18Now Abishai the brother of Joab, the son of Zeruiah, was chief of another three.[d] He lifted his spear against three hundred men, killed them, and won a name among these three.

19Was he not the most honored of three? Therefore he became their captain. However, he did not attain to the first three.

20Benaiah was the son of Jehoiada, the son of a valiant man from Kabzeel, who had done many deeds. He had killed two lion-like heroes of Moab. He also had gone down and killed a lion in the midst of a pit on a snowy day.

21And he killed an Egyptian, a spectacular man. The Egyptian had a spear in his hand; so he went down to him with a staff, wrested the spear out of the Egyptian’s hand, and killed him with his own spear.

22These things Benaiah the son of Jehoiada did, and won a name among three mighty men.

23He was more honored than the thirty, but he did not attain to the first three. And David appointed him over his guard.

24Asahel the brother of Joab was one of the thirty; Elhanan the son of Dodo of Bethlehem,

25Shammah the Harodite, Elika the Harodite,

26Helez the Paltite, Ira the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite, 27Abiezer the Anathothite, Mebunnai the Hushathite,

[28]Zalmon the Ahohite, Maharai the Netophathite, [29]Heleb the son of Baanah (the Netophathite), Ittai the son of Ribai from Gibeah of the children of Benjamin,
[30]Benaiah a Pirathonite, Hiddai from the brooks of Gaash, [31]Abi-Albon the Arbathite, Azmaveth the Barhumite, [32]Eliahba the Shaalbonite (of the sons of Jashen), Jonathan, [33]Shammah the Hararite, Ahiam the son of Sharar the Hararite, [34]Eliphelet the son of Ahasbai, the son of the Maachathite, Eliam the son of Ahithophel the Gilonite, [35]Hezrai[e] the Carmelite, Paarai the Arbite,
[36]Igal the son of Nathan of Zobah, Bani the Gadite, [37]Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Beerothite (armorbearer of Joab the son of Zeruiah),
[38]Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,
[39]and Uriah the Hittite: thirty-seven in all.

2 Samuel 24

David's Census of Israel and Judah

1 Again the anger of the LORD was aroused against Israel, and He moved David against them to say, "Go, number Israel and Judah." A Temptation to Trust in Numbers

2 So the king said to Joab the commander of the army who was with him, "Now go throughout all the tribes of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, and count the people, that I may know the number of the people."

3 And Joab said to the king, "Now may the LORD your God add to the people a hundred times more than there are, and may the eyes of my lord the king see it. But why does my lord the king desire this thing?"

4 Nevertheless the king's word prevailed against Joab and against the captains of the army. Therefore Joab and the captains of the army went out from the presence of the king to count the people of Israel.

5 And they crossed over the Jordan and camped in Aroer, on the right side of the town which is in the midst of the ravine of Gad, and toward Jazer.

6 Then they came to Gilead and to the land of Tahtim
Hodshi; they came to Dan Jaan and around to Sidon;

7 and they came to the stronghold of Tyre and to all the cities of the Hivites and the Canaanites. Then they went out to South Judah as far as Beersheba.

8 So when they had gone through all the land, they came to Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days.

9 Then Joab gave the sum of the number of the people to the king. And there were in Israel eight hundred thousand valiant men who drew the sword, and the men of Judah were five hundred thousand men.

The Judgment on David's Sin

10And David's heart condemned him after he had numbered the people. So David said to the LORD, "I have sinned greatly in what I have done; but now, I pray, O LORD, take away the iniquity of Your servant, for I have done very foolishly."

11Now when David arose in the morning, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Gad, David's seer, saying,

12"Go and tell David, 'Thus says the LORD: "I offer you three things; choose one of them for yourself, that I may do it to you." ' "

13So Gad came to David and told him; and he said to him, "Shall seven[a] years of famine come to you in your land? Or shall you flee three months before your enemies, while they pursue you? Or shall there be three days' plague in your land? Now consider and see what answer I should take back to Him who sent me."

14And David said to Gad, "I am in great distress. Please let us fall into the hand of the LORD, for His mercies are great; but do not let me fall into the hand of man."

15So the LORD sent a plague upon Israel from the morning till the appointed time. From Dan to Beersheba seventy thousand men of the people died.

16And when the angel[b] stretched out His hand over Jerusalem to destroy it, the LORD relented from the destruction, and said to the angel who was destroying the people, "It is enough; now restrain your hand." And the angel of the LORD was by the threshing floor of Araunah[c] the Jebusite.

17Then David spoke to the LORD when he saw the angel who was striking the people, and said, "Surely I have sinned, and I have done wickedly; but these sheep, what have they done? Let Your hand, I pray, be against me and against my father's house."

The Altar on the Threshing Floor

18And Gad came that day to David and said to him, “Go up, erect an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.”
19So David, according to the word of Gad, went up as the LORD commanded.
20Now Araunah looked, and saw the king and his servants coming toward him. So Araunah went out and bowed before the king with his face to the ground.
21Then Araunah said, “Why has my lord the king come to his servant?” And David said, “To buy the threshing floor from you, to build an altar to the LORD, that the plague may be withdrawn from the people.”
22Now Araunah said to David, “Let my lord the king take and offer up whatever seems good to him. Look, here are oxen for burnt sacrifice, and threshing implements and the yokes of the oxen for wood.
23“All these, O king, Araunah has given to the king.” And Araunah said to the king, “May the LORD your God accept
you.”
24Then the king said to Araunah, “No, but I will surely buy it from you for a price; nor will I offer burnt offerings to the LORD my God with that which costs me nothing.” So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.
25And David built there an altar to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD heeded the prayers for the land, and the plague was withdrawn from Israel.

We Truly Do Influence History

2 Sam. 2:9–20

After Saul's death, David did not immediately take the throne of a united kingdom. He was initially crowned king of Judah, which he ruled from the city of Hebron for seven and a half years (2 Sam. 2:1–7, 11).

For much of this period, David and Saul's heirs fought a bitter civil war (3:1). Saul's son Ishbosheth (or Esh-Baal, 1 Chr. 8:33; 9:39) attempted to establish a kingdom in the north. He was aided by Abner, Saul's leading general (1 Sam. 2:8, 9). Much blood was spilled deciding whether David or Ishbosheth would ultimately rule Israel (2 Sam. 2:12–4:12).

This tragic period arose from the people's insistence that the Lord give them a king (1 Sam. 8:4–9, 19–22). Had they waited for God to appoint a ruler in His time, the heartbreaking events of Saul's reign might never have happened, and the nation could have avoided the years of civil war that followed his death.

David's rapid advancement from shepherd to king did not translate into success at home. While his stature as king-designate "grew stronger and stronger," his family fractured.

At Hebron, six different wives each bore David a son as he used marriage to reinforce political alliances, a common practice for ancient kings but a foolish choice for David. His polygamy violated God's law (Deut. 17:17) and caused major problems at home. David's son Amnon, for example, raped his half-sister Tamar, then was killed by Absalom, her avenging brother. These events led to the estrangement between Absalom and his father, which ended in treason and death (2 Sam. 13–18).

David's polygamy set a poor precedent for his son and successor Solomon, who expanded his kingdom while taking seven hundred wives and three hundred concubines. As God had predicted, these women turned his heart to idols (1 Kin. 11:3). The Lord judged Solomon's sin by allowing the kingdom to fracture after his death (11:9–13).

David's life demonstrates the biblical principle that the sins of parents can extend "to the third and fourth generations" (Ex. 20:5). It reflects the human reality that the choices we make to further our careers or other interests may cause lasting harm to our immediate families and far beyond.

Think About It: Polygamy was socially acceptable. What family actions that are socially acceptable does God want you to refuse? What does He want you to do instead, and how will this benefit your children or the children you encounter regularly?

Political Marriages

2 Sam. 3:13, 14

David's marriage to Michal, a daughter of Saul, was largely political, reflecting the questionable practice of using marriage to seal treaties, alliances, and other agreements. The relationship began as Saul's influence was falling and David's was rising. The king provided David an opportunity to enhance his standing by marrying into the royal family, offering his older daughter Merab to David with the stipulation that he vanquish the Philistines.

Saul hoped that David would be killed in battle (1 Sam. 18:12–17). When David declined Saul's offer (18:18, 19), the king offered his daughter Michal, who loved David (18:20–25). David agreed, and after he returned from battle unharmed, the two were betrothed (18:26, 27). The couple may never have formally married, or Saul may have refused to acknowledge their union and given her as a wife to a man named Palti (1 Sam. 25:44). When David came to power, he demanded Michal's return as a condition of an agreement with Abner.

David also formed other political marriages (2 Sam. 3:2–5), as did his son Solomon (1 Kin. 11:1–3), in direct violation of the Law (Deut. 17:17).

The Bible's teachings make political unions difficult to justify. Instead of honoring marriage as the holy union that God ordained, they treated marriage as a political tool (Gen. 2:21–24). Political unions demean women, making them little more than objects to be bought and sold. And a man who marries for political purposes is unlikely to serve his wife as God intends (compare Eph. 5:25–33).

Political marriage may seem like an archaic custom, but powerful families and organizations still bind themselves together through marriage. The unhappiness that often arises from political unions should remind us that marriage is a holy institution not to be treated lightly. Any attempts to repurpose marriage undermine the blessings God intended for spouses to enjoy.

Zion

2 Sam. 5:7

- Hill where the fortified city of Jebus (Jerusalem) was built; possibly the name of the fortress as well.

- Purportedly impregnable but captured by David, who renamed it the City of David (2 Sam. 5:7; not to be confused with Bethlehem, Luke 2:4, 11).
- Later included the temple area that Solomon built on adjacent Mount Moriah (for example, Ps. 2:6; 132:13).
- Eventually used as a symbolic name for Jerusalem, the land of Judah, and the people of Israel as a whole (Is. 40:9; 60:14; Jer. 31:12; Zech. 9:13).
- Came to signify God's presence in the city's structures and in His people (for example, Ps. 48).
- Appears late in the New Testament as the heavenly Jerusalem, or city of God (Heb. 12:22).

The Start of a Long Friendship
2 Sam. 5:11

Hiram of Tyre's diplomatic initiative with the new king of Israel was perhaps the smartest investment he ever made. His trade with David blossomed into a friendship with David's successor Solomon, which resulted in a lucrative contract to provide cedar and other resources for the temple. Discover how Hiram's alliance with Solomon boosted his country's economy in "Sparing No Expense" at 1 Kings 5:5.

Steadfast Mercy
2 Sam. 7:15

God's covenant with David was based on His steadfast mercy (Hebrew: chesed), a kindness He promised to extend to Solomon (2 Sam. 7:14). Here the term mercy signified God's commitment to His promises. Even though Solomon eventually turned away from the Lord, God judged his sin in a way that preserved His agreement with David (1 Kin. 11:11–13). David: Praiseworthy but Not Perfect
2 Sam. 7:18–22

David's humility underscored the Lord's initial assessment: David was a man after God's own heart (1 Sam. 13:14). David trusted God and strove to live according to the Lord's commands. But he could make no claim to perfection. Both triumphs and failures filled his life.

David's Spiritual Triumphs

Incident	Results
Trusted God to help him battle Goliath (1 Sam. 17:37).	Killed Goliath and led Israel's army in victory (1 Sam. 17:48–54).
Twice spared Saul's life (1 Sam. 24:1–7; 26:7–12).	Demonstrated he was more righteous than Saul (1 Sam. 24:16–21; 26:21).
Listened to Abigail and spared Nabal's life (1 Sam. 25:23–35).	Proved himself more compassionate and just than Saul (compare 1 Sam. 22:16–19).
Consulted God before assuming the throne (2 Sam. 2:1).	Became king over Judah at Hebron (2 Sam. 2:2–4).

David's Spiritual Triumphs

Incident	Results
Relocated the ark of the covenant to Jerusalem (2 Sam. 6).	Consolidated worship at Jerusalem and established his throne there.
Wanted to build the Lord a temple (2 Sam. 7:1, 2).	Learned that God would establish his kingdom forever (2 Sam. 7:12–16).
Honored his pledge to Jonathan by showing kindness to Mephibosheth (2 Sam. 9).	Won his subjects' loyalty.
Repented of his sins toward Bathsheba and Uriah (2 Sam. 12:13; Ps. 51).	Received the Lord's forgiveness (2 Sam. 12:13).

David's Spiritual Failures

Incident	Results
Took many wives for himself (2 Sam. 3:2–5; 5:13–16; compare Deut. 17:17).	• Complicated his domestic life. • Set a corrupt precedent for Solomon (compare 1 Kin. 11:1–4).
Allowed Joab to exterminate 18,000 Edomites (2 Sam. 8:13, 14; 1 Kin. 11:15, 16).	Created a permanent adversary for Solomon (1 Kin. 11:14, 19–22).
Committed adultery with Bathsheba and sent her husband Uriah to his death (2 Sam. 11).	• Caused fighting among his descendants (2 Sam. 12:10; 13:1–33) and rebellion within his family (12:11; 15:1–12; 1 Kin. 1:5–10). • Invited public violation of his wives (2 Sam. 12:11, 12; 16:21, 22). • Caused Bathsheba's child to die (12:14–19).
Took a census that God had not ordered (2 Sam. 24:1–9).	Caused the deaths of 70,000 Israelites (2 Sam. 24:15–17).

This authentic portrait of David gives us perspective on our own triumphs and failures, teaching us not to excuse our shortcomings but to honestly admit them to God and seek His forgiveness (1 John 1:8, 9). When we do, we can confidently expect Him to continue working in us (Phil. 1:6) because we are destined to be conformed to the image of Christ (Rom. 8:29).

Brutality Repeats Itself

2 Sam. 8:13, 14

David made a name for himself in the Valley of Salt, a wasteland plain likely southwest of the Dead Sea. However, while his exploits amplified his reputation among his own people, they created lasting bitterness among others that would haunt his successor Solomon.

The fame that David won cost the lives of eighteen thousand Syrians, probably people of Edom. God had explicitly commanded His people not to "abhor" the Edomites, who were descended from a common ancestor, Isaac (Deut. 23:7, 8). Yet David allowed Joab, his general, to pursue a six-month campaign of genocide "until he had cut down every male in Edom" (1 Kin. 11:15, 16). This delighted the Israelites, who had long hated the Edomites (see "Pain That Leads to Prejudice" at Num. 20:14–21).

An Edomite boy named Hadad watched the slaughter but escaped to Egypt with his father's servants. He never forgot what he witnessed. Years later, after David had died and his son Solomon had turned from the Lord, Hadad returned to Palestine, where he perpetually challenged Solomon (1 Kin. 11:14, 19–22).

Solomon bore the brunt of David and Joab's brutal ethnic policies. The terrible repercussions of this legacy remind us to consider how we will be remembered by others—especially by our enemies. God commands us to love our enemies even when they seek our downfall (Matt. 5:38–44). Our actions should reflect the grace that God has given to us, which is far greater than any recognition we could earn for ourselves.

More: This passage in 1 Samuel describes David's campaign against the Edomites as a victory, but Ps. 60, written in response to the conflict, presents it more as a defeat. It is unclear when David composed the song, but it provides a larger perspective on an event that brought fame to the king but a legacy of pain to many others.

How David Structured His Government

2 Sam. 8:16–18

David built the monarchy with a well-organized team of aides. An outline of his cabinet shows how he structured his government:

- Administrative duties were supervised by David's sons (2 Sam. 3:2–5; 5:13, 14). David further extended his powerful reach through garrisons, governors, and vassal kings (8:6, 14), a system Solomon later streamlined by naming twelve district governors who included two sons-in-law.
- Records detailing David's exploits and decisions were compiled by Jehoshaphat, the king's official recorder. The scribe Seraiah also served David. Later scribes concentrated on copying, editing, and teaching the Law, but scribes of the monarchy were similar to chancellors or secretaries of state.
- Legal matters fell to David as he assumed tasks previously managed by judges. He set the tone for his kingdom by determining policy, deciding legal questions, prosecuting offenses, and appointing judges (1 Chr. 26:29).
- The military was under Joab's command, but Benaiah led the Cherethites and Pelethites, non-Israelite tribes that probably served as David's mercenary bodyguards.
- Religious affairs were supervised by the priests Zadok and Ahimelech. The latter was the grandson of Ahimelech the priest at Nob, who was killed by Saul for helping David (1 Sam. 21–22).

Keeping Kindnesses

2 Sam. 9:1–13

Scripture presents David as a rare leader who kept his promises. He earlier swore to show "kindness" (Hebrew: chesed) to Jonathan's descendants (1 Sam. 20:11–16, 42). After ascending to the throne, he searched out his friend's relatives, and when Jonathan's son Mephibosheth was found, David gave him a place at the royal table, treating him like one of his own sons.

David's example challenges us to follow through, and to keep our word. We can easily rationalize broken agreements, especially when circumstances and relationships change. David kept his word despite Jonathan's death and the efforts of Jonathan's father to exterminate David. The Lord takes covenants seriously. Like David, we should uphold our promises even when it seems as though we would not be held accountable for not following through (see "Watch the Promises You Make" at Num. 30:2).

Mephibosheth
2 Sam. 9:6

Name means: "From the Mouth of [the] Shame[ful] god Baal."

Also known as: Merib-Baal (possibly meaning "Contender Against Baal"; 1 Chr. 8:34).

Not to be confused with: A son of Saul executed by the Gibeonites (2 Sam. 21:7, 8).

Home: Lo Debar, a city east of the Jordan River (9:4); later lived in Jerusalem as a result of David's kindness.

Family: Son of Jonathan; grandson of Saul; raised by a family nurse whose hasty flight caused an accident that saved his life but permanently damaged both of his feet; father of Micha.

Best known as: The descendant of Saul who was shown kindness by David because of David's covenant with his friend Jonathan (1 Sam. 20:11–16, 42).

A Man Born to War

2 Sam. 10:7

Joab was a born warrior who cared little what a fight was about as long as he was in it. Scripture records his many successes as David's military leader, defeating the Jebusites (2 Sam. 5:7; 1 Chr. 11:6), the Edomites (2 Sam. 8:13, 14; 1 Kin. 11:15, 16), the Syrians (2 Sam. 10:6–14), and the Ammonites (11:1, 2, 14–25; 12:26–29). During this last conquest Joab became an accomplice in David's plot to kill Uriah.

Joab's political instincts seemed based on expediency and self-preservation. He mediated between David and his estranged son Absalom (14:1–33) but later killed Absalom (18:10–16) and urged David to move past his son's death in order to avoid mutiny (19:1–8). To advance his own position, Joab killed Abner (3:22–39) and Amasa (20:8–10). His treacherous support of Adonijah's bid to succeed David (1 Kin. 1:7) cost him his life (2:5, 6, 28–35).

Think About It: What is a Christian's role in the military? Some see themselves as peacekeepers. Others as wise advisors. Still others as both. How could you best serve God through the military, learning from Joab's choices?

Admit Early, Don't Cover Up

2 Sam. 11:4, 5

The account of David's adulterous affair with Bathsheba notes that the king remained at home in Jerusalem while his armies went to war, perhaps suggesting that David's immoral acts were connected to his failure to be in the right place exercising his role as commander. But whatever the reason David fell into sin, most of the biblical account focuses not on the affair itself but on David's attempt to conceal Bathsheba's pregnancy (2 Sam. 11:6–27). David tried three times to hide his sin:

- Plan A was to make the pregnancy look like a result of relations between Bathsheba and her husband Uriah. But Uriah would not allow himself to enjoy the comforts of home while the rest of David's troops were deployed (11:6–11).
- Plan B was to get Uriah drunk enough to abandon his principles and spend a night with his wife. But Uriah again stayed principled (11:12, 13).
- Plan C was to move Uriah to the front of an attack and sacrifice him to the enemy, making his death look like a casualty of war and allowing David to embrace the grieving widow as his wife (11:14–27).

Plan C was not carried out without consequences. David was the Lord's anointed (12:7). By violating Bathsheba and arranging Uriah's death, David "despised the commandment of the LORD" (12:9). So the Lord sent Nathan to expose David's sin and pronounce judgment (12:9–12).

David admitted his sin (12:13) and repented of his wrongdoing, turning to God for forgiveness and a renewed relationship (Ps. 51). Though God forgave David (2 Sam. 12:13), the child conceived by the king and Bathsheba died. The Lord later blessed their union with another child, Solomon (12:24).

Nevertheless, David's life and legacy were permanently affected by this repeatedly scandalous series of choices.

Adultery and murder are grievous offenses (Lev. 20:10; Deut. 5:17, 18). But in God's sight, our attempts to cover up sin rather than come clean are just as unbearable (Ps. 51:17; Prov. 6:16–19; 1 John 1:8, 9).

Nathan
2 Sam. 12:1

Name means: “He Gave.”

Not to be confused with: Six other figures in the Bible named Nathan, including a son of David by Bathsheba listed by Luke as Christ’s ancestor (2 Sam. 5:14; 1 Chr. 3:5; Zech. 12:12; Luke 3:31).

Home: Jerusalem.

Occupation: Prophet.

Best known for: Telling a parable about a stolen lamb in order to expose the king’s adultery with Bathsheba and murder of her husband Uriah (2 Sam. 12:1–14).

Think About It: Nathan used his words carefully and in a specific order. This made it more probable that David would hear and respond redemptively to the message. How, and in what situations, will you communicate similarly to Nathan?

2 Sam. 12:7

If David was a man after God’s own heart (1 Sam. 13:14), then Nathan was God’s gift to the man who aimed to follow the Lord in every part of life.

Nathan arrived on the scene when David sought to build the Lord a temple (2 Sam. 7:1, 2). The prophet revealed God’s promise to establish David's dynasty forever and His choice of David's heir to construct the temple (7:3–17).

Nathan's next appearance followed David's affair with Bathsheba. He gained the king's sympathy with a parable about the theft of a poor man's lone sheep by a rich man with many flocks. When David exclaimed that the rich man deserved death for his pitiless act, Nathan confronted David with the stinging accusation, "You are the man!"

Nathan's prophecy of adversity for David's house (12:10–12) came to pass with Amnon's rape of Tamar (13:1–20), Absalom's murder of Amnon (13:21–29), and Absalom's rebellion against his father and violation of the king's concubines (15:1–18; 16:20–23).

By reminding David of his promise to make Solomon his successor, Nathan helped prevent another of the king's sons, Adonijah, from seizing the throne (1 Kin. 1:11–27). He also assisted in the crowning of Solomon (1:32–40).

More: Confronting others about their sin requires wisdom and expressed care. Look to Jesus' teaching in Matt. 18:15–20 to see His balance between honest confrontation and compassionate restoration. Note that He followed this teaching with a parable about forgiveness (Matt. 18:21–35).

I Have Sinned

2 Sam. 12:13

David's simple confession to Nathan condensed his much longer prayer of repentance and plea for cleansing in Psalm 51. In response to David's admission, Nathan replied that God had "put away" David's sin. The Lord's ready forgiveness reveals His delight in pardoning repentant sinners. Absalom

2 Sam. 13:1

Name means: “Father of Peace.”

Home: Born in Hebron; fled in exile to Geshur (Syria) for three years; returned to Hebron (2 Sam. 3:3; 13:37, 38; 15:9).

Family: Third son of David by his Syrian wife Maacah; brother of Tamar; father of three unnamed sons and a beautiful daughter named Tamar, presumably after his sister.

Occupation: Heir in line to the throne of David after Amnon and Chileab.

Special interests: Employed sheepshearers in Ephraim’s hill country (13:23).

Best known as: David’s rebellious son who met his death after his head (or possibly his hair) was caught in a terebinth tree, pulling him from his mule and leaving him suspended in the branches, making him easy prey for Joab (18:9–15).

More: Absalom started his life with remarkable privilege but ended it in failure. See “A Father’s Anguish” at 2 Sam. 18:33. To gain insight into David’s thoughts as he fled Jerusalem during Absalom’s rebellion, see Ps. 3.

Think About It: No matter what your family background, you choose the person you will become. What habits are you establishing to develop a reputation as someone who follows God wholeheartedly?

Drunkenness in the Bible

2 Sam. 13:28

Misusing anything in God's creation is sinful, and Scripture includes many stories that expose the serious social, moral, and spiritual problems that can result from misusing alcohol. Absalom's strategy of getting Amnon drunk in order to facilitate his murder is just one of many examples.

Amnon (2 Sam. 13:28, 29)	David's oldest son was murdered while drunk, by his half brother Absalom.
Ahasuerus (Esth. 1:10)	The drunken Persian king commanded Queen Vashti to display herself at a royal binge; when she refused, he removed her as queen.
Belshazzar (Dan. 5)	After the Babylonian king served wine in gold vessels seized from the temple at Jerusalem, a hand appeared and scrawled his fate on the wall; he was slain that night.
Ben-Hadad (1 Kin. 20:16)	The Syrian ruler hosted thirty-two kings for a drunken frenzy before the Israelites attacked.
Elah (1 Kin. 16:9)	Israel's fourth king was murdered while intoxicated.
Job's children (Job 1:4, 5)	The constant partying of Job's wealthy offspring caused him to worry that they had cursed God; he offered sacrifices on their behalf.
Lot (Gen. 19:32, 33)	After surviving the brimstone that fell on Sodom, Lot became drunk and committed incest with his daughters.
Nabal (1 Sam. 25:36, 37)	The man whose name meant "Fool" drank himself into a stupor the night before his wife revealed her conversation with David; his "heart died within him," and he passed away ten days later.
Nadab and Abihu	May have been intoxicated when they offered "profane fire"; the Lord consequently prohibited the

(Lev. 10:1, 9)	priests from drinking on duty.
Noah (Gen. 9:21–25)	Embarrassed his sons in a naked, drunken stupor, then cursed Canaan and his descendants.
Uriah (2 Sam. 11:13)	David got Uriah drunk in a futile attempt to cause him to sleep with his wife and thus mask David's sin of adultery.

Think About It: Which of the above might you be most prone to do? How will that convince you to stop using or abusing alcohol? Would God want you to take a vow, similar to the Nazirites, to abstain from all alcohol?

2 Sam. 14:24

David and his son Absalom shared a troubled relationship that deteriorated into estrangement, exploded into open rebellion (2 Sam. 15:1–12), and ended in a tragic death (18:9–15, 33). Scripture also records other fathers and sons who experienced profound conflict:

Noah and Ham (Gen. 9:20–27)	After his son Ham exposed Noah's drunken nakedness, Noah cursed Ham's son Canaan and his descendants.
Isaac and Jacob (Gen. 25:28; 27:1–40)	Jacob manipulated his father into giving him the blessing that belonged to his brother Esau.
Eli and Hophni and Phinehas (1 Sam. 2:22–36)	When Eli's sons ignored his reprimand for abusing their position as priests, God's judgment fell on the entire family.
Samuel and Joel and Abijah	Samuel sent his ungodly sons to Beersheba, a distant location possibly meant to minimize their

(1 Sam. 8:1–6)	harm to the Israelites; their wickedness nevertheless caused the people to demand a king.
The father and his two sons in Jesus' Parable of the Lost Son (Luke 15:11–32)	After squandering his inheritance, the repentant prodigal returned home; his overjoyed father threw a party, which angered the loyal son.

2 Sam. 14:26

Absalom's long, thick hair weighed several pounds when cut each year. He must have been proud; the Israelites considered a full head of hair a sign of vigor, and baldness was seen as a disgrace (2 Kin. 2:23). Ironically, the deaths of both Samson (Judg. 13:3–5; 16:17) and Absalom were related to their hair. When Samson disclosed to Delilah that his hair was the secret of his strength, the Philistines cut it and paraded him in the temple of Dagon at Gaza, where he avenged himself and ended his life (16:15–30). When Absalom fled from his army's defeat in the forest of Ephraim, his head became caught in a terebinth tree and he was dragged off his horse. His hair may have caused the mishap, which made him an easy target for his pursuers (2 Sam. 18:9–15).

More: Refraining from cutting hair was one of three commitments in a Nazirite vow. Learn about the other two in "The Nazirite Vow" at Num. 6:2. For more on Absalom, see his profile at 2 Sam. 13:1.

2 Sam. 15:1–6

Absalom "stole the hearts of the men of Israel" by leading them to believe he could fix their woes if he were in power. He chose a site that would have been important to Israel's justice system, placing himself near "the gate," signifying either the city gate, where commercial, civic, and judicial business was transacted (see "The Gates of Hell" at Matt. 16:18), or the palace gate. He intercepted people seeking legal redress from David, the arbiter of legal matters in the kingdom (see "How David Structured His Government" at 2 Sam. 8:16–18).

Absalom claimed that there was not anyone to hear the people's complaints but that he would provide justice if he had the necessary authority. His manipulative behavior probably painted a picture of the king as an inefficient, uncaring despot. Meanwhile, it was Absalom who was making empty promises by telling any and every visitor that his case was in the right.

Think About It: What questions can you ask to find out if someone's offers of "help" are trustworthy? When has your heart been stolen, or almost stolen, by a manipulator? From here on out how will you follow the biblical command to guard your heart?

2 Sam. 15:14–18, 23

David composed Psalm 3 when he was forced to flee Jerusalem. Facing a rebellion by his own subjects that was led by his own son must have been humiliating, but David took comfort in the Lord's faithfulness.

The flight of David and his servants was just one of many occasions when David took refuge in the wilderness. Psalm 63, which voices David's prayer to God "in a dry and thirsty land" (Ps. 63:1), may have also been written during this time.

Think About It: What are wise ways to flee trouble? What ways cause more trouble?

Ahithophel

2 Sam. 17:14

Name means: "Brother of Folly."

Home: Giloh, near Hebron, in the hill country of Judah (2 Sam. 15:12).

Family: Father of Eliam, one of David's mighty men; possibly the grandfather of Bathsheba.

Occupation: Advisor to King David and later to Absalom (16:23). Absalom took Ahithophel's advice to lie with David's concubines (16:21), an act that fulfilled Nathan's prophecy (12:11, 12) and declared that Absalom had seized the throne.

Best known as: David's counselor who sided with Absalom in his ill-fated rebellion, then committed suicide when Absalom followed another man's bad advice (15:12; 17:23).

Think About It: In hindsight, Ahithophel was an obviously bad advisor. But David must not have recognized this. Getting good advice is compounded by many factors. One of these is the desire to hear what we want to hear. When have you sought good advice, but actually followed bad advice? What's the solution?

A Father's Anguish
2 Sam. 18:33

The tragic account of David's son Absalom is a story of . . .

- Appearance. Absalom was renowned as Israel's most handsome man. His long, thick hair was a point of pride, weighing several pounds when cut each year (2 Sam. 14:25, 26).
- Affluence. Absalom enjoyed all the benefits of a royal family whose empire was on the rise. Hiram of Tyre had built David a palace of cedar (5:11; 7:1, 2), and Absalom may have had a home several miles north of Jerusalem at Baal Hazor, where he employed sheepshearers (13:23).
- Advantage. Absalom was next in line to the throne after his half brothers Amnon and Chileab. He must have held a special place in his father's heart, because even after Absalom killed Amnon, David longed to be with his son (13:39).
- Anger. Absalom avenged the rape of his sister Tamar by luring Amnon to his country home, where his servants killed Amnon after dinner (13:1–29).
- Ambition. Reinstated after two years of exile, Absalom built a following without arousing David's suspicions (15:1–6). He then launched a rebellion to depose his father (15:7–18). His ultimate act of defiance, violating his father's concubines, was an open declaration that he had seized the throne (16:20–22; see also "Admit Early, Don't Cover Up" at 2 Sam. 11:4, 5).
- Anguish. Under Joab's seasoned command, David's troops thoroughly defeated Absalom's army, and an odd mishap ended Absalom's life (18:6–15). But despite regaining his throne, David despaired over his son's death (18:33–19:4). Just as the prophet Nathan had predicted, David's sin with Bathsheba reaped tragic consequences for his family (12:7–12).

A Gracious King
2 Sam. 19:22, 23

David's treatment of Shimei showed grace in a moment when vindictiveness may have been a natural reaction. David could have demanded Shimei's death for cursing him as he fled Absalom (2 Sam. 16:5–8). But when Shimei admitted his wrongdoing and begged for forgiveness, David pardoned him and swore that he would not die. In this the king mirrored the Lord's grace toward sinners who confess their sins to Him. See "Confessions That Bring Healing" at 1 Samuel 15:24.

Think About It: How can you tell when it's a time to show grace, or a time to give punishment?

A Spiritual Cause to a Natural Event
2 Sam. 21:1

God said that Saul's violation of Israel's peace treaty with the Gibeonites (Josh. 9:15, 19–21) caused the three-year famine during David's reign. This shows that political commitments have spiritual implications. God takes people at their word, expecting both groups and individuals to honor their commitments. Breaking a covenant is a sin against our God, who always keeps His promises.

The famine also demonstrates that natural events sometimes have spiritual causes. Famines, floods, and other natural disasters have natural causes, but Scripture describes many episodes in which God sovereignly ordained these events for spiritual reasons.

Songs to Celebrate God's Blessings

2 Sam. 22:2

When David realized that God had given him peace from his enemies, he composed a song to celebrate the Lord's goodness (compare Ps. 18). Other Old Testament figures also responded to God's blessings with singing:

Event	Song
Israel is rescued from 400 years of slavery under Pharaoh.	Moses and Miriam lead a song of celebration (Ex. 15:1–21).
Israel is liberated by Deborah from Canaanite rule.	Deborah and Barak recap the victory in song (Judg. 5:1–31).
Hannah and Elkanah have a son, Samuel, after years of barrenness.	Hannah rejoices in song (1 Sam. 2:1–10).
Israel defeats their long-standing enemies, the Philistines.	David praises God (2 Sam. 22:1–51).
The ark arrives in Jerusalem, signaling Israel's supremacy in Canaan.	David commissions songwriters to compose songs of praise and thanksgiving (1 Chr. 16:7–36).
Solomon is in love with a	He and she pen to one another a love

A Temptation to Trust in Numbers

2 Sam. 24:1

David's census of Israel was one of seven major numberings of the people in Scripture. The Bible's record raises several questions about the count. Second Samuel attributes the census to "the anger of the LORD," while the parallel account in 1 Chronicles attributes it to Satan (1 Chr. 21:1). One solution to this apparent discrepancy is the fact that the Old Testament presents Satan as a fallen angel who exercises only as much power as the Lord allows him (for example, Job 1–2; Zech. 3:1–5), not unlike the angel of destruction described in 2 Samuel 24:16. God apparently allowed Satan to incite David to number the people. Thus both accounts are accurate; they merely provide different perspectives.

David's reason for counting his subjects was probably to assess his military strength, much like Moses' second census (Num. 1:2, 3). David found eight hundred thousand men in Israel eligible for military service, in addition to five hundred thousand men in Judah (2 Sam. 24:9), more than double the previous head count. The Bible does not explain why this census displeased the Lord. David may have begun to trust the size of his army more than the Lord's power. Whatever the reason, God punished David for conducting the census and reduced his forces with a plague that killed seventy thousand men (24:15; 1 Chr. 21:14).

Moral and spiritual choices have long-term consequences. We may not always foresee the outcomes of our decisions, but we can be certain that if we sow seeds of righteousness, we will reap righteous fruit. If we sow rebellion and sin, we will find our harvest bitter.

The books of 1 and 2 Kings illustrate this principle. They open with God's people mourning the death of King David; though David's life and reign were far from perfect and even sowed rebellion at times, the people are heartbroken to lose a righteous monarch whose godly government yielded lasting benefits for the nation. Under David's son Solomon, Israel briefly becomes an empire, righteousness prevails, and the people prosper.

But after having reached its zenith, Israel suddenly abandoned the Lord. Kings revived idolatry. Priests and the people ignored the Law, even misplacing portions of God's Word for generations. After the nation permanently split into two domains, the northern kingdom of Israel never again followed God. The southern kingdom of Judah entered a slow decline interrupted by seasons of revitalization but heading toward its eventual ruin all the same. Foreigners eventually overran both kingdoms and took the people into exile—the very consequences God had warned His people about centuries earlier (Deut. 28:63–65).

The books of 1 and 2 Kings were originally a single composition joined to 1 and 2 Samuel. While Samuel details the rise and reign of David, Kings recounts events after David departs from the scene. The books are organized around the reigns of David's successors.

No subsequent king ever equaled David, although it appeared at first that David's son Solomon would surpass him. Solomon built on his father's heritage, distinguishing himself by asking the Lord for wisdom rather than wealth or honor (1 Kin. 3:5–14). God rewarded Solomon's devotion by allowing him to construct a magnificent temple and to establish the nation as a prominent trading power with a well-organized government and strongly defended borders.

However, despite his matchless wisdom, Solomon also displayed great foolishness, breaking every guideline prescribed for Israel's kings (see "Criteria for a King" at Deut. 17:14–20). His most serious violation was his marrying foreign women to secure political, military, and economic benefits (see "Political Marriages" at 2 Sam. 3:13, 14). These unions turned his heart from the Lord (see "How Marriage Matters" at 1 Kin. 11:1–3).

In response to Solomon's unfaithfulness, God vowed to tear part of the kingdom away from the king's son (11:11–13), and the nation was soon torn in two. The southern kingdom of Judah (the tribes of Judah and Benjamin) continued to be ruled by kings in David's line. The northern kingdom of Israel (composed of the remaining ten tribes) was led by its own succession of kings, several of whom usurped the throne.

None of Israel's kings followed God. The first king, Jeroboam, built worship centers at Bethel and Dan to keep the people from returning to Jerusalem (see the map at "Using Religion for Political Gain" at 1 Kin. 12:25–31); in time the nation became devoted to idolatry. In 722 B.C. the Assyrians captured Israel's capital, Samaria, and deported many of its citizens to Mesopotamia (2 Kin. 17:1–18), effectively terminating the northern kingdom. Judah survived only a few generations longer (25:1–21).

A crucial lesson of 1 and 2 Kings is that faithfulness to God involves more than formal religious observance. It extends to every dimension of life, including the political, economic, and social arenas. Faith involves not only our private lives but also our public lives, and God is concerned not only with the lives of individuals but also of communities and nations.

No one knows who composed 1 and 2 Kings. Some scholars have argued that Jeremiah is the author of 1 and 2 Kings, apart from the final appended historical notice (2 Kin. 25:27–30). Others posit that several contributors must have recorded the information that spans from the death of David in about 971 B.C. to the fall of Jerusalem in 587 B.C. Early written sources may have been compiled into a single volume after the beginning of the Exile.

The territory of Israel is the center of action for the books 1 and 2 Kings. But the entire Middle East ultimately plays a part as people enter the scene from Egypt, Ethiopia, and Sheba to the south and west, as well as Phoenicia, Syria, and Mesopotamia to the north and east (see the map at "The Cedar Trade" at 1 Kin. 7:2).

Key People in 1 Kings

- Adonijah, fourth son of David, who failed to become king despite military and priestly support (1 Kin. 1:5).
- Bathsheba, a woman who married King David after he arranged for her husband to be killed in battle (1 Kin. 1:11).
- Benaiah, a warrior who may have served as David's personal bodyguard before Solomon promoted him to Israel's chief army officer (1 Kin. 2:29).
- Hiram, Solomon's Phoenician trading partner and source of cedar for constructing the temple (1 Kin. 5:1).
- The queen of Sheba, ruler of a region near southwestern Arabia; she caravanned more than a thousand miles to see Solomon's splendors, hear his wisdom, and learn about his God (1 Kin. 10:1).

- Hadad, an Edomite prince hostile to Solomon because of his father's death at the hands of Joab, David's general (1 Kin. 11:14–22).
- Jeroboam, a king who squandered his opportunity to rule Israel (1 Kin. 11:26).
- Hiel, an official under Ahab who sacrificed his eldest and youngest sons to rebuild Jericho, fulfilling a curse pronounced centuries earlier (1 Kin. 16:34).
- Elijah, a prophet who demonstrated God's power in miraculous ways and who was taken up into heaven by a whirlwind (1 Kin. 17:1).
- The widow of Zarephath, a Phoenician woman honored by Jesus for extending hospitality to a stranger even when she and her son were starving (1 Kin. 17:9).

1 Kings 1

Adonijah Presumes to Be King

1 Now King David was old, advanced in years; and they put covers on him, but he could not get warm.
2 Therefore his servants said to him, “Let a young woman, a virgin, be sought for our lord the king, and let her stand before the king, and let her care for him; and let her lie in your bosom, that our lord the king may be warm.”
3 So they sought for a lovely young woman throughout all the territory of Israel, and found Abishag the Shunammite, and brought her to the king.
4 The young woman was very lovely; and she cared for the king, and served him; but the king did not know her.
5 Then Adonijah the son of Haggith exalted himself, saying, “I will be king”; and he prepared for himself chariots and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him. The Outcome of Infighting 6 (And his father had not rebuked him at any time by saying, “Why have you done so?” He was also very good-looking. His mother had borne him after Absalom.)
7 Then he conferred with Joab the son of Zeruiah and with Abiathar the priest, and they followed and helped Adonijah.
8 But Zadok the priest, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, Nathan the prophet, Shimei, Rei, and the mighty men who belonged to David were not with Adonijah.
9 And Adonijah sacrificed sheep and oxen and fattened cattle by the stone of Zoheleth, which is by En Rogel; he also invited all his brothers, the king’s sons, and all the men of Judah, the king’s servants.
10 But he did not invite Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, the mighty men, or Solomon his brother.

11So Nathan spoke to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon, saying, “Have you not heard that Adonijah the son of Haggith has become king, and David our lord does not know it? Bathsheba

12“Come, please, let me now give you advice, that you may save your own life and the life of your son Solomon.

13“Go immediately to King David and say to him, ‘Did you not, my lord, O king, swear to your maidservant, saying, “Assuredly your son Solomon shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne”? Why then has Adonijah become king?’

14“Then, while you are still talking there with the king, I also will come in after you and confirm your words.”

15So Bathsheba went into the chamber to the king. (Now the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was serving the king.)

16And Bathsheba bowed and did homage to the king. Then the king said, “What is your wish?”

17Then she said to him, “My lord, you swore by the LORD your God to your maidservant, saying, ‘Assuredly Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne.’

18“So now, look! Adonijah has become king; and now, my lord the king, you do not know about it.

19“He has sacrificed oxen and fattened cattle and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the sons of the king, Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander of the army; but Solomon your servant he has not invited.

20“And as for you, my lord, O king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, that you should tell them who will sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

21“Otherwise it will happen, when my lord the king rests with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon will be counted as offenders.”

22And just then, while she was still talking with the king, Nathan the prophet also came in.

23So they told the king, saying, “Here is Nathan the prophet.” And when he came in before the king, he bowed down before the king with his face to the ground.

24And Nathan said, “My lord, O king, have you said, ‘Adonijah shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne’?

25“For he has gone down today, and has sacrificed oxen and fattened cattle and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the king’s sons, and the commanders of the army, and Abiathar the priest; and look! They are eating and drinking before him; and they say, ‘Long live King Adonijah!’

26“But he has not invited me—me your servant—nor Zadok the priest, nor Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, nor your servant Solomon.

27“Has this thing been done by my lord the king, and you have not told your servant who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?”

David Proclaims Solomon King

28Then King David answered and said, “Call Bathsheba to me.” So she came into the king’s presence and stood before the king.

29And the king took an oath and said, “As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my life from every distress,

30“just as I swore to you by the LORD God of Israel, saying, ‘Assuredly Solomon your son shall be king after me, and he shall sit on my throne in my place,’ so I certainly will do this day.”

31Then Bathsheba bowed with her face to the earth, and paid homage to the king, and said, “Let my lord King David live forever!”

32And King David said, “Call to me Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada.” So they came before the king.

33The king also said to them, “Take with you the servants of your lord, and have Solomon my son ride on my own mule, and take him down to Gihon.

34“There let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him king over Israel; and blow the horn, and say, ‘Long live King Solomon!’

35“Then you shall come up after him, and he shall come and sit on my throne, and he shall be king in my place. For I have appointed him to be ruler over Israel and Judah.”

36Benaiah the son of Jehoiada answered the king and said, “Amen! May the LORD God of my lord the king say so too.

37“As the LORD has been with my lord the king, even so may He be with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord King David.”

38So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, the Cherethites, and the Pelethites went down and had Solomon ride on King David’s mule, and took him to Gihon.

40And all the people went up after him; and the people played the flutes and rejoiced with great joy, so that the earth seemed to split with their sound.

41Now Adonijah and all the guests who were with him heard it as they finished eating. And when Joab heard the sound of the horn, he said, “Why is the city in such a noisy uproar?”

42While he was still speaking, there came Jonathan, the son of Abiathar the priest. And Adonijah said to him, “Come in, for you are a prominent man, and bring good news."

43 Then Jonathan answered and said to Adonijah, "No! Our lord King David has made Solomon king.
44 "The king has sent with him Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, the Cherethites, and the Pelethites; and they have made him ride on the king's mule.
45 "So Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king at Gihon; and they have gone up from there rejoicing, so that the city is in an uproar. This is the noise that you have heard.
46 "Also Solomon sits on the throne of the kingdom.
47 "And moreover the king's servants have gone to bless our lord King David, saying, 'May God make the name of Solomon better than your name, and may He make his throne greater than your throne.' Then the king bowed himself on the bed.
48 "Also the king said thus, 'Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who has given one to sit on my throne this day, while my eyes see it!' "
49 So all the guests who were with Adonijah were afraid, and arose, and each one went his way.
50 Now Adonijah was afraid of Solomon; so he arose, and went and took hold of the horns of the altar. The Horns of the Altar
51 And it was told Solomon, saying, "Indeed Adonijah is afraid of King Solomon; for look, he has taken hold of the horns of the altar, saying, 'Let King Solomon swear to me today that he will not put his servant to death with the sword.' "
52 Then Solomon said, "If he proves himself a worthy man, not one hair of him shall fall to the earth; but if wickedness is found in him, he shall die."
53 So King Solomon sent them to bring him down from the altar. And he came and fell down before King Solomon; and

Solomon said to him, “Go to your house.”

1 Kings 2

David's Instructions to Solomon

1 Now the days of David drew near that he should die, and he charged Solomon his son, saying: The Final Charge

2 "I go the way of all the earth; be strong, therefore, and prove yourself a man.

3 "And keep the charge of the LORD your God: to walk in His ways, to keep His statutes, His commandments, His judgments, and His testimonies, as it is written in the Law of Moses, that you may prosper in all that you do and wherever you turn;

4 "that the LORD may fulfill His word which He spoke concerning me, saying, 'If your sons take heed to their way, to walk before Me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul,' He said, 'you shall not lack a man on the throne of Israel.'

5 "Moreover you know also what Joab the son of Zeruiah did to me, and what he did to the two commanders of the armies of Israel, to Abner the son of Ner and Amasa the son of Jether, whom he killed. And he shed the blood of war in peacetime, and put the blood of war on his belt that was around his waist, and on his sandals that were on his feet.

6 "Therefore do according to your wisdom, and do not let his gray hair go down to the grave in peace.

7 "But show kindness to the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among those who eat at your table, for so they came to me when I fled from Absalom your brother.

8 "And see, you have with you Shimei the son of Gera, a Benjamite from Bahurim, who cursed me with a malicious curse in the day when I went to Mahanaim. But he came down to meet me at the Jordan, and I swore to him by the LORD, saying, ‘I will not put you to death with the sword.’

9“Now therefore, do not hold him guiltless, for you are a wise man and know what you ought to do to him; but bring his gray hair down to the grave with blood.”

Death of David

10So David rested with his fathers, and was buried in the City of David.

11The period that David reigned over Israel was forty years; seven years he reigned in Hebron, and in Jerusalem he reigned thirty-three years.

12Then Solomon sat on the throne of his father David; and his kingdom was firmly established. Solomon

Solomon Executes Adonijah

13Now Adonijah the son of Haggith came to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon. So she said, “Do you come peaceably?” And he said, “Peaceably.”

14Moreover he said, “I have something to say to you.” And she said, “Say it.”

15Then he said, “You know that the kingdom was mine, and all Israel had set their expectations on me, that I should reign. However, the kingdom has been turned over, and has become my brother’s; for it was his from the LORD.

16“Now I ask one petition of you; do not deny me.” And she said to him, “Say it.”

17Then he said, “Please speak to King Solomon, for he will not refuse you, that he may give me Abishag the Shunammite as wife.”

18So Bathsheba said, “Very well, I will speak for you to the king.”

19Bathsheba therefore went to King Solomon, to speak to him for Adonijah. And the king rose up to meet her and bowed down to her, and sat down on his throne and had a throne set for the king’s mother; so she sat at his right hand.

20Then she said, “I desire one small petition of you; do not refuse me.” And the king said to her, “Ask it, my mother, for I will not refuse you.”

21So she said, “Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah your brother as wife.”

22And King Solomon answered and said to his mother, “Now why do you ask Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Ask for him the kingdom also—for he is my older brother—for him, and for Abiathar the priest, and for Joab the son of Zeruiah.”

23Then King Solomon swore by the LORD, saying, “May God do so to me, and more also, if Adonijah has not spoken this word against his own life!

24“Now therefore, as the LORD lives, who has confirmed me and set me on the throne of David my father, and who has established a house[a] for me, as He promised, Adonijah shall be put to death today!”

25So King Solomon sent by the hand of Benaiah the son of Jehoiada; and he struck him down, and he died.

Abiathar Exiled, Joab Executed

26And to Abiathar the priest the king said, “Go to Anathoth, to your own fields, for you are deserving of death; but I will not put you to death at this time, because you carried the ark of the Lord GOD before my father David, and because you were afflicted every time my father was afflicted.”

27So Solomon removed Abiathar from being priest to the LORD, that he might fulfill the word of the LORD which He spoke concerning the house of Eli at Shiloh.

28Then news came to Joab, for Joab had defected to Adonijah, though he had not defected to Absalom. So Joab fled to the tabernacle of the LORD, and took hold of the horns of the altar.

29And King Solomon was told, “Joab has fled to the tabernacle of the LORD; there he is, by the altar.” Then Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, saying, “Go, strike him down.”

30So Benaiah went to the tabernacle of the LORD, and said to him, “Thus says the king, ‘Come out!’ ” And he said, “No, but I will die here.” And Benaiah brought back word to the king, saying, “Thus said Joab, and thus he answered me.”

31Then the king said to him, “Do as he has said, and strike him down and bury him, that you may take away from me and from the house of my father the innocent blood which Joab shed.

32“So the LORD will return his blood on his head, because he struck down two men more righteous and better than he, and killed them with the sword—Abner the son of Ner, the commander of the army of Israel, and Amasa the son of Jether, the commander of the army of Judah—though my father David did not know it.

33“Their blood shall therefore return upon the head of Joab and upon the head of his descendants forever. But upon David and his descendants, upon his house and his throne, there shall be peace forever from the LORD.”

34So Benaiah the son of Jehoiada went up and struck and killed him; and he was buried in his own house in the wilderness.

35The king put Benaiah the son of Jehoiada in his place over the army, and the king put Zadok the priest in the place of Abiathar.

Shimei Executed

36Then the king sent and called for Shimei, and said to him, “Build yourself a house in Jerusalem and dwell there, and do not go out from there anywhere.

37“For it shall be, on the day you go out and cross the Brook Kidron, know for certain you shall surely die; your blood shall be on your own head.”

38And Shimei said to the king, “The saying is good. As my lord the king has said, so your servant will do.” So Shimei dwelt in Jerusalem many days.

39Now it happened at the end of three years, that two slaves of Shimei ran away to Achish the son of Maachah, king of Gath. And they told Shimei, saying, “Look, your slaves are in Gath!”

40So Shimei arose, saddled his donkey, and went to Achish at Gath to seek his slaves. And Shimei went and brought his slaves from Gath.

41And Solomon was told that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath and had come back.

42Then the king sent and called for Shimei, and said to him, “Did I not make you swear by the LORD, and warn you, saying, ‘Know for certain that on the day you go out and travel anywhere, you shall surely die’? And you said to me, ‘The word I have heard is good.’

43“Why then have you not kept the oath of the LORD and the commandment that I gave you?”

44The king said moreover to Shimei, “You know, as your heart acknowledges, all the wickedness that you did to my father David; therefore the LORD will return your wickedness on your own head.

45“But King Solomon shall be blessed, and the throne of David shall be established before the LORD forever.”

46So the king commanded Benaiah the son of Jehoiada; and he went out and struck him down, and he died. Thus the kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon.

1 Kings 3

Solomon Requests Wisdom

1 Now Solomon made a treaty with Pharaoh king of Egypt, and married Pharaoh's daughter; then he brought her to the City of David until he had finished building his own house, and the house of the LORD, and the wall all around Jerusalem.

2 Meanwhile the people sacrificed at the high places, because there was no house built for the name of the LORD until those days.

3 And Solomon loved the LORD, walking in the statutes of his father David, except that he sacrificed and burned incense at the high places.

4 Now the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the great high place: Solomon offered a thousand burnt offerings on that altar.

5 At Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream by night; and God said, "Ask! What shall I give you?"

6 And Solomon said: "You have shown great mercy to Your servant David my father, because he walked before You in truth, in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with You; You have continued this great kindness for him, and You have given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day. An Understanding Heart

7 "Now, O LORD my God, You have made Your servant king instead of my father David, but I am a little child; I do not know how to go out or come in.

8 "And Your servant is in the midst of Your people whom You have chosen, a great people, too numerous to be numbered or counted.

9 “Therefore give to Your servant an understanding heart to judge Your people, that I may discern between good and evil. For who is able to judge this great people of Yours?”
10 The speech pleased the LORD, that Solomon had asked this thing.
11 Then God said to him: “Because you have asked this thing, and have not asked long life for yourself, nor have asked riches for yourself, nor have asked the life of your enemies, but have asked for yourself understanding to discern justice,
12 “behold, I have done according to your words; see, I have given you a wise and understanding heart, so that there has not been anyone like you before you, nor shall any like you arise after you.
13 “And I have also given you what you have not asked:
both riches and honor, so that there shall not be anyone like you among the kings all your days.
14 “So if you walk in My ways, to keep My statutes and My commandments, as your father David walked, then I will lengthen your days.”
15 Then Solomon awoke; and indeed it had been a dream.
And he came to Jerusalem and stood before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, offered up burnt offerings, offered peace offerings, and made a feast for all his servants.

Solomon’s Wise Judgment

16 Now two women who were harlots came to the king, and stood before him.
17 And one woman said, “O my lord, this woman and I dwell in the same house; and I gave birth while she was in the house.
18 “Then it happened, the third day after I had given birth, that this woman also gave birth. And we were together; no one was with us in the house, except the two of us in the house.

19 “And this woman’s son died in the night, because she lay on him.

20 “So she arose in the middle of the night and took my son from my side, while your maidservant slept, and laid him in her bosom, and laid her dead child in my bosom.

21 “And when I rose in the morning to nurse my son, there he was, dead. But when I had examined him in the morning, indeed, he was not my son whom I had borne.”

22 Then the other woman said, “No! But the living one is my son, and the dead one is your son.” And the first woman said, “No! But the dead one is your son, and the living one is my son.” Thus they spoke before the king.

23 And the king said, “The one says, ‘This is my son, who lives, and your son is the dead one’; and the other says, ‘No! But your son is the dead one, and my son is the living one.’ ”

24 Then the king said, “Bring me a sword.” So they brought a sword before the king.

25 And the king said, “Divide the living child in two, and give half to one, and half to the other.”

26 Then the woman whose son was living spoke to the king, for she yearned with compassion for her son; and she said, “O my lord, give her the living child, and by no means kill him!” But the other said, “Let him be neither mine nor yours, but divide him.”

27 So the king answered and said, “Give the first woman the living child, and by no means kill him; she is his mother.”

28 And all Israel heard of the judgment which the king had rendered; and they feared the king, for they saw that the wisdom of God was in him to administer justice.

1 Kings 4

Solomon's Administration

1 So King Solomon was king over all Israel.
2 And these were his officials: Azariah the son of Zadok, the priest;
3 Elihoreph and Ahijah, the sons of Shisha, scribes; Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud, the recorder; The Recorder
4 Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, over the army; Zadok and Abiathar, the priests;
5 Azariah the son of Nathan, over the officers; Zabud the son of Nathan, a priest and the king's friend;
6 Ahishar, over the household; and Adoniram the son of Abda, over the labor force.
7 And Solomon had twelve governors over all Israel, who provided food for the king and his household; each one made provision for one month of the year.
8 These are their names: Ben-Hur,[a] in the mountains of Ephraim;
9 Ben-Deker,[b] in Makaz, Shaalbim, Beth Shemesh, and Elon Beth Hanan;
10 Ben-Hesed,[c] in Arubboth; to him belonged Sochoh and all the land of Hepher;
11 Ben-Abinadab,[d] in all the regions of Dor; he had Taphath the daughter of Solomon as wife;
12 Baana the son of Ahilud, in Taanach, Megiddo, and all Beth Shean, which is beside Zaretan below Jezreel, from Beth Shean to Abel Meholah, as far as the other side of Jokneam;
13 Ben-Geber,[e] in Ramoth Gilead; to him belonged the towns of Jair the son of Manasseh, in Gilead; to him also belonged the region of Argob in Bashan—sixty large cities with walls and bronze gate-bars;

14 Ahinadab the son of Iddo, in Mahanaim;
15 Ahimaaz, in Naphtali; he also took Basemath the daughter of Solomon as wife;
16 Baanah the son of Hushai, in Asher and Aloth;
17 Jehoshaphat the son of Paruah, in Issachar;
18 Shimei the son of Elah, in Benjamin;
19 Geber the son of Uri, in the land of Gilead, in the country of Sihon king of the Amorites, and of Og king of Bashan. He was the only governor who was in the land.

Prosperity and Wisdom of Solomon's Reign

20 Judah and Israel were as numerous as the sand by the sea in multitude, eating and drinking and rejoicing.
21 So Solomon reigned over all kingdoms from the River[f] to the land of the Philistines, as far as the border of Egypt. They brought tribute and served Solomon all the days of his life. Prosperity May Bring Vulnerability
22 Now Solomon's provision for one day was thirty kors of fine flour, sixty kors of meal,
23 ten fatted oxen, twenty oxen from the pastures, and one hundred sheep, besides deer, gazelles, roebucks, and fatted fowl.
24 For he had dominion over all the region on this side of the River[g] from Tiphsah even to Gaza, namely over all the kings on this side of the River; and he had peace on every side all around him.
25 And Judah and Israel dwelt safely, each man under his vine and his fig tree, from Dan as far as Beersheba, all the days of Solomon.
26 Solomon had forty[h] thousand stalls of horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen.

27 And these governors, each man in his month, provided food for King Solomon and for all who came to King Solomon's table. There was no lack in their supply.
28 They also brought barley and straw to the proper place, for the horses and steeds, each man according to his charge.
29 And God gave Solomon wisdom and exceedingly great understanding, and largeness of heart like the sand on the seashore.
30 Thus Solomon's wisdom excelled the wisdom of all the men of the East and all the wisdom of Egypt.
31 For he was wiser than all men—than Ethan the Ezrahite, and Heman, Chalcol, and Darda, the sons of Mahol; and his fame was in all the surrounding nations.
32 He spoke three thousand proverbs, and his songs were one thousand and five.
33 Also he spoke of trees, from the cedar tree of Lebanon even to the hyssop that springs out of the wall; he spoke also of animals, of birds, of creeping things, and of fish.
34 And men of all nations, from all the kings of the earth who had heard of his wisdom, came to hear the wisdom of Solomon.

1 Kings 5

Solomon Prepares to Build the Temple

1 Now Hiram king of Tyre sent his servants to Solomon, because he heard that they had anointed him king in place of his father, for Hiram had always loved David.
2 Then Solomon sent to Hiram, saying:

> 3 You know how my father David could not build a > house for the name of the LORD his God because of > the wars which were fought against him on every side, > until the LORD put his foes[a] under the soles of his > feet.
> 4 But now the LORD my God has given me rest on > every side; there is neither adversary nor evil > occurrence.
> 5 And behold, I propose to build a house for the name > of the LORD my God, as the LORD spoke to my father > David, saying, “Your son, whom I will set on your > throne in your place, he shall build the house for My > name.” Sparing No Expense
> 6 Now therefore, command that they cut down cedars > for me from Lebanon; and my servants will be with > your servants, and I will pay you wages for your > servants according to whatever you say. For you know > there is none among us who has skill to cut timber like > the Sidonians.

7 So it was, when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly and said,

> Blessed be the LORD this day, for He has given David > a wise son over this great people!

[8]Then Hiram sent to Solomon, saying:

> I have considered the message which you sent me, > and I will do all you desire concerning the cedar and > cypress logs.
> [9]My servants shall bring them down from Lebanon to > the sea; I will float them in rafts by sea to the place > you indicate to me, and will have them broken apart > there; then you can take them away. And you shall > fulfill my desire by giving food for my household.

[10]Then Hiram gave Solomon cedar and cypress logs according to all his desire.

[11]And Solomon gave Hiram twenty thousand kors of wheat as food for his household, and twenty[b] kors of pressed oil. Thus Solomon gave to Hiram year by year.

[12]So the LORD gave Solomon wisdom, as He had promised him; and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and the two of them made a treaty together.

13Then King Solomon raised up a labor force out of all Israel; and the labor force was thirty thousand men.

[14]And he sent them to Lebanon, ten thousand a month in shifts: they were one month in Lebanon and two months at home; Adoniram was in charge of the labor force.

[15]Solomon had seventy thousand who carried burdens, and eighty thousand who quarried stone in the mountains,

[16]besides three thousand three hundred[c] from the chiefs of Solomon's deputies, who supervised the people who labored in the work.

[17]And the king commanded them to quarry large stones, costly stones, and hewn stones, to lay the foundation of the temple.[d]

[18]So Solomon's builders, Hiram's builders, and the Gebalites quarried them; and they prepared timber and stones to build the temple.

1 Kings 6

Solomon Builds the Temple

1 And it came to pass in the four hundred and eightieth[a] year after the children of Israel had come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, in the month of Ziv, which is the second month, that he began to build the house of the LORD.

2 Now the house which King Solomon built for the LORD, its length was sixty cubits, its width twenty, and its height thirty cubits.

3 The vestibule in front of the sanctuary[b] of the house was twenty cubits long across the width of the house, and the width of the vestibule[c] extended ten cubits from the front of the house.

4 And he made for the house windows with beveled frames.

5 Against the wall of the temple he built chambers all around, against the walls of the temple, all around the sanctuary and the inner sanctuary.[d] Thus he made side chambers all around it.

6 The lowest chamber was five cubits wide, the middle was six cubits wide, and the third was seven cubits wide; for he made narrow ledges around the outside of the temple, so that the support beams would not be fastened into the walls of the temple.

7 And the temple, when it was being built, was built with stone finished at the quarry, so that no hammer or chisel or any iron tool was heard in the temple while it was being built.

8 The doorway for the middle story[e] was on the right side of the temple. They went up by stairs to the middle story, and from the middle to the third.

9So he built the temple and finished it, and he paneled the temple with beams and boards of cedar.

10And he built side chambers against the entire temple, each five cubits high; they were attached to the temple with cedar beams.

11Then the word of the LORD came to Solomon, saying:

12"Concerning this temple which you are building, if you walk in My statutes, execute My judgments, keep all My commandments, and walk in them, then I will perform My word with you, which I spoke to your father David. Building According to the Blueprints

13"And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake My people Israel."

14So Solomon built the temple and finished it.

15And he built the inside walls of the temple with cedar boards; from the floor of the temple to the ceiling he paneled the inside with wood; and he covered the floor of the temple with planks of cypress.

16Then he built the twenty-cubit room at the rear of the temple, from floor to ceiling, with cedar boards; he built it inside as the inner sanctuary, as the Most Holy Place.

17And in front of it the temple sanctuary was forty cubits long.

18The inside of the temple was cedar, carved with ornamental buds and open flowers. All was cedar; there was no stone to be seen.

19And he prepared the inner sanctuary inside the temple, to set the ark of the covenant of the LORD there.

20The inner sanctuary was twenty cubits long, twenty cubits wide, and twenty cubits high. He overlaid it with pure gold, and overlaid the altar of cedar.

21So Solomon overlaid the inside of the temple with pure gold. He stretched gold chains across the front of the inner sanctuary, and overlaid it with gold.

22 The whole temple he overlaid with gold, until he had finished all the temple; also he overlaid with gold the entire altar that was by the inner sanctuary.

23 Inside the inner sanctuary he made two cherubim of olive wood, each ten cubits high.

24 One wing of the cherub was five cubits, and the other wing of the cherub five cubits: ten cubits from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other.

25 And the other cherub was ten cubits; both cherubim were of the same size and shape.

26 The height of one cherub was ten cubits, and so was the other cherub.

27 Then he set the cherubim inside the inner room;[f] and they stretched out the wings of the cherubim so that the wing of the one touched one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall. And their wings touched each other in the middle of the room.

28 Also he overlaid the cherubim with gold.

29 Then he carved all the walls of the temple all around, both the inner and outer sanctuaries, with carved figures of cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers.

30 And the floor of the temple he overlaid with gold, both the inner and outer sanctuaries.

31 For the entrance of the inner sanctuary he made doors of olive wood; the lintel and doorposts were one-fifth of the wall.

32 The two doors were of olive wood; and he carved on them figures of cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers, and overlaid them with gold; and he spread gold on the cherubim and on the palm trees.

33 So for the door of the sanctuary he also made doorposts of olive wood, one-fourth of the wall.

34And the two doors were of cypress wood; two panels comprised one folding door, and two panels comprised the other folding door.

35Then he carved cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers on them, and overlaid them with gold applied evenly on the carved work.

36And he built the inner court with three rows of hewn stone and a row of cedar beams.

37In the fourth year the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid, in the month of Ziv.

38And in the eleventh year, in the month of Bul, which is the eighth month, the house was finished in all its details and according to all its plans. So he was seven years in building it.

1 Kings 7

Solomon's Other Buildings

1 But Solomon took thirteen years to build his own house; so he finished all his house. See the Overall Effect

2 He also built the House of the Forest of Lebanon; its length was one hundred cubits, its width fifty cubits, and its height thirty cubits, with four rows of cedar pillars, and cedar beams on the pillars. The Cedar Trade

3 And it was paneled with cedar above the beams that were on forty-five pillars, fifteen to a row.

4 There were windows with beveled frames in three rows, and window was opposite window in three tiers.

5 And all the doorways and doorposts had rectangular frames; and window was opposite window in three tiers.

6 He also made the Hall of Pillars: its length was fifty cubits, and its width thirty cubits; and in front of them was a portico with pillars, and a canopy was in front of them.

7 Then he made a hall for the throne, the Hall of Judgment, where he might judge; and it was paneled with cedar from floor to ceiling.[a]

8 And the house where he dwelt had another court inside the hall, of like workmanship. Solomon also made a house like this hall for Pharaoh's daughter, whom he had taken as wife.

9 All these were of costly stones cut to size, trimmed with saws, inside and out, from the foundation to the eaves, and also on the outside to the great court.

10 The foundation was of costly stones, large stones, some ten cubits and some eight cubits.

11 And above were costly stones, hewn to size, and cedar wood.

12 The great court was enclosed with three rows of hewn stones and a row of cedar beams. So were the inner court of the house of the LORD and the vestibule of the temple.

Hiram the Craftsman

13 Now King Solomon sent and brought Huram[b] from Tyre.
14 He was the son of a widow from the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a man of Tyre, a bronze worker; he was filled with wisdom and understanding and skill in working with all kinds of bronze work. So he came to King Solomon and did all his work.

The Bronze Pillars for the Temple

15 And he cast two pillars of bronze, each one eighteen cubits high, and a line of twelve cubits measured the circumference of each.
16 Then he made two capitals of cast bronze, to set on the tops of the pillars. The height of one capital was five cubits, and the height of the other capital was five cubits.
17 He made a lattice network, with wreaths of chainwork, for the capitals which were on top of the pillars: seven chains for one capital and seven for the other capital.
18 So he made the pillars, and two rows of pomegranates above the network all around to cover the capitals that were on top; and thus he did for the other capital.
19 The capitals which were on top of the pillars in the hall were in the shape of lilies, four cubits.
20 The capitals on the two pillars also had pomegranates above, by the convex surface which was next to the network; and there were two hundred such pomegranates in rows on each of the capitals all around.
21 Then he set up the pillars by the vestibule of the temple; he set up the pillar on the right and called its name

Jachin, and he set up the pillar on the left and called its name Boaz.

22 The tops of the pillars were in the shape of lilies. So the work of the pillars was finished.

The Sea and the Oxen

23 And he made the Sea of cast bronze, ten cubits from one brim to the other; it was completely round. Its height was five cubits, and a line of thirty cubits measured its circumference.

24 Below its brim were ornamental buds encircling it all around, ten to a cubit, all the way around the Sea. The ornamental buds were cast in two rows when it was cast.

25 It stood on twelve oxen: three looking toward the north, three looking toward the west, three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east; the Sea was set upon them, and all their back parts pointed inward.

26 It was a handbreadth thick; and its brim was shaped like the brim of a cup, like a lily blossom. It contained two thousand[c] baths.

The Carts and the Lavers

27 He also made ten carts of bronze; four cubits was the length of each cart, four cubits its width, and three cubits its height.

28 And this was the design of the carts: They had panels, and the panels were between frames;

29 on the panels that were between the frames were lions, oxen, and cherubim. And on the frames was a pedestal on top. Below the lions and oxen were wreaths of plaited work.

30 Every cart had four bronze wheels and axles of bronze, and its four feet had supports. Under the laver were supports of cast bronze beside each wreath.

31 Its opening inside the crown at the top was one cubit in diameter; and the opening was round, shaped like a pedestal, one and a half cubits in outside diameter; and also on the opening were engravings, but the panels were square, not round.
32 Under the panels were the four wheels, and the axles of the wheels were joined to the cart. The height of a wheel was one and a half cubits.
33 The workmanship of the wheels was like the workmanship of a chariot wheel; their axle pins, their rims, their spokes, and their hubs were all of cast bronze.
34 And there were four supports at the four corners of each cart; its supports were part of the cart itself.
35 On the top of the cart, at the height of half a cubit, it was perfectly round. And on the top of the cart, its flanges and its panels were of the same casting.
36 On the plates of its flanges and on its panels he engraved cherubim, lions, and palm trees, wherever there was a clear space on each, with wreaths all around.
37 Thus he made the ten carts. All of them were of the same mold, one measure, and one shape.
38 Then he made ten lavers of bronze; each laver contained forty baths, and each laver was four cubits. On each of the ten carts was a laver.
39 And he put five carts on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house. He set the Sea on the right side of the house, toward the southeast.

Furnishings of the Temple

40 Huram[d] made the lavers and the shovels and the bowls.
So Huram finished doing all the work that he was to do for King Solomon for the house of the LORD:
41 the two pillars, the two bowl-shaped capitals that were on top of the two pillars; the two networks covering the two bowl-shaped capitals which were on top of the pillars;

42four hundred pomegranates for the two networks (two rows of pomegranates for each network, to cover the two bowl-shaped capitals that were on top of the pillars);

43the ten carts, and ten lavers on the carts;

44one Sea, and twelve oxen under the Sea;

45the pots, the shovels, and the bowls. All these articles which Huram[e] made for King Solomon for the house of the LORD were of burnished bronze.

46In the plain of Jordan the king had them cast in clay molds, between Succoth and Zaretan.

47And Solomon did not weigh all the articles, because there were so many; the weight of the bronze was not determined.

48Thus Solomon had all the furnishings made for the house of the LORD: the altar of gold, and the table of gold on which was the showbread;

49the lampstands of pure gold, five on the right side and five on the left in front of the inner sanctuary, with the flowers and the lamps and the wick-trimmers of gold;

50the basins, the trimmers, the bowls, the ladles, and the censers of pure gold; and the hinges of gold, both for the doors of the inner room (the Most Holy Place) and for the doors of the main hall of the temple.

51So all the work that King Solomon had done for the house of the LORD was finished; and Solomon brought in the things which his father David had dedicated: the silver and the gold and the furnishings. He put them in the treasuries of the house of the LORD.

1 Kings 8

The Ark Brought into the Temple

1 Now Solomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the heads of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Israel, to King Solomon in Jerusalem, that they might bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD from the City of David, which is Zion.

2 Therefore all the men of Israel assembled with King Solomon at the feast in the month of Ethanim, which is the seventh month.

3 So all the elders of Israel came, and the priests took up the ark.

4 Then they brought up the ark of the LORD, the tabernacle of meeting, and all the holy furnishings that were in the tabernacle. The priests and the Levites brought them up.

5 Also King Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel who were assembled with him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen that could not be counted or numbered for multitude.

6 Then the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place, into the inner sanctuary of the temple, to the Most Holy Place, under the wings of the cherubim.

7 For the cherubim spread their two wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubim overshadowed the ark and its poles.

8 The poles extended so that the ends of the poles could be seen from the holy place, in front of the inner sanctuary;
but they could not be seen from outside. And they are there to this day.

9 Nothing was in the ark except the two tablets of stone which Moses put there at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt.
10 And it came to pass, when the priests came out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the LORD, 11 so that the priests could not continue ministering because of the cloud; for the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD.
12 Then Solomon spoke:

"The LORD said He would dwell in the dark
cloud.
13 I have surely built You an exalted house,
And a place for You to dwell in forever."

Solomon's Speech at Completion of the Work

14 Then the king turned around and blessed the whole assembly of Israel, while all the assembly of Israel was standing.
15 And he said: "Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who spoke with His mouth to my father David, and with His hand has fulfilled it, saying, 16 'Since the day that I brought My people Israel out of Egypt, I have chosen no city from any tribe of Israel in which to build a house, that My name might be there; but I chose David to be over My people Israel.' 17 "Now it was in the heart of my father David to build a temple[a] for the name of the LORD God of Israel.
18 "But the LORD said to my father David, 'Whereas it was in your heart to build a temple for My name, you did well that it was in your heart.
19 'Nevertheless you shall not build the temple, but your son who will come from your body, he shall build the temple

for My name.’

20“So the LORD has fulfilled His word which He spoke; and I have filled the position of my father David, and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised; and I have built a temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

21“And there I have made a place for the ark, in which is the covenant of the LORD which He made with our fathers, when He brought them out of the land of Egypt.”

Solomon’s Prayer of Dedication

22Then Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the assembly of Israel, and spread out his hands toward heaven;

23and he said: “LORD God of Israel, there is no God in heaven above or on earth below like You, who keep Your covenant and mercy with Your servants who walk before You with all their hearts. Keeping Covenant and Mercy

24“You have kept what You promised Your servant David my father; You have both spoken with Your mouth and fulfilled it with Your hand, as it is this day.

25“Therefore, LORD God of Israel, now keep what You promised Your servant David my father, saying, ‘You shall not fail to have a man sit before Me on the throne of Israel, only if your sons take heed to their way, that they walk before Me as you have walked before Me.’

26“And now I pray, O God of Israel, let Your word come true, which You have spoken to Your servant David my father.

27“But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain You. How much less this temple which I have built!

28“Yet regard the prayer of Your servant and his supplication, O LORD my God, and listen to the cry and the prayer which Your servant is praying before You today:

29 “that Your eyes may be open toward this temple night and day, toward the place of which You said, ‘My name shall be there,’ that You may hear the prayer which Your servant makes toward this place.
30 “And may You hear the supplication of Your servant and of Your people Israel, when they pray toward this place.
Hear in heaven Your dwelling place; and when You hear, forgive.
31 “When anyone sins against his neighbor, and is forced to take an oath, and comes and takes an oath before Your altar in this temple,
32 “then hear in heaven, and act, and judge Your servants, condemning the wicked, bringing his way on his head, and justifying the righteous by giving him according to his righteousness.
33 “When Your people Israel are defeated before an enemy because they have sinned against You, and when they turn back to You and confess Your name, and pray and make supplication to You in this temple,
34 “then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of Your people Israel, and bring them back to the land which You gave to their fathers.
35 “When the heavens are shut up and there is no rain because they have sinned against You, when they pray toward this place and confess Your name, and turn from their sin because You afflict them, 36 “then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of Your servants, Your people Israel, that You may teach them the good way in which they should walk; and send rain on Your land which You have given to Your people as an inheritance.
37 “When there is famine in the land, pestilence or blight or mildew, locusts or grasshoppers; when their enemy besieges them in the land of their cities; whatever plague or whatever sickness there is;

38“whatever prayer, whatever supplication is made by anyone, or by all Your people Israel, when each one knows the plague of his own heart, and spreads out his hands toward this temple: A Plague of the Heart

39“then hear in heaven Your dwelling place, and forgive, and act, and give to everyone according to all his ways, whose heart You know (for You alone know the hearts of all the sons of men), 40“that they may fear You all the days that they live in the land which You gave to our fathers.

41“Moreover, concerning a foreigner, who is not of Your people Israel, but has come from a far country for Your name’s sake An International House of Prayer

42“(for they will hear of Your great name and Your strong hand and Your outstretched arm), when he comes and prays toward this temple,

43“hear in heaven Your dwelling place, and do according to all for which the foreigner calls to You, that all peoples of the earth may know Your name and fear You, as do Your people Israel, and that they may know that this temple which I have built is called by Your name.

44“When Your people go out to battle against their enemy, wherever You send them, and when they pray to the LORD toward the city which You have chosen and the temple which I have built for Your name, 45“then hear in heaven their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.

46“When they sin against You (for there is no one who does not sin), and You become angry with them and deliver them to the enemy, and they take them captive to the land of the enemy, far or near;

47“yet when they come to themselves in the land where they were carried captive, and repent, and make supplication to You in the land of those who took them

captive, saying, ‘We have sinned and done wrong, we have committed wickedness’;

48“and when they return to You with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their enemies who led them away captive, and pray to You toward their land which You gave to their fathers, the city which You have chosen and the temple which I have built for Your name:

49“then hear in heaven Your dwelling place their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause,

50“and forgive Your people who have sinned against You, and all their transgressions which they have transgressed against You; and grant them compassion before those who took them captive, that they may have compassion on them

51“(for they are Your people and Your inheritance, whom You brought out of Egypt, out of the iron furnace), 52“that Your eyes may be open to the supplication of Your servant and the supplication of Your people Israel, to listen to them whenever they call to You.

53“For You separated them from among all the peoples of the earth to be Your inheritance, as You spoke by Your servant Moses, when You brought our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord GOD.”

Solomon Blesses the Assembly

54And so it was, when Solomon had finished praying all this prayer and supplication to the LORD, that he arose from before the altar of the LORD, from kneeling on his knees with his hands spread up to heaven.

55Then he stood and blessed all the assembly of Israel with a loud voice, saying:

56“Blessed be the LORD, who has given rest to His people Israel, according to all that He promised. There has not failed one word of all His good promise, which He promised through His servant Moses.

57“May the LORD our God be with us, as He was with our fathers. May He not leave us nor forsake us, 58“that He may incline our hearts to Himself, to walk in all His ways, and to keep His commandments and His statutes and His judgments, which He commanded our fathers.
59“And may these words of mine, with which I have made supplication before the LORD, be near the LORD our God day and night, that He may maintain the cause of His servant and the cause of His people Israel, as each day may require,
60“that all the peoples of the earth may know that the LORD is God; there is no other.
61“Let your heart therefore be loyal to the LORD our God, to walk in His statutes and keep His commandments, as at this day.”

Solomon Dedicates the Temple

62Then the king and all Israel with him offered sacrifices before the LORD.
63And Solomon offered a sacrifice of peace offerings, which he offered to the LORD, twenty-two thousand bulls and one hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the LORD.
64On the same day the king consecrated the middle of the court that was in front of the house of the LORD; for there he offered burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar that was before the LORD was too small to receive the burnt offerings, the grain offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings.
65At that time Solomon held a feast, and all Israel with him, a great assembly from the entrance of Hamath to the Brook of Egypt, before the LORD our God, seven days and seven more days—fourteen days.

66On the eighth day he sent the people away; and they blessed the king, and went to their tents joyful and glad of heart for all the good that the LORD had done for His servant David, and for Israel His people.

1 Kings 9

God's Second Appearance to Solomon

1 And it came to pass, when Solomon had finished building the house of the LORD and the king's house, and all Solomon's desire which he wanted to do, The Lord Renews His Covenant with David 2 that the LORD appeared to Solomon the second time, as He had appeared to him at Gibeon.
3 And the LORD said to him: "I have heard your prayer and your supplication that you have made before Me; I have consecrated this house which you have built to put My name there forever, and My eyes and My heart will be there perpetually.
4 "Now if you walk before Me as your father David walked, in integrity of heart and in uprightness, to do according to all that I have commanded you, and if you keep My statutes and My judgments,
5 "then I will establish the throne of your kingdom over Israel forever, as I promised David your father, saying, 'You shall not fail to have a man on the throne of Israel.'
6 "But if you or your sons at all turn from following Me, and do not keep My commandments and My statutes which I have set before you, but go and serve other gods and worship them,
7 "then I will cut off Israel from the land which I have given them; and this house which I have consecrated for My name I will cast out of My sight. Israel will be a proverb and a byword among all peoples.
8 "And as for this house, which is exalted, everyone who passes by it will be astonished and will hiss, and say, 'Why has the LORD done thus to this land and to this house?'

9 “Then they will answer, ‘Because they forsook the LORD their God, who brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have embraced other gods, and worshiped them and served them; therefore the LORD has brought all this calamity on them.’ ”

Solomon and Hiram Exchange Gifts

10 Now it happened at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the two houses, the house of the LORD and the king’s house 11 (Hiram the king of Tyre had supplied Solomon with cedar and cypress and gold, as much as he desired), that King Solomon then gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.
12 Then Hiram went from Tyre to see the cities which Solomon had given him, but they did not please him.
13 So he said, “What kind of cities are these which you have given me, my brother?” And he called them the land of Cabul,[a] as they are to this day.
14 Then Hiram sent the king one hundred and twenty talents of gold.

Solomon’s Additional Achievements

15 And this is the reason for the labor force which King Solomon raised: to build the house of the LORD, his own house, the Millo,[b] the wall of Jerusalem, Hazor, Megiddo, and Gezer.
16 (Pharaoh king of Egypt had gone up and taken Gezer and burned it with fire, had killed the Canaanites who dwelt in the city, and had given it as a dowry to his daughter, Solomon’s wife.)
17 And Solomon built Gezer, Lower Beth Horon, 18 Baalath, and Tadmor in the wilderness, in the land of Judah,

19 all the storage cities that Solomon had, cities for his chariots and cities for his cavalry, and whatever Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion.
20 All the people who were left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites, who were not of the children of Israel—
21 that is, their descendants who were left in the land after them, whom the children of Israel had not been able to destroy completely—from these Solomon raised forced labor, as it is to this day.
22 But of the children of Israel Solomon made no forced laborers, because they were men of war and his servants:
his officers, his captains, commanders of his chariots, and his cavalry.
23 Others were chiefs of the officials who were over Solomon's work: five hundred and fifty, who ruled over the people who did the work.
24 But Pharaoh's daughter came up from the City of David to her house which Solomon[c] had built for her. Then he built the Millo.
25 Now three times a year Solomon offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar which he had built for the LORD, and he burned incense with them on the altar that was before the LORD. So he finished the temple.
26 King Solomon also built a fleet of ships at Ezion Geber, which is near Elath[d] on the shore of the Red Sea, in the land of Edom.
27 Then Hiram sent his servants with the fleet, seamen who knew the sea, to work with the servants of Solomon.
28 And they went to Ophir, and acquired four hundred and twenty talents of gold from there, and brought it to King

1 Kings 10

The Queen of Sheba's Praise of Solomon

1 Now when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon concerning the name of the LORD, she came to test him with hard questions.
2 She came to Jerusalem with a very great retinue, with camels that bore spices, very much gold, and precious stones; and when she came to Solomon, she spoke with him about all that was in her heart.
3 So Solomon answered all her questions; there was nothing so difficult for the king that he could not explain it
to her.
4 And when the queen of Sheba had seen all the wisdom of Solomon, the house that he had built,
5 the food on his table, the seating of his servants, the service of his waiters and their apparel, his cupbearers, and his entryway by which he went up to the house of the LORD, there was no more spirit in her.
6 Then she said to the king: "It was a true report which I heard in my own land about your words and your wisdom.

Searching for God

7 "However I did not believe the words until I came and saw with my own eyes; and indeed the half was not told me.
Your wisdom and prosperity exceed the fame of which I heard.
8 "Happy are your men and happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you and hear your wisdom!
9 "Blessed be the LORD your God, who delighted in you, setting you on the throne of Israel! Because the LORD has loved Israel forever, therefore He made you king, to do justice and righteousness.”

10 Then she gave the king one hundred and twenty talents of gold, spices in great quantity, and precious stones. There never again came such abundance of spices as the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

11 Also, the ships of Hiram, which brought gold from Ophir, brought great quantities of almug[a] wood and precious stones from Ophir.

12 And the king made steps of the almug wood for the house of the LORD and for the king’s house, also harps and stringed instruments for singers. There never again came such almug wood, nor has the like been seen to this day.

13 Now King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba all she desired, whatever she asked, besides what Solomon had given her according to the royal generosity. So she turned and went to her own country, she and her servants.

Solomon’s Great Wealth

14 The weight of gold that came to Solomon yearly was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold,

15 besides that from the traveling merchants, from the income of traders, from all the kings of Arabia, and from the governors of the country.

16 And King Solomon made two hundred large shields of hammered gold; six hundred shekels of gold went into each shield.

17 He also made three hundred shields of hammered gold; three minas of gold went into each shield. The king put them in the House of the Forest of Lebanon.

18 Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

19 The throne had six steps, and the top of the throne was round at the back; there were armrests on either side of the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the armrests.

20 Twelve lions stood there, one on each side of the six steps; nothing like this had been made for any other kingdom.

21 All King Solomon's drinking vessels were gold, and all the vessels of the House of the Forest of Lebanon were pure gold. Not one was silver, for this was accounted as nothing in the days of Solomon.

22 For the king had merchant ships[b] at sea with the fleet of Hiram. Once every three years the merchant ships came bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes, and monkeys.[c]

23 So King Solomon surpassed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

24 Now all the earth sought the presence of Solomon to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart. The Wise King

25 Each man brought his present: articles of silver and gold, garments, armor, spices, horses, and mules, at a set rate year by year.

26 And Solomon gathered chariots and horsemen; he had one thousand four hundred chariots and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he stationed[d] in the chariot cities and with the king at Jerusalem.

27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedar trees as abundant as the sycamores which are in the lowland.

28 Also Solomon had horses imported from Egypt and Keveh; the king's merchants bought them in Keveh at the current price. Ignoring the Law

29 Now a chariot that was imported from Egypt cost six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse one hundred and fifty; and thus, through their agents,[e] they exported them to all the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Syria.

1 Kings 11

Solomon's Heart Turns from the LORD

1 But King Solomon loved many foreign women, as well as the daughter of Pharaoh: women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonians, and Hittites— How Marriage Matters
2 from the nations of whom the LORD had said to the children of Israel, "You shall not intermarry with them, nor they with you. Surely they will turn away your hearts after their gods." Solomon clung to these in love.
3 And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines; and his wives turned away his heart.
4 For it was so, when Solomon was old, that his wives turned his heart after other gods; and his heart was not loyal to the LORD his God, as was the heart of his father David.
5 For Solomon went after Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites. The Descent on the Ascent
6 Solomon did evil in the sight of the LORD, and did not fully follow the LORD, as did his father David.
7 Then Solomon built a high place for Chemosh the abomination of Moab, on the hill that is east of Jerusalem, and for Molech the abomination of the people of Ammon.
8 And he did likewise for all his foreign wives, who burned incense and sacrificed to their gods.
9 So the LORD became angry with Solomon, because his heart had turned from the LORD God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice, 10 and had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods; but he did not keep what the LORD had commanded.

11 Therefore the LORD said to Solomon, “Because you have done this, and have not kept My covenant and My statutes, which I have commanded you, I will surely tear the kingdom away from you and give it to your servant.

12 “Nevertheless I will not do it in your days, for the sake of your father David; I will tear it out of the hand of your son.

13 “However I will not tear away the whole kingdom; I will give one tribe to your son for the sake of My servant David, and for the sake of Jerusalem which I have chosen.”

Adversaries of Solomon

14 Now the LORD raised up an adversary against Solomon, Hadad the Edomite; he was a descendant of the king in Edom. An Unknown Enemy

15 For it happened, when David was in Edom, and Joab the commander of the army had gone up to bury the slain, after he had killed every male in Edom

16 (because for six months Joab remained there with all Israel, until he had cut down every male in Edom), 17 that Hadad fled to go to Egypt, he and certain Edomites of his father’s servants with him. Hadad was still a little child.

18 Then they arose from Midian and came to Paran; and they took men with them from Paran and came to Egypt, to Pharaoh king of Egypt, who gave him a house, apportioned food for him, and gave him land.

19 And Hadad found great favor in the sight of Pharaoh, so that he gave him as wife the sister of his own wife, that is, the sister of Queen Tahpenes.

20 Then the sister of Tahpenes bore him Genubath his son, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaoh’s house. And Genubath was in Pharaoh’s household among the sons of Pharaoh.

21 So when Hadad heard in Egypt that David rested with his fathers, and that Joab the commander of the army was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, “Let me depart, that I may go to my own country.”
22 Then Pharaoh said to him, “But what have you lacked with me, that suddenly you seek to go to your own country?” So he answered, “Nothing, but do let me go anyway.”
23 And God raised up another adversary against him,
Rezon the son of Eliadah, who had fled from his lord,
Hadadezer king of Zobah.
24 So he gathered men to him and became captain over a band of raiders, when David killed those of Zobah. And they went to Damascus and dwelt there, and reigned in Damascus.
25 He was an adversary of Israel all the days of Solomon
(besides the trouble that Hadad caused); and he abhorred Israel, and reigned over Syria.

Jeroboam’s Rebellion

26 Then Solomon’s servant, Jeroboam the son of Nebat, an Ephraimite from Zereda, whose mother’s name was Zeruah, a widow, also rebelled against the king. Jeroboam
27 And this is what caused him to rebel against the king:
Solomon had built the Millo and repaired the damages to the City of David his father.
28 The man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valor; and Solomon, seeing that the young man was industrious, made him the officer over all the labor force of the house of Joseph.
29 Now it happened at that time, when Jeroboam went out of Jerusalem, that the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite met him on the way; and he had clothed himself with a new garment, and the two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahijah took hold of the new garment that was on him, and tore it into twelve pieces.
31 And he said to Jeroboam, “Take for yourself ten pieces, for thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: ‘Behold, I will tear the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon and will give ten tribes to you A Wasted Opportunity 32 ‘(but he shall have one tribe for the sake of My servant
David, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel), 33 ‘because they have[a] forsaken Me, and worshiped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the people of Ammon, and have not walked in My ways to do what is right in My eyes and keep My statutes and My judgments, as did his father David.
34 ‘However I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand, because I have made him ruler all the days of his life for the sake of My servant David, whom I chose because he kept My commandments and My statutes.
35 ‘But I will take the kingdom out of his son’s hand and give it to you—ten tribes.
36 ‘And to his son I will give one tribe, that My servant
David may always have a lamp before Me in Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen for Myself, to put My name there.
37 ‘So I will take you, and you shall reign over all your heart desires, and you shall be king over Israel.
38 ‘Then it shall be, if you heed all that I command you, walk in My ways, and do what is right in My sight, to keep My statutes and My commandments, as My servant David did, then I will be with you and build for you an enduring house, as I built for David, and will give Israel to you.
39 ‘And I will afflict the descendants of David because of this, but not forever.’ ”

40 Solomon therefore sought to kill Jeroboam. But Jeroboam arose and fled to Egypt, to Shishak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt until the death of Solomon.

Death of Solomon

41 Now the rest of the acts of Solomon, all that he did, and his wisdom, are they not written in the book of the acts of Solomon?
42 And the period that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel was forty years.
43 Then Solomon rested with his fathers, and was buried in the City of David his father. And Rehoboam his son reigned in his place.

1 Kings 12

The Revolt Against Rehoboam

1 And Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had gone to Shechem to make him king.
2 So it happened, when Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard it (he was still in Egypt, for he had fled from the presence of King Solomon and had been dwelling in Egypt), 3 that they sent and called him. Then Jeroboam and the whole assembly of Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying,
4 "Your father made our yoke heavy; now therefore,
lighten the burdensome service of your father, and his heavy yoke which he put on us, and we will serve you."
5 So he said to them, "Depart for three days, then come back to me." And the people departed.
6 Then King Rehoboam consulted the elders who stood before his father Solomon while he still lived, and he said,
"How do you advise me to answer these people?" 7 And they spoke to him, saying, "If you will be a servant to these people today, and serve them, and answer them, and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants forever."
8 But he rejected the advice which the elders had given him, and consulted the young men who had grown up with him, who stood before him.
9 And he said to them, "What advice do you give? How should we answer this people who have spoken to me, saying, 'Lighten the yoke which your father put on us'?"
10 Then the young men who had grown up with him spoke to him, saying, "Thus you should speak to this people who have spoken to you, saying, 'Your father made our yoke

heavy, but you make it lighter on us'—thus you shall say to them: 'My little finger shall be thicker than my father's waist!

11 'And now, whereas my father put a heavy yoke on you, I will add to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scourges!' "[a]

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had directed, saying, "Come back to me the third day."

13 Then the king answered the people roughly, and rejected the advice which the elders had given him;

14 and he spoke to them according to the advice of the young men, saying, "My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scourges!"[b]

15 So the king did not listen to the people; for the turn of events was from the LORD, that He might fulfill His word, which the LORD had spoken by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

16 Now when all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, the people answered the king, saying:

> "What share have we in David?
> We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse.
> To your tents, O Israel!
> Now, see to your own house, O David!"

So Israel departed to their tents.

17 But Rehoboam reigned over the children of Israel who dwelt in the cities of Judah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Adoram, who was in charge of the revenue; but all Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. Therefore King Rehoboam mounted his chariot in haste to flee to Jerusalem. Tax Increases Divide the Kingdom

19So Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.
20Now it came to pass when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had come back, they sent for him and called him to the congregation, and made him king over all Israel.
There was none who followed the house of David, but the tribe of Judah only.
21And when Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he assembled all the house of Judah with the tribe of Benjamin, one hundred and eighty thousand chosen men who were warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, that he might restore the kingdom to Rehoboam the son of Solomon.
22But the word of God came to Shemaiah the man of God,
saying,
23"Speak to Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, to all the house of Judah and Benjamin, and to the rest of the people, saying, 24'Thus says the LORD: "You shall not go up nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel. Let every man return to his house, for this thing is from Me." ' " Therefore they obeyed the word of the LORD, and turned back, according to the word of the LORD.

Jeroboam's Gold Calves

25Then Jeroboam built Shechem in the mountains of Ephraim, and dwelt there. Also he went out from there and built Penuel. Using Religion for Political Gain Is Playing with Fire 26And Jeroboam said in his heart, "Now the kingdom may return to the house of David:
27"If these people go up to offer sacrifices in the house of the LORD at Jerusalem, then the heart of this people will turn back to their lord, Rehoboam king of Judah, and they will kill me and go back to Rehoboam king of Judah."

28 Therefore the king asked advice, made two calves of gold, and said to the people, “It is too much for you to go up to Jerusalem. Here are your gods, O Israel, which brought you up from the land of Egypt!”
29 And he set up one in Bethel, and the other he put in Dan.
30 Now this thing became a sin, for the people went to worship before the one as far as Dan.
31 He made shrines[c] on the high places, and made priests from every class of people, who were not of the sons of Levi.
32 Jeroboam ordained a feast on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, like the feast that was in Judah, and offered sacrifices on the altar. So he did at Bethel, sacrificing to the calves that he had made. And at Bethel he installed the priests of the high places which he had made.
33 So he made offerings on the altar which he had made at Bethel on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, in the month which he had devised in his own heart. And he ordained a feast for the children of Israel, and offered sacrifices on the altar and burned incense.

1 Kings 13

The Message of the Man of God

1And behold, a man of God went from Judah to Bethel by the word of the LORD, and Jeroboam stood by the altar to burn incense.
2Then he cried out against the altar by the word of the LORD, and said, “O altar, altar! Thus says the LORD:
‘Behold, a child, Josiah by name, shall be born to the house of David; and on you he shall sacrifice the priests of the high places who burn incense on you, and men’s bones shall be burned on you.’ ” 3And he gave a sign the same day, saying, “This is the sign which the LORD has spoken: Surely the altar shall split apart, and the ashes on it shall be poured out.”
4So it came to pass when King Jeroboam heard the saying of the man of God, who cried out against the altar in Bethel, that he stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, “Arrest him!” Then his hand, which he stretched out toward him, withered, so that he could not pull it back to himself.
5The altar also was split apart, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.
6Then the king answered and said to the man of God, “Please entreat the favor of the LORD your God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored to me.” So the man of God entreated the LORD, and the king’s hand was restored to him, and became as before.
7Then the king said to the man of God, “Come home with me and refresh yourself, and I will give you a reward.” 8But the man of God said to the king, “If you were to give me half your house, I would not go in with you; nor would I eat bread nor drink water in this place.

9“For so it was commanded me by the word of the LORD, saying, ‘You shall not eat bread, nor drink water, nor return by the same way you came.’ ”
10So he went another way and did not return by the way he came to Bethel.

Death of the Man of God

11Now an old prophet dwelt in Bethel, and his sons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Bethel; they also told their father the words which he had spoken to the king.
12And their father said to them, “Which way did he go?” For his sons had seen[a] which way the man of God went who came from Judah.
13Then he said to his sons, “Saddle the donkey for me.” So they saddled the donkey for him; and he rode on it, 14and went after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oak. Then he said to him, “Are you the man of God who came from Judah?” And he said, “I am.”
15Then he said to him, “Come home with me and eat bread.”
16And he said, “I cannot return with you nor go in with you; neither can I eat bread nor drink water with you in this place.
17“For I have been told by the word of the LORD, ‘You shall not eat bread nor drink water there, nor return by going the way you came.’ ”
18He said to him, “I too am a prophet as you are, and an angel spoke to me by the word of the LORD, saying, ‘Bring him back with you to your house, that he may eat bread and drink water.’ ” (He was lying to him.)
19So he went back with him, and ate bread in his house, and drank water.

20Now it happened, as they sat at the table, that the word of the LORD came to the prophet who had brought him back;

21and he cried out to the man of God who came from Judah, saying, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Because you have disobeyed the word of the LORD, and have not kept the commandment which the LORD your God commanded you,

22‘but you came back, ate bread, and drank water in the place of which the LORD said to you, “Eat no bread and drink no water,” your corpse shall not come to the tomb of your fathers.’ ”

23So it was, after he had eaten bread and after he had drunk, that he saddled the donkey for him, the prophet whom he had brought back.

24When he was gone, a lion met him on the road and killed him. And his corpse was thrown on the road, and the donkey stood by it. The lion also stood by the corpse.

25And there, men passed by and saw the corpse thrown on the road, and the lion standing by the corpse. Then they went and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

26Now when the prophet who had brought him back from the way heard it, he said, “It is the man of God who was disobedient to the word of the LORD. Therefore the LORD has delivered him to the lion, which has torn him and killed him, according to the word of the LORD which He spoke to him.”

27And he spoke to his sons, saying, “Saddle the donkey for me.” So they saddled it.

28Then he went and found his corpse thrown on the road, and the donkey and the lion standing by the corpse. The lion had not eaten the corpse nor torn the donkey.

29And the prophet took up the corpse of the man of God, laid it on the donkey, and brought it back. So the old prophet came to the city to mourn, and to bury him.

30 Then he laid the corpse in his own tomb; and they mourned over him, saying, "Alas, my brother!" 31 So it was, after he had buried him, that he spoke to his sons, saying, "When I am dead, then bury me in the tomb where the man of God is buried; lay my bones beside his bones.
32 "For the saying which he cried out by the word of the LORD against the altar in Bethel, and against all the shrines[b] on the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, will surely come to pass."
33 After this event Jeroboam did not turn from his evil way, but again he made priests from every class of people for the high places; whoever wished, he consecrated him, and he became one of the priests of the high places.
34 And this thing was the sin of the house of Jeroboam, so as to exterminate and destroy it from the face of the earth.

1 Kings 14

Judgment on the House of Jeroboam

1 At that time Abijah the son of Jeroboam became sick.

2 And Jeroboam said to his wife, “Please arise, and disguise yourself, that they may not recognize you as the wife of Jeroboam, and go to Shiloh. Indeed, Ahijah the prophet is there, who told me that I would be king over this people.

3 “Also take with you ten loaves, some cakes, and a jar of honey, and go to him; he will tell you what will become of the child.”

4 And Jeroboam’s wife did so; she arose and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Ahijah. But Ahijah could not see, for his eyes were glazed by reason of his age.

5 Now the LORD had said to Ahijah, “Here is the wife of Jeroboam, coming to ask you something about her son, for he is sick. Thus and thus you shall say to her; for it will be, when she comes in, that she will pretend to be another woman.”

6 And so it was, when Ahijah heard the sound of her footsteps as she came through the door, he said, “Come in, wife of Jeroboam. Why do you pretend to be another person? For I have been sent to you with bad news.

7 “Go, tell Jeroboam, ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel: “Because I exalted you from among the people, and made you ruler over My people Israel,

8 “and tore the kingdom away from the house of David, and gave it to you; and yet you have not been as My servant David, who kept My commandments and who followed Me with all his heart, to do only what was right in My eyes;

9 “but you have done more evil than all who were before you, for you have gone and made for yourself other gods and molded images to provoke Me to anger, and have cast
Me behind your back—
10 “therefore behold! I will bring disaster on the house of Jeroboam, and will cut off from Jeroboam every male in Israel, bond and free; I will take away the remnant of the house of Jeroboam, as one takes away refuse until it is all gone.
11 “The dogs shall eat whoever belongs to Jeroboam and dies in the city, and the birds of the air shall eat whoever dies in the field; for the LORD has spoken!” ’ 12 “Arise therefore, go to your own house. When your feet enter the city, the child shall die.
13 “And all Israel shall mourn for him and bury him, for he is the only one of Jeroboam who shall come to the grave, because in him there is found something good toward the LORD God of Israel in the house of Jeroboam.
14 “Moreover the LORD will raise up for Himself a king over Israel who shall cut off the house of Jeroboam; this is the day. What? Even now!
15 “For the LORD will strike Israel, as a reed is shaken in the water. He will uproot Israel from this good land which He gave to their fathers, and will scatter them beyond the River,[a] because they have made their wooden images,[b] provoking the LORD to anger.
16 “And He will give Israel up because of the sins of Jeroboam, who sinned and who made Israel sin.”
17 Then Jeroboam’s wife arose and departed, and came to Tirzah. When she came to the threshold of the house, the child died.
18 And they buried him; and all Israel mourned for him, according to the word of the LORD which He spoke through His servant Ahijah the prophet.

Death of Jeroboam

19Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, how he made war and how he reigned, indeed they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.
20The period that Jeroboam reigned was twenty-two years. So he rested with his fathers. Then Nadab his son reigned in his place.

Rehoboam Reigns in Judah

21And Rehoboam the son of Solomon reigned in Judah.
Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he became king.
He reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put His name there. His mother's name was Naamah, an Ammonitess.
22Now Judah did evil in the sight of the LORD, and they provoked Him to jealousy with their sins which they committed, more than all that their fathers had done.
23For they also built for themselves high places, sacred pillars, and wooden images on every high hill and under every green tree.
24And there were also perverted persons[c] in the land.
They did according to all the abominations of the nations which the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.
25It happened in the fifth year of King Rehoboam that Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem.
26And he took away the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house; he took away everything. He also took away all the gold shields which Solomon had made.
27Then King Rehoboam made bronze shields in their place, and committed them to the hands of the captains of the guard, who guarded the doorway of the king's house.

28 And whenever the king entered the house of the LORD, the guards carried them, then brought them back into the guardroom.
29 Now the rest of the acts of Rehoboam, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
30 And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all their days.
31 So Rehoboam rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David. His mother's name was Naamah, an Ammonitess. Then Abijam[d] his son reigned in his place.

1 Kings 15

Abijam Reigns in Judah

1 In the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam the son of Nebat, Abijam became king over Judah.
2 He reigned three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Maachah the granddaughter of Abishalom.
3 And he walked in all the sins of his father, which he had done before him; his heart was not loyal to the LORD his God, as was the heart of his father David.
4 Nevertheless for David's sake the LORD his God gave him a lamp in Jerusalem, by setting up his son after him and by establishing Jerusalem;
5 because David did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, and had not turned aside from anything that He commanded him all the days of his life, except in the matter of Uriah the Hittite.
6 And there was war between Rehoboam[a] and Jeroboam
all the days of his life.
7 Now the rest of the acts of Abijam, and all that he did,
are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? And there was war between Abijam and Jeroboam.
8 So Abijam rested with his fathers, and they buried him in the City of David. Then Asa his son reigned in his place.

Asa Reigns in Judah

9 In the twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Asa became king over Judah. Asa 10 And he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem. His grandmother's name was Maachah the granddaughter of Abishalom.

11 Asa did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, as did his father David.
12 And he banished the perverted persons[b] from the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.
13 Also he removed Maachah his grandmother from being queen mother, because she had made an obscene image of Asherah.[c] And Asa cut down her obscene image and burned it by the Brook Kidron.
14 But the high places were not removed. Nevertheless Asa's heart was loyal to the LORD all his days.
15 He also brought into the house of the LORD the things which his father had dedicated, and the things which he himself had dedicated: silver and gold and utensils.
16 Now there was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days. Starting Strong, Ending Weak
17 And Baasha king of Israel came up against Judah, and built Ramah, that he might let none go out or come in to Asa king of Judah.
18 Then Asa took all the silver and gold that was left in the treasuries of the house of the LORD and the treasuries of the king's house, and delivered them into the hand of his servants. And King Asa sent them to Ben-Hadad the son of Tabrimmon, the son of Hezion, king of Syria, who dwelt in Damascus, saying,
19 "Let there be a treaty between you and me, as there was between my father and your father. See, I have sent you a present of silver and gold. Come and break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel, so that he will withdraw from me."
20 So Ben-Hadad heeded King Asa, and sent the captains of his armies against the cities of Israel. He attacked Ijon, Dan, Abel Beth Maachah, and all Chinneroth, with all the land of Naphtali.

21 Now it happened, when Baasha heard it, that he stopped building Ramah, and remained in Tirzah.
22 Then King Asa made a proclamation throughout all Judah; none was exempted. And they took away the stones and timber of Ramah, which Baasha had used for building;
and with them King Asa built Geba of Benjamin, and Mizpah.
23 The rest of all the acts of Asa, all his might, all that he did, and the cities which he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? But in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet.
24 So Asa rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David his father. Then Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place.

Nadab Reigns in Israel

25 Now Nadab the son of Jeroboam became king over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Judah, and he reigned over Israel two years.
26 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in his sin by which he had made Israel sin.
27 Then Baasha the son of Ahijah, of the house of Issachar, conspired against him. And Baasha killed him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines, while Nadab and all Israel laid siege to Gibbethon.
28 Baasha killed him in the third year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned in his place.
29 And it was so, when he became king, that he killed all the house of Jeroboam. He did not leave to Jeroboam anyone that breathed, until he had destroyed him, according to the word of the LORD which He had spoken
by His servant Ahijah the Shilonite,

30because of the sins of Jeroboam, which he had sinned and by which he had made Israel sin, because of his provocation with which he had provoked the LORD God of Israel to anger.

31Now the rest of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

32And there was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days.

Baasha Reigns in Israel

33In the third year of Asa king of Judah, Baasha the son of Ahijah became king over all Israel in Tirzah, and reigned twenty-four years.

34He did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sin by which he had made Israel sin.

1 Kings 16

1 Then the word of the LORD came to Jehu the son of Hanani, against Baasha, saying:
2 "Inasmuch as I lifted you out of the dust and made you ruler over My people Israel, and you have walked in the way of Jeroboam, and have made My people Israel sin, to provoke Me to anger with their sins, 3 "surely I will take away the posterity of Baasha and the posterity of his house, and I will make your house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat.
4 "The dogs shall eat whoever belongs to Baasha and dies in the city, and the birds of the air shall eat whoever dies in the fields."
5 Now the rest of the acts of Baasha, what he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?
6 So Baasha rested with his fathers and was buried in Tirzah. Then Elah his son reigned in his place.
7 And also the word of the LORD came by the prophet Jehu the son of Hanani against Baasha and his house, because of all the evil that he did in the sight of the LORD in provoking Him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the house of Jeroboam, and because he killed
them.

Elah Reigns in Israel

8 In the twenty-sixth year of Asa king of Judah, Elah the son of Baasha became king over Israel, and reigned two years in Tirzah.
9 Now his servant Zimri, commander of half his chariots, conspired against him as he was in Tirzah drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza, steward of his house in Tirzah.

10And Zimri went in and struck him and killed him in the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned in his place.

11Then it came to pass, when he began to reign, as soon as he was seated on his throne, that he killed all the household of Baasha; he did not leave him one male, neither of his relatives nor of his friends.

12Thus Zimri destroyed all the household of Baasha, according to the word of the LORD, which He spoke against Baasha by Jehu the prophet, 13for all the sins of Baasha and the sins of Elah his son, by which they had sinned and by which they had made Israel sin, in provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger with their idols.

14Now the rest of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

Zimri Reigns in Israel

15In the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, Zimri had reigned in Tirzah seven days. And the people were encamped against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines.

16Now the people who were encamped heard it said, “Zimri has conspired and also has killed the king.” So all Israel made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel that day in the camp.

17Then Omri and all Israel with him went up from Gibbethon, and they besieged Tirzah.

18And it happened, when Zimri saw that the city was taken, that he went into the citadel of the king’s house and burned the king’s house down upon himself with fire, and died,

19because of the sins which he had committed in doing evil in the sight of the LORD, in walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sin which he had committed to make Israel sin.
20Now the rest of the acts of Zimri, and the treason he committed, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

Omri Reigns in Israel

21Then the people of Israel were divided into two parts:
half of the people followed Tibni the son of Ginath, to make him king, and half followed Omri.
22But the people who followed Omri prevailed over the people who followed Tibni the son of Ginath. So Tibni died and Omri reigned.
23In the thirty-first year of Asa king of Judah, Omri became king over Israel, and reigned twelve years. Six years he reigned in Tirzah.
24And he bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two talents of silver; then he built on the hill, and called the name of the city which he built, Samaria, after the name of Shemer, owner of the hill. Samaria
25Omri did evil in the eyes of the LORD, and did worse than all who were before him.
26For he walked in all the ways of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in his sin by which he had made Israel sin, provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger with their idols.
27Now the rest of the acts of Omri which he did, and the might that he showed, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?
28So Omri rested with his fathers and was buried in Samaria. Then Ahab his son reigned in his place.

Ahab Reigns in Israel

29In the thirty-eighth year of Asa king of Judah, Ahab the son of Omri became king over Israel; and Ahab the son of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years. Ahab

30Now Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the LORD, more than all who were before him.

31And it came to pass, as though it had been a trivial thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, that he took as wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal, king of the Sidonians; and he went and served Baal and worshiped him.

32Then he set up an altar for Baal in the temple of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.

33And Ahab made a wooden image.[a] Ahab did more to provoke the LORD God of Israel to anger than all the kings of Israel who were before him.

34In his days Hiel of Bethel built Jericho. He laid its foundation with Abiram his firstborn, and with his youngest son Segub he set up its gates, according to the word of the LORD, which He had spoken through Joshua the son of Nun.[b]

1 Kings 17

Elijah Proclaims a Drought

1And Elijah the Tishbite, of the inhabitants of Gilead, said to Ahab, “As the LORD God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, except at my word.” Elijah

2Then the word of the LORD came to him, saying,

3“Get away from here and turn eastward, and hide by the Brook Cherith, which flows into the Jordan.

4“And it will be that you shall drink from the brook, and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there.”

5So he went and did according to the word of the LORD, for he went and stayed by the Brook Cherith, which flows into the Jordan.

6The ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening; and he drank from the brook.

7And it happened after a while that the brook dried up, because there had been no rain in the land.

Elijah and the Widow

8Then the word of the LORD came to him, saying,

9“Arise, go to Zarephath, which belongs to Sidon, and dwell there. See, I have commanded a widow there to provide for you.” The Widow of Zarephath

10So he arose and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, indeed a widow was there gathering sticks. And he called to her and said, “Please bring me a little water in a cup, that I may drink.”

11And as she was going to get it, he called to her and said, “Please bring me a morsel of bread in your hand.”

12So she said, “As the LORD your God lives, I do not have bread, only a handful of flour in a bin, and a little oil in a jar; and see, I am gathering a couple of sticks that I may go in and prepare it for myself and my son, that we may eat it, and die.”
13And Elijah said to her, “Do not fear; go and do as you have said, but make me a small cake from it first, and bring it to me; and afterward make some for yourself and your son.
14“For thus says the LORD God of Israel: ‘The bin of flour shall not be used up, nor shall the jar of oil run dry, until the day the LORD sends rain on the earth.’ ” 15So she went away and did according to the word of Elijah; and she and he and her household ate for many days.
16The bin of flour was not used up, nor did the jar of oil run dry, according to the word of the LORD which He spoke by Elijah.

Elijah Revives the Widow’s Son

17Now it happened after these things that the son of the woman who owned the house became sick. And his sickness was so serious that there was no breath left in
him.
18So she said to Elijah, “What have I to do with you, O man of God? Have you come to me to bring my sin to remembrance, and to kill my son?”
19And he said to her, “Give me your son.” So he took him out of her arms and carried him to the upper room where he was staying, and laid him on his own bed.
20Then he cried out to the LORD and said, “O LORD my God, have You also brought tragedy on the widow with whom I lodge, by killing her son?”

21 And he stretched himself out on the child three times, and cried out to the LORD and said, “O LORD my God, I pray, let this child’s soul come back to him.”
22 Then the LORD heard the voice of Elijah; and the soul of the child came back to him, and he revived.
23 And Elijah took the child and brought him down from the upper room into the house, and gave him to his mother.
And Elijah said, “See, your son lives!”
24 Then the woman said to Elijah, “Now by this I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in your mouth is the truth.”

1 Kings 18

Elijah's Message to Ahab

1And it came to pass after many days that the word of the LORD came to Elijah, in the third year, saying, "Go, present yourself to Ahab, and I will send rain on the earth." Mapping the Life of Elijah

2So Elijah went to present himself to Ahab; and there was a severe famine in Samaria.

3And Ahab had called Obadiah, who was in charge of his house. (Now Obadiah feared the LORD greatly.

4For so it was, while Jezebel massacred the prophets of the LORD, that Obadiah had taken one hundred prophets and hidden them, fifty to a cave, and had fed them with bread and water.)

5And Ahab had said to Obadiah, "Go into the land to all the springs of water and to all the brooks; perhaps we may find grass to keep the horses and mules alive, so that we will not have to kill any livestock."

6So they divided the land between them to explore it; Ahab went one way by himself, and Obadiah went another way by himself.

7Now as Obadiah was on his way, suddenly Elijah met him; and he recognized him, and fell on his face, and said, "Is that you, my lord Elijah?"

8And he answered him, "It is I. Go, tell your master, 'Elijah is here.' "

9So he said, "How have I sinned, that you are delivering your servant into the hand of Ahab, to kill me?

10"As the LORD your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my master has not sent someone to hunt for you; and when they said, 'He is not here,' he took an oath from the kingdom or nation that they could not find you.

11 “And now you say, ‘Go, tell your master, “Elijah is here” ’!

12 “And it shall come to pass, as soon as I am gone from you, that the Spirit of the LORD will carry you to a place I do not know; so when I go and tell Ahab, and he cannot find you, he will kill me. But I your servant have feared the LORD from my youth.

13 “Was it not reported to my lord what I did when Jezebel killed the prophets of the LORD, how I hid one hundred men of the LORD’s prophets, fifty to a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

14 “And now you say, ‘Go, tell your master, “Elijah is here.” ’ He will kill me!”

15 Then Elijah said, “As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, I will surely present myself to him today.”

16 So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him; and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

17 Then it happened, when Ahab saw Elijah, that Ahab said to him, “Is that you, O troubler of Israel?” The Troubler and the Savior

18 And he answered, “I have not troubled Israel, but you and your father’s house have, in that you have forsaken the commandments of the LORD and have followed the Baals.

19 “Now therefore, send and gather all Israel to me on Mount Carmel, the four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal, and the four hundred prophets of Asherah,[a] who eat at Jezebel’s table.”

Elijah’s Mount Carmel Victory

20 So Ahab sent for all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together on Mount Carmel.

21 And Elijah came to all the people, and said, “How long will you falter between two opinions? If the LORD is God, follow Him; but if Baal, follow him.” But the people answered him not a word.
22 Then Elijah said to the people, “I alone am left a prophet of the LORD; but Baal’s prophets are four hundred and fifty men.
23 “Therefore let them give us two bulls; and let them choose one bull for themselves, cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood, but put no fire under it; and I will prepare the other bull, and lay it on the wood, but put no fire under it.
24 “Then you call on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the LORD; and the God who answers by fire, He is God.” So all the people answered and said, “It is well spoken.”
25 Now Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, “Choose one bull for yourselves and prepare it first, for you are many;
and call on the name of your god, but put no fire under it.” 26 So they took the bull which was given them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal from morning even till noon, saying, “O Baal, hear us!” But there was no voice; no one answered. Then they leaped about the altar which they had made.
27 And so it was, at noon, that Elijah mocked them and said, “Cry aloud, for he is a god; either he is meditating, or he is busy, or he is on a journey, or perhaps he is sleeping and must be awakened.”
28 So they cried aloud, and cut themselves, as was their custom, with knives and lances, until the blood gushed out on them.
29 And when midday was past, they prophesied until the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice. But there was no voice; no one answered, no one paid attention.

30Then Elijah said to all the people, “Come near to me.”
So all the people came near to him. And he repaired the altar of the LORD that was broken down.
31And Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, to whom the word of the LORD had come, saying, “Israel shall be your name.”[b] 32Then with the stones he built an altar in the name of the LORD; and he made a trench around the altar large enough to hold two seahs of seed.
33And he put the wood in order, cut the bull in pieces, and laid it on the wood, and said, “Fill four waterpots with water, and pour it on the burnt sacrifice and on the wood.”
34Then he said, “Do it a second time,” and they did it a second time; and he said, “Do it a third time,” and they did it a third time.
35So the water ran all around the altar; and he also filled the trench with water.
36And it came to pass, at the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came near and said, “LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known this day that You are God in Israel and I am Your servant, and that I have done all these things at Your word.
37“Hear me, O LORD, hear me, that this people may know that You are the LORD God, and that You have turned their hearts back to You again.” God Places Value on You 38Then the fire of the LORD fell and consumed the burnt sacrifice, and the wood and the stones and the dust, and it licked up the water that was in the trench.
39Now when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces; and they said, “The LORD, He is God! The LORD, He is God!”
40And Elijah said to them, “Seize the prophets of Baal!
Do not let one of them escape!” So they seized them; and Elijah brought them down to the Brook Kishon and executed them there.

The Drought Ends

41Then Elijah said to Ahab, “Go up, eat and drink; for there is the sound of abundance of rain.”

42So Ahab went up to eat and drink. And Elijah went up to the top of Carmel; then he bowed down on the ground, and put his face between his knees,

43and said to his servant, “Go up now, look toward the sea.” So he went up and looked, and said, “There is nothing.” And seven times he said, “Go again.”

44Then it came to pass the seventh time, that he said, “There is a cloud, as small as a man’s hand, rising out of the sea!” So he said, “Go up, say to Ahab, ‘Prepare your chariot, and go down before the rain stops you.’ ”

45Now it happened in the meantime that the sky became black with clouds and wind, and there was a heavy rain. So Ahab rode away and went to Jezreel.

46Then the hand of the LORD came upon Elijah; and he girded up his loins and ran ahead of Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

1 Kings 19

Elijah Escapes from Jezebel

1And Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, also how he had executed all the prophets with the sword. Jezebel

2Then Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah, saying, “So let the gods do to me, and more also, if I do not make your life as the life of one of them by tomorrow about this time.”

3And when he saw that, he arose and ran for his life, and went to Beersheba, which belongs to Judah, and left his servant there.

4But he himself went a day’s journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a broom tree. And he prayed that he might die, and said, “It is enough! Now, LORD, take my life, for I am no better than my fathers!”

5Then as he lay and slept under a broom tree, suddenly an angel[a] touched him, and said to him, “Arise and eat.”

6Then he looked, and there by his head was a cake baked on coals, and a jar of water. So he ate and drank, and lay down again.

7And the angel[b] of the LORD came back the second time, and touched him, and said, “Arise and eat, because the journey is too great for you.”

8So he arose, and ate and drank; and he went in the strength of that food forty days and forty nights as far as Horeb, the mountain of God. The Mountain of God

9And there he went into a cave, and spent the night in that place; and behold, the word of the LORD came to him, and He said to him, “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

10So he said, “I have been very zealous for the LORD God of hosts; for the children of Israel have forsaken Your covenant, torn down Your altars, and killed Your prophets with the sword. I alone am left; and they seek to take my life.”

God’s Revelation to Elijah

11Then He said, “Go out, and stand on the mountain before the LORD.” And behold, the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind tore into the mountains and broke the rocks in pieces before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind; and after the wind an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake; Moses and Elijah

12and after the earthquake a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice.

13So it was, when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle and went out and stood in the entrance of the cave. Suddenly a voice came to him, and said, “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

14And he said, “I have been very zealous for the LORD
God of hosts; because the children of Israel have forsaken Your covenant, torn down Your altars, and killed Your prophets with the sword. I alone am left; and they seek to take my life.”

15Then the LORD said to him: “Go, return on your way to the Wilderness of Damascus; and when you arrive, anoint Hazael as king over Syria.

16“Also you shall anoint Jehu the son of Nimshi as king over Israel. And Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel Meholah you shall anoint as prophet in your place.

17“It shall be that whoever escapes the sword of Hazael, Jehu will kill; and whoever escapes the sword of Jehu,
Elisha will kill.

18“Yet I have reserved seven thousand in Israel, all whose knees have not bowed to Baal, and every mouth that has not kissed him.”

Elisha Follows Elijah

19So he departed from there, and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he was with the twelfth. Then Elijah passed by him and threw his mantle on him.

20And he left the oxen and ran after Elijah, and said, “Please let me kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow you.” And he said to him, “Go back again, for what have I done to you?”

21So Elisha turned back from him, and took a yoke of oxen and slaughtered them and boiled their flesh, using the oxen’s equipment, and gave it to the people, and they ate. Then he arose and followed Elijah, and became his servant.

1 Kings 20

Ahab Defeats the Syrians

1 Now Ben-Hadad the king of Syria gathered all his forces together; thirty-two kings were with him, with horses and chariots. And he went up and besieged Samaria, and made war against it.
2 Then he sent messengers into the city to Ahab king of Israel, and said to him, “Thus says Ben-Hadad:
3 ‘Your silver and your gold are mine; your loveliest wives and children are mine.’ ”
4 And the king of Israel answered and said, “My lord, O king, just as you say, I and all that I have are yours.”
5 Then the messengers came back and said, “Thus speaks Ben-Hadad, saying, ‘Indeed I have sent to you, saying, “You shall deliver to me your silver and your gold, your wives and your children”; 6 ‘but I will send my servants to you tomorrow about this time, and they shall search your house and the houses of your servants. And it shall be, that whatever is pleasant in your eyes, they will put in their hands and take it.’ ” 7 So the king of Israel called all the elders of the land, and said, “Notice, please, and see how this man seeks trouble, for he sent to me for my wives, my children, my silver, and my gold; and I did not deny him.”
8 And all the elders and all the people said to him, “Do not listen or consent.”
9 Therefore he said to the messengers of Ben-Hadad, “Tell my lord the king, ‘All that you sent for to your servant the first time I will do, but this thing I cannot do.’ ” And the messengers departed and brought back word to him.

10 Then Ben-Hadad sent to him and said, “The gods do so to me, and more also, if enough dust is left of Samaria for a handful for each of the people who follow me.” 11 So the king of Israel answered and said, “Tell him, ‘Let not the one who puts on his armor boast like the one who takes it off.’ ”
12 And it happened when Ben-Hadad heard this message, as he and the kings were drinking at the command post, that he said to his servants, “Get ready.” And they got ready to attack the city.
13 Suddenly a prophet approached Ahab king of Israel, saying, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Have you seen all this great multitude? Behold, I will deliver it into your hand today, and you shall know that I am the LORD.’ ” 14 So Ahab said, “By whom?” And he said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘By the young leaders of the provinces.’ ” Then he said, “Who will set the battle in order?” And he answered,
“You.”
15 Then he mustered the young leaders of the provinces, and there were two hundred and thirty-two; and after them he mustered all the people, all the children of Israel—seven thousand.
16 So they went out at noon. Meanwhile Ben-Hadad and the thirty-two kings helping him were getting drunk at the command post.
17 The young leaders of the provinces went out first. And Ben-Hadad sent out a patrol, and they told him, saying,
“Men are coming out of Samaria!”
18 So he said, “If they have come out for peace, take them alive; and if they have come out for war, take them alive.” 19 Then these young leaders of the provinces went out of the city with the army which followed them.
20 And each one killed his man; so the Syrians fled, and Israel pursued them; and Ben-Hadad the king of Syria escaped on a horse with the cavalry.

21 Then the king of Israel went out and attacked the horses and chariots, and killed the Syrians with a great slaughter.

22 And the prophet came to the king of Israel and said to him, “Go, strengthen yourself; take note, and see what you should do, for in the spring of the year the king of Syria will come up against you.”

The Syrians Again Defeated

23 Then the servants of the king of Syria said to him, “Their gods are gods of the hills. Therefore they were stronger than we; but if we fight against them in the plain, surely we will be stronger than they.

24 “So do this thing: Dismiss the kings, each from his position, and put captains in their places;

25 “and you shall muster an army like the army that you have lost, horse for horse and chariot for chariot. Then we will fight against them in the plain; surely we will be stronger than they.” And he listened to their voice and did so.

26 So it was, in the spring of the year, that Ben-Hadad mustered the Syrians and went up to Aphek to fight against Israel.

27 And the children of Israel were mustered and given provisions, and they went against them. Now the children of Israel encamped before them like two little flocks of goats, while the Syrians filled the countryside.

28 Then a man of God came and spoke to the king of Israel, and said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Because the Syrians have said, “The LORD is God of the hills, but He is not God of the valleys,” therefore I will deliver all this great multitude into your hand, and you shall know that I am the LORD.’ ”

29 And they encamped opposite each other for seven days. So it was that on the seventh day the battle was joined; and the children of Israel killed one hundred thousand foot soldiers of the Syrians in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphek, into the city; then a wall fell on twenty-seven thousand of the men who were left. And Ben-Hadad fled and went into the city, into an inner chamber.

Ahab's Treaty with Ben-Hadad

31 Then his servants said to him, "Look now, we have heard that the kings of the house of Israel are merciful kings. Please, let us put sackcloth around our waists and ropes around our heads, and go out to the king of Israel; perhaps he will spare your life." Merciful Kings

32 So they wore sackcloth around their waists and put ropes around their heads, and came to the king of Israel and said, "Your servant Ben-Hadad says, 'Please let me live.' " And he said, "Is he still alive? He is my brother."

33 Now the men were watching closely to see whether any sign of mercy would come from him; and they quickly grasped at this word and said, "Your brother Ben-Hadad." So he said, "Go, bring him." Then Ben-Hadad came out to him; and he had him come up into the chariot.

34 So Ben-Hadad said to him, "The cities which my father took from your father I will restore; and you may set up marketplaces for yourself in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria." Then Ahab said, "I will send you away with this treaty." So he made a treaty with him and sent him away.

Ahab Condemned

35 Now a certain man of the sons of the prophets said to his neighbor by the word of the LORD, "Strike me, please." And the man refused to strike him.

36Then he said to him, “Because you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, surely, as soon as you depart from me, a lion shall kill you.” And as soon as he left him, a lion found him and killed him.

37And he found another man, and said, “Strike me, please.” So the man struck him, inflicting a wound.

38Then the prophet departed and waited for the king by the road, and disguised himself with a bandage over his eyes.

39Now as the king passed by, he cried out to the king and said, “Your servant went out into the midst of the battle; and there, a man came over and brought a man to me, and said, ‘Guard this man; if by any means he is missing, your life shall be for his life, or else you shall pay a talent of silver.’

40“While your servant was busy here and there, he was gone.” Then the king of Israel said to him, “So shall your judgment be; you yourself have decided it.”

41And he hastened to take the bandage away from his eyes; and the king of Israel recognized him as one of the prophets.

42Then he said to him, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Because you have let slip out of your hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore your life shall go for his life, and your people for his people.’ ”

43So the king of Israel went to his house sullen and displeased, and came to Samaria.

1 Kings 21

Naboth Is Murdered for His Vineyard

1And it came to pass after these things that Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard which was in Jezreel, next to the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.
2So Ahab spoke to Naboth, saying, “Give me your vineyard, that I may have it for a vegetable garden, because it is near, next to my house; and for it I will give you a vineyard better than it. Or, if it seems good to you, I will give you its worth in money.” 3But Naboth said to Ahab, “The LORD forbid that I should give the inheritance of my fathers to you!”
4So Ahab went into his house sullen and displeased because of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had spoken to him; for he had said, “I will not give you the inheritance of my fathers.” And he lay down on his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no food.
5But Jezebel his wife came to him, and said to him, “Why is your spirit so sullen that you eat no food?” 6He said to her, “Because I spoke to Naboth the Jezreelite, and said to him, ‘Give me your vineyard for money; or else, if it pleases you, I will give you another vineyard for it.’ And he answered, ‘I will not give you my vineyard.’ ”
7Then Jezebel his wife said to him, “You now exercise authority over Israel! Arise, eat food, and let your heart be cheerful; I will give you the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.”
8And she wrote letters in Ahab’s name, sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters to the elders and the nobles who were dwelling in the city with Naboth.

9 She wrote in the letters, saying,

> Proclaim a fast, and seat Naboth with high honor among the people;
> 10 and seat two men, scoundrels, before him to bear witness against him, saying, “You have blasphemed God and the king.” Then take him out, and stone him, that he may die.

11 So the men of his city, the elders and nobles who were inhabitants of his city, did as Jezebel had sent to them, as it was written in the letters which she had sent to them.
12 They proclaimed a fast, and seated Naboth with high honor among the people.
13 And two men, scoundrels, came in and sat before him; and the scoundrels witnessed against him, against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, “Naboth has blasphemed God and the king!” Then they took him outside the city and stoned him with stones, so that he died.
14 Then they sent to Jezebel, saying, “Naboth has been stoned and is dead.”
15 And it came to pass, when Jezebel heard that Naboth had been stoned and was dead, that Jezebel said to Ahab, “Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refused to give you for money; for Naboth is not alive, but dead.”
16 So it was, when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, that Ahab got up and went down to take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

The LORD Condemns Ahab

17 Then the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

18 “Arise, go down to meet Ahab king of Israel, who lives in Samaria. There he is, in the vineyard of Naboth, where he has gone down to take possession of it.
19 “You shall speak to him, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: “Have you murdered and also taken possession?” ’ And you shall speak to him, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: “In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth, dogs shall lick your blood, even yours.” ’ ”
20 So Ahab said to Elijah, “Have you found me, O my enemy?” And he answered, “I have found you, because you have sold yourself to do evil in the sight of the LORD:
21 ‘Behold, I will bring calamity on you. I will take away your posterity, and will cut off from Ahab every male in Israel, both bond and free.
22 ‘I will make your house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah, because of the provocation with which you have provoked Me to anger, and made Israel sin.’
23 “And concerning Jezebel the LORD also spoke, saying, ‘The dogs shall eat Jezebel by the wall[a] of Jezreel.’
24 “The dogs shall eat whoever belongs to Ahab and dies in the city, and the birds of the air shall eat whoever dies in the field.”
25 But there was no one like Ahab who sold himself to do wickedness in the sight of the LORD, because Jezebel his wife stirred him up.
26 And he behaved very abominably in following idols, according to all that the Amorites had done, whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.
27 So it was, when Ahab heard those words, that he tore his clothes and put sackcloth on his body, and fasted and lay in sackcloth, and went about mourning.
28 And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

29 “See how Ahab has humbled himself before Me? Because he has humbled himself before Me, I will not bring the calamity in his days. In the days of his son I will bring the calamity on his house.”

1 Kings 22

Micaiah Warns Ahab

1 Now three years passed without war between Syria and Israel.
2 Then it came to pass, in the third year, that Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went down to visit the king of Israel.
Jehoshaphat
3 And the king of Israel said to his servants, "Do you know that Ramoth in Gilead is ours, but we hesitate to take it out of the hand of the king of Syria?"
4 So he said to Jehoshaphat, "Will you go with me to fight at Ramoth Gilead?" Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses."
5 Also Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "Please inquire for the word of the LORD today."
6 Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together, about four hundred men, and said to them, "Shall I go against Ramoth Gilead to fight, or shall I refrain?" So they said, "Go up, for the Lord will deliver it into the hand of the king."
7 And Jehoshaphat said, "Is there not still a prophet of the LORD here, that we may inquire of Him?"[a] 8 So the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "There is still one man, Micaiah the son of Imlah, by whom we may inquire of the LORD; but I hate him, because he does not prophesy good concerning me, but evil." And Jehoshaphat said, "Let not the king say such things!" Micaiah 9 Then the king of Israel called an officer and said, "Bring Micaiah the son of Imlah quickly!"

10 The king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, having put on their robes, sat each on his throne, at a threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets prophesied before them.
11 Now Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah had made horns of iron for himself; and he said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘With these you shall gore the Syrians until they are destroyed.’ ”
12 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, “Go up to Ramoth Gilead and prosper, for the LORD will deliver it into the king’s hand.”
13 Then the messenger who had gone to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, “Now listen, the words of the prophets with one accord encourage the king. Please, let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak encouragement.”
14 And Micaiah said, “As the LORD lives, whatever the LORD says to me, that I will speak.”
15 Then he came to the king; and the king said to him, “Micaiah, shall we go to war against Ramoth Gilead, or shall we refrain?” And he answered him, “Go and prosper, for the LORD will deliver it into the hand of the king!” 16 So the king said to him, “How many times shall I make you swear that you tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?”
17 Then he said, “I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, ‘These have no master. Let each return to his house in peace.’ ”
18 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Did I not tell you he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?”
19 Then Micaiah said, “Therefore hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on His throne, and all the host of heaven standing by, on His right hand and on His left.

20 “And the LORD said, ‘Who will persuade Ahab to go up, that he may fall at Ramoth Gilead?’ So one spoke in this manner, and another spoke in that manner.
21 “Then a spirit came forward and stood before the LORD, and said, ‘I will persuade him.’
22 “The LORD said to him, ‘In what way?’ So he said, ‘I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.’ And the LORD said, ‘You shall persuade him, and also prevail. Go out and do so.’
23 “Therefore look! The LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these prophets of yours, and the LORD has declared disaster against you.”
24 Now Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah went near and struck Micaiah on the cheek, and said, “Which way did the spirit from the LORD go from me to speak to you?”
25 And Micaiah said, “Indeed, you shall see on that day
when you go into an inner chamber to hide!”
26 So the king of Israel said, “Take Micaiah, and return him to Amon the governor of the city and to Joash the king’s son;
27 “and say, ‘Thus says the king: “Put this fellow in prison,
and feed him with bread of affliction and water of affliction,
until I come in peace.” ’ ”
28 But Micaiah said, “If you ever return in peace, the LORD has not spoken by me.” And he said, “Take heed, all you people!”

Ahab Dies in Battle

29 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth Gilead.
30 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and go into battle; but you put on your robes.” So the king of Israel disguised himself and went into battle.

31Now the king of Syria had commanded the thirty-two captains of his chariots, saying, “Fight with no one small or great, but only with the king of Israel.”

32So it was, when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, “Surely it is the king of Israel!” Therefore they turned aside to fight against him, and Jehoshaphat cried out.

33And it happened, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned back from pursuing him.

35The battle increased that day; and the king was propped up in his chariot, facing the Syrians, and died at evening. The blood ran out from the wound onto the floor of the chariot.

36Then, as the sun was going down, a shout went throughout the army, saying, “Every man to his city, and every man to his own country!”

37So the king died, and was brought to Samaria. And they buried the king in Samaria.

38Then someone washed the chariot at a pool in Samaria, and the dogs licked up his blood while the harlots bathed,[b] according to the word of the LORD which He had spoken.

39Now the rest of the acts of Ahab, and all that he did, the ivory house which he built and all the cities that he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

40So Ahab rested with his fathers. Then Ahaziah his son reigned in his place.

Jehoshaphat Reigns in Judah

41Jehoshaphat the son of Asa had become king over Judah in the fourth year of Ahab king of Israel.
42Jehoshaphat was thirty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.
43And he walked in all the ways of his father Asa. He did not turn aside from them, doing what was right in the eyes of the LORD. Nevertheless the high places were not taken away, for the people offered sacrifices and burned incense on the high places.
44Also Jehoshaphat made peace with the king of Israel.
45Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, the might that he showed, and how he made war, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
46And the rest of the perverted persons,[c] who remained in the days of his father Asa, he banished from the land.
47*There was* then no king in Edom, only a deputy of the king.
48Jehoshaphat made merchant ships[d] to go to Ophir for gold; but they never sailed, for the ships were wrecked at Ezion Geber.
49Then Ahaziah the son of Ahab said to Jehoshaphat, "Let my servants go with your servants in the ships." But Jehoshaphat would not.
50And Jehoshaphat rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David his father. Then Jehoram his son reigned in his place.

