a job before the landowner hired them (Matt. 20:3, 6, 7). They found work because of the employer's goodwill and initiative, not because of anything they brought to the situation. Moreover, the landowner promised the first group fair wages for a day's work, which he delivered (20:2), and he offered the rest of the workers an undetermined amount ("whatever is right," 20:4, 7). As it turned out, he paid everyone for a full day. In the kingdom of God, we receive grace because of the nature of the Giver, not because of our own worthiness.

Leaders Serve
Matt. 20:25–28

When Jesus' disciples quarreled over who among them was greatest, He called their attention to His new style of assessing importance. He told them that attaining greatness required becoming a slave. Leading would mean taking the role of a servant. Jesus' own example shows us what servant-leadership looks like:

- We are called by God to serve and lead.
- We intimately know the people we serve and lead.
- We care deeply about those we serve and lead.
- We willingly sacrifice our own convenience to meet the needs of people we serve and lead.

Nehemiah embraced the kind of servant-leadership that Jesus praised. Learn more in "Leadership Principles from Nehemiah: Leaders Resist Underhanded Politics" at Nehemiah 6:5–9. Discover the powerful image Jesus used when He compared true leadership to slavery in "Who You Serve" at Romans 6:16.

A Humble Parade

Matt. 21:1–11

Jerusalem was overflowing with an influx of religious pilgrims. The city's preparations for the Passover created the perfect moment for Jesus to enter Jerusalem to the loud cheers of people who were familiar with His ministry. Two prophets had foretold His arrival in Jerusalem (Is. 62:11; Zech. 9:9). But as Jesus entered the city, He demonstrated not pride but humility.

The Messiah did not plan a parade of chariots, trumpets, and orchestrated ceremony. He did not ride into town on a prancing war horse. Rather than walking arm-in-arm with powerful officials and other prominent citizens, He was accompanied by a small band of fishermen, rural Galileans, even a former tax collector. He arrived on a donkey, a common beast of burden.

At the end of the parade route, Jesus did not seek a welcome from city leaders. He marched to the temple, where He overthrew tables of businesses that manipulated the poor and made the house of worship into a place of profit (Matt. 21:12, 13). He focused on the blind, the lame, and children (21:14–16). And when He completed the day's tasks, He spent the night in a humble house in nearby Bethany (21:17).

As Jesus prepared to die, He focused His final activities on people in need of His love, forgiveness, and hope—people without privilege and power (Luke 4:18).

A Challenge to Authority

Matt. 21:23–27

When Israel's top leaders attacked Jesus with threatening questions, He answered with questions of His own. His interaction with the chief priests and elders reveals two important considerations:

1. The motives of the challengers. The scribes and Pharisees were not looking to understand the reach or source of Jesus' authority. They wanted solely to protect their own interests and power. Their behavior prompts us to examine how often we question or resist people in authority simply because we are afraid or jealous of them.
2. The confidence of Jesus. The Lord's attackers were unable to force the reaction they wanted from Him because Jesus knew with absolute certainty who He was and whose authority He wielded (Matt. 28:18). His response encourages us to remember that no one can intimidate us without our permission.

Harlots Enter the Kingdom

Matt. 21:31, 32

Jesus' startling statement about harlots entering the kingdom of God was not an endorsement of their profession but a condemnation of the self-righteousness and unbelief of Israel's religious leaders. Faith was the key to the kingdom, and prostitutes showed more faith in Jesus than those who claimed to be religious.

Despite laws against adultery and bans on the ritual sexual activities that took place in many pagan temples, prostitutes were common in Hebrew society (see "Prostitutes in the Ancient World" at Judg. 16:1). In Jesus' day they endured the scorn of the religious elite, especially the Pharisees, who avoided contact with anyone they regarded as sinful.

By contrast, Jesus was known as a friend of sinners who welcomed people who knew they needed forgiveness (Matt. 11:19; Luke 7:36–50). His words show that people do not have to become good before they meet God. He responds to faith no matter how troubled our past. Then He guides us as we establish a new life.

Trick Questions
Matt. 22:23–33

The Sadducees tried to trap Jesus in front of a crowd with a question on serial marriage relationships. They attempted to corner Him regarding His teaching on the resurrection, a belief they rejected.

Jesus exposed their thinly veiled plot and at the same time affirmed the resurrection. He used the very Scriptures they loved to quote (Matt. 22:32 is from Ex. 3:6) and refused to let them twist things to their advantage. He cut to the heart of the matter.

There is nothing wrong with being discreet or stating things subtly and diplomatically. Sometimes we need to plant seeds in another person's thinking and allow time for an idea to take root. But here Jesus challenged selfish manipulation and trickery. The world should know His followers as people who speak the truth.

What Kind of Love?
Matt. 22:34–40

The Greek language employed by New Testament authors had four different words for love:

1. Erōs was used in the context of male-female relationships and included physical desire, craving, and longing. This word for love does not appear in the New Testament.
2. Stergos denoted affection and was often applied to the mutual love between family members. This word is also not used in the New Testament.
3. Philos reflected the concern and care of friends for each other—what we call brotherly love. Peter and Jesus discussed this kind of love when the Lord sent Peter to care for His followers (John 21:15–17).
4. Agapē described a supreme love involving a conscious and deliberate choice to do good for another. It is powered by the choice of the one who shows love, not the worthiness of the one who receives it. Agapē is best seen in God's love for the world (3:16). It is also the love that God calls His followers to display (1 Cor. 13:1–13).

When Jesus spoke the greatest of the commandments, He called us to agapē-love. He commanded an ongoing, conscious choice to graciously serve God and others while expecting nothing in return. As His followers, we learn this kind of love from Him (1 John 3:11–24). His constant care for us empowers us to sustain love as an act of the will rather than as a fleeting expression of emotion. We show love even when we feel weary or rejected. Love is intentional, expresses itself, and includes compassion and grace.

Tithing

Matt. 23:23, 24

The word tithe means "a tenth part." In the Old Testament, God commanded the Israelites to give tithes—a tenth of their produce or income—for three reasons:

1. to support the Levites, who were responsible for the tabernacle and worship (see "Sharing the Wealth" at Num. 18:20–24);
2. to support feasts and sacrifices (see "Celebrating Abundance" at Deut. 14:22–26); and
3. to set aside resources to assist the poor, orphans, widows, and foreigners (see "The Third-Year Tithe and Government Aid" at Deut. 14:28, 29).

In the New Testament, neither Christ nor the apostles give explicit instructions about tithing. Jesus clearly endorsed the practice, however, as He did all the dictates of the Law (Matt. 5:17–20; 23:23). He denounced the Pharisees for hypocritically ignoring the "weightier matters" of the Law, such as justice, mercy, and faith, but those important issues did not negate other matters such as tithing. As Christians evaluate the practice of tithing today, several principles emerge:

1. Our giving should spring from a love of Christ rather than a sense of obligation. Abraham gave the first tithe (Gen. 14:17–20) as an expression of gratitude when God rescued him in battle. Scripture always puts worship at the heart of tithing.
2. Everything we have ultimately comes from and belongs to God, not only what we give away but also what we keep. God claims 100 percent of our income, not 10 percent.
3. Ten percent is a good starting point for giving.
4. The New Testament is clear that vocational Christian workers have a right to financial support from those to whom they minister (1 Cor. 9:13, 14; Gal. 6:6).
5. Many churches and other ministries assist the needy, and it seems legitimate to encourage members of a Christian community to donate money to those priorities.
6. No matter how much we give or to whom, Jesus indicates that our first priority should be to ensure that justice is carried out around us. We are to show mercy to our neighbors. Rather than just talk about our faith, we are to put it into action.

Whitewashed Tombs

Matt. 23:27, 28

Jesus drew on a grim image as He denounced the self-righteous Pharisees. At the end of a Jewish funeral procession—a slow march that onlookers were obliged to join—the body was placed in a tomb on a rock shelf. Once the flesh had decomposed, bones were collected and removed, allowing the shelf to be reused. Since Jews were made ritually unclean by touching graves (Num. 19:16), the rocks used to seal tombs were whitewashed as a warning to stay away. The glaze gave the outside of a tomb a clean appearance, even though inside corpses were decomposing.

Jerusalem

Matt. 23:37

- Palestine's leading city throughout much of the biblical era.
- Well-situated for defense on two triangular ridges that converged to the south, bordered by the Kidron Valley on the east and the Valley of Hinnom on the west.
- Appears in the Bible as early as Abraham (Gen. 14:18), and the site had likely been inhabited for centuries before then.
- Captured by David and made Israel's capital.
- Site of Solomon's temple during the monarchy and Herod's temple during the first century.
- Population in Jesus' day was probably 60,000 to 70,000, though estimates range all the way from 40,000 to 12 million.

- Besieged and destroyed by Rome in A.D. 70.
- Relatively small but densely populated with numerous suburbs.

Long before and after Christ, Jerusalem has been esteemed as far more than an ordinary city. And as the center of Israel's government, culture, and religion, it bore the brunt of Jesus' anguished cry over the Jews' rejection of Him (Matt. 23:37, 38).

Even though Jesus visited Jerusalem several times, most of its population never responded to the Son of God. Nor did the city welcome His followers when they brought the message of His resurrection. The place known as the holy city (4:5) rejected the Holy One of Israel, the Son of God.

Quality, Not Quantity
Matt. 25:14–30

Jesus' parable of talents offers a vital lesson on success. God measures our achievements not by how much we have but by what we do with what He gives us. We are managers entrusted with resources and responsibilities. He evaluates whether we use those gifts to obey and honor Him. Finding success as our culture measures it, in terms of wealth, prestige, power, or fame, doesn't matter in the long run. What counts is faithfully serving the Lord (Matt. 25:21, 23). We must avoid the fate of the third servant, wasting our lives by failing to carry out our Master's business.

More: A talent was an immense amount of money. Jesus told a different version of this parable in Luke 19:15–27.

The Religious Power Broker
Matt. 26:3–5

As high priest, Caiaphas was the most influential member of the Sanhedrin, the ruling council and supreme court of the Jews (see "The Council" at Acts 6:12–15). The position afforded him vast authority but little job security. High priests served at Rome's pleasure, and between 37 B.C. and A.D. 67, the empire appointed no fewer than twenty-eight men to the position. The fact that Caiaphas kept his job for eighteen years points to his uncommon political savvy. Some have suggested it is evidence of a corrupt alliance with Rome.

Yet even if Caiaphas was in league with Rome, his goal was to protect Israel's interests. He feared that the slightest civil disorder would mobilize Roman troops and crush the nation. When Jesus drew vast crowds and performed astounding miracles—especially His raising of Lazarus from the dead—Caiaphas decided that He would have to be done away with (John 11:45–50).

This led to a well-conceived plot in which Jesus was arrested, brought to an illegal trial, and confronted with false evidence (Matt. 26:3, 4, 57–68). By playing Pilate (the Roman governor) and Herod (the Jewish king) against each other, and by encouraging a mob mentality from the people (Luke 22:66–23:25), Caiaphas successfully orchestrated Jesus' conviction and execution.

Caiaphas was stunned when the movement that he thought he had killed came roaring back to life. The apostles began preaching the gospel in Jerusalem and all over the Roman empire with great success. Like Jesus, they performed miracles that drew the people's attention and prompted a response to the saving message about Christ (Acts 3:1–4:13).

Think About It: There are always more players than you in any encounter. When are you tempted to be a power broker, just to win? When can political actions be a way to truly work for good?

Waste or Worship?

Matt. 26:6–13

The woman who anointed Jesus was Mary, Lazarus's sister (see "Funeral Preparations" at John 12:1–8). As she poured oil on His head, what the disciples saw as waste, the Lord saw as worship. The tension between the two still exists. Christians argue over whether it is right to spend millions on new church facilities when so many poor and homeless sleep in the streets. See also "Sparing No Expense" at 1 Kings 5:5.

Judas's Betrayal
Matt. 26:14–16

The New Testament never mentions Judas Iscariot without a reminder that he was the man who betrayed Jesus (for example, Matt. 10:4; Mark 3:19; John 12:4). To this day the name Judas is a symbol of betrayal.

The Gospels suggest that Judas was motivated to betray Jesus by his greed. But the amount that the priests paid him to hand over Jesus—thirty pieces of silver—was relatively small. Besides, he had access to the disciples' money box and apparently was known for helping himself to its contents (12:6).

Some have suggested that Judas believed that his betrayal would force Jesus to assert His true power and overthrow the Romans. Others say that Judas became convinced that Jesus was a false Messiah and that the true Messiah was yet to come. Or perhaps he was upset by Jesus' seemingly casual attitude toward the Law and didn't like how He associated with sinners or apparently violated the Sabbath. No one can say exactly why Judas turned against Jesus. He remains a shadowy figure, unknown by his companions, unfaithful to his Lord, unmourned in his death.

More: After Judas took his own life, his death was ironically memorialized with the purchase of a plot of ground for a cemetery. The New Testament mentions several other Judases. One was a brother of Jesus and probably the author of the Book of Jude (Matt. 13:55; see also the introduction to Jude).

Unlikely Leaders
Matt. 26:35–74

Jesus was close to the end of His earthly ministry. His life was about to suffer an agonizing finish at the hands of His enemies. Those He had trained to succeed Him would assume leadership of His new movement, a transition that would prove near catastrophic. During those final days and hours, His followers began to fall apart:

- Bravado caused them to overstate their commitment (Matt. 26:35). When the moment of decision came, they deserted their Lord (26:56).
- When Jesus asked them to keep watch with Him during His final hours of freedom, they twice fell asleep (26:40, 43).
- As Jesus endured mockery and beatings, Peter, who had led the others in vowing their loyalty (26:35), denied even knowing his Master (26:69–75).

The disciples hardly seem to have had what was needed to continue the work that Jesus began. But even after an experience of excruciating suffering and glorious resurrection, Jesus returned to these same followers and announced that they were still His chosen leaders to continue His work. He even affirmed His commitment to stick with them to the end (28:19, 20).

Jesus' treatment of the disciples shows that failure is not an unforgivable act. In fact, it seems to be necessary to create character. It is not meant to eliminate but to transform the weak and wavering. Christ does not look for perfect people but for faithful followers who will experience His forgiveness, and move on to learn and grow.

More: The Twelve were all men, but women also played an important role in Jesus' life and ministry. See "The Women Who Followed Jesus" at Luke 8:1–3. God has always valued devotion over perfection. See "The Hall of Faith" at Heb. 11:1–40.

Ordinary People at the Cross

Matt. 27:32

Unlike many who rise to prominence, Jesus never lost touch with normal people. He did not insulate Himself from difficulties by cushioning His life or associating only with the powerful, wealthy, and privileged. His birth, life, and death involved very ordinary people.

Jesus surrounded Himself with people who had little social standing or influence. The events surrounding His birth involved a minor priest and his barren wife, a small-town girl and a poor carpenter, shepherds, an elderly woman, and three foreigners. His closest adult friends were fishermen, and He was known for hanging out with tax collectors and prostitutes. During His final days and hours an ordinary visitor to Jerusalem—a resident of northern Africa—was compelled to carry His cross. Others showed curiosity about Him, demonstrated understanding and loyalty, or acted with compassion. These humble people were uniquely able to perceive His message about true values and needs.

Ordinary People Who Saw Jesus to the Cross

Simon the leper, once an untouchable outcast	Hosted Jesus as his houseguest (Matt. 26:6).
An unnamed woman (probably Mary of Bethany; see "Mary's Devotion" at John 11:2; compare 12:1–8)	Anointed Jesus' head with expensive ointment (Matt. 26:7).
An unnamed homeowner in Jerusalem	Opened his home to Jesus and the Twelve for their last meal together (Matt. 26:18).
The disciples, Jesus' chosen successors from rural Galilee	Proclaimed their faith (Matt. 26:35) and joined Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane during the final hours before His arrest (26:40, 43, 56).
An unnamed servant girl	Asked Peter about his association with Jesus (Matt. 26:69).
Another girl in the crowd	Also asked Peter about his relationship with Jesus (Matt. 26:71).
Unnamed crowd members	Also inquired if Peter knew Jesus (Matt. 26:71).
Judas	Betrayed Christ; later broke down with guilt and committed suicide (Matt. 27:3–5).

Barabbas, a convicted criminal	Was freed instead of Jesus because of a mob's demands (Matt. 27:16, 26).
Simon of Cyrene, a man in the crowd	Was conscripted to carry Jesus' cross (Matt. 27:32).
Two dying thieves	Were executed with Jesus (Matt. 27:38, 44).
An unnamed crowd member	Offered Jesus a drink as He was in His death throes (Matt. 27:48).
An unnamed Roman centurion	Observed that Jesus must be the Son of God (Matt. 27:54).
Some loyal women from Galilee	Looked on from afar (Matt. 27:55, 56).

Wealthy People in the New Testament

Matt. 27:57

Unlike Joseph of Arimathea, most of Jesus' followers were not wealthy. But we can learn about the dangers and disciplines of money from other wealthy people noted in the New Testament. Having money is in itself not safe or dangerous, bad or good. But how we handle it can be. Then and now, God calls His followers to use whatever we have at our disposal to show compassion, mercy, and justice to all.

Joseph of Arimathea (Matt. 27:57–61; Mark 15:42–46; Luke 23:50–53)	• Prepaid his own funeral. • Donated his tomb for Jesus' burial.	• Forsaking earthly treasures for the lasting kingdom of God will be rewarded.
Female supporters of Christ (Luke 8:1–3*; 23:55–24:10; Mark 15:40; 16:1)	• Supported Jesus' work. • Assisted in Jesus' burial (probably donated expensive perfume).	• Generosity should characterize those who follow Jesus.
Roman centurion who believed (Matt. 8:5–13; Luke 7:1–5)	• Showed kindness toward the Jews. • Paid for the construction of a synagogue. • Showed compassion for his ailing servant.	• Authentic love for others shows in the things we do and the projects we support.

Simon the sorcerer (Acts 8:9–25)	• Craved spiritual power and thought it could be bottled and sold.	• God's gifts cannot be bought.

Surprised by God

Matt. 28:6

The women who went to the tomb on the first Easter Sunday were exceedingly frightened by what they found—or rather, by what they did not find. The tomb was empty!

God understands how it feels when He sends startling spiritual events. He helps us overcome our fears and sort out whatever comes our way. He sent an angel to comfort and enlighten Mary and Mary Magdalene about the truth of Christ's resurrection. He sent an angel to Joseph when he was troubled by Mary's inexplicable pregnancy (Matt. 1:18–25).

Many other people in Scripture were no less troubled by the occurrence of spiritual events and realities. The help they received from God included messages from angels. But He also sent other people, dramatic and even miraculous demonstrations of His power, stirring promises, and the enormous comfort of His Word. God appreciates the impact of spiritual light suddenly shining in a dark world. He helps us overcome the shock not only of what He has spoken but also the fact that He has spoken.

Will we respond to His message? No matter how uncomfortable we may feel about new adventures in faith, we dare not avoid them. God opens up these uneasy places in our lives to draw us to Him.

To Every Nation

Matt. 28:19

Jesus sent His followers to make disciples of all the nations (ethnē, "peoples"; Matt. 28:19). That mandate may seem obvious to us who know that two thousand years of Christian outreach have been based on this and similar passages. Christianity has spread from its Middle Eastern roots to become a global religion followed by roughly one-third of the world's population.

Modern technology would seem to make expanding that outreach even further a relatively simple task. In many ways, however, we still resemble Jesus' original disciples. They wanted a local hero, a Messiah just for Israel, one who would keep their customs and confirm their prejudices. They were no doubt stunned by the scope and implications of the cross-cultural vision that Jesus presented. He was more than the King of the Jews. He was the global Christ, the Savior of the entire world.

Jesus had tried to open their eyes to this fact since the start of His ministry. Matthew recorded again and again His work among Gentiles (for example, Matt. 8:10; 15:24). He even cited Isaiah 42:1–4, highlighting that Jesus would "declare justice to the Gentiles [nations] . . . and in His name Gentiles will trust" (Matt. 12:14–21). Yet now the disciples had a hard time believing their Lord's words. Could He really be interested in all the nations? They certainly were not.

It is easy to nod in agreement with the idea that Jesus cares for the whole world. But it is not as easy to blend real people from varying backgrounds. Even so, what a good adventure it becomes when we intentionally obey God in building friendships.

Culture, after all, is the key. Jesus told His Galilean followers to make disciples, and they did—Jewish disciples. They experienced profound culture shock when the Holy Spirit brought new groups into the burgeoning church, including Hellenist disciples (Acts 6:1–7), Samaritan disciples (8:4–25), and eventually Gentile disciples from a variety of backgrounds (10:1–11:18; 15:1–21). As the gospel spread to people of different cultures, there was always the danger of ethnic and racial factions going their separate ways. Paul urged Christians to pursue unity in the body of Christ and charity among the peoples of the world (see "One People" at Rom. 11:13–24).

The bulk of new disciples today are non-Caucasian and non-Western. Not surprisingly, they bring widely different cultural perspectives into the church. One of the greatest challenges we will face as we move together into the future is to delight in these differences. It's the same difficulty that the original disciples faced at the inauguration of the Christian movement: not merely to acknowledge but to act on, and enjoy, the fact that Jesus truly is Lord of all the nations.

More: God's plan to make disciples of people throughout the world was part of His overall, long-term objective of making His name great among the nations. See "Great Among the Nations" at Mal. 1:11. The spread of the gospel to the rest of the world began just a few days after Jesus spoke the words recorded in Matt. 28:19.

Although the Book of Mark appears second among the four Gospels, it is an ideal starting point for getting to know Jesus. Mark portrays Jesus' life in simple, straightforward, rapidly-paced vignettes. In fact, action is the most obvious feature of the book. Jesus reveals Himself here more by what He does than by what He says. While the Gospels of Matthew and Luke contain many of the scenes reported in this book, Mark reports far fewer of Christ's spoken teachings. The book gets at the fundamental facts about the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus.

The Gospel of Mark opens with a view of the crowds streaming into the wilderness to be baptized by John the Baptist (Mark 1:4, 5). John predicts the coming of the Messiah (1:6–8). Then Jesus appears, and John baptizes Him (1:9–11). In another wilderness setting, Jesus endures a lonely vigil as Satan tests Him, wild beasts haunt Him, and angels attend Him (1:12, 13). Time passes, and arid wilderness gives way to seaside Galilee, where Jesus launches His ministry with an appeal for repentance (1:14, 15). The book continues with Mark heaping up scenes of Christ on the move, traveling and doing His good work.

The overall message is not hard to find: Jesus is the Son of God (1:1, 11; 9:7; 14:61, 62; 15:39), who came not "to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many" (10:45). Christ's sacrificial death is a prominent feature of the book. Nearly 40 percent of its contents describe the last week of Jesus' life, offering details of His arrest, crucifixion, and resurrection.

This Gospel's vivid style and attention to detail lend a sense of authenticity and immediacy that could come only from an author who was an eyewitness to the events recorded. But Mark himself was probably not a participant in the story. And the book never names its author. However, in about A.D. 125, Papias, bishop of Hierapolis in Asia Minor, stated that Mark created this Gospel by writing down Peter's recollections of Jesus' life. Subsequent tradition agrees with Papias in ascribing the book to Mark.

It is possible, then, that the book contains Peter's memories of his years of following Jesus as one of the Twelve. As Mark ministered to Christians in Rome, he may have targeted Gentile Christians who knew little about Old Testament Judaism but who needed grounding in the facts about Jesus, perhaps not only in general but as a source of preparation and comfort leading up to their persecution and even martyrdom by Nero, emperor of Rome (A.D. 54–68).

Mark (sometimes referred to as John Mark; see his profile at Acts 15:37) was a native of Jerusalem, and the church often met for prayer at his mother's house (Acts 12:12). Thanks to his cousin Barnabas (Col. 4:10), he was mentored in the faith (Acts 15:37–39) and became a valued associate of Paul (2 Tim. 4:11) and Peter (1 Pet. 5:13). Mark probably traveled with Peter to Rome, where tradition holds that he composed his Gospel in the early 60s A.D.

Key Events in Mark

- John the Baptist preaches a message of repentance (Mark 1:1–15).
- Jesus calls Simon Peter and other fishermen to follow Him (Mark 1:16–20).
- Jesus tells the parable of the sower (Mark 4:1–20).
- Jesus heals a bleeding woman and raises a girl from the dead (Mark 5:21–43).

- Jesus miraculously feeds a crowd of four thousand (Mark 8:1–10).
- Jesus evicts money changers from the temple (Mark 11:15–19).
- Jesus affirms a widow who contributes the little she has to the temple treasury (Mark 12:41–44).
- Peter vows allegiance to Jesus yet denies Him (Mark 14:27–31, 66–72).
- Jesus is condemned to death and crucified (Mark 15:1–26).
- Jesus rises from death (Mark 16:1–8).

Mark 1

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

2 As it is written in the Prophets:[a]

> "Behold, I send My messenger before Your face,
> Who will prepare Your way before You."[b]
> 3 "The voice of one crying in the wilderness:
> 'Prepare the way of the LORD;
> Make His paths straight.' "[c]

4 John came baptizing in the wilderness and preaching a baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. A Voice in the Wilderness

5 Then all the land of Judea, and those from Jerusalem, went out to him and were all baptized by him in the Jordan River, confessing their sins.

6 Now John was clothed with camel's hair and with a leather belt around his waist, and he ate locusts and wild honey.

7 And he preached, saying, "There comes One after me who is mightier than I, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to stoop down and loose.

8 "I indeed baptized you with water, but He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."

John Baptizes Jesus

9 It came to pass in those days that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized by John in the Jordan.

10 And immediately, coming up from[d] the water, He saw the heavens parting and the Spirit descending upon Him like a dove.

11 Then a voice came from heaven, “You are My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.”

Satan Tempts Jesus

12 Immediately the Spirit drove Him into the wilderness.

13 And He was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted by Satan, and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered to Him.

Jesus Begins His Galilean Ministry

14 Now after John was put in prison, Jesus came to Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom[e] of God, Jesus the Galilean

15 and saying, “The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand. Repent, and believe in the gospel.”

Four Fishermen Called as Disciples

16 And as He walked by the Sea of Galilee, He saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen.

17 Then Jesus said to them, “Follow Me, and I will make you become fishers of men.”

18 They immediately left their nets and followed Him.

19 When He had gone a little farther from there, He saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending their nets.

20 And immediately He called them, and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after Him.

Jesus Casts Out an Unclean Spirit

21Then they went into Capernaum, and immediately on the Sabbath He entered the synagogue and taught. The Synagogue

22And they were astonished at His teaching, for He taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

23Now there was a man in their synagogue with an unclean spirit. And he cried out,

24saying, “Let us alone! What have we to do with You, Jesus of Nazareth? Did You come to destroy us? I know who You are—the Holy One of God!”

25But Jesus rebuked him, saying, “Be quiet, and come out of him!”

26And when the unclean spirit had convulsed him and cried out with a loud voice, he came out of him.

27Then they were all amazed, so that they questioned among themselves, saying, “What is this? What new doctrine is this? For with authority[f] He commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey Him.”

28And immediately His fame spread throughout all the region around Galilee.

Peter’s Mother-in-Law Healed

29Now as soon as they had come out of the synagogue, they entered the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. Jewish Homemaking

30But Simon’s wife’s mother lay sick with a fever, and they told Him about her at once.

31So He came and took her by the hand and lifted her up, and immediately the fever left her. And she served them.

Many Healed After Sabbath Sunset

32At evening, when the sun had set, they brought to Him all who were sick and those who were demon-possessed.
33And the whole city was gathered together at the door.
34Then He healed many who were sick with various diseases, and cast out many demons; and He did not allow the demons to speak, because they knew Him.

Preaching in Galilee

35Now in the morning, having risen a long while before daylight, He went out and departed to a solitary place; and there He prayed.
36And Simon and those who were with Him searched for Him.
37When they found Him, they said to Him, "Everyone is looking for You."
38But He said to them, "Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also, because for this purpose I have come forth."
39And He was preaching in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and casting out demons.

Jesus Cleanses a Leper

40Now a leper came to Him, imploring Him, kneeling down to Him and saying to Him, "If You are willing, You can make me clean."
41Then Jesus, moved with compassion, stretched out His hand and touched him, and said to him, "I am willing; be cleansed."
42As soon as He had spoken, immediately the leprosy left him, and he was cleansed.
43And He strictly warned him and sent him away at once, 44and said to him, "See that you say nothing to anyone; but go your way, show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing those things which Moses commanded, as a testimony to them.”

45However, he went out and began to proclaim it freely, and to spread the matter, so that Jesus could no longer openly enter the city, but was outside in deserted places; and they came to Him from every direction.

Mark 2

Jesus Forgives and Heals a Paralytic

1 And again He entered Capernaum after some days, and it was heard that He was in the house.
2 Immediately[a] many gathered together, so that there was no longer room to receive them, not even near the door.
And He preached the word to them.
3 Then they came to Him, bringing a paralytic who was carried by four men. Significant Everyday People 4 And when they could not come near Him because of the crowd, they uncovered the roof where He was. So when they had broken through, they let down the bed on which the paralytic was lying.
5 When Jesus saw their faith, He said to the paralytic,
"Son, your sins are forgiven you."
6 And some of the scribes were sitting there and reasoning in their hearts, 7 "Why does this Man speak blasphemies like this? Who can forgive sins but God alone?"
8 But immediately, when Jesus perceived in His spirit that they reasoned thus within themselves, He said to them,
"Why do you reason about these things in your hearts?
9 "Which is easier, to say to the paralytic, 'Your sins are forgiven you,' or to say, 'Arise, take up your bed and walk'?
10 "But that you may know that the Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins"—He said to the paralytic, 11 "I say to you, arise, take up your bed, and go to your house."
12 Immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went out in the presence of them all, so that all were amazed and glorified God, saying, "We never saw anything like this!"

Matthew the Tax Collector

13Then He went out again by the sea; and all the multitude came to Him, and He taught them.

14As He passed by, He saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax office. And He said to him, "Follow Me." So he arose and followed Him.

15Now it happened, as He was dining in Levi's house, that many tax collectors and sinners also sat together with Jesus and His disciples; for there were many, and they followed Him.

16And when the scribes and[b] Pharisees saw Him eating with the tax collectors and sinners, they said to His disciples, "How is it that He eats and drinks with tax collectors and sinners?"

17When Jesus heard it, He said to them, "Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance."[c]

Jesus Is Questioned About Fasting

18The disciples of John and of the Pharisees were fasting. Then they came and said to Him, "Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but Your disciples do not fast?"

19And Jesus said to them, "Can the friends of the bridegroom fast while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them they cannot fast.

20"But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast in those days.

21"No one sews a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment; or else the new piece pulls away from the old, and the tear is made worse.

22 “And no one puts new wine into old wineskins; or else the new wine bursts the wineskins, the wine is spilled, and the wineskins are ruined. But new wine must be put into new wineskins.”

Jesus Is Lord of the Sabbath

23 Now it happened that He went through the grainfields on the Sabbath; and as they went His disciples began to pluck the heads of grain. No Tolerance for Intolerance 24 And the Pharisees said to Him, “Look, why do they do what is not lawful on the Sabbath?” 25 But He said to them, “Have you never read what David did when he was in need and hungry, he and those with
him:
26 “how he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and ate the showbread, which is not lawful to eat except for the priests, and also gave some to those who were with him?” 27 And He said to them, “The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath.
28 “Therefore the Son of Man is also Lord of the Sabbath.”

Mark 3

Healing on the Sabbath

1 And He entered the synagogue again, and a man was there who had a withered hand.
2 So they watched Him closely, whether He would heal him on the Sabbath, so that they might accuse Him.
3 And He said to the man who had the withered hand,
"Step forward."
4 Then He said to them, "Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do evil, to save life or to kill?" But they kept silent.
5 And when He had looked around at them with anger, being grieved by the hardness of their hearts, He said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." And he stretched it out, and his hand was restored as whole as the other.[a] 6 Then the Pharisees went out and immediately plotted with the Herodians against Him, how they might destroy Him.

A Great Multitude Follows Jesus

7 But Jesus withdrew with His disciples to the sea. And a great multitude from Galilee followed Him, and from Judea 8 and Jerusalem and Idumea and beyond the Jordan; and those from Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they heard how many things He was doing, came to Him.
9 So He told His disciples that a small boat should be kept ready for Him because of the multitude, lest they should crush Him.
10 For He healed many, so that as many as had afflictions pressed about Him to touch Him.

11 And the unclean spirits, whenever they saw Him, fell down before Him and cried out, saying, “You are the Son of God.”
12 But He sternly warned them that they should not make Him known.

The Twelve Apostles

13 And He went up on the mountain and called to Him
those He Himself wanted. And they came to Him.
14 Then He appointed twelve,[b] that they might be with Him and that He might send them out to preach, 15 and to have power to heal sicknesses and[c] to cast out demons:
16 Simon,[d] to whom He gave the name Peter;
17 James the son of Zebedee and John the brother of James, to whom He gave the name Boanerges, that is, “Sons of Thunder”;
18 Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James
the son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Cananite; 19 and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him. And they went into a house.

A House Divided Cannot Stand

20 Then the multitude came together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.
21 But when His own people heard about this, they went out to lay hold of Him, for they said, “He is out of His mind.”
22 And the scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, “He has Beelzebub,” and, “By the ruler of the demons He casts out demons.”
23 So He called them to Himself and said to them in parables: “How can Satan cast out Satan?

24“If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.
25“And if a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand.
26“And if Satan has risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but has an end.
27“No one can enter a strong man’s house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man. And then he will plunder his house.

The Unpardonable Sin

28“Assuredly, I say to you, all sins will be forgiven the sons of men, and whatever blasphemies they may utter; 29“but he who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit never has forgiveness, but is subject to eternal condemnation”— 30because they said, “He has an unclean spirit.”

Jesus’ Mother and Brothers Send for Him

31Then His brothers and His mother came, and standing outside they sent to Him, calling Him.
32And a multitude was sitting around Him; and they said to Him, “Look, Your mother and Your brothers[e] are outside seeking You.”
33But He answered them, saying, “Who is My mother, or My brothers?”
34And He looked around in a circle at those who sat about Him, and said, “Here are My mother and My brothers!
35“For whoever does the will of God is My brother and My sister and mother.”

Mark 4

The Parable of the Sower

1 And again He began to teach by the sea. And a great multitude was gathered to Him, so that He got into a boat and sat in it on the sea; and the whole multitude was on the land facing the sea.
2 Then He taught them many things by parables, and said to them in His teaching: Parables
3 "Listen! Behold, a sower went out to sow. Sharing Our Faith
4 "And it happened, as he sowed, that some seed fell by the wayside; and the birds of the air[a] came and devoured it.
5 "Some fell on stony ground, where it did not have much earth; and immediately it sprang up because it had no depth of earth.
6 "But when the sun was up it was scorched, and because it had no root it withered away.
7 "And some seed fell among thorns; and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no crop.
8 "But other seed fell on good ground and yielded a crop that sprang up, increased and produced: some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some a hundred."
9 And He said to them,[b] "He who has ears to hear, let him hear!"

The Purpose of Parables

10 But when He was alone, those around Him with the twelve asked Him about the parable.
11 And He said to them, "To you it has been given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to those who are outside, all things come in parables,

12 “so that

‘Seeing they may see and not perceive,
And hearing they may hear and not understand;
Lest they should turn,
And their sins be forgiven them.’ ”[c]

The Parable of the Sower Explained

13 And He said to them, “Do you not understand this parable? How then will you understand all the parables?
14 “The sower sows the word.
15 “And these are the ones by the wayside where the word is sown. When they hear, Satan comes immediately and takes away the word that was sown in their hearts.
16 “These likewise are the ones sown on stony ground who, when they hear the word, immediately receive it with gladness;
17 “and they have no root in themselves, and so endure only for a time. Afterward, when tribulation or persecution arises for the word’s sake, immediately they stumble.
18 “Now these are the ones sown among thorns; they are the ones who hear the word, 19 “and the cares of this world, the deceitfulness of riches, and the desires for other things entering in choke the word,
and it becomes unfruitful.
20 “But these are the ones sown on good ground, those who hear the word, accept it, and bear fruit: some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some a hundred.”

Light Under a Basket

21 Also He said to them, “Is a lamp brought to be put under a basket or under a bed? Is it not to be set on a lampstand?

22 “For there is nothing hidden which will not be revealed, nor has anything been kept secret but that it should come to light.
23 “If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear.” 24 Then He said to them, “Take heed what you hear. With the same measure you use, it will be measured to you; and to you who hear, more will be given.
25 “For whoever has, to him more will be given; but whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him.”

The Parable of the Growing Seed

26 And He said, “The kingdom of God is as if a man should scatter seed on the ground, 27 “and should sleep by night and rise by day, and the seed should sprout and grow, he himself does not know how.
28 “For the earth yields crops by itself: first the blade, then the head, after that the full grain in the head.
29 “But when the grain ripens, immediately he puts in the sickle, because the harvest has come.”

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

30 Then He said, “To what shall we liken the kingdom of God? Or with what parable shall we picture it?
31 “It is like a mustard seed which, when it is sown on the ground, is smaller than all the seeds on earth; 32 “but when it is sown, it grows up and becomes greater than all herbs, and shoots out large branches, so that the birds of the air may nest under its shade.”

Jesus’ Use of Parables

33And with many such parables He spoke the word to them as they were able to hear it. Faith Unfolding

34But without a parable He did not speak to them. And when they were alone, He explained all things to His disciples.

Wind and Wave Obey Jesus

35On the same day, when evening had come, He said to them, "Let us cross over to the other side."

36Now when they had left the multitude, they took Him along in the boat as He was. And other little boats were also with Him.

37And a great windstorm arose, and the waves beat into the boat, so that it was already filling.

38But He was in the stern, asleep on a pillow. And they awoke Him and said to Him, "Teacher, do You not care that we are perishing?"

39Then He arose and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Peace, be still!" And the wind ceased and there was a great calm.

40But He said to them, "Why are you so fearful? How is it that you have no faith?"[d]

41And they feared exceedingly, and said to one another, "Who can this be, that even the wind and the sea obey Him!"

Mark 5

A Demon-Possessed Man Healed

1 Then they came to the other side of the sea, to the country of the Gadarenes.[a] 2 And when He had come out of the boat, immediately there met Him out of the tombs a man with an unclean
spirit,
3 who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no one could bind him,[b] not even with chains, 4 because he had often been bound with shackles and chains. And the chains had been pulled apart by him, and the shackles broken in pieces; neither could anyone tame
him.
5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains and in the tombs, crying out and cutting himself with stones.
6 When he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and worshiped
Him.
7 And he cried out with a loud voice and said, "What have I to do with You, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I implore You by God that You do not torment me." 8 For He said to him, "Come out of the man, unclean spirit!"
9 Then He asked him, "What is your name?" And he answered, saying, "My name is Legion; for we are many."
10 Also he begged Him earnestly that He would not send them out of the country.
11 Now a large herd of swine was feeding there near the mountains.
12 So all the demons begged Him, saying, "Send us to the swine, that we may enter them."

13And at once Jesus[c] gave them permission. Then the unclean spirits went out and entered the swine (there were about two thousand); and the herd ran violently down the steep place into the sea, and drowned in the sea.

14So those who fed the swine fled, and they told it in the city and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that had happened.

15Then they came to Jesus, and saw the one who had been demon-possessed and had the legion, sitting and clothed and in his right mind. And they were afraid.

16And those who saw it told them how it happened to him who had been demon-possessed, and about the swine.

17Then they began to plead with Him to depart from their region.

18And when He got into the boat, he who had been demon-possessed begged Him that he might be with Him.

19However, Jesus did not permit him, but said to him, "Go home to your friends, and tell them what great things the Lord has done for you, and how He has had compassion on you."

20And he departed and began to proclaim in Decapolis all that Jesus had done for him; and all marveled.

A Girl Restored to Life and a Woman Healed

21Now when Jesus had crossed over again by boat to the other side, a great multitude gathered to Him; and He was by the sea. Priority People

22And behold, one of the rulers of the synagogue came, Jairus by name. And when he saw Him, he fell at His feet Taking Risks

23and begged Him earnestly, saying, "My little daughter lies at the point of death. Come and lay Your hands on her, that she may be healed, and she will live."

[24]So Jesus went with him, and a great multitude followed Him and thronged Him.
[25]Now a certain woman had a flow of blood for twelve years,
[26]and had suffered many things from many physicians. She had spent all that she had and was no better, but rather grew worse.
[27]When she heard about Jesus, she came behind Him in the crowd and touched His garment.
[28]For she said, “If only I may touch His clothes, I shall be made well.”
[29]Immediately the fountain of her blood was dried up, and she felt in her body that she was healed of the affliction.
[30]And Jesus, immediately knowing in Himself that power had gone out of Him, turned around in the crowd and said, “Who touched My clothes?”
[31]But His disciples said to Him, “You see the multitude thronging You, and You say, ‘Who touched Me?’ ”
[32]And He looked around to see her who had done this thing.
[33]But the woman, fearing and trembling, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell down before Him and told Him the whole truth.
[34]And He said to her, “Daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace, and be healed of your affliction.”
[35]While He was still speaking, some came from the ruler of the synagogue’s house who said, “Your daughter is dead. Why trouble the Teacher any further?”
[36]As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, He said to the ruler of the synagogue, “Do not be afraid; only believe.”
[37]And He permitted no one to follow Him except Peter, James, and John the brother of James.

[38]Then He came to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and saw a tumult and those who wept and wailed loudly.

[39]When He came in, He said to them, “Why make this commotion and weep? The child is not dead, but sleeping.”

[40]And they ridiculed Him. But when He had put them all outside, He took the father and the mother of the child, and those who were with Him, and entered where the child was lying.

[41]Then He took the child by the hand, and said to her, “Talitha, cumi,” which is translated, “Little girl, I say to you, arise.”

[42]Immediately the girl arose and walked, for she was twelve years of age. And they were overcome with great amazement.

[43]But He commanded them strictly that no one should know it, and said that something should be given her to eat.

Mark 6

Jesus Rejected at Nazareth

1 Then He went out from there and came to His own country, and His disciples followed Him.
2 And when the Sabbath had come, He began to teach in the synagogue. And many hearing Him were astonished, saying, “Where did this Man get these things? And what wisdom is this which is given to Him, that such mighty works are performed by His hands!
3 “Is this not the carpenter, the Son of Mary, and brother of James, Joses, Judas, and Simon? And are not His sisters here with us?” So they were offended at Him.
4 But Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor except in his own country, among his own relatives, and in his own house.”
5 Now He could do no mighty work there, except that He laid His hands on a few sick people and healed them.
6 And He marveled because of their unbelief. Then He went about the villages in a circuit, teaching.

Sending Out the Twelve

7 And He called the twelve to Himself, and began to send them out two by two, and gave them power over unclean spirits.
8 He commanded them to take nothing for the journey except a staff—no bag, no bread, no copper in their money belts—
9 but to wear sandals, and not to put on two tunics.
10 Also He said to them, “In whatever place you enter a house, stay there till you depart from that place.

11 “And whoever[a] will not receive you nor hear you, when you depart from there, shake off the dust under your feet as a testimony against them.[b] Assuredly, I say to you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city!”

12 So they went out and preached that people should repent.

13 And they cast out many demons, and anointed with oil many who were sick, and healed them.

John the Baptist Beheaded

14 Now King Herod heard of Him, for His name had become well known. And he said, “John the Baptist is risen from the dead, and therefore these powers are at work in him.”

15 Others said, “It is Elijah.” And others said, “It is the Prophet, or[c] like one of the prophets.”

16 But when Herod heard, he said, “This is John, whom I beheaded; he has been raised from the dead!”

17 For Herod himself had sent and laid hold of John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife; for he had married her.

18 Because John had said to Herod, “It is not lawful for you to have your brother’s wife.”

19 Therefore Herodias held it against him and wanted to kill him, but she could not;

20 for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just and holy man, and he protected him. And when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 Then an opportune day came when Herod on his birthday gave a feast for his nobles, the high officers, and the chief men of Galilee.

22 And when Herodias’ daughter herself came in and danced, and pleased Herod and those who sat with him, the king said to the girl, “Ask me whatever you want, and I will give it to you.”

23 He also swore to her, “Whatever you ask me, I will give you, up to half my kingdom.”

24 So she went out and said to her mother, “What shall I ask?” And she said, “The head of John the Baptist!”

25 Immediately she came in with haste to the king and asked, saying, “I want you to give me at once the head of John the Baptist on a platter.”

26 And the king was exceedingly sorry; yet, because of the oaths and because of those who sat with him, he did not want to refuse her.

27 Immediately the king sent an executioner and commanded his head to be brought. And he went and beheaded him in prison,

28 brought his head on a platter, and gave it to the girl; and the girl gave it to her mother.

29 When his disciples heard of it, they came and took away his corpse and laid it in a tomb.

Feeding the Five Thousand

30 Then the apostles gathered to Jesus and told Him all things, both what they had done and what they had taught.

31 And He said to them, “Come aside by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while.” For there were many coming and going, and they did not even have time to eat.

Rest for a While

32 So they departed to a deserted place in the boat by themselves.

33 But the multitudes[d] saw them departing, and many knew Him and ran there on foot from all the cities. They arrived before them and came together to Him.

34 And Jesus, when He came out, saw a great multitude and was moved with compassion for them, because they were like sheep not having a shepherd. So He began to teach them many things.

35When the day was now far spent, His disciples came to Him and said, “This is a deserted place, and already the hour is late.

36“Send them away, that they may go into the surrounding country and villages and buy themselves bread;[e] for they have nothing to eat.”

37But He answered and said to them, “You give them something to eat.” And they said to Him, “Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii worth of bread and give them something to eat?”

38But He said to them, “How many loaves do you have? Go and see.” And when they found out they said, “Five, and two fish.”

39Then He commanded them to make them all sit down in groups on the green grass.

40So they sat down in ranks, in hundreds and in fifties.

41And when He had taken the five loaves and the two fish, He looked up to heaven, blessed and broke the loaves, and gave them to His disciples to set before them; and the two fish He divided among them all.

42So they all ate and were filled.

43And they took up twelve baskets full of fragments and of the fish.

44Now those who had eaten the loaves were about[f] five thousand men.

Jesus Walks on the Sea

45Immediately He made His disciples get into the boat and go before Him to the other side, to Bethsaida, while He sent the multitude away.

46And when He had sent them away, He departed to the mountain to pray.

47 Now when evening came, the boat was in the middle of the sea; and He was alone on the land.
48 Then He saw them straining at rowing, for the wind was against them. Now about the fourth watch of the night
He came to them, walking on the sea, and would have passed them by.
49 And when they saw Him walking on the sea, they supposed it was a ghost, and cried out; 50 for they all saw Him and were troubled. But immediately He talked with them and said to them, "Be of good cheer! It is I; do not be afraid."
51 Then He went up into the boat to them, and the wind ceased. And they were greatly amazed in themselves beyond measure, and marveled.
52 For they had not understood about the loaves, because their heart was hardened.

Many Touch Him and Are Made Well

53 When they had crossed over, they came to the land of Gennesaret and anchored there.
54 And when they came out of the boat, immediately the people recognized Him, 55 ran through that whole surrounding region, and began to carry about on beds those who were sick to wherever they heard He was.
56 Wherever He entered, into villages, cities, or the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and begged Him that they might just touch the hem of His garment.
And as many as touched Him were made well.

Mark 7

Defilement Comes from Within

1 Then the Pharisees and some of the scribes came together to Him, having come from Jerusalem.
2 Now when[a] they saw some of His disciples eat bread with defiled, that is, with unwashed hands, they found fault.
3 For the Pharisees and all the Jews do not eat unless they wash their hands in a special way, holding the tradition of the elders.
4 When they come from the marketplace, they do not eat unless they wash. And there are many other things which they have received and hold, like the washing of cups, pitchers, copper vessels, and couches.
5 Then the Pharisees and scribes asked Him, "Why do Your disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashed hands?" 6 He answered and said to them, "Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written:

> 'This people honors Me with their lips,
> But their heart is far from Me.
> 7 And in vain they worship Me,
> Teaching as doctrines the commandments of > men.'[b]

8 "For laying aside the commandment of God, you hold the tradition of men[c]—the washing of pitchers and cups, and many other such things you do." 9 He said to them, "All too well you reject the commandment of God, that you may keep your tradition.

Honor Your Parents

10 “For Moses said, ‘Honor your father and your mother’;[d] and, ‘He who curses father or mother, let him be put to death.’[e]

11 “But you say, ‘If a man says to his father or mother, “Whatever profit you might have received from me is Corban”—’ (that is, a gift to God),

12 “then you no longer let him do anything for his father or his mother,

13 “making the word of God of no effect through your tradition which you have handed down. And many such things you do.”

14 When He had called all the multitude to Himself, He said to them, “Hear Me, everyone, and understand:

15 “There is nothing that enters a man from outside which can defile him; but the things which come out of him, those are the things that defile a man.

16 “If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear!”[f]

17 When He had entered a house away from the crowd, His disciples asked Him concerning the parable.

18 So He said to them, “Are you thus without understanding also? Do you not perceive that whatever enters a man from outside cannot defile him,

19 “because it does not enter his heart but his stomach, and is eliminated, thus purifying all foods?”[g]

20 And He said, “What comes out of a man, that defiles a man.

21 “For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, 22 “thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lewdness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness.

23 “All these evil things come from within and defile a man.”

A Gentile Shows Her Faith

24 From there He arose and went to the region of Tyre and Sidon.[h] And He entered a house and wanted no one to know it, but He could not be hidden. Jesus and Ethnicity

25 For a woman whose young daughter had an unclean spirit heard about Him, and she came and fell at His feet.

26 The woman was a Greek, a Syro-Phoenician by birth, and she kept asking Him to cast the demon out of her daughter.

27 But Jesus said to her, "Let the children be filled first, for it is not good to take the children's bread and throw it to the little dogs."

28 And she answered and said to Him, "Yes, Lord, yet even the little dogs under the table eat from the children's crumbs."

29 Then He said to her, "For this saying go your way; the demon has gone out of your daughter."

30 And when she had come to her house, she found the demon gone out, and her daughter lying on the bed.

Jesus Heals a Deaf-Mute

31 Again, departing from the region of Tyre and Sidon, He came through the midst of the region of Decapolis to the Sea of Galilee.

32 Then they brought to Him one who was deaf and had an impediment in his speech, and they begged Him to put His hand on him.

33 And He took him aside from the multitude, and put His fingers in his ears, and He spat and touched his tongue.

34 Then, looking up to heaven, He sighed, and said to him, "Ephphatha," that is, "Be opened."

35 Immediately his ears were opened, and the impediment of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke plainly.

[36]Then He commanded them that they should tell no one; but the more He commanded them, the more widely they proclaimed it.

[37]And they were astonished beyond measure, saying, “He has done all things well. He makes both the deaf to hear and the mute to speak.”

Mark 8

Feeding the Four Thousand

1In those days, the multitude being very great and having nothing to eat, Jesus called His disciples to Him and said to
them,
2"I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now continued with Me three days and have nothing to eat.
3"And if I send them away hungry to their own houses, they will faint on the way; for some of them have come from afar."
4Then His disciples answered Him, "How can one satisfy these people with bread here in the wilderness?" 5He asked them, "How many loaves do you have?" And they said, "Seven."
6So He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground. And He took the seven loaves and gave thanks, broke them and gave them to His disciples to set before them; and they set them before the multitude.
7They also had a few small fish; and having blessed them,
He said to set them also before them.
8So they ate and were filled, and they took up seven large baskets of leftover fragments.
9Now those who had eaten were about four thousand.
And He sent them away, 10immediately got into the boat with His disciples, and came to the region of Dalmanutha.

The Pharisees Seek a Sign

11Then the Pharisees came out and began to dispute with Him, seeking from Him a sign from heaven, testing Him. The

Miracles of Jesus

12 But He sighed deeply in His spirit, and said, “Why does this generation seek a sign? Assuredly, I say to you, no sign shall be given to this generation.”

Beware of the Leaven of the Pharisees and Herod

13 And He left them, and getting into the boat again, departed to the other side.
14 Now the disciples[a] had forgotten to take bread, and they did not have more than one loaf with them in the boat.
15 Then He charged them, saying, “Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod.” 16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, “It is because we have no bread.”
17 But Jesus, being aware of it, said to them, “Why do you reason because you have no bread? Do you not yet perceive nor understand? Is your heart still[b] hardened?
18 “Having eyes, do you not see? And having ears, do you not hear? And do you not remember?
19 “When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments did you take up?” They said to Him, “Twelve.” 20 “Also, when I broke the seven for the four thousand, how many large baskets full of fragments did you take up?”
And they said, “Seven.”
21 So He said to them, “How is it you do not understand?”

A Blind Man Healed at Bethsaida

22 Then He came to Bethsaida; and they brought a blind man to Him, and begged Him to touch him.
23 So He took the blind man by the hand and led him out of the town. And when He had spit on his eyes and put His hands on him, He asked him if he saw anything.

[24]And he looked up and said, “I see men like trees, walking.”
[25]Then He put His hands on his eyes again and made him look up. And he was restored and saw everyone clearly.
[26]Then He sent him away to his house, saying, “Neither go into the town, nor tell anyone in the town.”[c]

Peter Confesses Jesus as the Christ

27Now Jesus and His disciples went out to the towns of Caesarea Philippi; and on the road He asked His disciples, saying to them, “Who do men say that I am?”
[28]So they answered, “John the Baptist; but some say, Elijah; and others, one of the prophets.”
[29]He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?” Peter answered and said to Him, “You are the Christ.”
[30]Then He strictly warned them that they should tell no one about Him.

Jesus Predicts His Death and Resurrection

31And He began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.
[32]He spoke this word openly. Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him.
[33]But when He had turned around and looked at His disciples, He rebuked Peter, saying, “Get behind Me, Satan! For you are not mindful of the things of God, but the things of men.”

Take Up the Cross and Follow Him

34When He had called the people to Himself, with His disciples also, He said to them, “Whoever desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me.

35 “For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake and the gospel’s will save it.
36 “For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world, and loses his own soul?
37 “Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul?
38 “For whoever is ashamed of Me and My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him the Son of Man also will be ashamed when He comes in the glory of His Father with the holy angels.”

Mark 9

1And He said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you that there are some standing here who will not taste death till they see the kingdom of God present with power.” Works in Progress

Jesus Transfigured on the Mount

2Now after six days Jesus took Peter, James, and John, and led them up on a high mountain apart by themselves; and He was transfigured before them.

3His clothes became shining, exceedingly white, like snow, such as no launderer on earth can whiten them.

4And Elijah appeared to them with Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.

5Then Peter answered and said to Jesus, “Rabbi, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles: one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah”—

6because he did not know what to say, for they were greatly afraid.

7And a cloud came and overshadowed them; and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is My beloved Son. Hear Him!”

8Suddenly, when they had looked around, they saw no one anymore, but only Jesus with themselves.

9Now as they came down from the mountain, He commanded them that they should tell no one the things they had seen, till the Son of Man had risen from the dead.

10So they kept this word to themselves, questioning what the rising from the dead meant.

11And they asked Him, saying, “Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?”

12 Then He answered and told them, “Indeed, Elijah is coming first and restores all things. And how is it written concerning the Son of Man, that He must suffer many things and be treated with contempt?
13 “But I say to you that Elijah has also come, and they did to him whatever they wished, as it is written of him.”

A Boy Is Healed

14 And when He came to the disciples, He saw a great multitude around them, and scribes disputing with them.
15 Immediately, when they saw Him, all the people were greatly amazed, and running to Him, greeted Him.
16 And He asked the scribes, “What are you discussing
with them?”
17 Then one of the crowd answered and said, “Teacher, I brought You my son, who has a mute spirit.
18 “And wherever it seizes him, it throws him down; he foams at the mouth, gnashes his teeth, and becomes rigid.
So I spoke to Your disciples, that they should cast it out, but they could not.”
19 He answered him and said, “O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him to Me.”
20 Then they brought him to Him. And when he saw Him, immediately the spirit convulsed him, and he fell on the ground and wallowed, foaming at the mouth.
21 So He asked his father, “How long has this been happening to him?” And he said, “From childhood.
22 “And often he has thrown him both into the fire and into the water to destroy him. But if You can do anything, have compassion on us and help us.” 23 Jesus said to him, “If you can believe,[a] all things are possible to him who believes.”

24 Immediately the father of the child cried out and said with tears, “Lord, I believe; help my unbelief!”
25 When Jesus saw that the people came running together,
He rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, “Deaf and dumb spirit, I command you, come out of him and enter him no more!”
26 Then the spirit cried out, convulsed him greatly, and came out of him. And he became as one dead, so that many said, “He is dead.”
27 But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up, and he arose.
28 And when He had come into the house, His disciples asked Him privately, “Why could we not cast it out?” 29 So He said to them, “This kind can come out by nothing but prayer and fasting.”[b]

Jesus Again Predicts His Death and Resurrection

30 Then they departed from there and passed through Galilee, and He did not want anyone to know it.
31 For He taught His disciples and said to them, “The Son of Man is being betrayed into the hands of men, and they will kill Him. And after He is killed, He will rise the third
day.”
32 But they did not understand this saying, and were afraid to ask Him.

Who Is the Greatest?

33 Then He came to Capernaum. And when He was in the house He asked them, “What was it you disputed among yourselves on the road?”
34 But they kept silent, for on the road they had disputed among themselves who would be the greatest.

35 And He sat down, called the twelve, and said to them,
"If anyone desires to be first, he shall be last of all and servant of all."
36 Then He took a little child and set him in the midst of them. And when He had taken him in His arms, He said to
them,
37 "Whoever receives one of these little children in My name receives Me; and whoever receives Me, receives not Me but Him who sent Me."

Jesus Forbids Sectarianism

38 Now John answered Him, saying, "Teacher, we saw someone who does not follow us casting out demons in Your name, and we forbade him because he does not follow us." 39 But Jesus said, "Do not forbid him, for no one who works a miracle in My name can soon afterward speak evil of Me.
40 "For he who is not against us is on our[c] side.
41 "For whoever gives you a cup of water to drink in My name, because you belong to Christ, assuredly, I say to you,
he will by no means lose his reward.

Jesus Warns of Offenses

42 "But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to stumble, it would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were thrown into the sea.
43 "If your hand causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life maimed, rather than having two hands, to go to hell, into the fire that shall never be quenched—
44 "where

'Their worm does not die,

And the fire is not quenched.’[d]

45 “And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life lame, rather than having two feet, to be cast into hell, into the fire that shall never be quenched—46 “where

‘Their worm does not die
And the fire is not quenched.’[e]

47 “And if your eye causes you to sin, pluck it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes, to be cast into hell fire—48 “where

‘Their worm does not die,
And the fire is not quenched.’[f]

Tasteless Salt Is Worthless

49 “For everyone will be seasoned with fire,[g] and every sacrifice will be seasoned with salt.
50 “Salt is good, but if the salt loses its flavor, how will you season it? Have salt in yourselves, and have peace with one another.”

Mark 10

Marriage and Divorce

1 Then He arose from there and came to the region of Judea by the other side of the Jordan. And multitudes gathered to Him again, and as He was accustomed, He taught them
again.
2 The Pharisees came and asked Him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?” testing Him.
3 And He answered and said to them, “What did Moses command you?”
4 They said, “Moses permitted a man to write a certificate of divorce, and to dismiss her.” 5 And Jesus answered and said to them, “Because of the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept.
6 “But from the beginning of the creation, God ‘made them male and female.’[a] 7 ‘For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife,
8 ‘and the two shall become one flesh’;[b] so then they are no longer two, but one flesh.
9 “Therefore what God has joined together, let not man separate.”
10 In the house His disciples also asked Him again about the same matter.
11 So He said to them, “Whoever divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery against her.
12 “And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another, she commits adultery.”

Jesus Blesses Little Children

13Then they brought little children to Him, that He might touch them; but the disciples rebuked those who brought them.

14But when Jesus saw it, He was greatly displeased and said to them, "Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of God.

15"Assuredly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will by no means enter it."

16And He took them up in His arms, laid His hands on them, and blessed them.

Jesus Counsels the Rich Young Ruler

17Now as He was going out on the road, one came running, knelt before Him, and asked Him, "Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?" The Man Who Almost Had It All

18So Jesus said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good but One, that is, God.

19"You know the commandments: 'Do not commit adultery,' 'Do not murder,' 'Do not steal,' 'Do not bear false witness,' 'Do not defraud,' 'Honor your father and your mother.' "[c]

20And he answered and said to Him, "Teacher, all these things I have kept from my youth."

21Then Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, "One thing you lack: Go your way, sell whatever you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, take up the cross, and follow Me."

22But he was sad at this word, and went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions.

With God All Things Are Possible

23Then Jesus looked around and said to His disciples, “How hard it is for those who have riches to enter the kingdom of God!”

24And the disciples were astonished at His words. But Jesus answered again and said to them, “Children, how hard it is for those who trust in riches[d] to enter the kingdom of God!

25“It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.”

26And they were greatly astonished, saying among themselves, “Who then can be saved?”

27But Jesus looked at them and said, “With men it is impossible, but not with God; for with God all things are possible.”

28Then Peter began to say to Him, “See, we have left all and followed You.”

29So Jesus answered and said, “Assuredly, I say to you, there is no one who has left house or brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife[e] or children or lands, for My sake and the gospel’s, 30“who shall not receive a hundredfold now in this time—houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, with persecutions—and in the age to come, eternal life.

31“But many who are first will be last, and the last first.”

Jesus a Third Time Predicts His Death and Resurrection

32Now they were on the road, going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was going before them; and they were amazed. And as they followed they were afraid. Then He took the twelve aside again and began to tell them the things that would happen to Him: No Better Than Gentiles

33“Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and to the scribes; and they will condemn Him to death and deliver Him to the Gentiles;
34“and they will mock Him, and scourge Him, and spit on Him, and kill Him. And the third day He will rise again.”

Greatness Is Serving

35Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to Him, saying, “Teacher, we want You to do for us whatever we ask.”
36And He said to them, “What do you want Me to do for you?”
37They said to Him, “Grant us that we may sit, one on Your right hand and the other on Your left, in Your glory.”
38But Jesus said to them, “You do not know what you ask. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?”
39They said to Him, “We are able.” So Jesus said to them, “You will indeed drink the cup that I drink, and with the baptism I am baptized with you will be baptized;
40“but to sit on My right hand and on My left is not Mine to give, but it is for those for whom it is prepared.”
41And when the ten heard it, they began to be greatly displeased with James and John.
42But Jesus called them to Himself and said to them, “You know that those who are considered rulers over the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.
43“Yet it shall not be so among you; but whoever desires to become great among you shall be your servant.
44“And whoever of you desires to be first shall be slave of all.

45“For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many.”

Jesus Heals Blind Bartimaeus

46Now they came to Jericho. As He went out of Jericho with His disciples and a great multitude, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the road begging.
47And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out and say, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!”
48Then many warned him to be quiet; but he cried out all the more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”
49So Jesus stood still and commanded him to be called.
Then they called the blind man, saying to him, “Be of good cheer. Rise, He is calling you.”
50And throwing aside his garment, he rose and came to Jesus.
51So Jesus answered and said to him, “What do you want Me to do for you?” The blind man said to Him, “Rabboni, that I may receive my sight.” 52Then Jesus said to him, “Go your way; your faith has made you well.” And immediately he received his sight and followed Jesus on the road.

Mark 11

The Triumphal Entry

1 Now when they drew near Jerusalem, to Bethphage[a] and Bethany, at the Mount of Olives, He sent two of His disciples;
2 and He said to them, "Go into the village opposite you;
and as soon as you have entered it you will find a colt tied,
on which no one has sat. Loose it and bring it.
3 "And if anyone says to you, 'Why are you doing this?'
say, 'The Lord has need of it,' and immediately he will send it here."
4 So they went their way, and found the[b] colt tied by the door outside on the street, and they loosed it.
5 But some of those who stood there said to them, "What are you doing, loosing the colt?"
6 And they spoke to them just as Jesus had commanded.
So they let them go.
7 Then they brought the colt to Jesus and threw their clothes on it, and He sat on it.
8 And many spread their clothes on the road, and others cut down leafy branches from the trees and spread them on the road.
9 Then those who went before and those who followed cried out, saying:

"Hosanna!
'Blessed is He who comes in the name of the LORD!'[c]
10 Blessed is the kingdom of our father David
That comes in the name of the Lord![d] Hosanna in the highest!"

11 And Jesus went into Jerusalem and into the temple. So when He had looked around at all things, as the hour was already late, He went out to Bethany with the twelve.

The Fig Tree Withered

12 Now the next day, when they had come out from Bethany, He was hungry. The Fig Tree and the Mountain 13 And seeing from afar a fig tree having leaves, He went to see if perhaps He would find something on it. When He came to it, He found nothing but leaves, for it was not the season for figs.
14 In response Jesus said to it, "Let no one eat fruit from you ever again." And His disciples heard it.

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

15 So they came to Jerusalem. Then Jesus went into the temple and began to drive out those who bought and sold in the temple, and overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of those who sold doves.
16 And He would not allow anyone to carry wares through the temple.
17 Then He taught, saying to them, "Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations'?[e] But you have made it a 'den of thieves.' "[f] 18 And the scribes and chief priests heard it and sought how they might destroy Him; for they feared Him, because all the people were astonished at His teaching.
19 When evening had come, He went out of the city.

The Lesson of the Withered Fig Tree

20 Now in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots.

21 And Peter, remembering, said to Him, “Rabbi, look! The fig tree which You cursed has withered away.” 22 So Jesus answered and said to them, “Have faith in God.
23 “For assuredly, I say to you, whoever says to this mountain, ‘Be removed and be cast into the sea,’ and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that those things he says will be done, he will have whatever he says.
24 “Therefore I say to you, whatever things you ask when you pray, believe that you receive them, and you will have
them.

Forgiveness and Prayer

25 “And whenever you stand praying, if you have anything against anyone, forgive him, that your Father in heaven may also forgive you your trespasses.
26 “But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your trespasses.”[g]

Jesus’ Authority Questioned

27 Then they came again to Jerusalem. And as He was walking in the temple, the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders came to Him.
28 And they said to Him, “By what authority are You doing these things? And who gave You this authority to do these things?”
29 But Jesus answered and said to them, “I also will ask you one question; then answer Me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things:
30 “The baptism of John—was it from heaven or from men? Answer Me.” 31 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’

32 “But if we say, ‘From men’ ”—they feared the people, for all counted John to have been a prophet indeed.
33 So they answered and said to Jesus, “We do not know.”
And Jesus answered and said to them, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

Mark 12

The Parable of the Wicked Vinedressers

1 Then He began to speak to them in parables: “A man planted a vineyard and set a hedge around it, dug a place for the wine vat and built a tower. And he leased it to vinedressers and went into a far country.
2 “Now at vintage-time he sent a servant to the vinedressers, that he might receive some of the fruit of the vineyard from the vinedressers.
3 “And they took him and beat him and sent him away empty-handed.
4 “Again he sent them another servant, and at him they threw stones,[a] wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully treated.
5 “And again he sent another, and him they killed; and many others, beating some and killing some.
6 “Therefore still having one son, his beloved, he also sent him to them last, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’ 7 “But those vinedressers said among themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.’
8 “So they took him and killed him and cast him out of the vineyard.
9 “Therefore what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the vinedressers, and give the vineyard to others.
10 “Have you not even read this Scripture:

‘The stone which the builders rejected
Has become the chief cornerstone.
11 This was the LORD’s doing,

And it is marvelous in our eyes'? "[b]

12 And they sought to lay hands on Him, but feared the multitude, for they knew He had spoken the parable against them. So they left Him and went away.

The Pharisees: Is It Lawful to Pay Taxes to Caesar?

13 Then they sent to Him some of the Pharisees and the Herodians, to catch Him in His words.

14 When they had come, they said to Him, "Teacher, we know that You are true, and care about no one; for You do not regard the person of men, but teach the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not? Taxes

15 "Shall we pay, or shall we not pay?" But He, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, "Why do you test Me? Bring Me a denarius that I may see it."

16 So they brought it. And He said to them, "Whose image and inscription is this?" They said to Him, "Caesar's."

17 And Jesus answered and said to them, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." And they marveled at Him.

The Sadducees: What About the Resurrection?

18 Then some Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to Him; and they asked Him, saying:

19 "Teacher, Moses wrote to us that if a man's brother dies, and leaves his wife behind, and leaves no children, his brother should take his wife and raise up offspring for his brother.

20 "Now there were seven brothers. The first took a wife; and dying, he left no offspring.

21 "And the second took her, and he died; nor did he leave any offspring. And the third likewise.

22 “So the seven had her and left no offspring. Last of all the woman died also.
23 “Therefore, in the resurrection, when they rise, whose wife will she be? For all seven had her as wife.” 24 Jesus answered and said to them, “Are you not therefore mistaken, because you do not know the Scriptures nor the power of God?
25 “For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven.
26 “But concerning the dead, that they rise, have you not read in the book of Moses, in the burning bush passage, how God spoke to him, saying, ‘I am the God of Abraham,
the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’?[c] 27 “He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living. You are therefore greatly mistaken.”

The Scribes: Which Is the First Commandment of All?

28 Then one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, perceiving[d] that He had answered them well, asked Him, “Which is the first commandment of all?” 29 Jesus answered him, “The first of all the commandments is: ‘Hear, O Israel, the LORD our God, the LORD is one.
30 ‘And you shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind, and with all your strength.’[e] This is the first commandment.[f] 31 “And the second, like it, is this: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’[g] There is no other commandment greater than these.”
32 So the scribe said to Him, “Well said, Teacher. You have spoken the truth, for there is one God, and there is no other but He.

33 “And to love Him with all the heart, with all the understanding, with all the soul,[h] and with all the strength, and to love one’s neighbor as oneself, is more than all the whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.”
34 Now when Jesus saw that he answered wisely, He said to him, “You are not far from the kingdom of God.” But after that no one dared question Him.

Jesus: How Can David Call His Descendant Lord?

35 Then Jesus answered and said, while He taught in the temple, “How is it that the scribes say that the Christ is the Son of David?
36 “For David himself said by the Holy Spirit:

> ‘The LORD said to my Lord,
> “Sit at My right hand,
> Till I make Your enemies Your footstool.” [i]

37 “Therefore David himself calls Him ‘Lord’; how is He then his Son?” And the common people heard Him gladly.

Beware of the Scribes

38 Then He said to them in His teaching, “Beware of the scribes, who desire to go around in long robes, love greetings in the marketplaces, 39 “the best seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts, 40 “who devour widows’ houses, and for a pretense make long prayers. These will receive greater condemnation.”

The Widow’s Two Mites

41 Now Jesus sat opposite the treasury and saw how the people put money into the treasury. And many who were rich put in much. Moral Value of Offerings

42 Then one poor widow came and threw in two mites,[j] which make a quadrans.
43 So He called His disciples to Himself and said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you that this poor widow has put in more than all those who have given to the treasury;
44 “for they all put in out of their abundance, but she out of her poverty put in all that she had, her whole livelihood.”

Mark 13

Jesus Predicts the Destruction of the Temple

1 Then as He went out of the temple, one of His disciples said to Him, “Teacher, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here!” Preparing for Doomsday

2 And Jesus answered and said to him, “Do you see these great buildings? Not one stone shall be left upon another, that shall not be thrown down.”

The Signs of the Times and the End of the Age

3 Now as He sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter, James, John, and Andrew asked Him privately,

4 “Tell us, when will these things be? And what will be the sign when all these things will be fulfilled?”

5 And Jesus, answering them, began to say: “Take heed that no one deceives you.

6 “For many will come in My name, saying, ‘I am He,’ and will deceive many.

7 “But when you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be troubled; for such things must happen, but the end is not yet.

8 “For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. And there will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and troubles.[a] These are the beginnings of sorrows.

9 “But watch out for yourselves, for they will deliver you up to councils, and you will be beaten in the synagogues.
You will be brought[b] before rulers and kings for My sake,
for a testimony to them.

10 “And the gospel must first be preached to all the nations.
11 “But when they arrest you and deliver you up, do not worry beforehand, or premeditate[c] what you will speak. But whatever is given you in that hour, speak that; for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.
12 “Now brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child; and children will rise up against parents and cause them to be put to death.
13 “And you will be hated by all for My name’s sake. But he who endures to the end shall be saved.

The Great Tribulation

14 “So when you see the ‘abomination of desolation,’[d] spoken of by Daniel the prophet,[e] standing where it ought not” (let the reader understand), “then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.
15 “Let him who is on the housetop not go down into the house, nor enter to take anything out of his house.
16 “And let him who is in the field not go back to get his clothes.
17 “But woe to those who are pregnant and to those who are nursing babies in those days!
18 “And pray that your flight may not be in winter.
19 “For in those days there will be tribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the creation which God created until this time, nor ever shall be.
20 “And unless the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh would be saved; but for the elect’s sake, whom He chose, He shortened the days.
21 “Then if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ!’
or, ‘Look, He is there!’ do not believe it.
22 “For false christs and false prophets will rise and show signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect.

23 “But take heed; see, I have told you all things beforehand.

The Coming of the Son of Man

24 “But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; 25 “the stars of heaven will fall, and the powers in the heavens will be shaken.
26 “Then they will see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.
27 “And then He will send His angels, and gather together His elect from the four winds, from the farthest part of earth to the farthest part of heaven.

The Parable of the Fig Tree

28 “Now learn this parable from the fig tree: When its branch has already become tender, and puts forth leaves,
you know that summer is near.
29 “So you also, when you see these things happening,
know that it[f] is near—at the doors!
30 “Assuredly, I say to you, this generation will by no means pass away till all these things take place.
31 “Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away.

No One Knows the Day or Hour

32 “But of that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father.
33 “Take heed, watch and pray; for you do not know when the time is. A Kingdom Perspective 34 “It is like a man going to a far country, who left his house and gave authority to his servants, and to each his work, and commanded the doorkeeper to watch.

35 “Watch therefore, for you do not know when the master of the house is coming—in the evening, at midnight, at the crowing of the rooster, or in the morning—36 “lest, coming suddenly, he find you sleeping.
37 “And what I say to you, I say to all: Watch!”

Mark 14

The Plot to Kill Jesus

1 After two days it was the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread. And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take Him by trickery and put Him to death.
2 But they said, “Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar of the people.”

The Anointing at Bethany

3 And being in Bethany at the house of Simon the leper, as He sat at the table, a woman came having an alabaster flask of very costly oil of spikenard. Then she broke the flask and poured it on His head.
4 But there were some who were indignant among themselves, and said, “Why was this fragrant oil wasted?
5 “For it might have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor.” And they criticized her sharply.
6 But Jesus said, “Let her alone. Why do you trouble her?
She has done a good work for Me.
7 “For you have the poor with you always, and whenever you wish you may do them good; but Me you do not have always.
8 “She has done what she could. She has come beforehand to anoint My body for burial.
9 “Assuredly, I say to you, wherever this gospel is preached in the whole world, what this woman has done
will also be told as a memorial to her.”

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

10Then Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went to the chief priests to betray Him to them.

11And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. So he sought how he might conveniently betray Him.

Jesus Celebrates the Passover with His Disciples

12Now on the first day of Unleavened Bread, when they killed the Passover lamb, His disciples said to Him, "Where do You want us to go and prepare, that You may eat the Passover?"

13And He sent out two of His disciples and said to them, "Go into the city, and a man will meet you carrying a pitcher of water; follow him.

14"Wherever he goes in, say to the master of the house, 'The Teacher says, "Where is the guest room in which I may eat the Passover with My disciples?" '

15"Then he will show you a large upper room, furnished and prepared; there make ready for us."

16So His disciples went out, and came into the city, and found it just as He had said to them; and they prepared the Passover.

17In the evening He came with the twelve.

18Now as they sat and ate, Jesus said, "Assuredly, I say to you, one of you who eats with Me will betray Me."

19And they began to be sorrowful, and to say to Him one by one, "Is it I?" And another said, "Is it I?"[a]

20He answered and said to them, "It is one of the twelve, who dips with Me in the dish.

21"The Son of Man indeed goes just as it is written of Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been good for that man if he had never been born."

Jesus Institutes the Lord's Supper

22And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to them and said, "Take, eat;[b] this is My body."
23Then He took the cup, and when He had given thanks He gave it to them, and they all drank from it.
24And He said to them, "This is My blood of the new[c] covenant, which is shed for many.
25"Assuredly, I say to you, I will no longer drink of the fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God."
26And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial

27Then Jesus said to them, "All of you will be made to stumble because of Me this night,[d] for it is written:

> 'I will strike the Shepherd,
> And the sheep will be scattered.'[e]

28"But after I have been raised, I will go before you to Galilee."
29Peter said to Him, "Even if all are made to stumble, yet I will not be."
30Jesus said to him, "Assuredly, I say to you that today, even this night, before the rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times."
31But he spoke more vehemently, "If I have to die with You, I will not deny You!" And they all said likewise.

The Prayer in the Garden

32Then they came to a place which was named Gethsemane; and He said to His disciples, “Sit here while I pray.”
33And He took Peter, James, and John with Him, and He began to be troubled and deeply distressed.
34Then He said to them, “My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here and watch.” 35He went a little farther, and fell on the ground, and prayed that if it were possible, the hour might pass from
Him.
36And He said, “Abba, Father, all things are possible for You. Take this cup away from Me; nevertheless, not what I will, but what You will.”
37Then He came and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “Simon, are you sleeping? Could you not watch one hour?
38“Watch and pray, lest you enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”
39Again He went away and prayed, and spoke the same words.
40And when He returned, He found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy; and they did not know what to answer Him.
41Then He came the third time and said to them, “Are you still sleeping and resting? It is enough! The hour has come; behold, the Son of Man is being betrayed into the hands of sinners.
42“Rise, let us be going. See, My betrayer is at hand.”

Betrayal and Arrest in Gethsemane

43And immediately, while He was still speaking, Judas, one of the twelve, with a great multitude with swords and clubs, came from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44 Now His betrayer had given them a signal, saying, “Whomever I kiss, He is the One; seize Him and lead Him away safely.”
45 As soon as he had come, immediately he went up to Him and said to Him, “Rabbi, Rabbi!” and kissed Him.
46 Then they laid their hands on Him and took Him.
47 And one of those who stood by drew his sword and struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.
48 Then Jesus answered and said to them, “Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs to take Me?
49 “I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and you did not seize Me. But the Scriptures must be fulfilled.”
50 Then they all forsook Him and fled.

A Young Man Flees Naked

51 Now a certain young man followed Him, having a linen cloth thrown around his naked body. And the young men laid hold of him,
52 and he left the linen cloth and fled from them naked.

Jesus Faces the Sanhedrin

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest; and with him were assembled all the chief priests, the elders, and the scribes. Marks of Faith 54 But Peter followed Him at a distance, right into the courtyard of the high priest. And he sat with the servants and warmed himself at the fire.
55 Now the chief priests and all the council sought testimony against Jesus to put Him to death, but found none.
56 For many bore false witness against Him, but their testimonies did not agree.

57 Then some rose up and bore false witness against Him,
saying,
58 "We heard Him say, 'I will destroy this temple made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.' "
59 But not even then did their testimony agree.
60 And the high priest stood up in the midst and asked Jesus, saying, "Do You answer nothing? What is it these men testify against You?"
61 But He kept silent and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked Him, saying to Him, "Are You the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?"
62 Jesus said, "I am. And you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Power, and coming with the clouds of heaven."
63 Then the high priest tore his clothes and said, "What further need do we have of witnesses?
64 "You have heard the blasphemy! What do you think?"
And they all condemned Him to be deserving of death.
65 Then some began to spit on Him, and to blindfold Him, and to beat Him, and to say to Him, "Prophesy!" And the officers struck Him with the palms of their hands.[f]

Peter Denies Jesus, and Weeps

66 Now as Peter was below in the courtyard, one of the servant girls of the high priest came.
67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked at him and said, "You also were with Jesus of Nazareth." 68 But he denied it, saying, "I neither know nor understand what you are saying." And he went out on the porch, and a rooster crowed.
69 And the servant girl saw him again, and began to say to those who stood by, "This is one of them."

[70]But he denied it again. And a little later those who stood by said to Peter again, “Surely you are one of them; for you are a Galilean, and your speech shows it.”[g]

[71]Then he began to curse and swear, “I do not know this Man of whom you speak!”

[72]A second time the rooster crowed. Then Peter called to mind the word that Jesus had said to him, “Before the rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times.” And when he thought about it, he wept.

Mark 15

Jesus Faces Pilate

1 Immediately, in the morning, the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council; and they bound Jesus, led Him away, and delivered Him to Pilate.
2 Then Pilate asked Him, “Are You the King of the Jews?”
He answered and said to him, “It is as you say.”
3 And the chief priests accused Him of many things, but He answered nothing.
4 Then Pilate asked Him again, saying, “Do You answer nothing? See how many things they testify against You!”[a] 5 But Jesus still answered nothing, so that Pilate marveled.

Taking the Place of Barabbas

6 Now at the feast he was accustomed to releasing one prisoner to them, whomever they requested.
7 And there was one named Barabbas, who was chained with his fellow rebels; they had committed murder in the rebellion.
8 Then the multitude, crying aloud,[b] began to ask him to do just as he had always done for them.
9 But Pilate answered them, saying, “Do you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?” 10 For he knew that the chief priests had handed Him over because of envy.
11 But the chief priests stirred up the crowd, so that he should rather release Barabbas to them.
12 Pilate answered and said to them again, “What then do you want me to do with Him whom you call the King of the Jews?”

13So they cried out again, “Crucify Him!”

14Then Pilate said to them, “Why, what evil has He done?” But they cried out all the more, “Crucify Him!”

15So Pilate, wanting to gratify the crowd, released Barabbas to them; and he delivered Jesus, after he had scourged Him, to be crucified.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

16Then the soldiers led Him away into the hall called Praetorium, and they called together the whole garrison.

17And they clothed Him with purple; and they twisted a crown of thorns, put it on His head,

18and began to salute Him, “Hail, King of the Jews!”

19Then they struck Him on the head with a reed and spat on Him; and bowing the knee, they worshiped Him.

20And when they had mocked Him, they took the purple off Him, put His own clothes on Him, and led Him out to crucify Him.

The King on a Cross

21Then they compelled a certain man, Simon a Cyrenian, the father of Alexander and Rufus, as he was coming out of the country and passing by, to bear His cross.

22And they brought Him to the place Golgotha, which is translated, Place of a Skull.

23Then they gave Him wine mingled with myrrh to drink, but He did not take it.

24And when they crucified Him, they divided His garments, casting lots for them to determine what every man should take.

25Now it was the third hour, and they crucified Him.

26 And the inscription of His accusation was written above:

THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27 With Him they also crucified two robbers, one on His right and the other on His left.
28 So the Scripture was fulfilled[c] which says, "And He was numbered with the transgressors."[d] 29 And those who passed by blasphemed Him, wagging their heads and saying, "Aha! You who destroy the temple and build it in three days,
30 "save Yourself, and come down from the cross!"
31 Likewise the chief priests also, mocking among themselves with the scribes, said, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save.
32 "Let the Christ, the King of Israel, descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe."[e] Even those who were crucified with Him reviled Him.

Jesus Dies on the Cross

33 Now when the sixth hour had come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.
34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?" which is translated,
"My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?"[f] 35 Some of those who stood by, when they heard that, said, "Look, He is calling for Elijah!"
36 Then someone ran and filled a sponge full of sour wine, put it on a reed, and offered it to Him to drink, saying, "Let Him alone; let us see if Elijah will come to take Him down." 37 And Jesus cried out with a loud voice, and breathed His last.

38 Then the veil of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom.
39 So when the centurion, who stood opposite Him, saw that He cried out like this and breathed His last,[g] he said, “Truly this Man was the Son of God!”
40 There were also women looking on from afar, among whom were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James the Less and of Joses, and Salome, So Many Marys 41 who also followed Him and ministered to Him when He was in Galilee, and many other women who came up with Him to Jerusalem.

Jesus Buried in Joseph’s Tomb

42 Now when evening had come, because it was the Preparation Day, that is, the day before the Sabbath, 43 Joseph of Arimathea, a prominent council member, who was himself waiting for the kingdom of God, coming and taking courage, went in to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus.
44 Pilate marveled that He was already dead; and summoning the centurion, he asked him if He had been dead for some time.
45 So when he found out from the centurion, he granted the body to Joseph.
46 Then he bought fine linen, took Him down, and wrapped Him in the linen. And he laid Him in a tomb which had been hewn out of the rock, and rolled a stone against the door of the tomb.
47 And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses observed where He was laid.

Mark 16

He Is Risen

1 Now when the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices, that they might come and anoint Him. Evidence for the Resurrection

2 Very early in the morning, on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun had risen.

3 And they said among themselves, "Who will roll away the stone from the door of the tomb for us?"

4 But when they looked up, they saw that the stone had been rolled away—for it was very large.

5 And entering the tomb, they saw a young man clothed in a long white robe sitting on the right side; and they were alarmed.

6 But he said to them, "Do not be alarmed. You seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified. He is risen! He is not here.
See the place where they laid Him.

7 "But go, tell His disciples—and Peter—that He is going before you into Galilee; there you will see Him, as He said to you."

8 So they went out quickly[a] and fled from the tomb, for they trembled and were amazed. And they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.

Mary Magdalene Sees the Risen Lord

9 Now when He rose early on the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom He had cast seven demons.

10 She went and told those who had been with Him, as they mourned and wept.

11 And when they heard that He was alive and had been seen by her, they did not believe.

Jesus Appears to Two Disciples

12 After that, He appeared in another form to two of them as they walked and went into the country.
13 And they went and told it to the rest, but they did not believe them either.

The Great Commission

14 Later He appeared to the eleven as they sat at the table; and He rebuked their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they did not believe those who had seen Him after He had risen.
15 And He said to them, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. Faith Impacts the World 16 "He who believes and is baptized will be saved; but he who does not believe will be condemned.
17 "And these signs will follow those who believe: In My name they will cast out demons; they will speak with new tongues;
18 "they[b] will take up serpents; and if they drink anything deadly, it will by no means hurt them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will recover."

Christ Ascends to God's Right Hand

19 So then, after the Lord had spoken to them, He was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God.
20 And they went out and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the word through the accompanying signs. Amen.[c]

A Voice in the Wilderness

Mark 1:4

All four Gospels present John the Baptist as a preacher in the wilderness (Matt. 3:1; Mark 1:4; Luke 3:2; John 1:23), an oddity even in his own day. He lived in barren places, subsisting on honey and locusts. He pursued extreme humility, announcing that Jesus would grow more prominent while his own fame diminished (3:30). He considered himself unworthy even to loosen Jesus' sandal strap (1:27).

John the Baptist fearlessly preached repentance to anyone within shouting distance, and crowds flocked to him from Jerusalem and across Judea. He attracted common people, respectable socialites, religious leaders, tax collectors and other notorious sinners, and even Gentiles such as the Roman soldiers. What was his winning message? "Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the wrath to come?" (Luke 3:7).

John the Baptist eventually offended the wrong person—Herodias, wife of King Herod (see "Hateful Herodias" at Matt. 14:3)—when he spoke against the royal couple's incestuous, adulterous union. Outraged, Herodias had her husband arrest the prophet and pressed for his execution. The king refused, afraid to kill a man he knew to be holy and just, but Herodias eventually had her way (Mark 6:14–29).

John's influence continued after his death. Several of his disciples became followers of Jesus (for example, Andrew; John 1:35–40). Nearly thirty years later, Paul encountered a group of John's disciples in Ephesus (Acts 19:1–7). Jesus declared this final Old Testament prophet (considered Old Testament because he preceded Christ) to be the greatest of men (Matt. 11:11–14). By fulfilling his unique God-given purpose, he paved the way for Jesus.

Jesus the Galilean

Mark 1:14

In New Testament times, there were two Galilees, upper and lower. Jesus grew up in the densely populated lower Galilee and carried out most of His ministry in its communities. As many as eleven of His twelve disciples also came from this region. (Judas Iscariot was the one obvious exception.)

Home to a culture that bridged the Hebraic and Graeco-Roman worlds, Galilee existed on the fringes of traditional Jewish life. As a result, Galileans were scorned by their Judean neighbors, who used the term Galilean as a synonym for fool, heathen, sinner, or worse.

Most significantly for Jesus, these neighbors were convinced that no prophet could come from Galilee (John 7:52). Yet from there a Prophet did arise. It was in Galilee that Jesus first outlined His message (Luke 4:14–19) and demonstrated its power. He performed at least thirty-three miracles in the region, and it was there that He told nineteen of His thirty-two recorded parables.

As Jesus traveled around the district, He demonstrated that His message was for everyone, including people excluded from acceptable society. His message did not start at the top and move down. It spread from the bottom up. However, there is little evidence that Jesus' message took hold in Galilee after He left. The people largely rejected their Prophet and King, and His dire predictions about Capernaum, Chorazin, and other Galilean cities came true (Matt. 11:20–24).

The Synagogue
Mark 1:21

By the time of Christ, synagogues had become common throughout Palestine. These local Jewish congregations met to read and study Scripture and to pray, emphasizing instruction in Mosaic law.

Synagogues (from the Greek sunagōgē, meaning "a leading or bringing together") first formed during the Babylonian captivity (see "A Gift of the Exile" at Ezek. 14:1). Lacking a temple but longing for community and communion with God, Jewish captives met in local groups for worship and Torah reading. Some captives eventually returned to their homeland, where Zerubbabel rebuilt the temple and Ezra promoted prayer and study of the Law (Neh. 8), but a vast majority of the people remained in Persia. Others migrated elsewhere, notably to Alexandria, Egypt. In their homeland and beyond, the Jews continued to meet in synagogues.

Some synagogues began to function as courts that could sentence offenders and carry out scourging as punishment (Matt. 10:17; 23:34). Some also became schools where children learned to read. Synagogues everywhere became centers of Jewish community life. As these local gatherings grew, they developed an established lineup of customary officials.

- Elders were devout and respected men who regulated synagogue policies. By custom the elders were seated at the front of the synagogue (compare 23:6).
- A ruler of the synagogue, appointed by the elders, planned services and oversaw the facility. A local congregation might have more than one ruler. Jairus, who asked Jesus to heal his daughter, was a ruler (Mark 5:21–43).
- The minister cared for the sacred scrolls, tended the lamps, and cleaned the building. If elders found an offender guilty, the minister administered the prescribed lashes. During the week he taught children to read.
- The delegate was a person chosen to read Scripture, lead in prayer, and comment on the Scripture of the day. Jesus was given this responsibility in the Nazareth synagogue (Luke 4:16–20).
- The interpreter translated the Hebrew Scriptures into Aramaic, which was spoken by most of the Jews in Palestine during Jesus' lifetime.
- Almoners were laypeople who received money or other necessities for the poor.

A synagogue could not be formed without at least ten Jewish men in the community, a condition met in a great many towns throughout the Roman world. Paul found synagogues at Damascus (Acts 9:2), Salamis (13:5), Antioch in Pisidia (13:14), Iconium (14:1), Thessalonica (17:1), Berea (17:10), Athens (17:16–17), and Ephesus (19:1, 8). Whenever he entered a city to preach Christ, he spoke first in the synagogue before reaching out to the larger community.

Synagogue worship profoundly influenced Christian worship. The Jewish service began with the people reciting the Shema. Shema is the first Hebrew word in the passage, "Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God, the LORD is one!" (Deut. 6:4–9). As the congregation stood facing Jerusalem with hands extended, the speaker of the day led them in prayer. At the close of the prayer, the people said "Amen."

As the speaker stood and read from the Law, the interpreter translated the reading into Aramaic. Then a passage from the Prophets was read and translated. The speaker usually sat down during the commentary or sermon. If a priest was present, he pronounced a benediction and the people said "Amen." Because the earliest Christians were Jews, they often followed this synagogue pattern in their own gatherings.

Think About It: What wise practices from synagogues might God want you to incorporate into your church? Into your other community functions?

Jewish Homemaking

Mark 1:29–31

Mark reports that after Jesus healed Simon's mother-in-law, she served the people who were present in her home. Her efforts likely involved far more than cooking a meal.

Work began at sunrise in first-century Jewish homes. After a simple breakfast of curds and bread, the women walked to the nearest well or stream to fill jars with fresh water for the day's needs.

Some of the water was used to make the daily bread. The women hand-ground wheat or barley on the family millstone, then added water and a small piece of dough from the previous day to provide yeast. Kneaded and left to rise, the dough was shaped into large, flat disks and baked in a household oven fueled by grasses and brush gathered by women and their children.

Other chores included spinning wool, weaving, making clothing and linens, mending, washing, producing pottery and other utensils for cooking, and preparing food. These tasks were essential to the family's everyday life, and each household relied on its own labor. Women acquired the skills for maintaining their home from their mothers and in turn passed them down to their children.

Jewish culture highly valued the work of caring for children and providing for daily needs such as food and clothing. But a woman's work was not confined to material needs. Formal schooling was rare, so a mother tutored her children in craft skills and literacy. She provided essential leadership at home, shaping her children's cultural and religious values. She taught them to follow Israel's customs and faith.

Women were also responsible for preparing the home for the Sabbath. They filled the lamps with olive oil, prepared Sabbath food and special treats, and collected an extra day's water. As part of the evening ceremony, husbands recited Proverbs 31:10–31, an acknowledgement of their wives' vital and varied work.

More: Women were the primary caregivers for infants and children. See "Jesus Valued Children" at Matt. 19:14. The responsibilities of some first-century women extended beyond the home. Lydia was a successful businesswoman in the purple trade (see "The Trade in Purple" at Acts 16:14), and Priscilla manufactured tents with her husband. Other women worked as wool workers, midwives, hairdressers, nurses, vendors, entertainers, political leaders, and construction workers. See "Women and Work in the Ancient World" at 1 Cor. 7:32–35.

Significant Everyday People

Mark 2:3–17

Each of the four Gospel writers introduces readers to people who were significant to Jesus but were considered inconsequential by their society. The paralytic let down from the roof, for example, blended into the background until Jesus touched him. Most of the people who mattered to Jesus were not wealthy or famous. Nor were they social, business, political, or spiritual leaders. They were everyday people with problems and needs a lot like ours. Note just a few of the people we meet in the beginning chapters of each Gospel:

Matthew

- Four women touched by scandal (Matt. 1:3, 5, 6)
- A young couple dealing with a complicated engagement (1:18–21)
- Three foreigners deceived by a ruthless king (2:1–12)
- Countless baby boys who are murdered by Herod (2:16–18)
- A wilderness man who serves as Jesus' forerunner (3:1–17)

Mark

- Four fishermen (Mark 1:16–20)
- A man oppressed by a demon (1:23–27)
- A feverish mother-in-law (1:29–31)
- Crowds of the sick and oppressed (1:32–34)
- An outcast leper (1:40–42)
- A paralytic (2:1–12)
- A despised tax collector (2:13–17)

Luke

- A barren elderly couple (Luke 1:5–25)
- An expectant young couple (1:26–38)
- A baby born amid confusion (1:57–80)
- Startled shepherds (2:8–20)
- An aged, saintly man (2:25–35)
- An elderly widow with a gift of prophecy (2:36–38)

John

- A puzzling religious pioneer (John 1:19–35)
- Two fishermen (1:35–42)
- The fishermen's friend (1:43, 44)
- A skeptical critic (1:45–51)

- A seeker afraid to step into the light (3:1–21)
- A woman touched by scandal (4:1–42)
- A nobleman's ailing son (4:46–54)

Scripture introduces our Savior by showing Him among crowds of common people—and with good reason. The people who are most ready for God's help are not insulated from trouble by their possessions, status, or health. They recognize their own needs, and their brokenness makes them turn to God. In Him they find forgiveness and hope that overcomes human limitations.

The world tells us that we gain significance by lifting ourselves above others. But God wants to break that terrible bondage to self-importance. Like Jesus, we can reach out to everyday people wherever they struggle.

No Tolerance for Intolerance

Parables

Mark 4:2

Jesus often used parables—short, fictitious stories used to illustrate moral or religious principles—to communicate spiritual truths. Sometimes His parables were extended tales with developed plots and characters. At other times they were little more than figures of speech. But they were always powerful.

Jesus was a master teller of parables but he wasn't the parable's inventor. Parables are also featured in the Old Testament. The prophet Nathan, for example, told a parable to King David about a rich man who stole a small ewe lamb that belonged to a poor man (2 Sam. 12:1–4).

The wise woman of Tekoa told of a widow whose two sons fought until one was killed (2 Sam. 14:5–7).

Solomon told a parable about a sluggard (Prov. 24:30–34).

Several Old Testament prophets filled their teachings with parables, including Jeremiah (see "The Parables of Jeremiah" at Jer. 18:1–10), Ezekiel (see "The Parables of Ezekiel" at Ezek. 15:1–8), and Zechariah (see "The Parables of Zechariah" at Zech. 5:1–4).

Parables draw in listeners with vivid, imaginative pictures. This doesn't mean, however, that they are easy to understand. Jesus' closest friends were sometimes baffled by His parables (Matt. 13:24–30, 36–43). Furthermore, while Jesus sometimes spoke in parables to reveal truth to His followers, at other times He was aiming to conceal His meaning from His detractors (13:10–17; Mark 4:10–12; Luke 8:9, 10). His method fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah 6:9, 10, enlightening seekers of truth but blinding the disobedient.

Interpreting Parables

Most of Jesus' parables have one central point. To find that core meaning, it helps to understand what a parable meant in the context of the time in which it was told and how it relates to Jesus' proclamation of the kingdom. After all, parables were more than mere folk tales. They expressed Christ's view of God, humanity, salvation, and the new age that began with His ministry.

The three parables recorded in Luke 15:3–32 are good parables with which to begin an approach through historical context. Each parable deals with lost things: the lost sheep, the lost coin, and the two lost sons. The context shows Jesus telling these stories while eating with tax collectors and sinners (15:1, 2). The religious elite censured this behavior because in their view He was transgressing the Law.

In response, Jesus used a story about a lost sheep to declare that God rejoices more over the repentance of one sinner (like those gathered at the table with Him) than over "ninety-nine just persons who need no repentance" (15:7; like the religious elite who congratulated themselves on their supposed superiority). Likewise, in the parable of the lost sons, the younger son (15:11–24) is a symbol for the tax collectors and sinners, while the older son (15:25–32) stands for the scribes and Pharisees.

Parables are one of the Bible's most engaging forms of teaching. When we struggle to understand and apply God's truth, parables can help us see how eternal truths relate to everyday life.

Sharing Our Faith

Mark 4:3–20

Jesus commands us to be His witnesses (Acts 1:6–8), but we should not mistake that mandate as an assignment to convert others. Conversion is the Holy Spirit's job (John 16:8–11). Our success at sharing our faith is therefore not measured by the rate of response. If that were the standard, Jesus Himself would often have been considered a failure. Many who heard Him—and even some who followed Him—turned out to be uninterested in His offer of salvation (6:60–66).

Jesus points out that people vary in their openness to accepting the truth. As witnesses we cannot change the soil in which we work. Our task is to offer good seed and work hard to nurture whatever faith sprouts up (1 Cor. 3:7–9). One of our most effective ways of doing that is by continually applying our faith in day-to-day life (Phil. 2:12, 13; James 2:14–26), putting it out there for others to see and consider (Mark 4:21–23). Even when others are not ready for a spiritual conversation, we can be sure they are evaluating our actions.

How others react to our message is between them and God, but that does not excuse us from caring about others and their responses. Scripture challenges us to love others as we have been loved—and to keep caring whatever the outcome. Our love means little if we save it for people who respond quickly and positively. Even if people are hostile to our message, we can leave it up to God to use us anywhere and anytime to reach out to anybody He chooses.

More: Scripture also urges us to work alongside the Spirit in influencing others. See "Whose Job Is Evangelism?" at John 16:8.

Faith Unfolding

Mark 4:33, 34

Instantaneous spiritual maturity is a nice idea, but it's not very realistic. And we shouldn't beat ourselves up for being slow to understand how to properly live as a Christian, or for feeling intimidated by others who seem further along in their walk.

Jesus' patience with His disciples offers perspective. He called them to follow Him one day at a time (Luke 9:23). He also promised that the Spirit would lead them into truth (John 16:12–16).

Like the first disciples, we cannot see the end at the beginning. Faith never arrives fully grown. It begins as a little seed to be planted and nurtured (Mark 4:26–32).

More: Jesus told a parable to illustrate the way in which His followers would slowly grasp spiritual truth. See "Treasures Old and New" at Matt. 13:52.

Priority People

Mark 5:21–43

It is often easier to look away from the world's hurts than worry about how to make a difference, where we should start, or who most needs our help.

Jesus showed us how to manage the world's overwhelming issues. After sailing across the Sea of Galilee, He was swarmed by people vying for His attention. He encountered two critical needs: the terminally ill twelve-year-old daughter of a well-respected synagogue ruler (Mark 5:22–24) and an obscure woman suffering from chronic bleeding (5:25–28).

The ruler, who possessed obvious wealth and an abundance of connections, reached Jesus first. But as Jesus made His way across town, a woman—unnamed, unannounced, and completely undervalued by the crowd—grabbed His clothes. Reaching out and touching a rabbi was the desperate act of a woman who knew she could be forever ostracized, perpetually ill, and perhaps even die without a miracle.

The little girl had been living for twelve years (5:42), and the woman had been dying for twelve years (5:25). What would Jesus do?

Complicating the situation was the fact that the woman's touch rendered Jesus ritually unclean (Lev. 15:25–27). He was technically prohibited from helping the little girl until the next day. But neither the woman nor Jesus gave a thought to religious rules. The woman was amazed at her immediate healing, and Jesus was aware that His power had been accessed (Mark 5:29, 30). He was able, without seeing, to distinguish the jostling of a crowd from a person who reached out in faith.

Jesus called the woman "daughter" (5:34). The term put her on an equal footing with the ruler's daughter—and simultaneously showed Jesus' sympathy for Jairus as a parent in pain. His tender words may be why Jairus continued to faithfully trust Jesus even as help for his own crisis was delayed (5:35, 36).

No individual Christian can meet all the needs of the world. But that is not what God asks us to do. Jesus calls us to respond to the individuals He puts in our way. Some may be young, some may be old, some rich, some poor, some loved, some unloved. But they are all God's children, and God will show you how and when to love each one.

Taking Risks
Mark 5:22, 23

By turning to Jesus for help to save his daughter's life, Jairus risked his job as synagogue ruler. He was well-known in his community, and people watched his actions intently. But this father approached Jesus with abandon.

Jesus was a controversial rabbi. Some Jews followed Him, but many others took great offense at His teaching (Mark 3:6). As Jairus fell at Jesus' feet, he must have known that some in his synagogue would condemn him.

When Jesus arrived at Jairus's home, He took the ruler's daughter by the hand. It is important to note that coming into contact with her dead body made Jesus ritually unclean. Moreover, it was inappropriate for a Jewish man, particularly a rabbi, to touch a female. But Jesus was concerned with the spirit of the Law, not the letter. And this little girl's father had humbly asked for His help.

Jairus risked a prestigious career to help his beloved daughter. In response, Jesus risked His reputation as a teacher to bring the girl back to life. Personal crises can move us to break with tradition to seek help. In those moments we become extremely vulnerable and exposed to public ridicule. But often Jesus will send someone to help us in our emergency.

If so many miracles happen when we take good risks, why not take them more often?

Rest for a While
Mark 6:31

When the Twelve returned from their tour with Jesus (Mark 6:7, 12, 30), their Master pulled them aside. He modeled a habit that many of us could stand to practice more—the habit of rest.

Given the pressure we often feel to do our best, or even to outwork and outperform our coworkers, rest may seem like the last thing to pursue. But God wants us to embrace His standards, not those of our culture. He values work (see "God: The Original Worker" at John 5:17 and "People at Work" at Ps. 8:6). And He also upholds our need for downtime. Rest is something God Himself does (Gen. 2:2). He also commanded the Israelites to rest regularly each week (Ex. 20:8–11).

We need to look hard at how much time we actually need to spend at work, because there are too many other important things we might be missing out on. Work matters but so do family, chores, church, rest, and more. We may need to take Jesus' advice: "Come aside . . . and rest a while" (Mark 6:31).

Honor Your Parents

Mark 7:9–13

The Law decreed stiff punishment for those who dishonored their parents (see "Respecting Parents" at Lev. 20:9 and "Juvenile Delinquents" at Deut. 21:18–21). Giving equal honor to both father and mother was required by the Law (Ex. 20:12).

Hebrew Wisdom Literature said that only a fool would disobey his mother or mock his father (Prov. 30:17). Nevertheless, the scribes and the Pharisees found a way to ignore these commands (Mark 7:11, 12). Their traditions had become more important to them than keeping the Law, even though at other times they attacked Jesus for not fulfilling other parts of the Law. No wonder Jesus called them hypocrites (7:6).

Jesus and Ethnicity

Mark 7:24–30

Jesus' encounter with the Syro-Phoenician woman (compare Matt. 15:21–28) raises difficult questions about racial and ethnic attitudes. His treatment of the woman seems to contradict His image as the Savior of the whole world. Note the facts of their conversation:

The Gentile Woman . . .	Jesus . . .
• Sought Jesus out (Mark 7:25).	• Tried to hide from her (Mark 7:24).
• Begged for mercy for her demon-possessed daughter (Mark 7:25, 26; Matt. 15:22).	• Ignored her cries (Matt. 15:23). • Seemed to agree with His disciples that she should be sent away (Matt. 15:23, 24).
• Called Him "Lord" (Mark 7:28; Matt. 15:25) and "Son of David" (Matt. 15:22). • Worshiped Him (Mark 7:25; Matt. 15:25).	• Said He only came for the Jews (Matt. 15:24).
• Did not object to being called a "dog" (Mark 7:28; Matt. 15:27).	• Implied that she was a "dog" (a term Jews frequently applied to Gentiles; Mark 7:27; Matt. 15:26).
• Asked only for the "crumbs" left over from Jesus' work with the Jews (Mark 7:28; Matt. 15:27).	• Implied that because she was not a Jew, she was not a child of God and could not be helped (Matt. 15:24, 26).

In the end, Jesus praised the woman's persistent faith and healed her daughter (Mark 7:29; Matt. 15:28). But His response is still difficult to understand. The woman approached Him with immense sincerity and respect, yet Jesus at least appeared to rebuff her harshly. This cannot be how God wants us to treat people from other ethnic groups.

Jesus' words may have been intended less for the woman than for His disciples. Maybe it was to them—not the woman—that He said, "I was not sent except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel" (15:24). They wanted Him to heal her daughter and send her away, and He may have ironically voiced their own nationalist, exclusivist attitudes, treating the woman as His disciples would. In doing so, He also demonstrated that despite continual rejection, Gentiles deeply hungered for God's grace and power. Jesus' affirmation of the woman's faith and His healing of her daughter repudiated the notion that He cared only about Israel.

If Jesus were to lead us to places and people that we discount or even despise, what would He say to us? How would He shock us into seeing our own prejudices? How would we need to change to reflect His love for all the peoples of the world?

Works in Progress
Mark 9:1–13

Jesus must have looked at the actions of Peter, James, and John during the Transfiguration and wondered about their fitness for leadership. But rather than replacing these followers, He continued to help them grow. He showed that over time immature people can be developed into servant-leaders. See "Unlikely Leaders" at Matt. 26:35–74 and "Discipleship Is a Process" at Luke 9:1–62.

The Man Who Almost Had It All

Mark 10:17–27

He was young, well-mannered, well-educated, and well-off. He was sincere, honest, above reproach. He may even have had an engaging personality and a charming smile. This guy had everything—except eternal life.

He could have had that as well, but he would have had to get rid of his money to follow Jesus. Jesus said elsewhere that no one can serve both God and money (Matt. 6:24), and this man was living proof of that principle. In approaching Jesus, the rich young ruler came to a fork in the road. He had to choose whether he would serve money or serve the Lord. Apparently he chose money.

Jesus never criticized people simply for being rich. Scripture does not condemn those who possess or accumulate money. But Jesus warned people about what He called "the deceitfulness of riches" (Mark 4:19). He understood the attractive yet ultimately fatal act of substituting money for God.

Jesus apparently perceived that tendency in the rich young ruler. Because the man placed far too much value on his wealth, Jesus told him to give it away and free himself from the slavery of his riches. As far as we know, Jesus did not give that same advice to other rich people He encountered. But it was a requirement for this particular person.

There are many people today who have or who are working to attain sizable assets. Others live paycheck to paycheck and find themselves sick with envy over their friends' or relatives' possessions, or they have fallen into crushing debt as a result of living beyond their means. Sooner or later all of these people must decide whether stuff or God will rule. They will ask the same question the rich young ruler asked Jesus: "What shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?" (10:17).

Only God can give eternal life (10:27). He gives life freely and graciously to those who follow Him (10:29, 30). But the choice to follow is especially hard for people who like stuff; they have a competing offer, and it is highly appealing.

No Better Than Gentiles

Mark 10:32–37

On Jesus' final trip to Jerusalem, a power struggle emerged among Jesus' disciples. Hearing their Master speak of a coming kingdom, James and John were the first to try to stake out positions of power. Jesus rebuked them by comparing them to despised Gentile leaders (Matt. 10:42). People like Pilate and Augustus and their array of governors, tax collectors, soldiers, and centurions lived only for themselves. Jesus accused His disciples of acting the same way by maneuvering for position and power. The comparison must have cut them to the core. Their attitudes made them no different than people who did not know God.

The Fig Tree and the Mountain

Mark 11:12–26

Jesus destroyed an innocent fig tree and then promised mountain-moving power to people of faith. The context of this startling event and statement is crucial. Jesus and His disciples had just entered Jerusalem, where He would soon be tried and executed. When He happened upon the fig tree, He used it as a caution for what ultimately awaits people who oppose the kingdom of God—people such as His religious opponents. Rather than bearing fruit, the nation had misused its privileges as God's people (Mark 11:12–18).

Cursing the fig tree was not a random act of anger but a message for Jesus' disciples. Coming events would turn against Jesus and confuse and frighten His followers. Perhaps the memory of that powerful visual would help them not to forget that they were part of a lasting, purposeful, and victorious kingdom.

As for using prayer to hoist mountains into the sea, Jesus was referring to the power of faith for people who do not misuse their privileges as people of God but promote His kingdom in this world (11:22). He did not promise us an ability to use power to our personal advantage. He instead showed the significance and power of trusting God.

Taxes

Mark 12:14

The practice of taxation as it unfolded in Scripture may have originated with the custom of giving presents in exchange for protection from harm (Gen. 32:13–21; 33:10; 43:11).

In Egypt, Joseph warned that seven years of famine would follow seven years of abundance. Pharaoh consequently put Joseph in charge of raising revenue. He collected a 20 percent tax to store up food and buy land for Pharaoh, a requirement that continued not only in the time of plenty but also during the famine (47:20–26).

During the Exodus, Moses asked for voluntary contributions to construct the tabernacle (Ex. 25:2; 35:5, 21). The Law also prescribed that every male over the age of twenty was to give half a shekel for tabernacle expenses (30:11–16).

When Israel begged Samuel for a king, he warned that heavy taxes would result—10 percent of nearly everything the people produced, as well as confiscation of land and servants. “You will cry out in that day because of your king whom you have chosen for yourselves,” he warned (1 Sam. 8:14–18). His words came true almost right away.

Under David and Solomon, several taxes of money, time, and work were established: a 10 percent tax on the produce of land and livestock (8:15, 17); compulsory military service for one month each year (1 Chr. 27:1); import duties (1 Kin. 10:15); and tribute paid by subject peoples (2 Sam. 8:6; 2 Kin. 3:4). The taxes became so oppressive under Solomon that after his death they contributed to the split of the kingdom (1 Kin. 12:4).

When the Persians later took control, they established a new system. Instead of paying tribute, each province of the empire was required to collect its own taxes. Persian rulers called satraps collected taxes for their own provinces, from which they paid a fixed amount into the royal treasury. Revenues were derived from tributes, customs payments, and tolls (Ezra 4:13). Priests and religious servants were exempt (7:24). A tax was also collected for maintaining the governor's household. Again, taxes grew so crushing that many people were forced to mortgage their fields and vineyards, and some even sold their own children into slavery (Neh. 5:1–5).

During the period between the Old and New Testaments, the Jews were first under Egyptian Ptolemaic rule (301–198 B.C.) and later under Syrian Seleucid rule (198–63 B.C.). Under the Ptolemies, taxing privileges were farmed out to the highest bidders. People came to Alexandria from the various provinces to bid for the privilege of collecting taxes from their own people. Contractors taxed up to double the amount required by law in order to turn a substantial profit. These tax collectors were even given military assistance to enforce their demands.

The same type of system probably continued under the Syrians. A poll tax, a salt tax, and a crown tax were enforced during this era. The Syrians claimed as much as one-third of the people's grain, one-half of their fruit, and a portion of the tithes that the Jews paid to support their temple.

When the Romans captured Jerusalem in 63 B.C., they temporarily imposed a tax of ten thousand talents on the Jews. Julius Caesar later reformed the system by reducing taxes and levying no tax during Sabbath years.

The Herods instituted a poll tax and a tax on fishing rights. Customs were collected on trade routes by men such as Levi (the apostle Matthew; Matt. 9:9; Mark 2:14; Luke 5:27). Capernaum may have also been a place for the gathering of port duties and fishing tolls. Some items sold for 1,000 percent above their original price because of heavy taxation. There may have been a sales tax on slaves, oil, clothes, hides, and furs.

Over and above these taxes, people also paid religious dues, generally between 10 and 20 percent of their income before government taxes were deducted. As a result, even the poorest of the Jews of the New Testament era probably spent between 30 and 40 percent of their income on taxes and religious dues.

Think About It: What principles of taxation would God want your community to integrate? Why? How?

Moral Value of Offerings

Mark 12:41–44

The poor widow in Mark 12:41–44 was so destitute that she was in danger of dying. When she deposited her last two mites in the temple treasury, Jesus announced that she had given more money than anyone else.

Jesus was indicating that giving and sacrifice are relative. To the wealthy people who strolled up to the coffers with sacks of gold coins, the widow's contribution couldn't have been more measly. But two mites was everything to this woman. It was "all that she had, her whole livelihood." As a poor widow, she had no means of support and was likely unemployable. Giving all to God meant that she had nothing left for herself.

The widow's gift was so important because God placed moral rather than economic value on her tiny offering. By giving herself entirely over to God and trusting Him to meet her needs, she showed the true condition of her heart.

Preparing for Doomsday

Mark 13:1–37

Jesus' words in Mark 13 (and Matt. 24:1–51 and Luke 21:5–36) no doubt lingered in His followers' minds. When the disciples commented on the temple's significance and permanence (Mark 13:1), Jesus responded by remarking how temporary such structures really are (13:2). Once the group was in a quiet setting (13:3), He then detailed the end of history as we know it. Jesus told how it was, or, rather, how it was going to be. He didn't shy away from this difficult topic. He honestly and openly spoke of the turmoil His followers would endure (13:4–37):

- Deception, wars, earthquakes, and famines would be the beginning of their sorrows (13:5–8).
- His followers would experience testing as His witnesses before councils, governors, and kings (13:9–11).
- Family members would turn against each other (13:12, 13).
- Distress and deception would reign for as long as God permitted (13:14–25).
- Jesus would eventually return for His followers (13:15–31).
- Because His followers would not know precisely when He would return, they should patiently serve God (13:32–37).

Jesus contrasted the illusory strength and beauty of Israel's center of worship with the faithful loyalty and service of His followers (13:2, 9, 13, 33–37). Human structures inevitably crumble and fall, but God's righteous works last forever. His followers should therefore stand firm, serving God faithfully, not falling victim to the seductions of the world.

More: Paul echoed these points when he addressed the issue of troubled times in his second letter to the Thessalonians (2 Thess. 2:1–17).

A Kingdom Perspective

Mark 13:33

Jesus wants His followers to interpret turbulent times not just in the flow of human history but even more from His kingdom perspective. As His followers, we are citizens of eternity. Our confidence must therefore be rooted in something far more substantial than our positions and achievements in the here and now. God prepares each of us for moments of deep kingdom significance as we serve the people He sends our way.

We naturally rely on achievements—reaching goals, acquiring possessions, climbing professional ladders—for our identity and self-worth. All is well until we lose these things. And we are often devastated to reach the top of the ladder only to realize that all the while we have been climbing toward the wrong goal.

Our culture encourages us to develop a personal sense of self-importance that is self-serving and often self-destructive. God wants to build our self-image on a far more enduring foundation. He invites us to discover our calling, which will involve serving Him in the unique places and tasks He assigns to us. Our self-worth rests on the fact that we are His children, created by Him to carry out good works as kingdom servants (Eph. 2:10). According to Scripture, our calling is . . .

- irrevocable (Rom. 11:29),
- a means of sharing in Christ's glory (2 Thess. 2:14),
- a function of how God has designed us (Eph. 2:10),
- an assurance that God will give us everything we need to serve Him (1 Cor. 1:7–9),
- our true identity (1 Pet. 2:5, 9).
- a source of strength in suffering (2:19–21),
- rooted in peace, no matter what our circumstances (1 Cor. 7:15–24), and
- focused on eternal achievements rather than earthly ones (Phil. 3:13–4:1).

God calls us above all else to the development of our character, service to others, and loyalty to Him. These can be accomplished no matter where we live or work, whatever our occupational status or social position. As long as we pursue these things, we can enjoy true satisfaction and significance.

Marks of Faith

Mark 14:53–64

Israel's religious and political leaders wanted to rid themselves of Jesus, so they tried every means possible to convict Him of a crime. They paid an informant from among Jesus' own followers, but he returned their money and declared the Lord innocent (Mark 14:43–46; Matt. 27:3–5). They orchestrated an armed mob to intimidate Jesus, but He kept His cool and restrained His followers (26:51–54). The leaders even presented witnesses to testify against Him, but the witnesses perjured themselves and contradicted each other (Mark 14:55, 56).

People tried to convict Jesus of a crime for which they lacked a shred of evidence. They failed because Jesus lived His life in plain sight. For every false accusation lodged against Him, there were countless examples of His love and moral perfection.

What signs of authentic faith do people see when they scrutinize our lives? Is it enough evidence to prove that our trust in God is real? The Bible suggests several outward marks of authentic faith:

- We display the Beatitudes that Jesus described in His Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5:3–16).
- We think with a transformed mind, we express genuine love, and we respect authority (Rom. 12:1, 2; 13:1–7).
- We overflow with love actions (1 Cor. 13).
- We display the Spirit's fruit (Gal. 5:22–26).
- We imitate Christ's humility and look out for others' interests (Phil. 2:1–4).
- We pray without ceasing, and in everything we give thanks (1 Thess. 5:16–18).
- We carry out works of faith and compassion (James 2:14–17), we control our tongues (3:1–11), and we speak wisdom (3:13).
- We hold to the truth about Jesus (2 John 4; 3 John 3, 4) and defend it (Jude 3).

As others study our lives for evidence that we are followers of Christ, how many of these marks do they see?

So Many Marys

Mark 15:40

The New Testament shows the popularity of the name Mary in first-century Palestine. Some examples:

- Mary of Nazareth, the mother of Jesus (Luke 1:26–2:52).
- Mary of Bethany, the sister of Martha and Lazarus (10:38–42; John 11). She anointed Jesus with perfume before His death (12:3).
- Mary of Magdala, a financial supporter of Jesus (Luke 8:2, 3) who had seven demons cast out of her by the Lord. She watched Jesus' crucifixion and was the first witness of His resurrection (Mark 15:40; 16:9).
- Mary the mother of James and Joses. She too was present at Jesus' crucifixion and was probably the same woman described as the "other" Mary (Matt. 27:61; 28:1) and as Mary the wife of Clopas (John 19:25).
- Mary the mother of Mark, making her a relative of Barnabas (Acts 12:12; Col. 4:10).
- Mary of Rome, known simply as a woman who worked hard alongside Paul and his companions (Rom. 16:6).

Mary was a popular name among the Jews because it was the Greek form of the Hebrew name Miriam, which was the name of one of Israel's most famous and beloved biblical figures.

- Miriam was the sister of Moses (Num. 26:59) and one of the nation's first prophets (Ex. 15:20).
- She, Moses, and their brother Aaron formed the leadership team that God appointed to lead Israel out of Egypt and through the wilderness toward the Promised Land (Mic. 6:4).
- Miriam displayed courage early in life when she saved her baby brother from death (Ex. 2:4–7).
- Later, after Israel escaped across the Red Sea from the Egyptian army, Miriam led the women in a song of celebration and praise (15:20, 21).
- However, on one occasion Miriam unwisely spoke against Moses. As a consequence she experienced God's judgment by contracting leprosy. For seven days she was shut out of the camp, the time required before a person healed of leprosy could rejoin the community (Num. 12:1–15).
- While she was on "forced sick leave," the people remained in one place until she returned to her work of leading the people (12:15).

Evidence for the Resurrection
Mark 16:1–8

Dead people do not ordinarily rise again. Death is inevitable, and no human can avoid it. But Jesus broke that cycle. He conquered death by rising from the grave, and verified His resurrection by appearing to many of His followers. As Christians we can have life after death because Jesus broke death's bondage (1 Cor. 15:12–24, 35–58).

Jesus' Appearances After the Resurrection

At the tomb. Early Sunday morning, Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome (Matt. 28:1–10; Mark 16:1–11; Luke 24:1–12; John 20:1–18).

Jerusalem. Jesus appeared to Peter on Sunday (Luke 24:34; 1 Cor. 15:5).

Road to Emmaus. About midday Sunday, Jesus appeared to two travelers (Luke 24:13–32).

The Upper Room. Jesus appeared to ten disciples on Sunday evening (Mark 16:14; Luke 24:36–43; John 20:19–25) and again one week later when Thomas was present (John 20:26–29; 1 Cor. 15:5).

Galilee. Jesus appeared to the eleven disciples in Galilee (Matt. 28:16–20; Mark 16:15–18). Later, He was seen by 500 followers, probably also in Galilee (1 Cor. 15:6).

Sea of Galilee. Early one morning, Jesus appeared to seven of His disciples while they were fishing and caused them to find a great catch of fish (John 21:1–23).

Location unknown. Jesus appeared to James the apostle (1 Cor. 15:7).

Mount of Olives. Forty days after the Resurrection, Jesus met with the eleven disciples, leading women, His brothers, and others, whom He told to take His message throughout the world. He then ascended into heaven (Luke 24:46–53; Acts 1:3–14).

Road to Damascus. Jesus confronted Saul of Tarsus in the middle of the day, an event that led to Saul's conversion (Acts 9:1–9; 1 Cor. 15:8).

Faith Impacts the World

Mark 16:15, 16

When Jesus sent His followers into "all the world," He clearly had global impact in mind. But spreading Christ's message involves more than broadcasting a statement or set of facts.

Faith impacts the world when Christ's followers live out the gospel, proclaiming it in their loving actions as well as their thoughtful words. That makes our relationships of the first importance.

It means that how we carry out our personal responsibilities and administer our resources deeply matters. Christ's influence should be recognizable in our daily lives.

Christians also change the world when they band together in business and nonprofit organizations, churches, mission groups, and Christian media. As we partner with others through these organizations, we should not follow our own agenda but Christ's agenda, working to meet the needs of the world with love, compassion, grace, mercy, patience, forgiveness, humility, wisdom, and hope.

Christ's followers also exercise influence through advocacy. We attempt to influence the institutions and people that control society through acts as simple as voting or as complex as running for office or working to enact legislation. As nations give Christians the right to actively participate in public policy decisions, we should make the most of that right in ways that honor the Lord.

As we take Christ's message to the world, we must understand how our world operates.

By the time Nero ascended as emperor over an increasingly troubled realm, the Christian movement had spread to most major cities of the Roman empire. The authorities at first did not view the new religion as a significant threat. Indeed, they still regarded it as a minor sect of Judaism. But the Christians' insistence on the divinity of Christ and their refusal to pay homage to the emperors eventually resulted in state-sponsored persecution.

Against this backdrop, Luke wrote a two-part history: a Gospel account of Jesus' life named Luke, and a sequel named the Book of Acts. In the Gospel that bears his name, Luke presents "all that Jesus began both to do and teach" (Acts 1:1). In Acts, he goes on to describe how Jesus' followers continued their Lord's work. The two-part narrative may have been used as a legal document by the apostle Paul while he awaited trial at Rome (22:11; 25:11; 28:30, 31; see also the introduction to Acts).

In his Gospel, Luke tells a story with universal appeal. He reveals Jesus as reaching all the way to the fringes, to people of every class and background—Jews, Samaritans, Gentiles, Roman soldiers, the poor, women, children, the powerful, the powerless, the sick, the fearful, the devout, the irreligious. Jesus has something to offer everyone. Perhaps this is why some of today's most popular portions of Scripture come from the Book of Luke—the Christmas story, the Good Samaritan, and the Prodigal Son, for example.

As far as scholars can determine, the entire Bible was composed by Hebrew authors—with the exception of Luke, the "beloved physician" (Col. 4:14). One tradition holds that he was a Greek from Antioch of Syria. His writings demonstrate that he was well educated and thoroughly acquainted with the Roman world. His writings feature a far more cultured form of Greek than the rest of the New Testament.

If Luke was a Gentile, it is unsurprising that his Gospel highlights non-Jews and their response to Jesus. Matthew traces Jesus' genealogy to Abraham, the father of Israel (Matt. 1:2), but Luke traces it to Adam, the father of the human race (Luke 3:38). As Luke continues his narrative into the Book Acts, moreover, he shows the Christian movement begin to stretch beyond its Jewish origins to include peoples of every ethnic and religious background.

Luke may have used the years that Paul was imprisoned at Caesarea (Acts 24:24–27) to visit Galilee and Judea, gathering firsthand accounts of Jesus' life. He may have interviewed Mary, Jesus' mother, as his account describes details of her pregnancy and motherhood that the other three Gospels omit, including her song of praise (Luke 1:46–55) and her reflection on the events of which she was a part (2:19, 51). Who better to pay attention to the virgin birth from Mary's point of view than a physician?

Luke 1:1 implies that the doctor may have visited with Matthew, Mark, or John, the other Gospel writers, or perhaps others of the Twelve. Whoever his sources were, Luke's detailed descriptions indicate that they were actually present during the events Luke records. He had no need and apparently no interest in resorting to legends or hearsay. He instead wrote as a disciplined, skillful historian inspired by the Holy Spirit, compiling the material into an accurate, orderly account of the life of Jesus Christ.

Luke addresses both his Gospel and the Book of Acts to an unidentified person named Theophilus (1:1–4), of whom many have made speculations but little is known.

The Gospel of Luke never names its author, but as early as A.D. 175, church leaders were identifying the writer as Luke. The beloved physician tells us that he drew upon earlier written accounts; one of these may have been the Gospel of Mark, believed to have been written during the A.D. 60s. If this is the case, it suggests that the Book of Luke was produced sometime around A.D. 70.

Key Events in Luke

- John the Baptist's birth is predicted and comes to pass (Luke 1:5–25, 57–80).
- An angel informs Mary that she will bear God's Son (Luke 1:26–56).
- Jesus is born in Bethlehem (Luke 2:1–20).
- Simeon and Anna greet the baby Jesus at the temple (Luke 2:22–38).
- Young Jesus converses with religious teachers (Luke 2:41–50).
- Jesus calms a storm (Luke 8:22–25).
- Jesus tells the story of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10:30–37).
- Jesus weeps for Jerusalem (Luke 13:34, 35).
- Jesus tells the parable of the Prodigal Son (Luke 15:11–32).
- A rich young ruler comes to see Jesus (Luke 18:18–30).
- Zacchaeus is transformed by meeting Jesus (Luke 19:1–10).
- Jesus and His disciples celebrate the Lord's Supper (Luke 22:14–20).
- Jesus prays in the Garden of Gethsemane (Luke 22:39–46).
- Jesus promises a place in Paradise to a thief on a cross (Luke 23:39–43).
- Jesus rises from the dead (Luke 24:1–12).
- Jesus ascends to heaven (Luke 24:50–53).

Luke 1

Dedication to Theophilus

1 Inasmuch as many have taken in hand to set in order a narrative of those things which have been fulfilled[a] among us, Luke The Gospel Is for Everyone
2 just as those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word delivered them to us, 3 it seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write to you an orderly account, most excellent Theophilus, 4 that you may know the certainty of those things in which you were instructed.

John's Birth Announced to Zacharias

5 There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the division of Abijah.
His wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. Our Works, Not Our Savvy or Power
6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.
7 But they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren, and they were both well advanced in years.
8 So it was, that while he was serving as priest before God in the order of his division, 9 according to the custom of the priesthood, his lot fell to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.
10 And the whole multitude of the people was praying outside at the hour of incense.
11 Then an angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.
13 But the angel said to him, “Do not be afraid, Zacharias, for your prayer is heard; and your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you shall call his name John.
14 “And you will have joy and gladness, and many will rejoice at his birth.
15 “For he will be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink. He will also be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother’s womb.
16 “And he will turn many of the children of Israel to the Lord their God.
17 “He will also go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, ‘to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children,’[b] and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.” 18 And Zacharias said to the angel, “How shall I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife is well advanced in years.” A Statement of Integrity 19 And the angel answered and said to him, “I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God, and was sent to speak to you and bring you these glad tidings.
20 “But behold, you will be mute and not able to speak until the day these things take place, because you did not believe my words which will be fulfilled in their own time.” 21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marveled that he lingered so long in the temple.
22 But when he came out, he could not speak to them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple, for he beckoned to them and remained speechless.
23 So it was, as soon as the days of his service were completed, that he departed to his own house.
24 Now after those days his wife Elizabeth conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying,

25 “Thus the Lord has dealt with me, in the days when He looked on me, to take away my reproach among people.”

Christ’s Birth Announced to Mary

26 Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a city of Galilee named Nazareth, 27 to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph,
of the house of David. The virgin’s name was Mary.
28 And having come in, the angel said to her, “Rejoice, highly favored one, the Lord is with you; blessed are you among women!”[c]
29 But when she saw him,[d] she was troubled at his saying, and considered what manner of greeting this was.
30 Then the angel said to her, “Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God.
31 “And behold, you will conceive in your womb and bring forth a Son, and shall call His name JESUS.
32 “He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God will give Him the throne of His father David.
33 “And He will reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of His kingdom there will be no end.” 34 Then Mary said to the angel, “How can this be, since I do not know a man?”
35 And the angel answered and said to her, “The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Highest will overshadow you; therefore, also, that Holy One who is to be born will be called the Son of God.
36 “Now indeed, Elizabeth your relative has also conceived a son in her old age; and this is now the sixth month for her who was called barren.
37 “For with God nothing will be impossible.”

38 Then Mary said, “Behold the maidservant of the Lord!
Let it be to me according to your word.” And the angel departed from her. The Lord’s Maidservant

Mary Visits Elizabeth

39 Now Mary arose in those days and went into the hill country with haste, to a city of Judah, 40 and entered the house of Zacharias and greeted Elizabeth.
41 And it happened, when Elizabeth heard the greeting of Mary, that the babe leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit.
42 Then she spoke out with a loud voice and said, “Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb!
43 “But why is this granted to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?
44 “For indeed, as soon as the voice of your greeting sounded in my ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.
45 “Blessed is she who believed, for there will be a fulfillment of those things which were told her from the Lord.”

The Song of Mary

46 And Mary said:

> “My soul magnifies the Lord, The Good News in Mary’s Song > 47 And my spirit has rejoiced in God my > Savior.
> 48 For He has regarded the lowly state of His > maidservant;

For behold, henceforth all generations will call me blessed.
49For He who is mighty has done great things for me,
And holy is His name.
50And His mercy is on those who fear Him
From generation to generation.
51He has shown strength with His arm;
He has scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
52He has put down the mighty from their thrones,
And exalted the lowly.
53He has filled the hungry with good things,
And the rich He has sent away empty.
54He has helped His servant Israel,
In remembrance of His mercy,
55As He spoke to our fathers,
To Abraham and to his seed forever.”

56And Mary remained with her about three months, and returned to her house.

Birth of John the Baptist

57Now Elizabeth’s full time came for her to be delivered, and she brought forth a son.
58When her neighbors and relatives heard how the Lord had shown great mercy to her, they rejoiced with her.

Circumcision of John the Baptist

59So it was, on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him by the name of his father, Zacharias.

60 His mother answered and said, “No; he shall be called
John.”
61 But they said to her, “There is no one among your relatives who is called by this name.”
62 So they made signs to his father—what he would have him called.
63 And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying,
“His name is John.” So they all marveled.
64 Immediately his mouth was opened and his tongue loosed, and he spoke, praising God.
65 Then fear came on all who dwelt around them; and all these sayings were discussed throughout all the hill country of Judea.
66 And all those who heard them kept them in their hearts, saying, “What kind of child will this be?” And the hand of the Lord was with him.

Zacharias’ Prophecy

67 Now his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying:

68 “Blessed is the Lord God of Israel,
For He has visited and redeemed His people, 69 And has raised up a horn of salvation for us
In the house of His servant David, 70 As He spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets,
Who have been since the world began,
71 That we should be saved from our enemies
And from the hand of all who hate us, 72 To perform the mercy promised to our fathers
And to remember His holy covenant,

73 The oath which He swore to our father Abraham:
74 To grant us that we,
Being delivered from the hand of our enemies,
Might serve Him without fear, 75 In holiness and righteousness before Him all the days of our life.

76 "And you, child, will be called the prophet of the Highest;
For you will go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways, 77 To give knowledge of salvation to His people
By the remission of their sins,
78 Through the tender mercy of our God,
With which the Dayspring from on high has visited[e] us;
79 To give light to those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death,
To guide our feet into the way of peace."

80 So the child grew and became strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his manifestation to Israel.

Luke 2

Christ Born of Mary

1 And it came to pass in those days that a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be registered. The Census

2 This census first took place while Quirinius was governing Syria.

3 So all went to be registered, everyone to his own city.

4 Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David,

5 to be registered with Mary, his betrothed wife,[a] who was with child.

6 So it was, that while they were there, the days were completed for her to be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her firstborn Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling cloths, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

Glory in the Highest

8 Now there were in the same country shepherds living out in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9 And behold,[b] an angel of the Lord stood before them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were greatly afraid.

10 Then the angel said to them, “Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which will be to all people.

11 “For there is born to you this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord.

12 “And this will be the sign to you: You will find a Babe wrapped in swaddling cloths, lying in a manger.” 13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying:

14 “Glory to God in the highest,
And on earth peace, goodwill toward men!”[c]

15 So it was, when the angels had gone away from them into heaven, that the shepherds said to one another, “Let us now go to Bethlehem and see this thing that has come to pass, which the Lord has made known to us.” 16 And they came with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger.
17 Now when they had seen Him, they made widely[d] known the saying which was told them concerning this Child.
18 And all those who heard it marveled at those things which were told them by the shepherds.
19 But Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart.
20 Then the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told them.

Circumcision of Jesus

21 And when eight days were completed for the circumcision of the Child,[e] His name was called JESUS, the name given by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.

Jesus Presented in the Temple

22 Now when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were completed, they brought Him to Jerusalem to present Him to the Lord A Lowly Sacrifice for the Highest

23(as it is written in the law of the Lord, “Every male who opens the womb shall be called holy to the LORD”),[f]

24and to offer a sacrifice according to what is said in the law of the Lord, “A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.”[g]

Simeon Sees God’s Salvation

25And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon, and this man was just and devout, waiting for the Consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was upon him.

Simeon Sees

26And it had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he had seen the Lord’s Christ.

27So he came by the Spirit into the temple. And when the parents brought in the Child Jesus, to do for Him according to the custom of the law,

28he took Him up in his arms and blessed God and said:

29“Lord, now You are letting Your servant depart in peace,
According to Your word;
30For my eyes have seen Your salvation
31Which You have prepared before the face of all peoples,
32A light to bring revelation to the Gentiles,
And the glory of Your people Israel.”

33And Joseph and His mother[h] marveled at those things which were spoken of Him.

34Then Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary His mother, “Behold, this Child is destined for the fall and rising of many in Israel, and for a sign which will be spoken against 35“(yes, a sword will pierce through your own soul also), that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.”

Anna Bears Witness to the Redeemer

36Now there was one, Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity; Anna Bears Witness 37and this woman was a widow of about eighty-four years,[i] who did not depart from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.
38And coming in that instant she gave thanks to the Lord,[j] and spoke of Him to all those who looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

The Family Returns to Nazareth

39So when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned to Galilee, to their own city, Nazareth.
40And the Child grew and became strong in spirit,[k] filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him.

The Boy Jesus Amazes the Scholars

41His parents went to Jerusalem every year at the Feast of the Passover.
42And when He was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast.
43When they had finished the days, as they returned, the Boy Jesus lingered behind in Jerusalem. And Joseph and His mother[l] did not know it;

44but supposing Him to have been in the company, they went a day's journey, and sought Him among their relatives and acquaintances.
45So when they did not find Him, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking Him.
46Now so it was that after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both listening to them and asking them questions. Jesus the Student 47And all who heard Him were astonished at His understanding and answers.
48So when they saw Him, they were amazed; and His mother said to Him, "Son, why have You done this to us?
Look, Your father and I have sought You anxiously." 49And He said to them, "Why did you seek Me? Did you not know that I must be about My Father's business?" 50But they did not understand the statement which He spoke to them.

Jesus Advances in Wisdom and Favor

51Then He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was subject to them, but His mother kept all these things in her heart.
52And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men.

Luke 3

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

1 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,

New Testament Rulers

2 while Annas and Caiaphas were high priests,[a] the word of God came to John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.
3 And he went into all the region around the Jordan, preaching a baptism of repentance for the remission of
sins,
4 as it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, saying:

> "The voice of one crying in the wilderness:
> 'Prepare the way of the LORD;
> Make His paths straight.
> 5 Every valley shall be filled
> And every mountain and hill brought low;
> The crooked places shall be made straight
> And the rough ways smooth;
> 6 And all flesh shall see the salvation of > God.' "[b]

John Preaches to the People

7 Then he said to the multitudes that came out to be baptized by him, "Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the wrath to come?
8 "Therefore bear fruits worthy of repentance, and do not begin to say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father.’ For I say to you that God is able to raise up children to Abraham from these stones.

9“And even now the ax is laid to the root of the trees. Therefore every tree which does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.”

10So the people asked him, saying, “What shall we do then?”

11He answered and said to them, “He who has two tunics, let him give to him who has none; and he who has food, let him do likewise.”

12Then tax collectors also came to be baptized, and said to him, “Teacher, what shall we do?”

13And he said to them, “Collect no more than what is appointed for you.”

14Likewise the soldiers asked him, saying, “And what shall we do?” So he said to them, “Do not intimidate anyone or accuse falsely, and be content with your wages.” Three Dangers of Power

15Now as the people were in expectation, and all reasoned in their hearts about John, whether he was the Christ or not,

16John answered, saying to all, “I indeed baptize you with water; but One mightier than I is coming, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to loose. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.

17“His winnowing fan is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clean out His threshing floor, and gather the wheat into His barn; but the chaff He will burn with unquenchable fire.”

18And with many other exhortations he preached to the people.

19But Herod the tetrarch, being rebuked by him concerning Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife,[c] and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 also added this, above all, that he shut John up in prison.

John Baptizes Jesus

21 When all the people were baptized, it came to pass that Jesus also was baptized; and while He prayed, the heaven was opened.

22 And the Holy Spirit descended in bodily form like a dove upon Him, and a voice came from heaven which said, “You are My beloved Son; in You I am well pleased.”

The Genealogy of Jesus Christ

23 Now Jesus Himself began His ministry at about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) the son of Joseph, the son of Heli, Jesus’ Family Line

son of God.

Luke 4

Satan Tempts Jesus

1 Then Jesus, being filled with the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan and was led by the Spirit into[a] the wilderness, Tempting Circumstances
2 being tempted for forty days by the devil. And in those days He ate nothing, and afterward, when they had ended,
He was hungry.
3 And the devil said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, command this stone to become bread." 4 But Jesus answered him, saying,[b] "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.' "[c] 5 Then the devil, taking Him up on a high mountain, showed Him[d] all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. The Risk Outweighs the Reward
6 And the devil said to Him, "All this authority I will give You, and their glory; for this has been delivered to me, and I give it to whomever I wish.
7 "Therefore, if You will worship before me, all will be Yours."
8 And Jesus answered and said to him, "Get behind Me, Satan![e] For[f] it is written, 'You shall worship the LORD your God, and Him only you shall serve.' "[g] 9 Then he brought Him to Jerusalem, set Him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down from here.
10 "For it is written:

> 'He shall give His angels charge over you,
> To keep you,'

11 “and,

‘In their hands they shall bear you up,
Lest you dash your foot against a stone.’ ”[h]

12 And Jesus answered and said to him, “It has been said, ‘You shall not tempt the LORD your God.’ ”[i] 13 Now when the devil had ended every temptation, he departed from Him until an opportune time.

Jesus Begins His Galilean Ministry

14 Then Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit to Galilee, and news of Him went out through all the surrounding region. Mapping the Life of Jesus
15 And He taught in their synagogues, being glorified by all.

Jesus Rejected at Nazareth

16 So He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up. And as His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read. A Surprising First Message 17 And He was handed the book of the prophet Isaiah. And when He had opened the book, He found the place where it was written: Prophets Old and New

18 “The Spirit of the LORD is upon Me,
Because He has anointed Me
To preach the gospel to the poor;
He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted,[j]
To proclaim liberty to the captives
And recovery of sight to the blind,
To set at liberty those who are oppressed; The Spirit of the Lord Is upon Us

19 To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD.”[k]

20 Then He closed the book, and gave it back to the attendant and sat down. And the eyes of all who were in the synagogue were fixed on Him.

21 And He began to say to them, “Today this Scripture is fulfilled in your hearing.”

22 So all bore witness to Him, and marveled at the gracious words which proceeded out of His mouth. And they said, “Is this not Joseph’s son?”

23 He said to them, “You will surely say this proverb to Me, ‘Physician, heal yourself! Whatever we have heard done in Capernaum,[l] do also here in Your country.’ ”

24 Then He said, “Assuredly, I say to you, no prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 “But I tell you truly, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, and there was a great famine throughout all the land;

26 “but to none of them was Elijah sent except to Zarephath,[m] in the region of Sidon, to a woman who was a widow.

27 “And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, and none of them was cleansed except Naaman the Syrian.”

28 So all those in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath,

29 and rose up and thrust Him out of the city; and they led Him to the brow of the hill on which their city was built, that they might throw Him down over the cliff.

30 Then passing through the midst of them, He went His way.

Jesus Casts Out an Unclean Spirit

31Then He went down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and was teaching them on the Sabbaths.
32And they were astonished at His teaching, for His word was with authority.
33Now in the synagogue there was a man who had a spirit of an unclean demon. And he cried out with a loud voice,
34saying, “Let us alone! What have we to do with You, Jesus of Nazareth? Did You come to destroy us? I know who You are—the Holy One of God!” 35But Jesus rebuked him, saying, “Be quiet, and come out of him!” And when the demon had thrown him in their midst, it came out of him and did not hurt him.
36Then they were all amazed and spoke among themselves, saying, “What a word this is! For with authority and power He commands the unclean spirits, and they come out.”
37And the report about Him went out into every place in the surrounding region.