Ahaziah Reigns in Israel

51Ahaziah the son of Ahab became king over Israel in Samaria in the seventeenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigned two years over Israel.

52He did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father and in the way of his mother and in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin;
53for he served Baal and worshiped him, and provoked the LORD God of Israel to anger, according to all that his father had done.

The Outcome of Infighting

1 Kin. 1:5

God had promised David an unending dynasty (2 Sam. 7:16), and after the king's death Israel must have wondered who would take the throne to carry on this legacy. Adonijah had popular support, but David named Adonijah's half brother Solomon as heir (1 Kin. 1:11–14, 28–30, 38, 39).

Although Solomon extended grace to Adonijah (1:50–53), the older brother refused any role but king. Desperate to maintain his place in the power structure, he enlisted Solomon's mother Bathsheba in a ploy to marry Abishag, a young woman who had cared for elderly David (2:13–18). Because a king's harem normally went to his successor, the union of Adonijah and Abishag would have declared Adonijah the rightful heir to David's throne. Solomon saw through the scheme and had Adonijah executed (2:22–25).

This is a story we can relate to today. Power brokers still scheme to protect their interests. And there is nothing surprising about a leader embroiled in scandal, because a drive for power leads to all kinds of evil. But we can overcome our own thirst for control by trusting our lives to God and by faithfully carrying out whatever He asks us to do. When we excuse wrongdoing for the sake of power, we have chosen another god. Rather than force our own agenda, we can count on obedience to God as the path to true power.

Bathsheba

1 Kin. 1:11

Also known as: Bathshua (1 Chr. 3:5); often called the wife of Uriah (2 Sam. 11:3; 11:26; 12:10; Matt. 1:6).

Home: Jerusalem.

Family: Daughter of Eliam (also called Ammiel); possibly the granddaughter of Ahithophel, one of David's counselors; wife of Uriah the Hittite; married David after David had Uriah murdered; mother of Shimea, Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon.

Best known as: The woman taken by David in adultery, leading to an illegitimate pregnancy, her husband's murder, her marriage to David, the death of their first child, and the birth of David's successor Solomon (11:1–12:25).

Think About It: If you were in Bathsheba's shoes how would you obey God at each juncture: (1) the king approaching while your spouse was at war; (2) discovering the king had arranged for your spouse's murder; (3) the heartbreak of your son's death; (4) the triumph of your son Solomon?

The Horns of the Altar
1 Kin. 1:50, 51

If the tabernacle altar was similar to the altar that Moses was commanded to build, it had a horn on each corner. Altars have been unearthed in Palestine dating to the period of Solomon, though the altar referred to in 1 Kings remains undiscovered.

More: By clinging to the horns on the altar, Adonijah followed a time-honored principle that places of worship should be sanctuaries where justice is ensured. The same concept was behind the designation of six cities of refuge in Israel. See "Cities of Refuge" in Num. 35:11.

Think About It: How does God want you to work for justice in and through your place of worship?

The Final Charge

1 Kin. 2:1–9

When the day draws near for us to bid farewell to this life and prepare to enter our new life in the heavenly home prepared for us (John 14:2), David's last words to Solomon offer valuable insight into how to encourage and equip our children to carry on the faith. David's final charge contained several parts:

- a blunt recognition and acceptance of death (1 Kin. 2:2);
- a challenge to Solomon to act responsibly (2:2);
- a review of God's covenant with Israel (2:3) and David's house (2:4);
- instructions about justice and honoring David's commitments (2:5–9).

As parents we spend our lives teaching and encouraging our children to walk in the ways of the Lord. This work reaches its final pinnacle as we bequeath upon our children their final spiritual inheritance. Like David, we can make the most of this moment by demonstrating a peaceful spirit in the face of death, challenging our children to do what is right, reminding them of God's promises and character, and urging them to use wisdom as they navigate the conflicts of this world.

Solomon
1 Kin. 2:12

Name means: "Peaceful."

Also known as: Jedidiah ("Beloved of the Lord"; 2 Sam. 12:25).

Home: Jerusalem.

Family: Tenth son of David, born to Bathsheba; related to numerous half brothers and sisters, including Absalom and Adonijah; married hundreds of wives and concubines, including Pharaoh's daughter; father of his successor Rehoboam.

Occupation: King of Israel.

Best known as: David's wise successor who built his father's kingdom into an empire that briefly dominated the Middle East.

More: Underlying all of Solomon's accomplishments was a legendary God-given wisdom. See "The Wise King" at 1 Kin. 10:24.

Think About It: God gave Solomon great wisdom. But Solomon did not always follow that wisdom. What people and habits will increase the probability that you will live wisely, not just know what is wise?

An Understanding Heart
1 Kin. 3:6–14

When God approached Solomon in a dream, He informed the new king that He stood ready to grant any request. Money, health, and happiness were all available for the asking. But Solomon wanted “an understanding heart” (1 Kin. 3:9).

Considering the challenges facing the new king, the request itself was exceptionally wise. Young Solomon was replacing an extraordinary ruler and was well aware of his own inexperience. He’d been saddled with the responsibility of leading God’s people, an assembly that for hundreds of years had shown stubbornness, rebellion, and abrasiveness toward their leaders (see “The Humblest Man on the Face of the Earth” at Num. 12:3). Perhaps Solomon concluded that in order to become a good king to these people, he must become a wise king.

Moreover, Solomon had recently emerged from a messy fight over the right of succession (1 Kin. 1–2). Most of his enemies had been eliminated, but he was not likely to forget the hardship of those events. Solomon might have worried that he would face the same recurring threats to his life and crown that his father had endured. The circumstances leading to Solomon’s birth (2 Sam. 11–12) and the fact that he was not the eldest son had already given him a shaky start. Given his background, Solomon had good reason to ask for the ability to “discern between good and evil” (1 Kin. 3:9).

The Lord felt delight at Solomon’s request, the same joy He feels whenever people show purity of heart (Matt. 5:8). God granted him wisdom beyond any measure Solomon had anticipated (1 Kin. 3:12). Then He added gifts Solomon had not asked for: long life, honor, and vast wealth (3:13, 14). Solomon put his gift of wisdom immediately to use when he met two women fighting over a baby and was able to discern which was the true mother, in what has become one of the most best-known stories of the Bible (3:16–27).

Solomon was blessed with wisdom, and the nation was blessed with another king determined to fear God and adhere to His law in administering justice to the people (3:28).

Discerning between good and evil, however, is not the same as doing good and rejecting evil. Despite his “understanding heart,” Solomon foolishly entered into hundreds of political marriages (11:1, 2; see also “Political Marriages” at 2 Sam. 3:13, 14). These marriages directly violated God’s law, and when his wives turned his heart to idolatry, Solomon’s kingdom was eventually torn in two (1 Kin. 11:9–13).

Many of us have spent time daydreaming about what we would ask for if put in Solomon’s situation. But we should instead consider whether we are making the most of the gifts God has already given us. Even with unsurpassed wisdom, health, wealth, and honor, Solomon still turned away from the Lord. Whatever our gifts may be, they will wither and fade if we center our lives around ourselves. But if we dedicate our gifts to God and live in His service, He will bring them to their fullest potential, far beyond what we can even imagine (Eph. 3:20).

The Recorder
1 Kin. 4:3

Jehoshaphat served as a recorder under both David and Solomon. His job was to preserve history through official annals. Similar jobs today would include registrars, court reporters, and historians.

Think About It: Why preserve history? In what ways might God want you to do this for yourself, for your family, for your church, or for another group?

Prosperity May Bring Vulnerability
1 Kin. 4:21, 24

Under Solomon's leadership, Israel briefly emerged as a powerhouse of wealth and military might, with an influence extending from the Euphrates to Egypt and an affluence spreading to a "multitude" of citizens who reveled in "eating and drinking and rejoicing" (1 Kin. 4:20). As Solomon's reign temporarily ended threats from both without and within, everyone lived in safety, "each man under his vine and his fig tree" (4:25).

Meanwhile, the cost of maintaining Solomon's court was enormous (4:22, 23). His many building projects, including his gilded temple and even more lavishly decorated palace, were funded by increased taxes that created unrest and eventually led to a revolt (10:14, 15;

12:4, 18). Israel's current economy also created a two-class society of privileged citizens and menial workers, most of whom were foreigners (9:15, 20–23). And while trade was lively (9:26–28; 10:22, 23), it contributed to a depletion of natural resources (see "The Cedar Trade" at 1 Kin. 7:2 and "The Ruin of the Land" at Is. 10:19).

These problems linger in the background of 1 Kings 4–10, which describes the peace and prosperity that Israel enjoyed after much turmoil. Reports of the empire's power and prestige cascade from the text until the beginning of chapter 11. There the good news suddenly halts with the transition, "But King Solomon loved many foreign wives" (1 Kin. 11:1).

As Solomon turned from the Lord and worshiped the idols of his foreign brides (11:4–8), circumstances in Israel rapidly declined. God pronounced judgment on the king (11:9–13) and raised up adversaries against him (11:14–25). One of Solomon's aides, Jeroboam, led a rebellion by the ten northern tribes (11:26–28), and the kingdom split after Solomon's death (12:1–19). The wisest king who ever ruled (3:12; 10:3, 6, 7, 24) blatantly violated the Law by accumulating wives who led him into idolatry—and with his subjects looking to him as a spiritual leader, Solomon may in turn have led countless others into idolatry as well. A once brilliant reign ended in tragedy as God's people turned away from Him and against one another in war.

This tragedy may never have occurred if Israel and its king had not overlooked the warning signs of disaster. Prosperity can dull the spiritual sensitivity of even the most devoted people of God. In and of itself, prosperity isn't evil. But as Jesus pointed out, the deceitfulness of riches can choke the spiritual life of both individuals and nations (Matt. 13:22). The New Testament warns us to stay spiritually vigilant lest we fall into temptation (1 Cor. 10:12, 13; 1 Pet. 1:13; 5:8).

God's blessings give us reason to be thankful. But we should never ignore the fact that prosperity makes us especially vulnerable to losing touch with God. With increasing wealth comes persistent temptation to forget that God is the source of every good thing (James 1:17). Without Him, all of life would be a tragedy; with Him, we still experience ups and downs but always in the knowledge of the joy that is to come (Rom. 8:18; 2 Cor. 4:17; Rev. 21:4).

More: During the peak of Israel's empire, Solomon effectively controlled the entire western part of the Fertile Crescent. As Israel split into a two-tiered society of a wealthy upper class and a poor lower class, it followed in the footsteps of its predecessors in the land, the Canaanites and the Philistines. See "The Canaanites" at Josh. 3:10.

Sparing No Expense

1 Kin. 5:5

As King Solomon built a house of worship, he seemed to set no limit on its size, materials, beauty, and expense. Consider the costliness of Solomon's project:

- The temple was constructed of the most precious building materials available, many of which were imported: cedar (1 Kin. 5:6), quarried stone (5:15–18), gold (6:20–22), olive wood (6:23–28, 31–33), cypress (6:34), and bronze (7:13–47).
- Solomon instructed his primary supplier, Hiram, to name his price for materials and workers (5:6); in exchange, Hiram supplied Solomon with as much material as he desired (9:11).
- The project employed 30,000 laborers (6:13), 150,000 stonemasons and haulers (6:15), and 3,300 supervisors (6:16).
- The stone was finished at the quarry before being carefully transported to the building site (6:7).
- Cedar panels, some ornately carved, embellished the walls (6:9, 15–18).
- The entire temple was overlaid with gold (6:20–22).
- The temple was furnished with items of finely crafted wood and gold (6:23–35; 7:48–50).
- So much bronze was used that its weight and cost were not determined (7:45–47).
- The work continued nonstop for seven years (6:37, 38).

Sadly, the expense of the palace, temple, and Solomon's other public works (9:15–19) created a crushing tax burden that slowly diminished his subjects' loyalty (10:14, 15; 12:4). For more, see "Tax Increases Divide the Kingdom" at 1 Kings 12:18, 19.

Determining whether the expense was justified is not easy. The project contributed to the rising economic and social problems of Solomon's reign, including heavy taxation, a growing foreign underclass, and the ravaging of Lebanon's forests (see "Prosperity May Bring Vulnerability" at 1 Kin. 4:21, 24).

On the other hand, all buildings, especially those built for sacred purposes, can be constructed as works of art that glorify God. The world has seldom seen a more lavish building project. But many of the world's great architectural feats were accomplished to memorialize those who built them, and Solomon may have also built the temple for his own glory.

God blessed the sanctuary with His presence (8:10, 11). Even so, God reminded Solomon that cedar and gold meant nothing compared to keeping the Law (6:11–13).

When we build a house of worship, its size, beauty, and costliness matter little compared to the obedience and sincere devotion of the worshipers who gather there (8:27; Acts 7:48; 17:24; 1 Cor. 6:19, 20).

Building According to the Blueprints

1 Kin. 6:12

As Solomon constructed the temple, God reminded him that a spiritual foundation was necessary to support not only the project but life itself. Just as plans guided the building of the temple (1 Kin. 6:37, 38), so the Lord's statutes, commandments, and judgments were meant to serve as blueprints for Solomon and the rest of God's people.

Constructing a life is far more important and complex than any building. These complexities become less so when we rely on God's Word for direction. If we do not examine our lives against the divine blueprints by reading and studying Scripture, as well as listening to wise ones who also obey God, we risk putting up a structure that will ultimately collapse (Matt. 7:24–27).

More: Living according to God's blueprints means learning to determine and do His will. See "Fleece? Only One Believer Used It" at Judg. 6:36–40. Recognizing that God has made us for unique purposes helps us carry out His desires for us.

See the Overall Effect
1 Kin. 7:1

Solomon's laborers toiled for seven years to complete the temple (1 Kin. 6:38). They spent nearly twice that long completing the king's palace. Four elaborate structures composed the palace complex:

- the House of the Forests of Lebanon (7:2),
- the Hall of Pillars (7:6),
- the throne room or Hall of Judgment (7:7), and
- the queen's residence (7:8).

These extravagant dwellings reflect Solomon's kingly policy of building and buying only the best. But the expense of the palace, temple, and Solomon's other public works (9:15–19) created a crushing tax burden that slowly diminished his subjects' loyalty (10:14, 15; 12:4). For more, see "Tax Increases Divide the Kingdom" at 1 Kings 12:18, 19.

The Cedar Trade
1 Kin. 7:2

The parched landscape of modern-day Lebanon makes it difficult to imagine the massive cedar forests that flourished in the region three thousand years ago. The timber was so plentiful that Solomon sent thousands of laborers to cut and transport lumber to Jerusalem, where he used it to build structures that included his impressive palace, appropriately called the House of the Forest of Lebanon. Cedar was also used to construct the temple (1 Kin. 5:6–10; 6:9, 10, 15–18) and again much later in the second temple (Ezra 3:7).

Solomon was not the only ruler to import this fragrant, durable, and attractive wood. Lebanon traded cedar as well as cypress and fir with Syria, Egypt, and the nations of Mesopotamia. But in the centuries between Solomon and Christ, this lively economy collapsed. A massive change occurred in Palestine's ecology (see "The Ruin of the Land" at Is. 10:19), and Scripture suggests that this disaster was part of God's judgment against Israel for turning from Him.

Overcutting decimated Lebanon's cedars even though ancient loggers practiced reforestation. Solomon was a major contributor to the problem, but the Babylonian ruler Nebuchadnezzar far surpassed even Solomon's demand, according to extrabiblical sources and, possibly, biblical prophets (for example, Hab. 2:17). Cedar forests vanished within generations, never to be replaced.

Keeping Covenant and Mercy

1 Kin. 8:23

Solomon praised the Lord for keeping His "covenant and mercy," words remarkably similar to lyrics composed by his father David (2 Sam. 22:51). Like David, Solomon understood mercy to mean that God would faithfully keep His promises. Find out more about God's character in "Imitate the God of Mercy" at Deuteronomy 7:9.

A Plague of the Heart

1 Kin. 8:38

Solomon understood that the temple was a place in which and toward which people would pray (1 Kin. 8:38, 41, 42). The temple represented God's presence on earth, so when the faithful prayed toward Jerusalem, they were turning to entreat the Lord.

People pray when they experience famine, pestilence, blight, and other plagues and sicknesses (8:37). But they pray for more than these widespread calamities. They turn to God for their deepest individual needs, what Solomon called the plague of a person's heart.

These plagues leave us with nowhere to turn but toward God. He is ready to heal our most personal afflictions, the points where a fallen world's trouble, pain, and sorrow intersect with our own heart and life. We serve a personal, loving God who cares about our individual needs. We pray, and God hears. He shows us what to do about each situation.

An International House of Prayer
1 Kin. 8:41–43

Solomon's prayer dedicating the temple showed that Israel's God was the God of all nations. The king anticipated that foreigners from throughout the world would be drawn to the house of worship in Jerusalem. He asked God to honor their prayers so that "all peoples of the earth may know Your name and fear You."

Solomon's prayer was soon answered by a visit from the queen of Sheba (1 Kin. 10:1–13). She had heard rumors of Solomon's splendors but wanted to see them for herself. When she observed all his accomplishments, she praised God for what the king had done for Israel (10:9). Other visitors had similar reactions (see "Attracted to Israel's God" at 2 Chr. 6:32, 33).

The temple was situated at Jerusalem, but as Jesus pointed out (quoting Isaiah), it was meant to be "a house of prayer for all nations" (Is. 56:7; Mark 11:17). Likewise, Israel was to bless the nations and light the way toward the one true God (Gen. 12:1–3; Is. 51:4).

Jesus also taught His followers to be a light to the world (Matt. 5:14–16). But rather than gathering others to a central place of worship, believers today have been commanded to scatter throughout the earth, taking the news of God's grace around the world (see "To Every Nation" at Matt. 28:19).

The Lord Renews His Covenant with David
1 Kin. 9:1–9

After Solomon had completed the temple, the Lord appeared to him, inviting him to renew the covenant that had been established with his father David. Psalm 72 expresses some of the political and spiritual significance of this agreement between the Lord and Solomon. Read the song in conjunction with this passage.

Searching for God
1 Kin. 10:6–9

The queen of Sheba was no doubt drawn to visit Solomon to view the impressive temple he had constructed for his God, to wander his magnificent palace complex with its cedar and gold treasures, and to hear firsthand the vast wisdom that had brought Solomon worldwide fame.

But what ultimately motivated her to caravan more than a thousand miles to meet him was the connection between Solomon's fame and the "name of the LORD" (1 Kin. 10:1). She came to test Solomon with hard questions, eager to know what this God might mean for her.

The Lord was answering a request Solomon had made when dedicating the temple. He had asked God to hear the prayers of foreigners. Now the temple and its God were drawing people from throughout the world (see "An International House of Prayer" at 1 Kin. 8:41–43). Solomon evidently passed the queen's test, because she praised the Lord for making Solomon king and for the Israelite values that reflected God's character (10:9).

No one knows if the queen of Sheba remained a worshiper of Israel's God. But Jesus mentioned her—along with the city of Nineveh (see the introduction to Jonah)—as examples of Gentiles in the Old Testament responding to the living God (Luke 11:29–32). The queen of Sheba's desire to seek the truth about the Lord made the Pharisees' hypocrisy obvious to everyone, and it shows how our own spiritual wonderings should drive us to actively seek answers from God.

The Wise King

1 Kin. 10:24

A list of Solomon's political, administrative, military, and architectural achievements are among the most impressive in the ancient world. Under his leadership, Israel expanded its influence from the Euphrates to the Mediterranean, and from Asia Minor to the Gulf of Aqaba and Egypt. Yet underlying all of Solomon's accomplishments was a God-given wisdom for which he was renowned both in his own day and today (see "An Understanding Heart" at 1 Kin. 3:6–14).

- Solomon won the respect of his nation when he discerned the rightful mother of a child claimed by two women (3:16–28).
- His wisdom surpassed that of all the other wise men of his day (4:30, 31).
- He spoke three thousand proverbs (4:32), many of which have been recorded in the Book of Proverbs.
- He composed more than one thousand songs (4:32), including Psalms 72 and 127.
- He demonstrated knowledge of botany, horticulture, zoology, and ichthyology, a branch of zoology that deals with the study of fish (4:33; compare Prov. 30:24–31; Eccl. 2:4–6).
- Visitors from throughout the world traveled to Jerusalem to hear his opinion (1 Kin. 4:34); the best known of these travelers is the queen of Sheba (10:1–9).
- He was the man behind most of the Book of Proverbs, as well as Ecclesiastes and Song of Solomon; several pieces of extrabiblical literature are attributed to him as well.
- Folktales from ancient Israel, Arabia, and Ethiopia celebrate Solomon's wisdom; some even go so far as to ascribe magical powers to him.

Ignoring the Law
1 Kin. 10:28–11:3

Marriage between one man and one woman had been countercultural for generations. God gave specific commands about marriage and following those commands invests in goodness. Ignoring them invests in anguish. David and Solomon presided over the golden age of the Israelite empire. David continues to be remembered as a man after God's own heart (1 Sam. 13:14; 16:7), and Solomon is still celebrated as the wisest man who ever lived (1 Kin. 3:12; 4:29–32; 10:3, 6, 7, 24). Yet as impressive as these two rulers were, they violated three specific commands given directly to kings (Deut. 17:16, 17): they each took many wives (2 Sam. 3:2–5; 5:13; 1 Kin. 11:1–3), and Solomon hoarded horses and amassed silver and gold for himself (10:14, 15, 22, 23, 28, 29).

This royal father and son acquired most of their wives through political marriages (see "Political Marriages" at 2 Sam. 3:13, 14), unions that complicated their home lives and turned their hearts from God. By importing horses from Egypt, Solomon symbolically returned Israel to bondage. God had delivered His people from the Egyptians in the days of Moses and He warned them never to "return" to Egypt by making alliances with its people. In time, David and Solomon's blatant disregard for the law caused the nation to split and many citizens to abandon God.

How Marriage Matters

1 Kin. 11:1–3

While God is not against marriage between persons of different ethnicities, the Bible does record that God was displeased with Solomon for marrying "many foreign women." Although many have recognized that God's displeasure did not arise from a disapproval of interracial relationships, it is worthwhile to confront a few of the interpretations that have been offered concerning this issue:

- Some claim that Solomon's main error may have been marrying outside Israel. The Law did prohibit Hebrews from intermarrying with Canaanites (Deut. 7:1–5; compare 1 Kin. 11:2). Yet elsewhere the Law permitted Israelite men to marry non-Canaanite women captured in war (20:14–18). Moses had a wife from Ethiopia (Num. 12:1). And Ruth, who married Boaz and became the great-grandmother of David, was a Moabite (see "A Web of Technicalities" at Ruth 2:1).
- Others argue that some inherent flaw in the nature of woman endangered Solomon. They say that just as Eve caused trouble for Adam (Gen. 3:6), Delilah for Samson (Judg. 16:6–21), and Bathsheba for David (2 Sam. 11:1–5), Solomon's wives weakened his resolve to follow the Lord and led him into sin. Yet God created woman equal with man and gave her shared responsibility over creation (Gen. 1:26, 27). And Scripture shows abundant examples of women with spiritual insight, selflessness, and obedience to God, including Jael (Judg. 4:17–24; 5:24–27), Ruth (Ruth 1:6–18), Abigail (1 Sam. 25), and Lydia (Acts 16:14, 15).
- Many fault Solomon's practice of polygamy. After all, the Law warned Israel's kings not to "multiply wives" (Deut. 17:17). Yet all of the Hebrew patriarchs had more than one wife, as did Moses, Gideon, and David. God never encouraged polygamy, but that alone does not seem to be the main cause of Solomon's downfall.

Ultimately, the Lord disapproved of Solomon's many marriages because his wives worshiped idols, which encouraged Solomon to turn his heart from the true God (1 Kin. 11:4–10). God's anger was not a result of interracial marriage, and He does not look at women as inferior or dangerous to men. And although polygamy does create profound problems, the Lord's great disappointment was Solomon's idolatry. It was a deeply spiritual issue, as the law concerning kings reveals (Deut. 17:19, 20). God's main concern—then and now—is a person's heart. What matters is not a spouse's appearance or background but whether our marriage aids or impedes our faith and obedience.

The Descent on the Ascent

Jeroboam

1 Kin. 11:26

Name means: "Let the Kinsman Plead."

Not to be confused with: Rehoboam, king of Judah (c. 931–913 B.C.), or Jeroboam's descendant, Jeroboam II (c. 782–753 B.C.; 2 Kin. 14:23–29).

Home: Zereda in the territory of Ephraim; later Egypt, where he fled from Solomon (1 Kin. 11:40); as king of the northern kingdom, Shechem and Tirzah (12:25; 14:17).

Family: Son of Nebat and Zeruah, who was left widowed; father of Abijah, a sickly child who died as a sign against Jeroboam, and of Nadab, who succeeded him until deposed by Baasha.

Occupation: Probably a wealthy landowner (11:28, according to one possible translation); placed in charge of the workforce of the northern tribes by Solomon; first king of the northern kingdom of Israel for 22 years (c. 931–910 B.C.).

Best known as: Leader of the rebellion of the northern kingdom.

A Wasted Opportunity

1 Kin. 11:31–39

The Lord took Solomon's descent into idolatry so seriously that He offered Jeroboam kingship over a major portion of Israel's territory. The invitation was unexpected and unimaginable—the Lord was asking an unknown minor official to father a dynasty to rule God's people.

Jeroboam squandered this gift right from the start. He either forgot or distrusted the Lord's promise to establish his kingdom, because he soon began to worry that his people would return to Rehoboam (1 Kin. 12:26, 27).

Rather than look to God for reassurance and assistance, he set up a system of idolatrous worship (12:28–33), promoting the same evil that God had raised him up to overcome. The Lord judged him by quickly curtailing his family line (14:17, 18; 15:29, 30), and the king became a bad example against which all his successors were measured (for example, 1 Kin. 16:26; 22:52; 2 Kin. 3:3).

Jeroboam could have enjoyed lasting acclaim, but he left a legacy of infamy. We seldom foresee when God will present us with an opportunity to rise to new levels of obedient service. But while God is patient with our erratic starts and stops, He will not tolerate a lasting disinterest in carrying out His will.

Tax Increases Divide the Kingdom

1 Kin. 12:18, 19

Citizens in Solomon's day were likely angered by the nation's expanded bureaucracy. The king had organized the country into twelve administrative districts, creating a more efficient government but also increasing its reach to collect taxes and interfere in local issues. The tribe of Judah alone was exempt from being ruled by a district governor.

Solomon had imposed heavy taxes to fund endless building projects and his lavish lifestyle. While Israel's international trade was brisk, and foreigners were conscripted for cheap labor, the Israelites nevertheless felt "a heavy yoke" upon them (12:4).

After Solomon's death, Rehoboam, perhaps intending to outdo his father, rejected the advice of his father's counselors and raised taxes even higher (12:6–8, 13, 14). The tax burden became so great that all but one tribe revolted, killing the chief tax collector and forcing Rehoboam to flee. The kingdom split into two competing domains, and eventually both parts were carried away into exile. Scripture indicates that these calamitous events were all part of God's plan to judge Solomon and the people for committing idolatry (11:9–13, 29–39; 12:15).

When a government levies excessive taxes and forsakes God, its people are headed for hard times. Jesus told His followers to give Caesar his due (Matt. 22:17–21), and Paul explicitly urged Christians to pay taxes (Rom. 13:6–7). But believers can also join efforts to make government more accountable to its citizens, more efficient in its spending, and more responsible in its fiscal policies. God's people can help head off the anger, frustration, and injustice that led to Israel's downfall.

More: Israel's rebellion against Rehoboam did not end high taxes. Successive governments both local and foreign continued to raise levies. By Jesus' lifetime, citizens likely paid more than 30 percent of their income in taxes and religious dues. See "Taxes" at Mark 12:14.

Using Religion for Political Gain Is Playing with Fire

1 Kin. 12:25–31

Jeroboam was playing with fire when he abused religion to further his political ends. The Lord had invited Jeroboam to follow Him, promising to be with him and build him "an enduring house" (1 Kin. 11:38). Yet when Jeroboam rose to power, he took matters into his own hands. To prevent his kingdom from reverting to the house of David, Jeroboam disregarded God's instructions and set up two idolatrous worship sites, one at Bethel in the south of his kingdom and the other at Dan in the north (12:28–30). He expanded the priesthood beyond the descendants of Levi to include men from every tribe (12:31), a capital offense (Num. 3:10). And he instituted a rival system of feasts and holidays (1 Kin. 12:32, 33). The Lord responded by cutting off Jeroboam's family rather than building it into a dynasty (14:7–16).

Subversion of religion for political ends still happens today. Many public figures project an image of religiosity that plays well with undiscerning voters. People do not always see past a person's outward appearance, but the Lord examines the heart (1 Sam. 16:7). We can ask God to help us identify and lift up leaders who are truly devoted to His ways.

Starting Strong, Ending Weak
1 Kin. 15:16–22

After spiritual and political decline under Rehoboam and Abijam, the southern kingdom of Judah reversed course under the reformer Asa. He campaigned fervently against idolatry, even banishing his grandmother Maachah, a notorious worshiper of the Canaanite fertility goddess Asherah (1 Kin. 15:11–15).

Asa also strengthened his country’s defenses by refortifying its walled cities (2 Chr. 14:6, 7). His soldiers won a decisive victory when “the fear of the LORD” came upon Zerah the Ethiopian’s troops (14:9–15). With the help of Ben-Hadad of Syria, Asa’s army also captured fortified cities and carried off plunder during periodic forays against the northern kingdom (1 Kin. 15:16–22; 2 Chr. 16:2–4).

Yet despite Asa’s initial loyalty to the Lord, his reliance on a foreign power suggested that he ceased to rely solely on God. He was rebuked by the prophet Hanani, but instead of listening, he had the seer imprisoned (16:7–10). Toward the end of his life, Asa developed a severe disease in his feet. Again he failed to rely on the Lord for healing, and he never recovered (16:12).

In the New Testament, Paul coached Christians to run strong and fast all the way to the finish line in the race of faith. Our good beginnings can come to nothing if we stray from the path and fail to return to the life God desires for us.

Samaria

1 Kin. 16:24

- Capital city of the northern kingdom of Israel, located 42 miles north of Jerusalem and 25 miles east of the Great (Mediterranean) Sea; situated on a defensible hill 300 feet above the surrounding valleys.
- Name possibly means “Watchtower” and came to be equated with the northern kingdom of Israel.
- Mentioned in the Bible more than any other city except Jerusalem and Babylon.
- Built by King Omri (c. 875 B.C.).
- The only major city known to have been founded by the Israelites (see “Following God in the City” at Deut. 6:10).
- Infamous for its idolatry (Is. 8:4; Jer. 23:13; Hos. 7:1–7; Mic. 1:6, 7). Archaeologists have unearthed nearly 500 fragments of ivory plaques and inlaid wood portraying Egyptian and Syro-Phoenician gods and goddesses (compare 1 Kin. 22:39; Amos 6:4).
- Fell to the Assyrians in 722 B.C. after a three-year siege (2 Kin. 17).
- Repopulated by imported settlers (17:24) who intermarried with the few Israelites who remained.
- Changed hands among the Babylonian, Persian, Macedonian, Ptolemaic, Seleucid, and Judean kingdoms.
- Site of mass evangelization by Philip in the days of the early church (Acts 8:5–8).

Home: Palace at Jezreel; capital at Samaria.

Family: Son of King Omri of Israel; husband of Jezebel, daughter of Ethbaal, king of Sidon and priest of Astarte; father of his successor Jehoram, and a daughter, Athaliah, who became the wife of a king of Judah also named Jehoram.

Occupation: King of Israel for 21 years (c. 874–853 B.C.).

Best known as: One of Israel’s most evil kings; he was opposed by the prophet Elijah in a dramatic contest on Mount Carmel (1 Kin. 18:20–46).

The Troubler and the Savior
1 Kin. 18:17, 18

When King Ahab called Elijah the "troubler of Israel," Elijah replied that it was in fact Ahab who troubled the northern kingdom by abandoning the Lord and leading the nation into idolatry. Under Ahab, evil in Israel rose to unprecedented heights (1 Kin. 16:30, 33).

When Ahab married Jezebel (16:31), she made him her puppet (21:7, 8, 25) and introduced the worship of Baal-Melqart, protective god of Tyre (16:31–33), along with other forms of idolatry and witchcraft. She openly combated true worship by massacring the Lord's prophets (18:4) and tearing down His altars (19:10, 14).

After Jezebel murdered the landowner Naboth to seize his estate for her husband (21:1–16), Elijah predicted the end of Ahab's dynasty (21:21, 22), and the sad king experienced his lone shining moment. He tore his clothes, fasted, and wore sackcloth as a symbol of his mourning and repentance, and the Lord took note of his humility (21:27–29).

Ahab's one moment of faith may seem like a dull spark of hope in a lifetime of darkness, but the fact is that we are all sinners, just as much in need of God's forgiveness—and as undeserving of it—as any other human being. And as puzzling as it may seem, Scripture tells us that the Son of God descended from Ahab and Jezebel—their daughter Athaliah was great-grandmother to King Uzziah (2 Chr. 26:1), named in Matthew's genealogy of Jesus (Matt. 1:8, 9). But when we remember that everything good comes only from God, we realize that human ancestry cannot limit holiness. It can, however, serve as a demonstration that God's power knows no bounds. His grace, offered to us in spite of our sins (Rom. 5:8), is mightier than any mistake.

God Places Value on You

1 Kin. 18:37–19:14

In an era when Israel's wickedness reached unprecedented extremes (1 Kin. 16:30, 33; 21:25), the Lord brought Elijah on the scene as His spokesperson (17:1). Only six Old Testament chapters record Elijah's life and ministry, but the remainder of Scripture upholds him as a model of faithfulness and a forerunner to Christ. Elijah's story unfolds over six major events:

1. the drought (1 Kin. 17),
2. the contest on Mount Carmel (ch. 18),
3. the flight from Jezebel (ch. 19),
4. the murder of Naboth (ch. 21),
5. the prophecy against Ahaziah (2 Kin. 1), and
6. the transfer of Elijah's ministry to Elisha (ch. 2).

The dramatic battle between Elijah and Baal's prophets on Mount Carmel is one of his most memorable moments. Elijah, whose name meant "The Lord Is My God," called down fire from heaven to show all of Israel that the Lord is indeed the one true God (1 Kin. 18:37–39).

The intensity of Elijah's heroic stand at Carmel, along with his fear of repercussions from Queen Jezebel, who threatened him as fiercely as ever, is perhaps what led Elijah to fall almost immediately into a deep depression (19:1–4). Yet even as Elijah expressed the agony of his heart to God, the Lord sent an angel to nourish him for his journey to Mount Horeb (19:5–8), where God spoke gently to him in "a still small voice" (19:12).

Elijah illustrates the immeasurable value God places on His servants, even if their grandest achievements may seem to have little impact. If we look at Israel's history, we see that even after the miracle atop Mount Carmel, Ahab's successor Ahaziah continued his father's evil patterns. In fact, Israel's extreme depravity continued long after Elijah's departure (2 Kin. 3:1–3). Yet God loved Elijah, cared for his needs, comforted him, and honored him by taking him up into heaven in a whirlwind and fiery chariot (1 Kin. 19; 2 Kin. 2).

When we seek to proclaim God's majesty in our own lives, we must remember that even if we do not see obvious results, this does not mean that we have not succeeded in God's eyes. The Lord sees our faithfulness, and He will welcome us into His presence.

Jezebel

1 Kin. 19:1

Name means: "There Is No Prince."

Not to be confused with: A prophetess of Thyatira who enticed Christians to commit sexual sins and idolatry (Rev. 2:20).

Home: Originally from Tyre or Sidon; lived at Samaria after marrying King Ahab.

Family: Daughter of Ethbaal, king of the Sidonians and priest of Melqart, the local Baal; wife of King Ahab of Israel, likely a political marriage arranged by Ahab's father Omri.

Occupation: Queen of Israel.

Best known for: Her determination to kill the prophet Elijah, which forced him to escape to Mount Horeb (1 Kin. 19:1–8). Jezebel's devotion to Baal led her to employ 450 Baal prophets and 400 prophets of Asherah (18:19). She encouraged Ahab to set up idols (16:32, 33) and murder Naboth (21:1–29).

The Mountain of God
1 Kin. 19:8

In fleeing to Mount Horeb, Elijah returned to the site where Israel had received the Law. Just as Moses had heard God's voice at Mount Horeb (Sinai), Elijah heard God speak in a still small voice (1 Kin. 19:12). See "Where God Meets Us" at Exodus 19:1, 20.

Think About It: For you, is hearing from God an attitude, a place, or what?

Moses and Elijah

When Elijah stood on the mountain to experience God's presence, he repeated an act Moses performed centuries earlier (Ex. 19:20), a scene that was one of many parallels between the two leaders.

Merciful Kings

1 Kin. 20:31

Ben-Hadad's servants had heard rumors that the kings of Israel were "merciful." In reality, Israel's rulers were anything but merciful, at least according to the true meaning of mercy (Hebrew: chesed).

To be "merciful" in the Old Testament sense meant to show loyalty and faithful adherence to the Law, the terms of the covenant between God and His people. If Ahab and the other kings of Israel aimed to be merciful, they needed to be devoted to God just as God was devoted to His people.

Instead, Israel's kings habitually broke God's covenant, resorting to idolatry and partnering with foreign governments rather than trusting God to guide them in political and military endeavors. When Ahab allowed the Syrian Ben-Hadad to escape after God had marked him for death, God declared that Ahab and his house would suffer punishment in his stead (1 Kin. 20:42).

Yet the account does not end there. Scripture illustrates the true meaning of chesed when Ahab repented of his wrongs (21:20–27). True to His word as a gracious Lord, God heard the prayer of Ahab—perhaps the most wicked of all of Israel's kings—and postponed the punishment until the reign of Ahab's son Ahaziah (21:29). God was devoted to His promises, that is, He was "merciful." And He keeps His word as faithfully now as He did then.

Jehoshaphat

1 Kin. 22:2

Name means: "The Lord Is Judge."

Not to be confused with: Four other men in the Bible, including the father of Jehu, the tenth king of Israel (2 Kin. 9:2).

Home: Jerusalem.

Family: Son and successor of Asa, king of Judah; father of seven sons, including Jehoram, his firstborn, who killed all the other heirs after succeeding his father; ancestor of Jesus Christ.

Occupation: King of Judah (870–848 B.C.); he shared the throne with his father Asa during part of his reign (911–870 B.C.).

Of special interest: Jehoshaphat arranged a political marriage (see "Political Marriages" at 2 Sam. 3:13, 14) between his son Jehoram and Athaliah, daughter of Israel's King Ahab, a mistake that created big problems for Judah (2 Chr. 18:1; 21:5, 6).

Best known as: A reformer king who strengthened his nation's defenses (17:1, 2, 10, 12–19), removed idols, and commissioned judges and teachers to challenge the public to honor the Law (17:3–9; 19:3–11). Under his reign, Judah enjoyed rest from its enemies (20:1–30) and a measure of prosperity (17:5, 11).

Think About It: How does good action protect you from enemies? How does it help even when enemies still break through?

Micaiah

1 Kin. 22:8

Name means: "Who Is Like the Lord?"

Not to be confused with: Micah the idolater (Judg. 17–18) or Micah of Moresheth, a prophet contemporary to Isaiah.

Home: Jerusalem.

Family: Son of Imlah.

Occupation: Prophet in Israel during the reign of King Ahab (874–853 B.C.).

Of special interest: Jewish tradition says that Micaiah was the unnamed prophet who condemned Ahab for allowing the Syrian ruler Ben-Hadad to escape (1 Kin. 20:30–43).

Best known as: The courageous prophet who stood against Ahab's false prophets by predicting the Syrians would defeat an Israelite coalition (22:8–28; 2 Chr. 18:3–27). He was imprisoned for his pointed words, but those words came to pass, and when they did, Ahab was killed in battle.

Think About It: What's tricky about standing against false prophets? What's good about doing rightly even when your name is not recorded for it?

The Lord’s intention when He rescued His people from slavery in Egypt was that they would dwell in the land He had promised to Abraham hundreds of years earlier, serving Him and obeying His commands. But within a generation of Joshua’s death, the people lived according to their own desires, rejecting God’s law (Judg. 2:7–15). Although the nation experienced seasons of spiritual renewal under the rule of the judges and the united monarchy of David and Solomon, the Book of 1 Kings traces the decline and fracture of Israel into two distinct domains, the northern kingdom of Israel and the southern kingdom of Judah. Each kingdom was led by its own series of kings, whose leadership often caused more harm than good.

As the people drifted further from God’s purposes, He used natural disasters, foreign invasions, civil wars, and prophetic messages to warn them of their impending judgment. If the people refused to return to obedience, God would allow them to be taken into captivity in a foreign land. The coming Exile would temporarily reverse the Exodus, sending God’s people back into bondage.

In 722 B.C. the Assyrians captured Samaria, capital of Israel, and deported many of the nation’s inhabitants to Mesopotamia (2 Kin. 17:1–18), bringing the northern kingdom to an end. Judah survived only a few generations longer. Several kings of Judah were faithful to the Lord, but the kingdom ultimately faltered in its commitment to God. Despite the warnings of numerous prophets, the people continued to practice idolatry and live in blatant disregard of God’s goodness and leadership. The reign of Manasseh, who was reported to have committed greater evils than the notoriously cruel Canaanites, was an exceptionally low point for Judah (21:1–9). Judah followed the northern kingdom into captivity (21:10–15) in 587 B.C. when the Babylonians sieged, pillaged, and burnt Jerusalem to the ground (25:1–21).

As we read the account of Israel's slow and steady decline, culminating in the terrible loss and devastation of the Exile, we are compelled to consider the consequences of our actions and the necessity of heeding any red flags in our own lives when we are on a path toward destruction. Just as God offered the Israelites ample opportunities to come back to Him, we are likewise not without hope of preventing some of our greatest miseries if only we accept the opportunity to turn away from actions that lead to tragic consequences.

Originally, 1 and 2 Kings were one book (see the introduction to 1 Kings), covering about four hundred years of history. Because the final event mentioned in 2 Kings is the captivity of Judah after the Babylonian conquest, the book must have been compiled by an unknown author or editor sometime after 587 B.C. The events of this book take place in Israel, Judah, and the surrounding nations—from Egypt, Ethiopia, and Sheba to the south and west, and Phoenicia, Syria, and Mesopotamia to the north and east (see the map at "The Cedar Trade" at 1 Kin. 7:2).

Key People in 2 Kings

- Elisha, successor to the prophet Elijah; he asked to receive a double portion of Elijah's spirit, likely an allusion to the law of inheritance (2 Kin. 2:1).
- The Shunammite woman, a resident of the Mount Carmel region rewarded for extending hospitality to Elisha (2 Kin. 4:8).

- Naaman, a Syrian general who followed the advice of his wife's Israelite servant girl and visited Elisha; his leprosy was cured after he washed in the Jordan River seven times (2 Kin. 5:1).
- Jehonadab, a man who joined in destroying the descendants of King Ahab and suppressing the worship of Baal (2 Kin. 10:15–17, 23–28).
- Athaliah, the evil queen of Judah who tried to kill all the heirs to the throne so she could rule the nation (2 Kin. 11:1).
- Joash, the boy king of Judah who carried out spiritual reforms until his mentor died; he then turned from God (2 Kin. 12:1).
- Jonah, the prophet best known for his encounter with the great fish (Jon. 1); he appears in 2 Kings ministering to the northern kingdom of Israel (2 Kin. 14:25).
- Uzziah, a king struck with leprosy after committing a sin similar to Saul's unlawful sacrifice (2 Kin. 15:1–5).
- Sennacherib, a king of Assyria who sent troops to besiege Jerusalem; their sudden retreat fulfilled a promise made by God (2 Kin. 18:13–19:37).
- Jehoiachin, next-to-last king of Judah, regarded by his captors as the true king in exile (2 Kin. 25:27–30).

Key Events in 2 Kings

- Elijah rides to heaven in a chariot of fire (2 Kin. 2:1–15).
- Elisha raises a boy from the dead (2 Kin. 4:18–37).
- Naaman is healed of leprosy (2 Kin. 5:19).
- An ax head floats (2 Kin. 6:1–7).

- The northern kingdom of Israel is captured and taken into exile by the Assyrians (2 Kin. 17:1–18).
- Babylonian envoys visit King Hezekiah (2 Kin. 20).
- The Book of the Law is found during repairs to the temple (2 Kin. 22).
- Jerusalem is captured and the southern kingdom of Judah is taken into exile by the Babylonians (2 Kin. 25).

2 Kings 1

God Judges Ahaziah

1 Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Ahab.

2 Now Ahaziah fell through the lattice of his upper room in Samaria, and was injured; so he sent messengers and said to them, “Go, inquire of Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron, whether I shall recover from this injury.”

3 But the angel[a] of the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite, “Arise, go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say to them, ‘Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are going to inquire of Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron?’

4 “Now therefore, thus says the LORD: ‘You shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.’ ” So Elijah departed.

5 And when the messengers returned to him, he said to them, “Why have you come back?”

6 So they said to him, “A man came up to meet us, and said to us, ‘Go, return to the king who sent you, and say to him, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are sending to inquire of Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.’ ” ’ ”

7 Then he said to them, “What kind of man was it who came up to meet you and told you these words?”

8 So they answered him, “A hairy man wearing a leather belt around his waist.” And he said, “It is Elijah the Tishbite.”

9 Then the king sent to him a captain of fifty with his fifty men. So he went up to him; and there he was, sitting on the top of a hill. And he spoke to him: “Man of God, the king has said, ‘Come down!’ ”

10So Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, “If I am a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men.” And fire came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.

11Then he sent to him another captain of fifty with his fifty men. And he answered and said to him: “Man of God, thus has the king said, ‘Come down quickly!’ ”

12So Elijah answered and said to them, “If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men.” And the fire of God came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.

13Again, he sent a third captain of fifty with his fifty men. And the third captain of fifty went up, and came and fell on his knees before Elijah, and pleaded with him, and said to him: “Man of God, please let my life and the life of these fifty servants of yours be precious in your sight.

14“Look, fire has come down from heaven and burned up the first two captains of fifties with their fifties. But let my life now be precious in your sight.”

15And the angel[b] of the LORD said to Elijah, “Go down with him; do not be afraid of him.” So he arose and went down with him to the king.

16Then he said to him, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Because you have sent messengers to inquire of Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron, is it because there is no God in Israel to inquire of His word? Therefore you shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.’ ”

17So Ahaziah died according to the word of the LORD which Elijah had spoken. Because he had no son, Jehoram[c] became king in his place, in the second year of Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah.

[18]Now the rest of the acts of Ahaziah which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 2

Elijah Ascends to Heaven

1 And it came to pass, when the LORD was about to take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elijah went with Elisha from Gilgal.

2 Then Elijah said to Elisha, “Stay here, please, for the LORD has sent me on to Bethel.” But Elisha said, “As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you!” So they went down to Bethel.

3 Now the sons of the prophets who were at Bethel came out to Elisha, and said to him, “Do you know that the LORD will take away your master from over you today?” And he said, “Yes, I know; keep silent!” Elisha

4 Then Elijah said to him, “Elisha, stay here, please, for the LORD has sent me on to Jericho.” But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you!” So they came to Jericho.

5 Now the sons of the prophets who were at Jericho came to Elisha and said to him, “Do you know that the LORD will take away your master from over you today?” So he answered, “Yes, I know; keep silent!”

6 Then Elijah said to him, “Stay here, please, for the LORD has sent me on to the Jordan.” But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you!” So the two of them went on.

7 And fifty men of the sons of the prophets went and stood facing them at a distance, while the two of them stood by the Jordan.

8 Now Elijah took his mantle, rolled it up, and struck the water; and it was divided this way and that, so that the two of them crossed over on dry ground.

9And so it was, when they had crossed over, that Elijah said to Elisha, “Ask! What may I do for you, before I am taken away from you?” Elisha said, “Please let a double portion of your spirit be upon me.”

10So he said, “You have asked a hard thing. Nevertheless, if you see me when I am taken from you, it shall be so for you; but if not, it shall not be so.”

11Then it happened, as they continued on and talked, that suddenly a chariot of fire appeared with horses of fire, and separated the two of them; and Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven.

12And Elisha saw it, and he cried out, “My father, my father, the chariot of Israel and its horsemen!” So he saw him no more. And he took hold of his own clothes and tore them into two pieces.

13He also took up the mantle of Elijah that had fallen from him, and went back and stood by the bank of the Jordan. Old Testament Mentors

14Then he took the mantle of Elijah that had fallen from him, and struck the water, and said, “Where is the LORD God of Elijah?” And when he also had struck the water, it was divided this way and that; and Elisha crossed over.

15Now when the sons of the prophets who were from Jericho saw him, they said, “The spirit of Elijah rests on Elisha.” And they came to meet him, and bowed to the ground before him.

16Then they said to him, “Look now, there are fifty strong men with your servants. Please let them go and search for your master, lest perhaps the Spirit of the LORD has taken him up and cast him upon some mountain or into some valley.” And he said, “You shall not send anyone.”

17But when they urged him till he was ashamed, he said, “Send them!” Therefore they sent fifty men, and they searched for three days but did not find him.

18 And when they came back to him, for he had stayed in Jericho, he said to them, “Did I not say to you, ‘Do not go’?”

Elisha Performs Miracles

19 Then the men of the city said to Elisha, “Please notice, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord sees; but the water is bad, and the ground barren.”
20 And he said, “Bring me a new bowl, and put salt in it.”
So they brought it to him.
21 Then he went out to the source of the water, and cast in the salt there, and said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘I have healed this water; from it there shall be no more death or barrenness.’ ”
22 So the water remains healed to this day, according to the word of Elisha which he spoke.
23 Then he went up from there to Bethel; and as he was going up the road, some youths came from the city and mocked him, and said to him, “Go up, you baldhead! Go up, you baldhead!”
24 So he turned around and looked at them, and pronounced a curse on them in the name of the LORD. And two female bears came out of the woods and mauled forty-two of the youths.
25 Then he went from there to Mount Carmel, and from there he returned to Samaria.

2 Kings 3

Moab Rebels Against Israel

1 Now Jehoram the son of Ahab became king over Israel at Samaria in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigned twelve years.
2 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, but not like his father and mother; for he put away the sacred pillar of Baal that his father had made.
3 Nevertheless he persisted in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin; he did not depart from them.
4 Now Mesha king of Moab was a sheepbreeder, and he regularly paid the king of Israel one hundred thousand lambs and the wool of one hundred thousand rams.
5 But it happened, when Ahab died, that the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.
6 So King Jehoram went out of Samaria at that time and mustered all Israel.
7 Then he went and sent to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, saying, “The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you go with me to fight against Moab?” And he said, “I will go up; I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses.”
8 Then he said, “Which way shall we go up?” And he answered, “By way of the Wilderness of Edom.” 9 So the king of Israel went with the king of Judah and the king of Edom, and they marched on that roundabout route seven days; and there was no water for the army, nor for the animals that followed them.
10 And the king of Israel said, “Alas! For the LORD has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hand of Moab.”

11But Jehoshaphat said, “Is there no prophet of the LORD here, that we may inquire of the LORD by him?” So one of the servants of the king of Israel answered and said, “Elisha the son of Shaphat is here, who poured water on the hands of Elijah.”

12And Jehoshaphat said, “The word of the LORD is with him.” So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat and the king of Edom went down to him.

13Then Elisha said to the king of Israel, “What have I to do with you? Go to the prophets of your father and the prophets of your mother.” But the king of Israel said to him, “No, for the LORD has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hand of Moab.”

14And Elisha said, “As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, surely were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, I would not look at you, nor see you.

15“But now bring me a musician.” Then it happened, when the musician played, that the hand of the LORD came upon him.

16And he said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Make this valley full of ditches.’

17“For thus says the LORD: ‘You shall not see wind, nor shall you see rain; yet that valley shall be filled with water, so that you, your cattle, and your animals may drink.’

18“And this is a simple matter in the sight of the LORD; He will also deliver the Moabites into your hand.

19“Also you shall attack every fortified city and every choice city, and shall cut down every good tree, and stop up every spring of water, and ruin every good piece of land with stones.”

20Now it happened in the morning, when the grain offering was offered, that suddenly water came by way of Edom, and the land was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to fight against them, all who were able to bear arms and older were gathered; and they stood at the border.

22 Then they rose up early in the morning, and the sun was shining on the water; and the Moabites saw the water on the other side as red as blood.

23 And they said, “This is blood; the kings have surely struck swords and have killed one another; now therefore, Moab, to the spoil!”

24 So when they came to the camp of Israel, Israel rose up and attacked the Moabites, so that they fled before them;
and they entered their land, killing the Moabites.

25 Then they destroyed the cities, and each man threw a stone on every good piece of land and filled it; and they stopped up all the springs of water and cut down all the good trees. But they left the stones of Kir Haraseth intact.
However the slingers surrounded and attacked it.

26 And when the king of Moab saw that the battle was too fierce for him, he took with him seven hundred men who drew swords, to break through to the king of Edom, but they could not.

27 Then he took his eldest son who would have reigned in his place, and offered him as a burnt offering upon the wall; and there was great indignation against Israel. So they departed from him and returned to their own land.

2 Kings 4

Elisha and the Widow's Oil

1 A certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets cried out to Elisha, saying, "Your servant my husband is dead, and you know that your servant feared the LORD.
And the creditor is coming to take my two sons to be his slaves." The Widow's Oil

2 So Elisha said to her, "What shall I do for you? Tell me, what do you have in the house?" And she said, "Your maidservant has nothing in the house but a jar of oil." A Widow's Worth

3 Then he said, "Go, borrow vessels from everywhere, from all your neighbors—empty vessels; do not gather just a few.

4 "And when you have come in, you shall shut the door behind you and your sons; then pour it into all those vessels, and set aside the full ones."

5 So she went from him and shut the door behind her and her sons, who brought the vessels to her; and she poured it out.

6 Now it came to pass, when the vessels were full, that she said to her son, "Bring me another vessel." And he said to her, "There is not another vessel." So the oil ceased.

7 Then she came and told the man of God. And he said,
"Go, sell the oil and pay your debt; and you and your sons live on the rest."

Elisha Raises the Shunammite's Son

8 Now it happened one day that Elisha went to Shunem, where there was a notable woman, and she persuaded him to eat some food. So it was, as often as he passed by, he would turn in there to eat some food. The Shunammite Woman 9And she said to her husband, “Look now, I know that this is a holy man of God, who passes by us regularly.

10“Please, let us make a small upper room on the wall; and let us put a bed for him there, and a table and a chair and a lampstand; so it will be, whenever he comes to us, he can turn in there.”

11And it happened one day that he came there, and he turned in to the upper room and lay down there.

12Then he said to Gehazi his servant, “Call this Shunammite woman.” When he had called her, she stood before him.

13And he said to him, “Say now to her, ‘Look, you have been concerned for us with all this care. What can I do for you? Do you want me to speak on your behalf to the king or to the commander of the army?’ ” She answered, “I dwell among my own people.”

14So he said, “What then is to be done for her?” And Gehazi answered, “Actually, she has no son, and her husband is old.”

15So he said, “Call her.” When he had called her, she stood in the doorway.

16Then he said, “About this time next year you shall embrace a son.” And she said, “No, my lord. Man of God, do not lie to your maidservant!”

17But the woman conceived, and bore a son when the appointed time had come, of which Elisha had told her.

18And the child grew. Now it happened one day that he went out to his father, to the reapers.

19And he said to his father, “My head, my head!” So he said to a servant, “Carry him to his mother.”

20When he had taken him and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees till noon, and then died.

21 And she went up and laid him on the bed of the man of God, shut the door upon him, and went out.
22 Then she called to her husband, and said, “Please send me one of the young men and one of the donkeys, that I may run to the man of God and come back.” 23 So he said, “Why are you going to him today? It is neither the New Moon nor the Sabbath.” And she said, “It is well.”
24 Then she saddled a donkey, and said to her servant, “Drive, and go forward; do not slacken the pace for me unless I tell you.”
25 And so she departed, and went to the man of God at Mount Carmel.
So it was, when the man of God saw her afar off, that he said to his servant Gehazi, “Look, the Shunammite woman!
26 “Please run now to meet her, and say to her, ‘Is it well with you? Is it well with your husband? Is it well with the child?’ ” And she answered, “It is well.” 27 Now when she came to the man of God at the hill, she caught him by the feet, but Gehazi came near to push her away. But the man of God said, “Let her alone; for her soul is in deep distress, and the LORD has hidden it from me, and has not told me.”
28 So she said, “Did I ask a son of my lord? Did I not say,
‘Do not deceive me’?”
29 Then he said to Gehazi, “Get yourself ready, and take my staff in your hand, and be on your way. If you meet anyone, do not greet him; and if anyone greets you, do not answer him; but lay my staff on the face of the child.” 30 And the mother of the child said, “As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you.” So he arose and followed her.
31 Now Gehazi went on ahead of them, and laid the staff on the face of the child; but there was neither voice nor hearing. Therefore he went back to meet him, and told him, saying, “The child has not awakened.”

32When Elisha came into the house, there was the child, lying dead on his bed.

33He went in therefore, shut the door behind the two of them, and prayed to the LORD.

34And he went up and lay on the child, and put his mouth on his mouth, his eyes on his eyes, and his hands on his hands; and he stretched himself out on the child, and the flesh of the child became warm.

35He returned and walked back and forth in the house, and again went up and stretched himself out on him; then the child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes.

36And he called Gehazi and said, “Call this Shunammite woman.” So he called her. And when she came in to him, he said, “Pick up your son.”

37So she went in, fell at his feet, and bowed to the ground; then she picked up her son and went out.

Elisha Purifies the Pot of Stew

38And Elisha returned to Gilgal, and there was a famine in the land. Now the sons of the prophets were sitting before him; and he said to his servant, “Put on the large pot, and boil stew for the sons of the prophets.”

39So one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine, and gathered from it a lapful of wild gourds, and came and sliced them into the pot of stew, though they did not know what they were.

40Then they served it to the men to eat. Now it happened, as they were eating the stew, that they cried out and said, “Man of God, there is death in the pot!” And they could not eat it.

41So he said, “Then bring some flour.” And he put it into the pot, and said, “Serve it to the people, that they may eat.” And there was nothing harmful in the pot.

Elisha Feeds One Hundred Men

42Then a man came from Baal Shalisha, and brought the man of God bread of the firstfruits, twenty loaves of barley bread, and newly ripened grain in his knapsack. And he said, “Give it to the people, that they may eat.”

43But his servant said, “What? Shall I set this before one hundred men?” He said again, “Give it to the people, that they may eat; for thus says the LORD: ‘They shall eat and have some left over.’ ”

44So he set it before them; and they ate and had some left over, according to the word of the LORD.

2 Kings 5

Naaman's Leprosy Healed

1 Now Naaman, commander of the army of the king of Syria, was a great and honorable man in the eyes of his master, because by him the LORD had given victory to Syria. He was also a mighty man of valor, but a leper. Naaman
2 And the Syrians had gone out on raids, and had brought back captive a young girl from the land of Israel. She waited on Naaman's wife.
3 Then she said to her mistress, "If only my master were with the prophet who is in Samaria! For he would heal him of his leprosy."
4 And Naaman went in and told his master, saying, "Thus and thus said the girl who is from the land of Israel." 5 Then the king of Syria said, "Go now, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel." So he departed and took with him ten talents of silver, six thousand shekels of gold, and ten changes of clothing.
6 Then he brought the letter to the king of Israel, which said,

> Now be advised, when this letter comes to you, that I > have sent Naaman my servant to you, that you may > heal him of his leprosy.

7 And it happened, when the king of Israel read the letter, that he tore his clothes and said, "Am I God, to kill and make alive, that this man sends a man to me to heal him of his leprosy? Therefore please consider, and see how he seeks a quarrel with me."
8 So it was, when Elisha the man of God heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, that he sent to the king, saying, “Why have you torn your clothes? Please let him come to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Israel.”

9Then Naaman went with his horses and chariot, and he stood at the door of Elisha’s house.

10And Elisha sent a messenger to him, saying, “Go and wash in the Jordan seven times, and your flesh shall be restored to you, and you shall be clean.”

11But Naaman became furious, and went away and said, “Indeed, I said to myself, ‘He will surely come out to me, and stand and call on the name of the LORD his God, and wave his hand over the place, and heal the leprosy.’

12“Are not the Abanah[a] and the Pharpar, the rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? Could I not wash in them and be clean?” So he turned and went away in a rage.

13And his servants came near and spoke to him, and said, “My father, if the prophet had told you to do something great, would you not have done it? How much more then, when he says to you, ‘Wash, and be clean’?” God’s Simple Requirements

14So he went down and dipped seven times in the Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God; and his flesh was restored like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

15And he returned to the man of God, he and all his aides, and came and stood before him; and he said, “Indeed, now I know that there is no God in all the earth, except in Israel; now therefore, please take a gift from your servant.”

16But he said, “As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, I will receive nothing.” And he urged him to take it, but he refused.

17So Naaman said, “Then, if not, please let your servant be given two mule-loads of earth; for your servant will no longer offer either burnt offering or sacrifice to other gods, but to the LORD.
18“Yet in this thing may the LORD pardon your servant:
when my master goes into the temple of Rimmon to worship there, and he leans on my hand, and I bow down in the temple of Rimmon—when I bow down in the temple of Rimmon, may the LORD please pardon your servant in this thing.”
19Then he said to him, “Go in peace.” So he departed from him a short distance.

Gehazi’s Greed

20But Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said, “Look, my master has spared Naaman this Syrian, while not receiving from his hands what he brought; but as the LORD lives, I will run after him and take something from him.” Self-Seeking Servants 21So Gehazi pursued Naaman. When Naaman saw him running after him, he got down from the chariot to meet him, and said, “Is all well?”
22And he said, “All is well. My master has sent me, saying, ‘Indeed, just now two young men of the sons of the prophets have come to me from the mountains of Ephraim.
Please give them a talent of silver and two changes of garments.’ ” 23So Naaman said, “Please, take two talents.” And he urged him, and bound two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and handed them to two of his servants; and they carried them on ahead of him.
24When he came to the citadel, he took them from their hand, and stored them away in the house; then he let the men go, and they departed.

25 Now he went in and stood before his master. Elisha said to him, “Where did you go, Gehazi?” And he said, “Your servant did not go anywhere.”
26 Then he said to him, “Did not my heart go with you when the man turned back from his chariot to meet you? Is it time to receive money and to receive clothing, olive groves and vineyards, sheep and oxen, male and female servants?
27 “Therefore the leprosy of Naaman shall cling to you and your descendants forever.” And he went out from his presence leprous, as white as snow.

2 Kings 6

The Floating Ax Head

1 And the sons of the prophets said to Elisha, “See now, the place where we dwell with you is too small for us.
2 “Please, let us go to the Jordan, and let every man take a beam from there, and let us make there a place where we may dwell.” So he answered, “Go.”
3 Then one said, “Please consent to go with your servants.” And he answered, “I will go.”
4 So he went with them. And when they came to the Jordan, they cut down trees.
5 But as one was cutting down a tree, the iron ax head fell into the water; and he cried out and said, “Alas, master! For it was borrowed.”
6 So the man of God said, “Where did it fall?” And he showed him the place. So he cut off a stick, and threw it in there; and he made the iron float.
7 Therefore he said, “Pick it up for yourself.” So he reached out his hand and took it.

The Blinded Syrians Captured

8 Now the king of Syria was making war against Israel; and he consulted with his servants, saying, “My camp will be in such and such a place.”
9 And the man of God sent to the king of Israel, saying, “Beware that you do not pass this place, for the Syrians are coming down there.”
10 Then the king of Israel sent someone to the place of which the man of God had told him. Thus he warned him, and he was watchful there, not just once or twice.

11 Therefore the heart of the king of Syria was greatly troubled by this thing; and he called his servants and said to them, “Will you not show me which of us is for the king of Israel?”

12 And one of his servants said, “None, my lord, O king; but Elisha, the prophet who is in Israel, tells the king of Israel the words that you speak in your bedroom.”

13 So he said, “Go and see where he is, that I may send and get him.” And it was told him, saying, “Surely he is in Dothan.”

14 Therefore he sent horses and chariots and a great army there, and they came by night and surrounded the city.

15 And when the servant of the man of God arose early and went out, there was an army, surrounding the city with horses and chariots. And his servant said to him, “Alas, my master! What shall we do?”

16 So he answered, “Do not fear, for those who are with us are more than those who are with them.”

17 And Elisha prayed, and said, “LORD, I pray, open his eyes that he may see.” Then the LORD opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw. And behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha.

18 So when the Syrians came down to him, Elisha prayed to the LORD, and said, “Strike this people, I pray, with blindness.” And He struck them with blindness according to the word of Elisha.

19 Now Elisha said to them, “This is not the way, nor is this the city. Follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom you seek.” But he led them to Samaria.

20 So it was, when they had come to Samaria, that Elisha said, “LORD, open the eyes of these men, that they may see.” And the LORD opened their eyes, and they saw; and there they were, inside Samaria!

21 Now when the king of Israel saw them, he said to Elisha, “My father, shall I kill them? Shall I kill them?” 22 But he answered, “You shall not kill them. Would you kill those whom you have taken captive with your sword and your bow? Set food and water before them, that they may eat and drink and go to their master.” 23 Then he prepared a great feast for them; and after they ate and drank, he sent them away and they went to their master. So the bands of Syrian raiders came no more into the land of Israel.

Syria Besieges Samaria in Famine

24 And it happened after this that Ben-Hadad king of Syria gathered all his army, and went up and besieged Samaria.
25 And there was a great famine in Samaria; and indeed they besieged it until a donkey’s head was sold for eighty shekels of silver, and one-fourth of a kab of dove droppings for five shekels of silver.
26 Then, as the king of Israel was passing by on the wall, a woman cried out to him, saying, “Help, my lord, O king!” 27 And he said, “If the LORD does not help you, where can I find help for you? From the threshing floor or from the winepress?”
28 Then the king said to her, “What is troubling you?” And she answered, “This woman said to me, ‘Give your son, that we may eat him today, and we will eat my son tomorrow.’ 29 “So we boiled my son, and ate him. And I said to her on the next day, ‘Give your son, that we may eat him’; but she has hidden her son.”
30 Now it happened, when the king heard the words of the woman, that he tore his clothes; and as he passed by on the wall, the people looked, and there underneath he had sackcloth on his body.

[31]Then he said, “God do so to me and more also, if the head of Elisha the son of Shaphat remains on him today!”

[32]But Elisha was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him. And the king sent a man ahead of him, but before the messenger came to him, he said to the elders, “Do you see how this son of a murderer has sent someone to take away my head? Look, when the messenger comes, shut the door, and hold him fast at the door. Is not the sound of his master’s feet behind him?”

[33]And while he was still talking with them, there was the messenger, coming down to him; and then the king said, “Surely this calamity is from the LORD; why should I wait for the LORD any longer?”

2 Kings 7

1 Then Elisha said, “Hear the word of the LORD. Thus says the LORD: ‘Tomorrow about this time a seah of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, at the gate of Samaria.’ ” 2 So an officer on whose hand the king leaned answered the man of God and said, “Look, if the LORD would make windows in heaven, could this thing be?” And he said, “In fact, you shall see it with your eyes, but you shall not eat of it.”

The Syrians Flee

3 Now there were four leprous men at the entrance of the gate; and they said to one another, “Why are we sitting here until we die?
4 “If we say, ‘We will enter the city,’ the famine is in the city, and we shall die there. And if we sit here, we die also.
Now therefore, come, let us surrender to the army of the Syrians. If they keep us alive, we shall live; and if they kill us, we shall only die.”
5 And they rose at twilight to go to the camp of the Syrians; and when they had come to the outskirts of the Syrian camp, to their surprise no one was there.
6 For the LORD had caused the army of the Syrians to hear the noise of chariots and the noise of horses—the noise of a great army; so they said to one another, “Look, the king of Israel has hired against us the kings of the Hittites and the kings of the Egyptians to attack us!”
7 Therefore they arose and fled at twilight, and left the camp intact—their tents, their horses, and their donkeys—and they fled for their lives.

8 And when these lepers came to the outskirts of the camp, they went into one tent and ate and drank, and carried from it silver and gold and clothing, and went and hid them; then they came back and entered another tent, and carried some from there also, and went and hid it.

9 Then they said to one another, “We are not doing right. This day is a day of good news, and we remain silent. If we wait until morning light, some punishment will come upon us. Now therefore, come, let us go and tell the king’s household.”

10 So they went and called to the gatekeepers of the city, and told them, saying, “We went to the Syrian camp, and surprisingly no one was there, not a human sound—only horses and donkeys tied, and the tents intact.”

11 And the gatekeepers called out, and they told it to the king’s household inside.

12 So the king arose in the night and said to his servants, “Let me now tell you what the Syrians have done to us. They know that we are hungry; therefore they have gone out of the camp to hide themselves in the field, saying, ‘When they come out of the city, we shall catch them alive, and get into the city.’ ”

13 And one of his servants answered and said, “Please, let several men take five of the remaining horses which are left in the city. Look, they may either become like all the multitude of Israel that are left in it; or indeed, I say, they may become like all the multitude of Israel left from those who are consumed; so let us send them and see.”

14 Therefore they took two chariots with horses; and the king sent them in the direction of the Syrian army, saying, “Go and see.”

15 And they went after them to the Jordan; and indeed all the road was full of garments and weapons which the Syrians had thrown away in their haste. So the messengers returned and told the king.

16 Then the people went out and plundered the tents of the Syrians. So a seah of fine flour was sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, according to the word of the LORD.

17 Now the king had appointed the officer on whose hand he leaned to have charge of the gate. But the people trampled him in the gate, and he died, just as the man of God had said, who spoke when the king came down to him.

18 So it happened just as the man of God had spoken to the king, saying, “Two seahs of barley for a shekel, and a seah of fine flour for a shekel, shall be sold tomorrow about this time in the gate of Samaria.”

19 Then that officer had answered the man of God, and said, “Now look, if the LORD would make windows in heaven, could such a thing be?” And he had said, “In fact, you shall see it with your eyes, but you shall not eat of it.”

20 And so it happened to him, for the people trampled him in the gate, and he died.

2 Kings 8

The King Restores the Shunammite's Land

1 Then Elisha spoke to the woman whose son he had restored to life, saying, "Arise and go, you and your household, and stay wherever you can; for the LORD has called for a famine, and furthermore, it will come upon the land for seven years."
2 So the woman arose and did according to the saying of the man of God, and she went with her household and dwelt in the land of the Philistines seven years.
3 It came to pass, at the end of seven years, that the woman returned from the land of the Philistines; and she went to make an appeal to the king for her house and for her land.
4 Then the king talked with Gehazi, the servant of the man of God, saying, "Tell me, please, all the great things Elisha has done." Mapping the Life of Elisha 5 Now it happened, as he was telling the king how he had restored the dead to life, that there was the woman whose son he had restored to life, appealing to the king for her house and for her land. And Gehazi said, "My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son whom Elisha restored to life."
6 And when the king asked the woman, she told him. So the king appointed a certain officer for her, saying,
"Restore all that was hers, and all the proceeds of the field from the day that she left the land until now."

Death of Ben-Hadad

7 Then Elisha went to Damascus, and Ben-Hadad king of Syria was sick; and it was told him, saying, "The man of God has come here.”

8And the king said to Hazael, “Take a present in your hand, and go to meet the man of God, and inquire of the LORD by him, saying, ‘Shall I recover from this disease?’ ”

9So Hazael went to meet him and took a present with him, of every good thing of Damascus, forty camel-loads; and he came and stood before him, and said, “Your son Ben-Hadad king of Syria has sent me to you, saying, ‘Shall I recover from this disease?’ ”

10And Elisha said to him, “Go, say to him, ‘You shall certainly recover.’ However the LORD has shown me that he will really die.”

11Then he set his countenance in a stare until he was ashamed; and the man of God wept.

12And Hazael said, “Why is my lord weeping?” He answered, “Because I know the evil that you will do to the children of Israel: Their strongholds you will set on fire, and their young men you will kill with the sword; and you will dash their children, and rip open their women with child.”

13So Hazael said, “But what is your servant—a dog, that he should do this gross thing?” And Elisha answered, “The LORD has shown me that you will become king over Syria.”

14Then he departed from Elisha, and came to his master, who said to him, “What did Elisha say to you?” And he answered, “He told me you would surely recover.”

15But it happened on the next day that he took a thick cloth and dipped it in water, and spread it over his face so that he died; and Hazael reigned in his place.

Jehoram Reigns in Judah

16Now in the fifth year of Joram the son of Ahab, king of Israel, Jehoshaphat having been king of Judah, Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat began to reign as king of Judah.

17 He was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.
18 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, just as the house of Ahab had done, for the daughter of Ahab was his wife; and he did evil in the sight of the LORD.
19 Yet the LORD would not destroy Judah, for the sake of His servant David, as He promised him to give a lamp to him and his sons forever.
20 In his days Edom revolted against Judah's authority, and made a king over themselves.
21 So Joram[a] went to Zair, and all his chariots with him.
Then he rose by night and attacked the Edomites who had surrounded him and the captains of the chariots; and the troops fled to their tents.
22 Thus Edom has been in revolt against Judah's authority to this day. And Libnah revolted at that time.
23 Now the rest of the acts of Joram, and all that he did,
are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
24 So Joram rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David. Then Ahaziah his son reigned in his place.

Ahaziah Reigns in Judah

25 In the twelfth year of Joram the son of Ahab, king of Israel, Ahaziah the son of Jehoram, king of Judah, began to reign.
26 Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah the granddaughter of Omri, king of Israel.
27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did evil in the sight of the LORD, like the house of Ahab, for he was the son-in-law of the house of Ahab.

28Now he went with Joram the son of Ahab to war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth Gilead; and the Syrians wounded Joram.
29Then King Joram went back to Jezreel to recover from the wounds which the Syrians had inflicted on him at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram, king of Judah, went down to see Joram the son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was sick.

2 Kings 9

Jehu Anointed King of Israel

1And Elisha the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him, “Get yourself ready, take this flask of oil in your hand, and go to Ramoth Gilead.
2“Now when you arrive at that place, look there for Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, and go in and make him rise up from among his associates, and take him to an inner room. Jehu
3“Then take the flask of oil, and pour it on his head, and say, ‘Thus says the LORD: “I have anointed you king over Israel.” ’ Then open the door and flee, and do not delay.”
4So the young man, the servant of the prophet, went to Ramoth Gilead.
5And when he arrived, there were the captains of the army sitting; and he said, “I have a message for you, Commander.” Jehu said, “For which one of us?” And he said, “For you, Commander.” 6Then he arose and went into the house. And he poured the oil on his head, and said to him, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel: ‘I have anointed you king over the people of the LORD, over Israel.
7‘You shall strike down the house of Ahab your master, that I may avenge the blood of My servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the LORD, at the hand of Jezebel.
8‘For the whole house of Ahab shall perish; and I will cut off from Ahab all the males in Israel, both bond and free.
9‘So I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha
the son of Ahijah.

10‘The dogs shall eat Jezebel on the plot of ground at Jezreel, and there shall be none to bury her.’ ” And he opened the door and fled.

11Then Jehu came out to the servants of his master, and one said to him, “Is all well? Why did this madman come to you?” And he said to them, “You know the man and his babble.”

12And they said, “A lie! Tell us now.” So he said, “Thus and thus he spoke to me, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: “I have anointed you king over Israel.” ’ ”

13Then each man hastened to take his garment and put it under him on the top of the steps; and they blew trumpets, saying, “Jehu is king!”

Joram of Israel Killed

14So Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, conspired against Joram. (Now Joram had been defending Ramoth Gilead, he and all Israel, against Hazael king of Syria.

15But King Joram had returned to Jezreel to recover from the wounds which the Syrians had inflicted on him when he fought with Hazael king of Syria.) And Jehu said, “If you are so minded, let no one leave or escape from the city to go and tell it in Jezreel.”

16So Jehu rode in a chariot and went to Jezreel, for Joram was laid up there; and Ahaziah king of Judah had come down to see Joram.

17Now a watchman stood on the tower in Jezreel, and he saw the company of Jehu as he came, and said, “I see a company of men.” And Joram said, “Get a horseman and send him to meet them, and let him say, ‘Is it peace?’ ”

18So the horseman went to meet him, and said, “Thus says the king: ‘Is it peace?’ ” And Jehu said, “What have you to do with peace? Turn around and follow me.” So the watchman reported, saying, “The messenger went to them, but is not coming back.”

19 Then he sent out a second horseman who came to them, and said, “Thus says the king: ‘Is it peace?’ ” And Jehu answered, “What have you to do with peace? Turn around and follow me.”

20 So the watchman reported, saying, “He went up to them and is not coming back; and the driving is like the driving of Jehu the son of Nimshi, for he drives furiously!”

21 Then Joram said, “Make ready.” And his chariot was made ready. Then Joram king of Israel and Ahaziah king of Judah went out, each in his chariot; and they went out to meet Jehu, and met him on the property of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 Now it happened, when Joram saw Jehu, that he said, “Is it peace, Jehu?” So he answered, “What peace, as long as the harlotries of your mother Jezebel and her witchcraft are so many?”

23 Then Joram turned around and fled, and said to Ahaziah, “Treachery, Ahaziah!”

24 Now Jehu drew his bow with full strength and shot Jehoram between his arms; and the arrow came out at his heart, and he sank down in his chariot.

25 Then Jehu said to Bidkar his captain, “Pick him up, and throw him into the tract of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite; for remember, when you and I were riding together behind Ahab his father, that the LORD laid this burden upon him:

26 ‘Surely I saw yesterday the blood of Naboth and the blood of his sons,’ says the LORD, ‘and I will repay you in this plot,’ says the LORD. Now therefore, take and throw him on the plot of ground, according to the word of the LORD.”

Ahaziah of Judah Killed

27But when Ahaziah king of Judah saw this, he fled by the road to Beth Haggan.[a] So Jehu pursued him, and said, "Shoot him also in the chariot." And they shot him at the Ascent of Gur, which is by Ibleam. Then he fled to Megiddo, and died there.

28And his servants carried him in the chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his tomb with his fathers in the City of David.

29In the eleventh year of Joram the son of Ahab, Ahaziah had become king over Judah.

Jezebel's Violent Death

30Now when Jehu had come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it; and she put paint on her eyes and adorned her head, and looked through a window.

31Then, as Jehu entered at the gate, she said, "Is it peace, Zimri, murderer of your master?"

32And he looked up at the window, and said, "Who is on my side? Who?" So two or three eunuchs looked out at him.

33Then he said, "Throw her down." So they threw her down, and some of her blood spattered on the wall and on the horses; and he trampled her underfoot.

34And when he had gone in, he ate and drank. Then he said, "Go now, see to this accursed woman, and bury her, for she was a king's daughter."

35So they went to bury her, but they found no more of her than the skull and the feet and the palms of her hands.

36Therefore they came back and told him. And he said, "This is the word of the LORD, which He spoke by His servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, 'On the plot of ground at Jezreel dogs shall eat the flesh of Jezebel;[b] 37'and the corpse of Jezebel shall be as refuse on the surface of the field, in the plot at Jezreel, so that they shall not say, "Here lies Jezebel." ' "

2 Kings 10

Ahab's Seventy Sons Killed

1 Now Ahab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Jehu wrote and sent letters to Samaria, to the rulers of Jezreel,[a] to the elders, and to those who reared Ahab's sons, saying:

> 2 Now as soon as this letter comes to you, since your > master's sons are with you, and you have chariots and > horses, a fortified city also, and weapons, > 3 choose the best qualified of your master's sons, set > him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's > house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and said, "Look, two kings could not stand up to him; how then can we stand?"
5 And he who was in charge of the house, and he who was in charge of the city, the elders also, and those who reared the sons, sent to Jehu, saying, "We are your servants, we will do all you tell us; but we will not make anyone king. Do what is good in your sight."
6 Then he wrote a second letter to them, saying:

> If you are for me and will obey my voice, take the > heads of the men, your master's sons, and come to me > at Jezreel by this time tomorrow.

Now the king's sons, seventy persons, were with the great men of the city, who were rearing them.
7 So it was, when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons and slaughtered seventy persons, put their heads in baskets and sent them to him at Jezreel.

8 Then a messenger came and told him, saying, “They have brought the heads of the king’s sons.” And he said, “Lay them in two heaps at the entrance of the gate until morning.”
9 So it was, in the morning, that he went out and stood, and said to all the people, “You are righteous. Indeed I conspired against my master and killed him; but who killed all these?
10 “Know now that nothing shall fall to the earth of the word of the LORD which the LORD spoke concerning the house of Ahab; for the LORD has done what He spoke by His servant Elijah.”
11 So Jehu killed all who remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his great men and his close acquaintances and his priests, until he left him none remaining.

Ahaziah’s Forty-two Brothers Killed

12 And he arose and departed and went to Samaria. On the way, at Beth Eked[b] of the Shepherds, 13 Jehu met with the brothers of Ahaziah king of Judah, and said, “Who are you?” So they answered, “We are the brothers of Ahaziah; we have come down to greet the sons of the king and the sons of the queen mother.” 14 And he said, “Take them alive!” So they took them alive, and killed them at the well of Beth Eked, forty-two men; and he left none of them.

The Rest of Ahab’s Family Killed

15 Now when he departed from there, he met Jehonadab the son of Rechab, coming to meet him; and he greeted him and said to him, “Is your heart right, as my heart is toward your heart?” And Jehonadab answered, “It is.” Jehu said, “If it is, give me your hand.” So he gave him his hand, and he took him up to him into the chariot. Jehu and Jehonadab

16 Then he said, “Come with me, and see my zeal for the LORD.” So they had him ride in his chariot.
17 And when he came to Samaria, he killed all who remained to Ahab in Samaria, till he had destroyed them, according to the word of the LORD which He spoke to Elijah.

Worshipers of Baal Killed

18 Then Jehu gathered all the people together, and said to them, “Ahab served Baal a little, Jehu will serve him much.
19 “Now therefore, call to me all the prophets of Baal, all his servants, and all his priests. Let no one be missing, for I have a great sacrifice for Baal. Whoever is missing shall not live.” But Jehu acted deceptively, with the intent of destroying the worshipers of Baal.
20 And Jehu said, “Proclaim a solemn assembly for Baal.”
So they proclaimed it.
21 Then Jehu sent throughout all Israel; and all the worshipers of Baal came, so that there was not a man left who did not come. So they came into the temple[c] of Baal, and the temple of Baal was full from one end to the other.
22 And he said to the one in charge of the wardrobe, “Bring out vestments for all the worshipers of Baal.” So he brought out vestments for them.
23 Then Jehu and Jehonadab the son of Rechab went into the temple of Baal, and said to the worshipers of Baal, “Search and see that no servants of the LORD are here with you, but only the worshipers of Baal.”
24 So they went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings.
Now Jehu had appointed for himself eighty men on the outside, and had said, “If any of the men whom I have brought into your hands escapes, whoever lets him escape, it shall be his life for the life of the other.”

25 Now it happened, as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, that Jehu said to the guard and to the captains, “Go in and kill them; let no one come out!”
And they killed them with the edge of the sword; then the guards and the officers threw them out, and went into the inner room of the temple of Baal.
26 And they brought the sacred pillars out of the temple of Baal and burned them.
27 Then they broke down the sacred pillar of Baal, and tore down the temple of Baal and made it a refuse dump to this day.
28 Thus Jehu destroyed Baal from Israel.
29 However Jehu did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin, that is, from the golden calves that were at Bethel and Dan.
30 And the LORD said to Jehu, “Because you have done well in doing what is right in My sight, and have done to the house of Ahab all that was in My heart, your sons shall sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation.”
31 But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the LORD God of Israel with all his heart; for he did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam, who had made Israel sin.

Death of Jehu

32 In those days the LORD began to cut off parts of Israel;
and Hazael conquered them in all the territory of Israel
33 from the Jordan eastward: all the land of Gilead—Gad, Reuben, and Manasseh—from Aroer, which is by the River
Arnon, including Gilead and Bashan.
34 Now the rest of the acts of Jehu, all that he did, and all his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?
35 So Jehu rested with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria. Then Jehoahaz his son reigned in his place.

[36]And the period that Jehu reigned over Israel in Samaria was twenty-eight years.

2 Kings 11

Athaliah Reigns in Judah

1When Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the royal heirs.
2But Jehosheba, the daughter of King Joram, sister of Ahaziah, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him away from among the king's sons who were being murdered; and they hid him and his nurse in the bedroom, from Athaliah, so that he was not killed. Jehosheba 3So he was hidden with her in the house of the LORD for six years, while Athaliah reigned over the land.

Joash Crowned King of Judah

4In the seventh year Jehoiada sent and brought the captains of hundreds—of the bodyguards and the escorts—and brought them into the house of the LORD to him. And he made a covenant with them and took an oath from them in the house of the LORD, and showed them the king's son.
5Then he commanded them, saying, "This is what you shall do: One-third of you who come on duty on the Sabbath shall be keeping watch over the king's house, 6"one-third shall be at the gate of Sur, and one-third at the gate behind the escorts. You shall keep the watch of the house, lest it be broken down.
7"The two contingents of you who go off duty on the Sabbath shall keep the watch of the house of the LORD for the king.
8"But you shall surround the king on all sides, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whoever comes within range, let him be put to death. You are to be with the king as he goes out and as he comes in."

9So the captains of the hundreds did according to all that Jehoiada the priest commanded. Each of them took his men who were to be on duty on the Sabbath, with those who were going off duty on the Sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the priest.

10And the priest gave the captains of hundreds the spears and shields which had belonged to King David, that were in the temple of the LORD.

11Then the escorts stood, every man with his weapons in his hand, all around the king, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, by the altar and the house.

12And he brought out the king's son, put the crown on him, and gave him the Testimony;[a] they made him king and anointed him, and they clapped their hands and said, "Long live the king!"

Death of Athaliah

13Now when Athaliah heard the noise of the escorts and the people, she came to the people in the temple of the LORD.

14When she looked, there was the king standing by a pillar according to custom; and the leaders and the trumpeters were by the king. All the people of the land were rejoicing and blowing trumpets. So Athaliah tore her clothes and cried out, "Treason! Treason!"

15And Jehoiada the priest commanded the captains of the hundreds, the officers of the army, and said to them, "Take her outside under guard, and slay with the sword whoever follows her." For the priest had said, "Do not let her be killed in the house of the LORD."

16So they seized her; and she went by way of the horses' entrance into the king's house, and there she was killed.

17Then Jehoiada made a covenant between the LORD, the king, and the people, that they should be the LORD's people, and also between the king and the people.
18And all the people of the land went to the temple of Baal, and tore it down. They thoroughly broke in pieces its altars and images, and killed Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars. And the priest appointed officers over the house of the LORD.
19Then he took the captains of hundreds, the bodyguards, the escorts, and all the people of the land; and they brought the king down from the house of the LORD, and went by way of the gate of the escorts to the king's house. Then he sat on the throne of the kings.
20So all the people of the land rejoiced; and the city was quiet, for they had slain Athaliah with the sword in the king's house.
21Jehoash was seven years old when he became king.

2 Kings 12

Jehoash Repairs the Temple

1 In the seventh year of Jehu, Jehoash[a] became king, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah of Beersheba.
2 Jehoash did what was right in the sight of the LORD all the days in which Jehoiada the priest instructed him.
3 But the high places were not taken away; the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.
4 And Jehoash said to the priests, "All the money of the dedicated gifts that are brought into the house of the LORD
—each man's census money, each man's assessment money[b]—and all the money that a man purposes in his heart to bring into the house of the LORD, 5 "let the priests take it themselves, each from his constituency; and let them repair the damages of the temple, wherever any dilapidation is found."
6 Now it was so, by the twenty-third year of King Jehoash, that the priests had not repaired the damages of the temple. Accountability
7 So King Jehoash called Jehoiada the priest and the other priests, and said to them, "Why have you not repaired the damages of the temple? Now therefore, do not take more money from your constituency, but deliver it for repairing the damages of the temple."
8 And the priests agreed that they would neither receive more money from the people, nor repair the damages of the temple.
9 Then Jehoiada the priest took a chest, bored a hole in its lid, and set it beside the altar, on the right side as one comes into the house of the LORD; and the priests who kept the door put there all the money brought into the house of the LORD.

10So it was, whenever they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the king's scribe and the high priest came up and put it in bags, and counted the money that was found in the house of the LORD.

11Then they gave the money, which had been apportioned, into the hands of those who did the work, who had the oversight of the house of the LORD; and they paid it out to the carpenters and builders who worked on the house of the LORD,

12and to masons and stonecutters, and for buying timber and hewn stone, to repair the damage of the house of the LORD, and for all that was paid out to repair the temple.

13However there were not made for the house of the LORD basins of silver, trimmers, sprinkling-bowls, trumpets, any articles of gold or articles of silver, from the money brought into the house of the LORD.

14But they gave that to the workmen, and they repaired the house of the LORD with it.

15Moreover they did not require an account from the men into whose hand they delivered the money to be paid to workmen, for they dealt faithfully. Trusted Workers

16The money from the trespass offerings and the money from the sin offerings was not brought into the house of the LORD. It belonged to the priests.

Hazael Threatens Jerusalem

17Hazael king of Syria went up and fought against Gath, and took it; then Hazael set his face to go up to Jerusalem.

18And Jehoash king of Judah took all the sacred things that his fathers, Jehoshaphat and Jehoram and Ahaziah, kings of Judah, had dedicated, and his own sacred things, and all the gold found in the treasuries of the house of the LORD and in the king's house, and sent them to Hazael king of Syria. Then he went away from Jerusalem.

Death of Joash

19 Now the rest of the acts of Joash,[c] and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
20 And his servants arose and formed a conspiracy, and killed Joash in the house of the Millo,[d] which goes down to Silla.
21 For Jozachar[e] the son of Shimeath and Jehozabad the son of Shomer,[f] his servants, struck him. So he died, and they buried him with his fathers in the City of David. Then Amaziah his son reigned in his place.

2 Kings 13

Jehoahaz Reigns in Israel

1 In the twenty-third year of Joash[a] the son of Ahaziah, king of Judah, Jehoahaz the son of Jehu became king over Israel in Samaria, and reigned seventeen years.
2 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and followed the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin. He did not depart from them.
3 Then the anger of the LORD was aroused against Israel, and He delivered them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Ben-Hadad the son of Hazael, all their days.
4 So Jehoahaz pleaded with the LORD, and the LORD listened to him; for He saw the oppression of Israel, because the king of Syria oppressed them.
5 Then the LORD gave Israel a deliverer, so that they escaped from under the hand of the Syrians; and the children of Israel dwelt in their tents as before.
6 Nevertheless they did not depart from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, who had made Israel sin, but walked in them; and the wooden image[b] also remained in Samaria.
7 For He left of the army of Jehoahaz only fifty horsemen, ten chariots, and ten thousand foot soldiers; for the king of Syria had destroyed them and made them like the dust at threshing.
8 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, all that he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles
of the kings of Israel?
9 So Jehoahaz rested with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria. Then Joash his son reigned in his place.

Jehoash Reigns in Israel

10In the thirty-seventh year of Joash king of Judah, Jehoash[c] the son of Jehoahaz became king over Israel in Samaria, and reigned sixteen years.

11And he did evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel sin, but walked in them.

12Now the rest of the acts of Joash, all that he did, and his might with which he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13So Joash rested with his fathers. Then Jeroboam sat on his throne. And Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

Death of Elisha

14Elisha had become sick with the illness of which he would die. Then Joash the king of Israel came down to him, and wept over his face, and said, “O my father, my father, the chariots of Israel and their horsemen!”

15And Elisha said to him, “Take a bow and some arrows.” So he took himself a bow and some arrows.

16Then he said to the king of Israel, “Put your hand on the bow.” So he put his hand on it, and Elisha put his hands on the king’s hands.

17And he said, “Open the east window”; and he opened it. Then Elisha said, “Shoot”; and he shot. And he said, “The arrow of the LORD’s deliverance and the arrow of deliverance from Syria; for you must strike the Syrians at Aphek till you have destroyed them.”

18Then he said, “Take the arrows”; so he took them. And he said to the king of Israel, “Strike the ground”; so he struck three times, and stopped.

19 And the man of God was angry with him, and said, “You should have struck five or six times; then you would have struck Syria till you had destroyed it! But now you will strike Syria only three times.”

20 Then Elisha died, and they buried him. And the raiding bands from Moab invaded the land in the spring of the year.

21 So it was, as they were burying a man, that suddenly they spied a band of raiders; and they put the man in the tomb of Elisha; and when the man was let down and touched the bones of Elisha, he revived and stood on his feet.

Israel Recaptures Cities from Syria

22 And Hazael king of Syria oppressed Israel all the days of Jehoahaz.

23 But the LORD was gracious to them, had compassion on them, and regarded them, because of His covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not yet destroy them or cast them from His presence.

24 Now Hazael king of Syria died. Then Ben-Hadad his son reigned in his place.

25 And Jehoash[d] the son of Jehoahaz recaptured from the hand of Ben-Hadad, the son of Hazael, the cities which he had taken out of the hand of Jehoahaz his father by war. Three times Joash defeated him and recaptured the cities of Israel.

2 Kings 14

Amaziah Reigns in Judah

1In the second year of Joash the son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel, Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, became
king.
2He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.
3And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, yet not like his father David; he did everything as his father Joash had done.
4However the high places were not taken away, and the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.
5Now it happened, as soon as the kingdom was established in his hand, that he executed his servants who had murdered his father the king.
6But the children of the murderers he did not execute, according to what is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, in which the LORD commanded, saying, "Fathers shall not be put to death for their children, nor shall children be put to death for their fathers; but a person shall be put to death for his own sin."[a] 7He killed ten thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt, and took Sela by war, and called its name Joktheel to this day. Inconsistent Obedience
8Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash[b] the son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, "Come, let us face one another in battle."
9And Jehoash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, "The thistle that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, ‘Give your daughter to my son as wife’; and a wild beast that was in Lebanon passed by and trampled the thistle.

10“You have indeed defeated Edom, and your heart has lifted you up. Glory in that, and stay at home; for why should you meddle with trouble so that you fall—you and Judah with you?”

11But Amaziah would not heed. Therefore Jehoash king of Israel went out; so he and Amaziah king of Judah faced one another at Beth Shemesh, which belongs to Judah.

12And Judah was defeated by Israel, and every man fled to his tent.

13Then Jehoash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Jehoash, the son of Ahaziah, at Beth Shemesh; and he went to Jerusalem, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate—four hundred cubits.

14And he took all the gold and silver, all the articles that were found in the house of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king’s house, and hostages, and returned to Samaria.

15Now the rest of the acts of Jehoash which he did—his might, and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah—are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

16So Jehoash rested with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel. Then Jeroboam his son reigned in his place.

17Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel.

18Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

19And they formed a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish; but they sent after him to Lachish and killed him there.

20 Then they brought him on horses, and he was buried at Jerusalem with his fathers in the City of David.

21 And all the people of Judah took Azariah,[c] who was sixteen years old, and made him king instead of his father Amaziah.

22 He built Elath and restored it to Judah, after the king rested with his fathers.

Jeroboam II Reigns in Israel

23 In the fifteenth year of Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, became king in Samaria, and reigned forty-one years.

24 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not depart from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin.

25 He restored the territory of Israel from the entrance of Hamath to the Sea of the Arabah, according to the word of the LORD God of Israel, which He had spoken through His servant Jonah the son of Amittai, the prophet who was from Gath Hepher. Jonah the Prophet

26 For the LORD saw that the affliction of Israel was very bitter; and whether bond or free, there was no helper for Israel.

27 And the LORD did not say that He would blot out the name of Israel from under heaven; but He saved them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Joash.

28 Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did—his might, how he made war, and how he recaptured for Israel, from Damascus and Hamath, what had belonged to Judah—are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

29 So Jeroboam rested with his fathers, the kings of Israel.
Then Zechariah his son reigned in his place.

2 Kings 15

Azariah Reigns in Judah

1In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Azariah the son of Amaziah, king of Judah, became king. The Leprous King 2He was sixteen years old when he became king, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecholiah of Jerusalem.
3And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD,
according to all that his father Amaziah had done, 4except that the high places were not removed; the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.
5Then the LORD struck the king, so that he was a leper until the day of his death; so he dwelt in an isolated house.
And Jotham the king's son was over the royal house, judging the people of the land.
6Now the rest of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did,
are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
7So Azariah rested with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the City of David. Then Jotham his son reigned in his place.

Zechariah Reigns in Israel

8In the thirty-eighth year of Azariah king of Judah, Zechariah the son of Jeroboam reigned over Israel in Samaria six months.
9And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, as his fathers had done; he did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin.

10 Then Shallum the son of Jabesh conspired against him, and struck and killed him in front of the people; and he
reigned in his place.
11 Now the rest of the acts of Zechariah, indeed they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.
12 This was the word of the LORD which He spoke to Jehu, saying, "Your sons shall sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation."[a] And so it was.

Shallum Reigns in Israel

13 Shallum the son of Jabesh became king in the thirty-ninth year of Uzziah[b] king of Judah; and he reigned a full month in Samaria.
14 For Menahem the son of Gadi went up from Tirzah, came to Samaria, and struck Shallum the son of Jabesh in Samaria and killed him; and he reigned in his place.
15 Now the rest of the acts of Shallum, and the conspiracy which he led, indeed they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.
16 Then from Tirzah, Menahem attacked Tiphsah, all who were there, and its territory. Because they did not surrender, therefore he attacked it. All the women there who were with child he ripped open.

Menahem Reigns in Israel

17 In the thirty-ninth year of Azariah king of Judah, Menahem the son of Gadi became king over Israel, and reigned ten years in Samaria.
18 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not depart all his days from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin.
19 Pul[c] king of Assyria came against the land; and Menahem gave Pul a thousand talents of silver, that his hand might be with him to strengthen the kingdom under his control.

20And Menahem exacted the money from Israel, from all the very wealthy, from each man fifty shekels of silver, to give to the king of Assyria. So the king of Assyria turned back, and did not stay there in the land.

21Now the rest of the acts of Menahem, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

22So Menahem rested with his fathers. Then Pekahiah his son reigned in his place.

Pekahiah Reigns in Israel

23In the fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekahiah the son of Menahem became king over Israel in Samaria, and reigned two years.

24And he did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin.

25Then Pekah the son of Remaliah, an officer of his, conspired against him and killed him in Samaria, in the citadel of the king’s house, along with Argob and Arieh; and with him were fifty men of Gilead. He killed him and reigned in his place.

26Now the rest of the acts of Pekahiah, and all that he did, indeed they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

Pekah Reigns in Israel

27In the fifty-second year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekah the son of Remaliah became king over Israel in Samaria, and reigned twenty years.

28And he did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who had made Israel sin.

29In the days of Pekah king of Israel, Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria came and took Ijon, Abel Beth Maachah, Janoah, Kedesh, Hazor, Gilead, and Galilee, all the land of Naphtali; and he carried them captive to Assyria.

30Then Hoshea the son of Elah led a conspiracy against Pekah the son of Remaliah, and struck and killed him; so he reigned in his place in the twentieth year of Jotham the son of Uzziah. Palace Intrigue

31Now the rest of the acts of Pekah, and all that he did, indeed they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

Jotham Reigns in Judah

32In the second year of Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, Jotham the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, began to reign.

33He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerusha[d] the daughter of Zadok.

34And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD; he did according to all that his father Uzziah had done.

35However the high places were not removed; the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places. He built the Upper Gate of the house of the LORD.

36Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

37In those days the LORD began to send Rezin king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah against Judah.

38So Jotham rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David his father. Then Ahaz his son reigned in his place.

2 Kings 16

Ahaz Reigns in Judah

1In the seventeenth year of Pekah the son of Remaliah, Ahaz the son of Jotham, king of Judah, began to reign.
2Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem; and he did not do what was right in the sight of the LORD his God, as his father David had done.
3But he walked in the way of the kings of Israel; indeed he made his son pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD had cast out from before the children of Israel.
4And he sacrificed and burned incense on the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree.
5Then Rezin king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to make war; and they besieged Ahaz but could not overcome him.
6At that time Rezin king of Syria captured Elath for Syria, and drove the men of Judah from Elath. Then the Edomites[a] went to Elath, and dwell there to this day.
7So Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria, saying, “I am your servant and your son. Come up and save me from the hand of the king of Syria and from the hand of the king of Israel, who rise up against me.” 8And Ahaz took the silver and gold that was found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasuries of the king’s house, and sent it as a present to the king of Assyria.
9So the king of Assyria heeded him; for the king of Assyria went up against Damascus and took it, carried its people captive to Kir, and killed Rezin.

10Now King Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria, and saw an altar that was at Damascus; and King Ahaz sent to Urijah the priest the design of the altar and its pattern, according to all its workmanship.

11Then Urijah the priest built an altar according to all that King Ahaz had sent from Damascus. So Urijah the priest made it before King Ahaz came back from Damascus.

12And when the king came back from Damascus, the king saw the altar; and the king approached the altar and made offerings on it.

13So he burned his burnt offering and his grain offering; and he poured his drink offering and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings on the altar.

14He also brought the bronze altar which was before the LORD, from the front of the temple—from between the new altar and the house of the LORD—and put it on the north side of the new altar.

15Then King Ahaz commanded Urijah the priest, saying, “On the great new altar burn the morning burnt offering, the evening grain offering, the king’s burnt sacrifice, and his grain offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, their grain offering, and their drink offerings; and sprinkle on it all the blood of the burnt offering and all the blood of the sacrifice. And the bronze altar shall be for me to inquire by.”

16Thus did Urijah the priest, according to all that King Ahaz commanded.

17And King Ahaz cut off the panels of the carts, and removed the lavers from them; and he took down the Sea from the bronze oxen that were under it, and put it on a pavement of stones.

18Also he removed the Sabbath pavilion which they had built in the temple, and he removed the king’s outer entrance from the house of the LORD, on account of the king of Assyria.

19 Now the rest of the acts of Ahaz which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 So Ahaz rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David. Then Hezekiah his son reigned in his place.

2 Kings 17

Hoshea Reigns in Israel

1In the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah, Hoshea the son of Elah became king of Israel in Samaria, and he reigned nine years.

2And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, but not as the kings of Israel who were before him.

3Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against him; and Hoshea became his vassal, and paid him tribute money.

4And the king of Assyria uncovered a conspiracy by Hoshea; for he had sent messengers to So, king of Egypt, and brought no tribute to the king of Assyria, as he had done year by year. Therefore the king of Assyria shut him up, and bound him in prison.

Israel Carried Captive to Assyria

5Now the king of Assyria went throughout all the land, and went up to Samaria and besieged it for three years.

6In the ninth year of Hoshea, the king of Assyria took Samaria and carried Israel away to Assyria, and placed them in Halah and by the Habor, the River of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

7For so it was that the children of Israel had sinned against the LORD their God, who had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and they had feared other gods, 8and had walked in the statutes of the nations whom the LORD had cast out from before the children of Israel, and of the kings of Israel, which they had made.

9Also the children of Israel secretly did against the LORD their God things that were not right, and they built for themselves high places in all their cities, from watchtower to fortified city.

10 They set up for themselves sacred pillars and wooden images[a] on every high hill and under every green tree.

11 There they burned incense on all the high places, like the nations whom the LORD had carried away before them; and they did wicked things to provoke the LORD to anger,

12 for they served idols, of which the LORD had said to them, “You shall not do this thing.”

13 Yet the LORD testified against Israel and against Judah, by all of His prophets, every seer, saying, “Turn from your evil ways, and keep My commandments and My statutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by My servants the prophets.”

14 Nevertheless they would not hear, but stiffened their necks, like the necks of their fathers, who did not believe in the LORD their God.

15 And they rejected His statutes and His covenant that He had made with their fathers, and His testimonies which He had testified against them; they followed idols, became idolaters, and went after the nations who were all around them, concerning whom the LORD had charged them that they should not do like them.

16 So they left all the commandments of the LORD their God, made for themselves a molded image and two calves, made a wooden image and worshiped all the host of heaven, and served Baal.

17 And they caused their sons and daughters to pass through the fire, practiced witchcraft and soothsaying, and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke Him to anger.

18 Therefore the LORD was very angry with Israel, and removed them from His sight; there was none left but the tribe of Judah alone.

19Also Judah did not keep the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the statutes of Israel which they made.
20And the LORD rejected all the descendants of Israel, afflicted them, and delivered them into the hand of plunderers, until He had cast them from His sight.
21For He tore Israel from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam the son of Nebat king. Then Jeroboam drove Israel from following the LORD, and made them commit a great sin.
22For the children of Israel walked in all the sins of Jeroboam which he did; they did not depart from them, 23until the LORD removed Israel out of His sight, as He had said by all His servants the prophets. So Israel was carried away from their own land to Assyria, as it is to this day.

Assyria Resettles Samaria

24Then the king of Assyria brought people from Babylon, Cuthah, Ava, Hamath, and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria instead of the children of Israel; and they took possession of Samaria and dwelt in its cities. The Origin of the Samaritans 25And it was so, at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they did not fear the LORD; therefore the LORD sent lions among them, which killed some of them.
26So they spoke to the king of Assyria, saying, “The nations whom you have removed and placed in the cities of Samaria do not know the rituals of the God of the land;
therefore He has sent lions among them, and indeed, they are killing them because they do not know the rituals of the God of the land.”
27Then the king of Assyria commanded, saying, “Send there one of the priests whom you brought from there; let him go and dwell there, and let him teach them the rituals of the God of the land."

28 Then one of the priests whom they had carried away from Samaria came and dwelt in Bethel, and taught them how they should fear the LORD.

29 However every nation continued to make gods of its own, and put them in the shrines on the high places which the Samaritans had made, every nation in the cities where they dwelt.

30 The men of Babylon made Succoth Benoth, the men of Cuth made Nergal, the men of Hamath made Ashima, 31 and the Avites made Nibhaz and Tartak; and the Sepharvites burned their children in fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim.

32 So they feared the LORD, and from every class they appointed for themselves priests of the high places, who sacrificed for them in the shrines of the high places.

33 They feared the LORD, yet served their own gods—according to the rituals of the nations from among whom they were carried away.

34 To this day they continue practicing the former rituals; they do not fear the LORD, nor do they follow their statutes or their ordinances, or the law and commandment which the LORD had commanded the children of Jacob, whom He named Israel,

35 with whom the LORD had made a covenant and charged them, saying: "You shall not fear other gods, nor bow down to them nor serve them nor sacrifice to them;

36 "but the LORD, who brought you up from the land of Egypt with great power and an outstretched arm, Him you shall fear, Him you shall worship, and to Him you shall offer sacrifice.

37 "And the statutes, the ordinances, the law, and the commandment which He wrote for you, you shall be careful to observe forever; you shall not fear other gods.

38 “And the covenant that I have made with you, you shall not forget, nor shall you fear other gods.
39 “But the LORD your God you shall fear; and He will deliver you from the hand of all your enemies.” 40 However they did not obey, but they followed their former rituals.
41 So these nations feared the LORD, yet served their carved images; also their children and their children’s children have continued doing as their fathers did, even to this day.

2 Kings 18

Hezekiah Reigns in Judah

1 Now it came to pass in the third year of Hoshea the son of Elah, king of Israel, that Hezekiah the son of Ahaz, king of Judah, began to reign.
2 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abi[a] the daughter of Zechariah.
3 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD,
according to all that his father David had done.
4 He removed the high places and broke the sacred pillars, cut down the wooden image[b] and broke in pieces the bronze serpent that Moses had made; for until those days the children of Israel burned incense to it, and called it Nehushtan.[c] Dangerous Relics
5 He trusted in the LORD God of Israel, so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Judah, nor who were before him.
6 For he held fast to the LORD; he did not depart from following Him, but kept His commandments, which the LORD had commanded Moses.
7 The LORD was with him; he prospered wherever he went. And he rebelled against the king of Assyria and did not serve him.
8 He subdued the Philistines, as far as Gaza and its territory, from watchtower to fortified city.
9 Now it came to pass in the fourth year of King Hezekiah, which was the seventh year of Hoshea the son of Elah, king of Israel, that Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against Samaria and besieged it.

10 And at the end of three years they took it. In the sixth year of Hezekiah, that is, the ninth year of Hoshea king of Israel, Samaria was taken.
11 Then the king of Assyria carried Israel away captive to Assyria, and put them in Halah and by the Habor, the River of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes, 12 because they did not obey the voice of the LORD their God, but transgressed His covenant and all that Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded; and they would neither hear nor do them.
13 And in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and took them.
14 Then Hezekiah king of Judah sent to the king of Assyria at Lachish, saying, “I have done wrong; turn away from me; whatever you impose on me I will pay.” And the king of Assyria assessed Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold.
15 So Hezekiah gave him all the silver that was found in the house of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king’s house.
16 At that time Hezekiah stripped the gold from the doors of the temple of the LORD, and from the pillars which Hezekiah king of Judah had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Assyria.

Sennacherib Boasts Against the LORD

17 Then the king of Assyria sent the Tartan,[d] the Rabsaris,[e] and the Rabshakeh[f] from Lachish, with a great army against Jerusalem, to King Hezekiah. And they went up and came to Jerusalem. When they had come up, they went and stood by the aqueduct from the upper pool, which was on the highway to the Fuller’s Field.

18And when they had called to the king, Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder, came out to them.

19Then the Rabshakeh said to them, “Say now to Hezekiah, ‘Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria: “What confidence is this in which you trust? Who Do We Trust?

20“You speak of having plans and power for war; but they are mere words. And in whom do you trust, that you rebel against me?

21“Now look! You are trusting in the staff of this broken reed, Egypt, on which if a man leans, it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him.

22“But if you say to me, ‘We trust in the LORD our God,’ is it not He whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, and said to Judah and Jerusalem, ‘You shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem’?” ’

23“Now therefore, I urge you, give a pledge to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses —if you are able on your part to put riders on them!

24“How then will you repel one captain of the least of my master’s servants, and put your trust in Egypt for chariots and horsemen?

25“Have I now come up without the LORD against this place to destroy it? The LORD said to me, ‘Go up against this land, and destroy it.’ ”

26Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, Shebna, and Joah said to the Rabshakeh, “Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it; and do not speak to us in Hebrew[g] in the hearing of the people who are on the wall.”

27But the Rabshakeh said to them, “Has my master sent me to your master and to you to speak these words, and not to the men who sit on the wall, who will eat and drink their own waste with you?”

28 Then the Rabshakeh stood and called out with a loud voice in Hebrew, and spoke, saying, “Hear the word of the great king, the king of Assyria!
29 “Thus says the king: ‘Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you from his hand;
30 ‘nor let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying,
“The LORD will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.” ’ 31 “Do not listen to Hezekiah; for thus says the king of Assyria: ‘Make peace with me by a present and come out to me; and every one of you eat from his own vine and every one from his own fig tree, and every one of you drink the waters of his own cistern;
32 ‘until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive groves and honey, that you may live and not die. But do not listen to Hezekiah, lest he persuade you, saying, “The LORD will deliver us.” 33 ‘Has any of the gods of the nations at all delivered its land from the hand of the king of Assyria?
34 ‘Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim and Hena and Ivah? Indeed, have they delivered Samaria from my hand?
35 ‘Who among all the gods of the lands have delivered their countries from my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem from my hand?’ ”
36 But the people held their peace and answered him not a word; for the king’s commandment was, “Do not answer
him.”
37 Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn, and told him the words of the Rabshakeh.

2 Kings 19

Isaiah Assures Deliverance

1 And so it was, when King Hezekiah heard it, that he tore his clothes, covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.
2 Then he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.
3 And they said to him, "Thus says Hezekiah: 'This day is a day of trouble, and rebuke, and blasphemy; for the children have come to birth, but there is no strength to bring them forth.
4 'It may be that the LORD your God will hear all the words of the Rabshakeh, whom his master the king of Assyria has sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.' "
5 So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.
6 And Isaiah said to them, "Thus you shall say to your master, 'Thus says the LORD: "Do not be afraid of the words which you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed Me.
7 "Surely I will send a spirit upon him, and he shall hear a rumor and return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land." ' "

Sennacherib's Threat and Hezekiah's Prayer

8 Then the Rabshakeh returned and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah, for he heard that he had departed from Lachish.

9 And the king heard concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, “Look, he has come out to make war with you.”
So he again sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,
10 “Thus you shall speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying: ‘Do not let your God in whom you trust deceive you, saying, “Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.”
11 ‘Look! You have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by utterly destroying them; and shall you
be delivered?
12 ‘Have the gods of the nations delivered those whom my fathers have destroyed, Gozan and Haran and Rezeph, and
the people of Eden who were in Telassar?
13 ‘Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?’ ” 14 And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Hezekiah went up to the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD.
15 Then Hezekiah prayed before the LORD, and said: “O LORD God of Israel, the One who dwells between the cherubim, You are God, You alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth.
16 “Incline Your ear, O LORD, and hear; open Your eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to reproach the living God.
17 “Truly, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste the nations and their lands, 18 “and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were not gods, but the work of men’s hands—wood and stone.
Therefore they destroyed them.
19 “Now therefore, O LORD our God, I pray, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that You are the LORD God, You alone.”

The Word of the LORD Concerning Sennacherib

20 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel: ‘Because you have prayed to Me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, I have heard.’

21 “This is the word which the LORD has spoken concerning him:

‘The virgin, the daughter of Zion,
Has despised you, laughed you to scorn;
The daughter of Jerusalem
Has shaken her head behind your back!

22 ‘Whom have you reproached and
blasphemed?
Against whom have you raised your voice,
And lifted up your eyes on high?
Against the Holy One of Israel.
23 By your messengers you have reproached
the Lord,
And said: “By the multitude of my chariots
I have come up to the height of the mountains,
To the limits of Lebanon;
I will cut down its tall cedars
And its choice cypress trees;
I will enter the extremity of its borders,
To its fruitful forest.
24 I have dug and drunk strange water,
And with the soles of my feet I have dried up
All the brooks of defense.”

25 ‘Did you not hear long ago
How I made it,
From ancient times that I formed it?

Now I have brought it to pass,
That you should be
For crushing fortified cities into heaps of ruins.
[26]Therefore their inhabitants had little power;
They were dismayed and confounded;
They were as the grass of the field
And the green herb,
As the grass on the housetops
And grain blighted before it is grown.

27‘But I know your dwelling place,
Your going out and your coming in,
And your rage against Me.
[28]Because your rage against Me and your tumult
Have come up to My ears,
Therefore I will put My hook in your nose
And My bridle in your lips,
And I will turn you back
By the way which you came.

29‘This shall be a sign to you:

You shall eat this year such as grows of itself,
And in the second year what springs from the same;
Also in the third year sow and reap,
Plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them.
[30]And the remnant who have escaped of the house of Judah
Shall again take root downward,
And bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jerusalem shall go a remnant,
And those who escape from Mount Zion.
The zeal of the LORD of hosts[a] will do this.’

32 “Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria:

‘He shall not come into this city,
Nor shoot an arrow there,
Nor come before it with shield,
Nor build a siege mound against it.
33 By the way that he came,
By the same shall he return;
And he shall not come into this city,’
Says the LORD.
34 ‘For I will defend this city, to save it
For My own sake and for My servant David’s
sake.’ ”

Sennacherib’s Defeat and Death

35 And it came to pass on a certain night that the angel[b] of the LORD went out, and killed in the camp of the Assyrians one hundred and eighty-five thousand; and when people arose early in the morning, there were the corpses—all dead.

36 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed and went away, returned home, and remained at Nineveh.

37 Now it came to pass, as he was worshiping in the temple of Nisroch his god, that his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer struck him down with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. Then Esarhaddon his son reigned in his place.

2 Kings 20

Hezekiah's Life Extended

1In those days Hezekiah was sick and near death. And Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, went to him and said to him, "Thus says the LORD: 'Set your house in order, for you shall die, and not live.' " 2Then he turned his face toward the wall, and prayed to the LORD, saying,
3"Remember now, O LORD, I pray, how I have walked before You in truth and with a loyal heart, and have done what was good in Your sight." And Hezekiah wept bitterly.
4And it happened, before Isaiah had gone out into the middle court, that the word of the LORD came to him,
saying,
5"Return and tell Hezekiah the leader of My people,
'Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father: "I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears; surely I will heal you. On the third day you shall go up to the house of the LORD.
6"And I will add to your days fifteen years. I will deliver you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city for My own sake, and for the sake of My servant David." ' " 7Then Isaiah said, "Take a lump of figs." So they took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.
8And Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "What is the sign that the LORD will heal me, and that I shall go up to the house of the LORD the third day?"
9Then Isaiah said, "This is the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do the thing which He has spoken: shall

the shadow go forward ten degrees or go backward ten degrees?”

10And Hezekiah answered, “It is an easy thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees; no, but let the shadow go backward ten degrees.”

11So Isaiah the prophet cried out to the LORD, and He brought the shadow ten degrees backward, by which it had gone down on the sundial of Ahaz.

The Babylonian Envoys

12At that time Berodach-Baladan[a] the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he heard that Hezekiah had been sick.

13And Hezekiah was attentive to them, and showed them all the house of his treasures—the silver and gold, the spices and precious ointment, and all[b] his armory—all that was found among his treasures. There was nothing in his house or in all his dominion that Hezekiah did not show them.

14Then Isaiah the prophet went to King Hezekiah, and said to him, “What did these men say, and from where did they come to you?” So Hezekiah said, “They came from a far country, from Babylon.”

15And he said, “What have they seen in your house?” So Hezekiah answered, “They have seen all that is in my house; there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them.”

16Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, “Hear the word of the LORD:

17‘Behold, the days are coming when all that is in your house, and what your fathers have accumulated until this day, shall be carried to Babylon; nothing shall be left,’ says the LORD.

18 ‘And they shall take away some of your sons who will descend from you, whom you will beget; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.’ ”
19 So Hezekiah said to Isaiah, “The word of the LORD which you have spoken is good!” For he said, “Will there not be peace and truth at least in my days?” Not My Problem

Death of Hezekiah

20 Now the rest of the acts of Hezekiah—all his might, and how he made a pool and a tunnel and brought water into the city—are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
21 So Hezekiah rested with his fathers. Then Manasseh his son reigned in his place.

2 Kings 21

Manasseh Reigns in Judah

1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hephzibah.
2 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.
3 For he rebuilt the high places which Hezekiah his father had destroyed; he raised up altars for Baal, and made a wooden image,[a] as Ahab king of Israel had done; and he worshiped all the host of heaven[b] and served them.
4 He also built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, "In Jerusalem I will put My name."
5 And he built altars for all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD.
6 Also he made his son pass through the fire, practiced soothsaying, used witchcraft, and consulted spiritists and mediums. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke Him to anger.
7 He even set a carved image of Asherah[c] that he had made, in the house of which the LORD had said to David and to Solomon his son, "In this house and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put
My name forever;
8 "and I will not make the feet of Israel wander anymore from the land which I gave their fathers—only if they are careful to do according to all that I have commanded them, and according to all the law that My servant Moses commanded them."

9 But they paid no attention, and Manasseh seduced them to do more evil than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed before the children of Israel.
10 And the LORD spoke by His servants the prophets,
saying,
11 "Because Manasseh king of Judah has done these abominations (he has acted more wickedly than all the Amorites who were before him, and has also made Judah sin with his idols), 12 "therefore thus says the LORD God of Israel: 'Behold, I am bringing such calamity upon Jerusalem and Judah, that whoever hears of it, both his ears will tingle.
13 'And I will stretch over Jerusalem the measuring line of Samaria and the plummet of the house of Ahab; I will wipe Jerusalem as one wipes a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down.
14 'So I will forsake the remnant of My inheritance and deliver them into the hand of their enemies; and they shall become victims of plunder to all their enemies, 15 'because they have done evil in My sight, and have provoked Me to anger since the day their fathers came out of Egypt, even to this day.' " 16 Moreover Manasseh shed very much innocent blood, till he had filled Jerusalem from one end to another, besides his sin by which he made Judah sin, in doing evil in the sight of the LORD.
17 Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh—all that he did, and the sin that he committed—are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
18 So Manasseh rested with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his own house, in the garden of Uzza. Then his son Amon reigned in his place.

Amon's Reign and Death

19Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Meshullemeth the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.
20And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, as his father
Manasseh had done.
21So he walked in all the ways that his father had walked;
and he served the idols that his father had served, and worshiped them.
22He forsook the LORD God of his fathers, and did not walk in the way of the LORD.
23Then the servants of Amon conspired against him, and killed the king in his own house.
24But the people of the land executed all those who had conspired against King Amon. Then the people of the land made his son Josiah king in his place.
25Now the rest of the acts of Amon which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
26And he was buried in his tomb in the garden of Uzza.
Then Josiah his son reigned in his place.

2 Kings 22

Josiah Reigns in Judah

1 Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jedidah the daughter of Adaiah of Bozkath. The Boy King

2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in all the ways of his father David; he did not turn aside to the right hand or to the left.

Hilkiah Finds the Book of the Law

3 Now it came to pass, in the eighteenth year of King Josiah, that the king sent Shaphan the scribe, the son of Azaliah, the son of Meshullam, to the house of the LORD,
saying:

4 "Go up to Hilkiah the high priest, that he may count the money which has been brought into the house of the LORD, which the doorkeepers have gathered from the people.

5 "And let them deliver it into the hand of those doing the work, who are the overseers in the house of the LORD; let them give it to those who are in the house of the LORD doing the work, to repair the damages of the house—

6 "to carpenters and builders and masons—and to buy timber and hewn stone to repair the house.

7 "However there need be no accounting made with them of the money delivered into their hand, because they deal faithfully."

8 Then Hilkiah the high priest said to Shaphan the scribe,
"I have found the Book of the Law in the house of the LORD." And Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read
it.

9So Shaphan the scribe went to the king, bringing the king word, saying, “Your servants have gathered the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hand of those who do the work, who oversee the house of the LORD.”

10Then Shaphan the scribe showed the king, saying, “Hilkiah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read it before the king.

11Now it happened, when the king heard the words of the Book of the Law, that he tore his clothes.

12Then the king commanded Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam the son of Shaphan, Achbor[a] the son of Michaiah, Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah a servant of the king, saying,

13“Go, inquire of the LORD for me, for the people and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that has been found; for great is the wrath of the LORD that is aroused against us, because our fathers have not obeyed the words of this book, to do according to all that is written concerning us.”

14So Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam, Achbor, Shaphan, and Asaiah went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe. (She dwelt in Jerusalem in the Second Quarter.) And they spoke with her. Prophetesses

15Then she said to them, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel, ‘Tell the man who sent you to Me,

16“Thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, I will bring calamity on this place and on its inhabitants—all the words of the book which the king of Judah has read—

17‘because they have forsaken Me and burned incense to other gods, that they might provoke Me to anger with all the works of their hands. Therefore My wrath shall be aroused against this place and shall not be quenched.’ ” ’

18 “But as for the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, in this manner you shall speak to him, ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel: “Concerning the words which you have heard—
19 “because your heart was tender, and you humbled yourself before the LORD when you heard what I spoke against this place and against its inhabitants, that they would become a desolation and a curse, and you tore your clothes and wept before Me, I also have heard you,” says
the LORD.
20 “Surely, therefore, I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace; and your eyes shall not see all the calamity which I will bring on this place.” ’ ” So they brought back word to the king.

2 Kings 23

Josiah Restores True Worship

1 Now the king sent them to gather all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem to him.
2 The king went up to the house of the LORD with all the men of Judah, and with him all the inhabitants of Jerusalem
—the priests and the prophets and all the people, both small and great. And he read in their hearing all the words of the Book of the Covenant which had been found in the house of the LORD.
3 Then the king stood by a pillar and made a covenant before the LORD, to follow the LORD and to keep His commandments and His testimonies and His statutes, with all his heart and all his soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book. And all the people took a stand for the covenant.
4 And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, the priests of the second order, and the doorkeepers, to bring out of the temple of the LORD all the articles that were made for Baal, for Asherah,[a] and for all the host of heaven;[b] and he burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried their ashes to Bethel.
5 Then he removed the idolatrous priests whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense on the high places in the cities of Judah and in the places all around Jerusalem, and those who burned incense to Baal, to the sun, to the moon, to the constellations, and to all the host of heaven.
6 And he brought out the wooden image[c] from the house of the LORD, to the Brook Kidron outside Jerusalem, burned it at the Brook Kidron and ground it to ashes, and threw its ashes on the graves of the common people.

7 Then he tore down the ritual booths of the perverted persons[d] that were in the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for the wooden image.

8 And he brought all the priests from the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burned incense, from Geba to Beersheba; also he broke down the high places at the gates which were at the entrance of the Gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which were to the left of the city gate.

9 Nevertheless the priests of the high places did not come up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they ate unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled Topheth, which is in the Valley of the Son[e] of Hinnom, that no man might make his son or his daughter pass through the fire to Molech. Child Sacrifice

11 Then he removed the horses that the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun, at the entrance to the house of the LORD, by the chamber of Nathan-Melech, the officer who was in the court; and he burned the chariots of the sun with fire.

12 The altars that were on the roof, the upper chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the LORD, the king broke down and pulverized there, and threw their dust into the Brook Kidron.

13 Then the king defiled the high places that were east of Jerusalem, which were on the south of the Mount of Corruption, which Solomon king of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Sidonians, for Chemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the people of Ammon.

14 And he broke in pieces the sacred pillars and cut down the wooden images, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15Moreover the altar that was at Bethel, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he broke down; and he burned the high place and crushed it to powder, and burned the wooden image.

16As Josiah turned, he saw the tombs that were there on the mountain. And he sent and took the bones out of the tombs and burned them on the altar, and defiled it according to the word of the LORD which the man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

17Then he said, “What gravestone is this that I see?” So the men of the city told him, “It is the tomb of the man of God who came from Judah and proclaimed these things which you have done against the altar of Bethel.”

18And he said, “Let him alone; let no one move his bones.” So they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet who came from Samaria.

19Now Josiah also took away all the shrines of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to provoke the LORD[f] to anger; and he did to them according to all the deeds he had done in Bethel.

20He executed all the priests of the high places who were there, on the altars, and burned men’s bones on them; and he returned to Jerusalem.

21Then the king commanded all the people, saying, “Keep the Passover to the LORD your God, as it is written in this Book of the Covenant.”

22Such a Passover surely had never been held since the days of the judges who judged Israel, nor in all the days of the kings of Israel and the kings of Judah.

23But in the eighteenth year of King Josiah this Passover was held before the LORD in Jerusalem.

24Moreover Josiah put away those who consulted mediums and spiritists, the household gods and idols, all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, that he might perform the words of the law which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

25 Now before him there was no king like him, who turned to the LORD with all his heart, with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the Law of Moses; nor after him did any arise like him.

Impending Judgment on Judah

26 Nevertheless the LORD did not turn from the fierceness of His great wrath, with which His anger was aroused against Judah, because of all the provocations with which Manasseh had provoked Him.

27 And the LORD said, “I will also remove Judah from My sight, as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, ‘My name shall be there.’ ”[g]

Josiah Dies in Battle

28 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

29 In his days Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt went to the aid of the king of Assyria, to the River Euphrates; and King Josiah went against him. And Pharaoh Necho killed him at Megiddo when he confronted him.

30 Then his servants moved his body in a chariot from Megiddo, brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own tomb. And the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, anointed him, and made him king in his father’s place.

The Reign and Captivity of Jehoahaz

31Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

32And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

33Now Pharaoh Necho put him in prison at Riblah in the land of Hamath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem; and he imposed on the land a tribute of one hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

34Then Pharaoh Necho made Eliakim the son of Josiah king in place of his father Josiah, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. And Pharaoh took Jehoahaz and went to Egypt, and he[h] died there.

Jehoiakim Reigns in Judah

35So Jehoiakim gave the silver and gold to Pharaoh; but he taxed the land to give money according to the command of Pharaoh; he exacted the silver and gold from the people of the land, from every one according to his assessment, to give it to Pharaoh Necho.

36Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Zebudah the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

37And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

2 Kings 24

Judah Overrun by Enemies

1 In his days Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his vassal for three years. Then he turned and rebelled against him.
2 And the LORD sent against him raiding bands of Chaldeans, bands of Syrians, bands of Moabites, and bands of the people of Ammon; He sent them against Judah to destroy it, according to the word of the LORD which He had spoken by His servants the prophets.
3 Surely at the commandment of the LORD this came upon Judah, to remove them from His sight because of the sins of Manasseh, according to all that he had done, 4 and also because of the innocent blood that he had shed;
for he had filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, which the LORD would not pardon.
5 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
6 So Jehoiakim rested with his fathers. Then Jehoiachin
his son reigned in his place.
7 And the king of Egypt did not come out of his land anymore, for the king of Babylon had taken all that belonged to the king of Egypt from the Brook of Egypt to the River Euphrates.

The Reign and Captivity of Jehoiachin

8 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months. His mother's name was Nehushta the daughter of Elnathan of Jerusalem.

9 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father had done.
10 At that time the servants of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against Jerusalem, and the city was besieged.
11 And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came against the city, as his servants were besieging it.
12 Then Jehoiachin king of Judah, his mother, his servants, his princes, and his officers went out to the king of Babylon; and the king of Babylon, in the eighth year of his reign, took him prisoner.

The Captivity of Jerusalem

13 And he carried out from there all the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house, and he cut in pieces all the articles of gold which Solomon king of Israel had made in the temple of the LORD, as the LORD had said.
14 Also he carried into captivity all Jerusalem: all the captains and all the mighty men of valor, ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen and smiths. None remained except the poorest people of the land.
15 And he carried Jehoiachin captive to Babylon. The king's mother, the king's wives, his officers, and the mighty of the land he carried into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon.
16 All the valiant men, seven thousand, and craftsmen and smiths, one thousand, all who were strong and fit for war, these the king of Babylon brought captive to Babylon.

Zedekiah Reigns in Judah

17 Then the king of Babylon made Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's[a] uncle, king in his place, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19He also did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20For because of the anger of the LORD this happened in Jerusalem and Judah, that He finally cast them out from His presence. Then Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

2 Kings 25

The Fall and Captivity of Judah

1 Now it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and encamped against it; and they built a siege wall against it all around. Five Ways to Capture a Walled City

2 So the city was besieged until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

3 By the ninth day of the fourth month the famine had become so severe in the city that there was no food for the people of the land.

4 Then the city wall was broken through, and all the men of war fled at night by way of the gate between two walls, which was by the king's garden, even though the Chaldeans were still encamped all around against the city. And the king[a] went by way of the plain.[b]

5 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and they overtook him in the plains of Jericho. All his army was scattered from him.

6 So they took the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah, and they pronounced judgment on him.

7 Then they killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, put out the eyes of Zedekiah, bound him with bronze fetters, and took him to Babylon.

8 And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month (which was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, a servant of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.

9 He burned the house of the LORD and the king's house; all the houses of Jerusalem, that is, all the houses of the great, he burned with fire.

10 And all the army of the Chaldeans who were with the captain of the guard broke down the walls of Jerusalem all around.

11 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive the rest of the people who remained in the city and the defectors who had deserted to the king of Babylon, with the rest of the multitude.

12 But the captain of the guard left some of the poor of the land as vinedressers and farmers.

13 The bronze pillars that were in the house of the LORD, and the carts and the bronze Sea that were in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans broke in pieces, and carried their bronze to Babylon.

14 They also took away the pots, the shovels, the trimmers, the spoons, and all the bronze utensils with which the priests ministered.

15 The firepans and the basins, the things of solid gold and solid silver, the captain of the guard took away.

16 The two pillars, one Sea, and the carts, which Solomon had made for the house of the LORD, the bronze of all these articles was beyond measure.

17 The height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the capital on it was of bronze. The height of the capital was three cubits, and the network and pomegranates all around the capital were all of bronze. The second pillar was the same, with a network.

18 And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the second priest, and the three doorkeepers.

19 He also took out of the city an officer who had charge of the men of war, five men of the king’s close associates who were found in the city, the chief recruiting officer of the army, who mustered the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land who were found in the city.

[20]So Nebuzaradan, captain of the guard, took these and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

[21]Then the king of Babylon struck them and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive from its own land.

Gedaliah Made Governor of Judah

[22]Then he made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, governor over the people who remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left.

[23]Now when all the captains of the armies, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor, they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah—Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, Johanan the son of Careah, Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah[c] the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.

[24]And Gedaliah took an oath before them and their men, and said to them, “Do not be afraid of the servants of the Chaldeans. Dwell in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.”

[25]But it happened in the seventh month that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal family, came with ten men and struck and killed Gedaliah, the Jews, as well as the Chaldeans who were with him at Mizpah.

[26]And all the people, small and great, and the captains of the armies, arose and went to Egypt; for they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

Jehoiachin Released from Prison

27Now it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, that Evil-Merodach[d] king of Babylon, in the year that he began to reign, released Jehoiachin king of Judah from prison.

28He spoke kindly to him, and gave him a more prominent seat than those of the kings who were with him in Babylon.

29So Jehoiachin changed from his prison garments, and he ate bread regularly before the king all the days of his life.

30And as for his provisions, there was a regular ration given him by the king, a portion for each day, all the days of his life.

Elisha

2 Kin. 2:3

Name means: “God Is Salvation.”

Not to be confused with: Elijah, his predecessor.

Home: Abel Meholah (1 Kin. 19:16), a city in the Jordan River Valley halfway between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea (see the map at the introduction to Isaiah).

Family: Son of Shaphat.

Occupation: Prophet in Israel between about 850 and 800 B.C.

Of special interest: When Elisha asked for a double portion of Elijah’s spirit (2 Kin. 2:9), he likely alluded to the law of inheritance, which specified that a firstborn son should receive a double portion of his father’s estate (Deut. 21:17; see also “Birthrights” at Gen. 25:31).

Best known as: The successor to Elijah the prophet (see “Mapping the Life of Elisha” at 2 Kin. 8:4).

Think About It: Elisha had a godly mentor. Who can you thank for teaching you how to live for God?

Old Testament Mentors

2 Kin. 2:13

The principles of mentoring used in modern business and education are the same principles that have been around for millennia. Take the relationship between Elijah and Elisha. When Elisha picked up Elijah's mantle—a literal symbolic gesture from which we draw the idiom "to take up the mantle"—Elisha assumed his mentor's role as Israel's leading prophet. Elijah had long prepared his apprentice for leadership (1 Kin. 19:16), and the Old Testament reports many similar mentoring relationships.

Jethro and Moses (Ex. 18)	Jethro came alongside his overworked son-in-law to help him organize leaders and delegate authority.
Moses and Joshua (Deut. 31:1–8; 34:9)	Moses prepared Joshua to assume leadership as the Israelites entered Canaan.
Deborah and Barak (Judg. 4:4–16)	Deborah challenged Barak to take charge of the military and encouraged him to overcome his fears; together they defeated a Canaanite army.
Naomi and Ruth (Ruth 1–4)	Naomi gave advice to her widowed daughter-in-law in order to spare her from a life of poverty.
Eli and Samuel (1 Sam. 1–3)	The priest Eli was a poor mentor to his own two sons, but he helped Samuel grow up to hear and to heed God and to speak to the nation.
Samuel and Saul (1 Sam. 9–15)	Samuel tried to shape Saul into a man of character and did not cease in his attempts to mentor the king even after Saul abandoned God.
Samuel and David (1 Sam. 16; 19:18–24)	Samuel anointed David into leadership and stood by him as Saul hunted the future king.
Mordecai and Esther (Esth. 1–10)	Mordecai mentored his younger cousin when she was unexpectedly enthroned as queen of Persia, helping her devise a strategy to rescue her people from their hostile enemy.

Mentoring requires a proactive investment in others and a committed advocacy for their development and success. It grows out of our belief in another person's value and potential. Guiding others often requires self-sacrifice and does not always work out as planned. But it is our duty and privilege to look after the spiritual growth of younger generations and to bless those whom we mentor, offering them our friendship, experience, and knowledge, passing along what others have given to us.

The Widow's Oil

2 Kin. 4:1–7

Soon after Elijah's departure, God empowered Elisha to perform several miracles, including multiplying jars of oil to save a poor widow and her sons. The incident confirmed Elisha as God's true prophet and Elijah's successor, recalling a similar miracle that Elijah had performed for the widow of Zarephath (1 Kin. 17:8–16).

Elisha's miracle of the widow's oil illustrates an essential aspect of God's character: He is profoundly concerned for the poor and disadvantaged. Elijah and Elisha contended with kings, commanders, and other leaders, but they also stood up for the powerless. The widow was on the verge of selling her sons to settle a debt incurred by her late husband, an extreme measure of last resort that would have not only stripped her sons of their freedom but also left her alone and still in poverty. Through Elisha's intervention, the Lord provided for her needs (compare Ps. 68:5).