Peter’s Mother-in-Law Healed

38Now He arose from the synagogue and entered Simon’s house. But Simon’s wife’s mother was sick with a high fever, and they made request of Him concerning her.
39So He stood over her and rebuked the fever, and it left her. And immediately she arose and served them.

Many Healed After Sabbath Sunset

40When the sun was setting, all those who had any that were sick with various diseases brought them to Him; and He laid His hands on every one of them and healed them. He

Healed So Many

41 And demons also came out of many, crying out and saying, “You are the Christ,[n] the Son of God!” And He, rebuking them, did not allow them to speak, for they knew that He was the Christ.

Jesus Preaches in Galilee

42 Now when it was day, He departed and went into a deserted place. And the crowd sought Him and came to Him, and tried to keep Him from leaving them;
43 but He said to them, “I must preach the kingdom of God to the other cities also, because for this purpose I have been sent.”
44 And He was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.[o]

Luke 5

Four Fishermen Called as Disciples

1So it was, as the multitude pressed about Him to hear the word of God, that He stood by the Lake of Gennesaret, The World of the Fishermen

2and saw two boats standing by the lake; but the fishermen had gone from them and were washing their nets.

3Then He got into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. And He sat down and taught the multitudes from the boat.

4When He had stopped speaking, He said to Simon, "Launch out into the deep and let down your nets for a catch."

5But Simon answered and said to Him, "Master, we have toiled all night and caught nothing; nevertheless at Your word I will let down the net."

6And when they had done this, they caught a great number of fish, and their net was breaking.

7So they signaled to their partners in the other boat to come and help them. And they came and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink.

8When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord!"

9For he and all who were with him were astonished at the catch of fish which they had taken;

10and so also were James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, "Do not be afraid. From now on you will catch men."

11So when they had brought their boats to land, they forsook all and followed Him.

Jesus Cleanses a Leper

12And it happened when He was in a certain city, that behold, a man who was full of leprosy saw Jesus; and he fell on his face and implored Him, saying, “Lord, if You are willing, You can make me clean.” The Leper’s Burden

13Then He put out His hand and touched him, saying, “I am willing; be cleansed.” Immediately the leprosy left him.

14And He charged him to tell no one, “But go and show yourself to the priest, and make an offering for your cleansing, as a testimony to them, just as Moses commanded.”

15However, the report went around concerning Him all the more; and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by Him of their infirmities.

16So He Himself often withdrew into the wilderness and prayed.

Jesus Forgives and Heals a Paralytic

17Now it happened on a certain day, as He was teaching, that there were Pharisees and teachers of the law sitting by, who had come out of every town of Galilee, Judea, and Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was present to heal them.[a]

18Then behold, men brought on a bed a man who was paralyzed, whom they sought to bring in and lay before Him.

19And when they could not find how they might bring him in, because of the crowd, they went up on the housetop and let him down with his bed through the tiling into the midst before Jesus.

20When He saw their faith, He said to him, “Man, your sins are forgiven you.”

21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, “Who is this who speaks blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone?”
22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, He answered and said to them, “Why are you reasoning in your hearts?
23 “Which is easier, to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven you,’ or to say, ‘Rise up and walk’?
24 “But that you may know that the Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins”—He said to the man who was paralyzed, “I say to you, arise, take up your bed, and go to your house.”
25 Immediately he rose up before them, took up what he had been lying on, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.
26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God and were filled with fear, saying, “We have seen strange things today!”

Matthew the Tax Collector

27 After these things He went out and saw a tax collector named Levi, sitting at the tax office. And He said to him, “Follow Me.”
28 So he left all, rose up, and followed Him.
29 Then Levi gave Him a great feast in his own house. And there were a great number of tax collectors and others who sat down with them.
30 And their scribes and the Pharisees[b] complained against His disciples, saying, “Why do You eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?” 31 Jesus answered and said to them, “Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick.
32 “I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.”

Jesus Is Questioned About Fasting

33 Then they said to Him, “Why do[c] the disciples of John fast often and make prayers, and likewise those of the Pharisees, but Yours eat and drink?”

34 And He said to them, “Can you make the friends of the bridegroom fast while the bridegroom is with them?

35 “But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them; then they will fast in those days.”

36 Then He spoke a parable to them: “No one puts a piece from a new garment on an old one;[d] otherwise the new makes a tear, and also the piece that was taken out of the new does not match the old.

37 “And no one puts new wine into old wineskins; or else the new wine will burst the wineskins and be spilled, and the wineskins will be ruined.

38 “But new wine must be put into new wineskins, and both are preserved.[e]

39 “And no one, having drunk old wine, immediately[f] desires new; for he says, ‘The old is better.’ ”[g]

Luke 6

Jesus Is Lord of the Sabbath

1 Now it happened on the second Sabbath after the first[a] that He went through the grainfields. And His disciples plucked the heads of grain and ate them, rubbing them in their hands. Lord of the Sacred and the Secular Jesus Confronts the Legalists

2 And some of the Pharisees said to them, “Why are you doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath?”

3 But Jesus answering them said, “Have you not even read this, what David did when he was hungry, he and those who were with him:

4 “how he went into the house of God, took and ate the showbread, and also gave some to those with him, which is not lawful for any but the priests to eat?”

5 And He said to them, “The Son of Man is also Lord of the Sabbath.”

Healing on the Sabbath

6 Now it happened on another Sabbath, also, that He entered the synagogue and taught. And a man was there whose right hand was withered.

7 So the scribes and Pharisees watched Him closely, whether He would heal on the Sabbath, that they might find an accusation against Him.

8 But He knew their thoughts, and said to the man who had the withered hand, “Arise and stand here.” And he arose and stood.

9 Then Jesus said to them, “I will ask you one thing: Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do evil, to save life or to destroy?”[b]

10 And when He had looked around at them all, He said to the man,[c] "Stretch out your hand." And he did so, and his hand was restored as whole as the other.[d] 11 But they were filled with rage, and discussed with one another what they might do to Jesus.

The Twelve Apostles

12 Now it came to pass in those days that He went out to the mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to
God.
13 And when it was day, He called His disciples to Himself; and from them He chose twelve whom He also named apostles:
14 Simon, whom He also named Peter, and Andrew his brother; James and John; Philip and Bartholomew; 15 Matthew and Thomas; James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called the Zealot; 16 Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot who also became a traitor.

Jesus Heals a Great Multitude

17 And He came down with them and stood on a level place with a crowd of His disciples and a great multitude of people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the seacoast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear Him and be healed of their diseases,
18 as well as those who were tormented with unclean spirits. And they were healed.
19 And the whole multitude sought to touch Him, for power went out from Him and healed them all.

The Beatitudes

20 Then He lifted up His eyes toward His disciples, and said:

"Blessed are you poor,
For yours is the kingdom of God.
21 Blessed are you who hunger now,
For you shall be filled.
Blessed are you who weep now,
For you shall laugh.
22 Blessed are you when men hate you,
And when they exclude you,
And revile you, and cast out your name as evil,
For the Son of Man's sake.
23 Rejoice in that day and leap for joy!
For indeed your reward is great in heaven,
For in like manner their fathers did to the prophets.

Jesus Pronounces Woes

24 "But woe to you who are rich,
For you have received your consolation.
25 Woe to you who are full,
For you shall hunger.
Woe to you who laugh now,
For you shall mourn and weep.
26 Woe to you[e] when all[f] men speak well of you,
For so did their fathers to the false prophets.

Love Your Enemies

27 "But I say to you who hear: Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, Loving Our Enemies

28 “bless those who curse you, and pray for those who spitefully use you.
29 “To him who strikes you on the one cheek, offer the other also. And from him who takes away your cloak, do not withhold your tunic either. Mercy for All 30 “Give to everyone who asks of you. And from him who takes away your goods do not ask them back.
31 “And just as you want men to do to you, you also do to them likewise.
32 “But if you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them.
33 “And if you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners do the same.
34 “And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive back, what credit is that to you? For even sinners lend to sinners to receive as much back.
35 “But love your enemies, do good, and lend, hoping for nothing in return; and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High. For He is kind to the unthankful and evil.
36 “Therefore be merciful, just as your Father also is merciful.

Do Not Judge

37 “Judge not, and you shall not be judged. Condemn not, and you shall not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven.
38 “Give, and it will be given to you: good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over will be put into your bosom. For with the same measure that you use, it will be measured back to you.” 39 And He spoke a parable to them: “Can the blind lead the blind? Will they not both fall into the ditch?

40 “A disciple is not above his teacher, but everyone who is perfectly trained will be like his teacher.
41 “And why do you look at the speck in your brother’s eye, but do not perceive the plank in your own eye?
42 “Or how can you say to your brother, ‘Brother, let me remove the speck that is in your eye,’ when you yourself do not see the plank that is in your own eye? Hypocrite! First remove the plank from your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck that is in your brother’s eye.

A Tree Is Known by Its Fruit

43 “For a good tree does not bear bad fruit, nor does a bad tree bear good fruit.
44 “For every tree is known by its own fruit. For men do not gather figs from thorns, nor do they gather grapes from a bramble bush.
45 “A good man out of the good treasure of his heart brings forth good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart[g] brings forth evil. For out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks.

Build on the Rock

46 “But why do you call Me ‘Lord, Lord,’ and not do the things which I say?
47 “Whoever comes to Me, and hears My sayings and does them, I will show you whom he is like:
48 “He is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently against that house, and could not shake it, for it was founded on the rock.[h] 49 “But he who heard and did nothing is like a man who built a house on the earth without a foundation, against which the stream beat vehemently; and immediately it fell.[i]
And the ruin of that house was great.”

Luke 7

Jesus Heals a Centurion's Servant

1 Now when He concluded all His sayings in the hearing of the people, He entered Capernaum.
2 And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear to him,
was sick and ready to die.
3 So when he heard about Jesus, he sent elders of the Jews to Him, pleading with Him to come and heal his servant.
4 And when they came to Jesus, they begged Him earnestly, saying that the one for whom He should do this was deserving,
5 "for he loves our nation, and has built us a synagogue."
6 Then Jesus went with them. And when He was already not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to Him, saying to Him, "Lord, do not trouble Yourself, for I am not worthy that You should enter under my roof.
7 "Therefore I did not even think myself worthy to come to
You. But say the word, and my servant will be healed.
8 "For I also am a man placed under authority, having soldiers under me. And I say to one, 'Go,' and he goes; and to another, 'Come,' and he comes; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does it."
9 When Jesus heard these things, He marveled at him, and turned around and said to the crowd that followed Him, "I say to you, I have not found such great faith, not even in Israel!"
10 And those who were sent, returning to the house, found the servant well who had been sick.[a]

Jesus Raises the Son of the Widow of Nain

11 Now it happened, the day after, that He went into a city called Nain; and many of His disciples went with Him, and a large crowd.
12 And when He came near the gate of the city, behold, a dead man was being carried out, the only son of his mother; and she was a widow. And a large crowd from the city was with her.
13 When the Lord saw her, He had compassion on her and said to her, "Do not weep." 14 Then He came and touched the open coffin, and those who carried him stood still. And He said, "Young man, I say to you, arise."
15 So he who was dead sat up and began to speak. And He presented him to his mother.
16 Then fear came upon all, and they glorified God, saying, "A great prophet has risen up among us"; and, "God has visited His people."
17 And this report about Him went throughout all Judea and all the surrounding region.

John the Baptist Sends Messengers to Jesus

18 Then the disciples of John reported to him concerning all these things.
19 And John, calling two of his disciples to him, sent them to Jesus,[b] saying, "Are You the Coming One, or do we look for another?"
20 When the men had come to Him, they said, "John the Baptist has sent us to You, saying, 'Are You the Coming
One, or do we look for another?' " No Such Thing as an Underclass in Jesus' Eyes 21 And that very hour He cured many of infirmities, afflictions, and evil spirits; and to many blind He gave sight.

22 Jesus answered and said to them, “Go and tell John the things you have seen and heard: that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, the poor have the gospel preached to them. The Gospel
23 “And blessed is he who is not offended because of Me.”
24 When the messengers of John had departed, He began to speak to the multitudes concerning John: “What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?
25 “But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft garments? Indeed those who are gorgeously appareled and live in luxury are in kings’ courts.
26 “But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I say to you, and more than a prophet.
27 “This is he of whom it is written:

> ‘Behold, I send My messenger before Your > face,
> Who will prepare Your way before You.’[c]

28 “For I say to you, among those born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist;[d] but he who is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.”
29 And when all the people heard Him, even the tax collectors justified God, having been baptized with the baptism of John.
30 But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the will of God for themselves, not having been baptized by him.
31 And the Lord said,[e] “To what then shall I liken the men of this generation, and what are they like?
32 “They are like children sitting in the marketplace and calling to one another, saying:

‘We played the flute for you,
And you did not dance;
We mourned to you,
And you did not weep.’

33“For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you say, ‘He has a demon.’
34“The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, ‘Look, a glutton and a winebibber, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!’
35“But wisdom is justified by all her children.”

A Sinful Woman Forgiven

36Then one of the Pharisees asked Him to eat with him. And He went to the Pharisee’s house, and sat down to eat.

Give Jesus Your No-Holds-Barred Love

37And behold, a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at the table in the Pharisee’s house, brought an alabaster flask of fragrant oil, 38and stood at His feet behind Him weeping; and she began to wash His feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head; and she kissed His feet and anointed them with the fragrant oil.
39Now when the Pharisee who had invited Him saw this, he spoke to himself, saying, “This Man, if He were a prophet, would know who and what manner of woman this is who is touching Him, for she is a sinner.”
40And Jesus answered and said to him, “Simon, I have something to say to you.” So he said, “Teacher, say it.”
41“There was a certain creditor who had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty.
42“And when they had nothing with which to repay, he freely forgave them both. Tell Me, therefore, which of them will love him more?”

43 Simon answered and said, “I suppose the one whom he forgave more.” And He said to him, “You have rightly judged.”
44 Then He turned to the woman and said to Simon, “Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave Me no water for My feet, but she has washed My feet with her tears and wiped them with the hair of her head.
45 “You gave Me no kiss, but this woman has not ceased to kiss My feet since the time I came in.
46 “You did not anoint My head with oil, but this woman has anointed My feet with fragrant oil.
47 “Therefore I say to you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much. But to whom little is forgiven, the same loves little.”
48 Then He said to her, “Your sins are forgiven.”
49 And those who sat at the table with Him began to say to themselves, “Who is this who even forgives sins?”
50 Then He said to the woman, “Your faith has saved you.
Go in peace.”

Luke 8

Many Women Minister to Jesus

1 Now it came to pass, afterward, that He went through every city and village, preaching and bringing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God. And the twelve were with Him, The Women Who Followed Jesus

2 and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities—Mary called Magdalene, out of whom had come seven demons, Mary the Reliable Witness

3 and Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others who provided for Him[a] from their substance.

The Parable of the Sower

4 And when a great multitude had gathered, and they had come to Him from every city, He spoke by a parable: The Parables of Jesus

5 "A sower went out to sow his seed. And as he sowed, some fell by the wayside; and it was trampled down, and the birds of the air devoured it.

6 "Some fell on rock; and as soon as it sprang up, it withered away because it lacked moisture.

7 "And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it and choked it.

8 "But others fell on good ground, sprang up, and yielded a crop a hundredfold." When He had said these things He cried, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear!"

The Purpose of Parables

9Then His disciples asked Him, saying, “What does this parable mean?”

10And He said, “To you it has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God, but to the rest it is given in parables, that

> ‘Seeing they may not see,
> And hearing they may not understand.’[b]

The Parable of the Sower Explained

11“Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

12“Those by the wayside are the ones who hear; then the devil comes and takes away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13“But the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, who believe for a while and in time of temptation fall away.

14“Now the ones that fell among thorns are those who, when they have heard, go out and are choked with cares, riches, and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity.

15“But the ones that fell on the good ground are those who, having heard the word with a noble and good heart, keep it and bear fruit with patience.

The Parable of the Revealed Light

16“No one, when he has lit a lamp, covers it with a vessel or puts it under a bed, but sets it on a lampstand, that those who enter may see the light.

17“For nothing is secret that will not be revealed, nor anything hidden that will not be known and come to light.

18“Therefore take heed how you hear. For whoever has, to him more will be given; and whoever does not have, even what he seems to have will be taken from him.”

Jesus' Mother and Brothers Come to Him

19Then His mother and brothers came to Him, and could not approach Him because of the crowd.
20And it was told Him by some, who said, "Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, desiring to see
You."
21But He answered and said to them, "My mother and My brothers are these who hear the word of God and do it."

Wind and Wave Obey Jesus

22Now it happened, on a certain day, that He got into a boat with His disciples. And He said to them, "Let us cross over to the other side of the lake." And they launched out.
23But as they sailed He fell asleep. And a windstorm came down on the lake, and they were filling with water,
and were in jeopardy.
24And they came to Him and awoke Him, saying, "Master, Master, we are perishing!" Then He arose and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water. And they ceased, and there was a calm.
25But He said to them, "Where is your faith?" And they were afraid, and marveled, saying to one another, "Who can this be? For He commands even the winds and water, and they obey Him!"

A Demon-Possessed Man Healed

26Then they sailed to the country of the Gadarenes,[c] which is opposite Galilee.
27And when He stepped out on the land, there met Him a certain man from the city who had demons for a long time.
And he wore no clothes,[d] nor did he live in a house but in the tombs.

28When he saw Jesus, he cried out, fell down before Him, and with a loud voice said, “What have I to do with You, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg You, do not torment me!”

29For He had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For it had often seized him, and he was kept under guard, bound with chains and shackles; and he broke the bonds and was driven by the demon into the wilderness.

30Jesus asked him, saying, “What is your name?” And he said, “Legion,” because many demons had entered him.

31And they begged Him that He would not command them to go out into the abyss.

32Now a herd of many swine was feeding there on the mountain. So they begged Him that He would permit them to enter them. And He permitted them.

33Then the demons went out of the man and entered the swine, and the herd ran violently down the steep place into the lake and drowned.

34When those who fed them saw what had happened, they fled and told it in the city and in the country.

35Then they went out to see what had happened, and came to Jesus, and found the man from whom the demons had departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind. And they were afraid.

36They also who had seen it told them by what means he who had been demon-possessed was healed.

37Then the whole multitude of the surrounding region of the Gadarenes[e] asked Him to depart from them, for they were seized with great fear. And He got into the boat and returned.

38Now the man from whom the demons had departed begged Him that he might be with Him. But Jesus sent him away, saying, A Regular-Person Evangelist

39“Return to your own house, and tell what great things God has done for you.” And he went his way and proclaimed throughout the whole city what great things Jesus had done for him.

A Girl Restored to Life and a Woman Healed

40So it was, when Jesus returned, that the multitude welcomed Him, for they were all waiting for Him.

41And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue. And he fell down at Jesus’ feet and begged Him to come to his house, 42for he had an only daughter about twelve years of age, and she was dying. But as He went, the multitudes thronged Him.

43Now a woman, having a flow of blood for twelve years, who had spent all her livelihood on physicians and could not be healed by any,

44came from behind and touched the border of His garment. And immediately her flow of blood stopped.

45And Jesus said, “Who touched Me?” When all denied it, Peter and those with him[f] said, “Master, the multitudes throng and press You, and You say, ‘Who touched Me?’ ”[g]

46But Jesus said, “Somebody touched Me, for I perceived power going out from Me.”

47Now when the woman saw that she was not hidden, she came trembling; and falling down before Him, she declared to Him in the presence of all the people the reason she had touched Him and how she was healed immediately.

48And He said to her, “Daughter, be of good cheer;[h] your faith has made you well. Go in peace.”

49While He was still speaking, someone came from the ruler of the synagogue’s house, saying to him, “Your daughter is dead. Do not trouble the Teacher.”[i]

50 But when Jesus heard it, He answered him, saying, “Do not be afraid; only believe, and she will be made well.” 51 When He came into the house, He permitted no one to go in[j] except Peter, James, and John,[k] and the father and mother of the girl.
52 Now all wept and mourned for her; but He said, “Do not weep; she is not dead, but sleeping.”
53 And they ridiculed Him, knowing that she was dead.
54 But He put them all outside,[l] took her by the hand and called, saying, “Little girl, arise.”
55 Then her spirit returned, and she arose immediately.
And He commanded that she be given something to eat.
56 And her parents were astonished, but He charged them to tell no one what had happened.

Luke 9

Sending Out the Twelve

1 Then He called His twelve disciples together and gave them power and authority over all demons, and to cure diseases. Discipleship Is a Process

2 He sent them to preach the kingdom of God and to heal the sick.

3 And He said to them, “Take nothing for the journey, neither staffs nor bag nor bread nor money; and do not have two tunics apiece.

4 “Whatever house you enter, stay there, and from there depart.

5 “And whoever will not receive you, when you go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet as a testimony against them.”

6 So they departed and went through the towns, preaching the gospel and healing everywhere.

Herod Seeks to See Jesus

7 Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by Him; and he was perplexed, because it was said by some that John had risen from the dead,

8 and by some that Elijah had appeared, and by others that one of the old prophets had risen again.

9 Herod said, “John I have beheaded, but who is this of whom I hear such things?” So he sought to see Him.

Feeding the Five Thousand

10 And the apostles, when they had returned, told Him all that they had done. Then He took them and went aside privately into a deserted place belonging to the city called Bethsaida.

11 But when the multitudes knew it, they followed Him; and He received them and spoke to them about the kingdom of God, and healed those who had need of healing.

12 When the day began to wear away, the twelve came and said to Him, “Send the multitude away, that they may go into the surrounding towns and country, and lodge and get provisions; for we are in a deserted place here.”

13 But He said to them, “You give them something to eat.” And they said, “We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we go and buy food for all these people.”

14 For there were about five thousand men. Then He said to His disciples, “Make them sit down in groups of fifty.”

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 Then He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, He blessed and broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 So they all ate and were filled, and twelve baskets of the leftover fragments were taken up by them.

Peter Confesses Jesus as the Christ

18 And it happened, as He was alone praying, that His disciples joined Him, and He asked them, saying, “Who do the crowds say that I am?”

19 So they answered and said, “John the Baptist, but some say Elijah; and others say that one of the old prophets has risen again.”

20 He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?” Peter answered and said, “The Christ of God.”

Jesus Predicts His Death and Resurrection

21 And He strictly warned and commanded them to tell this to no one,

22 saying, “The Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised the third day.”

Take Up the Cross and Follow Him

23 Then He said to them all, “If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily,[a] and follow Me.
24 “For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake will save it.
25 “For what profit is it to a man if he gains the whole world, and is himself destroyed or lost? Losing Everything 26 “For whoever is ashamed of Me and My words, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed when He comes in His own glory, and in His Father’s, and of the holy angels.
27 “But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who shall not taste death till they see the kingdom of God.”

Jesus Transfigured on the Mount

28 Now it came to pass, about eight days after these sayings, that He took Peter, John, and James and went up on the mountain to pray.
29 As He prayed, the appearance of His face was altered, and His robe became white and glistening.
30 And behold, two men talked with Him, who were Moses and Elijah,
31 who appeared in glory and spoke of His decease which He was about to accomplish at Jerusalem.
32 But Peter and those with him were heavy with sleep; and when they were fully awake, they saw His glory and the two men who stood with Him.
33 Then it happened, as they were parting from Him, that Peter said to Jesus, “Master, it is good for us to be here;

and let us make three tabernacles: one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah”—not knowing what he said.

34While he was saying this, a cloud came and overshadowed them; and they were fearful as they entered the cloud.

35And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is My beloved Son.[b] Hear Him!”

36When the voice had ceased, Jesus was found alone. But they kept quiet, and told no one in those days any of the things they had seen.

A Boy Is Healed

37Now it happened on the next day, when they had come down from the mountain, that a great multitude met Him.

38Suddenly a man from the multitude cried out, saying, “Teacher, I implore You, look on my son, for he is my only child.

39“And behold, a spirit seizes him, and he suddenly cries out; it convulses him so that he foams at the mouth; and it departs from him with great difficulty, bruising him.

40“So I implored Your disciples to cast it out, but they could not.”

41Then Jesus answered and said, “O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you and bear with you? Bring your son here.”

42And as he was still coming, the demon threw him down and convulsed him. Then Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, healed the child, and gave him back to his father.

Jesus Again Predicts His Death

43And they were all amazed at the majesty of God. But while everyone marveled at all the things which Jesus did, He said to His disciples,

44 “Let these words sink down into your ears, for the Son of Man is about to be betrayed into the hands of men.” 45 But they did not understand this saying, and it was hidden from them so that they did not perceive it; and they were afraid to ask Him about this saying.

Who Is the Greatest?

46 Then a dispute arose among them as to which of them would be greatest.
47 And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a little child and set him by Him, 48 and said to them, “Whoever receives this little child in My name receives Me; and whoever receives Me receives Him who sent Me. For he who is least among you all will be great.”

Jesus Forbids Sectarianism

49 Now John answered and said, “Master, we saw someone casting out demons in Your name, and we forbade him because he does not follow with us.” 50 But Jesus said to him, “Do not forbid him, for he who is not against us[c] is on our[d] side.”

A Samaritan Village Rejects the Savior

51 Now it came to pass, when the time had come for Him to be received up, that He steadfastly set His face to go to Jerusalem, Bypassing Samaria
52 and sent messengers before His face. And as they went, they entered a village of the Samaritans, to prepare for
Him.
53 But they did not receive Him, because His face was set for the journey to Jerusalem.

54And when His disciples James and John saw this, they said, “Lord, do You want us to command fire to come down from heaven and consume them, just as Elijah did?”[e]

55But He turned and rebuked them,[f] and said, “You do not know what manner of spirit you are of.

56“For the Son of Man did not come to destroy men’s lives but to save them.”[g] And they went to another village.

The Cost of Discipleship

57Now it happened as they journeyed on the road, that someone said to Him, “Lord, I will follow You wherever You go.”

59Then He said to another, “Follow Me.” But he said, “Lord, let me first go and bury my father.”

60Jesus said to him, “Let the dead bury their own dead, but you go and preach the kingdom of God.”

61And another also said, “Lord, I will follow You, but let me first go and bid them farewell who are at my house.”

62But Jesus said to him, “No one, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.”

Luke 10

The Seventy Sent Out

1 After these things the Lord appointed seventy others also,[a] and sent them two by two before His face into every city and place where He Himself was about to go. Delegation and Affirmation

2 Then He said to them, "The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few; therefore pray the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into His harvest.

3 "Go your way; behold, I send you out as lambs among wolves.

4 "Carry neither money bag, knapsack, nor sandals; and greet no one along the road.

5 "But whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this house.'

6 "And if a son of peace is there, your peace will rest on it;
if not, it will return to you.

7 "And remain in the same house, eating and drinking such things as they give, for the laborer is worthy of his wages. Do not go from house to house.

8 "Whatever city you enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you.

9 "And heal the sick there, and say to them, 'The kingdom of God has come near to you.'

10 "But whatever city you enter, and they do not receive you, go out into its streets and say,

11 'The very dust of your city which clings to us[b] we wipe off against you. Nevertheless know this, that the kingdom of God has come near you.'

12 "But[c] I say to you that it will be more tolerable in that Day for Sodom than for that city.

Woe to the Impenitent Cities

13 "Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.
14 "But it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you.
15 "And you, Capernaum, who are exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades.[d] 16 "He who hears you hears Me, he who rejects you rejects Me, and he who rejects Me rejects Him who sent Me."

The Seventy Return with Joy

17 Then the seventy[e] returned with joy, saying, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us in Your name." 18 And He said to them, "I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven.
19 "Behold, I give you the authority to trample on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt you.
20 "Nevertheless do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rather[f] rejoice because your names are written in heaven."

Jesus Rejoices in the Spirit

21 In that hour Jesus rejoiced in the Spirit and said, "I thank You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You have hidden these things from the wise and prudent and revealed them to babes. Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in Your sight.
22 "All[g] things have been delivered to Me by My Father, and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, and who the Father is except the Son, and the one to whom the Son wills to reveal Him."

23 Then He turned to His disciples and said privately, "Blessed are the eyes which see the things you see;

24 "for I tell you that many prophets and kings have desired to see what you see, and have not seen it, and to hear what you hear, and have not heard it."

The Parable of the Good Samaritan

25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tested Him, saying, "Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?"

26 He said to him, "What is written in the law? What is your reading of it?"

27 So he answered and said, " 'You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength, and with all your mind,'[h] and 'your neighbor as yourself.' "[i] Love Every Neighbor

28 And He said to him, "You have answered rightly; do this and you will live."

29 But he, wanting to justify himself, said to Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?"

30 Then Jesus answered and said: "A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, who stripped him of his clothing, wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31 "Now by chance a certain priest came down that road. And when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 "Likewise a Levite, when he arrived at the place, came and looked, and passed by on the other side.

33 "But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was. And when he saw him, he had compassion.

34 "So he went to him and bandaged his wounds, pouring on oil and wine; and he set him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 “On the next day, when he departed,[j] he took out two denarii, gave them to the innkeeper, and said to him, ‘Take care of him; and whatever more you spend, when I come again, I will repay you.’ 36 “So which of these three do you think was neighbor to him who fell among the thieves?”
37 And he said, “He who showed mercy on him.” Then Jesus said to him, “Go and do likewise.”

Mary and Martha Worship and Serve

38 Now it happened as they went that He entered a certain village; and a certain woman named Martha welcomed Him into her house. Practical and Spiritual 39 And she had a sister called Mary, who also sat at Jesus’[k] feet and heard His word.
40 But Martha was distracted with much serving, and she approached Him and said, “Lord, do You not care that my sister has left me to serve alone? Therefore tell her to help
me.”
41 And Jesus[l] answered and said to her, “Martha, Martha,
you are worried and troubled about many things.
42 “But one thing is needed, and Mary has chosen that good part, which will not be taken away from her.”

Luke 11

The Model Prayer

1 Now it came to pass, as He was praying in a certain place, when He ceased, that one of His disciples said to Him,
"Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples."
2 So He said to them, "When you pray, say:

Our Father in heaven,[a] Hallowed be Your name.
Your kingdom come.[b]
Your will be done
On earth as it is in heaven.
3 Give us day by day our daily bread.
4 And forgive us our sins,
For we also forgive everyone who is indebted to us.
And do not lead us into temptation,
But deliver us from the evil one."[c]

A Friend Comes at Midnight

5 And He said to them, "Which of you shall have a friend, and go to him at midnight and say to him, 'Friend, lend me three loaves; Persistent Prayer
6 'for a friend of mine has come to me on his journey, and I have nothing to set before him';
7 "and he will answer from within and say, 'Do not trouble me; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give to you'?
8 "I say to you, though he will not rise and give to him because he is his friend, yet because of his persistence he will rise and give him as many as he needs.

Keep Asking, Seeking, Knocking

9"So I say to you, ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you.
10"For everyone who asks receives, and he who seeks finds, and to him who knocks it will be opened.
11"If a son asks for bread[d] from any father among you, will he give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will he give him a serpent instead of a fish?
12"Or if he asks for an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?
13"If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him!"

A House Divided Cannot Stand

14And He was casting out a demon, and it was mute. So it was, when the demon had gone out, that the mute spoke; and the multitudes marveled. Demons 15But some of them said, "He casts out demons by Beelzebub,[e] the ruler of the demons."
16Others, testing Him, sought from Him a sign from heaven.
17But He, knowing their thoughts, said to them: "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and a house divided against a house falls.
18"If Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? Because you say I cast out demons by Beelzebub.
19"And if I cast out demons by Beelzebub, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges.
20"But if I cast out demons with the finger of God, surely the kingdom of God has come upon you.

21 “When a strong man, fully armed, guards his own palace, his goods are in peace.
22 “But when a stronger than he comes upon him and overcomes him, he takes from him all his armor in which he trusted, and divides his spoils.
23 “He who is not with Me is against Me, and he who does not gather with Me scatters.

An Unclean Spirit Returns

24 “When an unclean spirit goes out of a man, he goes through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he says, ‘I will return to my house from which I came.’
25 “And when he comes, he finds it swept and put in order.
26 “Then he goes and takes with him seven other spirits
more wicked than himself, and they enter and dwell there;
and the last state of that man is worse than the first.”

Keeping the Word

27 And it happened, as He spoke these things, that a certain woman from the crowd raised her voice and said to Him, “Blessed is the womb that bore You, and the breasts which nursed You!” The Blessed 28 But He said, “More than that, blessed are those who hear the word of God and keep it!”

Seeking a Sign

29 And while the crowds were thickly gathered together,
He began to say, “This is an evil generation. It seeks a sign, and no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet.[f]
30 “For as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so also the Son of Man will be to this generation.

31 “The queen of the South will rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation and condemn them, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and indeed a greater than Solomon is here.
32 “The men of Nineveh will rise up in the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and indeed a greater than Jonah is here.

The Lamp of the Body

33 “No one, when he has lit a lamp, puts it in a secret place or under a basket, but on a lampstand, that those who come in may see the light.
34 “The lamp of the body is the eye. Therefore, when your eye is good, your whole body also is full of light. But when your eye is bad, your body also is full of darkness.
35 “Therefore take heed that the light which is in you is not darkness.
36 “If then your whole body is full of light, having no part dark, the whole body will be full of light, as when the bright shining of a lamp gives you light.”

Woe to the Pharisees and Lawyers

37 And as He spoke, a certain Pharisee asked Him to dine with him. So He went in and sat down to eat.
38 When the Pharisee saw it, he marveled that He had not first washed before dinner.
39 Then the Lord said to him, “Now you Pharisees make the outside of the cup and dish clean, but your inward part is full of greed and wickedness.
40 “Foolish ones! Did not He who made the outside make the inside also?
41 “But rather give alms of such things as you have; then indeed all things are clean to you.

42 “But woe to you Pharisees! For you tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass by justice and the love of God. These you ought to have done, without leaving the others undone.
43 “Woe to you Pharisees! For you love the best seats in the synagogues and greetings in the marketplaces.
44 “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites![g] For you are like graves which are not seen, and the men who walk over them are not aware of them.”
45 Then one of the lawyers answered and said to Him, “Teacher, by saying these things You reproach us also.”
46 And He said, “Woe to you also, lawyers! For you load men with burdens hard to bear, and you yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers.
47 “Woe to you! For you build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.
48 “In fact, you bear witness that you approve the deeds of your fathers; for they indeed killed them, and you build their tombs.
49 “Therefore the wisdom of God also said, ‘I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute,’ 50 “that the blood of all the prophets which was shed from the foundation of the world may be required of this generation,
51 “from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah who perished between the altar and the temple. Yes, I say to you, it shall be required of this generation.
52 “Woe to you lawyers! For you have taken away the key of knowledge. You did not enter in yourselves, and those who were entering in you hindered.” 53 And as He said these things to them,[h] the scribes and the Pharisees began to assail Him vehemently, and to cross-examine Him about many things,

54 lying in wait for Him, and seeking to catch Him in something He might say, that they might accuse Him.[i]

Luke 12

Beware of Hypocrisy

1 In the meantime, when an innumerable multitude of people had gathered together, so that they trampled one another, He began to say to His disciples first of all,
"Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.
2 "For there is nothing covered that will not be revealed, nor hidden that will not be known.
3 "Therefore whatever you have spoken in the dark will be heard in the light, and what you have spoken in the ear in inner rooms will be proclaimed on the housetops.

Jesus Teaches the Fear of God

4 "And I say to you, My friends, do not be afraid of those who kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. Redefining Fear
5 "But I will show you whom you should fear: Fear Him who, after He has killed, has power to cast into hell; yes, I say to you, fear Him!
6 "Are not five sparrows sold for two copper coins?[a] And not one of them is forgotten before God.
7 "But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Do not fear therefore; you are of more value than many sparrows.

Confess Christ Before Men

8 "Also I say to you, whoever confesses Me before men, him the Son of Man also will confess before the angels of God.
9 "But he who denies Me before men will be denied before the angels of God.

10 “And anyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him; but to him who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven.
11 “Now when they bring you to the synagogues and magistrates and authorities, do not worry about how or what you should answer, or what you should say.
12 “For the Holy Spirit will teach you in that very hour what you ought to say.”

The Parable of the Rich Fool

13 Then one from the crowd said to Him, “Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me.” 14 But He said to him, “Man, who made Me a judge or an arbitrator over you?”
15 And He said to them, “Take heed and beware of covetousness,[b] for one’s life does not consist in the abundance of the things he possesses.” Guard Against Greed 16 Then He spoke a parable to them, saying: “The ground of a certain rich man yielded plentifully.
17 “And he thought within himself, saying, ‘What shall I do, since I have no room to store my crops?’ 18 “So he said, ‘I will do this: I will pull down my barns and build greater, and there I will store all my crops and my goods.
19 ‘And I will say to my soul, “Soul, you have many goods laid up for many years; take your ease; eat, drink, and be merry.” ’ 20 “But God said to him, ‘Fool! This night your soul will be required of you; then whose will those things be which you have provided?’
21 “So is he who lays up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.”

Do Not Worry

22 Then He said to His disciples, “Therefore I say to you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat; nor about the body, what you will put on.
23 “Life is more than food, and the body is more than clothing.
24 “Consider the ravens, for they neither sow nor reap, which have neither storehouse nor barn; and God feeds them. Of how much more value are you than the birds?
25 “And which of you by worrying can add one cubit to his stature?
26 “If you then are not able to do the least, why are you anxious for the rest?
27 “Consider the lilies, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin; and yet I say to you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
28 “If then God so clothes the grass, which today is in the field and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, how much more will He clothe you, O you of little faith?
29 “And do not seek what you should eat or what you should drink, nor have an anxious mind.
30 “For all these things the nations of the world seek after,
and your Father knows that you need these things.
31 “But seek the kingdom of God, and all these things[c] shall be added to you.
32 “Do not fear, little flock, for it is your Father’s good pleasure to give you the kingdom.
33 “Sell what you have and give alms; provide yourselves money bags which do not grow old, a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches nor moth destroys.
34 “For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

The Faithful Servant and the Evil Servant

35 “Let your waist be girded and your lamps burning;
36 “and you yourselves be like men who wait for their master, when he will return from the wedding, that when he comes and knocks they may open to him immediately.
37 “Blessed are those servants whom the master, when he comes, will find watching. Assuredly, I say to you that he will gird himself and have them sit down to eat, and will come and serve them.
38 “And if he should come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.
39 “But know this, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched and[d] not allowed his house to be broken into.
40 “Therefore you also be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.”
41 Then Peter said to Him, “Lord, do You speak this parable only to us, or to all people?”
42 And the Lord said, “Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his master will make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of food in due season?
43 “Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.
44 “Truly, I say to you that he will make him ruler over all that he has.
45 “But if that servant says in his heart, ‘My master is delaying his coming,’ and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and be drunk, 46 “the master of that servant will come on a day when he is not looking for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in two and appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 “And that servant who knew his master’s will, and did not prepare himself or do according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.
48 “But he who did not know, yet committed things deserving of stripes, shall be beaten with few. For everyone to whom much is given, from him much will be required; and to whom much has been committed, of him they will ask the more.

Christ Brings Division

49 “I came to send fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled!
50 “But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how distressed I am till it is accomplished!
51 “Do you suppose that I came to give peace on earth? I tell you, not at all, but rather division.
52 “For from now on five in one house will be divided:
three against two, and two against three.
53 “Father will be divided against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.”

Discern the Time

54 Then He also said to the multitudes, “Whenever you see a cloud rising out of the west, immediately you say, ‘A shower is coming’; and so it is.
55 “And when you see the south wind blow, you say, ‘There will be hot weather’; and there is.
56 “Hypocrites! You can discern the face of the sky and of the earth, but how is it you do not discern this time?

Make Peace with Your Adversary

57 “Yes, and why, even of yourselves, do you not judge what is right?
58 “When you go with your adversary to the magistrate, make every effort along the way to settle with him, lest he drag you to the judge, the judge deliver you to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison.
59 “I tell you, you shall not depart from there till you have paid the very last mite.”

Luke 13

Repent or Perish

1 There were present at that season some who told Him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.
2 And Jesus answered and said to them, "Do you suppose that these Galileans were worse sinners than all other Galileans, because they suffered such things?
3 "I tell you, no; but unless you repent you will all likewise perish.
4 "Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them, do you think that they were worse sinners than all other men who dwelt in Jerusalem?
5 "I tell you, no; but unless you repent you will all likewise perish."

The Parable of the Barren Fig Tree

6 He also spoke this parable: "A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none.
7 "Then he said to the keeper of his vineyard, 'Look, for three years I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree and find none. Cut it down; why does it use up the ground?' 8 "But he answered and said to him, 'Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and fertilize it.
9 'And if it bears fruit, well. But if not, after that[a] you can cut it down.' "

A Spirit of Infirmity

10 Now He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath. The Value of a Woman with a Disability

11 And behold, there was a woman who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bent over and could in no way raise herself up.
12 But when Jesus saw her, He called her to Him and said to her, "Woman, you are loosed from your infirmity." 13 And He laid His hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.
14 But the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath; and he said to the crowd, "There are six days on which men ought to work; therefore come and be healed on them, and not on the Sabbath day."
15 The Lord then answered him and said, "Hypocrite![b] Does not each one of you on the Sabbath loose his ox or donkey from the stall, and lead it away to water it?
16 "So ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound—think of it—for eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath?" 17 And when He said these things, all His adversaries were put to shame; and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by Him.

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

18 Then He said, "What is the kingdom of God like? And to what shall I compare it?
19 "It is like a mustard seed, which a man took and put in his garden; and it grew and became a large[c] tree, and the birds of the air nested in its branches."

The Parable of the Leaven

20 And again He said, "To what shall I liken the kingdom of God?
21 "It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures[d] of meal till it was all leavened."

The Narrow Way

22And He went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.
23Then one said to Him, “Lord, are there few who are saved?” And He said to them, 24“Strive to enter through the narrow gate, for many, I say to you, will seek to enter and will not be able.
25“When once the Master of the house has risen up and shut the door, and you begin to stand outside and knock at the door, saying, ‘Lord, Lord, open for us,’ and He will answer and say to you, ‘I do not know you, where you are from,’
26“then you will begin to say, ‘We ate and drank in Your presence, and You taught in our streets.’ 27“But He will say, ‘I tell you I do not know you, where you are from. Depart from Me, all you workers of iniquity.’ 28“There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and yourselves thrust out.
29“They will come from the east and the west, from the north and the south, and sit down in the kingdom of God.
30“And indeed there are last who will be first, and there are first who will be last.”
31On that very day[e] some Pharisees came, saying to Him, “Get out and depart from here, for Herod wants to kill
You.”
32And He said to them, “Go, tell that fox, ‘Behold, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.’ 33“Nevertheless I must journey today, tomorrow, and the day following; for it cannot be that a prophet should perish outside of Jerusalem.

Jesus Laments over Jerusalem

34 “O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the one who kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, but you were not willing!

35 “See! Your house is left to you desolate; and assuredly,[f] I say to you, you shall not see Me until the time comes when you say, ‘Blessed is He who comes in the name of the LORD!’ ”[g]

Luke 14

A Man with Dropsy Healed on the Sabbath

1 Now it happened, as He went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees to eat bread on the Sabbath, that they watched Him closely. The Letter and Spirit of the Law

2 And behold, there was a certain man before Him who had dropsy.

3 And Jesus, answering, spoke to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?"[a] 4 But they kept silent. And He took him and healed him, and let him go.

5 Then He answered them, saying, "Which of you, having a donkey[b] or an ox that has fallen into a pit, will not immediately pull him out on the Sabbath day?"

6 And they could not answer Him regarding these things.

Take the Lowly Place

7 So He told a parable to those who were invited, when
He noted how they chose the best places, saying to them:

8 "When you are invited by anyone to a wedding feast, do not sit down in the best place, lest one more honorable than you be invited by him;

9 "and he who invited you and him come and say to you,
'Give place to this man,' and then you begin with shame to take the lowest place.

10 "But when you are invited, go and sit down in the lowest place, so that when he who invited you comes he may say to you, 'Friend, go up higher.' Then you will have glory in the presence of those who sit at the table with you.

11 "For whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."

12 Then He also said to him who invited Him, “When you give a dinner or a supper, do not ask your friends, your brothers, your relatives, nor rich neighbors, lest they also invite you back, and you be repaid.
13 “But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind.
14 “And you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you; for you shall be repaid at the resurrection of the just.”

The Parable of the Great Supper

15 Now when one of those who sat at the table with Him heard these things, he said to Him, “Blessed is he who shall eat bread[c] in the kingdom of God!” 16 Then He said to him, “A certain man gave a great supper and invited many, 17 “and sent his servant at supper time to say to those who were invited, ‘Come, for all things are now ready.’
18 “But they all with one accord began to make excuses.
The first said to him, ‘I have bought a piece of ground, and I must go and see it. I ask you to have me excused.’
19 “And another said, ‘I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I am going to test them. I ask you to have me excused.’ 20 “Still another said, ‘I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.’ 21 “So that servant came and reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant, ‘Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in here the poor and the maimed and the lame and the blind.’
22 “And the servant said, ‘Master, it is done as you commanded, and still there is room.’ 23 “Then the master said to the servant, ‘Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 ‘For I say to you that none of those men who were invited shall taste my supper.’ ”

Leaving All to Follow Christ

25 Now great multitudes went with Him. And He turned and said to them, The Cost of Following Jesus 26 “If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, yes, and his own life also, he cannot be My disciple.
27 “And whoever does not bear his cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.
28 “For which of you, intending to build a tower, does not sit down first and count the cost, whether he has enough to finish it— 29 “lest, after he has laid the foundation, and is not able to finish, all who see it begin to mock him, 30 “saying, ‘This man began to build and was not able to finish.’
31 “Or what king, going to make war against another king, does not sit down first and consider whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who comes against him with twenty thousand?
32 “Or else, while the other is still a great way off, he sends a delegation and asks conditions of peace.
33 “So likewise, whoever of you does not forsake all that he has cannot be My disciple.

Tasteless Salt Is Worthless

34 “Salt is good; but if the salt has lost its flavor, how shall it be seasoned?
35 “It is neither fit for the land nor for the dunghill, but men throw it out. He who has ears to hear, let him hear!”

Luke 15

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

1 Then all the tax collectors and the sinners drew near to Him to hear Him. Confused Value
2 And the Pharisees and scribes complained, saying, “This Man receives sinners and eats with them.”
3 So He spoke this parable to them, saying:
4 “What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he loses one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness, and go after the one which is lost until he finds
it?
5 “And when he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing.
6 “And when he comes home, he calls together his friends and neighbors, saying to them, ‘Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost!’ 7 “I say to you that likewise there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine just persons who need no repentance.

The Parable of the Lost Coin

8 “Or what woman, having ten silver coins,[a] if she loses one coin, does not light a lamp, sweep the house, and search carefully until she finds it?
9 “And when she has found it, she calls her friends and neighbors together, saying, ‘Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I lost!’ 10 “Likewise, I say to you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents.”

The Parable of the Lost Son

11 Then He said: “A certain man had two sons.

12 “And the younger of them said to his father, ‘Father, give me the portion of goods that falls to me.’ So he divided to them his livelihood.

13 “And not many days after, the younger son gathered all together, journeyed to a far country, and there wasted his possessions with prodigal living.

14 “But when he had spent all, there arose a severe famine in that land, and he began to be in want.

15 “Then he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 “And he would gladly have filled his stomach with the pods that the swine ate, and no one gave him anything.

17 “But when he came to himself, he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired servants have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 ‘I will arise and go to my father, and will say to him, “Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you,

19 “and I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Make me like one of your hired servants.” ’

20 “And he arose and came to his father. But when he was still a great way off, his father saw him and had compassion, and ran and fell on his neck and kissed him.

21 “And the son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven and in your sight, and am no longer worthy to be called your son.’

22 “But the father said to his servants, ‘Bring[b] out the best robe and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand and sandals on his feet.

23 ‘And bring the fatted calf here and kill it, and let us eat and be merry;

24 ‘for this my son was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.’ And they began to be merry.

25 “Now his older son was in the field. And as he came and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing.

The Older Brother

26 “So he called one of the servants and asked what these things meant.
27 “And he said to him, ‘Your brother has come, and because he has received him safe and sound, your father has killed the fatted calf.’ 28 “But he was angry and would not go in. Therefore his father came out and pleaded with him.
29 “So he answered and said to his father, ‘Lo, these many years I have been serving you; I never transgressed your commandment at any time; and yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might make merry with my friends.
30 ‘But as soon as this son of yours came, who has devoured your livelihood with harlots, you killed the fatted calf for him.’
31 “And he said to him, ‘Son, you are always with me, and all that I have is yours.
32 ‘It was right that we should make merry and be glad,
for your brother was dead and is alive again, and was lost and is found.’ ”

Luke 16

The Parable of the Unjust Steward

1 He also said to His disciples: “There was a certain rich man who had a steward, and an accusation was brought to him that this man was wasting his goods. A Shrewd Manager
2 “So he called him and said to him, ‘What is this I hear about you? Give an account of your stewardship, for you can no longer be steward.’
3 “Then the steward said within himself, ‘What shall I do?
For my master is taking the stewardship away from me. I cannot dig; I am ashamed to beg.
4 ‘I have resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.’
5 “So he called every one of his master’s debtors to him, and said to the first, ‘How much do you owe my master?’ 6 “And he said, ‘A hundred measures[a] of oil.’ So he said to him, ‘Take your bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty.’
7 “Then he said to another, ‘And how much do you owe?’
So he said, ‘A hundred measures[b] of wheat.’ And he said to him, ‘Take your bill, and write eighty.’ 8 “So the master commended the unjust steward because he had dealt shrewdly. For the sons of this world are more shrewd in their generation than the sons of light.
9 “And I say to you, make friends for yourselves by unrighteous mammon, that when you fail,[c] they may receive you into an everlasting home.
10 “He who is faithful in what is least is faithful also in much; and he who is unjust in what is least is unjust also in much.
11 “Therefore if you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?

12 “And if you have not been faithful in what is another man’s, who will give you what is your own?
13 “No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.”

The Law, the Prophets, and the Kingdom

14 Now the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, also heard all these things, and they derided Him.
15 And He said to them, “You are those who justify yourselves before men, but God knows your hearts. For what is highly esteemed among men is an abomination in the sight of God.
16 “The law and the prophets were until John. Since that time the kingdom of God has been preached, and everyone is pressing into it.
17 “And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one tittle of the law to fail.
18 “Whoever divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery; and whoever marries her who is divorced from her husband commits adultery.

The Rich Man and Lazarus

19 “There was a certain rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen and fared sumptuously every day.
20 “But there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, full of sores, who was laid at his gate, 21 “desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell[d] from the rich man’s table. Moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.
22 “So it was that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels to Abraham’s bosom. The rich man also died and was buried.

23 “And being in torments in Hades, he lifted up his eyes and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.
24 “Then he cried and said, ‘Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.’
25 “But Abraham said, ‘Son, remember that in your lifetime you received your good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted and you are tormented.
26 ‘And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, so that those who want to pass from here to you cannot, nor can those from there pass to us.’ 27 “Then he said, ‘I beg you therefore, father, that you would send him to my father’s house, 28 ‘for I have five brothers, that he may testify to them, lest they also come to this place of torment.’ 29 “Abraham said to him, ‘They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.’ 30 “And he said, ‘No, father Abraham; but if one goes to them from the dead, they will repent.’ 31 “But he said to him, ‘If they do not hear Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rise from the dead.’ ”

Luke 17

Jesus Warns of Offenses

1 Then He said to the disciples, “It is impossible that no offenses should come, but woe to him through whom they do come!
2 “It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.
3 “Take heed to yourselves. If your brother sins against you,[a] rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him.
4 “And if he sins against you seven times in a day, and seven times in a day returns to you,[b] saying, ‘I repent,’ you shall forgive him.”

Faith and Duty

5 And the apostles said to the Lord, “Increase our faith.”
6 So the Lord said, “If you have faith as a mustard seed, you can say to this mulberry tree, ‘Be pulled up by the roots and be planted in the sea,’ and it would obey you.
7 “And which of you, having a servant plowing or tending sheep, will say to him when he has come in from the field, ‘Come at once and sit down to eat’?
8 “But will he not rather say to him, ‘Prepare something for my supper, and gird yourself and serve me till I have eaten and drunk, and afterward you will eat and drink’?
9 “Does he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I think not.[c] 10 “So likewise you, when you have done all those things which you are commanded, say, ‘We are unprofitable servants. We have done what was our duty to do.’ ”

Ten Lepers Cleansed

11Now it happened as He went to Jerusalem that He passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. Where Are the Others?

12Then as He entered a certain village, there met Him ten men who were lepers, who stood afar off.

13And they lifted up their voices and said, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!"

14So when He saw them, He said to them, "Go, show yourselves to the priests." And so it was that as they went, they were cleansed.

15And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, returned, and with a loud voice glorified God, 16and fell down on his face at His feet, giving Him thanks. And he was a Samaritan.

17So Jesus answered and said, "Were there not ten cleansed? But where are the nine?

18"Were there not any found who returned to give glory to God except this foreigner?"

19And He said to him, "Arise, go your way. Your faith has made you well."

The Coming of the Kingdom

20Now when He was asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come, He answered them and said, "The kingdom of God does not come with observation;

21"nor will they say, 'See here!' or 'See there!'[d] For indeed, the kingdom of God is within you."

22Then He said to the disciples, "The days will come when you will desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it.

23"And they will say to you, 'Look here!' or 'Look there!'[e] Do not go after them or follow them.

24 “For as the lightning that flashes out of one part under heaven shines to the other part under heaven, so also the Son of Man will be in His day.
25 “But first He must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation.
26 “And as it was in the days of Noah, so it will be also in the days of the Son of Man:
27 “They ate, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all.
28 “Likewise as it was also in the days of Lot: They ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built; 29 “but on the day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and destroyed them all.
30 “Even so will it be in the day when the Son of Man is revealed.
31 “In that day, he who is on the housetop, and his goods are in the house, let him not come down to take them away.
And likewise the one who is in the field, let him not turn back.
32 “Remember Lot’s wife.
33 “Whoever seeks to save his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life will preserve it.
34 “I tell you, in that night there will be two men in one bed: the one will be taken and the other will be left.
35 “Two women will be grinding together: the one will be taken and the other left.
36 “Two men will be in the field: the one will be taken and the other left.”[f]
37 And they answered and said to Him, “Where, Lord?” So He said to them, “Wherever the body is, there the eagles will be gathered together.”

Luke 18

The Parable of the Persistent Widow

1 Then He spoke a parable to them, that men always ought to pray and not lose heart, 2 saying: "There was in a certain city a judge who did not fear God nor regard man.
3 "Now there was a widow in that city; and she came to him, saying, 'Get justice for me from my adversary.' 4 "And he would not for a while; but afterward he said within himself, 'Though I do not fear God nor regard man, 5 'yet because this widow troubles me I will avenge her,
lest by her continual coming she weary me.' "
6 Then the Lord said, "Hear what the unjust judge said.
7 "And shall God not avenge His own elect who cry out day and night to Him, though He bears long with them?
8 "I tell you that He will avenge them speedily.
Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will He really find faith on the earth?"

The Parable of the Pharisee and the Tax Collector

9 Also He spoke this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:

Quit Comparing

10 "Two men went up to the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.
11 "The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself,
'God, I thank You that I am not like other men—extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this tax collector.
12 'I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I possess.'

13 “And the tax collector, standing afar off, would not so much as raise his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, ‘God, be merciful to me a sinner!’ 14 “I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.”

Jesus Blesses Little Children

15 Then they also brought infants to Him that He might touch them; but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked
them.
16 But Jesus called them to Him and said, “Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of God.
17 “Assuredly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will by no means enter it.”

Jesus Counsels the Rich Young Ruler

18 Now a certain ruler asked Him, saying, “Good Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?” 19 So Jesus said to him, “Why do you call Me good? No one is good but One, that is, God.
20 “You know the commandments: ‘Do not commit adultery,’ ‘Do not murder,’ ‘Do not steal,’ ‘Do not bear false witness,’ ‘Honor your father and your mother.’ ”[a] 21 And he said, “All these things I have kept from my youth.”
22 So when Jesus heard these things, He said to him, “You still lack one thing. Sell all that you have and distribute to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come,
follow Me.”
23 But when he heard this, he became very sorrowful, for he was very rich.

With God All Things Are Possible

24And when Jesus saw that he became very sorrowful, He said, “How hard it is for those who have riches to enter the kingdom of God!
25“For it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.”
26And those who heard it said, “Who then can be saved?”
27But He said, “The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.”
28Then Peter said, “See, we have left all[b] and followed You.”
29So He said to them, “Assuredly, I say to you, there is no one who has left house or parents or brothers or wife or children, for the sake of the kingdom of God,
30“who shall not receive many times more in this present time, and in the age to come eternal life.”

Jesus a Third Time Predicts His Death and Resurrection

31Then He took the twelve aside and said to them, “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of Man will be accomplished.
32“For He will be delivered to the Gentiles and will be mocked and insulted and spit upon.
33“They will scourge Him and kill Him. And the third day He will rise again.”
34But they understood none of these things; this saying was hidden from them, and they did not know the things which were spoken.

A Blind Man Receives His Sight

35Then it happened, as He was coming near Jericho, that a certain blind man sat by the road begging. Holy Interruptions

36And hearing a multitude passing by, he asked what it meant.

37So they told him that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by.

38And he cried out, saying, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!”

39Then those who went before warned him that he should be quiet; but he cried out all the more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”

40So Jesus stood still and commanded him to be brought to Him. And when he had come near, He asked him, 41saying, “What do you want Me to do for you?” He said, “Lord, that I may receive my sight.”

42Then Jesus said to him, “Receive your sight; your faith has made you well.”

43And immediately he received his sight, and followed Him, glorifying God. And all the people, when they saw it, gave praise to God.

Luke 19

Jesus Comes to Zacchaeus' House

1 Then Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. Startling Change

2 Now behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus who was a chief tax collector, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see who Jesus was, but could not because of the crowd, for he was of short stature.

4 So he ran ahead and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see Him, for He was going to pass that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, He looked up and saw him,[a] and said to him, "Zacchaeus, make haste and come down, for today I must stay at your house."

6 So he made haste and came down, and received Him joyfully.

7 But when they saw it, they all complained, saying, "He has gone to be a guest with a man who is a sinner."

8 Then Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, "Look, Lord, I give half of my goods to the poor; and if I have taken anything from anyone by false accusation, I restore fourfold."

9 And Jesus said to him, "Today salvation has come to this house, because he also is a son of Abraham;

10 "for the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost."

The Parable of the Minas

11 Now as they heard these things, He spoke another parable, because He was near Jerusalem and because they thought the kingdom of God would appear immediately.

12 Therefore He said: “A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom and to return.
13 “So he called ten of his servants, delivered to them ten minas,[b] and said to them, ‘Do business till I come.’ 14 “But his citizens hated him, and sent a delegation after him, saying, ‘We will not have this man to reign over us.’ 15 “And so it was that when he returned, having received the kingdom, he then commanded these servants, to whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.
16 “Then came the first, saying, ‘Master, your mina has earned ten minas.’
17 “And he said to him, ‘Well done, good servant; because you were faithful in a very little, have authority over ten cities.’
18 “And the second came, saying, ‘Master, your mina has earned five minas.’
19 “Likewise he said to him, ‘You also be over five cities.’ 20 “Then another came, saying, ‘Master, here is your mina, which I have kept put away in a handkerchief.
21 ‘For I feared you, because you are an austere man. You collect what you did not deposit, and reap what you did not sow.’
22 “And he said to him, ‘Out of your own mouth I will judge you, you wicked servant. You knew that I was an austere man, collecting what I did not deposit and reaping what I did not sow.
23 ‘Why then did you not put my money in the bank, that at my coming I might have collected it with interest?’ 24 “And he said to those who stood by, ‘Take the mina from him, and give it to him who has ten minas.’
25 (“But they said to him, ‘Master, he has ten minas.’) 26 ‘For I say to you, that to everyone who has will be given; and from him who does not have, even what he has

will be taken away from him.
27 ‘But bring here those enemies of mine, who did not want me to reign over them, and slay them before me.’ ”

The Triumphal Entry

28 When He had said this, He went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.
29 And it came to pass, when He drew near to Bethphage[c] and Bethany, at the mountain called Olivet, that He sent two of His disciples, 30 saying, “Go into the village opposite you, where as you enter you will find a colt tied, on which no one has ever sat. Loose it and bring it here.
31 “And if anyone asks you, ‘Why are you loosing it?’ thus you shall say to him, ‘Because the Lord has need of it.’ ”
32 So those who were sent went their way and found it just as He had said to them.
33 But as they were loosing the colt, the owners of it said to them, “Why are you loosing the colt?”
34 And they said, “The Lord has need of him.”
35 Then they brought him to Jesus. And they threw their own clothes on the colt, and they set Jesus on him.
36 And as He went, many spread their clothes on the road.
37 Then, as He was now drawing near the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works they had seen,
38 saying:

“ ‘Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the LORD!’[d] Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!”

39 And some of the Pharisees called to Him from the crowd, “Teacher, rebuke Your disciples.”
40 But He answered and said to them, “I tell you that if these should keep silent, the stones would immediately cry out.”

Jesus Weeps over Jerusalem

41 Now as He drew near, He saw the city and wept over it, 42 saying, “If you had known, even you, especially in this your day, the things that make for your peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes.
43 “For days will come upon you when your enemies will build an embankment around you, surround you and close you in on every side, 44 “and level you, and your children within you, to the ground; and they will not leave in you one stone upon another, because you did not know the time of your visitation.”

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

45 Then He went into the temple and began to drive out those who bought and sold in it,[e]
46 saying to them, “It is written, ‘My house is[f] a house of prayer,’[g] but you have made it a ‘den of thieves.’ ”[h]
47 And He was teaching daily in the temple. But the chief priests, the scribes, and the leaders of the people sought to destroy Him, 48 and were unable to do anything; for all the people were very attentive to hear Him.

Luke 20

Jesus' Authority Questioned

1 Now it happened on one of those days, as He taught the people in the temple and preached the gospel, that the chief priests and the scribes, together with the elders, confronted Him
2 and spoke to Him, saying, "Tell us, by what authority are You doing these things? Or who is he who gave You this authority?"
3 But He answered and said to them, "I also will ask you one thing, and answer Me:
4 "The baptism of John—was it from heaven or from men?"
5 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say, 'Why then[a] did you not believe him?'
6 "But if we say, 'From men,' all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John was a prophet."
7 So they answered that they did not know where it was
from.
8 And Jesus said to them, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things."

The Parable of the Wicked Vinedressers

9 Then He began to tell the people this parable: "A certain man planted a vineyard, leased it to vinedressers, and went into a far country for a long time. Owners or Renters 10 "Now at vintage-time he sent a servant to the vinedressers, that they might give him some of the fruit of the vineyard. But the vinedressers beat him and sent him away empty-handed.

11 “Again he sent another servant; and they beat him also, treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty-handed.
12 “And again he sent a third; and they wounded him also and cast him out.
13 “Then the owner of the vineyard said, ‘What shall I do?
I will send my beloved son. Probably they will respect him when they see him.’
14 “But when the vinedressers saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.’
15 “So they cast him out of the vineyard and killed him.
Therefore what will the owner of the vineyard do to them?
16 “He will come and destroy those vinedressers and give the vineyard to others.” And when they heard it they said, “Certainly not!”
17 Then He looked at them and said, “What then is this that is written:

‘The stone which the builders rejected
Has become the chief cornerstone’?[b]

18 “Whoever falls on that stone will be broken; but on whomever it falls, it will grind him to powder.” 19 And the chief priests and the scribes that very hour sought to lay hands on Him, but they feared the people[c]— for they knew He had spoken this parable against them.

The Pharisees: Is It Lawful to Pay Taxes to Caesar?

20 So they watched Him, and sent spies who pretended to be righteous, that they might seize on His words, in order to deliver Him to the power and the authority of the governor.
21 Then they asked Him, saying, “Teacher, we know that You say and teach rightly, and You do not show personal favoritism, but teach the way of God in truth:

22 “Is it lawful for us to pay taxes to Caesar or not?”

23 But He perceived their craftiness, and said to them, “Why do you test Me?[d]

24 “Show Me a denarius. Whose image and inscription does it have?” They answered and said, “Caesar’s.”

25 And He said to them, “Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.”

26 But they could not catch Him in His words in the presence of the people. And they marveled at His answer and kept silent.

The Sadducees: What About the Resurrection?

27 Then some of the Sadducees, who deny that there is a resurrection, came to Him and asked Him,

28 saying: “Teacher, Moses wrote to us that if a man’s brother dies, having a wife, and he dies without children, his brother should take his wife and raise up offspring for his brother.

29 “Now there were seven brothers. And the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 “And the second[e] took her as wife, and he died childless.

31 “Then the third took her, and in like manner the seven also; and they left no children,[f] and died.

32 “Last of all the woman died also.

33 “Therefore, in the resurrection, whose wife does she become? For all seven had her as wife.”

34 Jesus answered and said to them, “The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage. Families of the Gospels

35 “But those who are counted worthy to attain that age, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry nor are given in marriage;

36 “nor can they die anymore, for they are equal to the angels and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection.
37 “But even Moses showed in the burning bush passage that the dead are raised, when he called the Lord ‘the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’[g]
38 “For He is not the God of the dead but of the living, for all live to Him.”
39 Then some of the scribes answered and said, “Teacher, You have spoken well.”
40 But after that they dared not question Him anymore.

Jesus: How Can David Call His Descendant Lord?

41 And He said to them, “How can they say that the Christ is the Son of David?
42 “Now David himself said in the Book of Psalms:

> ‘The LORD said to my Lord,
> “Sit at My right hand,
> 43 Till I make Your enemies Your footstool.” [h]

44 “Therefore David calls Him ‘Lord’; how is He then his Son?”

Beware of the Scribes

45 Then, in the hearing of all the people, He said to His disciples, 46 “Beware of the scribes, who desire to go around in long robes, love greetings in the marketplaces, the best seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts, 47 “who devour widows’ houses, and for a pretense make long prayers. These will receive greater condemnation.”

Luke 21

The Widow's Two Mites

1 And He looked up and saw the rich putting their gifts into the treasury,
2 and He saw also a certain poor widow putting in two mites.
3 So He said, "Truly I say to you that this poor widow has put in more than all; 4 "for all these out of their abundance have put in offerings for God,[a] but she out of her poverty put in all the livelihood that she had."

Jesus Predicts the Destruction of the Temple

5 Then, as some spoke of the temple, how it was adorned with beautiful stones and donations, He said, 6 "These things which you see—the days will come in which not one stone shall be left upon another that shall not be thrown down."

The Signs of the Times and the End of the Age

7 So they asked Him, saying, "Teacher, but when will these things be? And what sign will there be when these things are about to take place?" 8 And He said: "Take heed that you not be deceived. For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am He,' and, 'The time has drawn near.' Therefore[b] do not go after them.
9 "But when you hear of wars and commotions, do not be terrified; for these things must come to pass first, but the end will not come immediately." 10 Then He said to them, "Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.

11 “And there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be fearful sights and great signs from heaven.
12 “But before all these things, they will lay their hands on you and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons. You will be brought before kings and rulers for My name’s sake.
13 “But it will turn out for you as an occasion for testimony.
14 “Therefore settle it in your hearts not to meditate beforehand on what you will answer; 15 “for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries will not be able to contradict or resist.
16 “You will be betrayed even by parents and brothers, relatives and friends; and they will put some of you to death.
17 “And you will be hated by all for My name’s sake.
18 “But not a hair of your head shall be lost.
19 “By your patience possess your souls.

The Destruction of Jerusalem

20 “But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation is near.
21 “Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, let those who are in the midst of her depart, and let not those who are in the country enter her.
22 “For these are the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.
23 “But woe to those who are pregnant and to those who are nursing babies in those days! For there will be great distress in the land and wrath upon this people.
24 “And they will fall by the edge of the sword, and be led away captive into all nations. And Jerusalem will be trampled by Gentiles until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled.

The Coming of the Son of Man

25 “And there will be signs in the sun, in the moon, and in the stars; and on the earth distress of nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring; 26 “men’s hearts failing them from fear and the expectation of those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of the heavens will be shaken.
27 “Then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.
28 “Now when these things begin to happen, look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption draws near.”

The Parable of the Fig Tree

29 Then He spoke to them a parable: “Look at the fig tree, and all the trees.
30 “When they are already budding, you see and know for yourselves that summer is now near.
31 “So you also, when you see these things happening, know that the kingdom of God is near.
32 “Assuredly, I say to you, this generation will by no means pass away till all things take place.
33 “Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away.

The Importance of Watching

34 “But take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be weighed down with carousing, drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that Day come on you unexpectedly.
35 “For it will come as a snare on all those who dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 “Watch therefore, and pray always that you may be counted worthy[c] to escape all these things that will come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man.”

37 And in the daytime He was teaching in the temple, but at night He went out and stayed on the mountain called Olivet.

38 Then early in the morning all the people came to Him in the temple to hear Him.

Luke 22

The Plot to Kill Jesus

1 Now the Feast of Unleavened Bread drew near, which is called Passover.
2 And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might kill Him, for they feared the people.
3 Then Satan entered Judas, surnamed Iscariot, who was numbered among the twelve.
4 So he went his way and conferred with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray Him to them.
5 And they were glad, and agreed to give him money.
6 So he promised and sought opportunity to betray Him to them in the absence of the multitude.

Jesus and His Disciples Prepare the Passover

7 Then came the Day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover must be killed. Passover
8 And He sent Peter and John, saying, "Go and prepare the Passover for us, that we may eat." 9 So they said to Him, "Where do You want us to prepare?"
10 And He said to them, "Behold, when you have entered the city, a man will meet you carrying a pitcher of water;
follow him into the house which he enters.
11 "Then you shall say to the master of the house, 'The Teacher says to you, "Where is the guest room where I may eat the Passover with My disciples?" ' 12 "Then he will show you a large, furnished upper room;
there make ready."

13 So they went and found it just as He had said to them, and they prepared the Passover.

Jesus Institutes the Lord's Supper

14 When the hour had come, He sat down, and the twelve[a] apostles with Him.
15 Then He said to them, "With fervent desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer; 16 "for I say to you, I will no longer eat of it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God." 17 Then He took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, "Take this and divide it among yourselves;
18 "for I say to you,[b] I will not drink of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes." 19 And He took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, "This is My body which is given for you;
do this in remembrance of Me."
20 Likewise He also took the cup after supper, saying,
"This cup is the new covenant in My blood, which is shed
for you.
21 "But behold, the hand of My betrayer is with Me on the table.
22 "And truly the Son of Man goes as it has been determined, but woe to that man by whom He is betrayed!" 23 Then they began to question among themselves, which of them it was who would do this thing.

The Disciples Argue About Greatness

24 Now there was also a dispute among them, as to which of them should be considered the greatest.
25 And He said to them, "The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and those who exercise authority over them are called 'benefactors.'

26 “But not so among you; on the contrary, he who is greatest among you, let him be as the younger, and he who governs as he who serves.
27 “For who is greater, he who sits at the table, or he who serves? Is it not he who sits at the table? Yet I am among you as the One who serves.
28 “But you are those who have continued with Me in My trials.
29 “And I bestow upon you a kingdom, just as My Father bestowed one upon Me, 30 “that you may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.”

Jesus Predicts Peter’s Denial

31 And the Lord said,[c] “Simon, Simon! Indeed, Satan has asked for you, that he may sift you as wheat.
32 “But I have prayed for you, that your faith should not fail; and when you have returned to Me, strengthen your brethren.”
33 But he said to Him, “Lord, I am ready to go with You, both to prison and to death.” 34 Then He said, “I tell you, Peter, the rooster shall not crow this day before you will deny three times that you know Me.”

Supplies for the Road

35 And He said to them, “When I sent you without money bag, knapsack, and sandals, did you lack anything?” So they said, “Nothing.”
36 Then He said to them, “But now, he who has a money bag, let him take it, and likewise a knapsack; and he who has no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one.

37 “For I say to you that this which is written must still be accomplished in Me: ‘And He was numbered with the transgressors.’[d] For the things concerning Me have an end.”
38 So they said, “Lord, look, here are two swords.” And He said to them, “It is enough.”

The Prayer in the Garden

39 Coming out, He went to the Mount of Olives, as He was accustomed, and His disciples also followed Him. Pray Against Temptation
40 When He came to the place, He said to them, “Pray that you may not enter into temptation.”
41 And He was withdrawn from them about a stone’s throw, and He knelt down and prayed, 42 saying, “Father, if it is Your will, take this cup away from Me; nevertheless not My will, but Yours, be done.” 43 Then an angel appeared to Him from heaven, strengthening Him.
44 And being in agony, He prayed more earnestly. Then His sweat became like great drops of blood falling down to the ground.[e]
45 When He rose up from prayer, and had come to His disciples, He found them sleeping from sorrow.
46 Then He said to them, “Why do you sleep? Rise and pray, lest you enter into temptation.”

Betrayal and Arrest in Gethsemane

47 And while He was still speaking, behold, a multitude; and he who was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them and drew near to Jesus to kiss Him.
48 But Jesus said to him, “Judas, are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?”

49When those around Him saw what was going to happen, they said to Him, “Lord, shall we strike with the sword?”
50And one of them struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his right ear.
51But Jesus answered and said, “Permit even this.” And He touched his ear and healed him.
52Then Jesus said to the chief priests, captains of the temple, and the elders who had come to Him, “Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs?
53“When I was with you daily in the temple, you did not try to seize Me. But this is your hour, and the power of darkness.”

Peter Denies Jesus, and Weeps Bitterly

54Having arrested Him, they led Him and brought Him into the high priest’s house. But Peter followed at a distance.
55Now when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the courtyard and sat down together, Peter sat among them.
56And a certain servant girl, seeing him as he sat by the fire, looked intently at him and said, “This man was also with Him.” Before and After 57But he denied Him,[f] saying, “Woman, I do not know
Him.” 58And after a little while another saw him and said, “You also are of them.” But Peter said, “Man, I am not!”
59Then after about an hour had passed, another confidently affirmed, saying, “Surely this fellow also was with Him, for he is a Galilean.” 60But Peter said, “Man, I do not know what you are saying!” Immediately, while he was still speaking, the rooster[g] crowed.

61 And the Lord turned and looked at Peter. Then Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how He had said to him,
"Before the rooster crows,[h] you will deny Me three times."
62 So Peter went out and wept bitterly.

Jesus Mocked and Beaten

63 Now the men who held Jesus mocked Him and beat
Him.
64 And having blindfolded Him, they struck Him on the face and asked Him,[i] saying, "Prophesy! Who is the one who struck You?"
65 And many other things they blasphemously spoke against Him.

Jesus Faces the Sanhedrin

66 As soon as it was day, the elders of the people, both chief priests and scribes, came together and led Him into their council, saying, 67 "If You are the Christ, tell us." But He said to them, "If I tell you, you will by no means believe.
68 "And if I also ask you, you will by no means answer Me or let Me go.[j] 69 "Hereafter the Son of Man will sit on the right hand of the power of God."
70 Then they all said, "Are You then the Son of God?" So
He said to them, "You rightly say that I am."
71 And they said, "What further testimony do we need?
For we have heard it ourselves from His own mouth."

Luke 23

Jesus Handed Over to Pontius Pilate

1 Then the whole multitude of them arose and led Him to Pilate.
2 And they began to accuse Him, saying, “We found this fellow perverting the[a] nation, and forbidding to pay taxes to Caesar, saying that He Himself is Christ, a King.”
3 Then Pilate asked Him, saying, “Are You the King of the Jews?” He answered him and said, “It is as you say.”
4 So Pilate said to the chief priests and the crowd, “I find no fault in this Man.”
5 But they were the more fierce, saying, “He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee to this place.”

Jesus Faces Herod

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee,[b] he asked if the Man were a Galilean.
7 And as soon as he knew that He belonged to Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent Him to Herod, who was also in Jerusalem at that time.
8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad;
for he had desired for a long time to see Him, because he had heard many things about Him, and he hoped to see some miracle done by Him.
9 Then he questioned Him with many words, but He answered him nothing.
10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused Him.
11 Then Herod, with his men of war, treated Him with contempt and mocked Him, arrayed Him in a gorgeous robe, and sent Him back to Pilate.

12 That very day Pilate and Herod became friends with each other, for previously they had been at enmity with each other.

Taking the Place of Barabbas

13 Then Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests, the rulers, and the people,

14 said to them, “You have brought this Man to me, as one who misleads the people. And indeed, having examined Him in your presence, I have found no fault in this Man concerning those things of which you accuse Him;

15 “no, neither did Herod, for I sent you back to him;[c] and indeed nothing deserving of death has been done by Him.

16 “I will therefore chastise Him and release Him”

17 (for it was necessary for him to release one to them at the feast).[d]

18 And they all cried out at once, saying, “Away with this Man, and release to us Barabbas”—

19 who had been thrown into prison for a certain rebellion made in the city, and for murder.

20 Pilate, therefore, wishing to release Jesus, again called out to them.

21 But they shouted, saying, “Crucify Him, crucify Him!”

22 Then he said to them the third time, “Why, what evil has He done? I have found no reason for death in Him. I will therefore chastise Him and let Him go.”

23 But they were insistent, demanding with loud voices that He be crucified. And the voices of these men and of the chief priests prevailed.[e]

24 So Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they requested.

25 And he released to them[f] the one they requested, who for rebellion and murder had been thrown into prison; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

The King on a Cross

26 Now as they led Him away, they laid hold of a certain man, Simon a Cyrenian, who was coming from the country, and on him they laid the cross that he might bear it after Jesus.
27 And a great multitude of the people followed Him, and women who also mourned and lamented Him.
28 But Jesus, turning to them, said, "Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for Me, but weep for yourselves and for your children.
29 "For indeed the days are coming in which they will say,
'Blessed are the barren, wombs that never bore, and breasts which never nursed!' 30 "Then they will begin 'to say to the mountains, "Fall on us!" and to the hills, "Cover us!" '[g] 31 "For if they do these things in the green wood, what will be done in the dry?"
32 There were also two others, criminals, led with Him to be put to death.
33 And when they had come to the place called Calvary, there they crucified Him, and the criminals, one on the right hand and the other on the left.
34 Then Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they do."[h] And they divided His garments and cast lots.
35 And the people stood looking on. But even the rulers with them sneered, saying, "He saved others; let Him save Himself if He is the Christ, the chosen of God."
36 The soldiers also mocked Him, coming and offering Him sour wine,

37 and saying, “If You are the King of the Jews, save Yourself.”
38 And an inscription also was written over Him in letters of Greek, Latin, and Hebrew:[i]

THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 Then one of the criminals who were hanged blasphemed Him, saying, “If You are the Christ,[j] save Yourself and us.”
40 But the other, answering, rebuked him, saying, “Do you not even fear God, seeing you are under the same condemnation?
41 “And we indeed justly, for we receive the due reward of our deeds; but this Man has done nothing wrong.” 42 Then he said to Jesus, “Lord,[k] remember me when You come into Your kingdom.”
43 And Jesus said to him, “Assuredly, I say to you, today you will be with Me in Paradise.”

Jesus Dies on the Cross

44 Now it was[l] about the sixth hour, and there was darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.
45 Then the sun was darkened,[m] and the veil of the temple was torn in two.
46 And when Jesus had cried out with a loud voice, He said, “Father, ‘into Your hands I commit My spirit.’ ”[n]
Having said this, He breathed His last.
47 So when the centurion saw what had happened, he glorified God, saying, “Certainly this was a righteous Man!” 48 And the whole crowd who came together to that sight, seeing what had been done, beat their breasts and returned.

49But all His acquaintances, and the women who followed Him from Galilee, stood at a distance, watching these things. Welcoming Women into the Kingdom

Jesus Buried in Joseph's Tomb

50Now behold, there was a man named Joseph, a council member, a good and just man.
51He had not consented to their decision and deed. He was from Arimathea, a city of the Jews, who himself was also waiting[o] for the kingdom of God.
52This man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus.
53Then he took it down, wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a tomb that was hewn out of the rock, where no one had ever lain before.
54That day was the Preparation, and the Sabbath drew near.
55And the women who had come with Him from Galilee followed after, and they observed the tomb and how His body was laid.
56Then they returned and prepared spices and fragrant oils. And they rested on the Sabbath according to the commandment.

Luke 24

He Is Risen

1Now on the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they, and certain other women with them,[a] came to the tomb bringing the spices which they had prepared.
2But they found the stone rolled away from the tomb.
3Then they went in and did not find the body of the Lord
Jesus.
4And it happened, as they were greatly[b] perplexed about this, that behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.
5Then, as they were afraid and bowed their faces to the earth, they said to them, “Why do you seek the living among the dead?
6“He is not here, but is risen! Remember how He spoke to you when He was still in Galilee, 7“saying, ‘The Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise
again.’ ”
8And they remembered His words.
9Then they returned from the tomb and told all these things to the eleven and to all the rest.
10It was Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Mary the mother of James, and the other women with them, who told these things to the apostles.
11And their words seemed to them like idle tales, and they did not believe them.
12But Peter arose and ran to the tomb; and stooping down, he saw the linen cloths lying[c] by themselves; and he departed, marveling to himself at what had happened.

The Road to Emmaus

13 Now behold, two of them were traveling that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was seven miles[d] from Jerusalem.
14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.
15 So it was, while they conversed and reasoned, that Jesus Himself drew near and went with them.
16 But their eyes were restrained, so that they did not know Him.
17 And He said to them, "What kind of conversation is this that you have with one another as you walk and are sad?"[e] 18 Then the one whose name was Cleopas answered and said to Him, "Are You the only stranger in Jerusalem, and have You not known the things which happened there in these days?"
19 And He said to them, "What things?" So they said to Him, "The things concerning Jesus of Nazareth, who was a Prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people,
20 "and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered Him to be condemned to death, and crucified Him.
21 "But we were hoping that it was He who was going to redeem Israel. Indeed, besides all this, today is the third day since these things happened.
22 "Yes, and certain women of our company, who arrived at the tomb early, astonished us.
23 "When they did not find His body, they came saying that they had also seen a vision of angels who said He was alive.
24 "And certain of those who were with us went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said; but Him they did not see."

25 Then He said to them, “O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken!
26 “Ought not the Christ to have suffered these things and to enter into His glory?”
27 And beginning at Moses and all the Prophets, He expounded to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself. The Suffering Christ

The Disciples’ Eyes Opened

28 Then they drew near to the village where they were going, and He indicated that He would have gone farther.
29 But they constrained Him, saying, “Abide with us, for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent.” And He went in to stay with them.
30 Now it came to pass, as He sat at the table with them, that He took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to
them.
31 Then their eyes were opened and they knew Him; and He vanished from their sight.
32 And they said to one another, “Did not our heart burn within us while He talked with us on the road, and while He opened the Scriptures to us?”
33 So they rose up that very hour and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven and those who were with them gathered together, 34 saying, “The Lord is risen indeed, and has appeared to Simon!”
35 And they told about the things that had happened on the road, and how He was known to them in the breaking of bread.

Jesus Appears to His Disciples

36Now as they said these things, Jesus Himself stood in the midst of them, and said to them, “Peace to you.”

37But they were terrified and frightened, and supposed they had seen a spirit.

38And He said to them, “Why are you troubled? And why do doubts arise in your hearts?

39“Behold My hands and My feet, that it is I Myself. Handle Me and see, for a spirit does not have flesh and bones as you see I have.”

40When He had said this, He showed them His hands and His feet.[f]

41But while they still did not believe for joy, and marveled, He said to them, “Have you any food here?”

42So they gave Him a piece of a broiled fish and some honeycomb.[g]

43And He took it and ate in their presence.

The Scriptures Opened

44Then He said to them, “These are the words which I spoke to you while I was still with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the Law of Moses and the Prophets and the Psalms concerning Me.”

45And He opened their understanding, that they might comprehend the Scriptures. Jesus’ Last Words

46Then He said to them, “Thus it is written, and thus it was necessary for the Christ to suffer and to rise[h] from the dead the third day, 47“and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name to all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

48“And you are witnesses of these things.

49“Behold, I send the Promise of My Father upon you; but tarry in the city of Jerusalem[i] until you are endued with power from on high.”

The Ascension

50 And He led them out as far as Bethany, and He lifted up His hands and blessed them.
51 Now it came to pass, while He blessed them, that He was parted from them and carried up into heaven.
52 And they worshiped Him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy,
53 and were continually in the temple praising and[j] blessing God. Amen.[k]

Luke

Luke 1:1

Also known as: The “beloved physician” (Col. 4:14).

Home: Possibly Antioch of Syria; later Philippi and other cities where Christian communities grew.

Background: Born into an educated and cultured Gentile family.

Occupation: Physician; later, historian, author, and evangelist.

Best known for: Writing the books of Luke and Acts (about one-fourth of the New Testament), with an emphasis on prayer, the work of the Holy Spirit, and the gospel’s impact on outliers of Jewish culture, including Gentiles, women, and the poor.

More: Luke is one of several health care workers in the Bible. To learn about some others, see “Worthy Physicians” at Job 13:4.

The Gospel Is for Everyone

Luke 1:1–4

Luke addressed both his Gospel and the Book of Acts to "Theophilus" ("Beloved of God"). Little is known about Theophilus, leading to considerable speculation over the centuries. The name could refer to either an individual or a group. It may have been a given name or a name adopted after conversion, a common practice among early Christians. The title "most excellent" indicates high rank in Roman society, but Acts 1:1 omits the phrase.

The content and scope of Luke's writings imply that Luke wrote for Gentile readers, emphasizing that Jesus is for everyone, not just Israel. Forgiveness and salvation are freely available to every person, regardless of ethnicity, gender, or social status. Luke showed that the Good News is for . . .

- Samaritans (Luke 9:52–56; 10:30–37; 17:11–19);
- Gentiles (2:32; 3:6, 8; 4:25–27; 7:9; 10:1; 24:47);
- Jews (1:32, 33, 54);
- women (1:26–56; 7:36–50; 8:1–3; 10:38–42);
- outcasts such as tax collectors, widows, lepers, and the disabled (3:12; 4:27; 5:27–32; 7:11–15, 22, 23, 37–50; 14:1–6; 15:1; 17:12; 19:2–10);
- the poor (1:53; 2:7; 6:20; 7:22); and
- the rich (19:2; 23:50).

Our Works, Not Our Savvy or Power

Luke 1:5

The Herod mentioned in Luke 1:5 was a charming, brilliant, and intelligent politician. Yet this man, known as "Herod the Great," was a part of a dynasty that has lived in infamy for its violence, incest, and intrigue. Our works, not our savvy or power, is the true mark of brilliance and intelligence.

A Statement of Integrity

Luke 1:18, 19

When Zacharias doubted the news that he and his wife would have a son, his disbelief was based in part on their advanced age. But his scoffing also implied a lack of trust in the messenger. The angel offered a simple response: “I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God.”

Gabriel did not argue with Zacharias. He did not give evidence of his honesty. He simply declared his position before God. If Gabriel were a liar, God would have banished him long ago. His continued presence before the Lord was a sign of his absolute trustworthiness. No one who deals treacherously can stand before God (Hab. 1:13). If we know God, we are to be like Him (2 Pet. 1:3, 4; 1 John 3:2). Because He is faithful and true (Rev. 3:14; 19:11; 22:6), we must be faithful and true.

It would be impressive if the claim “I am a Christian” established integrity. But too often that claim implies low levels of trustworthiness. Self-proclaimed Christian businesspeople sometimes fail to pay their bills, abuse contracts, do sloppy work, or make excuses for broken promises and cruel behavior. Churches and ministries sometimes cheat vendors, shortchange employees, alienate people from certain backgrounds, or misrepresent the gospel through teaching non-biblical principles.

If Gabriel’s confident statement could confirm his integrity, our own faithful actions should erase all doubt about our honesty. Of all people, Christ’s followers should be known for their unimpeachable integrity.

The Lord's Maidservant

Luke 1:38

Mary of Nazareth might have been no more than fifteen years old when the angel Gabriel appeared to her (Luke 1:26, 27). His startling announcement that she would soon bear the Son of God signaled the end of her normal life.

Mary would be the subject of rumors and gossip from that moment on. Her husband-to-be had every right to publicly end their betrothal, exposing her to public humiliation. Even if Joseph "put her away secretly" (Matt. 1:19), circumstances would force her to return in shame to her father's house or to survive on her own by whatever means she could.

Faced with a bleak future through no fault of her own, Mary had plenty of reason to balk at Gabriel's message. Yet she instead accepted her assignment without reservation. "Behold the maidservant of the Lord!" Mary replied. "Let it be to me according to your word" (Luke 1:38). She found at least part of her safe haven in Joseph, who committed to walking beside her on the strange and difficult path ahead.

Mary also found relief in visiting her relative Elizabeth. Mary arrived during the third trimester of Elizabeth's pregnancy (1:39–56) and likely helped Elizabeth prepare for her baby at the same time that she acquired what she needed to set up a home with Joseph. Mary must have soaked up wisdom by listening to this older, righteous woman and observing her marriage to Zacharias.

Once Jesus was born and the family had established themselves in Nazareth (2:39, 40), Mary probably settled into homemaking routines. With her baby strapped to her back or slung over her shoulder, she drew water, baked bread, spun wool, and more (see "Jewish Homemaking" at Mark 1:29–31).

Luke recorded the family's obedience to Jewish law—having Jesus circumcised (Luke 2:21), observing Mary's ritual purification (2:22), and presenting their son along with an appropriate sacrifice at the temple (2:22–24). Mary likely provided Jesus' earliest instruction in the Scriptures.

The New Testament reveals little of Mary after Jesus was born. She is not listed among Jesus' earliest followers, and on one appearance in the narrative, her son seemed to treat her with detachment (8:19–21; 11:27, 28). Nevertheless, she stood at the cross (John 19:25–27) and was among those who gathered together to await the Holy Spirit's arrival (Acts 1:14).

The Good News in Mary's Song

Luke 1:46–55

Mary's much-loved song contains more than a mother's private praise. Her words celebrate God's care for struggling people in any society and situation. Known as the Magnificat (from magnificare, the first word in the Latin version), the song voices Mary's awe regarding the great things the Lord has accomplished (Luke 1:49). Notice who receives God's help: the "lowly," including Mary (1:48, 49, 52); those who fear Him (1:50); the hungry (1:53); and the oppressed people of Israel (1:54). In contrast, the Lord scatters the proud (1:51); puts down the mighty (1:52); and sends away the rich empty-handed (1:53).

Jesus' birth is good news for the lowly. He was born into poverty, so the humble can identify with the Savior right from His birth. They can count on His mercy, which comes to "those who fear Him from generation to generation" (1:50).

More: For more on the poverty that Jesus and His family felt firsthand, see "The Gifts of the Magi" at Matt. 2:11. Throughout His ministry, wealth remained an important topic for Jesus. See "Stop Worry" at Matt. 6:19–34.

The Census

Luke 2:1–3

Scripture mentions several major government censuses, including this one conducted when Quirinius was imperial legate in the Roman province of Syria.

Censuses were crucial for the purposes of taxation, administration, military planning and conscription, recruitment of volunteer and forced labor for public works projects, and for tithes and offerings to maintain religious institutions. Caesar Augustus used censuses to inventory his empire's resources and needs, to raise money, and to allocate troops. The Romans are believed to have held an empire-wide census every fourteen years, and such a census may be the count that Luke records.

Although censuses served legitimate needs, registration was seen by many as a means of exploitation, especially when the government ruled without the consent of the governed and with little concern for their welfare. This was the situation in Israel under the Romans, but God nevertheless used a census to move Joseph and Mary to Bethlehem, where Jesus was born in keeping with His plan.

A Lowly Sacrifice for the Highest

Luke 2:22–24

The sacrifice offered by Jesus' family proves that He was born into poverty. The Law required a woman to offer a lamb on the occasion of a birth, but the poor were allowed to instead bring two turtledoves or pigeons (Lev. 12:6–8). The heart matters much more than the finances.

Simeon Sees

Luke 2:25–35

Nothing stood out about Simeon that qualified him to take the Christ child in his arms and bless Him. The Bible does not portray him as a recognized religious leader, and he had no special authority. His only credential was that he was a "just and devout" man who walked closely with the Holy Spirit.

What better credential is there?

Simeon ("Heard") shows how God honors those who give themselves to Him in humility and worship. Despite Simeon's "lowly" position when it came to formal religious training, Simeon somehow knew that the Redeemer would arrive not as a ruler wrapped in Jewish nationalism, nor as a zealot with a violent political agenda, but as a Baby swaddled in His parents' loving arms. His kingdom would be a stumbling block to some and the Rock of salvation to others, both Jew and Gentile. Simeon also foresaw that this newborn Son's destiny would cause severe pain to the young couple who stood before him, but that the painful events of His life would reveal "the thoughts of many hearts" (Luke 2:34, 35).

Anna Bears Witness

Luke 2:36–38

Anna lingered daily in the temple, serving God with fasting and prayer. As a prophet she was known for spiritual wisdom and for proclaiming God's words. When Joseph and Mary presented Jesus at the temple, Anna recognized Him as Israel's rescuer. Her prayers had no doubt expressed a longing for God's Anointed. Her years in the temple hearing the Scriptures read aloud had given her a thorough knowledge of messianic prophecies.

Along with Simeon, Anna testified to Jesus' identity as God's Redeemer. As a woman her word would have counted for little in Jewish courts, but Luke was inspired to include her in his Gospel. She highlights a change that Jesus the Redeemer would bring about. Among His followers, women would no longer be regarded as untrustworthy witnesses. They were full members of a new community of faith.

More: Another woman became a key witness after Jesus' resurrection. See "Mary the Reliable Witness" at Luke 8:2. Just as many women were important to the early church, they have continued to play essential roles in spreading God's message over the centuries and across the world.

Jesus the Student

Luke 2:46, 47

The scene of Jesus learning in the temple suggests that He was not born into the world already possessing all the knowledge He would need. Although the young boy's abilities impressed His elders, He apparently needed to engage in the same process of lifelong learning as every other human being. Once again, Jesus taught us how to live as a human; learning is part of living to honor God.

The rabbis whom Jesus encountered in the temple courtyard were Judaism's preeminent experts. They researched Old Testament law, developed rabbinical traditions, and applied both to contemporary issues. Some sat on the Jewish Council. They regularly discussed religious and legal topics in the temple for anyone to hear (Matt. 6:5; 7:28, 29; 23:1–7).

Twelve-year-old Jesus was considered a man, and Luke portrays Him as an exemplary student. He went to the temple to learn about God's law, listening carefully and asking about His "Father's business" (Luke 2:49). He humbly subjected Himself to the discipline of learning (2:51, 52). His turn to teach would come later; for now, He accepted the role of student.

Jesus is an obvious model for all of us who attend school or who need to learn on the job or elsewhere. We need to gain all we can from the best teachers we can find, bringing with us our most humble and teachable attitudes.

New Testament Rulers
(Luke 3:1)

The Roman empire was far less centralized than most wide-ranging domains. A surprisingly small bureaucracy and army managed a system that functioned for nearly a thousand years. But the empire's success depended on the goodwill of its subjects. Peoples that complied with Rome enjoyed relative leniency. By granting a degree of autonomy to these nations, Rome could concentrate its limited armed forces on more troubled areas. Rome's brutal response to rebellion deterred revolt and created an incentive to remain loyal to Caesar and his empire.

Thanks to Luke's list of Roman officials, we can almost name the day when Jesus began His public ministry. The accompanying timeline shows major political leaders of the Roman empire and Palestine in the first century.

Three Dangers of Power

Luke 3:14

The temptation for abuse always lurks in the shadow of power. This danger remains even when the leader seeks to lead with excellent intentions. As John responded to the Roman soldiers who policed Jerusalem, he struck at three potential concerns:

1. Intimidation. If we use power to control people too weak or too afraid to push back, we will find ourselves surrounded by resentful people.
2. False accusations. If we use power to blame others when things go wrong, people will learn not to point out our mistakes—and sooner or later it will come back to bite us.
3. Discontent. If we use power for our own benefit, our appetite for control and selfish gain will never be satisfied.

More: The gospel's power is the complete opposite of the selfish power that leads to intimidation, blame, and discontent. See "You Shall Receive Power" at Acts 1:8.

Jesus' Family Line

Luke 3:23–38

Passages like this genealogy and its counterpart in Matthew 1:1–16 are important parts of Jesus' story. By showing Jesus' descent from King David, the genealogies establishes His credentials as the Messiah. The genealogies also show that Jesus was fully human in addition to being fully God. While modern skeptics question Christ's divinity, some in the first century doubted His full humanity. They wondered if He was an immaterial spirit, a "heavenly Jesus" who merely appeared to be human.

To answer that charge, Luke and others emphasized Jesus' real-world roots. Luke and Matthew describe His infancy, for example, to prove that despite His miraculous conception, He was born just like any other flesh-and-blood human being. Luke highlights Jesus' mother Mary and His earthly father Joseph. He also grounds the story in a precise moment of Roman and Jewish history (Luke 3:1, 2). Luke demonstrates that Jesus was not only the Son of God but also the Son of Man.

Inherited Pain

Luke 3:36–38

The list of Jesus' ancestors shows His direct connection to broken people, a reality that offers hope to all of us who are haunted by inherited pain. Early in the biblical record we find family members with profound problems:

- Adam (Luke 3:38) disobeyed God and lost his place in the perfect setting of the Garden of Eden (Gen. 3:23, 24).
- Seth (Luke 3:38) was conceived out of grief over the murder of one son and the alienation of another. His heartbroken mother saw him as a gift from God to ease the pain of her loss (Gen. 4:25).
- Noah (Luke 3:36) embarrassed his sons with his alcohol abuse, exposing himself during a drunken stupor (Gen. 9:20–23).

The people in Luke's genealogy are more than names on a list. Each one was a real person with real problems, just like us.

Tempting Circumstances
Luke 4:1–13

For each of the temptations that Jesus faced there is an intriguing environmental backdrop. Satan enticed Him to sin in three distinct settings:

- In a desert (or wilderness) (Luke 4:1–4). The ancients believed that deserts were inhabited by spirits engaged in constant warfare. Some early church fathers even secluded themselves in desert caves to battle evil spirits and develop spiritual disciplines. Unfortunately, like some modern believers who go overboard in secluding themselves from "secular" culture, some of these early Christians fell out of touch with the everyday problems of the world outside. Centuries earlier, Israel had faced major difficulties in the desert. They rebelled against God and wandered the wastelands for forty years before entering the Promised Land, all because they failed to trust the Lord to protect them and provide for their needs (Num. 14:1–35). When we commit the same error today, we may find ourselves in an emotional or spiritual wasteland, wandering and weary until we turn our hearts back to God.
- On a mountain (Luke 4:5–8). In ancient times, mountains were riddled with idolatrous religious shrines. Since its earliest days, Israel had battled the dark lure of these places, sometimes unsuccessfully. Christians today face similar temptations when we buy into the idea that we aren't truly living if we aren't continually seeking life's peak experiences. As we chase thrill after thrill, each more exciting and extreme than the last, we run the risk of setting up idols in God's place. By putting our desire for pleasure above our desire for God, we are worshiping whatever satisfies our craving.

- In a city (Luke 4:9–13). As they stood on the pinnacle of the temple, Satan bid Jesus to take command of the holy city of Jerusalem. Jerusalem and its temple were at the center of Israel's spiritual life. Gaining power over the hearts and minds of those around us, especially in a place we love and revere, can tempt us to abuse that power by forcing others to bend to our will. But like Jesus, we should uphold people's rights to make their own decisions. Jesus came to set people free, not to enslave them. They were already in bondage of sin. The world didn't need a dictator. It needed a Savior.

The Risk Outweighs the Reward

Luke 4:5–8

Satan promised Jesus authority over all the world's kingdoms. The father of lies (John 8:44) spoke truthfully when he bragged, "This [authority] has been delivered to me, and I give it to whomever I wish" (Luke 4:6). Yet Satan neglected to mention who had given him that power. It was from God the Son Himself, who possesses authority over the entire universe (Col. 1:15–17).

Yet Jesus did not respond by claiming His rightful authority. And instead of focusing on the benefits of Satan's offer, He responded to its cost: Satan demanded that Jesus reject His Father as the God who alone deserves worship.

Jesus felt real temptation, the same powerful lure toward evil that we struggle against. His response compels us to ask: When someone entices us with an offer that promises everything we might hope for, can we see past the upside to analyze the downside? The benefits may be attractive, but at what cost? If we are required in any way to compromise our Lord's commands, values, or honor, then the price is simply too high. We need to respond as Jesus did: "Get behind Me, Satan!" (Luke 4:8).

More: Jesus' temptation was a major event in His life and in His preparation for ministry. Matt. 4:1–11 and Mark 1:12, 13 also record the scene. Moses also confronted the "passing pleasures of sin," but, like Jesus, he resisted (Heb. 11:24–26).

Mapping the Life of Jesus
Luke 4:14

1. Jesus is born at Bethlehem (Luke 2:1–7).
2. Joseph, Mary, and Jesus flee to Egypt to escape King Herod (Matt. 2:13–15).
3. Jesus grows up in Nazareth of Galilee, where His father is a carpenter (Matt. 2:19–23).
4. At age 12, Jesus makes a pilgrimage with His parents to the temple at Jerusalem, where He converses with teachers of the Law (Luke 2:41–50).
5. Jesus is baptized in the Jordan River by John the Baptist (Matt. 3:13–17; John 1:29–34).
6. Jesus goes into the wilderness for 40 days, where He is tested by Satan (Matt. 4:1–11).

7. Launching His ministry in Galilee, Jesus turns water into wine at Cana (John 2:1–11), preaches in His hometown synagogue at Nazareth (Luke 4:16–30), and performs healing miracles in and around Capernaum; His fame spreads as far north as Syria (Matt. 4:23–25).
8. Jesus calls twelve men to follow Him as His disciples (Luke 6:12–16) and delivers the Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5–7; Luke 6:20–49).
9. Jesus brings His message to the Samaritan city of Sychar (John 4:1–42) and heals ten lepers from Samaria (Luke 17:11–19).
10. Jesus raises Lazarus from the dead at Bethany (John 11).
11. Jesus teaches in Jerusalem, where He is eventually arrested, tried, and crucified, but rises from the dead (Mark 14–16).
12. The Lord Jesus ascends to heaven from the Mount of Olives east of Jerusalem (Acts 1:9).

A Surprising First Message

Luke 4:16–27

Jesus launched His public ministry with a dramatic first sermon in the synagogue of His hometown, where He announced that God had chosen and anointed Him to preach the Good News (Luke 4:18; compare Is. 61:1, 2).

When Jesus said that the “acceptable year of the Lord” had arrived (Luke 4:19), He was referring to the Old Testament concept of the Year of Jubilee (Lev. 25:8–19). Every fifty years, the Israelites were to free slaves, cancel debts, and restore land to its original owners. Jesus communicated His intention to radically change people’s lives not only spiritually but also sociologically and economically.

Jesus’ claims startled His listeners for at least two reasons. First, He began by reminding His listeners of God’s target audience for the Good News: the poor, brokenhearted, imprisoned, blind, and oppressed.

At first the people welcomed His message (Luke 4:22). They may have assumed that Jesus was speaking figuratively about them. But they soon began to question His right to make these claims. “We know this guy, don’t we?” they more or less said (4:22). “Isn’t He Joseph’s boy? Isn’t He one of us? How can He be the one to fulfill Isaiah’s prophecy?”

Jesus also shocked His neighbors when He praised a poor foreigner, a widow of Sidon (4:25, 26), demonstrating that God works outside of Israel and cares about women. Jesus was likewise impressed by God’s work in the Syrian general Naaman (4:27). Both cases indicated that prophets frequently had to bypass Israel to find people who were ready to respond to God.

This radical message disturbed the small-town community of Nazareth. As the synagogue’s delegate (see “The Synagogue” at Mark 1:21), the people must have loved the way young Jesus read the Scriptures. But they must also have been concerned about preserving orthodoxy and reversing the region’s reputation as the home of rebels and sinners who were either ignorant or disrespectful of the Law. Once Jesus’ neighbors caught His real meaning—that His heroes reached beyond the usual Jewish models—they rejected Him. In fact, in their rage they almost killed Him (Luke 4:28, 29).

How would we respond to similar situations today? Do we live for the status quo, or are we willing to rethink and even reinvent our ideas about who is welcome in God’s kingdom? How will we be a welcoming force in this process? As we ponder these questions, we should ask ourselves another: Is there anything more tragic than seeing Jesus pass through our midst and go on His way (4:30)?

Prophets Old and New

Luke 4:17–21

King Uzziah reigned over Judah for a span of fifty-two years, longer than any previous king of Judah or Israel. Wise and powerful, Uzziah extended the nation’s territory and ushered in a season of widespread prosperity. But his most significant achievement was that he sought to honor and obey God (2 Chr. 26:5).

Upon Uzziah's death, the Lord appeared to Isaiah in a vision and warned that the nation would soon face His judgment. The Lord asked, "Whom shall I send [to give this message to the people]? And who will go for Us?" Isaiah replied, "Here am I! Send me" (Is. 6:8).

God sent Isaiah to Judah knowing that almost everyone would reject his message (6:10). Jesus found in the story of Isaiah's call a foreshadowing of His own rejection by His peers (Matt. 13:14, 15). Yet the Lord must also have blessed Isaiah's predictions: no other Old Testament prophet made as many references to the coming Messiah.

Many modern Christians scoff at the idea that the Israelites were so unresponsive to their prophets' messages. But it's easy to judge other people's mistakes, especially when we assume that the age of the prophets has long been over. But is it possible that we are as guilty as the Israelites in ignoring the voices of our generation? Prophecy is often more about speaking the truth for today than foretelling the future (see "The Purpose of Prophecy" at Is. 48:5). How do we respond when someone confronts us with a truth that is hard to swallow? Do we thank them kindly and mend our ways? Or do we stubbornly push them away, gossip about them, or even work in opposition to them?

More: Isaiah often portrayed the Messiah as a suffering servant, a role that Jesus fulfilled. See "The Suffering Christ" at Luke 24:27. Esther John, who was born a Muslim, converted to Christianity after reading God's promise of a suffering servant in Is. 53.

The Spirit of the Lord Is upon Us

Luke 4:18

When Jesus spoke to the hometown crowd of Nazareth, He declared "The Spirit of the LORD is upon Me," applying an Old Testament prophecy to Himself (Is. 61:1, 2).

The promise said that the Messiah would arrive and do everything foretold in the ancient text. But the passage went on to describe another astonishing fact about the days after the Messiah's initial work: "You shall be named the priests of the LORD, they shall call you the servants of our God" (61:6).

This would be a radical change. Ministry would no longer belong only to priests, rabbis, and other professional clergy. It would belong to all of God's people. Just as the Spirit of the Lord enabled Jesus to accomplish God's work, so the Spirit would empower His followers to act as God's emissaries to the world.

God's work is never accomplished entirely by people who draw a paycheck from a church or ministry. God has empowered all of us with His Spirit. But are we carrying out His assignments—or are we waiting for someone else to do the work?

More: Paul affirmed the idea of everyday believers carrying out the work of God in Eph. 4:12, 13. Likewise, Peter calls us "a royal priesthood" in 1 Pet. 2:9. Martin Luther set the Protestant Reformation in motion by promoting the idea in 1 Pet. 2:9, 10 of the priesthood of every believer—the right and responsibility of every Christian to read the Scriptures and teach others about the gospel.

He Healed So Many

Luke 4:40

Jesus backed up His messianic claim by healing the sick, and His followers later used similar miracles to authenticate their message. Healing demonstrated Christ's divine power over disease and infirmity. It also revealed God's compassionate heart. The Great Physician and the apostles treated people coping with a wide variety of conditions.

The Bible mentions more than 40 specific diseases and disabilities and frequently alludes to sickness and health issues. It accepts that health issues are universal, inescapable, and problematic.

The World of the Fishermen

Luke 5:1–11

On the Sea of Galilee, fishing was big business. This famous body of water eight miles wide and thirteen miles long lay beside a fertile plain. Nine cities crowded its shorelines in Jesus' day, each with no fewer than fifteen thousand citizens. The region's total population may have surpassed that of Jerusalem.

The names of the Galilean towns reflect the fishing industry's importance to the life and economy of the area. For example, at Tarichaea, another name for Magdala that means "The Place of Salt Fish," workers packed their catches for shipment to Jerusalem and export to Rome. Bethsaida—a place where at least four fishermen left their nets to follow Jesus (Matt. 4:18–22; John 1:44)—means "House of Fishing." Most of the town was employed in the fishing industry.

Shoals just offshore were a fisherman's dream. Hundreds of fishing boats trawled the lake, and Galileans ate little meat besides fish. It came highly salted, since there was no other way of preserving a catch.

Two kinds of nets were used—the sagēnē and the amphiblēstron. The sagēnē (Matt. 13:47) was larger. Fitted with both weighted and buoyant material, it stood almost upright in water and bagged fish as it was dragged behind a boat. The smaller amphiblēstron was shaped like an umbrella and cast off the side of a boat (compare Mark 1:16).

The fisherman's day did not end when he returned to shore. Washing and mending nets, preserving fish, maintaining boats and supplies, training and supervising crews, and negotiating with merchants and others in the shipping industry made for long, tiring hours. They teach us much about how to do our work in honor of Jesus Christ.

The Leper's Burden

Luke 5:12–15

Throughout the era of both the Old and New Testaments, leprosy was thought to be highly contagious and hereditary. It was regarded as divine punishment for sin, although specific biblical examples were rare (two exceptions include Miriam, Num. 12:9, 10; and Uzziah, 2 Chr. 26:16–23).

The Law described leprosy's diagnosis and treatment (Lev. 13). If a priest detected suspicious symptoms—pimples, scabs, sores, nodules, or white spots on the skin—he ordered a seven-day quarantine of the infected person to protect the rest of the society. If the symptoms did not fade away within a week, another week of quarantine was prescribed.

Weeks could drag into months and months into years. The quarantined became social outcasts who lived outside the Israelite camp. They fended for themselves as best they could. Some may have received occasional supplies from relatives, but most were reduced to begging.

Those who actually had the dreaded disease slowly wasted away. As the disease deadened sensation, lepers easily injured themselves without feeling pain, leading to deformity and "flesh . . . half-consumed" (Num. 12:12) and eventually, death.

Quarantines never cured a leper. Without modern preventive medicine and treatments, the people had to rely on God's intervention. He healed Moses (Ex. 4:6, 7), Miriam (Num. 12:11–15), and Naaman (2 Kin. 5:1–15) to reveal His power and call people to follow Him. When Jesus healed lepers, He likewise demonstrated His character and power and caused people to turn to Him.

Sulfone drugs and better hygiene make leprosy relatively rare today. Now known as Hansen's Disease, the once-dreaded malady has been virtually eliminated in developed nations. Elsewhere, however, some people do continue to contract the disease and are even forced to live in "leper colonies," sometimes for life, even after they have been cured.

Every modern society, developed or not, still maintains an unwritten code against people it pushes to the margins. The disease of leprosy may be a minor issue compared to the past, but we still find plenty of reasons to create outcasts. The term social leper says it all. But there is no room for the high and mighty in God's kingdom. If we want to show Jesus that we are serious about our faith, we must show unfettered compassion to "the least of these" (Matt. 25:31–46).

Lord of the Sacred and the Secular

Luke 6:1–5

The Sabbath was so revered by the Pharisees that they criticized Jesus and His friends grabbing a handful of grain, an act that violated their uncompromising view of separation between rest and work. Jesus countered by reminding them that King David and his warriors once entered the temple and ate the ceremonial showbread (compare 1 Sam. 21:1–6).

Jesus challenged the Pharisees' view of holiness. More significantly, He also established Himself as the Lord of the Sabbath and of all creation (Luke 6:5; Col. 1:15–18). As Lord, He was free to determine what was permitted on the Sabbath day of rest. He could not be boxed in by subjective categories of the sacred and the secular. He is Lord of all.

Jesus is Lord of every part of life we consciously dedicate to Him—and every part of life that we don't. He is Master of everyone and everything in all times and places. It is not possible for one particular day or person or thing to be more sacred than any another, because all belongs to Him. We might try to limit His authority, but His sovereignty is boundless and absolute.

Jesus Confronts the Legalists

Luke 6:1–11

A hike through a grain field turned unpleasant when Jesus and His disciples came across some Pharisees. Always scrutinizing others for infractions of their rules, they objected to the disciples "harvesting" grain in violation of the Sabbath. They did not care that the men were hungry, or that a handful of grain amounted to nothing more than a snack.

The Pharisees had lost sight of the Law's intent and took upon themselves the impossible task of earning God's favor through moral perfectionism. The more they labored to keep the Law, the more they became wrapped up in an ever-expanding list of man-made rules. They ripped Scripture out of context or added their own interpretations to judge others by their unattainable standards. Because the Pharisees lacked any understanding of God's compassion and grace, they had no room for even normal behavior like satisfying hunger.

Jesus challenged the Pharisees with the same Scriptures they claimed to honor (Luke 6:3, 4). Matthew records that He confronted their most basic attitudes, pointing out that they loved tradition more than the mercy that God values (Matt. 12:7). But the critics only seemed to harden in their legalism, continuing to stalk Jesus on another Sabbath as He visited one of their synagogues (Luke 6:6, 7).

Intolerant legalists might be the hardest people of all to reach with the message of God's love. Jesus never won the Pharisees over as a group. But neither did He allow their abuse of Scripture to go unchallenged. He calls us to demonstrate love above all—even to people who value rules and being right more than they value mercy. There is a chance we may win some of them over to God's grace and freedom in Christ.

More: *No one knows for sure why God favored Abel's sacrifice over Cain's, but one possibility is that Cain's offering was motivated by a spiritually empty preoccupation with ritual whereas Abel's heartfelt offering embraced the meaning behind it—our need for atonement for our sins. One Pharisee who did respond to the gospel was Saul of Tarsus, who went on to become Paul, one of Christianity's most important evangelists and theologians, and author of numerous letters of the New Testament. Loving Our Enemies

Old Testament law commanded Hebrews to love their neighbors (Lev. 19:18), but Jesus challenged His followers to love even their enemies. Later, a lawyer would ask Him, "Who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29). Here we might wonder, "Who are our enemies?"

Christians might picture enemies as people we find unpleasant or simply dislike. But Jesus meant something far stronger. He was talking about people we truly despise or who despise us. People who have harmed us or stolen from us or actively pursued our destruction. People we consider repulsive, frightening, or even inhuman.

Jesus' listeners knew exactly what, even who, He was talking about. A huge crowd had gathered (6:17) that included Gentiles from the seacoast cities of Tyre and Sidon. For generations these centers of Baal-worship had tempted God's people with idolatrous ideas and practices. Also present were troops of the Roman occupation, men who exploited the Jews through political manipulation and oppressive taxation.

So it was immediately clear to the crowd that their enemies were those likely to curse and shame them (6:28), strike and rob them (6:29), or exploit them and never look back (6:30). "Love your enemies," Jesus told them. Love those you hate and those who hate you.

More: Jesus addressed the issue of loving one's neighbor on another occasion. See "Love Every Neighbor" at Luke 10:27–37. Corrie ten Boom called on God's power to express Jesus' command to love her enemies, even forgiving a former prison guard from the concentration camp where she had been imprisoned during WWII, after recognizing him at a church service.

Mercy for All
Luke 6:29

Because Jesus often made strong statements with stark contrasts, it is tempting for us to dig for exceptions and qualifications to soften what He said. But we may end up distorting His message or missing His point altogether.

Jesus never told us to enable abusive people, or to accept their abuse. He was not setting a political agenda or social policy. He was not mandating a model for business and finance. He instead posed a straightforward yet tough challenge to His followers, those "who hear" (Luke 6:27): He wants to know if our relationship with Him makes a difference in how we treat people in need. Our response reveals our hearts. Do we meet needy people with mercy, as God Himself does? (6:36).

It is easy to love those who love us (6:32). It is simple to give when we know we will get back (6:34). But God loves people who do not love Him, and He gives to those who will never bother to thank Him (6:35).

God mercifully sees the needs of His enemies, and meets them. But do we? When faced with people in genuine need, do we pause to judge their character? Do we calibrate our response based on whether we approve or disapprove of their lifestyle, their appearance, or their apparent moral choices? Or do we simply see their needs and then do what we can to meet them?

Of course God can see into hearts and we cannot. Of course He has flawless assessments of people and wisdom about what to do and when to do it. We don't. But He will guide us. He will show us.

We may wisely question how far Jesus expects us to go. But we can be sure that God will show us practical ways to pass His mercy along to those in need, and to manage well those who would hurt us or others.

No Such Thing as an Underclass in Jesus' Eyes

Luke 7:20–23

Almost every society in biblical times had a large underclass, people struggling just to survive. Often congregating in the cities, they were the poor, sick, disabled, blind, insane, or demon-possessed. They were widows, orphans, lepers, runaways, outcasts, and refugees. Few cultures provided for the destitute, and so these persons remained largely powerless to improve their condition. Many resorted to begging, stealing, slavery, and prostitution to meet their basic needs.

Jesus intentionally directed much of His life and ministry to people like these. In His inaugural sermon at Nazareth, He declared that He had come to bring them the gospel (Luke 4:17, 18). In the opening of His Sermon on the Mount, He counted them among the "blessed" (Matt. 5:3–10). So it was no surprise that when John's disciples came to ask whether He was indeed the Messiah, they found Him ministering among the underclass (Luke 7:20, 21).

The early church continued this pattern. They used their resources to meet material needs among their members (Acts 2:44, 45; 4:32, 34, 35). They attracted the sick and afflicted (5:12–16). They appointed leaders to create and manage food distribution programs for widows (6:1–6). They donated famine relief (11:27–30). They urged new leaders to remember the poor (Gal. 2:10). They even evaluated their success in part by how much they were able to collect for the purpose of making charitable contributions (Rom. 15:26, 27).

Our world's population is swelling with an underclass of people on the edge of survival. God wants us to imitate Jesus and the early Christians in offering them good news. We can bring healing to their bodies and minds and souls, but only if we take their plight as seriously as our Savior did.

The Gospel

Luke 7:22

Jesus said people could recognize Him as Messiah in part because "the poor have the gospel preached to them." What is the gospel? The Greek word translated gospel means "good news." The ultimate good news is that Jesus Christ has come as the Messiah, the Savior. He has lived, died, and risen from the dead to rescue people from sin and reunite them with God.

The Good News

The Good News is God's answer to some truly bad news. Apart from His intervention, the world would be without hope. As Paul declared in Romans, his monumental explanation of the gospel, "All have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23). The price of our sin is death, not just the death of our physical bodies but the spiritual death of unending separation from God (Rom. 6:23). But God does not leave us to suffer in our sins. Paul writes, "While we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (5:8). Christ rose from the dead so that we can live anew (6:4).

The facts of Christ's death and resurrection are the core of the gospel message. They are grounded in real-world events (1 Cor. 15:1–4). Jesus' coming was like an emergency team arriving at an accident. The situation was not yet resolved, but the remedy was near.

The Gospel for the Poor

Jesus said His message was especially good news for the poor (Luke 7:22). In Nazareth, He had told the congregation of His hometown synagogue that He had come "to preach the gospel to the poor" (4:18). In the Sermon on the Mount, He told the poor they were blessed, "for yours is the kingdom of God" (6:20).

Jesus heralded an upside-down kingdom. While the world is constructed to benefit the privileged and powerful, His kingdom was meant for the destitute, wretched, broken, and hopeless, to anyone stripped of dignity and self-respect. The "poor in spirit" (Matt. 5:3) were not merely the humble. They were the humiliated, people whose spirits had been crushed by their circumstances.

For Jesus, the poor were widows and orphans, slaves and prisoners, the sick and demon-possessed, the homeless and the hungry. Today we could add those who grieve the loss of a loved one or the end of a marriage, those who cannot find work, or those who have been victimized by crime or injustice. Jesus invites each of these to become a part of a new family, a new community, the church.

The Purpose of the Gospel

When people believe, Christ begins to mold them together into a community of faith, the body of Christ (Eph. 2:1–3:11; 1 Pet. 2:9, 10). The ultimate purpose of the gospel is to create a people who live out the message, relationships, and values of His kingdom—a kingdom where justice wins out over injustice, community supersedes egoism, and compassion reigns over competition.

The gospel is therefore more than a private relationship with God. It is also a public expression of godliness. The good news about Jesus affects our personal lives by transforming our attitudes and habits. It challenges us to look beyond our self-interests to the needs of others within our existing network and beyond (Rom. 12:3–8; Eph. 4:1–16; Phil. 2:1–11). Embracing the gospel means living no longer for self but for Christ.

Spreading the Gospel

Jesus never intended for His people to keep the Good News to themselves. He commissioned His followers to spread the news about Him throughout the world. This happens both through the proclamation of the gospel with words and through the proof of the gospel in actions. As Christians show mercy, and live out a higher and healthier standard of morality, people are drawn to Christ (see "Faith Impacts the World" at Mark 16:15, 16).

The Four Gospels

During the second century, the term "gospel" came to mean the authoritative message about Jesus left by the apostles, especially the four written accounts of His life and teaching: the books of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. All are far more than biographies of a historical figure; each portrays the Lord in a unique light, revealing His offer of salvation and His call to respond.

Give Jesus Your No-Holds-Barred Love

The incident in Luke 7:36–50 pitted a respectable Pharisee, Simon, against a disreputable, unnamed woman. Luke describes her as a "sinner" (Luke 7:37), a term applied to people who failed to keep ritual law as well as those who flaunted moral law.

How the woman made her way into Simon's feast is unclear. But the religious leader was probably forbidden to even talk to her due to extensive Jewish laws codified in the first century to ensure moral purity. Many men saw women as sexual aggressors eager to snare unsuspecting men. Jewish men in general and teachers in particular —men such as Simon and Jesus—were to have nothing to do with women.

Jesus knew how the woman had lived. He accepted her anyway, violating taboos against speaking with her or allowing her to touch Him. In return, she did for Jesus what Simon the host should have done. She gave Jesus a kiss of welcome, washed His feet, and anointed His skin. These comforts were more than symbolic. They were practical expressions of love that met true needs.

Jesus sends us every day into a world full of individuals that some religious people consider off-limits for conversation, friendship, or partnership in common causes. We should look for ways to break past needless taboos so we can go wherever Jesus' love is needed.

The Women Who Followed Jesus

Luke 8:1–3

The Bible's frequently overlooked revelation that many women were among Jesus' followers shakes up conventional ideas about our Lord and His disciples.

Several of these female followers appear by name:

- Mary Magdalene (Matt. 27:56; Mark 15:40; Luke 8:2; 24:10). Invariably mentioned first, she had been dramatically healed by Jesus and may have been His most prominent female follower.

- Joanna the wife of Chuza (8:3; 24:10). Chuza managed the king's household, giving Joanna access to Herod's court.
- Susanna (Luke 8:3).
- Mary the mother of James and Joses (Matt. 27:56; Mark 15:40; Luke 24:10).
- Salome (15:40).
- The mother of James and John (Matt. 27:56). She is remembered for pressing Jesus to let her sons sit in favored positions in His kingdom (20:20–24).

The Gospels clearly state that "many" other women followed Jesus (27:55; Mark 15:41; Luke 8:3; 24:1). They provided financial support for Jesus and the Twelve, an intriguing detail, given that Jewish women usually had little control over family resources.

Strict codes kept male leaders at a distance from women, so that women rarely traveled with teachers (see "Welcome Women into the Kingdom" at Luke 23:49). Rabbis were forbidden to speak even to their wives in public.

Jesus apparently thought little of these restrictions, and nothing indicates that He discouraged women from following Him. They listened to His teaching, accompanied Him in His travels, stood by Him at His crucifixion, testified to His resurrection, and helped spread His message throughout the Roman world.

More: *Two sisters named Mary and Martha also played major roles in Jesus' life. Read Luke 10:38–42 and John 11:1–12:7. For more on the importance of women in Jesus' life, see "The Women Around Jesus" at John 19:25. Women played a major role in the early church. Mary the Reliable Witness

The Gospels mention Mary of Magdala more than any other female disciple, possibly because of the extraordinary transformation the Lord worked in her life by casting out seven demons. She responded by supporting His ministry and joining several other women who traveled with Him (Luke 8:1–3).

Mary's loyalty proved unwavering to the end. While the Twelve fled after Jesus' arrest, Mary stood by at His crucifixion (Matt. 27:56; Mark 15:40; John 19:25), and she helped prepare His body for burial (Matt. 27:61; Mark 15:47; Luke 23:55). Perhaps it was as a reward for her undying devotion that the Lord chose her as the first person to meet Him after His resurrection (Mark 16:9–10; John 20:14–18).

Curiously, however, the disciples refused to believe Mary's report of the risen Lord, dismissing it as an "idle tale" (Luke 24:11; Mark 16:11). Their skepticism may have betrayed lingering doubts about the credibility of a woman who had been possessed by seven demons. Jewish culture also raised its men to regard a woman's testimony as little better than worthless.

Nevertheless, Jesus chose Mary to report the good news of His resurrection to His other followers. Later, He rebuked them for their unwillingness to believe her (16:14). Because of Jesus, Mary was a changed person. She was also a reliable witness, having proven her trustworthiness by persevering even as others doubted.

A Regular-Person Evangelist

Luke 8:38, 39

The man that Jesus set free from demons was most likely a Gentile from the city of Gadara. Jesus sent him home to tell family and friends about God's power and grace, possibly making him the first known Gentile evangelist. A Gentile is anyone not a Jew. This man was not from the Chosen People or from the professional religious leaders within that chosen group.

Discipleship Is a Process

Luke 9:1–62

Jesus recruited the Twelve and invested them with power and authority. After they returned from their first assignment, He pulled them aside to debrief. As the story continued to unfold, the Twelve made eight mistakes that we might be tempted to assume would disqualify them from leadership:

1. They were short-sighted. When a crowd eager to meet Jesus interrupted their retreat, they had trouble seeing past their limited resources (Luke 9:12, 13).
2. They fell asleep—literally—at a crucial moment of opportunity. When Jesus met with Moses and Elijah, two of the greatest leaders in Israel's history, Peter, James, and John were caught napping (9:28–32).
3. They overvalued the status quo. Peter tried to cling to a spiritual experience rather than move on to the next thing Jesus had in store (9:33–36).
4. They capitulated to fear. They witnessed the healing of an epileptic boy but were too afraid to ask questions to clear up their confusion (9:43–45).
5. They fought for position and privilege instead of practicing servanthood. Their agenda directly conflicted with Jesus' treatment of children and "the least" (9:46–48).
6. They were consumed with feuding. Faced with a rival teacher, the disciples claimed an exclusive connection to God. But Jesus instead welcomed anyone who served God in His name (9:49, 50).

7. They wanted to kill off the opposition. When their ethnic enemies became inhospitable, the Twelve turned vicious. Jesus responded with one of His strongest rebukes (9:51–56).
8. They bit off more than they could chew. His followers overstated their commitment and failed to deliver on their promises (9:57–62).

Despite these shortcomings, Jesus continued to prepare the Twelve. Even though they were weak, competitive, self-centered, unrealistic about themselves, and insensitive to others, Jesus kept training them as servant-leaders. His hopes were not brought to fruition until after His death and resurrection. The proof of His efforts shines in Acts, where Luke shows how God empowers ordinary people—like the Twelve, and like us—to do His work. Jesus went to enormous lengths to raise up leaders, and Luke 9 was just the beginning of the story.

Losing Everything
Luke 9:25

Jesus challenges us to look hard at the bottom line of our lives. Each of us will give a final accounting for how we have spent our lives, and He makes it clear that we can be highly successful from a human point of view and yet end up spiritually impoverished. We might think we are turning a clean profit by achieving power, fame, wealth, or status. But our success may have come at the expense of our families, our health, or by lying to customers, cheating on deals, or running over others to advance ourselves. In these things and others, we may have drifted away (or run away) from God by leaving Him out of our lives. We might deceive ourselves into thinking we have gained it all, when we will ultimately lose everything.

Bypassing Samaria

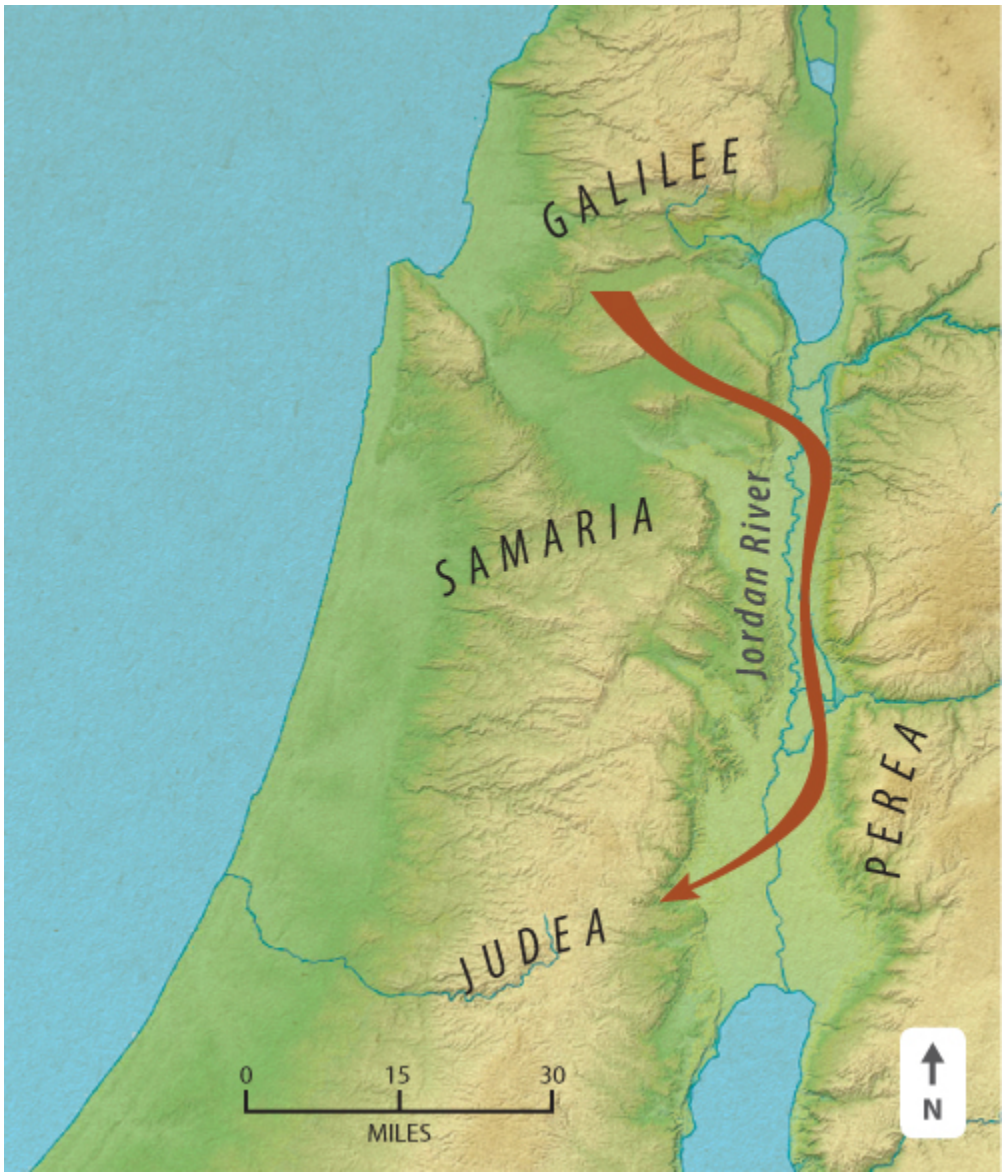
Luke 9:51–56

Fueled by their prejudice against the Samaritans (John 4:9), Jews commonly bypassed their land by journeying along the east bank of the Jordan River. But traveling south from Galilee to Jerusalem, Jesus and His disciples headed straight through Samaria (Luke 9:52). Jesus deliberately chose the more direct route, as if He welcomed a fight.

Confrontation erupted at the first village. The Samaritans did not want Jesus or His followers there, and the disciples surely did not want to be there. Insulted by the Samaritans' rejection of Jesus, the disciples offered to call down fire from heaven. They argued that Elijah had done as much.

Centuries of ethnic hatred and bitterness nearly lit the flame of violence. No wonder Jesus emphatically rebuked His followers. They were blinded by their presumed religious and ethnic superiority. So He reminded them of His mission. He had come not to destroy people but to save them—including the Samaritans.

Christians today may react with condemnation rather than compassion toward people of another ethnicity or ideology. Our differences sometimes arise from legitimate concerns. But if we want to push people out of view or somehow eliminate them from a situation to reinforce our ethnic, moral, theological, or spiritual superiority, then we deserve the rebuke that Jesus gave the Twelve: "You do not know what manner of spirit you are of" (9:55).



As we read in John 3:17, “God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved.”

More: Jesus would soon utter a memorable lesson relating to Samaritans. See “Love Every Neighbor” at Luke 10:27–37. For more on the ethnic tension between Samaritans and the Jews, see “Jews and Samaritans” at John 4:9.

Delegation and Affirmation

Luke 10:1

Jesus had good reason not to delegate His work to others. When it came to spreading news of His kingdom, He had every right to lack confidence in His followers. He had witnessed their failings firsthand (Luke 9:10–50; see also "Discipleship Is a Process" at Luke 9:1–62). Yet He still sent out seventy workers to preach and heal on His behalf (10:1, 16).

Jesus affirmed that investing in other people is the most important task of any manager. He gave the seventy detailed instructions before sending them off (10:2–12). But He was just as concerned about their growth as He was that the job got done in a specific way.

Jesus hardly needed seventy raw recruits to help Him. But His movement would grow only if His followers held real responsibility. The seventy returned "with joy," energized by their experiences (10:17). They would never be the same again.

Delegation is hard. But as often as we have the chance to let others lend a hand, we have an opportunity to create something much bigger than we could accomplish on our own. Our job is not just to give an assignment but to give authority to get the job done—even if it means seeing it done their way instead of ours.

More: Moses learned to value delegation after receiving wise advice from his father-in-law Jethro. See "Practical Principles for Leadership" at Ex. 18:13–23.

Love Every Neighbor

Luke 10:27–37

We might be quick to excuse ourselves from helping others in need by thinking . . .

"There's no reason I should get involved."

"I have no idea how to help someone with that problem."

"I don't speak their language."

"I don't feel safe around them."

"Those people are strangers, and I have no obligation to them."

But the truth is that Scripture doesn't let us off that easily. Even if we can't help every needy person we stumble upon, the lawyer's restatement of Leviticus 19:18 (Luke 10:27) and Jesus' response (10:28) make it clear that we do, in fact, have an obligation to anyone in need, including those who seem strange to us.

Jericho, the city named by Jesus in His parable of the Good Samaritan (10:30), is one of the world's oldest cities, believed to have been inhabited for thousands of years. In Jesus' day it was notorious as the stomping ground of robbers and thieves, who would set up camp nearby and plunder travelers along the narrow, winding mountain road up to Jerusalem.

Descending through rugged terrain, the route was ideal for ambushes, with plenty of hiding places for bandits and little likelihood of help for their unfortunate victims. When the man in Jesus' story found himself beaten, bleeding, and naked on the side of the road, no one stopped to assist him, not even a priest who was passing by. Finally, a despised Samaritan came to his aid. He bandaged his wounds, set him on his animal (perhaps a donkey or a camel, though also possibly a horse), took him to an inn, and took care of him, covering all of the expenses and promising to cover any future ones.

The story speaks to violent crime, ethnic hostility, and the propensity of religious people to hurry through life doing spiritual things but failing to engage in others' urgent, practical needs.

The Jewish priest and the Levite excused themselves from assisting the half-dead stranger. But the Samaritan—the good neighbor—went out of his way not only to meet the victim's immediate physical needs but also to restore his dignity, make him feel valued, and ensure his continued care by committing to follow up with the innkeeper.

His example invites us to begin seeing the countless victims all around us as not only obligations, but also opportunities to become agents of God's mercy and love in a hands-on kind of way. How can we follow Jesus' command to "go and do likewise" (10:37)?

The parable of the Good Samaritan began with the lawyer's self-justifying question, "Who is my neighbor?" (10:29). But Jesus turned the question around: "Which of these three do you think was neighbor to him who fell among the thieves?" (10:36). Thus the question is not “Who is my neighbor?” but rather “How am I a neighbor to others?”

More: Jesus commands us to love our neighbors and also to love our enemies. See “Loving Our Enemies” at Luke 6:27–31. For more on the deep-seated animosity that existed between Jews and Samaritans, see “Jews and Samaritans” at John 4:9. The social activist Toyohiko Kagawa often pointed to the parable of the Good Samaritan as a picture of real-life faith.

Practical and Spiritual
Luke 10:38–42

Jesus’ visit to Martha’s home lends itself to a caricature of Martha as obsessively “practical,” as opposed to Mary, her “spiritual” sister. Some readers use this scene as a basis for ranking spiritual concerns over practical ones, saying that it is more important to sit at Jesus’ feet—to engage in activities like prayer or attending church—than to be distracted by everyday chores.

But it is unfair to read Jesus’ words to Martha as a rebuke of her preparations. After all, He had come with His disciples as a guest to her home. Someone was obligated to prepare the meal. There were at least sixteen hungry people in attendance—Jesus and the Twelve, and Mary, Martha, and Lazarus. No wonder Martha was “distracted with much serving.” She could not sit and chat with her guests if she was to prepare the food.

Jesus had just one point. In addition to her marvelous preparations, Martha needed to add spiritual sensitivity. He in no way pitted the “spiritual” and the “unspiritual” against each other—preparing food can be a deeply spiritual pursuit. He was merely saying that in the midst of all her busyness, Martha should not forget who He was and why He had come.

Jesus calls us to faithful service that includes day-to-day work. We shouldn’t neglect our responsibilities, but we should impart every activity with a focus on serving Him.

Persistent Prayer

Luke 11:5–13

God's seeming unwillingness to answer our prayers can leave us feeling bewildered and impatient. Jesus gives insight into the character of God and why we should talk with Him.

Jesus' disciples asked Him to teach them to pray (Luke 11:1). In reply, He told a story about a man who pestered a neighbor for help, with an unexpected twist (11:5–8). In the end, it was the man's persistent requests, and not the neighbors' mutual friendship, that led to the man's success in getting his neighbor's help—a turn of events that still baffles readers today. Does this mean that we can bug God into giving us what we want? Does it mean that He is more motivated by getting us off His back than He is by His love for us when He answers our prayers?

The answer to both questions is no. What the story makes clear is that our freedom to ask does not dictate God's response. He is not a servant waiting for a list of tasks we want accomplished. Nor does He rely on us to define our needs, outline solutions, or say when or how He should act. Our all-knowing and all-wise God does those things for us.

However, God is eager for His children to develop a habit of talking with Him, including asking Him for help (11:9, 10). That doesn't mean He will be guided by our limited understanding of a situation and its possible solutions (11:11–13). He asks us to trust Him to know what is needed and when.

Our calling is to ask—even persistently—and to grow in the process. One of the most surprising benefits of prayer is how much we change when we talk regularly with God. Sometimes that in itself is the answer to our prayers.

Demons
Luke 11:14

Many in our culture lump biblical tales of demons into the same category as imaginative fantasies like the daemons of Greek mythology, which were described as supernatural beings that mediated between gods and humans. Many doubt the objective reality of evil and the devil, instead believing Satan is no more than a projection of our deepest, darkest emotions. But Scripture presents demons (and Satan) as real beings involved in real-world events.

Demons in Scripture

Demons are fallen angels who joined Satan's rebellion against God. Scripture does not explicitly discuss their origin, but the New Testament mentions the fall and later imprisonment of a group of angels (2 Pet. 2:4; Jude 6). Their revolt apparently occurred before God's creation of the world. Satan and his followers roamed the new creation, spreading their wickedness to the human race (Gen. 3; Matt. 25:41; Rev. 12:9). These evil powers have played a major role in events including the Fall, the Flood, and Jesus' crucifixion. They will be part of tribulations that will continue to wrack the earth and they will be part of the final Day of Judgment. The New Testament uses several names or terms for demons:

- unclean spirits (Matt. 10:1; Mark 6:7),
- wicked or evil spirits (Luke 7:21; Acts 19:12, 13),
- a spirit of divination (16:16),
- deceiving spirits (1 Tim. 4:1),
- the spirit of error (1 John 4:6),
- spirits of demons (Rev. 16:14), and
- Legion, probably a collective name for a group of demons rather than the name of a single demon (Mark 5:9; Luke 8:30).

The Gospels record several dozen encounters between Jesus and evil forces. Jesus came to earth in part to defeat these powerful beings, leading Him to regularly confront the demonic realm (Matt. 12:25–29; Luke 11:17–22; John 12:31; 1 John 3:8). Freeing individuals possessed by demons was one of His most frequent acts of compassion. By casting out demons and restoring people both physically and spiritually, Jesus showed that the kingdom of God is as real as the forces of Satan—and infinitely more powerful (Matt. 10:7, 8; 12:28). Today that same work has been delegated to the church (Luke 10:17; Acts 16:18), and with the "whole armor of God" (Eph. 6:10–18) we can prevail.

Demonic Impact

Demon possession should not be dismissed as an archaic explanation of psychological and physical conditions. Scripture reveals that demons can cause emotional problems (Matt. 8:28; Acts 19:13–16). The demon-possessed might rant and rave (Mark 1:23, 24; John 10:20), have uncontrolled convulsions (Luke 9:37–42; Mark 1:26), and engage in antisocial behavior (Luke 8:27, 35).

The Bible never suggests that all physical ailments are the result of demonic activity. But it shows that demons can afflict people with symptoms such as muteness (Matt. 12:22; 9:17, 25), deafness (9:25), blindness (Matt. 12:22), and deformities (Luke 13:10–17). The Gospels distinguish between sickness and demon possession (Matt. 4:24; Mark 1:32; Luke 6:17, 18).

Defeating Dark Forces

The method used by Jesus and His disciples to cast out demons was radically different from the mystical rites employed by other cultures of the time. Jesus expelled evil spirits by His simple command (Mark 1:25; 5:8; 9:25). His disciples added to that command the authority of Jesus' name (Luke 10:17; Acts 16:18). Even some who were not the Lord's followers invoked His power (Luke 9:49; Acts 19:13).

Jesus' enemies accused Him of being in alliance with Satan's kingdom (Mark 3:22; Luke 11:15; John 8:48), the same accusation made against Jesus' forerunner, John the Baptist (Matt. 11:18; Luke 7:33). Jesus' righteousness showed the falseness of these claims (Matt. 12:25–29; Luke 11:17–22).