James wrote in his New Testament letter that true religion includes helping widows and orphans (James 1:27). We often measure our lives by the power of the circles we travel in, but Scripture reminds us that the real measure of faith is what we do "for the least of these" (Matt. 25:40).

A Widow's Worth

2 Kin. 4:2

Widows in the ancient world usually endured a desperate existence. The woman who cried out to Elisha highlights a common dilemma of the time: her husband had died, leaving her with a large debt and the prospect of permanent poverty. Selling her sons would settle her debt, but she would face the future alone with no means of support.

Widows and other unmarried women in ancient Israel had few ways to survive on their own. Moved by this woman's plight, Elisha sought to help. He demonstrated the Lord's compassion for widows, exhibiting His special care for anyone who struggles alone in a hostile environment. The Bible includes many scenes in which God's people have helped women in dire circumstances, as the following table shows.

Moses (Deut. 24:19–22)	The Law told landowners to allow widows and other needy people to glean their fields.
Ruth (the Book of Ruth)	Naomi and Ruth were widows destined for poverty until a wealthy man, Boaz, was moved to provide for them by marrying Ruth, citing her kindness and virtue.
David (Ps. 68:5; 146:9)	The psalmist called God the "defender of widows" and the One who "relieves the fatherless and widow."
Elijah (1 Kin. 17:8–	One of Israel's greatest prophets provided a miraculous solution for a needy widow at Zarephath.

24)

Job (Job. 24:21; 31:16–18)	Job reflected on the abuse faced by widows and the care he had tried to provide for them.
Jesus (Mark 12:41–44; Luke 7:11–17; 18:1–8; 20:46, 47)	Jesus ministered to widows and pointed to them as examples of faithfulness and as people deserving care and respect; He condemned the Pharisees' mistreatment of widows.
The early church (Acts 4:34–37; 6:1–7)	The community of early Christians showed compassion to widows and others by selling land and using the proceeds to assist the needy; the church developed a system to assure equity of care.
Paul (1 Tim. 5:3–16)	The apostle instructed Timothy to establish support mechanisms for widows in the church at Ephesus.
James (James 1:27)	James defined "pure religion" in part as compassionate care of widows.

The Shunammite Woman

2 Kin. 4:8

Not to be confused with: Abishag the Shunammite, a caregiver for the aged King David (1 Kin. 1:3, 15) or with the widow of Zarephath visited by Elijah (1 Kin. 17:8–24).

Home: Shunem, a city east of Mount Carmel in the territory of Issachar, close to Jezreel (see the map at "Mapping the Life of Elisha" at 2 Kin. 8:4).

Family: Married to an unidentified elderly man; mother of a lone son born after years of barrenness.

Occupation: Called a "notable" woman (4:8), possibly indicating that she and her husband had means to afford a special room for Elisha (4:10).

Of special interest: This woman's lands were restored after Elisha encouraged her to flee to Philistia during a seven-year famine (8:1–6).

Best known for: Showing hospitality to Elisha, who raised her son from the dead (4:18–37).

Think About It: Giving is particularly sweet when it's a two-way street: this woman had helped Elisha by providing a room; Elisha helped her by providing food after her husband's death. What two-way giving do you enjoy? How do you try to outgive one another?

Naaman

2 Kin. 5:1

Name means: "Pleasant."

Home: Syria (also called Aram).

Occupation: Commander of the Syrian army, likely under Ben-Hadad II.

Of special interest: Jewish tradition maintains that Naaman was the "man who drew a bow at random" and mortally wounded King Ahab (1 Kin. 22:34–37).

Best known as: The leprous general who was cured and converted when he visited Elisha (2 Kin. 5:1–19). The prodding of a young Israelite prisoner of war had sent him in search of healing (5:2).

More: Jesus alluded to Naaman's healing during His rebuke of self-righteous people at His hometown synagogue in Nazareth. Read Luke 4:27.

Think About It: Naaman received unusual instructions for his healing. How can you tell when unusual instructions are from God—and therefore to be trusted—or are simply odd—and therefore to be rejected?

God's Simple Requirements

2 Kin. 5:13

God is unimpressed by worldly greatness. Instead He is pleased when people simply keep His commands. Why? His commands are for our good, to teach us to live as we were designed to live, and to give us the inside scoop on our inner workings.

Naaman balked at washing in the Jordan, just as we may minimize the necessity of what seem like insignificant actions—prayer, Bible study, showing kindness to loved ones and strangers, keeping our word after casual promises, etc. In fact, some who hear the gospel may scorn God's simple requirement of confessing sin and trusting Jesus' work on the cross for salvation.

Like Naaman, we might assume that God demands extraordinary acts to satisfy His will. But He usually calls us to simple obedience, day after day. Jesus said that people who are unwilling to demonstrate faithfulness in everyday matters cannot expect to be trusted with larger responsibilities (Luke 16:10). Not one of God's commands is too small or lowly for us to hear and obey, and we may find that His simplest commands can bring about extraordinary results.

Self-Seeking Servants

2 Kin. 5:20–27

Elisha's servant Gehazi was awestruck by authority. He basked in his master's prestige. Although Gehazi served a legitimate function in meeting Elisha's needs, he took advantage of his position to pursue payment from Naaman. He falsely claimed that Elisha had sent him, exploiting his connection to Elisha for his own ends.

Leaders must watch out for Gehazis who live off the efforts of others. These self-seekers can compromise the integrity of those they supposedly serve. Leaders who care about maintaining their reputation should use prayerful discernment as they select subordinates. And like Elisha, they should deal decisively with followers who abuse their access to a leader's name and influence.

Mapping the Life of Elisha

2 Kin. 8:4

When the king of Israel asked Gehazi to tell him "all the great things Elisha has done," Gehazi mentioned some of the examples mapped here.

1. Elijah's successor miraculously turns bad water wholesome at Jericho (2 Kin. 2:18–22).
2. Elisha promises King Jehoram of Israel that God will give him and King Jehoshaphat of Judah victory over the Moabites, which comes about through miraculous circumstances (2 Kin. 3:11–27).
3. Elisha miraculously provides material assistance for a widow of one of the prophets (2 Kin. 4:1–7; location unknown).
4. At Shunem the prophet predicts that a prominent woman who is barren will give birth to a son, which she does (2 Kin. 4:8–18); later, after the boy falls ill and dies, Elisha brings him back to life (4:18–37).

5. At Gilgal Elisha causes poison to leave a stew (2 Kin. 4:38–41) and miraculously provides food during a famine using gifts brought by a man from Baal Shalisha (4:42–44).
6. Elisha heals the Syrian general Naaman of leprosy by having him bathe in the Jordan River (2 Kin. 5:1–14).
7. The prophet causes an ax head to float in the Jordan River (2 Kin. 6:1–7).
8. Surrounded by Syrian troops, Elisha prays that his servant might see the armies of the Lord and that the Syrians would be struck blind (2 Kin. 6:13–18); leads the blinded Syrians inside Samaria, where their blindness is removed (6:19–23).
9. Under siege and severe famine in Samaria, Elisha predicts correctly that God will remove the attacking Syrians and provide food for all in the city (2 Kin. 6:24–7:20).

Jehu
2 Kin. 9:2

Name means: "The Lord Is He."

Not to be confused with: One of David's men at Ziklag (1 Chr. 12:3) or Jehu the son of Hanani, a prophet in the time of Baasha (1 Kin. 16:1–7) and Jehoshaphat (2 Chr. 19:2; 20:34).

Home: Samaria.

Family: Son of Jehoshaphat (not the king); grandson of Nimshi; father of Jehoahaz, who succeeded him.

Occupation: Commander of Israel's army until Elisha appointed him king of Israel (841–814 B.C.).

Of special interest: As Jezebel faced her death at Jehu's hands, she called the new king Zimri (2 Kin. 9:31), an epithet recalling a servant who destroyed King Baasha's household in an attempt to seize the throne (1 Kin. 16:8–20).

Best known as: The rebel king who completely destroyed the house of Ahab, including King Jehoram and the queen mother Jezebel (2 Kin. 9:24–10:11). This fulfilled prophecies spoken by Elijah (1 Kin. 19:16; 21:17–24, 29; 2 Kin. 10:10) and reiterated by Elisha (9:7–10). Jehu purged Israel of Baal worship (10:18–28) yet committed idolatry himself (10:29, 31).

Think About It: Even when we're doing rightly, the devil will tempt us toward wrongdoing. How can you resist, rather than commit adultery or another sin, as Jehu did?

Jehu and Jehonadab

2 Kin. 10:15–17

God raised up Jehu (see his profile at 2 Kin. 9:2) to completely destroy the descendants of evil King Ahab (1 Kin. 21:21, 22). Jehu carried out this task with gruesome thoroughness (2 Kin. 10:7, 8, 11, 14, 25–28) and with the help of a man named Jehonadab (10:15–17). After his brief appearance in 2 Kings 10, Jehonadab disappears from the biblical account. But his descendants were later upheld as an example of lasting obedience because they continued to follow Jehonadab's rules for his family. Read Jeremiah 35:12–14.

Jehosheba
2 Kin. 11:2

Name means: "The Lord Is Her Oath."

Also known as: Jehoshabeath (2 Chr. 22:11).

Home: Jerusalem.

Family: Daughter of Jehoram, king of Judah (848–841 B.C.); half sister of Ahaziah (or Jehoahaz), king of Judah (841 B.C.); wife of Jehoiada the high priest; aunt of Joash, king of Judah (835–796 B.C.).

Occupation: Member of the royal family.

Best known for: Courageously rescuing Joash from Athaliah's murderous coup and raising him in hiding until he was old enough to be crowned king (2 Kin. 11:1–3; 12:1).

Think About It: Courageously rescuing someone happened during the holocaust. How have you rescued (or could you rescue) someone physically or intellectually or spiritually?

Accountability
2 Kin. 12:6–8

Jehoash's interactions with the priests regarding temple repairs offer insights into exercising accountability as a manager of others:

- Jehoash delegated specific responsibilities to the priests with clear instructions for collecting and using money (2 Kin. 12:4, 5).
- He personally confronted the priests, including their leader Jehoiada, for their non-performance (12:7).
- He suggested remedial action (12:7, 8) and ensured that an alternative solution would be carried out (12:9–12).

Accountability involves more than telling someone what to do and then casually checking back later. It means a leader commits to overseeing workers' performances and making certain that the project is completed well.

Trusted Workers

2 Kin. 12:15

The people handling the money for temple repairs were found to be so faithful that no accounting was required of them. This contrasted with the priests, who collected money for years without proceeding with the repairs (2 Kin. 12:6). Years later, when more repairs were needed, the faithfulness of workers who follow through was relied upon again (22:7).

Inconsistent Obedience

2 Kin. 14:7–10

Amaziah earned praise for following the Law's prohibition against executing children for their fathers' sins (2 Kin. 14:6).

But his obedience was inconsistent. He rightly spared the lives of murderers' children, but he then killed ten thousand Edomites and captured one of their cities. This violated the law against abhorring an Edomite (Deut. 23:7). And by continuing the long-standing feud between the Israelites and the Edomites, he punished yet another generation of children for the sins of their long-deceased forefathers Jacob and Esau.

That Israelite-Edomite feud began with Jacob, the father of Israel, and Esau, the father of the Edomites. Through the centuries, Israelites and Edomites habitually attacked and harassed each other, often with little provocation. Amaziah's attack on Edom grimly resembled another campaign waged under David's administration. David "made a name for himself" by killing eighteen thousand Edomites (see "Brutality Repeats Itself" at 2 Sam. 8:13, 14; see also 1 Kin. 11:15–17). Amaziah, swollen with the same conqueror's pride, threw down a foolish challenge to King Jehoash of Israel, which ended in Amaziah's capture and the sacking of Jerusalem.

Jonah the Prophet
2 Kin. 14:25

Many Bible readers know the prophet Jonah through the book that bears his name. The account of his flight from God and his stay in the belly of a great fish is one of the most well-known stories in Western civilization. This story is connected to Jonah's calling (and initial refusal) to prophesy to the people of Nineveh, the capital city of the Assyrian empire. But Jonah's primary calling was as a prophet to the northern kingdom of Israel. To learn more about this fascinating man, see his profile at Jonah 1:1.

The Leprous King
2 Kin. 15:1–5

Azariah, also known as Uzziah, committed a sin similar to Saul's unlawful sacrifice (1 Sam. 13:8–14). He offered incense in the temple, a task that belonged only to priests (2 Chr. 26:16–23). The Lord punished his infringement of this sacred responsibility with a case of incurable leprosy.

Palace Intrigue
2 Kin. 15:30

Access to power—at work, at home, in a community—almost invariably breeds plots to gain more control. Like other power centers in the ancient Middle East, the royal court of the northern kingdom of Israel was repeatedly thrown into chaos by conspiracies against the king and his representatives. Pekah's overthrow was one in a long line of attempted and successful coups during the age of the divided kingdom.

Ruler	Event
Rehoboam (1 Kin. 12:12–20)	The successor to Solomon imposed taxes even higher than his father's oppressive levies. Ten tribes rejected his leadership and stoned his chief tax collector.
Ben-Hadad (2 Kin. 8:7–15)	This Syrian king lay gravely ill when he sent his representative Hazael to ask the prophet Elisha about his recovery. Hazael arrived with an encouraging message, then murdered his master and seized the throne.

Jehu (2 Kin. 9:1–29)	After Elisha informed him that he would become Israel's next king, Jehu overthrew King Joram by murdering him at a supposed peace conference.
Jehu (2 Kin. 9:30–37)	After assuming the throne, Jehu ordered Queen Jezebel thrown from a window to her death; dogs consumed her body, just as Elijah had predicted.
Jehu (2 Kin. 10:18–28)	Jehu purged the nation of pagan worship by convening Baal's prophets from across Israel. After feigning loyalty to Baal, he called for his soldiers to execute them.
Athaliah (2 Kin. 11:1–3, 20, 21)	After her son the king died, this queen mother succeeded in killing all of the royal heirs except her grandson Joash. He later rose to power and put her to death.
Pekah (2 Kin. 15:25–30)	Pekah came to power by assassinating his predecessor. During Pekah's rule, Assyria plundered more than half of his land and carried its inhabitants into captivity. Conspirators assassinated Pekah.

Think About It: What makes power so appealing that people would do any of the above? What is a better way and why do you suppose people haven't figured it out yet?

The Origin of the Samaritans

2 Kin. 17:24

Ancient superpowers such as Assyria attempted to control conquered territories by replacing their citizens with settlers from other lands, aiming at breaking down conquered societies and preventing survivors from mobilizing a rebellion. Whatever political gains this strategy may have produced, the resettlement of Israel illustrates the long-term ethnic conflict it created.

Samaria: An Assyrian Colony

After Samaria fell to the Assyrians in 722 B.C., some twenty thousand survivors, mostly upper-class, were deported to Assyria (2 Kin. 17:6). Captives from ten countries including Babylon, Elam, and Syria arrived to repopulate the region and ensure loyalty to the Assyrian king Sargon II. These foreigners imported their pagan idols, which they integrated into the worship of the Hebrews' God. They also intermarried with Hebrews (17:29–41; Ezra 9:1–10:44; Neh. 13:23–28).

The Roots of a Growing Bitterness

The southern kingdom of Judah fell to the Babylonians in 587 B.C., and its people were also carried off into captivity. But in 536 B.C., a remnant of God's people was permitted to return and rebuild Jerusalem. The people who now inhabited the former northern kingdom—the Samaritans—vigorously opposed the repatriation and tried to undermine any attempt to reestablish the nation of Judah (Ezra 4; Neh. 2:10, 19; 4:1–9; 6:1–14). The monotheistic Jews in the south detested their northern cousins' idolatrous worship and intermarriage with foreigners. The bitterness between the sides hardened during the next few centuries.

The Battle Between Two Temples

Worship became a flashpoint for conflict. The Samaritans refused to worship at the temple rebuilt by the Jews in Jerusalem. Around 400 B.C. they built their own temple on Mount Gerizim (see "Jews and Samaritans" at John 4:9).

The temple at Mount Gerizim became a significant political symbol. Those who worshiped there were condemned by the Jerusalem authorities. In 167–166 B.C. the Samaritans bowed to political pressure from the Seleucid king Antiochus IV Epiphanes and dedicated their temple to the Greek god Zeus. After a brief period of peace, the Gerizim temple was burned by forces of the Jewish king John Hyrcanus in 128 B.C. as relations between the Jews and Samaritans turned violent.

The Friends of Herod

The Samaritans quickly sided with the Roman general Pompey against Judea when he invaded the region in 63 B.C. They also supported Herod, the king installed by Rome to govern the area. Samaria became a base for Herod. He chose Samaria as a safe place to make a home for his mother and children. He also extensively restored the city, renaming it Sebaste (the Greek equivalent of the Latin name Augustus) in honor of Augustus Caesar. He built a new city wall, a large temple, and a stadium.

Herod's favoritism toward the Samaritans only intensified Jewish hostility. Jews in the days of Jesus who were traveling between Judea in the south and Galilee in the north commonly avoided the direct route through Samaria. They instead traversed the Jordan River and traveled along the east bank before crossing back over to reach their destination.

More: The animosity between Samaritans and Jews could not keep the gospel out of Samaria. See "Why the Reluctance" at Acts 8:4–25.

Dangerous Relics

2 Kin. 18:4

Concrete objects like artwork, instruments, or the furnishings of temples and churches can make an invisible and abstract God seem more present and real. However, reverencing any object, whether for the right reasons or not, can tempt us to place too much importance on it, even worshiping the thing rather than the deity that the thing represents. A relic can become a focus of idolatry.

Several items venerated by the Israelites became objects of worship, including the bronze snake that Moses had made during the Exodus journey (2 Kin. 18:4; see also "Symbol of Healing" at Num. 21:8, 9). The serpent on the pole had been used to heal snake-bitten people and teach them to look to God for help. But the people who settled in the Promised Land turned this object into an idol, as if the bronze snake itself had power to heal. They burned incense to it and even gave it a name, Nehushtan ("Bronze Thing").

The Israelites also made an idol of a ceremonial robe, or ephod, created by Gideon from the spoils of his victory over the Midianites (Judg. 8:25–27). They tried to use the ark of covenant as a charm against the Philistines while in battle (see "The Capture and Return of the Ark" at 1 Sam. 5:11). And in Jeremiah's day, the citizens of Jerusalem cared more about their temple than they did about the Lord of their temple.

All of these examples show the dangers of making too much of objects, even when they have a close association with God's work. As Christians we can easily fall into the same misguided attachments as the Israelites and make idols of the things, people, places, and experiences that make us feel closer to God. When we find ourselves placing more emphasis on things rather than what the things represent, it is best to discard them immediately. God wants to dwell within us, not within the relics of our faith.

More: The prohibition against graven images such as Nehushtan does not mean that God is fundamentally opposed to art. Art in the Bible often enhanced worship. See "God and Art" at Ex. 20:4–6.

Who Do We Trust?

2 Kin. 18:19

The encounter between the emissaries of Assyria and Judah was an intense confrontation with the fate of nations at risk (2 Kin. 18:17, 18). It was a dramatic struggle between the seen and the unseen, between confidence in military might and faith in God.

The Assyrian chief of staff asked Jewish leaders to relay an important question to King Hezekiah: "What confidence is this in which you trust?" (18:19). This was a crucial question. Hezekiah's reign had been marked by spiritual inconsistency. Periods of trust in God alternated with periods of compromise and collusion with His enemies.

The same inconsistencies had plagued the northern kingdom of Israel, which had relied on Egypt rather than the Lord for protection from the Assyrians (17:1–4). The result was the capture of Israel's capital and the deportation of its citizens into captivity (17:5–6).

"In whom do you trust?" is a question still worth pondering. Many temptations vie for our allegiance in this life, including money, romance, social or professional status, political influence, physical appearance, ability, and technological entertainment. Each of these things has its place. But only the Lord deserves our trust. Only He belongs as the director our lives. As Israel discovered, giving up on God's provision and power puts us on a dangerous path.

Not My Problem
2 Kin. 20:19

Hezekiah managed to find good in Isaiah's distressing warning by reminding himself that God's judgment would not come until after he was gone. This perspective sounds like people today who live without regard for the future, leaving their children and grandchildren to deal with the aftermath of their actions. This selfish outlook is the subject of "Clean Up Your Own Mess" at Isaiah 39:8.

Prophetesses
2 Kin. 22:14

Huldah the prophetess had comforting words for King Josiah but a message of judgment for the nation (2 Kin. 22:15–20). Like most other prophets, she was a spokesperson divinely commissioned to deliver God's words. Scripture also tells of other stories about women who spoke for God, as the following table shows.

Miriam (Ex. 15:20)	Helped her brothers Moses and Aaron lead the Hebrews out of slavery in Egypt. She prophesied after the parting of the Red Sea.
Deborah (Judg. 4:4)	A judge known as "a mother in Israel" (Judg. 5:7).
Huldah (2 Kin. 22)	Was consulted when a scroll was discovered in the temple and leaders needed God's guidance.
Noadiah (Neh. 6:14)	Conspired with Tobiah, Sanballat, and others to frighten Nehemiah into abandoning plans to rebuild Jerusalem's wall.
Isaiah's wife (Is. 8:3, 4)	Bore a son who would experience the pain of Assyria's domination of the Israelites.
Anna (Luke 2:36–38)	Praised the Lord for Jesus' birth at His dedication in the temple.
Four daughters of Philip (Acts 21:9)	Served the early church at Caesarea.

Child Sacrifice

2 Kin. 23:10

Topheth ("Fireplace") was a pagan altar to Baal where parents offered their children as sacrifices. This grotesque ritual was likely practiced before the reigns of Ahaz and Manasseh, but these kings popularized this monstrous evil as part of their commitment to idolatry. Josiah halted this evil by destroying the altar, which was located just outside Jerusalem. To find out more about this site, see "The Valley of Hinnom" at Joshua 18:16.

Think About It: What similar present horrors might a parent commit against his or her child? What holy-sounding excuse might that parent offer?

Five Ways to Capture a Walled City

2 Kin. 25:1–4

An ancient city's primary defense was its wall. The better the wall, the more secure the city. Once an enemy penetrated this outer ring of defense, however, the city was almost certain to fall.

Urban defense thus focused primarily on building, maintaining, and protecting the city's wall, an effort that began with choosing a settlement site. The most easily defended cities were built on hills or the mounds of previous cities, where defenders could engage their attackers from higher ground. Well-defended cities were also often built on terrain that hindered invaders' mobility.

The wall itself was crucial. Some ancient cities were deemed impregnable because of their imposing walls. Jericho was defended by a double wall virtually impossible to climb (see "The Wall of Jericho" at Josh. 6:20). Nineveh had a double wall one hundred feet high and fifty feet wide. If not for cataclysmic floods that caused the wall's foundations to give way, the city likely would have remained impenetrable. Likewise, Babylon's massive walls protected it from invaders until the Medes and Persians diverted the Euphrates and penetrated the city by marching up the dry riverbed.

If a city was built on elevated, difficult terrain, maintained an adequate water supply, and was protected by massive walls, attacking armies were usually forced to use two or more of five strategies to conquer it.

Scaling the Walls

If attackers greatly outnumbered defenders, an army could strike a weakly defended point and send men over the wall into the city. Once inside, invaders might overcome defenders or even open the city gates. However, this approach was often costly. As attackers placed ladders against the walls and fought their way over the top, defenders rained down arrows, stones, and fire. Therefore, any attempt to scale the walls was usually accompanied first by an intense offensive volley that weakened the city's defenses and allowed men with ladders to charge the wall as quickly as possible.

Breaking Through the Walls

Another means of breaching a city's walls was the use of brute force to break through them or pull them down. Ancient artwork shows men driving long metal pikes between the stones of city walls. These pikes were levered back and forth in order to loosen and dislodge stones from a wall.

The Assyrians went further, perfecting the battering ram. They fitted rams with wheels so the contraption could be rolled into place and rocked against a wall to dislodge stones. A further improvement was the use of dirt and stone ramps, sometimes covered with wood planks. The ramp provided a smooth, gradual incline to help move the battering ram more forcefully against the wall.

Tunneling Under the Walls

An attacking army willing to invest enormous time and energy could sometimes penetrate a city through a tunnel. But this approach placed relatively few warriors inside a city, and a small group could be easily defeated. A tunnel could be an ideal way to get at the foundations of a wall, however, and inflict irreparable damage.

Siege

A siege was a slow but effective way to force surrender. An invading army completely surrounded the city, cutting off outside help. The goal was to starve the city of vital resources until its inhabitants simply gave up.

Psychological Tactics

Invading armies used every method of negotiation or deception to convince adversaries to open the city gates. Rabshakeh tried this strategy against Jerusalem during Hezekiah's reign (2 Kin. 18:17–37). During an earlier Syrian siege of Samaria, citizens suspected a ruse when four lepers outside the city walls reported that the Syrians had fled (7:10–12). The Assyrians used sheer intimidation as their psychological strategy, treating captives with extreme cruelty to dissuade other cities from resisting.

Think About It: What do physical walls teach us about emotional and spiritual walls God wants us to erect? Why do we hesitate to erect these walls? Why are they freeing? How do we protect against scaling, breaking through, tunneling, siege and psychological tactics?

The books of 1 and 2 Chronicles retell the history of Israel for the captives returning from the Babylonian exile. Many of these displaced Jews had been born far from their homeland and now sought to reclaim their identity. These books trace their origins, name their ancestors, and recount significant events that shaped their culture.

The books of 1 and 2 Chronicles were originally a single book identified as "The Words of the Days." The name Chronicles was not given to these writings until they were translated into Latin between A.D. 385 and 405. Their emphasis on Israel's spiritual history—as opposed to the more political outlook of 2 Samuel and 1 and 2 Kings—suggests that these writings were intended to help returnees rebuild a community concerned first and foremost with following God's commands. After all, it was the people's stubborn disobedience that had caused the Exile to occur.

The first nine chapters of 1 Chronicles outline God's work through a detailed genealogy of the people's ancestors. The remainder of the book summarizes the life of David as the nation's greatest king and spiritual leader. The account does not repeat many of the stories of David's struggles but instead celebrates the best accomplishments of the man after God's heart (Acts 13:22). David sought to honor the Lord by building a magnificent temple (1 Chr. 17:1).

Although the record of Israel's history in 1 and 2 Chronicles covers much of the same ground as 2 Samuel and 1 and 2 Kings, the accounts are not reproduced word-for-word (see "More than a Repeat of Kings" at 1 Chr. 1:1). Like Samuel and Kings, Chronicles was probably compiled from several sources. Some are named within the book, including tribal genealogies (7:9, 40), the book of the kings of Israel (9:1), and the books of Samuel, Nathan, and Gad (29:29). But the identity of the author remains unknown. Ancient tradition held that it was Ezra the scribe, whose intense interest in the temple is consistent with the emphasis on worship found in Chronicles.

The historical narrative of 1 Chronicles begins with the death of Saul (c. 1007 B.C.; 1 Chr. 10) and ends with the close of David's reign (c. 971 B.C.; 1 Chr. 29). The geography of Chronicles is the same as that of Samuel and Kings—the territory of Israel, with references to other nations and regions of the Middle East—with the difference that Judah is the focal point for most of the action (see the map at "The Captives of the Israelites" at 2 Chr. 36:20).

1The sons of Judah were Perez, Hezron, Carmi, Hur, and Shobal.

2And Reaiah the son of Shobal begot Jahath, and Jahath begot Ahumai and Lahad. These were the families of the Zorathites.

3These were the sons of the father of Etam: Jezreel, Ishma, and Idbash; and the name of their sister was Hazelelponi;

4and Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer was the father of Hushah. These were the sons of Hur, the firstborn of Ephrathah the father of Bethlehem.

5And Ashhur the father of Tekoa had two wives, Helah and Naarah.

6Naarah bore him Ahuzzam, Hepher, Temeni, and Haahashtari. These were the sons of Naarah.

7The sons of Helah were Zereth, Zohar, and Ethnan;

8and Koz begot Anub, Zobebah, and the families of Aharhel the son of Harum.

9Now Jabez was more honorable than his brothers, and his mother called his name Jabez,[a] saying, “Because I bore him in pain.” Turning Pain into Prayer

10And Jabez called on the God of Israel saying, “Oh, that You would bless me indeed, and enlarge my territory, that Your hand would be with me, and that You would keep me from evil, that I may not cause pain!” So God granted him what he requested.

11Chelub the brother of Shuhah begot Mehir, who was the father of Eshton.

12 And Eshton begot Beth-Rapha, Paseah, and Tehinnah the father of Ir-Nahash. These were the men of Rechah.
13 The sons of Kenaz were Othniel and Seraiah. The sons of Othniel were Hathath,[b]
14 and Meonothai who begot Ophrah. Seraiah begot Joab the father of Ge Harashim,[c] for they were craftsmen.
15 The sons of Caleb the son of Jephunneh were Iru, Elah, and Naam. The son of Elah was Kenaz. Courageous Caleb 16 The sons of Jehallelel were Ziph, Ziphah, Tiria, and Asarel.
17 The sons of Ezrah were Jether, Mered, Epher, and Jalon. And Mered's wife[d] bore Miriam, Shammai, and Ishbah the father of Eshtemoa.
18 (His wife Jehudijah[e] bore Jered the father of Gedor, Heber the father of Sochoh, and Jekuthiel the father of Zanoah.) And these were the sons of Bithiah the daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered took.
19 The sons of Hodiah's wife, the sister of Naham, were the fathers of Keilah the Garmite and of Eshtemoa the Maachathite.
20 And the sons of Shimon were Amnon, Rinnah, Ben-Hanan, and Tilon. And the sons of Ishi were Zoheth and Ben-Zoheth.
21 The sons of Shelah the son of Judah were Er the father of Lecah, Laadah the father of Mareshah, and the families of the house of the linen workers of the house of Ashbea;
22 also Jokim, the men of Chozeba, and Joash; Saraph, who ruled in Moab, and Jashubi-Lehem. Now the records are ancient.
23 These were the potters and those who dwell at Netaim[f]
and Gederah;[g] there they dwelt with the king for his work.

The Family of Simeon

24The sons of Simeon were Nemuel, Jamin, Jarib,[h] Zerah,[i] and Shaul, 25Shallum his son, Mibsam his son, and Mishma his son.
26And the sons of Mishma were Hamuel his son, Zacchur his son, and Shimei his son.
27Shimei had sixteen sons and six daughters; but his brothers did not have many children, nor did any of their families multiply as much as the children of Judah.
28They dwelt at Beersheba, Moladah, Hazar Shual, 29Bilhah, Ezem, Tolad,
30Bethuel, Hormah, Ziklag,
31Beth Marcaboth, Hazar Susim, Beth Biri, and at Shaaraim. These were their cities until the reign of David.
32And their villages were Etam, Ain, Rimmon, Tochen, and Ashan—five cities—
33and all the villages that were around these cities as far as Baal.[j] These were their dwelling places, and they maintained their genealogy:
34Meshobab, Jamlech, and Joshah the son of Amaziah; 35Joel, and Jehu the son of Joshibiah, the son of Seraiah, the son of Asiel; 36Elioenai, Jaakobah, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, and Benaiah;
37Ziza the son of Shiphi, the son of Allon, the son of Jedaiah, the son of Shimri, the son of Shemaiah—38these mentioned by name were leaders in their families, and their father's house increased greatly.
39So they went to the entrance of Gedor, as far as the east side of the valley, to seek pasture for their flocks.
40And they found rich, good pasture, and the land was broad, quiet, and peaceful; for some Hamites formerly lived there.

41These recorded by name came in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and they attacked their tents and the Meunites who were found there, and utterly destroyed them, as it is to this day. So they dwelt in their place, because there was pasture for their flocks there.

42Now some of them, five hundred men of the sons of Simeon, went to Mount Seir, having as their captains Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, the sons of Ishi.

43And they defeated the rest of the Amalekites who had escaped. They have dwelt there to this day.

1 Chronicles 5

The Family of Reuben

1 Now the sons of Reuben the firstborn of Israel—he was indeed the firstborn, but because he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph, the son of Israel, so that the genealogy is not listed according to the birthright;

2 yet Judah prevailed over his brothers, and from him came a ruler, although the birthright was Joseph's—

3 the sons of Reuben the firstborn of Israel were Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

4 The sons of Joel were Shemaiah his son, Gog his son, Shimei his son,

5 Micah his son, Reaiah his son, Baal his son,

6 and Beerah his son, whom Tiglath-Pileser[a] king of Assyria carried into captivity. He was leader of the Reubenites.

7 And his brethren by their families, when the genealogy of their generations was registered: the chief, Jeiel, and Zechariah,

8 and Bela the son of Azaz, the son of Shema, the son of Joel, who dwelt in Aroer, as far as Nebo and Baal Meon.

9 Eastward they settled as far as the entrance of the wilderness this side of the River Euphrates, because their cattle had multiplied in the land of Gilead.

10 Now in the days of Saul they made war with the Hagrites, who fell by their hand; and they dwelt in their tents throughout the entire area east of Gilead.

The Family of Gad

11And the children of Gad dwelt next to them in the land of Bashan as far as Salcah:
12Joel was the chief, Shapham the next, then Jaanai and Shaphat in Bashan, 13and their brethren of their father's house: Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jachan, Zia, and Eber—seven in all.
14These were the children of Abihail the son of Huri, the son of Jaroah, the son of Gilead, the son of Michael, the son of Jeshishai, the son of Jahdo, the son of Buz; 15Ahi the son of Abdiel, the son of Guni, was chief of their father's house.
16And the Gadites dwelt in Gilead, in Bashan and in its villages, and in all the common-lands of Sharon within their borders.
17All these were registered by genealogies in the days of Jotham king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam king of Israel.
18The sons of Reuben, the Gadites, and half the tribe of Manasseh had forty-four thousand seven hundred and sixty valiant men, men able to bear shield and sword, to shoot with the bow, and skillful in war, who went to war.
19They made war with the Hagrites, Jetur, Naphish, and Nodab.
20And they were helped against them, and the Hagrites were delivered into their hand, and all who were with them, for they cried out to God in the battle. He heeded their prayer, because they put their trust in Him.
21Then they took away their livestock—fifty thousand of their camels, two hundred and fifty thousand of their sheep, and two thousand of their donkeys—also one hundred thousand of their men; 22for many fell dead, because the war was God's. And they dwelt in their place until the captivity.

The Family of Manasseh (East)

23So the children of the half-tribe of Manasseh dwelt in the land. Their numbers increased from Bashan to Baal Hermon, that is, to Senir, or Mount Hermon.

24These were the heads of their fathers' houses: Epher, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel. They were mighty men of valor, famous men, and heads of their fathers' houses.

25And they were unfaithful to the God of their fathers, and played the harlot after the gods of the peoples of the land, whom God had destroyed before them.

26So the God of Israel stirred up the spirit of Pul king of Assyria, that is, Tiglath-Pileser[b] king of Assyria. He carried the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh into captivity. He took them to Halah, Habor, Hara, and the river of Gozan to this day.

1 Chronicles 6

The Family of Levi

1 The sons of Levi were Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.
2 The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.
3 The children of Amram were Aaron, Moses, and Miriam.
And the sons of Aaron were Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and 4 Eleazar begot Phinehas, and Phinehas begot Abishua;

5 Abishua begot Bukki, and Bukki begot Uzzi;
6 Uzzi begot Zerahiah, and Zerahiah begot Meraioth;
7 Meraioth begot Amariah, and Amariah begot Ahitub;
8 Ahitub begot Zadok, and Zadok begot Ahimaaz;
9 Ahimaaz begot Azariah, and Azariah begot Johanan; 10 Johanan begot Azariah (it was he who ministered as priest in the temple that Solomon built in Jerusalem);
11 Azariah begot Amariah, and Amariah begot Ahitub;
12 Ahitub begot Zadok, and Zadok begot Shallum;
13 Shallum begot Hilkiah, and Hilkiah begot Azariah;
14 Azariah begot Seraiah, and Seraiah begot Jehozadak.
15 Jehozadak went into captivity when the LORD carried Judah and Jerusalem into captivity by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar.
16 The sons of Levi were Gershon,[a] Kohath, and Merari.
17 These are the names of the sons of Gershon: Libni and Shimei.
18 The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.
19 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. Now these are the families of the Levites according to their fathers:

20 Of Gershon were Libni his son, Jahath his son, Zimmah his son, 27 Eliab[e] his son, Jeroham his son, and Elkanah his son.

28 The sons of Samuel were Joel[f] the firstborn, and Abijah the second.[g]
29 The sons of Merari were Mahli, Libni his son, Shimei his son, Uzzah his son, 30 Shimea his son, Haggiah his son, and Asaiah his son.

Musicians in the House of the LORD

31 Now these are the men whom David appointed over the service of song in the house of the LORD, after the ark came to rest.
32 They were ministering with music before the dwelling place of the tabernacle of meeting, until Solomon had built the house of the LORD in Jerusalem, and they served in their office according to their order.
33 And these are the ones who ministered with their sons: Of the sons of the Kohathites were Heman the singer, the son of Joel, the son of Samuel,
34 the son of Elkanah, the son of Jeroham, the son of Eliel,[h] the son of Toah,[i]

35the son of Zuph, the son of Elkanah, the son of Mahath, the son of Amasai, 36the son of Elkanah, the son of Joel, the son of Azariah, the son of Zephaniah, 37the son of Tahath, the son of Assir, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, 38the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, the son of Israel.
39And his brother Asaph, who stood at his right hand, was Asaph the son of Berachiah, the son of Shimea, 40the son of Michael, the son of Baaseiah, the son of Malchijah, 41the son of Ethni, the son of Zerah, the son of Adaiah, 42the son of Ethan, the son of Zimmah, the son of Shimei, 43the son of Jahath, the son of Gershon, the son of Levi.
44Their brethren, the sons of Merari, on the left hand, were Ethan the son of Kishi, the son of Abdi, the son of Malluch,
45the son of Hashabiah, the son of Amaziah, the son of Hilkiah, 46the son of Amzi, the son of Bani, the son of Shamer, 47the son of Mahli, the son of Mushi, the son of Merari, the son of Levi.
48And their brethren, the Levites, were appointed to every kind of service of the tabernacle of the house of God.

The Family of Aaron

49But Aaron and his sons offered sacrifices on the altar of burnt offering and on the altar of incense, for all the work of the Most Holy Place, and to make atonement for Israel, according to all that Moses the servant of God had commanded.

50 Now these are the sons of Aaron: Eleazar his son, Phinehas his son, Abishua his son, 51 Bukki his son, Uzzi his son, Zerahiah his son,
52 Meraioth his son, Amariah his son, Ahitub his son,
53 Zadok his son, and Ahimaaz his son.

Dwelling Places of the Levites

54 Now these are their dwelling places throughout their settlements in their territory, for they were given by lot to the sons of Aaron, of the family of the Kohathites:
55 They gave them Hebron in the land of Judah, with its surrounding common-lands.
56 But the fields of the city and its villages they gave to Caleb the son of Jephunneh.
57 And to the sons of Aaron they gave one of the cities of refuge, Hebron; also Libnah with its common-lands, Jattir, Eshtemoa with its common-lands,
58 Hilen[j] with its common-lands, Debir with its common-lands,
59 Ashan[k] with its common-lands, and Beth Shemesh with its common-lands.
60 And from the tribe of Benjamin: Geba with its common-lands, Alemeth[l] with its common-lands, and Anathoth with its common-lands. All their cities among their families were thirteen.
61 To the rest of the family of the tribe of the Kohathites they gave by lot ten cities from half the tribe of Manasseh.
62 And to the sons of Gershon, throughout their families, they gave thirteen cities from the tribe of Issachar, from the tribe of Asher, from the tribe of Naphtali, and from the tribe of Manasseh in Bashan.
63 To the sons of Merari, throughout their families, they gave twelve cities from the tribe of Reuben, from the tribe of Gad, and from the tribe of Zebulun.

64So the children of Israel gave these cities with their common-lands to the Levites.

Jericho, on the east side of the Jordan, they were given from the tribe of Reuben: Bezer in the wilderness with its common-lands, Jahzah with its common-lands, 79 Kedemoth with its common-lands, and Mephaath with its common-lands.

6Of the sons of Zerah: Jeuel, and their brethren—six hundred and ninety.

7Of the sons of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Hodaviah, the son of Hassenuah;

8Ibneiah the son of Jeroham; Elah the son of Uzzi, the son of Michri; Meshullam the son of Shephatiah, the son of Reuel, the son of Ibnijah;

9and their brethren, according to their generations—nine hundred and fifty-six. All these men were heads of a father's house in their fathers' houses.

The Priests at Jerusalem

10Of the priests: Jedaiah, Jehoiarib, and Jachin;

11 Azariah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the officer over the house of God;
12 Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchijah; Maasai the son of Adiel, the son of Jahzerah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Meshillemith, the son of Immer;
13 and their brethren, heads of their fathers' houses—one thousand seven hundred and sixty. They were very able men for the work of the service of the house of God.

The Levites at Jerusalem

14 Of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, of the sons of Merari; 15 Bakbakkar, Heresh, Galal, and Mattaniah the son of Micah, the son of Zichri, the son of Asaph;
16 Obadiah the son of Shemaiah, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun; and Berechiah the son of Asa, the son of Elkanah, who lived in the villages of the Netophathites.

The Levite Gatekeepers

17 And the gatekeepers were Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman, and their brethren. Shallum was the chief.
18 Until then they had been gatekeepers for the camps of the children of Levi at the King's Gate on the east.
19 Shallum the son of Kore, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, and his brethren, from his father's house, the Korahites, were in charge of the work of the service, gatekeepers of the tabernacle. Their fathers had been keepers of the entrance to the camp of the LORD.
20 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar had been the officer over them in time past; the LORD was with him.
21 Zechariah the son of Meshelemiah was keeper of the door of the tabernacle of meeting.

22 All those chosen as gatekeepers were two hundred and twelve. They were recorded by their genealogy, in their villages. David and Samuel the seer had appointed them to their trusted office.
23 So they and their children were in charge of the gates of the house of the LORD, the house of the tabernacle, by assignment.
24 The gatekeepers were assigned to the four directions:
the east, west, north, and south.
25 And their brethren in their villages had to come with them from time to time for seven days.
26 For in this trusted office were four chief gatekeepers;
they were Levites. And they had charge over the chambers and treasuries of the house of God.
27 And they lodged all around the house of God because they had the responsibility, and they were in charge of opening it every morning.

Other Levite Responsibilities

28 Now some of them were in charge of the serving vessels, for they brought them in and took them out by count.
29 Some of them were appointed over the furnishings and over all the implements of the sanctuary, and over the fine flour and the wine and the oil and the incense and the spices.
30 And some of the sons of the priests made the ointment of the spices.
31 Mattithiah of the Levites, the firstborn of Shallum the Korahite, had the trusted office over the things that were baked in the pans.
32 And some of their brethren of the sons of the Kohathites were in charge of preparing the showbread for every Sabbath.

33These are the singers, heads of the fathers' houses of the Levites, who lodged in the chambers, and were free from other duties; for they were employed in that work day and night.

34These heads of the fathers' houses of the Levites were heads throughout their generations. They dwelt at Jerusalem.

The Family of King Saul

35Jeiel the father of Gibeon, whose wife's name was Maacah, dwelt at Gibeon.

36His firstborn son was Abdon, then Zur, Kish, Baal, Ner, Nadab, 37Gedor, Ahio, Zechariah,[a] and Mikloth.

38And Mikloth begot Shimeam.[b] They also dwelt alongside their relatives in Jerusalem, with their brethren.

39Ner begot Kish, Kish begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, Malchishua, Abinadab, and Esh-Baal.

40The son of Jonathan was Merib-Baal, and Merib-Baal begot Micah.

41The sons of Micah were Pithon, Melech, Tahrea,[c] and Ahaz.[d]

42And Ahaz begot Jarah;[e] Jarah begot Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri begot Moza; 43Moza begot Binea, Rephaiah[f] his son, Eleasah his son, and Azel his son.

44And Azel had six sons whose names were these: Azrikam, Bocheru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan; these were the sons of Azel.

1 Chronicles 10

Tragic End of Saul and His Sons

1 Now the Philistines fought against Israel; and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and fell slain on Mount Gilboa.
2 Then the Philistines followed hard after Saul and his sons. And the Philistines killed Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua, Saul's sons.
3 The battle became fierce against Saul. The archers hit him, and he was wounded by the archers.
4 Then Saul said to his armorbearer, "Draw your sword, and thrust me through with it, lest these uncircumcised men come and abuse me." But his armorbearer would not, for he was greatly afraid. Therefore Saul took a sword and fell on it.
5 And when his armorbearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died.
6 So Saul and his three sons died, and all his house died together.
7 And when all the men of Israel who were in the valley saw that they had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they forsook their cities and fled; then the Philistines came and dwelt in them.
8 So it happened the next day, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, that they found Saul and his sons fallen on Mount Gilboa.
9 And they stripped him and took his head and his armor, and sent word throughout the land of the Philistines to proclaim the news in the temple of their idols and among the people.

10 Then they put his armor in the temple of their gods, and fastened his head in the temple of Dagon.
11 And when all Jabesh Gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul, 12 all the valiant men arose and took the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons; and they brought them to Jabesh, and buried their bones under the tamarisk tree at Jabesh, and fasted seven days. The Value of Fasting 13 So Saul died for his unfaithfulness which he had committed against the LORD, because he did not keep the word of the LORD, and also because he consulted a medium for guidance.
14 But he did not inquire of the LORD; therefore He killed him, and turned the kingdom over to David the son of Jesse.

1 Chronicles 11

David Made King over All Israel

1 Then all Israel came together to David at Hebron, saying,
"Indeed we are your bone and your flesh.
2 "Also, in time past, even when Saul was king, you were the one who led Israel out and brought them in; and the LORD your God said to you, 'You shall shepherd My people Israel, and be ruler over My people Israel.' "
3 Therefore all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, and David made a covenant with them at Hebron before the LORD. And they anointed David king over Israel, according to the word of the LORD by Samuel.

The City of David

4 And David and all Israel went to Jerusalem, which is Jebus, where the Jebusites were, the inhabitants of the land. Jebus (Jerusalem)
5 But the inhabitants of Jebus said to David, "You shall not come in here!" Nevertheless David took the stronghold of Zion (that is, the City of David).
6 Now David said, "Whoever attacks the Jebusites first shall be chief and captain." And Joab the son of Zeruiah went up first, and became chief.
7 Then David dwelt in the stronghold; therefore they called it the City of David.
8 And he built the city around it, from the Millo[a] to the surrounding area. Joab repaired the rest of the city.
9 So David went on and became great, and the LORD of hosts was with him.

The Mighty Men of David

10Now these were the heads of the mighty men whom David had, who strengthened themselves with him in his kingdom, with all Israel, to make him king, according to the word of the LORD concerning Israel.

11And this is the number of the mighty men whom David had: Jashobeam the son of a Hachmonite, chief of the captains;[b] he had lifted up his spear against three hundred, killed by him at one time.

12After him was Eleazar the son of Dodo, the Ahohite, who was one of the three mighty men.

13He was with David at Pasdammim. Now there the Philistines were gathered for battle, and there was a piece of ground full of barley. So the people fled from the Philistines.

14But they stationed themselves in the middle of that field, defended it, and killed the Philistines. So the LORD brought about a great victory.

15Now three of the thirty chief men went down to the rock to David, into the cave of Adullam; and the army of the Philistines encamped in the Valley of Rephaim.

16David was then in the stronghold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethlehem.

17And David said with longing, “Oh, that someone would give me a drink of water from the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate!”

18So the three broke through the camp of the Philistines, drew water from the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate, and took it and brought it to David. Nevertheless David would not drink it, but poured it out to the LORD.

19And he said, “Far be it from me, O my God, that I should do this! Shall I drink the blood of these men who have put their lives in jeopardy? For at the risk of their lives they brought it.” Therefore he would not drink it. These things were done by the three mighty men.

20Abishai the brother of Joab was chief of another three.[c]
He had lifted up his spear against three hundred men, killed them, and won a name among these three.
21Of the three he was more honored than the other two men. Therefore he became their captain. However he did not attain to the first three.
22Benaiah was the son of Jehoiada, the son of a valiant man from Kabzeel, who had done many deeds. He had killed two lion-like heroes of Moab. He also had gone down and killed a lion in the midst of a pit on a snowy day.
23And he killed an Egyptian, a man of great height, five cubits tall. In the Egyptian's hand there was a spear like a weaver's beam; and he went down to him with a staff, wrested the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and killed him with his own spear.
24These things Benaiah the son of Jehoiada did, and won a name among three mighty men.
25Indeed he was more honored than the thirty, but he did not attain to the first three. And David appointed him over his guard.
26Also the mighty warriors were Asahel the brother of Joab, Elhanan the son of Dodo of Bethlehem,
27Shammoth the Harorite,[d] Helez the Pelonite,[e] 28Ira the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Anathothite,
29Sibbechai the Hushathite, Ilai the Ahohite, 30Maharai the Netophathite, Heled[f] the son of Baanah
the Netophathite,
31Ithai[g] the son of Ribai of Gibeah, of the sons of Benjamin, Benaiah the Pirathonite,
32Hurai[h] of the brooks of Gaash, Abiel[i] the Arbathite, 33Azmaveth the Baharumite,[j] Eliahba the Shaalbonite, 34the sons of Hashem the Gizonite, Jonathan the son of Shageh the Hararite,

35 Ahiam the son of Sacar the Hararite, Eliphal the son of Ur, 36 Hepher the Mecherathite, Ahijah the Pelonite,
37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naarai the son of Ezbai,
38 Joel the brother of Nathan, Mibhar the son of Hagri,
39 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Berothite[k] (the armorbearer of Joab the son of Zeruiah),
40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,
41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabad the son of Ahlai,
42 Adina the son of Shiza the Reubenite (a chief of the Reubenites) and thirty with him,
43 Hanan the son of Maachah, Joshaphat the Mithnite,
44 Uzzia the Ashterathite, Shama and Jeiel the sons of Hotham the Aroerite, 45 Jediael the son of Shimri, and Joha his brother, the Tizite, 46 Eliel the Mahavite, Jeribai and Joshaviah the sons of Elnaam, Ithmah the Moabite, 47 Eliel, Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobaite.

1 Chronicles 12

The Growth of David's Army

1 Now these were the men who came to David at Ziklag while he was still a fugitive from Saul the son of Kish; and they were among the mighty men, helpers in the war, 2 armed with bows, using both the right hand and the left in hurling stones and shooting arrows with the bow. They were of Benjamin, Saul's brethren.
3 The chief was Ahiezer, then Joash, the sons of Shemaah the Gibeathite; Jeziel and Pelet the sons of Azmaveth; Berachah, and Jehu the Anathothite;
4 Ishmaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty; Jeremiah, Jahaziel, Johanan, and Jozabad the Gederathite;
5 Eluzai, Jerimoth, Bealiah, Shemariah, and Shephatiah
the Haruphite;
6 Elkanah, Jisshiah, Azarel, Joezer, and Jashobeam, the Korahites;
7 and Joelah and Zebadiah the sons of Jeroham of Gedor.
8 Some Gadites joined David at the stronghold in the wilderness, mighty men of valor, men trained for battle, who could handle shield and spear, whose faces were like the faces of lions, and were as swift as gazelles on the mountains:
9 Ezer the first, Obadiah the second, Eliab the third,
10 Mishmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,
11 Attai the sixth, Eliel the seventh,
12 Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,
13 Jeremiah the tenth, and Machbanai the eleventh.
14 These were from the sons of Gad, captains of the army;
the least was over a hundred, and the greatest was over a thousand.

15 These are the ones who crossed the Jordan in the first month, when it had overflowed all its banks; and they put to flight all those in the valleys, to the east and to the west.

16 Then some of the sons of Benjamin and Judah came to David at the stronghold.

17 And David went out to meet them, and answered and said to them, "If you have come peaceably to me to help me, my heart will be united with you; but if to betray me to my enemies, since there is no wrong in my hands, may the God of our fathers look and bring judgment."

18 Then the Spirit came upon Amasai, chief of the captains, and he said:

"We are yours, O David;
We are on your side, O son of Jesse!
Peace, peace to you,
And peace to your helpers!
For your God helps you."

So David received them, and made them captains of the troop.

19 And some from Manasseh defected to David when he was going with the Philistines to battle against Saul; but they did not help them, for the lords of the Philistines sent him away by agreement, saying, "He may defect to his master Saul and endanger our heads."

20 When he went to Ziklag, those of Manasseh who defected to him were Adnah, Jozabad, Jediael, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai, captains of the thousands who were from Manasseh.

21 And they helped David against the bands of raiders, for they were all mighty men of valor, and they were captains in the army.

22For at that time they came to David day by day to help him, until it was a great army, like the army of God.

David's Army at Hebron

23Now these were the numbers of the divisions that were equipped for war, and came to David at Hebron to turn over the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the LORD:

24of the sons of Judah bearing shield and spear, six thousand eight hundred armed for war;

25of the sons of Simeon, mighty men of valor fit for war, seven thousand one hundred;

26of the sons of Levi four thousand six hundred;

27Jehoiada, the leader of the Aaronites, and with him three thousand seven hundred;

28Zadok, a young man, a valiant warrior, and from his father's house twenty-two captains;

29of the sons of Benjamin, relatives of Saul, three thousand (until then the greatest part of them had remained loyal to the house of Saul);

30of the sons of Ephraim twenty thousand eight hundred, mighty men of valor, famous men throughout their father's house;

31of the half-tribe of Manasseh eighteen thousand, who were designated by name to come and make David king;

32of the sons of Issachar who had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do, their chiefs were two hundred; and all their brethren were at their command; Understanding the Times

33of Zebulun there were fifty thousand who went out to battle, expert in war with all weapons of war, stouthearted men who could keep ranks;

[34]of Naphtali one thousand captains, and with them thirty-seven thousand with shield and spear;
[35]of the Danites who could keep battle formation, twenty-eight thousand six hundred;
[36]of Asher, those who could go out to war, able to keep battle formation, forty thousand;
[37]of the Reubenites and the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh, from the other side of the Jordan, one hundred and twenty thousand armed for battle with every kind of weapon of war.
38All these men of war, who could keep ranks, came to Hebron with a loyal heart, to make David king over all Israel; and all the rest of Israel were of one mind to make David king.
[39]And they were there with David three days, eating and drinking, for their brethren had prepared for them.
[40]Moreover those who were near to them, from as far away as Issachar and Zebulun and Naphtali, were bringing food on donkeys and camels, on mules and oxen—provisions of flour and cakes of figs and cakes of raisins, wine and oil and oxen and sheep abundantly, for there was joy in Israel.

1 Chronicles 13

The Ark Brought from Kirjath Jearim

1 Then David consulted with the captains of thousands and hundreds, and with every leader.
2 And David said to all the assembly of Israel, “If it seems good to you, and if it is of the LORD our God, let us send out to our brethren everywhere who are left in all the land of Israel, and with them to the priests and Levites who are in their cities and their common-lands, that they may gather together to us;
3 “and let us bring the ark of our God back to us, for we have not inquired at it since the days of Saul.” 4 Then all the assembly said that they would do so, for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.
5 So David gathered all Israel together, from Shihor in Egypt to as far as the entrance of Hamath, to bring the ark of God from Kirjath Jearim.
6 And David and all Israel went up to Baalah,[a] to Kirjath Jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up from there the ark of God the LORD, who dwells between the cherubim, where His name is proclaimed.
7 So they carried the ark of God on a new cart from the house of Abinadab, and Uzza and Ahio drove the cart.
8 Then David and all Israel played music before God with all their might, with singing, on harps, on stringed instruments, on tambourines, on cymbals, and with trumpets.
9 And when they came to Chidon’s[b] threshing floor, Uzza put out his hand to hold the ark, for the oxen stumbled.
10 Then the anger of the LORD was aroused against Uzza, and He struck him because he put his hand to the ark; and he died there before God.

11 And David became angry because of the LORD's outbreak against Uzza; therefore that place is called Perez Uzza[c] to this day.

12 David was afraid of God that day, saying, "How can I bring the ark of God to me?"

13 So David would not move the ark with him into the City of David, but took it aside into the house of Obed-Edom the Gittite.

14 The ark of God remained with the family of Obed-Edom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed the house of Obed-Edom and all that he had.

1 Chronicles 14

David Established at Jerusalem

1 Now Hiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, with masons and carpenters, to build him a house.
2 So David knew that the LORD had established him as king over Israel, for his kingdom was highly exalted for the sake of His people Israel.
3 Then David took more wives in Jerusalem, and David begot more sons and daughters. David: The Rest of the Story
4 And these are the names of his children whom he had in Jerusalem: Shammua,[a] Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,
5 Ibhar, Elishua,[b] Elpelet,[c]
6 Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia,
7 Elishama, Beeliada,[d] and Eliphelet.

The Philistines Defeated

8 Now when the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king over all Israel, all the Philistines went up to search for David. And David heard of it and went out against them.
9 Then the Philistines went and made a raid on the Valley of Rephaim.
10 And David inquired of God, saying, “Shall I go up against the Philistines? Will You deliver them into my hand?” The LORD said to him, “Go up, for I will deliver them into your hand.”
11 So they went up to Baal Perazim, and David defeated them there. Then David said, “God has broken through my enemies by my hand like a breakthrough of water.”
Therefore they called the name of that place Baal Perazim.[e]

12 And when they left their gods there, David gave a commandment, and they were burned with fire.
13 Then the Philistines once again made a raid on the valley.
14 Therefore David inquired again of God, and God said to him, “You shall not go up after them; circle around them, and come upon them in front of the mulberry trees.
15 “And it shall be, when you hear a sound of marching in the tops of the mulberry trees, then you shall go out to battle, for God has gone out before you to strike the camp of the Philistines.”
16 So David did as God commanded him, and they drove back the army of the Philistines from Gibeon as far as Gezer.
17 Then the fame of David went out into all lands, and the LORD brought the fear of him upon all nations.

1 Chronicles 15

The Ark Brought to Jerusalem

1 David built houses for himself in the City of David; and he prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched a tent for
it.
2 Then David said, “No one may carry the ark of God but the Levites, for the LORD has chosen them to carry the ark of God and to minister before Him forever.” 3 And David gathered all Israel together at Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the LORD to its place, which he had prepared for it.
4 Then David assembled the children of Aaron and the Levites:
5 of the sons of Kohath, Uriel the chief, and one hundred and twenty of his brethren;
6 of the sons of Merari, Asaiah the chief, and two hundred and twenty of his brethren;
7 of the sons of Gershom, Joel the chief, and one hundred and thirty of his brethren;
8 of the sons of Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chief, and two hundred of his brethren;
9 of the sons of Hebron, Eliel the chief, and eighty of his brethren;
10 of the sons of Uzziel, Amminadab the chief, and one hundred and twelve of his brethren.
11 And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the priests, and for the Levites: for Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab.
12 He said to them, “You are the heads of the fathers’ houses of the Levites; sanctify yourselves, you and your brethren, that you may bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel to the place I have prepared for it.

13 “For because you did not do it the first time, the LORD our God broke out against us, because we did not consult Him about the proper order.”

14 So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel.

15 And the children of the Levites bore the ark of God on their shoulders, by its poles, as Moses had commanded according to the word of the LORD.

16 Then David spoke to the leaders of the Levites to appoint their brethren to be the singers accompanied by instruments of music, stringed instruments, harps, and cymbals, by raising the voice with resounding joy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the son of Joel; and of his brethren, Asaph the son of Berechiah; and of their brethren, the sons of Merari, Ethan the son of Kushaiah;

18 and with them their brethren of the second rank: Zechariah, Ben,[a] Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Elipheleh, Mikneiah, Obed-Edom, and Jeiel, the gatekeepers;

19 the singers, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, were to sound the cymbals of bronze;

20 Zechariah, Aziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah, with strings according to Alamoth;

21 Mattithiah, Elipheleh, Mikneiah, Obed-Edom, Jeiel, and Azaziah, to direct with harps on the Sheminith;

22 Chenaniah, leader of the Levites, was instructor in charge of the music, because he was skillful;

23 Berechiah and Elkanah were doorkeepers for the ark;

24 Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer, the priests, were to blow the trumpets before the ark of God; and Obed-Edom and Jehiah, doorkeepers for the ark.

25So David, the elders of Israel, and the captains over thousands went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD from the house of Obed-Edom with joy. Starting Over

26And so it was, when God helped the Levites who bore the ark of the covenant of the LORD, that they offered seven bulls and seven rams.

27David was clothed with a robe of fine linen, as were all the Levites who bore the ark, the singers, and Chenaniah the music master with the singers. David also wore a linen ephod.

28Thus all Israel brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with shouting and with the sound of the horn, with trumpets and with cymbals, making music with stringed instruments and harps.

29And it happened, as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came to the City of David, that Michal, Saul's daughter, looked through a window and saw King David whirling and playing music; and she despised him in her heart.

1 Chronicles 16

The Ark Placed in the Tabernacle

1 So they brought the ark of God, and set it in the midst of the tabernacle that David had erected for it. Then they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.
2 And when David had finished offering the burnt offerings and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD.
3 Then he distributed to everyone of Israel, both man and woman, to everyone a loaf of bread, a piece of meat, and a cake of raisins.
4 And he appointed some of the Levites to minister before the ark of the LORD, to commemorate, to thank, and to praise the LORD God of Israel:
5 Asaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, then Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, and Obed-Edom: Jeiel with stringed instruments and harps, but Asaph made music with cymbals;
6 Benaiah and Jahaziel the priests regularly blew the trumpets before the ark of the covenant of God.

David's Song of Thanksgiving

7 On that day David first delivered this psalm into the hand of Asaph and his brethren, to thank the LORD:

8 Oh, give thanks to the LORD!
Call upon His name;
Make known His deeds among the peoples!
9 Sing to Him, sing psalms to Him;
Talk of all His wondrous works!
10 Glory in His holy name;

Let the hearts of those rejoice who seek the
LORD!
11 Seek the LORD and His strength;
Seek His face evermore!
12 Remember His marvelous works which He has done,
His wonders, and the judgments of His
mouth,
13 O seed of Israel His servant,
You children of Jacob, His chosen ones!
14 He is the LORD our God;
His judgments are in all the earth.
15 Remember His covenant forever,
The word which He commanded, for a
thousand generations,
16 The covenant which He made with Abraham,
And His oath to Isaac,
17 And confirmed it to Jacob for a statute,
To Israel for an everlasting covenant,
18 Saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan
As the allotment of your inheritance,"
19 When you were few in number,
Indeed very few, and strangers in it.
20 When they went from one nation to
another,
And from one kingdom to another people,
21 He permitted no man to do them wrong;
Yes, He rebuked kings for their sakes,
22 Saying, "Do not touch My anointed ones,
And do My prophets no harm."[a]
23 Sing to the LORD, all the earth;

Proclaim the good news of His salvation
from day to day. God Above All Gods
24 Declare His glory among the nations,
His wonders among all peoples.
25 For the LORD is great and greatly to be praised;
He is also to be feared above all gods.
26 For all the gods of the peoples are idols,
But the LORD made the heavens.
27 Honor and majesty are before Him;
Strength and gladness are in His place.
28 Give to the LORD, O families of the peoples,
Give to the LORD glory and strength.
29 Give to the LORD the glory due His name;
Bring an offering, and come before Him.
Oh, worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness!
30 Tremble before Him, all the earth.
The world also is firmly established,
It shall not be moved.
31 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth
be glad;
And let them say among the nations, "The LORD reigns."
32 Let the sea roar, and all its fullness;
Let the field rejoice, and all that is in it.
33 Then the trees of the woods shall rejoice
before the LORD,
For He is coming to judge the earth.[b] 34 Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for He is good!
For His mercy endures forever.[c] Enduring Mercy
35 And say, "Save us, O God of our salvation;

Gather us together, and deliver us from the Gentiles,
To give thanks to Your holy name,
To triumph in Your praise.”
36Blessed be the LORD God of Israel
From everlasting to everlasting![d]

And all the people said, “Amen!” and praised the LORD.

Regular Worship Maintained

37So he left Asaph and his brothers there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD to minister before the ark regularly, as every day’s work required;
38and Obed-Edom with his sixty-eight brethren, including Obed-Edom the son of Jeduthun, and Hosah, to be gatekeepers;
39and Zadok the priest and his brethren the priests, before the tabernacle of the LORD at the high place that was at Gibeon,
40to offer burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of burnt offering regularly morning and evening, and to do according to all that is written in the Law of the LORD which He commanded Israel;
41and with them Heman and Jeduthun and the rest who were chosen, who were designated by name, to give thanks to the LORD, because His mercy endures forever;
42and with them Heman and Jeduthun, to sound aloud with trumpets and cymbals and the musical instruments of God. Now the sons of Jeduthun were gatekeepers.
43Then all the people departed, every man to his house; and David returned to bless his house. Home at Last

1 Chronicles 17

God's Covenant with David

1 Now it came to pass, when David was dwelling in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet, "See now, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD is under tent curtains." Mapping the Life of David

2 Then Nathan said to David, "Do all that is in your heart, for God is with you."

3 But it happened that night that the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 "Go and tell My servant David, 'Thus says the LORD:
"You shall not build Me a house to dwell in.

5 "For I have not dwelt in a house since the time that I brought up Israel, even to this day, but have gone from tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.

6 "Wherever I have moved about with all Israel, have I ever spoken a word to any of the judges of Israel, whom I commanded to shepherd My people, saying, 'Why have you not built Me a house of cedar?' " '

7 "Now therefore, thus shall you say to My servant David,
'Thus says the LORD of hosts: "I took you from the sheepfold, from following the sheep, to be ruler over My people Israel.

8 "And I have been with you wherever you have gone, and have cut off all your enemies from before you, and have made you a name like the name of the great men who are on the earth.

9 "Moreover I will appoint a place for My people Israel, and will plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own and move no more; nor shall the sons of wickedness oppress them anymore, as previously,

10 “since the time that I commanded judges to be over My people Israel. Also I will subdue all your enemies.
Furthermore I tell you that the LORD will build you a house.[a] 11 “And it shall be, when your days are fulfilled, when you must go to be with your fathers, that I will set up your seed after you, who will be of your sons; and I will establish his kingdom.
12 “He shall build Me a house, and I will establish his throne forever.
13 “I will be his Father, and he shall be My son; and I will not take My mercy away from him, as I took it from him who was before you.
14 “And I will establish him in My house and in My kingdom forever; and his throne shall be established
forever.” ’ ”
15 According to all these words and according to all this vision, so Nathan spoke to David.
16 Then King David went in and sat before the LORD; and he said: “Who am I, O LORD God? And what is my house, that You have brought me this far?
17 “And yet this was a small thing in Your sight, O God; and You have also spoken of Your servant’s house for a great while to come, and have regarded me according to the rank of a man of high degree, O LORD God.
18 “What more can David say to You for the honor of Your servant? For You know Your servant.
19 “O LORD, for Your servant’s sake, and according to Your own heart, You have done all this greatness, in making known all these great things.
20 “O LORD, there is none like You, nor is there any God besides You, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

21 “And who is like Your people Israel, the one nation on the earth whom God went to redeem for Himself as a people—to make for Yourself a name by great and awesome deeds, by driving out nations from before Your people whom You redeemed from Egypt?
22 “For You have made Your people Israel Your very own people forever; and You, LORD, have become their God.
23 “And now, O LORD, the word which You have spoken concerning Your servant and concerning his house, let it be established forever, and do as You have said.
24 “So let it be established, that Your name may be magnified forever, saying, ‘The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, is Israel’s God.’ And let the house of Your servant
David be established before You.
25 “For You, O my God, have revealed to Your servant that You will build him a house. Therefore Your servant has found it in his heart to pray before You.
26 “And now, LORD, You are God, and have promised this goodness to Your servant.
27 “Now You have been pleased to bless the house of Your servant, that it may continue before You forever; for You have blessed it, O LORD, and it shall be blessed forever.”

1 Chronicles 18

David's Further Conquests

1 After this it came to pass that David attacked the Philistines, subdued them, and took Gath and its towns from the hand of the Philistines.
2 Then he defeated Moab, and the Moabites became David's servants, and brought tribute.
3 And David defeated Hadadezer[a] king of Zobah as far as Hamath, as he went to establish his power by the River Euphrates.
4 David took from him one thousand chariots, seven thousand[b] horsemen, and twenty thousand foot soldiers.
Also David hamstrung all the chariot horses, except that he spared enough of them for one hundred chariots.
5 When the Syrians of Damascus came to help Hadadezer king of Zobah, David killed twenty-two thousand of the Syrians.
6 Then David put garrisons in Syria of Damascus; and the Syrians became David's servants, and brought tribute. So the LORD preserved David wherever he went.
7 And David took the shields of gold that were on the servants of Hadadezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.
8 Also from Tibhath[c] and from Chun, cities of Hadadezer, David brought a large amount of bronze, with which Solomon made the bronze Sea, the pillars, and the articles of bronze.
9 Now when Tou[d] king of Hamath heard that David had defeated all the army of Hadadezer king of Zobah, 10 he sent Hadoram[e] his son to King David, to greet him and bless him, because he had fought against Hadadezer and defeated him (for Hadadezer had been at war with Tou); and Hadoram brought with him all kinds of articles of gold, silver, and bronze.

11 King David also dedicated these to the LORD, along with the silver and gold that he had brought from all these nations—from Edom, from Moab, from the people of Ammon, from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

12 Moreover Abishai the son of Zeruiah killed eighteen thousand Edomites[f] in the Valley of Salt.

13 He also put garrisons in Edom, and all the Edomites became David's servants. And the LORD preserved David wherever he went.

David's Administration

14 So David reigned over all Israel, and administered judgment and justice to all his people.

15 Joab the son of Zeruiah was over the army; Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder;

16 Zadok the son of Ahitub and Abimelech the son of Abiathar were the priests; Shavsha[g] was the scribe;

17 Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and David's sons were chief ministers at the king's side.

1 Chronicles 19

The Ammonites and Syrians Defeated

1 It happened after this that Nahash the king of the people of Ammon died, and his son reigned in his place.

2 Then David said, “I will show kindness to Hanun the son of Nahash, because his father showed kindness to me.” So David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father. And David’s servants came to Hanun in the land of the people of Ammon to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the people of Ammon said to Hanun, “Do you think that David really honors your father because he has sent comforters to you? Did his servants not come to you to search and to overthrow and to spy out the land?”

4 Therefore Hanun took David’s servants, shaved them, and cut off their garments in the middle, at their buttocks,
and sent them away.

5 Then some went and told David about the men; and he sent to meet them, because the men were greatly ashamed.
And the king said, “Wait at Jericho until your beards have grown, and then return.”

6 When the people of Ammon saw that they had made themselves repulsive to David, Hanun and the people of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire for themselves chariots and horsemen from Mesopotamia,[a] from Syrian Maacah, and from Zobah.[b]

7 So they hired for themselves thirty-two thousand chariots, with the king of Maacah and his people, who came and encamped before Medeba. Also the people of Ammon gathered together from their cities, and came to battle.

8 Now when David heard of it, he sent Joab and all the army of the mighty men.

9 Then the people of Ammon came out and put themselves in battle array before the gate of the city, and the kings who had come were by themselves in the field.
10 When Joab saw that the battle line was against him before and behind, he chose some of Israel's best and put them in battle array against the Syrians.
11 And the rest of the people he put under the command of Abishai his brother, and they set themselves in battle array against the people of Ammon.
12 Then he said, "If the Syrians are too strong for me, then you shall help me; but if the people of Ammon are too strong for you, then I will help you.
13 "Be of good courage, and let us be strong for our people and for the cities of our God. And may the LORD do what is good in His sight."
14 So Joab and the people who were with him drew near for the battle against the Syrians, and they fled before him.
15 When the people of Ammon saw that the Syrians were fleeing, they also fled before Abishai his brother, and entered the city. So Joab went to Jerusalem.
16 Now when the Syrians saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they sent messengers and brought the Syrians who were beyond the River,[c] and Shophach[d] the commander of Hadadezer's army went before them.
17 When it was told David, he gathered all Israel, crossed over the Jordan and came upon them, and set up in battle array against them. So when David had set up in battle array against the Syrians, they fought with him.
18 Then the Syrians fled before Israel; and David killed seven thousand[e] charioteers and forty thousand foot soldiers[f] of the Syrians, and killed Shophach the commander of the army.
19 And when the servants of Hadadezer saw that they were defeated by Israel, they made peace with David and became his servants. So the Syrians were not willing to help the people of Ammon anymore.

1 Chronicles 20

Rabbah Is Conquered

1It happened in the spring of the year, at the time kings go out to battle, that Joab led out the armed forces and ravaged the country of the people of Ammon, and came and besieged Rabbah. But David stayed at Jerusalem. And Joab defeated Rabbah and overthrew it. David's Foolish Conquest

2Then David took their king's crown from his head, and found it to weigh a talent of gold, and there were precious stones in it. And it was set on David's head. Also he brought out the spoil of the city in great abundance.

3And he brought out the people who were in it, and put them to work[a] with saws, with iron picks, and with axes. So David did to all the cities of the people of Ammon. Then David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

Philistine Giants Destroyed

4Now it happened afterward that war broke out at Gezer with the Philistines, at which time Sibbechai the Hushathite killed Sippai,[b] who was one of the sons of the giant. And they were subdued. Unfinished Business

5Again there was war with the Philistines, and Elhanan the son of Jair[c] killed Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, the shaft of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

6Yet again there was war at Gath, where there was a man of great stature, with twenty-four fingers and toes, six on each hand and six on each foot; and he also was born to the giant.

7So when he defied Israel, Jonathan the son of Shimea,[d] David's brother, killed him.

[8]These were born to the giant in Gath, and they fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

1 Chronicles 21

The Census of Israel and Judah

1Now Satan stood up against Israel, and moved David to number Israel.

2So David said to Joab and to the leaders of the people, “Go, number Israel from Beersheba to Dan, and bring the number of them to me that I may know it.” Don’t Assume It’s Harmless

3And Joab answered, “May the LORD make His people a hundred times more than they are. But, my lord the king, are they not all my lord’s servants? Why then does my lord require this thing? Why should he be a cause of guilt in Israel?”

4Nevertheless the king’s word prevailed against Joab. Therefore Joab departed and went throughout all Israel and came to Jerusalem.

5Then Joab gave the sum of the number of the people to David. All Israel had one million one hundred thousand men who drew the sword, and Judah had four hundred and seventy thousand men who drew the sword.

6But he did not count Levi and Benjamin among them, for the king’s word was abominable to Joab.

7And God was displeased with this thing; therefore He struck Israel.

8So David said to God, “I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing; but now, I pray, take away the iniquity of Your servant, for I have done very foolishly.” A Song of Remorse

9Then the LORD spoke to Gad, David’s seer, saying,

10“Go and tell David, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: “I offer you three things; choose one of them for yourself, that I may do it to you.” ’ ”

11So Gad came to David and said to him, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Choose for yourself,

12‘either three[a] years of famine, or three months to be defeated by your foes with the sword of your enemies overtaking you, or else for three days the sword of the LORD—the plague in the land, with the angel[b] of the LORD destroying throughout all the territory of Israel.’ Now consider what answer I should take back to Him who sent me.”

13And David said to Gad, “I am in great distress. Please let me fall into the hand of the LORD, for His mercies are very great; but do not let me fall into the hand of man.”

14So the LORD sent a plague upon Israel, and seventy thousand men of Israel fell.

15And God sent an angel to Jerusalem to destroy it. As he[c] was destroying, the LORD looked and relented of the disaster, and said to the angel who was destroying, “It is enough; now restrain your[d] hand.” And the angel of the LORD stood by the threshing floor of Ornan[e] the Jebusite.

16Then David lifted his eyes and saw the angel of the LORD standing between earth and heaven, having in his hand a drawn sword stretched out over Jerusalem. So David and the elders, clothed in sackcloth, fell on their faces.

17And David said to God, “Was it not I who commanded the people to be numbered? I am the one who has sinned and done evil indeed; but these sheep, what have they done? Let Your hand, I pray, O LORD my God, be against me and my father’s house, but not against Your people that they should be plagued.”

18Therefore, the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to David that David should go and erect an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

[19]So David went up at the word of Gad, which he had spoken in the name of the LORD.

[20]Now Ornan turned and saw the angel; and his four sons who were with him hid themselves, but Ornan continued threshing wheat.

[21]So David came to Ornan, and Ornan looked and saw David. And he went out from the threshing floor, and bowed before David with his face to the ground.

[22]Then David said to Ornan, “Grant me the place of this threshing floor, that I may build an altar on it to the LORD. You shall grant it to me at the full price, that the plague may be withdrawn from the people.”

[23]But Ornan said to David, “Take it to yourself, and let my lord the king do what is good in his eyes. Look, I also give you the oxen for burnt offerings, the threshing implements for wood, and the wheat for the grain offering; I give it all.”

[24]Then King David said to Ornan, “No, but I will surely buy it for the full price, for I will not take what is yours for the LORD, nor offer burnt offerings with that which costs me nothing.”

[25]So David gave Ornan six hundred shekels of gold by weight for the place.

[26]And David built there an altar to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called on the LORD; and He answered him from heaven by fire on the altar of burnt offering.

[27]So the LORD commanded the angel, and he returned his sword to its sheath.

28At that time, when David saw that the LORD had answered him on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, he sacrificed there.

[29]For the tabernacle of the LORD and the altar of the burnt offering, which Moses had made in the wilderness, were at that time at the high place in Gibeon.

30But David could not go before it to inquire of God, for he was afraid of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

1 Chronicles 22

David Prepares to Build the Temple

1 Then David said, “This is the house of the LORD God, and this is the altar of burnt offering for Israel.”
2 So David commanded to gather the aliens who were in the land of Israel; and he appointed masons to cut hewn stones to build the house of God.
3 And David prepared iron in abundance for the nails of the doors of the gates and for the joints, and bronze in abundance beyond measure, 4 and cedar trees in abundance; for the Sidonians and those from Tyre brought much cedar wood to David.
5 Now David said, “Solomon my son is young and inexperienced, and the house to be built for the LORD must be exceedingly magnificent, famous and glorious throughout all countries. I will now make preparation for it.” So David made abundant preparations before his death.

Making Preparations

6 Then he called for his son Solomon, and charged him to build a house for the LORD God of Israel.
7 And David said to Solomon: “My son, as for me, it was in my mind to build a house to the name of the LORD my God;
8 “but the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ‘You have shed much blood and have made great wars; you shall not build a house for My name, because you have shed much blood on the earth in My sight.
9 ‘Behold, a son shall be born to you, who shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies all around. His name shall be Solomon,[a] for I will give peace and quietness to Israel in his days.

10 ‘He shall build a house for My name, and he shall be My son, and I will be his Father; and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Israel forever.’ 11 “Now, my son, may the LORD be with you; and may you prosper, and build the house of the LORD your God, as He has said to you.
12 “Only may the LORD give you wisdom and understanding, and give you charge concerning Israel, that you may keep the law of the LORD your God.
13 “Then you will prosper, if you take care to fulfill the statutes and judgments with which the LORD charged Moses concerning Israel. Be strong and of good courage;
do not fear nor be dismayed.
14 “Indeed I have taken much trouble to prepare for the house of the LORD one hundred thousand talents of gold and one million talents of silver, and bronze and iron beyond measure, for it is so abundant. I have prepared timber and stone also, and you may add to them.
15 “Moreover there are workmen with you in abundance:
woodsmen and stonecutters, and all types of skillful men for every kind of work.
16 “Of gold and silver and bronze and iron there is no limit. Arise and begin working, and the LORD be with you.”
17 David also commanded all the leaders of Israel to help
Solomon his son, saying,
18 “Is not the LORD your God with you? And has He not given you rest on every side? For He has given the inhabitants of the land into my hand, and the land is subdued before the LORD and before His people.
19 “Now set your heart and your soul to seek the LORD your God. Therefore arise and build the sanctuary of the LORD God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD and the holy articles of God into the house that is to be built for the name of the LORD.”

1 Chronicles 23

The Divisions of the Levites

1 So when David was old and full of days, he made his son Solomon king over Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the leaders of Israel, with the priests and the Levites.

3 Now the Levites were numbered from the age of thirty years and above; and the number of individual males was thirty-eight thousand.

4 Of these, twenty-four thousand were to look after the work of the house of the LORD, six thousand were officers and judges,

5 four thousand were gatekeepers, and four thousand praised the LORD with musical instruments, "which I made," said David, "for giving praise."

6 Also David separated them into divisions among the sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershonites: Laadan[a] and Shimei.

8 The sons of Laadan: the first Jehiel, then Zetham and Joel—three in all.

9 The sons of Shimei: Shelomith, Haziel, and Haran—three in all. These were the heads of the fathers' houses of Laadan.

10 And the sons of Shimei: Jahath, Zina,[b] Jeush, and Beriah. These were the four sons of Shimei.

11 Jahath was the first and Zizah the second. But Jeush and Beriah did not have many sons; therefore they were assigned as one father's house.

12 The sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel
—four in all.

13 The sons of Amram: Aaron and Moses; and Aaron was set apart, he and his sons forever, that he should sanctify the most holy things, to burn incense before the LORD, to minister to Him, and to give the blessing in His name
forever.
14 Now the sons of Moses the man of God were reckoned to the tribe of Levi.
15 The sons of Moses were Gershon[c] and Eliezer.
16 Of the sons of Gershon, Shebuel[d] was the first.
17 Of the descendants of Eliezer, Rehabiah was the first.
And Eliezer had no other sons, but the sons of Rehabiah were very many.
18 Of the sons of Izhar, Shelomith was the first.
19 Of the sons of Hebron, Jeriah was the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.
20 Of the sons of Uzziel, Michah was the first and Jesshiah the second.
21 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sons of Mahli were Eleazar and Kish.
22 And Eleazar died, and had no sons, but only daughters;
and their brethren, the sons of Kish, took them as wives.
23 The sons of Mushi were Mahli, Eder, and Jeremoth—three in all.
24 These were the sons of Levi by their fathers' houses—
the heads of the fathers' houses as they were counted individually by the number of their names, who did the work for the service of the house of the LORD, from the age of twenty years and above.
25 For David said, "The LORD God of Israel has given rest to His people, that they may dwell in Jerusalem forever"; 26 and also to the Levites, "They shall no longer carry the tabernacle, or any of the articles for its service." 27 For by the last words of David the Levites were numbered from twenty years old and above;

[28]because their duty was to help the sons of Aaron in the service of the house of the LORD, in the courts and in the chambers, in the purifying of all holy things and the work of the service of the house of God,

[29]both with the showbread and the fine flour for the grain offering, with the unleavened cakes and what is baked in the pan, with what is mixed and with all kinds of measures and sizes;

[30]to stand every morning to thank and praise the LORD, and likewise at evening;

[31]and at every presentation of a burnt offering to the LORD on the Sabbaths and on the New Moons and on the set feasts, by number according to the ordinance governing them, regularly before the LORD;

[32]and that they should attend to the needs of the tabernacle of meeting, the needs of the holy place, and the needs of the sons of Aaron their brethren in the work of the house of the LORD.

1 Chronicles 24

The Divisions of the Priests

1 Now these are the divisions of the sons of Aaron. The sons of Aaron were Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
2 And Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children; therefore Eleazar and Ithamar ministered as priests.
3 Then David with Zadok of the sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sons of Ithamar, divided them according to the schedule of their service.
4 There were more leaders found of the sons of Eleazar than of the sons of Ithamar, and thus they were divided.
Among the sons of Eleazar were sixteen heads of their fathers' houses, and eight heads of their fathers' houses
among the sons of Ithamar.
5 Thus they were divided by lot, one group as another, for there were officials of the sanctuary and officials of the house of God, from the sons of Eleazar and from the sons of Ithamar.
6 And the scribe, Shemaiah the son of Nethanel, one of the Levites, wrote them down before the king, the leaders, Zadok the priest, Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, and the heads of the fathers' houses of the priests and Levites, one father's house taken for Eleazar and one for Ithamar.
7 Now the first lot fell to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah,
8 the third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,
9 the fifth to Malchijah, the sixth to Mijamin,
10 the seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,
11 the ninth to Jeshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,
12 the eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,
13 the thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeshebeab,

14 the fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,
15 the seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happizzez,[a]
16 the nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezekel,[b]
17 the twenty-first to Jachin, the twenty-second to Gamul,
18 the twenty-third to Delaiah, the twenty-fourth to Maaziah.
19 This was the schedule of their service for coming into the house of the LORD according to their ordinance by the hand of Aaron their father, as the LORD God of Israel had commanded him.

Other Levites

20 And the rest of the sons of Levi: of the sons of Amram, Shubael;[c] of the sons of Shubael, Jehdeiah.
21 Concerning Rehabiah, of the sons of Rehabiah, the first was Isshiah.
22 Of the Izharites, Shelomoth;[d] of the sons of Shelomoth, Jahath.
23 Of the sons of Hebron,[e] Jeriah was the first,[f] Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.
24 Of the sons of Uzziel, Michah; of the sons of Michah, Shamir.
25 The brother of Michah, Isshiah; of the sons of Isshiah, Zechariah.
26 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi; the son of Jaaziah, Beno.
27 The sons of Merari by Jaaziah were Beno, Shoham, Zaccur, and Ibri.
28 Of Mahli: Eleazar, who had no sons.
29 Of Kish: the son of Kish, Jerahmeel.
30 Also the sons of Mushi were Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites according to their fathers’ houses.

31These also cast lots just as their brothers the sons of Aaron did, in the presence of King David, Zadok, Ahimelech, and the heads of the fathers’ houses of the priests and Levites. The chief fathers did just as their younger brethren.

1 Chronicles 25

The Musicians

1 Moreover David and the captains of the army separated for the service some of the sons of Asaph, of Heman, and of Jeduthun, who should prophesy with harps, stringed instruments, and cymbals. And the number of the skilled men performing their service was:

2 Of the sons of Asaph: Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asharelah;[a] the sons of Asaph were under the direction of Asaph, who prophesied according to the order of the king.

3 Of Jeduthun, the sons of Jeduthun: Gedaliah, Zeri,[b] Jeshaiah, Shimei, Hashabiah, and Mattithiah, six,[c] under the direction of their father Jeduthun, who prophesied with a harp to give thanks and to praise the LORD.

4 Of Heman, the sons of Heman: Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel,[d] Shebuel,[e] Jerimoth,[f] Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, Romamti-Ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

5 All these were the sons of Heman the king's seer in the words of God, to exalt his horn.[g] For God gave Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

6 All these were under the direction of their father for the music in the house of the LORD, with cymbals, stringed instruments, and harps, for the service of the house of God.
Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman were under the authority of the king.

7 So the number of them, with their brethren who were instructed in the songs of the LORD, all who were skillful, was two hundred and eighty-eight.

8 And they cast lots for their duty, the small as well as the great, the teacher with the student.

9Now the first lot for Asaph came out for Joseph; the second for Gedaliah, him with his brethren and sons,
twelve;
10the third for Zaccur, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
11the fourth for Jizri,[h] his sons and his brethren, twelve;
12the fifth for Nethaniah, his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
13the sixth for Bukkiah, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
14the seventh for Jesharelah,[i] his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
15the eighth for Jeshaiah, his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
16the ninth for Mattaniah, his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
17the tenth for Shimei, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
18the eleventh for Azarel,[j] his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
19the twelfth for Hashabiah, his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
20the thirteenth for Shubael,[k] his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
21the fourteenth for Mattithiah, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
22the fifteenth for Jeremoth,[l] his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
23the sixteenth for Hananiah, his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
24the seventeenth for Joshbekashah, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
25the eighteenth for Hanani, his sons and his brethren,
twelve;
26the nineteenth for Mallothi, his sons and his brethren,
twelve;

[27]the twentieth for Eliathah, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
[28]the twenty-first for Hothir, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
[29]the twenty-second for Giddalti, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
[30]the twenty-third for Mahazioth, his sons and his brethren, twelve;
[31]the twenty-fourth for Romamti-Ezer, his sons and his brethren, twelve.

1 Chronicles 26

The Gatekeepers

1 Concerning the divisions of the gatekeepers: of the Korahites, Meshelemiah the son of Kore, of the sons of Asaph.
2 And the sons of Meshelemiah were Zechariah the firstborn, Jediael the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,
3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, Eliehoenai the seventh.
4 Moreover the sons of Obed-Edom were Shemaiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, Sacar the fourth, Nethanel the fifth, 5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth; for God blessed him.
6 Also to Shemaiah his son were sons born who governed their fathers' houses, because they were men of great ability.
7 The sons of Shemaiah were Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad, whose brothers Elihu and Semachiah were able men.
8 All these were of the sons of Obed-Edom, they and their sons and their brethren, able men with strength for the work: sixty-two of Obed-Edom.
9 And Meshelemiah had sons and brethren, eighteen able men.
10 Also Hosah, of the children of Merari, had sons: Shimri the first (for though he was not the firstborn, his father made him the first), 11 Hilkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth; all the sons and brethren of Hosah were thirteen.

12Among these were the divisions of the gatekeepers, among the chief men, having duties just like their brethren, to serve in the house of the LORD.

13And they cast lots for each gate, the small as well as the great, according to their father's house.

14The lot for the East Gate fell to Shelemiah. Then they cast lots for his son Zechariah, a wise counselor, and his lot came out for the North Gate;

15to Obed-Edom the South Gate, and to his sons the storehouse.[a]

16To Shuppim and Hosah the lot came out for the West Gate, with the Shallecheth Gate on the ascending highway —watchman opposite watchman.

17On the east were six Levites, on the north four each day, on the south four each day, and for the storehouse[b] two by two.

18As for the Parbar[c] on the west, there were four on the highway and two at the Parbar.

19These were the divisions of the gatekeepers among the sons of Korah and among the sons of Merari.

The Treasuries and Other Duties

20Of the Levites, Ahijah was over the treasuries of the house of God and over the treasuries of the dedicated things.

21The sons of Laadan, the descendants of the Gershonites of Laadan, heads of their fathers' houses, of Laadan the Gershonite: Jehieli.

22The sons of Jehieli, Zetham and Joel his brother, were over the treasuries of the house of the LORD.

23Of the Amramites, the Izharites, the Hebronites, and the Uzzielites:

24Shebuel the son of Gershom, the son of Moses, was overseer of the treasuries.

25 And his brethren by Eliezer were Rehabiah his son, Jeshaiah his son, Joram his son, Zichri his son, and Shelomith his son.
26 This Shelomith and his brethren were over all the treasuries of the dedicated things which King David and the heads of fathers' houses, the captains over thousands and hundreds, and the captains of the army, had dedicated.
27 Some of the spoils won in battles they dedicated to maintain the house of the LORD.
28 And all that Samuel the seer, Saul the son of Kish, Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruiah had dedicated, every dedicated thing, was under the hand of Shelomith and his brethren.
29 Of the Izharites, Chenaniah and his sons performed duties as officials and judges over Israel outside Jerusalem.
30 Of the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brethren, one thousand seven hundred able men, had the oversight of Israel on the west side of the Jordan for all the business of the LORD, and in the service of the king.
31 Among the Hebronites, Jerijah was head of the Hebronites according to his genealogy of the fathers. In the fortieth year of the reign of David they were sought, and there were found among them capable men at Jazer of Gilead.
32 And his brethren were two thousand seven hundred able men, heads of fathers' houses, whom King David made officials over the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, for every matter pertaining to God and the affairs of the king.

1 Chronicles 27

The Military Divisions

1 And the children of Israel, according to their number, the heads of fathers' houses, the captains of thousands and hundreds and their officers, served the king in every matter of the military divisions. These divisions came in and went out month by month throughout all the months of the year, each division having twenty-four thousand.

2 Over the first division for the first month was Jashobeam the son of Zabdiel, and in his division were twenty-four thousand;

3 he was of the children of Perez, and the chief of all the captains of the army for the first month.

4 Over the division of the second month was Dodai[a] an Ahohite, and of his division Mikloth also was the leader; in his division were twenty-four thousand.

5 The third captain of the army for the third month was Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada the priest, who was chief; in his division were twenty-four thousand.

6 This was the Benaiah who was mighty among the thirty, and was over the thirty; in his division was Ammizabad his son.

7 The fourth captain for the fourth month was Asahel the brother of Joab, and Zebadiah his son after him; in his division were twenty-four thousand.

8 The fifth captain for the fifth month was Shamhuth[b] the Izrahite; in his division were twenty-four thousand.

9 The sixth captain for the sixth month was Ira the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite; in his division were twenty-four thousand.

10 The seventh captain for the seventh month was Helez
the Pelonite, of the children of Ephraim; in his division were twenty-four thousand.
11 The eighth captain for the eighth month was Sibbechai the Hushathite, of the Zarhites; in his division were twenty-four thousand.
12 The ninth captain for the ninth month was Abiezer the Anathothite, of the Benjamites; in his division were twenty-four thousand.
13 The tenth captain for the tenth month was Maharai the Netophathite, of the Zarhites; in his division were twenty-four thousand.
14 The eleventh captain for the eleventh month was Benaiah the Pirathonite, of the children of Ephraim; in his division were twenty-four thousand.
15 The twelfth captain for the twelfth month was Heldai[c]
the Netophathite, of Othniel; in his division were twenty-four thousand.

Leaders of Tribes

16 Furthermore, over the tribes of Israel: the officer over the Reubenites was Eliezer the son of Zichri; over the Simeonites, Shephatiah the son of Maachah;
17 over the Levites, Hashabiah the son of Kemuel; over the Aaronites, Zadok;
18 over Judah, Elihu, one of David's brothers; over Issachar, Omri the son of Michael;
19 over Zebulun, Ishmaiah the son of Obadiah; over
Naphtali, Jerimoth the son of Azriel;
20 over the children of Ephraim, Hoshea the son of Azaziah; over the half-tribe of Manasseh, Joel the son of Pedaiah;
21 over the half-tribe of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo the son of Zechariah; over Benjamin, Jaasiel the son of Abner;

22 over Dan, Azarel the son of Jeroham. These were the leaders of the tribes of Israel.

23 But David did not take the number of those twenty years old and under, because the LORD had said He would multiply Israel like the stars of the heavens.

24 Joab the son of Zeruiah began a census, but he did not finish, for wrath came upon Israel because of this census; nor was the number recorded in the account of the chronicles of King David.

Other State Officials

25 And Azmaveth the son of Adiel was over the king's treasuries; and Jehonathan the son of Uzziah was over the storehouses in the field, in the cities, in the villages, and in the fortresses.

26 Ezri the son of Chelub was over those who did the work of the field for tilling the ground.

27 And Shimei the Ramathite was over the vineyards, and Zabdi the Shiphmite was over the produce of the vineyards for the supply of wine.

28 Baal-Hanan the Gederite was over the olive trees and the sycamore trees that were in the lowlands, and Joash was over the store of oil.

29 And Shitrai the Sharonite was over the herds that fed in Sharon, and Shaphat the son of Adlai was over the herds that were in the valleys.

30 Obil the Ishmaelite was over the camels, Jehdeiah the Meronothite was over the donkeys, 31 and Jaziz the Hagrite was over the flocks. All these were the officials over King David's property.

32 Also Jehonathan, David's uncle, was a counselor, a wise man, and a scribe; and Jehiel the son of Hachmoni was with the king's sons.

[33]Ahithophel was the king’s counselor, and Hushai the Archite was the king’s companion.
[34]After Ahithophel was Jehoiada the son of Benaiah, then Abiathar. And the general of the king’s army was Joab.

1 Chronicles 28

Solomon Instructed to Build the Temple

1 Now David assembled at Jerusalem all the leaders of Israel: the officers of the tribes and the captains of the divisions who served the king, the captains over thousands and captains over hundreds, and the stewards over all the substance and possessions of the king and of his sons, with the officials, the valiant men, and all the mighty men of valor.

2 Then King David rose to his feet and said, “Hear me, my brethren and my people: I had it in my heart to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and for the footstool of our God, and had made preparations to build it.

3 “But God said to me, ‘You shall not build a house for My name, because you have been a man of war and have shed blood.’

4 “However the LORD God of Israel chose me above all the house of my father to be king over Israel forever, for He has chosen Judah to be the ruler. And of the house of Judah, the house of my father, and among the sons of my father,
He was pleased with me to make me king over all Israel.

5 “And of all my sons (for the LORD has given me many sons) He has chosen my son Solomon to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Israel.

6 “Now He said to me, ‘It is your son Solomon who shall build My house and My courts; for I have chosen him to be My son, and I will be his Father.

7 ‘Moreover I will establish his kingdom forever, if he is steadfast to observe My commandments and My judgments, as it is this day.’

8 “Now therefore, in the sight of all Israel, the assembly of the LORD, and in the hearing of our God, be careful to seek out all the commandments of the LORD your God, that you may possess this good land, and leave it as an inheritance for your children after you forever. Public Accountability

9 “As for you, my son Solomon, know the God of your father, and serve Him with a loyal heart and with a willing mind; for the LORD searches all hearts and understands all the intent of the thoughts. If you seek Him, He will be found by you; but if you forsake Him, He will cast you off
forever.

10 “Consider now, for the LORD has chosen you to build a house for the sanctuary; be strong, and do it.”

11 Then David gave his son Solomon the plans for the vestibule, its houses, its treasuries, its upper chambers, its inner chambers, and the place of the mercy seat; Spirit-Filled

Planning

12 and the plans for all that he had by the Spirit, of the courts of the house of the LORD, of all the chambers all around, of the treasuries of the house of God, and of the treasuries for the dedicated things;

13 also for the division of the priests and the Levites, for all the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and for all the articles of service in the house of the LORD.

14 He gave gold by weight for things of gold, for all articles used in every kind of service; also silver for all articles of silver by weight, for all articles used in every kind of service;

15 the weight for the lampstands of gold, and their lamps of gold, by weight for each lampstand and its lamps; for the lampstands of silver by weight, for the lampstand and its lamps, according to the use of each lampstand.

16 And by weight he gave gold for the tables of the showbread, for each table, and silver for the tables of silver;

17 also pure gold for the forks, the basins, the pitchers of pure gold, and the golden bowls—he gave gold by weight for every bowl; and for the silver bowls, silver by weight for every bowl;

18 and refined gold by weight for the altar of incense, and for the construction of the chariot, that is, the gold cherubim that spread their wings and overshadowed the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

19 "All this," said David, "the LORD made me understand in writing, by His hand upon me, all the works of these plans."

20 And David said to his son Solomon, "Be strong and of good courage, and do it; do not fear nor be dismayed, for the LORD God—my God—will be with you. He will not leave you nor forsake you, until you have finished all the work for the service of the house of the LORD. Overcoming Obstacles

21 "Here are the divisions of the priests and the Levites for all the service of the house of God; and every willing craftsman will be with you for all manner of workmanship, for every kind of service; also the leaders and all the people will be completely at your command."

1 Chronicles 29

Offerings for Building the Temple

1 Furthermore King David said to all the assembly: “My son Solomon, whom alone God has chosen, is young and inexperienced; and the work is great, because the temple[a] is not for man but for the LORD God.

2 “Now for the house of my God I have prepared with all my might: gold for things to be made of gold, silver for things of silver, bronze for things of bronze, iron for things of iron, wood for things of wood, onyx stones, stones to be set, glistening stones of various colors, all kinds of precious stones, and marble slabs in abundance.

3 “Moreover, because I have set my affection on the house of my God, I have given to the house of my God, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy house, my own special treasure of gold and silver:

4 “three thousand talents of gold, of the gold of Ophir, and seven thousand talents of refined silver, to overlay the walls of the houses;

5 “the gold for things of gold and the silver for things of silver, and for all kinds of work to be done by the hands of craftsmen. Who then is willing to consecrate himself this day to the LORD?”

6 Then the leaders of the fathers’ houses, leaders of the tribes of Israel, the captains of thousands and of hundreds, with the officers over the king’s work, offered willingly.

7 They gave for the work of the house of God five thousand talents and ten thousand darics of gold, ten thousand talents of silver, eighteen thousand talents of bronze, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.

8 And whoever had precious stones gave them to the treasury of the house of the LORD, into the hand of Jehiel[b]
the Gershonite. A History of Money 9 Then the people rejoiced, for they had offered willingly, because with a loyal heart they had offered willingly to the LORD; and King David also rejoiced greatly.

David's Praise to God

10 Therefore David blessed the LORD before all the assembly; and David said:

"Blessed are You, LORD God of Israel, our Father, forever and ever.
11 Yours, O LORD, is the greatness,
The power and the glory,
The victory and the majesty;
For all that is in heaven and in earth is
Yours;
Yours is the kingdom, O LORD,
And You are exalted as head over all.
12 Both riches and honor come from You,
And You reign over all.
In Your hand is power and might;
In Your hand it is to make great
And to give strength to all.
13 "Now therefore, our God,
We thank You
And praise Your glorious name.
14 But who am I, and who are my people,
That we should be able to offer so willingly
as this?
For all things come from You,
And of Your own we have given You.
15 For we are aliens and pilgrims before You,

As were all our fathers;
Our days on earth are as a shadow,
And without hope.

16"O LORD our God, all this abundance that we have prepared to build You a house for Your holy name is from Your hand, and is all Your own.
17"I know also, my God, that You test the heart and have pleasure in uprightness. As for me, in the uprightness of my heart I have willingly offered all these things; and now with joy I have seen Your people, who are present here to offer willingly to You.
18"O LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, our fathers, keep this forever in the intent of the thoughts of the heart of Your people, and fix their heart toward You.
19"And give my son Solomon a loyal heart to keep Your commandments and Your testimonies and Your statutes, to do all these things, and to build the temple[c] for which I have made provision."
20Then David said to all the assembly, "Now bless the LORD your God." So all the assembly blessed the LORD God of their fathers, and bowed their heads and prostrated themselves before the LORD and the king.

Solomon Anointed King

21And they made sacrifices to the LORD and offered burnt offerings to the LORD on the next day: a thousand bulls, a thousand rams, a thousand lambs, with their drink offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.
22So they ate and drank before the LORD with great gladness on that day. And they made Solomon the son of David king the second time, and anointed him before the LORD to be the leader, and Zadok to be priest.

23 Then Solomon sat on the throne of the LORD as king instead of David his father, and prospered; and all Israel obeyed him.
24 All the leaders and the mighty men, and also all the sons of King David, submitted themselves to King Solomon.
25 So the LORD exalted Solomon exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and bestowed on him such royal majesty as had not been on any king before him in Israel.

The Close of David's Reign

26 Thus David the son of Jesse reigned over all Israel.
27 And the period that he reigned over Israel was forty years; seven years he reigned in Hebron, and thirty-three years he reigned in Jerusalem.
28 So he died in a good old age, full of days and riches and honor; and Solomon his son reigned in his place.
29 Now the acts of King David, first and last, indeed they are written in the book of Samuel the seer, in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the book of Gad the seer, 30 with all his reign and his might, and the events that happened to him, to Israel, and to all the kingdoms of the lands.

More Than a Repeat of Kings

1 Chr. 1:1

The books of 1 and 2 Chronicles provide an account of Israel's history similar to 1 Samuel and 1 and 2 Kings—and in some cases identical. But Chronicles does more than repeat these books. Chronicles explores the same era from a different perspective. For example . . .

Samuel and Kings	Chronicles

Israelite Cousins

1 Chr. 1:29

As Abraham's son, Ishmael was Isaac's half brother, meaning his descendants were relatives of the Israelites. God kept His promise to make Ishmael into a great nation. Ishmael had twelve sons whose descendants grew into the Ishmaelites, and Islamic traditions consider Ishmael the ancestor of the Arab people. See Ishmael's profile at Genesis 16:15.

Genealogies: Records of God's Grace

1 Chr. 1:29

The genealogies of Abraham's sons Ishmael and Isaac are far more than a collection of names or an extended family tree. They tell the story of God's purposes from generation to generation. These genealogies teach us to value our heritage by reminding us to . . .

- Look back with gratitude. Genealogies help put the past in perspective and reveal patterns in our history. Looking back on their past helped the Israelites see that they owed their allegiance and praise to God. The Lord had chosen them as His people, rescued them from slavery, given them a land, and established their kingdom. He had always been faithful to them.
- Look around at our connections. This list highlights the kinship between the Edomites and the Israelites, a relationship still significant today. Scripture teaches us to consider what we have in common rather than focusing on our differences.
- Look ahead with faith. The past often serves as an indication of the future. Because God had been faithful in the past, the Israelites could count on God to keep His Word in the future. Trusting in God is ultimately a matter of faith, but we can still be encouraged by His perfect track record.

Following God involves more than what we do at any given moment. Our spirituality is also part of a long tapestry that God oversees and in which He participates. In 1 Chronicles 1–9 we see His work in one family line, and a reflection of our own roots can yield evidence of His involvement in our own lives over the years.

Turning Pain into Prayer
1 Chr. 4:9, 10

Jabez's mother named him "He Will Cause Pain." But whether Jabez entered the world through a difficult childbirth or grew up in a distressed family, he turned his pain into prayer. Instead of complaining about his troubles, he asked God for spiritual blessing and an enlarged place in the Promised Land.

If problems in our own background or upbringing leave us feeling victimized, we can follow Jabez's example. Instead of letting circumstances overwhelm us, we can take charge of our life by asking God for the power to make changes.

Courageous Caleb
1 Chr. 4:15

Caleb the son of Jephunneh was a star of Israel's history. He and Joshua were the only men of twelve spies sent to survey the Promised Land who advocated conquest rather than retreat (Num. 13:30). Caleb's life showed unwavering faithfulness and proven courage. Find out more in Caleb's profile at Joshua 14:6.

The Nethinim
1 Chr. 9:2

The Nethinim were temple servants who assisted the Levites by doing menial chores such as cleaning the temple, carrying water and wood to the altar, and scrubbing utensils used in sacrificial ceremonies. The name Nethinim means "Given." Ezra's list of the returnees from the captivity mentions the Nethinim along with "the sons of Solomon's servants" (Ezra 2:43–58). Because the groups' names are not Hebrew, they may have been Gentiles, possibly descended from the Canaanites or another conquered nation. David appointed the Nethinim to serve the Levites (8:20).

More: The Nethinim were not the first foreigners given servile positions among the Israelites. Joshua made peace with the men of Gibeon, and they became woodcutters and water carriers. See "A Peace Treaty" at Josh. 9:15.

The Value of Fasting

1 Chr. 10:12

The gallant men of Gilead fasted for seven days as an expression of grief over King Saul's death. Israel observed fasts for diverse reasons, such as . . .

- commemorating God's deliverance (Zech. 8:19),
- grieving for sin and repenting from disobedience (Judg. 20:26; 1 Sam. 7:6),
- expressing humility before God (Lev. 16:29; Ps. 69:10), and
- seeking guidance (Ex. 34:28; 2 Chr. 20:3, 4).

Fasting as a means of spiritual focus encourages us to concentrate on God rather than on food and other personal needs. Assuming we have no health issues that preclude fasting, going without food for a day or at certain hours in a day can be an effective way to honor God and ask for His help. Note a few people who fasted and the outcomes of their discipline:

Person(s)	Circumstances and Results
Moses	Fasted 40 days and nights as he met with God on Mount Sinai (Ex. 34:27, 28). The Lord gave him a second set of tablets containing the Law.
The Israelites	Fasted to exhibit repentance and renew the covenant after retrieving the ark from the Philistines (1 Sam. 7:5, 6). Followed by victory over this enemy (7:10, 11).
David	Fasted to show his sorrow after learning he would lose the child conceived with Bathsheba (2 Sam. 12:15, 16). The child died as a consequence of his adultery.
Ahab	Fasted as an act of repentance after Elijah warned him of his imminent judgment for Naboth's murder (1 Kin. 21:27). The Lord delayed punishment until Ahab's son assumed the throne (21:29).
Ezra	Fasted before journeying from Babylon to Jerusalem, asking for God's blessing, guidance, and protection (Ezra 8:21–23). The trip went off without a hitch (8:31, 32).
Nehemiah	Fasted and repented on behalf of the Israelites after hearing that Jerusalem was in ruins (see "Nehemiah's Prayer" at Neh. 1:4–11). God gave him everything he needed to return and rebuild Jerusalem's walls.
Daniel	Fasted and repented on behalf of the Jews, asking for their release from captivity (Dan. 9:3, 4). God allowed His people to return to their land.
The city of Nineveh	Fasted to repent and express faith in God after hearing Jonah's message of impending judgment (Jon. 3:4–9). The Lord forgave the Ninevites and spared them from calamity.
Jesus	Fasted in the wilderness for 40 days at the start of His ministry (Matt. 4:2). He withstood Satan's temptations.
Cornelius	Fasted as an aid to prayer (Acts 10:30–32). Peter proclaimed the gospel to Cornelius and his family, and they became followers of Christ 10:34–48).
Paul and Barnabas	Fasted and prayed for their journey to preach in Asia Minor (Acts 13:1–5). Several new churches formed when many responded to the truth about Jesus.

Think About It: When and why will you fast?

Jebus (Jerusalem)

1 Chr. 11:4, 5

- Principal city of the Jebusites, located on a hill called Zion in the territory of Benjamin, 31 miles east of the Mediterranean Sea and 18 miles west of the north end of the Dead Sea.
- Near the border between the territories of Benjamin and Judah (Josh. 18:16).
- Formed a coalition with four other cities led by the Jebusite king Adoni-Zedek to oppose the Israelites following the capture of Jericho and Ai. The coalition was routed when the Lord made the sun stand still until the Israelite warriors finished their work (10:1–14).
- Captured and burned by the Israelites during the conquest (Judg. 1:8). Jebusites continued to live at the site until David's reign (1:21; 19:11, 12).
- Residents vowed that David would never penetrate its defenses. The city was captured and renamed the City of David (2 Sam. 5:6, 7).
- Hometown of Ornan, owner of a threshing floor David purchased for 600 shekels of gold (1 Chr. 21:14–26). Solomon later built the temple on the site.

Understanding the Times

1 Chr. 12:32

David was blessed to have a group of counselors "who had understanding of the times" and so could advise him on "what Israel ought to do" to shake off the tyranny of King Saul and prosper as a nation.

The tribe of Issachar was noted for its wise men. Tradition holds that Issachar's representatives were among the wisest members of Israel's Sanhedrin, the nation's highest ruling body at the time of Jesus (see "Stephen's Trial and Murder" at Acts 6:12).

No one knows how David's counselors gained insight into their times, but it seems reasonable to infer that they perceived trends, discussed major issues, evaluated information, and debated strategy. Thanks in part to them, David unified the kingdom and established a growing empire (1 Chr. 14:2, 17).

God's people still need counselors who not only comprehend Scripture but the world in which it must be applied, buttressing our faith with discernment. Jesus has called us to engage our critical faculties, saying we should "be wise as serpents and harmless as doves" (Matt. 10:16).

Think About It: What is the difference between people who truly understand the times and people who just think they do? How can you become one who behaves incredibly wisely?

David: The Rest of the Story

1 Chr. 14:3

Written around the time of the Jews' return from exile, 1 and 2 Chronicles often overlook David's failings, perhaps as a reflection of the people's interest in celebrating the high points of their history without rehashing all of its unfortunate episodes. The books mention his wives and family, for example, but exclude the tragic details of his home life. Other incidents omitted from the Chronicles account of David's life include . . .

- David's conflict with and flight from Saul (1 Sam. 18–30).
- Negotiations with Abner, Saul's general (2 Sam. 3:6–21).

- The murders of Abner and Ishbosheth (3:22–4:12).
- David's affair with Bathsheba and murder of Uriah, her husband (2 Sam. 11–12).
- The turmoil in David's family that resulted from Amnon's attack on Tamar and Absalom's revenge (2 Sam. 13).
- Absalom's rebellion and death, and his father's grief (2 Sam. 15, 18).
- The tumultuous transfer of power to Solomon after David's death (1 Kin. 1–2).

Think About It: When is it time to forget failings and focus on victories? When is it time to focus on failings to repair damage and choose a better path?

Starting Over

1 Chr. 15:25–28

The Israelites experienced a fresh start when David took the throne. Saul had been a poor ruler, and to a large extent his kingdom had been a failure. With David in command, the people's hope was renewed, highlighted by the ark's arrival in Jerusalem.

This theme of new beginnings is prominent in Scripture. Note these examples of spiritual renewals and revivals:

Jacob (Gen. 35:9–15)

Soon after Jacob healed the rift with his estranged brother Esau, a Canaanite raped Jacob's daughter Dinah (Gen. 34). The incident and the episode of revenge that followed gave Jacob an alarming awareness of how far his family had fallen from obedience to God. He led them to repent and renew their worship at Bethel (35:1–4). There God gave Jacob a new name, Israel ("He Strives with God").

The Israelites Under Samuel (1 Sam. 7:3–5)

The Israelites foolishly allowed the Philistines to capture the ark of God. Only God's intervention brought it home (see "The Capture and Return of the Ark" at 1 Sam. 5:11). But the ark stayed at Kirjath Jearim for twenty years, far from the tabernacle at Shiloh. The Israelites spent two decades lamenting the ark's absence, and during that time Israel grew cold toward God and began to serve idols. Eventually Samuel assembled the people and called them to start over by returning to God, abandoning idolatry, and obeying the Law. The people fasted and confessed their sins. The Lord heard their prayers and immediately led them in victory over the Philistines (7:5–11). Samuel commemorated the new beginning by setting up a monument called Ebenezer ("Stone of Help").

Josiah (2 Kin. 22–23)

Josiah, the boy king of Judah, succeeded his father Amon and grandfather Manasseh, two of the southern kingdom's worst kings. But Josiah initiated major reforms that included temple repairs (2 Kin. 22:1–7). During the renovation, workmen discovered the Book of the Law, likely a portion of Deuteronomy. When the book was read to Josiah, he tore his clothes in sorrow over his people's departure from the Lord. He began a major purge of Judah's idols and restored righteous worship at the temple (23:1–27).

Ezra (Ezra 7–10)

Ezra, Nehemiah, and others partnered to restore the Jews to their land after seventy years of exile under the Babylonians and Persians. The priest Zerubbabel initiated the return (Ezra 2:1, 2; 3:1, 2). Ezra received permission to lead a second group to advance temple construction (7:11–20; 8:15–36). This was another new start for God's people. Chief among the changes was a call to purity and strict observance of the Law, as seen in the divorce of pagan spouses (9:1–10:44).

The Early Church (Acts 11:26)

As faith in Jesus spread among first-century Jews, some of the new believers arrived in Antioch, where they shared the gospel with Hellenists, Greek-speaking Jews not originally from Palestine. The result was a multiethnic church that led the way in sending messengers throughout the Roman world with the news of God's grace (13:1–5). Some Jewish Christians worried about non-Jews coming into the church. Eventually a council investigated the issue and produced a statement that opened the church to all who believe in Christ (15:1–35). The church—itself a new movement—experienced a new beginning as it expanded outside Judea.

Patterns in our personal lives, family, work, church, or community can grow monotonous or even sinful as time passes. We need to reinvent, reform, or renew habits and relationships in order to make fresh starts that honor God and benefit ourselves and others.

More: The church made a new beginning in race relations. The most significant new start we can make is beginning a new life in Christ. Then that new start gives the foundation for other new starts God directs us to make. See "New Creatures with New Character" at Gal. 5:22, 23.

Think About It: Name two fresh starts in your life that have honored God, benefited others and benefited you.

God Above All Gods

1 Chr. 16:23–30

Christianity teaches that its God is the one true God. Critics reject that claim, but the Bible states unequivocally that the Lord is above all other gods. As the creator and sustainer of life, He alone deserves worship.

Most ancient cultures served many gods, most associated with nature. Canaanite deities, for example, were said to increase harvests and birth rates (see "The Abominations of the Canaanites" at Lev. 18:24–30 and "The Gods of the Canaanites" at Deut. 32:39). The Hebrews' belief in one supreme God was a rare exception.

People today serve a variety of gods and often subscribe to conflicting ideas about the gods they worship. Acceptance of one supreme God seems unpopular in our pluralistic world. But God has not changed. He still invites—and commands—all the peoples of the earth to give Him the glory He deserves. Our worship is not an expression of intolerance but a response to the truth of God's complete and loving sovereignty.

Enduring Mercy
1 Chr. 16:34

The assertion that God's mercy "endures forever" is inherent in the meaning of the term mercy (Hebrew: chesed). The word is not related to the concept of pity; rather, it means that human beings can count on God to carry out His promises. See "Imitate the God of Mercy" at Deuteronomy 7:9.

Home at Last
1 Chr. 16:43

When David brought the ark of God to the tabernacle in Jerusalem, he put worship at the center of the nation. God's presence (symbolized by the ark), God's chosen people, God's land, and God's appointed king were all brought together. The Lord and His people were home at last.

But David felt restless living in his house of cedar (1 Chr. 17:1). How could he enjoy a luxurious dwelling when the ark was housed in a tent? The tabernacle had served well as a portable worship center during Israel's journey to the Promised Land. Now David felt it was time to build a permanent house for the Lord.

For David, the temple symbolized permanence, security, and rest. His passion to build a house for the Lord may have been related to his years as a fugitive on the run from Saul (1 Sam. 18–31). David eventually came into his kingdom, but it was a long road getting there. The ark had also traveled a difficult road, even after its original journey to the land of Canaan (see "The Capture and Return of the Ark" at 1 Sam. 5:11). Now David wanted this symbol of God's presence and guidance to reside in a place with at least as much comfort and security as he had.

Mapping the Life of David

1 Chr. 17:1

1. David is born at Bethlehem and tends his father's sheep there (1 Sam. 17:12, 15).
2. David becomes a harpist in Saul's court at the capital city of Gibeah (1 Sam. 16:23).
3. The young shepherd boy kills the giant Goliath in the Valley of Elah (1 Sam 17:19, 45–50).
4. David flees from Saul and hides at Nob, where Ahimelech the priest gives him showbread to eat. As a result, Saul has 85 priests of Nob executed (1 Sam. 21:1–9; 22:6–23).
5. David hides from Saul at Gath and Keilah (1 Sam. 21:10–15; 23:1–13).

6. David makes Ziklag his headquarters during Saul's pursuit (1 Sam. 27).
7. After becoming king of Judah, David makes Hebron his capital (2 Sam. 2:1–4).
8. David reigns at Jerusalem as king of Israel (2 Sam. 5:1–5).
9. King David logs victories over the Edomites, the Moabites, the Ammonites, the Amalekites, and the Philistines (2 Sam. 8:11, 12).

David's Foolish Conquest

1 Chr. 20:1–3

David's choice to linger at Jerusalem while his troops attacked the Ammonites led to his sin with Bathsheba. Neither the incident nor its aftermath receives any mention in 1 Chronicles, but David's moral failure led to severe troubles in his family and kingdom (see "Admit Early, Don't Cover Up" at 2 Sam. 11:4, 5).

David was unwise to send Joab against the Ammonites at all. No Ammonite was allowed to join the people of Israel, and God told the Israelites never to seek their peace or prosperity (Deut. 23:3–6). But the Israelites were also commanded not to seize Ammonite territory, because the Lord had assigned it to Lot's descendants (2:19). While David may have been justified in dominating Ammon militarily, he did not have the right to capture its cities and make the Ammonites his servants.

Unfinished Business
1 Chr. 20:4

The Israelites would not have had to fight the battle at Gezer if they had completed the task of conquering Canaan. Gezer had been allotted to the tribe of Ephraim and even designated as a Levitical city (see "The Levitical Cities" at Josh. 21:1–3), yet it was never conquered. The Philistines maintained control of it, and the city aggravated the Israelites throughout their history.

Don't Assume It's Harmless
1 Chr. 21:2–8

David's insistence on counting Israel's inhabitants may seem like a harmless administrative exercise, but it ultimately imperiled the nation. The episode's tragic outcome offers crucial lessons to anyone in a position of authority.

- Listen when advisors dissent. David ignored advice from his closest counselors not to conduct the census. David's general Joab recognized that the king was defying God's will. He and his captains warned that a census was unnecessary, and the general was so incensed that he outright refused to count the Levites and Benjamites. Proverbs 11:14 says that people fail when counsel is lacking, but people also err when counsel is ignored. As leaders, it is important for us to listen to trustworthy advisors, even when we don't like what they say. Their reservations could signal trouble.

- Follow God's will. The Bible does not explain David's reasons for conducting a census, but scholars have developed theories about his motivation. He may have wished to assess his military strength or he may have been preparing to draft labor to construct the temple (1 Chr. 17:1–6; 22:1–5; see also "Solomon's Census" at 2 Chr. 2:17, 18). Whatever the reason, the census was not a part of God's plan (1 Chr. 21:7). As leaders, we must prayerfully consider whether our ideas go against God's will and look to His clear instructions in Scripture.
- Recognize that choices affect others. The king's stubbornness resulted in the deaths of seventy thousand subjects. When we are in a position of authority, our decisions have the power to affect many innocent people. As leaders it is our vital responsibility to consider the consequences of our decisions on others. The potential results of being wrong can far outweigh the potential results of being right.

A Song of Remorse

1 Chr. 21:8

David made a foolish decision when he insisted on taking a census of his people. But he had the honesty to admit his sin to the Lord. Psalm 69 may have been composed on this occasion, because it expresses David's remorse for allowing his sin to affect countless others. Read that mournful song in conjunction with this passage.

Making Preparations
1 Chr. 22:5

As David neared the end of his life, he undertook extensive preparations to ready his son Solomon to build the temple. The structure could rightly be called David and Solomon's temple because its location, design, materials, furnishings, interior layout, and instruments were largely put in place by David prior to his death (1 Chr. 21:25, 26; 22:1; 28:11–21; 2 Chr. 7:6). His astute planning encourages us to evaluate the preparations we make for our successors. Our habits at home can empower our children to understand God's ways. Our example can lead our fellow Christians. Our character and quality of work can give coworkers something of substance to build on. In all things, we should endeavor to enhance the success of those who come after us.

Public Accountability
1 Chr. 28:8

For David, holding officials publicly accountable was a fundamental principle of his reign. He charged the kingdom's leaders to follow God's ways with transparency.

Visibility is essential to accountability. By submitting themselves to open scrutiny, leaders help to ensure that their actions and decisions are honest and effective. David's charge to Israel's leaders suggests three ways to promote accountability:

- Allow others to review plans and performance. David had developed plans for the temple with the Lord's help (1 Chr. 28:11–19). But as he passed them to Solomon, he pointed out that professionals and craftsmen had the freedom to refine the plans and the systems for carrying out the work (28:21).
- Act within a community of others. Leaders need to benefit from others' advice and perspective. David called all of Israel to work with his son to accomplish the task of constructing the temple (29:1–9).
- Acknowledge God's presence in everything. Most importantly, Solomon and his leaders were tasked with searching the Lord's commandments and showing Him respect in everything they did. They were ultimately accountable to Him.

We have frequent opportunities to open ourselves up to formal and informal feedback from others. By placing ourselves in a place of accountability, we protect our integrity and promote our development.

Spirit-Filled Planning

1 Chr. 28:11–19

Most people consider insightful planning to be a skill innately possessed by born leaders or developed over time by experienced managers. But Scripture describes a further dimension to planning: the wisdom of God's Spirit.

As David crafted plans for the temple, Scripture relates that God impressed on David exactly what He wanted to be done. The king said that the Lord communicated "in writing, by His hand upon me, all the works of these plans." It was as if God gave David a blueprint for the project. The process recalls another story of building, when the Lord instructed Noah to build a boat and gave him the details for its design (Gen. 6:13–21). God also gave Moses meticulously detailed plans for the construction of the tabernacle and its layout, contents, and rituals (Ex. 25–31; Lev. 1–7).

Today the Holy Spirit is available to every Christian (Acts 2:38, 39) to offer insight into plans and preparation. From what we observe of the Spirit's work in the New Testament, there are at least three characteristics of Spirit-filled planning that apply to most situations.

1. Spirit-filled planning reveals and glorifies God's character. The Spirit reveals the things of Jesus to bring glory to Him (John 16:14). As we seek the Spirit's help, He shapes our plans to honor the Lord and His values.
2. Spirit-filled planning prepares the way for others to succeed. While God does not guarantee His people worldly success, He intends for us to successfully accomplish meaningful work (Eph. 4:12). Spirit-filled planning uses our abilities and resources to meet others' needs and not just our own.
3. Spirit-filled planning has breadth and depth. The Spirit helps us achieve God's ultimate objective, the "praise of His glory" (Eph. 1:12), and to carry out His will in specific, measurable ways (5:1–21). The Spirit is not limited by our needs, experiences, or desires. God empowers us with the Spirit so that we might carry out His will in all things, proclaiming His glory in big ways and small.

Overcoming Obstacles

1 Chr. 28:20, 21

Planning is a valuable prelude to almost any endeavor. But plans will fail to produce results if they ignore four significant obstacles. David's advice to Solomon points out these barriers and shows ways around them.

- Lack of strength—the inability to do what is necessary to get the job done. David promised not only God's help but also the help of skilled workers.
- Lack of courage—the failure to stay on course when the task looks discouraging or overwhelming. David promised that God's presence would free Solomon from fear.

- Lack of follow-through—the inability or unwillingness to move from good intentions into effective action. David put countless willing craftsman and servants at Solomon's command.
- Lack of faith—the decision not to trust or make the most of God's insight and power. Only Solomon could choose to believe that God stood ready to help, and only he could act in obedient faith.

As we consider the challenges and tasks that God puts before us, one of these barriers may stand between our plans and the execution of our plans. But David's God-inspired advice can help us overcome any obstacle.

A History of Money
1 Chr. 29:8

The Israelites collected vast reserves of precious metals and stones both as raw resources for constructing the temple as well as for the purchase of other materials (1 Chr. 22:14; 29:2–5). Israel was slow to adopt coin currency, perhaps because the images minted on coins may have been considered violations of the Law's prohibition against graven images (Ex. 20:4–6). Coins were not widely exchanged in Israel until after the Babylonian exile.

From Barter to Metals

Prior to coins, goods were bartered as a way of exchanging value. Land became an important but less convenient medium than produce, especially livestock. Grain, oil, wine, and spices were also popular items of trade.

Metals gradually replaced goods and services as items of exchange. Copper or bronze was in demand for weapons, farming tools, and religious offerings. Early Egyptians and others shaped gold and silver into rings, bars, or rounded nodules for easier trading. Scripture records that Jacob's children used "bundles of money" (Gen. 42:35), possibly metal rings held together with string.

Silver became especially important in real estate transactions. Omri purchased the village and hill of Samaria for two talents of silver (1 Kin. 16:24; compare Gen. 23:15, 16; 2 Sam. 24:24). In fact, silver became so commonly used that the Hebrew word for silver came to denote any form of money (Gen. 17:13).

Gold was used for major transactions. King Hiram of Tyre paid one hundred and twenty talents of gold to Solomon for several cities near his land (1 Kin. 9:13, 14). Later, Hezekiah paid Sennacherib three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold to obtain peace (2 Kin. 18:14). Silver, gold, and copper (probably a copper-bronze alloy) were used after the Exile to mint Israel's first coins.

Standardized Value

Early forms of metallic money were usually in their raw form or in poorer stages of refinement. It was difficult to transport and to determine its true value, so metals began to be refined into wedges or bars of standardized weight and value (Josh. 7:21). Gold and silver were also kept as ingots, vessels, dust, or small fragments that could be melted and used immediately. These small pieces of metal were often carried in leather pouches that could be easily hidden (Gen. 42:35).

The term shekel has confused modern scholars because it did not at first denote any one value or weight, although it later became the name of a Jewish coin. The Bible also refers to forms of currency whose value were fractions of the shekel (Ex. 38:26; Lev. 27:25; Neh. 10:32). These were probably fragments of gold or silver bars rather than shaped coins.

The largest unit of silver was the talent, shaped in pellets or rings, with approximately the value of one ox.

Metal currency was eventually standardized into the form of coins, then stamped to designate their value. Coins were still weighed, however, since edges were easily trimmed or filed. Ancient coins often show marks indicating that they were probed to assure their authenticity—that they were solid and not merely plated with a more valuable metal.

The basic unit of Roman coinage was the silver denarius, probably equal to a laborer's daily wage, as in the parable of the vineyard workers (Matt. 20:9, 10, 13). It was also used to pay taxes to the Roman emperor, whose image it bore. Jesus was shown a denarius by Pharisees who wanted to trick him into opposing Roman taxation (22:15–22).

Scripture warns believers against the love of money but money itself is not evil (see "Christians and Money" at 1 Tim. 6:6–19). Instead, the Bible encourages us to work to provide for our needs as well as to help others (see "A Command to Work" at 2 Thess. 3:6–12). Money itself should never be our goal. Rather, if we remember everything belongs to God and we are merely stewards of His possessions, we set our hearts on the good money can accomplish when handled wisely.

Think About It: List several money principles you've learned from Scripture. Then list two circumstance in which you'll use each.

The Book of 2 Chronicles opens with a confident statement about the reign of Solomon: “The LORD his God was with him and exalted him exceedingly” (2 Chr. 1:1). However, although Solomon was at first a faithful servant of the Lord, he eventually turned away from God. This led to the division of Israel, and under two rulers whose dynasties were largely characterized by rebellion against God’s commands, the Israelites were soon defeated by their enemies and sent into captivity. Solomon was a great man, but he and his successors also chose flaws that the Book of 2 Chronicles tends to de-emphasize or even overlook.

The markedly optimistic posture of 1 and 2 Chronicles is one of several ways that the books differ from the history recounted in 2 Samuel and 1 and 2 Kings (see “More Than a Repeat of Kings” at 1 Chr. 1:1). For example, the books of 1 and 2 Chronicles deal less with the political history of the monarchy and more with the spiritual topic of the temple. Originally a single book, Chronicles was likely composed after the Jews left captivity in Babylon and returned home to Jerusalem.

The Book of 2 Chronicles begins where the Book of 1 Chronicles leaves off. After David’s death (1 Chr. 29:28), his son Solomon takes the throne (2 Chr. 1:1). In keeping with its positive presentation of Israel’s heritage, the account omits the intrigue that enveloped Solomon’s rise to the throne, as well as the king’s later failures. Solomon’s wisdom, wealth, power, and fame appear on full display, and several of the book’s early chapters detail his design, construction, and completion of a magnificent temple. After the king’s prayer of dedication for the temple (6:12–42), in which he acknowledges the Lord's special presence and the people's need to adhere to His covenant, a rush of God's glory fills the temple (7:1).

Second Chronicles 7:14–16, part of Solomon's dedicatory prayer, illustrates the grand theme of this book of the Bible:

> If my people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land. Now My eyes will be open and My ears attentive to prayer made in this place. For now I have chosen and sanctified this house, that My name may be there forever; and My eyes and My heart will be there perpetually.

The Lord's humbled people had come back to Him, and God had restored them to the Promised Land. Now it was time for them to live up to their identity as God's people.

Second Chronicles ends on a joyful note as Cyrus, king of Persia, proclaims that God has commanded him to build Him a house in Jerusalem. Cyrus thus allowed all willing Jews to return to their homeland (36:22, 23), setting the stage for the rebuilding of the temple and the Holy City outlined in the books of Ezra and Nehemiah.

The historical narrative of 2 Chronicles begins with the reign of Solomon (970 B.C.) and ends with Cyrus's decree (536 B.C.). The geography of Chronicles is the same as that of Samuel and Kings—the territory of Israel, with some references to other nations and regions of the Middle East—with the difference that Judah is the focal point for most of the action (see the map at "The Captives of the Israelites" at 2 Chr. 36:20).

Key People in 2 Chronicles

- Uzziah, a king who cultivated vineyards (2 Chr. 26:10).
- Ahaz, a king of Judah whose political compromises led to death or deportation for hundreds of thousands (2 Chr. 28:1).
- Manasseh, a king who reportedly had the prophet Isaiah sawn in two (2 Chr. 33:1).
- Huldah, a prophetess who told young King Josiah that God would honor his faith and obedience (2 Chr. 34:22).

Key Events in 2 Chronicles

2 Chronicles 1

Solomon Requests Wisdom

1 Now Solomon the son of David was strengthened in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him and exalted him exceedingly. Unsatisfied with Success

2 And Solomon spoke to all Israel, to the captains of thousands and of hundreds, to the judges, and to every leader in all Israel, the heads of the fathers' houses.

3 Then Solomon, and all the assembly with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon; for the tabernacle of meeting with God was there, which Moses the servant of the LORD had made in the wilderness.

4 But David had brought up the ark of God from Kirjath Jearim to the place David had prepared for it, for he had pitched a tent for it at Jerusalem.

5 Now the bronze altar that Bezalel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, had made, he put[a] before the tabernacle of the LORD; Solomon and the assembly sought Him there.

6 And Solomon went up there to the bronze altar before the LORD, which was at the tabernacle of meeting, and offered a thousand burnt offerings on it.

7 On that night God appeared to Solomon, and said to him, "Ask! What shall I give you?"

8 And Solomon said to God: "You have shown great mercy to David my father, and have made me king in his place.

9 "Now, O LORD God, let Your promise to David my father be established, for You have made me king over a people like the dust of the earth in multitude.

10 "Now give me wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people; for who can judge this great people of Yours?" Give Me Wisdom

11 Then God said to Solomon: “Because this was in your heart, and you have not asked riches or wealth or honor or the life of your enemies, nor have you asked long life—but have asked wisdom and knowledge for yourself, that you may judge My people over whom I have made you king—12 “wisdom and knowledge are granted to you; and I will give you riches and wealth and honor, such as none of the kings have had who were before you, nor shall any after you have the like.”

Solomon’s Military and Economic Power

13 So Solomon came to Jerusalem from the high place that was at Gibeon, from before the tabernacle of meeting, and reigned over Israel.
14 And Solomon gathered chariots and horsemen; he had one thousand four hundred chariots and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he stationed in the chariot cities and with the king in Jerusalem.
15 Also the king made silver and gold as common in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedars as abundant as the sycamores which are in the lowland.
16 And Solomon had horses imported from Egypt and Keveh; the king’s merchants bought them in Keveh at the current price.
17 They also acquired and imported from Egypt a chariot for six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for one hundred and fifty; thus, through their agents,[b] they exported them to all the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Syria.

2 Chronicles 2

Solomon Prepares to Build the Temple

1 Then Solomon determined to build a temple for the name of the LORD, and a royal house for himself.
2 Solomon selected seventy thousand men to bear burdens, eighty thousand to quarry stone in the mountains, and three thousand six hundred to oversee them.
3 Then Solomon sent to Hiram[a] king of Tyre, saying:

> As you have dealt with David my father, and sent him > cedars to build himself a house to dwell in, so deal
> with me.
> 4 Behold, I am building a temple for the name of the > LORD my God, to dedicate it to Him, to burn before > Him sweet incense, for the continual showbread, for > the burnt offerings morning and evening, on the > Sabbaths, on the New Moons, and on the set feasts of > the LORD our God. This is an ordinance forever to > Israel.
> 5 And the temple which I build will be great, for our > God is greater than all gods.
> 6 But who is able to build Him a temple, since heaven > and the heaven of heavens cannot contain Him? Who > am I then, that I should build Him a temple, except to > burn sacrifice before Him?
> 7 Therefore send me at once a man skillful to work in > gold and silver, in bronze and iron, in purple and > crimson and blue, who has skill to engrave with the > skillful men who are with me in Judah and Jerusalem, > whom David my father provided.
> 8 Also send me cedar and cypress and algum logs from > Lebanon, for I know that your servants have skill to cut timber in Lebanon; and indeed my servants will be with your servants, 9to prepare timber for me in abundance, for the temple which I am about to build shall be great and wonderful.

10And indeed I will give to your servants, the woodsmen who cut timber, twenty thousand kors of ground wheat, twenty thousand kors of barley, twenty thousand baths of wine, and twenty thousand baths of oil.

11Then Hiram king of Tyre answered in writing, which he sent to Solomon:

Because the LORD loves His people, He has made you king over them.

12Hiram[b] also said:

Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who made heaven and earth, for He has given King David a wise son, endowed with prudence and understanding, who will build a temple for the LORD and a royal house for himself!
13And now I have sent a skillful man, endowed with understanding, Huram[c] my master[d] craftsman Bringing Plans into Action
14(the son of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre), skilled to work in gold and silver, bronze and iron, stone and wood, purple and blue, fine linen and crimson, and to make any engraving and to accomplish any plan which may be given to him, with your skillful men and with the skillful men of my lord David your father.

15 Now therefore, the wheat, the barley, the oil, and the wine which my lord has spoken of, let him send to his servants.
16 And we will cut wood from Lebanon, as much as you need; we will bring it to you in rafts by sea to Joppa, and you will carry it up to Jerusalem.

17 Then Solomon numbered all the aliens who were in the land of Israel, after the census in which David his father had numbered them; and there were found to be one hundred and fifty-three thousand six hundred. Solomon's Census

18 And he made seventy thousand of them bearers of burdens, eighty thousand stonecutters in the mountain, and three thousand six hundred overseers to make the people work.