Following Jesus' resurrection and return to heaven, demons have continued to wage war against Him and His followers (Rom. 8:38, 39; Eph. 6:12). Yet God will ultimately overthrow Satan and his allies. Christ will return to defeat the devil and his angels, who will be thrown into the lake of fire and brimstone (Matt. 8:29, 25:41; Rev. 20:10). In this conflict that has been going on since the beginning of time, God will achieve the final victory.

Think About It: Two dangerous extremes exist: underestimating the power of demons, or showing excess interest in them. What actions and thoughts manage evil daily and well?

The Blessed
Luke 11:27, 28

Jesus did not deny that His mother was blessed. But He focused attention on the real source of blessing—hearing and doing what God says. From the time of Jesus' conception, Mary was an outstanding model of both listening and responding to God's expressed will for her life (see "The Lord's Maidservant" at Luke 1:38).

Redefining Fear
Luke 12:4–7

Jesus redefined fear by explaining it from God's perspective, drawing on the Old Testament concept of the "fear of the LORD" (Prov. 1:7). This is not a fawning, cringing dread that locks us up in a lifetime of anxiety. Rather, it is a liberating respect for who God is, an absolute conviction that it would be foolish to act without His blessing.

When our view of God encompasses His compassion, His righteousness, and His power, we see how His love is displayed in His holiness, His commandments, and even His judgments. With this in mind, we can see who is worthy of our respect, and we excitedly obey Him. This life is a temporary thing, but we dare not ignore the One who holds sway over everyone.

Guard Against Greed
Luke 12:15

Jesus unambiguously commanded us to guard against covetousness—a longing for things we do not have, especially things that belong to others. And coveting is about more than money. We might covet status, power, intelligence, beauty, a relationship, even spiritual blessings—anything that can be acquired.

Covetousness is based on the foolish ideas that life is about what we possess and having whatever we desire will make us content. But as Jesus pointed out, only God can satisfy our foundational needs (Luke 12:22–31).

Our consumer-oriented culture encourages our dissatisfaction, telling us that whatever we have is not enough, and we're missing out if we don't have the next new thing. Now more than ever, we need to pay attention to Jesus' warning to guard against greed.

More: For more on the nature of coveting, see "You Shall Not Covet" at Ex. 20:17. Some people try to enlist God in their selfish pursuit of material things. See "Giving to Get" at 1 Tim. 6:3–6. For help being happy with what you already have, see "Finding Contentment" at Phil. 4:10–13.

The Value of a Woman with a Disability
Luke 13:10–17

Jesus rebuked the synagogue ruler and his fellow rabbis for showing more concern for their animals than for a disabled woman. They grumbled about Jesus defying the Sabbath, but Jesus said that any time is an appropriate time for meeting a genuine need; any day—even the Sabbath—is a right day for mercy. Of all the days that the woman could have been given relief from her affliction, the day of rest was perhaps the most appropriate. So Jesus called out the legalists' hypocritical attitude and behavior. He wants everyone to see that an outward show of righteousness often masks inner sin.

The Letter and Spirit of the Law
Luke 14:1–6

The controversy between Jesus and the Pharisees over the Sabbath exposed a tension between the letter and the spirit of the Law. The Old Testament was clear about keeping the Sabbath holy by resting from work (Ex. 20:8–11). But Jesus was known for doing the "work" of healing on the Sabbath (Luke 13:10–17). The lawyers and Pharisees were caught off guard, unable to say if He was breaking the Law (14:6). They missed the whole morality of the Law.

Jesus let them stew over the issue, but He needed no convincing that He was acting according to the Law. If He appeared to break God's rules, it was only because His enemies paid more attention to superficial ways of obeying the Law than to its underlying purpose. And over the centuries their predecessors had piled even more traditions on top of the Law, creating so many expectations that no one could fulfill them all.

Some Christians today try to live by a rigid code of dos and don'ts that go beyond Scripture's clear teaching. Like the Pharisees, we may be tempted to care more about the externals of faith than the larger principles of "justice and the love of God" (11:42). Jesus always stood up to the self-righteous Pharisees, and He might have some strong words for us too.

The Cost of Following Jesus
Luke 14:25–33

Following Jesus has its privileges—and its costs, as this text reveals. These costs embrace the life-giving nature of sacrifice. Far from drudgery, sacrifice is an invigorating choice:

- The cost of service (Luke 14:26). Jesus' followers must serve Him above anything else.
- The cost of sacrifice (14:27). Jesus' followers must subordinate their own interests to His interests.
- The cost of self-assessment (14:28–30). Jesus' followers must know fully who they are and how Christ has equipped them to do His work.
- The cost of strategy (14:31–33). Jesus' followers must think strategically and act courageously in the face of uncertainty.

Confused Value
Luke 15:1–31

Jesus told three memorable parables in Luke 15. Each concerned something that had been lost—a lost sheep (Luke 15:4–7), a lost coin (15:8–10), and a lost son (15:11–32). Each parable reflects God's concern for people who have gone missing from His kingdom, illustrating the infinite value He places on every soul and the tremendous joy He feels "over one sinner who repents" (15:10).

The first two stories reflect the value that people naturally place on their possessions. A shepherd loses one sheep out of a hundred, yet he scours the countryside until he finds it and brings it back to the fold. Likewise, a woman loses one coin out of ten, yet she searches frantically until she finds it.

But in the third story, the loss concerns something that is infinitely more valuable to God, yet would be deemed practically worthless by some people. The lost son is much like the tax collectors and sinners who listened to Jesus (15:1). These unrighteous people were often written off by the Pharisees as hopelessly lost in sin and shame. But Jesus reveals that God sees every person with compassion. Rebels are His loved sons and daughters. He longs for everyone who has gone missing to come back to Him.

The Older Brother

The prodigal son's older brother shows what can happen when people are around religion for a long time. Unlike the father, who felt relief and expressed mercy to the lost son who had finally come home, the older brother was horrified at the celebration held in honor of his sinful brother. He was more than jealous. He was furious. The son had hurt his father and wasted his father's hard-earned resources.

On the surface, those feelings make sense, and could have been based in love for his father. But further reading shows that this son had missed the blessings the father had been bestowing on him. That was the attitude of the Pharisees who first heard Jesus tell this story (Luke 15:2, 3). It became the view of Jews in general as the Good News spread to the Gentiles (Acts 11:1–3). How could Jesus be so friendly toward sinners yet so distant from people who carefully practiced the finer points of the Law? How could God show compassion toward the Gentiles while bypassing the Jews, who had been His people for generations?

It might feel as if everyone overlooks people who make a lifelong habit of obeying God. It may seem like new followers of Jesus with gruesome pasts get all the attention. To everyone who feels underappreciated, Jesus' parable supplies both a comfort and a challenge. The comfort is that God never forgets who His children are. He blesses them continually. He has great treasures stored up for them (Luke 15:31).

The challenge is that they need to maintain the right perspective. Every one of their godly choices brings great good. We will never stop needing the Father's compassion and mercy to make these choices and to recover from the bad ones. And when they comprehend that, they will find it easier to watch others connect or reconnect with the Father's heart (15:32).

A Shrewd Manager
Luke 16:1–13

In this parable Jesus may sound as if He was commending a steward, or manager, for cheating his boss (Luke 16:8). But He was merely observing that people go to great lengths to gain favorable treatment when they face legal or financial trouble. They might cheat others or corrupt the law to get it, but their conduct reveals a warped wisdom combined with a prudent concern for self-preservation.

If people only gave their eternal destiny as much thought (16:9–12).

When Jesus spoke of "unrighteous mammon" (16:9), He did not mean that money is inherently evil, only that material wealth will not survive past the grave. Because wealth will fail, we should earn it honestly and use it wisely while we can. We can even "make friends" with it, using it to bring others into Christ's kingdom (16:8, 9).

Jesus implied that our level of responsibility in His coming kingdom depends on how we manage the resources that God gives us now, a fact that should prompt us to manage our material resources wisely.

This passage drives us to an overarching conclusion: Going to great lengths is important, and we can do that for godly purposes. Faithfully using every resource in ways that honor God is the one right way do this. This becomes easier when we remember that those resources belong to God.

More: We cannot serve both God and money. See "Stop Worry" at Matt. 6:19–34. Jesus met a young ruler more committed to money than to Him—and it cost the man everything. See "The Man Who Almost Had It All" at Mark 10:17–27.

Where Are the Others?
Luke 17:11–19

Once again Jesus picked a route that made it likely that He would encounter Samaritans (see the map at "Bypassing Samaria" at Luke 9:51–56). And once again Luke's account exposes tensions between Jews and Samaritans.

Jesus was dismayed that nine former lepers failed to return to give thanks for their healing. The fact that the one man who returned was a Samaritan meant that he and Jesus stood on two sides of a nearly impenetrable cultural wall. It was unlawful for a Jew to associate with a foreigner (Acts 10:28). As Jesus marveled at the Samaritan's thankful heart, Jesus openly snubbed that cultural ban.

It's possible that the nine ungrateful men were Samaritans as well, since this incident took place in or near Samaria. But it's just as possible that the nine were Jews driven from their own community because of their leprous condition.

If that was the case, that would have made their ingratitude especially inexcusable. No ethnic wall stood between them and Jesus. He had removed the leprosy that had once stood in their way. These men would have had every reason to come in faith to Jesus instead of turning away. Yet certainly one man who had every reason to flee from Jesus instead returned and praised God. As a result, he received a spiritual healing that the other nine and most of Israel would never enjoy.

Quit Comparing
Luke 18:9–14

The Pharisee in Jesus' parable was so happy with himself that he started his prayer with a comparison: "God, I thank You that I am not like other men." But the tax collector in the story did not consider himself worthy enough even to stand near to the temple or raise his eyes heavenward. His prayer could not have been more different: "God, be merciful to me a sinner!"

The man who understood that he was a sinner, as all human beings are, shows us the path to accurate self-knowledge, based on honesty, humility, and a yearning to become like Christ.

But whenever we build our identity and self-worth by looking down on others, we set up our own demise. Sooner or later someone will come along who outshines us. Feeling better about ourselves by finding fault with others also puts us in a lonely place, because no one gathers many friends by declaring superiority.

Holy Interruptions
Luke 18:35–43

A blind beggar on a roadside near Jericho called out to Jesus as He traveled with His ministry team. On that road, such inconveniences were unsurprising. But while others ignored the beggar or tried to keep him quiet, Jesus stopped and asked the man what He could do for him.

The Lord's very next encounter was with a known government crook, yet another imposition on His time (Luke 19:1–10). Jesus altered His plans and stayed at his home, talking with the despised tax collector and meeting his family and friends.

Jesus didn't treat these interruptions like intrusions. He let needy people elbow into His life, even when His closest friends tried to block their way. In fact, one could argue that Jesus did much of His work during moments of interruption. We often grow annoyed at disruptions, feeling as if life has been put on hold. When are we missing out on some of life's holiest moments?

Startling Change

Luke 19:1–10

Luke describes Zacchaeus as a tax collector (Luke 19:2). First-century readers knew that meant he was a cheat and a lackey of the Roman government. In fact, he was a chief tax collector, making him public enemy number one to the Jews in Jericho, worse even than the highwaymen who ambushed travelers on their way into and out of the city.

Nevertheless, Jesus reached out to the curious Zacchaeus, prompting him to change his ways. Zacchaeus came up with his own formula for making restitution for his years of fraudulent taxation: a 400 percent rebate to those he had knowingly cheated, plus half of his net worth in donations to the poor (19:8).

The act of paying restitution showed respect for Old Testament law (Ex. 22:1). Giving away his possessions went beyond the Law's requirements and revealed a dramatic change of heart.

Imagine a corrupt politician following that formula today. Picture modern businesspeople repaying four times what they profited from unethical deals. Zacchaeus was that repentant. He was like the tax collector in a parable Jesus had recently told. He cried out, "God, be merciful to me a sinner!" (Luke 18:13).

More: Zacchaeus may have been a higher-ranking publican rather than an ordinary tax collector. Either role made him a target of hatred. See "Tax Collectors" at Matt. 9:10.

Owners or Renters

Luke 20:9–19

We think we own our possessions. Our culture even tells us that our significance comes down to how much we own and how much our possessions are worth. But the parable about the vineyard owner upends that view.

In this parable Jesus tells of tenants, or renters, who plotted to steal a vineyard from its owner rather than surrender its produce to him. They valued land, trees, fruit, and money more than people. They first beat the owner's representatives (Luke 20:10–12) and then killed the owner's son (20:14, 15).

The religious leaders among Jesus' listeners had the same desire to kill Him (20:19). For the moment, His popularity among the masses prevented them from acting. But they would eventually have their way. Just as their ancestors had rejected the prophets sent by God, so they now turned on God's Son in a futile effort to keep the nation under their sway.

We are accountable to God for what He has entrusted to our care. No matter what He has given us, we are renters. The true Owner of all things is the Creator. He has loaned us our families, skills, resources—even our very lives are on loan. And He calls us to manage these gifts in ways that honor Him. That means we must resist getting so enmeshed in possessions that we resort to evil to hold on to them or take them from others. We must keep in mind who actually owns what we think is ours—the God who commands us to live for serving others.

Families of the Gospels

Luke 20:34

Jesus affirmed in His reply to the scheming Sadducees that marriages and families are basic institutions of life. The Gospels support that view through their portraits of a wide range of families. Many faced severe hardships and dysfunctions. The New Testament openly addresses their situations and offers honest hope, based on treating family members as Jesus treats us.

Family Members	Description	Gospel(s)
• Zacharias • Elizabeth • John the Baptist	The father is a priest who serves in the temple on a rotating basis. He and his wife face a surprise pregnancy late in life that brings unique problems, especially for him. Their son John later announces the arrival of the long-awaited Messiah.	Luke
• Joseph • Mary • Jesus • Other sons and daughters	The father is a carpenter in the Galilean village of Nazareth. He and his fiancée face a supernatural pregnancy during their engagement. Their child is born in a stable and they become refugees because an evil king wants to harm Him. They struggle to understand their growing son.	Matthew, Mark, Luke, John
• Peter • His brother Andrew • Peter's mother-in-law	The family runs a fishing business on the Sea of Galilee. The sons leave the business to follow Jesus. Peter's mother-in-law later is sick when Jesus visits Peter's home, so Jesus heals her.	Matthew, Mark, Luke, John
• Zebedee • His wife, the mother	The family has a fishing business along with Peter's family on the Sea of Galilee. The mother asks Jesus to appoint her sons to positions of power in His	Matthew, Mark

Passover

Luke 22:7

The Passover and Feast of Unleavened Bread was the first of Israel's three major festivals. Its name recalls the nation's deliverance from slavery in Egypt (Ex. 12:1–13:16). The Lord sent His angel to kill the Egyptians' firstborn sons in a final attempt to persuade Pharaoh to let His people leave. He instructed Hebrew families to sacrifice a lamb and smear its blood on the doorpost of their homes as a sign of trust and a signal to God that His angel should "pass over" them during the plague (12:13).

Passover was observed on the fourteenth day of the first month, Nisan (March/April). The service began in the evening (Lev. 23:6), because it was on the evening of this day that the people finally left Egypt. A centerpiece of the celebration was unleavened bread, a reminder that the people had no time to let their bread rise before they ate their final meal as slaves in Egypt.

Passover became a pilgrim festival in New Testament times. Large numbers gathered in Jerusalem to observe the annual celebration. An unusually large crowd was therefore on hand to participate in the events surrounding Jesus' entry into the city (Luke 19:37–39) and His arrest, trial, and crucifixion (23:18, 27, 35, 48). Many apparently stayed on until the Feast of Pentecost, when they heard Peter's persuasive sermon (Acts 2:1–41).

Like the blood of the lambs that saved the Hebrews from destruction in Egypt, the blood of Jesus, the ultimate Passover Lamb, saves us from the power of sin and death.

More: It was William Tyndale, in his early English translation of the Bible, who gave us the word Passover.

Think About It: What elements of Passover might God want you to celebrate, and why? Would He want you to create your own feast of remembrance? Why and to remember what?

Pray Against Temptation
Luke 22:39–46

Giving in to temptation is sin. Scripture warns us that repeatedly capitulating to temptation can result in falling so far away from God that we totally lose interest in returning. Some argue that habitual sin can even make coming back to God impossible (Heb. 6:6–8).

Clearly, we need God's strength and wisdom to flee from evil and never look back (1 Cor. 6:18; 1 Tim. 6:11). Temptation itself is not sin, but getting too close to it can become sin.

With Jesus' enemies closing in, He and His closest companions faced mortal danger. The disciples became exhausted with sorrow (Luke 22:45). Jesus knew that His vulnerable and confused followers needed to join Him in prayer so that they would not fall into temptation (22:40, 46). Without fresh strength from God, they could not face the trials to come.

There is no sin in being tempted. In fact, temptation signals that our hearts are robust enough to spot values that go against godliness. But it is crucial to devote time to talking to God about our weaknesses, fatigue, and need for help in the midst of testing. It's equally crucial to follow God's strategies for refusing those temptations. Jesus taught His followers to specifically ask the Father to keep them from temptation (Matt. 6:13).

Before and After
Luke 22:56, 57

After watching his Master's arrest, Peter gained access through his fellow disciple John to the courtyard of the home of the high priest Caiaphas (John 18:15–17). Normally Peter would have paid little attention to a young female doorkeeper. But after hearing about events taking place inside, Peter must have feared for his life. He denied to the servant girl that he had any connection with Jesus, telling an outright lie (Luke 22:56, 57).

This scene contrasts with Peter's encounter after the Resurrection with another doorkeeper, the servant girl Rhoda (Acts 12:1–17). This time Peter was unafraid. And the young woman was joyfully astonished at the sight of the disciple, who had been miraculously sprung from jail. Peter had by then confessed his denial of Jesus. And he had received the Holy Spirit, who made him bold enough to stand up to his religious opponents (4:5, 6, 18–21).

Like Peter, we may be afraid of the consequences of identifying with Jesus. But the Holy Spirit can fill us with courage to be honest (see "You Shall Receive Power" at Acts 1:8). He can move us past our fears so that we can speak up even in our most vulnerable moments.

Welcoming Women into the Kingdom

Luke 23:49

Luke mentions early in his account that women were included among Jesus' followers (see "The Women Who Followed Jesus" at Luke 8:1–3). From everything we know about first-century Jewish culture, their presence probably offended many men.

Jewish tradition frowned upon women studying with rabbis. Some rabbis considered it sinful to teach women the Law. Women were permitted in synagogues, but custom required them to sit apart from the men. Menstruation rendered them ritually unclean (Lev. 15:19), and women were often blamed for men's sexual offenses. With the original motive of curtailing temptation, Jewish men were forbidden to speak to women in public, including their own wives. They were never to touch a woman in public either.

Not only did Jesus talk with women in public (John 4:27), He dared to take them by the hand (Mark 5:41). He encouraged a woman who sought out His teaching, even when it conflicted with her household duties (Luke 10:42). And as He tried to help the crowds understand the kingdom of God, He used illustrations relevant to women as well as to men.

Though excluded from the temple's inner courts, Jewish women were welcome among Jesus' followers. He showed that rules of "clean" and "unclean" no longer determined who could approach God. He had come to open a new way, and everyone was welcome to enter by it.

More: Find out more about the significant role of women in Jesus' life and work in "The Women Around Jesus" at John 19:25. Women helped communicate the gospel throughout the Roman world. See "Women and the Growth of Christianity" at Phil. 4:3 and "Women in the Early Church" at Rom. 16:12.

The Suffering Christ

Luke 24:27

Jesus pointed out that the Scriptures were all about Him, "beginning at Moses and all the Prophets." As two of His disciples grieved the loss of their Teacher and struggled to make sense of the events of the past days, He opened their eyes to how the Old Testament—the only inspired Scriptures in existence at that time—foretold His coming as the Messiah.

Jesus could have cited hundreds of Old Testament texts. But He very likely lingered in Isaiah. No other Old Testament prophet made as many references to the coming Messiah as did Isaiah. Notice his emphasis on the Messiah as a suffering servant, a role that Jesus fulfilled:

Isaiah's Prophecy Fulfilled in Christ

The Suffering Servant	Jesus

Would be widely rejected (Is. 53:1, 3)	Jesus "came to His own, and His own did not receive Him" (John 1:11; 12:37, 38).
Would be disfigured by suffering (Is. 52:14; 53:2)	Pilate had Jesus scourged; Roman soldiers placed a crown of thorns on His head, struck Him on the head with a stick, and spat on Him (Mark 15:15, 17, 19). In being crucified, Jesus had been nailed to the cross through His hands and feet, and a Roman soldier had pierced His side with a spear (John 19:34; 20:25).
Would voluntarily accept the pain, suffering, and death that sinners deserve (Is. 53:7, 8)	As the Good Shepherd, Jesus laid down His life for His sheep (John 10:11; 19:30).
Would make atonement for sin through His blood (Is. 52:15)	Believers are redeemed and saved through the blood of Christ (1 Pet. 1:18, 19).
Would take upon Himself the grief of human sin and sorrow (Is. 53:4, 5)	Jesus was "delivered up because of our offenses" (Rom. 4:25); He "bore our sins in His own body on the tree," and by His stripes we were healed (1 Pet. 2:24, 25).
Would die on behalf of "the iniquity of us all" (Is. 53:6, 8)	God made Jesus "who knew no sin to be sin for us" (2 Cor. 5:21).
Would die in order to make "intercession for the transgressors" (Is. 53:12)	Jesus was crucified between two robbers, one on His right and the other on His left (Mark 15:27, 28; Luke 22:37). He is the one "Mediator between God and men" (1 Tim. 2:5).

Would be buried in a rich man's tomb (Is. 53:9)	Joseph of Arimathea placed the body of Jesus in his own tomb (John 19:38–42).
Would bring salvation to those who believe in Him (Is. 53:10, 11)	Jesus promised that whoever believes in Him will not perish but will have everlasting life (John 3:16).
Would be "exalted and extolled and be very high" (Is. 52:13)	God has "highly exalted [Jesus] and given Him the name" of Lord, to whom "every knee should bow" (Phil. 2:9–11).

Jesus' Last Words

Luke 24:45–49

Jesus came back from the dead to give His followers a final word. His instructions have come to be known as the Great Commission because Jesus charged His followers with a mighty task. All four narrators of His life provide a version of this mandate (Matt. 28:18–20; Mark 16:15, 16; Luke 24:45–49; John 20:21–23; Acts 1:6–8).

Jesus gives all of His followers the responsibility and privilege of telling the Good News of forgiveness and eternal life to all who will listen. All around us are people who need to know what Christ has done for them and what He is doing today. We cannot afford to deprive them of the delight of imitating this fully-God and fully-man Savior. He brought the news that changes everything. He showed, and shows, us how to live.

Unlike Matthew, Mark, and Luke, which present comprehensive and similar, or synoptic, overviews of the Lord's life, the Gospel of John is a highly stylized collection of carefully selected events and words, all directed toward one goal: that readers might find life by believing in Jesus as the Son of God (John 20:30, 31).

John introduces Jesus not as an infant but in the context of eternity, opening his book with the monumental truths that (1) Jesus is God; (2) Jesus has existed forever; and (3) despite His eternal, divine nature, Jesus took on human flesh to display God's glory and offer grace to mankind (1:1–18).

Jesus is our bridge between the eternal, spiritual, and supernatural, and the everyday, human, and natural. He is the divine Word (Greek: logos) of God, yet He became human and experienced life through human eyes. As we come to know Him and follow Him, we in turn can experience the life that He gives.

The Book of John does not name its author, but early church tradition usually identifies the writer as John the apostle of Jesus. The style and language of the Gospel resembles the style and language of 1, 2 and 3 John. Furthermore, the belief that the Gospel and the three epistles were produced by the apostle John is consistent with the author's claim that he was an eyewitness of the events in his account (1:14; 1 John 1:1–4).

John and his brother James came from the affluent family of Zebedee, a successful fisherman who owned his own boat and had hired servants (Mark 1:19, 20). Together with their business partners Simon and Andrew (Luke 5:10), the brothers became loyal followers of Jesus. Their mother Salome also became a follower and supported Jesus' ministry (Mark 15:4–41; Luke 8:3).

Modern Christians often regard John as the "apostle of love" because of the frequent appearance of that theme in his writings and because the Gospel of John calls him the disciple whom Jesus loved (John 13:23). But this revered disciple certainly didn't start out as a model of charity.

Apparently headstrong and opinionated, John and his brother were dubbed "Sons of Thunder" by Jesus (Mark 3:17). On one occasion they ignited a storm of protest and indignation from the other disciples by asking to sit on Jesus' right and left hands in glory (10:35–45). On another occasion they offered to call down fire from heaven on an unreceptive Samaritan village; Jesus patiently rebuked them (Luke 9:51–56).

Somewhere along the way, John must have begun to truly hear his Lord's words and see His actions—and want to imitate them in his own life. Though he was always an imperfect human being, John began to be transformed. After Jesus' departure, John became a leader of the Christian movement. When word came that the gospel had spread to the Samaritans, John was sent with Peter to investigate. Where once he had wanted to call down fire to bring death, he now helped to call down the Holy Spirit to bring life (Acts 8:14–17, 25). The son of thunder had become a son of love.

Church tradition holds that after the execution of his brother James, John eventually migrated to Ephesus. It is widely believed that this John is the same man who late in his life was exiled for a time to the island of Patmos in the Aegean Sea, where he wrote the Book of Revelation (Rev. 1:9). According to tradition, John was eventually allowed to return to Ephesus, where he died sometime after Trajan became emperor of Rome in A.D. 98.

It is difficult to say with certainty to whom this Gospel was addressed. It uses both Jewish and Greek thought forms in presenting Christ, and it appears to have been shaped for the widest possible readership. The Gospel is believed to have been composed in Ephesus sometime during the A.D. 90s.

Key Events in John

- John the Baptist baptizes Jesus (John 1:29–34).
- Jesus turns water into wine (John 2:1–11).
- Jesus informs Nicodemus that he must be born again (John 3:1–21).
- Jesus meets a Samaritan woman at a well (John 4:1–42).
- Jesus feeds the five thousand (John 6:1–15).
- Jesus heals a man blind from birth (John 9).
- Jesus calls Himself the Good Shepherd (John 10:1–18).
- Jesus raises Lazarus from the dead (John 11:1–54).
- Jesus speaks to His closest followers in the Upper Room (John 13–17).
- From the cross, Jesus commends His mother to John's care (John 19:25–27).
- Jesus rises from the dead (John 20:1–18).
- Thomas doubts the Resurrection but believes when Jesus appears (John 20:24–29).

John 1

The Eternal Word

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. John The Divine Partnership He Dwelt Among Us
2 He was in the beginning with God.
3 All things were made through Him, and without Him nothing was made that was made.
4 In Him was life, and the life was the light of men.
5 And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend[a] it.

John's Witness: The True Light

6 There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.
7 This man came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all through him might believe.
8 He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.
9 That was the true Light which gives light to every man coming into the world.[b]
10 He was in the world, and the world was made through Him, and the world did not know Him.
11 He came to His own,[c] and His own[d] did not receive
Him.
12 But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name:
13 who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

The Word Becomes Flesh

14And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth.

15John bore witness of Him and cried out, saying, “This was He of whom I said, ‘He who comes after me is preferred before me, for He was before me.’ ”

16And[e] of His fullness we have all received, and grace for grace.

17For the law was given through Moses, but grace and truth came through Jesus Christ.

18No one has seen God at any time. The only begotten Son,[f] who is in the bosom of the Father, He has declared Him.

A Voice in the Wilderness

19Now this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, “Who are you?”

20He confessed, and did not deny, but confessed, “I am not the Christ.”

21And they asked him, “What then? Are you Elijah?” He said, “I am not.” “Are you the Prophet?” And he answered, “No.”

22Then they said to him, “Who are you, that we may give an answer to those who sent us? What do you say about yourself?”

23He said: “I am

> ‘The voice of one crying in the wilderness:
> “Make straight the way of the LORD,” ’[g] as the prophet Isaiah said.”

24Now those who were sent were from the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, saying, “Why then do you baptize if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?” 26 John answered them, saying, “I baptize with water, but there stands One among you whom you do not know.
27 “It is He who, coming after me, is preferred before me, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to loose.” 28 These things were done in Bethabara[h] beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

The Lamb of God

29 The next day John saw Jesus coming toward him, and said, “Behold! The Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world!
30 “This is He of whom I said, ‘After me comes a Man who is preferred before me, for He was before me.’ 31 “I did not know Him; but that He should be revealed to Israel, therefore I came baptizing with water.”
32 And John bore witness, saying, “I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and He remained upon
Him.
33 “I did not know Him, but He who sent me to baptize with water said to me, ‘Upon whom you see the Spirit descending, and remaining on Him, this is He who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.’
34 “And I have seen and testified that this is the Son of God.”

The First Disciples

35 Again, the next day, John stood with two of his disciples. Andrew the Connector 36 And looking at Jesus as He walked, he said, “Behold the Lamb of God!”

37The two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38Then Jesus turned, and seeing them following, said to them, “What do you seek?” They said to Him, “Rabbi” (which is to say, when translated, Teacher), “where are You staying?”

39He said to them, “Come and see.” They came and saw where He was staying, and remained with Him that day (now it was about the tenth hour).

40One of the two who heard John speak, and followed Him, was Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother.

41He first found his own brother Simon, and said to him, “We have found the Messiah” (which is translated, the Christ).

42And he brought him to Jesus. Now when Jesus looked at him, He said, “You are Simon the son of Jonah.[i] You shall be called Cephas” (which is translated, A Stone).

Philip and Nathanael

43The following day Jesus wanted to go to Galilee, and He found Philip and said to him, “Follow Me.”

44Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45Philip found Nathanael and said to him, “We have found Him of whom Moses in the law, and also the prophets, wrote—Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.”

46And Nathanael said to him, “Can anything good come out of Nazareth?” Philip said to him, “Come and see.” Jesus’ Hometown

47Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward Him, and said of him, “Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no deceit!”

48Nathanael said to Him, “How do You know me?” Jesus answered and said to him, “Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you.”

49 Nathanael answered and said to Him, “Rabbi, You are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel!”

50 Jesus answered and said to him, “Because I said to you, ‘I saw you under the fig tree,’ do you believe? You will see greater things than these.”

51 And He said to him, “Most assuredly, I say to you, hereafter[j] you shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man.” Sacred Places Everywhere

John 2

Water Turned to Wine

1 On the third day there was a wedding in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. Water into Wine The Seven Signs of John's Gospel 2 Now both Jesus and His disciples were invited to the wedding.
3 And when they ran out of wine, the mother of Jesus said to Him, "They have no wine." 4 Jesus said to her, "Woman, what does your concern have to do with Me? My hour has not yet come." 5 His mother said to the servants, "Whatever He says to you, do it."
6 Now there were set there six waterpots of stone, according to the manner of purification of the Jews, containing twenty or thirty gallons apiece.
7 Jesus said to them, "Fill the waterpots with water." And they filled them up to the brim.
8 And He said to them, "Draw some out now, and take it to the master of the feast." And they took it.
9 When the master of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and did not know where it came from (but the servants who had drawn the water knew), the master of the feast called the bridegroom.
10 And he said to him, "Every man at the beginning sets out the good wine, and when the guests have well drunk, then the inferior. You have kept the good wine until now!"
11 This beginning of signs Jesus did in Cana of Galilee, and manifested His glory; and His disciples believed in
Him.

12 After this He went down to Capernaum, He, His mother, His brothers, and His disciples; and they did not stay there many days. The Rest of Mary's Story

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

13 Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.
14 And He found in the temple those who sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the money changers doing business.
15 When He had made a whip of cords, He drove them all out of the temple, with the sheep and the oxen, and poured out the changers' money and overturned the tables.
16 And He said to those who sold doves, "Take these things away! Do not make My Father's house a house of merchandise!"
17 Then His disciples remembered that it was written,
"Zeal for Your house has eaten[a] Me up."[b]
18 So the Jews answered and said to Him, "What sign do You show to us, since You do these things?" 19 Jesus answered and said to them, "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up." 20 Then the Jews said, "It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and will You raise it up in three days?"
21 But He was speaking of the temple of His body.
22 Therefore, when He had risen from the dead, His disciples remembered that He had said this to them;[c] and they believed the Scripture and the word which Jesus had said.

The Discerner of Hearts

23 Now when He was in Jerusalem at the Passover, during the feast, many believed in His name when they saw the signs which He did.

[24]But Jesus did not commit Himself to them, because He knew all men, [25]and had no need that anyone should testify of man, for He knew what was in man.

John 3

The New Birth

1 There was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews.
2 This man came to Jesus by night and said to Him, “Rabbi, we know that You are a teacher come from God; for no one can do these signs that You do unless God is with
him.”
3 Jesus answered and said to him, “Most assuredly, I say to you, unless one is born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.”
4 Nicodemus said to Him, “How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother’s womb and be born?”
5 Jesus answered, “Most assuredly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God.
6 “That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.
7 “Do not marvel that I said to you, ‘You must be born
again.’
8 “The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear the sound of it, but cannot tell where it comes from and where it goes. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit.” 9 Nicodemus answered and said to Him, “How can these things be?”
10 Jesus answered and said to him, “Are you the teacher of Israel, and do not know these things?
11 “Most assuredly, I say to you, We speak what We know and testify what We have seen, and you do not receive Our witness.

12 “If I have told you earthly things and you do not believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things?
13 “No one has ascended to heaven but He who came down from heaven, that is, the Son of Man who is in heaven.[a] 14 “And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up, 15 “that whoever believes in Him should not perish but[b] have eternal life.
16 “For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.
17 “For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved.
18 “He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.
19 “And this is the condemnation, that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.
20 “For everyone practicing evil hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed.
21 “But he who does the truth comes to the light, that his deeds may be clearly seen, that they have been done in God.” The Gospel in a Divided World

John the Baptist Exalts Christ

22 After these things Jesus and His disciples came into the land of Judea, and there He remained with them and baptized.
23 Now John also was baptizing in Aenon near Salim, because there was much water there. And they came and were baptized.

[24]For John had not yet been thrown into prison.

[25]Then there arose a dispute between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purification.

[26]And they came to John and said to him, "Rabbi, He who was with you beyond the Jordan, to whom you have testified—behold, He is baptizing, and all are coming to Him!"

[27]John answered and said, "A man can receive nothing unless it has been given to him from heaven.

[28]"You yourselves bear me witness, that I said, 'I am not the Christ,' but, 'I have been sent before Him.'

[29]"He who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom's voice. Therefore this joy of mine is fulfilled.

[30]"He must increase, but I must decrease. Defining Success

[31]"He who comes from above is above all; he who is of the earth is earthly and speaks of the earth. He who comes from heaven is above all.

[32]"And what He has seen and heard, that He testifies; and no one receives His testimony.

[33]"He who has received His testimony has certified that God is true.

[34]"For He whom God has sent speaks the words of God, for God does not give the Spirit by measure.

[35]"The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into His hand.

[36]"He who believes in the Son has everlasting life; and he who does not believe the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abides on him."

John 4

A Samaritan Woman Meets Her Messiah

1 Therefore, when the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than
John
2 (though Jesus Himself did not baptize, but His disciples),
3 He left Judea and departed again to Galilee.
4 But He needed to go through Samaria. The Road Less Traveled
5 So He came to a city of Samaria which is called Sychar, near the plot of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.
6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied from His journey, sat thus by the well. It was about the sixth hour.
7 A woman of Samaria came to draw water. Jesus said to her, "Give Me a drink."
8 For His disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.
9 Then the woman of Samaria said to Him, "How is it that You, being a Jew, ask a drink from me, a Samaritan woman?" For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans. Jews and Samaritans 10 Jesus answered and said to her, "If you knew the gift of God, and who it is who says to you, 'Give Me a drink,' you would have asked Him, and He would have given you living water."
11 The woman said to Him, "Sir, You have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep. Where then do You get that living water?
12 "Are You greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank from it himself, as well as his sons and his livestock?"

[13]Jesus answered and said to her, “Whoever drinks of this water will thirst again, [14]“but whoever drinks of the water that I shall give him will never thirst. But the water that I shall give him will become in him a fountain of water springing up into everlasting life.”
[15]The woman said to Him, “Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst, nor come here to draw.”
[16]Jesus said to her, “Go, call your husband, and come here.”
[17]The woman answered and said, “I have no husband.” Jesus said to her, “You have well said, ‘I have no husband,’
[18]“for you have had five husbands, and the one whom you now have is not your husband; in that you spoke truly.”
[19]The woman said to Him, “Sir, I perceive that You are a prophet.
[20]“Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, and you Jews say that in Jerusalem is the place where one ought to worship.”
[21]Jesus said to her, “Woman, believe Me, the hour is coming when you will neither on this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, worship the Father.
[22]“You worship what you do not know; we know what we worship, for salvation is of the Jews.
[23]“But the hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth; for the Father is seeking such to worship Him.
[24]“God is Spirit, and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth.”
[25]The woman said to Him, “I know that Messiah is coming” (who is called Christ). “When He comes, He will tell us all things.”
[26]Jesus said to her, “I who speak to you am He.”

The Whitened Harvest

27And at this point His disciples came, and they marveled that He talked with a woman; yet no one said, “What do You seek?” or, “Why are You talking with her?”

28The woman then left her waterpot, went her way into the city, and said to the men,

29“Come, see a Man who told me all things that I ever did. Could this be the Christ?”

30Then they went out of the city and came to Him.

31In the meantime His disciples urged Him, saying, “Rabbi, eat.”

32But He said to them, “I have food to eat of which you do not know.”

33Therefore the disciples said to one another, “Has anyone brought Him anything to eat?”

34Jesus said to them, “My food is to do the will of Him who sent Me, and to finish His work.

35“Do you not say, ‘There are still four months and then comes the harvest’? Behold, I say to you, lift up your eyes and look at the fields, for they are already white for harvest!

36“And he who reaps receives wages, and gathers fruit for eternal life, that both he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together.

37“For in this the saying is true: ‘One sows and another reaps.’

38“I sent you to reap that for which you have not labored; others have labored, and you have entered into their labors.”

The Savior of the World

39And many of the Samaritans of that city believed in Him because of the word of the woman who testified, “He told me all that I ever did."

40 So when the Samaritans had come to Him, they urged Him to stay with them; and He stayed there two days.

41 And many more believed because of His own word.

42 Then they said to the woman, "Now we believe, not because of what you said, for we ourselves have heard Him and we know that this is indeed the Christ,[a] the Savior of the world."

Welcome at Galilee

43 Now after the two days He departed from there and went to Galilee.

44 For Jesus Himself testified that a prophet has no honor in his own country.

45 So when He came to Galilee, the Galileans received Him, having seen all the things He did in Jerusalem at the feast; for they also had gone to the feast.

A Nobleman's Son Healed

46 So Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee where He had made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum. Faith and Miracles

47 When he heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, he went to Him and implored Him to come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death.

48 Then Jesus said to him, "Unless you people see signs and wonders, you will by no means believe."

49 The nobleman said to Him, "Sir, come down before my child dies!"

50 Jesus said to him, "Go your way; your son lives." So the man believed the word that Jesus spoke to him, and he went his way.

[51]And as he was now going down, his servants met him and told him, saying, “Your son lives!”

[52]Then he inquired of them the hour when he got better. And they said to him, “Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.”

[53]So the father knew that it was at the same hour in which Jesus said to him, “Your son lives.” And he himself believed, and his whole household.

[54]This again is the second sign Jesus did when He had come out of Judea into Galilee.

John 5

A Man Healed at the Pool of Bethesda

1 After this there was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. Doing Good on the Sabbath

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by the Sheep Gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew, Bethesda,[a] having five porches.
3 In these lay a great multitude of sick people, blind, lame, paralyzed, waiting for the moving of the water.
4 For an angel went down at a certain time into the pool and stirred up the water; then whoever stepped in first, after the stirring of the water, was made well of whatever disease he had.[b]
5 Now a certain man was there who had an infirmity thirty-eight years.
6 When Jesus saw him lying there, and knew that he already had been in that condition a long time, He said to him, "Do you want to be made well?" 7 The sick man answered Him, "Sir, I have no man to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up; but while I am coming, another steps down before me."
8 Jesus said to him, "Rise, take up your bed and walk."
9 And immediately the man was made well, took up his bed, and walked. And that day was the Sabbath.
10 The Jews therefore said to him who was cured, "It is the Sabbath; it is not lawful for you to carry your bed." 11 He answered them, "He who made me well said to me,
'Take up your bed and walk.' " 12 Then they asked him, "Who is the Man who said to you,
'Take up your bed and walk'?"
13 But the one who was healed did not know who it was,
for Jesus had withdrawn, a multitude being in that place.

14 Afterward Jesus found him in the temple, and said to him, “See, you have been made well. Sin no more, lest a worse thing come upon you.”
15 The man departed and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

Honor the Father and the Son

16 For this reason the Jews persecuted Jesus, and sought to kill Him,[c] because He had done these things on the Sabbath.
17 But Jesus answered them, “My Father has been working until now, and I have been working.” God: The Original Worker 18 Therefore the Jews sought all the more to kill Him, because He not only broke the Sabbath, but also said that God was His Father, making Himself equal with God.
19 Then Jesus answered and said to them, “Most assuredly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of Himself, but what He sees the Father do; for whatever He does, the Son also does in like manner.
20 “For the Father loves the Son, and shows Him all things that He Himself does; and He will show Him greater works than these, that you may marvel.
21 “For as the Father raises the dead and gives life to them, even so the Son gives life to whom He will.
22 “For the Father judges no one, but has committed all judgment to the Son, 23 “that all should honor the Son just as they honor the Father. He who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent Him.

Life and Judgment Are Through the Son

24 “Most assuredly, I say to you, he who hears My word and believes in Him who sent Me has everlasting life, and shall not come into judgment, but has passed from death into life.
25 “Most assuredly, I say to you, the hour is coming, and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God;
and those who hear will live.
26 “For as the Father has life in Himself, so He has granted the Son to have life in Himself, 27 “and has given Him authority to execute judgment also, because He is the Son of Man.
28 “Do not marvel at this; for the hour is coming in which all who are in the graves will hear His voice 29 “and come forth—those who have done good, to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of condemnation.
30 “I can of Myself do nothing. As I hear, I judge; and My judgment is righteous, because I do not seek My own will but the will of the Father who sent Me.

The Fourfold Witness

31 “If I bear witness of Myself, My witness is not true.
32 “There is another who bears witness of Me, and I know that the witness which He witnesses of Me is true.
33 “You have sent to John, and he has borne witness to the truth.
34 “Yet I do not receive testimony from man, but I say these things that you may be saved.
35 “He was the burning and shining lamp, and you were willing for a time to rejoice in his light.
36 “But I have a greater witness than John’s; for the works which the Father has given Me to finish—the very works that I do—bear witness of Me, that the Father has sent Me.

37 “And the Father Himself, who sent Me, has testified of Me. You have neither heard His voice at any time, nor seen His form.
38 “But you do not have His word abiding in you, because whom He sent, Him you do not believe.
39 “You search the Scriptures, for in them you think you have eternal life; and these are they which testify of Me.
40 “But you are not willing to come to Me that you may have life.
41 “I do not receive honor from men.
42 “But I know you, that you do not have the love of God
in you.
43 “I have come in My Father’s name, and you do not receive Me; if another comes in his own name, him you will receive.
44 “How can you believe, who receive honor from one another, and do not seek the honor that comes from the only God?
45 “Do not think that I shall accuse you to the Father;
there is one who accuses you—Moses, in whom you trust.
46 “For if you believed Moses, you would believe Me; for he wrote about Me.
47 “But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe My words?”

John 6

Feeding the Five Thousand

1 After these things Jesus went over the Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of Tiberias. Feeding the Five Thousand 2 Then a great multitude followed Him, because they saw
His signs which He performed on those who were diseased.
3 And Jesus went up on the mountain, and there He sat with His disciples.
4 Now the Passover, a feast of the Jews, was near.
5 Then Jesus lifted up His eyes, and seeing a great multitude coming toward Him, He said to Philip, "Where shall we buy bread, that these may eat?"
6 But this He said to test him, for He Himself knew what He would do.
7 Philip answered Him, "Two hundred denarii worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may have a little."
8 One of His disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, said
to Him,
9 "There is a lad here who has five barley loaves and two small fish, but what are they among so many?"
10 Then Jesus said, "Make the people sit down." Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.
11 And Jesus took the loaves, and when He had given thanks He distributed them to the disciples, and the disciples[a] to those sitting down; and likewise of the fish, as much as they wanted.
12 So when they were filled, He said to His disciples, "Gather up the fragments that remain, so that nothing is lost."

13 Therefore they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves which were left over by those who had eaten.
14 Then those men, when they had seen the sign that Jesus did, said, “This is truly the Prophet who is to come into the world.”

Jesus Walks on the Sea

15 Therefore when Jesus perceived that they were about to come and take Him by force to make Him king, He departed again to the mountain by Himself alone.
16 Now when evening came, His disciples went down to the sea,
17 got into the boat, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was already dark, and Jesus had not come to them.
18 Then the sea arose because a great wind was blowing.
19 So when they had rowed about three or four miles,[b] they saw Jesus walking on the sea and drawing near the boat; and they were afraid.
20 But He said to them, “It is I; do not be afraid.”
21 Then they willingly received Him into the boat, and immediately the boat was at the land where they were going.

The Bread from Heaven

22 On the following day, when the people who were standing on the other side of the sea saw that there was no other boat there, except that one which His disciples had entered,[c] and that Jesus had not entered the boat with His disciples, but His disciples had gone away alone—23 however, other boats came from Tiberias, near the place where they ate bread after the Lord had given thanks

24 when the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, nor His disciples, they also got into boats and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.
25 And when they found Him on the other side of the sea, they said to Him, “Rabbi, when did You come here?” 26 Jesus answered them and said, “Most assuredly, I say to you, you seek Me, not because you saw the signs, but because you ate of the loaves and were filled.
27 “Do not labor for the food which perishes, but for the food which endures to everlasting life, which the Son of Man will give you, because God the Father has set His seal on Him.”
28 Then they said to Him, “What shall we do, that we may work the works of God?”
29 Jesus answered and said to them, “This is the work of God, that you believe in Him whom He sent.”
30 Therefore they said to Him, “What sign will You perform then, that we may see it and believe You? What work will You do?
31 “Our fathers ate the manna in the desert; as it is written, ‘He gave them bread from heaven to eat.’”[d] 32 Then Jesus said to them, “Most assuredly, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but My Father gives you the true bread from heaven.
33 “For the bread of God is He who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world.” 34 Then they said to Him, “Lord, give us this bread always.”
35 And Jesus said to them, “I am the bread of life. He who comes to Me shall never hunger, and he who believes in Me shall never thirst. The Bread of Life 36 “But I said to you that you have seen Me and yet do not believe.

37“All that the Father gives Me will come to Me, and the one who comes to Me I will by no means cast out.
38“For I have come down from heaven, not to do My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me.
39“This is the will of the Father who sent Me, that of all
He has given Me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up at the last day.
40“And this is the will of Him who sent Me, that everyone who sees the Son and believes in Him may have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day.”

Rejected by His Own

41The Jews then complained about Him, because He said, “I am the bread which came down from heaven.”
42And they said, “Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How is it then that He says, ‘I have come down from heaven’?” 43Jesus therefore answered and said to them, “Do not murmur among yourselves.
44“No one can come to Me unless the Father who sent Me draws him; and I will raise him up at the last day.
45“It is written in the prophets, ‘And they shall all be taught by God.’[e] Therefore everyone who has heard and learned[f] from the Father comes to Me.
46“Not that anyone has seen the Father, except He who is from God; He has seen the Father.
47“Most assuredly, I say to you, he who believes in Me[g] has everlasting life.
48“I am the bread of life.
49“Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and are dead.
50“This is the bread which comes down from heaven, that one may eat of it and not die.

51 “I am the living bread which came down from heaven.
If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever; and the bread that I shall give is My flesh, which I shall give for the life of the world.”
52 The Jews therefore quarreled among themselves, saying, “How can this Man give us His flesh to eat?”
53 Then Jesus said to them, “Most assuredly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in you.
54 “Whoever eats My flesh and drinks My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.
55 “For My flesh is food indeed,[h] and My blood is drink indeed.
56 “He who eats My flesh and drinks My blood abides in Me, and I in him.
57 “As the living Father sent Me, and I live because of the Father, so he who feeds on Me will live because of Me.
58 “This is the bread which came down from heaven—not as your fathers ate the manna, and are dead. He who eats this bread will live forever.”
59 These things He said in the synagogue as He taught in Capernaum.

Many Disciples Turn Away

60 Therefore many of His disciples, when they heard this,
said, “This is a hard saying; who can understand it?”
61 When Jesus knew in Himself that His disciples complained about this, He said to them, “Does this offend
you?
62 “What then if you should see the Son of Man ascend where He was before?
63 “It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh profits nothing.
The words that I speak to you are spirit, and they are life.

64“But there are some of you who do not believe.” For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were who did not believe, and who would betray Him.

65And He said, “Therefore I have said to you that no one can come to Me unless it has been granted to him by My Father.”

66From that time many of His disciples went back and walked with Him no more.

67Then Jesus said to the twelve, “Do you also want to go away?”

68But Simon Peter answered Him, “Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life.

69“Also we have come to believe and know that You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.”[i]

70Jesus answered them, “Did I not choose you, the twelve, and one of you is a devil?”

71He spoke of Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon, for it was he who would betray Him, being one of the twelve.

John 7

Jesus' Brothers Disbelieve

1 After these things Jesus walked in Galilee; for He did not want to walk in Judea, because the Jews[a] sought to kill Him.
2 Now the Jews' Feast of Tabernacles was at hand.
3 His brothers therefore said to Him, "Depart from here and go into Judea, that Your disciples also may see the works that You are doing.
4 "For no one does anything in secret while he himself seeks to be known openly. If You do these things, show Yourself to the world."
5 For even His brothers did not believe in Him. Credible Witnesses 6 Then Jesus said to them, "My time has not yet come, but your time is always ready.
7 "The world cannot hate you, but it hates Me because I testify of it that its works are evil.
8 "You go up to this feast. I am not yet[b] going up to this feast, for My time has not yet fully come." 9 When He had said these things to them, He remained in Galilee.

The Heavenly Scholar

10 But when His brothers had gone up, then He also went up to the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.
11 Then the Jews sought Him at the feast, and said,
"Where is He?"
12 And there was much complaining among the people concerning Him. Some said, "He is good"; others said, "No, on the contrary, He deceives the people."

13However, no one spoke openly of Him for fear of the Jews.

14Now about the middle of the feast Jesus went up into the temple and taught.

15And the Jews marveled, saying, “How does this Man know letters, having never studied?”

16Jesus[c] answered them and said, “My doctrine is not Mine, but His who sent Me.

17“If anyone wills to do His will, he shall know concerning the doctrine, whether it is from God or whether I speak on My own authority.

18“He who speaks from himself seeks his own glory; but He who seeks the glory of the One who sent Him is true, and no unrighteousness is in Him.

19“Did not Moses give you the law, yet none of you keeps the law? Why do you seek to kill Me?”

20The people answered and said, “You have a demon. Who is seeking to kill You?”

21Jesus answered and said to them, “I did one work, and you all marvel. Blind Guides

22“Moses therefore gave you circumcision (not that it is from Moses, but from the fathers), and you circumcise a man on the Sabbath.

23“If a man receives circumcision on the Sabbath, so that the law of Moses should not be broken, are you angry with Me because I made a man completely well on the Sabbath?

24“Do not judge according to appearance, but judge with righteous judgment.”

Could This Be the Christ?

25Now some of them from Jerusalem said, “Is this not He whom they seek to kill?

26 “But look! He speaks boldly, and they say nothing to Him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is truly[d] the Christ?
27 “However, we know where this Man is from; but when the Christ comes, no one knows where He is from.”
28 Then Jesus cried out, as He taught in the temple, saying, “You both know Me, and you know where I am from; and I have not come of Myself, but He who sent Me is true, whom you do not know.
29 “But[e] I know Him, for I am from Him, and He sent Me.”
30 Therefore they sought to take Him; but no one laid a hand on Him, because His hour had not yet come.
31 And many of the people believed in Him, and said, “When the Christ comes, will He do more signs than these which this Man has done?”

Jesus and the Religious Leaders

32 The Pharisees heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning Him, and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take Him.
33 Then Jesus said to them,[f] “I shall be with you a little while longer, and then I go to Him who sent Me.
34 “You will seek Me and not find Me, and where I am you cannot come.”
35 Then the Jews said among themselves, “Where does He intend to go that we shall not find Him? Does He intend to go to the Dispersion among the Greeks and teach the Greeks?
36 “What is this thing that He said, ‘You will seek Me and not find Me, and where I am you cannot come’?”

The Promise of the Holy Spirit

37On the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried out, saying, “If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink. Living Water

38“He who believes in Me, as the Scripture has said, out of his heart will flow rivers of living water.”

39But this He spoke concerning the Spirit, whom those believing[g] in Him would receive; for the Holy[h] Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorified.

Who Is He?

40Therefore many[i] from the crowd, when they heard this saying, said, “Truly this is the Prophet.”

41Others said, “This is the Christ.” But some said, “Will the Christ come out of Galilee?

42“Has not the Scripture said that the Christ comes from the seed of David and from the town of Bethlehem, where David was?”

43So there was a division among the people because of Him.

44Now some of them wanted to take Him, but no one laid hands on Him.

Rejected by the Authorities

45Then the officers came to the chief priests and Pharisees, who said to them, “Why have you not brought Him?”

46The officers answered, “No man ever spoke like this Man!”

47Then the Pharisees answered them, “Are you also deceived?

48“Have any of the rulers or the Pharisees believed in Him?

49 “But this crowd that does not know the law is accursed.”
50 Nicodemus (he who came to Jesus by night,[j] being one of them) said to them, 51 “Does our law judge a man before it hears him and knows what he is doing?”
52 They answered and said to him, “Are you also from Galilee? Search and look, for no prophet has arisen[k] out of Galilee.”

An Adulteress Faces the Light of the World

53 And everyone went to his own house.[l]

John 8

1 But Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.

2 Now early[a] in the morning He came again into the temple, and all the people came to Him; and He sat down and taught them. Double Standards

3 Then the scribes and Pharisees brought to Him a woman caught in adultery. And when they had set her in the midst, 4 they said to Him, “Teacher, this woman was caught[b] in adultery, in the very act.

5 “Now Moses, in the law, commanded[c] us that such should be stoned.[d] But what do You say?”[e]

6 This they said, testing Him, that they might have something of which to accuse Him. But Jesus stooped down and wrote on the ground with His finger, as though He did not hear.[f]

7 So when they continued asking Him, He raised Himself up[g] and said to them, “He who is without sin among you, let him throw a stone at her first.”

8 And again He stooped down and wrote on the ground.

9 Then those who heard it, being convicted by their conscience,[h] went out one by one, beginning with the oldest even to the last. And Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had raised Himself up and saw no one but the woman, He said to her,[i] “Woman, where are those accusers of yours?[j] Has no one condemned you?”

11 She said, “No one, Lord.” And Jesus said to her, “Neither do I condemn you; go and[k] sin no more.”

12 Then Jesus spoke to them again, saying, “I am the light of the world. He who follows Me shall not walk in darkness, but have the light of life.”

Jesus Defends His Self-Witness

13 The Pharisees therefore said to Him, “You bear witness of Yourself; Your witness is not true.” 14 Jesus answered and said to them, “Even if I bear witness of Myself, My witness is true, for I know where I came from and where I am going; but you do not know where I come from and where I am going.
15 “You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one.
16 “And yet if I do judge, My judgment is true; for I am not alone, but I am with the Father who sent Me.
17 “It is also written in your law that the testimony of two men is true.
18 “I am One who bears witness of Myself, and the Father who sent Me bears witness of Me.” 19 Then they said to Him, “Where is Your Father?” Jesus answered, “You know neither Me nor My Father. If you had known Me, you would have known My Father also.” 20 These words Jesus spoke in the treasury, as He taught in the temple; and no one laid hands on Him, for His hour had not yet come.

Jesus Predicts His Departure

21 Then Jesus said to them again, “I am going away, and you will seek Me, and will die in your sin. Where I go you cannot come.”
22 So the Jews said, “Will He kill Himself, because He says, ‘Where I go you cannot come’?” 23 And He said to them, “You are from beneath; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world.
24 “Therefore I said to you that you will die in your sins; for if you do not believe that I am He, you will die in your sins.”

25 Then they said to Him, “Who are You?” And Jesus said to them, “Just what I have been saying to you from the beginning.
26 “I have many things to say and to judge concerning you, but He who sent Me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I heard from Him.”
27 They did not understand that He spoke to them of the Father.
28 Then Jesus said to them, “When you lift up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am He, and that I do nothing of Myself; but as My Father taught Me, I speak these things.
29 “And He who sent Me is with Me. The Father has not left Me alone, for I always do those things that please
Him.”
30 As He spoke these words, many believed in Him.

The Truth Shall Make You Free

31 Then Jesus said to those Jews who believed Him, “If you abide in My word, you are My disciples indeed.
32 “And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.”
33 They answered Him, “We are Abraham’s descendants, and have never been in bondage to anyone. How can You say, ‘You will be made free’?” 34 Jesus answered them, “Most assuredly, I say to you, whoever commits sin is a slave of sin.
35 “And a slave does not abide in the house forever, but a son abides forever.
36 “Therefore if the Son makes you free, you shall be free indeed.

Abraham’s Seed and Satan’s

37 “I know that you are Abraham’s descendants, but you seek to kill Me, because My word has no place in you.
38 “I speak what I have seen with My Father, and you do what you have seen with[1] your father.” 39 They answered and said to Him, “Abraham is our father.” Jesus said to them, “If you were Abraham’s children, you would do the works of Abraham.
40 “But now you seek to kill Me, a Man who has told you the truth which I heard from God. Abraham did not do this.
41 “You do the deeds of your father.” Then they said to Him, “We were not born of fornication; we have one Father
—God.” 42 Jesus said to them, “If God were your Father, you would love Me, for I proceeded forth and came from God; nor have I come of Myself, but He sent Me.
43 “Why do you not understand My speech? Because you are not able to listen to My word.
44 “You are of your father the devil, and the desires of your father you want to do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks a lie, he speaks from his own resources, for he is a liar and the father of it.
45 “But because I tell the truth, you do not believe Me.
46 “Which of you convicts Me of sin? And if I tell the truth, why do you not believe Me?
47 “He who is of God hears God’s words; therefore you do not hear, because you are not of God.”

Before Abraham Was, I AM

48 Then the Jews answered and said to Him, “Do we not say rightly that You are a Samaritan and have a demon?” 49 Jesus answered, “I do not have a demon; but I honor
My Father, and you dishonor Me.

50 “And I do not seek My own glory; there is One who seeks and judges.
51 “Most assuredly, I say to you, if anyone keeps My word he shall never see death.”
52 Then the Jews said to Him, “Now we know that You have a demon! Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and You say, ‘If anyone keeps My word he shall never taste death.’

God Became Man

53 “Are You greater than our father Abraham, who is dead? And the prophets are dead. Who do You make Yourself out to be?”
54 Jesus answered, “If I honor Myself, My honor is nothing. It is My Father who honors Me, of whom you say that He is your[m] God.
55 “Yet you have not known Him, but I know Him. And if I say, ‘I do not know Him,’ I shall be a liar like you; but I do know Him and keep His word.
56 “Your father Abraham rejoiced to see My day, and he saw it and was glad.”
57 Then the Jews said to Him, “You are not yet fifty years old, and have You seen Abraham?” 58 Jesus said to them, “Most assuredly, I say to you, before Abraham was, I AM.”
59 Then they took up stones to throw at Him; but Jesus hid Himself and went out of the temple,[n] going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

John 9

A Man Born Blind Receives Sight

1 Now as Jesus passed by, He saw a man who was blind from birth. Medical Miracles

2 And His disciples asked Him, saying, “Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?”

3 Jesus answered, “Neither this man nor his parents sinned, but that the works of God should be revealed in
him.

4 “I[a] must work the works of Him who sent Me while it is day; the night is coming when no one can work.

5 “As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.”

6 When He had said these things, He spat on the ground and made clay with the saliva; and He anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay.

7 And He said to him, “Go, wash in the pool of Siloam” (which is translated, Sent). So he went and washed, and came back seeing.

8 Therefore the neighbors and those who previously had seen that he was blind[b] said, “Is not this he who sat and begged?”

9 Some said, “This is he.” Others said, “He is like him.”[c]
He said, “I am he.”

10 Therefore they said to him, “How were your eyes opened?”

11 He answered and said, “A Man called Jesus made clay and anointed my eyes and said to me, ‘Go to the pool of[d] Siloam and wash.’ So I went and washed, and I received sight.”

12 Then they said to him, “Where is He?” He said, “I do not know.”

The Pharisees Excommunicate the Healed Man

13 They brought him who formerly was blind to the Pharisees.
14 Now it was a Sabbath when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes.
15 Then the Pharisees also asked him again how he had received his sight. He said to them, “He put clay on my eyes, and I washed, and I see.”
16 Therefore some of the Pharisees said, “This Man is not from God, because He does not keep the Sabbath.” Others said, “How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?” And there was a division among them.
17 They said to the blind man again, “What do you say about Him because He opened your eyes?” He said, “He is a prophet.”
18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind and received his sight, until they called the parents of him who had received his sight.
19 And they asked them, saying, “Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How then does he now see?”
20 His parents answered them and said, “We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind;
21 “but by what means he now sees we do not know, or who opened his eyes we do not know. He is of age; ask him. He will speak for himself.”
22 His parents said these things because they feared the Jews, for the Jews had agreed already that if anyone confessed that He was Christ, he would be put out of the synagogue.
23 Therefore his parents said, “He is of age; ask him.”

[24]So they again called the man who was blind, and said to him, “Give God the glory! We know that this Man is a sinner.”

[25]He answered and said, “Whether He is a sinner or not I do not know. One thing I know: that though I was blind, now I see.”

[26]Then they said to him again, “What did He do to you? How did He open your eyes?”

[27]He answered them, “I told you already, and you did not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you also want to become His disciples?”

[28]Then they reviled him and said, “You are His disciple, but we are Moses’ disciples.

[29]“We know that God spoke to Moses; as for this fellow, we do not know where He is from.”

[30]The man answered and said to them, “Why, this is a marvelous thing, that you do not know where He is from; yet He has opened my eyes!

[31]“Now we know that God does not hear sinners; but if anyone is a worshiper of God and does His will, He hears him.

[32]“Since the world began it has been unheard of that anyone opened the eyes of one who was born blind. Jesus and the Physical

[33]“If this Man were not from God, He could do nothing.”

[34]They answered and said to him, “You were completely born in sins, and are you teaching us?” And they cast him out.

True Vision and True Blindness

35Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when He had found him, He said to him, “Do you believe in the Son of God?”[e]

[36]He answered and said, “Who is He, Lord, that I may believe in Him?”
[37]And Jesus said to him, “You have both seen Him and it is He who is talking with you.”
[38]Then he said, “Lord, I believe!” And he worshiped Him.
[39]And Jesus said, “For judgment I have come into this world, that those who do not see may see, and that those who see may be made blind.”
[40]Then some of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these words, and said to Him, “Are we blind also?” [41]Jesus said to them, “If you were blind, you would have no sin; but now you say, ‘We see.’ Therefore your sin remains.

John 10

Jesus the True Shepherd

1 “Most assuredly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door, but climbs up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.
2 “But he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.
3 “To him the doorkeeper opens, and the sheep hear his voice; and he calls his own sheep by name and leads them
out.
4 “And when he brings out his own sheep, he goes before them; and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice.
5 “Yet they will by no means follow a stranger, but will flee from him, for they do not know the voice of strangers.” 6 Jesus used this illustration, but they did not understand the things which He spoke to them.

Jesus the Good Shepherd

7 Then Jesus said to them again, “Most assuredly, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep.
8 “All who ever came before Me[a] are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them.
9 “I am the door. If anyone enters by Me, he will be saved, and will go in and out and find pasture.
10 “The thief does not come except to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly.
11 “I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd gives His life for the sheep.
12 “But a hireling, he who is not the shepherd, one who does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and flees; and the wolf catches the sheep and scatters them.

13“The hireling flees because he is a hireling and does not care about the sheep.
14“I am the good shepherd; and I know My sheep, and am known by My own.
15“As the Father knows Me, even so I know the Father; and I lay down My life for the sheep.
16“And other sheep I have which are not of this fold; them also I must bring, and they will hear My voice; and there will be one flock and one shepherd.
17“Therefore My Father loves Me, because I lay down My life that I may take it again.
18“No one takes it from Me, but I lay it down of Myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This command I have received from My Father.”
19Therefore there was a division again among the Jews because of these sayings.
20And many of them said, “He has a demon and is mad. Why do you listen to Him?”
21Others said, “These are not the words of one who has a demon. Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?”

The Shepherd Knows His Sheep

22Now it was the Feast of Dedication in Jerusalem, and it was winter.
23And Jesus walked in the temple, in Solomon’s porch.
24Then the Jews surrounded Him and said to Him, “How long do You keep us in doubt? If You are the Christ, tell us plainly.”
25Jesus answered them, “I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in My Father’s name, they bear witness of Me.

26 “But you do not believe, because you are not of My sheep, as I said to you.[b] 27 “My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me.
28 “And I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish; neither shall anyone snatch them out of My hand.
29 “My Father, who has given them to Me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch them out of My Father’s hand.
30 “I and My Father are one.”

Renewed Efforts to Stone Jesus

31 Then the Jews took up stones again to stone Him. Stoning 32 Jesus answered them, “Many good works I have shown you from My Father. For which of those works do you stone
Me?” 33 The Jews answered Him, saying, “For a good work we do not stone You, but for blasphemy, and because You, being a Man, make Yourself God.” 34 Jesus answered them, “Is it not written in your law, ‘I said, “You are gods” ’?[c] 35 “If He called them gods, to whom the word of God came (and the Scripture cannot be broken), 36 “do you say of Him whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, ‘You are blaspheming,’ because I said, ‘I am the Son of God’?
37 “If I do not do the works of My Father, do not believe
Me;
38 “but if I do, though you do not believe Me, believe the works, that you may know and believe[d] that the Father is in Me, and I in Him.”
39 Therefore they sought again to seize Him, but He escaped out of their hand.

The Believers Beyond Jordan

40And He went away again beyond the Jordan to the place where John was baptizing at first, and there He stayed.
41Then many came to Him and said, “John performed no sign, but all the things that John spoke about this Man were true.”
42And many believed in Him there.

John 11

The Death of Lazarus

1 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha.
2 It was that Mary who anointed the Lord with fragrant oil and wiped His feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. Mary's Devotion
3 Therefore the sisters sent to Him, saying, "Lord, behold, he whom You love is sick."
4 When Jesus heard that, He said, "This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified through it."
5 Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus.
6 So, when He heard that he was sick, He stayed two more days in the place where He was.
7 Then after this He said to the disciples, "Let us go to Judea again."
8 The disciples said to Him, "Rabbi, lately the Jews sought to stone You, and are You going there again?" 9 Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours in the day?
If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world.
10 "But if one walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him."
11 These things He said, and after that He said to them,
"Our friend Lazarus sleeps, but I go that I may wake him
up."
12 Then His disciples said, "Lord, if he sleeps he will get well."
13 However, Jesus spoke of his death, but they thought that He was speaking about taking rest in sleep.

14 Then Jesus said to them plainly, “Lazarus is dead.
15 “And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, that you may believe. Nevertheless let us go to him.”
16 Then Thomas, who is called the Twin, said to his fellow disciples, “Let us also go, that we may die with Him.”

I Am the Resurrection and the Life

17 So when Jesus came, He found that he had already been in the tomb four days.
18 Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about two miles[a] away.
19 And many of the Jews had joined the women around Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.
20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met Him, but Mary was sitting in the house.
21 Now Martha said to Jesus, “Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died.
22 “But even now I know that whatever You ask of God, God will give You.”
23 Jesus said to her, “Your brother will rise again.”
24 Martha said to Him, “I know that he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day.”
25 Jesus said to her, “I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in Me, though he may die, he shall live. The Resurrection and the Life
26 “And whoever lives and believes in Me shall never die. Do you believe this?”
27 She said to Him, “Yes, Lord, I believe that You are the Christ, the Son of God, who is to come into the world.”

Jesus and Death, the Last Enemy

28And when she had said these things, she went her way and secretly called Mary her sister, saying, “The Teacher has come and is calling for you.”

29As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly and came to Him.

30Now Jesus had not yet come into the town, but was[b] in the place where Martha met Him.

31Then the Jews who were with her in the house, and comforting her, when they saw that Mary rose up quickly and went out, followed her, saying, “She is going to the tomb to weep there.”[c]

32Then, when Mary came where Jesus was, and saw Him, she fell down at His feet, saying to Him, “Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died.”

33Therefore, when Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who came with her weeping, He groaned in the spirit and was troubled.

34And He said, “Where have you laid him?” They said to Him, “Lord, come and see.”

35Jesus wept.

36Then the Jews said, “See how He loved him!”

37And some of them said, “Could not this Man, who opened the eyes of the blind, also have kept this man from dying?”

Lazarus Raised from the Dead

38Then Jesus, again groaning in Himself, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone lay against it.

39Jesus said, “Take away the stone.” Martha, the sister of him who was dead, said to Him, “Lord, by this time there is a stench, for he has been dead four days.”

40Jesus said to her, “Did I not say to you that if you would believe you would see the glory of God?”

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead man was lying.[d] And Jesus lifted up His eyes and said, "Father, I thank You that You have heard Me.
42 "And I know that You always hear Me, but because of the people who are standing by I said this, that they may believe that You sent Me."
43 Now when He had said these things, He cried with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come forth!" 44 And he who had died came out bound hand and foot with graveclothes, and his face was wrapped with a cloth.
Jesus said to them, "Loose him, and let him go."

The Plot to Kill Jesus

45 Then many of the Jews who had come to Mary, and had seen the things Jesus did, believed in Him.
46 But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them the things Jesus did.
47 Then the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered a council and said, "What shall we do? For this Man works many signs.
48 "If we let Him alone like this, everyone will believe in Him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation."
49 And one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, "You know nothing at all, 50 "nor do you consider that it is expedient for us[e] that one man should die for the people, and not that the whole nation should perish."
51 Now this he did not say on his own authority; but being high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation,
52 and not for that nation only, but also that He would gather together in one the children of God who were scattered abroad.

53 Then, from that day on, they plotted to put Him to death.

54 Therefore Jesus no longer walked openly among the Jews, but went from there into the country near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim, and there remained with His disciples.

55 And the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went from the country up to Jerusalem before the Passover, to purify themselves.

56 Then they sought Jesus, and spoke among themselves as they stood in the temple, “What do you think—that He will not come to the feast?”

57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a command, that if anyone knew where He was, he should report it, that they might seize Him.

John 12

The Anointing at Bethany

1 Then, six days before the Passover, Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus was who had been dead,[a] whom He had raised from the dead. Funeral Preparations

2 There they made Him a supper; and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those who sat at the table with Him.

3 Then Mary took a pound of very costly oil of spikenard, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped His feet with her hair.
And the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil.

4 But one of His disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, who would betray Him, said,

5 "Why was this fragrant oil not sold for three hundred denarii[b] and given to the poor?"

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and had the money box; and he used to take what was put in it.

7 But Jesus said, "Let her alone; she has kept[c] this for the day of My burial.

8 "For the poor you have with you always, but Me you do not have always."