2 Chronicles 3

Solomon Builds the Temple

1 Now Solomon began to build the house of the LORD at Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, where the LORD[a] had appeared to his father David, at the place that David had prepared on the threshing floor of Ornan[b] the Jebusite.
2 And he began to build on the second day of the second month in the fourth year of his reign.
3 This is the foundation which Solomon laid for building the house of God: The length was sixty cubits (by cubits according to the former measure) and the width twenty cubits.
4 And the vestibule that was in front of the sanctuary[c] was twenty cubits long across the width of the house, and the height was one hundred and[d] twenty. He overlaid the inside with pure gold.
5 The larger room[e] he paneled with cypress which he overlaid with fine gold, and he carved palm trees and chainwork on it.
6 And he decorated the house with precious stones for beauty, and the gold was gold from Parvaim.
7 He also overlaid the house—the beams and doorposts, its walls and doors—with gold; and he carved cherubim on the walls.
8 And he made the Most Holy Place. Its length was according to the width of the house, twenty cubits, and its width twenty cubits. He overlaid it with six hundred talents of fine gold.
9 The weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold; and he overlaid the upper area with gold.

10 In the Most Holy Place he made two cherubim, fashioned by carving, and overlaid them with gold.
11 The wings of the cherubim were twenty cubits in overall length: one wing of the one cherub was five cubits, touching the wall of the room, and the other wing was five cubits, touching the wing of the other cherub;
12 one wing of the other cherub was five cubits, touching the wall of the room, and the other wing also was five cubits, touching the wing of the other cherub.
13 The wings of these cherubim spanned twenty cubits overall. They stood on their feet, and they faced inward.
14 And he made the veil of blue, purple, crimson, and fine linen, and wove cherubim into it.
15 Also he made in front of the temple[f] two pillars thirty-five[g] cubits high, and the capital that was on the top of each of them was five cubits.
16 He made wreaths of chainwork, as in the inner sanctuary, and put them on top of the pillars; and he made one hundred pomegranates, and put them on the wreaths of chainwork.
17 Then he set up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand and the other on the left; he called the name of the one on the right hand Jachin, and the name of the one on the left Boaz.

2 Chronicles 4

Furnishings of the Temple

1 Moreover he made a bronze altar: twenty cubits was its length, twenty cubits its width, and ten cubits its height.

2 Then he made the Sea of cast bronze, ten cubits from one brim to the other; it was completely round. Its height was five cubits, and a line of thirty cubits measured its circumference.

3 And under it was the likeness of oxen encircling it all around, ten to a cubit, all the way around the Sea. The oxen were cast in two rows, when it was cast.

4 It stood on twelve oxen: three looking toward the north, three looking toward the west, three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east; the Sea was set upon them, and all their back parts pointed inward.

5 It was a handbreadth thick; and its brim was shaped like the brim of a cup, like a lily blossom. It contained three thousand[a] baths.

6 He also made ten lavers, and put five on the right side and five on the left, to wash in them; such things as they offered for the burnt offering they would wash in them, but the Sea was for the priests to wash in.

7 And he made ten lampstands of gold according to their design, and set them in the temple, five on the right side and five on the left.

8 He also made ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right side and five on the left. And he made one hundred bowls of gold.

9 Furthermore he made the court of the priests, and the great court and doors for the court; and he overlaid these doors with bronze.

10 He set the Sea on the right side, toward the southeast.

11 Then Huram made the pots and the shovels and the bowls. So Huram finished doing the work that he was to do for King Solomon for the house of God:

12 the two pillars and the bowl-shaped capitals that were on top of the two pillars; the two networks covering the two bowl-shaped capitals which were on top of the pillars;

13 four hundred pomegranates for the two networks (two rows of pomegranates for each network, to cover the two bowl-shaped capitals that were on the pillars);

14 he also made carts and the lavers on the carts;

15 one Sea and twelve oxen under it;

16 also the pots, the shovels, the forks—and all their articles Huram his master[b] craftsman made of burnished bronze for King Solomon for the house of the LORD.

17 In the plain of Jordan the king had them cast in clay molds, between Succoth and Zeredah.[c]

18 And Solomon had all these articles made in such great abundance that the weight of the bronze was not determined.

19 Thus Solomon had all the furnishings made for the house of God: the altar of gold and the tables on which was the showbread;

20 the lampstands with their lamps of pure gold, to burn in the prescribed manner in front of the inner sanctuary,

21 with the flowers and the lamps and the wick-trimmers of gold, of purest gold;

22 the trimmers, the bowls, the ladles, and the censers of pure gold. As for the entry of the sanctuary, its inner doors to the Most Holy Place, and the doors of the main hall of the temple, were gold.

2 Chronicles 5

1So all the work that Solomon had done for the house of the LORD was finished; and Solomon brought in the things which his father David had dedicated: the silver and the gold and all the furnishings. And he put them in the treasuries of the house of God.

The Ark Brought into the Temple

2Now Solomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the heads of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Israel, in Jerusalem, that they might bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD up from the City of David, which is Zion.
3Therefore all the men of Israel assembled with the king at the feast, which was in the seventh month.
4So all the elders of Israel came, and the Levites took up
the ark.
5Then they brought up the ark, the tabernacle of meeting, and all the holy furnishings that were in the tabernacle. The priests and the Levites brought them up.
6Also King Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel who were assembled with him before the ark, were sacrificing sheep and oxen that could not be counted or numbered for multitude.
7Then the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place, into the inner sanctuary of the temple,[a] to the Most Holy Place, under the wings of the cherubim.
8For the cherubim spread their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubim overshadowed the ark and its poles.

9 The poles extended so that the ends of the poles of the ark could be seen from the holy place, in front of the inner sanctuary; but they could not be seen from outside. And they are there to this day.
10 Nothing was in the ark except the two tablets which Moses put there at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they had come out of Egypt.
11 And it came to pass when the priests came out of the Most Holy Place (for all the priests who were present had sanctified themselves, without keeping to their divisions), 12 and the Levites who were the singers, all those of Asaph and Heman and Jeduthun, with their sons and their brethren, stood at the east end of the altar, clothed in white linen, having cymbals, stringed instruments and harps, and with them one hundred and twenty priests sounding with trumpets—
13 indeed it came to pass, when the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the LORD, and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the LORD, saying:

> "For He is good,
> For His mercy endures forever,"[b]

that the house, the house of the LORD, was filled with a cloud, God Responds to Worship
14 so that the priests could not continue ministering because of the cloud; for the glory of the LORD filled the house of God.

2 Chronicles 6

1 Then Solomon spoke:

"The LORD said He would dwell in the dark
cloud.
2 I have surely built You an exalted house,
And a place for You to dwell in forever."

Solomon's Speech upon Completion of the Work

3 Then the king turned around and blessed the whole assembly of Israel, while all the assembly of Israel was standing.

4 And he said: "Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who has fulfilled with His hands what He spoke with His mouth to my father David, saying,

5 'Since the day that I brought My people out of the land of Egypt, I have chosen no city from any tribe of Israel in which to build a house, that My name might be there, nor did I choose any man to be a ruler over My people Israel.

6 'Yet I have chosen Jerusalem, that My name may be there, and I have chosen David to be over My people Israel.'

7 "Now it was in the heart of my father David to build a temple[a] for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

8 "But the LORD said to my father David, 'Whereas it was in your heart to build a temple for My name, you did well in that it was in your heart.

9 'Nevertheless you shall not build the temple, but your son who will come from your body, he shall build the temple for My name.'

10 "So the LORD has fulfilled His word which He spoke, and I have filled the position of my father David, and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised; and I have built the temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

11 “And there I have put the ark, in which is the covenant of the LORD which He made with the children of Israel.”

Solomon’s Prayer of Dedication

12 Then Solomon[b] stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the assembly of Israel, and spread out his hands

13 (for Solomon had made a bronze platform five cubits long, five cubits wide, and three cubits high, and had set it in the midst of the court; and he stood on it, knelt down on his knees before all the assembly of Israel, and spread out his hands toward heaven);

14 and he said: “LORD God of Israel, there is no God in heaven or on earth like You, who keep Your covenant and mercy with Your servants who walk before You with all their hearts.

15 “You have kept what You promised Your servant David my father; You have both spoken with Your mouth and fulfilled it with Your hand, as it is this day.

16 “Therefore, LORD God of Israel, now keep what You promised Your servant David my father, saying, ‘You shall not fail to have a man sit before Me on the throne of Israel, only if your sons take heed to their way, that they walk in My law as you have walked before Me.’

17 “And now, O LORD God of Israel, let Your word come true, which You have spoken to Your servant David.

18 “But will God indeed dwell with men on the earth? Behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain You. How much less this temple[c] which I have built! One Place for God’s Presence

19 “Yet regard the prayer of Your servant and his supplication, O LORD my God, and listen to the cry and the prayer which Your servant is praying before You:

20 “that Your eyes may be open toward this temple day and night, toward the place where You said You would put Your name, that You may hear the prayer which Your servant makes toward this place.
21 “And may You hear the supplications of Your servant and of Your people Israel, when they pray toward this place. Hear from heaven Your dwelling place, and when You hear, forgive.
22 “If anyone sins against his neighbor, and is forced to take an oath, and comes and takes an oath before Your altar in this temple,
23 “then hear from heaven, and act, and judge Your servants, bringing retribution on the wicked by bringing his way on his own head, and justifying the righteous by giving him according to his righteousness.
24 “Or if Your people Israel are defeated before an enemy because they have sinned against You, and return and confess Your name, and pray and make supplication before
You in this temple, 25 “then hear from heaven and forgive the sin of Your people Israel, and bring them back to the land which You gave to them and their fathers.
26 “When the heavens are shut up and there is no rain
because they have sinned against You, when they pray
toward this place and confess Your name, and turn from their sin because You afflict them,
27 “then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of Your servants, Your people Israel, that You may teach them the good way in which they should walk; and send rain on Your land which You have given to Your people as an inheritance.
28 “When there is famine in the land, pestilence or blight or mildew, locusts or grasshoppers; when their enemies

besiege them in the land of their cities; whatever plague or whatever sickness there is;

29 “whatever prayer, whatever supplication is made by anyone, or by all Your people Israel, when each one knows his own burden and his own grief, and spreads out his hands to this temple:

30 “then hear from heaven Your dwelling place, and forgive, and give to everyone according to all his ways, whose heart You know (for You alone know the hearts of the sons of men), 31 “that they may fear You, to walk in Your ways as long as they live in the land which You gave to our fathers.

32 “Moreover, concerning a foreigner, who is not of Your people Israel, but has come from a far country for the sake of Your great name and Your mighty hand and Your outstretched arm, when they come and pray in this temple;

Attracted to Israel’s God

33 “then hear from heaven Your dwelling place, and do according to all for which the foreigner calls to You, that all peoples of the earth may know Your name and fear You, as do Your people Israel, and that they may know that this temple which I have built is called by Your name.

34 “When Your people go out to battle against their enemies, wherever You send them, and when they pray to You toward this city which You have chosen and the temple which I have built for Your name, 35 “then hear from heaven their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.

36 “When they sin against You (for there is no one who does not sin), and You become angry with them and deliver them to the enemy, and they take them captive to a land far or near;

37 “yet when they come to themselves in the land where they were carried captive, and repent, and make supplication to You in the land of their captivity, saying, ‘We have sinned, we have done wrong, and have committed wickedness’;

38 “and when they return to You with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their captivity, where they have been carried captive, and pray toward their land which You gave to their fathers, the city which You have chosen, and toward the temple which I have built for Your name:

39 “then hear from heaven Your dwelling place their prayer and their supplications, and maintain their cause, and forgive Your people who have sinned against You.

40 “Now, my God, I pray, let Your eyes be open and let Your ears be attentive to the prayer made in this place.

41 “Now therefore,
Arise, O LORD God, to Your resting place,
You and the ark of Your strength.
Let Your priests, O LORD God, be clothed with salvation,
And let Your saints rejoice in goodness.
42 “O LORD God, do not turn away the face of Your Anointed;
Remember the mercies of Your servant
David.”[d]

2 Chronicles 7

Solomon Dedicates the Temple

1When Solomon had finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices;
and the glory of the LORD filled the temple.[a] The Glory of the Lord

2And the priests could not enter the house of the LORD, because the glory of the LORD had filled the LORD's house.

3When all the children of Israel saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD on the temple, they bowed their faces to the ground on the pavement, and worshiped and praised the LORD, saying:

> "For He is good,
> For His mercy endures forever."[b]

4Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices
before the LORD.

5King Solomon offered a sacrifice of twenty-two thousand bulls and one hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6And the priests attended to their services; the Levites also with instruments of the music of the LORD, which King David had made to praise the LORD, saying, "For His mercy endures forever,"[c] whenever David offered praise by their ministry. The priests sounded trumpets opposite them, while all Israel stood.

7Furthermore Solomon consecrated the middle of the court that was in front of the house of the LORD; for there he offered burnt offerings and the fat of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar which Solomon had made was not able to receive the burnt offerings, the grain offerings, and the fat.

8At that time Solomon kept the feast seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great assembly from the entrance of Hamath to the Brook of Egypt.[d]

9And on the eighth day they held a sacred assembly, for they observed the dedication of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days.

10On the twenty-third day of the seventh month he sent the people away to their tents, joyful and glad of heart for the good that the LORD had done for David, for Solomon, and for His people Israel.

11Thus Solomon finished the house of the LORD and the king's house; and Solomon successfully accomplished all that came into his heart to make in the house of the LORD and in his own house.

God's Second Appearance to Solomon

12Then the LORD appeared to Solomon by night, and said to him: "I have heard your prayer, and have chosen this place for Myself as a house of sacrifice.

13"When I shut up heaven and there is no rain, or command the locusts to devour the land, or send pestilence among My people, Forgiveness Follows Repentance

14"if My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land. National Renewal

15"Now My eyes will be open and My ears attentive to prayer made in this place.

16"For now I have chosen and sanctified this house, that My name may be there forever; and My eyes and My heart will be there perpetually.

17"As for you, if you walk before Me as your father David walked, and do according to all that I have commanded you, and if you keep My statutes and My judgments,

18 “then I will establish the throne of your kingdom, as I covenanted with David your father, saying, ‘You shall not fail to have a man as ruler in Israel.’ 19 “But if you turn away and forsake My statutes and My commandments which I have set before you, and go and serve other gods, and worship them, 20 “then I will uproot them from My land which I have given them; and this house which I have sanctified for My name I will cast out of My sight, and will make it a proverb and a byword among all peoples.
21 “And as for this house, which is exalted, everyone who passes by it will be astonished and say, ‘Why has the LORD done thus to this land and this house?’
22 “Then they will answer, ‘Because they forsook the LORD God of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and embraced other gods, and worshiped them and served them; therefore He has brought all this calamity on them.’ ”

2 Chronicles 8

Solomon's Additional Achievements

1 It came to pass at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the house of the LORD and his own house,
2 that the cities which Hiram[a] had given to Solomon, Solomon built them; and he settled the children of Israel
there.
3 And Solomon went to Hamath Zobah and seized it.
4 He also built Tadmor in the wilderness, and all the storage cities which he built in Hamath.
5 He built Upper Beth Horon and Lower Beth Horon, fortified cities with walls, gates, and bars, 6 also Baalath and all the storage cities that Solomon had,
and all the chariot cities and the cities of the cavalry, and all that Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion.
7 All the people who were left of the Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites, who were not of Israel—8 that is, their descendants who were left in the land after them, whom the children of Israel did not destroy—from these Solomon raised forced labor, as it is to this day.
9 But Solomon did not make the children of Israel servants for his work. Some were men of war, captains of his officers, captains of his chariots, and his cavalry.
10 And others were chiefs of the officials of King Solomon:
two hundred and fifty, who ruled over the people.
11 Now Solomon brought the daughter of Pharaoh up from the City of David to the house he had built for her, for he said, "My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel, because the places to which the ark of the LORD has come are holy."

12Then Solomon offered burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of the LORD which he had built before the vestibule, 13according to the daily rate, offering according to the commandment of Moses, for the Sabbaths, the New Moons, and the three appointed yearly feasts—the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Tabernacles.
14And, according to the order of David his father, he appointed the divisions of the priests for their service, the Levites for their duties (to praise and serve before the priests) as the duty of each day required, and the gatekeepers by their divisions at each gate; for so David the man of God had commanded.
15They did not depart from the command of the king to the priests and Levites concerning any matter or concerning the treasuries.
16Now all the work of Solomon was well-ordered from[b]
the day of the foundation of the house of the LORD until it was finished. So the house of the LORD was completed.
17Then Solomon went to Ezion Geber and Elath[c] on the seacoast, in the land of Edom.
18And Hiram sent him ships by the hand of his servants, and servants who knew the sea. They went with the servants of Solomon to Ophir, and acquired four hundred and fifty talents of gold from there, and brought it to King Solomon.

2 Chronicles 9

The Queen of Sheba's Praise of Solomon

1 Now when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to Jerusalem to test Solomon with hard questions, having a very great retinue, camels that bore spices, gold in abundance, and precious stones; and when she came to Solomon, she spoke with him about all that was in her heart.
2 So Solomon answered all her questions; there was nothing so difficult for Solomon that he could not explain it
to her.
3 And when the queen of Sheba had seen the wisdom of Solomon, the house that he had built,
4 the food on his table, the seating of his servants, the service of his waiters and their apparel, his cupbearers and their apparel, and his entryway by which he went up to the house of the LORD, there was no more spirit in her.
5 Then she said to the king: "It was a true report which I heard in my own land about your words and your wisdom.
6 "However I did not believe their words until I came and saw with my own eyes; and indeed the half of the greatness of your wisdom was not told me. You exceed the fame of which I heard.
7 "Happy are your men and happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you and hear your wisdom!
8 "Blessed be the LORD your God, who delighted in you, setting you on His throne to be king for the LORD your God! Because your God has loved Israel, to establish them forever, therefore He made you king over them, to do justice and righteousness."

9 And she gave the king one hundred and twenty talents of gold, spices in great abundance, and precious stones;
there never were any spices such as those the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

10 Also, the servants of Hiram and the servants of Solomon, who brought gold from Ophir, brought algum[a] wood and precious stones.

11 And the king made walkways of the algum[b] wood for the house of the LORD and for the king's house, also harps and stringed instruments for singers; and there were none such as these seen before in the land of Judah.

12 Now King Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all she desired, whatever she asked, much more than she had brought to the king. So she turned and went to her own country, she and her servants.

Solomon's Great Wealth

13 The weight of gold that came to Solomon yearly was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold,

14 besides what the traveling merchants and traders brought. And all the kings of Arabia and governors of the country brought gold and silver to Solomon.

15 And King Solomon made two hundred large shields of hammered gold; six hundred shekels of hammered gold went into each shield.

16 He also made three hundred shields of hammered gold; three hundred shekels[c] of gold went into each shield. The king put them in the House of the Forest of Lebanon.

17 Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 The throne had six steps, with a footstool of gold, which were fastened to the throne; there were armrests on either side of the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the armrests.

19 Twelve lions stood there, one on each side of the six steps; nothing like this had been made for any other kingdom.
20 All King Solomon's drinking vessels were gold, and all the vessels of the House of the Forest of Lebanon were pure gold. Not one was silver, for this was accounted as nothing in the days of Solomon.
21 For the king's ships went to Tarshish with the servants of Hiram.[d] Once every three years the merchant ships[e] came, bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes, and monkeys.[f] 22 So King Solomon surpassed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.
23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart.
24 Each man brought his present: articles of silver and gold, garments, armor, spices, horses, and mules, at a set rate year by year.
25 Solomon had four thousand stalls for horses and chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen whom he stationed in the chariot cities and with the king at Jerusalem.
26 So he reigned over all the kings from the River[g] to the land of the Philistines, as far as the border of Egypt.
27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedar trees as abundant as the sycamores which are in the lowland. Passing Prosperity 28 And they brought horses to Solomon from Egypt and from all lands.

Death of Solomon

29 Now the rest of the acts of Solomon, first and last, are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet, in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Iddo the seer concerning Jeroboam the son of Nebat?

30 Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel forty years.

31 Then Solomon rested with his fathers, and was buried in the City of David his father. And Rehoboam his son reigned in his place.

2 Chronicles 10

The Revolt Against Rehoboam

1 And Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had gone to Shechem to make him king.
2 So it happened, when Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard it (he was in Egypt, where he had fled from the presence of King Solomon), that Jeroboam returned from Egypt.
3 Then they sent for him and called him. And Jeroboam and all Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying, 4 "Your father made our yoke heavy; now therefore,
lighten the burdensome service of your father and his
heavy yoke which he put on us, and we will serve you."
5 So he said to them, "Come back to me after three days."
And the people departed.
6 Then King Rehoboam consulted the elders who stood before his father Solomon while he still lived, saying, "How do you advise me to answer these people?" 7 And they spoke to him, saying, "If you are kind to these people, and please them, and speak good words to them, they will be your servants forever."
8 But he rejected the advice which the elders had given him, and consulted the young men who had grown up with him, who stood before him.
9 And he said to them, "What advice do you give? How should we answer this people who have spoken to me,
saying, 'Lighten the yoke which your father put on us'?"
10 Then the young men who had grown up with him spoke to him, saying, "Thus you should speak to the people who have spoken to you, saying, 'Your father made our yoke heavy, but you make it lighter on us'—thus you shall say to them: ‘My little finger shall be thicker than my father’s waist!

11 ‘And now, whereas my father put a heavy yoke on you, I will add to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scourges!’ ”[a]

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king had directed, saying, “Come back to me the third day.”

13 Then the king answered them roughly. King Rehoboam rejected the advice of the elders,

14 and he spoke to them according to the advice of the young men, saying, “My father[b] made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scourges!”[c]

15 So the king did not listen to the people; for the turn of events was from God, that the LORD might fulfill His word, which He had spoken by the hand of Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

16 Now when all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, the people answered the king, saying:

> “What share have we in David?
> We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse.
> Every man to your tents, O Israel!
> Now see to your own house, O David!”

So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 But Rehoboam reigned over the children of Israel who dwelt in the cities of Judah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram, who was in charge of revenue; but the children of Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. Therefore King Rehoboam mounted his chariot in haste to flee to Jerusalem.

19 So Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

2 Chronicles 11

1 Now when Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he assembled from the house of Judah and Benjamin one hundred and eighty thousand chosen men who were warriors, to fight against Israel, that he might restore the kingdom to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 "Speak to Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah,
and to all Israel in Judah and Benjamin, saying,

4 'Thus says the LORD: "You shall not go up or fight against your brethren! Let every man return to his house, for this thing is from Me." ' " Therefore they obeyed the words of the LORD, and turned back from attacking Jeroboam.

Rehoboam Fortifies the Cities

5 So Rehoboam dwelt in Jerusalem, and built cities for defense in Judah.

6 And he built Bethlehem, Etam, Tekoa,

7 Beth Zur, Sochoh, Adullam,

8 Gath, Mareshah, Ziph,

9 Adoraim, Lachish, Azekah,

10 Zorah, Aijalon, and Hebron, which are in Judah and Benjamin, fortified cities.

11 And he fortified the strongholds, and put captains in them, and stores of food, oil, and wine.

12 Also in every city he put shields and spears, and made them very strong, having Judah and Benjamin on his side.

Priests and Levites Move to Judah

13And from all their territories the priests and the Levites who were in all Israel took their stand with him.

14For the Levites left their common-lands and their possessions and came to Judah and Jerusalem, for Jeroboam and his sons had rejected them from serving as priests to the LORD.

15Then he appointed for himself priests for the high places, for the demons, and the calf idols which he had made.

16And after the Levites left,[a] those from all the tribes of Israel, such as set their heart to seek the LORD God of Israel, came to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the LORD God of their fathers.

17So they strengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the son of Solomon strong for three years, because they walked in the way of David and Solomon for three years.

The Family of Rehoboam

18Then Rehoboam took for himself as wife Mahalath the daughter of Jerimoth the son of David, and of Abihail the daughter of Eliah the son of Jesse.

19And she bore him children: Jeush, Shamariah, and Zaham.

20After her he took Maachah the granddaughter[b] of Absalom; and she bore him Abijah, Attai, Ziza, and Shelomith.

21Now Rehoboam loved Maachah the granddaughter of Absalom more than all his wives and his concubines; for he took eighteen wives and sixty concubines, and begot twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters. Like Father, Like Son

22And Rehoboam appointed Abijah the son of Maachah as chief, to be leader among his brothers; for he intended to make him king.

[23]He dealt wisely, and dispersed some of his sons throughout all the territories of Judah and Benjamin, to every fortified city; and he gave them provisions in abundance. He also sought many wives for them.

2 Chronicles 12

Egypt Attacks Judah

1 Now it came to pass, when Rehoboam had established the kingdom and had strengthened himself, that he forsook the law of the LORD, and all Israel along with him.

2 And it happened in the fifth year of King Rehoboam that Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, because they had transgressed against the LORD,

3 with twelve hundred chariots, sixty thousand horsemen, and people without number who came with him out of Egypt—the Lubim and the Sukkiim and the Ethiopians.

4 And he took the fortified cities of Judah and came to Jerusalem.

5 Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah, who were gathered together in Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said to them, “Thus says the LORD: ‘You have forsaken Me, and therefore I also have left you in the hand of Shishak.’ ”

6 So the leaders of Israel and the king humbled themselves; and they said, “The LORD is righteous.”

7 Now when the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, saying, “They have humbled themselves; therefore I will not destroy them, but I will grant them some deliverance. My wrath shall not be poured out on Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 “Nevertheless they will be his servants, that they may distinguish My service from the service of the kingdoms of the nations.”

9 So Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and took away the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king’s house; he took everything. He also carried away the gold shields which Solomon had made.

10 Then King Rehoboam made bronze shields in their place, and committed them to the hands of the captains of the guard, who guarded the doorway of the king’s house.

11 And whenever the king entered the house of the LORD, the guard would go and bring them out; then they would take them back into the guardroom.

12 When he humbled himself, the wrath of the LORD turned from him, so as not to destroy him completely; and things also went well in Judah.

The End of Rehoboam’s Reign

13 Thus King Rehoboam strengthened himself in Jerusalem and reigned. Now Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he became king; and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put His name there. His mother’s name was Naamah, an Ammonitess.

14 And he did evil, because he did not prepare his heart to seek the LORD.

15 The acts of Rehoboam, first and last, are they not written in the book of Shemaiah the prophet, and of Iddo the seer concerning genealogies? And there were wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all their days.

16 So Rehoboam rested with his fathers, and was buried in the City of David. Then Abijah[a] his son reigned in his place.

2 Chronicles 13

Abijah Reigns in Judah

1 In the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam, Abijah became king over Judah.
2 He reigned three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Michaiah[a] the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah. And there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.
3 Abijah set the battle in order with an army of valiant warriors, four hundred thousand choice men. Jeroboam also drew up in battle formation against him with eight hundred thousand choice men, mighty men of valor.
4 Then Abijah stood on Mount Zemaraim, which is in the mountains of Ephraim, and said, "Hear me, Jeroboam and all Israel:
5 "Should you not know that the LORD God of Israel gave the dominion over Israel to David forever, to him and his sons, by a covenant of salt?
6 "Yet Jeroboam the son of Nebat, the servant of Solomon the son of David, rose up and rebelled against his lord.
7 "Then worthless rogues gathered to him, and strengthened themselves against Rehoboam the son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was young and inexperienced and could not withstand them.
8 "And now you think to withstand the kingdom of the LORD, which is in the hand of the sons of David; and you are a great multitude, and with you are the gold calves which Jeroboam made for you as gods.
9 "Have you not cast out the priests of the LORD, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and made for yourselves priests, like the peoples of other lands, so that whoever comes to consecrate himself with a young bull and seven rams may be a priest of things that are not gods?

10 “But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken Him; and the priests who minister to the LORD are the sons of Aaron, and the Levites attend to their duties.

11 “And they burn to the LORD every morning and every evening burnt sacrifices and sweet incense; they also set the showbread in order on the pure gold table, and the lampstand of gold with its lamps to burn every evening; for we keep the command of the LORD our God, but you have forsaken Him.

12 “Now look, God Himself is with us as our head, and His priests with sounding trumpets to sound the alarm against you. O children of Israel, do not fight against the LORD God of your fathers, for you shall not prosper!”

13 But Jeroboam caused an ambush to go around behind them; so they were in front of Judah, and the ambush was behind them.

14 And when Judah looked around, to their surprise the battle line was at both front and rear; and they cried out to the LORD, and the priests sounded the trumpets.

15 Then the men of Judah gave a shout; and as the men of Judah shouted, it happened that God struck Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Judah, and God delivered them into their hand.

17 Then Abijah and his people struck them with a great slaughter; so five hundred thousand choice men of Israel fell slain.

18 Thus the children of Israel were subdued at that time; and the children of Judah prevailed, because they relied on the LORD God of their fathers.

19 And Abijah pursued Jeroboam and took cities from him:
Bethel with its villages, Jeshanah with its villages, and Ephrain[b] with its villages.
20 So Jeroboam did not recover strength again in the days of Abijah; and the LORD struck him, and he died.
21 But Abijah grew mighty, married fourteen wives, and begot twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters.
22 Now the rest of the acts of Abijah, his ways, and his sayings are written in the annals of the prophet Iddo.

2 Chronicles 14

1So Abijah rested with his fathers, and they buried him in the City of David. Then Asa his son reigned in his place. In his days the land was quiet for ten years.

Asa Reigns in Judah

2Asa did what was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God, 3for he removed the altars of the foreign gods and the high places, and broke down the sacred pillars and cut down the wooden images.

4He commanded Judah to seek the LORD God of their fathers, and to observe the law and the commandment.

5He also removed the high places and the incense altars from all the cities of Judah, and the kingdom was quiet under him.

6And he built fortified cities in Judah, for the land had rest; he had no war in those years, because the LORD had given him rest.

7Therefore he said to Judah, “Let us build these cities and make walls around them, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us, because we have sought the LORD our God; we have sought Him, and He has given us rest on every side.” So they built and prospered.

8And Asa had an army of three hundred thousand from Judah who carried shields and spears, and from Benjamin two hundred and eighty thousand men who carried shields and drew bows; all these were mighty men of valor.

9Then Zerah the Ethiopian came out against them with an army of a million men and three hundred chariots, and he came to Mareshah.

10So Asa went out against him, and they set the troops in battle array in the Valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.

11And Asa cried out to the LORD his God, and said, “LORD, it is nothing for You to help, whether with many or with those who have no power; help us, O LORD our God, for we rest on You, and in Your name we go against this multitude. O LORD, You are our God; do not let man prevail against You!” Prayer Is More Than a Last Resort

12So the LORD struck the Ethiopians before Asa and Judah, and the Ethiopians fled. The Ethiopians

13And Asa and the people who were with him pursued them to Gerar. So the Ethiopians were overthrown, and they could not recover, for they were broken before the LORD and His army. And they carried away very much spoil.

14Then they defeated all the cities around Gerar, for the fear of the LORD came upon them; and they plundered all the cities, for there was exceedingly much spoil in them.

15They also attacked the livestock enclosures, and carried off sheep and camels in abundance, and returned to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 15

The Reforms of Asa

1 Now the Spirit of God came upon Azariah the son of Oded.
2 And he went out to meet Asa, and said to him: “Hear me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin. The LORD is with you while you are with Him. If you seek Him, He will be found by you; but if you forsake Him, He will forsake you.
3 “For a long time Israel has been without the true God, without a teaching priest, and without law;
4 “but when in their trouble they turned to the LORD God of Israel, and sought Him, He was found by them.
5 “And in those times there was no peace to the one who went out, nor to the one who came in, but great turmoil was on all the inhabitants of the lands.
6 “So nation was destroyed by nation, and city by city, for God troubled them with every adversity.
7 “But you, be strong and do not let your hands be weak, for your work shall be rewarded!”
8 And when Asa heard these words and the prophecy of Oded[a] the prophet, he took courage, and removed the abominable idols from all the land of Judah and Benjamin and from the cities which he had taken in the mountains of Ephraim; and he restored the altar of the LORD that was before the vestibule of the LORD.
9 Then he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and those who dwelt with them from Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon, for they came over to him in great numbers from Israel when they saw that the LORD his God was with him.
10 So they gathered together at Jerusalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa.

11 And they offered to the LORD at that time seven hundred bulls and seven thousand sheep from the spoil they had brought.
12 Then they entered into a covenant to seek the LORD God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul;
13 and whoever would not seek the LORD God of Israel was to be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman.
14 Then they took an oath before the LORD with a loud voice, with shouting and trumpets and rams' horns. Creeds and Confessions 15 And all Judah rejoiced at the oath, for they had sworn with all their heart and sought Him with all their soul; and He was found by them, and the LORD gave them rest all around.
16 Also he removed Maachah, the mother of Asa the king, from being queen mother, because she had made an obscene image of Asherah;[b] and Asa cut down her obscene image, then crushed and burned it by the Brook Kidron.
17 But the high places were not removed from Israel.
Nevertheless the heart of Asa was loyal all his days.
18 He also brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicated and that he himself had dedicated:
silver and gold and utensils.
19 And there was no war until the thirty-fifth year of the reign of Asa.

2 Chronicles 16

Asa's Treaty with Syria

1In the thirty-sixth year of the reign of Asa, Baasha king of Israel came up against Judah and built Ramah, that he might let none go out or come in to Asa king of Judah.
2Then Asa brought silver and gold from the treasuries of the house of the LORD and of the king's house, and sent to Ben-Hadad king of Syria, who dwelt in Damascus, saying, 3"Let there be a treaty between you and me, as there was between my father and your father. See, I have sent you silver and gold; come, break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel, so that he will withdraw from me." 4So Ben-Hadad heeded King Asa, and sent the captains of his armies against the cities of Israel. They attacked Ijon, Dan, Abel Maim, and all the storage cities of Naphtali.
5Now it happened, when Baasha heard it, that he stopped building Ramah and ceased his work.
6Then King Asa took all Judah, and they carried away the stones and timber of Ramah, which Baasha had used for building; and with them he built Geba and Mizpah.

Hanani's Message to Asa

7And at that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah, and said to him: "Because you have relied on the king of Syria, and have not relied on the LORD your God, therefore the army of the king of Syria has escaped from your hand.
8"Were the Ethiopians and the Lubim not a huge army with very many chariots and horsemen? Yet, because you relied on the LORD, He delivered them into your hand.

9 “For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show Himself strong on behalf of those whose heart is loyal to Him. In this you have done foolishly; therefore from now on you shall have wars.” 10 Then Asa was angry with the seer, and put him in prison, for he was enraged at him because of this. And Asa oppressed some of the people at that time. Prisoners for God

Illness and Death of Asa

11 Note that the acts of Asa, first and last, are indeed written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.
12 And in the thirty-ninth year of his reign, Asa became diseased in his feet, and his malady was severe; yet in his disease he did not seek the LORD, but the physicians.
13 So Asa rested with his fathers; he died in the forty-first year of his reign.
14 They buried him in his own tomb, which he had made for himself in the City of David; and they laid him in the bed which was filled with spices and various ingredients prepared in a mixture of ointments. They made a very great burning for him.

2 Chronicles 17

Jehoshaphat Reigns in Judah

1 Then Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place, and strengthened himself against Israel.
2 And he placed troops in all the fortified cities of Judah, and set garrisons in the land of Judah and in the cities of Ephraim which Asa his father had taken.
3 Now the LORD was with Jehoshaphat, because he walked in the former ways of his father David; he did not seek the Baals,
4 but sought the God[a] of his father, and walked in His commandments and not according to the acts of Israel.
5 Therefore the LORD established the kingdom in his hand; and all Judah gave presents to Jehoshaphat, and he had riches and honor in abundance.
6 And his heart took delight in the ways of the LORD;
moreover he removed the high places and wooden images from Judah.
7 Also in the third year of his reign he sent his leaders, Ben-Hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethanel, and Michaiah, to teach in the cities of Judah.
8 And with them he sent Levites: Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Asahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah,
Tobijah, and Tobadonijah—the Levites; and with them
Elishama and Jehoram, the priests.
9 So they taught in Judah, and had the Book of the Law of the LORD with them; they went throughout all the cities of Judah and taught the people.
10 And the fear of the LORD fell on all the kingdoms of the lands that were around Judah, so that they did not make war against Jehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistines brought Jehoshaphat presents and silver as tribute; and the Arabians brought him flocks, seven thousand seven hundred rams and seven thousand seven hundred male goats.
12 So Jehoshaphat became increasingly powerful, and he built fortresses and storage cities in Judah.
13 He had much property in the cities of Judah; and the men of war, mighty men of valor, were in Jerusalem.
14 These are their numbers, according to their fathers' houses. Of Judah, the captains of thousands: Adnah the captain, and with him three hundred thousand mighty men of valor;
15 and next to him was Jehohanan the captain, and with him two hundred and eighty thousand; 16 and next to him was Amasiah the son of Zichri, who willingly offered himself to the LORD, and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of valor.
17 Of Benjamin: Eliada a mighty man of valor, and with him two hundred thousand men armed with bow and shield;
18 and next to him was Jehozabad, and with him one hundred and eighty thousand prepared for war.
19 These served the king, besides those the king put in the fortified cities throughout all Judah.

2 Chronicles 18

Micaiah Warns Ahab

1 Jehoshaphat had riches and honor in abundance; and by marriage he allied himself with Ahab.

2 After some years he went down to visit Ahab in Samaria; and Ahab killed sheep and oxen in abundance for him and the people who were with him, and persuaded him to go up with him to Ramoth Gilead.

3 So Ahab king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, "Will you go with me against Ramoth Gilead?" And he answered him, "I am as you are, and my people as your people; we will be with you in the war."

4 Also Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "Please inquire for the word of the LORD today."

5 Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together, four hundred men, and said to them, "Shall we go to war against Ramoth Gilead, or shall I refrain?" So they said, "Go up, for God will deliver it into the king's hand."

6 But Jehoshaphat said, "Is there not still a prophet of the LORD here, that we may inquire of Him?"[a]

7 So the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "There is still one man by whom we may inquire of the LORD; but I hate him, because he never prophesies good concerning me, but always evil. He is Micaiah the son of Imla." And Jehoshaphat said, "Let not the king say such things!"

8 Then the king of Israel called one of his officers and said, "Bring Micaiah the son of Imla quickly!"

9 The king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah, clothed in their robes, sat each on his throne; and they sat at a threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria;
and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 Now Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah had made horns
of iron for himself; and he said, “Thus says the LORD: ‘With these you shall gore the Syrians until they are destroyed.’ ”
11 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, “Go up to Ramoth Gilead and prosper, for the LORD will deliver it into the king’s hand.”
12 Then the messenger who had gone to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, “Now listen, the words of the prophets with one accord encourage the king. Therefore please let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak encouragement.”
13 And Micaiah said, “As the LORD lives, whatever my God says, that I will speak.”
14 Then he came to the king; and the king said to him, “Micaiah, shall we go to war against Ramoth Gilead, or shall I refrain?” And he said, “Go and prosper, and they shall be delivered into your hand!”
15 So the king said to him, “How many times shall I make you swear that you tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?”
16 Then he said, “I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, ‘These have no master. Let each return to his house in peace.’ ”
17 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Did I not tell you he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?”
18 Then Micaiah said, “Therefore hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on His throne, and all the host of heaven standing on His right hand and His left.
19 “And the LORD said, ‘Who will persuade Ahab king of Israel to go up, that he may fall at Ramoth Gilead?’ So one spoke in this manner, and another spoke in that manner.

20 “Then a spirit came forward and stood before the LORD, and said, ‘I will persuade him.’ The LORD said to him, ‘In what way?’
21 “So he said, ‘I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.’ And the LORD said, ‘You shall persuade him and also prevail; go out and do so.’ 22 “Therefore look! The LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouth of these prophets of yours, and the LORD has declared disaster against you.”
23 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah went near and struck Micaiah on the cheek, and said, “Which way did the spirit from the LORD go from me to speak to you?”
24 And Micaiah said, “Indeed you shall see on that day
when you go into an inner chamber to hide!”
25 Then the king of Israel said, “Take Micaiah, and return him to Amon the governor of the city and to Joash the
king’s son;
26 “and say, ‘Thus says the king: “Put this fellow in prison,
and feed him with bread of affliction and water of affliction,
until I return in peace.” ’ ”
27 But Micaiah said, “If you ever return in peace, the LORD has not spoken by me.” And he said, “Take heed, all you people!”

Ahab Dies in Battle

28 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah
went up to Ramoth Gilead.
29 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and go into battle; but you put on your robes.” So the king of Israel disguised himself, and they went into battle.
30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots who were with him, saying, “Fight with no one small or great, but only with the king of Israel.”

31So it was, when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, “It is the king of Israel!” Therefore they surrounded him to attack; but Jehoshaphat cried out, and the LORD helped him, and God diverted them from him.

32For so it was, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned back from pursuing him.

34The battle increased that day, and the king of Israel propped himself up in his chariot facing the Syrians until evening; and about the time of sunset he died.

2 Chronicles 19

1Then Jehoshaphat the king of Judah returned safely to his house in Jerusalem.
2And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him, and said to King Jehoshaphat, “Should you help the wicked and love those who hate the LORD? Therefore the wrath of the LORD is upon you.
3“Nevertheless good things are found in you, in that you have removed the wooden images from the land, and have prepared your heart to seek God.”

The Reforms of Jehoshaphat

4So Jehoshaphat dwelt at Jerusalem; and he went out again among the people from Beersheba to the mountains of Ephraim, and brought them back to the LORD God of their fathers.
5Then he set judges in the land throughout all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city, God-Fearing Judges 6and said to the judges, “Take heed to what you are doing, for you do not judge for man but for the LORD, who is with you in the judgment.
7“Now therefore, let the fear of the LORD be upon you;
take care and do it, for there is no iniquity with the LORD our God, no partiality, nor taking of bribes.” 8Moreover in Jerusalem, for the judgment of the LORD and for controversies, Jehoshaphat appointed some of the Levites and priests, and some of the chief fathers of Israel, when they returned to Jerusalem.[a] 9And he commanded them, saying, “Thus you shall act in the fear of the LORD, faithfully and with a loyal heart:

10 “Whatever case comes to you from your brethren who dwell in their cities, whether of bloodshed or offenses against law or commandment, against statutes or ordinances, you shall warn them, lest they trespass against the LORD and wrath come upon you and your brethren. Do this, and you will not be guilty.
11 “And take notice: Amariah the chief priest is over you in all matters of the LORD; and Zebadiah the son of Ishmael, the ruler of the house of Judah, for all the king’s matters;
also the Levites will be officials before you. Behave courageously, and the LORD will be with the good.”

2 Chronicles 20

Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir Defeated

1It happened after this that the people of Moab with the people of Ammon, and others with them besides the Ammonites,[a] came to battle against Jehoshaphat.

2Then some came and told Jehoshaphat, saying, “A great multitude is coming against you from beyond the sea, from Syria;[b] and they are in Hazazon Tamar” (which is En Gedi).

3And Jehoshaphat feared, and set himself to seek the LORD, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Judah. A Nationwide Fast

4So Judah gathered together to ask help from the LORD; and from all the cities of Judah they came to seek the LORD.

5Then Jehoshaphat stood in the assembly of Judah and Jerusalem, in the house of the LORD, before the new court, 6and said: “O LORD God of our fathers, are You not God in heaven, and do You not rule over all the kingdoms of the nations, and in Your hand is there not power and might, so that no one is able to withstand You?

7“Are You not our God, who drove out the inhabitants of this land before Your people Israel, and gave it to the descendants of Abraham Your friend forever?

8“And they dwell in it, and have built You a sanctuary in it for Your name, saying,

9‘If disaster comes upon us—sword, judgment, pestilence, or famine—we will stand before this temple and in Your presence (for Your name is in this temple), and cry out to You in our affliction, and You will hear and save.’

10“And now, here are the people of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir—whom You would not let Israel invade when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they turned from them and did not destroy them—

11 “here they are, rewarding us by coming to throw us out of Your possession which You have given us to inherit.

12 “O our God, will You not judge them? For we have no power against this great multitude that is coming against us; nor do we know what to do, but our eyes are upon You.”

13 Now all Judah, with their little ones, their wives, and their children, stood before the LORD.

14 Then the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jahaziel the son of Zechariah, the son of Benaiah, the son of Jeiel, the son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, in the midst of the assembly.

15 And he said, “Listen, all you of Judah and you inhabitants of Jerusalem, and you, King Jehoshaphat! Thus says the LORD to you: ‘Do not be afraid nor dismayed because of this great multitude, for the battle is not yours, but God’s.

16 ‘Tomorrow go down against them. They will surely come up by the Ascent of Ziz, and you will find them at the end of the brook before the Wilderness of Jeruel.

17 ‘You will not need to fight in this battle. Position yourselves, stand still and see the salvation of the LORD, who is with you, O Judah and Jerusalem!’ Do not fear or be dismayed; tomorrow go out against them, for the LORD is with you.”

18 And Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem bowed before the LORD, worshiping the LORD.

19 Then the Levites of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Korahites stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with voices loud and high.

20 So they rose early in the morning and went out into the Wilderness of Tekoa; and as they went out, Jehoshaphat stood and said, “Hear me, O Judah and you inhabitants of Jerusalem: Believe in the LORD your God, and you shall be established; believe His prophets, and you shall prosper.”

21 And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed those who should sing to the LORD, and who should praise the beauty of holiness, as they went out before the army and were saying:

> “Praise the LORD,
> For His mercy endures forever.”[c]

22 Now when they began to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushes against the people of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, who had come against Judah; and they were defeated.

23 For the people of Ammon and Moab stood up against the inhabitants of Mount Seir to utterly kill and destroy them. And when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, they helped to destroy one another.

24 So when Judah came to a place overlooking the wilderness, they looked toward the multitude; and there were their dead bodies, fallen on the earth. No one had escaped.

25 When Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away their spoil, they found among them an abundance of valuables on the dead bodies,[d] and precious jewelry, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away; and they were three days gathering the spoil because there was so much.

26 And on the fourth day they assembled in the Valley of Berachah, for there they blessed the LORD; therefore the name of that place was called The Valley of Berachah[e] until this day.

27 Then they returned, every man of Judah and Jerusalem, with Jehoshaphat in front of them, to go back to Jerusalem with joy, for the LORD had made them rejoice over their enemies.

28 So they came to Jerusalem, with stringed instruments and harps and trumpets, to the house of the LORD.

29 And the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of those countries when they heard that the LORD had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 Then the realm of Jehoshaphat was quiet, for his God gave him rest all around.

The End of Jehoshaphat's Reign

31 So Jehoshaphat was king over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of his father Asa, and did not turn aside from it, doing what was right in the sight of the LORD.

33 Nevertheless the high places were not taken away, for as yet the people had not directed their hearts to the God of their fathers.

34 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, first and last, indeed they are written in the book of Jehu the son of Hanani, which is mentioned in the book of the kings of Israel.

35 After this Jehoshaphat king of Judah allied himself with Ahaziah king of Israel, who acted very wickedly.

36 And he allied himself with him to make ships to go to Tarshish, and they made the ships in Ezion Geber.

37 But Eliezer the son of Dodavah of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, "Because you have allied yourself with Ahaziah, the LORD has destroyed your works." Then the ships were wrecked, so that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

2 Chronicles 21

Jehoram Reigns in Judah

1 And Jehoshaphat rested with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the City of David. Then Jehoram his son reigned in his place.

2 He had brothers, the sons of Jehoshaphat: Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azaryahu, Michael, and Shephatiah; all these were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Israel.

3 Their father gave them great gifts of silver and gold and precious things, with fortified cities in Judah; but he gave the kingdom to Jehoram, because he was the firstborn.

4 Now when Jehoram was established over the kingdom of his father, he strengthened himself and killed all his brothers with the sword, and also others of the princes of Israel.

5 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, just as the house of Ahab had done, for he had the daughter of Ahab as a wife; and he did evil in the sight of the LORD.

7 Yet the LORD would not destroy the house of David, because of the covenant that He had made with David, and since He had promised to give a lamp to him and to his sons forever.

8 In his days Edom revolted against Judah's authority, and made a king over themselves.

9 So Jehoram went out with his officers, and all his chariots with him. And he rose by night and attacked the Edomites who had surrounded him and the captains of the chariots.

10 Thus Edom has been in revolt against Judah’s authority to this day. At that time Libnah revolted against his rule, because he had forsaken the LORD God of his fathers.
11 Moreover he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to commit harlotry, and led Judah astray.
12 And a letter came to him from Elijah the prophet,
saying,

> Thus says the LORD God of your father David:
> Because you have not walked in the ways of > Jehoshaphat your father, or in the ways of Asa king of > Judah,
> 13 but have walked in the way of the kings of Israel, > and have made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem > to play the harlot like the harlotry of the house of > Ahab, and also have killed your brothers, those of your > father’s household, who were better than yourself, > 14 behold, the LORD will strike your people with a > serious affliction—your children, your wives, and all > your possessions;
> 15 and you will become very sick with a disease of your > intestines, until your intestines come out by reason of > the sickness, day by day.

16 Moreover the LORD stirred up against Jehoram the spirit of the Philistines and the Arabians who were near the Ethiopians.
17 And they came up into Judah and invaded it, and carried away all the possessions that were found in the king’s house, and also his sons and his wives, so that there was not a son left to him except Jehoahaz,[a] the youngest of his sons.
18 After all this the LORD struck him in his intestines with an incurable disease.

19 Then it happened in the course of time, after the end of two years, that his intestines came out because of his sickness; so he died in severe pain. And his people made no burning for him, like the burning for his fathers.
20 He was thirty-two years old when he became king. He reigned in Jerusalem eight years and, to no one’s sorrow, departed. However they buried him in the City of David,
but not in the tombs of the kings.

2 Chronicles 22

Ahaziah Reigns in Judah

1Then the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahaziah his youngest son king in his place, for the raiders who came with the Arabians into the camp had killed all the older sons. So Ahaziah the son of Jehoram, king of Judah, reigned.

2Ahaziah was forty-two[a] years old when he became king, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah the granddaughter of Omri.

3He also walked in the ways of the house of Ahab, for his mother advised him to do wickedly.

4Therefore he did evil in the sight of the LORD, like the house of Ahab; for they were his counselors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5He also followed their advice, and went with Jehoram[b]
the son of Ahab king of Israel to war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth Gilead; and the Syrians wounded Joram.

6Then he returned to Jezreel to recover from the wounds which he had received at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Azariah[c] the son of Jehoram, king of Judah, went down to see Jehoram the son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was sick.

7His going to Joram was God's occasion for Ahaziah's downfall; for when he arrived, he went out with Jehoram against Jehu the son of Nimshi, whom the LORD had anointed to cut off the house of Ahab.

8And it happened, when Jehu was executing judgment on the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah and the sons of Ahaziah's brothers who served Ahaziah, that he killed them.

9 Then he searched for Ahaziah; and they caught him (he was hiding in Samaria), and brought him to Jehu. When they had killed him, they buried him, “because,” they said, “he is the son of Jehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with all his heart.” So the house of Ahaziah had no one to assume power over the kingdom.

Athaliah Reigns in Judah

10 Now when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the royal heirs of the house of Judah.
11 But Jehoshabeath,[d] the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him away from among the king’s sons who were being murdered, and put him and his nurse in a bedroom. So Jehoshabeath, the daughter of King Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah), hid him from Athaliah so that she did not kill him.
12 And he was hidden with them in the house of God for six years, while Athaliah reigned over the land.

2 Chronicles 23

Joash Crowned King of Judah

1 In the seventh year Jehoiada strengthened himself, and made a covenant with the captains of hundreds: Azariah the son of Jeroham, Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, Azariah the son of Obed, Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri.

2 And they went throughout Judah and gathered the Levites from all the cities of Judah, and the chief fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

3 Then all the assembly made a covenant with the king in the house of God. And he said to them, “Behold, the king’s son shall reign, as the LORD has said of the sons of David.

4 “This is what you shall do: One-third of you entering on the Sabbath, of the priests and the Levites, shall be keeping watch over the doors;

5 “one-third shall be at the king’s house; and one-third at the Gate of the Foundation. All the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD.

6 “But let no one come into the house of the LORD except the priests and those of the Levites who serve. They may go in, for they are holy; but all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD.

7 “And the Levites shall surround the king on all sides, every man with his weapons in his hand; and whoever comes into the house, let him be put to death. You are to be with the king when he comes in and when he goes out.”

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all that Jehoiada the priest commanded. And each man took his men who were to be on duty on the Sabbath, with those who were going off duty on the Sabbath; for Jehoiada the priest had not dismissed the divisions.

9And Jehoiada the priest gave to the captains of hundreds the spears and the large and small shields which had belonged to King David, that were in the temple of God.

10Then he set all the people, every man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and by the temple, all around the king.

11And they brought out the king's son, put the crown on him, gave him the Testimony,[a] and made him king. Then Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, "Long live the king!"

Death of Athaliah

12Now when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people in the temple of the LORD.

13When she looked, there was the king standing by his pillar at the entrance; and the leaders and the trumpeters were by the king. All the people of the land were rejoicing and blowing trumpets, also the singers with musical instruments, and those who led in praise. So Athaliah tore her clothes and said, "Treason! Treason!"

14And Jehoiada the priest brought out the captains of hundreds who were set over the army, and said to them, "Take her outside under guard, and slay with the sword whoever follows her." For the priest had said, "Do not kill her in the house of the LORD."

15So they seized her; and she went by way of the entrance of the Horse Gate into the king's house, and they killed her there.

16Then Jehoiada made a covenant between himself, the people, and the king, that they should be the LORD's people.

17 And all the people went to the temple[b] of Baal, and tore it down. They broke in pieces its altars and images, and killed Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 Also Jehoiada appointed the oversight of the house of the LORD to the hand of the priests, the Levites, whom David had assigned in the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the Law of Moses, with rejoicing and with singing, as it was established by David.

19 And he set the gatekeepers at the gates of the house of the LORD, so that no one who was in any way unclean should enter.

20 Then he took the captains of hundreds, the nobles, the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought the king down from the house of the LORD; and they went through the Upper Gate to the king's house, and set the king on the throne of the kingdom.

21 So all the people of the land rejoiced; and the city was quiet, for they had slain Athaliah with the sword.

2 Chronicles 24

Joash Repairs the Temple

1 Joash was seven years old when he became king, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah of Beersheba.
2 Joash did what was right in the sight of the LORD all the days of Jehoiada the priest.
3 And Jehoiada took two wives for him, and he had sons and daughters.
4 Now it happened after this that Joash set his heart on repairing the house of the LORD.
5 Then he gathered the priests and the Levites, and said to them, "Go out to the cities of Judah, and gather from all Israel money to repair the house of your God from year to year, and see that you do it quickly." However the Levites did not do it quickly.
6 So the king called Jehoiada the chief priest, and said to him, "Why have you not required the Levites to bring in from Judah and from Jerusalem the collection, according to the commandment of Moses the servant of the LORD and of the assembly of Israel, for the tabernacle of witness?" 7 For the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken into the house of God, and had also presented all the dedicated things of the house of the LORD to the Baals.
8 Then at the king's command they made a chest, and set it outside at the gate of the house of the LORD.
9 And they made a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem to bring to the LORD the collection that Moses the servant of God had imposed on Israel in the wilderness.
10 Then all the leaders and all the people rejoiced, brought their contributions, and put them into the chest until all had given.

11So it was, at that time, when the chest was brought to the king's official by the hand of the Levites, and when they saw that there was much money, that the king's scribe and the high priest's officer came and emptied the chest, and took it and returned it to its place. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.

12The king and Jehoiada gave it to those who did the work of the service of the house of the LORD; and they hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also those who worked in iron and bronze to restore the house of the LORD.

13So the workmen labored, and the work was completed by them; they restored the house of God to its original condition and reinforced it.

14When they had finished, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Jehoiada; they made from it articles for the house of the LORD, articles for serving and offering, spoons and vessels of gold and silver. And they offered burnt offerings in the house of the LORD continually all the days of Jehoiada.

Apostasy of Joash

15But Jehoiada grew old and was full of days, and he died; he was one hundred and thirty years old when he died.

16And they buried him in the City of David among the kings, because he had done good in Israel, both toward God and His house.

17Now after the death of Jehoiada the leaders of Judah came and bowed down to the king. And the king listened to them. Indispensable Role Models

18Therefore they left the house of the LORD God of their fathers, and served wooden images and idols; and wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem because of their trespass.

19 Yet He sent prophets to them, to bring them back to the LORD; and they testified against them, but they would not listen.

20 Then the Spirit of God came upon Zechariah the son of Jehoiada the priest, who stood above the people, and said to them, “Thus says God: ‘Why do you transgress the commandments of the LORD, so that you cannot prosper?
Because you have forsaken the LORD, He also has forsaken
you.’ ”

21 So they conspired against him, and at the command of the king they stoned him with stones in the court of the house of the LORD.

22 Thus Joash the king did not remember the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but killed his son; and as he died, he said, “The LORD look on it, and repay!”

Death of Joash

23 So it happened in the spring of the year that the army of Syria came up against him; and they came to Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the leaders of the people from among the people, and sent all their spoil to the king of Damascus.

24 For the army of the Syrians came with a small company of men; but the LORD delivered a very great army into their hand, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers. So they executed judgment against Joash.

25 And when they had withdrawn from him (for they left him severely wounded), his own servants conspired against him because of the blood of the sons[a] of Jehoiada the priest, and killed him on his bed. So he died. And they buried him in the City of David, but they did not bury him in the tombs of the kings.

26These are the ones who conspired against him: Zabad[b] the son of Shimeath the Ammonitess, and Jehozabad the son of Shimrith[c] the Moabitess.

27Now concerning his sons, and the many oracles about him, and the repairing of the house of God, indeed they are written in the annals of the book of the kings. Then Amaziah his son reigned in his place.

2 Chronicles 25

Amaziah Reigns in Judah

1 Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.
2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, but not with a loyal heart. Half-Hearted Devotion
3 Now it happened, as soon as the kingdom was established for him, that he executed his servants who had murdered his father the king.
4 However he did not execute their children, but did as it is written in the Law in the Book of Moses, where the LORD commanded, saying, "The fathers shall not be put to death for their children, nor shall the children be put to death for their fathers; but a person shall die for his own sin."[a]

The War Against Edom

5 Moreover Amaziah gathered Judah together and set over them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, according to their fathers' houses, throughout all Judah and Benjamin; and he numbered them from twenty years old and above, and found them to be three hundred thousand choice men, able to go to war, who could handle spear and shield.
6 He also hired one hundred thousand mighty men of valor from Israel for one hundred talents of silver.
7 But a man of God came to him, saying, "O king, do not let the army of Israel go with you, for the LORD is not with Israel—not with any of the children of Ephraim.

8 “But if you go, be gone! Be strong in battle! Even so, God shall make you fall before the enemy; for God has power to help and to overthrow.” 9 Then Amaziah said to the man of God, “But what shall we do about the hundred talents which I have given to the troops of Israel?” And the man of God answered, “The LORD is able to give you much more than this.”
10 So Amaziah discharged the troops that had come to him from Ephraim, to go back home. Therefore their anger was greatly aroused against Judah, and they returned home in great anger.
11 Then Amaziah strengthened himself, and leading his people, he went to the Valley of Salt and killed ten thousand of the people of Seir.
12 Also the children of Judah took captive ten thousand alive, brought them to the top of the rock, and cast them down from the top of the rock, so that they all were dashed in pieces.
13 But as for the soldiers of the army which Amaziah had discharged, so that they would not go with him to battle, they raided the cities of Judah from Samaria to Beth Horon, killed three thousand in them, and took much spoil.
14 Now it was so, after Amaziah came from the slaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the gods of the people of Seir, set them up to be his gods, and bowed down before them and burned incense to them.
15 Therefore the anger of the LORD was aroused against Amaziah, and He sent him a prophet who said to him, “Why have you sought the gods of the people, which could not rescue their own people from your hand?”
16 So it was, as he talked with him, that the king said to him, “Have we made you the king’s counselor? Cease! Why should you be killed?” Then the prophet ceased, and said,

“I know that God has determined to destroy you, because you have done this and have not heeded my advice.”

Israel Defeats Judah

17 Now Amaziah king of Judah asked advice and sent to Joash[b] the son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, “Come, let us face one another in battle.”

18 And Joash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, “The thistle that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, ‘Give your daughter to my son as wife’; and a wild beast that was in Lebanon passed by and trampled the thistle.

19 “Indeed you say that you have defeated the Edomites, and your heart is lifted up to boast. Stay at home now; why should you meddle with trouble, that you should fall—you and Judah with you?”

20 But Amaziah would not heed, for it came from God, that He might give them into the hand of their enemies, because they sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Joash king of Israel went out; and he and Amaziah king of Judah faced one another at Beth Shemesh, which belongs to Judah.

22 And Judah was defeated by Israel, and every man fled to his tent.

23 Then Joash the king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Joash, the son of Jehoahaz, at Beth Shemesh; and he brought him to Jerusalem, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate—four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold and silver, all the articles that were found in the house of God with Obed-Edom, the treasures of the king’s house, and hostages, and returned to Samaria.

Death of Amaziah

25Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of Joash the son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel.
26Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, from first to last, indeed are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel?
27After the time that Amaziah turned away from following the LORD, they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish; but they sent after him to Lachish and killed him there.
28Then they brought him on horses and buried him with his fathers in the City of Judah.

2 Chronicles 26

Uzziah Reigns in Judah

1 Now all the people of Judah took Uzziah,[a] who was sixteen years old, and made him king instead of his father Amaziah.
2 He built Elath[b] and restored it to Judah, after the king rested with his fathers.
3 Uzziah was sixteen years old when he became king, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecholiah of Jerusalem.
4 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD,
according to all that his father Amaziah had done.
5 He sought God in the days of Zechariah, who had understanding in the visions[c] of God; and as long as he sought the LORD, God made him prosper.
6 Now he went out and made war against the Philistines, and broke down the wall of Gath, the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod; and he built cities around Ashdod and among the Philistines.
7 God helped him against the Philistines, against the Arabians who lived in Gur Baal, and against the Meunites.
8 Also the Ammonites brought tribute to Uzziah. His fame spread as far as the entrance of Egypt, for he became exceedingly strong.
9 And Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate, at the Valley Gate, and at the corner buttress of the wall; then he fortified them.
10 Also he built towers in the desert. He dug many wells, for he had much livestock, both in the lowlands and in the plains; he also had farmers and vinedressers in the mountains and in Carmel, for he loved the soil.

11Moreover Uzziah had an army of fighting men who went out to war by companies, according to the number on their roll as prepared by Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the officer, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king's captains.
12The total number of chief officers[d] of the mighty men of valor was two thousand six hundred.
13And under their authority was an army of three hundred and seven thousand five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king against the enemy.
14Then Uzziah prepared for them, for the entire army, shields, spears, helmets, body armor, bows, and slings to cast stones.
15And he made devices in Jerusalem, invented by skillful men, to be on the towers and the corners, to shoot arrows and large stones. So his fame spread far and wide, for he was marvelously helped till he became strong.

The Penalty for Uzziah's Pride

16But when he was strong his heart was lifted up, to his destruction, for he transgressed against the LORD his God by entering the temple of the LORD to burn incense on the altar of incense. Pride Goes Before a Fall 17So Azariah the priest went in after him, and with him were eighty priests of the LORD—valiant men.
18And they withstood King Uzziah, and said to him, "It is not for you, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD, but for the priests, the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to burn incense. Get out of the sanctuary, for you have trespassed!
You shall have no honor from the LORD God." 19Then Uzziah became furious; and he had a censer in his hand to burn incense. And while he was angry with the priests, leprosy broke out on his forehead, before the priests in the house of the LORD, beside the incense altar.

[20]And Azariah the chief priest and all the priests looked at him, and there, on his forehead, he was leprous; so they thrust him out of that place. Indeed he also hurried to get out, because the LORD had struck him.

[21]King Uzziah was a leper until the day of his death. He dwelt in an isolated house, because he was a leper; for he was cut off from the house of the LORD. Then Jotham his son was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.

22Now the rest of the acts of Uzziah, from first to last, the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz wrote.

[23]So Uzziah rested with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of burial which belonged to the kings, for they said, "He is a leper." Then Jotham his son reigned in his place.

2 Chronicles 27

Jotham Reigns in Judah

1 Jotham was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerushah[a] the daughter of Zadok.
2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah had done (although he did not enter the temple of the LORD). But still the people acted corruptly.
3 He built the Upper Gate of the house of the LORD, and he built extensively on the wall of Ophel.
4 Moreover he built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the forests he built fortresses and towers.
5 He also fought with the king of the Ammonites and defeated them. And the people of Ammon gave him in that year one hundred talents of silver, ten thousand kors of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. The people of Ammon paid this to him in the second and third years also.
6 So Jotham became mighty, because he prepared his ways before the LORD his God.
7 Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars and his ways, indeed they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.
8 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem.
9 So Jotham rested with his fathers, and they buried him in the City of David. Then Ahaz his son reigned in his place.

2 Chronicles 28

Ahaz Reigns in Judah

1 Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem; and he did not do what was right in the sight of the LORD, as his father David had done.
2 For he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and made molded images for the Baals.
3 He burned incense in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, and burned his children in the fire, according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel. Death Valley
4 And he sacrificed and burned incense on the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree.

Syria and Israel Defeat Judah

5 Therefore the LORD his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria. They defeated him, and carried away a great multitude of them as captives, and brought them to Damascus. Then he was also delivered into the hand of the king of Israel, who defeated him with a great slaughter.
6 For Pekah the son of Remaliah killed one hundred and twenty thousand in Judah in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers.
7 Zichri, a mighty man of Ephraim, killed Maaseiah the king's son, Azrikam the officer over the house, and Elkanah who was second to the king.
8 And the children of Israel carried away captive of their brethren two hundred thousand women, sons, and daughters; and they also took away much spoil from them, and brought the spoil to Samaria.

Israel Returns the Captives

9But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded; and he went out before the army that came to Samaria, and said to them: “Look, because the LORD God of your fathers was angry with Judah, He has delivered them into your hand; but you have killed them in a rage that reaches up to heaven.

10“And now you propose to force the children of Judah and Jerusalem to be your male and female slaves; but are you not also guilty before the LORD your God?

11“Now hear me, therefore, and return the captives, whom you have taken captive from your brethren, for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you.”

12Then some of the heads of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Meshillemoth, Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against those who came from the war,

13and said to them, “You shall not bring the captives here, for we already have offended the LORD. You intend to add to our sins and to our guilt; for our guilt is great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel.”

14So the armed men left the captives and the spoil before the leaders and all the assembly.

15Then the men who were designated by name rose up and took the captives, and from the spoil they clothed all who were naked among them, dressed them and gave them sandals, gave them food and drink, and anointed them; and they let all the feeble ones ride on donkeys. So they brought them to their brethren at Jericho, the city of palm trees. Then they returned to Samaria.

Assyria Refuses to Help Judah

16At the same time King Ahaz sent to the kings[a] of Assyria to help him.
17For again the Edomites had come, attacked Judah, and carried away captives.
18The Philistines also had invaded the cities of the lowland and of the South of Judah, and had taken Beth Shemesh, Aijalon, Gederoth, Sochoh with its villages, Timnah with its villages, and Gimzo with its villages; and they dwelt there.
19For the LORD brought Judah low because of Ahaz king of Israel, for he had encouraged moral decline in Judah and had been continually unfaithful to the LORD.
20Also Tiglath-Pileser[b] king of Assyria came to him and distressed him, and did not assist him.
21For Ahaz took part of the treasures from the house of the LORD, from the house of the king, and from the leaders, and he gave it to the king of Assyria; but he did not help him.

Apostasy and Death of Ahaz

22Now in the time of his distress King Ahaz became increasingly unfaithful to the LORD. This is that King Ahaz.
23For he sacrificed to the gods of Damascus which had defeated him, saying, “Because the gods of the kings of Syria help them, I will sacrifice to them that they may help me.” But they were the ruin of him and of all Israel.
24So Ahaz gathered the articles of the house of God, cut in pieces the articles of the house of God, shut up the doors of the house of the LORD, and made for himself altars in every corner of Jerusalem.
25And in every single city of Judah he made high places to burn incense to other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD God of his fathers.

26Now the rest of his acts and all his ways, from first to last, indeed they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

27So Ahaz rested with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, in Jerusalem; but they did not bring him into the tombs of the kings of Israel. Then Hezekiah his son reigned in his place.

2 Chronicles 29

Hezekiah Reigns in Judah

1 Hezekiah became king when he was twenty-five years old,
and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abijah[a] the daughter of Zechariah.

Hezekiah

2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD,
according to all that his father David had done.

Hezekiah Cleanses the Temple

3 In the first year of his reign, in the first month, he opened the doors of the house of the LORD and repaired
them.
4 Then he brought in the priests and the Levites, and gathered them in the East Square, 5 and said to them: "Hear me, Levites! Now sanctify yourselves, sanctify the house of the LORD God of your fathers, and carry out the rubbish from the holy place.
6 "For our fathers have trespassed and done evil in the eyes of the LORD our God; they have forsaken Him, have turned their faces away from the dwelling place of the LORD, and turned their backs on Him.
7 "They have also shut up the doors of the vestibule, put out the lamps, and have not burned incense or offered burnt offerings in the holy place to the God of Israel.
8 "Therefore the wrath of the LORD fell upon Judah and Jerusalem, and He has given them up to trouble, to desolation, and to jeering, as you see with your eyes.
9 "For indeed, because of this our fathers have fallen by the sword; and our sons, our daughters, and our wives are in captivity.

10 “Now it is in my heart to make a covenant with the LORD God of Israel, that His fierce wrath may turn away from us.
11 “My sons, do not be negligent now, for the LORD has chosen you to stand before Him, to serve Him, and that you should minister to Him and burn incense.” 12 Then these Levites arose: Mahath the son of Amasai and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites; of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi and Azariah the son of Jehallelel; of the Gershonites, Joah the son of Zimmah and Eden the son of Joah;
13 of the sons of Elizaphan, Shimri and Jeiel; of the sons of Asaph, Zechariah and Mattaniah; 14 of the sons of Heman, Jehiel and Shimei; and of the sons of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel.
15 And they gathered their brethren, sanctified themselves, and went according to the commandment of the king, at the words of the LORD, to cleanse the house of
the LORD.
16 Then the priests went into the inner part of the house of the LORD to cleanse it, and brought out all the debris that they found in the temple of the LORD to the court of the house of the LORD. And the Levites took it out and carried it to the Brook Kidron.
17 Now they began to sanctify on the first day of the first month, and on the eighth day of the month they came to the vestibule of the LORD. So they sanctified the house of the LORD in eight days, and on the sixteenth day of the first month they finished.
18 Then they went in to King Hezekiah and said, “We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, the altar of burnt offerings with all its articles, and the table of the showbread with all its articles.

19“Moreover all the articles which King Ahaz in his reign had cast aside in his transgression we have prepared and sanctified; and there they are, before the altar of the LORD.”

Hezekiah Restores Temple Worship

20Then King Hezekiah rose early, gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the house of the LORD.

21And they brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs, and seven male goats for a sin offering for the kingdom, for the sanctuary, and for Judah. Then he commanded the priests, the sons of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

22So they killed the bulls, and the priests received the blood and sprinkled it on the altar. Likewise they killed the rams and sprinkled the blood on the altar. They also killed the lambs and sprinkled the blood on the altar.

23Then they brought out the male goats for the sin offering before the king and the assembly, and they laid their hands on them.

24And the priests killed them; and they presented their blood on the altar as a sin offering to make an atonement for all Israel, for the king commanded that the burnt offering and the sin offering be made for all Israel.

25And he stationed the Levites in the house of the LORD with cymbals, with stringed instruments, and with harps, according to the commandment of David, of Gad the king’s seer, and of Nathan the prophet; for thus was the commandment of the LORD by His prophets.

26The Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

27Then Hezekiah commanded them to offer the burnt offering on the altar. And when the burnt offering began, the song of the LORD also began, with the trumpets and with the instruments of David king of Israel.

28 So all the assembly worshiped, the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded; all this continued until the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had finished offering, the king and all who were present with him bowed and worshiped.

30 Moreover King Hezekiah and the leaders commanded the Levites to sing praise to the LORD with the words of David and of Asaph the seer. So they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshiped.

31 Then Hezekiah answered and said, “Now that you have consecrated yourselves to the LORD, come near, and bring sacrifices and thank offerings into the house of the LORD.” So the assembly brought in sacrifices and thank offerings, and as many as were of a willing heart brought burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings which the assembly brought was seventy bulls, one hundred rams, and two hundred lambs; all these were for a burnt offering to the LORD.

33 The consecrated things were six hundred bulls and three thousand sheep.

34 But the priests were too few, so that they could not skin all the burnt offerings; therefore their brethren the Levites helped them until the work was ended and until the other priests had sanctified themselves, for the Levites were more diligent in sanctifying themselves than the priests.

35 Also the burnt offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace offerings and with the drink offerings for every burnt offering. So the service of the house of the LORD was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah and all the people rejoiced that God had prepared the people, since the events took place so suddenly.

2 Chronicles 30

Hezekiah Keeps the Passover

1 And Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the LORD at Jerusalem, to keep the Passover to the LORD God of Israel.
2 For the king and his leaders and all the assembly in Jerusalem had agreed to keep the Passover in the second month.
3 For they could not keep it at the regular time,[a] because a sufficient number of priests had not consecrated themselves, nor had the people gathered together at Jerusalem.
4 And the matter pleased the king and all the assembly.
5 So they resolved to make a proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover to the LORD God of Israel at Jerusalem, since they had not done it for a long time in the prescribed manner.
6 Then the runners went throughout all Israel and Judah with the letters from the king and his leaders, and spoke according to the command of the king: “Children of Israel, return to the LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel; then
He will return to the remnant of you who have escaped from the hand of the kings of Assyria.
7 “And do not be like your fathers and your brethren, who trespassed against the LORD God of their fathers, so that He gave them up to desolation, as you see.
8 “Now do not be stiff-necked, as your fathers were, but yield yourselves to the LORD; and enter His sanctuary, which He has sanctified forever, and serve the LORD your God, that the fierceness of His wrath may turn away from you.

9 “For if you return to the LORD, your brethren and your children will be treated with compassion by those who lead them captive, so that they may come back to this land; for the LORD your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn His face from you if you return to Him.”

10 So the runners passed from city to city through the country of Ephraim and Manasseh, as far as Zebulun; but they laughed at them and mocked them.

11 Nevertheless some from Asher, Manasseh, and Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem. Obeying Begins with Listening

12 Also the hand of God was on Judah to give them singleness of heart to obey the command of the king and the leaders, at the word of the LORD. Singleness of Heart

13 Now many people, a very great assembly, gathered at Jerusalem to keep the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month.

14 They arose and took away the altars that were in Jerusalem, and they took away all the incense altars and cast them into the Brook Kidron.

15 Then they slaughtered the Passover lambs on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and the Levites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought the burnt offerings to the house of the LORD.

16 They stood in their place according to their custom, according to the Law of Moses the man of God; the priests sprinkled the blood received from the hand of the Levites.

17 For there were many in the assembly who had not sanctified themselves; therefore the Levites had charge of the slaughter of the Passover lambs for everyone who was not clean, to sanctify them to the LORD.

18For a multitude of the people, many from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, yet they ate the Passover contrary to what was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, “May the good LORD provide atonement for everyone

19“who prepares his heart to seek God, the LORD God of his fathers, though he is not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuary.”

20And the LORD listened to Hezekiah and healed the people.

21So the children of Israel who were present at Jerusalem kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with great gladness; and the Levites and the priests praised the LORD day by day, singing to the LORD, accompanied by loud instruments.

22And Hezekiah gave encouragement to all the Levites who taught the good knowledge of the LORD; and they ate throughout the feast seven days, offering peace offerings and making confession to the LORD God of their fathers.

23Then the whole assembly agreed to keep the feast another seven days, and they kept it another seven days with gladness.

24For Hezekiah king of Judah gave to the assembly a thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep, and the leaders gave to the assembly a thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep; and a great number of priests sanctified themselves.

25The whole assembly of Judah rejoiced, also the priests and Levites, all the assembly that came from Israel, the sojourners who came from the land of Israel, and those who dwelt in Judah.

26So there was great joy in Jerusalem, for since the time of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel, there had been nothing like this in Jerusalem.

27 Then the priests, the Levites, arose and blessed the people, and their voice was heard; and their prayer came up to His holy dwelling place, to heaven.

2 Chronicles 31

The Reforms of Hezekiah

1 Now when all this was finished, all Israel who were present went out to the cities of Judah and broke the sacred pillars in pieces, cut down the wooden images, and threw down the high places and the altars—from all Judah, Benjamin, Ephraim, and Manasseh—until they had utterly destroyed them all. Then all the children of Israel returned to their own cities, every man to his possession.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the divisions of the priests and the Levites according to their divisions, each man according to his service, the priests and Levites for burnt offerings and peace offerings, to serve, to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the camp[a] of the LORD.

3 The king also appointed a portion of his possessions for the burnt offerings: for the morning and evening burnt offerings, the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths and the New Moons and the set feasts, as it is written in the Law of the LORD.

4 Moreover he commanded the people who dwelt in Jerusalem to contribute support for the priests and the Levites, that they might devote themselves to the Law of the LORD.

5 As soon as the commandment was circulated, the children of Israel brought in abundance the firstfruits of grain and wine, oil and honey, and of all the produce of the field; and they brought in abundantly the tithe of everything.

6 And the children of Israel and Judah, who dwelt in the cities of Judah, brought the tithe of oxen and sheep; also the tithe of holy things which were consecrated to the LORD their God they laid in heaps.

7In the third month they began laying them in heaps, and they finished in the seventh month.

8And when Hezekiah and the leaders came and saw the heaps, they blessed the LORD and His people Israel.

9Then Hezekiah questioned the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10And Azariah the chief priest, from the house of Zadok, answered him and said, “Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the LORD, we have had enough to eat and have plenty left, for the LORD has blessed His people; and what is left is this great abundance.”

11Now Hezekiah commanded them to prepare rooms in the house of the LORD, and they prepared them.

12Then they faithfully brought in the offerings, the tithes, and the dedicated things; Cononiah the Levite had charge of them, and Shimei his brother was the next.

13Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismachiah, Mahath, and Benaiah were overseers under the hand of Cononiah and Shimei his brother, at the commandment of Hezekiah the king and Azariah the ruler of the house of God.

14Kore the son of Imnah the Levite, the keeper of the East Gate, was over the freewill offerings to God, to distribute the offerings of the LORD and the most holy things.

15And under him were Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah, his faithful assistants in the cities of the priests, to distribute allotments to their brethren by divisions, to the great as well as the small.

16Besides those males from three years old and up who were written in the genealogy, they distributed to everyone who entered the house of the LORD his daily portion for the work of his service, by his division,

17 and to the priests who were written in the genealogy according to their father's house, and to the Levites from twenty years old and up according to their work, by their divisions,
18 and to all who were written in the genealogy—their little ones and their wives, their sons and daughters, the whole company of them—for in their faithfulness they sanctified themselves in holiness.
19 Also for the sons of Aaron the priests, who were in the fields of the common-lands of their cities, in every single city, there were men who were designated by name to distribute portions to all the males among the priests and to all who were listed by genealogies among the Levites.
20 Thus Hezekiah did throughout all Judah, and he did what was good and right and true before the LORD his God.
21 And in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, in the law and in the commandment, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart. So he prospered.

2 Chronicles 32

Sennacherib Boasts Against the LORD

1 After these deeds of faithfulness, Sennacherib king of Assyria came and entered Judah; he encamped against the fortified cities, thinking to win them over to himself.
2 And when Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had come,
and that his purpose was to make war against Jerusalem,
3 he consulted with his leaders and commanders[a] to stop the water from the springs which were outside the city; and they helped him.
4 Thus many people gathered together who stopped all the springs and the brook that ran through the land, saying, "Why should the kings[b] of Assyria come and find much water?"
5 And he strengthened himself, built up all the wall that was broken, raised it up to the towers, and built another wall outside; also he repaired the Millo[c] in the City of David, and made weapons and shields in abundance.
6 Then he set military captains over the people, gathered them together to him in the open square of the city gate, and gave them encouragement, saying, Work and Prayer 7 "Be strong and courageous; do not be afraid nor dismayed before the king of Assyria, nor before all the multitude that is with him; for there are more with us than with him.
8 "With him is an arm of flesh; but with us is the LORD our God, to help us and to fight our battles." And the people were strengthened by the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.
9 After this Sennacherib king of Assyria sent his servants to Jerusalem (but he and all the forces with him laid siege against Lachish), to Hezekiah king of Judah, and to all Judah who were in Jerusalem, saying,

10 “Thus says Sennacherib king of Assyria: ‘In what do you trust, that you remain under siege in Jerusalem?

11 ‘Does not Hezekiah persuade you to give yourselves over to die by famine and by thirst, saying, “The LORD our God will deliver us from the hand of the king of Assyria”?

12 ‘Has not the same Hezekiah taken away His high places and His altars, and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, saying, “You shall worship before one altar and burn incense on it”?

13 ‘Do you not know what I and my fathers have done to all the peoples of other lands? Were the gods of the nations of those lands in any way able to deliver their lands out of my hand?

14 ‘Who was there among all the gods of those nations that my fathers utterly destroyed that could deliver his people from my hand, that your God should be able to deliver you from my hand?

15 ‘Now therefore, do not let Hezekiah deceive you or persuade you like this, and do not believe him; for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people from my hand or the hand of my fathers. How much less will your God deliver you from my hand?’ ”

16 Furthermore, his servants spoke against the LORD God and against His servant Hezekiah.

17 He also wrote letters to revile the LORD God of Israel, and to speak against Him, saying, “As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people from my hand, so the God of Hezekiah will not deliver His people from my hand.”

18 Then they called out with a loud voice in Hebrew[d] to the people of Jerusalem who were on the wall, to frighten them and trouble them, that they might take the city.

19 And they spoke against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth—the work of men's hands.

Sennacherib's Defeat and Death

20 Now because of this King Hezekiah and the prophet Isaiah, the son of Amoz, prayed and cried out to heaven.
21 Then the LORD sent an angel who cut down every mighty man of valor, leader, and captain in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned shamefaced to his own land.
And when he had gone into the temple of his god, some of his own offspring struck him down with the sword there.
22 Thus the LORD saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Assyria, and from the hand of all others, and guided them[e] on every side.
23 And many brought gifts to the LORD at Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Judah, so that he was exalted in the sight of all nations thereafter.

Hezekiah Humbles Himself

24 In those days Hezekiah was sick and near death, and he prayed to the LORD; and He spoke to him and gave him a sign.
25 But Hezekiah did not repay according to the favor shown him, for his heart was lifted up; therefore wrath was looming over him and over Judah and Jerusalem.
26 Then Hezekiah humbled himself for the pride of his heart, he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so that the wrath of the LORD did not come upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

Hezekiah's Wealth and Honor

27Hezekiah had very great riches and honor. And he made himself treasuries for silver, for gold, for precious stones, for spices, for shields, and for all kinds of desirable items; Choice

28storehouses for the harvest of grain, wine, and oil; and stalls for all kinds of livestock, and folds for flocks.[f]

29Moreover he provided cities for himself, and possessions of flocks and herds in abundance; for God had given him very much property.

30This same Hezekiah also stopped the water outlet of Upper Gihon, and brought the water by tunnel[g] to the west side of the City of David. Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31However, regarding the ambassadors of the princes of Babylon, whom they sent to him to inquire about the wonder that was done in the land, God withdrew from him, in order to test him, that He might know all that was in his heart.

Death of Hezekiah

32Now the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and his goodness, indeed they are written in the vision of Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, and in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

33So Hezekiah rested with his fathers, and they buried him in the upper tombs of the sons of David; and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem honored him at his death. Then Manasseh his son reigned in his place.

2 Chronicles 33

Manasseh Reigns in Judah

1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem.
2 But he did evil in the sight of the LORD, according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel. Prototypes for Evil Kings
3 For he rebuilt the high places which Hezekiah his father had broken down; he raised up altars for the Baals, and made wooden images; and he worshiped all the host of heaven[a] and served them.
4 He also built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, “In Jerusalem shall My name be
forever.”
5 And he built altars for all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD.
6 Also he caused his sons to pass through the fire in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom; he practiced soothsaying, used witchcraft and sorcery, and consulted mediums and spiritists. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke Him to anger.
7 He even set a carved image, the idol which he had made, in the house of God, of which God had said to David and to Solomon his son, “In this house and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put
My name forever;
8 “and I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the land which I have appointed for your fathers—only if they are careful to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law and the statutes and the ordinances by the hand of Moses.”

9 So Manasseh seduced Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to do more evil than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed before the children of Israel.

Manasseh Restored After Repentance

10 And the LORD spoke to Manasseh and his people, but they would not listen.
11 Therefore the LORD brought upon them the captains of the army of the king of Assyria, who took Manasseh with hooks,[b] bound him with bronze fetters, and carried him off to Babylon.
12 Now when he was in affliction, he implored the LORD his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers,
13 and prayed to Him; and He received his entreaty, heard his supplication, and brought him back to Jerusalem into his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD was God.

Models for Prayer in the Bible

14 After this he built a wall outside the City of David on the west side of Gihon, in the valley, as far as the entrance of the Fish Gate; and it enclosed Ophel, and he raised it to a very great height. Then he put military captains in all the fortified cities of Judah. Too Little, Too Late 15 He took away the foreign gods and the idol from the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the LORD and in Jerusalem; and he cast them out of the city.
16 He also repaired the altar of the LORD, sacrificed peace offerings and thank offerings on it, and commanded Judah to serve the LORD God of Israel.
17 Nevertheless the people still sacrificed on the high places, but only to the LORD their God.

Death of Manasseh

18Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, his prayer to his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD God of Israel, indeed they are written in the book[c] of the kings of Israel.

19Also his prayer and how God received his entreaty, and all his sin and trespass, and the sites where he built high places and set up wooden images and carved images, before he was humbled, indeed they are written among the sayings of Hozai.[d]

20So Manasseh rested with his fathers, and they buried him in his own house. Then his son Amon reigned in his place.

Amon's Reign and Death

21Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem.

22But he did evil in the sight of the LORD, as his father Manasseh had done; for Amon sacrificed to all the carved images which his father Manasseh had made, and served them.

23And he did not humble himself before the LORD, as his father Manasseh had humbled himself; but Amon trespassed more and more.

24Then his servants conspired against him, and killed him in his own house.

25But the people of the land executed all those who had conspired against King Amon. Then the people of the land made his son Josiah king in his place.

2 Chronicles 34

Josiah Reigns in Judah

1 Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. Josiah
2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of his father David; he did not turn aside to the right hand or to the left.
3 For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was still young, he began to seek the God of his father David; and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem of the high places, the wooden images, the carved images, and the molded images.
4 They broke down the altars of the Baals in his presence, and the incense altars which were above them he cut down;
and the wooden images, the carved images, and the molded images he broke in pieces, and made dust of them and scattered it on the graves of those who had sacrificed to
them.
5 He also burned the bones of the priests on their altars, and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem.
6 And so he did in the cities of Manasseh, Ephraim, and Simeon, as far as Naphtali and all around, with axes.[a] 7 When he had broken down the altars and the wooden images, had beaten the carved images into powder, and cut down all the incense altars throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

Hilkiah Finds the Book of the Law

8 In the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land and the temple,[b] he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God.

9When they came to Hilkiah the high priest, they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites who kept the doors had gathered from the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, from all the remnant of Israel, from all Judah and Benjamin, and which they had brought back to Jerusalem.

10Then they put it in the hand of the foremen who had the oversight of the house of the LORD; and they gave it to the workmen who worked in the house of the LORD, to repair and restore the house.

11They gave it to the craftsmen and builders to buy hewn stone and timber for beams, and to floor the houses which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12And the men did the work faithfully. Their overseers were Jahath and Obadiah the Levites, of the sons of Merari, and Zechariah and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to supervise. Others of the Levites, all of whom were skillful with instruments of music, 13*were* over the burden bearers and were overseers of all who did work in any kind of service. And some of the Levites were scribes, officers, and gatekeepers.

14Now when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest found the Book of the Law of the LORD given by Moses.

15Then Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the scribe, “I have found the Book of the Law in the house of the LORD.” And Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan.

16So Shaphan carried the book to the king, bringing the king word, saying, “All that was committed to your servants they are doing.

17“And they have gathered the money that was found in the house of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers and the workmen.”

18 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, “Hilkiah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read it before the king.

19 Thus it happened, when the king heard the words of the Law, that he tore his clothes.

20 Then the king commanded Hilkiah, Ahikam the son of Shaphan, Abdon[c] the son of Micah, Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah a servant of the king, saying,

21 “Go, inquire of the LORD for me, and for those who are left in Israel and Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found; for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out on us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do according to all that is written in this book.”

22 So Hilkiah and those the king had appointed went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tokhath,[d] the son of Hasrah,[e] keeper of the wardrobe. (She dwelt in Jerusalem in the Second Quarter.) And they spoke to her to that effect.

23 Then she answered them, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel, ‘Tell the man who sent you to Me,

24 “Thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, I will bring calamity on this place and on its inhabitants, all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah,

25 ‘because they have forsaken Me and burned incense to other gods, that they might provoke Me to anger with all the works of their hands. Therefore My wrath will be poured out on this place, and not be quenched.’ ” ’

26 “But as for the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, in this manner you shall speak to him, ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel: “Concerning the words which
you have heard—

27“because your heart was tender, and you humbled yourself before God when you heard His words against this place and against its inhabitants, and you humbled yourself before Me, and you tore your clothes and wept before Me, I also have heard you,” says the LORD.

28“Surely I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace; and your eyes shall not see all the calamity which I will bring on this place and its inhabitants.” ’ ” So they brought back word to the king.

Josiah Restores True Worship

29Then the king sent and gathered all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

30The king went up to the house of the LORD, with all the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem—the priests and the Levites, and all the people, great and small. And he read in their hearing all the words of the Book of the Covenant which had been found in the house of the LORD.

31Then the king stood in his place and made a covenant before the LORD, to follow the LORD, and to keep His commandments and His testimonies and His statutes with all his heart and all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this book.

32And he made all who were present in Jerusalem and Benjamin take a stand. So the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers.

33Thus Josiah removed all the abominations from all the country that belonged to the children of Israel, and made all who were present in Israel diligently serve the LORD their God. All his days they did not depart from following the LORD God of their fathers.

2 Chronicles 35

Josiah Keeps the Passover

1 Now Josiah kept a Passover to the LORD in Jerusalem, and they slaughtered the Passover lambs on the fourteenth day of the first month.
2 And he set the priests in their duties and encouraged them for the service of the house of the LORD.
3 Then he said to the Levites who taught all Israel, who were holy to the LORD: “Put the holy ark in the house which Solomon the son of David, king of Israel, built. It shall no longer be a burden on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and His people Israel.
4 “Prepare yourselves according to your fathers’ houses, according to your divisions, following the written instruction of David king of Israel and the written instruction of Solomon his son.
5 “And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the fathers’ houses of your brethren the lay people, and according to the division of the father’s house of the Levites.
6 “So slaughter the Passover offerings, consecrate yourselves, and prepare them for your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Moses.”
7 Then Josiah gave the lay people lambs and young goats from the flock, all for Passover offerings for all who were present, to the number of thirty thousand, as well as three thousand cattle; these were from the king’s possessions.
8 And his leaders gave willingly to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites. Hilkiah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gave to the priests for the Passover offerings two thousand six hundred from the flock, and three hundred cattle.

9 Also Conaniah, his brothers Shemaiah and Nethanel, and Hashabiah and Jeiel and Jozabad, chief of the Levites, gave to the Levites for Passover offerings five thousand from the flock and five hundred cattle.

10 So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their places, and the Levites in their divisions, according to the king's command.

11 And they slaughtered the Passover offerings; and the priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, while the Levites skinned the animals.

12 Then they removed the burnt offerings that they might give them to the divisions of the fathers' houses of the lay people, to offer to the LORD, as it is written in the Book of Moses. And so they did with the cattle.

13 Also they roasted the Passover offerings with fire according to the ordinance; but the other holy offerings they boiled in pots, in caldrons, and in pans, and divided them quickly among all the lay people.

14 Then afterward they prepared portions for themselves and for the priests, because the priests, the sons of Aaron, were busy in offering burnt offerings and fat until night; therefore the Levites prepared portions for themselves and for the priests, the sons of Aaron.

15 And the singers, the sons of Asaph, were in their places, according to the command of David, Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun the king's seer. Also the gatekeepers were at each gate; they did not have to leave their position, because their brethren the Levites prepared portions for them.

16 So all the service of the LORD was prepared the same day, to keep the Passover and to offer burnt offerings on the altar of the LORD, according to the command of King Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel who were present kept the Passover at that time, and the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days.

18 There had been no Passover kept in Israel like that since the days of Samuel the prophet; and none of the kings of Israel had kept such a Passover as Josiah kept, with the priests and the Levites, all Judah and Israel who were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah this Passover was kept.

Josiah Dies in Battle

20 After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against Carchemish by the Euphrates; and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, “What have I to do with you, king of Judah? I have not come against you this day, but against the house with which I have war; for God commanded me to make haste. Refrain from meddling with God, who is with me, lest He destroy you.”

22 Nevertheless Josiah would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself so that he might fight with him, and did not heed the words of Necho from the mouth of God. So he came to fight in the Valley of Megiddo.

23 And the archers shot King Josiah; and the king said to his servants, “Take me away, for I am severely wounded.”

24 His servants therefore took him out of that chariot and put him in the second chariot that he had, and they brought him to Jerusalem. So he died, and was buried in one of the tombs of his fathers. And all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 Jeremiah also lamented for Josiah. And to this day all the singing men and the singing women speak of Josiah in their lamentations. They made it a custom in Israel; and indeed they are written in the Laments.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah and his goodness, according to what was written in the Law of the LORD, 27 and his deeds from first to last, indeed they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

2 Chronicles 36

The Reign and Captivity of Jehoahaz

1 Then the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and made him king in his father's place in Jerusalem.
2 Jehoahaz[a] was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.
3 Now the king of Egypt deposed him at Jerusalem; and he imposed on the land a tribute of one hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.
4 Then the king of Egypt made Jehoahaz's[b] brother Eliakim king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. And Necho took Jehoahaz[c] his brother and carried him off to Egypt.

The Reign and Captivity of Jehoiakim

5 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And he did evil in the sight of the LORD his God.
6 Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against him, and bound him in bronze fetters to carry him off to Babylon.
7 Nebuchadnezzar also carried off some of the articles from the house of the LORD to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.
8 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, the abominations which he did, and what was found against him, indeed they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.
Then Jehoiachin his son reigned in his place.

The Reign and Captivity of Jehoiachin

9Jehoiachin was eight[d] years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months and ten days. And he did evil in the sight of the LORD.

10At the turn of the year King Nebuchadnezzar summoned him and took him to Babylon, with the costly articles from the house of the LORD, and made Zedekiah, Jehoiakim's[e] brother, king over Judah and Jerusalem.

Zedekiah Reigns in Judah

11Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. The Stiff-Necked King of a Stiff-Necked People

12He did evil in the sight of the LORD his God, and did not humble himself before Jeremiah the prophet, who spoke from the mouth of the LORD.

13And he also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear an oath by God; but he stiffened his neck and hardened his heart against turning to the LORD God of Israel.

14Moreover all the leaders of the priests and the people transgressed more and more, according to all the abominations of the nations, and defiled the house of the LORD which He had consecrated in Jerusalem.

The Fall of Jerusalem

15And the LORD God of their fathers sent warnings to them by His messengers, rising up early and sending them, because He had compassion on His people and on His dwelling place.

16But they mocked the messengers of God, despised His words, and scoffed at His prophets, until the wrath of the LORD arose against His people, till there was no remedy.

17Therefore He brought against them the king of the Chaldeans, who killed their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion on young man or virgin, on the aged or the weak; He gave them all into his hand.

18And all the articles from the house of God, great and small, the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king and of his leaders, all these he took to Babylon.

19Then they burned the house of God, broke down the wall of Jerusalem, burned all its palaces with fire, and destroyed all its precious possessions.

20And those who escaped from the sword he carried away to Babylon, where they became servants to him and his sons until the rule of the kingdom of Persia, The Captivities of the Israelites

21to fulfill the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed her Sabbaths. As long as she lay desolate she kept Sabbath, to fulfill seventy years. Seventy Years of Sabbaths

The Proclamation of Cyrus

22Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and also put it in writing, saying,

> 23Thus says Cyrus king of Persia:
> All the kingdoms of the earth the LORD God of heaven has given me. And He has commanded me to build Him a house at Jerusalem which is in Judah. Who is among you of all His people? May the LORD his God be with him, and let him go up! Cyrus

Unsatisfied with Success

2 Chr. 1:1

With God's help, Solomon became the wisest and wealthiest man of his time, unmatched in his accomplishments and accumulation of riches (Eccl. 2:1–9). Nevertheless, Solomon confessed that his life was far from satisfying (2:11, 16). He had achieved power, wealth, and prestige, yet lacked the true treasure of knowing and honoring God. Notice how others recalled his legacy:

- Nehemiah (leader of the returning Babylonian exiles) used Solomon's marriages to idolatrous wives as an example of disobedience (Neh. 13:26, 27; 1 Kin. 11:1–8), warning that God would discipline the nation just as He had disciplined Solomon if the people followed his example.
- Jesus (who lived nearly a thousand years after Solomon) pointed to Solomon's splendor to invite His followers to trust, love, and serve God rather than worry about material gain or daily problems (Matt. 6:28–32).
- Jesus said that the queen of Sheba showed more faith in seeking out Solomon than Jesus' enemies had shown after beholding His miracles and teaching (Matt. 12:42).
- Stephen (an early church leader) referred to Solomon as the builder of God's house, but praised David for finding favor with God (Acts 7:45–48).
- Paul (an early church leader) mentioned several celebrated leaders of Israel including Samuel, the judges, Saul, and David—but omitted Solomon (Acts 13:22).
- The unknown author of Hebrews (probably written prior to A.D. 70) catalogued Israel's heroes of faith (Heb. 11) but did not include Solomon on this list.

Solomon's life and legacy demonstrate that remarkable achievements—in academia, business, government, or any other field—matter little compared to living faithful to God. The outcome of his life challenges us to structure our priorities to focus on loving and serving God's measures of success rather than chasing success as the world defines it.

Give Me Wisdom

2 Chr. 1:10

When Solomon asked for wisdom so that he might be a good king, the Lord answered his prayer by making him wiser than any of the sages or rulers of his day (2 Chr. 1:12; 9:22; 1 Kin. 4:29–34). The Lord still offers wisdom to anyone who asks for it (James 1:5). His insight is practical, instructing us in leading responsible, productive, and prosperous lives. For more on this wisdom and how to obtain it, see "What Wisdom Is" at Proverbs 1:2.

Bringing Plans into Action

2 Chr. 2:13, 14

As the temple project developed, Huram, the master craftsman, worked from temple plans largely developed by David (1 Chr. 28:11–19). He led an array of laborers and artisans in creating an architectural masterpiece.

This scene demonstrates that it is people, not plans, who make things happen. Plans help people initiate, guide, and evaluate their work, but human beings must take action and engage their God-given skills to actually get things done. Designs and job descriptions only succeed if they empower workers, encouraging them to excel at using their unique abilities.

Solomon's Census

2 Chr. 2:17, 18

Solomon's census of foreigners living in Israel recalls David's count of the people many years earlier, when the king's recklessness caused the deaths of seventy thousand innocent Israelites (1 Chr. 21:1–14). God apparently did not oppose Solomon's census as He had David's numbering, but Solomon's actions nevertheless created problems that haunted his successor.

Solomon's purpose was to conscript a labor force for his endless building projects, beginning with the temple. Foreigners prohibited by the law from owning land did not yield much tax revenue, so forcing them to work substituted as a form of taxation.

In addition to more than one hundred and fifty thousand foreign workers, Solomon conscripted thirty thousand Israelite laborers (1 Kin. 5:13), possibly people who were unable to pay Solomon's heavy tax levies (12:4). These workers were sent to Lebanon in shifts, but the aliens went to the mountains under heavy supervision. Solomon later conscripted additional foreigners to build his palace complex and storage cities (1 Kin. 9:15, 19). These foreigners descended from peoples Israel had conquered under Joshua (2 Chr. 8:7–9).

Solomon's system of heavy taxes and forced labor allowed him to lead Israel to its greatest height as an empire. But it also created resentment that erupted when his successor Rehoboam attempted to multiply the burden (10:1–19).

God Responds to Worship

2 Chr. 5:13, 14

Our praise may be as formal and elaborate as the temple dedication (2 Chr. 5:2–7:11) or as simple and spontaneous as services of the early church, which often took place in people's homes (Acts 2:42, 46, 47). What matters is not the setting or structure so much as the object of worship and the worshipers' hearts (John 4:21–24).

Second Chronicles provides fewer details than a parallel account of the temple dedication in 1 Kings 8—until it comes to the singers and trumpeters. Then we see how the musicians' harmony in pitch and purpose brought a worship ceremony to its climax. God responded by blessing the ceremony and the temple itself with His glory and presence.

The New Testament never pictures early disciples engaging in the scripted ritual of the temple, yet God responded to Christian worship with similar signs of His presence and power (for example, Acts 4:31). Whether we worship through extravagant ceremonies or simple expressions of heartfelt praise, God invites us to "come before His presence with singing" (Ps. 100:2).

More: The composition performed at the temple dedication may have been Ps. 106. Compare 2 Chr. 5:13 with Ps. 106:1.

One Place for God's Presence

2 Chr. 6:18

Solomon's prayer of dedication for the temple gives us the right perspective on places of worship. On one hand, the temple was just a building, a finite construction incapable of housing an infinite Lord. On the other hand, the temple was a special place that God had chosen to bless with His presence (2 Chr. 6:6), making it sacred space (6:20).

Unfortunately, this balanced perspective was often distorted. Some forgot that the building's holiness came from God, not man, and an inappropriate reverence for worldly things led them to create inappropriate religious restrictions on the temple. Whereas Solomon's temple was dedicated as a house of prayer for all nations (6:32, 33; compare Is. 56:7), the temple of the New Testament era restricted non-Jews to an outer Court of the Gentiles. Notices in Greek and Latin warned that Gentiles risked death if they trespassed into the inner courts. Still others disrespected the temple's holiness by using it as a marketplace or valuing its costly components above its sacred purpose. Jesus strongly criticized money changers for turning the site into a "den of thieves" (Mark 11:17) and He rebuked the Pharisees for their lack of reverence for what the temple symbolized (Matt. 23:15–22).

All of this helps us think about the significance and symbolism of church buildings today. No church structure should be treated as anything more or less than a place where God has chosen to bless us with His presence. As such it is good for prayer, worship, teaching, fellowship—every holy purpose we have been called to perform as followers of God's commands. Everyone is to be welcome. And if we can't do it in church, we can't do it anywhere.

More: Far from being off-limits to other peoples, the temple was meant to attract non-Hebrews from around the world so that Israel could be a blessing to the nations and a light pointing to the one true God. See "An International House of Prayer" at 1 Kin. 8:41–43 and "Attracted to Israel's God" at 2 Chr. 6:32, 33.

Attracted to Israel's God

2 Chr. 6:32, 33

The temple at Jerusalem was meant to be a magnet drawing people from all over the world to worship the Lord. Throughout Scripture we see foreigners attracted to Israel's God:

Foreigner	What Happened
The queen of Sheba	Awed by Solomon's accomplishments, she praised God (2 Chr. 9:8).
Rulers of neighboring kingdoms	These kings were drawn to hear Solomon's God-given wisdom (2 Chr. 9:22–24).
The widow of Zarephath	As a result of welcoming the prophet Elijah, the Phoenician woman and her son were saved from famine and the son was raised back to life (1 Kin. 17:8–24).
Naaman	The Syrian general was healed of leprosy and believed in God because he listened to the advice of his wife's Jewish servant and sought out Elisha (2 Kin. 5:1–19).
Ebed-Melech	The Ethiopian official demonstrated faith in God by intervening to save Jeremiah, a courageous act for which the Lord spared him when Jerusalem fell (Jer. 38:7–13; 39:15–18).
Nebuchadnezzar	Because of Daniel and the Lord's discipline, the Babylonian king learned that the God of Israel rules. As a result, he instituted a reign based on truth, justice, and humility (Dan. 4:34–37).
Darius	After witnessing Daniel's deliverance from the lions' den, the Persian ruler concluded that the Lord is the living God (Dan. 6:24–27).
The wise men	Drawn by a star they saw in the east, the Magi worshiped the newborn Jesus (Matt. 2:1, 2).
Greeks in Jerusalem	This group asked to meet Jesus, possibly having heard about Him in Galilee (John 12:20–22).
An Ethiopian eunuch	After journeying to Jerusalem to worship in the temple, this African official was ministered to by Philip and began to follow Jesus (Acts 8:26–40).

The Glory of the Lord

2 Chr. 7:1

As spirit, God has no body and is invisible to the human eye (John 4:24, 6:46; Col. 1:15). But He reveals His presence by showing His "glory" (Hebrew: chabod). The glory of the LORD was a term used by Israelites to describe how God showed Himself through visible signs such as thunder, lightning, clouds, or fire (for example, Ex. 3:1–6; 19:16–19; Num. 12:5; 2 Chr. 5:13, 14).

When Christ was transfigured, He revealed God in perfect human form, prompting John to write, "The Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father" (John 1:14, emphasis added). When the Holy Spirit filled the first Christians in the upper room, He revealed Himself through tongues of fire and other signs (Acts 2:1–4). God also reveals His glory through creation (Ps. 19:1) and through His people (Eph. 1:12; Col. 1:27). As followers of Jesus, we are each a temple of God; His glory dwells in us and is to be expressed in the way we treat people, the way we spend our time, and in all other areas of life (1 Cor. 6:19, 20).

Forgiveness Follows Repentance
2 Chr. 7:13–15

God's grace is free but not cheap. It cost Jesus the agony of death on a cross, and it costs those who receive God's forgiveness the price of repentance, or turning from sin.

The Lord reminded His people of this relationship between forgiveness and repentance by stating His promise to heal their land as an if-then condition (see the chart at "National Renewal"). To God, forgiveness follows repentance, and repentance is not merely saying sorry, shedding tears, or looking sad. True repentance means turning from thoughts and acts that displease God and turning toward a godly life.

It is a violation of His nature for God to reward those who make a habit of sin. If we want God's blessing, we must pursue God's ways. "Be holy," He urges us, "for I am holy" (Lev. 11:44; 1 Pet. 1:15, 16).

National Renewal
2 Chr. 7:14

As Christians struggle against moral and spiritual chaos on a national level, the promise that God will heal the land sounds appealing. But it is important to note that when God made this promise, He was speaking specifically to Israel, the people called by His name (compare 2 Chr. 6:5, 6, 33). Israel enjoyed a special covenant relationship with God that no other nation has shared. God's words in 2 Chronicles 7:12–22 essentially restate this unique national covenant (compare Lev. 26; Deut. 29).

God's pledge to heal the land was not unconditional. In order for the Lord to fulfill His part of this agreement with the Israelites, there were certain stipulations:

God's Promise to Heal the Land

When Circumstances:	If Conditions:	Then Promise:
• Drought	• Humility	• I will hear.
• Locusts	• Prayer and seeking God's face	• I will forgive their sin.
• Pestilence	• Turning from wickedness	• I will heal their land.

Not long after Solomon's death, this conditional promise entered its first test. When Solomon's successor Rehoboam turned from God, the Lord allowed the Egyptians to attack Israel. But as Rehoboam and Israel's leaders humbled themselves and turned back to God, He heard their prayers and partially delivered them from the Egyptians (2 Chr. 12:1–12).

Unlike ancient Israel, Christians have not been called to serve God as a political entity. God's promise to heal the land, therefore, cannot be claimed for nations today. However, the principle behind the promise still applies to Christian individuals and groups who bear God's name. When followers of Jesus approach God with humility, prayer, and repentance, God hears them, forgives them, and brings a measure of healing (James 4:7–10).

Passing Prosperity

2 Chr. 9:27

The extraordinary wealth that marked Solomon's reign over Israel was as short-lived as it was plentiful. Within a few years, the Lord allowed these riches to be taken away as a result of the nation's repeated rebellion against His law. The silver that was said to be "as common in Jerusalem as stones" became tribute and plunder for the kingdom's enemies (2 Chr. 12:9, 10; 36:18). The cedars that were "as abundant as the sycamores which are in the lowland" were cut down, never to grow back. See "The Cedar Trade" at 1 Kings 7:2 and "The Ruin of the Land" at Isaiah 10:19.

Like Father, Like Son

2 Chr. 11:21–23

King Rehoboam continued in the misguided footsteps of his father Solomon and grandfather David by acquiring numerous wives (compare 2 Sam. 3:2–5; 5:13–16; 1 Kin. 11:1–3). Many of these unions probably involved alliances with foreign leaders and governments (see "Political Marriages" at 2 Sam. 3:13, 14), and Rehoboam may have inherited concubines from his father or acquired them through military victories (see "Concubines" at Gen. 30:3–13). The king not only took many wives—a violation of God's laws for rulers (Deut. 17:14–20; see also "How Marriage Matters" at 1 Kin. 11:1–3)—but he also sought multiple wives for his sons (2 Chr. 11:23). Rehoboam failed to learn from the errors of his predecessors and destined his successors for trouble before they even came to power.

Think About It: Others could likely see the misbehavior of Rehoboam, and possibly of the influence of Daddy Solomon and grandfather David. How will you see your misbehavior with the clarity others see you? How will you refuse to create damage by ceasing your misbehavior before your children imitate it?

Prayer Is More Than a Last Resort

2 Chr. 14:11

Asa recognized that prayer is a discipline to be practiced long before disaster strikes. Faced with an army more than three times larger than his own three hundred thousand men, Asa cried for help. He humbly acknowledged that God, not military might, was his defense. The Lord responded by defeating the Ethiopians (2 Chr. 14:12–15), a scene that shows that the key to battles is not the size of an army but of one's trust in the Lord.

Less than two decades earlier, Solomon's successor Rehoboam had been defeated by Egyptian and Ethiopian forces. The southern invaders had overrun Judah and captured Jerusalem with far fewer military resources (12:1–12) than the army Asa had crushed.

Asa's trust in God was not a faith of last resort motivated by fear. He prayed on the battlefield just as he had prayed, worshiped, and honored the Lord for years (14:3–7). His reign had reversed many of the sins initiated by his great-grandfather Solomon.

When the people of God made prayer and obedience their highest goals, God was faithful to take care of them. But when they abandoned the Lord and made anything else their top priority, then God allowed them to fail. The Lord still watches to see whether we respond in faith when circumstances overwhelm us. But He also notes the quality of our faith before tragedy strikes. Either way—in calm or crisis—we need to pray to the Lord in faith (1 John 5:4) and then do as He instructs (James 2:14–18).

Think About It: Asa's trust in God was not a faith of last resort motivated by fear. How is this evident?

The Ethiopians
2 Chr. 14:12

The Ethiopians who attacked Judah (2 Chr. 12:9, 10) were from an ancient African nation south of Egypt, a region sometimes called Nubia or Cush. This land was famous for its Blue Nile and White Nile (Is. 18:1), papyrus boats (18:2), and precious topaz gems (Job 28:19). The people were known for their smooth, dark skin (Is. 18:2; Jer. 13:23), stately height (Is. 18:2), and ferocity in battle (Jer. 46:9).

The Ethiopians descended from Noah's son Ham (Gen. 10:6; 1 Chr. 1:8–10), as did the people of Egypt (called Mizraim). These two nations were closely connected throughout their histories, and Scripture often mentions them together (for example, Is. 20:3–5; Ezek. 30:4, 5). Ethiopia was generally controlled by the Egyptians until after David's reign (about 1000 B.C.), and the Ethiopians were often mercenaries in the armies of Egypt and other nations (2 Sam. 18:21–32; 2 Chr. 12:3).

The Ethiopians attained their greatest strength during the time of Hezekiah (about 700 B.C.), when Egypt suffered internal disunity and political instability. An Ethiopian dynasty ruled Egypt for sixty years during this period, but an invasion by the Assyrian kings Esarhaddon and Ashurbanipal eventually ended its power (Is. 20:2–6). Later, the prophets Ezekiel (Ezek. 30:4–10) and Jeremiah (Jer. 46:9, 10, 13, 14) predicted that Ethiopia and Egypt would be attacked by the king of Babylon, and Isaiah foretold a Persian conquest of the territory (Esth. 1:1; 8:9; Is. 43:3).

In the midst of these turbulent times, however, the Lord promised that a remnant of His people would one day return to the Holy Land from Ethiopia (and other nations; Is. 11:11). In fact, Ethiopians would be among those who came to Jerusalem to worship the true God (Ps. 68:31; Is. 45:14). The New Testament records one fulfillment of this promise in the story of an Ethiopian eunuch who traveled to Jerusalem and, with the help of Philip, learned to follow Jesus (see "The Message Spreads to Africa" at Acts 8:27–39).

More: Moses, who for many years lived in Egypt, married an Ethiopian woman, bringing him into conflict with his brother and sister. See "Family Crisis, Leadership Crisis" at Num. 12:2, 3.

Creeds and Confessions

2 Chr. 15:14, 15

King Asa and his people renewed their covenant with God through an oath that professed their fresh commitment. This formal declaration was apparently spoken or shouted in unison, punctuated by horn blasts. Asa's oath was like other creeds and confessions that God's people have used down through the ages to publicly proclaim beliefs and commitments:

The Ten Commandments (Exodus 20:1–17; Deuteronomy 5:6–21)	Also known as the "The Ten Words," the Commandments summarize God's moral code.
Psalm 78	This instructional psalm about God's faithfulness and the Israelites' unfaithfulness may have been either a sung or spoken teaching tool.
The Songs of Ascent (Psalms 120–134)	These psalms were sung by Israelites on pilgrimages to Jerusalem or ascents of the temple mount. They focused attention on the Lord and His relationships with Israel.
1 Corinthians 15:3–7	Paul labeled this summary of Christ's death, burial, and resurrection as "the gospel" (1 Cor. 15:1), offering these points as the core truths of the good news of salvation.
Ephesians 4:4–6	This affirmation of the church lists seven elements comprising the unity of the body, organized around the three Persons of the Trinity.

Philippians 2:5–11	This text was likely an early song or creed that celebrated Christ's humility and called Christians to follow His example.
1 Timothy 3:16	Paul declared the "mystery of godliness," a six-point summary of Christian doctrine. The apostle said that this affirmation was "without controversy."
2 Timothy 2:11–13	The early church may have used this "faithful saying" in baptizing new Christians.

Think About It: Would God want you to adapt any of the above creeds for use in your home, your business, or your church? How do the current creeds, at your church, remind you about God?

Prisoners for God

2 Chr. 16:10

In an unjust society, it is often the righteous who go to jail.

Like Hanani the seer, many of the Bible's leading followers of God spent time behind bars. Their loyalty to God's calling, biblical convictions, and authentic faith made them vulnerable to persecution through imprisonment or worse. The accompanying table lists some of these convicts with conviction.

Even Christ, who was without sin, became a prisoner and was executed for our sakes. And for all who have undergone suffering, whether deserved or undeserved, Jesus offers forgiveness, reconciliation, and restoration through the Cross (Luke 4:18; Heb. 13:3). The glory that awaits us in heaven far outweighs the sufferings of this world (James 1:2; Rom. 8:18).

Person	Situation
Joseph (Gen. 39:7–	Imprisoned on false charges after refusing the advances of his boss's wife; eventually rose to 23; 41:1–45)	leadership according to God's plan.

Samson (Judg. 16:21–31)	Tricked by Delilah into revealing the secret of his strength; arrested and mocked by the Philistines until God enabled him to take revenge.
Micaiah (1 Kin. 22:1–38)	Jailed for refusing to join other prophets in falsely assuring King Ahab of success in combat.
Hanani (2 Chr. 16:7–10)	Imprisoned for prophesying against King Asa for relying on the Syrians.
Jeremiah (Jer. 37–38)	Locked up for desertion after warning King Zedekiah that Judah would not withstand a siege of the Chaldeans; left in a cistern for speaking up a second time; but after warning the king a third time, allowed to stay in the prison court until the nation fell to Babylon.
John the Baptist (Matt. 14:1–12)	Imprisoned for opposing the marriage of Herod Antipas to Herodias; later executed as a result of scheming by Herodias.
Peter and John (Acts 4:1–21)	Imprisoned after miraculously healing a man; released with a warning not to teach about Jesus, a ban they immediately ignored.
Paul and Silas (Acts 16:16–40)	Slandered, beaten, and jailed after delivering a young woman from demons and her handlers; miraculously released and later vindicated on the basis of their Roman citizenship.
Paul (Acts 21:30–28:31)	Mobbed by antagonistic Jews, rescued by Roman soldiers, tried by regional rulers, and ultimately taken in chains to Rome as a prisoner of the empire.

God-Fearing Judges

2 Chr. 19:5–11

Just as political leaders can bolster their countries' moral standards through the judges they appoint and policies they enforce, King Jehoshaphat sought to reform Judah by appointing judges and other officials and declaring specific policies to guide them.

- Judicial character should mirror God's character (19:7). Just as God was pure in character, so the judges needed to model purity and equity. They should avoid perverting justice by showing partiality or taking bribes.
- Judges were to take the job seriously (2 Chr. 19:6). Jehoshaphat urged his legal officials again and again to pay attention to their duties.
- Judges were accountable to God (19:6). The king was responsible for the legal system, but judges derived their authority from God. They needed to serve Him with utter respect (2 Chr. 19:7), "faithfully and with a loyal heart" (19:9).
- The judge's role was to educate as well as hear cases (19:10). Jehoshaphat expected judges to use disputes as opportunities to teach people the Law and warn them about violating God's commandments. Their failure at this task would make them accountable for the people's sins.
- Judges presided over specific areas of the law (19:11). The judiciary was apparently split into religious and civil divisions. Levites and others were appointed as peace officers to assist the judges.

Jehoshaphat's reforms probably increased his control of the justice system, and they registered an immediate impact. Some nations decided not to go to war against Israel (17:10), and others were defeated through God's miraculous help (20:22, 23).

Israel's relationship with God governed its political life. But modern nations—or other governing bodies, such as a church's board of elders or a business's executive leadership team—could implement most of Jehoshaphat's principles as a broad outline of the godly basis on which true justice is founded.

More: Jehoshaphat left in place one of the most important aspects of Israel's system of justice. See "Cities of Refuge" at Num. 35:11.

A Nationwide Fast

2 Chr. 20:3, 4

Jehoshaphat's reign was marked by an unusual spirit of worship and repentance. When an alliance of Moabites and Ammonites attacked without warning, for example, the entire nation gathered to fast and pray. Not only did heads of households seek the Lord but they were also joined by their wives and small children (2 Chr. 20:13). Fasting continues to be a worthwhile spiritual discipline. See "The Value of Fasting" at 1 Chronicles 10:12.

Think About It: What are benefits of a group fasting together?

Indispensable Role Models

2 Chr. 24:17–20

As long as the godly priest Jehoiada was around to guide young Joash, the king ruled well and brought spiritual renewal to the land (2 Chr. 23:16–24:16). But after Jehoiada died, Joash turned to evil, allowing idolatry to creep back into Judah's culture and even killing the son of his mentor Jehoiada (24:22). Joash eventually suffered a sound military defeat and was murdered by his own servants (24:23–25), a tragic ending to what began as a good reign. Our own maturity often rises or falls based on the presence or absence of a role model. We need spiritual mentors to stay on course.

Half-Hearted Devotion

2 Chr. 25:2

Demographers today classify roughly one-seventh of the world's population as Christian, but church leaders point out that many adherents are nominal, followers of Christ in name only, attending church sporadically and showing little or no spiritual commitment.

Amaziah generally followed the Lord, but never wholeheartedly. Because he kept the Law more out of tradition than out of passionate commitment, it is unsurprising that Amaziah took ethical shortcuts. He spared the lives of Israelite children of murderers, for example, in keeping with the Law (25:3, 4). But he killed ten thousand innocent Edomites (2 Chr. 25:11, 12).

Nominal faith is almost as bad as no faith at all—or may even be worse (Rev. 3:15, 16). An upstanding life does not guarantee a relationship with God, and if the main point of life is to know, love, and serve God, then merely following religious tradition is dangerously self-deceiving.

More: Amaziah's attack on the Edomites appears to have been unprovoked. Longstanding ethnic rivalry between the Israelites and the Edomites may have led to this vicious campaign. See "Inconsistent Obedience" at 2 Kin. 14:7–10.

Pride Goes Before a Fall

2 Chr. 26:16–21

A young man when he came to the throne, King Uzziah succeeded by honoring God and heeding the prophet Zechariah (2 Chr. 26:1–5). But after a lifetime of military conquests, he made the mistake of performing temple rites reserved only for the priests. Scripture includes many stories of people whose pride and ambition ultimately led to their downfall. Their outcomes should warn us against thinking too much of ourselves (Rom. 12:3; 1 Cor. 10:6, 11–13).

Pharaoh (Ex. 6:1; 8:15, 32; 15:1–18)	Egypt's ruler resisted the Lord's command to let Israel go, bringing down plagues on his people and eventually destroying himself and his armies.
Saul (1 Sam. 15:22–25; 31:1–6)	Israel's first king repeatedly disobeyed God's commands, leading to his overthrow and death.
Nabal (1 Sam. 25)	This rich rancher failed to help David, an offense that almost got him killed. Nabal's wife Abigail intervened, but God soon struck Nabal dead.
Solomon (1 Kin. 11; compare Eccl. 2)	At the apex of his reign, Solomon allowed his idolatrous wives to turn his heart from God, who vowed to divide his kingdom.
Haman (Esth. 3–7)	This second-in-command to the Persian king took offense at a lesser official and vowed to destroy the Jews. But Esther's intervention exposed his plot, and Haman was the one destroyed (he was hanged).
Lucifer (Is. 14:12–17)	God's chief angel was cast from heaven and destined to eternal destruction for trying to raise himself above God.
Nebuchadnezzar (Dan. 4:28–37)	Babylon's king lived like an animal for years until he humbled himself.
Belshazzar (Dan. 5)	This king threw a glittery party using holy implements taken from the temple at Jerusalem. God wrote a warning on a wall that Belshazzar's kingdom would be taken away that night.
Herod Agrippa I (Acts 12:20–23)	When this ruler accepted his subjects' worship of him as though he were a god, the Lord struck him down.

Death Valley
2 Chr. 28:3

The deep, narrow ravine south of Jerusalem called the Valley of the Son of Hinnom was a site where the pagan ritual of child sacrifice had been practiced when Canaanites controlled the region. King Ahaz revived the abhorrent custom, a choice that would bring profound judgment on Judah's people. For more on this location and its prominent role in Scripture see "The Valley of Hinnom" at Joshua 18:16.

Think About It: Places can contribute to our obedience or disobedience. What habits do you do in the places you go (can be as simple as always saying thank you to merchants)? How do these contribute to another death valley, or to creating a life-giving place?

Hezekiah

2 Chr. 29:1

Name means: "The Lord Is My Strength."

Not to be confused with: A man whose family returned to Judah from Babylon under Ezra (Neh. 10:17).

Home: Jerusalem.

Family: Son of Ahaz and Abijah; father of Manasseh, his successor and probably coruler as early as 697 B.C.

Occupation: King of Judah (715–686 B.C.).

Notable achievements: Enacting religious and political reforms, including eradicating idolatrous practices and worship sites, restoring temple worship, and resuming nationwide Passover observance (2 Chr. 29–31); surviving a siege by King Sennacherib's Assyrian army (701 B.C.).

Best known for: Foolishly showing Babylonian emissaries his royal treasures (2 Kin. 20:12–19; 2 Chr. 32:31), a proud act that revisited his successors.

More: When faced with a problem, which is more important—to pray and have faith or to work and use one's intelligence? The answer is: both. Hezekiah's example demonstrates the answer to that dilemma. See "Work and Prayer" at 2 Chr. 32:6–9.

Obeying Begins with Listening

2 Chr. 30:11, 12

The English word obey comes from a Latin word meaning "to hear." The old adage is literally true: to hear is to obey. Obeying God begins with listening through Scripture, and the best way to become acquainted with the Lord's interests and values is through regular Bible reading. Start by working through a theme of special interest by reading an article or two each day along with their associated Bible passages. Look for specific ways to apply what God points out in His Word.

Singleness of Heart

2 Chr. 30:12

Spiritual revival came about during Hezekiah's reign in Judah because the people chose "singleness of heart" to obey the Lord's commandments. This newfound unity to obey God and honor the covenant contrasted with the disunity that had marked the Israelites since the days of Rehoboam (2 Chr. 10:1–19).

Hezekiah invited the northern kingdom's survivors to rejoin their brothers and sisters in the south (30:6–9), and a few responded to his call (30:10, 11). The nation was able to follow God unreservedly because their king honored the Lord "with all his heart" (31:21; compare Deut. 6:5; Matt. 22:37, 38).

Revival never occurs without unity among God's followers. If His people are divided by conflicting beliefs, attitudes, or actions, outsiders have difficulty taking the gospel seriously. Jesus prayed that His followers would behave as one so that the world would understand that He was Savior and Lord (John 17:20, 21). If we desire spiritual revival for our world, the place to begin is in examining ourselves. We must be like Hezekiah and his people, committed to the Lord with undivided hearts.

Work and Prayer

2 Chr. 32:6–9

Hezekiah demonstrated uncompromising faith and commitment by destroying the idolatrous shrines built by his father Ahaz (2 Chr. 28:22–25). He used both intellect and heart to express faith in God.

Hezekiah's faith was as practical as it was intense. He protected Jerusalem's water supply by digging a tunnel to the Gihon Spring; when Sennacherib's troops besieged the city, they were unable to prevail. But Jerusalem's survival was ensured by more than Hezekiah's foresight. Surrounded by assault troops who used propaganda to try to sway the people to surrender (32:9–19), Hezekiah trusted God rather than foreign allies (2 Kin. 19:14–19), doing the opposite of his father. The Lord honored Hezekiah's faith by miraculously driving away the Assyrians (19:35, 36).

Ahaz's false worship probably had grown out of his failure to trust God and his allowing himself to become subject to the Assyrians (28:16–21; compare Is. 2:6–9). By contrast, Ahaz's son Hezekiah renewed the people's covenant with the Lord (2 Chr. 29:10). Determined to show that God alone is worthy of worship, he personally destroyed the bronze serpent Moses had crafted in the wilderness (Num. 21:4–9), a relic that the people had turned to for idolatrous purposes.

The problems we face cannot be addressed solely by work—or by prayer. They require us to exercise both faith and intelligence. Hezekiah's example strongly suggests that we accomplish the most by serving God with both prayerful devotion and practical skill.

Choice

2 Chr. 32:27–33:6

More than any other king of Judah, Hezekiah trusted God (2 Kin. 18:5). As he integrated his faith into his royal responsibilities, he . . .

- repented for wrongdoing and made restitution, even letting the offended party—the king of Assyria—establish the amount (18:13–16);
- restored Israel's worship by repairing the temple and renewing Levites and priests by consecrating them for God's service (2 Chr. 29:1–36);
- revived the Passover, inviting survivors from the former northern kingdom to participate (30:1–12);
- modeled devotion by offering an intercessory prayer and contributing animals for the people to sacrifice (30:13–27);
- strengthened Jerusalem's defenses by securing an underground water supply (32:30).

Hezekiah enjoyed extraordinary privilege, authority, and material resources, yet these assets did not draw his heart from God toward evil or selfish ends. His son Manasseh took over the kingdom but did not inherit his godly habits. The Bible says that Manasseh . . .

- committed the same evils as the Canaanites (33:1, 2);
- undid many of the reforms his father enacted (33:3–9);
- refused to listen when the Lord spoke to him and his people (33:10);
- repented of his evil way of life only after he was captured by the Assyrians and tortured in Babylon (33:11–13).

One lesson of these contrasting kings is that wealth and power test character. Another is that moral and spiritual character is not automatically inherited. Hezekiah honored God with his life, but his son did not, at least not until he met a crisis.

Each generation must decide for itself whether it will follow the ways of the Lord. Some of Judah's worst kings were followed by some of the most God-fearing, and vice versa. No matter our background, we always have a choice to turn toward or away from God.

Prototypes for Evil Kings

2 Chr. 33:2

The books of Kings and Chronicles summarize the lives of most kings of Israel and Judah with one phrase: "he did evil in the sight of the LORD." Scripture usually measures the evil they did against one of several prototypes of wickedness.

Evil Standard	Background	Examples
Father	Used to assess a king whose father was famous for doing evil.	Abijam (1 Kin. 15:3); Jehoram (2 Kin. 3:2)
Jeroboam the son of Nebat	Led ten tribes to rebel against Rehoboam and establish the northern kingdom; soon did evil by introducing his own system of worship and idolatry (1 Kin. 12, 14).	Baasha (1 Kin. 15:34); Jehoram (2 Kin. 3:3)
Ahab	Took the nation's level of wickedness to new heights (1 Kin. 16:30, 33).	Ahaziah (2 Kin. 8:27; 2 Chr. 22:3)
Israel's kings	Notorious for idolatry; ruled a kingdom that began with rebellion and ended in exile (722 B.C.; 2 Kin. 17:5–23); used to gauge the kings of Judah.	Jehoram (2 Chr. 21:6); Ahaz (28:2)
The nations	The Canaanites, Amorites, and other tribes that God promised to drive from the Promised Land (Lev. 18:24–30).	Manasseh (2 Chr. 33:2)

Think About It: The definition of wrong is doing evil in the sight of the Lord, because only God selflessly defines evil. Ponder a time you defined evil, but then excused other actions as just fine. How can we grow to trust God enough to do rightly?

Models for Prayer in the Bible

2 Chr. 33:13

Prayer can be intimidating and baffling. But there is no single right way to pray. If evil King Manasseh could cry to God and be heard, we can learn to communicate with God, especially when we use Scripture as our model.

Need for Prayer	What to Do
You feel guilty for sins that damaged your own or someone else's life.	See David's prayer after he committed adultery and murder (Ps. 51).
You feel overwhelmed with responsibilities beyond your skills.	Read Moses' argument with God (Ex. 3:1–4:17).
You feel frustrated as you read about local, national, and international problems, wondering why God seems unconcerned.	Study the Book of Habakkuk.
You feel threatened by a superior.	Listen as David voices his grievances to God while fleeing Saul (Ps. 57, 142).
You have experienced prejudice against your religious convictions.	Look at the early Christians' prayer for boldness after their leaders were jailed (Acts 4:13–31).
You feel powerless to help a suffering child.	Consider the Syro-Phoenician woman's appeal to Jesus for mercy (Matt. 15:21–28).
You have not experienced healing for a chronic physical malady.	Read about Paul's appeals to God to remove his ailment (2 Cor. 12:7–10).

There is no one method for expressing ourselves to God. Don't limit prayer to simply asking for results. The Lord is available to hear our arguments, pleas, and tears, and He smiles when He hears our joys, praises, and friendly chatter. He will show us what to do. Open your heart to God, then wait patiently for His instructions.

Too Little, Too Late

2 Chr. 33:14–17

For most of Manasseh's reign, Judah paid tribute to Assyria as a vassal state, a fact that may have contributed to Manasseh's fascination with idolatry (2 Chr. 33:2–9), as it had in the era of his grandfather Ahaz. Having resisted repeated warnings from God (33:10), Manasseh was eventually captured and shamed by the Assyrians and deported to Babylon.

It took invasion, capture, humiliation, and a long march to Assyria to bring King Manasseh to his knees. Like countless other sinners, the wayward king broke down before God, crying to Him for help when he had nowhere else to turn. When Manasseh recognized his errors and repented, the Lord, true to His promises, delivered him (33:13; Lev. 26:40–45). This dramatic reversal shows how far God will go to retrieve a person from sin. It also shows that no matter how evil or outrageous human sin might be, God gladly forgives when He sees genuine repentance.

Forgiveness was complete, but consequences remained. Manasseh tried to correct the wrongs he had done, with only partial success (2 Chr. 33:14–17). He returned to Jerusalem and immediately began to campaign for spiritual reform (2 Chr. 33:15–17). But it was too little, too late. He had spent his life demolishing his father Hezekiah's positive accomplishments. Now Manasseh was too old to reclaim that lost ground, and he could do little to reverse the generations of evil that both preceded and followed him. God's judgment of Judah was coming. It was only a matter of time (2 Kin. 20:16–18).

Manasseh's life left behind a mixed legacy. He had enough time to repent but not enough to reform. It is never too soon to come back to God and start living according to His commands.

Josiah
2 Chr. 34:1

Name means: "The Lord Heals."

Not to be confused with: A man said to be the son of Zephaniah and who lived after the Exile in the days of Zechariah (Zech. 6:10).

Home: Jerusalem.

Family: Son of Amon and Jedidah; apparently married to at least two women, Hamutal and Zebudah; father of Jehoahaz, who ruled in 609 B.C., Eliakim (renamed Jehoiakim), who ruled 609–598 B.C., and Mattaniah (renamed Zedekiah), who ruled 598–587 B.C.

Occupation: King of Judah (640–609 B.C.).

Notable achievements: Enacting long-term religious reforms such as repairing the temple, renewing the covenant, and celebrating a nationwide Passover that drew Israelites from the former northern kingdom; rediscovered the Book of the Law (2 Chr. 34–35).

Best known as: A boy king and the last of Judah's God-fearing rulers before Jerusalem fell to the Babylonians.

The Stiff-Necked King of a Stiff-Necked People

2 Chr. 36:11–14

Zedekiah was stubborn and rebellious, both against the Lord and Nebuchadnezzar. The last of Judah's kings before the Exile, he ruled Jerusalem as a vassal of the Babylonians. The nation's best and brightest had already been deported (2 Kin. 24:14–16), so Zedekiah was left with subjects who had little ability or character.

Think About It: We can't blame our subjects for our own lack of leadership. What would the Bible's good kings have advised Zedekiah to do?

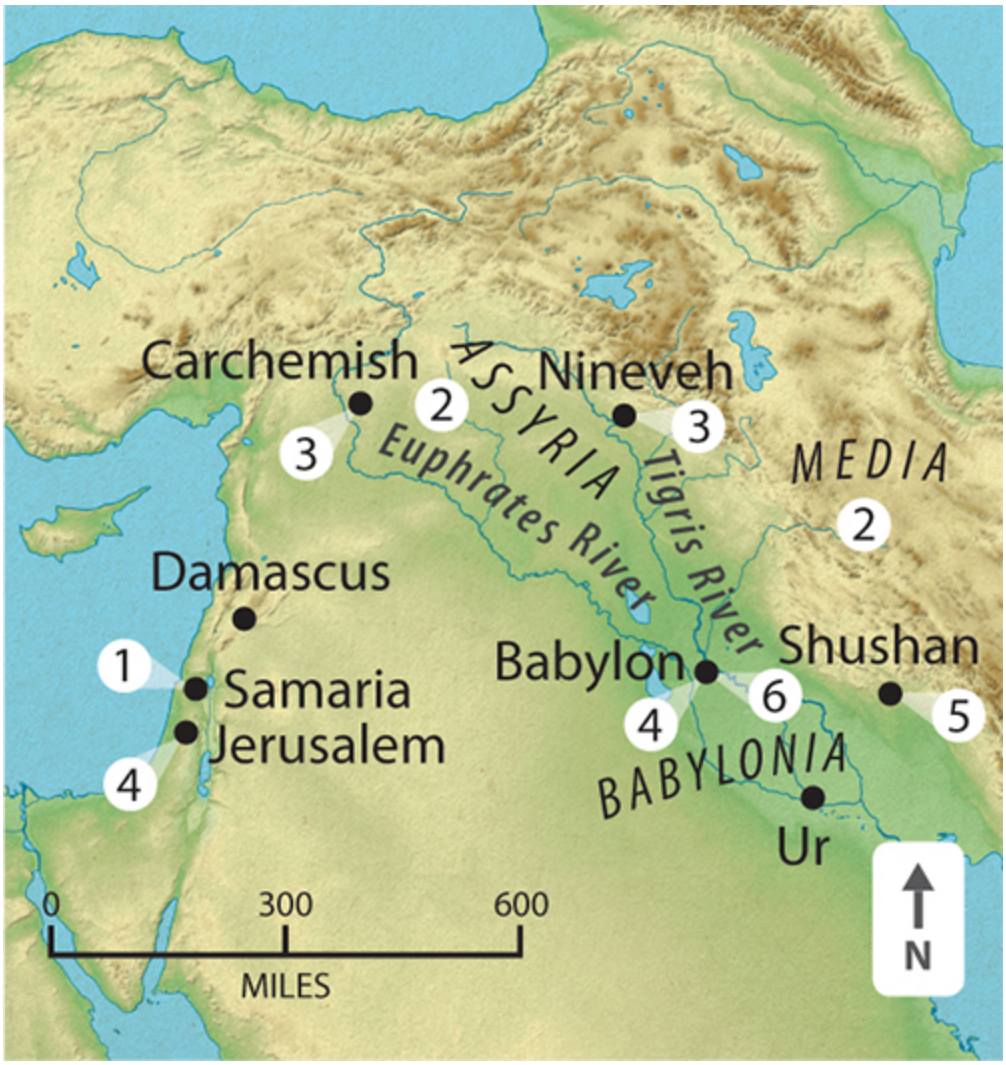
The Captivities of the Israelites

2 Chr. 36:20



1. The Assyrians capture the northern kingdom of Israel in three campaigns beginning in 734 B.C. and ending in 701 B.C.
2. Israelites are relocated to regions of the upper Euphrates and Media, and Israel is repopulated with foreigners from Assyria.
3. The Babylonians conquer Assyria with the capture of Nineveh in 612 B.C. and Carchemish in 605 B.C.
4. Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon campaigns against Judah beginning in 605 B.C., finally capturing Jerusalem in 587 B.C. and taking most of its survivors to “the land of Shinar” (Babylonia; Dan. 1:2).
5. Shushan (Susa), one of the cities where the prophet Daniel probably lived and worked, where Esther was named queen by Xerxes (Ahasuerus) and saved the Jews from genocide, and where Nehemiah served Artaxerxes before returning to Jerusalem.

6. Cyrus of Persia conquered Babylon in 539 B.C. and began allowing Jews to return to Palestine.

Think About It: Daniel, Shadrach, Meschach and Abed-Nego found ways to honor God even in captivity. What do they have to teach you about managing your tough leadership situations?

Seventy Years of Sabbaths

2 Chr. 36:21

For seventy years (c. 606–536 B.C.) the land of Judah lay "desolate," with agricultural and commercial life halted. The Lord enforced a Sabbath rest on the land while the bulk of Judah's people lived in exile in Babylon.

The basis for this discipline was the failure of God's people to honor the law of the Sabbath year, letting the land lie fallow every seventh year (see "The Sabbath Year" at Lev. 25:2–8). Little evidence indicates that they ever followed this practice, and by rejecting this command they acted as if neither they nor the land belonged to God.

The Lord expects us to take His commandments seriously. He used the Babylonians to purge the land of offenders until the deficit of Sabbath years had been restored. When some of the Jews later returned to Jerusalem, they renewed the covenant and made the observation of Sabbath years a serious part of their commitment (Neh. 10:31).

The books of Ezra and Nehemiah recount the Jews' long-awaited return to Jerusalem after the Babylonian exile.

God's people had been exiled from their homeland as a consequence of their disobedience to God. Most who had been taken captive died in a foreign country. New generations had been born and brought up far from their homeland. These young exiles had never set eyes on the land promised to Abraham and his descendants, and many did not consider the land of their forefathers to be their home. But like other refugees throughout history, some took up the challenge of reclaiming their heritage and rebuilding their homes and identities. Debris would be cleared, damaged infrastructure replaced, and new structures raised from the ashes of a burned-out city. Government would be reconstituted and every economic sector revived.

Among countless pressing tasks, two projects took priority, and Jerusalem's reconstruction can be largely attributed to two men, Ezra the scribe and Nehemiah the cupbearer. The former was probably an appointed official over Jewish affairs in Persia, and the latter a confidant of the Persian king Artaxerxes I. Ezra's primary concerns were religious and cultural; he aimed to revive worship by laying a new foundation for the temple, the center of the nation's spiritual life. Nehemiah focused on the people's administrative and military interests by rebuilding the wall around the city, a ring of protection broken down during the Babylonian siege. Both projects represented the people's return not only to Judah but also to their God. The price of disobedience had been paid. Now was the time for restoration and renewal as the Lord effected a new exodus for His people.

Ezra and Nehemiah were able to pursue their civil duties because of a coalition of Persians, Medes, and Scythians that had captured Babylon in 539 B.C., bringing an end to the Babylonian empire. When King Cyrus of Persia issued a decree allowing the Jews to return to their homeland, most chose to remain in Mesopotamia. But many thousands made the journey home in three major waves of migration (see "The Journey Back to Jerusalem" at Ezra 2:1). Ezra returned during the second of these journeys (458 B.C.; 7:1–9), and Nehemiah led the third (444 B.C.; Neh. 2:1–9).

The similarity between the end of 2 Chronicles and the opening of Ezra suggests that the books of Ezra and Nehemiah originated as a continuation of the Book of Chronicles. Tradition credits the Book of Ezra to Ezra the scribe, who would have possessed both the writing ability and the access to historical records necessary to compose this account. The narrative begins with the decree of Cyrus in 536 B.C. to rebuild the temple. Due to delays caused by opposition, however, the project is not completed until after Ezra arrives on the scene in 458 B.C. The account begins in Babylon and ends in Jerusalem (see the map at "The Journey Back to Jerusalem" at Ezra 2:1).

Key People in Ezra

- Cyrus, a pagan king whom God used to bring His people home and rebuild the temple (Ezra 1:1; see also Cyrus's profile at 2 Chr. 36:23).
- The Persians, the most humane and benevolent of Middle Eastern conquerors, especially compared to the Assyrians and Babylonians (Ezra 1:8).
- Zerubbabel, grandson of King Jehoiachin and leader of the first group of Jews to leave Babylon for Judah

(Ezra 2:2).
- Artaxerxes I, the Persian ruler who issued a supplemental decree permitting Jewish repatriation and rebuilding (Ezra 4:7).

Key Events in Ezra

- Cyrus issues a decree freeing the Jews from captivity (Ezra 1:1–4).
- Ezra rebuilds the temple at Jerusalem (Ezra 3:10–6:22).
- God's followers dissolve their marriages to pagan wives (Ezra 9–10).

Ezra 1

End of the Babylonian Captivity

1 Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and also put it in writing, saying, Cyrus's Decree

> 2 Thus says Cyrus king of Persia: All the kingdoms of > the earth the LORD God of heaven has given me. And > He has commanded me to build Him a house at > Jerusalem which is in Judah.
> 3 Who is among you of all His people? May his God be > with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem which is in > Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel
> (He is God), which is in Jerusalem.
> 4 And whoever is left in any place where he dwells, let > the men of his place help him with silver and gold, > with goods and livestock, besides the freewill offerings > for the house of God which is in Jerusalem.

5 Then the heads of the fathers' houses of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, with all whose spirits God had moved, arose to go up and build the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem.
6 And all those who were around them encouraged them with articles of silver and gold, with goods and livestock, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.
7 King Cyrus also brought out the articles of the house of the LORD, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken from Jerusalem and put in the temple of his gods;

[8]and Cyrus king of Persia brought them out by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted them out to Sheshbazzar the prince of Judah.

[9]This is the number of them: thirty gold platters, one thousand silver platters, twenty-nine knives,

[10]thirty gold basins, four hundred and ten silver basins of a similar kind, and one thousand other articles.

[11]All the articles of gold and silver were five thousand four hundred. All these Sheshbazzar took with the captives who were brought from Babylon to Jerusalem.

62 These sought their listing among those who were [70]So the priests and the Levites, some of the people, the singers, the gatekeepers, and the Nethinim, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

Ezra 3

Worship Restored at Jerusalem

1 And when the seventh month had come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered together as one man to Jerusalem. Community Begins with Worship

2 Then Jeshua the son of Jozadak[a] and his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and his brethren, arose and built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings on it, as it is written in the Law of Moses the man of God.

3 Though fear had come upon them because of the people of those countries, they set the altar on its bases; and they offered burnt offerings on it to the LORD, both the morning and evening burnt offerings.

4 They also kept the Feast of Tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings in the number required by ordinance for each day.

5 Afterwards they offered the regular burnt offering, and those for New Moons and for all the appointed feasts of the LORD that were consecrated, and those of everyone who willingly offered a freewill offering to the LORD.

6 From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD, although the foundation of the temple of the LORD had not been laid.

7 They also gave money to the masons and the carpenters, and food, drink, and oil to the people of Sidon and Tyre to bring cedar logs from Lebanon to the sea, to Joppa, according to the permission which they had from Cyrus king of Persia.

Restoration of the Temple Begins

8Now in the second month of the second year of their coming to the house of God at Jerusalem, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, Jeshua the son of Jozadak,[b] and the rest of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all those who had come out of the captivity to Jerusalem, began work and appointed the Levites from twenty years old and above to oversee the work of the house of the LORD.

9Then Jeshua with his sons and brothers, Kadmiel with his sons, and the sons of Judah,[c] arose as one to oversee those working on the house of God: the sons of Henadad with their sons and their brethren the Levites.

10When the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, the priests stood[d] in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites, the sons of Asaph, with cymbals, to praise the LORD, according to the ordinance of David king of Israel.

11And they sang responsively, praising and giving thanks to the LORD:

> "For He is good,
> For His mercy endures forever toward Israel."[e]

Then all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

12But many of the priests and Levites and heads of the fathers' houses, old men who had seen the first temple, wept with a loud voice when the foundation of this temple was laid before their eyes. Yet many shouted aloud for joy,

Newer Is Not Necessarily Better or Worse

13so that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people, for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the sound was heard afar off.

Ezra 4

Resistance to Rebuilding the Temple

1 Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the descendants of the captivity were building the temple of the LORD God of Israel,
2 they came to Zerubbabel and the heads of the fathers' houses, and said to them, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God as you do; and we have sacrificed to Him since the days of Esarhaddon king of Assyria, who brought us here."
3 But Zerubbabel and Jeshua and the rest of the heads of the fathers' houses of Israel said to them, "You may do nothing with us to build a house for our God; but we alone will build to the LORD God of Israel, as King Cyrus the king of Persia has commanded us."
4 Then the people of the land tried to discourage the people of Judah. They troubled them in building, 5 and hired counselors against them to frustrate their purpose all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

Rebuilding of Jerusalem Opposed

6 In the reign of Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reign, they wrote an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.
7 In the days of Artaxerxes also, Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabel, and the rest of their companions wrote to Artaxerxes king of Persia; and the letter was written in Aramaic script, and translated into the Aramaic language. Artaxerxes I 8 Rehum[a] the commander and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Jerusalem to King Artaxerxes in this fashion:

9 From[b] Rehum the commander, Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions—representatives of the Dinaites, the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the people of Persia and Erech and Babylon and Shushan,[c]
the Dehavites, the Elamites, 10 and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Osnapper took captive and settled in the cities of Samaria and the remainder beyond the River[d]—and so forth.[e]

11 (This is a copy of the letter that they sent him)

To King Artaxerxes from your servants, the men of the region beyond the River, and so forth:[f]

12 Let it be known to the king that the Jews who came up from you have come to us at Jerusalem, and are building the rebellious and evil city, and are finishing its walls and repairing the foundations.
13 Let it now be known to the king that, if this city is built and the walls completed, they will not pay tax, tribute, or custom, and the king's treasury will be diminished.
14 Now because we receive support from the palace, it was not proper for us to see the king's dishonor;
therefore we have sent and informed the king, 15 that search may be made in the book of the records of your fathers. And you will find in the book of the records and know that this city is a rebellious city, harmful to kings and provinces, and that they have incited sedition within the city in former times, for which cause this city was destroyed.
16 We inform the king that if this city is rebuilt and its walls are completed, the result will be that you will have no dominion beyond the River.

17The king sent an answer:

To Rehum the commander, to Shimshai the scribe, to the rest of their companions who dwell in Samaria, and to the remainder beyond the River:

Peace, and so forth.[g]

[18]The letter which you sent to us has been clearly read before me.
[19]And I gave the command, and a search has been made, and it was found that this city in former times has revolted against kings, and rebellion and sedition have been fostered in it.
[20]There have also been mighty kings over Jerusalem, who have ruled over all the region beyond the River; and tax, tribute, and custom were paid to them.
[21]Now give the command to make these men cease, that this city may not be built until the command is given by me.
[22]Take heed now that you do not fail to do this. Why should damage increase to the hurt of the kings?

23Now when the copy of King Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum, Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went up in haste to Jerusalem against the Jews, and by force of arms made them cease.
24Thus the work of the house of God which is at Jerusalem ceased, and it was discontinued until the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

Ezra 5

Restoration of the Temple Resumed

1 Then the prophet Haggai and Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophets, prophesied to the Jews who were in Judah and Jerusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, who was over
them.
2 So Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak[a] rose up and began to build the house of God which is in Jerusalem; and the prophets of God were with them, helping them.
3 At the same time Tattenai the governor of the region beyond the River[b] and Shethar-Boznai and their companions came to them and spoke thus to them: "Who has commanded you to build this temple and finish this wall?"
4 Then, accordingly, we told them the names of the men who were constructing this building.
5 But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, so that they could not make them cease till a report could go to Darius. Then a written answer was returned concerning this matter.
6 This is a copy of the letter that Tattenai sent:

> The governor of the region beyond the River, and > Shethar-Boznai, and his companions, the Persians who > were in the region beyond the River, to Darius the > king.

7 (They sent a letter to him, in which was written thus)

> To Darius the king:
> All peace.

8 Let it be known to the king that we went into the province of Judea, to the temple of the great God, which is being built with heavy stones, and timber is being laid in the walls; and this work goes on diligently and prospers in their hands.
9 Then we asked those elders, and spoke thus to them: "Who commanded you to build this temple and to finish these walls?"
10 We also asked them their names to inform you, that we might write the names of the men who were chief among them.
11 And thus they returned us an answer, saying: "We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and we are rebuilding the temple that was built many years ago, which a great king of Israel built and completed.
12 "But because our fathers provoked the God of heaven to wrath, He gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this temple and carried the people away to Babylon.
13 "However, in the first year of Cyrus king of Babylon, King Cyrus issued a decree to build this house of God.
14 "Also, the gold and silver articles of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple that was in Jerusalem and carried into the temple of Babylon—those King Cyrus took from the temple of Babylon, and they were given to one named Sheshbazzar, whom he had made governor.
15 "And he said to him, 'Take these articles; go, carry them to the temple site that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be rebuilt on its former site.'
16 "Then the same Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundation of the house of God which is in Jerusalem;

but from that time even until now it has been under construction, and it is not finished.”
17Now therefore, if it seems good to the king, let a search be made in the king’s treasure house, which is there in Babylon, whether it is so that a decree was issued by King Cyrus to build this house of God at Jerusalem, and let the king send us his pleasure concerning this matter.

Ezra 6

The Decree of Darius

1 Then King Darius issued a decree, and a search was made in the archives,[a] where the treasures were stored in Babylon.
2 And at Achmetha,[b] in the palace that is in the province of Media, a scroll was found, and in it a record was written thus:

3 In the first year of King Cyrus, King Cyrus issued a decree concerning the house of God at Jerusalem: "Let the house be rebuilt, the place where they offered sacrifices; and let the foundations of it be firmly laid, its height sixty cubits and its width sixty cubits, 4 with three rows of heavy stones and one row of new timber. Let the expenses be paid from the king's treasury.
5 Also let the gold and silver articles of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took from the temple which is in Jerusalem and brought to Babylon, be restored and taken back to the temple which is in Jerusalem, each to its place; and deposit them in the house of God"—
6 Now therefore, Tattenai, governor of the region beyond the River, and Shethar-Boznai, and your companions the Persians who are beyond the River, keep yourselves far from there.
7 Let the work of this house of God alone; let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build this house of God on its site.
8 Moreover I issue a decree as to what you shall do for the elders of these Jews, for the building of this house of God: Let the cost be paid at the king’s expense from taxes on the region beyond the River; this is to be given immediately to these men, so that they are not hindered.

9And whatever they need—young bulls, rams, and lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the request of the priests who are in Jerusalem—let it be given them day by day without fail,
10that they may offer sacrifices of sweet aroma to the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king and his sons.
11Also I issue a decree that whoever alters this edict, let a timber be pulled from his house and erected, and let him be hanged on it; and let his house be made a refuse heap because of this.
12And may the God who causes His name to dwell there destroy any king or people who put their hand to alter it, or to destroy this house of God which is in Jerusalem. I Darius issue a decree; let it be done diligently.

The Temple Completed and Dedicated

13Then Tattenai, governor of the region beyond the River, Shethar-Boznai, and their companions diligently did according to what King Darius had sent.
14So the elders of the Jews built, and they prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. And they built and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the command of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia.
15Now the temple was finished on the third day of the month of Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of King Darius.

16 Then the children of Israel, the priests and the Levites and the rest of the descendants of the captivity, celebrated the dedication of this house of God with joy.

17 And they offered sacrifices at the dedication of this house of God, one hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and as a sin offering for all Israel twelve male goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 They assigned the priests to their divisions and the Levites to their divisions, over the service of God in Jerusalem, as it is written in the Book of Moses.

The Passover Celebrated

19 And the descendants of the captivity kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

20 For the priests and the Levites had purified themselves;
all of them were ritually clean. And they slaughtered the Passover lambs for all the descendants of the captivity, for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

21 Then the children of Israel who had returned from the captivity ate together with all who had separated themselves from the filth of the nations of the land in order to seek the LORD God of Israel.

22 And they kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with joy; for the LORD made them joyful, and turned the heart of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

Ezra 7

The Arrival of Ezra

1 Now after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, God's People in Government
2 the son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub, 3 the son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth,
4 the son of Zerahiah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki,
5 the son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest—6 this Ezra came up from Babylon; and he was a skilled scribe in the Law of Moses, which the LORD God of Israel had given. The king granted him all his request, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him. The Skill of a Scribe 7 Some of the children of Israel, the priests, the Levites, the singers, the gatekeepers, and the Nethinim came up to Jerusalem in the seventh year of King Artaxerxes.
8 And Ezra came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king.
9 On the first day of the first month he began his journey from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month he came to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.
10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the Law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach statutes and ordinances in Israel.

The Letter of Artaxerxes to Ezra

11 This is a copy of the letter that King Artaxerxes gave Ezra the priest, the scribe, expert in the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of His statutes to Israel:

12 Artaxerxes,[a] king of kings,

To Ezra the priest, a scribe of the Law of the God of heaven:
Perfect peace, and so forth.[b]
13 I issue a decree that all those of the people of Israel and the priests and Levites in my realm, who volunteer to go up to Jerusalem, may go with you.
14 And whereas you are being sent by the king and his seven counselors to inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, with regard to the Law of your God which is in your hand;
15 and whereas you are to carry the silver and gold which the king and his counselors have freely offered to the God of Israel, whose dwelling is in Jerusalem;
16 and whereas all the silver and gold that you may find in all the province of Babylon, along with the freewill offering of the people and the priests, are to be freely offered for the house of their God in Jerusalem—
17 now therefore, be careful to buy with this money bulls, rams, and lambs, with their grain offerings and their drink offerings, and offer them on the altar of the house of your God in Jerusalem.
18 And whatever seems good to you and your brethren to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, do it according to the will of your God.
19 Also the articles that are given to you for the service of the house of your God, deliver in full before the God of Jerusalem.
20 And whatever more may be needed for the house of your God, which you may have occasion to provide, pay for it from the king's treasury.

21 And I, even I, Artaxerxes the king, issue a decree to all the treasurers who are in the region beyond the River, that whatever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the Law of the God of heaven, may require of you, let it be done diligently,
22 up to one hundred talents of silver, one hundred kors of wheat, one hundred baths of wine, one hundred baths of oil, and salt without prescribed limit.
23 Whatever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it diligently be done for the house of the God of heaven.
For why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons?
24 Also we inform you that it shall not be lawful to impose tax, tribute, or custom on any of the priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, Nethinim, or servants of this house of God.
25 And you, Ezra, according to your God-given wisdom, set magistrates and judges who may judge all the people who are in the region beyond the River, all such as know the laws of your God; and teach those who do not know them.
26 Whoever will not observe the law of your God and the law of the king, let judgment be executed speedily on him, whether it be death, or banishment, or confiscation of goods, or imprisonment.

27 Blessed be the LORD God of our fathers, who has put such a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem,

28 and has extended mercy to me before the king and his counselors, and before all the king's mighty princes.

So I was encouraged, as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me; and I gathered leading men of Israel to go up with me.

Ezra 8

Heads of Families Who Returned with Ezra

1These are the heads of their fathers' houses, and this is the genealogy of those who went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of King Artaxerxes:

2of the sons of Phinehas, Gershom; of the sons of Ithamar, Daniel; of the sons of David, Hattush;

3of the sons of Shecaniah, of the sons of Parosh, Zechariah; and registered with him were one hundred and fifty males;

4of the sons of Pahath-Moab, Eliehoenai the son of Zerahiah, and with him two hundred males;

5of the sons of Shechaniah,[a] Ben-Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males;

6of the sons of Adin, Ebed the son of Jonathan, and with him fifty males;

7of the sons of Elam, Jeshaiah the son of Athaliah, and with him seventy males;

8of the sons of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the son of Michael, and with him eighty males;

9of the sons of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males;

10of the sons of Shelomith,[b] Ben-Josiphiah, and with him one hundred and sixty males;

11of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the son of Bebai, and with him twenty-eight males;

12of the sons of Azgad, Johanan the son of Hakkatan, and with him one hundred and ten males;

13of the last sons of Adonikam, whose names are these—Eliphelet, Jeiel, and Shemaiah—and with them sixty males;

14 also of the sons of Bigvai, Uthai and Zabbud, and with them seventy males.

Servants for the Temple

15 Now I gathered them by the river that flows to Ahava, and we camped there three days. And I looked among the people and the priests, and found none of the sons of Levi there.

16 Then I sent for Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam, leaders; also for Joiarib and Elnathan, men of understanding.

17 And I gave them a command for Iddo the chief man at the place Casiphia, and I told them what they should say to Iddo and his brethren[c] the Nethinim at the place Casiphia—that they should bring us servants for the house of our God.

18 Then, by the good hand of our God upon us, they brought us a man of understanding, of the sons of Mahli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, namely Sherebiah, with his sons and brothers, eighteen men;

19 and Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiah of the sons of Merari, his brothers and their sons, twenty men;

20 also of the Nethinim, whom David and the leaders had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinim. All of them were designated by name.

Fasting and Prayer for Protection

21 Then I proclaimed a fast there at the river of Ahava, that we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek from Him the right way for us and our little ones and all our possessions. Actions and Assertions

22 For I was ashamed to request of the king an escort of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy on the road, because we had spoken to the king, saying, “The hand of our God is upon all those for good who seek Him, but His power and His wrath are against all those who forsake Him."

23So we fasted and entreated our God for this, and He answered our prayer.

Gifts for the Temple

24And I separated twelve of the leaders of the priests—Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them—

25and weighed out to them the silver, the gold, and the articles, the offering for the house of our God which the king and his counselors and his princes, and all Israel who were present, had offered.

26I weighed into their hand six hundred and fifty talents of silver, silver articles weighing one hundred talents, one hundred talents of gold, 27twenty gold basins worth a thousand drachmas, and two vessels of fine polished bronze, precious as gold.

28And I said to them, "You are holy to the LORD; the articles are holy also; and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering to the LORD God of your fathers.

29"Watch and keep them until you weigh them before the leaders of the priests and the Levites and heads of the fathers' houses of Israel in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the LORD."

30So the priests and the Levites received the silver and the gold and the articles by weight, to bring them to Jerusalem to the house of our God.

The Return to Jerusalem

31Then we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go to Jerusalem. And the hand of our God was upon us, and He delivered us from the hand of the enemy and from ambush along the road.

32So we came to Jerusalem, and stayed there three days.

33Now on the fourth day the silver and the gold and the articles were weighed in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the priest, and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas; with them were the Levites, Jozabad the son of Jeshua and Noadiah the son of Binnui, 34with the number and weight of everything. All the weight was written down at that time.

35The children of those who had been carried away captive, who had come from the captivity, offered burnt offerings to the God of Israel: twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and twelve male goats as a sin offering. All this was a burnt offering to the LORD.

36And they delivered the king’s orders to the king’s satraps and the governors in the region beyond the River. So they gave support to the people and the house of God.

Ezra 9

Intermarriage with Pagans

1When these things were done, the leaders came to me, saying, “The people of Israel and the priests and the Levites have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands, with respect to the abominations of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2“For they have taken some of their daughters as wives for themselves and their sons, so that the holy seed is mixed with the peoples of those lands. Indeed, the hand of the leaders and rulers has been foremost in this trespass.”

Interreligious Marriages Are the Problem, Not Interracial Ones

3So when I heard this thing, I tore my garment and my robe, and plucked out some of the hair of my head and beard, and sat down astonished.

4Then everyone who trembled at the words of the God of Israel assembled to me, because of the transgression of those who had been carried away captive, and I sat astonished until the evening sacrifice.

5At the evening sacrifice I arose from my fasting; and having torn my garment and my robe, I fell on my knees and spread out my hands to the LORD my God.

6And I said: “O my God, I am too ashamed and humiliated to lift up my face to You, my God; for our iniquities have risen higher than our heads, and our guilt has grown up to the heavens.

7“Since the days of our fathers to this day we have been very guilty, and for our iniquities we, our kings, and our priests have been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, to plunder, and to humiliation, as it is this day.

8 “And now for a little while grace has been shown from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a peg in His holy place, that our God may enlighten our eyes and give us a measure of revival in our bondage.

9 “For we were slaves. Yet our God did not forsake us in our bondage; but He extended mercy to us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to revive us, to repair the house of our God, to rebuild its ruins, and to give us a wall in Judah and Jerusalem.

10 “And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? For we have forsaken Your commandments, 11 “which You commanded by Your servants the prophets, saying, ‘The land which you are entering to possess is an unclean land, with the uncleanness of the peoples of the lands, with their abominations which have filled it from one end to another with their impurity.

12 ‘Now therefore, do not give your daughters as wives for their sons, nor take their daughters to your sons; and never seek their peace or prosperity, that you may be strong and eat the good of the land, and leave it as an inheritance to your children forever.’

13 “And after all that has come upon us for our evil deeds and for our great guilt, since You our God have punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and have given us such deliverance as this,

14 “should we again break Your commandments, and join in marriage with the people committing these abominations? Would You not be angry with us until You had consumed us, so that there would be no remnant or survivor?

15 “O LORD God of Israel, You are righteous, for we are left as a remnant, as it is this day. Here we are before You, in our guilt, though no one can stand before You because of this!”

Ezra 10

Confession of Improper Marriages

1 Now while Ezra was praying, and while he was confessing, weeping, and bowing down before the house of God, a very large assembly of men, women, and children gathered to him from Israel; for the people wept very bitterly.

2 And Shechaniah the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, spoke up and said to Ezra, “We have trespassed against our God, and have taken pagan wives from the peoples of the land; yet now there is hope in Israel in spite of this.

3 “Now therefore, let us make a covenant with our God to put away all these wives and those who have been born to them, according to the advice of my master and of those who tremble at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law.

4 “Arise, for this matter is your responsibility. We also are with you. Be of good courage, and do it.”

5 Then Ezra arose, and made the leaders of the priests, the Levites, and all Israel swear an oath that they would do according to this word. So they swore an oath.

6 Then Ezra rose up from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Jehohanan the son of Eliashib;
and when he came there, he ate no bread and drank no water, for he mourned because of the guilt of those from the captivity.

7 And they issued a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem to all the descendants of the captivity, that they must gather at Jerusalem,

8 and that whoever would not come within three days, according to the instructions of the leaders and elders, all his property would be confiscated, and he himself would be separated from the assembly of those from the captivity.

9So all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered at Jerusalem within three days. It was the ninth month, on the twentieth of the month; and all the people sat in the open square of the house of God, trembling because of this matter and because of heavy rain.

10Then Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, “You have transgressed and have taken pagan wives, adding to the guilt of Israel.

11“Now therefore, make confession to the LORD God of your fathers, and do His will; separate yourselves from the peoples of the land, and from the pagan wives.”

12Then all the assembly answered and said with a loud voice, “Yes! As you have said, so we must do.

13“But there are many people; it is the season for heavy rain, and we are not able to stand outside. Nor is this the work of one or two days, for there are many of us who have transgressed in this matter.

14“Please, let the leaders of our entire assembly stand; and let all those in our cities who have taken pagan wives come at appointed times, together with the elders and judges of their cities, until the fierce wrath of our God is turned away from us in this matter.”

15Only Jonathan the son of Asahel and Jahaziah the son of Tikvah opposed this, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite gave them support.

16Then the descendants of the captivity did so. And Ezra the priest, with certain heads of the fathers’ households, were set apart by the fathers’ households, each of them by name; and they sat down on the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17By the first day of the first month they finished questioning all the men who had taken pagan wives.

Pagan Wives Put Away

18And among the sons of the priests who had taken pagan wives the following were found of the sons of Jeshua the son of Jozadak,[a] and his brothers: Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah.
19And they gave their promise that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they presented a ram of the flock as their trespass offering.
20Also of the sons of Immer: Hanani and Zebadiah; 21of the sons of Harim: Maaseiah, Elijah, Shemaiah, Jehiel, and Uzziah;
22of the sons of Pashhur: Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasah.
23Also of the Levites: Jozabad, Shimei, Kelaiah (the same is Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.
24Also of the singers: Eliashib; and of the gatekeepers:
Shallum, Telem, and Uri.
25And others of Israel: of the sons of Parosh: Ramiah, Jeziah, Malchiah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Malchijah, and Benaiah;
26of the sons of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, Abdi, Jeremoth, and Eliah;
27of the sons of Zattu: Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah,
Jeremoth, Zabad, and Aziza; 28of the sons of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai;
29of the sons of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, Adaiah,
Jashub, Sheal, and Ramoth;[b]
30of the sons of Pahath-Moab: Adna, Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, Binnui, and Manasseh;
31*of* the sons of Harim: Eliezer, Ishijah, Malchijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon,
32Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah;

[33]of the sons of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattattah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, and Shimei;
[34]of the sons of Bani: Maadai, Amram, Uel,
[35]Benaiah, Bedeiah, Cheluh,[c]
[36]Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib,
[37]Mattaniah, Mattenai, Jaasai,[d]
[38]Bani, Binnui, Shimei,
[39]Shelemiah, Nathan, Adaiah,
[40]Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai,
[41]Azarel, Shelemiah, Shemariah,
[42]Shallum, Amariah, and Joseph;
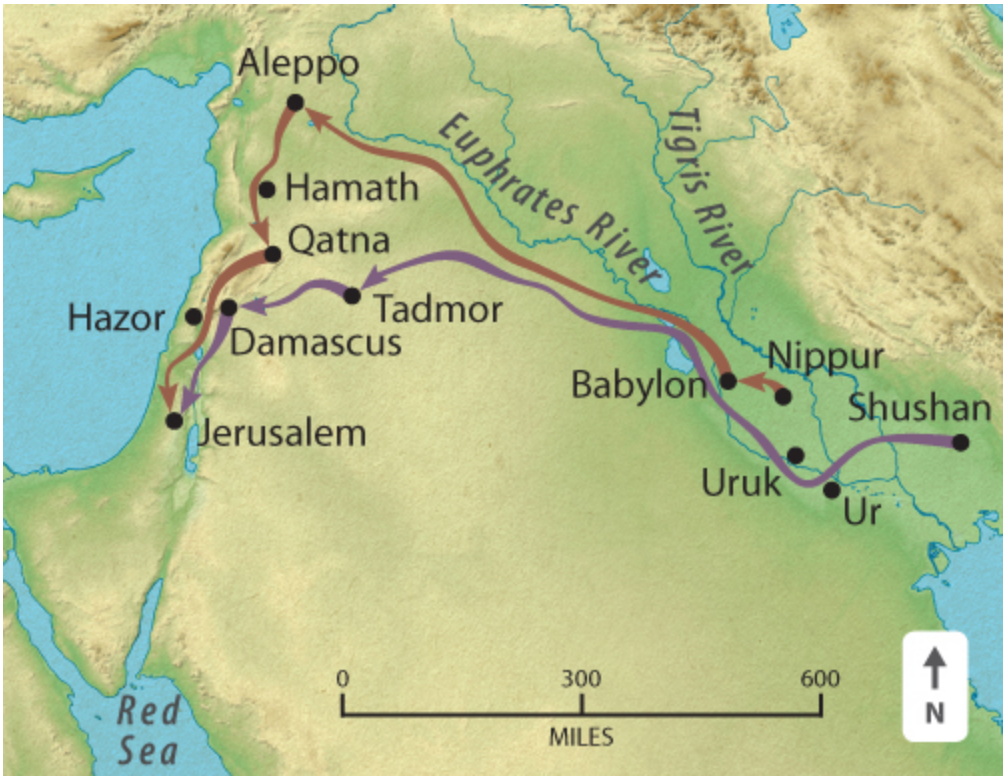
[43]of the sons of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai,[e] Joel, and Benaiah.
[44]All these had taken pagan wives, and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

Cyrus's Decree

Ezra 1:1



The royal edict permitting Jews to return to their land and rebuild the temple must have startled the captives. Their freedom came as the result of an edict by a pagan king who did not share their faith.

King Cyrus of Persia had conquered the Medes, Lydians, and Babylonians in rapid succession between 549 and 539 B.C. As he led his people in becoming a superpower on the world stage, Cyrus extended unprecedented privileges to exiles living in his lands. He allowed most to return home and to the worship of their own gods.

Cyrus decreed that the Jews could rebuild their temple, a structure the Babylonians had reduced to rubble (2 Chr. 36:19). While Cyrus did not worship the God of the Hebrews (Is. 45:5), his decree acknowledged that God had given him "all the kingdoms of the earth" and had commanded him to build a temple at Jerusalem (Ezra 1:2; 2 Chr. 36:23).

So God used a pagan king to fulfill Jeremiah's prophecy that the Jews would return to the land after seventy years of exile (Ezra 1:1; Jer. 25:12; 29:10), evidence that God can use virtually any means to accomplish His purposes.

The Journey Back to Jerusalem
Ezra 2:1

No known records reveal how many of Judah's inhabitants went into exile in 586 B.C. King Uzziah had tallied more than three hundred thousand men of military age (2 Chr. 26:12, 13), so the total population of Judah under Uzziah and later kings—counting women, children, the elderly, priests, and Levites—probably numbered in the millions.

The Babylonians killed thousands of Jews during multiple campaigns against Judah, but they likely marched tens if not hundreds of thousands back to Babylon. After the Persians captured Babylon in 539 B.C., the emperor Cyrus relaxed government controls on captive peoples including the Jews, making possible a gradual return to Palestine. Repatriation occurred in three major waves:

- Zerubbabel's return (538–537 B.C.; Ezra 2:2) (brown trail)
- Ezra's return (458 B.C.; Ezra 7:1–9) (purple trail)
- Nehemiah's return (444 B.C.; Neh. 2:1–9) (purple trail)

Of all the exiles taken into or born into captivity, only 42,360 returned during the first and most substantial wave (Ezra 1:11; 2:1, 64), implying that a majority of the Jewish people preferred to stay in Babylon. After seventy years in captivity, many would have had few emotional ties to their homeland. The few adults who remembered Judah pictured their capital in ruins, with its temple destroyed and fields run wild or taken over by others.

Sheshbazzar, Zerubbabel, Ezra, Nehemiah, and other leaders had to overcome these barriers to repatriation. Only steadfast faith and perseverance enabled them to rebuild the temple, repair Jerusalem's walls, and resettle the land. For more on their brave adventures, see "Actions and Assertions" at Ezra 8:21–23.

More: The Exile was one of many incidents that scattered the Jews throughout the ancient world. By the time of Jesus and the early church, more Jews may have lived outside Palestine than within it, a circumstance that helped the spread of the gospel following Pentecost.

Proof of Ownership
Ezra 2:23

When Zerubbabel and the returnees arrived back in their homeland of Judah, they faced the overwhelming task of sorting out which lands belonged to which families. The Babylonians had burned much of Jerusalem, probably destroying most of the city's records. The men of Anathoth may have been able to provide some proof of ownership. Their predecessor Jeremiah, who had been allowed to stay behind at the start of the captivity (Jer. 40:1–6), had carefully preserved a deed for his family's lands as a testimony that God would preserve a remnant of His people through the Exile.

Think About It: What's are godly ways to manage deeds and other documents?

A New Census
Ezra 2:64

Governments have long counted their populations for the purposes of drafting soldiers, conscripting laborers, and collecting taxes. Data from the census of Jews who returned to Palestine from Babylon (Ezra 2:1), however, found other purposes:

1. Returning properties to their owners. Generations earlier, Moses had numbered the Israelites as they prepared to enter Canaan, using the census to divide the land among Israel's tribes (Num. 26). When the people finally took the land, they settled in their allotted territories (Josh. 13–19). Land was to stay in families from that time forward, with laws helping to ensure that no family lost its land permanently if forced to sell for financial reasons (see "The Year of Jubilee" at Lev. 25:8–17; "Family Responsibilities" at Num. 27:4; and "A Web of Technicalities" at Ruth 2:1). When the exiles returned, they needed to trace their lineage to verify their claims to family lands, or in the case of priests and Levites, to Levitical cities (Ezra 2:3–58; see also "The Levitical Cities" at Josh. 21:1–3). Priests who could not prove their heritage had to wait until another priest could consult God about their status (Ezra 2:59–63; Neh. 7:61–65).
2. Collecting resources to rebuild the temple. The census became an occasion for returnees to give toward building a new temple (Ezra 2:68, 69).
3. Repopulating Jerusalem. Several years after this census, Nehemiah studied its data again when he realized that much of Jerusalem felt empty and lifeless (Neh. 7:4, 5). Lots were cast to relocate one-tenth of Judah's population to the capital (11:1, 2). This last use of Ezra's census might prompt us to revisit cities with abandoned buildings and neglected neighborhoods. We might see astounding results if one-tenth of us moved to rebuild, revitalize, and reclaim these communities, impacting our neighbors with the life of the gospel.

More: Ezra's census was the sixth of seven major censuses recorded in the Bible.

Community Begins with Worship

Ezra 3:1–11

When Jeshua and Zerubbabel and their brothers surveyed the state of Jerusalem, they began their efforts to redevelop the community by gathering the people for worship. They set up an altar and broke ground on the temple even before the city walls were repaired. The Israelite priests no doubt realized that worship celebrations not only give glory to God but also help mobilize a community. Their example shows us to seek God as our first priority and worship Him as we launch projects to change our communities.

Newer Is Not Necessarily Better or Worse

Ezra 3:12

The oldest of the Jerusalem returnees could not help but compare the new temple with the glorious temple of Solomon remembered from their youth. They wept aloud as they realized that their new house of worship would never equal the first (compare Hag. 2:3). Yet they may have also wept with joy as they witnessed a portion of Israel's past magnificence restored.

Christians may feel mixed emotions as they witness rapid and far-reaching change. Growing older often teaches us that newer is not necessarily better, making it easy to dismiss change and seek security in the past. But God calls us to meet the needs not of yesterday but of today and tomorrow. It is a contradiction for people of faith to resist change. Innovation is inescapable if we want to remain relevant to the people among whom God has called us to spread His message. So as we carry on the truths of the past, we greet new challenges with joy. After all, God's faithfulness is timeless and enduring, available to every age and generation.

More: Critics opposed the new things that God was doing through Jesus, who told several parables to illustrate the need for change. See Matt. 9:15–17.

Think About It: "New is better" is not an older or younger viewpoint. It's an innovation thing. Who have you known who is young who resists good change? Who have you known who is older who works for good change? How can you tell if a change is a good one or a bad one?

God's People in Government

Ezra 7:1

Along with Esther and Daniel, Ezra and Nehemiah were Jews of the Exile who held powerful positions in pagan governments. All four employed their influence to assist their people, suggesting several ways that God's followers can bring about institutional change:

- Ezra's position in Babylon likely resembled that of a secretary of state for Jewish affairs. He answered to a pagan government but was not really a part of that government. He eventually left his position in Persia and returned to Jerusalem to direct temple construction. Ezra worked within the system without fully identifying with it.
- Nehemiah had unusual access to power as cupbearer of the empire's supreme decision maker. This trusted confidant of King Artaxerxes I served twice as Judah's governor while also retaining his strategic contacts in Persia. Nehemiah rebuilt Jerusalem's wall by cooperating with the system.
- Esther became queen of the Persian king Ahasuerus. Her position alone did not give her influence at court, but she used the king's favor to foil a government official's murderous plot against her people. She beat the system by making the most of her connections.
- Daniel spent his entire career working for pagan kings and governments (see "Daniel: Advisor to Kings" at Dan. 1:19). As far as we know, he never returned to his homeland. Yet he was probably the most powerful Jew of the entire Exile and its aftermath. He may have also had the most far-reaching impact. Daniel worked through the system although he took a firm stance against it in order to worship the Lord.

Each of these individuals illustrates the impact of a single person open to God's leading. None seems to have sought power for selfish gain. Rather, their God-given wisdom, skills, and other attributes brought them into the power centers of mighty empires. Whatever positions of influence we attain, we can look to these Old Testament models for inspiration on how to live for God in an unbelieving world.

The Skill of a Scribe
Ezra 7:6

The skills that qualified Ezra to serve as a scribe were his detailed technical knowledge of the Law and his ability to teach it to others (Ezra 7:10). The officials who served as scribes during the monarchy were mostly recorders and secretaries. The era of scribes as the Law's custodians began with men like Ezra upon the exiles' return to Palestine. By the time of Jesus they had become important political and social influencers.

Think About It: Your job may seem inconsequential, perhaps like a scribe might have felt. How does God want you to honor Him in the way you do your work day after day?

Actions and Assertions
Ezra 8:21–23

It is easy to talk about what God can do. It is not as simple to actually trust in the Lord to do what He has promised. Ezra enlightened King Artaxerxes about the divine protection that God's people could expect, but it was not until Ezra led a group of exiles back to Palestine that he demonstrated his faith in God's protection by declining an armed escort.

The Persians must have thought the choice ludicrous. The route from Babylon to Jerusalem followed the northern border of the Arabian Desert (see "The Journey Back to Jerusalem" at Ezra 2:1). Nine hundred miles long, it was shorter but more hazardous than the northern route through Aleppo and Hamath. Bandits and warring clans frequented the highway and its watering holes, waiting to ambush travelers. Traveling without soldiers invited disaster, especially given the precious cargo that the group carried (8:24–30).

But God rewarded the people's faith with an uneventful journey (8:31). The trip took about four months to complete, averaging seven or eight miles per day, a relatively slow pace, likely for the sake of children and the elderly.

Ezra's courage challenges us to follow through on our declarations of faith. It does no good to talk about relying on God if we back down as soon as things get tough. Although there is nothing wrong with accepting human help—after all, God continues to work through people just as He worked through the man who made Ezra's journey possible (see Cyrus's decree at Ezra 1:1)—we should also take care that our actions match the faith we proclaim.

More: Ezra's decision to refuse an entourage of soldiers was not intended to be an unbreakable standard; God's protection can also arrive through normal human means. Read Neh. 2:9 to see Nehemiah's opposite choice in the same situation.

Ezra 9:2

Ezra knew the Law. He understood that it explicitly condemned intermarriage with Canaanites and other peoples who served other gods (Ezra 9:1; Ex. 34:12–16; Deut. 7:3–5). He was also familiar with prophetic denunciations of intermarriage (compare Jer. 3:1–9; Mal. 2:10–16), which was a principal reason for God sending His people into exile (Ezra 9:10–14). So Ezra was overcome with remorse when he learned of the people's return to their disobedience (9:3, 4). The scribe then enacted a swift and decisive solution, ordering a mass assembly to confess their sin and immediately dissolve all intermarriages (10:3–5, 11–17).

Ezra's prayer (9:6–15), the people's confession (10:2–4, 12–14), and Ezra's systematic divorce proceedings (10:16–44) all highlight a crucial point that determines how we apply this Scripture: God forbade not interracial marriage but interreligious marriage.

Interracial unions were fairly common in the Old Testament. Moses married an Ethiopian woman (Num. 12:1). Salmon married Rahab, the prostitute of Jericho (Matt. 1:5). And Boaz married Ruth, a Moabite (Ruth 2:10; 4:13). Nevertheless, God generally cautioned His people against marrying foreigners because their allegiance to idols would dilute Israel's commitment to the one true God.

Twenty-five years after Ezra, Nehemiah found himself confronting a similar problem and took a less radical approach (Neh. 13:23–27). Instead of commanding divorce, he urged God's people to prevent future intermarriages.

As we wrestle with issues of marriage, we have these principles to keep in mind. Our concerns are not based on race or ethnicity but spirituality: we must consider not how to separate people but how to bring them together in following God.

The Book of Ezra began the story of the Jews' return to their homeland. After their long exile in Babylon, an initial wave of nearly fifty thousand former captives marched home and eventually completed a temple to replace the house of worship razed by the Babylonians.

The Book of Nehemiah continues that drama. It opens with Nehemiah receiving news from Jerusalem that survivors in the city are "in great distress and reproach." Moreover, "the wall of Jerusalem is also broken down, and its gates are burned with fire" (Neh. 1:3). Nehemiah weeps and mourns for days, pleading with God for mercy and confessing the nation's sins. Afterward, the Lord leads him on a journey back to Jerusalem to rebuild His city's protective wall and restore His broken people.

Nehemiah's position as the cupbearer of King Artaxerxes I enabled him to use the full authority of the Persian government to rebuild Jerusalem's wall. His contacts and connections with the king's inner circle worked to his advantage throughout his life, and his model of working from within the system continues to inform Christians on how to accomplish institutional change for the Lord (see "God's People in Government" at Ezra 7:1).

The Book of Nehemiah paints a picture of God's power by describing the many obstacles Nehemiah overcame as he undertook the wall's construction. First he gathered city residents and managed to persuade them to "rise up and build" (Neh. 2:18). The moment they began, however, opponents ridiculed their work and accused Nehemiah of sedition (2:19). Nonetheless, the wall quickly rose to half its height, "for the people had a mind to work" (4:6).

Meanwhile, a conspiracy against rebuilding drove Nehemiah to station defenders along the wall even as others labored (4:15–23). Finally, when the wall was finished within fifty-two days, Nehemiah's opposers were shattered. Nearby enemies and distant peoples all perceived that "this work was done by our God" (6:16).

Nehemiah was a remarkable leader and person of faith. His leadership strategies are shown at a level of detail unmatched elsewhere in the Old Testament, and his principles for motivating others and accomplishing a seemingly impossible task still work today (see "Leadership Principles from Nehemiah" at Neh. 1:1). Nehemiah also exemplified a life of prayer and untiring devotion to God's purposes (see "Nehemiah's Prayer" at Neh. 1:4–11).

Nehemiah's return occurred in 444 B.C. He served twice as governor of Judah. His first term lasted twelve years (5:14), until his return to the king (13:6). Then, "after certain days," he returned to Jerusalem. If the king who allowed him to return was still Artaxerxes I, then Nehemiah's second term as governor would have begun prior to 424 B.C., the year the king died.

The frequent first-person references to Nehemiah, the eleven prayers of Nehemiah, and the carefully composed lists strongly suggest that Nehemiah the cupbearer is the book's author. The account begins in Persia and ends in Jerusalem (see the map "The Journey Back to Jerusalem" at Ezra 2:1).

Key People in Nehemiah

- Nehemiah, a man God strategically positioned in the Persian royal court to accomplish great things (Neh. 1:1).
- Artaxerxes I, the powerful king of Persia who authorized Nehemiah to use government funds to strengthen Jerusalem's defenses (Neh. 2:1; see also his profile at Ezra 4:7).

- Sanballat, governor of Samaria during or shortly after Nehemiah's work and a bitter opponent of the rebuilding of Jerusalem's wall (Neh. 4:1).
- Tobiah, an adversary who may have been a Persian appointee or Sanballat's deputy (Neh. 4:3).

Key Events in Nehemiah

- Nehemiah hears about Jerusalem's dire condition (Neh. 1).
- Nehemiah leads Jerusalem's inhabitants in rebuilding the city's wall (Neh. 2–6).
- Nehemiah institutes reforms (Neh. 13).

Nehemiah Prays for His People

1 The words of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah.

It came to pass in the month of Chislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan[a] the citadel, Nehemiah Leadership Principles from Nehemiah

2 that Hanani one of my brethren came with men from Judah; and I asked them concerning the Jews who had escaped, who had survived the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

3 And they said to me, "The survivors who are left from the captivity in the province are there in great distress and reproach. The wall of Jerusalem is also broken down, and its gates are burned with fire."

4 So it was, when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned for many days; I was fasting and praying before the God of heaven. Nehemiah's Prayer

5 And I said: "I pray, LORD God of heaven, O great and awesome God, You who keep Your covenant and mercy with those who love You[b] and observe Your[c] commandments, Leaders Have a Sense of Mission

6 "please let Your ear be attentive and Your eyes open, that You may hear the prayer of Your servant which I pray before You now, day and night, for the children of Israel Your servants, and confess the sins of the children of Israel which we have sinned against You. Both my father's house and I have sinned.

7 "We have acted very corruptly against You, and have not kept the commandments, the statutes, nor the ordinances which You commanded Your servant Moses.

8 “Remember, I pray, the word that You commanded Your servant Moses, saying, ‘If you are unfaithful, I will scatter you among the nations;[d]
9 ‘but if you return to Me, and keep My commandments and do them, though some of you were cast out to the farthest part of the heavens, yet I will gather them from there, and bring them to the place which I have chosen as a dwelling for My name.’[e]
10 “Now these are Your servants and Your people, whom You have redeemed by Your great power, and by Your strong hand.
11 “O Lord, I pray, please let Your ear be attentive to the prayer of Your servant, and to the prayer of Your servants who desire to fear Your name; and let Your servant prosper this day, I pray, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man.” For I was the king’s cupbearer. Nehemiah the Cupbearer

Nehemiah 2

Nehemiah Sent to Judah

1 And it came to pass in the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was before him, that I took the wine and gave it to the king. Now I had never been sad in his presence before.

2 Therefore the king said to me, “Why is your face sad, since you are not sick? This is nothing but sorrow of heart.” So I became dreadfully afraid,

3 and said to the king, “May the king live forever! Why should my face not be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers’ tombs, lies waste, and its gates are burned with fire?”

4 Then the king said to me, “What do you request?” So I prayed to the God of heaven.

5 And I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, and if your servant has found favor in your sight, I ask that you send me to Judah, to the city of my fathers’ tombs, that I may rebuild it.” Leaders Leverage Power Rightly

6 Then the king said to me (the queen also sitting beside him), “How long will your journey be? And when will you return?” So it pleased the king to send me; and I set him a time.

7 Furthermore I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, let letters be given to me for the governors of the region beyond the River,[a] that they must permit me to pass through till I come to Judah,

8 “and a letter to Asaph the keeper of the king’s forest, that he must give me timber to make beams for the gates of the citadel which pertains to the temple,[b] for the city wall, and for the house that I will occupy.” And the king granted them to me according to the good hand of my God upon me.

9Then I went to the governors in the region beyond the River, and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent captains of the army and horsemen with me.

10When Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite official[c] heard of it, they were deeply disturbed that a man had come to seek the well-being of the children of Israel.

Nehemiah Views the Wall of Jerusalem

11So I came to Jerusalem and was there three days.

12Then I arose in the night, I and a few men with me; I told no one what my God had put in my heart to do at Jerusalem; nor was there any animal with me, except the one on which I rode. Leaders Conduct Research

13And I went out by night through the Valley Gate to the Serpent Well and the Refuse Gate, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem which were broken down and its gates which were burned with fire.

14Then I went on to the Fountain Gate and to the King's Pool, but there was no room for the animal under me to pass.

15So I went up in the night by the valley, and viewed the wall; then I turned back and entered by the Valley Gate, and so returned.

16And the officials did not know where I had gone or what I had done; I had not yet told the Jews, the priests, the nobles, the officials, or the others who did the work.

17Then I said to them, "You see the distress that we are in, how Jerusalem lies waste, and its gates are burned with fire. Come and let us build the wall of Jerusalem, that we may no longer be a reproach." Leaders Build Community

18And I told them of the hand of my God which had been good upon me, and also of the king's words that he had spoken to me. So they said, “Let us rise up and build.” Then they set their hands to this good work. Decide Where to Start

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite official, and Geshem the Arab heard of it, they laughed at us and despised us, and said, “What is this thing that you are doing? Will you rebel against the king?”

20 So I answered them, and said to them, “The God of heaven Himself will prosper us; therefore we His servants will arise and build, but you have no heritage or right or memorial in Jerusalem.” Christ Cares About Communities

Rebuilding the Wall

1 Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests and built the Sheep Gate; they consecrated it and hung its doors. They built as far as the Tower of the Hundred,[a] and consecrated it, then as far as the Tower of Hananel. Next to Each Other

2 Next to Eliashib[b] the men of Jericho built. And next to them Zaccur the son of Imri built.

3 Also the sons of Hassenaah built the Fish Gate; they laid its beams and hung its doors with its bolts and bars.

4 And next to them Meremoth the son of Urijah, the son of Koz,[c] made repairs. Next to them Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabel, made repairs. Next to them Zadok the son of Baana made repairs.

5 Next to them the Tekoites made repairs; but their nobles did not put their shoulders[d] to the work of their Lord.

6 Moreover Jehoiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah repaired the Old Gate; they laid its beams and hung its doors, with its bolts and bars.

7 And next to them Melatiah the Gibeonite, Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon and Mizpah, repaired the residence[e] of the governor of the region beyond the River.

8 Next to him Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, one of the goldsmiths, made repairs. Also next to him Hananiah, one[f] of the perfumers, made repairs; and they fortified
Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall.

9 And next to them Rephaiah the son of Hur, leader of half the district of Jerusalem, made repairs.

10 Next to them Jedaiah the son of Harumaph made repairs in front of his house. And next to him Hattush the son of Hashabniah made repairs.

11 Malchijah the son of Harim and Hashub the son of Pahath-Moab repaired another section, as well as the Tower of the Ovens.

12 And next to him was Shallum the son of Hallohesh, leader of half the district of Jerusalem; he and his daughters made repairs.

13 Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate. They built it, hung its doors with its bolts and bars, and repaired a thousand cubits of the wall as far as the Refuse Gate.

14 Malchijah the son of Rechab, leader of the district of Beth Haccerem, repaired the Refuse Gate; he built it and hung its doors with its bolts and bars.

15 Shallun the son of Col-Hozeh, leader of the district of Mizpah, repaired the Fountain Gate; he built it, covered it, hung its doors with its bolts and bars, and repaired the wall of the Pool of Shelah by the King's Garden, as far as the stairs that go down from the City of David.

16 After him Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, leader of half the district of Beth Zur, made repairs as far as the place in front of the tombs[g] of David, to the man-made pool, and as far as the House of the Mighty.

17 After him the Levites, under Rehum the son of Bani, made repairs. Next to him Hashabiah, leader of half the district of Keilah, made repairs for his district.

18 After him their brethren, under Bavai[h] the son of Henadad, leader of the other half of the district of Keilah, made repairs.

19 And next to him Ezer the son of Jeshua, the leader of Mizpah, repaired another section in front of the Ascent to the Armory at the buttress.

20 After him Baruch the son of Zabbai[i] carefully repaired the other section, from the buttress to the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest.

21 After him Meremoth the son of Urijah, the son of Koz,[j] repaired another section, from the door of the house of Eliashib to the end of the house of Eliashib.

22 And after him the priests, the men of the plain, made repairs.

23 After him Benjamin and Hasshub made repairs opposite their house. After them Azariah the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ananiah, made repairs by his house.

24 After him Binnui the son of Henadad repaired another section, from the house of Azariah to the buttress, even as far as the corner.

25 Palal the son of Uzai made repairs opposite the buttress, and on the tower which projects from the king's upper house that was by the court of the prison. After him Pedaiah the son of Parosh made repairs.

26 Moreover the Nethinim who dwelt in Ophel made repairs as far as the place in front of the Water Gate toward the east, and on the projecting tower.

27 After them the Tekoites repaired another section, next to the great projecting tower, and as far as the wall of Ophel.

28 Beyond the Horse Gate the priests made repairs, each in front of his own house.

29 After them Zadok the son of Immer made repairs in front of his own house. After him Shemaiah the son of Shechaniah, the keeper of the East Gate, made repairs.

30 After him Hananiah the son of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sixth son of Zalaph, repaired another section. After him Meshullam the son of Berechiah made repairs in front of his dwelling.

31 After him Malchijah, one of the goldsmiths, made repairs as far as the house of the Nethinim and of the merchants, in front of the Miphkad[k] Gate, and as far as the upper room at the corner.

32 And between the upper room at the corner, as far as the Sheep Gate, the goldsmiths and the merchants made repairs.

Nehemiah 4

The Wall Defended Against Enemies

1 But it so happened, when Sanballat heard that we were rebuilding the wall, that he was furious and very indignant, and mocked the Jews. Sanballat

2 And he spoke before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said, “What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they fortify themselves? Will they offer sacrifices? Will they complete it in a day? Will they revive the stones from the heaps of rubbish—stones that are burned?”

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and he said, “Whatever they build, if even a fox goes up on it, he will break down their stone wall.”

4 Hear, O our God, for we are despised; turn their reproach on their own heads, and give them as plunder to a land of captivity!

5 Do not cover their iniquity, and do not let their sin be blotted out from before You; for they have provoked You to anger before the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and the entire wall was joined together up to half its height, for the people had a mind to work.

7 Now it happened, when Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabs, the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites heard that the walls of Jerusalem were being restored and the gaps were beginning to be closed, that they became very angry, When You’ve Been Left Behind

8 and all of them conspired together to come and attack
Jerusalem and create confusion. Leaders Manage Adversity

9 Nevertheless we made our prayer to our God, and because of them we set a watch against them day and night.

10Then Judah said, “The strength of the laborers is failing, and there is so much rubbish that we are not able to build the wall.”

11And our adversaries said, “They will neither know nor see anything, till we come into their midst and kill them and cause the work to cease.”

12So it was, when the Jews who dwelt near them came, that they told us ten times, “From whatever place you turn, they will be upon us.”

13Therefore I positioned men behind the lower parts of the wall, at the openings; and I set the people according to their families, with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

14And I looked, and arose and said to the nobles, to the leaders, and to the rest of the people, “Do not be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, great and awesome, and fight for your brethren, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your houses.”

15And it happened, when our enemies heard that it was known to us, and that God had brought their plot to nothing, that all of us returned to the wall, everyone to his work.

16So it was, from that time on, that half of my servants worked at construction, while the other half held the spears, the shields, the bows, and wore armor; and the leaders were behind all the house of Judah.

17Those who built on the wall, and those who carried burdens, loaded themselves so that with one hand they worked at construction, and with the other held a weapon.

18Every one of the builders had his sword girded at his side as he built. And the one who sounded the trumpet was beside me.

19Then I said to the nobles, the rulers, and the rest of the people, “The work is great and extensive, and we are separated far from one another on the wall.

20“Wherever you hear the sound of the trumpet, rally to us there. Our God will fight for us.”

21So we labored in the work, and half of the men[a] held the spears from daybreak until the stars appeared.

22At the same time I also said to the people, “Let each man and his servant stay at night in Jerusalem, that they may be our guard by night and a working party by day.”

23So neither I, my brethren, my servants, nor the men of the guard who followed me took off our clothes, except that everyone took them off for washing.

Nehemiah 5

Nehemiah Deals with Oppression

1 And there was a great outcry of the people and their wives against their Jewish brethren.
2 For there were those who said, “We, our sons, and our daughters are many; therefore let us get grain, that we may eat and live.”
3 There were also some who said, “We have mortgaged our lands and vineyards and houses, that we might buy grain because of the famine.”
4 There were also those who said, “We have borrowed money for the king’s tax on our lands and vineyards.
5 “Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children; and indeed we are forcing our sons and our daughters to be slaves, and some of our daughters have been brought into slavery. It is not in our power to redeem them, for other men have our lands and vineyards.”
6 And I became very angry when I heard their outcry and these words.
7 After serious thought, I rebuked the nobles and rulers, and said to them, “Each of you is exacting usury from his brother.” So I called a great assembly against them.
8 And I said to them, “According to our ability we have redeemed our Jewish brethren who were sold to the nations. Now indeed, will you even sell your brethren? Or should they be sold to us?” Then they were silenced and found nothing to say.
9 Then I said, “What you are doing is not good. Should you not walk in the fear of our God because of the reproach of the nations, our enemies?

10 “I also, with my brethren and my servants, am lending them money and grain. Please, let us stop this usury!
11 “Restore now to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their olive groves, and their houses, also a hundredth of the money and the grain, the new wine and the oil, that you have charged them.” 12 So they said, “We will restore it, and will require nothing from them; we will do as you say.” Then I called the priests, and required an oath from them that they would do according to this promise.
13 Then I shook out the fold of my garment[a] and said, “So may God shake out each man from his house, and from his property, who does not perform this promise. Even thus may he be shaken out and emptied.” And all the assembly said, “Amen!” and praised the LORD. Then the people did according to this promise.

The Generosity of Nehemiah

14 Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year until the thirty-second year of King Artaxerxes, twelve years, neither I nor my brothers ate the governor’s provisions.
15 But the former governors who were before me laid burdens on the people, and took from them bread and wine, besides forty shekels of silver. Yes, even their servants bore rule over the people, but I did not do so, because of the fear of God.
16 Indeed, I also continued the work on this wall, and we[b] did not buy any land. All my servants were gathered there for the work.
17 And at my table were one hundred and fifty Jews and rulers, besides those who came to us from the nations around us.

18 Now that which was prepared daily was one ox and six choice sheep. Also fowl were prepared for me, and once every ten days an abundance of all kinds of wine. Yet in spite of this I did not demand the governor’s provisions, because the bondage was heavy on this people.

19 Remember me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

Nehemiah 6

Conspiracy Against Nehemiah

1 Now it happened when Sanballat, Tobiah, Geshem the Arab, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had rebuilt the wall, and that there were no breaks left in it (though at that time I had not hung the doors in the gates), 2 that Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, "Come, let us meet together among the villages in the plain of Ono." But they thought to do me harm.
3 So I sent messengers to them, saying, "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down. Why should the work cease while I leave it and go down to you?" 4 But they sent me this message four times, and I answered them in the same manner.
5 Then Sanballat sent his servant to me as before, the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand. Leaders Refuse Underhanded Politics
6 In it was written:

> It is reported among the nations, and Geshem[a] says, > that you and the Jews plan to rebel; therefore,
> according to these rumors, you are rebuilding the > wall, that you may be their king.
> 7 And you have also appointed prophets to proclaim > concerning you at Jerusalem, saying, "There is a king > in Judah!" Now these matters will be reported to the > king. So come, therefore, and let us consult together.

8 Then I sent to him, saying, "No such things as you say are being done, but you invent them in your own heart."

9For they all were trying to make us afraid, saying, “Their hands will be weakened in the work, and it will not be done.”

Now therefore, O God, strengthen my hands.

10Afterward I came to the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah, the son of Mehetabel, who was a secret informer; and he said, “Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple, and let us close the doors of the temple, for they are coming to kill you; indeed, at night they will come to kill you.”

11And I said, “Should such a man as I flee? And who is there such as I who would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in!”

12Then I perceived that God had not sent him at all, but that he pronounced this prophecy against me because Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13For this reason he was hired, that I should be afraid and act that way and sin, so that they might have cause for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14My God, remember Tobiah and Sanballat, according to these their works, and the prophetess Noadiah and the rest of the prophets who would have made me afraid.

The Wall Completed

15So the wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of Elul, in fifty-two days.

16And it happened, when all our enemies heard of it, and all the nations around us saw these things, that they were very disheartened in their own eyes; for they perceived that this work was done by our God.

17Also in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came to them.

18For many in Judah were pledged to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shechaniah the son of Arah, and his son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah.

19 Also they reported his good deeds before me, and reported my words to him. Tobiah sent letters to frighten me.

Nehemiah 7

1 Then it was, when the wall was built and I had hung the doors, when the gatekeepers, the singers, and the Levites had been appointed, Leaders Serve Tasks and People
2 that I gave the charge of Jerusalem to my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the leader of the citadel, for he was a faithful man and feared God more than many.
3 And I said to them, "Do not let the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun is hot; and while they stand guard, let them shut and bar the doors; and appoint guards from among the inhabitants of Jerusalem, one at his watch station and another in front of his own house."

The Captives Who Returned to Jerusalem

4 Now the city was large and spacious, but the people in it were few, and the houses were not rebuilt.
5 Then my God put it into my heart to gather the nobles, the rulers, and the people, that they might be registered by genealogy. And I found a register of the genealogy of those who had come up in the first return, and found written in it:

> 6 These[a] are the people of the province who came back > from the captivity, of those who had been carried > away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon > had carried away, and who returned to Jerusalem > and Judah, everyone to his city. An Important List
>
> 7 Those who came with Zerubbabel were Jeshua, > Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, > Bilshan, Mispereth,[b] Bigvai, Nehum, and Baanah.

The number of the men of the people of Israel:

41 the sons of Pashhur, one thousand two hundred and forty-seven;
42 the sons of Harim, one thousand and seventeen.

43 The Levites: the sons of Jeshua, of Kadmiel, and of the sons of Hodevah,[g] seventy-four.

44 The singers: the sons of Asaph, one hundred and forty-eight.

45 The gatekeepers: the sons of Shallum, the sons of Ater, the sons of Talmon, the sons of Akkub, the sons of Hatita, the sons of Shobai, one hundred and thirty-eight.

46 The Nethinim: the sons of Ziha, the sons of Hasupha, the sons of Tabbaoth, 49 the sons of Hanan, the sons of Giddel, the sons of Gahar,

50 the sons of Reaiah, the sons of Rezin, the sons of Nekoda,
51 the sons of Gazzam, the sons of Uzza, the sons of Paseah, 52 the sons of Besai, the sons of Meunim, the sons of Nephishesim,[l]
53 the sons of Bakbuk, the sons of Hakupha, the sons of Harhur, 54 the sons of Bazlith,[m] the sons of Mehida, the sons of Harsha, 56 the sons of Neziah, and the sons of Hatipha.

57 The sons of Solomon's servants: the sons of Sotai, the sons of Sophereth, the sons of Perida,[n]
58 the sons of Jaala, the sons of Darkon, the sons of Giddel, 59 the sons of Shephatiah, the sons of Hattil, the sons of Pochereth of Zebaim, and the sons of Amon.[o]
60 All the Nethinim, and the sons of Solomon's servants, were three hundred and ninety-two.

61 And these were the ones who came up from Tel Melah, Tel Harsha, Cherub, Addon,[p] and Immer, but they could not identify their father's house nor their lineage, whether they were of Israel:
62 the sons of Delaiah, the sons of Tobiah, the sons of Nekoda, six hundred and forty-two;

63 and of the priests: the sons of Habaiah, the sons of Koz,[q] the sons of Barzillai, who took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called by their name.
64 These sought their listing among those who were registered by genealogy, but it was not found; therefore they were excluded from the priesthood as defiled.
65 And the governor[r] said to them that they should not eat of the most holy things till a priest could consult with the Urim and Thummim.

66 Altogether the whole assembly was forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty,
67 besides their male and female servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven; and they had two hundred and forty-five men and women singers.
68 Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six, their mules two hundred and forty-five,
69 their camels four hundred and thirty-five, and donkeys six thousand seven hundred and twenty.

70 And some of the heads of the fathers' houses gave to the work. The governor[s] gave to the treasury one thousand gold drachmas, fifty basins, and five hundred and thirty priestly garments.
71 Some of the heads of the fathers' houses gave to the treasury of the work twenty thousand gold drachmas, and two thousand two hundred silver minas.
72 And that which the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand gold drachmas, two thousand silver minas, and sixty-seven priestly garments.

[73]So the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, some of the people, the Nethinim, and all Israel dwelt in their cities.

Ezra Reads the Law

When the seventh month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

Nehemiah 8

[1]Now all the people gathered together as one man in the open square that was in front of the Water Gate; and they told Ezra the scribe to bring the Book of the Law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded Israel. Leaders Celebrate Milestones

[2]So Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly of men and women and all who could hear with understanding on the first day of the seventh month.

[3]Then he read from it in the open square that was in front of the Water Gate from morning until midday, before the men and women and those who could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive to the Book of the Law.

[4]So Ezra the scribe stood on a platform of wood which they had made for the purpose; and beside him, at his right hand, stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Urijah, Hilkiah, and Maaseiah; and at his left hand Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Hashum, Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

[5]And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, for he was standing above all the people; and when he opened it, all the people stood up.

[6]And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God. Then all the people answered, “Amen, Amen!” while lifting up their hands. And they bowed their heads and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground.

[7]Also Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, helped the people to understand the Law; and the people stood in their place.

[8]So they read distinctly from the book, in the Law of God;
and they gave the sense, and helped them to understand the reading.

9And Nehemiah, who was the governor,[a] Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people said to all the people, “This day is holy to the LORD your God; do not mourn nor weep.” For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10Then he said to them, “Go your way, eat the fat, drink the sweet, and send portions to those for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy to our Lord. Do not sorrow, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.”

11So the Levites quieted all the people, saying, “Be still, for the day is holy; do not be grieved.”

12And all the people went their way to eat and drink, to send portions and rejoice greatly, because they understood the words that were declared to them.

The Feast of Tabernacles

13Now on the second day the heads of the fathers’ houses of all the people, with the priests and Levites, were gathered to Ezra the scribe, in order to understand the words of the Law.

14And they found written in the Law, which the LORD had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths during the feast of the seventh month,

15and that they should announce and proclaim in all their cities and in Jerusalem, saying, “Go out to the mountain, and bring olive branches, branches of oil trees, myrtle branches, palm branches, and branches of leafy trees, to make booths, as it is written.”

16Then the people went out and brought them and made themselves booths, each one on the roof of his house, or in their courtyards or the courts of the house of God, and in the open square of the Water Gate and in the open square of the Gate of Ephraim.

17 So the whole assembly of those who had returned from the captivity made booths and sat under the booths; for since the days of Joshua the son of Nun until that day the children of Israel had not done so. And there was very great gladness.
18 Also day by day, from the first day until the last day, he read from the Book of the Law of God. And they kept the feast seven days; and on the eighth day there was a sacred assembly, according to the prescribed manner.

Nehemiah 9

The People Confess Their Sins

1 Now on the twenty-fourth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, in sackcloth, and with dust on their heads.[a] 2 Then those of Israelite lineage separated themselves from all foreigners; and they stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their fathers.
3 And they stood up in their place and read from the Book of the Law of the LORD their God for one-fourth of the day; and for another fourth they confessed and worshiped the LORD their God.
4 Then Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani stood on the stairs of the Levites and cried out with a loud voice to the LORD their God.
5 And the Levites, Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said:

"Stand up and bless the LORD your God
Forever and ever!

"Blessed be Your glorious name,
Which is exalted above all blessing and praise!
6 You alone are the LORD;
You have made heaven,
The heaven of heavens, with all their host,
The earth and everything on it,
The seas and all that is in them,
And You preserve them all.
The host of heaven worships You.

7 “You are the LORD God,
Who chose Abram,
And brought him out of Ur of the Chaldeans,
And gave him the name Abraham;
8 You found his heart faithful before You,
And made a covenant with him
To give the land of the Canaanites,
The Hittites, the Amorites,
The Perizzites, the Jebusites,
And the Girgashites—
To give it to his descendants.
You have performed Your words,
For You are righteous.

9 “You saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt,
And heard their cry by the Red Sea.
10 You showed signs and wonders against Pharaoh,
Against all his servants,
And against all the people of his land.
For You knew that they acted proudly
against them.
So You made a name for Yourself, as it is this
day.
11 And You divided the sea before them,
So that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land;
And their persecutors You threw into the deep,
As a stone into the mighty waters.
12 Moreover You led them by day with a cloudy pillar,
And by night with a pillar of fire,
To give them light on the road

Which they should travel.
13 “You came down also on Mount Sinai,
And spoke with them from heaven,
And gave them just ordinances and true laws,
Good statutes and commandments.
14 You made known to them Your holy Sabbath,
And commanded them precepts, statutes and laws,
By the hand of Moses Your servant.
15 You gave them bread from heaven for their hunger,
And brought them water out of the rock for their thirst,
And told them to go in to possess the land
Which You had sworn to give them.

16 “But they and our fathers acted proudly,
Hardened their necks,
And did not heed Your commandments.
17 They refused to obey,
And they were not mindful of Your wonders
That You did among them.
But they hardened their necks,
And in their rebellion[b]
They appointed a leader
To return to their bondage.
But You are God,
Ready to pardon,
Gracious and merciful,
Slow to anger,
Abundant in kindness,
And did not forsake them.

18 “Even when they made a molded calf for themselves,
And said, ‘This is your god
That brought you up out of Egypt,’
And worked great provocations,
19 Yet in Your manifold mercies
You did not forsake them in the wilderness.
The pillar of the cloud did not depart from them by day,
To lead them on the road;
Nor the pillar of fire by night,
To show them light,
And the way they should go.
20 You also gave Your good Spirit to instruct
them,
And did not withhold Your manna from their
mouth,
And gave them water for their thirst.
21 Forty years You sustained them in the wilderness;
They lacked nothing;
Their clothes did not wear out[c]
And their feet did not swell.

22 “Moreover You gave them kingdoms and nations,
And divided them into districts.[d]
So they took possession of the land of Sihon,
The land of[e] the king of Heshbon,
And the land of Og king of Bashan.
23 You also multiplied their children as the stars of heaven,
And brought them into the land
Which You had told their fathers
To go in and possess.

[24]So the people went in
And possessed the land;
You subdued before them the inhabitants of the land,
The Canaanites,
And gave them into their hands,
With their kings
And the people of the land,
That they might do with them as they wished.
[25]And they took strong cities and a rich
land,
And possessed houses full of all goods,
Cisterns already dug, vineyards, olive groves,
And fruit trees in abundance.
So they ate and were filled and grew fat,
And delighted themselves in Your great goodness.

26"Nevertheless they were disobedient
And rebelled against You,
Cast Your law behind their backs
And killed Your prophets, who testified against them
To turn them to Yourself;
And they worked great provocations.
[27]Therefore You delivered them into the hand of their enemies,
Who oppressed them;
And in the time of their trouble,
When they cried to You,
You heard from heaven;
And according to Your abundant mercies
You gave them deliverers who saved them

From the hand of their enemies.

28 “But after they had rest,
They again did evil before You.
Therefore You left them in the hand of their enemies,
So that they had dominion over them;
Yet when they returned and cried out to You,
You heard from heaven;
And many times You delivered them
according to Your mercies,
29 And testified against them,
That You might bring them back to Your law.
Yet they acted proudly,
And did not heed Your commandments,
But sinned against Your judgments,
‘Which if a man does, he shall live by them.’[f]
And they shrugged their shoulders,
Stiffened their necks,
And would not hear.
30 Yet for many years You had patience with
them,
And testified against them by Your Spirit in Your prophets.
Yet they would not listen;
Therefore You gave them into the hand of the peoples of the lands.
31 Nevertheless in Your great mercy
You did not utterly consume them nor forsake them;
For You are God, gracious and merciful.

32 “Now therefore, our God,
The great, the mighty, and awesome God,
Who keeps covenant and mercy:

Do not let all the trouble seem small before
You
That has come upon us,
Our kings and our princes,
Our priests and our prophets,
Our fathers and on all Your people,
From the days of the kings of Assyria until
this day.
33However You are just in all that has befallen us;
For You have dealt faithfully,
But we have done wickedly.
34Neither our kings nor our princes,
Our priests nor our fathers,
Have kept Your law, Nor heeded Your commandments and Your testimonies,
With which You testified against them.
35For they have not served You in their kingdom,
Or in the many good things that You gave
them,
Or in the large and rich land which You set before them;
Nor did they turn from their wicked works.

36"Here we are, servants today!
And the land that You gave to our fathers,
To eat its fruit and its bounty,
Here we are, servants in it!
37And it yields much increase to the kings
You have set over us,
Because of our sins;
Also they have dominion over our bodies and our cattle

At their pleasure;
And we are in great distress.

38 "And because of all this,
We make a sure covenant and write it;
Our leaders, our Levites, and our priests seal
it."

Nehemiah 10

The People Who Sealed the Covenant

1 Now those who placed their seal on the document were:
Nehemiah the governor, the son of Hacaliah, and Zedekiah,
2 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,
3 Pashhur, Amariah, Malchijah,
4 Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch,
5 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah,
6 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch,
7 Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin,
8 Maaziah, Bilgai, and Shemaiah. These were the priests.
9 The Levites: Jeshua the son of Azaniah, Binnui of the sons of Henadad, and Kadmiel.
10 Their brethren: Shebaniah, Hodijah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan, 11 Micha, Rehob, Hashabiah,
12 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,
13 Hodijah, Bani, and Beninu.
14 The leaders of the people: Parosh, Pahath-Moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani, 15 Bunni, Azgad, Bebai,
16 Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin,
17 Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur,
18 Hodijah, Hashum, Bezai,
19 Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai,
20 Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir,
21 Meshezabel, Zadok, Jaddua,
22 Pelatiah, Hanan, Anaiah,
23 Hoshea, Hananiah, Hasshub,

24 Hallohesh, Pilha, Shobek,
25 Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah,
26 Ahijah, Hanan, Anan,
27 Malluch, Harim, and Baanah.

The Covenant That Was Sealed

28 Now the rest of the people—the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the Nethinim, and all those who had separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the Law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, everyone who had knowledge and understanding—
29 these joined with their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse and an oath to walk in God's Law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, and His ordinances and His statutes:
30 We would not give our daughters as wives to the peoples of the land, nor take their daughters for our sons;
31 if the peoples of the land brought wares or any grain to sell on the Sabbath day, we would not buy it from them on the Sabbath, or on a holy day; and we would forego the seventh year's produce and the exacting of every debt.
32 Also we made ordinances for ourselves, to exact from ourselves yearly one-third of a shekel for the service of the house of our God:
33 for the showbread, for the regular grain offering, for the regular burnt offering of the Sabbaths, the New Moons, and the set feasts; for the holy things, for the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and all the work of the house of our God.
34 We cast lots among the priests, the Levites, and the people, for bringing the wood offering into the house of our God, according to our fathers' houses, at the appointed times year by year, to burn on the altar of the LORD our God as it is written in the Law.

35And we made ordinances to bring the firstfruits of our ground and the firstfruits of all fruit of all trees, year by year, to the house of the LORD;

36to bring the firstborn of our sons and our cattle, as it is written in the Law, and the firstborn of our herds and our flocks, to the house of our God, to the priests who minister in the house of our God;

37to bring the firstfruits of our dough, our offerings, the fruit from all kinds of trees, the new wine and oil, to the priests, to the storerooms of the house of our God; and to bring the tithes of our land to the Levites, for the Levites should receive the tithes in all our farming communities.

38And the priest, the descendant of Aaron, shall be with the Levites when the Levites receive tithes; and the Levites shall bring up a tenth of the tithes to the house of our God, to the rooms of the storehouse.

39For the children of Israel and the children of Levi shall bring the offering of the grain, of the new wine and the oil, to the storerooms where the articles of the sanctuary are, where the priests who minister and the gatekeepers and the singers are; and we will not neglect the house of our God.

Nehemiah 11

The People Dwelling in Jerusalem

1 Now the leaders of the people dwelt at Jerusalem; the rest of the people cast lots to bring one out of ten to dwell in Jerusalem, the holy city, and nine-tenths were to dwell in other cities. The Ten Percent Solution

2 And the people blessed all the men who willingly offered themselves to dwell at Jerusalem.

3 These are the heads of the province who dwelt in Jerusalem. (But in the cities of Judah everyone dwelt in his own possession in their cities—Israelites, priests, Levites, Nethinim, and descendants of Solomon's servants.)

4 Also in Jerusalem dwelt some of the children of Judah and of the children of Benjamin.

The children of Judah: Athaiah the son of Uzziah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalalel, of the children of Perez;

5 and Maaseiah the son of Baruch, the son of Col-Hozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib,
the son of Zechariah, the son of Shiloni.

6 All the sons of Perez who dwelt at Jerusalem were four hundred and sixty-eight valiant men.

7 And these are the sons of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jeshaiah;

8 and after him Gabbai and Sallai, nine hundred and twenty-eight.

9 Joel the son of Zichri was their overseer, and Judah the son of Senuah[a] was second over the city.

10 Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, and Jachin;

11 Seraiah the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, was the leader of the house of God.
12 Their brethren who did the work of the house were eight hundred and twenty-two; and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malchijah, 13 and his brethren, heads of the fathers' houses, were two hundred and forty-two; and Amashai the son of Azarel, the son of Ahzai, the son of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer,
14 and their brethren, mighty men of valor, were one hundred and twenty-eight. Their overseer was Zabdiel the son of one of the great men.[b] 15 Also of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni; 16 Shabbethai and Jozabad, of the heads of the Levites, had the oversight of the business outside of the house of God;
17 Mattaniah the son of Micha,[c] the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph, the leader who began the thanksgiving with prayer; Bakbukiah, the second among his brethren; and Abda the son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun.
18 All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred and eighty-four.
19 Moreover the gatekeepers, Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren who kept the gates, were one hundred and seventy-two.
20 And the rest of Israel, of the priests and Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, everyone in his inheritance.
21 But the Nethinim dwelt in Ophel. And Ziha and Gishpa were over the Nethinim.

22Also the overseer of the Levites at Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micha, of the sons of Asaph, the singers in charge of the service of the house of God.

23For it was the king's command concerning them that a certain portion should be for the singers, a quota day by day.

24Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the children of Zerah the son of Judah, was the king's deputy[d] in all matters concerning the people.

The People Dwelling Outside Jerusalem

25And as for the villages with their fields, some of the children of Judah dwelt in Kirjath Arba and its villages, Dibon and its villages, Jekabzeel and its villages;

26in Jeshua, Moladah, Beth Pelet,

27Hazar Shual, and Beersheba and its villages;

28in Ziklag and Meconah and its villages;

29in En Rimmon, Zorah, Jarmuth,

30Zanoah, Adullam, and their villages; in Lachish and its fields; in Azekah and its villages. They dwelt from Beersheba to the Valley of Hinnom.

31Also the children of Benjamin from Geba dwelt in Michmash, Aija, and Bethel, and their villages;

32in Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah;

33in Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim;

34in Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat;

35in Lod, Ono, and the Valley of Craftsmen.

36Some of the Judean divisions of Levites were in Benjamin.

Nehemiah 12

The Priests and Levites

1 Now these are the priests and the Levites who came up with Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,
2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,
3 Shechaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,
4 Iddo, Ginnethoi,[a] Abijah,
5 Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,
6 Shemaiah, Joiarib, Jedaiah,
7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, and Jedaiah.
These were the heads of the priests and their brethren in the days of Jeshua.
8 Moreover the Levites were Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah who led the thanksgiving psalms, he and his brethren.
9 Also Bakbukiah and Unni, their brethren, stood across from them in their duties.
10 Jeshua begot Joiakim, Joiakim begot Eliashib, Eliashib
begot Joiada,
11 Joiada begot Jonathan, and Jonathan begot Jaddua.
12 Now in the days of Joiakim, the priests, the heads of the fathers' houses were: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah;
13 of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan;
14 of Melichu,[b] Jonathan; of Shebaniah,[c] Joseph;
15 of Harim,[d] Adna; of Meraioth,[e] Helkai;
16 of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meshullam;
17 of Abijah, Zichri; the son of Minjamin;[f] of Moadiah,[g]
Piltai;

18 of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;
19 of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi;
20 of Sallai,[h] Kallai; of Amok, Eber;
21 of Hilkiah, Hashabiah; and of Jedaiah, Nethanel.
22 During the reign of Darius the Persian, a record was also kept of the Levites and priests who had been heads of their fathers' houses in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua.
23 The sons of Levi, the heads of the fathers' houses until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib, were written in the book of the chronicles.
24 And the heads of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brothers across from them, to praise and give thanks, group alternating with group, according to the command of David the man of God.
25 Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were gatekeepers keeping the watch at the storerooms of the gates.
26 These lived in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak,[i] and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest, the scribe.

Nehemiah Dedicates the Wall

27 Now at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought out the Levites in all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem to celebrate the dedication with gladness, both with thanksgivings and singing, with cymbals and stringed instruments and harps.
28 And the sons of the singers gathered together from the countryside around Jerusalem, from the villages of the Netophathites, 29 from the house of Gilgal, and from the fields of Geba and Azmaveth; for the singers had built themselves villages

all around Jerusalem.

30 Then the priests and Levites purified themselves, and purified the people, the gates, and the wall.

31 So I brought the leaders of Judah up on the wall, and appointed two large thanksgiving choirs. One went to the right hand on the wall toward the Refuse Gate.

32 After them went Hoshaiah and half of the leaders of Judah,

33 and Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam,

34 Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, Jeremiah,

35 and some of the priests' sons with trumpets—Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Michaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph, 36 and his brethren, Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God. And Ezra the scribe went before them.

37 By the Fountain Gate, in front of them, they went up the stairs of the City of David, on the stairway of the wall, beyond the house of David, as far as the Water Gate eastward.

38 The other thanksgiving choir went the opposite way, and I was behind them with half of the people on the wall, going past the Tower of the Ovens as far as the Broad Wall, 39 and above the Gate of Ephraim, above the Old Gate, above the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hananel, the Tower of the Hundred, as far as the Sheep Gate; and they stopped by the Gate of the Prison.

40 So the two thanksgiving choirs stood in the house of God, likewise I and the half of the rulers with me;

41 and the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Minjamin,[j] Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets;

42 also Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam, and Ezer. The singers sang loudly with Jezrahiah the director.
43 Also that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoiced, for God had made them rejoice with great joy; the women and the children also rejoiced, so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard afar off.

Temple Responsibilities

44 And at the same time some were appointed over the rooms of the storehouse for the offerings, the firstfruits, and the tithes, to gather into them from the fields of the cities the portions specified by the Law for the priests and Levites; for Judah rejoiced over the priests and Levites who ministered.
45 Both the singers and the gatekeepers kept the charge of their God and the charge of the purification, according to the command of David and Solomon his son.
46 For in the days of David and Asaph of old there were chiefs of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving to God.
47 In the days of Zerubbabel and in the days of Nehemiah all Israel gave the portions for the singers and the gatekeepers, a portion for each day. They also consecrated holy things for the Levites, and the Levites consecrated them for the children of Aaron.

Nehemiah 13

Principles of Separation

1 On that day they read from the Book of Moses in the hearing of the people, and in it was found written that no Ammonite or Moabite should ever come into the assembly of God,
2 because they had not met the children of Israel with bread and water, but hired Balaam against them to curse them. However, our God turned the curse into a blessing.
3 So it was, when they had heard the Law, that they separated all the mixed multitude from Israel.

The Reforms of Nehemiah

4 Now before this, Eliashib the priest, having authority over the storerooms of the house of our God, was allied with Tobiah.
5 And he had prepared for him a large room, where previously they had stored the grain offerings, the frankincense, the articles, the tithes of grain, the new wine and oil, which were commanded to be given to the Levites and singers and gatekeepers, and the offerings for the priests.
6 But during all this I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I had returned to the king. Then after certain days I obtained leave from the king,
7 and I came to Jerusalem and discovered the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in preparing a room for him in the courts of the house of God.
8 And it grieved me bitterly; therefore I threw all the household goods of Tobiah out of the room.

9 Then I commanded them to cleanse the rooms; and I brought back into them the articles of the house of God, with the grain offering and the frankincense.
10 I also realized that the portions for the Levites had not been given them; for each of the Levites and the singers who did the work had gone back to his field.
11 So I contended with the rulers, and said, “Why is the house of God forsaken?” And I gathered them together and set them in their place.
12 Then all Judah brought the tithe of the grain and the new wine and the oil to the storehouse.
13 And I appointed as treasurers over the storehouse Shelemiah the priest and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah; and next to them was Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah; for they were considered faithful, and their task was to distribute to their brethren.
14 Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and do not wipe out my good deeds that I have done for the house of my God, and for its services!
15 In those days I saw people in Judah treading winepresses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and loading donkeys with wine, grapes, figs, and all kinds of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. And I warned them about the day on which they were selling provisions.
16 Men of Tyre dwelt there also, who brought in fish and all kinds of goods, and sold them on the Sabbath to the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem.
17 Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said to them, “What evil thing is this that you do, by which you profane the Sabbath day?
18 “Did not your fathers do thus, and did not our God bring all this disaster on us and on this city? Yet you bring added wrath on Israel by profaning the Sabbath.”

19So it was, at the gates of Jerusalem, as it began to be dark before the Sabbath, that I commanded the gates to be shut, and charged that they must not be opened till after the Sabbath. Then I posted some of my servants at the gates, so that no burdens would be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20Now the merchants and sellers of all kinds of wares lodged outside Jerusalem once or twice.

21Then I warned them, and said to them, “Why do you spend the night around the wall? If you do so again, I will lay hands on you!” From that time on they came no more on the Sabbath.

22And I commanded the Levites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should go and guard the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day.

Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of Your mercy!

23In those days I also saw Jews who had married women of Ashdod, Ammon, and Moab.

24And half of their children spoke the language of Ashdod, and could not speak the language of Judah, but spoke according to the language of one or the other people.

25So I contended with them and cursed them, struck some of them and pulled out their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, “You shall not give your daughters as wives to their sons, nor take their daughters for your sons or yourselves.

26“Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? Yet among many nations there was no king like him, who was beloved of his God; and God made him king over all Israel. Nevertheless pagan women caused even him to sin.

27“Should we then hear of your doing all this great evil, transgressing against our God by marrying pagan women?”

28And one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was a son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite; therefore I drove him from me.

29Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood and the covenant of the priesthood and the Levites.

30Thus I cleansed them of everything pagan. I also assigned duties to the priests and the Levites, each to his service, 31and to bringing the wood offering and the firstfruits at appointed times.

Remember me, O my God, for good!

Nehemiah

Neh. 1:1

Name means: “The Lord Is Consolation.”

Not to be confused with: Two other men named Nehemiah who returned from the Babylonian captivity (Ezra 2:2; Neh. 3:16).

Home: Lived at one of two royal palaces at Shushan (Susa) but probably accompanied the king wherever he went; later, Jerusalem.

Family: Son of Hacaliah; probably born in captivity.

Occupation: Cupbearer to the Persian king Artaxerxes I (Neh. 1:11); overseer of the reconstruction of Jerusalem’s wall (2:11–4:23); twice governor of Jerusalem (5:14; 13:6, 7).

Noted for: Leadership skills, profound devotion, prayer, integrity, compassion.

Best known for: Returning from Persia to Jerusalem to rebuild the city walls, a project completed in 52 days (6:15) despite heavy opposition; also instituted social and political reforms to repopulate Jerusalem, ban marriage to non-Jews, and eliminate usury.

Think About It: What will you do the same and differently because of Nehemiah’s example?

Leadership Principles from Nehemiah
Neh. 1:1

Scripture includes few leadership models as thoroughly developed as its portrait of the man Nehemiah. He returned to Jerusalem with the full authority of King Artaxerxes I to rebuild the demolished city, starting with its wall. Many principles for effective leadership stand out in his account, which are discussed in the following articles:

“Leaders Have a Sense of Mission”	Neh. 1:5
“Leaders Leverage Power Rightly”	Neh. 2:5
“Leaders Conduct Research”	Neh. 2:12

Nehemiah’s Prayer
Neh. 1:4–11

Struck by the desperate situation of his homeland, Nehemiah wept. His words offer several essential lessons in the discipline of prayer:

- Nehemiah prayed first. He did not turn to God after exhausting other options. He did not use prayer as a last-ditch effort, as if he had nothing to lose. His immediate, instinctive response was to fast and pray.
- Nehemiah affirmed God’s reign. He realized that the Lord is the awesome King of all nations and people, including Israelites or Persians. He acknowledged that he and his people were dependent on the Lord's grace.

- Nehemiah identified with his people. He used the word we in his prayer and accepted corporate responsibility for his people's sin. Rather than blame others, he humbled himself in his honest confession.
- Nehemiah recognized all of God's promises and commandments. He not only knew what he wanted from God but also grappled with what God expected from His people. He counted on the Lord's covenant with Israel, welcoming both its privileges and responsibilities.

Leaders Have a Sense of Mission

Neh. 1:5

Wise leaders possess a goal. Their mission toward this goal is what guides their decisions and determines their strategy.

Nehemiah's mission grew out of his knowledge of God's Law and his awareness that his people's sins had brought about Jerusalem's destruction (Neh. 1:5–8). He also knew that God was willing to forgive their failings and restore them to the Promised Land (1:9). Nehemiah decided that he would rebuild Jerusalem in accordance with the Lord's promises, and he began to devise a strategy to accomplish that goal (1:10, 11).

Nehemiah did not invent a mission based on his own self-interest. He responded to the word of Jerusalem's plight with tears, prayer, fasting, humility, and an intense search for God's will (1:4). As he prepared to go before Artaxerxes, he probably did not know exactly what to say or do—only that he needed to go to Jerusalem. He could not have known everything he would encounter in the ruined city. But convinced that God wanted His holy city revived, Nehemiah stepped forward, and his leadership proved strategic.

Leaders must exert themselves to identify the overarching mission that deserves their commitment, measuring its worth by the extent to which it fits God's purposes in our world.

Nehemiah the Cupbearer

Neh. 1:11

God places His people in strategic positions to accomplish His purposes. God used Nehemiah, a man intimately trusted by Artaxerxes of Persia, to bring about the reconstruction of Jerusalem's wall.

As cupbearer, Nehemiah had life-and-death responsibility for the king. Assyrian, Babylonian, and Persian courts were notorious for political intrigue and assassination. Nehemiah tasted the king's food and drink to ensure against poisoning attempts. Nehemiah could have died.

Cupbearers were often foreigners who became trusted confidants of the rulers they served and enjoyed political privilege and prestige. It was in rulers' best interests to keep tasters happy, so their requests were frequently granted.

Nehemiah made the most of his position. Unburdening himself to the king about Jerusalem's plight, he asked for a leave of absence and letters of authority to go and rebuild the city (Neh. 2:3–8). When adversaries at Jerusalem later threatened to falsely accuse him of rebellion (6:5–9), Nehemiah must have been reassured by his close association with Artaxerxes and the trust he had earned through years of loyal service.

God puts us in specific places to accomplish His vision, giving us positions we can use to bring about good works. Like Nehemiah, we should prayerfully consider what God is doing in the world and discern ways to leverage our influence to bring about His will.

More: Centuries earlier, a cupbearer—translated as "butler"—helped win Joseph's release from prison. His action ended up saving Egypt and Abraham's descendants from starvation (Gen. 40–41).

Leaders Leverage Power Rightly

Neh. 2:5

Management has been defined as the ability to get things done through other people. Yet leaders must also use their influence to provide the people with what they need to accomplish a task.

Nehemiah followed this principle in his plan to rebuild Jerusalem. As cupbearer to Artaxerxes (see "Nehemiah the Cupbearer" at Neh. 1:11), he had the king's ear, and he leveraged this advantage to his people's advantage. He asked for and was granted a leave of absence (2:5, 6), letters of reference (2:7), and a government grant for building materials (2:8).

The ability to leverage power remains an indispensable requirement of leadership, especially for groundbreakers in community development and urban ministry. There are plenty of resources to help the poor, but it takes wise and disciplined leaders to align themselves with the powerful on behalf of the powerless. Successful grant writing, resource development, and asset distribution often require a careful cultivation of relationships with people in networks of authority.

As leaders we must know how to befriend others so that we can enlist them in our efforts for good. If we resist or resent those in power, we distance ourselves and our people from the resources we need to accomplish our goals.

Leaders Conduct Research

Neh. 2:12

Leaders wreak havoc when they lack accurate and complete knowledge. It pays for people in leadership to gather all the information to make wise decisions about what paths to pursue.

Before launching his plan to rebuild Jerusalem's walls, Nehemiah carefully researched the job. He discreetly walked the city by night, surveying the extent of the problems and forming tentative strategies (Neh. 2:11–15). Nehemiah's low profile was especially appropriate because he was a new member of the community. As a representative of the king, he could have arrived with fanfare and grandly declared his expectations. Instead, he kept his thoughts to himself and avoided attention until he had formulated a plan.

As leaders we cannot be afraid to admit that we need more information. Nor should we assume we already know enough. We must do the research it takes to make wise decisions if we want to bring about God's goals.

Leaders Build Community

Neh. 2:17, 18

Most of humanity's greatest achievements have been accomplished not by individuals but by groups of people working together toward common ends.

Nehemiah called upon the power of community as he undertook the task of rebuilding Jerusalem's walls. After surveying the situation, he gathered the people and delivered a speech to mobilize the community around the project. He first raised their awareness that something should be done, then instilled confidence that something could be done.

Even though he had just arrived from the palace, Nehemiah saw himself as a participant in the city's dire circumstances. He bridged the class division between himself and his people by sharing details of royal conversations, showing his listeners that they had a friend in the emperor's court.

As leaders we are called to break down walls that divide people who need to work together. We are called to build bridges between people who need to work together. We build community when we address others as close companions, involve them in local missions, and take a personal interest in their lives.

Decide Where to Start

Neh. 2:18

Jerusalem was in disrepair. Ezra had restored its temple, but little else functioned effectively. The wall was broken down, the gates burned, the roads cluttered, and most homes and buildings vacant. It was a depressing site; there was still so much left to do. After a private inspection conducted at night (Neh. 2:11–15), Nehemiah evaluated the tasks at hand and chose to start by rebuilding the wall. While the text does not detail his reasoning, several points seem clear:

- The project was achievable. Restoring the city's commercial and community systems required complex, long-term effort. But the wall could be rebuilt in a mere fifty-two days (6:15). Nehemiah chose to begin by giving an opportunity for success to a people who for decades had experienced nothing but defeat.
- Everyone could participate. Rebuilding the wall did not require many specialized skills. A few carpenters and masons were needed, but most work required nothing more complicated than lifting stones and clearing a path. With everyone involved, the task brought the community together.
- Rebuilding the walls restored security. Jerusalem was wide open to the domination of strongmen such as Sanballat, Tobiah, and their cronies (4:1, 7; 6:1). By enclosing the city within its walls again, Nehemiah bolstered the citizens' physical and psychological safety. He also served notice that the Israelites were putting thugs out of business.

Nehemiah's astute planning serves as a model for how we can revitalize a city, neighborhood, street, or home with simple tasks that are doable yet achieve significant results.

Christ Cares About Communities

Neh. 2:20

The account of Nehemiah rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem may seem like a historical footnote, but it highlights a fact with implications for every Christian: Christ cares about communities.

Paul's New Testament letter to the Colossians provides a key passage for understanding this point. We learn that Christ is the Lord of all of life, both public and private. He transforms us personally but also puts us to work transforming societies and systems (see "The Cosmic Christ" at Col. 1:15–18). Christ wants His followers to participate in public institutions for the benefit of all.

As Christians, we can use public systems—education, health care, transportation, housing, community development—as instruments for good. By engaging these resources we help create healthy communities that promote healthy neighborhoods that encourage healthy families and lead to healthy individuals—and vice versa.

Nehemiah cared about far more than a wall. He wanted his people restored. He envisioned his nation returning to the covenant outlined in the Law. Rebuilding Jerusalem was a step in that direction.

Christ invites us to be as committed to community as He is. He asks us to use our resources—jobs, money, relationships, influence—to accomplish tangible benefits for others.

More: Scripture has much to say about how and why God's people should be actively involved in revitalizing communities.

Next to Each Other

Neh. 3:1–32

Reconstructing Jerusalem's wall was a group effort, a fact readily seen in the frequent use of the words "next to" in Nehemiah 3. Without cooperation, it is impossible for people to come together to accomplish meaningful tasks. What one person does affects everyone else, making each person accountable to the team for his or her performance. Finding ourselves "next to" others should prompt us to evaluate our impact on their lives. Scripture offers guidelines for achieving positive impact in Matthew 5:16, Galatians 6:10, and Hebrews 10:24.

More: The apostle Paul urged Christians to see themselves as members of a wonderfully diverse body of Christ working together to accomplish God's purposes (1 Cor. 12).

Sanballat

Neh. 4:1

Name means: "Sin Has Given Life" (Sin being the name of a pagan god).

Home: Probably Beth Horon, 12 miles northwest of Jerusalem, since he was called "the Horonite" (Neh. 2:10).

Family: Likely descended from Israelites left behind when Assyria captured the northern kingdom or from the racially mixed Samaritans that resulted from Assyria's resettlement of the area; father of two sons, Delaiah and Shelemaiah, according to extrabiblical sources; father of a daughter who married a Jewish priest, causing his removal.

Occupation: Probably governor of Samaria during or shortly after Nehemiah's work on the wall, according to extrabiblical sources;

may have expected to become Judah's governor had Nehemiah not been given the position (5:14; 13:6, 7).

Best known for: His opposition, in the form of ridicule, rumors, and lies, to reconstructing Jerusalem's wall.

Think About It: What makes ridicule fun? Why should you refuse to do it anyway, or to enjoy others doing it?

Neh. 4:7

As progress on the wall of Jerusalem moved forward, Nehemiah faced increasing opposition. Major opponents emerged. The Babylonians had killed or deported many of the best and brightest of the Jews during the capture of Jerusalem, leaving behind the poorest and least capable (2 Kin. 24:14–16; 25:11, 12).

The region inevitably became dominated by thugs such as Sanballat, Tobiah, and Geshem. The Persians maintained order through these bureaucrats, who did little to redevelop the territory. Jerusalem and its surrounding districts resembled blighted cities and towns where slumlords and petty politicians conspire to keep residents powerless and poor.

Then Nehemiah entered the scene. Unexpected and uninvited, he represented change imposed from the outside. His bold plan to rebuild the wall offered long-term benefits to the community and threatened the immediate interests of local bosses. It is no surprise that these bullies became angry (Neh. 4:1, 7). Nehemiah's reforms infuriated oppressors who had devised ways to exploit their neighbors (5:1–5).

People who live in neglected communities often resent those who have left them behind, those who oppress them, and those who fail to protect them. When an outsider shows up with plans and promises for a new way of life, resentment may boil over into hostility and violence. But Nehemiah shows us how to work with people—adversaries as well as advocates—to effect lasting and beneficial change.

Leaders Manage Adversity

Neh. 4:8, 9

As soon as our efforts to effect change begin to deliver results, competing interests invariably rise up. But rather than let opponents set the agenda, leaders meet the challenge and press on.

Nehemiah's adversaries had selfish interests in keeping Jerusalem unprotected (Neh. 4:7). For seventy years they had browbeaten residents left behind by Judah's exile. Nehemiah's plan to rebuild the walls and revitalize the city threatened their control.

Nehemiah responded to this new opposition with measured resistance. Rather than escalate a sensitive situation, he defended against further attacks and kept working, adapting to adversity rather than fleeing or overreacting. God rewarded his perseverance, and the wall successfully rose (6:15).

As leaders we must bend and not break, responding to opposition with renewed faith that God will see us through. We must pray and take practical steps to ensure that our work moves forward even as others try to stop it.

Leaders Refuse Underhanded Politics

Neh. 6:5–9

When intimidation failed to halt progress on Jerusalem's wall, Sanballat and his allies campaigned to smear Nehemiah's reputation.

Nehemiah dismissed their accusations, apparently not even bothering to prevent their letters from reaching the king. With a clear conscience, Nehemiah must have counted on the full trust of King Artaxerxes, who knew his years of faithful service. Nehemiah also refused to resort to counter-accusations. Rather than waste time on a verbal exchange that would distract him from the wall, he prayed and ignored the underhanded politics of his adversaries.

As leaders we must maintain our integrity in word and deed so that our enemies have no grounds for accusations made against us. And we must resist the temptation to engage in their political games, choosing instead to continue the work we have set out to do.

Leaders Serve Tasks and People

Neh. 7:1

Leadership means more than getting things done. Scripture's greatest leaders not only accomplished things but served people in the process.

Nehemiah never saw rebuilding Jerusalem's wall as an end in itself or for his own glory. He sought to revitalize Israel's people and return them to their covenant with God. With that in mind, Nehemiah turned city management over to local leaders soon after the wall was completed. This avoided creating too much dependence on his skills.

Nehemiah did not exploit the project to gain wealth or fame (Neh. 5:18).

And Nehemiah helped residents trace their roots, reviewing Ezra's census, which had been conducted twenty-five years earlier (7:5; see also "A New Census" at Ezra 2:64). His work set the stage for repopulating the city (Neh. 11:1, 2).

Leadership is about more than getting things done. When we have a heart to serve all who work with us, over us, or for us, people are the clear beneficiaries.

More: Nehemiah's style of leadership was much like that of Jesus. See "Leaders Serve" at Matt. 20:25–28 and "Leading to Serve" at John 13:1–20.

An Important List
Neh. 7:6

Nehemiah's list of returnees from the captivity duplicates Ezra's roll of the families who came back to Judah. These records were highly significant. They named the principal families that returned and likely helped determine land ownership.

These lists also give insight into who chose to rebuild Judah and how society functioned after the Exile. We discover, for example, a group called the Nethinim (Neh. 7:60) who descended from foreigners who served as temple servants beginning in the time of Solomon (see "The Nethinim" at 1 Chr. 9:2). Their presence here in Nehemiah testifies that God reached out to other nations through the Israelites and faithfully preserved them through the ordeal of the Exile.

For more on the role of lists like these in the Bible, see "The Purpose of Genealogies" at Genesis 5:1.

More: The Nethinim were also included among the people recruited to relocate to Jerusalem's ruins for the purpose of rebuilding the local community. See "The Ten Percent Solution" at Neh. 11:1, 2.

Think About It: How are you continuing to show God's love even amidst tough times? How do you see God faithfully preserving your spirit no matter what happens?

Leaders Celebrate Milestones

Neh. 8:1

Effective leaders appreciate the value of celebrating momentous things that God has done. When a task is completed, results achieved, or people served, they make time to rejoice.

When the people finished the wall, Nehemiah launched a celebration (Neh. 8:1, 10). Ezra led off by reading from the Law—the motivation behind Nehemiah's mission.

The words kindled both godly sorrow (9:1–3) and genuine joy (8:10–12). Then with heartfelt praise, choice food, and even an "Amen" chorus (8:6), the community applauded the work they had accomplished with God's help (6:16).

Nehemiah also sent portions of the food "to those for whom nothing is prepared" (8:10). He brought the party to the poor, sharing the wealth, because no one should be deprived of joy.

As leaders we must create ways to celebrate milestones. Rejoicing opens the door to worship the Lord, the source of all good gifts. Let us praise Him for giving us a task and the means to accomplish it.

The Ten Percent Solution

Neh. 11:1, 2

Nehemiah devised an unusual solution for renovating Jerusalem's abandoned homes and buildings, calling outlying areas to move one-tenth of their people into the city's ruins. In addition to taking volunteers, the districts surrounding Jerusalem cast lots (see "Casting Lots" at Josh. 18:8–10) for who would move to Jerusalem for the specific purpose of rebuilding community. Those selected were "blessed" (Hebrew: barak; Neh. 11:2) for the task by fellow citizens, suggesting a formal commissioning of families to redevelop the holy city.

Imagine what might happen if Christians took up this “10 percent solution” by moving to towns and cities in need of revitalization—participating in neighborhood schools, rebuilding or restoring neglected houses, shopping at nearby stores and restaurants, working at local businesses, participating in local politics and civic affairs, and reviving local churches.

People who reinhabit a struggling area must come with a sense of long-term commitment rather than condescension or quick-fix triumphalism (see “When You’ve Been Left Behind” at Neh. 4:7). Urban decline can happen quickly, but renewal can take years to accomplish. Nehemiah began with 10 percent of God’s people living nearby. We can begin by bringing this issue before our family, friends, and church, committing ourselves to regaining lost neighborhoods and historical landmarks as the treasures of our earthly inheritance.

The Book of Esther tells how one young Jewish woman in Persia discovered what God wanted her to do, and how she rose to the challenge.

Esther was a child of the Exile, the great-granddaughter of Israelites taken captive to Babylon during the second invasion of Jerusalem (599–597 B.C.; Esth. 2:6). After her parents died she was adopted by her older cousin Mordecai and became part of the royal harem of Ahasuerus (probably Xerxes I), king of Persia (486–465 B.C.). She was named queen after winning what was essentially an ancient beauty pageant.

Esther is the only book of the Bible that does not explicitly mention God, which has raised serious questions about its meaning. Some have denied that it belongs in Scripture. Others defend its inspiration but do little to decipher its lessons or address the theological questions raised in the book. Some early Christians allegorized it, and some modern Christians spiritualize it. Many Christians in Iran, the modern successor to ancient Persia, where the story takes place, celebrate its history.

Although God's name does not appear in the book, His purposes do. A high point occurs in the narrative when Mordecai informs Esther of a genocidal plot against the Jews. He warns her that she would be mistaken to think that she can escape death simply because she has been named queen, challenging her to take action not only for herself but for her people. Yet Mordecai seems unaffected by the possibility that she may not speak up: "If you remain completely silent at this time, relief and deliverance will arise for the Jews from another place," he says (4:14) in a quiet display of faith in God's protection. Nonetheless, he adds, "Yet who knows whether you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Mordecai's searching question suggests that he was aware that God was working out His purposes, and perhaps Esther was meant to be an agent of God's will in this situation. Mordecai raised the hopeful possibility that God had placed her in this strategic position for a reason. Apparently Esther concurred because she asked Mordecai to have all the Jews fast for her for three days—an act of religious devotion (see "The Value of Fasting" at 1 Chr. 10:12). In the end, her risky but well-conceived plan saved her people.

The reign of King Ahasuerus in 485–464 B.C. provides an approximate date for the Book of Esther. The identity of its author is uncertain, although parts of the narrative (Esth. 9:20, 32) imply that Mordecai may have written at least some portions if not all of the account. The events took place in Shushan, one of three royal cities in the Persian empire, and in the Persian provinces where Jews had settled.

Key People in Esther

- Ahasuerus, also known as Xerxes I, the powerful king of Persia (Esth. 1:1).
- Esther, a Jewish orphan whom God used to save His people from a murderous plot (Esth. 2:7).
- Vashti, the fearless queen of Persia who was deposed for refusing to parade her beauty for her husband's drunken guests (Esth. 1:11, 12).
- Mordecai, Esther's older cousin and adoptive father, who used his position as a royal official to expose a conspiracy against the king (Esth. 2:21).
- Haman, vicious enemy of the Jews (Esth. 3:1)

Key Events in Esther

- Esther is chosen to be queen (Esth. 2).
- Haman conspires to exterminate the Jews (Esth. 3).
- Esther foils Haman's plot, and he is hanged (Esth. 7).
- The feast called Purim is established (Esth. 9:20–28).

Esther 1

The King Dethrones Queen Vashti

1 Now it came to pass in the days of Ahasuerus[a] (this was the Ahasuerus who reigned over one hundred and twenty-seven provinces, from India to Ethiopia),

2 in those days when King Ahasuerus sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan[b] the citadel,

3 that in the third year of his reign he made a feast for all his officials and servants—the powers of Persia and Media, the nobles, and the princes of the provinces being before him—

4 when he showed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the splendor of his excellent majesty for many days, one hundred and eighty days in all.

5 And when these days were completed, the king made a feast lasting seven days for all the people who were present in Shushan the citadel, from great to small, in the court of the garden of the king's palace.

6 There were white and blue linen curtains fastened with cords of fine linen and purple on silver rods and marble pillars; and the couches were of gold and silver on a mosaic pavement of alabaster, turquoise, and white and black marble.

7 And they served drinks in golden vessels, each vessel being different from the other, with royal wine in abundance, according to the generosity of the king.

8 In accordance with the law, the drinking was not compulsory; for so the king had ordered all the officers of his household, that they should do according to each man's pleasure.

9 Queen Vashti also made a feast for the women in the royal palace which belonged to King Ahasuerus.
10 On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, seven eunuchs who served in the presence of King Ahasuerus, 11 to bring Queen Vashti before the king, wearing her royal crown, in order to show her beauty to the people and the officials, for she was beautiful to behold.
12 But Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's command brought by his eunuchs; therefore the king was furious, and his anger burned within him.
13 Then the king said to the wise men who understood the times (for this was the king's manner toward all who knew law and justice,
14 those closest to him being Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, who had access to the king's presence, and who ranked highest in the kingdom):
15 "What shall we do to Queen Vashti, according to law, because she did not obey the command of King Ahasuerus brought to her by the eunuchs?" 16 And Memucan answered before the king and the princes: "Queen Vashti has not only wronged the king, but also all the princes, and all the people who are in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus.
17 "For the queen's behavior will become known to all women, so that they will despise their husbands in their eyes, when they report, 'King Ahasuerus commanded Queen Vashti to be brought in before him, but she did not come.'
18 "This very day the noble ladies of Persia and Media will say to all the king's officials that they have heard of the behavior of the queen. Thus there will be excessive contempt and wrath.

19 “If it pleases the king, let a royal decree go out from him, and let it be recorded in the laws of the Persians and the Medes, so that it will not be altered, that Vashti shall come no more before King Ahasuerus; and let the king give her royal position to another who is better than she.

20 “When the king’s decree which he will make is proclaimed throughout all his empire (for it is great), all wives will honor their husbands, both great and small.”

21 And the reply pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan.

22 Then he sent letters to all the king’s provinces, to each province in its own script, and to every people in their own language, that each man should be master in his own house, and speak in the language of his own people. Strong Women

Esther 2

Esther Becomes Queen

1 After these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus subsided, he remembered Vashti, what she had done, and what had been decreed against her.

2 Then the king's servants who attended him said: "Let beautiful young virgins be sought for the king;

3 "and let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather all the beautiful young virgins to Shushan the citadel, into the women's quarters, under the custody of Hegai[a] the king's eunuch, custodian of the women. And let beauty preparations be given them.

4 "Then let the young woman who pleases the king be queen instead of Vashti." This thing pleased the king, and he did so.

5 In Shushan the citadel there was a certain Jew whose name was Mordecai the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite.

6 Kish[b] had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captives who had been captured with Jeconiah[c] king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.

7 And Mordecai had brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter, for she had neither father nor mother.
The young woman was lovely and beautiful. When her father and mother died, Mordecai took her as his own daughter. Esther

8 So it was, when the king's command and decree were heard, and when many young women were gathered at Shushan the citadel, under the custody of Hegai, that

Esther also was taken to the king’s palace, into the care of Hegai the custodian of the women.

9 Now the young woman pleased him, and she obtained his favor; so he readily gave beauty preparations to her, besides her allowance. Then seven choice maidservants were provided for her from the king’s palace, and he moved her and her maidservants to the best place in the house of the women.

10 Esther had not revealed her people or family, for Mordecai had charged her not to reveal it.

11 And every day Mordecai paced in front of the court of the women’s quarters, to learn of Esther’s welfare and what was happening to her.

12 Each young woman’s turn came to go in to King Ahasuerus after she had completed twelve months’ preparation, according to the regulations for the women, for thus were the days of their preparation apportioned: six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with perfumes and preparations for beautifying women.

13 Thus prepared, each young woman went to the king, and she was given whatever she desired to take with her from the women’s quarters to the king’s palace.

14 In the evening she went, and in the morning she returned to the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king’s eunuch who kept the concubines. She would not go in to the king again unless the king delighted in her and called for her by name.

15 Now when the turn came for Esther the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her as his daughter, to go in to the king, she requested nothing but what Hegai the king’s eunuch, the custodian of the women, advised. And Esther obtained favor in the sight of all who saw her.

16 So Esther was taken to King Ahasuerus, into his royal palace, in the tenth month, which is the month of Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.
17 The king loved Esther more than all the other women, and she obtained grace and favor in his sight more than all the virgins; so he set the royal crown upon her head and made her queen instead of Vashti.
18 Then the king made a great feast, the Feast of Esther, for all his officials and servants; and he proclaimed a holiday in the provinces and gave gifts according to the generosity of a king.

Mordecai Discovers a Plot

19 When virgins were gathered together a second time,
Mordecai sat within the king's gate.
20 Now Esther had not revealed her family and her people, just as Mordecai had charged her, for Esther obeyed the command of Mordecai as when she was brought up by him.
21 In those days, while Mordecai sat within the king's gate, two of the king's eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, doorkeepers, became furious and sought to lay hands on King Ahasuerus. Mordecai
22 So the matter became known to Mordecai, who told Queen Esther, and Esther informed the king in Mordecai's
name.
23 And when an inquiry was made into the matter, it was confirmed, and both were hanged on a gallows; and it was written in the book of the chronicles in the presence of the king.

Esther 3

Haman's Conspiracy Against the Jews

1 After these things King Ahasuerus promoted Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him and set his seat above all the princes who were with him. Haman

2 And all the king's servants who were within the king's gate bowed and paid homage to Haman, for so the king had commanded concerning him. But Mordecai would not bow or pay homage. New Acquaintances, Old Enemies

3 Then the king's servants who were within the king's gate said to Mordecai, "Why do you transgress the king's command?"

4 Now it happened, when they spoke to him daily and he would not listen to them, that they told it to Haman, to see whether Mordecai's words would stand; for Mordecai had told them that he was a Jew.

5 When Haman saw that Mordecai did not bow or pay him homage, Haman was filled with wrath.

6 But he disdained to lay hands on Mordecai alone, for they had told him of the people of Mordecai. Instead, Haman sought to destroy all the Jews who were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus—the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first month, which is the month of Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus, they cast Pur (that is, the lot), before Haman to determine the day and the month,[a] until it fell on the twelfth month,[b] which is the month of Adar.

8 Then Haman said to King Ahasuerus, "There is a certain people scattered and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of your kingdom; their laws are different from all other people's, and they do not keep the king's laws. Therefore it is not fitting for the king to let them remain.

9"If it pleases the king, let a decree be written that they be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those who do the work, to bring it into the king's treasuries."

10So the king took his signet ring from his hand and gave it to Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of the Jews.

11And the king said to Haman, "The money and the people are given to you, to do with them as seems good to you."

12Then the king's scribes were called on the thirteenth day of the first month, and a decree was written according to all that Haman commanded—to the king's satraps, to the governors who were over each province, to the officials of all people, to every province according to its script, and to every people in their language. In the name of King Ahasuerus it was written, and sealed with the king's signet ring.

13And the letters were sent by couriers into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to annihilate all the Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar, and to plunder their possessions.[c]

14A copy of the document was to be issued as law in every province, being published for all people, that they should be ready for that day.

15The couriers went out, hastened by the king's command; and the decree was proclaimed in Shushan the citadel. So the king and Haman sat down to drink, but the city of Shushan was perplexed.

Esther 4

Esther Agrees to Help the Jews

1 When Mordecai learned all that had happened, he tore his clothes and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the midst of the city. He cried out with a loud and bitter cry.
2 He went as far as the front of the king's gate, for no one might enter the king's gate clothed with sackcloth.
3 And in every province where the king's command and decree arrived, there was great mourning among the Jews, with fasting, weeping, and wailing; and many lay in sackcloth and ashes.
4 So Esther's maids and eunuchs came and told her, and the queen was deeply distressed. Then she sent garments to clothe Mordecai and take his sackcloth away from him, but he would not accept them.
5 Then Esther called Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs whom he had appointed to attend her, and she gave him a command concerning Mordecai, to learn what and why this was.
6 So Hathach went out to Mordecai in the city square that was in front of the king's gate.
7 And Mordecai told him all that had happened to him, and the sum of money that Haman had promised to pay into the king's treasuries to destroy the Jews.
8 He also gave him a copy of the written decree for their destruction, which was given at Shushan, that he might show it to Esther and explain it to her, and that he might command her to go in to the king to make supplication to him and plead before him for her people.
9 So Hathach returned and told Esther the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Esther spoke to Hathach, and gave him a command for Mordecai:
11 "All the king's servants and the people of the king's provinces know that any man or woman who goes into the inner court to the king, who has not been called, he has but one law: put all to death, except the one to whom the king holds out the golden scepter, that he may live. Yet I myself have not been called to go in to the king these thirty days."
12 So they told Mordecai Esther's words.
13 And Mordecai told them to answer Esther: "Do not think in your heart that you will escape in the king's palace any more than all the other Jews.
14 "For if you remain completely silent at this time, relief and deliverance will arise for the Jews from another place, but you and your father's house will perish. Yet who knows whether you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" For Such a Time as This 15 Then Esther told them to reply to Mordecai:
16 "Go, gather all the Jews who are present in Shushan, and fast for me; neither eat nor drink for three days, night or day. My maids and I will fast likewise. And so I will go to the king, which is against the law; and if I perish, I perish!"
17 So Mordecai went his way and did according to all that Esther commanded him.[a]

Esther 5

Esther's Banquet

1 Now it happened on the third day that Esther put on her royal robes and stood in the inner court of the king's palace, across from the king's house, while the king sat on his royal throne in the royal house, facing the entrance of the house.[a] Speaking Up

2 So it was, when the king saw Queen Esther standing in the court, that she found favor in his sight, and the king held out to Esther the golden scepter that was in his hand. Then Esther went near and touched the top of the scepter.

3 And the king said to her, "What do you wish, Queen Esther? What is your request? It shall be given to you—up to half the kingdom!"

4 So Esther answered, "If it pleases the king, let the king and Haman come today to the banquet that I have prepared for him."

5 Then the king said, "Bring Haman quickly, that he may do as Esther has said." So the king and Haman went to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 At the banquet of wine the king said to Esther, "What is your petition? It shall be granted you. What is your request, up to half the kingdom? It shall be done!"

7 Then Esther answered and said, "My petition and request is this:

8 "If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it pleases the king to grant my petition and fulfill my request, then let the king and Haman come to the banquet which I will prepare for them, and tomorrow I will do as the king has said."

Haman's Plot Against Mordecai

9So Haman went out that day joyful and with a glad heart; but when Haman saw Mordecai in the king’s gate, and that he did not stand or tremble before him, he was filled with indignation against Mordecai.
10Nevertheless Haman restrained himself and went home, and he sent and called for his friends and his wife Zeresh.
11Then Haman told them of his great riches, the multitude of his children, everything in which the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the officials and servants of the king.
12Moreover Haman said, “Besides, Queen Esther invited no one but me to come in with the king to the banquet that she prepared; and tomorrow I am again invited by her,
along with the king.
13“Yet all this avails me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king’s gate.”
14Then his wife Zeresh and all his friends said to him, “Let a gallows be made, fifty cubits high, and in the morning suggest to the king that Mordecai be hanged on it; then go merrily with the king to the banquet.” And the thing pleased Haman; so he had the gallows made.

Esther 6

The King Honors Mordecai

1 That night the king could not sleep. So one was commanded to bring the book of the records of the chronicles; and they were read before the king.
2 And it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs, the doorkeepers who had sought to lay hands on King Ahasuerus.
3 Then the king said, "What honor or dignity has been bestowed on Mordecai for this?" And the king's servants who attended him said, "Nothing has been done for him." 4 So the king said, "Who is in the court?" Now Haman had just entered the outer court of the king's palace to suggest that the king hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.
5 The king's servants said to him, "Haman is there, standing in the court." And the king said, "Let him come in."
6 So Haman came in, and the king asked him, "What shall be done for the man whom the king delights to honor?"
Now Haman thought in his heart, "Whom would the king delight to honor more than me?" 7 And Haman answered the king, "For the man whom the king delights to honor,
8 "let a royal robe be brought which the king has worn, and a horse on which the king has ridden, which has a royal crest placed on its head.
9 "Then let this robe and horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, that he may array the man whom the king delights to honor. Then parade him on horseback through the city square, and proclaim before him: ‘Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor!’ ”

10 Then the king said to Haman, “Hurry, take the robe and the horse, as you have suggested, and do so for Mordecai the Jew who sits within the king’s gate! Leave nothing undone of all that you have spoken.”

11 So Haman took the robe and the horse, arrayed Mordecai and led him on horseback through the city square, and proclaimed before him, “Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor!”

12 Afterward Mordecai went back to the king’s gate. But Haman hurried to his house, mourning and with his head covered.

13 When Haman told his wife Zeresh and all his friends everything that had happened to him, his wise men and his wife Zeresh said to him, “If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of Jewish descent, you will not prevail against him but will surely fall before him.”

14 While they were still talking with him, the king’s eunuchs came, and hastened to bring Haman to the banquet which Esther had prepared.

Esther 7

Haman Hanged Instead of Mordecai

1 So the king and Haman went to dine with Queen Esther.

2 And on the second day, at the banquet of wine, the king again said to Esther, “What is your petition, Queen Esther?
It shall be granted you. And what is your request, up to half the kingdom? It shall be done!”

3 Then Queen Esther answered and said, “If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it pleases the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 “For we have been sold, my people and I, to be destroyed, to be killed, and to be annihilated. Had we been sold as male and female slaves, I would have held my tongue, although the enemy could never compensate for the king’s loss.”

5 So King Ahasuerus answered and said to Queen Esther, “Who is he, and where is he, who would dare presume in his heart to do such a thing?”

6 And Esther said, “The adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman!” So Haman was terrified before the king and queen.

7 Then the king arose in his wrath from the banquet of wine and went into the palace garden; but Haman stood before Queen Esther, pleading for his life, for he saw that evil was determined against him by the king.

8 When the king returned from the palace garden to the place of the banquet of wine, Haman had fallen across the couch where Esther was. Then the king said, “Will he also assault the queen while I am in the house?” As the word left the king’s mouth, they covered Haman’s face.

9 Now Harbonah, one of the eunuchs, said to the king, “Look! The gallows, fifty cubits high, which Haman made for Mordecai, who spoke good on the king’s behalf, is standing at the house of Haman.” Then the king said, “Hang him on it!”
10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then the king’s wrath subsided.

Esther 8

Esther Saves the Jews

1 On that day King Ahasuerus gave Queen Esther the house of Haman, the enemy of the Jews. And Mordecai came before the king, for Esther had told how he was related to her.
2 So the king took off his signet ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai; and Esther appointed Mordecai over the house of Haman.
3 Now Esther spoke again to the king, fell down at his feet, and implored him with tears to counteract the evil of Haman the Agagite, and the scheme which he had devised against the Jews.
4 And the king held out the golden scepter toward Esther.
So Esther arose and stood before the king,
5 and said, "If it pleases the king, and if I have found favor in his sight and the thing seems right to the king and I am pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to revoke the letters devised by Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to annihilate the Jews who are in all the king's provinces.
6 "For how can I endure to see the evil that will come to my people? Or how can I endure to see the destruction of my countrymen?"
7 Then King Ahasuerus said to Queen Esther and Mordecai the Jew, "Indeed, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and they have hanged him on the gallows because he tried to lay his hand on the Jews.
8 "You yourselves write a decree concerning the Jews, as you please, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's signet ring; for whatever is written in the king's name and sealed with the king's signet ring no one can revoke."

9So the king's scribes were called at that time, in the third month, which is the month of Sivan, on the twenty-third day; and it was written, according to all that Mordecai commanded, to the Jews, the satraps, the governors, and the princes of the provinces from India to Ethiopia, one hundred and twenty-seven provinces in all, to every province in its own script, to every people in their own language, and to the Jews in their own script and language.

10And he wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus, sealed it with the king's signet ring, and sent letters by couriers on horseback, riding on royal horses bred from swift steeds.[a]

11By these letters the king permitted the Jews who were in every city to gather together and protect their lives—to destroy, kill, and annihilate all the forces of any people or province that would assault them, both little children and women, and to plunder their possessions,

12on one day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar.[b]

13A copy of the document was to be issued as a decree in every province and published for all people, so that the Jews would be ready on that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.

14The couriers who rode on royal horses went out, hastened and pressed on by the king's command. And the decree was issued in Shushan the citadel.

15So Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal apparel of blue and white, with a great crown of gold and a garment of fine linen and purple; and the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad.

16The Jews had light and gladness, joy and honor.

17 And in every province and city, wherever the king’s command and decree came, the Jews had joy and gladness, a feast and a holiday. Then many of the people of the land became Jews, because fear of the Jews fell upon them.

Esther 9

The Jews Destroy Their Tormentors

1 Now in the twelfth month, that is, the month of Adar, on the thirteenth day, the time came for the king's command and his decree to be executed. On the day that the enemies of the Jews had hoped to overpower them, the opposite occurred, in that the Jews themselves overpowered those who hated them. Just War

2 The Jews gathered together in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus to lay hands on those who sought their harm. And no one could withstand them, because fear of them fell upon all people.

3 And all the officials of the provinces, the satraps, the governors, and all those doing the king's work, helped the Jews, because the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the king's palace, and his fame spread throughout all the provinces; for this man Mordecai became increasingly prominent.

5 Thus the Jews defeated all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, with slaughter and destruction, and did what they pleased with those who hated them.

6 And in Shushan the citadel the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men.

7 Also Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha,

8 Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

9 Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai, and Vajezatha—

10 the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews—they killed; but they did not lay a hand on the plunder.

11 On that day the number of those who were killed in Shushan the citadel was brought to the king.

12 And the king said to Queen Esther, “The Jews have killed and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the citadel, and the ten sons of Haman. What have they done in the rest of the king’s provinces? Now what is your petition? It shall be granted to you. Or what is your further request? It shall be done.”

13 Then Esther said, “If it pleases the king, let it be granted to the Jews who are in Shushan to do again tomorrow according to today’s decree, and let Haman’s ten sons be hanged on the gallows.”

14 So the king commanded this to be done; the decree was issued in Shushan, and they hanged Haman’s ten sons.

15 And the Jews who were in Shushan gathered together again on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar and killed three hundred men at Shushan; but they did not lay a hand on the plunder. Lingering Questions

16 The remainder of the Jews in the king’s provinces gathered together and protected their lives, had rest from their enemies, and killed seventy-five thousand of their enemies; but they did not lay a hand on the plunder.

17 This was on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar. And on the fourteenth of the month[a] they rested and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

The Feast of Purim

18 But the Jews who were at Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth day, as well as on the fourteenth; and on the fifteenth of the month[b] they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages who dwelt in the unwalled towns celebrated the fourteenth day of the month of Adar with gladness and feasting, as a holiday, and for sending presents to one another.

20And Mordecai wrote these things and sent letters to all the Jews, near and far, who were in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, 21to establish among them that they should celebrate yearly the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month of Adar, 22as the days on which the Jews had rest from their enemies, as the month which was turned from sorrow to joy for them, and from mourning to a holiday; that they should make them days of feasting and joy, of sending presents to one another and gifts to the poor.
23So the Jews accepted the custom which they had begun, as Mordecai had written to them,
24because Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to annihilate them, and had cast Pur (that is, the lot), to consume them and destroy them;
25but when Esther[c] came before the king, he commanded by letter that this[d] wicked plot which Haman had devised against the Jews should return on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows.
26So they called these days Purim, after the name Pur. Therefore, because of all the words of this letter, what they had seen concerning this matter, and what had happened to them, Cultural Assimilation
27the Jews established and imposed it upon themselves and their descendants and all who would join them, that without fail they should celebrate these two days every year, according to the written instructions and according to the prescribed time, 28*that* these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city, that these days of Purim should not fail to be observed among the Jews, and that the memory of them should not perish among their descendants.

29Then Queen Esther, the daughter of Abihail, with Mordecai the Jew, wrote with full authority to confirm this second letter about Purim.

30And Mordecai sent letters to all the Jews, to the one hundred and twenty-seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth, 31to confirm these days of Purim at their appointed time, as Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther had prescribed for them, and as they had decreed for themselves and their descendants concerning matters of their fasting and lamenting.

32So the decree of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim, and it was written in the book.

Esther 10

Mordecai's Advancement

1 And King Ahasuerus imposed tribute on the land and on the islands of the sea.

2 Now all the acts of his power and his might, and the account of the greatness of Mordecai, to which the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecai the Jew was second to King Ahasuerus, and was great among the Jews and well received by the multitude of his brethren, seeking the good of his people and speaking peace to all his countrymen.[a]

Strong Women
Esth. 1:22

Queen Vashti's refusal to parade her beauty at her husband's men-only, week-long drinking fest (Esth. 1:5–12) was officially interpreted as an act of rebellion against male authority (1:16, 17). King Ahasuerus responded with a decree intended to reinforce the mastery of every male in the empire over the women in his household. Some of the men of Persia must have felt threatened by Vashti's self-will, fearing that chaos would ensue if women refused to comply with their husbands' every wish.

But the Book of Esther celebrates the worth of strong women. Vashti's successor Esther also displayed assertiveness by entering the king's presence unbeckoned (4:11; 5:1–3), thus risking her life to save her people from genocide.

Esther is not the Bible's only word on authority in male-female relationships (see "A New Perspective on Marriage" at Eph. 5:21–29 and "Voluntary Yielding in Love" at James 4:1–7). But it does encourage women to assert their wills in order to fight evil.

Best known for: Saving her people, the Jews, from genocide by boldly speaking up to the king and exposing a plot to massacre them.

Mordecai

Esth. 2:21

Name: Probably a Hebrew form of Mardukaya, a common Babylonian name derived from Marduk, the name of a Babylonian god.

Not to be confused with: One of the leaders of the Jews who returned to Jerusalem under Zerubbabel (Ezra 2:2).

Home: Shushan (Susa), a royal city of the Persians.

Family: Probably born during the captivity; son of Jair, a Benjamite descended from Kish, the family of Saul; cousin and adoptive father of Esther.

Occupation: A position "within the king's gate" (Esth. 6:10) that allowed him to expose a conspiracy against the king; later succeeded his enemy Haman as second-in-command to King Ahasuerus (8:2; 10:3).

Best known for: Offering counsel to his cousin Esther, which saved their people from genocide; he used his position to allow the Jews to strike back at their enemies who "would assault them" (8:3–9:17; quotation is from Esth. 8:11).

Think About It: Mordecai guided Esther. What principles of parenting, fostering, and mentoring will you practice because of Mordecai?

Haman

Esth. 3:1

Not to be confused with: Heman the singer, a temple musician in the days of David.

Home: Shushan (Susa), a royal city of the Persians.

Family: Son of Hammedatha, called "the Agagite"; probably descended from Agag, king of Amalek.

Occupation: Second-in-command to King Ahasuerus until replaced by full-of-integrity Mordecai, whom Haman had considered an enemy (Esth. 8:2; 10:3).

Best known for: Plotting the destruction of Mordecai and the Jews; when Esther exposed his evil intentions (7:3–6), he was executed on the gallows he had built for Mordecai (7:9, 10).

Think About It: Haman's wicked plans came back to him. Things don't always work out this way, but they do sometimes. When have you reaped what you have sowed in a good way? In a bad, and convicting, way?

New Acquaintances, Old Enemies

Esth. 3:2–6

The enmity between Haman and Mordecai illustrates how sin can extend into family histories and become part of cultural systems and government policies.

At first the hostility between the two men appears to be rooted in nothing more than a show of disrespect by Mordecai, possibly for religious reasons, and Haman's racially prejudiced response. But the encounter outside the palace of Ahasuerus was not the first time the men's families had met.

The Book of Esther stresses that Haman was the son of Hammedatha the Agagite (Esth. 3:1, 10; 8:3, 5; 9:24). Tradition holds that the Agagites descended from Agag, the Amalekite king whom the Israelite king Saul had failed to kill, ignoring God's specific command (1 Sam. 15). The Lord had condemned the Amalekites for attacking the Israelites during their journey from Egypt to Canaan (Ex. 17:8–13; Deut. 25:17–19).

With Haman's rise to power, the Amalekites were once again threatening to destroy God's people. This time the Lord used Mordecai and Esther to thwart their schemes. Ironically, Mordecai was descended from Kish, the same Benjamite family that gave birth to Saul (1 Sam. 9:1). In the end, Mordecai carried out what Saul had failed to accomplish (Esth. 7:10; 9:4, 5, 13–15).

Mordecai and Haman may not have been aware of the long-standing enmity between their two peoples. But their conflict illustrates that personal sin can be passed down for generations, growing into corporate sin. Over time it becomes embedded in a culture, and even after lying dormant for generations, sin may suddenly flare up on an institutional or societal scale (3:9).

As important as it is to lead a good life as an individual, that goal alone is inadequate. The Bible shows that rooting out evil requires renewing sinful systems by passing laws that honor godly values and repealing laws that counter God's desires. The seeds of sin that we fail to root out may spring up generations later and yield a harvest of evil.

More: The Amalekites descended from Esau, Isaac's older son. The enmity between the Israelites and the Amalekites dated to the beginning of both peoples.

Think About It: What are God's next goals for your personal goodness? What are God's next goals for you to root out evil in a system in which you participate?

For Such a Time as This

Esth. 4:14

An isolated reading of the Book of Esther does not inform us that the Jews were the Lord's chosen people, or that God had given them His law, or that He had addressed them through His prophets, or that He was using the Exile to chasten them for their disobedience. The book does not ever actually mention God, a fact that has raised questions about the book's place in Scripture.

It might seem that Mordecai and the Jews were on their own as they faced probable annihilation (Esth. 3:13). When Mordecai's mourning (4:1) caught the attention of his cousin Esther (4:2–9), he challenged her to speak to the king on her people's behalf (4:10–12).

Then Mordecai made a suggestion that implies he was indeed aware that God was present in their circumstances and working out His purposes: "Who knows whether you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" he asked his cousin (4:14). Mordecai posed the possibility that the remarkable turn of events that had made Esther the queen of Persia had not come about by accident. She had been placed in a strategic position at a timely moment to carry out a specific purpose. As to whose purpose, Mordecai is silent, but the fact that he and Esther were Jews makes it plain that the Lord's hand was behind it all.

Like Mordecai and Esther, we often face circumstances we do not understand. But Mordecai demonstrates that we should engage in reflection that compares our observations of life with our understanding of God so that we might discern His purposes. The same God who worked through Esther is at work in our lives, and we may find, in big ways and small, that He leads us "for such a time as this."

Speaking Up

Esth. 5:1–5

Esther's bold gesture of seeking an unscheduled audience with the king showed remarkable courage. Access to the Persian ruler was limited to those he summoned, and anyone who violated this policy could be punished by death. Esther's faith, encouraged by her cousin Mordecai, gave her the resolve to speak up on her people's behalf. Esther and Mordecai are two of many biblical models of faith in hostile societies. How have you found to express faith well even when your circumstances might be hostile? To learn more, see "Models of Faith in Hostile Societies" at Daniel 2:48, 49.