The Plot to Kill Lazarus

9 Now a great many of the Jews knew that He was there; and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might also see Lazarus, whom He had raised from the dead.

10 But the chief priests plotted to put Lazarus to death
also,

11 because on account of him many of the Jews went away and believed in Jesus.

The Triumphal Entry

12The next day a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13took branches of palm trees and went out to meet Him,
and cried out:

> "Hosanna!
> 'Blessed is He who comes in the name of the > LORD!'[d]
> The King of Israel!"

14Then Jesus, when He had found a young donkey, sat on it; as it is written:

> 15 "Fear not, daughter of Zion;
> Behold, your King is coming,
> Sitting on a donkey's colt."[e]

16His disciples did not understand these things at first;
but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written about Him and that they had done these things to Him.
17Therefore the people, who were with Him when He called Lazarus out of his tomb and raised him from the dead, bore witness.
18For this reason the people also met Him, because they heard that He had done this sign.
19The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, "You see that you are accomplishing nothing. Look, the world has gone after Him!"

The Fruitful Grain of Wheat

20Now there were certain Greeks among those who came up to worship at the feast.

21 Then they came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, “Sir, we wish to see Jesus.”
22 Philip came and told Andrew, and in turn Andrew and Philip told Jesus.
23 But Jesus answered them, saying, “The hour has come that the Son of Man should be glorified.
24 “Most assuredly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it produces much grain.
25 “He who loves his life will lose it, and he who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.
26 “If anyone serves Me, let him follow Me; and where I am, there My servant will be also. If anyone serves Me, him
My Father will honor.

Jesus Predicts His Death on the Cross

27 “Now My soul is troubled, and what shall I say?
‘Father, save Me from this hour’? But for this purpose I came to this hour.
28 “Father, glorify Your name.” Then a voice came from heaven, saying, “I have both glorified it and will glorify it
again.”
29 Therefore the people who stood by and heard it said that it had thundered. Others said, “An angel has spoken to Him.” 30 Jesus answered and said, “This voice did not come because of Me, but for your sake.
31 “Now is the judgment of this world; now the ruler of this world will be cast out.
32 “And I, if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all peoples to Myself.”
33 This He said, signifying by what death He would die.

34 The people answered Him, “We have heard from the law that the Christ remains forever; and how can You say, ‘The Son of Man must be lifted up’? Who is this Son of Man?”
35 Then Jesus said to them, “A little while longer the light is with you. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you; he who walks in darkness does not know where he is going.
36 “While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light.” These things Jesus spoke, and departed, and was hidden from them.

Who Has Believed Our Report?

37 But although He had done so many signs before them,
they did not believe in Him, 38 that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spoke:

> “Lord, who has believed our report?
> And to whom has the arm of the LORD been > revealed?”[f]

39 Therefore they could not believe, because Isaiah said
again:

> 40 “He has blinded their eyes and hardened > their hearts,
> Lest they should see with their eyes,
> Lest they should understand with their
> hearts and turn,
> So that I should heal them.”[g]

41 These things Isaiah said when[h] he saw His glory and spoke of Him.

Walk in the Light

42Nevertheless even among the rulers many believed in Him, but because of the Pharisees they did not confess Him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue; 43for they loved the praise of men more than the praise of
God.
44Then Jesus cried out and said, "He who believes in Me, believes not in Me but in Him who sent Me.
45"And he who sees Me sees Him who sent Me.
46"I have come as a light into the world, that whoever believes in Me should not abide in darkness.
47"And if anyone hears My words and does not believe,[i] I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world.
48"He who rejects Me, and does not receive My words, has that which judges him—the word that I have spoken will judge him in the last day.
49"For I have not spoken on My own authority; but the Father who sent Me gave Me a command, what I should say and what I should speak. Thriving Under Authority 50"And I know that His command is everlasting life.
Therefore, whatever I speak, just as the Father has told Me, so I speak."

John 13

Jesus Washes the Disciples' Feet

1 Now before the Feast of the Passover, when Jesus knew that His hour had come that He should depart from this world to the Father, having loved His own who were in the world, He loved them to the end. Leading to Serve

2 And supper being ended,[a] the devil having already put it into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray Him,

3 Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands, and that He had come from God and was going to God,

4 rose from supper and laid aside His garments, took a towel and girded Himself.

5 After that, He poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel with which He was girded.

6 Then He came to Simon Peter. And Peter said to Him,
"Lord, are You washing my feet?"

7 Jesus answered and said to him, "What I am doing you do not understand now, but you will know after this."

8 Peter said to Him, "You shall never wash my feet!" Jesus answered him, "If I do not wash you, you have no part with Me."

9 Simon Peter said to Him, "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head!"

10 Jesus said to him, "He who is bathed needs only to wash his feet, but is completely clean; and you are clean, but not all of you."

11 For He knew who would betray Him; therefore He said,
"You are not all clean."

12So when He had washed their feet, taken His garments, and sat down again, He said to them, “Do you know what I have done to you?

13“You call Me Teacher and Lord, and you say well, for so I am.

14“If I then, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another’s feet.

15“For I have given you an example, that you should do as I have done to you.

16“Most assuredly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master; nor is he who is sent greater than he who sent him.

17“If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them.

Jesus Identifies His Betrayer

18“I do not speak concerning all of you. I know whom I have chosen; but that the Scripture may be fulfilled, ‘He who eats bread with Me[b] has lifted up his heel against Me.’[c]

19“Now I tell you before it comes, that when it does come to pass, you may believe that I am He.

20“Most assuredly, I say to you, he who receives whomever I send receives Me; and he who receives Me receives Him who sent Me.”

21When Jesus had said these things, He was troubled in spirit, and testified and said, “Most assuredly, I say to you, one of you will betray Me.”

22Then the disciples looked at one another, perplexed about whom He spoke.

23Now there was leaning on Jesus’ bosom one of His disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24Simon Peter therefore motioned to him to ask who it was of whom He spoke.

25 Then, leaning back[d] on Jesus' breast, he said to Him,
"Lord, who is it?"
26 Jesus answered, "It is he to whom I shall give a piece of bread when I have dipped it." And having dipped the bread,
He gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.
27 Now after the piece of bread, Satan entered him. Then Jesus said to him, "What you do, do quickly."
28 But no one at the table knew for what reason He said this to him.
29 For some thought, because Judas had the money box, that Jesus had said to him, "Buy those things we need for the feast," or that he should give something to the poor.
30 Having received the piece of bread, he then went out immediately. And it was night.

The New Commandment

31 So, when he had gone out, Jesus said, "Now the Son of Man is glorified, and God is glorified in Him. The Mark of Love 32 "If God is glorified in Him, God will also glorify Him in Himself, and glorify Him immediately.
33 "Little children, I shall be with you a little while longer.
You will seek Me; and as I said to the Jews, 'Where I am going, you cannot come,' so now I say to you.
34 "A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; as I have loved you, that you also love one another.
35 "By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another."

Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial

36 Simon Peter said to Him, "Lord, where are You going?"
Jesus answered him, "Where I am going you cannot follow Me now, but you shall follow Me afterward."

37 Peter said to Him, “Lord, why can I not follow You now?
I will lay down my life for Your sake.” 38 Jesus answered him, “Will you lay down your life for My sake? Most assuredly, I say to you, the rooster shall not crow till you have denied Me three times.

John 14

The Way, the Truth, and the Life

1 “Let not your heart be troubled; you believe in God, believe also in Me.
2 “In My Father’s house are many mansions;[a] if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.[b] 3 “And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself; that where I am, there you may be also.
4 “And where I go you know, and the way you know.”
5 Thomas said to Him, “Lord, we do not know where You are going, and how can we know the way?”
6 Jesus said to him, “I am the way, the truth, and the life.
No one comes to the Father except through Me.

The Father Revealed

7 “If you had known Me, you would have known My Father also; and from now on you know Him and have seen
Him.” 8 Philip said to Him, “Lord, show us the Father, and it is sufficient for us.”
9 Jesus said to him, “Have I been with you so long, and yet you have not known Me, Philip? He who has seen Me has seen the Father; so how can you say, ‘Show us the Father’?
10 “Do you not believe that I am in the Father, and the Father in Me? The words that I speak to you I do not speak on My own authority; but the Father who dwells in Me does the works.
11 “Believe Me that I am in the Father and the Father in Me, or else believe Me for the sake of the works themselves.

The Answered Prayer

12 "Most assuredly, I say to you, he who believes in Me, the works that I do he will do also; and greater works than these he will do, because I go to My Father.
13 "And whatever you ask in My name, that I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.
14 "If you ask[c] anything in My name, I will do it.

Jesus Promises Another Helper

15 "If you love Me, keep[d] My commandments.
16 "And I will pray the Father, and He will give you another Helper, that He may abide with you forever— Called Alongside 17 "the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him; but you know Him, for He dwells with you and will be in you.
18 "I will not leave you orphans; I will come to you.

Indwelling of the Father and the Son

19 "A little while longer and the world will see Me no more, but you will see Me. Because I live, you will live also.
20 "At that day you will know that I am in My Father, and you in Me, and I in you.
21 "He who has My commandments and keeps them, it is he who loves Me. And he who loves Me will be loved by My Father, and I will love him and manifest Myself to him."
22 Judas (not Iscariot) said to Him, "Lord, how is it that You will manifest Yourself to us, and not to the world?"
23 Jesus answered and said to him, "If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word; and My Father will love him, and We will come to him and make Our home with him.
24 "He who does not love Me does not keep My words;
and the word which you hear is not Mine but the Father's who sent Me.

The Gift of His Peace

25 “These things I have spoken to you while being present with you. Peace in Chaos 26 “But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in My name, He will teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all things that I said to you.
27 “Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.
28 “You have heard Me say to you, ‘I am going away and coming back to you.’ If you loved Me, you would rejoice because I said,[e] ‘I am going to the Father,’ for My Father is greater than I.
29 “And now I have told you before it comes, that when it does come to pass, you may believe.
30 “I will no longer talk much with you, for the ruler of this world is coming, and he has nothing in Me.
31 “But that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave Me commandment, so I do. Arise, let us go from here.

John 15

The True Vine

1 “I am the true vine, and My Father is the vinedresser. The Vine

2 “Every branch in Me that does not bear fruit He takes away;[a] and every branch that bears fruit He prunes, that it may bear more fruit.

3 “You are already clean because of the word which I have spoken to you.

4 “Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in Me.

5 “I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in Me, and I in him, bears much fruit; for without Me you can do nothing.

6 “If anyone does not abide in Me, he is cast out as a branch and is withered; and they gather them and throw them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 “If you abide in Me, and My words abide in you, you will[b] ask what you desire, and it shall be done for you.

8 “By this My Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit; so you will be My disciples.

Love and Joy Perfected

9 “As the Father loved Me, I also have loved you; abide in My love.

10 “If you keep My commandments, you will abide in My love, just as I have kept My Father’s commandments and abide in His love.

11 “These things I have spoken to you, that My joy may remain in you, and that your joy may be full.

12 “This is My commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you.
13 “Greater love has no one than this, than to lay down one’s life for his friends.
14 “You are My friends if you do whatever I command you.
15 “No longer do I call you servants, for a servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all things that I heard from My Father I have made known to you.
16 “You did not choose Me, but I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain, that whatever you ask the Father in My name He may give you.
17 “These things I command you, that you love one another.

The World’s Hatred

18 “If the world hates you, you know that it hated Me before it hated you. The Cost of Discipleship 19 “If you were of the world, the world would love its own.
Yet because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you.
20 “Remember the word that I said to you, ‘A servant is not greater than his master.’ If they persecuted Me, they will also persecute you. If they kept My word, they will keep yours also.
21 “But all these things they will do to you for My name’s sake, because they do not know Him who sent Me.
22 “If I had not come and spoken to them, they would have no sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin.
23 “He who hates Me hates My Father also.
24 “If I had not done among them the works which no one else did, they would have no sin; but now they have seen and also hated both Me and My Father.

25 “But this happened that the word might be fulfilled which is written in their law, ‘They hated Me without a cause.’[c]

The Coming Rejection

26 “But when the Helper comes, whom I shall send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth who proceeds from the Father, He will testify of Me.
27 “And you also will bear witness, because you have been with Me from the beginning.

John 16

1 “These things I have spoken to you, that you should not be made to stumble.
2 “They will put you out of the synagogues; yes, the time is coming that whoever kills you will think that he offers God service.
3 “And these things they will do to you[a] because they have not known the Father nor Me.
4 “But these things I have told you, that when the[b] time comes, you may remember that I told you of them. And these things I did not say to you at the beginning, because I was with you.

The Work of the Holy Spirit

5 “But now I go away to Him who sent Me, and none of you asks Me, ‘Where are You going?’ 6 “But because I have said these things to you, sorrow has filled your heart.
7 “Nevertheless I tell you the truth. It is to your advantage that I go away; for if I do not go away, the Helper will not come to you; but if I depart, I will send Him to you.
8 “And when He has come, He will convict the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: Whose Job Is Evangelism?
9 “of sin, because they do not believe in Me;
10 “of righteousness, because I go to My Father and you see Me no more;
11 “of judgment, because the ruler of this world is judged.
12 “I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now.

13 “However, when He, the Spirit of truth, has come, He will guide you into all truth; for He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He hears He will speak; and He will tell you things to come.
14 “He will glorify Me, for He will take of what is Mine and declare it to you.
15 “All things that the Father has are Mine. Therefore I said that He will take of Mine and declare it to you.[c]

Sorrow Will Turn to Joy

16 “A little while, and you will not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me, because I go to the Father.”
17 Then some of His disciples said among themselves, “What is this that He says to us, ‘A little while, and you will not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me’;
and, ‘because I go to the Father’?” 18 They said therefore, “What is this that He says, ‘A little while’? We do not know what He is saying.” 19 Now Jesus knew that they desired to ask Him, and He said to them, “Are you inquiring among yourselves about what I said, ‘A little while, and you will not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me’?
20 “Most assuredly, I say to you that you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice; and you will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will be turned into joy.
21 “A woman, when she is in labor, has sorrow because her hour has come; but as soon as she has given birth to the child, she no longer remembers the anguish, for joy that a human being has been born into the world. A Woman in Labor 22 “Therefore you now have sorrow; but I will see you again and your heart will rejoice, and your joy no one will take from you.

23 “And in that day you will ask Me nothing. Most assuredly, I say to you, whatever you ask the Father in My name He will give you.
24 “Until now you have asked nothing in My name. Ask, and you will receive, that your joy may be full.

Jesus Christ Has Overcome the World

25 “These things I have spoken to you in figurative language; but the time is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figurative language, but I will tell you plainly about the Father.
26 “In that day you will ask in My name, and I do not say to you that I shall pray the Father for you; 27 “for the Father Himself loves you, because you have loved Me, and have believed that I came forth from God.
28 “I came forth from the Father and have come into the world. Again, I leave the world and go to the Father.” 29 His disciples said to Him, “See, now You are speaking plainly, and using no figure of speech!
30 “Now we are sure that You know all things, and have no need that anyone should question You. By this we believe that You came forth from God.”
31 Jesus answered them, “Do you now believe?
32 “Indeed the hour is coming, yes, has now come, that you will be scattered, each to his own, and will leave Me alone. And yet I am not alone, because the Father is with Me.
33 “These things I have spoken to you, that in Me you may have peace. In the world you will[d] have tribulation; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world.”

John 17

Jesus Prays for Himself

1 Jesus spoke these words, lifted up His eyes to heaven, and said: “Father, the hour has come. Glorify Your Son, that Your Son also may glorify You, 2 “as You have given Him authority over all flesh, that He should[a] give eternal life to as many as You have given Him.
3 “And this is eternal life, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom You have sent.
4 “I have glorified You on the earth. I have finished the work which You have given Me to do.
5 “And now, O Father, glorify Me together with Yourself, with the glory which I had with You before the world was.

Jesus Prays for His Disciples

6 “I have manifested Your name to the men whom You have given Me out of the world. They were Yours, You gave them to Me, and they have kept Your word.
7 “Now they have known that all things which You have given Me are from You.
8 “For I have given to them the words which You have given Me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came forth from You; and they have believed that You sent Me.
9 “I pray for them. I do not pray for the world but for those whom You have given Me, for they are Yours.
10 “And all Mine are Yours, and Yours are Mine, and I am glorified in them.
11 “Now I am no longer in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to You. Holy Father, keep through Your name those whom You have given Me,[b] that they may be one as We are.

12 “While I was with them in the world,[c] I kept them in Your name. Those whom You gave Me I have kept;[d] and none of them is lost except the son of perdition, that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 “But now I come to You, and these things I speak in the world, that they may have My joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 “I have given them Your word; and the world has hated them because they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world.

15 “I do not pray that You should take them out of the world, but that You should keep them from the evil one.

16 “They are not of the world, just as I am not of the world.

17 “Sanctify them by Your truth. Your word is truth.

18 “As You sent Me into the world, I also have sent them into the world. Called Out and into the World

19 “And for their sakes I sanctify Myself, that they also may be sanctified by the truth.

Jesus Prays for All Believers

20 “I do not pray for these alone, but also for those who will[e] believe in Me through their word;

21 “that they all may be one, as You, Father, are in Me, and I in You; that they also may be one in Us, that the world may believe that You sent Me.

22 “And the glory which You gave Me I have given them, that they may be one just as We are one:

23 “I in them, and You in Me; that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that You have sent Me, and have loved them as You have loved Me.

24 “Father, I desire that they also whom You gave Me may be with Me where I am, that they may behold My glory which You have given Me; for You loved Me before the foundation of the world.
25 “O righteous Father! The world has not known You, but I have known You; and these have known that You sent Me.
26 “And I have declared to them Your name, and will declare it, that the love with which You loved Me may be in them, and I in them.”

John 18

Betrayal and Arrest in Gethsemane

1When Jesus had spoken these words, He went out with His disciples over the Brook Kidron, where there was a garden, which He and His disciples entered.

2And Judas, who betrayed Him, also knew the place; for Jesus often met there with His disciples.

3Then Judas, having received a detachment of troops, and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, came there with lanterns, torches, and weapons.

4Jesus therefore, knowing all things that would come upon Him, went forward and said to them, "Whom are you seeking?"

5They answered Him, "Jesus of Nazareth." Jesus said to them, "I am He." And Judas, who betrayed Him, also stood with them.

6Now when He said to them, "I am He," they drew back and fell to the ground.

7Then He asked them again, "Whom are you seeking?" And they said, "Jesus of Nazareth."

8Jesus answered, "I have told you that I am He. Therefore, if you seek Me, let these go their way,"

9that the saying might be fulfilled which He spoke, "Of those whom You gave Me I have lost none."

10Then Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it and struck the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.

11So Jesus said to Peter, "Put your sword into the sheath. Shall I not drink the cup which My Father has given Me?"

Before the High Priest

12Then the detachment of troops and the captain and the officers of the Jews arrested Jesus and bound Him.

13And they led Him away to Annas first, for he was the father-in-law of Caiaphas who was high priest that year.

14Now it was Caiaphas who advised the Jews that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

Peter Denies Jesus

15And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another[a] disciple. Now that disciple was known to the high priest, and went with Jesus into the courtyard of the high priest.

16But Peter stood at the door outside. Then the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to her who kept the door, and brought Peter in.

17Then the servant girl who kept the door said to Peter, “You are not also one of this Man’s disciples, are you?” He said, “I am not.”

18Now the servants and officers who had made a fire of coals stood there, for it was cold, and they warmed themselves. And Peter stood with them and warmed himself.

Jesus Questioned by the High Priest

19The high priest then asked Jesus about His disciples and His doctrine.

20Jesus answered him, “I spoke openly to the world. I always taught in synagogues and in the temple, where the Jews always meet,[b] and in secret I have said nothing.

21“Why do you ask Me? Ask those who have heard Me what I said to them. Indeed they know what I said.”

22And when He had said these things, one of the officers who stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, “Do You answer the high priest like that?”

[23]Jesus answered him, “If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil; but if well, why do you strike Me?”
[24]Then Annas sent Him bound to Caiaphas the high priest.

Peter Denies Twice More

[25]Now Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. Therefore they said to him, “You are not also one of His disciples, are you?” He denied it and said, “I am not!”
[26]One of the servants of the high priest, a relative of him whose ear Peter cut off, said, “Did I not see you in the garden with Him?”
[27]Peter then denied again; and immediately a rooster crowed.

In Pilate’s Court

[28]Then they led Jesus from Caiaphas to the Praetorium, and it was early morning. But they themselves did not go into the Praetorium, lest they should be defiled, but that they might eat the Passover.
[29]Pilate then went out to them and said, “What accusation do you bring against this Man?”
[30]They answered and said to him, “If He were not an evildoer, we would not have delivered Him up to you.”
[31]Then Pilate said to them, “You take Him and judge Him according to your law.” Therefore the Jews said to him, “It is not lawful for us to put anyone to death,” [32]that the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled which He spoke, signifying by what death He would die.
[33]Then Pilate entered the Praetorium again, called Jesus, and said to Him, “Are You the King of the Jews?”
[34]Jesus answered him, “Are you speaking for yourself about this, or did others tell you this concerning Me?”

35 Pilate answered, “Am I a Jew? Your own nation and the chief priests have delivered You to me. What have You done?”
36 Jesus answered, “My kingdom is not of this world. If My kingdom were of this world, My servants would fight, so that I should not be delivered to the Jews; but now My kingdom is not from here.”
37 Pilate therefore said to Him, “Are You a king then?”
Jesus answered, “You say rightly that I am a king. For this cause I was born, and for this cause I have come into the world, that I should bear witness to the truth. Everyone who is of the truth hears My voice.” 38 Pilate said to Him, “What is truth?” And when he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and said to them, “I find no fault in Him at all.

Taking the Place of Barabbas

39 “But you have a custom that I should release someone to you at the Passover. Do you therefore want me to release to you the King of the Jews?” 40 Then they all cried again, saying, “Not this Man, but Barabbas!” Now Barabbas was a robber.

John 19

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

1 So then Pilate took Jesus and scourged Him.
2 And the soldiers twisted a crown of thorns and put it on His head, and they put on Him a purple robe.
3 Then they said,[a] "Hail, King of the Jews!" And they struck Him with their hands.
4 Pilate then went out again, and said to them, "Behold, I am bringing Him out to you, that you may know that I find no fault in Him."

Pilate's Decision

5 Then Jesus came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe. And Pilate said to them, "Behold the Man!"
6 Therefore, when the chief priests and officers saw Him, they cried out, saying, "Crucify Him, crucify Him!" Pilate said to them, "You take Him and crucify Him, for I find no fault in Him."
7 The Jews answered him, "We have a law, and according to our[b] law He ought to die, because He made Himself the Son of God."
8 Therefore, when Pilate heard that saying, he was the more afraid,
9 and went again into the Praetorium, and said to Jesus,
"Where are You from?" But Jesus gave him no answer.
10 Then Pilate said to Him, "Are You not speaking to me?
Do You not know that I have power to crucify You, and power to release You?"
11 Jesus answered, "You could have no power at all against Me unless it had been given you from above.

Therefore the one who delivered Me to you has the greater sin."

12 From then on Pilate sought to release Him, but the Jews cried out, saying, "If you let this Man go, you are not Caesar's friend. Whoever makes himself a king speaks against Caesar."

13 When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus out and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha.

14 Now it was the Preparation Day of the Passover, and about the sixth hour. And he said to the Jews, "Behold your King!"

15 But they cried out, "Away with Him, away with Him! Crucify Him!" Pilate said to them, "Shall I crucify your King?" The chief priests answered, "We have no king but Caesar!"

16 Then he delivered Him to them to be crucified. Then they took Jesus and led Him away.[c]

The King on a Cross

17 And He, bearing His cross, went out to a place called the Place of a Skull, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha, 18 where they crucified Him, and two others with Him, one on either side, and Jesus in the center.

19 Now Pilate wrote a title and put it on the cross. And the writing was:

JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 Then many of the Jews read this title, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and it was written in Hebrew, Greek, and Latin.

21 Therefore the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate, "Do not write, 'The King of the Jews,' but, 'He said, "I am

the King of the Jews.” ’ ”

22 Pilate answered, “What I have written, I have written.”

23 Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took His garments and made four parts, to each soldier a part, and also the tunic. Now the tunic was without seam, woven from the top in one piece.

24 They said therefore among themselves, “Let us not tear it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be,” that the Scripture might be fulfilled which says:

> “They divided My garments among them,
> And for My clothing they cast lots.”[d]

Therefore the soldiers did these things.

Behold Your Mother

25 Now there stood by the cross of Jesus His mother, and His mother’s sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. The Women Around Jesus

26 When Jesus therefore saw His mother, and the disciple whom He loved standing by, He said to His mother, “Woman, behold your son!”

27 Then He said to the disciple, “Behold your mother!”
And from that hour that disciple took her to his own home.

It Is Finished

28 After this, Jesus, knowing[e] that all things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, said, “I thirst!”

29 Now a vessel full of sour wine was sitting there; and they filled a sponge with sour wine, put it on hyssop, and put it to His mouth.

30 So when Jesus had received the sour wine, He said, “It is finished!” And bowing His head, He gave up His spirit.

Jesus' Side Is Pierced

31Therefore, because it was the Preparation Day, that the bodies should not remain on the cross on the Sabbath (for that Sabbath was a high day), the Jews asked Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32Then the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first and of the other who was crucified with Him.

33But when they came to Jesus and saw that He was already dead, they did not break His legs.

34But one of the soldiers pierced His side with a spear, and immediately blood and water came out.

35And he who has seen has testified, and his testimony is true; and he knows that he is telling the truth, so that you may believe.

36For these things were done that the Scripture should be fulfilled, "Not one of His bones shall be broken."[f]

37And again another Scripture says, "They shall look on Him whom they pierced."[g]

Jesus Buried in Joseph's Tomb

38After this, Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly, for fear of the Jews, asked Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus; and Pilate gave him permission. So he came and took the body of Jesus.

39And Nicodemus, who at first came to Jesus by night, also came, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds.

40Then they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in strips of linen with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury.

41Now in the place where He was crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a new tomb in which no one had yet been laid.

42 So there they laid Jesus, because of the Jews' Preparation Day, for the tomb was nearby.

John 20

The Empty Tomb

1 Now the first day of the week Mary Magdalene went to the tomb early, while it was still dark, and saw that the stone had been taken away from the tomb. The First Easter

2 Then she ran and came to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and said to them, “They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have laid Him.”

3 Peter therefore went out, and the other disciple, and were going to the tomb.

4 So they both ran together, and the other disciple outran
Peter and came to the tomb first.

5 And he, stooping down and looking in, saw the linen cloths lying there; yet he did not go in.

6 Then Simon Peter came, following him, and went into the tomb; and he saw the linen cloths lying there,

7 and the handkerchief that had been around His head, not lying with the linen cloths, but folded together in a place by itself.

8 Then the other disciple, who came to the tomb first, went in also; and he saw and believed.

9 For as yet they did not know the Scripture, that He must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again to their own homes.

Mary Magdalene Sees the Risen Lord

11 But Mary stood outside by the tomb weeping, and as she wept she stooped down and looked into the tomb.

12 And she saw two angels in white sitting, one at the head and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.
13 Then they said to her, “Woman, why are you weeping?”
She said to them, “Because they have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have laid Him.” 14 Now when she had said this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing there, and did not know that it was Jesus.
15 Jesus said to her, “Woman, why are you weeping?
Whom are you seeking?” She, supposing Him to be the gardener, said to Him, “Sir, if You have carried Him away, tell me where You have laid Him, and I will take Him away.”
16 Jesus said to her, “Mary!” She turned and said to Him,[a] “Rabboni!” (which is to say, Teacher).
17 Jesus said to her, “Do not cling to Me, for I have not yet ascended to My Father; but go to My brethren and say to them, ‘I am ascending to My Father and your Father, and to My God and your God.’ ” 18 Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord,[b] and that He had spoken these things to her.

The Apostles Commissioned

19 Then, the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled,[c] for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and said to them, “Peace be with you.”
20 When He had said this, He showed them His hands and His side. Then the disciples were glad when they saw the Lord.
21 So Jesus said to them again, “Peace to you! As the Father has sent Me, I also send you.”

22 And when He had said this, He breathed on them, and said to them, “Receive the Holy Spirit.
23 “If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained.”

Seeing and Believing

24 Now Thomas, called the Twin, one of the twelve, was not with them when Jesus came. Skeptics Welcome 25 The other disciples therefore said to him, “We have seen the Lord.” So he said to them, “Unless I see in His hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into His side, I will not believe.”
26 And after eight days His disciples were again inside, and Thomas with them. Jesus came, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, “Peace to you!” 27 Then He said to Thomas, “Reach your finger here, and look at My hands; and reach your hand here, and put it into My side. Do not be unbelieving, but believing.” 28 And Thomas answered and said to Him, “My Lord and my God!”
29 Jesus said to him, “Thomas,[d] because you have seen Me, you have believed. Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed.”

That You May Believe

30 And truly Jesus did many other signs in the presence of His disciples, which are not written in this book; 31 but these are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in His name.

John 21

Breakfast by the Sea

1 After these things Jesus showed Himself again to the disciples at the Sea of Tiberias, and in this way He showed Himself:
2 Simon Peter, Thomas called the Twin, Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zebedee, and two others of His disciples were together.
3 Simon Peter said to them, "I am going fishing." They said to him, "We are going with you also." They went out and immediately[a] got into the boat, and that night they caught nothing.
4 But when the morning had now come, Jesus stood on the shore; yet the disciples did not know that it was Jesus.
5 Then Jesus said to them, "Children, have you any food?"
They answered Him, "No." 6 And He said to them, "Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and you will find some." So they cast, and now they were not able to draw it in because of the multitude of fish.
7 Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter,
"It is the Lord!" Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he put on his outer garment (for he had removed it), and plunged into the sea.
8 But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from land, but about two hundred cubits), dragging the net with fish.
9 Then, as soon as they had come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid on it, and bread.
10 Jesus said to them, "Bring some of the fish which you have just caught."

11 Simon Peter went up and dragged the net to land, full of large fish, one hundred and fifty-three; and although there were so many, the net was not broken.

12 Jesus said to them, “Come and eat breakfast.” Yet none of the disciples dared ask Him, “Who are You?”—knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then came and took the bread and gave it to them, and likewise the fish.

14 This is now the third time Jesus showed Himself to His disciples after He was raised from the dead.

Jesus Restores Peter

15 So when they had eaten breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, “Simon, son of Jonah,[b] do you love Me more than these?” He said to Him, “Yes, Lord; You know that I love You.” He said to him, “Feed My lambs.” Boundless Forgiveness

16 He said to him again a second time, “Simon, son of Jonah,[c] do you love Me?” He said to Him, “Yes, Lord; You know that I love You.” He said to him, “Tend My sheep.”

17 He said to him the third time, “Simon, son of Jonah,[d] do you love Me?” Peter was grieved because He said to him the third time, “Do you love Me?” And he said to Him, “Lord, You know all things; You know that I love You.” Jesus said to him, “Feed My sheep.

18 “Most assuredly, I say to you, when you were younger, you girded yourself and walked where you wished; but when you are old, you will stretch out your hands, and another will gird you and carry you where you do not wish.”

19 This He spoke, signifying by what death he would glorify God. And when He had spoken this, He said to him, “Follow Me.”

The Beloved Disciple and His Book

20Then Peter, turning around, saw the disciple whom Jesus loved following, who also had leaned on His breast at the supper, and said, “Lord, who is the one who betrays You?”

21Peter, seeing him, said to Jesus, “But Lord, what about this man?”

22Jesus said to him, “If I will that he remain till I come, what is that to you? You follow Me.”

23Then this saying went out among the brethren that this disciple would not die. Yet Jesus did not say to him that he would not die, but, “If I will that he remain till I come, what is that to you?”

24This is the disciple who testifies of these things, and wrote these things; and we know that his testimony is true.

25And there are also many other things that Jesus did, which if they were written one by one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that would be written. Amen.

John

John 1:1

Name means: “The Lord Has Been Gracious.”

Home: Probably raised in Capernaum on the north shore of the Sea of Galilee; later lived at Ephesus; banished to the island of Patmos in his old age.

Family: Son of Zebedee; mother was probably Salome, who may have been a sister of Mary, making John a cousin of Jesus; younger brother of James.

Occupation: Commercial fisherman; disciple of Jesus and a member of His inner circle; author of a Gospel, three New Testament letters, and the Book of Revelation.

Best known for: His close relationship with Jesus and his New Testament writings.

The Divine Partnership

John 1:1–3

From before time began and stretching to all eternity, God exists in a divine partnership. All three persons of the Trinity worked together to bring the world into existence—Father (Gen. 1:1; John 5:17), Son (1:10; Col. 1:16), and Holy Spirit (Gen. 1:2; Job 33:4). The three members of the Godhead continue to maintain the created order and care for all creatures, and their work is happening right now in the heavens as God prepares an eternal dwelling place for His people (John 14:2, 3; Rev. 21:1, 2, 5). This triune God invites us to join with Him to accomplish His work in the world. In everything we do with our days, God invites us to participate in what He has been up to from the beginning.

He Dwelt Among Us

John 1:1–14

This passage, known as the prologue of John's Gospel, was likely an early church hymn. It includes the Bible's most detailed claim that Jesus is God come to earth in human form. It declares that He has existed from all eternity. He is distinct from God, and yet He is Himself God. He has forever enjoyed face-to-face relationships among the Godhead.

Jesus is "the Word" (meaning "what is spoken, a statement, a speech"). Note the connection to God's revelation of His name to Moses as "I AM WHO I AM" (Ex. 3:14), and to Jesus' declaration of his eternal identity in John 8:58: "Most assuredly, I say to you, before Abraham was, I AM." Significantly, Jesus also makes seven other "I am" proclamations in the Gospel of John (John 6:35; 8:12; 10:9; 10:11; 11:25: 14:6; 15:1).

Jesus is God's expression in human form. He took on flesh and was born on earth to fully reveal God to humanity. By watching Jesus' actions and attitudes we can choose the actions and attitudes to express. To see Jesus is to see God, and to know Him is to experience God's grace and truth (1:14).

And just as Jesus "became flesh" and "dwelt among us" (1:14), so are we to embody godliness in our everyday world. The way we live will spread the good news about Christ. It is no coincidence that God calls those who have received Christ into their hearts to commit themselves to their communities and to live together in a way that reveals His glory.

Andrew the Connector

John 1:35–42

In addition to working in his family's fishing business, Andrew had followed John the Baptist. When Andrew heard John call Jesus "the Lamb of God," he pursued Jesus, eager to learn more about this new Teacher. Talking with Jesus convinced Andrew that he had indeed found the long-awaited Messiah.

Scripture portrays Andrew as a connector, a man who liked to bring people together, especially when it meant leading people to Jesus.

- Andrew found his brother Simon and told him the extraordinary news that he had found the Messiah. He brought his brother to meet Jesus, and the Lord called both men to follow Him.
- Andrew and the other disciples later found themselves confronted by thousands of people who had come to hear Jesus speak. Jesus asked His disciples where they could buy food for the crowd to eat, a proposition that must have been staggering. But Andrew led Jesus to a boy who had a handful of barley loaves and a couple of fish. The Lord took this meager supply and miraculously multiplied it to feed the crowd of about five thousand people (John 6:4–14).
- Not long before Jesus' arrest, some Greeks wanted to meet Him. Andrew acted as the go-between who carried their request to his Teacher (12:20–22).

Tradition holds that Andrew spent his later years connecting even more people to Christ by spreading the gospel to Scythia, the region directly north of the Black Sea.

Jesus' Hometown

John 1:46

Nazareth lay less than five miles from Sepphoris, the impressive capital city of Galilee that showcased the impact on Palestine of Greek culture and Roman wealth and power. But Nazareth shared none of those traits. Its location on top of a steep cliff ensured that its citizens would remain outsiders to the city below.

Nazareth had a reputation as a crude town that was resistant to change, but God chose it as the place where Jesus would grow up. His choice demonstrates God's heart for all kinds of communities, including declining rural towns. God cares about us no matter where we come from.

After Nazareth dramatically rejected its home-grown leader (Luke 4:16–30), Jesus left and apparently never returned. His mother and brothers remained there, however. They likely endured the scorn of neighbors, who likely gossiped about Jesus' birth and His mental state. For a while even Jesus' brothers doubted His claims (John 7:5).

More: Galilee, the province in which Nazareth was located, was a seedbed for revolutionaries against Rome.

Sacred Places Everywhere

John 1:51

In an Old Testament incident commonly referred to as "Jacob's Ladder," the patriarch Jacob dreamed of angels moving up and down a ladder to heaven while God repeated promises He had made to Jacob's father and grandfather (Gen. 28:10–22). When Jacob awoke, he said in wonder, "Surely, the LORD is in this place" (28:16).

By reminding Nathanael of that story, Jesus tapped into one of the most potent concepts of Old Testament theology—that God's presence makes places special. Wherever God or His representatives touched the ground, to the Israelites that spot became "Bethel," or sacred space (literally "House of God"; see "Sacred Space" at Gen. 28:22).

Jesus told Nathanael that angels would one day ascend and descend on Him. This was a radical new twist. He was revealing that there were not only sacred places but a sacred Person, a truth with profound applications:

- People joined to Christ become His temples (1 Cor. 6:19). As His followers, we become sacred because of God's presence in us.
- Everywhere we go becomes a sacred place. Jesus goes where we go—home, work, school, parks, stores, restaurants, libraries, hospitals, concert venues, movie theaters, museums, cemeteries, airports, aquariums—if we are there, so is the Lord.
- Workplaces, neighborhoods, and communities can no longer be regarded as enemy territory. Nor are churches the only holy buildings in town. When Christians live in a deep connection with God, an office becomes as sacred as any religious shrine. Nathanael found out that even a fig tree can become a place where God carries out His purposes (John 1:50).
- No place on earth is forsaken by God. When Christ's people are there, Christ is present. This is a reality that has the power to transform communities and give struggling people a sense of significance and hope. God's presence in us can make broken neighborhoods into Bethels.

We need a God who is as big as the places where we live and work. He is. Knowing that we carry with us the Lord of the universe, we can be sure that He makes everywhere we go into a place where He shines forth His grace and truth. It's up to us to see it.

Water into Wine

John 2:1–12

No ancient Jewish wedding would be without wine, a festive symbol of life and abundance. It represented an expectation of a good life to come for the newlyweds. But just as a young couple at Cana prepared to launch a new life, the unthinkable happened—they ran out of wine.

Actually, given that wedding festivities often lasted as long as a week, that may have been a common problem. Nevertheless, it would have been discouraging and probably an embarrassment to the host. Jesus seized the moment to reveal something about who He was. His turning water into wine for the wedding manifested His glory and encouraged the faith of His disciples (John 2:11). His mighty act communicated that He was the new wine bringing abundant life to the world. He was the Creator of the wine and of all things. And He, like the wine He made, was not of inferior quality—He was the good wine, served at a time of new beginnings (2:10).

The Seven Signs of John’s Gospel

John 2:1–12

As John wrote his Gospel, he had a distinct goal—a purpose he shared at the end of the book. He wanted his readers to know that “Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that [by] believing [they might] have life in His name” (John 20:31). With that in mind, he organized his account around seven miracles performed by Jesus. Each was a sign that pointed to His divine nature.

	Sign	Meaning
1	Turns water into wine (John 2:1–12)	Jesus is the Source of life.
2	Heals a nobleman's son (John 4:46–54)	Jesus is Master over distance.
3	Heals a lame man at the pool of Bethesda (John 5:1–17)	Jesus is Master over time.
4	Feeds 5,000 (John 6:1–14)	Jesus is the Bread of Life.
5	Walks on water and stills a storm (John 6:15–21)	Jesus is Master over nature.
6	Heals a man blind from birth (John 9:1–41)	Jesus is the Light of the World.
7	Raises Lazarus from the dead (John 11:17–45)	Jesus has power over death.

In Jewish thinking, the number seven signified perfection or completion. John's seven miracles are based on the Old Testament understanding of the Messiah, and together they make the point that Jesus is perfect and complete. They demonstrate that He is the Messiah that Israel has been looking for, and that He alone offers eternal life.

Probably the last Gospel to be written, John's book was nevertheless Christianity's first statement of Jesus' message in a way that directly related to the frame of mind of its day. John's story is meticulously and artistically composed. It is also spiritually deep. The book's profound thoughts have been the starting point for many to meet and understand the Master. What do you learn about how to serve God as you read the Book of John?

The Rest of Mary's Story

John 2:12

Jesus' mother, brothers, and disciples went with Him during His early travels to Capernaum. Mary also seemed to know at least something of Jesus' divinity (John 2:3–5). But after this scene, Jesus' mother disappears from John's account until Jesus' crucifixion (19:25–27). Did Mary follow her Son? We do not get the sense that she traveled with Him. She may have had responsibilities at home that could not be ignored, such as caring for her younger children. Whatever the case, after Jesus ascended to heaven, Mary was among the early Christians who prayed and waited in the Upper Room for the promise of the Holy Spirit (Acts 1:14).

The Gospel in a Divided World

John 3:21

Jesus' nighttime meeting with Nicodemus (John 3:1–21) and midday encounter with the Samaritan woman (4:5–42) show Jesus' consistent style of dealing with people in a world of sharp social divisions. Whether He encountered a respected spiritual leader such as Nicodemus or a street-smart loner like the woman of Samaria, Jesus met people on their own terms, treating them as valued individuals with unique concerns. His skill in relating to people models how we should communicate His good news to individuals in a pluralistic society.

Nicodemus was an upper-class Jew, a Pharisee from a prominent Jerusalem family. He approached Jesus alone at night. The Lord confronted him with his need to be "born again" (3:3), and then let him go away to think things over. The next time we see Nicodemus, he was defending Jesus on a technical religious matter (7:45–52). But Nicodemus apparently did not openly identify with Jesus until after the crucifixion, when he helped prepare His body for burial (19:39).

The Samaritan woman had led a scandalous life with a succession of husbands and then with a live-in companion. Her own community despised her, and as a Samaritan, she was doubly despised by the Jews (see "Jews and Samaritans" at John 4:9). Jesus met her in a heavily trafficked public location in broad daylight, first by herself and then with others. He told her of “living water” (4:10) and her need to worship in spirit and truth. She responded far more readily than Nicodemus. And her individual decision may have brought her entire clan along (4:39–41).

John records dozens of interactions between Jesus and people of all kinds. Some became His followers after they were fed (6:4–14), others after they were healed (9:1–38), and others after they saw the resurrected Christ (20:24–29). Some responded to the Lord’s miracles, others to His teaching.

As Jesus’ followers in a modern divided world, we present the gospel to some who are spiritually open and some who are not. A few actively seek to understand Christian truth. Others completely reject biblical truth and often believe that all who bear Christ’s name are intolerant hypocrites. Still others are at war with an incomplete idea about Western civilization that they equate with Christianity. Like Jesus, we need to use diverse approaches in addressing each individual. If we hope to effectively reach the world with His compassionate message, our first step is to shape our interactions with the people we interact with close to home—family, friends, coworkers, neighbors—so that we can perfect the art of meeting people right where they are.

Defining Success

John 3:30

John the Baptist’s declaration that “He must increase, but I must decrease” seems to negate any thought of personal achievement, recognition, or material gain. But while we may feel as if John was setting an unrealistic standard, the truth is he lived what he preached, shunning the outward trappings of a successful ministry even by the standards of his own era.

And yet he was wildly successful at preparing the way for Jesus Christ.

Does God expect His followers to avoid certain successes? Does He want us to fail on the job, in relationships, or in life? Can we thrive in our careers as well as in our spiritual lives, or are the two incompatible? Some Christians argue that job success creates credibility with others that opens them up to hearing about Christ. Others claim that they have no interest in being successful in the business world. Both might reflect genuine conviction and good intentions.

Success is a complex, emotional issue. The people who heard John the Baptist or Jesus preach were no less interested in prospering than we are, even if they defined success in different terms. Scripture speaks to the universal issue of human ambition through at least three principles illustrated by John the Baptist:

- It matters who defines success. The religious leaders who opposed John aggressively convinced people that they had God's blessing because they descended from Abraham (Matt. 3:7–9; Luke 3:8; John 8:39). But God said that what mattered was faith in Jesus. That was His measure of success, and unbelief would result in the ultimate failure—eternal death (3:36).
- Why and how we pursue success is as important as whether we achieve it. John preached to ordinary people who were trying to get ahead. In their scramble for success they took ethical shortcuts and ignored others' needs. John challenged them to instead pursue concrete acts of charity, honesty, and justice in every part of life (Luke 3:8, 10–14).
- Success always carries a cost. John's warning of God's judgment came with a frightening image: "Even now the ax is laid to the root of the trees. Therefore, every tree which does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire" (3:9). Just as a forester would lay his ax at the foot of a tree while he decided which trees to cut down, God had sent John and Jesus as His final messengers before letting His judgment fall. People could choose how to respond. They could pay the price of pursuing gain at any cost, or they could respond in faith, letting the Lord determine whether their fortunes rose or fell.

God always gives us a choice whether to simply imitate the people around us, or to live life according to His definition of success. John the Baptist was able to carry out his ministry because he kept the right perspective on his God-given assignment. He accepted that he was merely Christ's forerunner, not the Christ Himself (John 3:28, 29). He understood that Jesus' ministry would grow and expand, and that any glory belonged to Him. His own role would diminish, hence his statement that "He must increase, but I must decrease" (3:30).

The cost of John's obedience was imprisonment and execution (Matt. 14:1–12). Yet he gained a treasure out of all proportion to the price of martyrdom—the praise of Christ echoing throughout all eternity (11:7–11). His experience tells us to ask three vital questions:

- Who sets the standards I use to measure success?
- What are my motives and behavior in pursuing success?
- What price am I willing to pay to achieve success?

More: *Solomon illustrates how a person can gain power, wealth, and prestige yet lack the true success that comes from knowing and honoring God. See "Unsatisfied with Success" at 2 Chr. 1:1. The Road Less Traveled

John 4:4–42

Although the Jews of the New Testament era did all they could to detour around Samaria, Jesus deliberately crossed the territory of a people widely, but falsely, regarded as spiritually and ethnically inferior (see "Jews and Samaritans" at John 4:9).

When Jesus struck up a conversation with a woman at Jacob's well in Sychar (4:5–7), the discussion quickly turned personal. The woman was on the verge of confessing her belief in Jesus, but her culture gave her no authority over such a major decision. Those choices fell to men, often tribally, within clans. This cultural background made it unusual for any male—let alone a rabbi—to talk seriously with a woman in public. That may be one reason why the woman left as soon as the disciples appeared (4:27, 28). But she clearly left to tell her family and friends about Jesus (4:28–30), approaching the community's decision-makers first. Her act opened up the entire village for Jesus, and He stayed there for two days (4:43).

This scene should shape our methods of communicating the Good News to other cultures. While Western culture tends to value individual independence, other cultures look to families or even larger social systems to make important decisions as a group. How the message is received is determined by family bonds and other relationships.

Western Christians must respect those values if they hope to cross into cultures other than their own. Jesus took a less-traveled road to bring an entire community to faith. What roads are we taking to spread His message? What roads are we avoiding?

Jews and Samaritans

John 4:9

The fierce hatred between Jews and Samaritans went back many centuries. It dated to the fall of the northern kingdom of Israel in 722 B.C. The victorious Assyrians deported twenty thousand, mostly upper-class Israelites and replaced them with pagan settlers from Babylon, Syria, and several other nations. These foreigners introduced idols and intermarried with the people of Israel, creating an ethnically mixed population (see "The Origin of the Samaritans" at 2 Kin. 17:24).

When the Jews of Judah returned from the Babylonian captivity and tried to rebuild Jerusalem, the temple, and the rest of their society, they met resistance from the Samaritans. The Jews looked down on their northern cousins' mixed marriages and idolatrous habits. The Samaritans looked to Mount Gerizim rather than Jerusalem as the only true place of worship. The historic enmity between the two groups exploded when in 128 B.C. the Jews destroyed the Samaritans' temple at Mount Gerizim, built nearly three hundred years earlier. By the time of Jesus, the hostility was so severe that the woman at the well was astonished that Jesus would even speak to her. As John explained, "Jews have no dealings with Samaritans" (John 4:9).

There are countless modern parallels to the Jewish-Samaritan conflict. Their animosity is mirrored whenever and wherever racial and ethnic barriers divide people. But the Gospels and the Book of Acts show how these barriers can be broken down. Jesus and His followers came into contact and spread the Christian message all over the Roman world to people of a wide variety of cultures and ethnicities.

Often it is not a person from a culture on the far side of the world that we find hardest to show love to. It is more often the nearby neighbor whose habits, skin color, language, customs, or values seem like an insurmountable barrier. But in the kingdom of God there are no such barriers—not because there are no differences but because these things must not hinder people from reaching out to each other. If we want to be citizens of the kingdom, we must learn to see past our own prejudices, eradicate those prejudices, and allow the Lord to reshape our minds and hearts. He will. But we must make the first move. As you work to overcome your own prejudices look at the history that contributed to them.

More: Jesus spoke some of His most memorable words about Samaritans. See "Bypassing Samaria" at Luke 9:51–56 and "Love Every Neighbor" at Luke 10:27–37. As the gospel spread from Jerusalem to other nations, it had to pass through Samaria.

Faith and Miracles

John 4:46–54

Geography makes Jesus' second miraculous sign all the more significant. The nobleman and his dying son lived in Capernaum, the main city of the Galilee region. But Jesus was twenty miles away at Cana, where He had performed His first miracle (John 2:1–12). The nobleman walked forty miles round-trip—a two-day trek by foot—to implore Jesus to heal his son. With a word from Jesus (4:50), the boy was healed—as he lay in his bed twenty miles away.

When the nobleman returned home, he learned that his son had been healed at the same hour of Jesus' speech. However, John notes that the nobleman did not walk away from Jesus in worry and doubt, despite Jesus' previous statement suggesting that the man needed to "see signs and wonders" in order to believe. "The man believed the word that Jesus spoke to him," writes John, "and he went his way."

This illustrates an important point about miracles. Some miracles inspire faith (John 2:11). Other miracles require faith. Matthew reports that Jesus did not perform many miracles at Nazareth "because of their unbelief" (Matt. 13:58). And when the disciples asked why they were unable to cast out a demon, Jesus replied, "Because of your unbelief," explaining that a faith as small as a mustard seed could move mountains, but a lack of faith accomplishes nothing (17:20).

Ultimately, miracles do not depend on our faith. They depend on God's power.

Doing Good on the Sabbath

John 5:1–17

Always watching for infractions of their rules and traditions, and especially eager to catch Jesus and His followers in sin, the Pharisees verbally attacked a man who had been an invalid for decades. Jesus' Sabbath-day miracles deeply offended these legalists.

God rested from His work on the seventh day of creation and designated it as His special day (Gen. 2:2, 3). He later established the seventh day as a holy day—a Sabbath, or day of rest, for Israel (Ex. 20:8–11). The Pharisees argued that man who was healed violated the Sabbath by carrying his bed (John 5:10), as did Jesus by raising him up on that day (5:16).

Jesus said that even God continues to do certain work on the Sabbath (5:17). Even though He has completed His creation, He still maintains it and provides for His creatures. It is never the wrong day to do good.

God: The Original Worker

John 5:17

From God's first appearance in Scripture onward, we learn that He is a worker. In the creation account (Gen. 1–2) He gets to work as a strategic planner, designer, civil engineer, land developer, project manager, artist, and more. The result of these skills was "very good" (1:31), so good that creation proclaims His glory (Ps. 19:1). His work wins Him honor (compare Is. 43:7; 60:21).

God's work did not stop with the origination of the world. Moment by moment He still sustains creation and provides for His creatures. He continually works to bring people into a saving relationship with Him. And He eagerly enlists human beings to assist Him in accomplishing these tasks. Think of everything that implies:

1. Work is inherently good. Genesis says that God "worked" to bring the universe into existence (Gen. 2:2). That means that work is good in and of itself, since God only does what is good. The work we do reflects His original work. An engineer designing a bridge, a zoologist studying animals, and a farmer raising crops all perform jobs that God did at the beginning of the world.
2. Our work matters. By enlisting us in His plans, God gives us dignity. He created us "in His image" (1:26, 27), so just as He works, He has created us to work. Genesis even says that God gives human beings authority over His creation as managers. When we use the abilities He gives us, we become His partner in whatever we do. God uses doctors and nurses to meet health needs, retailers to distribute food and other essentials, lawyers to promote justice, and parents to nurture children. Our jobs matter to Him because they accomplish His purposes.
3. Work is not secular or sacred. God uses people like pastors and missionaries to meet spiritual and personal needs, but they are not the only people doing "God's work." God also cares about people's physical, emotional, intellectual, and other needs. He watches how each one of us does our part to manage the earth. Accomplishing what God wants done in the world takes all kinds of skills and all kinds of people.

4. How we work must honor God. Our work has dignity. God created us in His image as workers. We are each coworkers with God who possess God-given abilities to carry out significant tasks. This all tells us that what we do and how we do it should bring God glory. The way we do the work He gives us should fill Him with joy.

More: Despite what many Christians think, work is not a punishment from God. See "Work Itself Is a Gift from God" at Gen. 3:17–19.

Feeding the Five Thousand
John 6:1–14

John writes that the crowds followed Jesus because of His miracles (John 6:2), including His healing of a disabled man (5:1–17). This introduction sets the stage for one of Jesus' most famous miracles, the feeding of the five thousand men (6:10). Counting women and children, the crowd likely surpassed ten thousand.

What Jesus did was remarkable in every way. Consider how few modern facilities can accommodate five thousand people for a sit-down meal. Yet Jesus miraculously provided for at least that many with leftovers to spare. John mentions that the food left over filled twelve baskets—perhaps with symbolic significance: one for each disciple, or one for each of Israel's twelve tribes.

Faith was the overall result of the miracle; the crowd concluded that Jesus must be the Messiah (6:14). But even with Jesus physically present, doubt and rejection soon followed. Detractors pointed out that Jesus' lunch may have been impressive, but it was only one meal. Moses, they said, had fed Israel in the wilderness for years (6:30, 31). Incredibly, they completely missed out on the whole point of the sign. Jesus did not merely deliver a meal. He was and is the Bread of Life (6:32–58).

The Bread of Life

John 6:35

When Jesus called Himself the "bread of life" (John 6:35, 48), He was drawing on a rich symbol of Jewish life. Bread had an important place in Israel's worship. During Pentecost, two loaves of leavened bread were offered as sacrifices (Lev. 23:17). In the tabernacle and the temple, the Levites placed twelve loaves of unleavened bread before the Lord to symbolize God's presence with the twelve tribes (Ex. 25:30).

Each morning of the Exodus and the forty years of wilderness wandering, God miraculously sustained His people with manna from heaven (ch. 16). The bread-like manna was a "small round substance as fine as frost" (16:14). It looked "like white coriander seed" and tasted like "wafers made with honey" (16:31) or "pastry prepared with oil" (Num. 11:8).

It was this manna that Jesus likely had in mind when He called Himself "the true bread from heaven" (John 6:32), "the bread which came down from heaven" (6:41), and the "bread of life" (6:35, 48; compare 6:33, 49–51, 58). He is the spiritual food given by the Father to those who ask, seek, and knock (6:45; Matt. 7:7, 8).

Jesus imparted even more meaning to His words by delivering His "bread of life discourse" (John 6:26–58) during Passover (6:4, 22; see also "Passover" at Luke 22:7). The Feast of Unleavened Bread celebrated Israel's deliverance from slavery in Egypt. On the night before the Exodus—the night of the first Passover—the Israelites ate unleavened bread because they had no time to let their bread rise (Ex. 12:8; 13:6, 7).

Jesus is God's provision for people's deepest needs. Just as God had provided for His people as they fled Egypt, so Jesus was ready to nourish all who came to Him. Sadly, people balked at His teaching (John 6:30, 31, 41, 42, 52, 60). Their hearts were hard with unbelief. Many turned away (6:66). But to those who believed, Jesus gave day-after-day abundance and eternal life.

Credible Witnesses
John 7:5

We might feel frustrated when people we care about continue to reject God despite our continual efforts. But we should remember that even the Lord's own brothers did not believe that He was the Christ. They saw His miracles. They listened to His teaching. Yet they hesitated to accept that Jesus was the Son of God.

As Christians we are responsible for communicating the Good News. But it is the people who hear it who are accountable for responding in faith. If we hold ourselves liable for whether unbelievers accept or reject the message of Christ, we are putting ourselves in God's place and carrying a weight He does not intend for us to bear.

That doesn't mean we can be careless about how we share the gospel—or ignore how our life reflects on our credibility. Do people dismiss our faith because our lives contradict what we claim to believe?

At least some of Jesus' brothers eventually believed in Him. James became a leader in the early church (Acts 15:13–21) and wrote the New Testament letter that bears his name. The author of Jude may also have been Jesus' brother. Both men urged believers to put their faith into action and persevere in the face of attacks (James 2:2–26; Jude 3).

Blind Guides
John 7:21–24

The Pharisees had become so out of touch with the purpose of the Law that they could no longer tell the difference between appearance and reality. Jesus challenged them by appealing to the same Scriptures they claimed to value. As He did on many occasions, Jesus refused to let them abuse Him or others with their hypocrisy. Going back to Scripture is a wise approach for any of us trying to identify truth and how to live according to it. See "Jesus Confronts the Legalists" at Luke 6:1–11.

Living Water

John 7:37

Jesus cried out to the crowds with spectacular timing. Jerusalem was packed with holiday visitors. It was the peak of the festivities, the moment when He would attract the most attention.

Each year the city swelled with worshipers for the annual Feast of Tabernacles (or Booths, or Tents; John 7:2). Every Jewish family within twenty miles of the city was required to leave home and live in a booth or tent in remembrance of Israel's wilderness wanderings. Many camped out in the city for the week. Reunions and parties alternated with solemn processions from the temple to the pool of Siloam (9:7). As the throng pushed through the streets, they sang Psalms 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, and 118 in anticipation of God's righteous reign over the holy city.

For the most part, Jesus kept a low profile during the festival (7:2–10). He taught in the temple (7:14), but He waited for the right moment to make a public declaration. It came on the last day of the feast (7:37), likely at the climax of the daily processional.

As on the previous six days, the high priest filled a goblet of water from Siloam and carried it back to the temple. At the moment he poured it out, the crowds erupted with shouts of "Oh, give thanks to the LORD" (Ps. 118:1) and "Save now, I pray, O LORD; O LORD, I pray, send now prosperity" (118:25) and again, "Oh, give thanks to the LORD." The people shook myrtle, willow, and palm branches toward the altar, as if to remind God of His promises. After a pause, sacrifices were offered.

On the last day, just after the crowds had waved their branches, shaking them to pieces in a frenzy of enthusiasm, a voice suddenly cried out, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink" (John 7:37). The Lord's timing could not have been more perfect or His claim more explicit. As many in the crowd immediately understood, He had declared Himself to be the long-awaited Messiah, who would pour out the Holy Spirit (7:39–43).

John 7:37 is a turning point in John's account of Jesus. From that point on, hostility against Him increased until His enemies finally arrested Him (18:12) in a vain attempt to shut off the Water of Life.

Double Standards

John 8:2–11

The woman dragged in front of Jesus must have been furious. A case of adultery required capital punishment for both parties (Lev. 20:10). Did the accusers forget to bring the man? Was he one of their own? Or did they judge according to a double standard?

Jesus refrained from challenging her accusers' hypocrisy, but He set a new standard for judgment: Let someone perfect decide the case (John 8:7; compare Matt. 5:48). He was the only one who met that qualification, and He indeed decided the case. He declined to condemn the woman, and admonished her to "go and sin no more" (John 8:11).

When we make moral judgments, we must guard against our own double standards. Jesus warned us against being eager to point out specks in others' eyes while ignoring the planks in our own (Matt. 7:4, 5).

And when we are forgiven, our next action is not to sigh with relief that we dodged a punishment. It's to "go and sin no more" (John 8:11).

God Became Man
John 8:52–59

History teems with men who claimed to be gods. Christianity is unique in that it reveals that God became man.

That is the dramatic meaning of Jesus' words, "Before Abraham was, I AM." I AM was the name God used to introduce Himself to the Hebrews (Ex. 3:14). By applying this name to Himself, Jesus declared to the world that God Himself stood in their midst. And He demonstrated that He was God through His words and actions. He healed the sick, raised the dead, forgave sins, and flawlessly lived out the moral precepts He taught. Most importantly, He backed up His claim by conquering death. Others have been regarded as divine, but all except Jesus have fallen short of being God.

Medical Miracles
John 9:1–41

The sixth miraculous sign in John's Gospel reveals Jesus as the Light of the World, the giver of sight to the blind (John 9:5). The scene raises crucial questions about sin and disease. Like Job's counselors (Job 4:7–9; 8:2–8; 11:4–20), Jesus' disciples asked, "Whose sin caused this man's blindness?" (John 9:2). Their puzzlement reflected a common perception about health and disease in the ancient world. Then as now, sickness was often assumed to be punishment for sin. Physical maladies and suffering were ascribed to God's judgment.

The disciples' question seems quaint and simplistic until we admit that we still wrestle with the same issue: What ultimately causes sickness and death? Of course, we have the benefit of modern science and technology to understand medical issues better than ever before. But we still look for a larger meaning behind physical health and disease.

Jesus devoted considerable time and teaching to issues of physical health, provoking plenty of questions in the process. His miracles confounded those who saw them firsthand no less than they puzzle us today.

Those first-century witnesses had no problem believing that Jesus actually healed the sick and even raised the dead. They accepted His miracles as miracles. They never accused Him of perpetrating an elaborate hoax. But they profoundly struggled to understand the source of His power. The spiritually open wondered aloud whether they signaled that He was the Messiah (7:31). His enemies accused Him of being in league with the devil (8:48; 10:19–21; Matt. 9:34).

The people who witnessed His miracles anguished not about the healings but with what they were going to do with the man who—based on those healings—claimed to be the Messiah. Was He the Christ or not? And were they ready to welcome Him as Lord?

Modern culture struggles from a different point of view, doubting the credibility of the miracles themselves. People regularly accomplish feats long thought impossible. But the apparent rarity of clear-cut miracles—or their complete absence, some argue—causes skeptics to try to find explanations for Jesus' actions that leave out the possibility of the supernatural. Maybe He cleverly manipulated the physical world in a way that people assumed was miraculous. Maybe His healings were merely illusions that duped the simple. Or maybe later believers invented His miracles to embellish the myth of a God-man. Or is it possible that the One who performed them is in fact God?

Jesus and the Physical

John 9:32, 33

Most of the healings that Jesus performed were intended to reveal His divine power and authority (John 9:2, 3, 32, 33). Consider these facts to get a fuller picture of His miraculous works:

- He healed people from all walks of life, both the untouchables and the well-off and well-connected.
- He did not heal everyone (Matt. 13:58).
- He recognized and dealt with the emotional side of illness—sadness, anger, disorientation, anxiety, conflict, fear, and aggression.
- He exhibited patience, compassion, and courage when confronting the sick.
- He never used spells, charms, incantations, drugs, incense, or herbs to ward off evil spirits or to heal people of their diseases. His power came directly from His divine nature.
- He drew connections between physical sickness and spiritual need (Mark 2:15–17).
- He often linked the healing of disease to faith and the forgiveness of sins.
- He refused to see all sickness as a sign of God's judgment.
- He refused to allow religious traditions and taboos to prevent Him from relieving pain and suffering.
- His power to heal threatened the established authorities.
- His immediate followers displayed the same power over physical maladies, a sign that their message was from God.
- Sometimes illness and death showed God's judgment (Acts 5:1–11; 12:19–23).
- His followers were not spared from physical afflictions. God used their sufferings to form their character.
- We can look forward to a time when He will bring an end to suffering, sorrow, pain, and disease (Rom. 8:18; Rev. 21:4).

Stoning

John 10:31

The intense hostility that Jesus faced is obvious in His opponents' readiness to stone Him (compare John 8:59). Capital punishment by stoning was reserved for the most serious crimes against Mosaic law, including:

- child sacrifice (Lev. 20:2),
- consulting with mediums and occultists (20:27),
- blasphemy (24:16),
- breaking the Sabbath (Num. 15:32–36),
- worshiping false gods (Deut. 13:10),
- persistently rebelling against one's parents (21:21),
- adultery (Ezek. 16:40), and
- direct disobedience of God's express commands (Josh. 7:25).

Stoning was usually carried out by the men of the community (Deut. 21:21) after hearing testimony from at least two witnesses, who were required to cast the first stones (17:5–7). The execution usually took place outside the camp or city (Lev. 24:14, 23; 1 Kin. 21:10, 13).

Jesus must have seen trouble coming when His enemies "surrounded" Him (literally "closed in on Him") as He walked in Solomon's porch (John 10:23, 24). Executioners surrounded a stoning victim in order to cut off all means of escape.

Think About It: Which of the above offenses have you committed or been tempted to commit (tell this only to yourself)? Why are these serious enough for the death penalty? What, besides stoning, will keep you from doing these in the future?

Mary's Devotion

John 11:2

Mary of Bethany is a hero for anyone who lives in the shadow of a strong sibling or parent, or who prefers to listen rather than to speak. She demonstrates that bold preaching and leading are not the only ways we can follow Jesus. We also show devotion whenever we listen to the Lord's voice and worship at His feet.

Scripture records only one sentence spoken by Mary of Bethany (John 11:32), and even those words merely echoed what her sister Martha had already said (11:21). But her apparent scarcity of words was more than made up for by her devotion to Jesus. All three Gospels portray Mary at the feet of her Savior.

- As Jesus visited in her home, Mary listened at His feet (Luke 10:38–42).
- When Jesus came to Bethany after Lazarus's death, a devastated Mary fell at His feet (John 11:32).
- During a Passover meal just before Jesus' death, Mary poured fragrant oil on His head and feet and wiped His feet with her hair (Matt. 26:6–13; Mark 14:3–9; John 12:1–8).

On each occasion, others openly criticized this quiet woman. Apparently, she either did not notice or did not care. She seemed to make choices based on a commitment to Jesus that went to the very core of her being. In return, Jesus defended her actions, giving her freedom to be His disciple.

The Resurrection and the Life

John 11:25

After Jesus raised Lazarus from the dead, the chief priests, Pharisees, and other religious leaders resolved to put Jesus to death (John 11:53). Until then, the conflict between them and the upstart Rabbi had been mostly a war of words. But raising Lazarus was an astonishing miracle witnessed by many. Jesus had raised at least two others, but those events had taken place in faraway Galilee (Mark 5:22–24, 35–43; Luke 7:11–17). Lazarus's resurrection occurred in Bethany, a suburb of Jerusalem (John 11:18).

Not surprisingly, the miracle caused many to believe in Jesus (11:45). It provided undeniable proof of Jesus' bold claim: "I am the resurrection and the life . . . and whoever lives and believes in Me shall never die" (11:25, 26). Lazarus quickly became a curiosity, drawing onlookers who wanted to see for themselves the man whom Jesus had brought back to life (12:9).

This was the kind of publicity that Jesus' enemies especially feared. Disputes over religious issues were something they could deal with, but a rapidly growing movement led by a popular Messiah-figure was another matter. Given the Romans' vigilant attention to signs of rebellion, it was almost certain to have political repercussions.

It was Caiaphas the high priest who saw the usefulness of that fact. Why sacrifice the entire nation for the sake of Jesus, when Jesus could be sacrificed for the sake of the nation (John 11:49–52)? So the religious leaders made a plan for how they might bring Jesus before the Romans and have Him put away on a charge of rebellion. And even though Lazarus had just been brought back from the dead, they plotted to do away with him as well, as he was living evidence of Jesus' power (12:10, 11).

The plan succeeded brilliantly except for one detail that Caiaphas and his allies either overlooked or refused to believe: in arranging Jesus' death, they gave Him an opportunity to prove once and for all that He had spoken the truth when He said, "I am the resurrection and the life" (11:25).

Funeral Preparations

John 12:1–8

Among Jews at the time of Christ, women and men participated in the rituals of mourning, but women likely prepared the body for interment. They washed the body and scented it with fragrant oil, an act of devotion that might be repeated at the tomb. The oil that Mary used on Jesus' feet was spikenard, known for its strong fragrance and expensive cost; it was imported all the way from India. It was also the same perfume used by the woman praised in the Song of Solomon (Song 1:12; 4:13; see also "The Fragrance of Love" at Song 1:12–14).

Once washed and scented, the body was dressed in the person's clothing or wrapped in specially prepared linens. It was carried as soon as possible on a bier to the tomb. Relatives, friends, and professional mourners formed a procession, and anyone who happened upon the group was obliged to honor the deceased and the relatives by joining in the march. A eulogy was often delivered at the graveside.

The body was placed on a shelf in the tomb, which was sealed by a heavy, tight-fitting slab. Jews were expected to visit the tomb often, partly as a precaution against burying someone who only seemed dead.

Thriving Under Authority

John 12:49

Jesus lived under His Father's authority, faithfully representing Him to the world. Consider two applications of that reality for us today:

- As Christians, we live under Christ's authority and are responsible for faithfully representing Him throughout our world. The way we treat people, the words we choose, and the thoughtful ways we solve problems are a few of the many ways to do this. Representing Christ requires us to be intimately familiar with Jesus and His words, commands, and purposes. That means regular commitment to continuously exploring Scripture.
- As workers, we serve under human authorities and are responsible for faithfully representing our supervisors and organizations to others. That necessitates our becoming thoroughly informed about our employer's values, goals, policies, and procedures.

Representing God and representing human authorities are not easy assignments. It's easy to twist our work and words to fit our own purposes. But Jesus modeled two principles that help us serve those in authority effectively:

1. First, He asked questions and listened to answers—for example, with Nicodemus (John 3:1–21) and the woman at the well (4:1–26).

2. Second, He was clear about His mission and secure in His position. As a result, He never felt compelled to promote Himself. That made Him significantly different from many of the leaders of His day, who "loved the praise of men more than the praise of God" (12:43).

Leading to Serve
John 13:1–20

As Jesus neared the end of His ministry, he held a dinner for His closest followers. Instead of delivering a speech congratulating Himself on His noteworthy accomplishments, He left His seat at the head of the table and found the basin and towel of a household servant. He knelt to wash the feet of every person at the table—even Judas, His betrayer. Foot-washing was an act of hospitality to weary, dusty guests and was normally performed by household servants (Luke 7:44). Leaders and hosts never stooped to that menial task. But Jesus did.

Seated once again at the table, Jesus asked whether His followers understood what He had done (John 13:12). He urged them to assume the same posture, following His example in serving others. He assured them of His blessing if they did (13:15–17).

Jesus still calls His followers to be leaders in serving others, not only in the church but also in our public and professional lives. No corporate memo or rousing speech will ever have the impact of a leader consistently modeling a servant's attitude—placing others' needs before our own, taking measurable action to meet those needs, and doing it all without looking for reward.

The Mark of Love
John 13:31–35

Jesus said that a key test of our commitment to Him is our love for other believers—not just our words but attitudes and actions as well. Jesus did not promise that others would know we are His disciples by what we say, or how we dress, or what we know. He said they would know us when we love each other “as I have loved you.” Shortly after Jesus spoke these words, He gave His life for His friends and for us.

Called Alongside
John 14:16–18

Jesus calls the Holy Spirit the “Helper.” The Greek word paraclete means “one called alongside to help.” By giving us the Holy Spirit, Jesus shows us that He will never live at a distance. Following Him is not like chasing someone walking ahead of us; it’s like falling into rhythm with someone walking beside us.