Just War
Esth. 9:1–5

People of faith have struggled throughout history to determine if war is ever justified. While everyone agrees that war is a terrible evil, many feel that certain circumstances make going to battle unavoidable. The courage of Queen Esther and the decree of King Ahasuerus (Esth. 8:3–6, 11) allowed the Jews to fight a limited war of revenge until they destroyed almost all of their enemies.

Measured against a set of criteria developed by church leaders Augustine in the fifth century and Aquinas in the thirteenth century, this bloodshed was justified. According to that tradition, a war is just if it meets certain criteria:

- A just war pursues a just cause or "right intention," such as self-defense, in the face of an obvious, one-sided evil; this assumes those engaged in a just war have mostly righteous purposes as their motives.
- A just war is declared and directed by a competent government authority.
- A just war is undertaken as a last resort only after exhausting all peaceful options, including diplomacy and economic sanctions.
- A just war must conform to the law of proportionality weighing the greater good (or the lesser of two evils). Anticipated good results must outweigh actual bad effects.
- A just war must be redemptive, leaving room for warring parties to reconcile after hostilities cease.
- A just war is a discriminate, limited engagement that precludes looting, massacres, or tactics that would harm noncombatants.
- A just war must be waged with a probability of winning.
- A just war must allow exemption for conscientious objectors.

Wars fought throughout history can be tested against these principles. And assessing potential conflicts with these guidelines in mind could help nations limit their military involvement to situations truly worth fighting for.

More: The concept of just war is based on the belief that God has instituted government. See "Social Institutions: Family, State, and Church" at Gen. 2:23; "God Is the Ultimate Authority" at Ps. 2:4–6; and "Governmental Authority" at Rom. 13:1–7.

Lingering Questions
Esth. 9:15–17

After Haman was exposed and executed, the tables turned and the Jews were allowed to destroy their enemies. At first they killed more than five hundred men (Esth. 9:1–10). Then Esther asked for a second day of vengeance, and they killed 75,300 (9:15–17). The Bible mentions but does not comment on this massacre, leaving us with significant questions. Did God disapprove? These Jews had also remained in exile rather than return to Judah. Was that what God desired? Was Mordecai's feast of Purim—established to celebrate this slaughter—divinely sanctioned? Scripture leaves us to debate the answers.

Cultural Assimilation
Esth. 9:26–28

The Bible takes up issues of cultural identity particularly through the Old Testament books of Ruth and Esther. Ruth the Moabite woman assimilated into Hebrew culture by forsaking her ethnic roots and marrying Boaz. But Esther held on to her Jewish ways and identified with her people despite her marriage to King Ahasuerus of Persia.

The lack of assimilation into Persian society by Jews of Esther's time may have been related to racial discrimination. Esther hid her ethnic heritage from everyone, including the king (Esth. 2:10). And Haman's plot was driven by racial intolerance (3:6).

After Haman's scheme failed, the feast of Purim became a permanent expression of Jewish identity. Purim comes from the word pur, meaning "lots," for lots had been cast to determine the day on which the extermination of the Jews should take place (3:7). This feast celebrated God's deliverance of His people within the dominant culture of Persia. The feast of Passover celebrated God's deliverance out of another dominant culture—that of Egypt (see "Passover" at Luke 22:7). Feasts and fasts became a means for Jews to maintain their cultural identity under non-Jewish rule and over the centuries, invaluable traditions when the people no longer had a land to call home or a temple in which to worship.

The Book of Job is the timeless story of human beings trying to understand justice in the face of calamity. Job and his friends reasoned that bad things should happen to bad people as a punishment for sin, and good people should reap good rewards. But the overriding lesson of Job is that we trust God no matter what.

We cannot fully understand or explain misfortune because we do not have all the facts. Only God knows all the answers. The book begins with Satan appearing before God, demanding permission to test Job, a righteous man. He argues that the Lord has bought Job's devotion with a blessed life: take away the Lord's gifts, and Job will respond with sin, cursing the Lord's name. After God agrees to Satan's proposal, Job is stripped of his possessions, family, and health, and the book turns into a discussion between Job and his friends as they struggle to make sense of Job's trials. The speakers take turns offering insights into the causes of suffering, for the most part accusing Job of hidden sin.

Receiving little human comfort, Job cries out to God. When the Lord finally speaks, He restores His servant's blessings twofold. However, God makes it clear that His gifts are not given as a reward for a blameless life. Rather, He reveals to Job his limitations. Only the Lord, who is perfect and all-powerful, is capable of administering ultimate justice. As sinners, we should be humble enough to admit that not only are we undeserving of prosperity but the very concept of justice—and God's methods of delivering it—is beyond our full comprehension.

The Book of Job is an example of a common genre of writing in the ancient world called Wisdom Literature. This type of literature offered instructions on life. These come either through short, practical truisms such as proverbs; or through longer, more speculative discourses like the one seen in Job. The books of Proverbs and Ecclesiastes as well as portions of Psalms (for example, Ps. 1; 19; 37; 73; 119) are other examples of biblical Wisdom Literature.

The fundamental questions raised in Job reflect many of the complex issues commonly addressed in Wisdom Literature: evil, suffering, justice, the meaning and value of life, and the extent to which human beings can understand God's ways. These questions are universal, and the book is a cosmic drama played out on the stage of one man's experience.

As Christians, our quest for answers to these questions should not deter us from intellectual inquiry or efforts to truly comfort each other in our troubles. Instead, it should drive us to the place where Job ended up—at the feet of God, in humility and trust.

We do not know who wrote the epic poem of Job. The author was likely among a class of sages called wise men, or the wise (compare 1 Kin. 4:30, 31; Job 34:2; Eccl. 12:11). These were not the same sort of wise men who came to Judea in the time of Herod, seeking the King of the Jews (Matt. 2:1, 2). The producers of Wisdom Literature compiled wise sayings, stories, and examples from history to illustrate fundamental truths. This sophisticated intellectual craft can be seen in the highly stylized structure and vocabulary of the Book of Job.

Little is known of the time and place of Job's life. The book says he was a man of Uz (Job 1:1), but the exact location of Uz remains unknown. The events may have occurred around the time of Abraham (c. 2000 B.C.), though the account could have been written later.

Key People in Job

- Job, a man who lost everything when God agreed to let Satan test his faith (Job 1:1).
- Job's first family of children, whose lives ended tragically as they feasted at the oldest brother's house (Job 1:13–15).
- Job's wife, an anguished woman who told her husband to curse God and die (Job 2:9).
- Eliphaz, likely the oldest of three friends who comforted Job in his troubles (Job 4:1).
- Bildad, a friend who suggested that Job's children deserved to die for their sins (Job 8:1).
- Zophar, a friend who claimed that Job's hidden sins deserved even greater suffering (Job 11:1).
- Elihu, the youngest and most perceptive of Job's counselors (Job 32:1).
- Job's second family of children: seven sons and three daughters born after his restoration (Job 42:13–15).

Key Events in Job

- Job's possessions and children are taken from him (Job 1).
- Job loses his health (Job 2:1–8).
- Job's wife tells him to "curse God and die!" (Job 2:9).
- Job's receives more blessings (Job 42:7–17).

Job 1

Job and His Family in Uz

1 There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was blameless and upright, and one who feared God and shunned evil. Job

2 And seven sons and three daughters were born to him.

3 Also, his possessions were seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred female donkeys, and a very large household, so that this man was the greatest of all the people of the East.

4 And his sons would go and feast in their houses, each on his appointed day, and would send and invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them.

5 So it was, when the days of feasting had run their course, that Job would send and sanctify them, and he would rise early in the morning and offer burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job said, "It may be that my sons have sinned and cursed[a] God in their hearts." Thus Job did regularly.

Satan Attacks Job's Character

6 Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan[b] also came among them. Blaming Satan

7 And the LORD said to Satan, "From where do you come?" So Satan answered the LORD and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking back and forth on it."

8 Then the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God and shuns evil?”

9So Satan answered the LORD and said, “Does Job fear God for nothing? Following God and Getting Nothing in Return

10“Have You not made a hedge around him, around his household, and around all that he has on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land.

11“But now, stretch out Your hand and touch all that he has, and he will surely curse You to Your face!”

12And the LORD said to Satan, “Behold, all that he has is in your power; only do not lay a hand on his person.” So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD.

Job Loses His Property and Children

13Now there was a day when his sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house; Preparing for Sudden Disaster

14and a messenger came to Job and said, “The oxen were plowing and the donkeys feeding beside them,

15“when the Sabeans[c] raided them and took them away—indeed they have killed the servants with the edge of the sword; and I alone have escaped to tell you!”

16While he was still speaking, another also came and said, “The fire of God fell from heaven and burned up the sheep and the servants, and consumed them; and I alone have escaped to tell you!”

17While he was still speaking, another also came and said, “The Chaldeans formed three bands, raided the camels and took them away, yes, and killed the servants with the edge of the sword; and I alone have escaped to tell you!”

18While he was still speaking, another also came and said, “Your sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house,

19 “and suddenly a great wind came from across[d] the wilderness and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell on the young people, and they are dead; and I alone have escaped to tell you!”
20 Then Job arose, tore his robe, and shaved his head; and he fell to the ground and worshiped.
21 And he said:

> “Naked I came from my mother’s womb,
> And naked shall I return there.
> The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken
> away;
> Blessed be the name of the LORD.”

22 In all this Job did not sin nor charge God with wrong.

Job’s Trust in God’s Kindness

Job 2

Satan Attacks Job's Health

1 Again there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the LORD.
2 And the LORD said to Satan, "From where do you come?" So Satan answered the LORD and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking back and forth on it."
3 Then the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God and shuns evil? And still he holds fast to his integrity, although you incited Me against him, to destroy him without cause."
4 So Satan answered the LORD and said, "Skin for skin!
Yes, all that a man has he will give for his life.
5 "But stretch out Your hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will surely curse You to Your face!" 6 And the LORD said to Satan, "Behold, he is in your hand, but spare his life." Goodness in a Global World 7 So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD, and struck Job with painful boils from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head.
8 And he took for himself a potsherd with which to scrape himself while he sat in the midst of the ashes.
9 Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold fast to your integrity? Curse God and die!"
10 But he said to her, "You speak as one of the foolish women speaks. Shall we indeed accept good from God, and shall we not accept adversity?" In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

Job’s Three Friends

11 Now when Job’s three friends heard of all this adversity that had come upon him, each one came from his own place
—Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. For they had made an appointment together to come and mourn with him, and to comfort him.
12 And when they raised their eyes from afar, and did not recognize him, they lifted their voices and wept; and each one tore his robe and sprinkled dust on his head toward heaven.
13 So they sat down with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and no one spoke a word to him, for they saw that his grief was very great. A Friend in Need

Job 3

Job Deplores His Birth

1 After this Job opened his mouth and cursed the day of his birth.
2 And Job spoke, and said:

3 "May the day perish on which I was born,
And the night in which it was said,
'A male child is conceived.'
4 May that day be darkness;
May God above not seek it,
Nor the light shine upon it.
5 May darkness and the shadow of death claim it;
May a cloud settle on it;
May the blackness of the day terrify it.
6 As for that night, may darkness seize it;
May it not rejoice[a] among the days of the year,
May it not come into the number of the months.
7 Oh, may that night be barren!
May no joyful shout come into it!
8 May those curse it who curse the day,
Those who are ready to arouse Leviathan.
9 May the stars of its morning be dark;
May it look for light, but have none,
And not see the dawning of the day;
10 Because it did not shut up the doors of my mother's womb,
Nor hide sorrow from my eyes.

11 “Why did I not die at birth?
Why did I not perish when I came from the womb?
12 Why did the knees receive me?
Or why the breasts, that I should nurse?
13 For now I would have lain still and been quiet,
I would have been asleep;
Then I would have been at rest
14 With kings and counselors of the earth,
Who built ruins for themselves,
15 Or with princes who had gold,
Who filled their houses with silver;
16 Or why was I not hidden like a stillborn
child,
Like infants who never saw light?
17 There the wicked cease from troubling,
And there the weary are at rest.
18 There the prisoners rest together;
They do not hear the voice of the oppressor.
19 The small and great are there,
And the servant is free from his master.

20 “Why is light given to him who is in misery,
And life to the bitter of soul,
21 Who long for death, but it does not come,
And search for it more than hidden treasures;
22 Who rejoice exceedingly,
And are glad when they can find the grave?
23 Why is light given to a man whose way is hidden,
And whom God has hedged in?

24 For my sighing comes before I eat,[b]
And my groanings pour out like water.
25 For the thing I greatly feared has come upon me,
And what I dreaded has happened to me. Our Shaky World
26 I am not at ease, nor am I quiet;
I have no rest, for trouble comes.”

Job 4

Eliphaz: Job Has Sinned

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said: Eliphaz

2 "If one attempts a word with you, will you become weary?
But who can withhold himself from speaking?
3 Surely you have instructed many,
And you have strengthened weak hands.
4 Your words have upheld him who was stumbling,
And you have strengthened the feeble knees;
5 But now it comes upon you, and you are weary;
It touches you, and you are troubled.
6 Is not your reverence your confidence?
And the integrity of your ways your hope?

7 "Remember now, who ever perished being innocent?
Or where were the upright ever cut off?
8 Even as I have seen,
Those who plow iniquity
And sow trouble reap the same.
9 By the blast of God they perish,
And by the breath of His anger they are consumed.
10 The roaring of the lion,
The voice of the fierce lion,
And the teeth of the young lions are broken.

11 The old lion perishes for lack of prey,
And the cubs of the lioness are scattered.

12 “Now a word was secretly brought to me,
And my ear received a whisper of it.
13 In disquieting thoughts from the visions of the night,
When deep sleep falls on men,
14 Fear came upon me, and trembling,
Which made all my bones shake.
15 Then a spirit passed before my face;
The hair on my body stood up.
16 It stood still,
But I could not discern its appearance.
A form was before my eyes;
There was silence;
Then I heard a voice saying:
17 ‘Can a mortal be more righteous than
God?
Can a man be more pure than his Maker?
18 If He puts no trust in His servants,
If He charges His angels with error, 19 How much more those who dwell in houses of clay,
Whose foundation is in the dust,
Who are crushed before a moth?
20 They are broken in pieces from morning till evening;
They perish forever, with no one regarding.
21 Does not their own excellence go away?
They die, even without wisdom.’

Job 5

Eliphaz: Job Is Chastened by God

1 “Call out now;
Is there anyone who will answer you?
And to which of the holy ones will you turn?
2 For wrath kills a foolish man,
And envy slays a simple one.
3 I have seen the foolish taking root,
But suddenly I cursed his dwelling place.
4 His sons are far from safety,
They are crushed in the gate,
And there is no deliverer.
5 Because the hungry eat up his harvest,
Taking it even from the thorns,[a]
And a snare snatches their substance.[b]
6 For affliction does not come from the dust,
Nor does trouble spring from the ground;
7 Yet man is born to trouble,
As the sparks fly upward. People Are Born to Trouble

8 “But as for me, I would seek God,
And to God I would commit my cause—
9 Who does great things, and unsearchable,
Marvelous things without number.
10 He gives rain on the earth,
And sends waters on the fields.
11 He sets on high those who are lowly,
And those who mourn are lifted to safety.
12 He frustrates the devices of the crafty,
So that their hands cannot carry out their plans.

13 He catches the wise in their own craftiness,
And the counsel of the cunning comes quickly upon them.
14 They meet with darkness in the daytime,
And grope at noontime as in the night.
15 But He saves the needy from the sword,
From the mouth of the mighty,
And from their hand.
16 So the poor have hope,
And injustice shuts her mouth.

17 "Behold, happy is the man whom God corrects;
Therefore do not despise the chastening of the Almighty. Do Not Despise God's Discipline
18 For He bruises, but He binds up;
He wounds, but His hands make whole.
19 He shall deliver you in six troubles,
Yes, in seven no evil shall touch you.
20 In famine He shall redeem you from death,
And in war from the power of the sword.
21 You shall be hidden from the scourge of the tongue,
And you shall not be afraid of destruction when it comes.
22 You shall laugh at destruction and famine,
And you shall not be afraid of the beasts of the earth.
23 For you shall have a covenant with the stones of the field,
And the beasts of the field shall be at peace with you.
24 You shall know that your tent is in peace;

You shall visit your dwelling and find nothing amiss.
25 You shall also know that your descendants shall be many,
And your offspring like the grass of the earth.
26 You shall come to the grave at a full age,
As a sheaf of grain ripens in its season.
27 Behold, this we have searched out;
It is true.
Hear it, and know for yourself.”

Job 6

Job: My Complaint Is Just

1 Then Job answered and said:

2 “Oh, that my grief were fully weighed,
And my calamity laid with it on the scales!
3 For then it would be heavier than the sand of the sea—
Therefore my words have been rash.
4 For the arrows of the Almighty are within
me;
My spirit drinks in their poison;
The terrors of God are arrayed against me.
5 Does the wild donkey bray when it has grass,
Or does the ox low over its fodder?
6 Can flavorless food be eaten without salt?
Or is there any taste in the white of an egg?
7 My soul refuses to touch them;
They are as loathsome food to me.

8 “Oh, that I might have my request,
That God would grant me the thing that I long for!
9 That it would please God to crush me,
That He would loose His hand and cut me off!
10 Then I would still have comfort;
Though in anguish I would exult,
He will not spare;
For I have not concealed the words of the Holy One.

11 “What strength do I have, that I should hope?
And what is my end, that I should prolong my life?
12 Is my strength the strength of stones?
Or is my flesh bronze?
13 Is my help not within me?
And is success driven from me?

14 “To him who is afflicted, kindness should be shown by his friend,
Even though he forsakes the fear of the Almighty.
15 My brothers have dealt deceitfully like a brook,
Like the streams of the brooks that pass
away,
16 Which are dark because of the ice,
And into which the snow vanishes.
17 When it is warm, they cease to flow;
When it is hot, they vanish from their place.
18 The paths of their way turn aside,
They go nowhere and perish.
19 The caravans of Tema look,
The travelers of Sheba hope for them. An Empty Oasis
20 They are disappointed because they were confident;
They come there and are confused.
21 For now you are nothing,
You see terror and are afraid.
22 Did I ever say, ‘Bring something to me’?
Or, ‘Offer a bribe for me from your wealth’?
23 Or, ‘Deliver me from the enemy’s hand’?

Or, ‘Redeem me from the hand of oppressors’?

24“Teach me, and I will hold my tongue; Cause me to understand wherein I have erred.
25How forceful are right words!
But what does your arguing prove?
26Do you intend to rebuke my words,
And the speeches of a desperate one, which are as wind?
27Yes, you overwhelm the fatherless,
And you undermine your friend.
28Now therefore, be pleased to look at me;
For I would never lie to your face.
29Yield now, let there be no injustice!
Yes, concede, my righteousness still stands!
30Is there injustice on my tongue?
Cannot my taste discern the unsavory?

Job 7

Job: My Suffering Is Comfortless

1 “Is there not a time of hard service for man on earth?
Are not his days also like the days of a hired man?
2 Like a servant who earnestly desires the shade,
And like a hired man who eagerly looks for his wages,
3 So I have been allotted months of futility,
And wearisome nights have been appointed to me.
4 When I lie down, I say, ‘When shall I arise,
And the night be ended?’
For I have had my fill of tossing till dawn.
5 My flesh is caked with worms and dust,
My skin is cracked and breaks out afresh.

6 “My days are swifter than a weaver’s shuttle,
And are spent without hope.
7 Oh, remember that my life is a breath!
My eye will never again see good.
8 The eye of him who sees me will see me no
more;
While your eyes are upon me, I shall no longer be.
9 As the cloud disappears and vanishes away,
So he who goes down to the grave does not come up.

10 He shall never return to his house,
Nor shall his place know him anymore.

11 "Therefore I will not restrain my mouth;
I will speak in the anguish of my spirit;
I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
12 Am I a sea, or a sea serpent,
That You set a guard over me?
13 When I say, 'My bed will comfort me,
My couch will ease my complaint,'
14 Then You scare me with dreams
And terrify me with visions,
15 So that my soul chooses strangling
And death rather than my body.[a] 16 I loathe my life;
I would not live forever.
Let me alone,
For my days are but a breath.

17 "What is man, that You should exalt him,
That You should set Your heart on him,
18 That You should visit him every morning,
And test him every moment?
19 How long?
Will You not look away from me,
And let me alone till I swallow my saliva?
20 Have I sinned?
What have I done to You, O watcher of men?
Why have You set me as Your target,
So that I am a burden to myself?[b]
21 Why then do You not pardon my transgression,
And take away my iniquity?
For now I will lie down in the dust,

And You will seek me diligently,
But I will no longer be.”

Job 8

Bildad: Job Should Repent

[1]Then Bildad the Shuhite answered and said: Bildad

[2]"How long will you speak these things,
And the words of your mouth be like a strong wind?
[3]Does God subvert judgment?
Or does the Almighty pervert justice?
[4]If your sons have sinned against Him,
He has cast them away for their transgression.
[5]If you would earnestly seek God
And make your supplication to the Almighty,
[6]If you were pure and upright,
Surely now He would awake for you,
And prosper your rightful dwelling place.
[7]Though your beginning was small,
Yet your latter end would increase abundantly.

[8]"For inquire, please, of the former age,
And consider the things discovered by their fathers;
[9]For we were born yesterday, and know nothing,
Because our days on earth are a shadow.
[10]Will they not teach you and tell you,
And utter words from their heart?

11 “Can the papyrus grow up without a marsh?
Can the reeds flourish without water?
12 While it is yet green and not cut down,
It withers before any other plant.
13 So are the paths of all who forget God;
And the hope of the hypocrite shall perish,
14 Whose confidence shall be cut off,
And whose trust is a spider’s web.
15 He leans on his house, but it does not stand.
He holds it fast, but it does not endure.
16 He grows green in the sun,
And his branches spread out in his garden.
17 His roots wrap around the rock heap,
And look for a place in the stones.
18 If he is destroyed from his place,
Then it will deny him, saying, ‘I have not seen you.’

19 “Behold, this is the joy of His way,
And out of the earth others will grow.
20 Behold, God will not cast away the blameless,
Nor will He uphold the evildoers.
21 He will yet fill your mouth with laughing,
And your lips with rejoicing.
22 Those who hate you will be clothed with shame,
And the dwelling place of the wicked will come to nothing.”[a]

Job 9

Job: There Is No Mediator

1 Then Job answered and said:

2 “Truly I know it is so,
But how can a man be righteous before God?
3 If one wished to contend with Him,
He could not answer Him one time out of a thousand.
4 God is wise in heart and mighty in strength.
Who has hardened himself against Him and prospered?
5 He removes the mountains, and they do not know
When He overturns them in His anger;
6 He shakes the earth out of its place,
And its pillars tremble;
7 He commands the sun, and it does not rise;
He seals off the stars;
8 He alone spreads out the heavens,
And treads on the waves of the sea;
9 He made the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades,
And the chambers of the south;
10 He does great things past finding out,
Yes, wonders without number.
11 If He goes by me, I do not see Him;
If He moves past, I do not perceive Him;
12 If He takes away, who can hinder Him?
Who can say to Him, ‘What are You doing?’
13 God will not withdraw His anger,

The allies of the proud[a] lie prostrate beneath
Him.

14"How then can I answer Him,
And choose my words to reason with Him?
15For though I were righteous, I could not answer Him;
I would beg mercy of my Judge.
16If I called and He answered me,
I would not believe that He was listening to my voice.
17For He crushes me with a tempest,
And multiplies my wounds without cause.
18He will not allow me to catch my breath,
But fills me with bitterness.
19If it is a matter of strength, indeed He is strong;
And if of justice, who will appoint my day in court?
20Though I were righteous, my own mouth would condemn me;
Though I were blameless, it would prove me perverse.

21"I am blameless, yet I do not know myself;
I despise my life.
22It is all one thing;
Therefore I say, 'He destroys the blameless and the wicked.'
23If the scourge slays suddenly,
He laughs at the plight of the innocent.
24The earth is given into the hand of the wicked.
He covers the faces of its judges.

If it is not He, who else could it be?

25 “Now my days are swifter than a runner;
They flee away, they see no good.
26 They pass by like swift ships,
Like an eagle swooping on its prey.
27 If I say, ‘I will forget my complaint,
I will put off my sad face and wear a smile,’
28 I am afraid of all my sufferings;
I know that You will not hold me innocent.
29 If I am condemned,
Why then do I labor in vain?
30 If I wash myself with snow water,
And cleanse my hands with soap,
31 Yet You will plunge me into the pit,
And my own clothes will abhor me.

32 “For He is not a man, as I am,
That I may answer Him,
And that we should go to court together.
33 Nor is there any mediator between us,
Who may lay his hand on us both.
34 Let Him take His rod away from me,
And do not let dread of Him terrify me.
35 Then I would speak and not fear Him,
But it is not so with me.

Job 10

Job: I Would Plead with God

1 “My soul loathes my life;
I will give free course to my complaint,
I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
2 I will say to God, ‘Do not condemn me;
Show me why You contend with me.
3 Does it seem good to You that You should oppress,
That You should despise the work of Your hands,
And smile on the counsel of the wicked?
4 Do You have eyes of flesh?
Or do You see as man sees?
5 Are Your days like the days of a mortal
man?
Are Your years like the days of a mighty
man,
6 That You should seek for my iniquity
And search out my sin,
7 Although You know that I am not wicked,
And there is no one who can deliver from
Your hand?

8 ‘Your hands have made me and fashioned
me,
An intricate unity;
Yet You would destroy me.
9 Remember, I pray, that You have made me like clay.
And will You turn me into dust again?

10 Did You not pour me out like milk,
And curdle me like cheese,
11 Clothe me with skin and flesh,
And knit me together with bones and sinews?
12 You have granted me life and favor,
And Your care has preserved my spirit.

13 ‘And these things You have hidden in Your heart;
I know that this was with You:
14 If I sin, then You mark me,
And will not acquit me of my iniquity.
15 If I am wicked, woe to me;
Even if I am righteous, I cannot lift up my head.
I am full of disgrace;
See my misery!
16 If my head is exalted,
You hunt me like a fierce lion,
And again You show Yourself awesome against me.
17 You renew Your witnesses against me,
And increase Your indignation toward me;
Changes and war are ever with me.

18 ‘Why then have You brought me out of the womb?
Oh, that I had perished and no eye had seen me!
19 I would have been as though I had not been.
I would have been carried from the womb to the grave.

[20]Are not my days few?
Cease! Leave me alone, that I may take a little comfort,
[21]Before I go to the place from which I shall not return,
To the land of darkness and the shadow of death,
[22]A land as dark as darkness itself,
As the shadow of death, without any order,
Where even the light is like darkness.' "

Job 11

Zophar Urges Job to Repent

1 Then Zophar the Naamathite answered and said: Zophar

2 “Should not the multitude of words be answered?
And should a man full of talk be vindicated?
3 Should your empty talk make men hold their peace?
And when you mock, should no one rebuke you?
4 For you have said,
‘My doctrine is pure,
And I am clean in your eyes.’
5 But oh, that God would speak,
And open His lips against you,
6 That He would show you the secrets of wisdom!
For they would double your prudence.
Know therefore that God exacts from you
Less than your iniquity deserves.

7 “Can you search out the deep things of God?
Can you find out the limits of the Almighty?
8 They are higher than heaven—what can you do?
Deeper than Sheol—what can you know?
9 Their measure is longer than the earth
And broader than the sea.

10 “If He passes by, imprisons, and gathers to judgment,
Then who can hinder Him?
11 For He knows deceitful men;
He sees wickedness also.
Will He not then consider it?
12 For an empty-headed man will be wise,
When a wild donkey’s colt is born a man.

13 “If you would prepare your heart,
And stretch out your hands toward Him;
14 If iniquity were in your hand, and you put it far away,
And would not let wickedness dwell in your tents;
15 Then surely you could lift up your face without spot;
Yes, you could be steadfast, and not fear;
16 Because you would forget your misery,
And remember it as waters that have passed
away, 17 And your life would be brighter than noonday.
Though you were dark, you would be like the
morning.
18 And you would be secure, because there is hope;
Yes, you would dig around you, and take your rest in safety.
19 You would also lie down, and no one would make you afraid;
Yes, many would court your favor.
20 But the eyes of the wicked will fail,
And they shall not escape,

And their hope—loss of life!”

Job 12

Job Answers His Critics

1 Then Job answered and said:

2 "No doubt you are the people,
And wisdom will die with you!
3 But I have understanding as well as you;
I am not inferior to you.
Indeed, who does not know such things as these?

4 "I am one mocked by his friends,
Who called on God, and He answered him,
The just and blameless who is ridiculed.
5 A lamp[a] is despised in the thought of one who is at ease;
It is made ready for those whose feet slip.
6 The tents of robbers prosper,
And those who provoke God are secure—
In what God provides by His hand.

7 "But now ask the beasts, and they will teach you;
And the birds of the air, and they will tell you; Learning from Creation
8 Or speak to the earth, and it will teach you;
And the fish of the sea will explain to you.
9 Who among all these does not know
That the hand of the LORD has done this,
10 In whose hand is the life of every living thing,
And the breath of all mankind?

11 Does not the ear test words
And the mouth taste its food?
12 Wisdom is with aged men,
And with length of days, understanding.

13 "With Him are wisdom and strength,
He has counsel and understanding.
14 If He breaks a thing down, it cannot be rebuilt;
If He imprisons a man, there can be no release.
15 If He withholds the waters, they dry up;
If He sends them out, they overwhelm the earth.
16 With Him are strength and prudence.
The deceived and the deceiver are His.
17 He leads counselors away plundered,
And makes fools of the judges.
18 He loosens the bonds of kings,
And binds their waist with a belt.
19 He leads princes[b] away plundered,
And overthrows the mighty.
20 He deprives the trusted ones of speech,
And takes away the discernment of the elders.
21 He pours contempt on princes,
And disarms the mighty.
22 He uncovers deep things out of darkness,
And brings the shadow of death to light.
23 He makes nations great, and destroys them;
He enlarges nations, and guides them.
24 He takes away the understanding[c] of the chiefs of the people of the earth,

And makes them wander in a pathless
wilderness.
25 They grope in the dark without light,
And He makes them stagger like a drunken man.

Job 13

1 “Behold, my eye has seen all this,
My ear has heard and understood it.
2 What you know, I also know;
I am not inferior to you.
3 But I would speak to the Almighty,
And I desire to reason with God.
4 But you forgers of lies,
You are all worthless physicians. Worthy Physicians
5 Oh, that you would be silent,
And it would be your wisdom!
6 Now hear my reasoning,
And heed the pleadings of my lips.
7 Will you speak wickedly for God,
And talk deceitfully for Him?
8 Will you show partiality for Him?
Will you contend for God?
9 Will it be well when He searches you out?
Or can you mock Him as one mocks a man?
10 He will surely rebuke you
If you secretly show partiality.
11 Will not His excellence make you afraid,
And the dread of Him fall upon you?
12 Your platitudes are proverbs of ashes,
Your defenses are defenses of clay.

13 “Hold your peace with me, and let me speak,
Then let come on me what may!
14 Why do I take my flesh in my teeth,
And put my life in my hands?

15 Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him.
Even so, I will defend my own ways before Him.
16 He also shall be my salvation,
For a hypocrite could not come before Him.
17 Listen carefully to my speech,
And to my declaration with your ears.
18 See now, I have prepared my case,
I know that I shall be vindicated.
19 Who is he who will contend with me?
If now I hold my tongue, I perish.

Job's Despondent Prayer

20 "Only two things do not do to me,
Then I will not hide myself from You:
21 Withdraw Your hand far from me,
And let not the dread of You make me afraid.
22 Then call, and I will answer;
Or let me speak, then You respond to me.
23 How many are my iniquities and sins?
Make me know my transgression and my sin.
24 Why do You hide Your face,
And regard me as Your enemy?
25 Will You frighten a leaf driven to and fro?
And will You pursue dry stubble?
26 For You write bitter things against me,
And make me inherit the iniquities of my youth.
27 You put my feet in the stocks,
And watch closely all my paths.
You set a limit[a] for the soles of my feet.

28 "Man[b] decays like a rotten thing,
Like a garment that is moth-eaten.

Job 14

1 “Man who is born of woman
Is of few days and full of trouble.
2 He comes forth like a flower and fades
away;
He flees like a shadow and does not continue.
3 And do You open Your eyes on such a one,
And bring me[a] to judgment with Yourself?
4 Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?
No one!
5 Since his days are determined,
The number of his months is with You;
You have appointed his limits, so that he cannot pass.
6 Look away from him that he may rest,
Till like a hired man he finishes his day.

7 “For there is hope for a tree,
If it is cut down, that it will sprout again,
And that its tender shoots will not cease.
8 Though its root may grow old in the earth,
And its stump may die in the ground,
9 Yet at the scent of water it will bud
And bring forth branches like a plant.
10 But man dies and is laid away;
Indeed he breathes his last
And where is he?
11 As water disappears from the sea,
And a river becomes parched and dries up,
12 So man lies down and does not rise.

Till the heavens are no more,
They will not awake
Nor be roused from their sleep.

13"Oh, that You would hide me in the grave,
That You would conceal me until Your wrath is past,
That You would appoint me a set time, and remember me!
14If a man dies, shall he live again?
All the days of my hard service I will wait,
Till my change comes. Life After Death
15You shall call, and I will answer You;
You shall desire the work of Your hands.
16For now You number my steps,
But do not watch over my sin.
17My transgression is sealed up in a bag,
And You cover[b] my iniquity.

18"But as a mountain falls and crumbles
away,
And as a rock is moved from its place;
19*As* water wears away stones,
And as torrents wash away the soil of the
earth;
So You destroy the hope of man.
20You prevail forever against him, and he passes on;
You change his countenance and send him
away.
21His sons come to honor, and he does not know it;
They are brought low, and he does not perceive it.

[22]But his flesh will be in pain over it,
And his soul will mourn over it.”

Job 15

Eliphaz Accuses Job of Folly

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said:

2 "Should a wise man answer with empty knowledge,
And fill himself with the east wind?
3 Should he reason with unprofitable talk,
Or by speeches with which he can do no good?
4 Yes, you cast off fear,
And restrain prayer before God.
5 For your iniquity teaches your mouth,
And you choose the tongue of the crafty.
6 Your own mouth condemns you, and not I;
Yes, your own lips testify against you.

7 "Are you the first man who was born?
Or were you made before the hills?
8 Have you heard the counsel of God?
Do you limit wisdom to yourself?
9 What do you know that we do not know?
What do you understand that is not in us?
10 Both the gray-haired and the aged are among us,
Much older than your father.
11 Are the consolations of God too small for you,
And the word spoken gently[a] with you?
12 Why does your heart carry you away,
And what do your eyes wink at,

13 That you turn your spirit against God,
And let such words go out of your mouth?

14 "What is man, that he could be pure?
And he who is born of a woman, that he could be righteous?
15 If God puts no trust in His saints,
And the heavens are not pure in His sight,
16 How much less man, who is abominable and filthy,
Who drinks iniquity like water!

17 "I will tell you, hear me;
What I have seen I will declare,
18 What wise men have told,
Not hiding anything received from their fathers,
19 To whom alone the land was given,
And no alien passed among them:
20 The wicked man writhes with pain all his days,
And the number of years is hidden from the oppressor.
21 Dreadful sounds are in his ears;
In prosperity the destroyer comes upon him.
22 He does not believe that he will return from darkness,
For a sword is waiting for him.
23 He wanders about for bread, saying, 'Where is it?'
He knows that a day of darkness is ready at his hand.
24 Trouble and anguish make him afraid;

They overpower him, like a king ready for battle.
25For he stretches out his hand against God,
And acts defiantly against the Almighty,
26Running stubbornly against Him
With his strong, embossed shield.

27"Though he has covered his face with his fatness,
And made his waist heavy with fat,
28He dwells in desolate cities,
In houses which no one inhabits,
Which are destined to become ruins.
29He will not be rich,
Nor will his wealth continue,
Nor will his possessions overspread the
earth.
30He will not depart from darkness;
The flame will dry out his branches,
And by the breath of His mouth he will go
away.
31Let him not trust in futile things, deceiving
himself,
For futility will be his reward.
32It will be accomplished before his time,
And his branch will not be green.
33He will shake off his unripe grape like a vine,
And cast off his blossom like an olive tree.
34For the company of hypocrites will be barren,
And fire will consume the tents of bribery.
35They conceive trouble and bring forth futility;

Their womb prepares deceit.”

Job 16

Job Reproaches His Pitiless Friends

1 Then Job answered and said:

2 "I have heard many such things;
Miserable comforters are you all!
3 Shall words of wind have an end?
Or what provokes you that you answer?
4 I also could speak as you do,
If your soul were in my soul's place.
I could heap up words against you,
And shake my head at you;
5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth,
And the comfort of my lips would relieve your grief.

6 "Though I speak, my grief is not relieved;
And if I remain silent, how am I eased?
7 But now He has worn me out;
You have made desolate all my company.
8 You have shriveled me up,
And it is a witness against me;
My leanness rises up against me
And bears witness to my face.
9 He tears me in His wrath, and hates me;
He gnashes at me with His teeth;
My adversary sharpens His gaze on me.
10 They gape at me with their mouth,
They strike me reproachfully on the cheek,
They gather together against me.
11 God has delivered me to the ungodly,

And turned me over to the hands of the wicked.
12I was at ease, but He has shattered me;
He also has taken me by my neck, and shaken me to pieces;
He has set me up for His target,
13His archers surround me.
He pierces my heart[a] and does not pity;
He pours out my gall on the ground.
14He breaks me with wound upon wound;
He runs at me like a warrior.[b]

15"I have sewn sackcloth over my skin,
And laid my head[c] in the dust.
16My face is flushed from weeping,
And on my eyelids is the shadow of death;
17Although no violence is in my hands,
And my prayer is pure.

18"O earth, do not cover my blood,
And let my cry have no resting place!
19Surely even now my witness is in heaven,
And my evidence is on high.
20My friends scorn me;
My eyes pour out tears to God.
21Oh, that one might plead for a man with God,
As a man pleads for his neighbor!
22For when a few years are finished,
I shall go the way of no return. Life Is Short

Job 17

Job Prays for Relief

1 “My spirit is broken,
My days are extinguished,
The grave is ready for me. The Hardhearted and the Brokenhearted
2 Are not mockers with me?
And does not my eye dwell on their provocation?

3 “Now put down a pledge for me with Yourself.
Who is he who will shake hands with me?
4 For You have hidden their heart from understanding;
Therefore You will not exalt them.
5 He who speaks flattery to his friends,
Even the eyes of his children will fail.

6 “But He has made me a byword of the people,
And I have become one in whose face men spit.
7 My eye has also grown dim because of sorrow,
And all my members are like shadows.
8 Upright men are astonished at this,
And the innocent stirs himself up against the hypocrite.
9 Yet the righteous will hold to his way,

And he who has clean hands will be stronger and stronger.

10 "But please, come back again, all of you,[a]
For I shall not find one wise man among you.
11 My days are past,
My purposes are broken off,
Even the thoughts of my heart.
12 They change the night into day;
'The light is near,' they say, in the face of darkness.
13 If I wait for the grave as my house,
If I make my bed in the darkness,
14 If I say to corruption, 'You are my father,'
And to the worm, 'You are my mother and my sister,'
15 Where then is my hope?
As for my hope, who can see it?
16 Will they go down to the gates of Sheol?
Shall we have rest together in the dust?"

Job 18

Bildad: The Wicked Are Punished

1 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered and said:

2 “How long till you put an end to words?
Gain understanding, and afterward we will speak.
3 Why are we counted as beasts,
And regarded as stupid in your sight?
4 You who tear yourself in anger,
Shall the earth be forsaken for you?
Or shall the rock be removed from its place?

5 “The light of the wicked indeed goes out,
And the flame of his fire does not shine.
6 The light is dark in his tent,
And his lamp beside him is put out.
7 The steps of his strength are shortened,
And his own counsel casts him down.
8 For he is cast into a net by his own feet,
And he walks into a snare.
9 The net takes him by the heel,
And a snare lays hold of him.
10 A noose is hidden for him on the ground,
And a trap for him in the road.
11 Terrors frighten him on every side,
And drive him to his feet.
12 His strength is starved,
And destruction is ready at his side.
13 It devours patches of his skin;
The firstborn of death devours his limbs.

14 He is uprooted from the shelter of his tent,
And they parade him before the king of terrors.
15 They dwell in his tent who are none of his;
Brimstone is scattered on his dwelling.
16 His roots are dried out below,
And his branch withers above.
17 The memory of him perishes from the earth,
And he has no name among the renowned.[a] 18 He is driven from light into darkness,
And chased out of the world.
19 He has neither son nor posterity among his people,
Nor any remaining in his dwellings.
20 Those in the west are astonished at his day,
As those in the east are frightened.
21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked,
And this is the place of him who does not know God.”

Job 19

Job Trusts in His Redeemer

1 Then Job answered and said: Hebrew Poetry

2 “How long will you torment my soul,
And break me in pieces with words?
3 These ten times you have reproached me;
You are not ashamed that you have wronged me.[a]
4 And if indeed I have erred,
My error remains with me.
5 If indeed you exalt yourselves against me,
And plead my disgrace against me,
6 Know then that God has wronged me,
And has surrounded me with His net.

7 “If I cry out concerning wrong, I am not heard.
If I cry aloud, there is no justice.
8 He has fenced up my way, so that I cannot pass;
And He has set darkness in my paths.
9 He has stripped me of my glory,
And taken the crown from my head.
10 He breaks me down on every side,
And I am gone;
My hope He has uprooted like a tree.
11 He has also kindled His wrath against me,
And He counts me as one of His enemies.
12 His troops come together
And build up their road against me;

They encamp all around my tent.

13“He has removed my brothers far from me,
And my acquaintances are completely estranged from me.
14My relatives have failed,
And my close friends have forgotten me.
15Those who dwell in my house, and my maidservants,
Count me as a stranger;
I am an alien in their sight.
16I call my servant, but he gives no answer;
I beg him with my mouth.
17My breath is offensive to my wife,
And I am repulsive to the children of my own body.
18Even young children despise me;
I arise, and they speak against me.
19All my close friends abhor me,
And those whom I love have turned against me.
20My bone clings to my skin and to my flesh,
And I have escaped by the skin of my teeth.

21“Have pity on me, have pity on me, O you my friends,
For the hand of God has struck me!
22Why do you persecute me as God does,
And are not satisfied with my flesh?

23“Oh, that my words were written!
Oh, that they were inscribed in a book!
24That they were engraved on a rock

With an iron pen and lead, forever!
25For I know that my Redeemer lives,
And He shall stand at last on the earth;
26And after my skin is destroyed, this I know,
That in my flesh I shall see God,
27Whom I shall see for myself,
And my eyes shall behold, and not another.
How my heart yearns within me!
28If you should say, ‘How shall we persecute
him?’—
Since the root of the matter is found in me,
29Be afraid of the sword for yourselves;
For wrath brings the punishment of the sword,
That you may know there is a judgment.”

Job 20

Zophar's Sermon on the Wicked Man

1 Then Zophar the Naamathite answered and said:

2 "Therefore my anxious thoughts make me answer,
Because of the turmoil within me.
3 I have heard the rebuke that reproaches me,
And the spirit of my understanding causes me to answer.

4 "Do you not know this of old,
Since man was placed on earth,
5 That the triumphing of the wicked is short,
And the joy of the hypocrite is but for a moment?
6 Though his haughtiness mounts up to the heavens,
And his head reaches to the clouds,
7 Yet he will perish forever like his own refuse;
Those who have seen him will say, 'Where is he?'
8 He will fly away like a dream, and not be found;
Yes, he will be chased away like a vision of the night.
9 The eye that saw him will see him no more,
Nor will his place behold him anymore.
10 His children will seek the favor of the poor,

And his hands will restore his wealth.
11 His bones are full of his youthful vigor,
But it will lie down with him in the dust.

12 “Though evil is sweet in his mouth,
And he hides it under his tongue,
13 Though he spares it and does not forsake it,
But still keeps it in his mouth,
14 Yet his food in his stomach turns sour;
It becomes cobra venom within him.
15 He swallows down riches
And vomits them up again;
God casts them out of his belly.
16 He will suck the poison of cobras;
The viper’s tongue will slay him.
17 He will not see the streams,
The rivers flowing with honey and cream.
18 He will restore that for which he labored,
And will not swallow it down;
From the proceeds of business
He will get no enjoyment.
19 For he has oppressed and forsaken the poor,
He has violently seized a house which he did not build.

20 “Because he knows no quietness in his heart,[a]
He will not save anything he desires.
21 Nothing is left for him to eat;
Therefore his well-being will not last.
22 In his self-sufficiency he will be in distress;
Every hand of misery will come against him.

23 When he is about to fill his stomach,
God will cast on him the fury of His wrath,
And will rain it on him while he is eating.
24 He will flee from the iron weapon;
A bronze bow will pierce him through.
25 It is drawn, and comes out of the body;
Yes, the glittering point comes out of his gall.
Terrors come upon him;
26 Total darkness is reserved for his treasures.
An unfanned fire will consume him;
It shall go ill with him who is left in his tent.
27 The heavens will reveal his iniquity,
And the earth will rise up against him.
28 The increase of his house will depart,
And his goods will flow away in the day of His wrath.
29 This is the portion from God for a wicked man,
The heritage appointed to him by God.”

Job 21

Job's Discourse on the Wicked

1 Then Job answered and said:

2 "Listen carefully to my speech,
And let this be your consolation.
3 Bear with me that I may speak,
And after I have spoken, keep mocking.

4 "As for me, is my complaint against man?
And if it were, why should I not be impatient?
5 Look at me and be astonished;
Put your hand over your mouth.
6 Even when I remember I am terrified,
And trembling takes hold of my flesh.
7 Why do the wicked live and become old,
Yes, become mighty in power?
8 Their descendants are established with them in their sight,
And their offspring before their eyes.
9 Their houses are safe from fear,
Neither is the rod of God upon them.
10 Their bull breeds without failure;
Their cow calves without miscarriage.
11 They send forth their little ones like a flock,
And their children dance.
12 They sing to the tambourine and harp,
And rejoice to the sound of the flute.
13 They spend their days in wealth,

And in a moment go down to the grave.[a]
14 Yet they say to God, ‘Depart from us,
For we do not desire the knowledge of Your ways.
15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serve Him?
And what profit do we have if we pray to Him?’
16 Indeed their prosperity is not in their hand;
The counsel of the wicked is far from me.

17 “How often is the lamp of the wicked put out?
How often does their destruction come upon them,
The sorrows God distributes in His anger?
18 They are like straw before the wind,
And like chaff that a storm carries away.
19 They say, ‘God lays up one’s[b] iniquity for his children’;
Let Him recompense him, that he may know it.
20 Let his eyes see his destruction,
And let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
21 For what does he care about his household after him,
When the number of his months is cut in half?

22 “Can anyone teach God knowledge,
Since He judges those on high?
23 One dies in his full strength,
Being wholly at ease and secure;

24 His pails[c] are full of milk,
And the marrow of his bones is moist.
25 Another man dies in the bitterness of his soul,
Never having eaten with pleasure.
26 They lie down alike in the dust,
And worms cover them.

27 "Look, I know your thoughts,
And the schemes with which you would wrong me.
28 For you say,
'Where is the house of the prince?
And where is the tent,[d]
The dwelling place of the wicked?'
29 Have you not asked those who travel the road?
And do you not know their signs?
30 For the wicked are reserved for the day of doom;
They shall be brought out on the day of wrath.
31 Who condemns his way to his face?
And who repays him for what he has done?
32 Yet he shall be brought to the grave,
And a vigil kept over the tomb.
33 The clods of the valley shall be sweet to him;
Everyone shall follow him,
As countless have gone before him.
34 How then can you comfort me with empty words,
Since falsehood remains in your answers?"

Job 22

Eliphaz Accuses Job of Wickedness

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said:

2 “Can a man be profitable to God,
Though he who is wise may be profitable to himself?
3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty that you are righteous?
Or is it gain to Him that you make your ways blameless?

4 “Is it because of your fear of Him that He corrects you,
And enters into judgment with you?
5 Is not your wickedness great,
And your iniquity without end?
6 For you have taken pledges from your brother for no reason,
And stripped the naked of their clothing.
7 You have not given the weary water to drink,
And you have withheld bread from the hungry.
8 But the mighty man possessed the land,
And the honorable man dwelt in it.
9 You have sent widows away empty,
And the strength of the fatherless was crushed.
10 Therefore snares are all around you,
And sudden fear troubles you,

11 Or darkness so that you cannot see;
And an abundance of water covers you.

12 "Is not God in the height of heaven?
And see the highest stars, how lofty they are!
13 And you say, 'What does God know?
Can He judge through the deep darkness?
14 Thick clouds cover Him, so that He cannot see,
And He walks above the circle of heaven.'
15 Will you keep to the old way
Which wicked men have trod,
16 Who were cut down before their time,
Whose foundations were swept away by a flood?
17 They said to God, 'Depart from us!
What can the Almighty do to them?'[a] 18 Yet He filled their houses with good things;
But the counsel of the wicked is far from me.

19 "The righteous see it and are glad,
And the innocent laugh at them:
20 'Surely our adversaries[b] are cut down,
And the fire consumes their remnant.'

21 "Now acquaint yourself with Him, and be at peace;
Thereby good will come to you.
22 Receive, please, instruction from His
mouth,
And lay up His words in your heart.
23 If you return to the Almighty, you will be built up;

You will remove iniquity far from your tents.
24 Then you will lay your gold in the dust,
And the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brooks.
25 Yes, the Almighty will be your gold[c]
And your precious silver;
26 For then you will have your delight in the Almighty,
And lift up your face to God.
27 You will make your prayer to Him,
He will hear you,
And you will pay your vows.
28 You will also declare a thing,
And it will be established for you;
So light will shine on your ways.
29 When they cast you down, and you say,
'Exaltation will come!'
Then He will save the humble person.
30 He will even deliver one who is not innocent;
Yes, he will be delivered by the purity of your hands."

Job 23

Job Proclaims God's Righteous Judgments

1 Then Job answered and said:

2 "Even today my complaint is bitter;
My[a] hand is listless because of my groaning.
3 Oh, that I knew where I might find Him,
That I might come to His seat!
4 I would present my case before Him,
And fill my mouth with arguments.
5 I would know the words which He would answer me,
And understand what He would say to me.
6 Would He contend with me in His great power?
No! But He would take note of me.
7 There the upright could reason with Him,
And I would be delivered forever from my Judge.

8 "Look, I go forward, but He is not there,
And backward, but I cannot perceive Him;

Where Is God?

9 When He works on the left hand, I cannot behold Him;
When He turns to the right hand, I cannot see Him.
10 But He knows the way that I take;
When He has tested me, I shall come forth
as gold.
11 My foot has held fast to His steps;

I have kept His way and not turned aside.
12 I have not departed from the commandment of His lips;
I have treasured the words of His mouth
More than my necessary food.

13 "But He is unique, and who can make Him change?
And whatever His soul desires, that He does.
14 For He performs what is appointed for me,
And many such things are with Him.
15 Therefore I am terrified at His presence;
When I consider this, I am afraid of Him.
16 For God made my heart weak,
And the Almighty terrifies me;
17 Because I was not cut off from the presence of darkness,
And He did not hide deep darkness from my face.

Job 24

Job Complains of Violence on the Earth

1 “Since times are not hidden from the Almighty,
Why do those who know Him see not His days?

2 “Some remove landmarks;
They seize flocks violently and feed on them;

An Inventory of Our Own Evil

3 They drive away the donkey of the fatherless;
They take the widow’s ox as a pledge.
4 They push the needy off the road;
All the poor of the land are forced to hide.
5 Indeed, like wild donkeys in the desert,
They go out to their work, searching for food.
The wilderness yields food for them and for their children.
6 They gather their fodder in the field
And glean in the vineyard of the wicked.
7 They spend the night naked, without clothing,
And have no covering in the cold.
8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains,
And huddle around the rock for want of shelter.

9 “Some snatch the fatherless from the breast,

And take a pledge from the poor.
10 They cause the poor to go naked, without clothing;
And they take away the sheaves from the hungry.
11 They press out oil within their walls,
And tread winepresses, yet suffer thirst.
12 The dying groan in the city,
And the souls of the wounded cry out;
Yet God does not charge them with wrong.

13 "There are those who rebel against the light;
They do not know its ways
Nor abide in its paths.
14 The murderer rises with the light;
He kills the poor and needy;
And in the night he is like a thief.
15 The eye of the adulterer waits for the twilight,
Saying, 'No eye will see me';
And he disguises his face.
16 In the dark they break into houses Which they marked for themselves in the daytime;
They do not know the light.
17 For the morning is the same to them as the shadow of death;
If someone recognizes them,
They are in the terrors of the shadow of death.

18 "They should be swift on the face of the waters,
Their portion should be cursed in the earth,

So that no one would turn into the way of their vineyards.
19 As drought and heat consume the snow
waters,
So the grave[a] consumes those who have sinned.
20 The womb should forget him,
The worm should feed sweetly on him;
He should be remembered no more,
And wickedness should be broken like a tree.
21 For he preys on the barren who do not bear,
And does no good for the widow.

22 "But God draws the mighty away with His power;
He rises up, but no man is sure of life.
23 He gives them security, and they rely on it;
Yet His eyes are on their ways.
24 They are exalted for a little while,
Then they are gone.
They are brought low;
They are taken out of the way like all others;
They dry out like the heads of grain.

25 "Now if it is not so, who will prove me a liar,
And make my speech worth nothing?"

Job 25

Bildad: How Can Man Be Righteous?

1 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered and said:

2 “Dominion and fear belong to Him;
He makes peace in His high places.
3 Is there any number to His armies?
Upon whom does His light not rise?
4 How then can man be righteous before God?
Or how can he be pure who is born of a woman?
5 If even the moon does not shine,
And the stars are not pure in His sight,
6 How much less man, who is a maggot,
And a son of man, who is a worm?” Unworthy but Not Worthless

Job 26

Job: Man's Frailty and God's Majesty

1 But Job answered and said:

2 "How have you helped him who is without power?
How have you saved the arm that has no strength?
3 How have you counseled one who has no wisdom?
And how have you declared sound advice to many?
4 To whom have you uttered words?
And whose spirit came from you?

5 "The dead tremble,
Those under the waters and those inhabiting them.
6 Sheol is naked before Him,
And Destruction has no covering. Naked Before God
7 He stretches out the north over empty space;
He hangs the earth on nothing.
8 He binds up the water in His thick clouds,
Yet the clouds are not broken under it.
9 He covers the face of His throne,
And spreads His cloud over it.
10 He drew a circular horizon on the face of the waters,
At the boundary of light and darkness.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble,
And are astonished at His rebuke.
12 He stirs up the sea with His power,
And by His understanding He breaks up the storm.
13 By His Spirit He adorned the heavens;
His hand pierced the fleeing serpent.
14 Indeed these are the mere edges of His ways,
And how small a whisper we hear of Him!
But the thunder of His power who can understand?”

Job 27

Job Maintains His Integrity

1 Moreover Job continued his discourse, and said:

2 "As God lives, who has taken away my justice,
And the Almighty, who has made my soul bitter,
3 As long as my breath is in me,
And the breath of God in my nostrils,
4 My lips will not speak wickedness,
Nor my tongue utter deceit.
5 Far be it from me
That I should say you are right;
Till I die I will not put away my integrity from me.
6 My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go;
My heart shall not reproach me as long as I live.

7 "May my enemy be like the wicked,
And he who rises up against me like the unrighteous.
8 For what is the hope of the hypocrite,
Though he may gain much,
If God takes away his life?
9 Will God hear his cry
When trouble comes upon him?
10 Will he delight himself in the Almighty?
Will he always call on God?

11 “I will teach you about the hand of God;
What is with the Almighty I will not conceal.
12 Surely all of you have seen it;
Why then do you behave with complete nonsense?

13 “This is the portion of a wicked man with God,
And the heritage of oppressors, received from the Almighty: God Is Fair
14 If his children are multiplied, it is for the sword;
And his offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.
15 Those who survive him shall be buried in death,
And their[a] widows shall not weep,
16 Though he heaps up silver like dust,
And piles up clothing like clay—
17 He may pile it up, but the just will wear it,
And the innocent will divide the silver.
18 He builds his house like a moth,[b]
Like a booth which a watchman makes.
19 The rich man will lie down,
But not be gathered up;[c]
He opens his eyes,
And he is no more.
20 Terrors overtake him like a flood;
A tempest steals him away in the night.
21 The east wind carries him away, and he is gone;
It sweeps him out of his place.
22 It hurls against him and does not spare;
He flees desperately from its power.

[23] Men shall clap their hands at him,
And shall hiss him out of his place.

Job 28

Job's Discourse on Wisdom

1 "Surely there is a mine for silver,
And a place where gold is refined.
2 Iron is taken from the earth,
And copper is smelted from ore.
3 Man puts an end to darkness,
And searches every recess
For ore in the darkness and the shadow of death.
4 He breaks open a shaft away from people;
In places forgotten by feet
They hang far away from men;
They swing to and fro.
5 As for the earth, from it comes bread,
But underneath it is turned up as by fire;
6 Its stones are the source of sapphires,
And it contains gold dust.
7 That path no bird knows,
Nor has the falcon's eye seen it.
8 The proud lions[a] have not trodden it,
Nor has the fierce lion passed over it.
9 He puts his hand on the flint;
He overturns the mountains at the roots.
10 He cuts out channels in the rocks,
And his eye sees every precious thing.
11 He dams up the streams from trickling;
What is hidden he brings forth to light.

12 "But where can wisdom be found?
And where is the place of understanding?

13 Man does not know its value,
Nor is it found in the land of the living.
14 The deep says, 'It is not in me';
And the sea says, 'It is not with me.'
15 It cannot be purchased for gold,
Nor can silver be weighed for its price.
16 It cannot be valued in the gold of Ophir,
In precious onyx or sapphire.
17 Neither gold nor crystal can equal it,
Nor can it be exchanged for jewelry of fine
gold.
18 No mention shall be made of coral or quartz,
For the price of wisdom is above rubies.
19 The topaz of Ethiopia cannot equal it,
Nor can it be valued in pure gold.

20 "From where then does wisdom come?
And where is the place of understanding?
21 It is hidden from the eyes of all living,
And concealed from the birds of the air.
22 Destruction and Death say,
'We have heard a report about it with our ears.'
23 God understands its way,
And He knows its place.
24 For He looks to the ends of the earth,
And sees under the whole heavens,
25 To establish a weight for the wind,
And apportion the waters by measure.
26 When He made a law for the rain,
And a path for the thunderbolt,
27 Then He saw wisdom[b] and declared it;
He prepared it, indeed, He searched it out.

[28]And to man He said,
‘Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom,
And to depart from evil is understanding.’ ”

Job 29

Job's Summary Defense

1 Job further continued his discourse, and said: Better Days and Big Questions

2 "Oh, that I were as in months past,
As in the days when God watched over me;
3 When His lamp shone upon my head,
And when by His light I walked through darkness;
4 Just as I was in the days of my prime,
When the friendly counsel of God was over my tent;
5 When the Almighty was yet with me,
When my children were around me;
6 When my steps were bathed with cream,[a]
And the rock poured out rivers of oil for me!

7 "When I went out to the gate by the city,
When I took my seat in the open square,
8 The young men saw me and hid,
And the aged arose and stood;
9 The princes refrained from talking,
And put their hand on their mouth;
10 The voice of nobles was hushed,
And their tongue stuck to the roof of their mouth.
11 When the ear heard, then it blessed me,
And when the eye saw, then it approved me;
12 Because I delivered the poor who cried out,

The fatherless and the one who had no helper.
13 The blessing of a perishing man came upon me,
And I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.
14 I put on righteousness, and it clothed me;
My justice was like a robe and a turban.
15 I was eyes to the blind,
And I was feet to the lame.
16 I was a father to the poor,
And I searched out the case that I did not know.
17 I broke the fangs of the wicked,
And plucked the victim from his teeth.

18 "Then I said, 'I shall die in my nest,
And multiply my days as the sand.
19 My root is spread out to the waters,
And the dew lies all night on my branch.
20 My glory is fresh within me,
And my bow is renewed in my hand.'

21 "Men listened to me and waited,
And kept silence for my counsel.
22 After my words they did not speak again,
And my speech settled on them as dew.
23 They waited for me as for the rain,
And they opened their mouth wide as for the spring rain.
24 If I mocked at them, they did not believe it,
And the light of my countenance they did not cast down.

25 I chose the way for them, and sat as chief;
So I dwelt as a king in the army,
As one who comforts mourners.

Job 30

1 “But now they mock at me, men younger than I,
Whose fathers I disdained to put with the dogs of my flock.
2 Indeed, what profit is the strength of their hands to me?
Their vigor has perished.
3 They are gaunt from want and famine, Fleeing late to the wilderness, desolate and waste,
4 Who pluck mallow by the bushes,
And broom tree roots for their food.
5 They were driven out from among men,
They shouted at them as at a thief.
6 They had to live in the clefts of the valleys,
In caves of the earth and the rocks.
7 Among the bushes they brayed,
Under the nettles they nestled.
8 They were sons of fools,
Yes, sons of vile men;
They were scourged from the land.

9 “And now I am their taunting song;
Yes, I am their byword.
10 They abhor me, they keep far from me;
They do not hesitate to spit in my face.
11 Because He has loosed my[a] bowstring and afflicted me,
They have cast off restraint before me.
12 At my right hand the rabble arises;
They push away my feet,

And they raise against me their ways of destruction.
13 They break up my path,
They promote my calamity;
They have no helper.
14 They come as broad breakers;
Under the ruinous storm they roll along.
15 Terrors are turned upon me;
They pursue my honor as the wind,
And my prosperity has passed like a cloud.

16 "And now my soul is poured out because of my plight;
The days of affliction take hold of me.
17 My bones are pierced in me at night,
And my gnawing pains take no rest.
18 By great force my garment is disfigured;
It binds me about as the collar of my coat.
19 He has cast me into the mire,
And I have become like dust and ashes.

20 "I cry out to You, but You do not answer
me;
I stand up, and You regard me.
21 But You have become cruel to me;
With the strength of Your hand You oppose
me.
22 You lift me up to the wind and cause me to ride on it;
You spoil my success.
23 For I know that You will bring me to death,
And to the house appointed for all living.

24“Surely He would not stretch out His hand against a heap of ruins,
If they cry out when He destroys it.
25Have I not wept for him who was in trouble?
Has not my soul grieved for the poor?
26But when I looked for good, evil came *to
me;*
And when I waited for light, then came
darkness.
27My heart is in turmoil and cannot rest;
Days of affliction confront me.
28I go about mourning, but not in the sun;
I stand up in the assembly and cry out for help.
29I am a brother of jackals,
And a companion of ostriches.
30My skin grows black and falls from me;
My bones burn with fever.
31My harp is turned to mourning,
And my flute to the voice of those who weep.

Job 31

1 “I have made a covenant with my eyes;
Why then should I look upon a young woman? Defending Against Desire
2 For what is the allotment of God from above,
And the inheritance of the Almighty from on high?
3 Is it not destruction for the wicked,
And disaster for the workers of iniquity?
4 Does He not see my ways,
And count all my steps?

5 “If I have walked with falsehood,
Or if my foot has hastened to deceit,
6 Let me be weighed on honest scales,
That God may know my integrity.
7 If my step has turned from the way,
Or my heart walked after my eyes,
Or if any spot adheres to my hands,
8 Then let me sow, and another eat;
Yes, let my harvest be rooted out.

9 “If my heart has been enticed by a woman,
Or if I have lurked at my neighbor’s door,
10 Then let my wife grind for another,
And let others bow down over her.
11 For that would be wickedness;
Yes, it would be iniquity deserving of judgment.
12 For that would be a fire that consumes to destruction,

And would root out all my increase.

13 “If I have despised the cause of my male or female servant
When they complained against me, Befriending the Friendless
14 What then shall I do when God rises up?
When He punishes, how shall I answer Him?
15 Did not He who made me in the womb make them?
Did not the same One fashion us in the womb?

16 “If I have kept the poor from their desire,
Or caused the eyes of the widow to fail,
17 Or eaten my morsel by myself,
So that the fatherless could not eat of it 18 (But from my youth I reared him as a father,
And from my mother’s womb I guided the widow[a]); 19 If I have seen anyone perish for lack of
clothing,
Or any poor man without covering;
20 If his heart[b] has not blessed me,
And if he was not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;
21 If I have raised my hand against the fatherless,
When I saw I had help in the gate;
22 Then let my arm fall from my shoulder,
Let my arm be torn from the socket.
23 For destruction from God is a terror to me,

And because of His magnificence I cannot endure.

24 “If I have made gold my hope,
Or said to fine gold, ‘You are my confidence’; 25 If I have rejoiced because my wealth was great,
And because my hand had gained much;
26 If I have observed the sun[c] when it shines,
Or the moon moving in brightness, 27 So that my heart has been secretly
enticed,
And my mouth has kissed my hand;
28 This also would be an iniquity deserving of
judgment,
For I would have denied God who is above.

29 “If I have rejoiced at the destruction of him who hated me,
Or lifted myself up when evil found him 30 (Indeed I have not allowed my mouth to sin
By asking for a curse on his soul);
31 If the men of my tent have not said,
‘Who is there that has not been satisfied with his meat?’
32 (But no sojourner had to lodge in the street,
For I have opened my doors to the traveler[d]);
33 If I have covered my transgressions as Adam,
By hiding my iniquity in my bosom,
34 Because I feared the great multitude,
And dreaded the contempt of families,

So that I kept silence
And did not go out of the door—
35 Oh, that I had one to hear me!
Here is my mark.
Oh, that the Almighty would answer me,
That my Prosecutor had written a book!
36 Surely I would carry it on my shoulder,
And bind it on me like a crown;
37 I would declare to Him the number of my steps;
Like a prince I would approach Him.

38 "If my land cries out against me,
And its furrows weep together;
39 If I have eaten its fruit[e] without money,
Or caused its owners to lose their lives;
40 Then let thistles grow instead of wheat,
And weeds instead of barley."

The words of Job are ended.

Job 32

Elihu Contradicts Job's Friends

1 So these three men ceased answering Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. Elihu
2 Then the wrath of Elihu, the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was aroused against Job; his wrath was aroused because he justified himself rather than God.
3 Also against his three friends his wrath was aroused, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned
Job.
4 Now because they were years older than he, Elihu had waited to speak to Job.[a] The Kind Counselor
5 When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was aroused.
6 So Elihu, the son of Barachel the Buzite, answered and said:

"I am young in years, and you are very old;
Therefore I was afraid,
And dared not declare my opinion to you.
7 I said, 'Age[b] should speak,
And multitude of years should teach
wisdom.'
8 But there is a spirit in man,
And the breath of the Almighty gives him
understanding.
9 Great men[c] are not always wise,
Nor do the aged always understand justice.

10 "Therefore I say, 'Listen to me,
I also will declare my opinion.'

11 Indeed I waited for your words,
I listened to your reasonings, while you searched out what to say.
12 I paid close attention to you;
And surely not one of you convinced Job,
Or answered his words—
13 Lest you say,
‘We have found wisdom’;
God will vanquish him, not man.
14 Now he has not directed his words against
me;
So I will not answer him with your words.

15 “They are dismayed and answer no more;
Words escape them.
16 And I have waited, because they did not speak,
Because they stood still and answered no
more.
17 I also will answer my part,
I too will declare my opinion.
18 For I am full of words;
The spirit within me compels me.
19 Indeed my belly is like wine that has no
vent;
It is ready to burst like new wineskins.
20 I will speak, that I may find relief;
I must open my lips and answer.
21 Let me not, I pray, show partiality to anyone;
Nor let me flatter any man.
22 For I do not know how to flatter,
Else my Maker would soon take me away.

Job 33

Elihu Contradicts Job

1 “But please, Job, hear my speech,
And listen to all my words.
2 Now, I open my mouth;
My tongue speaks in my mouth.
3 My words come from my upright heart;
My lips utter pure knowledge.
4 The Spirit of God has made me,
And the breath of the Almighty gives me life.
5 If you can answer me,
Set your words in order before me;
Take your stand.
6 Truly I am as your spokesman[a] before God;
I also have been formed out of clay.
7 Surely no fear of me will terrify you,
Nor will my hand be heavy on you.

8 “Surely you have spoken in my hearing,
And I have heard the sound of your words,
saying,
9 ‘I am pure, without transgression;
I am innocent, and there is no iniquity in me.
10 Yet He finds occasions against me,
He counts me as His enemy;
11 He puts my feet in the stocks,
He watches all my paths.’

12 “Look, in this you are not righteous.
I will answer you,
For God is greater than man.

13 Why do you contend with Him?
For He does not give an accounting of any of His words.
14 For God may speak in one way, or in another,
Yet man does not perceive it.
15 In a dream, in a vision of the night,
When deep sleep falls upon men,
While slumbering on their beds,
16 Then He opens the ears of men,
And seals their instruction.
17 In order to turn man from his deed,
And conceal pride from man,
18 He keeps back his soul from the Pit,
And his life from perishing by the sword.

19 "Man is also chastened with pain on his bed,
And with strong pain in many of his bones,
20 So that his life abhors bread,
And his soul succulent food.
21 His flesh wastes away from sight,
And his bones stick out which once were not seen.
22 Yes, his soul draws near the Pit,
And his life to the executioners.

23 "If there is a messenger for him,
A mediator, one among a thousand,
To show man His uprightness,
24 Then He is gracious to him, and says,
'Deliver him from going down to the Pit;
I have found a ransom';
25 His flesh shall be young like a child's,

He shall return to the days of his youth.
26 He shall pray to God, and He will delight in him,
He shall see His face with joy,
For He restores to man His righteousness.
27 Then he looks at men and says,
‘I have sinned, and perverted what was right,
And it did not profit me.’
28 He will redeem his[b] soul from going down to the Pit,
And his[c] life shall see the light.

29 “Behold, God works all these things,
Twice, in fact, three times with a man,
30 To bring back his soul from the Pit,
That he may be enlightened with the light of life.

31 “Give ear, Job, listen to me;
Hold your peace, and I will speak.
32 If you have anything to say, answer me;
Speak, for I desire to justify you.
33 If not, listen to me;
Hold your peace, and I will teach you wisdom.”

Job 34

Elihu Proclaims God's Justice

1 Elihu further answered and said:

2 "Hear my words, you wise men;
Give ear to me, you who have knowledge.
3 For the ear tests words
As the palate tastes food.
4 Let us choose justice for ourselves;
Let us know among ourselves what is good.

5 "For Job has said, 'I am righteous,
But God has taken away my justice;
6 Should I lie concerning my right?
My wound is incurable, though I am without transgression.'
7 What man is like Job,
Who drinks scorn like water,
8 Who goes in company with the workers of iniquity,
And walks with wicked men?
9 For he has said, 'It profits a man nothing
That he should delight in God.'

10 "Therefore listen to me, you men of understanding:
Far be it from God to do wickedness,
And from the Almighty to commit iniquity.
11 For He repays man according to his work,
And makes man to find a reward according to his way.

12 Surely God will never do wickedly,
Nor will the Almighty pervert justice.
13 Who gave Him charge over the earth?
Or who appointed Him over the whole world?
14 If He should set His heart on it,
If He should gather to Himself His Spirit and His breath, 15 All flesh would perish together,
And man would return to dust.

16 "If you have understanding, hear this;
Listen to the sound of my words:
17 Should one who hates justice govern?
Will you condemn Him who is most just?
18 Is it fitting to say to a king, 'You are worthless,'
And to nobles, 'You are wicked'?
19 Yet He is not partial to princes,
Nor does He regard the rich more than the poor;
For they are all the work of His hands.
20 In a moment they die, in the middle of the night;
The people are shaken and pass away;
The mighty are taken away without a hand.

21 "For His eyes are on the ways of man,
And He sees all his steps.
22 There is no darkness nor shadow of death
Where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.
23 For He need not further consider a man,
That he should go before God in judgment.

24 He breaks in pieces mighty men without inquiry,
And sets others in their place.
25 Therefore He knows their works;
He overthrows them in the night,
And they are crushed.
26 He strikes them as wicked men
In the open sight of others,
27 Because they turned back from Him,
And would not consider any of His ways, 28 So that they caused the cry of the poor to come to Him;
For He hears the cry of the afflicted.
29 When He gives quietness, who then can make trouble?
And when He hides His face, who then can
see Him,
Whether it is against a nation or a man alone?—
30 That the hypocrite should not reign,
Lest the people be ensnared.

31 "For has anyone said to God,
'I have borne chastening;
I will offend no more;
32 Teach me what I do not see;
If I have done iniquity, I will do no more'?
33 Should He repay it according to your terms,
Just because you disavow it?
You must choose, and not I;
Therefore speak what you know.

34 "Men of understanding say to me,

Wise men who listen to me:
35‘Job speaks without knowledge,
His words are without wisdom.’
36Oh, that Job were tried to the utmost,
Because his answers are like those of wicked
men!
37For he adds rebellion to his sin;
He claps his hands among us,
And multiplies his words against God.”

Job 35

Elihu Condemns Self-Righteousness

1 Moreover Elihu answered and said:

2 “Do you think this is right?
Do you say,
‘My righteousness is more than God’s’?
3 For you say,
‘What advantage will it be to You?
What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?’

4 “I will answer you,
And your companions with you.
5 Look to the heavens and see;
And behold the clouds—
They are higher than you.
6 If you sin, what do you accomplish against Him?
Or, if your transgressions are multiplied, what do you do to Him?
7 If you are righteous, what do you give Him?
Or what does He receive from your hand?
8 Your wickedness affects a man such as you,
And your righteousness a son of man.

9 “Because of the multitude of oppressions they cry out;
They cry out for help because of the arm of the mighty.
10 But no one says, ‘Where is God my Maker,
Who gives songs in the night,

11 Who teaches us more than the beasts of the earth,
And makes us wiser than the birds of heaven?’
12 There they cry out, but He does not answer,
Because of the pride of evil men.
13 Surely God will not listen to empty talk,
Nor will the Almighty regard it.
14 Although you say you do not see Him,
Yet justice is before Him, and you must wait for Him.
15 And now, because He has not punished in His anger,
Nor taken much notice of folly,
16 Therefore Job opens his mouth in vain;
He multiplies words without knowledge.”

Job 36

Elihu Proclaims God's Goodness

1 Elihu also proceeded and said:

2 "Bear with me a little, and I will show you
That there are yet words to speak on God's behalf.
3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar;
I will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.
4 For truly my words are not false;
One who is perfect in knowledge is with you.

5 "Behold, God is mighty, but despises no one;
He is mighty in strength of understanding.
6 He does not preserve the life of the wicked,
But gives justice to the oppressed.
7 He does not withdraw His eyes from the righteous;
But they are on the throne with kings,
For He has seated them forever,
And they are exalted.
8 And if they are bound in fetters,
Held in the cords of affliction,
9 Then He tells them their work and their transgressions—
That they have acted defiantly.
10 He also opens their ear to instruction,
And commands that they turn from iniquity.
11 If they obey and serve Him,
They shall spend their days in prosperity,

And their years in pleasures.
12 But if they do not obey,
They shall perish by the sword,
And they shall die without knowledge.[a] 13 "But the hypocrites in heart store up wrath;

They do not cry for help when He binds
them.
14 They die in youth,
And their life ends among the perverted persons.[b]
15 He delivers the poor in their affliction,
And opens their ears in oppression.

16 "Indeed He would have brought you out of dire distress,
Into a broad place where there is no
restraint;
And what is set on your table would be full of richness.
17 But you are filled with the judgment due
the wicked;
Judgment and justice take hold of you.
18 Because there is wrath, beware lest He take you away with one blow;
For a large ransom would not help you avoid
it.
19 Will your riches,
Or all the mighty forces,
Keep you from distress?
20 Do not desire the night,
When people are cut off in their place.
21 Take heed, do not turn to iniquity,

For you have chosen this rather than affliction.

22“Behold, God is exalted by His power;
Who teaches like Him?
23Who has assigned Him His way,
Or who has said, ‘You have done wrong’?

Elihu Proclaims God’s Majesty

24“Remember to magnify His work,
Of which men have sung.
25Everyone has seen it;
Man looks on it from afar.

26“Behold, God is great, and we do not know Him;
Nor can the number of His years be discovered.
27For He draws up drops of water,
Which distill as rain from the mist,
28Which the clouds drop down
And pour abundantly on man.
29Indeed, can anyone understand the spreading of clouds,
The thunder from His canopy?
30Look, He scatters His light upon it,
And covers the depths of the sea.
31For by these He judges the peoples;
He gives food in abundance.
32He covers His hands with lightning,
And commands it to strike.
33His thunder declares it,
The cattle also, concerning the rising storm.

Job 37

1 “At this also my heart trembles,
And leaps from its place.
2 Hear attentively the thunder of His voice,
And the rumbling that comes from His mouth.
3 He sends it forth under the whole heaven,
His lightning to the ends of the earth.
4 After it a voice roars;
He thunders with His majestic voice,
And He does not restrain them when His voice is heard.
5 God thunders marvelously with His voice;
He does great things which we cannot comprehend.
6 For He says to the snow, ‘Fall on the earth’;
Likewise to the gentle rain and the heavy rain of His strength.
7 He seals the hand of every man,
That all men may know His work.
8 The beasts go into dens,
And remain in their lairs.
9 From the chamber of the south comes the whirlwind,
And cold from the scattering winds of the north.
10 By the breath of God ice is given,
And the broad waters are frozen.
11 Also with moisture He saturates the thick clouds;
He scatters His bright clouds.

12 And they swirl about, being turned by His guidance,
That they may do whatever He commands
them
On the face of the whole earth.[a] 13 He causes it to come,
Whether for correction,
Or for His land,
Or for mercy.

14 "Listen to this, O Job;
Stand still and consider the wondrous works of God. Still Life
15 Do you know when God dispatches them,
And causes the light of His cloud to shine?
16 Do you know how the clouds are balanced,
Those wondrous works of Him who is perfect in knowledge?
17 Why are your garments hot,
When He quiets the earth by the south
wind?
18 With Him, have you spread out the skies,
Strong as a cast metal mirror?

19 "Teach us what we should say to Him,
For we can prepare nothing because of the darkness.
20 Should He be told that I wish to speak?
If a man were to speak, surely he would be swallowed up.
21 Even now men cannot look at the light
when it is bright in the skies,
When the wind has passed and cleared
them.

22 He comes from the north as golden splendor;
With God is awesome majesty.
23 As for the Almighty, we cannot find Him;
He is excellent in power,
In judgment and abundant justice;
He does not oppress.
24 Therefore men fear Him;
He shows no partiality to any who are wise of heart."

Job 38

The LORD Reveals His Omnipotence to Job

1 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said:

2 "Who is this who darkens counsel
By words without knowledge?
3 Now prepare yourself like a man;
I will question you, and you shall answer Me.

4 "Where were you when I laid the foundations of the earth?
Tell Me, if you have understanding.
5 Who determined its measurements?
Surely you know!
Or who stretched the line upon it?
6 To what were its foundations fastened?
Or who laid its cornerstone,
7 When the morning stars sang together,
And all the sons of God shouted for joy? A Heavenly Creation

8 "Or who shut in the sea with doors,
When it burst forth and issued from the womb;
9 When I made the clouds its garment,
And thick darkness its swaddling band;
10 When I fixed My limit for it,
And set bars and doors;
11 When I said,
'This far you may come, but no farther,

And here your proud waves must stop!’

12“Have you commanded the morning since your days began,
And caused the dawn to know its place, 13That it might take hold of the ends of the
earth,
And the wicked be shaken out of it?
14It takes on form like clay under a seal,
And stands out like a garment.
15From the wicked their light is withheld,
And the upraised arm is broken.

16“Have you entered the springs of the sea?
Or have you walked in search of the depths?
17Have the gates of death been revealed to
you?
Or have you seen the doors of the shadow of
death?
18Have you comprehended the breadth of the earth?
Tell Me, if you know all this.

19“Where is the way to the dwelling of light?
And darkness, where is its place,
20That you may take it to its territory,
That you may know the paths to its home?
21Do you know it, because you were born then,
Or because the number of your days is
great?

22“Have you entered the treasury of snow,
Or have you seen the treasury of hail,

23 Which I have reserved for the time of
trouble,
For the day of battle and war?
24 By what way is light diffused,
Or the east wind scattered over the earth?

25 "Who has divided a channel for the overflowing water,
Or a path for the thunderbolt, 26 To cause it to rain on a land where there is no one,
A wilderness in which there is no man;
27 To satisfy the desolate waste,
And cause to spring forth the growth of tender grass?
28 Has the rain a father?
Or who has begotten the drops of dew?
29 From whose womb comes the ice?
And the frost of heaven, who gives it birth?
30 The waters harden like stone,
And the surface of the deep is frozen.

31 "Can you bind the cluster of the Pleiades,
Or loose the belt of Orion?
32 Can you bring out Mazzaroth[a] in its season?
Or can you guide the Great Bear with its cubs?
33 Do you know the ordinances of the heavens?
Can you set their dominion over the earth?

34 "Can you lift up your voice to the clouds,
That an abundance of water may cover you?

35 Can you send out lightnings, that they may go,
And say to you, ‘Here we are!”?
36 Who has put wisdom in the mind?[b]
Or who has given understanding to the heart?
37 Who can number the clouds by wisdom?
Or who can pour out the bottles of heaven,
38 When the dust hardens in clumps,
And the clods cling together?

39 “Can you hunt the prey for the lion,
Or satisfy the appetite of the young lions,
40 When they crouch in their dens,
Or lurk in their lairs to lie in wait?
41 Who provides food for the raven,
When its young ones cry to God,
And wander about for lack of food?

Job 39

1 “Do you know the time when the wild mountain goats bear young?
Or can you mark when the deer gives birth?
2 Can you number the months that they fulfill?
Or do you know the time when they bear young?
3 They bow down,
They bring forth their young,
They deliver their offspring.[a]
4 Their young ones are healthy,
They grow strong with grain;
They depart and do not return to them.

5 “Who set the wild donkey free?
Who loosed the bonds of the onager,
6 Whose home I have made the wilderness,
And the barren land his dwelling?
7 He scorns the tumult of the city;
He does not heed the shouts of the driver.
8 The range of the mountains is his pasture,
And he searches after every green thing.

9 “Will the wild ox be willing to serve you?
Will he bed by your manger?
10 Can you bind the wild ox in the furrow with ropes?
Or will he plow the valleys behind you?
11 Will you trust him because his strength is great?
Or will you leave your labor to him?

12 Will you trust him to bring home your grain,
And gather it to your threshing floor?

13 “The wings of the ostrich wave proudly,
But are her wings and pinions like the kindly stork’s?
14 For she leaves her eggs on the ground,
And warms them in the dust;
15 She forgets that a foot may crush them,
Or that a wild beast may break them.
16 She treats her young harshly, as though they were not hers;
Her labor is in vain, without concern,
17 Because God deprived her of wisdom,
And did not endow her with understanding.
18 When she lifts herself on high,
She scorns the horse and its rider.

19 “Have you given the horse strength?
Have you clothed his neck with thunder?[b]
20 Can you frighten him like a locust?
His majestic snorting strikes terror.
21 He paws in the valley, and rejoices in his strength;
He gallops into the clash of arms.
22 He mocks at fear, and is not frightened;
Nor does he turn back from the sword.
23 The quiver rattles against him,
The glittering spear and javelin.
24 He devours the distance with fierceness and rage;
Nor does he come to a halt because the trumpet has sounded.

25 At the blast of the trumpet he says, ‘Aha!’
He smells the battle from afar,
The thunder of captains and shouting.

26 “Does the hawk fly by your wisdom,
And spread its wings toward the south?
27 Does the eagle mount up at your command,
And make its nest on high?
28 On the rock it dwells and resides,
On the crag of the rock and the stronghold.
29 From there it spies out the prey;
Its eyes observe from afar.
30 Its young ones suck up blood;
And where the slain are, there it is.”

Job 40

1 Moreover the LORD answered Job, and said:

2 “Shall the one who contends with the Almighty correct Him?
He who rebukes God, let him answer it.”

Job’s Response to God

3 Then Job answered the LORD and said:

4 “Behold, I am vile;
What shall I answer You?
I lay my hand over my mouth.
5 Once I have spoken, but I will not answer;
Yes, twice, but I will proceed no further.”

God’s Challenge to Job

6 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said:

7 “Now prepare yourself like a man;
I will question you, and you shall answer Me:

8 “Would you indeed annul My judgment?
Would you condemn Me that you may be justified?
9 Have you an arm like God?
Or can you thunder with a voice like His?
10 Then adorn yourself with majesty and splendor,
And array yourself with glory and beauty.
11 Disperse the rage of your wrath;

Look on everyone who is proud, and humble
him.
12 Look on everyone who is proud, and bring him low;
Tread down the wicked in their place.
13 Hide them in the dust together,
Bind their faces in hidden darkness.
14 Then I will also confess to you
That your own right hand can save you.

15 "Look now at the behemoth,[a] which I made along with you;
He eats grass like an ox.
16 See now, his strength is in his hips,
And his power is in his stomach muscles.
17 He moves his tail like a cedar;
The sinews of his thighs are tightly knit.
18 His bones are like beams of bronze,
His ribs like bars of iron.
19 He is the first of the ways of God;
Only He who made him can bring near His
sword.
20 Surely the mountains yield food for him,
And all the beasts of the field play there.
21 He lies under the lotus trees,
In a covert of reeds and marsh.
22 The lotus trees cover him with their shade;
The willows by the brook surround him.
23 Indeed the river may rage,
Yet he is not disturbed;
He is confident, though the Jordan gushes into his mouth,
24 Though he takes it in his eyes,
Or one pierces his nose with a snare.

Job 41

[1]“Can you draw out Leviathan[a] with a hook,
Or snare his tongue with a line which you lower?
[2]Can you put a reed through his nose,
Or pierce his jaw with a hook?
[3]Will he make many supplications to you?
Will he speak softly to you?
[4]Will he make a covenant with you?
Will you take him as a servant forever?
[5]Will you play with him as with a bird,
Or will you leash him for your maidens?
[6]Will your companions make a banquet[b] of him?
Will they apportion him among the merchants?
[7]Can you fill his skin with harpoons,
Or his head with fishing spears?
[8]Lay your hand on him;
Remember the battle—
Never do it again!
[9]Indeed, any hope of overcoming him is false;
Shall one not be overwhelmed at the sight of him?
[10]No one is so fierce that he would dare stir him up.
Who then is able to stand against Me?
[11]Who has preceded Me, that I should pay him?
Everything under heaven is Mine.

12 “I will not conceal[c] his limbs,
His mighty power, or his graceful proportions.
13 Who can remove his outer coat?
Who can approach him with a double bridle?
14 Who can open the doors of his face,
With his terrible teeth all around?
15 His rows of scales are his pride,
Shut up tightly as with a seal;
16 One is so near another
That no air can come between them;
17 They are joined one to another,
They stick together and cannot be parted.
18 His sneezings flash forth light,
And his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.
19 Out of his mouth go burning lights;
Sparks of fire shoot out.
20 Smoke goes out of his nostrils,
As from a boiling pot and burning rushes.
21 His breath kindles coals,
And a flame goes out of his mouth.
22 Strength dwells in his neck,
And sorrow dances before him.
23 The folds of his flesh are joined together;
They are firm on him and cannot be moved.
24 His heart is as hard as stone,
Even as hard as the lower millstone.
25 When he raises himself up, the mighty are afraid;
Because of his crashings they are beside[d] themselves.
26 Though the sword reaches him, it cannot avail;

Nor does spear, dart, or javelin.
27 He regards iron as straw,
And bronze as rotten wood.
28 The arrow cannot make him flee;
Slingstones become like stubble to him.
29 Darts are regarded as straw;
He laughs at the threat of javelins.
30 His undersides are like sharp potsherds;
He spreads pointed marks in the mire.
31 He makes the deep boil like a pot;
He makes the sea like a pot of ointment.
32 He leaves a shining wake behind him;
One would think the deep had white hair.
33 On earth there is nothing like him,
Which is made without fear.
34 He beholds every high thing;
He is king over all the children of pride."

Job 42

Job's Repentance and Restoration

1 Then Job answered the LORD and said: Beginning to Know the Unknown

2 "I know that You can do everything,
And that no purpose of Yours can be withheld from You.
3 You asked, 'Who is this who hides counsel without knowledge?'
Therefore I have uttered what I did not understand,
Things too wonderful for me, which I did not know.
4 Listen, please, and let me speak;
You said, 'I will question you, and you shall answer Me.'
5 "I have heard of You by the hearing of the ear,
But now my eye sees You.
6 Therefore I abhor myself,
And repent in dust and ashes."

7 And so it was, after the LORD had spoken these words to Job, that the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, "My wrath is aroused against you and your two friends, for you have not spoken of Me what is right, as My servant Job has.

Stop Speaking Folly

8 "Now therefore, take for yourselves seven bulls and seven rams, go to My servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and My servant Job shall pray for you. For I will accept him, lest I deal with you according to your folly; because you have not spoken of Me what is right, as My servant Job has."

9So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went and did as the LORD commanded them; for the LORD had accepted Job.

10And the LORD restored Job's losses[a] when he prayed for his friends. Indeed the LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before.

11Then all his brothers, all his sisters, and all those who had been his acquaintances before, came to him and ate food with him in his house; and they consoled him and comforted him for all the adversity that the LORD had brought upon him. Each one gave him a piece of silver and each a ring of gold. Family Stories

12Now the LORD blessed the latter days of Job more than his beginning; for he had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, one thousand yoke of oxen, and one thousand female donkeys.

13He also had seven sons and three daughters. Lasting Scars

14And he called the name of the first Jemimah, the name of the second Keziah, and the name of the third Keren-Happuch.

15In all the land were found no women so beautiful as the daughters of Job; and their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers.

16After this Job lived one hundred and forty years, and saw his children and grandchildren for four generations.

17So Job died, old and full of days.

Job

Job 1:1

Name means: Uncertain, possibly “Returning,” “Hated,” or “Persecuted.”

Not to be confused with: A son of Issachar (Gen. 46:13) also called Jashub (Num. 26:24; 1 Chr. 7:1).

Home: The land of Uz (possibly Edom or Bashan).

Family: Husband of at least one wife; father of seven sons and three daughters who were killed by a great wind; later fathered seven more sons and three more daughters.

Occupation: Exceptionally wealthy owner of 7,000 sheep, 3,000 camels, 500 pairs of oxen, 500 female donkeys, and numerous servants (Job 1:3); after losing his possessions, his wealth was restored twofold (42:10, 12); acted as his city’s justice of the peace (29:7–25) and as priest for his family (1:5) and friends (42:7–9).

Best known as: One of the Bible’s prime examples of persevering faith amid extreme suffering (James 5:11).

Blaming Satan
Job 1:6

Many people today regard Satan not as a real entity but as a mythological figure invented by humans to explain evil and suffering. The Book of Job, on the other hand—and, indeed, all of Scripture—presents an opposite view.

Satan appears in the first two chapters of Job, then vanishes from the storyline, which shifts to a debate between Job and his friends as they struggle to account for his sudden misfortunes. They take turns offering diverse opinions on suffering, but they never blame Satan—or mention him at all.

This has important implications for modern believers, who live in a world with an increasingly secular worldview. On the one hand, the Book of Job demonstrates that Satan exists and that he influences human events. Angels and demons are more than myths, and their actions in the supernatural realm affect our everyday lives. On the other hand, the Bible cautions us against blaming Satan for our problems. Job and his friends argued about the cause of Job's sufferings, but they all agreed that people are held accountable for their actions. This implies not only that our actions are guided by free will but also that our response to suffering still matters even when the cause of our suffering is outside of our control. Job and his friends focused not on Satan as their adversary (see footnote at Job 1:6) but on God as their judge (5:8, 17; 8:3–6; 9:1–3; 11:5, 6).

Following God and Getting Nothing in Return
Job 1:9–11

Satan accused God of buying Job's loyalty with wealth and security. As Satan pointed out, devotion that is bought is likely to vanish the moment its incentives are taken away.

But Satan misjudged Job's character. Stripped of his possessions and laid low by the tragic loss of his family, Job nevertheless blessed the Lord and refused to blame Him for his troubles (Job 1:21, 22). He clung to God even when Satan afflicted his bodily health, humbly posing the question as to whether it is right for people to accept prosperity from the Lord but reject adversity (2:10).

Job's integrity powerfully answered Satan's question, "Does Job fear God for nothing?" (1:9). The answer was yes. Job feared God even when he received nothing in return.

Many Christians build their faith upon the rewards they expect God to grant them. But what if all of His blessings are removed? Authentic commitment comes from a simple and steadfast trust, a heart that declares, "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him" (13:15).

Think About It: What reasons have you found to trust God, no matter what?

Preparing for Sudden Disaster

Job 1:13–19

The tragedies that claimed Job's possessions and family came without warning. We can guess that Job knew of the ever-present risks to himself and his family—marauding bands of Sabeans and Chaldeans, lightning ("fire of God"), windstorms, and all the dangers that came with living before the advent of modern medicine. Yet even though Job must have assumed that chances were he or his loved ones would sooner or later fall victim to these hazards or others, he was still devastated to learn of his losses (Job 1:20).

Job was like people everywhere, conscious of risks but absorbed with daily life. And it's an understandable way of life; after all, Jesus instructed His followers, "Do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble" (Matt. 6:34). However, Jesus also warned that at the end of the ages people would be going about their lives—"eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage"—totally forgetting that He would return without warning (Matt. 24:38, 42).

Just as Jesus urged us not to worry but nevertheless to prepare for His arrival by faithfully carrying out the responsibilities He has entrusted to us (Matt. 24:44–46), we should not waste our days in anxiety over the future, but we should keep this life in perspective. We may not know what tomorrow holds, but we do know that no disaster in this lifetime can overshadow the joy that is to come. So when calamity strikes, let us be prepared to look to heaven as we mourn our losses. We will find reliable hope there.

Job's Trust in God's Kindness

Job 1:22

Job's devotion to God despite overwhelming adversity confirms his trust in God's compassion and mercy (James 5:11). Job wisely took his concerns directly to God.

Some have a hard time seeing kindness in a God who would allow such terrible things to happen, and Job's unflinching piety makes his sufferings seem all the more unfair. Yet his story teaches us that none of us has all the facts we need to make judgments about a situation like Job's, much less to challenge God (Job 38:1–3; 42:3).

We cannot fully answer why Job suffered so painfully, but we do know that God responded with compassion. He placed limitations on Satan's attacks (1:12; 2:6). He answered Job even though His wisdom surpasses human understanding (chs. 38–41). He vindicated Job in the presence of those who questioned his character (42:7–9). And He restored Job's losses (42:12–17). In the face of some of the worst tragedies of life, Job proved himself faithful and patient, and God proved Himself trustworthy and kind.

Goodness in a Global World

Job 2:6

Some people see all the evil and suffering in the world and conclude that God must not exist—or if He does exist, He must not be in control—or He must not be very nice. Especially in our global society, when images, video, and firsthand accounts of unspeakable oppression and catastrophic natural disasters can travel across the world in mere seconds—when we are more keenly aware of the sheer volume of pain and social injustice in the world than we have ever been before—maintaining faith in a good, powerful, active God can feel impossible.

Yet even in this age of instant, intimate knowledge of human suffering from every corner of the globe, the Bible remains our source of reassurance. No evil is so great that God's Word cannot speak to it, and no burden is so heavy that God cannot lift it, often through His people.

The Book of Job affirms that God not only exists but He also constrains evil. First God limited Satan's destruction to Job's possessions (Job 1:12). Then He allowed Satan to afflict Job's body but forbid him to take Job's life (2:6).

There is no denying that Job went through agony, and he suffered from the depths of his soul. But God never stopped loving him. We may not understand how and when God places limits on evil, but the Bible shows us that hope is never completely lost. No matter what happens, we can rest in the knowledge that God is good, He works for good, and He will never forsake us (Deut. 31:8; Josh. 1:9; 1 Chr. 29:11; Ps. 22:28; 23:4; 55:22; 100:5; 115:3; Prov. 19:21; Jer. 1:8; Matt. 28:20; 2 Thess. 3:3).

In fact, one day the Lord will eradicate every kind of sin and halt all who promote evil. He will hand over dominion of His perfect creation to His Son Jesus Christ (1 Cor. 15:24–28; Phil. 2:9–11), who declared, "Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted" (Matt. 5:4).

More: After Adam and Eve disobeyed God and brought sin into the world, God immediately responded by putting boundaries on evil. See "God Limits Evil" at Gen. 3:22–24.

A Friend in Need

Job 2:13

As Job struggled through his severe trials, he must have felt as though the last thing he needed was counsel from people who only wanted to tell him what he had done wrong—and his three friends are remembered for doing just that. Nevertheless, these men started out with good intentions, and their initial actions are instructive for how we can serve a friend in need.

- They set out as soon as they heard about his trouble.
- They made up their minds to work together, arriving as a group to mourn with and comfort their friend.
- They showed empathy when they wept for Job.
- They showed their support for Job when they tore their robes in anguish, publicly displaying their grief.
- They gave Job their silent presence for seven days, comforting their friend with their presence yet giving him time until he was ready to unburden his heart.
- They listened patiently to Job's expressions of sorrow and frustration.

As we seek to comfort people suffering deep pain, our simply being present provides help and encouragement. Rather than seeking to analyze or solve a problem, sometimes our patient, empathetic company can do the most good.

Our Shaky World
Job 3:25

Job does not explain what he "greatly feared." But there was little security in his world. The dangers were many:

- diseases that struck livestock and people;
- famine, drought, and crop failure;
- destructive pests such as locusts and worms;
- predators such as lions and wolves;
- weather-related calamities like thunderstorms and lightning, floods, hail, windstorms, and tornadoes;
- bandits, raiders, and foreign invaders; and
- fatalities due to complications during childbirth.

Job had lost his wealth, family, and health due to many of these perils. The suddenness and enormity of his fall illustrates how people of the ancient world lived on the edge, never far from complete ruin. There was little they could do to protect themselves.

Even in the modern world, we face disease, destruction, fatalities, and other threats to our well-being and our sense of well-being. Like Job, we can also continue to cling to God, blessing the Lord (Job 1:21) and refusing to charge Him with wrong (1:22).

Eliphaz
Job 4:1

Name means: "God Is Fine Gold."

Not to be confused with: A son of Esau who fathered Amalek (Gen. 36:2, 4, 10–12).

Home: Teman (Job 2:11), a village in Edom south of the Dead Sea.

Family: Probably an Edomite, descended from Esau.

Occupation: Unknown; probably a wealthy man like Job.

Best known as: The first named of Job's three friends (2:11) and likely the oldest and the leader. His three speeches (chs. 4–5, 15, 22) staunchly defend God's justice and purity. Although he interpreted the severity of Job's sufferings as a sign that Job must have sinned, he nevertheless tried to reassure Job of God's mercy and forgiveness.

Think About It: What good actions will you select from Eliphaz to comfort friends and loved ones? How will you avoid making speeches or interpreting?

People Are Born to Trouble

Job 5:7

"Man is born to trouble as the sparks fly upward." Eliphaz, the friend of Job who gave us this piece of wisdom, was misguided on many topics. But on this point he was absolutely right: We do not have to go looking for trouble—trouble has a way of finding us.

Even if we never personally face the kind of hardship that Job confronted, we will endure and observe enough in this world to conclude that life is less than perfect, with plenty of heartache, disappointment, death, and disaster to go around.

Some people deny this reality, believing that this is the best of all possible worlds. Some go to great lengths to avoid pain, even in ways that cause them to miss out on life's joys. Job illustrates how to face life's troubles squarely, and turn to God for our every need.

If we are fortunate enough to bypass some of this world's worst sorrows, then we should actively help those who suffer more.

Do Not Despise God's Discipline
Job 5:17

Eliphaz gave sound advice when he said not to despise the Almighty's chastening. Submitting to God's discipline brings lasting happiness. A related passage in the Book of Proverbs explains that the Lord corrects His children like a loving father, and the author of Hebrews presents the Lord's discipline as one way by which we know we belong to God. For more about why God chastens His children, read Proverbs 3:11, 12 and Hebrews 12:1–11.

But do not assume that all troubles are signs of chastening (Matt. 5:45). Some troubles come because of others' unthinking or cruel actions. Others come from this sin-bent world. These are not from God's hand. So, when troubles come, ask two questions: "God, what do You want me to learn from this?" and "God, how do You want me to walk through this?"

An Empty Oasis
Job 6:19, 20

Water was the lifeblood of ancient caravans, making the oasis at Tema a crucial rest stop for Sabean traders journeying along the major north-south highway across the Arabian Desert. Camels could travel up to a week without water, but if a caravan came to this watering hole and found it dry, disaster loomed.

Job was no doubt familiar with Sheba's caravans. As the wealthiest man in the Middle East (Job 1:3), he had probably traded with them extensively. He may have also visited Tema, a site only about three hundred miles southeast of Edom, where many believe Job lived.

Job compared his disappointment over his friends' lack of kindness (6:14) to a caravan arriving at a dried-up oasis. Expecting and desperately needing water, the weary travelers find only dust. With their hopes dashed and their situation perilous, they face the terrorizing prospect of dying of thirst (6:21).

Job had turned to his friends in dire need, expecting to find the refreshing balm of comfort. To his dismay, they responded by further wearying his heart with rebuke and criticism.

Think About It: When have you delivered "dust" to a thirsty sufferer? How will you close your mouth and deliver life-giving actions instead? (Hint: practical help is fabulous.)

Bildad

Job 8:1

Name means: "Bel [a pagan god] Has Loved."

Home: Possibly the Transjordan area south of Canaan.

Family: Called a "Shuhite," suggesting he belonged to an Aramaean nomadic tribe descended from Shuah, Abraham's son by his wife Keturah.

Occupation: Unknown; probably a wealthy man like Job.

Best known as: The second of three friends who came to comfort Job (Job 2:11). Like Eliphaz, Bildad addressed Job three times (chs. 8, 18, 25). He concluded that the sudden death of Job's children was the result of their sin, arguing that sinners can expect nothing but suffering in this life and dishonor in death. He also defended God's perfection.

Think About It: The three friends started well, helping well. Why do you suppose they degenerated into being hurtful?

Zophar
Job 11:1

Name means: "Chirper."

Home: Naamah (Job 2:11), probably located in northern Arabia.

Best known as: The third of three friends who came to comfort Job (2:11). He gave two or three speeches (chs. 11, 20; see also "God Is Fair" at Job 27:13–23). The harshest of Job's accusers, Zophar said that Job deserved even more suffering, charging Job with wickedness and hypocrisy and urging him to quit his rebellion.

Think About It: Zophar seemed to be helping himself more than Job. Why do you suppose he did things this way?

Learning from Creation
Job 12:7–12

God reveals Himself not only through His Word but also through the world that He created. As Job debated his troubles with his friends, he challenged them to learn about God through His creatures. Here are some examples of how Scripture invites us to find wonder and wisdom through God's handiwork:

Animal	Traits
Dogs (1 Sam. 17:43; 2 Kin. 8:13; Job 30:1; Phil. 3:2)	Guardians of sheep and other livestock but generally disparaged in Scripture.
Ostriches (Job 39:13–18)	Lacking in parenting skills but able to outrun swift horses.
Eagles (Job 39:27–30)	Known for sharp eyes that spot the smallest of prey from hundreds of feet in the air.
Ants (Prov. 6:6–8)	Carriers of loads many times their own weight; show unusual discipline, organization, and industry.
Camels (Jer. 2:23)	Wild and stubborn but capable of traveling for days without water and able to move quickly.
Sparrows (Matt. 6:26; 10:29–31)	Small and inconsequential yet fed by God and highly valued by Him.

Wisdom looks at creation and recognizes that "the LORD has done this" (Job 12:9). The Bible encourages us to be wise observers of the incredible wonders of the animal kingdom, watching and learning from nature's teachings (Rom. 1:20).

Worthy Physicians
Job 13:4

When Job called his friends "worthless physicians," he was asserting that they were frauds, not that all physicians were worthless. Equipped with the knowledge that faith should produce real-life acts of compassion and that the Lord cares about our physical well-being, many of God's followers throughout history have dedicated their lives to providing health care and developing medical technology to help people around the world.

The Bible generally expresses a high regard for physicians, nurses, and others devoted to health care, honoring these workers in frequent accounts of their work.

Midwives	Helped women give birth (see "A Woman in Labor" at John 16:21, 22). Were often relatives or friends (Gen. 35:17; 1 Sam. 4:20) but sometimes professionals (Ex. 1:15–22).
Egyptian physicians	Directed by Joseph to embalm his father's body (Gen. 50:2); may have shared their medical knowledge with the Israelites.
Levitical priests	Tended medical as well as spiritual needs (see "Priests as Physicians" at Lev. 13:2).
Jesus	Devoted extensive time to physical health, including healing the sick and raising the dead (see "Jesus and the Physical" at John 9:32, 33).
Luke	Described as the "beloved physician" (Col. 4:14) who traveled with Paul and others, no doubt caring for their physical needs as well as participating in their evangelical efforts.
Elders in the early church	Charged with praying over and anointing ill believers upon request (James 5:14, 15).

More: The Bible mentions more than 40 specific diseases or disabilities. See "Medical Miracles" at John 9:1–41.

Life After Death

Job 14:14

As Job contemplated his sufferings, he said that death would end his pain (Job 14:13). But would it also end his existence? Elsewhere he described death as the "way of no return" (16:22) and the "king of terrors" (18:14). Job feared that he was at the end of his life and did not know what lay ahead. It does not appear that he had an optimistic outlook.

Job had less spiritual truth at his disposal than God's people have today. His understanding of an afterlife was no doubt shadowy. He probably had no written Scripture to turn to, and he had no foresight that Jesus would one day deliver people from sin and death (Rom. 6:23; 1 Cor. 15:20–28).

Yet even without that essential truth, Job was confident that he would see God after death. His stirring declaration of faith, beginning with the words, "I know that my Redeemer lives" (Job 19:25–27), has provided hope for generations. The eighteenth-century composer George Frideric Handel set Job's words to music as part of his masterpiece Messiah.

Whatever questions about death may have lingered from the days of Job and other Old Testament believers, Jesus answered them when He declared, "He who believes in Me, though he may die, he shall live" (John 11:25). Jesus' followers have reason to celebrate even as they mourn the loss of friends and family or contemplate their own death. Jesus has promised eternal life to all who believe in Him, a forever home free from all tears, sorrow, and pain (Rev. 21:4). When it comes to life after death, Christians are people of hope.

Life Is Short

Job 16:22

Job's unrivaled success may have made him feel invincible, immortal. His vast wealth may have led him to believe that the good times would never end. Then the sudden loss of his family, wealth, and health helped him gain a new perspective on life—and death. Perhaps for the first time, he realized that life is exceedingly short. He saw his life passing more swiftly than a weaver's shuttle running through the loom (Job 7:6). He compared his life to the brief existence of a fading blossom or a passing shadow (14:1, 2).

These thoughts may sound morose, but facing the fact of life's brevity can help us make the most of the time allotted to us. Life is on loan from God. Therefore, we should understand as much as we can of its length and breadth, its strengths and weaknesses, and its place in human history. By thinking about death, we can begin to live the truth of the psalmist who wrote, "My times are in Your hand" (Ps. 31:15).

But we need not go through Job-like suffering to gain that larger perspective. Use these suggestions to gain a deeper appreciation for the true span of life:

1. Interview parents, grandparents, and other relatives about your family's history (see "Researching Your Religious Roots" at Heb. 13:24).
2. Interview friends, neighbors, and coworkers about their life journeys, listening carefully to their joys, sorrows, and lessons learned.
3. Ask longtime members of your church about its founding and what they remember about its history.
4. Read Bible history to see God's long-range work in the world:

   - God's creation of the universe and His intentions for what He made (Gen. 1–2).
   - The forty years of desert wandering as the Hebrews learned to depend on God (Numbers 13:1–36:13).
   - King David's lifetime of achievements and worries (1 Sam. 16–31; 2 Sam. 1–24; 1 Kin. 1–2; 1 Chr. 11–29).
   - Esther's daring intervention to save her people from genocide (the Book of Esther).
   - The start of the church two thousand years ago (the Book of Acts).
   - The finale of human history and its impact on our choices—joining God in heaven or suffering the consequences of rejecting Him (Rev. 21–22).

5. Read a biography or historical novel, paying attention to how the subject developed as a person.
6. Research the history of your neighborhood, city, or state.
7. Visit museums or travel near and far with the goal of learning the history and experience of other people. Resist the temptation to judge others' experiences solely by your own.

The Hardhearted and the Brokenhearted

Job 17:1

Having lost his family, possessions, and health, Job was a broken man, emptied of all pride. The catastrophes that humbled him caused him to reaffirm his faith and dependence on God (Job 19:25–27).

The Bible declares that God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble (Prov. 3:34; James 4:6). It offers prominent illustrations of people who fit into one category or the other.

The Hardhearted

Pharaoh

Defied God by stubbornly refusing to let His people leave Egypt, inviting ten plagues on Egypt with a vast loss of life (Ex. 7–14).

The Israelites at Kadesh Barnea

Spent 40 years wandering in the desert for refusing God's promise to help them conquer Canaan (Num. 13–14).

Saul

Stripped of his kingdom and eventually lost his life for his habit of disobeying God (1 Chr. 10:13, 14).

Jesus' Disciples

Blind to the significance of the feeding of the 5,000 because of their hard hearts (Mark 6:33–52).

The Brokenhearted

Nebuchadnezzar

Lived like a wild beast for seven years until he bowed to God's preeminence and sovereignty (Dan. 4).

Joshua and Caleb

Boldly trusted God and gained entry into Canaan (Num. 13:30; 14:6–9, 24, 30, 36–38).

David

Received God's pardon after confessing his sins of adultery and murder (2 Sam. 12:1–25; Ps. 51).

The Hemorrhaging Woman

Recognized Jesus' ability to heal and touched Him, believing that was all she needed to do (Mark 5:25–34).

People Quick to Divorce

Told by Jesus that the Law permitted divorce only because of the hardness of human hearts (Mark 10:2–12).

A Woman Caught in Adultery

Told by Jesus that she was forgiven and urged to sin no more (John 8:1–11).

Jesus' Disciples

Hardness of heart made them slow to believe the women's report of Jesus' resurrection (Mark 16:14).

Mary Magdalene

Heartbroken over the loss of her Lord but rewarded with the first encounter with the risen Christ (John 20:1, 11–18).

The Jewish Council

Rebuked by Stephen for being stiff-necked toward God, evidenced by their mistreatment of Jesus and His followers (Acts 7:51–53).

Cornelius

Devoted to God in fasting and prayer, he became the first recorded Gentile convert to Christianity (Acts 10).

If we stubbornly resist God, we should be aware that hardheartedness can become a chronic condition (1 Cor. 10:1–13; Heb. 3:7–4:11). Developing a tender heart, on the other hand, can only lead to greater intimacy with the Lord and with people. Difficulties may break us down, but God will use them to build us up if we let Him (James 1:2–8).

More: The apostle Paul was completely changed as a result of being broken by God. Read his story in Acts 9:1–31; 22:6–16; 26:12–18.

Hebrew Poetry

Job 19:1

The Old Testament books of Job, Psalms, Proverbs, and Song of Solomon are written in verse, as are large portions of other books, including Ecclesiastes and the books of the prophets. These portions of Scripture employ literary devices common to poetry everywhere. Hebrew poetry is often distinguished by its use of parallelism, when two lines of each couplet combine to communicate the composer's meaning. This occurs in several forms:

- Complement: the second line completes or parallels the thought introduced in the first line. For example, Job 25:4:

  "How then can a man be righteous before God?
  Or how can he be pure who is born of a woman?"

- Comparison: the second line draws a comparison with something in the first line. For example, Prov. 25:18:

  "A man who bears false witness against his neighbor Is like a club, a sword, and a sharp arrow."

- Contrast: the second line draws a contrast to or opposes something in the first line. For example, Prov. 22:12:

  "The eyes of the LORD preserve knowledge,
  But He overthrows the words of the faithless."

- Climax: the second line answers or builds upon the first line to heighten the meaning. For example, Ps. 27:1:

  "The LORD is my light and my salvation;
  Whom shall I fear?"

Sometimes a third line is added to further embellish the thought. For example, Ps. 100:4:

"Enter into His gates with thanksgiving,
And into His courts with praise.
Be thankful to Him, and bless His name."

More: Hebrew poetry often uses the acrostic as another literary device, with successive lines of the poem beginning with the 22 letters of the Hebrew alphabet.

Think About It: How can these literary structures influence how you communicate?

Where Is God?
Job 23:8, 9

Distressed over his ongoing afflictions, Job longed to arrange a meeting with God where he could present his case (Job 23:3, 4). But where could God be found? Job went on a mental journey of the surrounding geography, searching for God to no avail.

It could be that the terms forward, backward, left, and right indicated the points of the Hebrew compass (see "The Land of Promise" at Gen. 13:14, 15). If Job lived in or near Edom, then forward would have indicated the Arabian Desert with its trackless wastes and rare oases. Turning backward, Job envisioned Egypt on the Nile and the Great (Mediterranean) Sea. To Job's left lay Canaan and the cedar forests of Lebanon, and far to the north were the upper Euphrates River and the Taurus and Ararat mountain ranges. To the right Job visualized the Gulf of Aqaba and the Red Sea, and far to the south, his Sabean trading partners (see "An Empty Oasis" at Job 6:19, 20). But no matter where he turned, Job could not find his God.

Where was God? Job would eventually encounter Him (chs. 38–41). But for a time Job was left sitting in the ashes, struggling to make sense of his suffering. When we search for God, we may sometimes feel as if our prayers fall upon unhearing ears. But like Job, as long as we continue seeking the Lord, He will be found (Matt. 7:7, 8; Luke 11:9, 10).

More: While David sometimes felt as Job did—as if God had forgotten him (for example, Ps. 13:1)—he also affirmed that no matter where we go, God is with us. See Ps. 139:7–12.

An Inventory of Our Own Evil
Job 24:2–12

Job's awareness that God takes special interest in the downcast caused him deep anguish when he witnessed evils done to the poor that were going unpunished. Evaluating our treatment of the poor and disadvantaged is one of the best ways we can assess our own integrity. Job provides an inventory of criteria by which to test ourselves:

- Do we cheat in business or steal other people's possessions (Job 24:2)?
- Do we take the resources of the powerless and drive them into needless debt (24:3)?
- Do we abuse the poor and force them out of our way (24:4)?
- Do we cause the poor to lose work, forcing them into a desperate search for food, clothing, and shelter (24:5–8)?
- Do we lock powerless people into situations and systems that bleed them but benefit us (24:9, 10)?
- Do we live lavishly even as people are dying for lack of basic resources (24:11, 12)?

Compassion is a mark of real faith toward God (James 1:27). As we read Job's six-point inventory of evil, how do we score? Job was once extremely rich (Job 1:3), but this man who lost all of his wealth might have stern words for us today.

Unworthy but Not Worthless

Bildad's portrait of man as a maggot or a worm is not flattering. But note that this was a statement about people's moral standing before God (Job 25:4) rather than their inherent value as creatures.

Scripture supports Bildad's assertion that no human being is pure. Sin pollutes everyone, so that from our earliest days we corrupt ourselves with evil (Gen. 8:21; Ps. 51:5; Rom. 5:12). Even our attempts to do good, when we draw not upon God but upon ourselves alone, are like filthy rags (Is. 64:6). This fallen condition extends to all of us (53:6; Rom. 3:10, 23) and makes us unworthy to stand before a holy God.

Yet though we are unworthy, we are not worthless. God has created us in His image (Gen. 1:26, 27; Ps. 8:5; 139:13–16), giving us inherent dignity and worth. God so loved us that despite our rebellion and hostility, He sent Jesus to rescue us from sin and retrieve our humanity from corruption (Rom. 5:8). And when we look to Jesus for forgiveness of our sin, we become God's children and fellow heirs of Christ's glory (8:14–17; Eph. 1:11, 12).

Our worth as people is, therefore, totally derived from God. That truth helps correct any distortions we may have about ourselves. On the one hand, we should not wallow in an attitude of "I'm worthless. I'm a nothing." God never sees us that way. On the other hand, there's no room for exalting ourselves by pretending we never falter, setting ourselves up as gods, and demanding our way in the world. A healthy self-image is important, but that easily gives way to our natural human tendency toward pride.

Scripture urges us to find a healthy balance between these two extremes. It commands us to have a view of ourselves neither too high nor too low, a self-image based on honesty and realism (Rom. 12:3; 1 Cor. 12:15–19).

More: We are not trash, but we are in trouble. God has provided a way for us to escape our captivity from sin. Through Christ He promises to make us into the people He created us to be. See John 3:16–21.

Naked Before God

Job 26:6

We can clothe ourselves with possessions, achievements, and experiences that hide our true condition. Yet in the end, all of that will fall away. We will stand naked before God.

The author of Ecclesiastes grasped that point. Like Job, Solomon was one of the wealthiest and wisest men who ever lived. Yet after leading his kingdom to the height of its prosperity, he wrote, "As [a person] came from his mother's womb, naked shall he return"

(Eccl. 5:15). An Arab proverb offers a similar perspective: “There are no pockets in a burial shroud.”

If we cannot rely on external things when we stand before God, there must be something else we can present. Christ’s work on our behalf will ultimately determine our standing (Phil. 3:9). But God will nevertheless evaluate our character and how we have lived—either to His glory or to our shame (1 Cor. 3:9–15; 2 Cor. 5:1–11).

God Is Fair

Job 27:13–23

Fires. Floods. Earthquakes. Famine. These so-called “acts of God” strike without warning. Those who suffer usually appear innocent of any degree of wrongdoing that could serve to explain their pain. Victims and onlookers alike wonder how God can let these things happen and still be fair.

Job and his friends wrestled with this question. Calamity struck Job and his family for no apparent reason. His friends took the view that God was punishing him, that he must have done something wrong to deserve such misery. Job disagreed, not only because he felt sure of his own integrity but also because when he looked at the world around him, sinners seemed to prosper (Job 12:6).

Job concluded that the superficially easy life of the wicked is temporary; sooner or later it will crumble. God will humble the proud, and people of integrity will inherit their possessions. Good will win, and justice will prevail.

God is indeed fair (36:6; 37:23, 24). We can be thankful for that fact, because life is not fair. People do not always get what they deserve in this life. But this life is not the end of the story. God Himself will write the final chapters.

Better Days and Big Questions
Job 29:1

As trials and tribulations dragged on and his friends' counsel wore him out, Job began to look back on better days. There is nothing unusual in that. But Job was deliberating truly complex issues. We can phrase them as tough questions:

- Is success always a sign that God is with us (Job 29:2–6)? Or if we face hard times, does that mean that God is against us? Job discovered that external circumstances are not necessarily proof of God's favor.
- Does admiration from others matter (29:7–11)? Should we interpret people's words or actions toward us as results of God's favor or disfavor? Job decided that other people's opinions mattered little. His former associates had turned against him, yet he knew he was innocent of wrongdoing. His three friends harshly criticized him, yet God vindicated him (42:7, 8).
- Are we closer to God when we are strong (29:12–17) or when we are weak (30:9–15)? Job honored God equally in prosperity (1:1–3) and adversity (1:22; 2:9, 10).

Defending Against Desire
Job 31:1

Job's sufferings caused him to inventory his life, both in terms of inner desires and outward actions. As Job sought to determine if he was guilty of unconfessed sin, he openly admitted the power of sexual appetites. He cataloged the steps of lust beginning with "look[ing] upon a young woman," then letting his heart follow his eyes, then scheming to be with a forbidden woman (Job 31:1, 7, 9).

This progression may feel normal, natural, even unavoidable. But Job viewed lust as a serious moral failure (31:11). He put lust in the same category as falsehood and deceit (31:5), oppressing slaves (31:13–15), mistreating the poor (31:16, 19, 20), neglecting widows (31:16, 18), stealing food from starving orphans (31:17, 18, 21), rejoicing over the misfortunes of others (31:29, 30), trusting wealth rather than God (31:24), and hypocrisy (31:33, 34).

Lust is a dangerous sin. It is worth examining ourselves to determine how we are handling God's gift of sexuality. Have we let it become a consuming drive centered on our own pleasure? Or do we guard our thoughts, eyes, and actions in order to love God and love people?

Befriending the Friendless

Job 31:13–23

Pain attacks without discrimination, striking the mighty and the unknown, treating one the same as the other. In the process of discovering this truth, Job found a new set of friends—the poor.

Before his troubles, Job had been a champion for the poor (Job 29:12–17). But his enormous wealth and high social standing had probably distanced him from their pain. Like many government officials and well-to-do citizens, he was aware of their plight but had never experienced it for himself.

Then disaster struck, and suddenly Job felt the pains of poverty firsthand. People who were once his underlings became his peers, his fellow sufferers. He began to identify with slaves who feared unjust treatment (31:13). He understood how widows and orphans felt when they went without food, clothing, and shelter while others lived in luxury (31:16–21; compare 24:2–12).

As a result of his reduced circumstances, Job discovered a new sense of egalitarianism: "Did not He who made me in the womb make them?" he asked (31:15). He realized that all people are basically the same. Possessions and position have nothing to do with our fundamental humanity.

Modern Westerners tend to interpret Job's situation as a tale of personal suffering. They ask, "Why is this happening to me?" But people in Job's society were more likely to make sense of individual troubles from the standpoint of collective suffering. One person's pain had significance for the entire community. Job asked, “Why does this happen at all?”

Job went beyond wondering “Why am I, of all people, facing these trials?” He embraced others who were slighted and slandered by society. His sufferings challenge us to consider what it would take for us to befriend the friendless and seek justice for the powerless.

Elihu

Job 32:1

Name means: “He Is My God.”

Not to be confused with: Samuel’s paternal great-grandfather (1 Sam. 1:1) or three other men in the Old Testament (1 Chr. 12:20; 26:7; 27:18).

Family: Son of Berachel, from a place called Buz and from the family of Ram.

Occupation: Counselor.

Best known as: A fourth counselor to Job who was younger than the other three (Job 32:4, 6–9). He corrected his elders and spoke kindly yet firmly to Job.

Think About It: From whom have you learned how to care in ways that actually help?

The Kind Counselor
Job 32:4, 5

Elihu listened quietly while Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar exhausted their pleas to Job. Perhaps the younger man assumed that these older counselors possessed more wisdom, or perhaps he was simply being respectful. When it was obvious that their arguments had failed, however, he offered a new perspective in four back-to-back addresses (Job 32:5–33:33; 34:1–37; 35:1–16; 36:1–37:24).

Unlike his older counterparts, Elihu was empathetic toward Job. He admitted the possibility that neither Job's circumstances nor his rebuttals of his three friends' remarks necessarily implied sin or guilt. He suggested that Job was being disciplined and refined for his greater good, or to reach a greater truth.

Perhaps because of the merit of Elihu's arguments, God did not rebuke him as he did Job's three other friends (42:7–9). Yet although the Lord apparently did not take issue with the young counselor's insights, Elihu's explanation for Job's condition did not go far enough. It failed to appeal to God alone for mercy and vindication. God Himself is the ultimate standard of justice, and there is no higher principle to which humans can appeal.

The key lesson to learn from Elihu may be that of observing and listening before speaking. While Elihu's wisdom, like all human wisdom, was imperfect, he was far better equipped to offer compassionate insight.

More: Elihu practiced a style of sensitive communication that Paul later used to plant the gospel in cities throughout the Roman empire. See "No Prepackaging" at Acts 26:1–32.

Still Life
Job 37:14

Job heard God speak through his friend Elihu, saying, “Stand still and consider the wondrous works of God.”

God beckoned David to this same reflective pause. In the midst of chaos when “nations raged” and “kingdoms were moved,” the Lord invited David to “come behold the works of the LORD” and to “be still, and know that I am God” (Ps. 46:6, 8, 10).

Stopping to pay attention to the world around us brings enormous benefits. It reminds us that we are part of something much larger than ourselves. By appreciating this world’s wonders, we bask in the amazing truth that its Creator loves us.

Beginning to Know the Unknown
Job 42:1–6

Job’s struggle included a flash of insight. The Lord had peppered him with questions he could not begin to answer (Job 38–41). God’s point was not to humiliate Job by exposing his ignorance but to reveal Himself as the all-powerful, all-knowing God who can be trusted.

The insight Job experienced was more than intellectual; it was also spiritual. Awed by his dazzling encounter with the living God, Job realized that he had uttered "things too wonderful for me, which I did not know" (Job 42:3). The Hebrew word translated know implies more than a grasp of information; it suggests intimate knowledge gained by personal experience. Job had preached about topics "too wonderful" for him, literally incomprehensible, astonishing things that only God could understand (compare Ps. 139:6).

When Job heard God, things began to make sense. Job responded to his encounter with God with total humility (Job 42:5, 6). The words "I abhor myself" might be translated "I reject what I have spoken" or "I cast away my words" or "I despise or disdain them." It is as if Job had written a book to inventory and interpret his experiences (19:23, 24), or a legal brief to make his case before God (31:35–37). But then he threw the book away.

The word translated repent is not the term used for repentance from sin (shub: "to turn back or return"; compare 1 Kin. 8:47; Jer. 5:3). Instead, it is a word that means "to be sorry" or "to console oneself" (nacham). Job threw away his pretensions to wisdom and comforted himself "in dust and ashes," a common symbol of mourning or humility. The Lord heard Job's prayer and was pleased to give him a new family and possessions (Job 42:10–17).

One day all the mysteries of the universe will find their explanation in the Lord. Meanwhile, it is right for us to take our questions to God and to learn from Him.

Stop Speaking Folly

Job 42:7, 8

Job's friends Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar were sincere—but sincerely wrong. Their lengthy speeches to Job contained truth mixed with inaccurate statements about the God they claimed to know so well. They were perhaps caught up in trying to sound authoritative, like wise and powerful men, or they were perhaps honestly misguided in their understanding.

The Bible does not point out their specific misstatements. But whatever their inaccuracies, they were unacceptable. God's words to Eliphaz show that He does not accept "folly," or wrong thinking about His nature and character (Job 42:8). Wrong statements about God help no one. God instructed Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar to entreat Job to offer a sacrifice to atone for their sin of misrepresenting Him.

The Lord's admonition cautions us to pay careful attention to what we believe about God and how we explain Him to others. We need to continually make certain our doctrines are true and accurate, comparing them with Scripture to see whether they line up with what God has told us about Himself (compare Acts 17:11).

Family Stories

Job 42:11, 12

Most of the Book of Job narrates a discussion between Job and his friends. But the first and last chapters show that Job is also the story of a family that reemerges from tragedy. Job is one of at least eleven biblical books framed around marriage or family. Studying these families' portraits teaches us about God's expectations for family life.

Genesis	Stories of the first families in biblical history. The impact of sin is evident in their many dysfunctions. See "Instead, Choose to Show Family Care" at Gen. 42:36.
Ruth	The initially tragic but ultimately hopeful journey of a multiethnic family during the period of the judges.
1 and	The history of the beginnings of Israel's monarchy,

2 Samuel	highlighting the highs and lows of four families—Samuel's, Eli's, Saul's, and David's.
Esther	A royal marriage that delivers God's people from genocide.
Job	The story of a wealthy man who refuses to give up hope after he loses everything, including his family.
Proverbs	A father's gift of wisdom to his son, including insights on parent-child and male-female relationships; concludes with a profile of a woman who skillfully keeps her family functioning.
Song of Solomon	A love poem reveling in the beauty of love expressed within marriage and the power of sexuality.
Hosea	A picture of God's commitment to His people seen in Hosea's marriage to a prostitute.
Philemon	A letter to a leading family of Colosse on welcoming back a runaway slave who had become a fellow Christian.
1 John	A letter to a Christian woman offering advice about rearing her children in troubled times.

Lasting Scars

Job 42:13

The irreplaceable value of human life comes home in the closing verses of the Book of Job. After all of his trials, Job was blessed in his old age when the Lord restored to him twice the material things he had lost (Job 42:10, 12). The Lord also gave him ten more children. As precious as those children must have been, they could never replace the ten who had perished in a windstorm (1:18, 19). The grief of that loss would remain. The gift of a new family brought a measure of healing, but the wounds suffered earlier surely left lasting scars.

a 42:10 Literally Job's captivity, that is, what was captured from Job

No other book of the Bible invites us into an experience as passionate and personal as that of the psalms. Here we find eloquent expression of every human feeling: hope and remorse, joy and sorrow, confidence and fear, humility and anger, certainty and anxiety. The psalms appeal to our emotions and intuition, not solely our intellect, treating the subtleties of life that are often more easily expressed than explained. It is no wonder that the Book of Psalms has been the hymnal and prayer book for generations of God's people, beginning with ancient Israel and continuing to modern expressions of the church.

These one hundred and fifty "songs sung to the accompaniment of a musical instrument," which is the meaning of the Greek word from which the Book of Psalms draws its name, invite us to give voice to our inner experiences as we lift our hearts to the Lord.

But Psalms is also more than a hymnbook; it is a guidebook for life. It was intended as a source of wisdom and insight, lighting our journey through a spiritually dark world (Ps. 119:105). The psalms lead us through specific life situations (see "Psalms for Many Occasions" at Ps. 100:1), and several psalms are characteristic of the genre of Wisdom Literature. They give instruction and deal with fundamental issues such as the nature of evil, the meaning of life, and the human struggle to fathom God's ways. (These wisdom psalms include Ps. 1, 19, 37, 49, 104, 107, 112, 119, 127, 128, 133, 147, and 148.) Other major categories within these songs include royal psalms (see "Human Kings and the Heavenly King" at Ps. 2:7), lamentations (see "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep" at Ps. 3:5), and songs written to accompany spiritual pilgrimages to the temple at Jerusalem.

The Book of Psalms was written over a thousand-year span of Israel's history. One of the earliest psalmists was Moses, who probably wrote Psalm 90 during the Exodus. Seventy-three psalms are preceded by the phrase "of David," and several of these also include information about the circumstances of their composition, which often occurred during important moments in David's life. Two sets of psalms were composed by professional guilds of musicians, the Sons of Asaph and the Sons of Korah. Other psalms are of other origins, some unknown to us.

Each psalm must be dated individually. Moses wrote around 1400 B.C. Those composed by David would have been produced between 1040 and 971 B.C. The two psalms attributed to Solomon (Ps. 72, 127) date between 971 and 931 B.C., and the latest psalms come from the period after the Exile (mid-fifth century B.C.). Some believe that the Book of Psalms as we now know it did not take final shape until the time of Ezra, when it became the hymnbook of the second temple.

Because psalms were produced by writers from a wide variety of backgrounds, the geography of this book covers the entire world as it was known to the ancient Israelites.

BOOK ONE

Psalms 1—41

Psalm 1

The Way of the Righteous and the End of the Ungodly

[1]Blessed is the man
Who walks not in the counsel of the ungodly,
Nor stands in the path of sinners,
Nor sits in the seat of the scornful; Two Paths
[2]But his delight is in the law of the LORD,
And in His law he meditates day and night.
[3]He shall be like a tree
Planted by the rivers of water,
That brings forth its fruit in its season,
Whose leaf also shall not wither;
And whatever he does shall prosper. The Way of Prosperity

[4]The ungodly are not so,
But are like the chaff which the wind drives away.
[5]Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment,
Nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

[6]For the LORD knows the way of the righteous,
But the way of the ungodly shall perish.

Psalm 2

The Messiah's Triumph and Kingdom

1 Why do the nations rage,
And the people plot a vain thing?
2 The kings of the earth set themselves,
And the rulers take counsel together,
Against the LORD and against His Anointed,
saying,
3 "Let us break Their bonds in pieces
And cast away Their cords from us."

4 He who sits in the heavens shall laugh;
The LORD shall hold them in derision. God Is the Ultimate Authority
5 Then He shall speak to them in His wrath,
And distress them in His deep displeasure:
6 "Yet I have set My King
On My holy hill of Zion."

7 "I will declare the decree:
The LORD has said to Me,
'You are My Son,
Today I have begotten You. Human Kings and the Heavenly King
8 Ask of Me, and I will give You
The nations for Your inheritance,
And the ends of the earth for Your possession.
9 You shall break[a] them with a rod of iron;
You shall dash them to pieces like a potter's vessel.' "

10 Now therefore, be wise, O kings;
Be instructed, you judges of the earth.

Government in Psalms

11 Serve the LORD with fear,
And rejoice with trembling.
12 Kiss the Son,[b] lest He[c] be angry,
And you perish in the way,
When His wrath is kindled but a little.
Blessed are all those who put their trust in Him.

Psalm 3

The LORD Helps His Troubled People

A Psalm of David when he fled from Absalom his son.

[1]LORD, how they have increased who trouble me!
Many are they who rise up against me. God Guides Your Fear
[2]Many are they who say of me,
"There is no help for him in God." Selah

[3]But You, O LORD, are a shield for me,
My glory and the One who lifts up my head.
[4]I cried to the LORD with my voice,
And He heard me from His holy hill. Selah

[5]I lay down and slept;
I awoke, for the LORD sustained me. Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep
[6]I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people
Who have set themselves against me all around.

[7]Arise, O LORD;
Save me, O my God!
For You have struck all my enemies on the cheekbone;
You have broken the teeth of the ungodly.
[8]Salvation belongs to the LORD.
Your blessing is upon Your people. Selah

Psalm 4

The Safety of the Faithful

To the Chief Musician. With stringed instruments. A Psalm of David.

[1]Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness!
You have relieved me in my distress;
Have mercy on me, and hear my prayer.

[2]How long, O you sons of men,
Will you turn my glory to shame?
How long will you love worthlessness
And seek falsehood? Selah
[3]But know that the LORD has set apart[a] for Himself him who is godly;
The LORD will hear when I call to Him.

[4]Be angry, and do not sin.
Meditate within your heart on your bed, and be still. Selah
[5]Offer the sacrifices of righteousness,
And put your trust in the LORD.

[6]There are many who say,
"Who will show us any good?"
LORD, lift up the light of Your countenance upon us.
[7]You have put gladness in my heart,
More than in the season that their grain and wine increased.
[8]I will both lie down in peace, and sleep;

For You alone, O LORD, make me dwell in safety.

Psalm 5

A Prayer for Guidance

To the Chief Musician. With flutes.[a] A Psalm of David.

[1]Give ear to my words, O LORD,
Consider my meditation.
[2]Give heed to the voice of my cry,
My King and my God,
For to You I will pray.
[3]My voice You shall hear in the morning, O LORD;
In the morning I will direct it to You,
And I will look up.

[4]For You are not a God who takes pleasure in wickedness, Nor shall evil dwell with You.
[5]The boastful shall not stand in Your sight;
You hate all workers of iniquity. God Hates the Pain Caused by Sin
[6]You shall destroy those who speak falsehood;
The LORD abhors the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.

[7]But as for me, I will come into Your house in the multitude of Your mercy;
In fear of You I will worship toward Your holy temple.
[8]Lead me, O LORD, in Your righteousness because of my enemies;
Make Your way straight before my face.

9For there is no faithfulness in their mouth;
Their inward part is destruction;
Their throat is an open tomb;
They flatter with their tongue.
10Pronounce them guilty, O God!
Let them fall by their own counsels;
Cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions,
For they have rebelled against You.

11But let all those rejoice who put their trust in You;
Let them ever shout for joy, because You defend them;
Let those also who love Your name
Be joyful in You.
12For You, O LORD, will bless the righteous;
With favor You will surround him as with a shield.

Psalm 6

A Prayer of Faith in Time of Distress

To the Chief Musician. With stringed instruments. On an eight-stringed harp.[a] A Psalm of David.

1 O LORD, do not rebuke me in Your anger,
Nor chasten me in Your hot displeasure.
2 Have mercy on me, O LORD, for I am weak;
O LORD, heal me, for my bones are troubled.
3 My soul also is greatly troubled;
But You, O LORD—how long?

4 Return, O LORD, deliver me!
Oh, save me for Your mercies' sake!
5 For in death there is no remembrance of You;
In the grave who will give You thanks?

6 I am weary with my groaning;
All night I make my bed swim;
I drench my couch with my tears.
7 My eye wastes away because of grief;
It grows old because of all my enemies.

8 Depart from me, all you workers of iniquity;
For the LORD has heard the voice of my weeping.
9 The LORD has heard my supplication;
The LORD will receive my prayer.
10 Let all my enemies be ashamed and greatly troubled;

Let them turn back and be ashamed suddenly.

Psalm 7

Prayer and Praise for Deliverance from Enemies

A Meditation[a] of David, which he sang to the LORD concerning the words of Cush, a Benjamite.

[1]O LORD my God, in You I put my trust;
Save me from all those who persecute me;
And deliver me,
[2]Lest they tear me like a lion, Rending me in pieces, while there is none to deliver.

[3]O LORD my God, if I have done this:
If there is iniquity in my hands,
[4]If I have repaid evil to him who was at peace with me,
Or have plundered my enemy without cause,
[5]Let the enemy pursue me and overtake me;
Yes, let him trample my life to the earth,
And lay my honor in the dust. Selah

[6]Arise, O LORD, in Your anger; Lift Yourself up because of the rage of my
enemies;
Rise up for me[b] to the judgment You have commanded!
[7]So the congregation of the peoples shall surround You;
For their sakes, therefore, return on high.
[8]The LORD shall judge the peoples;
Judge me, O LORD, according to my
righteousness,

And according to my integrity within me.

9 Oh, let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end,
But establish the just;
For the righteous God tests the hearts and minds.
10 My defense is of God,
Who saves the upright in heart.

11 God is a just judge,
And God is angry with the wicked every day.
12 If he does not turn back,
He will sharpen His sword;
He bends His bow and makes it ready.
13 He also prepares for Himself instruments of death;
He makes His arrows into fiery shafts.

14 Behold, the wicked brings forth iniquity;
Yes, he conceives trouble and brings forth falsehood.
15 He made a pit and dug it out,
And has fallen into the ditch which he made.
16 His trouble shall return upon his own head,
And his violent dealing shall come down on his own crown.

17 I will praise the LORD according to His
righteousness,
And will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

Psalm 8

The Glory of the LORD in Creation

To the Chief Musician. On the instrument of Gath.[a] A Psalm of David.

[1]O LORD, our Lord,
How excellent is Your name in all the earth,
Who have set Your glory above the heavens!

[2]Out of the mouth of babes and nursing infants
You have ordained strength,
Because of Your enemies,
That You may silence the enemy and the avenger.

[3]When I consider Your heavens, the work of Your fingers,
The moon and the stars, which You have ordained,
[4]What is man that You are mindful of him,
And the son of man that You visit him?
[5]For You have made him a little lower than the angels,[b]
And You have crowned him with glory and honor.

[6]You have made him to have dominion over the works of Your hands;
You have put all things under his feet, People at Work
[7]All sheep and oxen—

Even the beasts of the field,
8 The birds of the air,
And the fish of the sea
That pass through the paths of the seas.

9 O LORD, our Lord,
How excellent is Your name in all the earth!

Psalm 9

Prayer and Thanksgiving for the LORD's Righteous Judgments

To the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Death of the Son."[a] A Psalm of David.

1 I will praise You, O LORD, with my whole heart;
I will tell of all Your marvelous works.
2 I will be glad and rejoice in You;
I will sing praise to Your name, O Most High.

3 When my enemies turn back,
They shall fall and perish at Your presence.
4 For You have maintained my right and my cause;
You sat on the throne judging in righteousness.
5 You have rebuked the nations,
You have destroyed the wicked;
You have blotted out their name forever and ever. God the Avenger

6 O enemy, destructions are finished forever!
And you have destroyed cities;
Even their memory has perished.
7 But the LORD shall endure forever;
He has prepared His throne for judgment.
8 He shall judge the world in righteousness,
And He shall administer judgment for the peoples in uprightness.

9 The LORD also will be a refuge for the oppressed,
A refuge in times of trouble.
10 And those who know Your name will put their trust in You;
For You, LORD, have not forsaken those who seek You.

11 Sing praises to the LORD, who dwells in Zion!
Declare His deeds among the people.
12 When He avenges blood, He remembers
them;
He does not forget the cry of the humble.

13 Have mercy on me, O LORD!
Consider my trouble from those who hate
me,
You who lift me up from the gates of death,

From Garbage Dump to City Center

14 That I may tell of all Your praise
In the gates of the daughter of Zion.
I will rejoice in Your salvation.

15 The nations have sunk down in the pit which they made;
In the net which they hid, their own foot is caught.
16 The LORD is known by the judgment He executes;
The wicked is snared in the work of his own hands.
Meditation.[b] Selah

17 The wicked shall be turned into hell,

And all the nations that forget God.
18For the needy shall not always be forgotten;
The expectation of the poor shall not perish
forever.

19Arise, O LORD,
Do not let man prevail;
Let the nations be judged in Your sight.
20Put them in fear, O LORD,
That the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah

Psalm 10

A Song of Confidence in God's Triumph over Evil

[1]Why do You stand afar off, O LORD?
Why do You hide in times of trouble?
[2]The wicked in his pride persecutes the poor;
Let them be caught in the plots which they have devised.

[3]For the wicked boasts of his heart's desire;
He blesses the greedy and renounces the LORD.
[4]The wicked in his proud countenance does not seek God;
God is in none of his thoughts.

[5]His ways are always prospering;
Your judgments are far above, out of his sight;
As for all his enemies, he sneers at them.
[6]He has said in his heart, "I shall not be moved;
I shall never be in adversity."
[7]His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and oppression;
Under his tongue is trouble and iniquity.

[8]He sits in the lurking places of the villages;
In the secret places he murders the innocent;
His eyes are secretly fixed on the helpless.
[9]He lies in wait secretly, as a lion in his den;

He lies in wait to catch the poor;
He catches the poor when he draws him into his net.
10So he crouches, he lies low,
That the helpless may fall by his strength.
11He has said in his heart,
“God has forgotten;
He hides His face;
He will never see.”

12Arise, O LORD!
O God, lift up Your hand!
Do not forget the humble.
13Why do the wicked renounce God?
He has said in his heart,
“You will not require an account.”

14But You have seen, for You observe trouble and grief,
To repay it by Your hand.
The helpless commits himself to You;
You are the helper of the fatherless.
15Break the arm of the wicked and the evil man;
Seek out his wickedness until You find none.

16The LORD is King forever and ever;
The nations have perished out of His land.
17LORD, You have heard the desire of the humble;
You will prepare their heart;
You will cause Your ear to hear,
18To do justice to the fatherless and the oppressed,

That the man of the earth may oppress no more. Opposing Evil

Psalm 11

Faith in the LORD's Righteousness

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 In the LORD I put my trust;
How can you say to my soul,
"Flee as a bird to your mountain"?
2 For look! The wicked bend their bow,
They make ready their arrow on the string,
That they may shoot secretly at the upright
in heart.
3 If the foundations are destroyed,
What can the righteous do?

4 The LORD is in His holy temple,
The LORD's throne is in heaven;
His eyes behold,
His eyelids test the sons of men. Where Does God Live?
5 The LORD tests the righteous,
But the wicked and the one who loves violence His soul hates.
6 Upon the wicked He will rain coals;
Fire and brimstone and a burning wind
Shall be the portion of their cup.

7 For the LORD is righteous,
He loves righteousness;
His countenance beholds the upright.[a]

Psalm 12

Man's Treachery and God's Constancy

To the Chief Musician. On an eight-stringed harp.[a] A Psalm of David.

1 Help, LORD, for the godly man ceases!
For the faithful disappear from among the sons of men.
2 They speak idly everyone with his neighbor;
With flattering lips and a double heart they speak.

3 May the LORD cut off all flattering lips,
And the tongue that speaks proud things,
4 Who have said,
"With our tongue we will prevail;
Our lips are our own;
Who is lord over us?"

5 "For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy,
Now I will arise," says the LORD;
"I will set him in the safety for which he yearns." God Is a Support

6 The words of the LORD are pure words,
Like silver tried in a furnace of earth,
Purified seven times.
7 You shall keep them, O LORD,
You shall preserve them from this generation forever.

8The wicked prowl on every side,
When vileness is exalted among the sons of men.

Psalm 13

Trust in the Salvation of the LORD

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]How long, O LORD? Will You forget me
forever?
How long will You hide Your face from me?
[2]How long shall I take counsel in my soul,
Having sorrow in my heart daily?
How long will my enemy be exalted over me?

[3]Consider and hear me, O LORD my God;
Enlighten my eyes,
Lest I sleep the sleep of death;
[4]Lest my enemy say,
“I have prevailed against him”;
Lest those who trouble me rejoice when I am moved.

[5]But I have trusted in Your mercy;
My heart shall rejoice in Your salvation.
[6]I will sing to the LORD,
Because He has dealt bountifully with me.

Psalm 14

Folly of the Godless, and God's Final Triumph

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]The fool has said in his heart,
"There is no God."
They are corrupt,
They have done abominable works,
There is none who does good.

[2]The LORD looks down from heaven upon the children of men,
To see if there are any who understand, who seek God.
[3]They have all turned aside,
They have together become corrupt;
There is none who does good,
No, not one.

[4]Have all the workers of iniquity no
knowledge,
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
And do not call on the LORD?
[5]There they are in great fear,
For God is with the generation of the righteous.
[6]You shame the counsel of the poor,
But the LORD is his refuge.

[7]Oh, that the salvation of Israel would come out of Zion!

When the LORD brings back the captivity of
His people,
Let Jacob rejoice and Israel be glad.

Psalm 15

The Character of Those Who May Dwell with the LORD

A Psalm of David.

[1]LORD, who may abide in Your tabernacle?
Who may dwell in Your holy hill? An Inventory of Integrity

[2]He who walks uprightly,
And works righteousness,
And speaks the truth in his heart;
[3]He who does not backbite with his tongue,
Nor does evil to his neighbor,
Nor does he take up a reproach against his friend;
[4]In whose eyes a vile person is despised,
But he honors those who fear the LORD;
He who swears to his own hurt and does not change;
[5]He who does not put out his money at usury,
Nor does he take a bribe against the innocent.
He who does these things shall never be moved.

Psalm 16

The Hope of the Faithful, and the Messiah's Victory

A Michtam of David.

[1]Preserve me, O God, for in You I put my trust.

[2]O my soul, you have said to the LORD,
"You are my Lord,
My goodness is nothing apart from You."
[3]As for the saints who are on the earth,
"They are the excellent ones, in whom is all my delight."

[4]Their sorrows shall be multiplied who hasten after another god;
Their drink offerings of blood I will not offer,
Nor take up their names on my lips.

[5]O LORD, You are the portion of my inheritance and my cup;
You maintain my lot.
[6]The lines have fallen to me in pleasant
places;
Yes, I have a good inheritance.

[7]I will bless the LORD who has given me counsel;
My heart also instructs me in the night seasons.
[8]I have set the LORD always before me;

Because He is at my right hand I shall not be moved.

9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoices;
My flesh also will rest in hope.
10 For You will not leave my soul in Sheol,
Nor will You allow Your Holy One to see corruption. The Promise of the Resurrection
11 You will show me the path of life;
In Your presence is fullness of joy;
At Your right hand are pleasures forevermore.

Psalm 17

Prayer with Confidence in Final Salvation

A Prayer of David.

[1]Hear a just cause, O LORD,
Attend to my cry;
Give ear to my prayer which is not from deceitful lips.
[2]Let my vindication come from Your presence;
Let Your eyes look on the things that are upright.

[3]You have tested my heart;
You have visited me in the night;
You have tried me and have found nothing;
I have purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.
[4]Concerning the works of men,
By the word of Your lips,
I have kept away from the paths of the destroyer.
[5]Uphold my steps in Your paths,
That my footsteps may not slip.

[6]I have called upon You, for You will hear me, O God;
Incline Your ear to me, and hear my speech.
[7]Show Your marvelous lovingkindness by Your right hand,
O You who save those who trust in You
From those who rise up against them.

[8]Keep me as the apple of Your eye;
Hide me under the shadow of Your wings,
[9]From the wicked who oppress me,
From my deadly enemies who surround me.

[10]They have closed up their fat hearts;
With their mouths they speak proudly.
[11]They have now surrounded us in our steps;
They have set their eyes, crouching down to the earth,
[12]As a lion is eager to tear his prey,
And like a young lion lurking in secret places.

[13]Arise, O LORD,
Confront him, cast him down;
Deliver my life from the wicked with Your sword,
[14]With Your hand from men, O LORD,
From men of the world who have their portion in this life,
And whose belly You fill with Your hidden treasure.
They are satisfied with children,
And leave the rest of their possession for their babes.

[15]As for me, I will see Your face in righteousness;
I shall be satisfied when I awake in Your likeness.

Psalm 18

God the Sovereign Savior

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD, who spoke to the LORD the words of this song on the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul. And he said:

[1]I WILL love You, O LORD, my strength.
[2]The LORD is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer;
My God, my strength, in whom I will trust;
My shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold.
[3]I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised;
So shall I be saved from my enemies.

[4]The pangs of death surrounded me,
And the floods of ungodliness made me afraid.
[5]The sorrows of Sheol surrounded me;
The snares of death confronted me.
[6]In my distress I called upon the LORD,
And cried out to my God;
He heard my voice from His temple,
And my cry came before Him, even to His ears.

[7]Then the earth shook and trembled;
The foundations of the hills also quaked and were shaken,
Because He was angry.

8 Smoke went up from His nostrils,
And devouring fire from His mouth;
Coals were kindled by it.
9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down
With darkness under His feet.
10 And He rode upon a cherub, and flew;
He flew upon the wings of the wind.
11 He made darkness His secret place;
His canopy around Him was dark waters
And thick clouds of the skies.
12 From the brightness before Him,
His thick clouds passed with hailstones and coals of fire.

13 The LORD thundered from heaven,
And the Most High uttered His voice,
Hailstones and coals of fire.[a] 14 He sent out His arrows and scattered the foe,
Lightnings in abundance, and He vanquished
them.
15 Then the channels of the sea were seen,
The foundations of the world were uncovered
At Your rebuke, O LORD,
At the blast of the breath of Your nostrils.

16 He sent from above, He took me;
He drew me out of many waters.
17 He delivered me from my strong enemy,
From those who hated me,
For they were too strong for me.
18 They confronted me in the day of my calamity,

But the LORD was my support.
19He also brought me out into a broad place;
He delivered me because He delighted in me.

20The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;
According to the cleanness of my hands
He has recompensed me.
21For I have kept the ways of the LORD,
And have not wickedly departed from my God.
22For all His judgments were before me,
And I did not put away His statutes from me.
23I was also blameless before Him,
And I kept myself from my iniquity.
24Therefore the LORD has recompensed me according to my righteousness,
According to the cleanness of my hands in His sight.

25With the merciful You will show Yourself merciful;
With a blameless man You will show Yourself blameless;
26With the pure You will show Yourself pure;
And with the devious You will show Yourself shrewd.
27For You will save the humble people,
But will bring down haughty looks.

28For You will light my lamp;
The LORD my God will enlighten my darkness.
29For by You I can run against a troop,

By my God I can leap over a wall.
30 As for God, His way is perfect;
The word of the LORD is proven;
He is a shield to all who trust in Him.

31 For who is God, except the LORD?
And who is a rock, except our God?
32 It is God who arms me with strength,
And makes my way perfect.
33 He makes my feet like the feet of deer,
And sets me on my high places.
34 He teaches my hands to make war,
So that my arms can bend a bow of bronze.

35 You have also given me the shield of Your salvation;
Your right hand has held me up,
Your gentleness has made me great.
36 You enlarged my path under me,
So my feet did not slip.

37 I have pursued my enemies and overtaken
them;
Neither did I turn back again till they were destroyed.
38 I have wounded them,
So that they could not rise;
They have fallen under my feet.
39 For You have armed me with strength for the battle;
You have subdued under me those who rose up against me.
40 You have also given me the necks of my
enemies,
So that I destroyed those who hated me.

41 They cried out, but there was none to save;
Even to the LORD, but He did not answer them.
42 Then I beat them as fine as the dust before the wind;
I cast them out like dirt in the streets.

43 You have delivered me from the strivings of the people;
You have made me the head of the nations;
A people I have not known shall serve me.

Making God Known

44 As soon as they hear of me they obey me;
The foreigners submit to me.
45 The foreigners fade away,
And come frightened from their hideouts.

46 The LORD lives!
Blessed be my Rock!
Let the God of my salvation be exalted.
47 It is God who avenges me,
And subdues the peoples under me;
48 He delivers me from my enemies.
You also lift me up above those who rise against me;
You have delivered me from the violent man.
49 Therefore I will give thanks to You, O LORD, among the Gentiles,
And sing praises to Your name.

50 Great deliverance He gives to His king,
And shows mercy to His anointed,
To David and his descendants forevermore.

Psalm 19

The Perfect Revelation of the LORD

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 The heavens declare the glory of God;
And the firmament shows His handiwork.

God's Self-Disclosure

2 Day unto day utters speech,
And night unto night reveals knowledge.
3 There is no speech nor language
Where their voice is not heard.
4 Their line[a] has gone out through all the earth,
And their words to the end of the world.
In them He has set a tabernacle for the sun,
5 Which is like a bridegroom coming out of his chamber,
And rejoices like a strong man to run its race.
6 Its rising is from one end of heaven,
And its circuit to the other end;
And there is nothing hidden from its heat.

7 The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul;
The testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple;
8 The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart;
The commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes;

9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring
forever;
The judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether.
10 More to be desired are they than gold,
Yea, than much fine gold;
Sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.
11 Moreover by them Your servant is warned,
And in keeping them there is great reward.

12 Who can understand his errors?
Cleanse me from secret faults.
13 Keep back Your servant also from presumptuous sins;
Let them not have dominion over me.
Then I shall be blameless,
And I shall be innocent of great transgression.

14 Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart
Be acceptable in Your sight,
O LORD, my strength and my Redeemer.

Psalm 20

The Assurance of God's Saving Work

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]May the LORD answer you in the day of
trouble;
May the name of the God of Jacob defend
you;
[2]May He send you help from the sanctuary,
And strengthen you out of Zion;
[3]May He remember all your offerings,
And accept your burnt sacrifice. Selah

[4]May He grant you according to your heart's desire,
And fulfill all your purpose.
[5]We will rejoice in your salvation,
And in the name of our God we will set up our banners!
May the LORD fulfill all your petitions.

[6]Now I know that the LORD saves His anointed;
He will answer him from His holy heaven
With the saving strength of His right hand.

[7]Some trust in chariots, and some in horses;
But we will remember the name of the LORD our God.
[8]They have bowed down and fallen;
But we have risen and stand upright.

9 Save, LORD!
May the King answer us when we call.

Psalm 21

Joy in the Salvation of the LORD

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]The king shall have joy in Your strength, O LORD;
And in Your salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!
[2]You have given him his heart's desire,
And have not withheld the request of his lips. Selah

[3]For You meet him with the blessings of goodness;
You set a crown of pure gold upon his head.
[4]He asked life from You, and You gave it to him—
Length of days forever and ever.
[5]His glory is great in Your salvation;
Honor and majesty You have placed upon him.
[6]For You have made him most blessed forever;
You have made him exceedingly glad with Your presence.
[7]For the king trusts in the LORD,
And through the mercy of the Most High he shall not be moved.

[8]Your hand will find all Your enemies;
Your right hand will find those who hate You.

9 You shall make them as a fiery oven in the time of Your anger;
The LORD shall swallow them up in His
wrath,
And the fire shall devour them.
10 Their offspring You shall destroy from the
earth,
And their descendants from among the sons
of men.
11 For they intended evil against You;
They devised a plot which they are not able to perform.
12 Therefore You will make them turn their back;
You will make ready Your arrows on Your string toward their faces.

13 Be exalted, O LORD, in Your own strength!
We will sing and praise Your power.

Psalm 22

The Suffering, Praise, and Posterity of the Messiah

To the Chief Musician. Set to "The Deer of the Dawn."[a] A Psalm of David.

[1]My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?
Why are You so far from helping Me,
And from the words of My groaning? Anticipating Christ

[2]O My God, I cry in the daytime, but You do not hear;
And in the night season, and am not silent.

[3]But You are holy,
Enthroned in the praises of Israel.
[4]Our fathers trusted in You;
They trusted, and You delivered them.
[5]They cried to You, and were delivered;
They trusted in You, and were not ashamed.

[6]But I am a worm, and no man;
A reproach of men, and despised by the people.
[7]All those who see Me ridicule Me;
They shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,
[8]"He trusted[b] in the LORD, let Him rescue Him;
Let Him deliver Him, since He delights in Him!"

9 But You are He who took Me out of the womb;
You made Me trust while on My mother's breasts.
10 I was cast upon You from birth.
From My mother's womb
You have been My God.
11 Be not far from Me,
For trouble is near;
For there is none to help.

12 Many bulls have surrounded Me;
Strong bulls of Bashan have encircled Me.
13 They gape at Me with their mouths,
Like a raging and roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water,
And all My bones are out of joint;
My heart is like wax;
It has melted within Me.
15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd,
And My tongue clings to My jaws;
You have brought Me to the dust of death.

16 For dogs have surrounded Me;
The congregation of the wicked has enclosed
Me.
They pierced[c] My hands and My feet;
17 I can count all My bones.
They look and stare at Me.
18 They divide My garments among them,
And for My clothing they cast lots.

19 But You, O LORD, do not be far from Me;
O My Strength, hasten to help Me!

20 Deliver Me from the sword,
My precious life from the power of the dog.
21 Save Me from the lion's mouth
And from the horns of the wild oxen!
You have answered Me.

22 I will declare Your name to My brethren;
In the midst of the assembly I will praise
You.
23 You who fear the LORD, praise Him!
All you descendants of Jacob, glorify Him,
And fear Him, all you offspring of Israel!
24 For He has not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted;
Nor has He hidden His face from Him;
But when He cried to Him, He heard.

25 My praise shall be of You in the great assembly;
I will pay My vows before those who fear
Him.
26 The poor shall eat and be satisfied;
Those who seek Him will praise the LORD.
Let your heart live forever!

27 All the ends of the world
Shall remember and turn to the LORD,
And all the families of the nations
Shall worship before You.[d] Despair Turns to Praise
28 For the kingdom is the LORD's,
And He rules over the nations.

29 All the prosperous of the earth
Shall eat and worship;
All those who go down to the dust

Shall bow before Him,
Even he who cannot keep himself alive.

30 A posterity shall serve Him.
It will be recounted of the Lord to the next generation, 31 They will come and declare His righteousness to a people who will be born,
That He has done this.

Psalm 23

The LORD the Shepherd of His People

A Psalm of David.

1 The LORD is my shepherd;
I shall not want. God the Shepherd
2 He makes me to lie down in green pastures;
He leads me beside the still waters.
3 He restores my soul;
He leads me in the paths of righteousness
For His name's sake.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil;
For You are with me;
Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me.

5 You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies;
You anoint my head with oil;
My cup runs over.
6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
All the days of my life;
And I will dwell[a] in the house of the LORD
Forever.

Psalm 24

The King of Glory and His Kingdom

A Psalm of David.

1 The earth is the LORD’s, and all its fullness,
The world and those who dwell therein. Lord of the City
2 For He has founded it upon the seas,
And established it upon the waters.

3 Who may ascend into the hill of the LORD?
Or who may stand in His holy place?
4 He who has clean hands and a pure heart,
Who has not lifted up his soul to an idol,
Nor sworn deceitfully.
5 He shall receive blessing from the LORD,
And righteousness from the God of his salvation.
6 This is Jacob, the generation of those who seek Him,
Who seek Your face. Selah

7 Lift up your heads, O you gates!
And be lifted up, you everlasting doors!
And the King of glory shall come in.
8 Who is this King of glory?
The LORD strong and mighty,
The LORD mighty in battle.
9 Lift up your heads, O you gates!
Lift up, you everlasting doors!
And the King of glory shall come in.
10 Who is this King of glory?

The LORD of hosts,
He is the King of glory. Selah

Psalm 25

A Plea for Deliverance and Forgiveness

A Psalm of David.

[1]To You, O LORD, I lift up my soul.
[2]O my God, I trust in You;
Let me not be ashamed;
Let not my enemies triumph over me.
[3]Indeed, let no one who waits on You be ashamed;
Let those be ashamed who deal treacherously without cause.

[4]Show me Your ways, O LORD;
Teach me Your paths.
[5]Lead me in Your truth and teach me,
For You are the God of my salvation;
On You I wait all the day.

[6]Remember, O LORD, Your tender mercies and Your lovingkindnesses,
For they are from of old.
[7]Do not remember the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions;
According to Your mercy remember me,
For Your goodness' sake, O LORD.

[8]Good and upright is the LORD;
Therefore He teaches sinners in the way.
[9]The humble He guides in justice,
And the humble He teaches His way.

10 All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth,
To such as keep His covenant and His testimonies.
11 For Your name's sake, O LORD,
Pardon my iniquity, for it is great.

12 Who is the man that fears the LORD?
Him shall He[a] teach in the way He[b] chooses.
13 He himself shall dwell in prosperity,
And his descendants shall inherit the earth.
14 The secret of the LORD is with those who fear Him,
And He will show them His covenant.
15 My eyes are ever toward the LORD,
For He shall pluck my feet out of the net.

16 Turn Yourself to me, and have mercy on me,
For I am desolate and afflicted.
17 The troubles of my heart have enlarged;
Bring me out of my distresses!
18 Look on my affliction and my pain,
And forgive all my sins.
19 Consider my enemies, for they are many;
And they hate me with cruel hatred.
20 Keep my soul, and deliver me;
Let me not be ashamed, for I put my trust in You.
21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me,
For I wait for You.

22 Redeem Israel, O God,
Out of all their troubles!

Psalm 26

A Prayer for Divine Scrutiny and Redemption

A Psalm of David.

[1]Vindicate me, O LORD,
For I have walked in my integrity.
I have also trusted in the LORD;
I shall not slip.
[2]Examine me, O LORD, and prove me;
Try my mind and my heart.
[3]For Your lovingkindness is before my eyes,
And I have walked in Your truth.
[4]I have not sat with idolatrous mortals,
Nor will I go in with hypocrites.
[5]I have hated the assembly of evildoers,
And will not sit with the wicked.

[6]I will wash my hands in innocence;
So I will go about Your altar, O LORD,
[7]That I may proclaim with the voice of thanksgiving,
And tell of all Your wondrous works.
[8]LORD, I have loved the habitation of Your house,
And the place where Your glory dwells.

[9]Do not gather my soul with sinners,
Nor my life with bloodthirsty men,
[10]In whose hands is a sinister scheme,
And whose right hand is full of bribes.

[11]But as for me, I will walk in my integrity;

Redeem me and be merciful to me.
12My foot stands in an even place;
In the congregations I will bless the LORD.

Psalm 27

An Exuberant Declaration of Faith

A Psalm of David.

[1]The LORD is my light and my salvation;
Whom shall I fear?
The LORD is the strength of my life;
Of whom shall I be afraid?
[2]When the wicked came against me
To eat up my flesh,
My enemies and foes,
They stumbled and fell.
[3]Though an army may encamp against me,
My heart shall not fear;
Though war may rise against me,
In this I will be confident.

[4]One thing I have desired of the LORD,
That will I seek:
That I may dwell in the house of the LORD
All the days of my life,
To behold the beauty of the LORD,
And to inquire in His temple.
[5]For in the time of trouble
He shall hide me in His pavilion;
In the secret place of His tabernacle
He shall hide me;
He shall set me high upon a rock.

[6]And now my head shall be lifted up above
my enemies all around me;

Therefore I will offer sacrifices of joy in His tabernacle;
I will sing, yes, I will sing praises to the LORD.

7 Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice!
Have mercy also upon me, and answer me.
8 When You said, "Seek My face,"
My heart said to You, "Your face, LORD, I will seek."
9 Do not hide Your face from me;
Do not turn Your servant away in anger;
You have been my help;
Do not leave me nor forsake me,
O God of my salvation.
10 When my father and my mother forsake me,
Then the LORD will take care of me.

11 Teach me Your way, O LORD,
And lead me in a smooth path, because of my enemies.
12 Do not deliver me to the will of my adversaries;
For false witnesses have risen against me,
And such as breathe out violence.
13 I would have lost heart, unless I had believed That I would see the goodness of the LORD
In the land of the living.

14 Wait on the LORD;
Be of good courage,
And He shall strengthen your heart;
Wait, I say, on the LORD!

Psalm 28

Rejoicing in Answered Prayer

A Psalm of David.

[1]To You I will cry, O LORD my Rock:
Do not be silent to me,
Lest, if You are silent to me,
I become like those who go down to the pit.
[2]Hear the voice of my supplications
When I cry to You,
When I lift up my hands toward Your holy sanctuary.

[3]Do not take me away with the wicked
And with the workers of iniquity,
Who speak peace to their neighbors,
But evil is in their hearts.
[4]Give them according to their deeds,
And according to the wickedness of their endeavors;
Give them according to the work of their hands;
Render to them what they deserve.
[5]Because they do not regard the works of the LORD,
Nor the operation of His hands,
He shall destroy them
And not build them up.

[6]Blessed be the LORD,
Because He has heard the voice of my supplications!

7 The LORD is my strength and my shield;
My heart trusted in Him, and I am helped;
Therefore my heart greatly rejoices,
And with my song I will praise Him.

8 The LORD is their strength,[a]
And He is the saving refuge of His anointed.
9 Save Your people,
And bless Your inheritance;
Shepherd them also,
And bear them up forever.

Psalm 29

Praise to God in His Holiness and Majesty

A Psalm of David.

1 Give unto the LORD, O you mighty ones,
Give unto the LORD glory and strength.
2 Give unto the LORD the glory due to His
name;
Worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.

3 The voice of the LORD is over the waters;
The God of glory thunders;
The LORD is over many waters. The Lord's Voice in Creation
4 The voice of the LORD is powerful;
The voice of the LORD is full of majesty.

5 The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars, Yes, the LORD splinters the cedars of Lebanon.
6 He makes them also skip like a calf,
Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild ox.
7 The voice of the LORD divides the flames of fire.

8 The voice of the LORD shakes the
wilderness;
The LORD shakes the Wilderness of Kadesh.
9 The voice of the LORD makes the deer give birth,
And strips the forests bare;
And in His temple everyone says, "Glory!"

10 The LORD sat enthroned at the Flood,
And the LORD sits as King forever.
11 The LORD will give strength to His people;
The LORD will bless His people with peace.

Psalm 30

The Blessedness of Answered Prayer

A Psalm. A Song at the dedication of the house of David.

[1]I WILL extol You, O LORD, for You have lifted me up,
And have not let my foes rejoice over me.
[2]O LORD my God, I cried out to You,
And You healed me.
[3]O LORD, You brought my soul up from the grave;
You have kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.[a]

[4]Sing praise to the LORD, you saints of His,
And give thanks at the remembrance of His holy name.[b]
[5]For His anger is but for a moment,
His favor is for life;
Weeping may endure for a night,
But joy comes in the morning.

[6]Now in my prosperity I said,
"I shall never be moved."
[7]LORD, by Your favor You have made my mountain stand strong;
You hid Your face, and I was troubled.

[8]I cried out to You, O LORD;
And to the LORD I made supplication:
[9]"What profit is there in my blood,
When I go down to the pit?

Will the dust praise You?
Will it declare Your truth?
10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy on me;
LORD, be my helper!”

11 You have turned for me my mourning into dancing;
You have put off my sackcloth and clothed me with gladness,
12 To the end that my glory may sing praise to You and not be silent.
O LORD my God, I will give thanks to You
forever.

Psalm 31

The LORD a Fortress in Adversity

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]In You, O LORD, I put my trust;
Let me never be ashamed;
Deliver me in Your righteousness.
[2]Bow down Your ear to me,
Deliver me speedily;
Be my rock of refuge,
A fortress of defense to save me.

[3]For You are my rock and my fortress;
Therefore, for Your name's sake,
Lead me and guide me.
[4]Pull me out of the net which they have secretly laid for me,
For You are my strength.
[5]Into Your hand I commit my spirit;
You have redeemed me, O LORD God of truth.

[6]I have hated those who regard useless idols;
But I trust in the LORD.
[7]I will be glad and rejoice in Your mercy,
For You have considered my trouble;
You have known my soul in adversities,
[8]And have not shut me up into the hand of the enemy;
You have set my feet in a wide place.

9 Have mercy on me, O LORD, for I am in
trouble;
My eye wastes away with grief,
Yes, my soul and my body!
10 For my life is spent with grief,
And my years with sighing;
My strength fails because of my iniquity,
And my bones waste away.
11 I am a reproach among all my enemies,
But especially among my neighbors,
And am repulsive to my acquaintances;
Those who see me outside flee from me.
12 I am forgotten like a dead man, out of mind;
I am like a broken vessel.
13 For I hear the slander of many;
Fear is on every side;
While they take counsel together against
me,
They scheme to take away my life.

14 But as for me, I trust in You, O LORD;
I say, “You are my God.”
15 My times are in Your hand;
Deliver me from the hand of my enemies,
And from those who persecute me.
16 Make Your face shine upon Your servant;
Save me for Your mercies’ sake.
17 Do not let me be ashamed, O LORD, for I have called upon You;
Let the wicked be ashamed;
Let them be silent in the grave.
18 Let the lying lips be put to silence,

Which speak insolent things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous.

19 Oh, how great is Your goodness,
Which You have laid up for those who fear
You,
Which You have prepared for those who trust in You
In the presence of the sons of men!
20 You shall hide them in the secret place of Your presence
From the plots of man;
You shall keep them secretly in a pavilion
From the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the LORD,
For He has shown me His marvelous kindness in a strong city!
22 For I said in my haste,
"I am cut off from before Your eyes";
Nevertheless You heard the voice of my supplications
When I cried out to You.

23 Oh, love the LORD, all you His saints!
For the LORD preserves the faithful,
And fully repays the proud person.
24 Be of good courage,
And He shall strengthen your heart,
All you who hope in the LORD.

Psalm 32

The Joy of Forgiveness

A Psalm of David. A Contemplation.[a]

1 Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven,
Whose sin is covered.
2 Blessed is the man to whom the LORD does not impute iniquity,
And in whose spirit there is no deceit.

3 When I kept silent, my bones grew old
Through my groaning all the day long.
4 For day and night Your hand was heavy upon me;
My vitality was turned into the drought of summer. Selah
5 I acknowledged my sin to You,
And my iniquity I have not hidden.
I said, "I will confess my transgressions to
the LORD,"
And You forgave the iniquity of my sin. Selah

6 For this cause everyone who is godly shall pray to You
In a time when You may be found;
Surely in a flood of great waters
They shall not come near him.
7 You are my hiding place;
You shall preserve me from trouble;
You shall surround me with songs of deliverance. Selah

[8]I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go;
I will guide you with My eye.
[9]Do not be like the horse or like the mule,
Which have no understanding,
Which must be harnessed with bit and bridle,
Else they will not come near you.

[10]Many sorrows shall be to the wicked;
But he who trusts in the LORD, mercy shall surround him.
[11]Be glad in the LORD and rejoice, you
righteous;
And shout for joy, all you upright in heart!

Psalm 33

The Sovereignty of the LORD in Creation and History

1 Rejoice in the LORD, O you righteous!
For praise from the upright is beautiful.
2 Praise the LORD with the harp;
Make melody to Him with an instrument of ten strings.
3 Sing to Him a new song;
Play skillfully with a shout of joy.

4 For the word of the LORD is right,
And all His work is done in truth.
5 He loves righteousness and justice;
The earth is full of the goodness of the LORD.

6 By the word of the LORD the heavens were made,
And all the host of them by the breath of His mouth.
7 He gathers the waters of the sea together as a heap;[a]
He lays up the deep in storehouses.

8 Let all the earth fear the LORD;
Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of Him.
9 For He spoke, and it was done;
He commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The LORD brings the counsel of the nations to nothing;
He makes the plans of the peoples of no effect. The Art of Godly Planning
11 The counsel of the LORD stands forever,
The plans of His heart to all generations.
12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the
LORD,
The people He has chosen as His own inheritance.

13 The LORD looks from heaven;
He sees all the sons of men.
14 From the place of His dwelling He looks
On all the inhabitants of the earth;
15 He fashions their hearts individually;
He considers all their works. You Are Unique

16 No king is saved by the multitude of an army;
A mighty man is not delivered by great
strength.
17 A horse is a vain hope for safety;
Neither shall it deliver any by its great strength.

18 Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear Him,
On those who hope in His mercy,
19 To deliver their soul from death,
And to keep them alive in famine.

20 Our soul waits for the LORD;
He is our help and our shield.

21For our heart shall rejoice in Him,
Because we have trusted in His holy name.
22Let Your mercy, O LORD, be upon us,
Just as we hope in You.

Psalm 34

The Happiness of Those Who Trust in God

A Psalm of David when he pretended madness before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

[1]I WILL bless the LORD at all times;
His praise shall continually be in my mouth.
[2]My soul shall make its boast in the LORD;
The humble shall hear of it and be glad.
[3]Oh, magnify the LORD with me,
And let us exalt His name together.

[4]I sought the LORD, and He heard me,
And delivered me from all my fears.
[5]They looked to Him and were radiant,
And their faces were not ashamed.
[6]This poor man cried out, and the LORD heard him,
And saved him out of all his troubles.
[7]The angel[a] of the LORD encamps all around those who fear Him,
And delivers them.

[8]Oh, taste and see that the LORD is good;
Blessed is the man who trusts in Him!
[9]Oh, fear the LORD, you His saints!
There is no want to those who fear Him.
[10]The young lions lack and suffer hunger;
But those who seek the LORD shall not lack any good thing.

[11]Come, you children, listen to me;

I will teach you the fear of the LORD.
12 Who is the man who desires life,
And loves many days, that he may see good?
13 Keep your tongue from evil,
And your lips from speaking deceit.
14 Depart from evil and do good;
Seek peace and pursue it.

15 The eyes of the LORD are on the
righteous,
And His ears are open to their cry.
16 The face of the LORD is against those who do evil,
To cut off the remembrance of them from the
earth.

17 The righteous cry out, and the LORD hears,
And delivers them out of all their troubles.
18 The LORD is near to those who have a broken heart,
And saves such as have a contrite spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous,
But the LORD delivers him out of them all.
20 He guards all his bones;
Not one of them is broken.
21 Evil shall slay the wicked,
And those who hate the righteous shall be condemned.
22 The LORD redeems the soul of His
servants,
And none of those who trust in Him shall be condemned.

Psalm 35

The LORD the Avenger of His People

A Psalm of David.

1 Plead my cause, O LORD, with those who strive with me;
Fight against those who fight against me.
2 Take hold of shield and buckler,
And stand up for my help.
3 Also draw out the spear,
And stop those who pursue me.
Say to my soul,
"I am your salvation."

4 Let those be put to shame and brought to dishonor
Who seek after my life;
Let those be turned back and brought to confusion
Who plot my hurt.
5 Let them be like chaff before the wind,
And let the angel[a] of the LORD chase them.
6 Let their way be dark and slippery,
And let the angel of the LORD pursue them.
7 For without cause they have hidden their net for me in a pit,
Which they have dug without cause for my
life.
8 Let destruction come upon him unexpectedly,
And let his net that he has hidden catch
himself;

Into that very destruction let him fall.

9And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD;
It shall rejoice in His salvation.
10All my bones shall say,
"LORD, who is like You,
Delivering the poor from him who is too strong for him,
Yes, the poor and the needy from him who plunders him?" Protecting the Poor

11Fierce witnesses rise up;
They ask me things that I do not know.
12They reward me evil for good,
To the sorrow of my soul.
13But as for me, when they were sick,
My clothing was sackcloth;
I humbled myself with fasting;
And my prayer would return to my own heart.
14I paced about as though he were my friend or brother;
I bowed down heavily, as one who mourns for his mother.

15But in my adversity they rejoiced
And gathered together;
Attackers gathered against me,
And I did not know it;
They tore at me and did not cease;
16With ungodly mockers at feasts
They gnashed at me with their teeth.

17Lord, how long will You look on?
Rescue me from their destructions,

My precious life from the lions.
18 I will give You thanks in the great assembly;
I will praise You among many people.

19 Let them not rejoice over me who are wrongfully my enemies;
Nor let them wink with the eye who hate me without a cause.
20 For they do not speak peace,
But they devise deceitful matters
Against the quiet ones in the land.
21 They also opened their mouth wide against me,
And said, "Aha, aha!
Our eyes have seen it."

22 This You have seen, O LORD;
Do not keep silence.
O Lord, do not be far from me.
23 Stir up Yourself, and awake to my vindication,
To my cause, my God and my Lord.
24 Vindicate me, O LORD my God, according to Your righteousness;
And let them not rejoice over me.
25 Let them not say in their hearts, "Ah, so we would have it!"
Let them not say, "We have swallowed him up."

26 Let them be ashamed and brought to mutual confusion
Who rejoice at my hurt;

Let them be clothed with shame and
dishonor
Who exalt themselves against me.

27 Let them shout for joy and be glad,
Who favor my righteous cause;
And let them say continually,
“Let the LORD be magnified,
Who has pleasure in the prosperity of His servant.”
28 And my tongue shall speak of Your
righteousness
And of Your praise all the day long.

Psalm 36

Man's Wickedness and God's Perfections

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD.

[1]An oracle within my heart concerning the transgression of the wicked:
There is no fear of God before his eyes.
[2]For he flatters himself in his own eyes,
When he finds out his iniquity and when he hates.
[3]The words of his mouth are wickedness and deceit;
He has ceased to be wise and to do good.
[4]He devises wickedness on his bed;
He sets himself in a way that is not good;
He does not abhor evil.

[5]Your mercy, O LORD, is in the heavens;
Your faithfulness reaches to the clouds.
[6]Your righteousness is like the great mountains;
Your judgments are a great deep;
O LORD, You preserve man and beast.

[7]How precious is Your lovingkindness, O God!
Therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of Your wings.
[8]They are abundantly satisfied with the fullness of Your house,

And You give them drink from the river of Your pleasures.
9For with You is the fountain of life;
In Your light we see light.

10Oh, continue Your lovingkindness to those who know You,
And Your righteousness to the upright in
heart.
11Let not the foot of pride come against me,
And let not the hand of the wicked drive me
away.
12There the workers of iniquity have fallen;
They have been cast down and are not able to rise.

Psalm 37

The Heritage of the Righteous and the Calamity of the Wicked

A Psalm of David.

[1]Do not fret because of evildoers,
Nor be envious of the workers of iniquity.
[2]For they shall soon be cut down like the grass,
And wither as the green herb.

[3]Trust in the LORD, and do good;
Dwell in the land, and feed on His faithfulness.
[4]Delight yourself also in the LORD,
And He shall give you the desires of your heart.

[5]Commit your way to the LORD,
Trust also in Him,
And He shall bring it to pass.
[6]He shall bring forth your righteousness as the light,
And your justice as the noonday.

[7]Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for Him;
Do not fret because of him who prospers in his way,
Because of the man who brings wicked schemes to pass.
[8]Cease from anger, and forsake wrath;

Do not fret—it only causes harm.

9For evildoers shall be cut off;
But those who wait on the LORD,
They shall inherit the earth.
10For yet a little while and the wicked shall be no more;
Indeed, you will look carefully for his place,
But it shall be no more.
11But the meek shall inherit the earth,
And shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

12The wicked plots against the just,
And gnashes at him with his teeth.
13The Lord laughs at him,
For He sees that his day is coming.
14The wicked have drawn the sword
And have bent their bow,
To cast down the poor and needy,
To slay those who are of upright conduct.
15Their sword shall enter their own heart,
And their bows shall be broken.

16A little that a righteous man has
Is better than the riches of many wicked.
17For the arms of the wicked shall be broken,
But the LORD upholds the righteous.

18The LORD knows the days of the upright,
And their inheritance shall be forever.
19They shall not be ashamed in the evil time,
And in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.

20 But the wicked shall perish;
And the enemies of the LORD,
Like the splendor of the meadows, shall vanish.
Into smoke they shall vanish away.

21 The wicked borrows and does not repay,
But the righteous shows mercy and gives.
22 For those blessed by Him shall inherit the earth,
But those cursed by Him shall be cut off.

23 The steps of a good man are ordered by the LORD,
And He delights in his way.
24 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down;
For the LORD upholds him with His hand.

25 I have been young, and now am old;
Yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken,
Nor his descendants begging bread. The Benefits of Righteous Living
26 He is ever merciful, and lends;
And his descendants are blessed.

27 Depart from evil, and do good;
And dwell forevermore. Ethics and Character in Psalms
28 For the LORD loves justice,
And does not forsake His saints;
They are preserved forever,
But the descendants of the wicked shall be cut off.
29 The righteous shall inherit the land,
And dwell in it forever.

30 The mouth of the righteous speaks
wisdom,
And his tongue talks of justice.
31 The law of his God is in his heart;
None of his steps shall slide.

32 The wicked watches the righteous,
And seeks to slay him.
33 The LORD will not leave him in his hand,
Nor condemn him when he is judged.

34 Wait on the LORD,
And keep His way,
And He shall exalt you to inherit the land;
When the wicked are cut off, you shall see it.
35 I have seen the wicked in great power,
And spreading himself like a native green
tree.
36 Yet he passed away,[a] and behold, he was no more;
Indeed I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 Mark the blameless man, and observe the upright;
For the future of that man is peace.
38 But the transgressors shall be destroyed
together;
The future of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the salvation of the righteous is from
the LORD;
He is their strength in the time of trouble.
40 And the LORD shall help them and deliver
them;

He shall deliver them from the wicked,
And save them,
Because they trust in Him.

Psalm 38

Prayer in Time of Chastening

A Psalm of David. To bring to remembrance.

1 O LORD, do not rebuke me in Your wrath,
Nor chasten me in Your hot displeasure!
2 For Your arrows pierce me deeply,
And Your hand presses me down.

3 There is no soundness in my flesh
Because of Your anger,
Nor any health in my bones
Because of my sin.
4 For my iniquities have gone over my head;
Like a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.
5 My wounds are foul and festering
Because of my foolishness.

6 I am troubled, I am bowed down greatly;
I go mourning all the day long.
7 For my loins are full of inflammation,
And there is no soundness in my flesh.
8 I am feeble and severely broken;
I groan because of the turmoil of my heart.

9 Lord, all my desire is before You;
And my sighing is not hidden from You.
10 My heart pants, my strength fails me;
As for the light of my eyes, it also has gone from me.

11 My loved ones and my friends stand aloof from my plague,
And my relatives stand afar off.
12 Those also who seek my life lay snares for
me;
Those who seek my hurt speak of
destruction,
And plan deception all the day long.

13 But I, like a deaf man, do not hear;
And I am like a mute who does not open his
mouth.
14 Thus I am like a man who does not hear,
And in whose mouth is no response.

15 For in You, O LORD, I hope;
You will hear, O Lord my God.
16 For I said, "Hear me, lest they rejoice over
me,
Lest, when my foot slips, they exalt themselves against me."

17 For I am ready to fall,
And my sorrow is continually before me.
18 For I will declare my iniquity;
I will be in anguish over my sin.
19 But my enemies are vigorous, and they are strong;
And those who hate me wrongfully have multiplied.
20 Those also who render evil for good,
They are my adversaries, because I follow
what is good.

21 Do not forsake me, O LORD;

O my God, be not far from me!
22 Make haste to help me,
O Lord, my salvation!

Psalm 39

Prayer for Wisdom and Forgiveness

To the Chief Musician. To Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

1 I SAID, "I will guard my ways,
Lest I sin with my tongue;
I will restrain my mouth with a muzzle,
While the wicked are before me." Handling Our Words
2 I was mute with silence,
I held my peace even from good;
And my sorrow was stirred up.
3 My heart was hot within me;
While I was musing, the fire burned.
Then I spoke with my tongue:

4 "LORD, make me to know my end,
And what is the measure of my days,
That I may know how frail I am.
5 Indeed, You have made my days as handbreadths,
And my age is as nothing before You;
Certainly every man at his best state is but vapor. Selah
6 Surely every man walks about like a shadow;
Surely they busy themselves in vain;
He heaps up riches,
And does not know who will gather them.

7 "And now, Lord, what do I wait for?
My hope is in You.

[8]Deliver me from all my transgressions;
Do not make me the reproach of the foolish.
[9]I was mute, I did not open my mouth,
Because it was You who did it.
[10]Remove Your plague from me;
I am consumed by the blow of Your hand.
[11]When with rebukes You correct man for iniquity,
You make his beauty melt away like a moth;
Surely every man is vapor. Selah

[12]"Hear my prayer, O LORD,
And give ear to my cry;
Do not be silent at my tears;
For I am a stranger with You,
A sojourner, as all my fathers were.
[13]Remove Your gaze from me, that I may regain strength,
Before I go away and am no more."

Psalm 40

Faith Persevering in Trial

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]I WAITED patiently for the LORD;
And He inclined to me,
And heard my cry.
[2]He also brought me up out of a horrible pit,
Out of the miry clay,
And set my feet upon a rock,
And established my steps.
[3]He has put a new song in my mouth—
Praise to our God;
Many will see it and fear,
And will trust in the LORD.

[4]Blessed is that man who makes the LORD his trust,
And does not respect the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.
[5]Many, O LORD my God, are Your wonderful works
Which You have done;
And Your thoughts toward us
Cannot be recounted to You in order;
If I would declare and speak of them,
They are more than can be numbered.

[6]Sacrifice and offering You did not desire;
My ears You have opened.
Burnt offering and sin offering You did not require. Prophecies of the Coming Messiah

7 Then I said, “Behold, I come;
In the scroll of the book it is written of me.
8 I delight to do Your will, O my God,
And Your law is within my heart.”

9 I have proclaimed the good news of righteousness
In the great assembly;
Indeed, I do not restrain my lips,
O LORD, You Yourself know.
10 I have not hidden Your righteousness within my heart;
I have declared Your faithfulness and Your salvation;
I have not concealed Your lovingkindness and Your truth
From the great assembly.

11 Do not withhold Your tender mercies from me, O LORD;
Let Your lovingkindness and Your truth continually preserve me.
12 For innumerable evils have surrounded me;
My iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up;
They are more than the hairs of my head;
Therefore my heart fails me.

13 Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me;
O LORD, make haste to help me!
14 Let them be ashamed and brought to mutual confusion
Who seek to destroy my life;

Let them be driven backward and brought to dishonor
Who wish me evil.
15Let them be confounded because of their shame,
Who say to me, “Aha, aha!”

16Let all those who seek You rejoice and be glad in You;
Let such as love Your salvation say continually,
“The LORD be magnified!”
17But I am poor and needy;
Yet the LORD thinks upon me.
You are my help and my deliverer;
Do not delay, O my God.

Psalm 41

The Blessing and Suffering of the Godly

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]Blessed is he who considers the poor;
The LORD will deliver him in time of trouble.
[2]The LORD will preserve him and keep him alive,
And he will be blessed on the earth;
You will not deliver him to the will of his enemies.
[3]The LORD will strengthen him on his bed of illness;
You will sustain him on his sickbed.

[4]I said, "LORD, be merciful to me;
Heal my soul, for I have sinned against You."
[5]My enemies speak evil of me:
"When will he die, and his name perish?"
[6]And if he comes to see me, he speaks lies;
His heart gathers iniquity to itself;
When he goes out, he tells it.

[7]All who hate me whisper together against me;
Against me they devise my hurt.
[8]"An evil disease," they say, "clings to him.
And now that he lies down, he will rise up no more."
[9]Even my own familiar friend in whom I trusted,
Who ate my bread,

Has lifted up his heel against me.

10 But You, O LORD, be merciful to me, and raise me up,
That I may repay them.
11 By this I know that You are well pleased
with me,
Because my enemy does not triumph over
me.
12 As for me, You uphold me in my integrity,
And set me before Your face forever.

13 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel
From everlasting to everlasting!
Amen and Amen.

BOOK TWO

Psalms 42—72

Psalm 42

Yearning for God in the Midst of Distresses

To the Chief Musician. A Contemplation[a] of the sons of Korah.

1 As the deer pants for the water brooks,
So pants my soul for You, O God. Overcoming Family History
2 My soul thirsts for God, for the living God.
When shall I come and appear before God?[b]
3 My tears have been my food day and night,
While they continually say to me,
"Where is your God?"

4 When I remember these things,
I pour out my soul within me.
For I used to go with the multitude;
I went with them to the house of God,
With the voice of joy and praise,
With a multitude that kept a pilgrim feast.

5 Why are you cast down, O my soul?
And why are you disquieted within me?
Hope in God, for I shall yet praise Him
For the help of His countenance.[c]

6 O my God,[d] my soul is cast down within me;

Therefore I will remember You from the land of the Jordan,
And from the heights of Hermon,
From the Hill Mizar.
7 Deep calls unto deep at the noise of Your waterfalls;
All Your waves and billows have gone over
me.
8 The LORD will command His lovingkindness in the daytime,
And in the night His song shall be with me—
A prayer to the God of my life.

9 I will say to God my Rock,
"Why have You forgotten me?
Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?"
10 As with a breaking of my bones,
My enemies reproach me,
While they say to me all day long,
"Where is your God?"

11 Why are you cast down, O my soul?
And why are you disquieted within me?
Hope in God;
For I shall yet praise Him,
The help of my countenance and my God.

Psalm 43

Prayer to God in Time of Trouble

[1]Vindicate me, O God,
And plead my cause against an ungodly
nation;
Oh, deliver me from the deceitful and unjust
man!
[2]For You are the God of my strength;
Why do You cast me off?
Why do I go mourning because of the
oppression of the enemy?

[3]Oh, send out Your light and Your truth!
Let them lead me;
Let them bring me to Your holy hill
And to Your tabernacle.
[4]Then I will go to the altar of God,
To God my exceeding joy;
And on the harp I will praise You,
O God, my God.

[5]Why are you cast down, O my soul?
And why are you disquieted within me?
Hope in God;
For I shall yet praise Him,
The help of my countenance and my God.

Psalm 44

Redemption Remembered in Present Dishonor

To the Chief Musician. A Contemplation[a] of the sons of Korah.

1 We have heard with our ears, O God,
Our fathers have told us,
The deeds You did in their days,
In days of old:
2 You drove out the nations with Your hand,
But them You planted;
You afflicted the peoples, and cast them out.
3 For they did not gain possession of the land
by their own sword,
Nor did their own arm save them;
But it was Your right hand, Your arm, and the light of Your countenance,
Because You favored them.

4 You are my King, O God;[b]
Command[c] victories for Jacob.
5 Through You we will push down our
enemies;
Through Your name we will trample those who rise up against us.
6 For I will not trust in my bow,
Nor shall my sword save me.
7 But You have saved us from our enemies,
And have put to shame those who hated us.
8 In God we boast all day long,
And praise Your name forever. Selah

9 But You have cast us off and put us to shame,
And You do not go out with our armies.
10 You make us turn back from the enemy,
And those who hate us have taken spoil for themselves.
11 You have given us up like sheep intended for food,
And have scattered us among the nations.
12 You sell Your people for next to nothing,
And are not enriched by selling them.

13 You make us a reproach to our neighbors,
A scorn and a derision to those all around us.
14 You make us a byword among the nations,
A shaking of the head among the peoples.
15 My dishonor is continually before me,
And the shame of my face has covered me,
16 Because of the voice of him who reproaches and reviles,
Because of the enemy and the avenger.

17 All this has come upon us;
But we have not forgotten You,
Nor have we dealt falsely with Your covenant.
18 Our heart has not turned back,
Nor have our steps departed from Your way;
19 But You have severely broken us in the place of jackals,
And covered us with the shadow of death.

20 If we had forgotten the name of our God,
Or stretched out our hands to a foreign god,

21 Would not God search this out?
For He knows the secrets of the heart.
22 Yet for Your sake we are killed all day long;
We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

23 Awake! Why do You sleep, O Lord?
Arise! Do not cast us off forever.
24 Why do You hide Your face,
And forget our affliction and our oppression?
25 For our soul is bowed down to the dust;
Our body clings to the ground.
26 Arise for our help,
And redeem us for Your mercies' sake.

Psalm 45

The Glories of the Messiah and His Bride

To the Chief Musician. Set to “The Lilies.”[a] A Contemplation[b] of the sons of Korah. A Song of Love.

1 My heart is overflowing with a good theme;
I recite my composition concerning the King;
My tongue is the pen of a ready writer. A Writer’s and Artist’s Responsibility

2 You are fairer than the sons of men;
Grace is poured upon Your lips;
Therefore God has blessed You forever.
3 Gird Your sword upon Your thigh, O Mighty One,
With Your glory and Your majesty.
4 And in Your majesty ride prosperously because of truth, humility, and righteousness;
And Your right hand shall teach You awesome things.
5 Your arrows are sharp in the heart of the King’s enemies;
The peoples fall under You.

6 Your throne, O God, is forever and ever;
A scepter of righteousness is the scepter of Your kingdom.
7 You love righteousness and hate wickedness;
Therefore God, Your God, has anointed You

With the oil of gladness more than Your companions.
8All Your garments are scented with myrrh and aloes and cassia,
Out of the ivory palaces, by which they have made You glad.
9Kings' daughters are among Your honorable women;
At Your right hand stands the queen in gold from Ophir.

10Listen, O daughter,
Consider and incline your ear;
Forget your own people also, and your
father's house;
11So the King will greatly desire your beauty;
Because He is your Lord, worship Him.
12And the daughter of Tyre will come with a gift;
The rich among the people will seek your favor.

13The royal daughter is all glorious within the palace;
Her clothing is woven with gold.
14She shall be brought to the King in robes of many colors;
The virgins, her companions who follow her,
shall be brought to You.
15With gladness and rejoicing they shall be brought;
They shall enter the King's palace.

16Instead of Your fathers shall be Your sons,

Whom You shall make princes in all the
earth.
17 I will make Your name to be remembered in all generations;
Therefore the people shall praise You forever and ever.

Psalm 46

God the Refuge of His People and Conqueror of the Nations

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah. A Song for Alamoth.

[1]God is our refuge and strength,
A very present help in trouble.
[2]Therefore we will not fear,
Even though the earth be removed,
And though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea;
[3]Though its waters roar and be troubled,
Though the mountains shake with its swelling. Selah

[4]There is a river whose streams shall make glad the city of God,
The holy place of the tabernacle of the Most High.
[5]God is in the midst of her, she shall not be moved;
God shall help her, just at the break of dawn.
[6]The nations raged, the kingdoms were moved;
He uttered His voice, the earth melted.

[7]The LORD of hosts is with us;
The God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah

[8]Come, behold the works of the LORD,
Who has made desolations in the earth.

9 He makes wars cease to the end of the
earth;
He breaks the bow and cuts the spear in two;
He burns the chariot in the fire.

10 Be still, and know that I am God;
I will be exalted among the nations,
I will be exalted in the earth!

11 The LORD of hosts is with us;
The God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah

Psalm 47

Praise to God, the Ruler of the Earth

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

[1]Oh, clap your hands, all you peoples!
Shout to God with the voice of triumph!
[2]For the LORD Most High is awesome;
He is a great King over all the earth.
[3]He will subdue the peoples under us,
And the nations under our feet.
[4]He will choose our inheritance for us,
The excellence of Jacob whom He loves.
Selah

[5]God has gone up with a shout,
The LORD with the sound of a trumpet.
[6]Sing praises to God, sing praises!
Sing praises to our King, sing praises!
[7]For God is the King of all the earth;
Sing praises with understanding. God Rules All Nations

[8]God reigns over the nations;
God sits on His holy throne.
[9]The princes of the people have gathered together,
The people of the God of Abraham.
For the shields of the earth belong to God;
He is greatly exalted.

Psalm 48

The Glory of God in Zion

A Song. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

[1]Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised
In the city of our God,
In His holy mountain.
[2]Beautiful in elevation,
The joy of the whole earth,
Is Mount Zion on the sides of the north,
The city of the great King.
[3]God is in her palaces;
He is known as her refuge.

[4]For behold, the kings assembled,
They passed by together.
[5]They saw it, and so they marveled;
They were troubled, they hastened away.
[6]Fear took hold of them there,
And pain, as of a woman in birth pangs,
[7]As when You break the ships of Tarshish
With an east wind.

[8]As we have heard,
So we have seen
In the city of the LORD of hosts,
In the city of our God:
God will establish it forever. Selah

[9]We have thought, O God, on Your lovingkindness,

In the midst of Your temple.
10 According to Your name, O God,
So is Your praise to the ends of the earth;
Your right hand is full of righteousness.
11 Let Mount Zion rejoice,
Let the daughters of Judah be glad,
Because of Your judgments.

12 Walk about Zion,
And go all around her.
Count her towers;
13 Mark well her bulwarks;
Consider her palaces;
That you may tell it to the generation following.
14 For this is God,
Our God forever and ever;
He will be our guide
Even to death.[a] This Is God

Psalm 49

The Confidence of the Foolish

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

[1]Hear this, all peoples;
Give ear, all inhabitants of the world,
[2]Both low and high,
Rich and poor together. The Great Equalizer
[3]My mouth shall speak wisdom,
And the meditation of my heart shall give understanding.
[4]I will incline my ear to a proverb;
I will disclose my dark saying on the harp.

[5]Why should I fear in the days of evil,
When the iniquity at my heels surrounds me?
[6]Those who trust in their wealth
And boast in the multitude of their riches,
[7]None of them can by any means redeem his brother,
Nor give to God a ransom for him—
[8]For the redemption of their souls is costly,
And it shall cease forever—
[9]That he should continue to live eternally,
And not see the Pit.

[10]For he sees wise men die;
Likewise the fool and the senseless person perish,
And leave their wealth to others.

11 Their inner thought is that their houses will last forever,[a]
Their dwelling places to all generations;
They call their lands after their own names.
12 Nevertheless man, though in honor, does not remain;[b]
He is like the beasts that perish.

13 This is the way of those who are foolish,
And of their posterity who approve their sayings. Selah
14 Like sheep they are laid in the grave;
Death shall feed on them;
The upright shall have dominion over them
in the morning;
And their beauty shall be consumed in the grave, far from their dwelling.
15 But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave,
For He shall receive me. Selah

16 Do not be afraid when one becomes rich,
When the glory of his house is increased;
17 For when he dies he shall carry nothing
away;
His glory shall not descend after him.
18 Though while he lives he blesses himself
(For men will praise you when you do well
for yourself),
19 He shall go to the generation of his fathers;
They shall never see light.
20 A man who is in honor, yet does not understand,
Is like the beasts that perish.

Psalm 50

God the Righteous Judge

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 The Mighty One, God the LORD,
Has spoken and called the earth
From the rising of the sun to its going down.
2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
God will shine forth.
3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silent;
A fire shall devour before Him,
And it shall be very tempestuous all around
Him.

4 He shall call to the heavens from above,
And to the earth, that He may judge His
people:
5 "Gather My saints together to Me,
Those who have made a covenant with Me
by sacrifice."
6 Let the heavens declare His righteousness,
For God Himself is Judge. Selah

7 "Hear, O My people, and I will speak,
O Israel, and I will testify against you;
I am God, your God!
8 I will not rebuke you for your sacrifices
Or your burnt offerings,
Which are continually before Me.
9 I will not take a bull from your house,
Nor goats out of your folds.

10 For every beast of the forest is Mine,
And the cattle on a thousand hills.
11 I know all the birds of the mountains,
And the wild beasts of the field are Mine.

12 "If I were hungry, I would not tell you;
For the world is Mine, and all its fullness.
13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls,
Or drink the blood of goats?
14 Offer to God thanksgiving,
And pay your vows to the Most High.
15 Call upon Me in the day of trouble;
I will deliver you, and you shall glorify Me."

16 But to the wicked God says:
"What right have you to declare My statutes,
Or take My covenant in your mouth,
17 Seeing you hate instruction
And cast My words behind you?
18 When you saw a thief, you consented[a] with him,
And have been a partaker with adulterers.
19 You give your mouth to evil,
And your tongue frames deceit.
20 You sit and speak against your brother;
You slander your own mother's son.
21 These things you have done, and I kept silent;
You thought that I was altogether like you;
But I will rebuke you,
And set them in order before your eyes.

22 "Now consider this, you who forget God,
Lest I tear you in pieces,

And there be none to deliver:
[23]Whoever offers praise glorifies Me;
And to him who orders his conduct aright
I will show the salvation of God.”

Psalm 51

A Prayer of Repentance

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David when Nathan the prophet went to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

1 Have mercy upon me, O God,
According to Your lovingkindness;
According to the multitude of Your tender mercies,
Blot out my transgressions. Realization and Confession
2 Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity,
And cleanse me from my sin.

3 For I acknowledge my transgressions,
And my sin is always before me.
4 Against You, You only, have I sinned,
And done this evil in Your sight—
That You may be found just when You speak,[a]
And blameless when You judge.

5 Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity,
And in sin my mother conceived me.
6 Behold, You desire truth in the inward parts,
And in the hidden part You will make me to know wisdom.

7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean;
Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.
8 Make me hear joy and gladness,
That the bones You have broken may rejoice.

9 Hide Your face from my sins,
And blot out all my iniquities.

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God,
And renew a steadfast spirit within me.
11 Do not cast me away from Your presence,
And do not take Your Holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the joy of Your salvation,
And uphold me by Your generous Spirit.
13 Then I will teach transgressors Your ways,
And sinners shall be converted to You.

14 Deliver me from the guilt of bloodshed, O God,
The God of my salvation,
And my tongue shall sing aloud of Your righteousness.
15 O Lord, open my lips,
And my mouth shall show forth Your praise.
16 For You do not desire sacrifice, or else I would give it;
You do not delight in burnt offering.
17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit,
A broken and a contrite heart—
These, O God, You will not despise.

18 Do good in Your good pleasure to Zion;
Build the walls of Jerusalem.
19 Then You shall be pleased with the sacrifices of righteousness,
With burnt offering and whole burnt offering;
Then they shall offer bulls on Your altar.

Psalm 52

The End of the Wicked and the Peace of the Godly

To the Chief Musician. A Contemplation[a] of David when Doeg the Edomite went and told Saul, and said to him, "David has gone to the house of Ahimelech."

[1]Why do you boast in evil, O mighty man?
The goodness of God endures continually.
[2]Your tongue devises destruction,
Like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.
[3]You love evil more than good,
Lying rather than speaking righteousness.
Selah
[4]You love all devouring words,
You deceitful tongue.

[5]God shall likewise destroy you forever;
He shall take you away, and pluck you out of your dwelling place,
And uproot you from the land of the living.
Selah
[6]The righteous also shall see and fear,
And shall laugh at him, saying,
[7]"Here is the man who did not make God his strength,
But trusted in the abundance of his riches,
And strengthened himself in his wickedness."

[8]But I am like a green olive tree in the house
of God;
I trust in the mercy of God forever and ever.

[9]I will praise You forever,
Because You have done it;
And in the presence of Your saints
I will wait on Your name, for it is good.

Psalm 53

Folly of the Godless, and the Restoration of Israel

To the Chief Musician. Set to “Mahalath.” A Contemplation[a] of David.

1 The fool has said in his heart,
“There is no God.”
They are corrupt, and have done abominable iniquity;
There is none who does good.

2 God looks down from heaven upon the children of men,
To see if there are any who understand, who seek God.
3 Every one of them has turned aside;
They have together become corrupt;
There is none who does good,
No, not one.

4 Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge,
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
And do not call upon God?
5 There they are in great fear
Where no fear was,
For God has scattered the bones of him who encamps against you;
You have put them to shame,
Because God has despised them.

6 Oh, that the salvation of Israel would come out of Zion!

When God brings back the captivity of His
people,
Let Jacob rejoice and Israel be glad.

Psalm 54

Answered Prayer for Deliverance from Adversaries

To the Chief Musician. With stringed instruments.[a] A Contemplation[b] of David when the Ziphites went and said to Saul, “Is David not hiding with us?”

1 Save me, O God, by Your name,
And vindicate me by Your strength.
2 Hear my prayer, O God;
Give ear to the words of my mouth.
3 For strangers have risen up against me,
And oppressors have sought after my life;
They have not set God before them. Selah

4 Behold, God is my helper;
The Lord is with those who uphold my life.
5 He will repay my enemies for their evil.
Cut them off in Your truth.

6 I will freely sacrifice to You;
I will praise Your name, O LORD, for it is good.
7 For He has delivered me out of all trouble;
And my eye has seen its desire upon my enemies.

Psalm 55

Trust in God Concerning the Treachery of Friends

To the Chief Musician. With stringed instruments.[a] A Contemplation[b] of David.

1 Give ear to my prayer, O God,
And do not hide Yourself from my supplication.
2 Attend to me, and hear me;
I am restless in my complaint, and moan noisily,
3 Because of the voice of the enemy,
Because of the oppression of the wicked;
For they bring down trouble upon me,
And in wrath they hate me.

4 My heart is severely pained within me,
And the terrors of death have fallen upon me.
5 Fearfulness and trembling have come upon me,
And horror has overwhelmed me.
6 So I said, “Oh, that I had wings like a dove!
I would fly away and be at rest.
7 Indeed, I would wander far off,
And remain in the wilderness. Selah
8 I would hasten my escape
From the windy storm and tempest.”

9 Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongues,
For I have seen violence and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they go around it on its walls;
Iniquity and trouble are also in the midst of
it.
11 Destruction is in its midst; Oppression and deceit do not depart from its streets.

12 For it is not an enemy who reproaches me;
Then I could bear it.
Nor is it one who hates me who has exalted himself against me;
Then I could hide from him.
13 But it was you, a man my equal,
My companion and my acquaintance.
14 We took sweet counsel together,
And walked to the house of God in the throng.

15 Let death seize them;
Let them go down alive into hell,
For wickedness is in their dwellings and among them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God,
And the LORD shall save me.
17 Evening and morning and at noon
I will pray, and cry aloud,
And He shall hear my voice.
18 He has redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me,
For there were many against me.
19 God will hear, and afflict them,
Even He who abides from of old. Selah
Because they do not change,

Therefore they do not fear God.

20 He has put forth his hands against those who were at peace with him;
He has broken his covenant.
21 The words of his mouth were smoother than butter,
But war was in his heart;
His words were softer than oil,
Yet they were drawn swords.

22 Cast your burden on the LORD,
And He shall sustain you;
He shall never permit the righteous to be moved.

23 But You, O God, shall bring them down to the pit of destruction;
Bloodthirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days;
But I will trust in You.

Psalm 56

Prayer for Relief from Tormentors

To the Chief Musician. Set to “The Silent Dove in Distant Lands.”[a] A Michtam of David when the Philistines captured him in Gath.

1 Be merciful to me, O God, for man would swallow me up;
Fighting all day he oppresses me.
2 My enemies would hound me all day,
For there are many who fight against me, O Most High.

3 Whenever I am afraid,
I will trust in You.
4 In God (I will praise His word),
In God I have put my trust;
I will not fear.
What can flesh do to me?

5 All day they twist my words;
All their thoughts are against me for evil.
6 They gather together,
They hide, they mark my steps,
When they lie in wait for my life.
7 Shall they escape by iniquity?
In anger cast down the peoples, O God!

8 You number my wanderings;
Put my tears into Your bottle;
Are they not in Your book?
9 When I cry out to You,

Then my enemies will turn back;
This I know, because God is for me.
10In God (I will praise His word),
In the LORD (I will praise His word),
11In God I have put my trust;
I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?

12Vows made to You are binding upon me, O God;
I will render praises to You,
13For You have delivered my soul from death.
Have You not kept my feet from falling,
That I may walk before God
In the light of the living?

Psalm 57

Prayer for Safety from Enemies

To the Chief Musician. Set to “Do Not Destroy.”[a] A Michtam of David when he fled from Saul into the cave.

[1]Be merciful to me, O God, be merciful to me!
For my soul trusts in You;
And in the shadow of Your wings I will make my refuge,
Until these calamities have passed by.

[2]I will cry out to God Most High,
To God who performs all things for me.
[3]He shall send from heaven and save me;
He reproaches the one who would swallow me up. Selah
God shall send forth His mercy and His truth.

[4]My soul is among lions;
I lie among the sons of men
Who are set on fire,
Whose teeth are spears and arrows,
And their tongue a sharp sword.
[5]Be exalted, O God, above the heavens;
Let Your glory be above all the earth.

[6]They have prepared a net for my steps;
My soul is bowed down;
They have dug a pit before me;

Into the midst of it they themselves have fallen. Selah

7 My heart is steadfast, O God, my heart is steadfast;
I will sing and give praise.
8 Awake, my glory!
Awake, lute and harp!
I will awaken the dawn.

9 I will praise You, O Lord, among the peoples;
I will sing to You among the nations.
10 For Your mercy reaches unto the heavens,
And Your truth unto the clouds.

11 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens;
Let Your glory be above all the earth.

Psalm 58

The Just Judgment of the Wicked

To the Chief Musician. Set to “Do Not Destroy.”[a] A Michtam of David.

[1]Do you indeed speak righteousness, you silent ones?
Do you judge uprightly, you sons of men?
[2]No, in heart you work wickedness;
You weigh out the violence of your hands in the earth.

[3]The wicked are estranged from the womb;
They go astray as soon as they are born, speaking lies.
[4]Their poison is like the poison of a serpent;
They are like the deaf cobra that stops its ear,
[5]Which will not heed the voice of charmers,
Charming ever so skillfully.

[6]Break their teeth in their mouth, O God!
Break out the fangs of the young lions, O LORD!
[7]Let them flow away as waters which run continually;
When he bends his bow,
Let his arrows be as if cut in pieces.
[8]Let them be like a snail which melts away as it goes,
Like a stillborn child of a woman, that they may not see the sun.

9 Before your pots can feel the burning thorns,
He shall take them away as with a whirlwind,
As in His living and burning wrath.
10 The righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance;
He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked,
11 So that men will say,
“Surely there is a reward for the righteous;
Surely He is God who judges in the earth.”

Psalm 59

The Assured Judgment of the Wicked

To the Chief Musician. Set to “Do Not Destroy.”[a] A Michtam of David when Saul sent men, and they watched the house in order to kill him.

1 Deliver me from my enemies, O my God;
Defend me from those who rise up against me.
2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity,
And save me from bloodthirsty men.

3 For look, they lie in wait for my life;
The mighty gather against me,
Not for my transgression nor for my sin, O LORD.
4 They run and prepare themselves through no fault of mine.
Awake to help me, and behold!
5 You therefore, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel,
Awake to punish all the nations;
Do not be merciful to any wicked transgressors. Selah

6 At evening they return,
They growl like a dog,
And go all around the city.
7 Indeed, they belch with their mouth;
Swords are in their lips;
For they say, “Who hears?”

8 But You, O LORD, shall laugh at them;
You shall have all the nations in derision.
9 I will wait for You, O You his Strength;[b]
For God is my defense.
10 My God of mercy[c] shall come to meet me;
God shall let me see my desire on my enemies.

11 Do not slay them, lest my people forget;
Scatter them by Your power,
And bring them down,
O Lord our shield.
12 For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips,
Let them even be taken in their pride,
And for the cursing and lying which they speak.
13 Consume them in wrath, consume them,
That they may not be;
And let them know that God rules in Jacob
To the ends of the earth. Selah

14 And at evening they return,
They growl like a dog,
And go all around the city.
15 They wander up and down for food,
And howl[d] if they are not satisfied.

16 But I will sing of Your power;
Yes, I will sing aloud of Your mercy in the morning;
For You have been my defense
And refuge in the day of my trouble.
17 To You, O my Strength, I will sing praises;
For God is my defense,

My God of mercy.

Psalm 60

Urgent Prayer for the Restored Favor of God

To the Chief Musician. Set to “Lily of the Testimony.”[a] A Michtam of David. For teaching. When he fought against Mesopotamia and Syria of Zobah, and Joab returned and killed twelve thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

1 O GOD, You have cast us off;
You have broken us down;
You have been displeased;
Oh, restore us again!
2 You have made the earth tremble;
You have broken it;
Heal its breaches, for it is shaking.
3 You have shown Your people hard things;
You have made us drink the wine of confusion.

4 You have given a banner to those who fear You,
That it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah
5 That Your beloved may be delivered,
Save with Your right hand, and hear me.

6 God has spoken in His holiness:
“I will rejoice;
I will divide Shechem
And measure out the Valley of Succoth.
7 Gilead is Mine, and Manasseh is Mine;
Ephraim also is the helmet for My head;
Judah is My lawgiver.

[8]Moab is My washpot;
Over Edom I will cast My shoe;
Philistia, shout in triumph because of Me.”

[9]Who will bring me to the strong city?
Who will lead me to Edom?
[10]Is it not You, O God, who cast us off?
And You, O God, who did not go out with our armies?
[11]Give us help from trouble,
For the help of man is useless.
[12]Through God we will do valiantly,
For it is He who shall tread down our enemies.[b]

Psalm 61

Assurance of God's Eternal Protection

To the Chief Musician. On a stringed instrument.[a] A Psalm of David.

[1]Hear my cry, O God;
Attend to my prayer.
[2]From the end of the earth I will cry to You,
When my heart is overwhelmed;
Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

[3]For You have been a shelter for me,
A strong tower from the enemy.
[4]I will abide in Your tabernacle forever;
I will trust in the shelter of Your wings.
Selah

[5]For You, O God, have heard my vows;
You have given me the heritage of those who fear Your name.
[6]You will prolong the king's life,
His years as many generations.
[7]He shall abide before God forever.
Oh, prepare mercy and truth, which may preserve him!

[8]So I will sing praise to Your name forever,
That I may daily perform my vows.

Psalm 62

A Calm Resolve to Wait for the Salvation of God

To the Chief Musician. To Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

[1]Truly my soul silently waits for God;
From Him comes my salvation.
[2]He only is my rock and my salvation;
He is my defense;
I shall not be greatly moved.

[3]How long will you attack a man?
You shall be slain, all of you,
Like a leaning wall and a tottering fence.
[4]They only consult to cast him down from his high position;
They delight in lies;
They bless with their mouth,
But they curse inwardly. Selah

[5]My soul, wait silently for God alone,
For my expectation is from Him.
[6]He only is my rock and my salvation;
He is my defense;
I shall not be moved.
[7]In God is my salvation and my glory;
The rock of my strength,
And my refuge, is in God.

[8]Trust in Him at all times, you people;
Pour out your heart before Him;
God is a refuge for us. Selah

9 Surely men of low degree are a vapor,
Men of high degree are a lie;
If they are weighed on the scales,
They are altogether lighter than vapor.
10 Do not trust in oppression,
Nor vainly hope in robbery;
If riches increase,
Do not set your heart on them.

11 God has spoken once,
Twice I have heard this:
That power belongs to God.
12 Also to You, O Lord, belongs mercy;
For You render to each one according to his work.

Psalm 63

Joy in the Fellowship of God

A Psalm of David when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

[1]O GOD, You are my God;
Early will I seek You;
My soul thirsts for You;
My flesh longs for You
In a dry and thirsty land
Where there is no water.
[2]So I have looked for You in the sanctuary,
To see Your power and Your glory.

[3]Because Your lovingkindness is better than life,
My lips shall praise You.
[4]Thus I will bless You while I live;
I will lift up my hands in Your name.
[5]My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness,
And my mouth shall praise You with joyful lips.

[6]When I remember You on my bed,
I meditate on You in the night watches.
[7]Because You have been my help,
Therefore in the shadow of Your wings I will rejoice. God Is Devoted to Us
[8]My soul follows close behind You;
Your right hand upholds me.

9 But those who seek my life, to destroy it,
Shall go into the lower parts of the earth.
10 They shall fall by the sword;
They shall be a portion for jackals.

11 But the king shall rejoice in God;
Everyone who swears by Him shall glory;
But the mouth of those who speak lies shall be stopped.

Psalm 64

Oppressed by the Wicked but Rejoicing in the LORD

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]Hear my voice, O God, in my meditation;
Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.
[2]Hide me from the secret plots of the wicked,
From the rebellion of the workers of iniquity,
[3]Who sharpen their tongue like a sword,
And bend their bows to shoot their arrows—bitter words,
[4]That they may shoot in secret at the blameless;
Suddenly they shoot at him and do not fear.

[5]They encourage themselves in an evil matter;
They talk of laying snares secretly;
They say, “Who will see them?”
[6]They devise iniquities:
“We have perfected a shrewd scheme.”
Both the inward thought and the heart of man are deep.

[7]But God shall shoot at them with an arrow;
Suddenly they shall be wounded.
[8]So He will make them stumble over their own tongue;
All who see them shall flee away.
[9]All men shall fear,
And shall declare the work of God;

For they shall wisely consider His doing.

10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and trust in Him.
And all the upright in heart shall glory.

Psalm 65

Praise to God for His Salvation and Providence

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. A Song.

[1]Praise is awaiting You, O God, in Zion;
And to You the vow shall be performed.
[2]O You who hear prayer,
To You all flesh will come.
[3]Iniquities prevail against me;
As for our transgressions,
You will provide atonement for them.

[4]Blessed is the man You choose,
And cause to approach You,
That he may dwell in Your courts.
We shall be satisfied with the goodness of Your house,
Of Your holy temple.

[5]By awesome deeds in righteousness You will answer us,
O God of our salvation,
You who are the confidence of all the ends of the earth,
And of the far-off seas;
[6]Who established the mountains by His strength,
Being clothed with power;
[7]You who still the noise of the seas,
The noise of their waves,
And the tumult of the peoples.

[8]They also who dwell in the farthest parts are afraid of Your signs;
You make the outgoings of the morning and evening rejoice.

[9]You visit the earth and water it,
You greatly enrich it;
The river of God is full of water;
You provide their grain,
For so You have prepared it.
[10]You water its ridges abundantly,
You settle its furrows;
You make it soft with showers,
You bless its growth.

[11]You crown the year with Your goodness,
And Your paths drip with abundance.
[12]They drop on the pastures of the wilderness,
And the little hills rejoice on every side.
[13]The pastures are clothed with flocks;
The valleys also are covered with grain;
They shout for joy, they also sing.

Psalm 66

Praise to God for His Awesome Works

To the Chief Musician. A Song. A Psalm.

[1]Make a joyful shout to God, all the earth!
[2]Sing out the honor of His name;
Make His praise glorious.
[3]Say to God,
"How awesome are Your works!
Through the greatness of Your power
Your enemies shall submit themselves to You.
[4]All the earth shall worship You
And sing praises to You;
They shall sing praises to Your name." Selah

[5]Come and see the works of God;
He is awesome in His doing toward the sons of men.
[6]He turned the sea into dry land;
They went through the river on foot.
There we will rejoice in Him.
[7]He rules by His power forever;
His eyes observe the nations;
Do not let the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah

[8]Oh, bless our God, you peoples!
And make the voice of His praise to be heard,
[9]Who keeps our soul among the living,
And does not allow our feet to be moved.

10 For You, O God, have tested us;
You have refined us as silver is refined.
11 You brought us into the net;
You laid affliction on our backs.
12 You have caused men to ride over our heads;
We went through fire and through water;
But You brought us out to rich fulfillment.

13 I will go into Your house with burnt offerings;
I will pay You my vows,
14 Which my lips have uttered
And my mouth has spoken when I was in trouble.
15 I will offer You burnt sacrifices of fat animals,
With the sweet aroma of rams;
I will offer bulls with goats. Selah

16 Come and hear, all you who fear God,
And I will declare what He has done for my soul. Come and Hear, Go and Tell 17 I cried to Him with my mouth,
And He was extolled with my tongue.
18 If I regard iniquity in my heart,
The Lord will not hear.
19 But certainly God has heard me;
He has attended to the voice of my prayer.

20 Blessed be God,
Who has not turned away my prayer,
Nor His mercy from me!

Psalm 67

An Invocation and a Doxology

To the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments.[a] A Psalm. A Song.

[1]God be merciful to us and bless us,
And cause His face to shine upon us, Selah

Passing On the Blessing

[2]That Your way may be known on earth,
Your salvation among all nations.

[3]Let the peoples praise You, O God;
Let all the peoples praise You.
[4]Oh, let the nations be glad and sing for joy!
For You shall judge the people righteously,
And govern the nations on earth. Selah

[5]Let the peoples praise You, O God;
Let all the peoples praise You.
[6]Then the earth shall yield her increase;
God, our own God, shall bless us.
[7]God shall bless us,
And all the ends of the earth shall fear Him.

Psalm 68

The Glory of God in His Goodness to Israel

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. A Song.

[1]Let God arise,
Let His enemies be scattered;
Let those also who hate Him flee before Him.
[2]As smoke is driven away,
So drive them away;
As wax melts before the fire,
So let the wicked perish at the presence of God.
[3]But let the righteous be glad;
Let them rejoice before God;
Yes, let them rejoice exceedingly.

[4]Sing to God, sing praises to His name;
Extol Him who rides on the clouds,[a]
By His name YAH,
And rejoice before Him.

[5]A father of the fatherless, a defender of widows,
Is God in His holy habitation.
[6]God sets the solitary in families;
He brings out those who are bound into prosperity;
But the rebellious dwell in a dry land.

[7]O God, when You went out before Your people,

When You marched through the wilderness,
Selah
8The earth shook;
The heavens also dropped rain at the presence of God;
Sinai itself was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel.
9You, O God, sent a plentiful rain,
Whereby You confirmed Your inheritance,
When it was weary.
10Your congregation dwelt in it;
You, O God, provided from Your goodness for the poor.

11The Lord gave the word; Great was the company of those who proclaimed it:
12"Kings of armies flee, they flee,
And she who remains at home divides the spoil.
13Though you lie down among the sheepfolds,
You will be like the wings of a dove covered
with silver,
And her feathers with yellow gold."
14When the Almighty scattered kings in it,
It was white as snow in Zalmon.

15A mountain of God is the mountain of Bashan;
A mountain of many peaks is the mountain of Bashan.
16Why do you fume with envy, you mountains of many peaks?

This is the mountain which God desires to dwell in;
Yes, the LORD will dwell in it forever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand,
Even thousands of thousands;
The Lord is among them as in Sinai, in the Holy Place.
18 You have ascended on high,
You have led captivity captive;
You have received gifts among men,
Even from the rebellious,
That the LORD God might dwell there.

19 Blessed be the Lord,
Who daily loads us with benefits,
The God of our salvation! Selah
20 Our God is the God of salvation;
And to GOD the Lord belong escapes from death.

21 But God will wound the head of His enemies,
The hairy scalp of the one who still goes on in his trespasses.
22 The Lord said, "I will bring back from Bashan,
I will bring them back from the depths of the sea,
23 That your foot may crush them[b] in blood,
And the tongues of your dogs may have their portion from your enemies."

24 They have seen Your procession, O God,

The procession of my God, my King, into the sanctuary.
25The singers went before, the players on instruments followed after;
Among them were the maidens playing timbrels.
26Bless God in the congregations,
The Lord, from the fountain of Israel.
27There is little Benjamin, their leader,
The princes of Judah and their company,
The princes of Zebulun and the princes of Naphtali.

28Your God has commanded[c] your strength;
Strengthen, O God, what You have done for us.
29Because of Your temple at Jerusalem,
Kings will bring presents to You.
30Rebuke the beasts of the reeds,
The herd of bulls with the calves of the peoples,
Till everyone submits himself with pieces of silver.
Scatter the peoples who delight in war.
31Envoys will come out of Egypt;
Ethiopia will quickly stretch out her hands to God. A Promise to Africa

32Sing to God, you kingdoms of the earth;
Oh, sing praises to the Lord, Selah
33To Him who rides on the heaven of heavens, which were of old!
Indeed, He sends out His voice, a mighty voice.

[34]Ascribe strength to God;
His excellence is over Israel,
And His strength is in the clouds.
[35]O God, You are more awesome than Your holy places.
The God of Israel is He who gives strength and power to His people.
Blessed be God!

Psalm 69

An Urgent Plea for Help in Trouble

To the Chief Musician. Set to “The Lilies.”[a] A Psalm of David.

[1]Save me, O God!
For the waters have come up to my neck.
[2]I sink in deep mire,
Where there is no standing;
I have come into deep waters,
Where the floods overflow me.
[3]I am weary with my crying;
My throat is dry;
My eyes fail while I wait for my God.

[4]Those who hate me without a cause
Are more than the hairs of my head;
They are mighty who would destroy me,
Being my enemies wrongfully;
Though I have stolen nothing,
I still must restore it.

[5]O God, You know my foolishness;
And my sins are not hidden from You.
[6]Let not those who wait for You, O Lord GOD of hosts, be ashamed because of me;
Let not those who seek You be confounded because of me, O God of Israel.
[7]Because for Your sake I have borne reproach;
Shame has covered my face.
[8]I have become a stranger to my brothers,

And an alien to my mother's children;
9Because zeal for Your house has eaten me
up,
And the reproaches of those who reproach
You have fallen on me.
10When I wept and chastened my soul with fasting,
That became my reproach.
11I also made sackcloth my garment;
I became a byword to them.
12Those who sit in the gate speak against
me,
And I am the song of the drunkards.

13But as for me, my prayer is to You,
O LORD, in the acceptable time;
O God, in the multitude of Your mercy,
Hear me in the truth of Your salvation.
14Deliver me out of the mire,
And let me not sink;
Let me be delivered from those who hate
me,
And out of the deep waters.
15Let not the floodwater overflow me,
Nor let the deep swallow me up;
And let not the pit shut its mouth on me.

16Hear me, O LORD, for Your lovingkindness is good;
Turn to me according to the multitude of
Your tender mercies.
17And do not hide Your face from Your servant,
For I am in trouble;
Hear me speedily.

18 Draw near to my soul, and redeem it;
Deliver me because of my enemies.

19 You know my reproach, my shame, and my dishonor;
My adversaries are all before You.
20 Reproach has broken my heart,
And I am full of heaviness;
I looked for someone to take pity, but there was none;
And for comforters, but I found none.
21 They also gave me gall for my food,
And for my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table become a snare before them,
And their well-being a trap.
23 Let their eyes be darkened, so that they do not see;
And make their loins shake continually.
24 Pour out Your indignation upon them,
And let Your wrathful anger take hold of them.
25 Let their dwelling place be desolate;
Let no one live in their tents.
26 For they persecute the ones You have struck,
And talk of the grief of those You have wounded.
27 Add iniquity to their iniquity,
And let them not come into Your righteousness.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living,
And not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poor and sorrowful;
Let Your salvation, O God, set me up on high.
30 I will praise the name of God with a song,
And will magnify Him with thanksgiving.
31 This also shall please the LORD better than an ox or bull,
Which has horns and hooves.
32 The humble shall see this and be glad;
And you who seek God, your hearts shall live.
33 For the LORD hears the poor,
And does not despise His prisoners.

34 Let heaven and earth praise Him,
The seas and everything that moves in them.
35 For God will save Zion
And build the cities of Judah,
That they may dwell there and possess it.
36 Also, the descendants of His servants shall inherit it,
And those who love His name shall dwell in it.

Psalm 70

Prayer for Relief from Adversaries

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. To bring to remembrance.

[1] MAKE haste, O God, to deliver me!
Make haste to help me, O LORD!

[2] Let them be ashamed and confounded
Who seek my life;
Let them be turned back[a] and confused
Who desire my hurt.
[3] Let them be turned back because of their shame,
Who say, “Aha, aha!”

[4] Let all those who seek You rejoice and be glad in You;
And let those who love Your salvation say continually,
“Let God be magnified!”

[5] But I am poor and needy;
Make haste to me, O God!
You are my help and my deliverer;
O LORD, do not delay.

Psalm 71

God the Rock of Salvation

1 In You, O LORD, I put my trust;
Let me never be put to shame.
2 Deliver me in Your righteousness, and cause me to escape;
Incline Your ear to me, and save me.
3 Be my strong refuge,
To which I may resort continually;
You have given the commandment to save
me,
For You are my rock and my fortress.

4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of
the wicked,
Out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel
man.
5 For You are my hope, O Lord GOD;
You are my trust from my youth.
6 By You I have been upheld from birth;
You are He who took me out of my mother's womb.
My praise shall be continually of You.

7 I have become as a wonder to many,
But You are my strong refuge.
8 Let my mouth be filled with Your praise
And with Your glory all the day.

9 Do not cast me off in the time of old age;
Do not forsake me when my strength fails.
10 For my enemies speak against me;

And those who lie in wait for my life take counsel together,
11 Saying, “God has forsaken him; Pursue and take him, for there is none to deliver him.”

12 O God, do not be far from me;
O my God, make haste to help me!
13 Let them be confounded and consumed
Who are adversaries of my life;
Let them be covered with reproach and dishonor
Who seek my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually,
And will praise You yet more and more.
15 My mouth shall tell of Your righteousness
And Your salvation all the day,
For I do not know their limits.
16 I will go in the strength of the Lord GOD;
I will make mention of Your righteousness, of Yours only.

17 O God, You have taught me from my youth;
And to this day I declare Your wondrous works.
18 Now also when I am old and grayheaded,
O God, do not forsake me,
Until I declare Your strength to this generation,
Your power to everyone who is to come.

19 Also Your righteousness, O God, is very high,
You who have done great things;

O God, who is like You?
20 You, who have shown me great and severe troubles,
Shall revive me again,
And bring me up again from the depths of
the earth.
21 You shall increase my greatness,
And comfort me on every side.

22 Also with the lute I will praise You—
And Your faithfulness, O my God!
To You I will sing with the harp,
O Holy One of Israel.
23 My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing to
You,
And my soul, which You have redeemed.
24 My tongue also shall talk of Your righteousness all the day long;
For they are confounded,
For they are brought to shame
Who seek my hurt.

Psalm 72

Glory and Universality of the Messiah's Reign

A Psalm of Solomon.

[1]Give the king Your judgments, O God,
And Your righteousness to the king's Son.
[2]He will judge Your people with righteousness,
And Your poor with justice.
[3]The mountains will bring peace to the people,
And the little hills, by righteousness.
[4]He will bring justice to the poor of the people;
He will save the children of the needy,
And will break in pieces the oppressor.

[5]They shall fear You[a]
As long as the sun and moon endure,
Throughout all generations.
[6]He shall come down like rain upon the grass before mowing,
Like showers that water the earth.
[7]In His days the righteous shall flourish,
And abundance of peace,
Until the moon is no more.

[8]He shall have dominion also from sea to sea,
And from the River to the ends of the earth.
[9]Those who dwell in the wilderness will bow before Him,

And His enemies will lick the dust.
10The kings of Tarshish and of the isles
Will bring presents;
The kings of Sheba and Seba
Will offer gifts.
11Yes, all kings shall fall down before Him;
All nations shall serve Him.

12For He will deliver the needy when he cries,
The poor also, and him who has no helper.
13He will spare the poor and needy,
And will save the souls of the needy.
14He will redeem their life from oppression and violence;
And precious shall be their blood in His sight.

15And He shall live;
And the gold of Sheba will be given to Him;
Prayer also will be made for Him continually,
And daily He shall be praised.

16There will be an abundance of grain in the earth,
On the top of the mountains;
Its fruit shall wave like Lebanon;
And those of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17His name shall endure forever;
His name shall continue as long as the sun.
And men shall be blessed in Him;
All nations shall call Him blessed.

18 Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel,
Who only does wondrous things!
19 And blessed be His glorious name forever!
And let the whole earth be filled with His glory.
Amen and Amen.

20 The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

BOOK THREE

Psalms 73—89

Psalm 73

The Tragedy of the Wicked, and the Blessedness of Trust in God

A Psalm of Asaph.

[1]Truly God is good to Israel,
To such as are pure in heart.
[2]But as for me, my feet had almost stumbled;
My steps had nearly slipped.
[3]For I was envious of the boastful,
When I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

[4]For there are no pangs in their death,
But their strength is firm.
[5]They are not in trouble as other men,
Nor are they plagued like other men.
[6]Therefore pride serves as their necklace;
Violence covers them like a garment.
[7]Their eyes bulge[a] with abundance;
They have more than heart could wish.
[8]They scoff and speak wickedly concerning oppression;
They speak loftily.
[9]They set their mouth against the heavens,
And their tongue walks through the earth.

10 Therefore his people return here,
And waters of a full cup are drained by them.
11 And they say, “How does God know?
And is there knowledge in the Most High?”
12 Behold, these are the ungodly,
Who are always at ease;
They increase in riches.
13 Surely I have cleansed my heart in vain,
And washed my hands in innocence.
14 For all day long I have been plagued,
And chastened every morning.

15 If I had said, “I will speak thus,”
Behold, I would have been untrue to the generation of Your children.
16 When I thought how to understand this,
It was too painful for me—
17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God;
Then I understood their end.

18 Surely You set them in slippery places;
You cast them down to destruction.
19 Oh, how they are brought to desolation, as in a moment!
They are utterly consumed with terrors.
20 As a dream when one awakes,
So, Lord, when You awake,
You shall despise their image.

21 Thus my heart was grieved,
And I was vexed in my mind. Psalms of Pain
22 I was so foolish and ignorant;
I was like a beast before You.

[23]Nevertheless I am continually with You;
You hold me by my right hand.
[24]You will guide me with Your counsel,
And afterward receive me to glory.

[25]Whom have I in heaven but You?
And there is none upon earth that I desire besides You.
[26]My flesh and my heart fail;
But God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever.

[27]For indeed, those who are far from You shall perish;
You have destroyed all those who desert You for harlotry.
[28]But it is good for me to draw near to God;
I have put my trust in the Lord GOD,
That I may declare all Your works.

Psalm 74

A Plea for Relief from Oppressors

A Contemplation[a] of Asaph.

1 O GOD, why have You cast us off forever?
Why does Your anger smoke against the sheep of Your pasture?
2 Remember Your congregation, which You have purchased of old,
The tribe of Your inheritance, which You have redeemed—
This Mount Zion where You have dwelt.
3 Lift up Your feet to the perpetual desolations.
The enemy has damaged everything in the sanctuary.
4 Your enemies roar in the midst of Your meeting place;
They set up their banners for signs.
5 They seem like men who lift up
Axes among the thick trees.
6 And now they break down its carved work,
all at once,
With axes and hammers.
7 They have set fire to Your sanctuary;
They have defiled the dwelling place of Your name to the ground.
8 They said in their hearts,
"Let us destroy them altogether."
They have burned up all the meeting places of God in the land.

9 We do not see our signs;
There is no longer any prophet;
Nor is there any among us who knows how long.
10 O God, how long will the adversary reproach?
Will the enemy blaspheme Your name forever?
11 Why do You withdraw Your hand, even Your right hand?
Take it out of Your bosom and destroy them.
12 For God is my King from of old,
Working salvation in the midst of the earth.
13 You divided the sea by Your strength;
You broke the heads of the sea serpents in the waters.
14 You broke the heads of Leviathan in pieces,
And gave him as food to the people inhabiting the wilderness.
15 You broke open the fountain and the flood;
You dried up mighty rivers.
16 The day is Yours, the night also is Yours;
You have prepared the light and the sun.
17 You have set all the borders of the earth;
You have made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy has reproached, O LORD,
And that a foolish people has blasphemed Your name.
19 Oh, do not deliver the life of Your turtledove to the wild beast!
Do not forget the life of Your poor forever.

20 Have respect to the covenant;
For the dark places of the earth are full of the haunts of cruelty.
21 Oh, do not let the oppressed return ashamed!
Let the poor and needy praise Your name.

22 Arise, O God, plead Your own cause;
Remember how the foolish man reproaches
You daily.
23 Do not forget the voice of Your enemies;
The tumult of those who rise up against You increases continually.

Psalm 75

Thanksgiving for God's Righteous Judgment

To the Chief Musician. Set to "Do Not Destroy."[a] A Psalm of Asaph. A Song.

1 We give thanks to You, O God, we give thanks!
For Your wondrous works declare that Your name is near.

2 "When I choose the proper time,
I will judge uprightly.
3 The earth and all its inhabitants are dissolved;
I set up its pillars firmly. Selah

4 "I said to the boastful, 'Do not deal boastfully,'
And to the wicked, 'Do not lift up the horn.
5 Do not lift up your horn on high;
Do not speak with a stiff neck.' "

6 For exaltation comes neither from the east
Nor from the west nor from the south.
7 But God is the Judge:
He puts down one,
And exalts another.
8 For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup,
And the wine is red;
It is fully mixed, and He pours it out;
Surely its dregs shall all the wicked of the earth

Drain and drink down.

9 But I will declare forever,
I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.

10 "All the horns of the wicked I will also cut off,
But the horns of the righteous shall be exalted."

Psalm 76

The Majesty of God in Judgment

To the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments.[a] A Psalm of Asaph. A Song.

1 In Judah God is known;
His name is great in Israel.
2 In Salem[b] also is His tabernacle,
And His dwelling place in Zion.
3 There He broke the arrows of the bow,
The shield and sword of battle. Selah

4 You are more glorious and excellent
Than the mountains of prey.
5 The stouthearted were plundered;
They have sunk into their sleep;
And none of the mighty men have found the use of their hands.
6 At Your rebuke, O God of Jacob,
Both the chariot and horse were cast into a dead sleep.

7 You, Yourself, are to be feared;
And who may stand in Your presence
When once You are angry?
8 You caused judgment to be heard from heaven;
The earth feared and was still,
9 When God arose to judgment,
To deliver all the oppressed of the earth. Selah

10 Surely the wrath of man shall praise You;
With the remainder of wrath You shall gird Yourself.

11 Make vows to the LORD your God, and pay
them;
Let all who are around Him bring presents to Him who ought to be feared.
12 He shall cut off the spirit of princes;
He is awesome to the kings of the earth.

Psalm 77

The Consoling Memory of God's Redemptive Works

To the Chief Musician. To Jeduthun. A Psalm of Asaph.

[1]I CRIED out to God with my voice—
To God with my voice;
And He gave ear to me.
[2]In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord;
My hand was stretched out in the night without ceasing;
My soul refused to be comforted.
[3]I remembered God, and was troubled;
I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah

[4]You hold my eyelids open;
I am so troubled that I cannot speak.
[5]I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient times.
[6]I call to remembrance my song in the night;
I meditate within my heart,
And my spirit makes diligent search.

[7]Will the Lord cast off forever?
And will He be favorable no more?
[8]Has His mercy ceased forever?
Has His promise failed forevermore?
[9]Has God forgotten to be gracious?
Has He in anger shut up His tender mercies? Selah

[10]And I said, "This is my anguish;

But I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High.”
11I will remember the works of the LORD;
Surely I will remember Your wonders of old.
12I will also meditate on all Your work,
And talk of Your deeds.
13Your way, O God, is in the sanctuary;
Who is so great a God as our God?
14You are the God who does wonders;
You have declared Your strength among the peoples.
15You have with Your arm redeemed Your
people,
The sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah

16The waters saw You, O God;
The waters saw You, they were afraid;
The depths also trembled.
17The clouds poured out water;
The skies sent out a sound;
Your arrows also flashed about.
18The voice of Your thunder was in the whirlwind;
The lightnings lit up the world;
The earth trembled and shook.
19Your way was in the sea,
Your path in the great waters,
And Your footsteps were not known.
20You led Your people like a flock
By the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Psalm 78

God's Kindness to Rebellious Israel

A Contemplation[a] of Asaph.

1 Give ear, O my people, to my law;
Incline your ears to the words of my mouth.
2 I will open my mouth in a parable;
I will utter dark sayings of old,
3 Which we have heard and known,
And our fathers have told us.
4 We will not hide them from their children,
Telling to the generation to come the praises of the LORD,
And His strength and His wonderful works that He has done.

5 For He established a testimony in Jacob,
And appointed a law in Israel,
Which He commanded our fathers,
That they should make them known to their children;
6 That the generation to come might know them,
The children who would be born,
That they may arise and declare them to their children,
7 That they may set their hope in God,
And not forget the works of God,
But keep His commandments;
8 And may not be like their fathers,
A stubborn and rebellious generation,
A generation that did not set its heart aright,

And whose spirit was not faithful to God.

9 The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows,
Turned back in the day of battle.
10 They did not keep the covenant of God;
They refused to walk in His law,
11 And forgot His works
And His wonders that He had shown them.

12 Marvelous things He did in the sight of their fathers,
In the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
13 He divided the sea and caused them to pass through;
And He made the waters stand up like a heap.
14 In the daytime also He led them with the cloud,
And all the night with a light of fire.
15 He split the rocks in the wilderness,
And gave them drink in abundance like the depths.
16 He also brought streams out of the rock,
And caused waters to run down like rivers.

17 But they sinned even more against Him
By rebelling against the Most High in the wilderness.
18 And they tested God in their heart
By asking for the food of their fancy.
19 Yes, they spoke against God:
They said, “Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?
20 Behold, He struck the rock,

So that the waters gushed out,
And the streams overflowed.
Can He give bread also?
Can He provide meat for His people?”

21 Therefore the LORD heard this and was furious;
So a fire was kindled against Jacob,
And anger also came up against Israel,
22 Because they did not believe in God,
And did not trust in His salvation.
23 Yet He had commanded the clouds above,
And opened the doors of heaven,
24 Had rained down manna on them to eat,
And given them of the bread of heaven.
25 Men ate angels’ food;
He sent them food to the full.

26 He caused an east wind to blow in the heavens;
And by His power He brought in the south wind.
27 He also rained meat on them like the dust,
Feathered fowl like the sand of the seas;
28 And He let them fall in the midst of their camp,
All around their dwellings.
29 So they ate and were well filled,
For He gave them their own desire.
30 They were not deprived of their craving;
But while their food was still in their mouths,
31 The wrath of God came against them,
And slew the stoutest of them,

And struck down the choice men of Israel.

32 In spite of this they still sinned,
And did not believe in His wondrous works.
33 Therefore their days He consumed in futility,
And their years in fear.

34 When He slew them, then they sought Him;
And they returned and sought earnestly for God.
35 Then they remembered that God was their rock,
And the Most High God their Redeemer.
36 Nevertheless they flattered Him with their mouth,
And they lied to Him with their tongue;
37 For their heart was not steadfast with Him,
Nor were they faithful in His covenant.
38 But He, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity,
And did not destroy them.
Yes, many a time He turned His anger away,
And did not stir up all His wrath;
39 For He remembered that they were but flesh,
A breath that passes away and does not come again.

40 How often they provoked Him in the wilderness,
And grieved Him in the desert!
41 Yes, again and again they tempted God,

And limited the Holy One of Israel.
42 They did not remember His power:
The day when He redeemed them from the enemy,
43 When He worked His signs in Egypt,
And His wonders in the field of Zoan;
44 Turned their rivers into blood,
And their streams, that they could not drink.
45 He sent swarms of flies among them, which devoured them,
And frogs, which destroyed them.
46 He also gave their crops to the caterpillar,
And their labor to the locust.
47 He destroyed their vines with hail,
And their sycamore trees with frost.
48 He also gave up their cattle to the hail,
And their flocks to fiery lightning.
49 He cast on them the fierceness of His anger,
Wrath, indignation, and trouble,
By sending angels of destruction among them.
50 He made a path for His anger;
He did not spare their soul from death,
But gave their life over to the plague,
51 And destroyed all the firstborn in Egypt,
The first of their strength in the tents of Ham.
52 But He made His own people go forth like sheep,
And guided them in the wilderness like a flock;
53 And He led them on safely, so that they did not fear;

But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
54And He brought them to His holy border,
This mountain which His right hand had acquired.
55He also drove out the nations before them,
Allotted them an inheritance by survey,
And made the tribes of Israel dwell in their tents.

56Yet they tested and provoked the Most High God,
And did not keep His testimonies, 57But turned back and acted unfaithfully like
their fathers;
They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.
58For they provoked Him to anger with their high places,
And moved Him to jealousy with their carved images.
59When God heard this, He was furious,
And greatly abhorred Israel,
60So that He forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh,
The tent He had placed among men,
61And delivered His strength into captivity,
And His glory into the enemy’s hand.
62He also gave His people over to the sword,
And was furious with His inheritance.
63The fire consumed their young men,
And their maidens were not given in marriage.
64Their priests fell by the sword,
And their widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awoke as from sleep,
Like a mighty man who shouts because of wine.
66 And He beat back His enemies;
He put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover He rejected the tent of Joseph,
And did not choose the tribe of Ephraim,
68 But chose the tribe of Judah,
Mount Zion which He loved.
69 And He built His sanctuary like the heights,
Like the earth which He has established forever.
70 He also chose David His servant,
And took him from the sheepfolds;
71 From following the ewes that had young He brought him,
To shepherd Jacob His people,
And Israel His inheritance.
72 So he shepherded them according to the integrity of his heart,
And guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.

Psalm 79

A Dirge and a Prayer for Israel, Destroyed by Enemies

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 O GOD, the nations have come into Your inheritance;
Your holy temple they have defiled;
They have laid Jerusalem in heaps. Our Global God
2 The dead bodies of Your servants
They have given as food for the birds of the heavens,
The flesh of Your saints to the beasts of the
earth.
3 Their blood they have shed like water all around Jerusalem,
And there was no one to bury them.
4 We have become a reproach to our neighbors,
A scorn and derision to those who are around us.

5 How long, LORD?
Will You be angry forever?
Will Your jealousy burn like fire?
6 Pour out Your wrath on the nations that do not know You,
And on the kingdoms that do not call on Your
name.
7 For they have devoured Jacob,
And laid waste his dwelling place.

8 Oh, do not remember former iniquities against us!
Let Your tender mercies come speedily to meet us,
For we have been brought very low.
9 Help us, O God of our salvation,
For the glory of Your name;
And deliver us, and provide atonement for our sins,
For Your name's sake!
10 Why should the nations say,
"Where is their God?"
Let there be known among the nations in our sight
The avenging of the blood of Your servants which has been shed.

11 Let the groaning of the prisoner come before You;
According to the greatness of Your power
Preserve those who are appointed to die;
12 And return to our neighbors sevenfold into their bosom
Their reproach with which they have reproached You, O Lord.

13 So we, Your people and sheep of Your pasture,
Will give You thanks forever;
We will show forth Your praise to all generations.

Psalm 80

Prayer for Israel's Restoration

To the Chief Musician. Set to "The Lilies."[a] A Testimony[b] of Asaph. A Psalm.

[1]Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel,
You who lead Joseph like a flock;
You who dwell between the cherubim, shine
forth!
[2]Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh,
Stir up Your strength,
And come and save us!

[3]Restore us, O God;
Cause Your face to shine,
And we shall be saved!

[4]O LORD God of hosts,
How long will You be angry
Against the prayer of Your people?
[5]You have fed them with the bread of tears,
And given them tears to drink in great measure.
[6]You have made us a strife to our neighbors,
And our enemies laugh among themselves.

[7]Restore us, O God of hosts;
Cause Your face to shine,
And we shall be saved!

[8]You have brought a vine out of Egypt;
You have cast out the nations, and planted it.

9 You prepared room for it,
And caused it to take deep root,
And it filled the land.
10 The hills were covered with its shadow,
And the mighty cedars with its boughs.
11 She sent out her boughs to the Sea,[c]
And her branches to the River.[d]

12 Why have You broken down her hedges,
So that all who pass by the way pluck her fruit?
13 The boar out of the woods uproots it,
And the wild beast of the field devours it.

14 Return, we beseech You, O God of hosts;
Look down from heaven and see,
And visit this vine
15 And the vineyard which Your right hand has planted,
And the branch that You made strong for Yourself.
16 It is burned with fire, it is cut down;
They perish at the rebuke of Your countenance.
17 Let Your hand be upon the man of Your right hand,
Upon the son of man whom You made strong
for Yourself.
18 Then we will not turn back from You;
Revive us, and we will call upon Your name.

19 Restore us, O LORD God of hosts;
Cause Your face to shine,
And we shall be saved!

Psalm 81

An Appeal for Israel's Repentance

To the Chief Musician. On an instrument of Gath.[a] A Psalm of Asaph.

1 Sing aloud to God our strength;
Make a joyful shout to the God of Jacob.
2 Raise a song and strike the timbrel,
The pleasant harp with the lute.

3 Blow the trumpet at the time of the New Moon,
At the full moon, on our solemn feast day.
4 For this is a statute for Israel,
A law of the God of Jacob.
5 This He established in Joseph as a testimony,
When He went throughout the land of Egypt,
Where I heard a language I did not understand.

6 "I removed his shoulder from the burden;
His hands were freed from the baskets.
7 You called in trouble, and I delivered you;
I answered you in the secret place of thunder;
I tested you at the waters of Meribah. Selah

8 "Hear, O My people, and I will admonish you!
O Israel, if you will listen to Me!
9 There shall be no foreign god among you;

Nor shall you worship any foreign god.
10 I am the LORD your God,
Who brought you out of the land of Egypt;
Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 "But My people would not heed My voice,
And Israel would have none of Me.
12 So I gave them over to their own stubborn
heart,
To walk in their own counsels.

13 "Oh, that My people would listen to Me,
That Israel would walk in My ways!
14 I would soon subdue their enemies,
And turn My hand against their adversaries.
15 The haters of the LORD would pretend submission to Him,
But their fate would endure forever.
16 He would have fed them also with the finest of wheat;
And with honey from the rock I would have satisfied you."

Psalm 82

A Plea for Justice

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 God stands in the congregation of the mighty;
He judges among the gods.[a] God and Gods
2 How long will you judge unjustly,
And show partiality to the wicked? Selah
3 Defend the poor and fatherless;
Do justice to the afflicted and needy.
4 Deliver the poor and needy;
Free them from the hand of the wicked.

5 They do not know, nor do they understand;
They walk about in darkness;
All the foundations of the earth are unstable.

6 I said, "You are gods,[b]
And all of you are children of the Most High.
7 But you shall die like men,
And fall like one of the princes."

8 Arise, O God, judge the earth;
For You shall inherit all nations.

Psalm 83

Prayer to Frustrate Conspiracy Against Israel

A Song. A Psalm of Asaph.

[1]Do not keep silent, O God!
Do not hold Your peace,
And do not be still, O God!
[2]For behold, Your enemies make a tumult;
And those who hate You have lifted up their head.
[3]They have taken crafty counsel against Your people,
And consulted together against Your sheltered ones.
[4]They have said, “Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation,
That the name of Israel may be remembered no more.”

[5]For they have consulted together with one consent;
They form a confederacy against You:
[6]The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites;
Moab and the Hagrites;
[7]Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek;
Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre;
[8]Assyria also has joined with them;
They have helped the children of Lot. Selah

[9]Deal with them as with Midian,
As with Sisera,
As with Jabin at the Brook Kishon,

10 Who perished at En Dor,
Who became as refuse on the earth.
11 Make their nobles like Oreb and like Zeeb,
Yes, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna,
12 Who said, “Let us take for ourselves
The pastures of God for a possession.”

13 O my God, make them like the whirling dust,
Like the chaff before the wind!
14 As the fire burns the woods,
And as the flame sets the mountains on fire,
15 So pursue them with Your tempest,
And frighten them with Your storm.
16 Fill their faces with shame,
That they may seek Your name, O LORD.
17 Let them be confounded and dismayed forever;
Yes, let them be put to shame and perish,
18 That they may know that You, whose name alone is the LORD,
Are the Most High over all the earth.

Psalm 84

The Blessedness of Dwelling in the House of God

To the Chief Musician. On an instrument of Gath.[a] A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

[1]How lovely is Your tabernacle,
O LORD of hosts!
[2]My soul longs, yes, even faints
For the courts of the LORD;
My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.

[3]Even the sparrow has found a home,
And the swallow a nest for herself,
Where she may lay her young—
Even Your altars, O LORD of hosts,
My King and my God.
[4]Blessed are those who dwell in Your house;
They will still be praising You. Selah

[5]Blessed is the man whose strength is in You,
Whose heart is set on pilgrimage.
[6]As they pass through the Valley of Baca,
They make it a spring;
The rain also covers it with pools.
[7]They go from strength to strength;
Each one appears before God in Zion.[b]

[8]O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer;
Give ear, O God of Jacob! Selah
[9]O God, behold our shield,

And look upon the face of Your anointed.

10For a day in Your courts is better than a thousand.
I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God
Than dwell in the tents of wickedness.
11For the LORD God is a sun and shield;
The LORD will give grace and glory;
No good thing will He withhold
From those who walk uprightly.

12O LORD of hosts,
Blessed is the man who trusts in You!

Psalm 85

Prayer that the LORD Will Restore Favor to the Land

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

[1]LORD, You have been favorable to Your land;
You have brought back the captivity of Jacob.
[2]You have forgiven the iniquity of Your people;
You have covered all their sin. Selah
[3]You have taken away all Your wrath;
You have turned from the fierceness of Your anger.

[4]Restore us, O God of our salvation,
And cause Your anger toward us to cease.
[5]Will You be angry with us forever?
Will You prolong Your anger to all generations?
[6]Will You not revive us again,
That Your people may rejoice in You?
[7]Show us Your mercy, LORD,
And grant us Your salvation.

[8]I will hear what God the LORD will speak,
For He will speak peace
To His people and to His saints;
But let them not turn back to folly.
[9]Surely His salvation is near to those who fear Him,
That glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth have met together;
Righteousness and peace have kissed.
11 Truth shall spring out of the earth,
And righteousness shall look down from heaven.
12 Yes, the LORD will give what is good;
And our land will yield its increase.
13 Righteousness will go before Him,
And shall make His footsteps our pathway.

Psalm 86

Prayer for Mercy, with Meditation on the Excellencies of the LORD

A Prayer of David.

[1]Bow down Your ear, O LORD, hear me;
For I am poor and needy.
[2]Preserve my life, for I am holy;
You are my God;
Save Your servant who trusts in You!
[3]Be merciful to me, O Lord,
For I cry to You all day long.
[4]Rejoice the soul of Your servant,
For to You, O Lord, I lift up my soul.
[5]For You, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive,
And abundant in mercy to all those who call upon You.

[6]Give ear, O LORD, to my prayer;
And attend to the voice of my supplications.
[7]In the day of my trouble I will call upon You,
For You will answer me.

[8]Among the gods there is none like You, O Lord;
Nor are there any works like Your works. The Supreme God
[9]All nations whom You have made
Shall come and worship before You, O Lord,
And shall glorify Your name.

10 For You are great, and do wondrous things;
You alone are God.

11 Teach me Your way, O LORD;
I will walk in Your truth;
Unite my heart to fear Your name.
12 I will praise You, O Lord my God, with all my heart,
And I will glorify Your name forevermore.
13 For great is Your mercy toward me,
And You have delivered my soul from the depths of Sheol.

14 O God, the proud have risen against me,
And a mob of violent men have sought my
life,
And have not set You before them.
15 But You, O Lord, are a God full of compassion, and gracious, Longsuffering and abundant in mercy and truth.

16 Oh, turn to me, and have mercy on me!
Give Your strength to Your servant,
And save the son of Your maidservant.
17 Show me a sign for good,
That those who hate me may see it and be
ashamed,
Because You, LORD, have helped me and comforted me.

Psalm 87

The Glories of the City of God

A Psalm of the sons of Korah. A Song.

1 His foundation is in the holy mountains.
2 The LORD loves the gates of Zion
More than all the dwellings of Jacob.
3 Glorious things are spoken of you,
O city of God! Selah

4 "I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon to those who know Me;
Behold, O Philistia and Tyre, with Ethiopia:
'This one was born there.' "

5 And of Zion it will be said,
"This one and that one were born in her;
And the Most High Himself shall establish her."
6 The LORD will record,
When He registers the peoples:
"This one was born there." Selah

7 Both the singers and the players on instruments say,
"All my springs are in you."

Psalm 88

A Prayer for Help in Despondency

A Song. A Psalm of the sons of Korah. To the Chief Musician. Set to “Mahalath Leannoth.” A Contemplation[a] of Heman the Ezrahite.

1 O LORD, God of my salvation,
I have cried out day and night before You.
2 Let my prayer come before You;
Incline Your ear to my cry.

3 For my soul is full of troubles,
And my life draws near to the grave.
4 I am counted with those who go down to the pit;
I am like a man who has no strength,
5 Adrift among the dead,
Like the slain who lie in the grave,
Whom You remember no more,
And who are cut off from Your hand.

6 You have laid me in the lowest pit,
In darkness, in the depths.
7 Your wrath lies heavy upon me,
And You have afflicted me with all Your waves. Selah
8 You have put away my acquaintances far from me;
You have made me an abomination to them;
I am shut up, and I cannot get out;
9 My eye wastes away because of affliction.
LORD, I have called daily upon You;

I have stretched out my hands to You.
10 Will You work wonders for the dead?
Shall the dead arise and praise You? Selah
11 Shall Your lovingkindness be declared in the grave?
Or Your faithfulness in the place of destruction?
12 Shall Your wonders be known in the dark?
And Your righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

13 But to You I have cried out, O LORD,
And in the morning my prayer comes before You.
14 LORD, why do You cast off my soul?
Why do You hide Your face from me?
15 I have been afflicted and ready to die from my youth;
I suffer Your terrors;
I am distraught.
16 Your fierce wrath has gone over me;
Your terrors have cut me off.
17 They came around me all day long like water;
They engulfed me altogether.
18 Loved one and friend You have put far from me,
And my acquaintances into darkness.

Psalm 89

Remembering the Covenant with David, and Sorrow for Lost Blessings

A Contemplation[a] of Ethan the Ezrahite.

1 I WILL sing of the mercies of the LORD
forever;
With my mouth will I make known Your faithfulness to all generations.
2 For I have said, “Mercy shall be built up
forever;
Your faithfulness You shall establish in the very heavens.”

3 “I have made a covenant with My chosen,
I have sworn to My servant David: Our Covenant-Keeping God
4 ‘Your seed I will establish forever,
And build up your throne to all generations.’ ” Selah

5 And the heavens will praise Your wonders,
O LORD;
Your faithfulness also in the assembly of the saints.
6 For who in the heavens can be compared to
the LORD?
Who among the sons of the mighty can be likened to the LORD?
7 God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints,

And to be held in reverence by all those around Him.
8 O LORD God of hosts,
Who is mighty like You, O LORD?
Your faithfulness also surrounds You.
9 You rule the raging of the sea;
When its waves rise, You still them.
10 You have broken Rahab in pieces, as one who is slain;
You have scattered Your enemies with Your mighty arm.

11 The heavens are Yours, the earth also is Yours;
The world and all its fullness, You have founded them.
12 The north and the south, You have created them;
Tabor and Hermon rejoice in Your name.
13 You have a mighty arm;
Strong is Your hand, and high is Your right hand.
14 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of Your throne;
Mercy and truth go before Your face.
15 Blessed are the people who know the joyful sound!
They walk, O LORD, in the light of Your countenance.
16 In Your name they rejoice all day long,
And in Your righteousness they are exalted.
17 For You are the glory of their strength,
And in Your favor our horn is exalted.
18 For our shield belongs to the LORD,

And our king to the Holy One of Israel.

19 Then You spoke in a vision to Your holy one,[b]
And said: “I have given help to one who is
mighty;
I have exalted one chosen from the people.
20 I have found My servant David;
With My holy oil I have anointed him,
21 With whom My hand shall be established;
Also My arm shall strengthen him.
22 The enemy shall not outwit him,
Nor the son of wickedness afflict him.
23 I will beat down his foes before his face,
And plague those who hate him.

24 “But My faithfulness and My mercy shall be with him,
And in My name his horn shall be exalted.
25 Also I will set his hand over the sea,
And his right hand over the rivers.
26 He shall cry to Me, ‘You are my Father,
My God, and the rock of my salvation.’
27 Also I will make him My firstborn,
The highest of the kings of the earth.
28 My mercy I will keep for him forever,
And My covenant shall stand firm with him.
29 His seed also I will make to endure
forever,
And his throne as the days of heaven.

30 “If his sons forsake My law
And do not walk in My judgments,
31 If they break My statutes

And do not keep My commandments, 32 Then I will punish their transgression with the rod,
And their iniquity with stripes.
33 Nevertheless My lovingkindness I will not utterly take from him,
Nor allow My faithfulness to fail.
34 My covenant I will not break, Nor alter the word that has gone out of My lips.
35 Once I have sworn by My holiness;
I will not lie to David:
36 His seed shall endure forever,
And his throne as the sun before Me;
37 It shall be established forever like the moon,
Even like the faithful witness in the sky.”
Selah

38 But You have cast off and abhorred,
You have been furious with Your anointed.
39 You have renounced the covenant of Your servant;
You have profaned his crown by casting it to the ground.
40 You have broken down all his hedges;
You have brought his strongholds to ruin.
41 All who pass by the way plunder him;
He is a reproach to his neighbors.
42 You have exalted the right hand of his adversaries;
You have made all his enemies rejoice.
43 You have also turned back the edge of his
sword,

And have not sustained him in the battle.
44 You have made his glory cease,
And cast his throne down to the ground.
45 The days of his youth You have shortened;
You have covered him with shame. Selah

46 How long, LORD?
Will You hide Yourself forever?
Will Your wrath burn like fire?
47 Remember how short my time is;
For what futility have You created all the children of men?
48 What man can live and not see death?
Can he deliver his life from the power of the grave? Selah

49 Lord, where are Your former lovingkindnesses,
Which You swore to David in Your truth?
50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of Your servants—
How I bear in my bosom the reproach of all the many peoples, 51 With which Your enemies have reproached, O LORD,
With which they have reproached the footsteps of Your anointed.

52 Blessed be the LORD forevermore!
Amen and Amen.

BOOK FOUR

Psalms 90—106

Psalm 90

The Eternity of God, and Man's Frailty

A Prayer of Moses the man of God.

1 Lord, You have been our dwelling place[a] in all generations.
2 Before the mountains were brought forth,
Or ever You had formed the earth and the world,
Even from everlasting to everlasting, You are
God.

3 You turn man to destruction,
And say, "Return, O children of men."
4 For a thousand years in Your sight
Are like yesterday when it is past,
And like a watch in the night.
5 You carry them away like a flood;
They are like a sleep.
In the morning they are like grass which grows up:
6 In the morning it flourishes and grows up;
In the evening it is cut down and withers.

7 For we have been consumed by Your anger,
And by Your wrath we are terrified.
8 You have set our iniquities before You,

Our secret sins in the light of Your countenance.
9For all our days have passed away in Your
wrath;
We finish our years like a sigh.
10The days of our lives are seventy years;
And if by reason of strength they are eighty years,
Yet their boast is only labor and sorrow;
For it is soon cut off, and we fly away.
11Who knows the power of Your anger?
For as the fear of You, so is Your wrath.
12So teach us to number our days,
That we may gain a heart of wisdom.

13Return, O LORD!
How long?
And have compassion on Your servants.
14Oh, satisfy us early with Your mercy,
That we may rejoice and be glad all our days!
15Make us glad according to the days in which You have afflicted us,
The years in which we have seen evil.
16Let Your work appear to Your servants,
And Your glory to their children. Connecting Our Work with God's Work
17And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us,
And establish the work of our hands for us;
Yes, establish the work of our hands.

Psalm 91

Safety of Abiding in the Presence of God

[1]He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High
Shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
[2]I will say of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress;
My God, in Him I will trust."

[3]Surely He shall deliver you from the snare of the fowler[a]
And from the perilous pestilence.
[4]He shall cover you with His feathers,
And under His wings you shall take refuge;
His truth shall be your shield and buckler.
[5]You shall not be afraid of the terror by night,
Nor of the arrow that flies by day,
[6]Nor of the pestilence that walks in
darkness,
Nor of the destruction that lays waste at noonday.

[7]A thousand may fall at your side,
And ten thousand at your right hand;
But it shall not come near you.
[8]Only with your eyes shall you look,
And see the reward of the wicked.

[9]Because you have made the LORD, who is my refuge,

Even the Most High, your dwelling place,
10 No evil shall befall you,
Nor shall any plague come near your dwelling;
11 For He shall give His angels charge over you,
To keep you in all your ways.
12 In their hands they shall bear you up,
Lest you dash your foot against a stone.
13 You shall tread upon the lion and the cobra,
The young lion and the serpent you shall trample underfoot.

14 "Because he has set his love upon Me, therefore I will deliver him;
I will set him on high, because he has known My name.
15 He shall call upon Me, and I will answer him;
I will be with him in trouble;
I will deliver him and honor him.
16 With long life I will satisfy him,
And show him My salvation."

Psalm 92

Praise to the LORD for His Love and Faithfulness

A Psalm. A Song for the Sabbath day.

1 IT is good to give thanks to the LORD,
And to sing praises to Your name, O Most High;
2 To declare Your lovingkindness in the morning,
And Your faithfulness every night,
3 On an instrument of ten strings,
On the lute,
And on the harp,
With harmonious sound.
4 For You, LORD, have made me glad through Your work;
I will triumph in the works of Your hands.

5 O LORD, how great are Your works!
Your thoughts are very deep.
6 A senseless man does not know,
Nor does a fool understand this.
7 When the wicked spring up like grass,
And when all the workers of iniquity flourish,
It is that they may be destroyed forever.

8 But You, LORD, are on high forevermore.
9 For behold, Your enemies, O LORD,
For behold, Your enemies shall perish;
All the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

10 But my horn You have exalted like a wild ox;
I have been anointed with fresh oil.
11 My eye also has seen my desire on my
enemies;
My ears hear my desire on the wicked
Who rise up against me.

12 The righteous shall flourish like a palm
tree,
He shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
13 Those who are planted in the house of the
LORD
Shall flourish in the courts of our God.
14 They shall still bear fruit in old age;
They shall be fresh and flourishing, The Art of Growing Old
15 To declare that the LORD is upright;
He is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in Him.

Psalm 93

The Eternal Reign of the LORD

[1]The LORD reigns, He is clothed with majesty;
The LORD is clothed,
He has girded Himself with strength.
Surely the world is established, so that it cannot be moved.
[2]Your throne is established from of old;
You are from everlasting.

[3]The floods have lifted up, O LORD,
The floods have lifted up their voice;
The floods lift up their waves.
[4]The LORD on high is mightier
Than the noise of many waters,
Than the mighty waves of the sea.

[5]Your testimonies are very sure;
Holiness adorns Your house,
O LORD, forever.

Psalm 94

God the Refuge of the Righteous

[1]O LORD God, to whom vengeance belongs
O God, to whom vengeance belongs, shine
forth!
[2]Rise up, O Judge of the earth;
Render punishment to the proud.
[3]LORD, how long will the wicked,
How long will the wicked triumph?

[4]They utter speech, and speak insolent
things;
All the workers of iniquity boast in themselves.
[5]They break in pieces Your people, O LORD,
And afflict Your heritage.
[6]They slay the widow and the stranger,
And murder the fatherless.
[7]Yet they say, “The LORD does not see,
Nor does the God of Jacob understand.”

[8]Understand, you senseless among the people;
And you fools, when will you be wise?
[9]He who planted the ear, shall He not hear?
He who formed the eye, shall He not see?
[10]He who instructs the nations, shall He not correct,
He who teaches man knowledge?
[11]The LORD knows the thoughts of man,

That they are futile.

12 Blessed is the man whom You instruct, O LORD,
And teach out of Your law,
13 That You may give him rest from the days of adversity,
Until the pit is dug for the wicked.
14 For the LORD will not cast off His people,
Nor will He forsake His inheritance.
15 But judgment will return to righteousness,
And all the upright in heart will follow it.

16 Who will rise up for me against the evildoers?
Who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?
17 Unless the LORD had been my help,
My soul would soon have settled in silence.
18 If I say, "My foot slips,"
Your mercy, O LORD, will hold me up.
19 In the multitude of my anxieties within me,
Your comforts delight my soul.

20 Shall the throne of iniquity, which devises evil by law,
Have fellowship with You? Why Things Don't Change
21 They gather together against the life of the righteous,
And condemn innocent blood.
22 But the LORD has been my defense,
And my God the rock of my refuge.
23 He has brought on them their own iniquity,

And shall cut them off in their own wickedness;
The LORD our God shall cut them off.

Psalm 95

A Call to Worship and Obedience

1 Oh come, let us sing to the LORD!
Let us shout joyfully to the Rock of our salvation.
2 Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving;
Let us shout joyfully to Him with psalms.
3 For the LORD is the great God,
And the great King above all gods.
4 In His hand are the deep places of the earth;
The heights of the hills are His also.
5 The sea is His, for He made it;
And His hands formed the dry land.

6 Oh come, let us worship and bow down;
Let us kneel before the LORD our Maker.
7 For He is our God,
And we are the people of His pasture,
And the sheep of His hand.
Today, if you will hear His voice:
8 "Do not harden your hearts, as in the rebellion,[a]
As in the day of trial[b] in the wilderness,
9 When your fathers tested Me;
They tried Me, though they saw My work.
10 For forty years I was grieved with that generation,
And said, 'It is a people who go astray in their hearts,

And they do not know My ways.’
11So I swore in My wrath,
‘They shall not enter My rest.’ ”

Psalm 96

A Song of Praise to God Coming in Judgment

[1]Oh, sing to the LORD a new song!
Sing to the LORD, all the earth.
[2]Sing to the LORD, bless His name;
Proclaim the good news of His salvation
from day to day.
[3]Declare His glory among the nations,
His wonders among all peoples.

[4]For the LORD is great and greatly to be praised;
He is to be feared above all gods.
[5]For all the gods of the peoples are idols,
But the LORD made the heavens.
[6]Honor and majesty are before Him;
Strength and beauty are in His sanctuary.

[7]Give to the LORD, O families of the peoples,
Give to the LORD glory and strength.
[8]Give to the LORD the glory due His name;
Bring an offering, and come into His courts.

A Day of Worship

[9]Oh, worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness!
Tremble before Him, all the earth.

[10]Say among the nations, “The LORD reigns;
The world also is firmly established,
It shall not be moved;
He shall judge the peoples righteously.”

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth
be glad;
Let the sea roar, and all its fullness;
12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is in it.
Then all the trees of the woods will rejoice
13 before the LORD.
For He is coming, for He is coming to judge
the earth.
He shall judge the world with righteousness,
And the peoples with His truth.

Psalm 97

A Song of Praise to the Sovereign LORD

[1]The LORD reigns;
Let the earth rejoice;
Let the multitude of isles be glad!

[2]Clouds and darkness surround Him; Righteousness and justice are the foundation of His throne.
[3]A fire goes before Him,
And burns up His enemies round about.
[4]His lightnings light the world;
The earth sees and trembles.
[5]The mountains melt like wax at the presence of the LORD,
At the presence of the Lord of the whole
earth.
[6]The heavens declare His righteousness,
And all the peoples see His glory.

[7]Let all be put to shame who serve carved
images,
Who boast of idols.
Worship Him, all you gods.
[8]Zion hears and is glad,
And the daughters of Judah rejoice
Because of Your judgments, O LORD.
[9]For You, LORD, are most high above all the
earth;
You are exalted far above all gods.

[10]You who love the LORD, hate evil!

He preserves the souls of His saints;
He delivers them out of the hand of the wicked.
11 Light is sown for the righteous,
And gladness for the upright in heart.
12 Rejoice in the LORD, you righteous,
And give thanks at the remembrance of His holy name.[a]

Psalm 98

A Song of Praise to the LORD for His Salvation and Judgment

A Psalm.

1 Oh, sing to the LORD a new song!
For He has done marvelous things;
His right hand and His holy arm have gained Him the victory. A New Song
2 The LORD has made known His salvation;
His righteousness He has revealed in the sight of the nations.
3 He has remembered His mercy and His faithfulness to the house of Israel;
All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 Shout joyfully to the LORD, all the earth; Break forth in song, rejoice, and sing praises.
5 Sing to the LORD with the harp,
With the harp and the sound of a psalm,
6 With trumpets and the sound of a horn;
Shout joyfully before the LORD, the King.

7 Let the sea roar, and all its fullness,
The world and those who dwell in it;
8 Let the rivers clap their hands;
Let the hills be joyful together
9 before the LORD,
For He is coming to judge the earth.
With righteousness He shall judge the world,

And the peoples with equity.

Psalm 99

Praise to the LORD for His Holiness

[1]The LORD reigns;
Let the peoples tremble!
He dwells between the cherubim;
Let the earth be moved!
[2]The LORD is great in Zion,
And He is high above all the peoples.
[3]Let them praise Your great and awesome
name—
He is holy.

[4]The King's strength also loves justice;
You have established equity;
You have executed justice and righteousness
in Jacob.
[5]Exalt the LORD our God,
And worship at His footstool—
He is holy.

[6]Moses and Aaron were among His priests,
And Samuel was among those who called upon His name;
They called upon the LORD, and He answered them.
[7]He spoke to them in the cloudy pillar;
They kept His testimonies and the ordinance
He gave them.

[8]You answered them, O LORD our God;
You were to them God-Who-Forgives,
Though You took vengeance on their deeds.

9 Exalt the LORD our God,
And worship at His holy hill;
For the LORD our God is holy.

Psalm 100

A Song of Praise for the LORD's Faithfulness to His People

A Psalm of Thanksgiving.

[1]Make a joyful shout to the LORD, all you lands! Psalms for Many Occasions
[2]Serve the LORD with gladness;
Come before His presence with singing.
[3]Know that the LORD, He is God;
It is He who has made us, and not we ourselves;[a]
We are His people and the sheep of His pasture.

[4]Enter into His gates with thanksgiving,
And into His courts with praise.
Be thankful to Him, and bless His name.
[5]For the LORD is good;
His mercy is everlasting,
And His truth endures to all generations.

Psalm 101

Promised Faithfulness to the LORD

A Psalm of David.

1 I WILL sing of mercy and justice;
To You, O LORD, I will sing praises. Yes, We Can Be Spiritual in Governing

2 I will behave wisely in a perfect way.
Oh, when will You come to me?
I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.

3 I will set nothing wicked before my eyes;
I hate the work of those who fall away;
It shall not cling to me.
4 A perverse heart shall depart from me;
I will not know wickedness.

5 Whoever secretly slanders his neighbor,
Him I will destroy;
The one who has a haughty look and a proud heart,
Him I will not endure.

6 My eyes shall be on the faithful of the land,
That they may dwell with me;
He who walks in a perfect way,
He shall serve me.
7 He who works deceit shall not dwell within my house;

He who tells lies shall not continue in my presence.
8Early I will destroy all the wicked of the
land,
That I may cut off all the evildoers from the city of the LORD.

Psalm 102

The LORD's Eternal Love

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed and pours out his complaint before the LORD.