Peace in Chaos
John 14:25–28

Jesus said that He alone can provide the peace we need to live with integrity and wholeness in a turbulent world. Try as we might, there is no way we can arrange our lives to avoid the impact of rapid and sometimes terrifying change. No assortment of life strategies can give us the kind of inner peace and confidence we long for. Only Jesus will never leave us nor forsake us (Heb. 13:5).

The Vine
John 15:1–10

Jesus described a true relationship with Him in terms that even people who know nothing about plants can understand. Just as branches must stay connected to the stem to stay alive, so we must live in an unbroken relationship with our Lord:

- Jesus is our sole source of life (John 15:1).
- If we let sin into our lives, we lose connection with Him and with other believers (15:4; 1 John 1:6, 7).
- Jesus wants us to be productive (John 15:5–8).
- Loving Jesus means following His commands (15:9, 10).

The Cost of Discipleship
John 15:18–25

Jesus used strong words when He said that others would oppose us for following Him. The fact that we will face hatred and persecution indicates that the reality and depth of our commitment to Him will be tested when it starts to cost us something.

We no doubt expect to be occasionally misunderstood or even harassed. But we may not be prepared to be hated because of Him. Faith may cost us a promotion or other career opportunity. A lived-out faith can bring unwarranted legal action. Or it can cause an uncomfortable silence as friends abandon us. Sooner or later, following Christ has a cost. Those who think they can escape untouched are misguided. Jesus' words suggest that if we never encounter opposition, then our commitment to Him may not be real or may not show.

It is also possible for our actions or words to offend others because they are inappropriate. Whatever hostility we then receive is not persecution. We are called to live with grace and truth, not rudeness and obnoxiousness. True persecution involves unmerited hostility for acting in a way that mimics Christ (1 Pet. 2:12–21).

Whose Job Is Evangelism?

John 16:8

One fact is certain about evangelism: it makes almost anyone squirm, whether Christian or non-Christian. Bring up anything about religion—let alone the facts of the gospel—and the atmosphere turns tense. As John 16:8 shows, the Holy Spirit is the world's supreme evangelist. Yet other passages urge us to work with the Spirit. To understand our part in this joint effort, we need to rediscover the Spirit's evangelistic work. This involves:

- Common grace. No matter how bad things get in the world—war, poverty, financial upheaval, disease, crime, family chaos—everything would be far worse if God's Spirit did not constantly move throughout the world, restraining evil's full onslaught and promoting good. The Spirit does this for all people, whether or not they believe in God, hence the name,

"common grace." This gracious work prepares non-believers to accept God's offer of salvation (Ps. 104:24–30).

- Spiritual awakening. People who make no claim to following Jesus often talk glibly about life and avoid discussing spiritual issues. At least some of this chatter is an effort to avoid the deeper questions of life. The Spirit breaks through their resistance and shows He has the answers they seek. The Spirit may use a disturbed conscience, a lost hope, a tremendous joy, or an overwhelming fear. At times He uses the law, government, or human kindness (Is. 57:20, 21; Joel 2:28–32; Rom. 2:1–6, 15, 16).
- Conviction of sin. When the Spirit pierces the conscience of non-Christians, they may feel acute guilt and fear of God's judgment (John 16:8; Acts 5:1–11). This might cause them to attack any Christians within reach. We should remember that their anger is justified if our approach is insensitive.
- Rebirth. Rebirth involves imparting new life to a repentant person (John 3:5–8), a task only the Spirit can accomplish. As Christians, we can only receive it.
- Sealing and equipping. The Spirit seals those who newly believe in Christ, assuring them that they have indeed met God (2 Cor. 5:5; Eph. 1:13). The Spirit also equips Christians to live as new creatures by giving them spiritual power and gifts, and bonding His followers together. New appetites develop—a love for Scripture, a hatred of evil, and a desire to share the faith; these come from the Spirit.

If the Spirit accomplishes those things, how can we cooperate in the task of evangelism?:

- Identify with Christ. We can start by acknowledging our life in Christ, sensitively yet publicly declaring our spiritual convictions and commitments. We can act with Christlike love toward others and demonstrate integrity in everything we do (John 13:14, 15; 17:14–19; Phil. 3:17).
- Speak the gospel. Jesus preached repentance and the forgiveness of sins, and He asks us to verbally communicate that gospel message to others. Our actions alone are not enough to guide people toward Christ, but there must be loving actions to accompany our words. We must provide His message clearly and answer questions (Matt. 4:17; Col. 1:26–29).
- Appeal for a decision. As the Spirit gives us opportunity, we should present the gospel and then ask our listener to decide what to do (2 Cor. 5:18–20). Timing our invitation is crucial.

Forcing a premature decision with high-pressure tactics produces hostility and rejection, and it often creates lasting pain that closes people to the gospel.

- Train new believers. We cooperate with the Spirit by helping new Christians become established in their new life. Like a mother, we can support those young in the faith (1 Thess. 2:7, 8; 2 Tim. 2:2). We can help them resist temptation, develop new values, build relationships with other Christians, and gain insight into the Bible. We can invite them to pray with us, discuss God's Word, and worship God.

Evangelism is a cooperative effort between the Holy Spirit and Christ's followers. As we interact with others, we should ask God to show us how He is working in them and how we can contribute to the process. We will sometimes sow new seeds, other times water what someone else has planted. Once in a while we must root out a noxious weed left by someone else. Our objective is to reap a harvest that glorifies God (compare John 4:34–38; 1 Cor. 3:5–7).

A Woman in Labor

John 16:21, 22

An alternative translation to "sorrow" in John 16:21 is "pain." There were few ways first-century women could relieve pain during labor. Since births took place at home, all of the disciples had probably heard a woman scream out in pain while giving birth. Childbearing was often fatal for the child, the mother, or both.

Jesus used a powerful metaphor in comparing the coming sorrow of His followers with the pains of a woman in labor. Their agony could not be avoided. But Jesus did offer hope: He promised that they would see Him again. When they were reunited with Him, their joy would be as great as a woman whose baby has finally come safely into the world. As we find ourselves overcome by the anguish of life in a broken world, we too can look forward with hope to the day we will finally meet Jesus face-to-face.

Called Out and into the World

John 17:18

When persecution struck the early church, early Christians sought refuge in Rome's catacombs. But their flight was only temporary. They were forced underground only by the most extreme violence. They were typically active participants in their society.

Scripture recognizes a tension between fleeing and engaging with the world. Passages like Romans 12:2 and 1 Peter 1:14–16 urge us to pursue a distinctive lifestyle. Our holy commitments, character, and conduct should set us apart from people who do not claim to know or follow God. But Jesus also calls us to live side by side with those same people. He sends us into the world to impact our surroundings (see "Salt and Light" at Matt. 5:13–16 and "Faith Impacts the World" at Mark 16:15, 16).

The push and pull between pursuing a unique Christian lifestyle and engaging with our surrounding culture inevitably leads to conflict. If we live out our loyalty to Christ, we can expect tension with people who choose a different course. Whether we face mild jokes and insults or open hostility and even violence, Christianity involves a values clash with the world we are called to reach (compare 2 Tim. 3:12).

As we navigate this tension, the New Testament gives us plenty of examples to follow:

- Jesus. The Messiah arrived in our world to offer us a new relationship with God. He could have remained in His heavenly home, yet He voluntarily left everything to deliver God's offer of forgiveness, love, and acceptance to a rebellious humanity (Phil. 2:5–8). Many people initially showed interest in Him, but eventually most turned against Him. Knowing full well the fate that awaited Him, He entered Jerusalem, ready to face persecution, arrest, and even death. His followers tried to divert Him (Mark 8:31–33), but He was determined to follow God's call into the world at God's time. Isolation and safety were not options.

- Paul. The church's leading messenger started out hating anyone who followed Jesus. Yet God redirected his life to become a global envoy of faith and forgiveness. Paul's first days as a Christian were spent in isolation in Arabia, but his withdrawal lasted only long enough for Saul to emerge as Paul the apostle. He crisscrossed the Roman empire, bringing the gospel to dozens of cities and towns. When his encounters led to misunderstandings, deportations, arrests, physical abuse, and attempts on his life, Paul may have longed for the safer, quieter days of his Arabian retreat. But once he responded to God's call to go out into the world, there was no turning back. Throughout his life he challenged others to live, work, and witness among those who do not know God (1 Cor. 4:16–20).
- Peter. Peter struggled to break out of the separatist mentality he had grown up with. He disliked the prospect of suffering and rejection, and at times he took steps to preempt it (Mark 8:31–38; Luke 22:54–62; John 18:10, 11). He liked even less the idea of sharing God's good news of salvation with Samaritans and Gentiles. But Christ kept calling Peter back to re-engage the world (Acts 10). He called others to do whatever good they could in the world (2:11, 12).
- Barnabas. A respected landowner, Barnabas enjoyed a relatively safe calling as a leader of Jerusalem's infant church. But he accepted an assignment to visit Antioch and investigate rumors of Gentile converts to the predominantly Jewish movement. He found that God was bringing all nations into the community of faith. He sought out Paul, an unknown, to help him establish the new converts in the faith (Acts 11:19–26). They later traveled to Jerusalem to defend and extend this new expansion in the growing work of God (15:1–33).

The Women Around Jesus

John 19:25

Jesus went to His death attended by a loyal following of women who had stood by Him throughout His ministry. Women played a major part in Jesus' life and work. It was a woman or women who . . .

- Nurtured Him as He grew up (Luke 2:51).
- Traveled with Him and helped finance His ministry (8:1–3).
- Listened to Him teach (10:39).
- Were featured in His parables (Matt. 13:33; 24:41).
- Shared the good news that He was the Messiah (John 4:28–30).
- Offered hospitality to Him and His companions (Mark 1:29–31).
- Were treated by Him with respect and compassion (John 4:5–27; 11:32, 33).
- Were healed by Him (Matt. 9:20–22; Luke 13:10–17).
- Were praised by Him for their faith (Mark 7:24–30).
- Were commended by Him for their generosity (12:41–44).
- Worshiped Him and prepared His body for burial before His crucifixion (Matt. 26:6–13).
- Stood by Him at the cross (27:55; John 19:25).
- Assisted in His burial (Mark 16:1; Luke 23:55–24:1).
- First saw Him resurrected (John 20:16).
- Went to tell the rest of His followers that He was risen from the dead (20:18).

The First Easter

John 20:1–31

John's account of the first Easter Sunday is part of a crucial body of evidence that underscores the Resurrection as a historical fact. See "Evidence for the Resurrection" at Mark 16:1–8.

Skeptics Welcome
John 20:24–31

Although Thomas had traveled with Jesus and heard His teaching firsthand for at least three years, he still needed time, evidence, and personal persuasion before he would accept the Resurrection. Jesus responded to his doubt by inviting him to check the facts. He presented His wounds for Thomas's inspection and did not scold him for wanting certainty.

Jesus honors the mind and heart of every seeker or doubter. Without the mind we might be persuaded toward false religions. Also surrendering to Jesus too easily often means that loyalty to Him can be torn apart when more questions arise. He applauds people who probe the corners of their doubts and fears to be sure of the truth. He even promised that the Spirit would aid those who seek to discover the facts about Him (John 16:12–16).

The encounter with Thomas shows that God invites us to bring our doubts to Him. He delights in hearing our arguments and questions, never shunning those who doubt Him, the Christian faith, or the church. He does not want His people to fear tough questions. He has the answers. We honor Him by trusting Him by asking.

Boundless Forgiveness
John 21:15–23

Peter might have felt beyond forgiveness. He had risen to a position of leadership among Jesus' followers. He had even been given the "keys of the kingdom" (Matt. 16:19). And he had positioned himself as Jesus' defender when Roman soldiers came to arrest Him (John 18:10). But in the heat of Christ's trial, conviction, and crucifixion, Peter denied three times that he even knew Jesus (18:15–18, 25–27) and afterward disappeared. The Lord's prediction of Peter's desertion came true (13:31–38).

When Jesus engaged Peter in a conversation after His resurrection, the once-brash disciple might have felt that he was permanently disqualified from further service. But Jesus graciously reconnected with Peter and called him to a life of genuine love and a central role in furthering His work.

This world doesn't often offer second and third chances. If we fail once too often, we are written off. But Christ offers boundless forgiveness and fresh starts to any who own up to their failures and repent (Luke 7:47).

Acts is the second volume of a two-part account. Together, Luke's Gospel and the Book of Acts tell the story of the life of Christ and the launch of His church. Acts picks up the narrative with a review of Jesus' Ascension. Along with this came the news and the directive that got the Christian movement under way: "You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you," Jesus informs His disciples. "And you shall be witnesses to Me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth" (Acts 1:8). Not long after, the Holy Spirit arrives on the Day of Pentecost, and Jesus' followers begin the work of spreading the gospel across the Roman empire.

Luke and Acts both emphasize the Spirit's activity—first in the ministry of Jesus, and then in the early church. In the Book of Luke, John the Baptist and his parents were filled with the Spirit (Luke 1:15, 41, 67), as was Simeon (2:25–35). Jesus began His ministry "in the power of the Spirit" (4:14; compare 4:1, 18; 10:21). He also promised the Spirit to His disciples in their hour of need (12:12). Jesus was not alone; the Spirit was always with Him, within Him, empowering Him to accomplish the Father's will.

Acts continues that theme, starting with Jesus' command that His followers should wait in Jerusalem for the Spirit's power (Acts 1:4). Tradition has assigned this book the title "The Acts of the Apostles," which may sound as if Peter, Paul, and a handful of other spiritual giants shouldered all of the work. But the account shows that the Holy Spirit created a movement of ordinary people who made mistakes, got into arguments, and had to overcome past prejudices. Yet through the work of the Spirit, these people were lifted up and empowered to build a multiethnic, multicultural, and increasingly widespread community based on the message of God's grace.

Because this book illustrates what happens when everyday people apply their faith to everyday life, Acts is one of the Bible's most timelessly relevant books.

Between his Gospel and the Book of Acts, Luke stands out as the author of nearly a quarter of the New Testament. His fact-gathering probably began with accompanying Paul on parts of his second, third, and final missionary journeys. In three sections of Acts, the perspective abruptly switches from the third person to the first person plural ("we"; 16:10–17; 20:5–21:18; 27:1–28:16), a shift that probably indicates that Luke was personally present during those episodes. Paul affectionately referred to Luke as a "fellow laborer" (Philem. 24), which may be further evidence of Luke's involvement in the events recorded in Acts.

Luke was possibly a resident of Antioch, a Syrian city that became the center of early Christianity (see "The Antioch Model" at Acts 13:1–3). This was the church that sent Paul, Barnabas, and other leaders to take the good news about Jesus to people throughout the Roman empire.

Luke may have written Acts (along with the Gospel of Luke) as a legal document for use in Paul's trial at Rome (compare Acts 25:11; 28:30, 31). His presentation of the Christian movement would have shown that its followers posed no threat to the government. Because Acts ends abruptly, some scholars suggest that Luke planned to write a third installment. If the Gospel was completed around A.D. 70, then Acts was probably produced shortly thereafter.

Key Events in Acts

- Jesus commands His followers to take the good news about Him to the world (Acts 1:1–11).

- The Holy Spirit falls on Jesus' followers and they speak in the languages of the listeners (Acts 2:1–4).
- Peter and John heal a lame man in the temple (Acts 3:1–10).
- The Jewish ruling council stones Stephen (Acts 7:54–60).
- An Ethiopian treasurer hears and believes the gospel (Acts 8:26–40).
- Saul meets Jesus on the road to Damascus and becomes His follower (Acts 9:1–30).
- Paul and Silas bring the gospel to a jailer in Philippi (Acts 16:25–34).
- Paul preaches in Athens (Acts 17:16–34).
- Silversmiths start a riot in Ephesus (Acts 19:23–41).
- A young man named Eutychus is raised from a fatal fall (Acts 20:7–12).
- Paul is shipwrecked on his way to Rome (Acts 27:13–44).
- Paul arrives in Rome, where he lives under house arrest (Acts 28:16–31).

Acts 1

Prologue

1The former account I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, The Movement Takes Hold

2until the day in which He was taken up, after He through the Holy Spirit had given commandments to the apostles whom He had chosen, 3to whom He also presented Himself alive after His suffering by many infallible proofs, being seen by them during forty days and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God.

The Holy Spirit Promised

4And being assembled together with them, He commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the Promise of the Father, "which," He said, "you have heard from Me;

5"for John truly baptized with water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit not many days from now."

6Therefore, when they had come together, they asked Him, saying, "Lord, will You at this time restore the kingdom to Israel?"

7And He said to them, "It is not for you to know times or seasons which the Father has put in His own authority.

8"But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be witnesses to Me[a] in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth." You Shall Receive Power

Jesus Ascends to Heaven

9Now when He had spoken these things, while they watched, He was taken up, and a cloud received Him out of their sight.

10And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as He went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel,

11who also said, “Men of Galilee, why do you stand gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus, who was taken up from you into heaven, will so come in like manner as you saw Him go into heaven.”

The Upper Room Prayer Meeting

12Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath day’s journey.

13And when they had entered, they went up into the upper room where they were staying: Peter, James, John, and Andrew; Philip and Thomas; Bartholomew and Matthew; James the son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot; and Judas the son of James.

14These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication,[b] with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His brothers. Extraordinarily Inclusive

Matthias Chosen

15And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples[c] (altogether the number of names was about a hundred and twenty), and said,

16“Men and brethren, this Scripture had to be fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who became a guide to those who arrested Jesus;

17“for he was numbered with us and obtained a part in this ministry.”

18(Now this man purchased a field with the wages of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst open in the middle and all his entrails gushed out.

19 And it became known to all those dwelling in Jerusalem; so that field is called in their own language, Akel Dama, that is, Field of Blood.)
20 "For it is written in the Book of Psalms:

'Let his dwelling place be desolate,
And let no one live in it';[d]

and,

'Let[e] another take his office.'[f]

21 "Therefore, of these men who have accompanied us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, 22 "beginning from the baptism of John to that day when He was taken up from us, one of these must become a witness with us of His resurrection." 23 And they proposed two: Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.
24 And they prayed and said, "You, O Lord, who know the hearts of all, show which of these two You have chosen 25 "to take part in this ministry and apostleship from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place."
26 And they cast their lots, and the lot fell on Matthias.
And he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

Acts 2

Coming of the Holy Spirit

1When the Day of Pentecost had fully come, they were all with one accord[a] in one place.
2And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting.
3Then there appeared to them divided tongues, as of fire,
and one sat upon each of them.
4And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

The Crowd's Response

5And there were dwelling in Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven. The Spirit Gave Birth to a Multilingual Church 6And when this sound occurred, the multitude came together, and were confused, because everyone heard them speak in his own language.
7Then they were all amazed and marveled, saying to one another, "Look, are not all these who speak Galileans?
8"And how is it that we hear, each in our own language in which we were born?
9"Parthians and Medes and Elamites, those dwelling in Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, 10"Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya adjoining Cyrene, visitors from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, 11"Cretans and Arabs—we hear them speaking in our own tongues the wonderful works of God."

12 So they were all amazed and perplexed, saying to one another, “Whatever could this mean?”
13 Others mocking said, “They are full of new wine.”

Peter’s Sermon

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, raised his voice and said to them, “Men of Judea and all who dwell in Jerusalem, let this be known to you, and heed my words.
15 “For these are not drunk, as you suppose, since it is only the third hour of the day.
16 “But this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel:

> 17 ‘And it shall come to pass in the last days,
> says God,
> That I will pour out of My Spirit on all flesh;
> Your sons and your daughters shall
> prophesy,
> Your young men shall see visions,
> Your old men shall dream dreams.
> 18 And on My menservants and on My
> maidservants
> I will pour out My Spirit in those days;
> And they shall prophesy.
> 19 I will show wonders in heaven above
> And signs in the earth beneath:
> Blood and fire and vapor of smoke.
> 20 The sun shall be turned into darkness,
> And the moon into blood,
> Before the coming of the great and awesome
> day of the LORD.
> 21 And it shall come to pass
> That whoever calls on the name of the LORD
> Shall be saved.’ [b]

22 “Men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a Man attested by God to you by miracles, wonders, and signs which God did through Him in your midst, as you yourselves also know—23 “Him, being delivered by the determined purpose and foreknowledge of God, you have taken[c] by lawless hands, have crucified, and put to death;
24 “whom God raised up, having loosed the pains of death, because it was not possible that He should be held by it.
25 “For David says concerning Him:

> ‘I foresaw the LORD always before my face,
> For He is at my right hand, that I may not be > shaken.
> 26 Therefore my heart rejoiced, and my > tongue was glad;
> Moreover my flesh also will rest in hope.
> 27 For You will not leave my soul in Hades,
> Nor will You allow Your Holy One to see > corruption.
> 28 You have made known to me the ways of
> life;
> You will make me full of joy in Your > presence.’[d]

29 “Men and brethren, let me speak freely to you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his tomb is with us to this day.
30 “Therefore, being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him that of the fruit of his body, according to the flesh, He would raise up the Christ to sit on his throne,[e]
31 “he, foreseeing this, spoke concerning the resurrection of the Christ, that His soul was not left in Hades, nor did His flesh see corruption.

32 “This Jesus God has raised up, of which we are all witnesses.
33 “Therefore being exalted to the right hand of God, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, He poured out this which you now see and hear.
34 “For David did not ascend into the heavens, but he says himself:

> ‘The LORD said to my Lord,
> “Sit at My right hand,
> 35 Till I make Your enemies Your footstool.” [f]

36 “Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly that God has made this Jesus, whom you crucified, both Lord and Christ.”
37 Now when they heard this, they were cut to the heart, and said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, “Men and brethren, what shall we do?”
38 Then Peter said to them, “Repent, and let every one of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.
39 “For the promise is to you and to your children, and to all who are afar off, as many as the Lord our God will call.”

A Vital Church Grows

40 And with many other words he testified and exhorted them, saying, “Be saved from this perverse generation.”
41 Then those who gladly[g] received his word were baptized; and that day about three thousand souls were added to them.
42 And they continued steadfastly in the apostles’ doctrine and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in prayers. New

43 Then fear came upon every soul, and many wonders and signs were done through the apostles.
44 Now all who believed were together, and had all things in common,
45 and sold their possessions and goods, and divided them among all, as anyone had need.
46 So continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, they ate their food with gladness and simplicity of heart, Connecting Sunday to Monday 47 praising God and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church[h] daily those who were being saved.

Acts 3

A Lame Man Healed

1 Now Peter and John went up together to the temple at the hour of prayer, the ninth hour.
2 And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms from those who entered the temple;
3 who, seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked for alms.
4 And fixing his eyes on him, with John, Peter said, "Look at us."
5 So he gave them his attention, expecting to receive something from them.
6 Then Peter said, "Silver and gold I do not have, but what I do have I give you: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk."
7 And he took him by the right hand and lifted him up, and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength.
8 So he, leaping up, stood and walked and entered the temple with them—walking, leaping, and praising God.
9 And all the people saw him walking and praising God.
10 Then they knew that it was he who sat begging alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple; and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him.

Preaching in Solomon's Portico

11 Now as the lame man who was healed held on to Peter and John, all the people ran together to them in the porch which is called Solomon's, greatly amazed.

12So when Peter saw it, he responded to the people:
“Men of Israel, why do you marvel at this? Or why look so intently at us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made this man walk? Seizing Opportunity 13“The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers, glorified His Servant Jesus, whom you delivered up and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let Him go.
14“But you denied the Holy One and the Just, and asked for a murderer to be granted to you, 15“and killed the Prince of life, whom God raised from the dead, of which we are witnesses.
16“And His name, through faith in His name, has made this man strong, whom you see and know. Yes, the faith which comes through Him has given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.
17“Yet now, brethren, I know that you did it in ignorance, as did also your rulers.
18“But those things which God foretold by the mouth of all His prophets, that the Christ would suffer, He has thus fulfilled.
19“Repent therefore and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, so that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, 20“and that He may send Jesus Christ, who was preached to you before,[a] 21“whom heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, which God has spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets since the world began.
22“For Moses truly said to the fathers, ‘The LORD your God will raise up for you a Prophet like me from your brethren. Him you shall hear in all things, whatever He says to you.

23 ‘And it shall be that every soul who will not hear that Prophet shall be utterly destroyed from among the people.’[b]

24 “Yes, and all the prophets, from Samuel and those who follow, as many as have spoken, have also foretold[c] these days.

25 “You are sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying to Abraham, ‘And in your seed all the families of the earth shall be blessed.’[d]

26 “To you first, God, having raised up His Servant Jesus, sent Him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from your iniquities.”

Acts 4

Peter and John Arrested

1 Now as they spoke to the people, the priests, the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees came upon them, 2 being greatly disturbed that they taught the people and preached in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.
3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in custody until the next day, for it was already evening.
4 However, many of those who heard the word believed;
and the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

Addressing the Sanhedrin

5 And it came to pass, on the next day, that their rulers, elders, and scribes,
6 as well as Annas the high priest, Caiaphas, John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the family of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.
7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked,
"By what power or by what name have you done this?"
8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them,
"Rulers of the people and elders of Israel:
9 "If we this day are judged for a good deed done to a helpless man, by what means he has been made well, 10 "let it be known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, by Him this man stands here before you whole.
11 "This is the 'stone which was rejected by you builders, which has become the chief cornerstone.'[a] 12 "Nor is there salvation in any other, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved.” No Other Name

The Name of Jesus Forbidden

13Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were uneducated and untrained men, they marveled. And they realized that they had been with Jesus.
14And seeing the man who had been healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.
15But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, 16saying, “What shall we do to these men? For, indeed, that a notable miracle has been done through them is evident to all who dwell in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny
it.
17“But so that it spreads no further among the people, let us severely threaten them, that from now on they speak to no man in this name.”
18So they called them and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.
19But Peter and John answered and said to them, “Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you more than to God, you judge.
20“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.”
21So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding no way of punishing them, because of the people, since they all glorified God for what had been done.
22For the man was over forty years old on whom this miracle of healing had been performed.

Prayer for Boldness

23And being let go, they went to their own companions and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said to them.

24So when they heard that, they raised their voice to God with one accord and said: “Lord, You are God, who made heaven and earth and the sea, and all that is in them,

25“who by the mouth of Your servant David[b] have said:

> ‘Why did the nations rage,
> And the people plot vain things?
> 26*The kings of the earth took their stand,*
> And the rulers were gathered together
> Against the LORD and against His Christ.’[c]

27“For truly against Your holy Servant Jesus, whom You anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, were gathered together

28“to do whatever Your hand and Your purpose determined before to be done.

29“Now, Lord, look on their threats, and grant to Your servants that with all boldness they may speak Your word,

30“by stretching out Your hand to heal, and that signs and wonders may be done through the name of Your holy Servant Jesus.”

31And when they had prayed, the place where they were assembled together was shaken; and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke the word of God with boldness. Continual Renewal

Sharing in All Things

32Now the multitude of those who believed were of one heart and one soul; neither did anyone say that any of the things he possessed was his own, but they had all things in common. Christ’s Community

33And with great power the apostles gave witness to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. And great grace was upon them all.

34Nor was there anyone among them who lacked; for all who were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the proceeds of the things that were sold,

35and laid them at the apostles' feet; and they distributed to each as anyone had need.

36And Joses,[d] who was also named Barnabas by the apostles (which is translated Son of Encouragement), a Levite of the country of Cyprus, Son of Encouragement

37having land, sold it, and brought the money and laid it at the apostles' feet. Hold Loosely

Acts 5

Lying to the Holy Spirit

1But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession.

2And he kept back part of the proceeds, his wife also being aware of it, and brought a certain part and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3But Peter said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and keep back part of the price of the land for yourself?

4"While it remained, was it not your own? And after it was sold, was it not in your own control? Why have you conceived this thing in your heart? You have not lied to men but to God."

5Then Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and breathed his last. So great fear came upon all those who heard these things.

6And the young men arose and wrapped him up, carried him out, and buried him.

7Now it was about three hours later when his wife came in, not knowing what had happened.

8And Peter answered her, "Tell me whether you sold the land for so much?" She said, "Yes, for so much."

9Then Peter said to her, "How is it that you have agreed together to test the Spirit of the Lord? Look, the feet of those who have buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out."

10Then immediately she fell down at his feet and breathed her last. And the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her out, buried her by her husband.

11So great fear came upon all the church and upon all who heard these things.

Continuing Power in the Church

12And through the hands of the apostles many signs and wonders were done among the people. And they were all with one accord in Solomon’s Porch.
13Yet none of the rest dared join them, but the people esteemed them highly.
14And believers were increasingly added to the Lord, multitudes of both men and women, 15so that they brought the sick out into the streets and laid them on beds and couches, that at least the shadow of Peter passing by might fall on some of them.
16Also a multitude gathered from the surrounding cities to Jerusalem, bringing sick people and those who were tormented by unclean spirits, and they were all healed.

Imprisoned Apostles Freed

17Then the high priest rose up, and all those who were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees), and they were filled with indignation, 18and laid their hands on the apostles and put them in the common prison.
19But at night an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors and brought them out, and said,
20“Go, stand in the temple and speak to the people all the words of this life.”
21And when they heard that, they entered the temple early in the morning and taught. But the high priest and those with him came and called the council together, with all the elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

Apostles on Trial Again

22But when the officers came and did not find them in the prison, they returned and reported, Obeying God Above Men

23saying, “Indeed we found the prison shut securely, and the guards standing outside[a] before the doors; but when we opened them, we found no one inside!”

24Now when the high priest,[b] the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these things, they wondered what the outcome would be.

25So one came and told them, saying,[c] “Look, the men whom you put in prison are standing in the temple and teaching the people!”

26Then the captain went with the officers and brought them without violence, for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned.

27And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them,

28saying, “Did we not strictly command you not to teach in this name? And look, you have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this Man’s blood on us!”

29But Peter and the other apostles answered and said: “We ought to obey God rather than men.

30“The God of our fathers raised up Jesus whom you murdered by hanging on a tree.

31“Him God has exalted to His right hand to be Prince and Savior, to give repentance to Israel and forgiveness of sins.

32“And we are His witnesses to these things, and so also is the Holy Spirit whom God has given to those who obey Him.”

Gamaliel’s Advice

33When they heard this, they were furious and plotted to kill them.

34Then one in the council stood up, a Pharisee named Gamaliel, a teacher of the law held in respect by all the people, and commanded them to put the apostles outside for a little while.

35And he said to them: “Men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what you intend to do regarding these men.

36“For some time ago Theudas rose up, claiming to be somebody. A number of men, about four hundred, joined him. He was slain, and all who obeyed him were scattered and came to nothing.

37“After this man, Judas of Galilee rose up in the days of the census, and drew away many people after him. He also perished, and all who obeyed him were dispersed.

38“And now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone; for if this plan or this work is of men, it will come to nothing;

39“but if it is of God, you cannot overthrow it—lest you even be found to fight against God.”

40And they agreed with him, and when they had called for the apostles and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41So they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for His[d] name.

42And daily in the temple, and in every house, they did not cease teaching and preaching Jesus as the Christ.

Acts 6

Seven Chosen to Serve

1 Now in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a complaint against the Hebrews by the Hellenists,[a] because their widows were neglected in the daily distribution.
2 Then the twelve summoned the multitude of the disciples and said, “It is not desirable that we should leave the word of God and serve tables. Ethnic Prejudice Confronted 3 “Therefore, brethren, seek out from among you seven men of good reputation, full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business; 4 “but we will give ourselves continually to prayer and to the ministry of the word.”
5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude. And they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and the Holy Spirit, and Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolas, a proselyte from Antioch, 6 whom they set before the apostles; and when they had prayed, they laid hands on them.
7 Then the word of God spread, and the number of the disciples multiplied greatly in Jerusalem, and a great many of the priests were obedient to the faith.

Stephen Accused of Blasphemy

8 And Stephen, full of faith[b] and power, did great wonders and signs among the people.
9 Then there arose some from what is called the Synagogue of the Freedmen (Cyrenians, Alexandrians, and those from Cilicia and Asia), disputing with Stephen.

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke.
11 Then they secretly induced men to say, “We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and God.” 12 And they stirred up the people, the elders, and the scribes; and they came upon him, seized him, and brought him to the council. Stephen’s Trial and Murder The Council 13 They also set up false witnesses who said, “This man does not cease to speak blasphemous[c] words against this holy place and the law;
14 “for we have heard him say that this Jesus of Nazareth will destroy this place and change the customs which Moses delivered to us.”
15 And all who sat in the council, looking steadfastly at him, saw his face as the face of an angel.

Acts 7

Stephen's Address: The Call of Abraham

1 Then the high priest said, "Are these things so?" A New View of History

2 And he said, "Brethren and fathers, listen: The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Haran,

3 "and said to him, 'Get out of your country and from your relatives, and come to a land that I will show you.'[a]

4 "Then he came out of the land of the Chaldeans and dwelt in Haran. And from there, when his father was dead, He moved him to this land in which you now dwell.

5 "And God gave him no inheritance in it, not even enough to set his foot on. But even when Abraham had no child, He promised to give it to him for a possession, and to his descendants after him.

6 "But God spoke in this way: that his descendants would dwell in a foreign land, and that they would bring them into bondage and oppress them four hundred years.

7 'And the nation to whom they will be in bondage I will judge,'[b] said God, 'and after that they shall come out and serve Me in this place.'[c]

8 "Then He gave him the covenant of circumcision; and so Abraham begot Isaac and circumcised him on the eighth day; and Isaac begot Jacob, and Jacob begot the twelve patriarchs.

The Patriarchs in Egypt

9 "And the patriarchs, becoming envious, sold Joseph into Egypt. But God was with him

10 “and delivered him out of all his troubles, and gave him favor and wisdom in the presence of Pharaoh, king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.
11 “Now a famine and great trouble came over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and our fathers found no sustenance.
12 “But when Jacob heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.
13 “And the second time Joseph was made known to his brothers, and Joseph’s family became known to the Pharaoh.
14 “Then Joseph sent and called his father Jacob and all his relatives to him, seventy-five[d] people.
15 “So Jacob went down to Egypt; and he died, he and our fathers.
16 “And they were carried back to Shechem and laid in the tomb that Abraham bought for a sum of money from the sons of Hamor, the father of Shechem.

God Delivers Israel by Moses

17 “But when the time of the promise drew near which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt
18 “till another king arose who did not know Joseph.
19 “This man dealt treacherously with our people, and oppressed our forefathers, making them expose their babies, so that they might not live.
20 “At this time Moses was born, and was well pleasing to God; and he was brought up in his father’s house for three months.
21 “But when he was set out, Pharaoh’s daughter took him away and brought him up as her own son.
22 “And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and deeds.

23 “Now when he was forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren, the children of Israel.
24 “And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended and avenged him who was oppressed, and struck down the Egyptian.
25 “For he supposed that his brethren would have understood that God would deliver them by his hand, but they did not understand.
26 “And the next day he appeared to two of them as they were fighting, and tried to reconcile them, saying, ‘Men, you are brethren; why do you wrong one another?’ 27 “But he who did his neighbor wrong pushed him away, saying, ‘Who made you a ruler and a judge over us?
28 ‘Do you want to kill me as you did the Egyptian yesterday?’[e]
29 “Then, at this saying, Moses fled and became a dweller in the land of Midian, where he had two sons.
30 “And when forty years had passed, an Angel of the Lord[f] appeared to him in a flame of fire in a bush, in the wilderness of Mount Sinai.
31 “When Moses saw it, he marveled at the sight; and as he drew near to observe, the voice of the Lord came to him, 32 “saying, ‘I am the God of your fathers—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’[g] And Moses trembled and dared not look.
33 ‘Then the LORD said to him, “Take your sandals off your feet, for the place where you stand is holy ground.
34 “I have surely seen the oppression of My people who are in Egypt; I have heard their groaning and have come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send you to Egypt.” ’[h]
35 “This Moses whom they rejected, saying, ‘Who made you a ruler and a judge?’[i] is the one God sent to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the Angel who appeared to him in the bush.

36 “He brought them out, after he had shown wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

Israel Rebels Against God

37 “This is that Moses who said to the children of Israel,[j] ‘The LORD your God will raise up for you a Prophet like me from your brethren. Him you shall hear.’[k]

38 “This is he who was in the congregation in the wilderness with the Angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai, and with our fathers, the one who received the living oracles to give to us,

39 “whom our fathers would not obey, but rejected. And in their hearts they turned back to Egypt,

40 “saying to Aaron, ‘Make us gods to go before us; as for this Moses who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him.’[l]

41 “And they made a calf in those days, offered sacrifices to the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 “Then God turned and gave them up to worship the host of heaven, as it is written in the book of the Prophets:

> ‘Did you offer Me slaughtered animals and > sacrifices during forty years in the > wilderness,
> O house of Israel?
> 43 You also took up the tabernacle of Moloch,
> And the star of your god Remphan,
> Images which you made to worship;
> And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.’[m]

God’s True Tabernacle

44 “Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as He appointed, instructing Moses to make it according to the pattern that he had seen, 45 “which our fathers, having received it in turn, also brought with Joshua into the land possessed by the Gentiles, whom God drove out before the face of our fathers until the days of David, 46 “who found favor before God and asked to find a dwelling for the God of Jacob.
47 “But Solomon built Him a house.
48 “However, the Most High does not dwell in temples made with hands, as the prophet says:

> 49 ‘Heaven is My throne,
> And earth is My footstool.
> What house will you build for Me? says the
> LORD,
> Or what is the place of My rest?
> 50 Has My hand not made all these things?’[n]

Israel Resists the Holy Spirit

51 “You stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears!
You always resist the Holy Spirit; as your fathers did, so do
you.
52 “Which of the prophets did your fathers not persecute?
And they killed those who foretold the coming of the Just One, of whom you now have become the betrayers and murderers, 53 “who have received the law by the direction of angels and have not kept it.”

Stephen the Martyr

54 When they heard these things they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed at him with their teeth.

55 But he, being full of the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God, 56 and said, “Look! I see the heavens opened and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God!” 57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, stopped their ears, and ran at him with one accord; 58 and they cast him out of the city and stoned him. And the witnesses laid down their clothes at the feet of a young man named Saul.
59 And they stoned Stephen as he was calling on God and saying, “Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.”
60 Then he knelt down and cried out with a loud voice, “Lord, do not charge them with this sin.” And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

Acts 8

Saul Persecutes the Church

1 Now Saul was consenting to his death. At that time a great persecution arose against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.
2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.
3 As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering every house, and dragging off men and women, committing them to prison.

Christ Is Preached in Samaria

4 Therefore those who were scattered went everywhere preaching the word. Why the Reluctance?
5 Then Philip went down to the[a] city of Samaria and preached Christ to them. Four Glimpses of Philip 6 And the multitudes with one accord heeded the things spoken by Philip, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.
7 For unclean spirits, crying with a loud voice, came out of many who were possessed; and many who were paralyzed and lame were healed.
8 And there was great joy in that city.

The Sorcerer's Profession of Faith

9 But there was a certain man called Simon, who previously practiced sorcery in the city and astonished the people of Samaria, claiming that he was someone great,

10 to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, “This man is the great power of God.” 11 And they heeded him because he had astonished them with his sorceries for a long time.
12 But when they believed Philip as he preached the things concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, both men and women were baptized.
13 Then Simon himself also believed; and when he was baptized he continued with Philip, and was amazed, seeing the miracles and signs which were done.

The Sorcerer’s Sin

14 Now when the apostles who were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them, 15 who, when they had come down, prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit.
16 For as yet He had fallen upon none of them. They had only been baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.
17 Then they laid hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.
18 And when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles’ hands the Holy Spirit was given, he offered them money, The Illusion of Power 19 saying, “Give me this power also, that anyone on whom I lay hands may receive the Holy Spirit.” 20 But Peter said to him, “Your money perish with you, because you thought that the gift of God could be purchased with money!
21 “You have neither part nor portion in this matter, for your heart is not right in the sight of God.
22 “Repent therefore of this your wickedness, and pray
God if perhaps the thought of your heart may be forgiven

you.
23“For I see that you are poisoned by bitterness and bound by iniquity.” 24Then Simon answered and said, “Pray to the Lord for me, that none of the things which you have spoken may come upon me.”
25So when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, they returned to Jerusalem, preaching the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

Christ Is Preached to an Ethiopian

26Now an angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying, “Arise and go toward the south along the road which goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza.” This is desert.
27So he arose and went. And behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace the queen of the Ethiopians, who had charge of all her treasury, and had come to Jerusalem to worship, Ethiopia The Message Spreads to Africa 28was returning. And sitting in his chariot, he was reading Isaiah the prophet.
29Then the Spirit said to Philip, “Go near and overtake this chariot.”
30So Philip ran to him, and heard him reading the prophet Isaiah, and said, “Do you understand what you are reading?”
31And he said, “How can I, unless someone guides me?”
And he asked Philip to come up and sit with him.
32The place in the Scripture which he read was this:

> “He was led as a sheep to the slaughter;
> And as a lamb before its shearer is silent,
> So He opened not His mouth.
> 33*In His humiliation His justice was taken* > away,

And who will declare His generation?
For His life is taken from the earth.”[b]

34So the eunuch answered Philip and said, “I ask you, of whom does the prophet say this, of himself or of some other man?”

35Then Philip opened his mouth, and beginning at this Scripture, preached Jesus to him.

36Now as they went down the road, they came to some water. And the eunuch said, “See, here is water. What hinders me from being baptized?”

37Then Philip said, “If you believe with all your heart, you may.” And he answered and said, “I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.”[c]

38So he commanded the chariot to stand still. And both Philip and the eunuch went down into the water, and he baptized him.

39Now when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught Philip away, so that the eunuch saw him no more; and he went on his way rejoicing.

40But Philip was found at Azotus. And passing through, he preached in all the cities till he came to Caesarea.

Acts 9

The Damascus Road: Saul Converted

1 Then Saul, still breathing threats and murder against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest 2 and asked letters from him to the synagogues of Damascus, so that if he found any who were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.
3 As he journeyed he came near Damascus, and suddenly a light shone around him from heaven.
4 Then he fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to him, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?"
5 And he said, "Who are You, Lord?" Then the Lord said,
"I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.[a] It is hard for you to kick against the goads."
6 So he, trembling and astonished, said, "Lord, what do You want me to do?" Then the Lord said to him, "Arise and go into the city, and you will be told what you must do."
7 And the men who journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice but seeing no one.
8 Then Saul arose from the ground, and when his eyes were opened he saw no one. But they led him by the hand and brought him into Damascus.
9 And he was three days without sight, and neither ate nor drank.

Ananias Baptizes Saul

10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus named Ananias; and to him the Lord said in a vision, "Ananias."
And he said, "Here I am, Lord." The Fruits of Obedience

11 So the Lord said to him, "Arise and go to the street called Straight, and inquire at the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus, for behold, he is praying.
12 "And in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias coming in and putting his hand on him, so that he might receive his sight." 13 Then Ananias answered, "Lord, I have heard from many about this man, how much harm he has done to Your saints in Jerusalem.
14 "And here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call on Your name." 15 But the Lord said to him, "Go, for he is a chosen vessel of Mine to bear My name before Gentiles, kings, and the children of Israel.
16 "For I will show him how many things he must suffer for My name's sake."
17 And Ananias went his way and entered the house; and laying his hands on him he said, "Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus,[b] who appeared to you on the road as you came, has sent me that you may receive your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit."
18 Immediately there fell from his eyes something like scales, and he received his sight at once; and he arose and was baptized.
19 So when he had received food, he was strengthened.
Then Saul spent some days with the disciples at Damascus.

Saul Preaches Christ

20 Immediately he preached the Christ[c] in the synagogues, that He is the Son of God.
21 Then all who heard were amazed, and said, "Is this not he who destroyed those who called on this name in Jerusalem, and has come here for that purpose, so that he might bring them bound to the chief priests?"

22 But Saul increased all the more in strength, and confounded the Jews who dwelt in Damascus, proving that this Jesus is the Christ.

Saul Escapes Death

23 Now after many days were past, the Jews plotted to kill
him.
24 But their plot became known to Saul. And they watched the gates day and night, to kill him.
25 Then the disciples took him by night and let him down through the wall in a large basket.

Saul at Jerusalem

26 And when Saul had come to Jerusalem, he tried to join the disciples; but they were all afraid of him, and did not believe that he was a disciple. Kingdom Mentoring 27 But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles. And he declared to them how he had seen the Lord on the road, and that He had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

Barnabas: A Model of Mentoring 28 So he was with them at Jerusalem, coming in and going out.
29 And he spoke boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus and disputed against the Hellenists, but they attempted to kill
him.
30 When the brethren found out, they brought him down to Caesarea and sent him out to Tarsus.

The Church Prospers

31 Then the churches[d] throughout all Judea, Galilee, and Samaria had peace and were edified. And walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit, they were multiplied.

Aeneas Healed

32Now it came to pass, as Peter went through all parts of the country, that he also came down to the saints who dwelt in Lydda.

33There he found a certain man named Aeneas, who had been bedridden eight years and was paralyzed.

34And Peter said to him, “Aeneas, Jesus the Christ heals you. Arise and make your bed.” Then he arose immediately.

35So all who dwelt at Lydda and Sharon saw him and turned to the Lord.

Dorcas Restored to Life

36At Joppa there was a certain disciple named Tabitha, which is translated Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and charitable deeds which she did.

37But it happened in those days that she became sick and died. When they had washed her, they laid her in an upper room.

38And since Lydda was near Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent two men to him, imploring him not to delay in coming to them.

39Then Peter arose and went with them. When he had come, they brought him to the upper room. And all the widows stood by him weeping, showing the tunics and garments which Dorcas had made while she was with them.

40But Peter put them all out, and knelt down and prayed. And turning to the body he said, “Tabitha, arise.” And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter she sat up.

41Then he gave her his hand and lifted her up; and when he had called the saints and widows, he presented her alive.

42 And it became known throughout all Joppa, and many believed on the Lord.
43 So it was that he stayed many days in Joppa with Simon, a tanner.

Acts 10

Cornelius Sends a Delegation

1There was a certain man in Caesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of what was called the Italian Regiment, Cornelius

2a devout man and one who feared God with all his household, who gave alms generously to the people, and prayed to God always.

3About the ninth hour of the day he saw clearly in a vision an angel of God coming in and saying to him, “Cornelius!”

4And when he observed him, he was afraid, and said, “What is it, lord?” So he said to him, “Your prayers and your alms have come up for a memorial before God.

5“Now send men to Joppa, and send for Simon whose surname is Peter.

6“He is lodging with Simon, a tanner, whose house is by the sea.[a] He will tell you what you must do.”

7And when the angel who spoke to him had departed, Cornelius called two of his household servants and a devout soldier from among those who waited on him continually.

8So when he had explained all these things to them, he sent them to Joppa.

Peter’s Vision

9The next day, as they went on their journey and drew near the city, Peter went up on the housetop to pray, about the sixth hour.

10Then he became very hungry and wanted to eat; but while they made ready, he fell into a trance

11and saw heaven opened and an object like a great sheet bound at the four corners, descending to him and let down to the earth.

12 In it were all kinds of four-footed animals of the earth, wild beasts, creeping things, and birds of the air.

13 And a voice came to him, “Rise, Peter; kill and eat.”

14 But Peter said, “Not so, Lord! For I have never eaten anything common or unclean.”

15 And a voice spoke to him again the second time, “What God has cleansed you must not call common.”

16 This was done three times. And the object was taken up into heaven again.

Summoned to Caesarea

17 Now while Peter wondered within himself what this vision which he had seen meant, behold, the men who had been sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon’s house, and stood before the gate.

18 And they called and asked whether Simon, whose surname was Peter, was lodging there.

19 While Peter thought about the vision, the Spirit said to him, “Behold, three men are seeking you.

20 “Arise therefore, go down and go with them, doubting nothing; for I have sent them.”

21 Then Peter went down to the men who had been sent to him from Cornelius,[b] and said, “Yes, I am he whom you seek. For what reason have you come?”

22 And they said, “Cornelius the centurion, a just man, one who fears God and has a good reputation among all the nation of the Jews, was divinely instructed by a holy angel to summon you to his house, and to hear words from you.”

23 Then he invited them in and lodged them. On the next day Peter went away with them, and some brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

Peter Meets Cornelius

24And the following day they entered Caesarea. Now Cornelius was waiting for them, and had called together his relatives and close friends.

25As Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him and fell down at his feet and worshiped him.

26But Peter lifted him up, saying, “Stand up; I myself am also a man.”

27And as he talked with him, he went in and found many who had come together.

28Then he said to them, “You know how unlawful it is for a Jewish man to keep company with or go to one of another nation. But God has shown me that I should not call any man common or unclean.

29“Therefore I came without objection as soon as I was sent for. I ask, then, for what reason have you sent for me?”

30So Cornelius said, “Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour[c] I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 31“and said, ‘Cornelius, your prayer has been heard, and your alms are remembered in the sight of God.

32‘Send therefore to Joppa and call Simon here, whose surname is Peter. He is lodging in the house of Simon, a tanner, by the sea.[d] When he comes, he will speak to you.’

33“So I sent to you immediately, and you have done well to come. Now therefore, we are all present before God, to hear all the things commanded you by God.”

Preaching to Cornelius’ Household

34Then Peter opened his mouth and said: “In truth I perceive that God shows no partiality. Ethnic Prejudice—Followed by Resolution in Christ

35“But in every nation whoever fears Him and works righteousness is accepted by Him.

36 “The word which God sent to the children of Israel, preaching peace through Jesus Christ—He is Lord of all—37 “that word you know, which was proclaimed throughout all Judea, and began from Galilee after the baptism which John preached:
38 “how God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power, who went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil, for God was
with Him.
39 “And we are witnesses of all things which He did both in the land of the Jews and in Jerusalem, whom they[e] killed by hanging on a tree.
40 “Him God raised up on the third day, and showed Him openly,
41 “not to all the people, but to witnesses chosen before by God, even to us who ate and drank with Him after He arose from the dead.
42 “And He commanded us to preach to the people, and to testify that it is He who was ordained by God to be Judge of the living and the dead.
43 “To Him all the prophets witness that, through His name, whoever believes in Him will receive remission of sins.”

The Holy Spirit Falls on the Gentiles

44 While Peter was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit fell upon all those who heard the word. Ethnic Walls Break Down 45 And those of the circumcision who believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because the gift of the Holy Spirit had been poured out on the Gentiles also.
46 For they heard them speak with tongues and magnify
God. Then Peter answered,

47 “Can anyone forbid water, that these should not be baptized who have received the Holy Spirit just as we have?”
48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then they asked him to stay a few days.

Acts 11

Peter Defends God's Grace

1 Now the apostles and brethren who were in Judea heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.
2 And when Peter came up to Jerusalem, those of the circumcision contended with him, Resolving Conflict 3 saying, "You went in to uncircumcised men and ate with
them!"
4 But Peter explained it to them in order from the beginning, saying:
5 "I was in the city of Joppa praying; and in a trance I saw a vision, an object descending like a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came to me.
6 "When I observed it intently and considered, I saw four-footed animals of the earth, wild beasts, creeping things, and birds of the air.
7 "And I heard a voice saying to me, 'Rise, Peter; kill and eat.'
8 "But I said, 'Not so, Lord! For nothing common or unclean has at any time entered my mouth.' 9 "But the voice answered me again from heaven, 'What God has cleansed you must not call common.'
10 "Now this was done three times, and all were drawn up again into heaven.
11 "At that very moment, three men stood before the house where I was, having been sent to me from Caesarea.
12 "Then the Spirit told me to go with them, doubting nothing. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered the man's house.
13 "And he told us how he had seen an angel standing in his house, who said to him, 'Send men to Joppa, and call for

Simon whose surname is Peter,
14‘who will tell you words by which you and all your household will be saved.’
15“And as I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell upon them, as upon us at the beginning.
16“Then I remembered the word of the Lord, how He said, ‘John indeed baptized with water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit.’
17“If therefore God gave them the same gift as He gave us when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I that I could withstand God?”
18When they heard these things they became silent; and they glorified God, saying, “Then God has also granted to the Gentiles repentance to life.”

Barnabas and Saul at Antioch

19Now those who were scattered after the persecution that arose over Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to no one but the Jews only. The Gospel Spreads Beyond Palestine
20But some of them were men from Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they had come to Antioch, spoke to the Hellenists, preaching the Lord Jesus.
21And the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number believed and turned to the Lord.
22Then news of these things came to the ears of the church in Jerusalem, and they sent out Barnabas to go as far as Antioch. Churches Unlock Communities
23When he came and had seen the grace of God, he was glad, and encouraged them all that with purpose of heart they should continue with the Lord.
24For he was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith. And a great many people were added to the Lord.

25 Then Barnabas departed for Tarsus to seek Saul.
26 And when he had found him, he brought him to Antioch. So it was that for a whole year they assembled with the church and taught a great many people. And the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch. A New Name for a New Way

Relief to Judea

27 And in these days prophets came from Jerusalem to Antioch.
28 Then one of them, named Agabus, stood up and showed by the Spirit that there was going to be a great famine throughout all the world, which also happened in the days of Claudius Caesar.
29 Then the disciples, each according to his ability, determined to send relief to the brethren dwelling in Judea.
30 This they also did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

Acts 12

Herod's Violence to the Church

1 Now about that time Herod the king stretched out his hand to harass some from the church.
2 Then he killed James the brother of John with the sword.
3 And because he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to seize Peter also. Now it was during the Days of Unleavened Bread.
4 So when he had arrested him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four squads of soldiers to keep him, intending to bring him before the people after Passover.

Peter Freed from Prison

5 Peter was therefore kept in prison, but constant[a] prayer was offered to God for him by the church.
6 And when Herod was about to bring him out, that night
Peter was sleeping, bound with two chains between two soldiers; and the guards before the door were keeping the prison.
7 Now behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shone in the prison; and he struck Peter on the side and raised him up, saying, "Arise quickly!" And his chains fell off his hands.
8 Then the angel said to him, "Gird yourself and tie on your sandals"; and so he did. And he said to him, "Put on your garment and follow me." 9 So he went out and followed him, and did not know that what was done by the angel was real, but thought he was seeing a vision.
10 When they were past the first and the second guard posts, they came to the iron gate that leads to the city, which opened to them of its own accord; and they went out and went down one street, and immediately the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter had come to himself, he said, “Now I know for certain that the Lord has sent His angel, and has delivered me from the hand of Herod and from all the expectation of the Jewish people.”

12 So, when he had considered this, he came to the house of Mary, the mother of John whose surname was Mark, where many were gathered together praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a girl named Rhoda came to answer.

14 When she recognized Peter’s voice, because of her gladness she did not open the gate, but ran in and announced that Peter stood before the gate.

15 But they said to her, “You are beside yourself!” Yet she kept insisting that it was so. So they said, “It is his angel.”

16 Now Peter continued knocking; and when they opened the door and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But motioning to them with his hand to keep silent, he declared to them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, “Go, tell these things to James and to the brethren.” And he departed and went to another place.

18 Then, as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers about what had become of Peter.

19 But when Herod had searched for him and not found him, he examined the guards and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Caesarea, and stayed there.

Herod’s Violent Death

20 Now Herod had been very angry with the people of Tyre and Sidon; but they came to him with one accord, and having made Blastus the king’s personal aide their friend, they asked for peace, because their country was supplied with food by the king's country.

21 So on a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat on his throne and gave an oration to them.

22 And the people kept shouting, "The voice of a god and not of a man!"

23 Then immediately an angel of the Lord struck him, because he did not give glory to God. And he was eaten by worms and died.

24 But the word of God grew and multiplied.

Barnabas and Saul Appointed

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from[b] Jerusalem when they had fulfilled their ministry, and they also took with them John whose surname was Mark.

Acts 13

1 Now in the church that was at Antioch there were certain prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon who was called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen who had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. The Antioch Model

2 As they ministered to the Lord and fasted, the Holy Spirit said, "Now separate to Me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them."

3 Then, having fasted and prayed, and laid hands on them, they sent them away.

Preaching in Cyprus

4 So, being sent out by the Holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia, and from there they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they arrived in Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. They also had John as their assistant.

6 Now when they had gone through the island[a] to Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew whose name was Bar-Jesus,

7 who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man. This man called for Barnabas and Saul and sought to hear the word of God. A Governor Believes

8 But Elymas the sorcerer (for so his name is translated) withstood them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith.

9 Then Saul, who also is called Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, looked intently at him Paul Saul's Power of Ideas

10 and said, "O full of all deceit and all fraud, you son of the devil, you enemy of all righteousness, will you not cease perverting the straight ways of the Lord?

11 “And now, indeed, the hand of the Lord is upon you, and you shall be blind, not seeing the sun for a time.” And immediately a dark mist fell on him, and he went around seeking someone to lead him by the hand.
12 Then the proconsul believed, when he saw what had been done, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

At Antioch in Pisidia

13 Now when Paul and his party set sail from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia; and John, departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.
14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day and sat down.
15 And after the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, “Men and brethren, if you have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.”
16 Then Paul stood up, and motioning with his hand said, “Men of Israel, and you who fear God, listen:
17 “The God of this people Israel[b] chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with an uplifted arm He brought them out of
it.
18 “Now for a time of about forty years He put up with their ways in the wilderness.
19 “And when He had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, He distributed their land to them by allotment.
20 “After that He gave them judges for about four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.
21 “And afterward they asked for a king; so God gave them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years.

22 “And when He had removed him, He raised up for them
David as king, to whom also He gave testimony and said, ‘I have found David[c] the son of Jesse, a man after My own heart, who will do all My will.’[d] 23 “From this man’s seed, according to the promise, God raised up for Israel a Savior—Jesus—[e] 24 “after John had first preached, before His coming, the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.
25 “And as John was finishing his course, he said, ‘Who do you think I am? I am not He. But behold, there comes One after me, the sandals of whose feet I am not worthy to loose.’
26 “Men and brethren, sons of the family of Abraham, and those among you who fear God, to you the word of this salvation has been sent.
27 “For those who dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they did not know Him, nor even the voices of the Prophets which are read every Sabbath, have fulfilled them in condemning Him.
28 “And though they found no cause for death in Him, they asked Pilate that He should be put to death.
29 “Now when they had fulfilled all that was written concerning Him, they took Him down from the tree and laid Him in a tomb.
30 “But God raised Him from the dead.
31 “He was seen for many days by those who came up with Him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are His witnesses to the people.
32 “And we declare to you glad tidings—that promise which was made to the fathers.
33 “God has fulfilled this for us their children, in that He has raised up Jesus. As it is also written in the second Psalm:

‘You are My Son,
Today I have begotten You.’[f]

34“And that He raised Him from the dead, no more to return to corruption, He has spoken thus:

‘I will give you the sure mercies of David.’[g]

35“Therefore He also says in another Psalm:

‘You will not allow Your Holy One to see corruption.’[h]

36“For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell asleep, was buried with his fathers, and saw corruption;

37“but He whom God raised up saw no corruption.

38“Therefore let it be known to you, brethren, that through this Man is preached to you the forgiveness of sins;

39“and by Him everyone who believes is justified from all things from which you could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40“Beware therefore, lest what has been spoken in the prophets come upon you:

41 ‘Behold, you despisers,
Marvel and perish!
For I work a work in your days,
A work which you will by no means believe,
Though one were to declare it to you.’ ”[i]

Blessing and Conflict at Antioch

42So when the Jews went out of the synagogue,[j] the Gentiles begged that these words might be preached to them the next Sabbath.

43Now when the congregation had broken up, many of the Jews and devout proselytes followed Paul and

Barnabas, who, speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

44 On the next Sabbath almost the whole city came together to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy; and contradicting and blaspheming, they opposed the things spoken by Paul.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas grew bold and said, “It was necessary that the word of God should be spoken to you first; but since you reject it, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, behold, we turn to the Gentiles.

47 “For so the Lord has commanded us:

> ‘I have set you as a light to the Gentiles,
> That you should be for salvation to the ends > of the earth.’ ”[k]

48 Now when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad and glorified the word of the Lord. And as many as had been appointed to eternal life believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was being spread throughout all the region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and prominent women and the chief men of the city, raised up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them from their region.

51 But they shook off the dust from their feet against them, and came to Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.

Acts 14

At Iconium

1 Now it happened in Iconium that they went together to the synagogue of the Jews, and so spoke that a great multitude both of the Jews and of the Greeks believed.
2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles and poisoned their minds against the brethren.
3 Therefore they stayed there a long time, speaking boldly in the Lord, who was bearing witness to the word of His grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands.
4 But the multitude of the city was divided: part sided with the Jews, and part with the apostles.
5 And when a violent attempt was made by both the Gentiles and Jews, with their rulers, to abuse and stone
them,
6 they became aware of it and fled to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the surrounding region.
7 And they were preaching the gospel there.

Idolatry at Lystra

8 And in Lystra a certain man without strength in his feet was sitting, a cripple from his mother's womb, who had never walked.
9 This man heard Paul speaking. Paul, observing him intently and seeing that he had faith to be healed, 10 said with a loud voice, "Stand up straight on your feet!"
And he leaped and walked.
11 Now when the people saw what Paul had done, they raised their voices, saying in the Lycaonian language, "The gods have come down to us in the likeness of men!"

12And Barnabas they called Zeus, and Paul, Hermes, because he was the chief speaker.

13Then the priest of Zeus, whose temple was in front of their city, brought oxen and garlands to the gates, intending to sacrifice with the multitudes.

14But when the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard this, they tore their clothes and ran in among the multitude, crying out

15and saying, “Men, why are you doing these things? We also are men with the same nature as you, and preach to you that you should turn from these useless things to the living God, who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and all things that are in them, 16“who in bygone generations allowed all nations to walk in their own ways.

17“Nevertheless He did not leave Himself without witness, in that He did good, gave us rain from heaven and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.”

18And with these sayings they could scarcely restrain the multitudes from sacrificing to them.

Stoning, Escape to Derbe

19Then Jews from Antioch and Iconium came there; and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul and dragged him out of the city, supposing him to be dead.

20However, when the disciples gathered around him, he rose up and went into the city. And the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

Strengthening the Converts

21And when they had preached the gospel to that city and made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch,

[22]strengthening the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and saying, “We must through many tribulations enter the kingdom of God.”
[23]So when they had appointed elders in every church, and prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord in whom they had believed.
[24]And after they had passed through Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.
[25]Now when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia.
[26]From there they sailed to Antioch, where they had been commended to the grace of God for the work which they had completed.
[27]Now when they had come and gathered the church together, they reported all that God had done with them, and that He had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles.
[28]So they stayed there a long time with the disciples.

Acts 15

Conflict over Circumcision

1And certain men came down from Judea and taught the brethren, “Unless you are circumcised according to the custom of Moses, you cannot be saved.” Controversy in the Early Church

2Therefore, when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and dispute with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas and certain others of them should go up to Jerusalem, to the apostles and elders, about this question.

3So, being sent on their way by the church, they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, describing the conversion of the Gentiles; and they caused great joy to all the brethren.

4And when they had come to Jerusalem, they were received by the church and the apostles and the elders; and they reported all things that God had done with them.

5But some of the sect of the Pharisees who believed rose up, saying, “It is necessary to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.”

The Jerusalem Council

6Now the apostles and elders came together to consider this matter. Faith Meets Culture

7And when there had been much dispute, Peter rose up and said to them: “Men and brethren, you know that a good while ago God chose among us, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe.

8“So God, who knows the heart, acknowledged them by giving them the Holy Spirit, just as He did to us,

9 “and made no distinction between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.
10 “Now therefore, why do you test God by putting a yoke on the neck of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?
11 “But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ[a] we shall be saved in the same manner as they.”
12 Then all the multitude kept silent and listened to Barnabas and Paul declaring how many miracles and wonders God had worked through them among the Gentiles.
13 And after they had become silent, James answered, saying, “Men and brethren, listen to me:
14 “Simon has declared how God at the first visited the Gentiles to take out of them a people for His name.
15 “And with this the words of the prophets agree, just as it is written:

> 16 ‘After this I will return
> And will rebuild the tabernacle of David,
> which has fallen down;
> I will rebuild its ruins,
> And I will set it up;
> 17 So that the rest of mankind may seek the
> LORD,
> Even all the Gentiles who are called by My
> name,
> Says the LORD who does all these things.’[b]

18 “Known to God from eternity are all His works.[c] 19 “Therefore I judge that we should not trouble those from among the Gentiles who are turning to God,

20 “but that we write to them to abstain from things polluted by idols, from sexual immorality,[d] from things strangled, and from blood.
21 “For Moses has had throughout many generations those who preach him in every city, being read in the synagogues every Sabbath.”

The Jerusalem Decree

22 Then it pleased the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas, namely, Judas who was also named Barsabas,[e] and Silas, leading men among the brethren. Diverse Opportunities for a Diverse Church 23 They wrote this letter by them:

> The apostles, the elders, and the brethren,
>
> To the brethren who are of the Gentiles in Antioch, > Syria, and Cilicia:
>
> Greetings.
>
> 24 Since we have heard that some who went out from > us have troubled you with words, unsettling your > souls, saying, “You must be circumcised and keep the > law”[f]—to whom we gave no such commandment—> 25 it seemed good to us, being assembled with one > accord, to send chosen men to you with our beloved > Barnabas and Paul,
> 26 men who have risked their lives for the name of our > Lord Jesus Christ.
> 27 We have therefore sent Judas and Silas, who will > also report the same things by word of mouth.
> 28 For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit, and to us, to > lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary

things:
29 that you abstain from things offered to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from sexual immorality.[g] If you keep yourselves from these, you will do well.
Farewell.

Continuing Ministry in Syria

30 So when they were sent off, they came to Antioch; and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the letter.
31 When they had read it, they rejoiced over its encouragement.
32 Now Judas and Silas, themselves being prophets also, exhorted and strengthened the brethren with many words.
33 And after they had stayed there for a time, they were sent back with greetings from the brethren to the apostles.[h]
34 However, it seemed good to Silas to remain there.[i] Silas 35 Paul and Barnabas also remained in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

Division over John Mark

36 Then after some days Paul said to Barnabas, "Let us now go back and visit our brethren in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they are doing."
37 Now Barnabas was determined to take with them John called Mark. When to Give a Second Chance John Mark
38 But Paul insisted that they should not take with them the one who had departed from them in Pamphylia, and had not gone with them to the work.
39 Then the contention became so sharp that they parted from one another. And so Barnabas took Mark and sailed to

Cyprus;
40 but Paul chose Silas and departed, being commended
by the brethren to the grace of God.
41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the churches.

Acts 16

Timothy Joins Paul and Silas

1 Then he came to Derbe and Lystra. And behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a certain Jewish woman who believed, but his father was Greek. Paul Sees Potential
2 He was well spoken of by the brethren who were at Lystra and Iconium.
3 Paul wanted to have him go on with him. And he took him and circumcised him because of the Jews who were in that region, for they all knew that his father was Greek.
4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered to them the decrees to keep, which were determined by the apostles and elders at Jerusalem. Paul's Urban Strategy 5 So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.

The Macedonian Call

6 Now when they had gone through Phrygia and the region of Galatia, they were forbidden by the Holy Spirit to preach the word in Asia.
7 After they had come to Mysia, they tried to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit[a] did not permit them.
8 So passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas.
9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night. A man of Macedonia stood and pleaded with him, saying, "Come over to Macedonia and help us."
10 Now after he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go to Macedonia, concluding that the Lord had called us to preach the gospel to them.

Lydia Baptized at Philippi

11Therefore, sailing from Troas, we ran a straight course to Samothrace, and the next day came to Neapolis, 12and from there to Philippi, which is the foremost city of that part of Macedonia, a colony. And we were staying in that city for some days.
13And on the Sabbath day we went out of the city to the riverside, where prayer was customarily made; and we sat down and spoke to the women who met there.
14Now a certain woman named Lydia heard us. She was a seller of purple from the city of Thyatira, who worshiped God. The Lord opened her heart to heed the things spoken by Paul. The Trade in Purple 15And when she and her household were baptized, she begged us, saying, “If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come to my house and stay.” So she persuaded us.

Paul and Silas Imprisoned

16Now it happened, as we went to prayer, that a certain slave girl possessed with a spirit of divination met us, who brought her masters much profit by fortune-telling.
17This girl followed Paul and us, and cried out, saying, “These men are the servants of the Most High God, who proclaim to us the way of salvation.” 18And this she did for many days. But Paul, greatly annoyed, turned and said to the spirit, “I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her.” And he came out that very hour.
19But when her masters saw that their hope of profit was gone, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them into the marketplace to the authorities.

20 And they brought them to the magistrates, and said,
“These men, being Jews, exceedingly trouble our city;
21 “and they teach customs which are not lawful for us, being Romans, to receive or observe.” 22 Then the multitude rose up together against them; and the magistrates tore off their clothes and commanded them to be beaten with rods.
23 And when they had laid many stripes on them, they threw them into prison, commanding the jailer to keep them securely.
24 Having received such a charge, he put them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks.

The Philippian Jailer Saved

25 But at midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to
them.
26 Suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened and everyone’s chains were loosed.
27 And the keeper of the prison, awaking from sleep and seeing the prison doors open, supposing the prisoners had fled, drew his sword and was about to kill himself.
28 But Paul called with a loud voice, saying, “Do yourself no harm, for we are all here.”
29 Then he called for a light, ran in, and fell down trembling before Paul and Silas.
30 And he brought them out and said, “Sirs, what must I do to be saved?”
31 So they said, “Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved, you and your household.” Families of the Early Church 32 Then they spoke the word of the Lord to him and to all who were in his house.

33 And he took them the same hour of the night and washed their stripes. And immediately he and all his family were baptized.
34 Now when he had brought them into his house, he set food before them; and he rejoiced, having believed in God with all his household.

Paul Refuses to Depart Secretly

35 And when it was day, the magistrates sent the officers, saying, “Let those men go.”
36 So the keeper of the prison reported these words to Paul, saying, “The magistrates have sent to let you go. Now therefore depart, and go in peace.” 37 But Paul said to them, “They have beaten us openly, uncondemned Romans, and have thrown us into prison.
And now do they put us out secretly? No indeed! Let them come themselves and get us out.”
38 And the officers told these words to the magistrates, and they were afraid when they heard that they were Romans.
39 Then they came and pleaded with them and brought them out, and asked them to depart from the city.
40 So they went out of the prison and entered the house of Lydia; and when they had seen the brethren, they encouraged them and departed.

Acts 17

Preaching Christ at Thessalonica

1 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a synagogue of the Jews.
2 Then Paul, as his custom was, went in to them, and for three Sabbaths reasoned with them from the Scriptures, 3 explaining and demonstrating that the Christ had to suffer and rise again from the dead, and saying, "This Jesus whom I preach to you is the Christ." 4 And some of them were persuaded; and a great multitude of the devout Greeks, and not a few of the leading women, joined Paul and Silas. The Leading Women

Assault on Jason's House

5 But the Jews who were not persuaded, becoming envious,[a] took some of the evil men from the marketplace, and gathering a mob, set all the city in an uproar and attacked the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.
6 But when they did not find them, they dragged Jason and some brethren to the rulers of the city, crying out,
"These who have turned the world upside down have come here too.
7 "Jason has harbored them, and these are all acting contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying there is another king—Jesus."
8 And they troubled the crowd and the rulers of the city
when they heard these things.
9 So when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

Ministering at Berea

10Then the brethren immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea. When they arrived, they went into the synagogue of the Jews.
11These were more fair-minded than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness, and searched the Scriptures daily to find out whether these things were so.
12Therefore many of them believed, and also not a few of the Greeks, prominent women as well as men.
13But when the Jews from Thessalonica learned that the word of God was preached by Paul at Berea, they came there also and stirred up the crowds.
14Then immediately the brethren sent Paul away, to go to the sea; but both Silas and Timothy remained there.
15So those who conducted Paul brought him to Athens; and receiving a command for Silas and Timothy to come to him with all speed, they departed. Answering the Intellectuals

The Philosophers at Athens

16Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him when he saw that the city was given over to idols.
17Therefore he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and with the Gentile worshipers, and in the marketplace daily with those who happened to be there. Take Christ to Work 18Then[b] certain Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, “What does this babbler want to say?” Others said, “He seems to be a proclaimer of foreign gods,” because he preached to them Jesus and the resurrection.
19And they took him and brought him to the Areopagus, saying, “May we know what this new doctrine is of which you speak?

20 “For you are bringing some strange things to our ears.
Therefore we want to know what these things mean.” 21 For all the Athenians and the foreigners who were there spent their time in nothing else but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

Addressing the Areopagus

22 Then Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus and said, “Men of Athens, I perceive that in all things you are very religious;
23 “for as I was passing through and considering the objects of your worship, I even found an altar with this inscription:

TO THE UNKNOWN GOD.

Therefore, the One whom you worship without knowing,
Him I proclaim to you:
24 “God, who made the world and everything in it, since
He is Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands.
25 “Nor is He worshiped with men’s hands, as though He needed anything, since He gives to all life, breath, and all things.
26 “And He has made from one blood[c] every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, and has determined their preappointed times and the boundaries of their dwellings,
27 “so that they should seek the Lord, in the hope that they might grope for Him and find Him, though He is not far from each one of us; 28 “for in Him we live and move and have our being, as also some of your own poets have said, ‘For we are also His offspring.’

29“Therefore, since we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Divine Nature is like gold or silver or stone, something shaped by art and man’s devising.
30“Truly, these times of ignorance God overlooked, but now commands all men everywhere to repent, 31“because He has appointed a day on which He will judge the world in righteousness by the Man whom He has ordained. He has given assurance of this to all by raising Him from the dead.”
32And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked, while others said, “We will hear you again on this matter.”
33So Paul departed from among them.
34However, some men joined him and believed, among them Dionysius the Areopagite, a woman named Damaris, and others with them. Dionysius and Damaris

Acts 18

Ministering at Corinth

1 After these things Paul departed from Athens and went to Corinth. Paul's Tentmaking
2 And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, who had recently come from Italy with his wife Priscilla (because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome); and he came to them. A Strategic Partnership 3 So, because he was of the same trade, he stayed with them and worked; for by occupation they were tentmakers.
4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, and persuaded both Jews and Greeks.
5 When Silas and Timothy had come from Macedonia, Paul was compelled by the Spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus is the Christ.
6 But when they opposed him and blasphemed, he shook his garments and said to them, "Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean. From now on I will go to the Gentiles."
7 And he departed from there and entered the house of a certain man named Justus,[a] one who worshiped God, whose house was next door to the synagogue. Not Many Mighty 8 Then Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his household. And many of the Corinthians, hearing, believed and were baptized.
9 Now the Lord spoke to Paul in the night by a vision, "Do not be afraid, but speak, and do not keep silent; 10 "for I am with you, and no one will attack you to hurt you; for I have many people in this city." 11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12When Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul and brought him to the judgment seat, 13saying, “This fellow persuades men to worship God contrary to the law.”
14And when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, “If it were a matter of wrongdoing or wicked crimes, O Jews, there would be reason why I should bear with you.
15“But if it is a question of words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves; for I do not want to be a judge of such matters.”
16And he drove them from the judgment seat.
17Then all the Greeks[b] took Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. But Gallio took no notice of these things. Sosthenes the Attorney

Paul Returns to Antioch

18So Paul still remained a good while. Then he took leave of the brethren and sailed for Syria, and Priscilla and Aquila were with him. He had his hair cut off at Cenchrea, for he had taken a vow.
19And he came to Ephesus, and left them there; but he himself entered the synagogue and reasoned with the Jews.
20When they asked him to stay a longer time with them,
he did not consent, 21but took leave of them, saying, “I must by all means keep this coming feast in Jerusalem;[c] but I will return again to you, God willing.” And he sailed from Ephesus.
22And when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up and greeted the church, he went down to Antioch.
23After he had spent some time there, he departed and went over the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

Ministry of Apollos

24Now a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man and mighty in the Scriptures, came to Ephesus. Marketplace Mentors: Priscilla and Aquila Apollos The Septuagint Alexandria 25This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things of the Lord, though he knew only the baptism of
John.
26So he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. When Aquila and Priscilla heard him, they took him aside and explained to him the way of God more accurately.
27And when he desired to cross to Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him; and when he arrived, he greatly helped those who had believed through grace;
28for he vigorously refuted the Jews publicly, showing from the Scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

Acts 19

Paul at Ephesus

1And it happened, while Apollos was at Corinth, that Paul, having passed through the upper regions, came to Ephesus. And finding some disciples

2he said to them, “Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?” So they said to him, “We have not so much as heard whether there is a Holy Spirit.”

3And he said to them, “Into what then were you baptized?” So they said, “Into John’s baptism.”

4Then Paul said, “John indeed baptized with a baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe on Him who would come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.”

5When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6And when Paul had laid hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they spoke with tongues and prophesied.

7Now the men were about twelve in all.

8And he went into the synagogue and spoke boldly for three months, reasoning and persuading concerning the things of the kingdom of God. The Ephesus Approach: How the Gospel Transformed a Community

9But when some were hardened and did not believe, but spoke evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them and withdrew the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus.

10And this continued for two years, so that all who dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

Miracles Glorify Christ

11Now God worked unusual miracles by the hands of Paul,
12so that even handkerchiefs or aprons were brought from his body to the sick, and the diseases left them and the evil spirits went out of them.
13Then some of the itinerant Jewish exorcists took it upon themselves to call the name of the Lord Jesus over those who had evil spirits, saying, “We[a] exorcise you by the Jesus whom Paul preaches.”
14Also there were seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, who did so.
15And the evil spirit answered and said, “Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are you?”
16Then the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, overpowered[b] them, and prevailed against them,[c] so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.
17This became known both to all Jews and Greeks dwelling in Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.
18And many who had believed came confessing and telling their deeds.
19Also, many of those who had practiced magic brought their books together and burned them in the sight of all. And they counted up the value of them, and it totaled fifty thousand pieces of silver.
20So the word of the Lord grew mightily and prevailed.

The Riot at Ephesus

21When these things were accomplished, Paul purposed in the Spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, “After I have been there, I must also see Rome.” Onward to Rome

22 So he sent into Macedonia two of those who ministered to him, Timothy and Erastus, but he himself stayed in Asia for a time.
23 And about that time there arose a great commotion about the Way.
24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Diana,[d] brought no small profit to the craftsmen.
25 He called them together with the workers of similar occupation, and said: “Men, you know that we have our prosperity by this trade.
26 “Moreover you see and hear that not only at Ephesus, but throughout almost all Asia, this Paul has persuaded and turned away many people, saying that they are not gods which are made with hands.
27 “So not only is this trade of ours in danger of falling into disrepute, but also the temple of the great goddess Diana may be despised and her magnificence destroyed,[e] whom all Asia and the world worship.” 28 Now when they heard this, they were full of wrath and cried out, saying, “Great is Diana of the Ephesians!” 29 So the whole city was filled with confusion, and rushed into the theater with one accord, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians, Paul’s travel companions.
30 And when Paul wanted to go in to the people, the disciples would not allow him.
31 Then some of the officials of Asia, who were his friends, sent to him pleading that he would not venture into the theater.
32 Some therefore cried one thing and some another, for the assembly was confused, and most of them did not know why they had come together.
33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander motioned with his hand, and wanted to make his defense to the people.

34 But when they found out that he was a Jew, all with one voice cried out for about two hours, “Great is Diana of the Ephesians!”

35 And when the city clerk had quieted the crowd, he said:
“Men of Ephesus, what man is there who does not know that the city of the Ephesians is temple guardian of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Zeus?

36 “Therefore, since these things cannot be denied, you ought to be quiet and do nothing rashly.

37 “For you have brought these men here who are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of your[f] goddess.

38 “Therefore, if Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen have a case against anyone, the courts are open and there are proconsuls. Let them bring charges against one another.

39 “But if you have any other inquiry to make, it shall be determined in the lawful assembly.

40 “For we are in danger of being called in question for today’s uproar, there being no reason which we may give to account for this disorderly gathering.”

41 And when he had said these things, he dismissed the assembly.

Acts 20

Journeys in Greece

1 After the uproar had ceased, Paul called the disciples to himself, embraced them, and departed to go to Macedonia.
2 Now when he had gone over that region and encouraged them with many words, he came to Greece 3 and stayed three months. And when the Jews plotted against him as he was about to sail to Syria, he decided to return through Macedonia.
4 And Sopater of Berea accompanied him to Asia—also Aristarchus and Secundus of the Thessalonians, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy, and Tychicus and Trophimus of Asia.
5 These men, going ahead, waited for us at Troas.
6 But we sailed away from Philippi after the Days of Unleavened Bread, and in five days joined them at Troas, where we stayed seven days.

Ministering at Troas

7 Now on the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul, ready to depart the next day, spoke to them and continued his message until midnight.
8 There were many lamps in the upper room where they[a] were gathered together.
9 And in a window sat a certain young man named Eutychus, who was sinking into a deep sleep. He was overcome by sleep; and as Paul continued speaking, he fell down from the third story and was taken up dead.
10 But Paul went down, fell on him, and embracing him said, “Do not trouble yourselves, for his life is in him.”

11 Now when he had come up, had broken bread and eaten, and talked a long while, even till daybreak, he departed.
12 And they brought the young man in alive, and they were not a little comforted.

From Troas to Miletus

13 Then we went ahead to the ship and sailed to Assos, there intending to take Paul on board; for so he had given orders, intending himself to go on foot.
14 And when he met us at Assos, we took him on board and came to Mitylene.
15 We sailed from there, and the next day came opposite Chios. The following day we arrived at Samos and stayed at Trogyllium. The next day we came to Miletus.
16 For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he would not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hurrying to be at Jerusalem, if possible, on the Day of Pentecost.

The Ephesian Elders Exhorted

17 From Miletus he sent to Ephesus and called for the elders of the church.
18 And when they had come to him, he said to them: "You know, from the first day that I came to Asia, in what manner I always lived among you, 19 "serving the Lord with all humility, with many tears and trials which happened to me by the plotting of the Jews; 20 "how I kept back nothing that was helpful, but proclaimed it to you, and taught you publicly and from house to house,
21 "testifying to Jews, and also to Greeks, repentance toward God and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 “And see, now I go bound in the spirit to Jerusalem, not knowing the things that will happen to me there, 23 “except that the Holy Spirit testifies in every city, saying that chains and tribulations await me.
24 “But none of these things move me; nor do I count my life dear to myself,[b] so that I may finish my race with joy, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God.
25 “And indeed, now I know that you all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, will see my face
no more.
26 “Therefore I testify to you this day that I am innocent of the blood of all men.
27 “For I have not shunned to declare to you the whole counsel of God.
28 “Therefore take heed to yourselves and to all the flock, among which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the church of God[c] which He purchased with His own blood.
29 “For I know this, that after my departure savage wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock.
30 “Also from among yourselves men will rise up, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after themselves.
31 “Therefore watch, and remember that for three years I did not cease to warn everyone night and day with tears.
32 “So now, brethren, I commend you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and give you an inheritance among all those who are sanctified.
33 “I have coveted no one’s silver or gold or apparel. I Have Not Coveted
34 “Yes,[d] you yourselves know that these hands have provided for my necessities, and for those who were with
me.

35“I have shown you in every way, by laboring like this, that you must support the weak. And remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that He said, ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’ ”
36And when he had said these things, he knelt down and prayed with them all.
37Then they all wept freely, and fell on Paul’s neck and kissed him, 38sorrowing most of all for the words which he spoke, that they would see his face no more. And they accompanied him to the ship.

Acts 21

Warnings on the Journey to Jerusalem

1 Now it came to pass, that when we had departed from them and set sail, running a straight course we came to Cos, the following day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara.
2 And finding a ship sailing over to Phoenicia, we went aboard and set sail.
3 When we had sighted Cyprus, we passed it on the left, sailed to Syria, and landed at Tyre; for there the ship was to unload her cargo.
4 And finding disciples,[a] we stayed there seven days. They told Paul through the Spirit not to go up to Jerusalem.
5 When we had come to the end of those days, we departed and went on our way; and they all accompanied us, with wives and children, till we were out of the city. And we knelt down on the shore and prayed.
6 When we had taken our leave of one another, we boarded the ship, and they returned home.
7 And when we had finished our voyage from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, greeted the brethren, and stayed with them one day.
8 On the next day we who were Paul's companions[b] departed and came to Caesarea, and entered the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him.
9 Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied.
10 And as we stayed many days, a certain prophet named Agabus came down from Judea.
11 When he had come to us, he took Paul's belt, bound his own hands and feet, and said, "Thus says the Holy Spirit,

‘So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man who owns this belt, and deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.’ ”

12 Now when we heard these things, both we and those from that place pleaded with him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, “What do you mean by weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.”

14 So when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, “The will of the Lord be done.”

Paul Urged to Make Peace

15 And after those days we packed and went up to Jerusalem.

16 Also some of the disciples from Caesarea went with us and brought with them a certain Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we were to lodge.

17 And when we had come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 On the following day Paul went in with us to James, and all the elders were present.

19 When he had greeted them, he told in detail those things which God had done among the Gentiles through his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord. And they said to him, “You see, brother, how many myriads of Jews there are who have believed, and they are all zealous for the law;

21 “but they have been informed about you that you teach all the Jews who are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children nor to walk according to the customs.

22 “What then? The assembly must certainly meet, for they will[c] hear that you have come.

23 “Therefore do what we tell you: We have four men who have taken a vow.
24 “Take them and be purified with them, and pay their expenses so that they may shave their heads, and that all may know that those things of which they were informed concerning you are nothing, but that you yourself also walk orderly and keep the law.
25 “But concerning the Gentiles who believe, we have written and decided that they should observe no such thing, except[d] that they should keep themselves from things offered to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from sexual immorality.”

Arrested in the Temple

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day, having been purified with them, entered the temple to announce the expiration of the days of purification, at which time an offering should be made for each one of them.
27 Now when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews from Asia, seeing him in the temple, stirred up the whole crowd and laid hands on him, 28 crying out, “Men of Israel, help! This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against the people, the law, and this place; and furthermore he also brought Greeks into the temple and has defiled this holy place.” 29 (For they had previously[e] seen Trophimus the Ephesian with him in the city, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)
30 And all the city was disturbed; and the people ran together, seized Paul, and dragged him out of the temple;
and immediately the doors were shut.
31 Now as they were seeking to kill him, news came to the commander of the garrison that all Jerusalem was in an uproar.

32 He immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down to them. And when they saw the commander and the soldiers, they stopped beating Paul.
33 Then the commander came near and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and he asked who he was and what he had done.
34 And some among the multitude cried one thing and some another. So when he could not ascertain the truth because of the tumult, he commanded him to be taken into the barracks.
35 When he reached the stairs, he had to be carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the mob.
36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, “Away with him!”

Addressing the Jerusalem Mob

37 Then as Paul was about to be led into the barracks, he said to the commander, “May I speak to you?” He replied, “Can you speak Greek?
38 “Are you not the Egyptian who some time ago stirred up a rebellion and led the four thousand assassins out into the wilderness?”
39 But Paul said, “I am a Jew from Tarsus, in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city; and I implore you, permit me to speak to the people.”
40 So when he had given him permission, Paul stood on the stairs and motioned with his hand to the people. And when there was a great silence, he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, saying,

Acts 22

1 “Brethren and fathers, hear my defense before you now.”

2 And when they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, they kept all the more silent. Then he said:

3 “I am indeed a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, taught according to the strictness of our fathers’ law, and was zealous toward God as you all are today.

4 “I persecuted this Way to the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women,

5 “as also the high priest bears me witness, and all the council of the elders, from whom I also received letters to the brethren, and went to Damascus to bring in chains even those who were there to Jerusalem to be punished.

6 “Now it happened, as I journeyed and came near Damascus at about noon, suddenly a great light from heaven shone around me.

7 “And I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to me, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?’

8 “So I answered, ‘Who are You, Lord?’ And He said to me, ‘I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom you are persecuting.’

9 “And those who were with me indeed saw the light and were afraid,[a] but they did not hear the voice of Him who spoke to me.

10 “So I said, ‘What shall I do, Lord?’ And the Lord said to me, ‘Arise and go into Damascus, and there you will be told all things which are appointed for you to do.’

11 “And since I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of those who were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 “Then a certain Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good testimony with all the Jews who dwelt
there,
13 “came to me; and he stood and said to me, ‘Brother Saul, receive your sight.’ And at that same hour I looked up at him.
14 “Then he said, ‘The God of our fathers has chosen you that you should know His will, and see the Just One, and hear the voice of His mouth.
15 ‘For you will be His witness to all men of what you have seen and heard.
16 ‘And now why are you waiting? Arise and be baptized, and wash away your sins, calling on the name of the Lord.’ 17 “Now it happened, when I returned to Jerusalem and was praying in the temple, that I was in a trance 18 “and saw Him saying to me, ‘Make haste and get out of Jerusalem quickly, for they will not receive your testimony concerning Me.’ 19 “So I said, ‘Lord, they know that in every synagogue I imprisoned and beat those who believe on You.
20 ‘And when the blood of Your martyr Stephen was shed,
I also was standing by consenting to his death,[b] and guarding the clothes of those who were killing him.’ 21 “Then He said to me, ‘Depart, for I will send you far from here to the Gentiles.’ ”

Paul’s Roman Citizenship

22 And they listened to him until this word, and then they raised their voices and said, “Away with such a fellow from the earth, for he is not fit to live!”
23 Then, as they cried out and tore off their clothes and threw dust into the air, 24 the commander ordered him to be brought into the barracks, and said that he should be examined under scourging, so that he might know why they shouted so against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said to the centurion who stood by, “Is it lawful for you to scourge a man who is a Roman, and uncondemned?”

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the commander, saying, “Take care what you do, for this man is a Roman.”

27 Then the commander came and said to him, “Tell me, are you a Roman?” He said, “Yes.”

28 The commander answered, “With a large sum I obtained this citizenship.” And Paul said, “But I was born a citizen.”

29 Then immediately those who were about to examine him withdrew from him; and the commander was also afraid after he found out that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

The Sanhedrin Divided

30 The next day, because he wanted to know for certain why he was accused by the Jews, he released him from his bonds, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down and set him before them.

Acts 23

1 Then Paul, looking earnestly at the council, said, “Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.” Free to Be Bold

2 And the high priest Ananias commanded those who stood by him to strike him on the mouth.

3 Then Paul said to him, “God will strike you, you whitewashed wall! For you sit to judge me according to the law, and do you command me to be struck contrary to the law?”

4 And those who stood by said, “Do you revile God’s high priest?”

5 Then Paul said, “I did not know, brethren, that he was the high priest; for it is written, ‘You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.’ ”[a]

6 But when Paul perceived that one part were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, “Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee; concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am being judged!”

7 And when he had said this, a dissension arose between the Pharisees and the Sadducees; and the assembly was divided.

8 For Sadducees say that there is no resurrection—and no angel or spirit; but the Pharisees confess both.

9 Then there arose a loud outcry. And the scribes of the Pharisees’ party arose and protested, saying, “We find no evil in this man; but if a spirit or an angel has spoken to him, let us not fight against God.”[b]

10 Now when there arose a great dissension, the commander, fearing lest Paul might be pulled to pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the barracks.

The Plot Against Paul

11 But the following night the Lord stood by him and said, "Be of good cheer, Paul; for as you have testified for Me in Jerusalem, so you must also bear witness at Rome."

12 And when it was day, some of the Jews banded together and bound themselves under an oath, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 Now there were more than forty who had formed this conspiracy.

14 They came to the chief priests and elders, and said, "We have bound ourselves under a great oath that we will eat nothing until we have killed Paul.

15 "Now you, therefore, together with the council, suggest to the commander that he be brought down to you tomorrow,[c] as though you were going to make further inquiries concerning him; but we are ready to kill him before he comes near."

16 So when Paul's sister's son heard of their ambush, he went and entered the barracks and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions to him and said, "Take this young man to the commander, for he has something to tell him."

18 So he took him and brought him to the commander and said, "Paul the prisoner called me to him and asked me to bring this young man to you. He has something to say to you."

19 Then the commander took him by the hand, went aside, and asked privately, "What is it that you have to tell me?"

20 And he said, "The Jews have agreed to ask that you bring Paul down to the council tomorrow, as though they were going to inquire more fully about him.

21 “But do not yield to them, for more than forty of them lie in wait for him, men who have bound themselves by an oath that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him; and now they are ready, waiting for the promise from
you.”
22 So the commander let the young man depart, and commanded him, “Tell no one that you have revealed these things to me.”

Sent to Felix

23 And he called for two centurions, saying, “Prepare two hundred soldiers, seventy horsemen, and two hundred spearmen to go to Caesarea at the third hour of the night; 24 “and provide mounts to set Paul on, and bring him safely to Felix the governor.” Felix
25 He wrote a letter in the following manner:

> 26 Claudius Lysias,
> To the most excellent governor Felix:
> Greetings.
> 27 This man was seized by the Jews and was about to > be killed by them. Coming with the troops I rescued > him, having learned that he was a Roman.
> 28 And when I wanted to know the reason they accused > him, I brought him before their council.
> 29 I found out that he was accused concerning > questions of their law, but had nothing charged > against him deserving of death or chains.
> 30 And when it was told me that the Jews lay in wait for > the man,[d] I sent him immediately to you, and also > commanded his accusers to state before you the > charges against him.
> Farewell.

31Then the soldiers, as they were commanded, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32The next day they left the horsemen to go on with him, and returned to the barracks.

33When they came to Caesarea and had delivered the letter to the governor, they also presented Paul to him.

34And when the governor had read it, he asked what province he was from. And when he understood that he was from Cilicia, 35he said, “I will hear you when your accusers also have come.” And he commanded him to be kept in Herod’s Praetorium.

Acts 24

Accused of Sedition

1Now after five days Ananias the high priest came down with the elders and a certain orator named Tertullus. These gave evidence to the governor against Paul. Truth Triggers Opposition

2And when he was called upon, Tertullus began his accusation, saying: “Seeing that through you we enjoy great peace, and prosperity is being brought to this nation by your foresight,

3“we accept it always and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4“Nevertheless, not to be tedious to you any further, I beg you to hear, by your courtesy, a few words from us.

5“For we have found this man a plague, a creator of dissension among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes.

6“He even tried to profane the temple, and we seized him,[a] and wanted to judge him according to our law.

7“But the commander Lysias came by and with great violence took him out of our hands,

8“commanding his accusers to come to you. By examining him yourself you may ascertain all these things of which we accuse him.”

9And the Jews also assented,[b] maintaining that these things were so.

The Defense Before Felix

10Then Paul, after the governor had nodded to him to speak, answered: “Inasmuch as I know that you have been for many years a judge of this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself, 11 “because you may ascertain that it is no more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem to worship.

12 “And they neither found me in the temple disputing with anyone nor inciting the crowd, either in the synagogues or in the city.

13 “Nor can they prove the things of which they now accuse me.

14 “But this I confess to you, that according to the Way which they call a sect, so I worship the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the Law and in the Prophets.

15 “I have hope in God, which they themselves also accept, that there will be a resurrection of the dead,[c] both of the just and the unjust.

16 “This being so, I myself always strive to have a conscience without offense toward God and men.

17 “Now after many years I came to bring alms and offerings to my nation, 18 “in the midst of which some Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with a mob nor with tumult.

19 “They ought to have been here before you to object if they had anything against me.

20 “Or else let those who are here themselves say if they found any wrongdoing[d] in me while I stood before the council,

21 “unless it is for this one statement which I cried out, standing among them, ‘Concerning the resurrection of the dead I am being judged by you this day.’ ”

Felix Procrastinates

22 But when Felix heard these things, having more accurate knowledge of the Way, he adjourned the proceedings and said, “When Lysias the commander comes down, I will make a decision on your case.”

23 So he commanded the centurion to keep Paul and to let him have liberty, and told him not to forbid any of his friends to provide for or visit him.

24 And after some days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was Jewish, he sent for Paul and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 Now as he reasoned about righteousness, self-control, and the judgment to come, Felix was afraid and answered, “Go away for now; when I have a convenient time I will call for you.”

26 Meanwhile he also hoped that money would be given him by Paul, that he might release him.[e] Therefore he sent for him more often and conversed with him.

27 But after two years Porcius Festus succeeded Felix; and Felix, wanting to do the Jews a favor, left Paul bound.

Acts 25

Paul Appeals to Caesar

1 Now when Festus had come to the province, after three days he went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem.
2 Then the high priest[a] and the chief men of the Jews informed him against Paul; and they petitioned him, 3 asking a favor against him, that he would summon him to Jerusalem—while they lay in ambush along the road to kill him.
4 But Festus answered that Paul should be kept at Caesarea, and that he himself was going there shortly.
5 "Therefore," he said, "let those who have authority among you go down with me and accuse this man, to see if there is any fault in him."
6 And when he had remained among them more than ten days, he went down to Caesarea. And the next day, sitting on the judgment seat, he commanded Paul to be brought.
7 When he had come, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood about and laid many serious complaints against Paul, which they could not prove, 8 while he answered for himself, "Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar have I offended in anything at all."
9 But Festus, wanting to do the Jews a favor, answered Paul and said, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and there be judged before me concerning these things?"
10 So Paul said, "I stand at Caesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged. To the Jews I have done no wrong, as you very well know.
11 "For if I am an offender, or have committed anything deserving of death, I do not object to dying; but if there is nothing in these things of which these men accuse me, no one can deliver me to them. I appeal to Caesar.”

12Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, “You have appealed to Caesar? To Caesar you shall go!” Nero

Paul Before Agrippa

13And after some days King Agrippa and Bernice came to Caesarea to greet Festus. Timely Diplomacy

14When they had been there many days, Festus laid Paul’s case before the king, saying: “There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix, 15“about whom the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, when I was in Jerusalem, asking for a judgment against him.

16“To them I answered, ‘It is not the custom of the Romans to deliver any man to destruction[b] before the accused meets the accusers face to face, and has opportunity to answer for himself concerning the charge against him.’

17“Therefore when they had come together, without any delay, the next day I sat on the judgment seat and commanded the man to be brought in.

18“When the accusers stood up, they brought no accusation against him of such things as I supposed,

19“but had some questions against him about their own religion and about a certain Jesus, who had died, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20“And because I was uncertain of such questions, I asked whether he was willing to go to Jerusalem and there be judged concerning these matters.

21“But when Paul appealed to be reserved for the decision of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I could send him to Caesar.”

22 Then Agrippa said to Festus, “I also would like to hear the man myself.” “Tomorrow,” he said, “you shall hear
him.”
23 So the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice had come with great pomp, and had entered the auditorium with the commanders and the prominent men of the city, at Festus’ command Paul was brought in.
24 And Festus said: “King Agrippa and all the men who are here present with us, you see this man about whom the whole assembly of the Jews petitioned me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying out that he was not fit to live any longer.
25 “But when I found that he had committed nothing deserving of death, and that he himself had appealed to Augustus, I decided to send him.
26 “I have nothing certain to write to my lord concerning him. Therefore I have brought him out before you, and especially before you, King Agrippa, so that after the examination has taken place I may have something to write.
27 “For it seems to me unreasonable to send a prisoner and not to specify the charges against him.”

Acts 26

Paul's Early Life

1Then Agrippa said to Paul, "You are permitted to speak for yourself." So Paul stretched out his hand and answered for himself: No Prepackaging

2"I think myself happy, King Agrippa, because today I shall answer for myself before you concerning all the things of which I am accused by the Jews,

3"especially because you are expert in all customs and questions which have to do with the Jews. Therefore I beg you to hear me patiently.

4"My manner of life from my youth, which was spent from the beginning among my own nation at Jerusalem, all the Jews know.

5"They knew me from the first, if they were willing to testify, that according to the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.

6"And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made by God to our fathers.

7"To this promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. For this hope's sake, King Agrippa, I am accused by the Jews.

8"Why should it be thought incredible by you that God raises the dead?

9"Indeed, I myself thought I must do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10"This I also did in Jerusalem, and many of the saints I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I cast my vote against them.

11 “And I punished them often in every synagogue and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly enraged against them, I persecuted them even to foreign cities.

Paul Recounts His Conversion

12 “While thus occupied, as I journeyed to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests, 13 “at midday, O king, along the road I saw a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, shining around me and those who journeyed with me.
14 “And when we all had fallen to the ground, I heard a voice speaking to me and saying in the Hebrew language, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads.’
15 “So I said, ‘Who are You, Lord?’ And He said, ‘I am
Jesus, whom you are persecuting.
16 ‘But rise and stand on your feet; for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to make you a minister and a witness both of the things which you have seen and of the things which I will yet reveal to you.
17 ‘I will deliver you from the Jewish people, as well as from the Gentiles, to whom I now[a] send you, 18 ‘to open their eyes, in order to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who are sanctified by faith in Me.’

Paul’s Post-Conversion Life

19 “Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, 20 “but declared first to those in Damascus and in Jerusalem, and throughout all the region of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent, turn to God, and do works befitting repentance.

21 “For these reasons the Jews seized me in the temple and tried to kill me.

22 “Therefore, having obtained help from God, to this day I stand, witnessing both to small and great, saying no other things than those which the prophets and Moses said would come—

23 “that the Christ would suffer, that He would be the first to rise from the dead, and would proclaim light to the Jewish people and to the Gentiles.”

Agrippa Parries Paul’s Challenge

24 Now as he thus made his defense, Festus said with a loud voice, “Paul, you are beside yourself! Much learning is driving you mad!”

25 But he said, “I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speak the words of truth and reason.

26 “For the king, before whom I also speak freely, knows these things; for I am convinced that none of these things escapes his attention, since this thing was not done in a corner.

27 “King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you do believe.”

28 Then Agrippa said to Paul, “You almost persuade me to become a Christian.”

29 And Paul said, “I would to God that not only you, but also all who hear me today, might become both almost and altogether such as I am, except for these chains.”

30 When he had said these things, the king stood up, as well as the governor and Bernice and those who sat with them;

31 and when they had gone aside, they talked among themselves, saying, “This man is doing nothing deserving of death or chains.”

32Then Agrippa said to Festus, “This man might have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar.”

Acts 27

The Voyage to Rome Begins

1 And when it was decided that we should sail to Italy, they delivered Paul and some other prisoners to one named Julius, a centurion of the Augustan Regiment.
2 So, entering a ship of Adramyttium, we put to sea, meaning to sail along the coasts of Asia. Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, was with us.
3 And the next day we landed at Sidon. And Julius treated Paul kindly and gave him liberty to go to his friends and receive care.
4 When we had put to sea from there, we sailed under the shelter of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.
5 And when we had sailed over the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.
6 There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship sailing to Italy, and he put us on board.
7 When we had sailed slowly many days, and arrived with difficulty off Cnidus, the wind not permitting us to proceed, we sailed under the shelter of Crete off Salmone.
8 Passing it with difficulty, we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea.

Paul's Warning Ignored

9 Now when much time had been spent, and sailing was now dangerous because the Fast was already over, Paul advised them,
10 saying, "Men, I perceive that this voyage will end with disaster and much loss, not only of the cargo and ship, but also our lives."

11 Nevertheless the centurion was more persuaded by the helmsman and the owner of the ship than by the things spoken by Paul.
12 And because the harbor was not suitable to winter in, the majority advised to set sail from there also, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, a harbor of Crete opening toward the southwest and northwest, and winter there.

In the Tempest

13 When the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their desire, putting out to sea, they sailed close by Crete.
14 But not long after, a tempestuous head wind arose, called Euroclydon.[a] 15 So when the ship was caught, and could not head into the wind, we let her drive.
16 And running under the shelter of an island called Clauda,[b] we secured the skiff with difficulty.
17 When they had taken it on board, they used cables to undergird the ship; and fearing lest they should run aground on the Syrtis[c] Sands, they struck sail and so were driven.
18 And because we were exceedingly tempest-tossed, the next day they lightened the ship.
19 On the third day we threw the ship's tackle overboard with our own hands.
20 Now when neither sun nor stars appeared for many days, and no small tempest beat on us, all hope that we would be saved was finally given up.
21 But after long abstinence from food, then Paul stood in the midst of them and said, "Men, you should have listened to me, and not have sailed from Crete and incurred this disaster and loss.

22“And now I urge you to take heart, for there will be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship.
23“For there stood by me this night an angel of the God to whom I belong and whom I serve, 24“saying, ‘Do not be afraid, Paul; you must be brought before Caesar; and indeed God has granted you all those who sail with you.’
25“Therefore take heart, men, for I believe God that it will be just as it was told me.
26“However, we must run aground on a certain island.”
27Now when the fourteenth night had come, as we were driven up and down in the Adriatic Sea, about midnight the sailors sensed that they were drawing near some land.
28And they took soundings and found it to be twenty fathoms; and when they had gone a little farther, they took soundings again and found it to be fifteen fathoms.
29Then, fearing lest we should run aground on the rocks, they dropped four anchors from the stern, and prayed for day to come.
30And as the sailors were seeking to escape from the ship, when they had let down the skiff into the sea, under pretense of putting out anchors from the prow, 31Paul said to the centurion and the soldiers, “Unless these men stay in the ship, you cannot be saved.”
32Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the skiff and let it fall off.
33And as day was about to dawn, Paul implored them all to take food, saying, “Today is the fourteenth day you have waited and continued without food, and eaten nothing.
34“Therefore I urge you to take nourishment, for this is for your survival, since not a hair will fall from the head of any of you.”
35And when he had said these things, he took bread and gave thanks to God in the presence of them all; and when he had broken it he began to eat.

36 Then they were all encouraged, and also took food themselves.

37 And in all we were two hundred and seventy-six persons on the ship.

38 So when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship and threw out the wheat into the sea.

Shipwrecked on Malta

39 When it was day, they did not recognize the land; but they observed a bay with a beach, onto which they planned to run the ship if possible.

40 And they let go the anchors and left them in the sea, meanwhile loosing the rudder ropes; and they hoisted the mainsail to the wind and made for shore.

41 But striking a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the prow stuck fast and remained immovable, but the stern was being broken up by the violence of the waves.

42 And the soldiers' plan was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim away and escape.

43 But the centurion, wanting to save Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that those who could swim should jump overboard first and get to land, 44 and the rest, some on boards and some on parts of the ship. And so it was that they all escaped safely to land.

Acts 28

Paul's Ministry on Malta

1 Now when they had escaped, they then found out that the island was called Malta.
2 And the natives showed us unusual kindness; for they kindled a fire and made us all welcome, because of the rain that was falling and because of the cold.
3 But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks and laid them on the fire, a viper came out because of the heat, and fastened on his hand.
4 So when the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said to one another, "No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he has escaped the sea, yet justice does not allow to live."
5 But he shook off the creature into the fire and suffered no harm.
6 However, they were expecting that he would swell up or suddenly fall down dead. But after they had looked for a long time and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds and said that he was a god.
7 In that region there was an estate of the leading citizen of the island, whose name was Publius, who received us and entertained us courteously for three days.
8 And it happened that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and dysentery. Paul went in to him and prayed, and he laid his hands on him and healed him.
9 So when this was done, the rest of those on the island who had diseases also came and were healed.
10 They also honored us in many ways; and when we departed, they provided such things as were necessary.

Arrival at Rome

11After three months we sailed in an Alexandrian ship whose figurehead was the Twin Brothers, which had wintered at the island.
12And landing at Syracuse, we stayed three days.
13From there we circled round and reached Rhegium.
And after one day the south wind blew; and the next day we came to Puteoli, 14where we found brethren, and were invited to stay with them seven days. And so we went toward Rome. Joy on the Way to Jail 15And from there, when the brethren heard about us, they came to meet us as far as Appii Forum and Three Inns.
When Paul saw them, he thanked God and took courage.
16Now when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard; but Paul was permitted to dwell by himself with the soldier who guarded
him.

Paul's Ministry at Rome

17And it came to pass after three days that Paul called the leaders of the Jews together. So when they had come together, he said to them: "Men and brethren, though I have done nothing against our people or the customs of our fathers, yet I was delivered as a prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans, Responding to Rejection 18"who, when they had examined me, wanted to let me go, because there was no cause for putting me to death.
19"But when the Jews[a] spoke against it, I was compelled to appeal to Caesar, not that I had anything of which to accuse my nation.
20"For this reason therefore I have called for you, to see you and speak with you, because for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.”

21 Then they said to him, “We neither received letters from Judea concerning you, nor have any of the brethren who came reported or spoken any evil of you.
22 “But we desire to hear from you what you think; for concerning this sect, we know that it is spoken against everywhere.”
23 So when they had appointed him a day, many came to him at his lodging, to whom he explained and solemnly testified of the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus from both the Law of Moses and the Prophets, from morning till evening.
24 And some were persuaded by the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved.
25 So when they did not agree among themselves, they departed after Paul had said one word: “The Holy Spirit spoke rightly through Isaiah the prophet to our[b] fathers,
26 “saying,

‘Go to this people and say:
“Hearing you will hear, and shall not
understand;
And seeing you will see, and not perceive;
27 For the hearts of this people have grown
dull.
Their ears are hard of hearing,
And their eyes they have closed,
Lest they should see with their eyes and
hear with their ears,
Lest they should understand with their
hearts and turn,
So that I should heal them.” ’[c]

28 “Therefore let it be known to you that the salvation of God has been sent to the Gentiles, and they will hear it!”

Roads to Rome—and Beyond

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed and had a great dispute among themselves.[d]

30 Then Paul dwelt two whole years in his own rented house, and received all who came to him, Paul's Rented House

31 preaching the kingdom of God and teaching the things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ with all confidence, no one forbidding him.

The Movement Takes Hold

Acts 1:1

Acts shows how the good news about Jesus impacted a variety of cultures as it grew from a handful of followers into a movement. It crossed gender, ethnic, linguistic, geographic, and economic boundaries in places as diverse as . . .

- Jerusalem (Acts 1:12–26; 7:1–53; 8:1). The ancient holy city witnessed the church's dramatic birth but was left behind as the gospel spread across the rest of the Roman empire.

- Samaria (8:5). The Samaritans suffered centuries of ethnic discrimination until a minority preacher invited them to join the community of faith.
- Damascus (9:2). A city torn between rival claims of ownership helped spread the Christian message throughout the ancient world.
- Tarsus (11:25). The empire's second most important center of learning produced one of Christianity's most influential messengers.
- Antioch (13:1). A multiethnic church in the empire's third-largest city became the headquarters of early Christianity.
- Cyprus (13:4). This Mediterranean island was a frequent stopover for Christian travelers.
- Philippi (16:12). A retirement community for Roman military officers became the gateway for Christianity's spread to the West.
- Athens (17:15). Curious philosophers heard the news about Christ but preferred debate rather than commitment.
- Alexandria (18:24). This center of education and scholarship was home to the world's first Greek translation of the Hebrew Scriptures.
- Ephesus (19:10). This shrine of first-century paganism was upended when the gospel transformed its economy.

You Shall Receive Power

Acts 1:8

As the account of the Book of Acts begins, Jesus' followers appear confused and fearful, but by the end of the book they are energetically transforming the Roman world. Only one dynamic can account for this dramatic change: the fulfillment of Jesus' promise: "You shall receive power." Note these important facts:

- Jesus did not enable His followers to exert physical force or political authority. While Israel had enjoyed military superiority under David and Solomon, those days were a distant memory. Jesus never promised a revival of Jewish dominance. The word power means "ability" or "capacity," so the power that the Holy Spirit would provide was the new abilities Christ's followers needed to carry the gospel forward.

- Power came from above. The disciples were to look for supernatural ability via the Holy Spirit to make them effective in presenting the news about Jesus. Until the Spirit arrived, they were powerless to spread the Good News to every person and place they were meant to take it.
- The believers were to be witnesses of Christ, not of Christians. They were to make disciples not of themselves but of the risen Lord (Matt. 28:18–20).

Extraordinarily Inclusive

Acts 1:14

The first prayer meeting of the Christian movement was extraordinarily inclusive. Jewish religious gatherings separated men and women and assigned them different roles, but here the apostles were joined by female followers of Jesus, including Jesus' mother. God meant for every person in this group of united, dedicated followers to be His witness.

The Spirit Gave Birth to a Multilingual Church

Acts 2:5

What happened at Pentecost began to reverse the effects of the events at the Tower of Babel, when God mixed up the people's language and scattered the nations (Gen. 11:1–9).

At Pentecost, God gathered His people from the nations to Jerusalem. Once again, confusion came, but this time it was in amazement that ordinary men and women were speaking in all the languages of the world (Acts 2:6). The Spirit gave birth to an international and multilingual church when onlookers heard the gospel and believed.

New Life and New Lifestyles

Acts 2:42–47

The converts from Peter's sermon stayed on in Jerusalem for a while, possibly as guests of the handful of local disciples. They celebrated their new life in Christ with four crucial acts:

1. They listened to the apostles' teaching.
2. They practiced community by sharing meals.
3. They worshiped God.
4. They cared for each other's needs.

Connecting Sunday to Monday

Acts 2:46, 47

The faith we celebrate on Sunday can feel disconnected from the world we face on Monday. But it doesn't have to. Acts 4–9 shows how the newly formed group of Christians practiced a regular rhythm of gathering for growth and worship, then scattering into the world to work and share the gospel with others:

Gathered for Growth

Donated money from selling assets to care for the poor (Acts 4:36, 37).

Disciplined those who practiced deceit in giving to the poor (Acts 5:1–11).

Met to discuss and confirm Samaritan work (Acts 8:14–17).

Disciplined a new believer for misuse of the Holy Spirit (Acts 8:18–24).

Affirmed and nurtured Saul's new

Scattered for Work

Met in public to care for the sick, many of whom became Christians (Acts 5:12–21).

Leaders were arrested and tried on charges of civil disobedience (Acts 5:22–42).

Took the gospel to the Samaritans; challenged Simon, a leading sorcerer (Acts 8:3–13).

Took the Good News to an Ethiopian government official on a highway (Acts 8:26–40).

faith (Acts 9:10–22).

Accepted Saul into their community even though he had persecuted them (Acts 9:26–28).

This pattern continues throughout Acts. The narrative moves back and forth between internal church meetings and external encounters with the surrounding culture. Developing one's faith and taking it to the world are inextricably connected.

We can build a bridge between our own Sundays and Mondays by moving through this same cycle. We gather to worship, pray, share meals, and absorb teaching—preparing us and giving us the strength to step into Monday's world of pressure, conflict, and the work of engaging non-believers as they inspect or even oppose our faith. As we scatter to accomplish this work, we will inevitably find areas of our faith where we need to grow—propelling us into Sunday's world of spiritual nourishment, community, and refinement.

More: Queen Victoria wrote approvingly of a Scottish church where she heard a sermon about how the Christian faith was "not a thing only for Sunday" but "for every action of her life."

Seizing Opportunity

Acts 3:12

People marvel when God is at work. Just as all of Jerusalem was awed by the healing of a lame man (Acts 3:11), people today may be shocked by God's impact on an individual life. Watching God's work in us may ready them to hear us explain the message of Christ. Their curiosity can open opportunities for us to speak up and help others notice God's hand behind what they have seen, as did Peter (3:12–26). Of course, like Peter and John, we might also trigger a hostile reaction (4:1–4). We might tap the anger or confusion that people can feel when they become aware that they have offended God. But belonging to God means that we speak the truth, very thoughtfully, and follow it up with expressions of love.

No Other Name

Acts 4:12

The modern world is full of opinions about the ultimate meaning of life. Some say it is to achieve inner fulfillment, accumulate wealth, enjoy family and friends, have a good time, or be a good person. Into this muddle of ideas the Bible injects the radical notion that what truly matters is authentic reconciliation and relationship with God that causes a fundamental change to how we live now and forever. This relationship is central to fulfillment, money management, enjoying family and friends, and goodness. Scripture also adds that the only way to become reconciled to God is through faith in Jesus—a personal response of trust in His claim of lordship and the atonement for our sins that He accomplished on the cross.

This exclusive idea about the meaning of life and the sole way to find it does not go down easily in a world of competing religious claims and warring cultures. Any assertion that there is only one route to eternal life invites protests and accusations of religious prejudice. These responses are often based on an assumption that the differences between religions and belief systems are so small as to be inconsequential.

Of all the large and legitimate differences between belief systems that we could explore at length, there is one that matters most from a Christian perspective: only Jesus is God.

Jesus said, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me” (John 14:6).

Our desire to be inclusive is exactly the reason we Christians share the truth: to include all in the family of God. Even so, our recognition that there are helpful insights in many religions may make us question whether we should share biblical revelation. Or our awareness that people find authentic happiness in a multitude of things other than the promise of salvation may make us wonder if we have anything to offer. But the early Christians declared the gospel because they accepted what God has revealed as fully true. Whatever human beings might want or wish or think, only through Christ can we find forgiveness for sins.

More: Just as Peter affirmed the uniqueness of the Lord, so Moses told the people of his day that there is no other god besides Him (Deut. 4:35). This belief set the Israelites apart from a polytheistic world. See "Monotheism" at Deut. 6:4.

Think About It: Real truth resonates. How do you share it without communicating superiority (which none of us has)?

Continual Renewal

Acts 4:31

Living in an unbelieving world can sometimes feel like swimming upstream. As we come face-to-face with misunderstanding, challenges to our values, and outright mockery, each day can end in discouragement and exhaustion.

The early Christians felt the same stress. They dealt with the detention of their leaders (Acts 4:1–3), violent threats (4:21, 29), and malicious plots against their community (4:25). In response, they came together to pray and be filled with the Holy Spirit yet again (4:31). They needed to be renewed.

Like our first-century brothers and sisters, we need to regularly connect for spiritual rejuvenation. Gatherings like worship services and small groups can help to supply the continual renewal we need to follow Christ—as long as we are faithful in making them a regular part of life.

Christ's Community

Acts 4:32–35

The first Christians chose to be generous when it came to personal property, holding "all things in common." We likely have an immediate reaction to that thought, either quickly dismissing it or wondering if communal life is God's intention for us now.

These early Christians were not communists setting up an economic system. They were simply interacting with each other with gracious, Christlike compassion. Their behavior was a result of the Spirit's outpouring (Acts 2:1–4). Sadly, not all New Testament believers demonstrated a similar concern in their fellow believers' welfare (5:1–11; 1 Cor. 6:8; James 4:1, 2).

Scripture never mandates equal distribution of goods. Nor does it call for eliminating personal property or ownership. This passage (along with Acts 2:44, 45) is a description, not a prescription. With that said, this doesn't mean there is anything inappropriate about communal living either. Christians who feel called to a communal lifestyle should feel free to pursue it with other likeminded believers.

The important thing to remember is that when the New Testament makes specific commands about issues such as wealth, caring for the poor, work, equality, widows, slaves, and social justice, it inevitably calls us to compassion and generosity—not to asceticism, the attempt to become godlier through self-denial and the renouncement of wealth. Paul even warns against that view (Col. 2:18–23). The Bible condemns the love of wealth, not the possession of it, as a root of evil (1 Tim. 6:9–10).

There were both rich and poor counted among the first Christians (2 Cor. 8:2; 1 Tim. 6:17–19). Many of us have a much higher standard of living than they had, but we often find it hard to match their generosity. An indication of being filled with the Spirit of Christ is to respond to people's needs with His love. Sometimes this means to care in a way besides giving material items or money; other times it means giving those things. Even if we do not practice communal living, we are still members of one community.

Son of Encouragement
Acts 4:36, 37

The apostles chose the perfect Christian name for Joses of Cyprus when they called him Barnabas ("Son of Encouragement"). Every time Barnabas appears in Scripture he is helping others along in the faith, and he stands out as the Bible's best model of how to mentor young believers. Several New Testament churches trace their beginnings to his efforts (see "Kingdom Mentoring" at Acts 9:26–30).

Hold Loosely
Acts 4:37–5:11

How tightly we hang on to cash, land, buildings, or other possessions speaks volumes about our values. If we hold to these things with clenched fists, we will be sure to exhibit traits like possessiveness, stinginess, manipulation, and elitism.

Barnabas converted land that he owned into cash for needy believers (Acts 4:36, 37). He cheerfully let go of the money, laying it at the apostles' feet for them to administer. Ananias and Sapphira engaged in a similar transaction toward the same need, but they subsequently lied about their gift (5:1, 2). They apparently wanted to look good among other disciples while secretly holding on to some of the money from the sale.

God calls us to hold whatever we have loosely. After all, everything we possess comes from Him. He gives it to us as a trust to manage and not a treasure to hoard.

More: While we should all strive to be cheerful givers (2 Cor. 9:7), Jesus also warned against parading our generosity in front of others. See "Anonymous Givers" at Matt. 6:1–4.

Obeying God Above Men
Acts 5:22–32

Christians faced with a conflict between God's authority and human authority must think, speak, and act cautiously yet courageously. Notice what Peter and the other apostles did:

- They aimed to serve and glorify God. They were not driven by their egos. They did not seek to advance their own power.
- They disobeyed at a specific point. They did not resist the wider authority of the Jewish Council.
- They submitted to both the council and God. They did not harbor anger toward authority in general.
- They delivered a factual message about God's plan and power. They spoke with love and did not slander or disrespect those in authority.
- They accepted the cost of being loyal to the truth.

Ethnic Prejudice Confronted
Acts 6:2–6

The community of believers at Jerusalem was constantly growing and changing (Acts 1:15; 2:41, 47; 4:4, 32; 5:14). They experienced amazing unity (2:46; 4:32; 5:12), and their sacrificial generosity meant that their material needs were being met (2:45; 4:34, 36).

But a problem with feeding widows threatened to fracture this successful community (6:1). The underlying issue was less about meeting physical needs than simmering ethnic hostility between the Hebrews (Jews born in Judea and Galilee) and the Hellenists (Greek-speaking Jews born outside of Palestine). Hellenists were despised by many who considered them to be "contaminated" by Gentiles, but Hellenists responded to the gospel in large numbers. The clash could easily have destroyed the church or divided it into separate ethnic communities. But the apostles took steps to head off a crisis.

- They met face-to-face with the Hellenists (the powerful met with the powerless).
- They listened to complaints and acknowledged their legitimacy.
- They worked with the Hellenists to devise guidelines for godly leaders and chose seven whose names suggest they were from the Hellenist minority at Jerusalem.
- They approved and commissioned these new leaders by praying with them, laying their hands on them, and committing to work with them.
- They gave the new leaders authority over the distribution of food for widows.
- They shared power and resources and affirmed the dignity of the newly chosen leaders.

The result was that "the word of God spread, and . . . multiplied greatly in Jerusalem" (6:7).

Stephen's Trial and Murder

Acts 6:12

Ethnic tension played a decisive role in the trial and death of Stephen, the church's first martyr. While other members of the early church had been brought before the Jewish Council (Acts 6:12; 4:1–23), it was Stephen, likely a Hellenist, who first died for his faith.

Hellenists—Greek-speaking Jews born outside of Palestine—were among the first people attracted by the gospel. Treated as second-class citizens by native-born Jews, many found acceptance in the early church. It could be that as the new faith threatened to further alienate Hellenistic Jews from the full-blooded majority, some Hellenists (6:9) gained a motive to try to discredit the Christian movement.

Their opposition focused on Stephen, a dynamic, emerging leader who enjoyed in the church a prominence that would have been denied to him in the Jewish community. His trial and murder (ch. 7) showed that the Hellenists willingly sacrificed one of their own to demonstrate loyalty to the ruling system.

The strategy worked. Stephen's death precipitated intense persecution of the early Christians, sanctioned by the council and led by a new young leader, Saul of Tarsus (8:1–3; 9:1, 2).

Think About It: Why do squabbles happen between believers even though we worship the same God? When things get worse before getting better what do you do? What actions on your part contribute to unity rather than more contention?

The Council

Acts 6:12–15

The Jewish Council, also known as the Sanhedrin, was the highest ruling body and supreme court of the Jews. The council . . .

- Was led by the high priest, the most powerful Jewish official in the city.
- Had 71 members, including priests, leading men (elders), and experts in Mosaic law (scribes).
- Was dominated in the first century by two major parties, Pharisees and Sadducees (see "Political Parties of Jesus' Day" at Matt. 16:1).
- Was allowed by Rome to oversee religious, civil, and criminal issues in the province of Judea.
- Had the political power to appoint kings and high priests, make war, manipulate the city, and expand the temple.

- Had the judicial power to judge traitorous priests, false prophets, rebel leaders, and rebellious tribes.
- Had the religious power to ordain certain services, such as the Day of Atonement (see "The Day of Atonement" at Lev. 16:1–34).
- Had its own police force.
- Was prevented by Rome from exercising capital punishment.
- Included these prominent council members mentioned in the Bible:
  - Joseph of Arimathea (Mark 15:43)
  - Annas and Caiaphas, high priests (Luke 3:2)
  - Nicodemus (John 3:1; 7:50)
  - Gamaliel (Acts 5:34)
  - Ananias (23:2)
  - Possibly Tertullus, an orator (24:1–2)
  - Possibly Saul, a student of Gamaliel (22:3)

A New View of History

Acts 7:1–53

Rome's destruction of Jerusalem and its temple in A.D. 70 forced the Jews to completely rethink the significance of Jerusalem and its institutions. But as Stephen's speech before the council shows, Christians began changing their perspective long before the city's fall.

Stephen and his fellow Christians had dispensed with the idea that the world revolved around Israel—and that Israel in turn revolved around Jerusalem's temple and the Law. They still saw Jerusalem as more than just a city, but its importance was symbolic of an even higher ideal (see the holy city's profile at Matt. 23:37). Stephen's eloquent history lesson drove this home in four points:

1. The nation of Israel was born in Mesopotamia—not Jerusalem (Acts 7:2–5).
2. God liberated His people at locations outside of Palestine—in Egypt, at the Red Sea, and in the Sinai wilderness—not

Jerusalem (7:9–36).
3. The Law was given in the desert—not Jerusalem (7:38).
4. God lives in heaven rather than in a physical building—again, not Jerusalem (7:39–50).

Stephen's view of history infuriated city leaders and set them against the Christian movement. The outraged council stoned Stephen to death and allowed Saul to start openly persecuting Jesus' followers (7:54–8:3). Yet, by God's design, that violence helped to expand the church (8:4). God had always intended for His followers to move beyond Jerusalem, but it took some tragedy to get them moving.

Stephen's ability to rethink his perspective on Jerusalem challenges us to examine our own loyalty to long-held visions of the past. Are our interpretations of history affected by unwise assumptions or prejudices? As we reflect upon the past, let's pray for the Holy Spirit to give us wisdom and help us to know when to hold on to established ideas about history, and when to embrace deeper understanding.

Why the Reluctance?

Acts 8:4–25

Jesus predicted that His disciples would take His message not only to Jerusalem but also to Judea, Samaria, and the ends of the earth (Acts 1:8). But at the start of Acts 8, the church had not yet left Jerusalem. Several years had probably passed since Jesus uttered His command. But it would take persecution to move the Lord's people to obedience.

Jerusalem was not the apostles' home. The church had no buildings dedicated for its use. The authorities certainly had not welcomed the presence of their movement. Why were the apostles reluctant to leave?

One leading factor was that the apostles had been raised in a culture that was deeply divided along ethnic lines. Preaching the gospel to Jews in Jerusalem was a manageable challenge. But to preach to Samaritans was worse than difficult (see "Jews and Samaritans" at John 4:9). Cultural barriers may have kept the apostles in Jerusalem despite Saul's persecution (Acts 8:1).

It took a man who was probably a Hellenist (Greek-speaking) Jew to cross the Jewish-Samaritan divide. Philip was a veteran cross-cultural worker (6:1–7) and knew firsthand what it was like to be considered a second-class citizen. When he preached Jesus in the city of Samaria, multitudes responded. The gospel broke through a centuries-old wall of separation.

When news of the revival reached the apostles in Jerusalem, they dispatched Peter and John to investigate. The two Galileans must have been stunned and humbled by what they saw. John, who once wanted to call down fire from heaven on unbelieving Samaritans (Luke 9:52–54), now joined Peter in praying for the Holy Spirit to fall on the new believers.

Ironically, Peter condemned Simon the magician for wanting to purchase the Spirit's power with money. "I see that you are poisoned by bitterness and bound by iniquity," Peter said (Acts 8:23). Yet a poison of bitterness and bondage of iniquity were also evident in Christians who allowed ethnic differences to keep Samaritans and others from entering the kingdom.

Peter and John returned to Jerusalem changed men. Along the way, they preached in Samaritan villages (8:25). Samaritans were now embracing the gospel, and at least two of the apostles were beginning to embrace Samaritans.

Four Glimpses of Philip

Acts 8:5–13

The Book of Acts gives us four sketches of Philip that touch on issues still confronting the church today:

1. He helped manage a ministry to meet the basic needs of impoverished widows in Jerusalem (Acts 6:1–7).
2. He crossed cultural and ethnic barriers and worked in an urban setting in Samaria (8:5–13).
3. He transcended cultural and ethnic barriers to explain the gospel to an Ethiopian treasurer and baptize him (8:26–40).
4. He welcomed Paul into his home and presented four prophesying daughters (21:8, 9).

Think About It: What actions might God guide you to take to have these four glimpses become true of you? How would each honor Jesus Christ?

The Illusion of Power

Acts 8:18, 19

Simon's request was motivated by the same lust for power that drives today's political, entertainment, and business arenas. Popular culture invests famous politicians, actors, athletes, CEOs, and other celebrities with an illusion of unusual importance. Christians even create power figures out of preachers and other speakers, worship leaders, and authors of Christian literature. But God's power has little or nothing to do with spotlights or acclaim.

Simon had adopted the world's perspective on power. Showered with uncritical adulation (Acts 8:9, 10), he became convinced of his supposed superhuman significance, and his entire worldview became distorted as a result (8:18, 19).

It's easy for us to sit back and judge Simon, but we should ask ourselves if we too have succumbed to the illusion of power.

- How much do you daydream about becoming famous—or just well-liked?
- Do you heed people who are unwilling to let your weaknesses slide, unimpressed with your social status? Or do you prefer only to associate with people who praise you and agree with you?
- How much do your status and position define who you are? How would you react if you were to lose it all?

Ethiopia

Acts 8:27

- An ancient African nation that included Egyptian territory south of Aswan (Syene; Ezek. 29:10).
- Sometimes called Nubia or Cush.
- Known for the Blue Nile and White Nile (Is. 18:1), papyrus boats (18:2), and precious topaz (Job 28:19).
- Controlled by Egypt until after the time of David (c. 1000 B.C.).
- Populated by descendants of Ham, the father of Cush (Ethiopia; Gen. 10:6; 1 Chr. 1:8–10) and Mizraim (Egypt).

Ethiopia and Egypt were tightly linked throughout history (Is. 20:3–5; Ezek. 30:4–5).

- Its people were known for their tall height and smooth black skin (Is. 18:2; Jer. 13:23) as well as their military prowess (2 Sam. 18:21–32; 2 Chr. 12:3; 14:9–13; Jer. 46:9).
- Attained its peak strength during the reign of Hezekiah (c. 715–686 B.C.), possibly due to disunity within Egypt.
- The conquest of Ethiopia by Babylon was foretold by Ezekiel (Ezek. 30:4–10) and Jeremiah (Jer. 46:9, 10, 13, 14); Isaiah predicted its conquest by Persia (Esth. 1:1; 8:9; Is. 43:3).
- God cared about the Ethiopians (Amos 9:7) and promised that they would be among those who came to Jerusalem to worship the true God (Ps. 68:31; Is. 45:14).

The Message Spreads to Africa

Acts 8:27–39

The Ethiopian treasurer was likely a convert to Judaism. He yearned to know the God of Israel, evidenced by his reading of Isaiah 53 (Acts 8:28–33) and the fact that he had to travel more than seven hundred miles—one way—to worship in Jerusalem. The trip would take him and his servants at least thirty days by chariot. He probably would have stayed for at least a month before turning home, meaning he spent at least a quarter of a year on a journey to worship God.

The Bible does not mention what the Ethiopian heard in the city about the followers of Jesus and their persecution. But he responded warmly to Philip. He heard the message about Christ, believed, and was baptized, and became the first known witness to Africa. For the second time in Acts 8, the gospel moved outside of the narrow confines of Jerusalem and Judea.

God once again used Philip—the Greek-speaking table-server—to accomplish a monumental task. Peter, John, and the other apostles were just beginning to figure out that the gospel is meant for all peoples—Hellenists, Samaritans, even Gentiles of all colors and ethnicities.

The Fruits of Obedience

Acts 9:10–18

The Christians at Damascus knew all about Saul (Acts 9:1, 10). Ananias must have been stunned by the Lord's command to seek out this ruthless persecutor. His protests conveyed his fear of being hunted down, arrested, imprisoned, and ultimately martyred for following the new movement called "the Way" (9:2; 19:9, 23; 24:14, 22). But twice God commanded, "Go" (9:11, 15).

Fighting his fears, Ananias went. He prayed for an enemy of the faith to receive the Holy Spirit, then baptized him. By obeying, Ananias witnessed the spiritual birth of Christianity's foremost spokesperson. He also saw a dramatic demonstration that God's grace can overcome any past.

This account of Ananias invites us to ask who God might want us to approach with the message of His grace. It challenges us to search out people we consider least likely to respond to Christ. Maybe they too simply need us to reach out in faith and obedience.

Kingdom Mentoring

Acts 9:26–30

When Jesus commanded His disciples to "Go . . . and make disciples" (Matt. 28:19), their objective was not to collect followers for themselves but to win new disciples for their Lord.

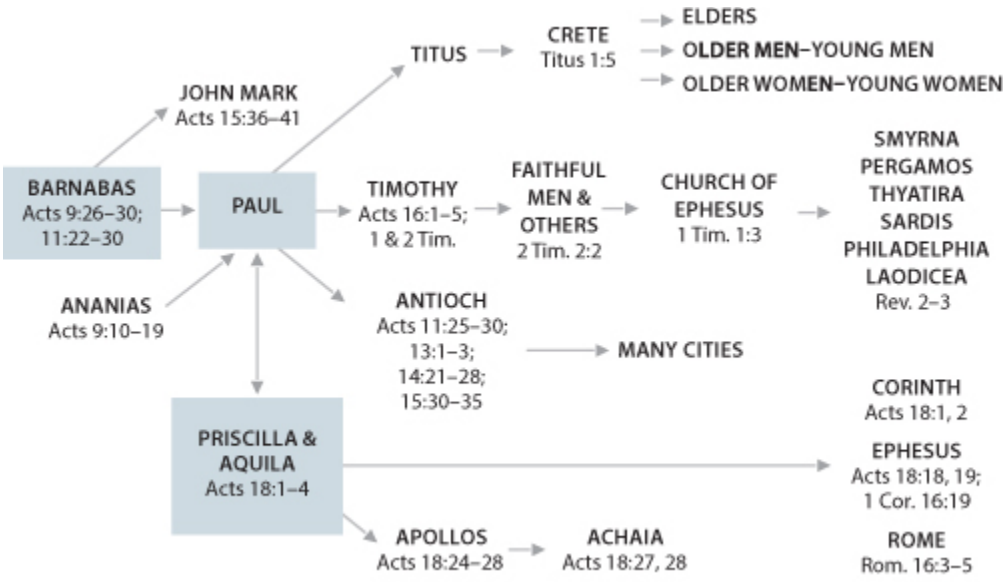
Acts recounts how the Spirit-filled apostles obeyed this command. They did not make disciples by bringing people to spiritual decisions and then leaving them to fend for themselves. The apostles instead poured themselves into the ongoing spiritual development of individuals and communities.

Mentoring is as old as the Odyssey of Homer (c. 900–810 B.C.), in which the protagonist Odysseus entrusts the education of his son Telemachus to his friend, named Mentor. A mentor is a trusted counselor or guide, often someone older and more experienced, who imparts valuable wisdom to help another person grow and mature.

The Old Testament is filled with mentoring relationships:

- Jethro the wealthy livestock owner helped his overworked son-in-law Moses learn to delegate authority (Ex. 18:1–27; see also "Practical Principles for Leadership" at Ex. 18:13–23 and "A Workaholic Intervention" at Ex. 18:18).
- Deborah, judge over Israel, summoned Barak to military leadership and pushed him to victory over the Canaanite king Jabin, securing forty years of peace (Judg. 4:4–24; see also Deborah's profile at Judg. 4:4 and Barak's profile at Judg. 4:6).
- Eli, a priest of the Lord who failed as a father, successfully raised young Samuel to succeed him (1 Sam. 1:1–3:21; see also Eli's profile at 1 Sam. 1:9 and Samuel's profile at 1 Sam. 3:1).
- The prophet Elijah oversaw the demise of Ahab and Jezebel, then passed his office on to young Elisha, who received a double portion of his spirit (2 Kin. 2:1–15; see also Elijah's profile at 1 Kin. 17:1 and Elisha's profile at 2 Kin. 2:3).

Mentoring relationships helped shape leading New Testament figures as well. Barnabas, a wealthy land owner in the early church, became an advocate and guide for Saul, the former enemy and persecutor of Christians (Acts 9:26–30; see also "Son of Encouragement" at Acts 4:36, 37 about Barnabas). In part because of the coaching and encouragement he received from Barnabas, Saul (later called Paul) became a central figure in the early church's efforts to spread the gospel. Paul went on to become a mentor to several other early Christians, notably Timothy, the young pastor of the church at Ephesus (see the introductions to 1 and 2 Timothy; see also the diagram below).



These illustrations and others from Scripture show four significant functions of a kingdom mentor:

1. Mentors actually care. They look for what they can give rather than what they can get. Yet they still value what they can learn from their protégés. They personify Paul's admonition to look out not only for their own interests but also for the interests of others (Phil. 2:4). See also "Kingdom-Style Mentoring" at 2 Timothy 2:2.
2. Mentors pass along wisdom, skills, and more. Their modeling and coaching eventually lead to handing responsibility over to their followers. Kingdom mentors strive to make their disciples even more capable than they themselves have been (Matt. 10:25).
3. Mentors correct their followers. Barnabas challenged Paul's negative attitude about John Mark and urged him to take the young disciple along on a second missionary journey (Acts 15:36–39). Paul later changed his perspective and asked Timothy to bring John Mark to him (2 Tim. 4:11). Kingdom mentors do not shy away from confrontation.
4. Mentors make meaningful connections. Saul's entrée into the early church community was Barnabas (Acts 9). Kingdom mentors introduce their protégés to relationships and resources that will further their development and increase their opportunities for growth and success.

When experienced followers of Jesus make the commitment to mentor Christians younger in the faith, they yield powerful results.

Individuals and entire communities benefit when the gospel transforms lives. Saul's conversion, for example, started a chain of mentoring relationships that extends through the rest of the New Testament, as can be seen on the accompanying diagram.

More: To learn more about mentoring relationships in the Bible, see "Old Testament Mentors" at 2 Kin. 2:13. Mentoring can mean the difference between success and failure in a person's life. See "Indispensable Role Models" at 2 Chr. 24:17–20.

Barnabas: A Model of Mentoring

Acts 9:27

Barnabas offered a clear demonstration of kingdom mentoring. As a model mentor, he . . .

- Befriended Saul (Paul) as a new believer (Acts 9:26, 27).
- Recruited a forgotten Saul from his home in Tarsus to a year-long project of helping him stabilize a new gathering of multiethnic Christians at Antioch (11:25, 26).
- Helped organize a team of leaders in prayer, fasting, and decision-making. The result was his launching out with Paul to spread the gospel to the West (13:1–3).
- Moved Paul to the forefront of leadership. "Barnabas and Saul" (13:7) became "Paul and his party" (13:13).
- Resisted ethnic hostility, personal attacks, and idol worship (13:46–14:20).
- Corrected misguided attempts at Lystra to revere him and Paul as gods (14:8–18).
- Took the lead with Paul in defending Gentile disciples before the Jerusalem church council (15:1–4, 12).
- Stood up to Paul's negative opinion of young John Mark (15:36–38).
- Gave John Mark a second chance, taking him along to Cyprus (15:39). He was vindicated years later when Paul described John Mark as "useful to me for ministry" (2 Tim. 4:11).

Cornelius
Acts 10:1

Home: Stationed in Caesarea, Rome's administrative center in Palestine.

Occupation: Centurion, a Roman officer who oversaw 100 soldiers; as head of the Italian Regiment, he probably had some 600 men under his command.

Best known as: The second recorded Gentile convert to Christianity (after the Ethiopian treasurer). A vision from God led him to fetch Simon Peter from 36 miles away.

Ethnic Prejudice—Followed by Resolution in Christ

Acts 10:34

While God never shows partiality, people often do. Luke punctuates his Acts account with incidents of ethnic prejudice—followed by their resolution in Christ. He shows that the door of faith is open to the whole world, both Jews and Gentiles.

Acts 1:8	Jesus sends His followers “to the end of the earth.”
Acts 2:5–12, 37–41	3,000 Hellenist Jews from throughout the Roman world come to faith at Pentecost.
Acts 6:1–7	Hellenist and native-born Jews reconcile. Stephen, Philip, and other Hellenist leaders emerge.
Acts 8:1, 4	Persecuted believers tell their story as they scatter from Jerusalem throughout Samaria.
Acts 8:5–8	Philip preaches the gospel to the Samaritans and multitudes respond.
Acts 8:14–17, 25	Peter and John visit new Samaritan believers, pray for them to receive the Spirit, and begin preaching in Samaritan cities.
Acts 8:26–40	Philip meets an official from Ethiopia and leads him to faith.
Acts 10:1–48	Peter baptizes Cornelius, a Roman centurion; relatives and close friends join him after seeing the Spirit at work.
Acts 11:19–26	The gospel spreads to Antioch and a multiethnic church is born.
Acts 13:1–14:26	Barnabas and Saul (Paul) take the gospel to Asia Minor, preaching first in synagogues before turning to the Gentiles.
Acts 15:1–33	A meeting at Jerusalem resolves the controversy over including Gentiles in the church.
Acts 16:1–4	Paul recruits Timothy, a young believer from a multiethnic and multifaith family.
Acts 17:16–34	Paul preaches to the intellectuals at Athens, and some respond in faith.

Acts 18:5–11	Paul speaks to the Gentiles at Corinth, establishing a multiethnic church.
Acts 21:17–36	Paul explains his Gentile ministry to the Christians at Jerusalem; he brings Greeks into the temple, causing a riot.

Ethnic Walls Break Down

Acts 10:44, 45

Acts 10 outlines a major breakthrough for the gospel in race relations. Since the first days of the church, animosity between Jews and Gentiles had kept the apostles from taking the news about Jesus beyond their own familiar world. But when Peter met Cornelius, an officer of Rome's occupation troops in Palestine, two transformations took place. Cornelius, his family, and his friends came to faith in Christ, and Peter at last realized that God was bringing Gentiles into the church—with or without his approval.

God could have used Philip the Evangelist (see "Four Glimpses of Philip" at Acts 8:5–13) to carry the gospel to Cornelius. Caesarea was Philip's hometown, and this Greek-speaking man had proven his ability to cross ethnic lines. But God called Peter to bring His message to the Roman centurion, and the barriers that had long stood in Peter's heart began to crumble.

How Peter Saw Cornelius the Centurion

When Peter looked at Cornelius, he saw . . .