[1]Hear my prayer, O LORD,
And let my cry come to You.
[2]Do not hide Your face from me in the day of my trouble;
Incline Your ear to me;
In the day that I call, answer me speedily.

[3]For my days are consumed like smoke,
And my bones are burned like a hearth.
[4]My heart is stricken and withered like grass,
So that I forget to eat my bread.
[5]Because of the sound of my groaning
My bones cling to my skin.
[6]I am like a pelican of the wilderness;
I am like an owl of the desert.
[7]I lie awake,
And am like a sparrow alone on the housetop.

[8]My enemies reproach me all day long;
Those who deride me swear an oath against me.
[9]For I have eaten ashes like bread,
And mingled my drink with weeping,
[10]Because of Your indignation and Your wrath;

For You have lifted me up and cast me away.
11My days are like a shadow that lengthens,
And I wither away like grass.

12But You, O LORD, shall endure forever,
And the remembrance of Your name to all generations.
13You will arise and have mercy on Zion;
For the time to favor her,
Yes, the set time, has come.
14For Your servants take pleasure in her stones,
And show favor to her dust.
15So the nations shall fear the name of the LORD,
And all the kings of the earth Your glory.
16For the LORD shall build up Zion;
He shall appear in His glory.
17He shall regard the prayer of the destitute,
And shall not despise their prayer.

18This will be written for the generation to come,
That a people yet to be created may praise the LORD.
19For He looked down from the height of His sanctuary;
From heaven the LORD viewed the earth,
20To hear the groaning of the prisoner,
To release those appointed to death, From Individuals to Community to the World
21To declare the name of the LORD in Zion,
And His praise in Jerusalem,
22When the peoples are gathered together,

And the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.

23 He weakened my strength in the way;
He shortened my days.
24 I said, “O my God,
Do not take me away in the midst of my days;
Your years are throughout all generations.
25 Of old You laid the foundation of the earth,
And the heavens are the work of Your hands.
26 They will perish, but You will endure;
Yes, they will all grow old like a garment;
Like a cloak You will change them,
And they will be changed.
27 But You are the same,
And Your years will have no end.
28 The children of Your servants will continue,
And their descendants will be established before You.”

Psalm 103

Praise for the LORD's Mercies

A Psalm of David.

1 Bless the LORD, O my soul;
And all that is within me, bless His holy name! Psalms into Hymns
2 Bless the LORD, O my soul,
And forget not all His benefits:
3 Who forgives all your iniquities,
Who heals all your diseases,
4 Who redeems your life from destruction,
Who crowns you with lovingkindness and tender mercies,
5 Who satisfies your mouth with good things,
So that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.

6 The LORD executes righteousness
And justice for all who are oppressed.
7 He made known His ways to Moses,
His acts to the children of Israel.
8 The LORD is merciful and gracious,
Slow to anger, and abounding in mercy.
9 He will not always strive with us,
Nor will He keep His anger forever.
10 He has not dealt with us according to our sins,
Nor punished us according to our iniquities.

11 For as the heavens are high above the earth,

So great is His mercy toward those who fear
Him;
12As far as the east is from the west,
So far has He removed our transgressions
from us.
13As a father pities his children,
So the LORD pities those who fear Him.
14For He knows our frame;
He remembers that we are dust.

15*As for* man, his days are like grass;
As a flower of the field, so he flourishes.
16For the wind passes over it, and it is gone,
And its place remembers it no more.[a] 17But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting
On those who fear Him,
And His righteousness to children's children,
18To such as keep His covenant,
And to those who remember His commandments to do them.

19The LORD has established His throne in heaven,
And His kingdom rules over all. Glimpses of Heaven

20Bless the LORD, you His angels,
Who excel in strength, who do His word,
Heeding the voice of His word.
21Bless the LORD, all you His hosts,
You ministers of His, who do His pleasure.
22Bless the LORD, all His works,
In all places of His dominion.
Bless the LORD, O my soul!

Psalm 104

Praise to the Sovereign LORD for His Creation and Providence

[1]Bless the LORD, O my soul!
O LORD my God, You are very great:
You are clothed with honor and majesty,
[2]Who cover Yourself with light as with a garment,
Who stretch out the heavens like a curtain.

[3]He lays the beams of His upper chambers in the waters,
Who makes the clouds His chariot,
Who walks on the wings of the wind,
[4]Who makes His angels spirits,
His ministers a flame of fire.

[5]You who laid the foundations of the earth,
So that it should not be moved forever,
[6]You covered it with the deep as with a garment;
The waters stood above the mountains.
[7]At Your rebuke they fled;
At the voice of Your thunder they hastened away.
[8]They went up over the mountains;
They went down into the valleys,
To the place which You founded for them.
[9]You have set a boundary that they may not pass over,
That they may not return to cover the earth.

10 He sends the springs into the valleys;
They flow among the hills.
11 They give drink to every beast of the field;
The wild donkeys quench their thirst.
12 By them the birds of the heavens have their home;
They sing among the branches.
13 He waters the hills from His upper chambers;
The earth is satisfied with the fruit of Your works.

14 He causes the grass to grow for the cattle,
And vegetation for the service of man,
That he may bring forth food from the earth,

God and the Environment

15 And wine that makes glad the heart of
man,
Oil to make his face shine,
And bread which strengthens man's heart.
16 The trees of the LORD are full of sap,
The cedars of Lebanon which He planted,
17 Where the birds make their nests;
The stork has her home in the fir trees.
18 The high hills are for the wild goats;
The cliffs are a refuge for the rock badgers.[a]

19 He appointed the moon for seasons;
The sun knows its going down.
20 You make darkness, and it is night,
In which all the beasts of the forest creep about.
21 The young lions roar after their prey,
And seek their food from God.

22 When the sun rises, they gather together
And lie down in their dens.
23 Man goes out to his work
And to his labor until the evening.

24 O LORD, how manifold are Your works!
In wisdom You have made them all.
The earth is full of Your possessions— Work God's Way
25 This great and wide sea,
In which are innumerable teeming things,
Living things both small and great.
26 There the ships sail about;
There is that Leviathan
Which You have made to play there.

27 These all wait for You,
That You may give them their food in due season.
28 What You give them they gather in;
You open Your hand, they are filled with good.
29 You hide Your face, they are troubled;
You take away their breath, they die and return to their dust.
30 You send forth Your Spirit, they are created;
And You renew the face of the earth.

31 May the glory of the LORD endure forever;
May the LORD rejoice in His works.
32 He looks on the earth, and it trembles;
He touches the hills, and they smoke.

[33]I will sing to the LORD as long as I live;
I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.
[34]May my meditation be sweet to Him;
I will be glad in the LORD.
[35]May sinners be consumed from the earth,
And the wicked be no more.
Bless the LORD, O my soul!
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 105

The Eternal Faithfulness of the LORD

1 Oh, give thanks to the LORD!
Call upon His name;
Make known His deeds among the peoples!

Spiritual Publicity

2 Sing to Him, sing psalms to Him;
Talk of all His wondrous works!
3 Glory in His holy name;
Let the hearts of those rejoice who seek the
LORD!
4 Seek the LORD and His strength;
Seek His face evermore!
5 Remember His marvelous works which He
has done,
His wonders, and the judgments of His
mouth,
6 O seed of Abraham His servant,
You children of Jacob, His chosen ones!

7 He is the LORD our God;
His judgments are in all the earth.
8 He remembers His covenant forever,
The word which He commanded, for a
thousand generations,
9 The covenant which He made with Abraham,
And His oath to Isaac,
10 And confirmed it to Jacob for a statute,
To Israel as an everlasting covenant,

11 Saying, “To you I will give the land of Canaan
As the allotment of your inheritance,”
12 When they were few in number,
Indeed very few, and strangers in it.

13 When they went from one nation to
another,
From one kingdom to another people,
14 He permitted no one to do them wrong;
Yes, He rebuked kings for their sakes,
15 Saying, “Do not touch My anointed ones,
And do My prophets no harm.”

16 Moreover He called for a famine in the
land;
He destroyed all the provision of bread.
17 He sent a man before them—
Joseph—who was sold as a slave.
18 They hurt his feet with fetters,
He was laid in irons.
19 Until the time that his word came to pass,
The word of the LORD tested him.
20 The king sent and released him,
The ruler of the people let him go free.
21 He made him lord of his house,
And ruler of all his possessions,
22 To bind his princes at his pleasure,
And teach his elders wisdom.

23 Israel also came into Egypt,
And Jacob dwelt in the land of Ham.
24 He increased His people greatly,
And made them stronger than their enemies.

25 He turned their heart to hate His people,
To deal craftily with His servants.

26 He sent Moses His servant,
And Aaron whom He had chosen.
27 They performed His signs among them,
And wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He sent darkness, and made it dark;
And they did not rebel against His word.
29 He turned their waters into blood,
And killed their fish.
30 Their land abounded with frogs,
Even in the chambers of their kings.
31 He spoke, and there came swarms of flies,
And lice in all their territory.
32 He gave them hail for rain,
And flaming fire in their land.
33 He struck their vines also, and their fig trees,
And splintered the trees of their territory.
34 He spoke, and locusts came,
Young locusts without number,
35 And ate up all the vegetation in their land,
And devoured the fruit of their ground.
36 He also destroyed all the firstborn in their land,
The first of all their strength.

37 He also brought them out with silver and gold,
And there was none feeble among His tribes.
38 Egypt was glad when they departed,
For the fear of them had fallen upon them.
39 He spread a cloud for a covering,

And fire to give light in the night.
40 The people asked, and He brought quail,
And satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
41 He opened the rock, and water gushed
out;
It ran in the dry places like a river.

42 For He remembered His holy promise,
And Abraham His servant.
43 He brought out His people with joy,
His chosen ones with gladness.
44 He gave them the lands of the Gentiles,
And they inherited the labor of the nations,
45 That they might observe His statutes
And keep His laws.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 106

Joy in Forgiveness of Israel's Sins

1 Praise the LORD!
Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for He is good!
For His mercy endures forever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the
LORD?
Who can declare all His praise?
3 Blessed are those who keep justice,
And he who does[a] righteousness at all times!

4 Remember me, O LORD, with the favor You have toward Your people.
Oh, visit me with Your salvation,
5 That I may see the benefit of Your chosen ones,
That I may rejoice in the gladness of Your nation,
That I may glory with Your inheritance.

6 We have sinned with our fathers,
We have committed iniquity,
We have done wickedly. Celebrating Relief from Sin
7 Our fathers in Egypt did not understand
Your wonders;
They did not remember the multitude of
Your mercies,
But rebelled by the sea—the Red Sea.

8 Nevertheless He saved them for His name's
sake,

That He might make His mighty power known.
9He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it dried up;
So He led them through the depths,
As through the wilderness.
10He saved them from the hand of him who hated them,
And redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
11The waters covered their enemies;
There was not one of them left.
12Then they believed His words;
They sang His praise.

13They soon forgot His works;
They did not wait for His counsel,
14But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness,
And tested God in the desert.
15And He gave them their request,
But sent leanness into their soul.

16When they envied Moses in the camp,
And Aaron the saint of the LORD,
17The earth opened up and swallowed Dathan,
And covered the faction of Abiram.
18A fire was kindled in their company;
The flame burned up the wicked.

19They made a calf in Horeb,
And worshiped the molded image.
20Thus they changed their glory
Into the image of an ox that eats grass.

21 They forgot God their Savior,
Who had done great things in Egypt,
22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham,
Awesome things by the Red Sea.
23 Therefore He said that He would destroy
them,
Had not Moses His chosen one stood before
Him in the breach,
To turn away His wrath, lest He destroy
them.

24 Then they despised the pleasant land;
They did not believe His word,
25 But complained in their tents,
And did not heed the voice of the LORD.
26 Therefore He raised up His hand in an oath against them,
To overthrow them in the wilderness, 27 To overthrow their descendants among the nations,
And to scatter them in the lands.

28 They joined themselves also to Baal of Peor,
And ate sacrifices made to the dead.
29 Thus they provoked Him to anger with their deeds,
And the plague broke out among them.
30 Then Phinehas stood up and intervened,
And the plague was stopped.
31 And that was accounted to him for
righteousness
To all generations forevermore.

32 They angered Him also at the waters of strife,[b]
So that it went ill with Moses on account of
them;
33 Because they rebelled against His Spirit,
So that he spoke rashly with his lips.

34 They did not destroy the peoples, Concerning whom the LORD had
commanded them,
35 But they mingled with the Gentiles
And learned their works;
36 They served their idols,
Which became a snare to them.
37 They even sacrificed their sons
And their daughters to demons,
38 And shed innocent blood,
The blood of their sons and daughters,
Whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan;
And the land was polluted with blood.
39 Thus they were defiled by their own
works,
And played the harlot by their own deeds.

40 Therefore the wrath of the LORD was kindled against His people,
So that He abhorred His own inheritance.
41 And He gave them into the hand of the Gentiles,
And those who hated them ruled over them.
42 Their enemies also oppressed them,
And they were brought into subjection under their hand.
43 Many times He delivered them;

But they rebelled in their counsel,
And were brought low for their iniquity.

44 Nevertheless He regarded their affliction,
When He heard their cry;
45 And for their sake He remembered His covenant,
And relented according to the multitude of His mercies.
46 He also made them to be pitied
By all those who carried them away captive.

47 Save us, O LORD our God,
And gather us from among the Gentiles,
To give thanks to Your holy name,
To triumph in Your praise.

48 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel
From everlasting to everlasting!
And let all the people say, “Amen!”
Praise the LORD!

Psalms 107—150

Psalm 107

Thanksgiving to the LORD for His Great Works of Deliverance

[1]Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for He is good!
For His mercy endures forever.
[2]Let the redeemed of the LORD say so,
Whom He has redeemed from the hand of the enemy,
[3]And gathered out of the lands,
From the east and from the west,
From the north and from the south.

[4]They wandered in the wilderness in a desolate way;
They found no city to dwell in.
[5]Hungry and thirsty,
Their soul fainted in them.
[6]Then they cried out to the LORD in their trouble,
And He delivered them out of their distresses.
[7]And He led them forth by the right way,
That they might go to a city for a dwelling place.
[8]Oh, that men would give thanks to the LORD for His goodness,

And for His wonderful works to the children
of men!
9For He satisfies the longing soul,
And fills the hungry soul with goodness.

10Those who sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
Bound in affliction and irons—
11Because they rebelled against the words of God,
And despised the counsel of the Most High, 12Therefore He brought down their heart with labor;
They fell down, and there was none to help.
13Then they cried out to the LORD in their
trouble,
And He saved them out of their distresses.
14He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death,
And broke their chains in pieces.
15Oh, that men would give thanks to the LORD for His goodness,
And for His wonderful works to the children
of men!
16For He has broken the gates of bronze,
And cut the bars of iron in two.

17Fools, because of their transgression,
And because of their iniquities, were afflicted.
18Their soul abhorred all manner of food,
And they drew near to the gates of death.
19Then they cried out to the LORD in their
trouble,

And He saved them out of their distresses.
20 He sent His word and healed them,
And delivered them from their destructions.
21 Oh, that men would give thanks to the LORD for His goodness,
And for His wonderful works to the children
of men!
22 Let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving,
And declare His works with rejoicing.

23 Those who go down to the sea in ships,
Who do business on great waters,
24 They see the works of the LORD,
And His wonders in the deep.
25 For He commands and raises the stormy
wind,
Which lifts up the waves of the sea.
26 They mount up to the heavens,
They go down again to the depths;
Their soul melts because of trouble.
27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man,
And are at their wits' end.
28 Then they cry out to the LORD in their
trouble,
And He brings them out of their distresses.
29 He calms the storm,
So that its waves are still.
30 Then they are glad because they are quiet;
So He guides them to their desired haven.
31 Oh, that men would give thanks to the LORD for His goodness,

And for His wonderful works to the children
of men!
32Let them exalt Him also in the assembly of
the people,
And praise Him in the company of the elders.

33He turns rivers into a wilderness,
And the watersprings into dry ground;
34A fruitful land into barrenness,
For the wickedness of those who dwell in it.
35He turns a wilderness into pools of water,
And dry land into watersprings.
36There He makes the hungry dwell,
That they may establish a city for a dwelling place,
37And sow fields and plant vineyards,
That they may yield a fruitful harvest.
38He also blesses them, and they multiply greatly;
And He does not let their cattle decrease.

39When they are diminished and brought low
Through oppression, affliction, and sorrow,
40He pours contempt on princes,
And causes them to wander in the wilderness where there is no way; 41Yet He sets the poor on high, far from affliction,
And makes their families like a flock.
42The righteous see it and rejoice,
And all iniquity stops its mouth.

43Whoever is wise will observe these things,

And they will understand the lovingkindness of the LORD.

Psalm 108

Assurance of God's Victory over Enemies

A Song. A Psalm of David.

[1]O GOD, my heart is steadfast;
I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.
[2]Awake, lute and harp!
I will awaken the dawn.
[3]I will praise You, O LORD, among the peoples,
And I will sing praises to You among the nations.
[4]For Your mercy is great above the heavens,
And Your truth reaches to the clouds.

[5]Be exalted, O God, above the heavens,
And Your glory above all the earth;
[6]That Your beloved may be delivered,
Save with Your right hand, and hear me.

[7]God has spoken in His holiness:
"I will rejoice;
I will divide Shechem
And measure out the Valley of Succoth.
[8]Gilead is Mine; Manasseh is Mine;
Ephraim also is the helmet for My head;
Judah is My lawgiver.
[9]Moab is My washpot;
Over Edom I will cast My shoe;
Over Philistia I will triumph."

10 Who will bring me into the strong city?
Who will lead me to Edom?
11 Is it not You, O God, who cast us off?
And You, O God, who did not go out with our armies?
12 Give us help from trouble,
For the help of man is useless.
13 Through God we will do valiantly,
For it is He who shall tread down our enemies.[a]

Psalm 109

Plea for Judgment of False Accusers

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Do not keep silent,
O God of my praise!
2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful
Have opened against me;
They have spoken against me with a lying tongue.
3 They have also surrounded me with words of hatred,
And fought against me without a cause.
4 In return for my love they are my accusers,
But I give myself to prayer.
5 Thus they have rewarded me evil for good,
And hatred for my love.

6 Set a wicked man over him,
And let an accuser[a] stand at his right hand.
7 When he is judged, let him be found guilty,
And let his prayer become sin.
8 Let his days be few,
And let another take his office.
9 Let his children be fatherless,
And his wife a widow.
10 Let his children continually be vagabonds,
and beg;
Let them seek their bread[b] also from their desolate places.

11 Let the creditor seize all that he has,
And let strangers plunder his labor.
12 Let there be none to extend mercy to him,
Nor let there be any to favor his fatherless children.
13 Let his posterity be cut off,
And in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered before the LORD,
And let not the sin of his mother be blotted
out.
15 Let them be continually before the LORD,
That He may cut off the memory of them from the earth;
16 Because he did not remember to show
mercy,
But persecuted the poor and needy man,
That he might even slay the broken in heart.
17 As he loved cursing, so let it come to him;
As he did not delight in blessing, so let it be far from him.
18 As he clothed himself with cursing as with his garment,
So let it enter his body like water,
And like oil into his bones.
19 Let it be to him like the garment which covers him,
And for a belt with which he girds himself
continually.
20 Let this be the LORD's reward to my accusers,

And to those who speak evil against my person.

21 But You, O GOD the Lord,
Deal with me for Your name's sake;
Because Your mercy is good, deliver me.
22 For I am poor and needy,
And my heart is wounded within me.
23 I am gone like a shadow when it lengthens;
I am shaken off like a locust.
24 My knees are weak through fasting,
And my flesh is feeble from lack of fatness.
25 I also have become a reproach to them;
When they look at me, they shake their heads.

26 Help me, O LORD my God!
Oh, save me according to Your mercy,
27 That they may know that this is Your hand —
That You, LORD, have done it!
28 Let them curse, but You bless;
When they arise, let them be ashamed,
But let Your servant rejoice.
29 Let my accusers be clothed with shame,
And let them cover themselves with their own disgrace as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly praise the LORD with my mouth;
Yes, I will praise Him among the multitude.
31 For He shall stand at the right hand of the poor,
To save him from those who condemn him.

Psalm 110

Announcement of the Messiah's Reign

A Psalm of David.

[1]The LORD said to my Lord,
"Sit at My right hand,
Till I make Your enemies Your footstool." [2]The LORD shall send the rod of Your strength out of Zion.
Rule in the midst of Your enemies!

[3]Your people shall be volunteers
In the day of Your power;
In the beauties of holiness, from the womb
of the morning,
You have the dew of Your youth.
[4]The LORD has sworn
And will not relent,
"You are a priest forever
According to the order of Melchizedek."

[5]The Lord is at Your right hand;
He shall execute kings in the day of His wrath.
[6]He shall judge among the nations,
He shall fill the places with dead bodies,
He shall execute the heads of many countries.
[7]He shall drink of the brook by the wayside;
Therefore He shall lift up the head.

Psalm 111

Praise to God for His Faithfulness and Justice

[1]Praise the LORD!
I will praise the LORD with my whole heart,
In the assembly of the upright and in the congregation.

[2]The works of the LORD are great,
Studied by all who have pleasure in them.
[3]His work is honorable and glorious,
And His righteousness endures forever.
[4]He has made His wonderful works to be remembered;
The LORD is gracious and full of compassion.
[5]He has given food to those who fear Him;
He will ever be mindful of His covenant.
[6]He has declared to His people the power of His works,
In giving them the heritage of the nations.

[7]The works of His hands are verity and justice;
All His precepts are sure.
[8]They stand fast forever and ever,
And are done in truth and uprightness.
[9]He has sent redemption to His people;
He has commanded His covenant forever:
Holy and awesome is His name.

[10]The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom;

A good understanding have all those who do
His commandments.
His praise endures forever.

Psalm 112

The Blessed State of the Righteous

[1]Praise the LORD!
Blessed is the man who fears the LORD,
Who delights greatly in His commandments.

[2]His descendants will be mighty on earth;
The generation of the upright will be blessed.
[3]Wealth and riches will be in his house,
And his righteousness endures forever.
[4]Unto the upright there arises light in the darkness;
He is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.
[5]A good man deals graciously and lends;
He will guide his affairs with discretion.
[6]Surely he will never be shaken;
The righteous will be in everlasting remembrance.
[7]He will not be afraid of evil tidings;
His heart is steadfast, trusting in the LORD.
[8]His heart is established;
He will not be afraid,
Until he sees his desire upon his enemies.

[9]He has dispersed abroad,
He has given to the poor;
His righteousness endures forever;
His horn will be exalted with honor.
[10]The wicked will see it and be grieved;
He will gnash his teeth and melt away;

The desire of the wicked shall perish.

Psalm 113

The Majesty and Condescension of God

[1]Praise the LORD!
Praise, O servants of the LORD,
Praise the name of the LORD! Passover Songs
[2]Blessed be the name of the LORD
From this time forth and forevermore!
[3]From the rising of the sun to its going down
The LORD's name is to be praised.

[4]The LORD is high above all nations,
His glory above the heavens.
[5]Who is like the LORD our God,
Who dwells on high,
[6]Who humbles Himself to behold
The things that are in the heavens and in the earth?

[7]He raises the poor out of the dust,
And lifts the needy out of the ash heap,
[8]That He may seat him with princes—
With the princes of His people.
[9]He grants the barren woman a home,
Like a joyful mother of children.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 114

The Power of God in His Deliverance of Israel

[1]When Israel went out of Egypt,
The house of Jacob from a people of strange language,
[2]Judah became His sanctuary,
And Israel His dominion.

[3]The sea saw it and fled;
Jordan turned back.
[4]The mountains skipped like rams,
The little hills like lambs.
[5]What ails you, O sea, that you fled?
O Jordan, that you turned back?
[6]O mountains, that you skipped like rams?
O little hills, like lambs?

[7]Tremble, O earth, at the presence of the Lord,
At the presence of the God of Jacob,
[8]Who turned the rock into a pool of water,
The flint into a fountain of waters.

Psalm 115

The Futility of Idols and the Trustworthiness of God

[1]Not unto us, O LORD, not unto us,
But to Your name give glory,
Because of Your mercy,
Because of Your truth.
[2]Why should the Gentiles say,
"So where is their God?"

[3]But our God is in heaven;
He does whatever He pleases.
[4]Their idols are silver and gold,
The work of men's hands.
[5]They have mouths, but they do not speak;
Eyes they have, but they do not see;
[6]They have ears, but they do not hear;
Noses they have, but they do not smell;
[7]They have hands, but they do not handle;
Feet they have, but they do not walk;
Nor do they mutter through their throat.
[8]Those who make them are like them;
So is everyone who trusts in them.

[9]O Israel, trust in the LORD;
He is their help and their shield.
[10]O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD;
He is their help and their shield.
[11]You who fear the LORD, trust in the LORD;
He is their help and their shield.

[12]The LORD has been mindful of us;
He will bless us;

He will bless the house of Israel;
He will bless the house of Aaron.
13 He will bless those who fear the LORD,
Both small and great.

14 May the LORD give you increase more and more,
You and your children.
15 May you be blessed by the LORD,
Who made heaven and earth.

16 The heaven, even the heavens, are the LORD's;
But the earth He has given to the children of men.
17 The dead do not praise the LORD,
Nor any who go down into silence.
18 But we will bless the LORD
From this time forth and forevermore.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 116

Thanksgiving for Deliverance from Death

[1]I LOVE the LORD, because He has heard
My voice and my supplications.
[2]Because He has inclined His ear to me,
Therefore I will call upon Him as long as I live.

[3]The pains of death surrounded me,
And the pangs of Sheol laid hold of me;
I found trouble and sorrow.
[4]Then I called upon the name of the LORD:
"O LORD, I implore You, deliver my soul!"

[5]Gracious is the LORD, and righteous;
Yes, our God is merciful.
[6]The LORD preserves the simple;
I was brought low, and He saved me.
[7]Return to your rest, O my soul,
For the LORD has dealt bountifully with you.

[8]For You have delivered my soul from death,
My eyes from tears,
And my feet from falling.
[9]I will walk before the LORD
In the land of the living.
[10]I believed, therefore I spoke,
"I am greatly afflicted."
[11]I said in my haste,
"All men are liars."

[12]What shall I render to the LORD

For all His benefits toward me?
13 I will take up the cup of salvation,
And call upon the name of the LORD.
14 I will pay my vows to the LORD
Now in the presence of all His people.

15 Precious in the sight of the LORD
Is the death of His saints.

16 O LORD, truly I am Your servant;
I am Your servant, the son of Your maidservant;
You have loosed my bonds.
17 I will offer to You the sacrifice of thanksgiving,
And will call upon the name of the LORD.

18 I will pay my vows to the LORD
Now in the presence of all His people,
19 In the courts of the LORD's house,
In the midst of you, O Jerusalem.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 117

Let All Peoples Praise the LORD

[1]Praise the LORD, all you Gentiles!
Laud Him, all you peoples!
[2]For His merciful kindness is great toward us,
And the truth of the LORD endures forever.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 118

Praise to God for His Everlasting Mercy

1 Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for He is good!
For His mercy endures forever.

2 Let Israel now say,
"His mercy endures forever."
3 Let the house of Aaron now say,
"His mercy endures forever."
4 Let those who fear the LORD now say,
"His mercy endures forever."

5 I called on the LORD in distress;
The LORD answered me and set me in a broad place.
6 The LORD is on my side;
I will not fear.
What can man do to me?
7 The LORD is for me among those who help me;
Therefore I shall see my desire on those who hate me.
8 It is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in man.
9 It is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in princes.

10 All nations surrounded me,
But in the name of the LORD I will destroy them.
11 They surrounded me,

Yes, they surrounded me;
But in the name of the LORD I will destroy them.
12 They surrounded me like bees;
They were quenched like a fire of thorns;
For in the name of the LORD I will destroy them.
13 You pushed me violently, that I might fall,
But the LORD helped me.
14 The LORD is my strength and song,
And He has become my salvation.[a]

15 The voice of rejoicing and salvation
Is in the tents of the righteous;
The right hand of the LORD does valiantly.
16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted;
The right hand of the LORD does valiantly.
17 I shall not die, but live,
And declare the works of the LORD.
18 The LORD has chastened me severely,
But He has not given me over to death.

19 Open to me the gates of righteousness;
I will go through them,
And I will praise the LORD.
20 This is the gate of the LORD,
Through which the righteous shall enter.

21 I will praise You,
For You have answered me,
And have become my salvation.

22 The stone which the builders rejected
Has become the chief cornerstone.

[23]This was the LORD’s doing;
It is marvelous in our eyes.
[24]This is the day the LORD has made;
We will rejoice and be glad in it.

[25]Save now, I pray, O LORD;
O LORD, I pray, send now prosperity.
[26]Blessed is he who comes in the name of the LORD!
We have blessed you from the house of the LORD.
[27]God is the LORD,
And He has given us light;
Bind the sacrifice with cords to the horns of the altar.
[28]You are my God, and I will praise You;
You are my God, I will exalt You.

[29]Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for He is good!
For His mercy endures forever.

Psalm 119

Meditations on the Excellencies of the Word of God

א ALEPH

[1]Blessed are the undefiled in the way,
Who walk in the law of the LORD!
[2]Blessed are those who keep His testimonies,
Who seek Him with the whole heart! The Benefits of Obedience
[3]They also do no iniquity;
They walk in His ways.
[4]You have commanded us
To keep Your precepts diligently.
[5]Oh, that my ways were directed
To keep Your statutes!
[6]Then I would not be ashamed,
When I look into all Your commandments.
[7]I will praise You with uprightness of heart,
When I learn Your righteous judgments.
[8]I will keep Your statutes;
Oh, do not forsake me utterly!

ב BETH

[9]How can a young man cleanse his way?
By taking heed according to Your word.
[10]With my whole heart I have sought You;
Oh, let me not wander from Your commandments!
[11]Your word I have hidden in my heart,
That I might not sin against You.

12 Blessed are You, O LORD!
Teach me Your statutes.
13 With my lips I have declared
All the judgments of Your mouth.
14 I have rejoiced in the way of Your testimonies,
As much as in all riches.
15 I will meditate on Your precepts,
And contemplate Your ways.
16 I will delight myself in Your statutes;
I will not forget Your word.

ג GIMEL

17 Deal bountifully with Your servant,
That I may live and keep Your word.
18 Open my eyes, that I may see Wondrous things from Your law.
19 I am a stranger in the earth;
Do not hide Your commandments from me.
20 My soul breaks with longing
For Your judgments at all times.
21 You rebuke the proud—the cursed,
Who stray from Your commandments.
22 Remove from me reproach and contempt,
For I have kept Your testimonies.
23 Princes also sit and speak against me,
But Your servant meditates on Your statutes.

The Strength of Scripture

24 Your testimonies also are my delight
And my counselors.

ד DALETH

25 My soul clings to the dust;

Revive me according to Your word.
26 I have declared my ways, and You answered me;
Teach me Your statutes.
27 Make me understand the way of Your precepts;
So shall I meditate on Your wonderful works.
28 My soul melts from heaviness;
Strengthen me according to Your word.
29 Remove from me the way of lying,
And grant me Your law graciously.
30 I have chosen the way of truth;
Your judgments I have laid before me.
31 I cling to Your testimonies;
O LORD, do not put me to shame!
32 I will run the course of Your commandments,
For You shall enlarge my heart.

ה HE

33 Teach me, O LORD, the way of Your statutes,
And I shall keep it to the end.
34 Give me understanding, and I shall keep Your law;
Indeed, I shall observe it with my whole
heart.
35 Make me walk in the path of Your commandments,
For I delight in it.
36 Incline my heart to Your testimonies,
And not to covetousness.
37 Turn away my eyes from looking at worthless things,

And revive me in Your way.[a]
38 Establish Your word to Your servant,
Who is devoted to fearing You.
39 Turn away my reproach which I dread,
For Your judgments are good.
40 Behold, I long for Your precepts;
Revive me in Your righteousness.

ו WAW

41 Let Your mercies come also to me, O LORD—
Your salvation according to Your word.
42 So shall I have an answer for him who reproaches me,
For I trust in Your word.
43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth,
For I have hoped in Your ordinances.
44 So shall I keep Your law continually,
Forever and ever.
45 And I will walk at liberty,
For I seek Your precepts.
46 I will speak of Your testimonies also before kings,
And will not be ashamed.
47 And I will delight myself in Your commandments,
Which I love.
48 My hands also I will lift up to Your commandments,
Which I love,
And I will meditate on Your statutes.

ז ZAYIN

49 Remember the word to Your servant,
Upon which You have caused me to hope.
50 This is my comfort in my affliction,
For Your word has given me life.
51 The proud have me in great derision,
Yet I do not turn aside from Your law.
52 I remembered Your judgments of old, O LORD,
And have comforted myself.
53 Indignation has taken hold of me
Because of the wicked, who forsake Your law.
54 Your statutes have been my songs
In the house of my pilgrimage.
55 I remember Your name in the night, O LORD,
And I keep Your law.
56 This has become mine,
Because I kept Your precepts.

ח HETH

57 You are my portion, O LORD;
I have said that I would keep Your words.
58 I entreated Your favor with my whole heart;
Be merciful to me according to Your word.
59 I thought about my ways,
And turned my feet to Your testimonies.
60 I made haste, and did not delay
To keep Your commandments.
61 The cords of the wicked have bound me,
But I have not forgotten Your law.

62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks to
You,
Because of Your righteous judgments.
63 I am a companion of all who fear You,
And of those who keep Your precepts.
64 The earth, O LORD, is full of Your mercy;
Teach me Your statutes.

ט TETH

65 You have dealt well with Your servant,
O LORD, according to Your word.
66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge,
For I believe Your commandments.
67 Before I was afflicted I went astray,
But now I keep Your word.
68 You are good, and do good;
Teach me Your statutes.
69 The proud have forged a lie against me,
But I will keep Your precepts with my whole
heart.
70 Their heart is as fat as grease,
But I delight in Your law.
71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted,
That I may learn Your statutes.
72 The law of Your mouth is better to me
Than thousands of coins of gold and silver.

י YOD

73 Your hands have made me and fashioned
me;
Give me understanding, that I may learn
Your commandments.

74 Those who fear You will be glad when they see me,
Because I have hoped in Your word.
75 I know, O LORD, that Your judgments are right,
And that in faithfulness You have afflicted me.
76 Let, I pray, Your merciful kindness be for my comfort,
According to Your word to Your servant.
77 Let Your tender mercies come to me, that I may live;
For Your law is my delight.
78 Let the proud be ashamed,
For they treated me wrongfully with falsehood;
But I will meditate on Your precepts.
79 Let those who fear You turn to me,
Those who know Your testimonies.
80 Let my heart be blameless regarding Your statutes,
That I may not be ashamed.

כ KAPH

81 My soul faints for Your salvation,
But I hope in Your word.
82 My eyes fail from searching Your word,
Saying, “When will You comfort me?”
83 For I have become like a wineskin in smoke,
Yet I do not forget Your statutes.
84 How many are the days of Your servant?
When will You execute judgment on those who persecute me?

85 The proud have dug pits for me,
Which is not according to Your law.
86 All Your commandments are faithful;
They persecute me wrongfully;
Help me!
87 They almost made an end of me on earth,
But I did not forsake Your precepts.
88 Revive me according to Your lovingkindness,
So that I may keep the testimony of Your mouth.

ל LAMED

89 Forever, O LORD,
Your word is settled in heaven.
90 Your faithfulness endures to all generations;
You established the earth, and it abides.
91 They continue this day according to Your ordinances,
For all are Your servants.
92 Unless Your law had been my delight,
I would then have perished in my affliction.
93 I will never forget Your precepts,
For by them You have given me life. The Benefits of Instruction
94 I am Yours, save me;
For I have sought Your precepts.
95 The wicked wait for me to destroy me,
But I will consider Your testimonies.
96 I have seen the consummation of all perfection,

But Your commandment is exceedingly broad.

מ MEM

97 Oh, how I love Your law!
It is my meditation all the day.
98 You, through Your commandments, make me wiser than my enemies;
For they are ever with me.
99 I have more understanding than all my teachers,
For Your testimonies are my meditation.
100 I understand more than the ancients,
Because I keep Your precepts.
101 I have restrained my feet from every evil way,
That I may keep Your word.
102 I have not departed from Your judgments,
For You Yourself have taught me.
103 How sweet are Your words to my taste,
Sweeter than honey to my mouth!
104 Through Your precepts I get understanding;
Therefore I hate every false way.

נ NUN

105 Your word is a lamp to my feet
And a light to my path.
106 I have sworn and confirmed
That I will keep Your righteous judgments.
107 I am afflicted very much;
Revive me, O LORD, according to Your word.

108 Accept, I pray, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O LORD,
And teach me Your judgments.
109 My life is continually in my hand,
Yet I do not forget Your law.
110 The wicked have laid a snare for me,
Yet I have not strayed from Your precepts.
111 Your testimonies I have taken as a heritage forever,
For they are the rejoicing of my heart.
112 I have inclined my heart to perform Your statutes
Forever, to the very end.

ס SAMEK

113 I hate the double-minded,
But I love Your law.
114 You are my hiding place and my shield;
I hope in Your word.
115 Depart from me, you evildoers,
For I will keep the commandments of my God!
116 Uphold me according to Your word, that I may live;
And do not let me be ashamed of my hope.
117 Hold me up, and I shall be safe,
And I shall observe Your statutes continually.
118 You reject all those who stray from Your statutes,
For their deceit is falsehood.
119 You put away all the wicked of the earth
like dross;
Therefore I love Your testimonies.
120 My flesh trembles for fear of You,

And I am afraid of Your judgments.

ע AYIN

121 I have done justice and righteousness;
Do not leave me to my oppressors.
122 Be surety for Your servant for good;
Do not let the proud oppress me.
123 My eyes fail from seeking Your salvation
And Your righteous word.
124 Deal with Your servant according to Your mercy,
And teach me Your statutes.
125 I am Your servant;
Give me understanding,
That I may know Your testimonies.
126 It is time for You to act, O LORD,
For they have regarded Your law as void.
127 Therefore I love Your commandments
More than gold, yes, than fine gold!
128 Therefore all Your precepts concerning all things
I consider to be right;
I hate every false way.

פ PE

129 Your testimonies are wonderful;
Therefore my soul keeps them.
130 The entrance of Your words gives light;
It gives understanding to the simple.
131 I opened my mouth and panted,
For I longed for Your commandments.
132 Look upon me and be merciful to me,

As Your custom is toward those who love
Your name.
133 Direct my steps by Your word,
And let no iniquity have dominion over me.
134 Redeem me from the oppression of man,
That I may keep Your precepts.
135 Make Your face shine upon Your servant,
And teach me Your statutes.
136 Rivers of water run down from my eyes,
Because men do not keep Your law.

צ TSADDE

137 Righteous are You, O LORD,
And upright are Your judgments.
138 Your testimonies, which You have commanded,
Are righteous and very faithful.
139 My zeal has consumed me, Because my enemies have forgotten Your words.
140 Your word is very pure;
Therefore Your servant loves it.
141 I am small and despised,
Yet I do not forget Your precepts.
142 Your righteousness is an everlasting
righteousness,
And Your law is truth.
143 Trouble and anguish have overtaken me,
Yet Your commandments are my delights.
144 The righteousness of Your testimonies is everlasting;
Give me understanding, and I shall live.

Hear me, O LORD!
I will keep Your statutes.

Save me, and I will keep Your testimonies.
147 I rise before the dawning of the morning,
And cry for help;
I hope in Your word.
148 My eyes are awake through the night watches,
That I may meditate on Your word.
149 Hear my voice according to Your lovingkindness;
O LORD, revive me according to Your justice.
150 They draw near who follow after wickedness;
They are far from Your law.
151 You are near, O LORD,
And all Your commandments are truth.
152 Concerning Your testimonies,
I have known of old that You have founded them forever.

153 Consider my affliction and deliver me,
For I do not forget Your law.

For they do not seek Your statutes.
156 Great are Your tender mercies, O LORD;

Revive me according to Your judgments.
157 Many are my persecutors and my
enemies,
Yet I do not turn from Your testimonies.
158 I see the treacherous, and am disgusted,
Because they do not keep Your word.

Revive me, O LORD, according to Your lovingkindness.
160 The entirety of Your word is truth,
And every one of Your righteous judgments endures forever.

But I love Your law.
164 Seven times a day I praise You,
Because of Your righteous judgments.
165 Great peace have those who love Your

And nothing causes them to stumble.
166 LORD, I hope for Your salvation,
And I do Your commandments.
167 My soul keeps Your testimonies,
And I love them exceedingly.
168 I keep Your precepts and Your testimonies,
For all my ways are before You.

169 Let my cry come before You, O LORD;
Give me understanding according to Your word.
170 Let my supplication come before You;
Deliver me according to Your word.
171 My lips shall utter praise,
For You teach me Your statutes.
172 My tongue shall speak of Your word,
For all Your commandments are righteousness.
173 Let Your hand become my help,
For I have chosen Your precepts.
174 I long for Your salvation, O LORD,
And Your law is my delight.
175 Let my soul live, and it shall praise You;
And let Your judgments help me.
176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep;
Seek Your servant,
For I do not forget Your commandments.

Psalm 120

Plea for Relief from Bitter Foes

A Song of Ascents.

1 In my distress I cried to the LORD,
And He heard me.
2 Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying lips
And from a deceitful tongue.

3 What shall be given to you,
Or what shall be done to you,
You false tongue?
4 Sharp arrows of the warrior,
With coals of the broom tree!

5 Woe is me, that I dwell in Meshech,
That I dwell among the tents of Kedar! Bent Toward Belligerence
6 My soul has dwelt too long
With one who hates peace.
7 I am for peace;
But when I speak, they are for war.

Psalm 121

God the Help of Those Who Seek Him

A Song of Ascents.

[1]I WILL lift up my eyes to the hills—
From whence comes my help?
[2]My help comes from the LORD,
Who made heaven and earth.

[3]He will not allow your foot to be moved;
He who keeps you will not slumber.
[4]Behold, He who keeps Israel
Shall neither slumber nor sleep.

[5]The LORD is your keeper;
The LORD is your shade at your right hand.
[6]The sun shall not strike you by day,
Nor the moon by night.

[7]The LORD shall preserve you from all evil;
He shall preserve your soul.
[8]The LORD shall preserve your going out and your coming in
From this time forth, and even forevermore.

Psalm 122

The Joy of Going to the House of the LORD

A Song of Ascents. Of David.

1 I WAS glad when they said to me,
"Let us go into the house of the LORD."

Community Worship

2 Our feet have been standing
Within your gates, O Jerusalem!

3 Jerusalem is built
As a city that is compact together,
4 Where the tribes go up,
The tribes of the LORD,
To the Testimony of Israel,
To give thanks to the name of the LORD.
5 For thrones are set there for judgment,
The thrones of the house of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:
"May they prosper who love you.

Create Peace and Prosperity for the City

7 Peace be within your walls,
Prosperity within your palaces."
8 For the sake of my brethren and companions,
I will now say, "Peace be within you."
9 Because of the house of the LORD our God
I will seek your good.

Psalm 123

Prayer for Relief from Contempt

A Song of Ascents.

[1]Unto You I lift up my eyes,
O You who dwell in the heavens.
[2]Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their masters,
As the eyes of a maid to the hand of her mistress,
So our eyes look to the LORD our God,
Until He has mercy on us.
[3]Have mercy on us, O LORD, have mercy on us!
For we are exceedingly filled with contempt.
[4]Our soul is exceedingly filled
With the scorn of those who are at ease,
With the contempt of the proud.

Psalm 124

The LORD the Defense of His People

A Song of Ascents. Of David.

1 “IF it had not been the LORD who was on our side,”
Let Israel now say—
2 “If it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
When men rose up against us,
3 Then they would have swallowed us alive,
When their wrath was kindled against us;
4 Then the waters would have overwhelmed us,
The stream would have gone over our soul;
5 Then the swollen waters
Would have gone over our soul.”

6 Blessed be the LORD,
Who has not given us as prey to their teeth.
7 Our soul has escaped as a bird from the snare of the fowlers;[a]
The snare is broken, and we have escaped.
8 Our help is in the name of the LORD,
Who made heaven and earth.

Psalm 125

The LORD the Strength of His People

A Song of Ascents.

[1]Those who trust in the LORD
Are like Mount Zion,
Which cannot be moved, but abides forever.
[2]As the mountains surround Jerusalem,
So the LORD surrounds His people
From this time forth and forever.

[3]For the scepter of wickedness shall not rest
On the land allotted to the righteous, Lest the righteous reach out their hands to iniquity.

[4]Do good, O LORD, to those who are good,
And to those who are upright in their hearts.

[5]As for such as turn aside to their crooked
ways,
The LORD shall lead them away
With the workers of iniquity.
Peace be upon Israel!

Psalm 126

A Joyful Return to Zion

A Song of Ascents.

[1]When the LORD brought back the captivity of Zion,
We were like those who dream.
[2]Then our mouth was filled with laughter,
And our tongue with singing.
Then they said among the nations,
“The LORD has done great things for them.”
[3]The LORD has done great things for us,
And we are glad.

[4]Bring back our captivity, O LORD,
As the streams in the South.

[5]Those who sow in tears
Shall reap in joy.
[6]He who continually goes forth weeping,
Bearing seed for sowing,
Shall doubtless come again with rejoicing,
Bringing his sheaves with him.

Psalm 127

Laboring and Prospering with the LORD

A Song of Ascents. Of Solomon.

1 Unless the LORD builds the house,
They labor in vain who build it;
Unless the LORD guards the city,
The watchman stays awake in vain. Where We Belong

2 It is vain for you to rise up early,
To sit up late,
To eat the bread of sorrows;
For so He gives His beloved sleep.

3 Behold, children are a heritage from the LORD,
The fruit of the womb is a reward.
4 Like arrows in the hand of a warrior,
So are the children of one's youth.
5 Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them;
They shall not be ashamed,
But shall speak with their enemies in the gate.

Psalm 128

Blessings of Those Who Fear the LORD

A Song of Ascents.

1 Blessed is every one who fears the LORD,
Who walks in His ways.

2 When you eat the labor of your hands,
You shall be happy, and it shall be well with you. Work and Family
3 Your wife shall be like a fruitful vine
In the very heart of your house,
Your children like olive plants
All around your table.
4 Behold, thus shall the man be blessed
Who fears the LORD.

5 The LORD bless you out of Zion,
And may you see the good of Jerusalem
All the days of your life.
6 Yes, may you see your children's children.
Peace be upon Israel!

Psalm 129

Song of Victory over Zion's Enemies

A Song of Ascents.

1 "MANY a time they have afflicted me from my youth,"
Let Israel now say—
2 "Many a time they have afflicted me from
my youth;
Yet they have not prevailed against me.
3 The plowers plowed on my back;
They made their furrows long."
4 The LORD is righteous;
He has cut in pieces the cords of the wicked.

5 Let all those who hate Zion
Be put to shame and turned back.
6 Let them be as the grass on the housetops,
Which withers before it grows up,
7 With which the reaper does not fill his hand,
Nor he who binds sheaves, his arms.
8 Neither let those who pass by them say,
"The blessing of the LORD be upon you;
We bless you in the name of the LORD!"

Psalm 130

Waiting for the Redemption of the LORD

A Song of Ascents.

[1]Out of the depths I have cried to You, O
LORD; Hope for the Heartbroken
[2]Lord, hear my voice!
Let Your ears be attentive
To the voice of my supplications.

[3]If You, LORD, should mark iniquities,
O Lord, who could stand?
[4]But there is forgiveness with You,
That You may be feared.

[5]I wait for the LORD, my soul waits,
And in His word I do hope.
[6]My soul waits for the Lord
More than those who watch for the morning
Yes, more than those who watch for the morning.

[7]O Israel, hope in the LORD;
For with the LORD there is mercy,
And with Him is abundant redemption.
[8]And He shall redeem Israel
From all his iniquities.

Psalm 131

Simple Trust in the LORD

A Song of Ascents. Of David.

1 LORD, my heart is not haughty,
Nor my eyes lofty.
Neither do I concern myself with great matters,
Nor with things too profound for me.

2 Surely I have calmed and quieted my soul,
Like a weaned child with his mother;
Like a weaned child is my soul within me.

Psalms for Children

3 O Israel, hope in the LORD
From this time forth and forever.

Psalm 132

The Eternal Dwelling of God in Zion

A Song of Ascents.

1 LORD, remember David
And all his afflictions;
2 How he swore to the LORD,
And vowed to the Mighty One of Jacob:
3 "Surely I will not go into the chamber of my house,
Or go up to the comfort of my bed;
4 I will not give sleep to my eyes
Or slumber to my eyelids,
5 Until I find a place for the LORD,
A dwelling place for the Mighty One of Jacob."

6 Behold, we heard of it in Ephrathah;
We found it in the fields of the woods.[a]
7 Let us go into His tabernacle;
Let us worship at His footstool.
8 Arise, O LORD, to Your resting place,
You and the ark of Your strength.
9 Let Your priests be clothed with
righteousness,
And let Your saints shout for joy.

10 For Your servant David's sake,
Do not turn away the face of Your Anointed.

11 The LORD has sworn in truth to David;
He will not turn from it:

“I will set upon your throne the fruit of your body.
12If your sons will keep My covenant
And My testimony which I shall teach them,
Their sons also shall sit upon your throne
forevermore.”

13For the LORD has chosen Zion;
He has desired it for His dwelling place:
14“This is My resting place forever;
Here I will dwell, for I have desired it.
15I will abundantly bless her provision;
I will satisfy her poor with bread.
16I will also clothe her priests with salvation,
And her saints shall shout aloud for joy.
17There I will make the horn of David grow;
I will prepare a lamp for My Anointed.
18His enemies I will clothe with shame,
But upon Himself His crown shall flourish.”

Psalm 133

Blessed Unity of the People of God

A Song of Ascents. Of David.

[1]Behold, how good and how pleasant it is
For brethren to dwell together in unity!

[2]It is like the precious oil upon the head,
Running down on the beard,
The beard of Aaron,
Running down on the edge of his garments.
[3]It is like the dew of Hermon,
Descending upon the mountains of Zion;
For there the LORD commanded the blessing
Life forevermore.

Psalm 134

Praising the LORD in His House at Night

A Song of Ascents.

[1]Behold, bless the LORD,
All you servants of the LORD,
Who by night stand in the house of the LORD!
[2]Lift up your hands in the sanctuary,
And bless the LORD.

[3]The LORD who made heaven and earth
Bless you from Zion!

Psalm 135

Praise to God in Creation and Redemption

[1]Praise the LORD!
Praise the name of the LORD;
Praise Him, O you servants of the LORD!
[2]You who stand in the house of the LORD,
In the courts of the house of our God,
[3]Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good;
Sing praises to His name, for it is pleasant.
[4]For the LORD has chosen Jacob for Himself,
Israel for His special treasure.

[5]For I know that the LORD is great,
And our Lord is above all gods.
[6]Whatever the LORD pleases He does,
In heaven and in earth,
In the seas and in all deep places.
[7]He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth;
He makes lightning for the rain;
He brings the wind out of His treasuries.

[8]He destroyed the firstborn of Egypt,
Both of man and beast.
[9]He sent signs and wonders into the midst of you, O Egypt,
Upon Pharaoh and all his servants.
[10]He defeated many nations
And slew mighty kings—[11]Sihon king of the Amorites,
Og king of Bashan,

And all the kingdoms of Canaan—
12 And gave their land as a heritage,
A heritage to Israel His people.

13 Your name, O LORD, endures forever,
Your fame, O LORD, throughout all generations.
14 For the LORD will judge His people,
And He will have compassion on His servants.

15 The idols of the nations are silver and gold,
The work of men's hands.
16 They have mouths, but they do not speak;
Eyes they have, but they do not see;
17 They have ears, but they do not hear;
Nor is there any breath in their mouths.
18 Those who make them are like them;
So is everyone who trusts in them.

19 Bless the LORD, O house of Israel!
Bless the LORD, O house of Aaron!
20 Bless the LORD, O house of Levi!
You who fear the LORD, bless the LORD!
21 Blessed be the LORD out of Zion,
Who dwells in Jerusalem!
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 136

Thanksgiving to God for His Enduring Mercy

[1]Oh, give thanks to the LORD, for He is good!
For His mercy endures forever. Let Us Give Thanks
[2]Oh, give thanks to the God of gods!
For His mercy endures forever.
[3]Oh, give thanks to the Lord of lords!
For His mercy endures forever:

[4]To Him who alone does great wonders,
For His mercy endures forever;
[5]To Him who by wisdom made the heavens,
For His mercy endures forever;
[6]To Him who laid out the earth above the waters,
For His mercy endures forever;
[7]To Him who made great lights,
For His mercy endures forever—
[8]The sun to rule by day,
For His mercy endures forever;
[9]The moon and stars to rule by night,
For His mercy endures forever.

[10]To Him who struck Egypt in their firstborn,
For His mercy endures forever;
[11]And brought out Israel from among them,
For His mercy endures forever;

12 With a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm,
For His mercy endures forever;
13 To Him who divided the Red Sea in two,
For His mercy endures forever;
14 And made Israel pass through the midst of it,
For His mercy endures forever;
15 But overthrew Pharaoh and his army in the Red Sea,
For His mercy endures forever;
16 To Him who led His people through the wilderness,
For His mercy endures forever;
17 To Him who struck down great kings,
For His mercy endures forever;
18 And slew famous kings,
For His mercy endures forever—
19 Sihon king of the Amorites,
For His mercy endures forever;
20 And Og king of Bashan,
For His mercy endures forever—
21 And gave their land as a heritage,
For His mercy endures forever;
22 A heritage to Israel His servant,
For His mercy endures forever.

23 Who remembered us in our lowly state,
For His mercy endures forever;
24 And rescued us from our enemies,
For His mercy endures forever;
25 Who gives food to all flesh,
For His mercy endures forever.

[26]Oh, give thanks to the God of heaven!
For His mercy endures forever.

Psalm 137

Longing for Zion in a Foreign Land

[1]By the rivers of Babylon,
There we sat down, yea, we wept
When we remembered Zion.
[2]We hung our harps
Upon the willows in the midst of it.
[3]For there those who carried us away captive asked of us a song,
And those who plundered us requested mirth,
Saying, "Sing us one of the songs of Zion!"

[4]How shall we sing the LORD's song
In a foreign land?
[5]If I forget you, O Jerusalem,
Let my right hand forget its skill!
[6]If I do not remember you,
Let my tongue cling to the roof of my mouth —
If I do not exalt Jerusalem
Above my chief joy.

[7]Remember, O LORD, against the sons of Edom
The day of Jerusalem,
Who said, "Raze it, raze it,
To its very foundation!"

[8]O daughter of Babylon, who are to be destroyed,

Happy the one who repays you as you have served us! Bitter Prayers
9Happy the one who takes and dashes
Your little ones against the rock!

Psalm 138

The LORD's Goodness to the Faithful

A Psalm of David.

[1]I WILL praise You with my whole heart;
Before the gods I will sing praises to You.
[2]I will worship toward Your holy temple,
And praise Your name
For Your lovingkindness and Your truth;
For You have magnified Your word above all
Your name.
[3]In the day when I cried out, You answered
me,
And made me bold with strength in my soul.

[4]All the kings of the earth shall praise You, O
LORD,
When they hear the words of Your mouth.
[5]Yes, they shall sing of the ways of the
LORD,
For great is the glory of the LORD.
[6]Though the LORD is on high,
Yet He regards the lowly;
But the proud He knows from afar.

[7]Though I walk in the midst of trouble, You will revive me;
You will stretch out Your hand
Against the wrath of my enemies,
And Your right hand will save me.
[8]The LORD will perfect that which concerns
me;

Your mercy, O LORD, endures forever;
Do not forsake the works of Your hands.

Psalm 139

God's Perfect Knowledge of Man

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 O LORD, You have searched me and known
me.
2 You know my sitting down and my rising
up;
You understand my thought afar off.
3 You comprehend my path and my lying down,
And are acquainted with all my ways.
4 For there is not a word on my tongue,
But behold, O LORD, You know it altogether.
5 You have hedged me behind and before,
And laid Your hand upon me.
6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me;
It is high, I cannot attain it.

7 Where can I go from Your Spirit?
Or where can I flee from Your presence?
8 If I ascend into heaven, You are there;
If I make my bed in hell, behold, You are
there.
9 If I take the wings of the morning,
And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,
10 Even there Your hand shall lead me,
And Your right hand shall hold me.
11 If I say, "Surely the darkness shall fall[a] on
me,"
Even the night shall be light about me;

12 Indeed, the darkness shall not hide from
You,
But the night shines as the day;
The darkness and the light are both alike to
You.

13 For You formed my inward parts;
You covered me in my mother's womb. The Creator's Craftsmanship 14 I will praise You, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made;[b]
Marvelous are Your works,
And that my soul knows very well.
15 My frame was not hidden from You,
When I was made in secret,
And skillfully wrought in the lowest parts of
the earth.
16 Your eyes saw my substance, being yet unformed.
And in Your book they all were written,
The days fashioned for me,
When as yet there were none of them.

17 How precious also are Your thoughts to me, O God!
How great is the sum of them!
18 If I should count them, they would be more in number than the sand;
When I awake, I am still with You.

19 Oh, that You would slay the wicked, O
God!
Depart from me, therefore, you bloodthirsty
men.
20 For they speak against You wickedly;

Your enemies take Your name in vain.[c]
21 Do I not hate them, O LORD, who hate
You?
And do I not loathe those who rise up against You?
22 I hate them with perfect hatred;
I count them my enemies.

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart;
Try me, and know my anxieties;
24 And see if there is any wicked way in me,
And lead me in the way everlasting.

Psalm 140

Prayer for Deliverance from Evil Men

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

[1]Deliver me, O LORD, from evil men;
Preserve me from violent men,
[2]Who plan evil things in their hearts;
They continually gather together for war.
[3]They sharpen their tongues like a serpent;
The poison of asps is under their lips. Selah

[4]Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked;
Preserve me from violent men,
Who have purposed to make my steps stumble.
[5]The proud have hidden a snare for me, and cords;
They have spread a net by the wayside;
They have set traps for me. Selah

[6]I said to the LORD: “You are my God;
Hear the voice of my supplications, O LORD.
[7]O GOD the Lord, the strength of my salvation,
You have covered my head in the day of battle.
[8]Do not grant, O LORD, the desires of the wicked;
Do not further his wicked scheme,
Lest they be exalted. Selah

9 “As for the head of those who surround me,
Let the evil of their lips cover them;
10 Let burning coals fall upon them;
Let them be cast into the fire,
Into deep pits, that they rise not up again.
11 Let not a slanderer be established in the earth;
Let evil hunt the violent man to overthrow him.”

12 I know that the LORD will maintain
The cause of the afflicted,
And justice for the poor.
13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks to Your name;
The upright shall dwell in Your presence.

Psalm 141

Prayer for Safekeeping from Wickedness

A Psalm of David.

[1]LORD, I cry out to You;
Make haste to me!
Give ear to my voice when I cry out to You.
[2]Let my prayer be set before You as incense,
The lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.

[3]Set a guard, O LORD, over my mouth;
Keep watch over the door of my lips.
[4]Do not incline my heart to any evil thing,
To practice wicked works
With men who work iniquity;
And do not let me eat of their delicacies.

[5]Let the righteous strike me;
It shall be a kindness.
And let him rebuke me;
It shall be as excellent oil;
Let my head not refuse it.
For still my prayer is against the deeds of the wicked.
[6]Their judges are overthrown by the sides of the cliff,
And they hear my words, for they are sweet.
[7]Our bones are scattered at the mouth of the grave,
As when one plows and breaks up the earth.

[8]But my eyes are upon You, O GOD the Lord;
In You I take refuge;
Do not leave my soul destitute.
[9]Keep me from the snares they have laid for
me,
And from the traps of the workers of iniquity.
[10]Let the wicked fall into their own nets,
While I escape safely.

Psalm 142

A Plea for Relief from Persecutors

A Contemplation[a] of David. A Prayer when he was in the cave.

1 I CRY out to the LORD with my voice;
With my voice to the LORD I make my supplication.
2 I pour out my complaint before Him;
I declare before Him my trouble.

3 When my spirit was overwhelmed within me,
Then You knew my path.
In the way in which I walk
They have secretly set a snare for me.
4 Look on my right hand and see,
For there is no one who acknowledges me;
Refuge has failed me;
No one cares for my soul.

5 I cried out to You, O LORD:
I said, “You are my refuge,
My portion in the land of the living.
6 Attend to my cry,
For I am brought very low;
Deliver me from my persecutors,
For they are stronger than I.
7 Bring my soul out of prison,
That I may praise Your name;
The righteous shall surround me,
For You shall deal bountifully with me.”

Psalm 143

An Earnest Appeal for Guidance and Deliverance

A Psalm of David.

[1]Hear my prayer, O LORD,
Give ear to my supplications!
In Your faithfulness answer me,
And in Your righteousness.
[2]Do not enter into judgment with Your servant,
For in Your sight no one living is righteous.

[3]For the enemy has persecuted my soul;
He has crushed my life to the ground;
He has made me dwell in darkness,
Like those who have long been dead.
[4]Therefore my spirit is overwhelmed within me;
My heart within me is distressed.

[5]I remember the days of old;
I meditate on all Your works;
I muse on the work of Your hands.
[6]I spread out my hands to You;
My soul longs for You like a thirsty land. Selah

[7]Answer me speedily, O LORD;
My spirit fails!
Do not hide Your face from me,
Lest I be like those who go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to hear Your lovingkindness in the morning,
For in You do I trust;
Cause me to know the way in which I should walk,
For I lift up my soul to You.

9 Deliver me, O LORD, from my enemies;
In You I take shelter.[a] 10 Teach me to do Your will,
For You are my God;
Your Spirit is good.
Lead me in the land of uprightness.

11 Revive me, O LORD, for Your name's sake!
For Your righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble.
12 In Your mercy cut off my enemies,
And destroy all those who afflict my soul;
For I am Your servant.

Psalm 144

A Song to the LORD Who Preserves and Prospers His People

A Psalm of David.

[1]Blessed be the LORD my Rock,
Who trains my hands for war,
And my fingers for battle—
[2]My lovingkindness and my fortress,
My high tower and my deliverer,
My shield and the One in whom I take refuge,
Who subdues my people[a] under me.

[3]LORD, what is man, that You take knowledge of him?
Or the son of man, that You are mindful of him?
[4]Man is like a breath;
His days are like a passing shadow.

[5]Bow down Your heavens, O LORD, and come down;
Touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.
[6]Flash forth lightning and scatter them;
Shoot out Your arrows and destroy them.
[7]Stretch out Your hand from above;
Rescue me and deliver me out of great waters,
From the hand of foreigners,
[8]Whose mouth speaks lying words,

And whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song to You, O God;
On a harp of ten strings I will sing praises to You,
10 The One who gives salvation to kings,
Who delivers David His servant
From the deadly sword.

11 Rescue me and deliver me from the hand of foreigners,
Whose mouth speaks lying words,
And whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood—
12 That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth;
That our daughters may be as pillars,
Sculptured in palace style;
13 That our barns may be full,
Supplying all kinds of produce;
That our sheep may bring forth thousands
And ten thousands in our fields;
14 That our oxen may be well laden;
That there be no breaking in or going out;
That there be no outcry in our streets.
15 Happy are the people who are in such a state;
Happy are the people whose God is the LORD!

Psalm 145

A Song of God's Majesty and Love

A Praise of David.

1 I WILL extol You, my God, O King;
And I will bless Your name forever and ever.
2 Every day I will bless You,
And I will praise Your name forever and ever.
3 Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised;
And His greatness is unsearchable.

4 One generation shall praise Your works to another,
And shall declare Your mighty acts. From One Generation to Another
5 I[a] will meditate on the glorious splendor of Your majesty,
And on Your wondrous works.[b]
6 Men shall speak of the might of Your awesome acts,
And I will declare Your greatness.
7 They shall utter the memory of Your great goodness,
And shall sing of Your righteousness.

8 The LORD is gracious and full of compassion,
Slow to anger and great in mercy.
9 The LORD is good to all,
And His tender mercies are over all His works.

10 All Your works shall praise You, O LORD,
And Your saints shall bless You.
11 They shall speak of the glory of Your kingdom,
And talk of Your power, 12 To make known to the sons of men His mighty acts,
And the glorious majesty of His kingdom.
13 Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
And Your dominion endures throughout all generations.[c]

14 The LORD upholds all who fall,
And raises up all who are bowed down.
15 The eyes of all look expectantly to You,
And You give them their food in due season.
16 You open Your hand
And satisfy the desire of every living thing.

17 The LORD is righteous in all His ways,
Gracious in all His works.
18 The LORD is near to all who call upon
Him,
To all who call upon Him in truth.
19 He will fulfill the desire of those who fear
Him;
He also will hear their cry and save them.
20 The LORD preserves all who love Him,
But all the wicked He will destroy.
21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the
LORD,
And all flesh shall bless His holy name
Forever and ever.

Psalm 146

The Happiness of Those Whose Help Is the LORD

[1]Praise the LORD!
Praise the LORD, O my soul!
[2]While I live I will praise the LORD;
I will sing praises to my God while I have my being. Powerful Creator, Compassionate Savior

[3]Do not put your trust in princes,
Nor in a son of man, in whom there is no help.
[4]His spirit departs, he returns to his earth;
In that very day his plans perish.

[5]Happy is he who has the God of Jacob for his help,
Whose hope is in the LORD his God,
[6]Who made heaven and earth,
The sea, and all that is in them;
Who keeps truth forever,
[7]Who executes justice for the oppressed,
Who gives food to the hungry.
The LORD gives freedom to the prisoners.

[8]The LORD opens the eyes of the blind;
The LORD raises those who are bowed down;
The LORD loves the righteous.
[9]The LORD watches over the strangers;
He relieves the fatherless and widow;
But the way of the wicked He turns upside down.

10 The LORD shall reign forever—
Your God, O Zion, to all generations.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 147

Praise to God for His Word and Providence

[1]Praise the LORD!
For it is good to sing praises to our God;
For it is pleasant, and praise is beautiful.

[2]The LORD builds up Jerusalem;
He gathers together the outcasts of Israel.
[3]He heals the brokenhearted
And binds up their wounds.
[4]He counts the number of the stars;
He calls them all by name.
[5]Great is our Lord, and mighty in power;
His understanding is infinite.
[6]The LORD lifts up the humble;
He casts the wicked down to the ground.

[7]Sing to the LORD with thanksgiving;
Sing praises on the harp to our God,
[8]Who covers the heavens with clouds,
Who prepares rain for the earth,
Who makes grass to grow on the mountains.
[9]He gives to the beast its food,
And to the young ravens that cry.

[10]He does not delight in the strength of the horse;
He takes no pleasure in the legs of a man.
[11]The LORD takes pleasure in those who fear Him,
In those who hope in His mercy.

12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem!
Praise your God, O Zion!
13 For He has strengthened the bars of your gates;
He has blessed your children within you.
14 He makes peace in your borders,
And fills you with the finest wheat.

15 He sends out His command to the earth;
His word runs very swiftly.
16 He gives snow like wool;
He scatters the frost like ashes;
17 He casts out His hail like morsels;
Who can stand before His cold?
18 He sends out His word and melts them;
He causes His wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He declares His word to Jacob,
His statutes and His judgments to Israel.
20 He has not dealt thus with any nation;
And as for His judgments, they have not known them.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 148

Praise to the LORD from Creation

1 Praise the LORD!
Praise the LORD from the heavens;
Praise Him in the heights!
2 Praise Him, all His angels;
Praise Him, all His hosts!
3 Praise Him, sun and moon;
Praise Him, all you stars of light!
4 Praise Him, you heavens of heavens,
And you waters above the heavens!

5 Let them praise the name of the LORD,
For He commanded and they were created.
6 He also established them forever and ever;
He made a decree which shall not pass away.

7 Praise the LORD from the earth,
You great sea creatures and all the depths;
8 Fire and hail, snow and clouds;
Stormy wind, fulfilling His word;
9 Mountains and all hills;
Fruitful trees and all cedars;
10 Beasts and all cattle;
Creeping things and flying fowl;
11 Kings of the earth and all peoples;
Princes and all judges of the earth;
12 Both young men and maidens;
Old men and children.

13 Let them praise the name of the LORD,

For His name alone is exalted;
His glory is above the earth and heaven.
14And He has exalted the horn of His people,
The praise of all His saints—
Of the children of Israel,
A people near to Him.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 149

Praise to God for His Salvation and Judgment

[1]Praise the LORD!
Sing to the LORD a new song,
And His praise in the assembly of saints.

[2]Let Israel rejoice in their Maker;
Let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.
[3]Let them praise His name with the dance;
Let them sing praises to Him with the timbrel and harp.
[4]For the LORD takes pleasure in His people;
He will beautify the humble with salvation.

[5]Let the saints be joyful in glory;
Let them sing aloud on their beds.
[6]Let the high praises of God be in their mouth,
And a two-edged sword in their hand,
[7]To execute vengeance on the nations,
And punishments on the peoples;
[8]To bind their kings with chains,
And their nobles with fetters of iron;
[9]To execute on them the written judgment—
This honor have all His saints.
Praise the LORD!

Psalm 150

Let All Things Praise the LORD

[1]Praise the LORD!
Praise God in His sanctuary;
Praise Him in His mighty firmament!

[2]Praise Him for His mighty acts;
Praise Him according to His excellent greatness!

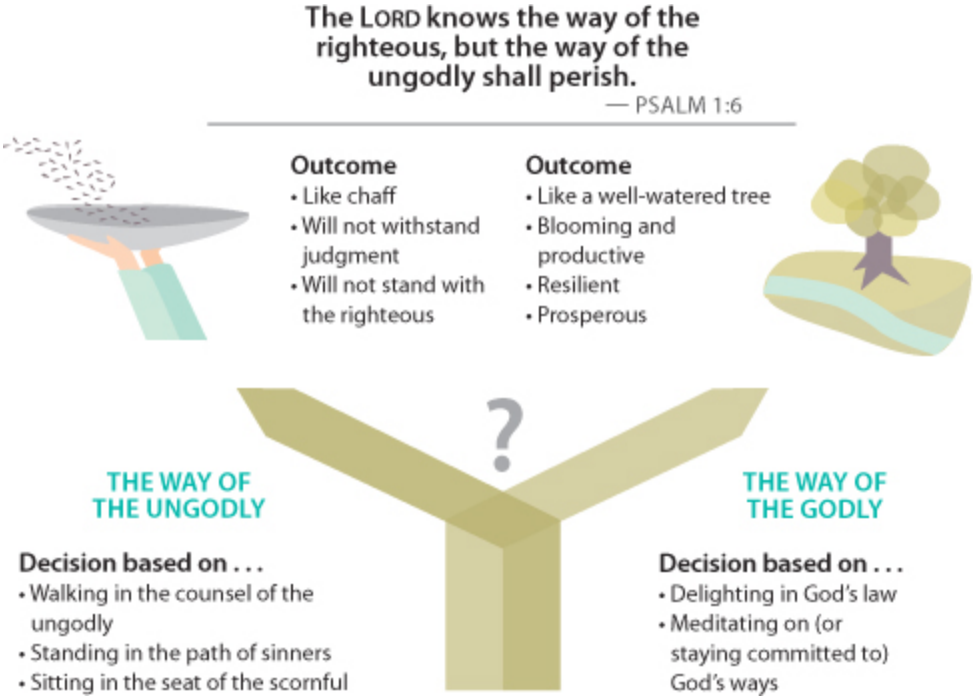
[3]Praise Him with the sound of the trumpet;
Praise Him with the lute and harp!
[4]Praise Him with the timbrel and dance;
Praise Him with stringed instruments and flutes!
[5]Praise Him with loud cymbals;
Praise Him with clashing cymbals!

[6]Let everything that has breath praise the LORD.
Praise the LORD!

Two Paths

Ps. 1:1, 2

Psalm 1 highlights the sharp contrast between good and evil, right and wrong, godliness and ungodliness. Our choice is between one or the other, with no middle ground. The psalmist described two paths: the way of the ungodly and the way of the righteous.



When faced with moral decisions, we must recognize and act in accordance with the reality that our actions have long-term consequences. We could be headed for destruction if we harmonize with people who lack faith in God . . . if our behavior is indistinguishable from the actions of the ungodly . . . if we speak cynically about the Lord and His commands.

Obeying the Lord includes relying on the cross of Christ for salvation (John 3:15, 16; Acts 2:36–39) and our Lord for wisdom. No one is excluded from choosing life. Anyone is welcome to walk the path that leads to godliness (John 14:6).

The Way of Prosperity
Ps. 1:3

Psalm 1 paints an appealing picture of contentment and prosperity. Yet here and elsewhere in the Old Testament, the emphasis is less on material blessings and more on the delight that comes with following God's commands, which is its own reward (Ps. 1:2). See "Success and Prosperity" at Joshua 1:8.

God Is the Ultimate Authority
Ps. 2:4–6

The apostle Paul asserted that "there is no authority except from God" (Rom. 13:1). Psalm 2 describes the far-reaching implications of this truth, warning that even rebellious nations and kings answer to God, the great King who reigns from Jerusalem through His appointed servant.

All power is ultimately derived from God, and governments are accountable to Him, a reality that should prompt political leaders to bow before the Lord and serve Him with words and actions (Ps. 2:10, 11). They, and we, owe respect to the God who has given them authority and who wants to help them govern with goodness and justice.

Human Kings and the Heavenly King

Ps. 2:7

The Israelites sang hymns like Psalm 2 when they crowned a new king. Other coronation anthems include Psalms 18, 20, 45, 72, 89, 101, and 110. These songs look beyond ancient earthly kings to a future heavenly king, God's Anointed One, the Messiah. This divine king, here revealed as God's Son, will bring God's rule to earth with fairness and finality. The New Testament reveals Jesus as this king and frequently quotes or alludes to portions of Psalm 2 to proclaim His identity and rank (for example, Matt. 3:17; John 1:41; Acts 4:25–28; 13:33; Heb. 1:5; 5:5; Rev. 2:26, 27; 12:5; 19:15).

Government in Psalms

Ps. 2:10–12

Many psalms were written in an era when David was consolidating power and the monarchy itself was rising in significance. The psalms repeatedly acknowledge the Lord as our ultimate king and human rulers as His servants.

Psalm	Theme
Psalm 2	The Lord elevates His King over all the earth's kings and rulers. All human authorities answer to Him.
Psalm 21	A leader must trust God.
Psalm 33	The Lord watches over all the world's people. Every nation should reverence God.
Psalm 47	God reigns over the nations, accomplishing His sovereign purposes.
Psalm 72	An ideal ruler governs according to the Lord's character and policies.
Psalm 82	Judges are accountable to God for the public consequences of their decisions.
Psalm 99	God's holiness exemplifies equity and justice.
Psalm 101	King David lists the godly principles by which he governs.
Psalm 110	A Messiah will eventually rule the nations and judge His enemies.
Psalm 146	Human leaders cannot solve every problem or meet every need. People must trust God.

Think About It: Whether you lead your children, students at school, a handful of employees, an entire company, selected friends, or the free world, you exhibit leadership. What actions of yours match the tone in the above psalms?

God Guides Your Fear

Ps. 3:1

David's son Absalom was known for anger, violence, and self-interest. For example, he had his half brother Amnon assassinated (2 Sam. 13:20–29) before launching a campaign to seize the throne (15:1–12). He sent his henchmen throughout Israel to spread rebellion (15:6, 10). Absalom surrounded himself with ignorant men (15:11), and his sizable following presented a formidable threat to his father (15:12).

Psalm 3 reveals David's inner turmoil in these grim circumstances. He cried out to God for perspective as he fled for his life, knowing he had nothing to count on but God's strength (Ps. 3:3–5). Only with the Lord's help could he sleep peacefully.

Long after this conflict, the apostle Peter addressed similar fears among Christians fleeing from authorities. He offered memorable advice recorded in 1 Peter 5:7. In our own seasons of difficulty, our best recourse is to manage our fears as guided by God. By obeying Him, we show our trust and we find God's strategies to address the situation.

Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep

Ps. 3:5

This evening psalm inspired the children's bedtime prayer that begins, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Whether we are young or old, awake or asleep, God watches over us and meets our needs. Psalm 3 mirrors other songs of lamentation such as Psalms 22 and 71. It begins by stating a problem (Ps. 3:1, 2), followed by a hopeful resolution (3:3–6), and concluding with praise or thanksgiving (3:7, 8).

God Hates the Pain Caused by Sin

Ps. 5:5

Scripture assures us that God loves to show mercy to sinners (Ps. 103:3; Matt. 9:12, 13). But some psalms declare that He "hates" people who commit evil (Ps. 5:5; 11:5). This apparent contradiction is resolved when we understand that the term hatred in Scripture does not refer to the human emotion bent on retaliation for wrong. Rather, it refers to an expression of anger rooted in a commitment to justice. God indeed grows angry at sin, which destroys His creation, especially because it harms human beings, who are made in His image (Gen. 1:26–30). But God's righteous indignation is not a fit of rage. It is instead a just disapproval and penalty for something that goes against what is loving and good (Ps. 2:5, 12).

People at Work

Ps. 8:6

When God made human beings in His image (Gen. 1:26–30), He appointed them as His coworkers in overseeing creation and gave them dominion over His works. Consider the implications of that fact:

- We bear God's image. God has invested human beings with dignity and value. We matter. Who we are and what we do are significant. God has created us for a reason, which gives us meaning and purpose.
- We are created as workers. God is a worker, and we are made in His image. Our labors express who He is and what He wants accomplished in the world. Our work has worth.
- We are God's coworkers. God gives us managerial authority to subdue the earth—to nurture and develop it, bring it under our control, use it to meet our needs, explore its wonders, and cooperate with its natural laws. We join with Him when we manage creation or advance human well-being.

Our everyday jobs are a significant way by which we can fulfill God's goals and put our God-given skills into action. We bring Him glory when we are faithful managers of the resources and responsibilities He puts under our authority. And we find fulfillment and motivation as we partner with God in lifting up His creation and looking out for the good of others.

God the Avenger

Ps. 9:5

Israel quickly rose to prominence during a period when no single empire dominated the Middle East (c. 1000 B.C.). Egypt was in decline, and Assyria had yet to rise. King David and his successor Solomon seized the opportunity to strengthen defenses, expand borders, increase trade, and store up wealth.

Other kings of that era ignored God and rejected justice and compassion. They oppressed their citizens and attacked other nations unprovoked, taking untold numbers of innocent lives (Ps. 9:6). God responded by destroying the destroyers. He pledged not to forget the needy and helpless, and He avenged the injustices they suffered by blotting out evildoers (9:7–18).

The Lord is our ultimate judge, and His righteousness is the final measure of right and wrong (9:4). The same righteous God who rebuked ancient nations for failing to acknowledge Him still watches over the world today. Modern nations and leaders will answer to Him for their programs and policies, a fact that should encourage us to have a healthy respect for the Lord and a humble recognition of the transience of human leaders (9:20).

From Garbage Dump to City Center
Ps. 9:13, 14

David's allusions to the "gates of death" and the "gates of the daughter of Zion" depict extremes of poverty and power. Just outside Zion (Jerusalem) was a garbage dump known as Gehenna, or the Valley of Hinnom (see "The Valley of Hinnom" at Josh. 18:16), where the city's refuse burned day and night. Centuries after David, Jesus mentioned the site as a fitting image of hell. The "gates of the daughter of Zion," on the other hand, were the hub of Jerusalem's power, where business was transacted, court decisions announced, city issues deliberated, marriage vows witnessed, and caravans unloaded. For David to be lifted from the gates of death to the gates of Zion implies a complete reversal of his dire situation. Faced with ruin and disaster, he is dramatically rescued by the Lord, and he resolves to tell everyone what God has done for him.

When God acts on our behalf, we have an opportunity to publicly declare His power. Our witness is not to be reserved for the safe environments of churches and Christian circles. We can speak up wherever people gather so that God's power is put on display for all to hear.

Think About It: Think of simple, but profound, ways God acts on your behalf. How will your gratefulness, thoughtfulness, and kindness toward people display His power?

Opposing Evil
Ps. 10:18

When violence reels out of control, Psalm 10 gives us words to pray. It asks God to rise up against "the man of the earth," an evil person characterized by:

- pride and boasting,
- mistreating the poor,
- cunning plots,
- greedy friends,
- disdain for God,
- lack of concern for others' pain, failure, and misfortune,
- disrespect for the righteous,
- curses,
- lies,
- trouble and evil speech,
- cold-blooded murder, and
- an assumption that he will never be caught.

Characters who fit this description fill the news—and our own stories—every day. Whether roaming the street or perched in corporate offices, they prey on the weak and defenseless. Psalm 10 declares that God always joins us when we oppose personal and institutional evil. One day the Lord will prevail and bring deliverance for the powerless. In the meantime, we are to work toward justice as best we can, calling upon the Lord to show us what to do.

Where Does God Live?

Ps. 11:4

Like Psalm 11, some Bible passages speak of God living in heaven. Other passages imply that He dwelled in the inner sanctuary (or Most Holy Place) of the tabernacle or temple (Ps. 26:8). But God is spirit, infinite, and, therefore, not bound by time or space. His presence cannot be limited to a specific location. From our imperfect point of view, we might say that God lives everywhere. In reality, He lives in eternity, a concept beyond human understanding.

God has made Himself known at specific times and locations. He revealed Himself to the Israelites at Mount Sinai (Ex. 19:16–20) and later in the tabernacle (Lev. 9:23, 24) and the temple (2 Chr. 5:14). He also revealed Himself most completely in His Son Jesus (John 1:14; 14:9). Paul wrote that Christ lives in His followers (Gal. 2:20), as does the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 3:16).

Spaces set aside for God may help us focus on His presence. But the Lord is not confined by buildings. They are more a refuge for us than a residence for God.

God Is a Support

Ps. 12:5

The Book of Psalms describes God's help as a . . .

- support (18:18),
- broad place (18:19),
- secret place (27:5; 31:20),
- higher place or rock (18:2; 27:5; 40:2; 61:2),
- hiding place (27:5; 32:7),
- fortress (18:2; 91:2),
- shield (18:2), and as
- wings (17:8; 61:4; 91:4).

An Inventory of Integrity

Ps. 15:1

Psalm 15 sums up what God expects of His people, asking and answering whether anyone is good enough to commune with God. The song does not focus on petty dos and don'ts but describes godliness in terms of maturing character. It shows that readiness for worship requires us to put our thoughts and actions in order. Psalm 15 lists ten marks of integrity by which we can measure our own character:

The person of integrity . . .	How about you?
1. Walks uprightly.	How deep is your commitment to God's ways? Do you serve the Lord or serve yourself?
2. Works righteousness.	Do you promote good—or evil (even by neglect rather than active involvement)? What results flow from your actions?
3. Speaks the truth.	Do you lie when it seems necessary or convenient?
4. Does not backbite.	Do you tear down others behind their backs? Or in front of them?
5. Does no harm to neighbors.	How do you treat others? Do you act according to "doing unto others before they do unto you"?
6. Does not gossip about a friend.	How loyal are you? Do you add to negative comments, or do you offer support and seek justice?
7. Honors those who fear the Lord.	How do you treat your fellow believers? Do you give them grace and encouragement?
8. Keeps his word even at enormous cost.	Are you trustworthy and reliable? Do people doubt your ability to follow through?
9. Does not engage in usury.	Do you offer assistance while expecting something in return? Or do you give freely?
10. Does not accept bribes.	What does it take to get you to compromise your integrity?

The Promise of the Resurrection
Ps. 16:10

Even as David described his own trust in the Lord, he looked ahead to the faith of a coming Messiah. His greatest act of faith would be confidence that even in death, God would not forget His "Holy One" or allow Him to decay like sinful people (compare Ps. 9:17). New Testament followers of Jesus saw clear parallels between this psalm and Jesus' resurrection. Peter cited this passage in his Pentecost sermon to reinforce his claim that Jesus had risen from the dead (Acts 2:27). For more songs that anticipate the Messiah's nature and work, see "Prophecies of a Coming Messiah" at Psalm 40:6–8.

Making God Known
Ps. 18:43–45

King David committed from the start of his reign to making God's name known to neighboring kingdoms. He composed Psalm 18 when he realized that he was at last on the throne of the kingdom. Humbled and amazed at the position the Lord had given him, he was determined to tell foreign nations about the God who had delivered him from Saul. He hoped his thanks and praise would influence his neighbors so that they, too, would revere God.

Nowadays many Christians struggle with being forthright about their faith and even squander opportunities to encourage others to obey God. But God wants us to impact our world. Our witness starts with the willingness to speak up for God even if we run the risk of being scorned by others. This doesn't mean that we should express ourselves without humility, but it does mean that we shouldn't allow a fear of criticism to keep us from standing up for, and acting according to, the truth.

God's Self-Disclosure

Ps. 19:1

Our understanding of God stems from three ways that He discloses Himself to us: His general revelation through His creation (Ps. 19:1–6), His special revelation through His Word (19:7–11), and His particular work in our lives (19:12–14).

David gained a coherent framework for understanding life by looking at God's world, the Word, and his inner world. Psalm 19 exemplifies an integrated understanding of life through looking back and forth, up and down, outward and inward (compare Ps. 139). We gain the same insights when we use the psalms to consider God's glorious universe, His infallible Word, and His constant activity within us.

Anticipating Christ

Ps. 22:1

Psalm 22 foreshadows Christ's coming to suffer death on our behalf, to deliver us from sin's penalty, and to reveal God's character to us. The New Testament cites many of the song's lines to demonstrate the Lord's fulfillment of David's prophecy.

Prophecy	Fulfillment
"My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" (Ps. 22:1).	Jesus cried these words from the cross (Matt. 27:46).

"All those who see Me ridicule Me; they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying, 'He trusted in the LORD, let Him rescue Him; let Him deliver Him, since He delights in Him!' " (Ps. 22:7, 8).	Jesus' enemies ridiculed Him with these words (Matt. 27:39, 43).
"I am poured out like water, and all My bones are out of joint; My heart is like wax; it has melted within Me" (Ps. 22:14).	Crucifixion pulled a victim's bones out of joint, and spearing Jesus' body caused blood and "water" to flow out (John 19:34).
"They pierced My hands and My feet" (Ps. 22:16).	Jesus' hands or wrists were nailed to a crossbeam and His feet to a vertical stake (Luke 24:39, 40).
"They divide My garments among them, and for My clothing they cast lots" (Ps. 22:18).	The soldiers who crucified Jesus cast lots for His clothing (Matt. 27:35).
"I will declare Your name to My brethren" (Ps. 22:22).	The risen Lord called those who believe in Him "brethren" (Heb. 2:11, 12).
"All the ends of the world shall remember and turn to the LORD, and all the families of the nations shall worship before You. For the kingdom is the LORD's, and He rules over the nations" (Ps. 22:27, 28).	Jesus commanded His followers to take His message to the ends of the earth (Matt. 28:19, 20; Acts 1:8).

More: Other psalms also anticipate Christ's arrival and work as the Messiah. See "Prophecies of a Coming Messiah" at Ps. 40:6–8.

Despair Turns to Praise

Ps. 22:27

The first eighteen verses of Psalm 22 show David crying to God with anxiety and despair. He felt . . .

- abandoned and helpless,
- ignored,
- despised and rejected,
- ridiculed for his faith,
- taunted by vicious enemies,
- drained and on the verge of death, and
- surrounded by a murderous mob.

Like David we can cry out to God. We can then affirm God as nearby and capable of delivering (22:19, 20).

The God who created us wants to join with us in our worst times. He walks with us all the way through the "valley of the shadow of death" (23:4). He stays with us as our despair turns to praise.

God the Shepherd

Ps. 23:1

Competent shepherds devoted themselves to the care, feeding, and protection of sheep. As they carried out their tasks, they sometimes took great risks to retrieve stray or threatened animals (1 Sam. 17:34, 35; Matt. 18:12), not only because they were dedicated to their flock but also because they were accountable for lost animals (Gen. 31:39).

The Old Testament praises two men besides David as good shepherds. Moses led the Israelites like a shepherd on a winding journey from Egypt to Canaan (Is. 63:11–13). God later used Persia's King Cyrus to shepherd His people in rebuilding the temple (44:28).

Scripture also mentions bad shepherds, citing, for example, selfish leaders of the divided kingdom who enriched themselves at the people's expense (Ezek. 34:1–10; compare Jer. 25:34–38). God charged these leaders with ignoring the sick, neglecting to search for and rescue the lost, using coercion to control the people, and failing to protect the weak from dangerous predators. He promised to harshly discipline these bad shepherds for their unacceptable work.

God offers Himself to us as the Good Shepherd, a living picture of faithful, trustworthy service (Ezek. 34:11–16; John 10:1–30). He longs for us to model ourselves after Him and serve as reliable shepherds in our family, community, and workplace.

Lord of the City

Ps. 24:1

The fact that all the earth and its people belong to the Lord means that every community is His. And Psalm 24 unambiguously declares that God is Lord of the city (vv. 7–10).

Some Christians view urban areas as Satan's strongholds. They flee to the suburbs or the country, doing their best to distance themselves from "corrupt" urban life. But while Satan is alive and at work in the world, that doesn't mean that his primary place of work is in the city. Plenty of corruption happens in rural areas as well.

The city, like all the earth, belongs to God. There is no reason to abandon a place that He has not abandoned. When Christians take up residence in the city, the Lord's glory comes with them.

More: Christianity permeated the Roman empire by establishing dozens of urban churches. See "The Gospel Spreads Beyond Palestine" at Acts 11:19–26 and "Paul's Urban Strategy" at Acts 16:4.

The Lord's Voice in Creation

Ps. 29:3

The Canaanites worshiped natural forces like wind and fire as their gods (called "mighty ones," Ps. 29:1). But Israel worshiped the Lord of creation, not creation itself. At times God expressed Himself through thunderstorms, lightning, and floods, but these phenomena were not themselves divine.

The Bible presents the earth as a resource from God for which human beings are responsible (see "The Weight of the World" at Heb. 11:3). This belief gives God's people immense motivation to manage the environment wisely, to preserve it equitably, and to worship its Creator with humility. David heard the "voice of the LORD" (Ps. 29:3) in nature's wonders, and as concerns grow for the earth's environment, songs like Psalm 29 remind us that creation, though not divine, is precious and worthy of our protection.

The Art of Godly Planning

Ps. 33:10, 11

Planning is full of paradoxes. It looks to the future yet is grounded in the past. It attempts to respond to future events yet changes those events before they happen. Most people agree that planning is essential to success, yet individuals and organizations sometimes succeed without plans, or fail despite the best of plans.

For people of faith, planning can be even more paradoxical. We plan for the future, yet the future is in God's hands. The Lord calls us to wait patiently for Him (Ps. 27:14; 37:7), yet He admonishes us to act and initiate (James 1:22; 1 John 3:18). Scripture encourages us to seek God's wisdom before we act (Prov. 3:5, 6; James 1:5), yet we often must act without answers to our questions.

A careful study of Scripture shows that God encourages us to make plans—with the awareness that He plans. Our strategies work best when they fit into His designs. This perspective is derived from ten planning principles that Scripture seems to affirm:

1. God makes plans. God knows the future. But He can also make the future by choosing what will happen (James 4:13–15). In creating the world as He did, for example, He set many of the world's future events into motion. His planning manifests clear purposes and orderly processes (Rom. 1:20).
2. God encourages and empowers people to plan. Human beings, who are made in God's image (Gen. 1:26–28), bring to life an awareness of time (Eccl. 3:11). We are conscious of connections between past, present, and future, and how causes shape effects (Ps. 90:12; Eph. 4:16).
3. All planning involves values. Establishing goals, connecting ends and means, and linking "what is" with "what ought to be" are based on assumptions about what matters and what does not. No planning is morally neutral in either process or results (Josh. 24:15; 1 Sam. 8:4–7; 1 Kin. 18:21).
4. Effective planning usually involves more than one person. No one except God possesses unlimited wisdom, so collaborating to form and execute plans is a principle of godly wisdom (see "Wisdom Needs Community" at Prov. 24:6).
5. Planning is a fragile process. By determining goals, gathering resources, and initiating action, planning emboldens people to get things done. Yet planning is also subject to human weakness, including blindness to reality, rebellion against God, narrowness in vision, and mean-spiritedness in motives. The Tower of Babel was a selfishly planned project condemned by God (Gen. 11:1–9).
6. Planning and prayer should happen together. Through prayer, our plans are expanded with God's wisdom and ennobled by God's holiness. Planning that honors the Lord is true planning (Phil. 4:6, 7).
7. Planning necessitates faith. Our plans embody specific assumptions—for example, faith in the planning process, faith in our capacity to bring plans into reality, faith in the justice of our goals. Planning always involves a commitment to the things we hope for in the future, based on the evidence of things we see in the present (Heb. 11:1).
8. Planning does not determine the future, but it can direct the present. Our best future will only partially reflect our intentions and efforts. Like Paul, we "see in a mirror, dimly" and "know in part" (1 Cor. 13:12), so the future forever lies outside of our grasp. All we can do is choose to act today in light of how we believe those decisions and activities might affect tomorrow.
9. Planning is only partly rational. The planning process relies not only on our heads but also on our hearts and hands. This is as true in formulating plans, where intuition can be just as important as analysis, as it is in implementing plans, where people must be motivated and organized as well as informed.

10. Planning motivates by focusing attention and effort on a hopeful future. Planning can shift people's attention from problems to solutions, from limitations to possibilities, and from despair to hope. It can also rouse people to action by highlighting needs, rallying opinion, and pointing the way.

You Are Unique

Ps. 33:15

God has created human beings in His image (Gen. 1:26–28). That means not only human beings in general but every individual. The same God whose mind and power fashioned the stars, seas, animals, and everything else has carefully and lovingly crafted you.

This truth has profound implications. Consider three of the most significant:

- You are unique. You share many things in common with others, yet you are one of a kind. No one else has the same makeup that God has given you. Your precise collection of genetic traits match no one else's. God has handcrafted you with personality, unique talents and passions, and special bent in life. This leads to the fact that . . .
- You have a unique purpose. God not only created you but also designed you for special reasons, crafting you to carry out unique missions in life—what the New Testament calls "good works" (Eph. 2:10). Before God created you, He decided that your life would point toward these special ends. You will find your greatest meaning in life by discovering and carrying out this distinctive purpose. That is why . . .
- You have a responsibility to your Creator. God made you to live with Him and for Him. Because you belong to Him (Rom. 14:7, 8), your life must be centered on Him. Many people tragically squander their lives by turning their backs on their Creator and living for themselves. But we will all give an account to the Lord for how we lived. He will ask whether or not we used what He gave us to honor Him and fulfill His purposes.

Protecting the Poor
Ps. 35:10

The psalms mention "the poor" more than twenty-five times, usually describing what sinful people do to them or what God does for them. To be on God's side is to take up their cause. Our behavior on behalf of the needy rescues the perishing (Ps. 35:17), silences unjust critics (35:19–25), and glorifies the Lord (35:18, 27, 28). Because our God is intensely committed to justice, deliverance, and vindication for the poor and brokenhearted, His priorities should be high on the agenda of any nation or individual intending to honor Him and receive His blessing.

The Benefits of Righteous Living
Ps. 37:25

Psalm 37 questions why we should live with integrity when countless people ignore God yet seem to prosper. Speaking from his perspective of many years of following God, David assures us that the Lord will reward righteousness with His protection and sustenance. Elsewhere Psalms mentions other benefits, including strength and significance in old age. See "The Art of Growing Old" at Psalm 92:14.

Think About It: List at least a dozen benefits of righteous living, particularly ones you might share with someone asking this question.

Ethics and Character in Psalms

Ps. 37:27–29

The Book of Psalms repeatedly reminds us that what matters most to God is the quality of our character. Several psalms help us pursue ethical decision-making and godly behavior:

Psalm	Theme
Psalm 1	Every person chooses one of two paths: the way of wickedness and death or the way of godliness and life.
Psalm 12	Our absolutely holy Lord does not tolerate dishonesty.
Psalm 15	God details a lifestyle that pleases Him.
Psalm 26	Integrity is a reasonable basis for seeking God's protection.
Psalm 37	People who do not revere God often prosper, but honoring Him leads to peace and joy.
Psalm 101	A person of character pursues challenging ideals.
Psalm 112	People who pursue godliness enjoy abundant benefits.
Psalm 119	God's Word gives well-defined guidelines for a life of integrity.
Psalm 141	People of integrity can count on God's help when they feel tempted to compromise.

Handling Our Words

Ps. 39:1–3

David declared that he would restrain his mouth lest his words cause him to sin. What a great intention—if only we could carry it out. The reality is that "no man can tame the tongue. It is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison" (James 3:8).

As David attempted to contain himself, he felt ready to burst—and finally did. But instead of pouring emotional and spiritual poison on his enemies, he talked to God. He asked the Lord for fresh insight into himself and his condition as a broken human being (Ps. 39:4–6). God is the only one who can equip us to manage our words.

David's teachable spirit, also known as humility, enabled David to find freedom from his sinful habits (39:7–13).

We all sometimes need a dose of reality to humble us and reveal the true condition of our hearts. In these moments when we fully realize our own weaknesses, we are deeply able to let God help us use words that heal rather than destroy. In fact, we don't have to wait until we feel ready to burst. We can talk with God regularly and follow His instructions, according to His power.

More: It pays to maintain a regular regimen of spiritual disciplines. Talking with God is only one of these. See "The Benefits of Instruction" at Ps. 119:93.

Prophecies of the Coming Messiah

Ps. 40:6–8

Throughout the Old Testament period, the Israelites looked for the coming Messiah promised from earliest times (Gen. 3:15). They described and celebrated this supernatural Savior in poetry and song. Many psalms are prophetic and messianic, anticipating the Messiah's nature and work.

Psalm	Messianic Prophecy
Psalm 2:7	The Messiah will be more than human; He will be God's Son (Heb. 1:5, 6).
Psalm 8:4–6	The entire world will be subject to Him (Heb. 2:5–8).
Psalm 16:8–11	He will have victory over death (Acts 2:25–28).
Psalm 22	He will die an agonizing, humiliating death (Matt. 27:35–46); He will identify with His people (Heb. 2:12).
Psalm 40:6–8	He will be the offering and sacrifice that takes away sins (Heb. 10:5–7).
Psalm 41:9	He will be betrayed by a close friend (John 13:18).
Psalm 45:6, 7	He will establish an everlasting, righteous kingdom (Heb. 1:8, 9).
Psalm 68:18	He will ascend to heaven and give gifts (Eph. 4:7, 8).
Psalm 69	He will be hated by His enemies without cause (John 15:25); He will be zealous for God (2:17); He will be given vinegar and gall (Matt. 27:34).
Psalm 89	He will rule forever as David's heir (Luke 1:31–33).
Psalm 95:7–11	He is the Lord who led Israel in the wilderness and looks for steadfast faith (Heb. 3:7–15).
Psalm 97:7	He will receive the worship of angels ("gods"; Heb. 1:6).
Psalm 102:25–27	He is the eternal God (Heb. 1:10–12).
Psalm 104:4	He commands angels (Heb. 1:7).

Psalm 110	He is David's Lord (Matt. 22:44); justice will reign at His coming (Acts 2:34, 35); He is superior to angels (Heb. 1:13); He will be eternal Priest to God (7:17, 21).
Psalm 118:22	He will be the cornerstone on which God will build His people (1 Pet. 2:7, 8).

Overcoming Family History

Ps. 42, heading

The sons of Korah had an infamous past. Their ancestor Korah led more than two hundred of Israel's most important leaders in one of the worst rebellions during the Exodus. God severely judged Korah and his followers by causing the earth to split open and swallow them (Num. 16).

Korah's family survived (Num. 26:11), and years later his descendants were among the Levites whom David appointed to oversee worship music (1 Chr. 6:37). They composed, arranged, and performed songs, and eleven psalms bear the heading "of the sons of Korah" (Ps. 42–49, 84, 85, 87, 88).

The sons of Korah illustrate how a family can move past a tragic legacy. The past need not determine the future. By honoring the Lord, Korah's descendants became known not for their ancestor's revolt but for their musical devotion.

The choices of this talented Levite family should give us hope. Our family history may include violence, substance abuse, emotional turmoil, crime, prejudice, or some other evil; no family is without sin. But with God's help, we can overcome the sin and shame of past generations, emerging into health and holiness, and powerful contributions to the good of the culture.

Think About It: You determine what your legacy will be from here on out. Which of your past infamies will you stop? What will you put in their places? Don't figure this out and then go to God. Talk with Him about it from the beginning. Just think of the delight that will result!

A Writer's and Artist's Responsibility

Ps. 45:1

With a heart "overflowing with a good theme," the composer of Psalm 45 serves as an inspiration for writers and artists today. Just as an ancient king's wedding called for the "pen of a ready writer," so modern issues and events await expression and interpretation for God's glory.

Writers, musicians, and artists of every kind have both the opportunity and responsibility to use their God-given talents for His work (Matt. 5:16; 25:14–30; see also "You Are Unique" at Ps. 33:15). Here are three suggestions for pursuing our calling:

1. Tell the truth. No work of art honors the Lord if it fails to tell the truth (Phil. 4:8). God wants us to face reality, and art is one way we do that. Even unpleasant truths deserve to be told.
2. Ask what difference faith makes. As Christians we must consider how our work relates to Christ. The fact that Jesus is Lord of all (see "Lord of the Sacred and the Secular" at Luke 6:1–5) opens up enormous possibilities for creative endeavors. It also disciplines what we say and how we say it.
3. Work with artistic integrity and live with personal integrity. Artistic freedom is important, but artists whose work and life are informed by faith in God are not completely free. We must work with integrity, doing not simply what is best for ourselves but what aligns with God's commands. It also means that we must live with personal integrity, honoring God's holiness in what we think, say, and do.

More: The painter Paul Cézanne considered God's handiwork the inspiration and measure of his own artistic efforts. "When I judge my art," Cézanne said, "I take my painting and put it next to a God-made object like a tree or a flower. If it clashes, it is not art."

God Rules All Nations

Ps. 47:7–9

Inserted between two psalms about Zion is this international hymn that announces God as the Lord of all the earth. Psalm 47 envisions all the world's people clapping and shouting praise. God alone deserves that level of honor, because He is the Lord Most High, the awesome King who rules the earth, every people and nation (Ps. 47:2, 3). Our shouts and thunderous applause give Him the praise to which He is entitled. Imagine the delightful harmony of the entire world's collective voice!

Even more, imagine the actions that live out this trust in God. How would our world transform as increasing numbers of people choose to honor God? What action will you do today to add to this harmony of obedience?

This scene anticipates the end of history (Rev. 5:8–14), when people from every "tribe and tongue and people and nation" will cry out that the Lamb is worthy of worship. In the meantime, God calls people from around the globe to come to Him. As they respond to His grace, He forms them into a worldwide body that brings glory to Him.

This Is God

Ps. 48:14

Psalm 48 celebrates Mount Zion, or Jerusalem, as God's dwelling place (see Zion's profile at 2 Sam. 5:7). But the song's real focus is not on an earthly city but on God's glory and wonder. His presence gives the city significance and brings it joy. He therefore deserves the inhabitants' highest praise. The psalmist declares that "this is God" (Ps. 48:14):

- God is great and deserves immense praise.
- He lives with His people and provides them with refuge.
- He is the great King feared around the world.
- He is steadfastly loving and kind.
- His praise echoes to the ends of the earth.
- He is righteous and the source of righteousness.
- He is just.
- He is God forever and ever.
- He guides His people.

Psalm 48 anticipates John's end-of-time vision of a new heaven and new earth, including a new Jerusalem (Rev. 21–22). There God will dwell forever with people from every nation who have come to Him for salvation. What a stunning hope: God living among us forever and ever!

Think About It: Which of God's characteristics listed above is the one that currently brings you the most joy? How will you thank God for being this way?

The Great Equalizer

Ps. 49:2

Judah and Israel became increasingly stratified over time, just like their predecessors in the land (see "The Canaanites" at Josh. 3:10). By the time Jeroboam II came to power in the northern kingdom (c. 782–753 B.C.), the disparities between rich and poor were so severe that a poor person's worth was no greater than a pair of sandals (Amos 2:6).

Psalm 49 affirms death as the great equalizer. Both rich and poor share the same ultimate fate, and no amount of money can purchase an escape from this final reality. The Bible shows us that the poor instinctively recognize this truth more than the wealthy, one reason Jesus directed His ministry to people on society's margins. See "No Such Thing as an Underclass in Jesus' Eyes" at Luke 7:20–23.

Think About It: How does this equalizer enhance your priorities, or prod you to set more deliberate priorities?

Realization and Confession

Ps. 51:1–19

King David did not admit his sin until Nathan the prophet skillfully exposed his wrongdoing (2 Sam. 12:1–13). But Psalm 51 is no reluctant confession to the Lord. In his brokenness, David discovered the only effective way to deal with sin: face it, confess it, and be forgiven so you can move on to doing rightly.

David had committed adultery with Bathsheba, the wife of Uriah the Hittite. When she became pregnant, the king tried without success to hide his sin and eventually engineered Uriah's death (2 Sam. 11). Yet Psalm 51 does not mention adultery and only touches on murder (Ps. 51:14). Instead, the main transgression confessed is that which led to the others—David's forsaking of the Lord: "Against You, You only, have I sinned, and done this evil in Your sight" (51:4).

David was not evading responsibility for the hurt that he caused others. Rather, he rightly recognized that his worst offense was against a holy God. When we sin, it is against God who created the standards we violate. We show not only our disdain for people but our distrust of the One who created those people. While people deserve restitution, God alone forgives sins (Mark 2:7).

The Bible never serves up perfect people for us to admire and put on a pedestal. It fully discloses the failings of real people, giving hope and insight to all who struggle with sin, imperfection, and doubt. God helped David learn from his mistakes, and He wants to help us as well. Our restoration, like David's, begins with realization and confession.

More: David prayed that God would not remove the Holy Spirit from him (Ps. 51:11). Find out more about "The Holy Spirit in the Old Testament" at Is. 42:1–9. Healing comes from acknowledging wrongdoing and appealing for forgiveness. See "Confessions That Bring Healing" at 1 Sam. 15:24.

God Is Devoted to Us

Ps. 63:7

Finding shelter in the shadow of God's wings was one of David's favorite expressions (for example, Ps. 17:8; 36:7; 57:1; 61:4; 91:4). It symbolized protection, defense, and refuge. When caught in a fire, a mother grouse, or prairie chicken, for example, gathers her chicks under her wings, nestles down, and lets flames sweep over her rather than her young. She will die if necessary to save her chicks. After the fire, her offspring crawl out from under their mother's body. They enjoy life and safety because of her sacrificial devotion. We can confidently count on a God who loves us and acts on our behalf when we cannot help ourselves.

More: Jesus used the metaphor of a mother bird's devotion to describe His compassion for the people of His day. See Matt. 23:37.

Come and Hear, Go and Tell
Ps. 66:16–19

The New Testament describes Jesus telling His followers to "go and tell" His message to every nation (Matt. 28:19). But Old Testament people more often communicated God's message by inviting the world to "come and hear."

Psalm 66 may have been composed during the period when Judah was in captivity in Babylon (see "The Captivities of the Israelites" at 2 Chr. 36:20), a time when God's people were cut off from the temple at Jerusalem (compare Ps. 137). Worshipers tended to reflect on the past, especially episodes in which God rescued the nation from old oppressors like the Egyptians (66:5–7). This looking backward encouraged them to also look forward to how God might save them again (66:8–12). The people vowed that when God initiated another miraculous exodus, they would worship and praise Him in their homeland (66:13–15). They would invite others to "come and hear . . . what He has done for my soul" (66:16).

Christians can practice both "go and tell" and "come and hear" evangelism. There are times to go to new places to proclaim the Good News. But there are also times to invite others to draw near and listen to our own stories about how we have learned to trust in God's care and hope.

Passing On the Blessing
Ps. 67:1, 2

God blesses us not solely for our own benefit but so we can pass along His gifts. Psalm 67 highlights this principle in the dual themes of thanksgiving and global evangelism.

This song begins with a prayer for blessing, and the prayer explains the purpose behind its request—that God's ways would become known throughout all nations. The world's destiny was wrapped up in God's blessing of Israel, and the world would someday revere and praise God for His actions on behalf of His people. This psalm offers strong evidence that God offers salvation to all peoples across the entire earth (Ps. 67:3–7). His purposes have been fulfilled through Jesus Christ, who came out of Israel and offered Himself as a blessing to all the world.

Whenever God brings blessings our way, He wants us to share them with people around us. He especially wants us to share the gift of salvation in Christ. We have the enormous privilege of passing on the blessing of eternal life, a joy that transforms life here on earth.

A Promise to Africa

Ps. 68:31

Bringing the ark of God to Jerusalem—the possible setting of Psalm 68—must have made the Israelites feel that they had finally arrived. They were settled in the Promised Land. They were led by a remarkable king. The Lord was their God, and the holy ark assured His presence in Zion.

But David reminded his people that God's blessings would eventually extend far beyond Israel and its immediate events. Nations throughout the world would hear about the Lord and come to worship Him (Ps. 68:32). They would include even belligerent neighbors like Egyptians and Ethiopians (68:31; see also "The Ethiopians" at 2 Chr. 14:12), who were vying for power as Israel rose to prominence.

The promise of Psalm 68 was at least partially fulfilled in the first century A.D. when the treasurer of Queen Candace of Ethiopia came to Jerusalem. He had started home after worshiping at the feast of Pentecost when he met Philip, who explained to him the news of salvation in Christ.

The treasurer believed and was baptized (Acts 8:26–40). Through that encounter, the news about Jesus reached Africa, and today many Christians in Ethiopia see the treasurer's conversion as the beginning of their spiritual story. Through him, they feel connected to David, who foresaw the day when Ethiopians would join in the chorus of praising the Lord.

Think About It: Your friendship with someone of a different culture could be the starting point of that culture embracing Jesus Christ as Lord. How might you develop such friendships?

Psalms of Pain

Ps. 73:21

Many psalms describe the Lord's desire to hear our fears, doubts, and sorrows. These psalms of pain encourage us to bring our heartache to the Lord who cares.

Psalm	Theme
Psalm 13	A plaintive cry of "How long, O LORD?" expresses David's frustration and sense of abandonment; he calls for God's attention to soothe his feelings of isolation.
Psalm 49	The psalmist feels anguish as he observes the rich and their futile lives.
Psalm 73	After expressing pain and impatience at life's unfairness, the psalmist finds fresh hope in God.
Psalm 83	This psalm seems to cry, "God, speak up!" The writer feels overcome by enemies and feels separated from God's concern; nevertheless, he prays for vindication and victory.
Psalm 88	Heman's sigh of lonely desperation asks God for help as his life seems to be wrenched away; all seems bleak and empty.
Psalm	Moses articulates the fear and pain of dying, which reflects

90 the sad condition of all creation, whose glory and beauty have been ravaged by sin.

Our Global God

Ps. 79:1

God cannot be limited by tribalism or nationalism. He is Lord of the whole world and all its people, and He rules with love, power, justice, and sovereignty.

The Book of Psalms reflects this international scope of God's activity and involvement with the world. One of the book's primary themes is His rule over creation (Ps. 8:1; 19:1–6; 24:1, 2). A related theme shows His heart reaching beyond Israel to other tribes and nations (96:1–10; 100:1; 105:1). Sometimes God judges the nations (2:1–9), especially for their mistreatment of His people (79:1–7; 124:1–8), but His wrath results from His justice and righteousness. He demonstrates the same character toward the Israelites when they turn from Him and engage in habitual sin (50:4–23; 78:21, 22).

During the centuries following the Jews' return from captivity in Babylon, God's people suffered an increasing spirit of separation that interpreted the world in terms of "us against them." By the time of Jesus, this national isolation and antagonism toward outsiders had become entrenched in the Israelites' cultural identity (see "No Racial Division" at Matt. 15:24). It took the power of the Holy Spirit to break this barrier so that the gospel could spread throughout the world (see "Ethnic Walls Break Down" at Acts 10:44, 45).

The psalms display wonderful humility about the fact that the Israelites are not the only people God loves. Every nation is invited to worship and serve Him. The Book of Psalms anticipates both the global message of Jesus (John 3:16, 17) and His final rule over all the peoples of the earth (Rev. 5:9–14).

God and Gods
Ps. 82:1, 6

Psalm 82 refers to "gods" (Hebrew: elohim, "mighty ones" or "judges"; see footnotes at Ps. 82:1 and Ps. 82:6), a puzzling reference given the Israelites' dedication to worshiping one true God (see "Monotheism" at Deut. 6:4).

Scholars suggest two possible explanations. Some assert that the "gods" are demons, fallen angels who oppose the Lord and harass humans (see "Angels and Demons" at Matt. 8:29 and "Demons" at Luke 11:14). The Book of Job notes two occasions when "sons of God" met with the Lord, and Satan met with Him to seek permission to oppress Job (Job 1:6–12; 2:1–7). Others suggest that the "gods" are corrupt human judges who assumed the title of "mighty ones." They may have tried to exert more authority by issuing rulings in the names of pagan gods.

Neither explanation is perfect, but both fit the facts of Psalm 82. These evil "mighty ones" oppress the poor and helpless (82:2–4) and do their work in spiritual darkness (82:5).

Whatever the identity of these "gods," Psalm 82 affirms that all authorities are accountable to God. He is their Ruler and Judge, and He measures the integrity of all according to their treatment of the poor, the afflicted, and the needy.

The Supreme God
Ps. 86:8

Most of the peoples surrounding ancient Israel practiced polytheism, or the belief in multiple gods. But David declared that none of them could compare to the Lord. The Book of Psalms offers a thorough description of the supreme God:

The Lord is . . .	According to Psalms . . .
Creator of the world	• The heavens, the moon, and the stars are the "work of [His] fingers" (8:3). • "He commanded and they were created" (148:5). • He "laid the foundations of the earth" (104:5). • He gives all creatures life (104:27–30).
All-powerful	• He laughs when human rulers conspire together against Him (2:4). • "The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness" (29:8). • His power causes even His enemies to submit to Him (66:3).
All-wise	• In His wisdom He created the world (104:24). • He is the starting point for wisdom (111:10). • He knows everything we do and say (139:2–4).
Eternal	• "From everlasting to everlasting, You are God" (90:2). • "You are from everlasting" (93:2). • "You are the same, and Your years will have no end" (102:27).
Holy	• "God sits on His holy throne" (47:8). • "He is holy" (99:3, 5, 9). • "Holy and awesome is His name" (111:9).
Good	• "Good and upright is the LORD" (25:8). • "The LORD is good" (100:5). • "The LORD is righteous in all His ways" (145:17).
Merciful and forgiving	• "All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth" (25:10). • "His mercy endures forever" (136:1–26). • He forgives all our iniquities (103:3).
Faithful	• "Those who know Your name will put their trust in You; for You, LORD, have not forsaken those who seek You" (9:10). • "He who keeps you will not slumber" (121:3).

Personally involved with His creatures	• He fashions the hearts of people individually (33:15). • "He causes the grass to grow for the cattle, and vegetation for the service of man" (104:14). • "You formed my inward parts" (139:13).
True and straightforward	• "The judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether" (19:9). • He is the "LORD God of truth" (31:5). • All His commandments are truth (119:151).
Just	• "God is a just judge" (7:11). • "He loves righteousness and justice" (33:5). • He "executes justice for the oppressed" (146:7).

Our Covenant-Keeping God

Ps. 89:3, 4

God's covenant with David was a commitment that God would keep no matter what, much like a parent's commitment to a child. God told His people, "Can a woman forget her nursing child, and not have compassion on the son of her womb? Surely they may forget, yet I will not forget you" (Is. 49:15).

God has made an agreement with us today that is equally indestructible. He will not renege on His promise or abandon our relationship, even when we disappoint Him. God will always be true to His word:

- His commitment is beyond compare because He is without equal (Ps. 89:6).
- He is overwhelmingly faithful (89:8, 24, 33).
- His covenant lasts forever (89:28, 29, 36).
- His commitment is unbreakable and unalterable (89:34).

When God agrees to do something, His commitment springs from a love far exceeding human devotion. He clings to the object of His affection even when met with outright rejection. As Paul explained to Timothy, "If we are faithless, He remains faithful; for He cannot deny Himself" (2 Tim. 2:13). God's love for us will not fail; He keeps His covenants forever.

More: Many portions of Scripture describe the covenant between God and Israel, including Jer. 32:3–34:18, Ezek. 16:8–17:19, and Hos. 1:1–3:5. For more on God's covenant with Christians, read Heb. 7:22–10:29.

Connecting Our Work with God's Work

Ps. 90:16, 17

Psalm 90 reminds us of the profound truth that God is eternal and unchanging, while humanity is destined to die. Interestingly, Moses ends his song by asking God to show His own work by ensuring that His people's work endures. His prayer essentially asked that God give meaning, significance, and purpose to His creatures' labors. At one extreme, our everyday work may feel like a drudgery done only for someone else's profit—or at the opposite extreme, it may feel like a pursuit of raw personal ambition. Connecting our work with God's work helps us to avoid both hazards. Our work becomes a testimony to God's goodness and a way of conveying His grace to everyone we serve.

More: Scripture has a great deal to say about our day-to-day work and careers. It shows that what we do on the job is actually an extension of God's work in the world. See "People at Work" at Ps. 8:6.

The Art of Growing Old
Ps. 92:14

Psalms speaks repeatedly about the potential fates of elderly life. Some of us, as in Psalm 92:14, will continue to bear fruit in our later years as fresh as in the days of our youth, while others will grow barren, cast aside and ignored (Ps. 71:9).

Righteousness seems to make all the difference between flourishing or fading in old age (92:12). Those who have lived for God often continue to thrive in old age. The seeds they have planted in themselves and others sprout and mature into a good harvest (Gal. 6:7–10). But those who have squandered their lives in self-centered pursuits often have little to show for themselves in later years. Psalm 92 challenges us to learn the art of growing old with grace by living for God today. Our expectations depend on it.

Why Things Don't Change
Ps. 94:20

Some of society's problems seem like they will never go away. The composer of Psalm 94, seeing endless injustices, cried out to God to bring about change. The psalmist worried over how long wickedness would triumph while the oppressed suffered (Ps. 94:1–3). When we undergo the same worry today, we can turn to Psalm 94 to learn that the world's problems are sometimes the result of an imperfect system or institution "which devises evil by law" (94:20). Things will only change if the righteous work with God's help to reform the system. Sometimes the real question is not Why don't things change? but Why don't God's people cause change?

A Day of Worship

Ps. 96:8, 9

True worship means focusing on the Lord rather than on ourselves. Therefore it's a 24/7 event, as well as a time to gather.

The Israelites were commanded to devote one day out of seven to focus on God (Ex. 20:8–11). They were instructed to cease from their usual labors, just as God had paused from His work of creation on the seventh day (Gen. 2:1–3).

Christians are not bound to keep the Sabbath (see "The Lord's Day" at Rom. 14:5–13), but they are commanded to worship the Lord together (Heb. 10:19–25). Traditionally this has occurred on the first day of the week (1 Cor. 16:2).

Making Sunday a constant in our weekly rhythm reminds us of who we are in relation to God. Stopping work to worship redirects our focus from ourselves to our Lord. Sunday can remind us that we depend on the Lord for daily needs, for the skills and energy to accomplish our work, and for all the resources He entrusts to us. We can make the most of Sunday by . . .

- Ceasing from work and changing up our routine.
- Pausing to look back at events of the week and interpreting our experience from God's point of view (see "Discovering God's Purpose for You" at Gen. 45:5–8).
- Engaging in activities that restore and nurture our inner life.
- Praying, focusing on God rather than on ourselves, and using Scripture to form our prayers.
- Joining with other believers to worship the Lord and celebrate life together.

A New Song

Ps. 98:1

Half a dozen psalms urge God's people to worship Him with a "new song" (Ps. 33:3; 40:3; 96:1; 98:1; 144:9; 149:1), a directive that reflects the fact that during Israel's monarchy—especially during the reigns of David and Solomon—a torrent of new music flowed from musicians at Jerusalem.

This charge implies that the church should encourage Christians with musical abilities to use their gifts to lead us in worship and create new expressions of praise. Old hymns and other musical compositions remind new generations of their heritage. And Christians throughout the centuries have honored Christ by composing music in fresh forms meaningful to their place and time in the world, empowering God's people to honor Him with a new enthusiasm through a new song.

More: Isaac Watts was a pioneer of hymns born out of the Christian experience rather than always using text drawn from the Scriptures. One of his most famous hymns is "Joy to the World."

Psalms for Many Occasions

Ps. 100:1

Like Psalm 100, many psalms were composed for formal worship. But they can be used on other occasions as well:

Read . . .	When . . .
Psalm 3	You are troubled at bedtime.
Psalm 15	You start a new job.
Psalm 27	You fear someone.
Psalms 32, 38, 51	You need to confess and turn from sin.
Psalm 37	You feel that life is unfair.
Psalm 71	You are retiring from work.
Psalm 90	You must attend or prepare for a funeral.

Psalms 92, 145	You feel blessed and want to praise God.
Psalm 104	You are elated by nature's beauty.
Psalm 127	You are beginning a marriage.
Psalm 128	You receive a promotion or a raise.
Psalm 139	You are expecting a baby.

Yes, We Can Be Spiritual in Governing

Ps. 101:1

Government leaders always shoulder political, social, and moral expectations. Israel's leadership also carried significant spiritual responsibilities. Psalm 101 calls them to . . .

- Govern wisely without compromising their integrity.
- Disassociate themselves from evil and from people committed to doing wrong.
- Refuse to tolerate slander and dismiss subordinates who abuse their position.
- Surround themselves with faithful followers of God.
- Purge liars from their administration.
- Root out evildoers.

Leaders are to shun evil, avoiding temptation by creating an uncontaminated environment and surrounding themselves with spiritually insightful advisors. Politics can be a rough and dirty business, but the Lord calls leaders to govern with a pure heart.

More: Early in his reign, Solomon fulfilled the obligations of his position. But later in life, he abandoned God. See "Unsatisfied with Success" at 2 Chr. 1:1. Toyohiko Kagawa was offered an enormous salary as the Chief of Social Welfare for the Japanese government. He turned it down, declaring "To work with the poor I must be poor."

From Individuals to Community to the World

Ps. 102:20–22

The psalmist cried to God in profound personal distress (Ps. 102:1–11). He felt as if the Lord had left him to his enemies and his only hope was in God's eternal nature and undying love for His people (102:12–14).

Envisioning God looking down from heaven (102:19), the psalmist grew able to understand things from a new perspective. The Lord saw him and others like him. He heard their groaning and would one day release them from the threat of death. He would free these prisoners so that they could speak about Him among the faithful in Zion.

In short, God gave individuals grace, which they could in turn share with their community. Then, the community of Jerusalem was to live for God in a way that attracted other nations to worship and serve Him.

In tough circumstances we tend to focus our attention on ourselves, and when we experience pain, it is difficult to care about others. But as we care for others we find our own needs met. No matter how tough things get, we must still pass along the grace God sends our way, even as we tend to our own needs.

Psalms into Hymns

Ps. 103:1

The Book of Psalms was written by and for the Israelites, but Christians have long used the psalms in worship by setting them to music. Some hymnists compose music to accompany the words of a translated text. Others adapt the text into verse, as in the seventeenth-century hymn “Praise Ye the Lord, the Almighty” and the nineteenth-century hymn “Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven,” songs based on Psalm 103. Here are a few of the many hymns drawn from the Book of Psalms:

Psalm	Hymn(s)
Psalm 23	“The Lord Is My Shepherd”
	“He Leadeth Me”
	“The King of Love My Shepherd Is”
Psalm 42	“Like as the Hart”
Psalm 46	“A Mighty Fortress Is Our God”
	“Be Still, My Soul”
Psalm 72	“Jesus Shall Reign”
Psalm 87	“Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken”
Psalm 90	“O God, Our Help in Ages Past”
Psalm 98	“Joy to the World”
Psalm 100	“All People That on Earth Do Dwell”
Psalm 103	“Praise Ye the Lord, the Almighty”
	“Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven”
Psalm 104	“O Worship the King”
Psalm 119	“Thy Word Have I Hid in My Heart”
Psalm 137	“I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord”
Psalm 139	“Still, Still with Thee”
Psalm 141	“Softly Now the Light of Day”
Psalm 148	“Praise the Lord! Ye Heavens, Adore Him”

More: Isaac Watts penned more than 700 hymns, including “Joy to the World.”

Think About It: You can set any hymn to a tune familiar to you. You'll not only remember it, but you'll want to sing it as an encouragement to live its truths. See Ephesians 5:19.

Glimpses of Heaven
Ps. 103:19

While the Bible does not provide a detailed description of heaven, it gives us several glimpses into the hereafter that awaits Christ's faithful followers:

- In Psalms and elsewhere in the Old Testament, the word heaven sometimes refers to the sky and sometimes to the place where God dwells and rules creation. This does not imply that God is confined to heaven (or any one place). As pure spirit, God is infinite and present everywhere (see "Where Does God Live?" at Ps. 11:4).
- Heaven is where the saved will enjoy eternal life with God (Rev. 22:1, 3, 5, 17).
- Heaven will welcome people from every "nation, tribe, tongue, and people" on earth (14:6, 7).
- In heaven there will be no hunger or thirst (7:16; 21:4), no tears (7:17; 21:4), no pain and sorrow (21:4).
- People in heaven will be free from sin's curse (22:5).
- Heaven will be completely without wrongdoing, because all evil will be imprisoned forever in another place (20:10; 21:8).
- Heaven is lit by God's brilliance (22:5).
- Heaven will be a work of art (chs. 4, 21).
- Heaven will be home to enjoyable, productive work (see "The Tree of Life" at Rev. 22:2).

God has chosen to tell us that heaven exists and that someday His people will join Him there (John 14:1–4). The Bible also says that our speculations about heaven cannot match its actual joys (1 Cor. 2:9). Some say that describing heaven to an earth-bound mortal is like describing life outside the womb to a baby inside the womb. For now, our job is to become Christlike people who live in such a way that others are drawn to God.

God and the Environment

Ps. 104:14–23, 35

God not only created the world but continues to sustain it with loving attention. His concern extends even to "the birds of the air" and "the lilies of the field" (Matt. 6:26–28) whose needs He meets day by day. Scripture shows the Lord watching over every aspect of His world.

- Right from the start, God commanded Adam and Eve to cultivate and keep the garden (Gen. 2:15). He calls all human beings to a stewardship that requires careful conservation and rules out wanton destruction.
- Because of relentless human sin, God regretted having made the human race (6:5, 6). Yet when He sent a flood to restart the world, He saved not only Noah and his family but also creatures of all kinds (6:13, 14, 19–22).
- After the Flood, God made a covenant to never again send waters to destroy the earth (9:8–11).
- God later instructed the Israelites to let their farmlands lie fallow every seventh year to rejuvenate and preserve them (Ex. 23:10, 11; Lev. 25:2–7; 26:34, 35).
- God outlawed unnecessary destruction of fruit and nut trees and the killing of mother birds, even as a source of food (Deut. 20:19, 20; 22:6, 7).

Scripture also shows why stewardship of the earth should be a pressing concern for God's people, and it offers ideas for fulfilling this responsibility.

- God created the earth (Gen. 1:1), and His handiwork reflects His glory (Ps. 19:1–6; 33:5–7; Is. 6:3).
- God assessed what He made and called it "good" (Gen. 1:10, 12, 18, 21, 25, 31).

- God gave human beings authority over the earth and its creatures (Gen. 1:28), making people His coworkers (see "People at Work" at Ps. 8:6). Tending the Garden of Eden was one of the first tasks that God assigned to human beings (Gen. 2:15).
- The earth belongs to God (Ex. 9:29; Ps. 24:1, 2) and is only on loan to humanity. We will answer to Him for how we use it.
- Creation is an intricate system in which one part affects all (65:5–13; 104:10–23).
- Nature reminds us of God's persistent mercy. Our appreciation of the natural world evokes praise and worship (136:1–9).
- God's gift of life to us is linked to His command to care for the world's poorest and most deprived—the broken, the blind, the imprisoned, and the oppressed (Is. 42:5–9).
- Creation longs to be free from the curse brought by human sin. Until creation is redeemed, we are to demonstrate God's love even amid tribulation, persecution, famine, nakedness, and war (Rom. 8:18–39).
- Eating is a privilege of God's gift of creation. Scripture encourages us to partake of food for God's glory, not just for pleasure (1 Cor. 10:23–33).

God cares about what He made, and He has charged us to wisely manage the earth's resources (Gen. 1:26) for our long-term benefit and His eternal glory. As we discern how to address complex environmental pressures, our solutions should start and end with the fact that God has given us the earth as a sacred trust. He will hold us accountable for how we treat our home. We should share His concern for every creature on the planet. And our stewardship of the earth should not stop with our private lives but should extend to our roles in our communities, businesses, and government.

Work God's Way

Ps. 104:24

Psalm 104 describes some of God's many labors. Although He accomplishes much of this work on His own, He also employs human beings to carry out His purposes. God's passion for work is a theme woven throughout the Book of Psalms.

Psalm	Theme
Psalm 8	Human work is God's idea, a responsibility given to us by Him.
Psalm 28	God will give unscrupulous people what they deserve.
Psalm 37	Evil and deception may bring temporary prosperity, but God rewards honest labor.
Psalm 62	God holds us accountable for the state of our hearts and the work of our hands.
Psalm 90	Our lives are brief, but God can ensure that our work endures.
Psalm 104	The Lord oversees His creation.
Psalm 111	God provides a model for how we should pursue work.
Psalm 127	Success lies in God's hands.
Psalm 128	Satisfying labor comes from respecting God.
Psalm 141	The Lord will help us remain faithful when we face temptation to compromise at work.

Spiritual Publicity

Ps. 105:1

Psalm 105 urges us to tell the world about God's amazing acts so that all people can meet and respond to Him. This song of God's unending faithfulness explains how to make the Lord's deeds known:

- Through personal integrity. Our credibility largely depends on the quality of our character. We must "seek the LORD and His strength," living with integrity in our private and public worlds (105:4).
- Through worship. When we "glory in His holy name" (105:3), we express our awe for God and help others feel His grandeur.
- Through history. God's "marvelous works" (105:5) come to light when we help others see His activity throughout the centuries.
- Through the Bible. Scripture tells us about God's "wonders," or miracles, and His "judgments," or moral principles (105:5). By cultivating a knowledge of Scripture, we can help people understand God's actions and the Bible's practical insights.
- Through stories. By telling and retelling how God has impacted our lives, we "talk of all His wondrous works" (105:2). We should strive to show our faith in relatable, realistic, and persuasive ways.
- Through music. The psalmist encourages us to sing to the Lord (Ps. 105:2). Music is a powerful communicator, and our celebrations of God's glory can have a meaningful impact.

Our neighbors, coworkers, and friends already have an impression of God. This impression may or may not be accurate. Our responsibility is to help them discover the true God of Scripture by showing them the good things that He has done, largely through the good He guides us to do.

Celebrating Relief from Sin

Ps. 106:6

While Psalms 105 and 106 both recall Israel's history, the main point of each could not be more different. The first enthusiastically acclaims the Lord's faithfulness, while the other retells Israel's unfaithful history. Psalm 105 by itself makes it seem as if God swept His people into the Promised Land without setbacks or opposition. Psalm 106 adds another perspective on the arduous journey, confronting the reality of sin and showing why nations (and individuals) badly need forgiveness. Taken together, the songs display two sides of salvation: sin and grace. Either one without the other leads to a distorted understanding of God's work in the world.

Psalm 106 is not completely hopeless. Despite His children's waywardness, the Lord remains committed to granting mercy, forgiveness, and mighty wonders (Ps. 106:44–46). No wonder the psalm concludes by blessing the Lord "from everlasting to everlasting" (106:48).

Passover Songs

Ps. 113:1

Psalms 113–118 were meant to be sung around the Passover table, with each song commemorating an aspect of the Israelites' escape from slavery in Egypt (Ex. 12–15). The collection is sometimes referred to as the Egyptian Hallel (hallel shares the same root as hallelujah and means "praise"; compare Ps. 113:1). Jesus and His disciples probably sang these songs together at their last meal in the upper room (Matt. 26:30; Mark 14:26). The six Passover themes are . . .

1. Psalm 113: Praising God for releasing the downtrodden.
2. Psalm 114: Escaping from Egypt.
3. Psalm 115: Praising God as a people.
4. Psalm 116: Thanking God and committing individually to Him.
5. Psalm 117: Calling non-Jews to praise God.
6. Psalm 118: Recalling God's enduring love.

Psalms 113 and 114 were sung before the Passover supper, and Psalms 115–118 were sung afterward. Singing songs as a family or a gathering of friends encourages us to give thanks to God, remember our history, and act according to truths about His actions.

The Strength of Scripture

Ps. 119:23

This song shows that nothing—no crisis, no conspiracy, no horrible affliction—is beyond the range of Scripture's teaching. The Lord's instruction imparts strength to handle whatever life brings.

Psalm 119 may have been written during the Babylonian captivity, a time when God's people had few rights and many opponents. They were strangers in an unfamiliar land (Ps. 119:19) and victims of slander and harassment from foreign rulers (119:23). They struggled under terrible hardship (119:50, 61, 67), but they learned to survive by placing their hope in God's Word, a constant theme for all 176 verses of Psalm 119.

The psalmist laments and fears problems from within and without. His antidote for his pain and worry is the Torah, or Law, which gives solutions for the full scope of life—from Aleph (119:1–8) to Tau (119:169–176), the first and last letters of the Hebrew alphabet.

The Benefits of Instruction

Ps. 119:93

Godly instruction yields benefits for this life and for the life to come (1 Tim. 4:7, 8), giving the writer of Psalm 119 and us good reason to study God's Word regularly and apply it consistently. This lengthy psalm has twenty-two stanzas arranged according to the letters of the Hebrew alphabet. This English translation uses eight words to describe God's truth, with each term suggesting a distinct motivation for our efforts to study and apply Scripture:

	Translation	Motivation for Study and Application
1	Law	God's Word mandates obedience (compare James 1:25). Of the eight words in this list, law is the term used most often in Psalm 119 (for example, Ps. 119:1, 18, 92).
2	Testimonies	God's Word witnesses and warns against disobedience (Ps. 119:31, 152; compare Deut. 31:26).
3	Precepts	God's Word oversees us like a shepherd tends sheep (Ps. 119:4, 15; compare Jer. 23:2).
4	Statutes	God's Word endures and obligates us to obey (Ps. 119:8, 12; compare Is. 30:8).
5	Commandments	God's Word takes authority over all of life and requires obedience (Ps. 119:10, 47).
5	Ordinances	God's Word sets the standard for life's relationships and duties (Ps. 119:43, 91; compare 1 Sam. 10:25).
7	Word	God's Word beckons us to listen and respond

		(Ps. 119:11, 16, 17; compare 33:4, 6).
8	Judgments	God's Word discerns right from wrong and good from evil (Ps. 119:75).

Just as our bodies need regular exercise to stay healthy, our hearts, souls, and minds need the consistent discipline of God's Word. By putting ourselves under the instruction of God's Word each day, we will find peace and security (Ps. 119:165).

Bent Toward Belligerence

Ps. 120:5–7

Lamenting the fact that he was surrounded by warmongers, the composer of Psalm 120 compared his neighbors to the belligerent Meshech and Kedar tribes.

The Meshechites presumably descended from Meshech, a grandson of Noah through Japheth (Gen. 10:2; 1 Chr. 1:5). They reportedly traded in slaves and copper (Ezek. 27:13) and may have invaded the Middle East from the north. Often associated with the tribe of Tubal, they were infamous for their violence (32:26).

The tribe of Kedar descended from Ishmael (Gen. 25:13; 1 Chr. 1:29). As nomads in the desert east of Israel, they controlled caravan routes between Palestine and Egypt, tending large flocks (Is. 60:7) and living in black tents. One of Nehemiah's enemies may have been a king of Kedar (see "When You've Been Left Behind" at Neh. 4:7).

Think About It: What bends you toward belligerence? What will you choose instead?

Community Worship

Ps. 122:1

David declared that he was glad to "go into the house of the LORD" for worship, but today many Christians seldom enter a church building. Reasons for dropping out of communal worship vary, but David's joy gives us reason to consider why we should make attending church a habit:

- Because Christians need help to reflect on the past week and see it as part of their journey with God.
- Because they benefit from being taught and led in worship by others rather than feeding on a constant diet of their own choosing.
- Because they need regular reminders of their standing in Christ, help in acknowledging and confessing sins, and fresh teaching about God's truths.
- Because they need to hear how God's followers in the past struggled, grew, and lived out their faith.
- Because they need to experience artistic and creative expressions of faith through ritual, prayers, music, architecture, or creeds.
- Because they will benefit from silence before the Lord.
- Because they need help to face the issues of life and faith.
- Because they need to hear about the experiences of fellow followers of God.
- Because they need an alternative to the constant messages of a culture that ignores God.
- Because they need a deliberate break from work and self-interests in order to concentrate on God.
- Because they need to hear reminders of God's love.
- Because they need help in praying.
- Because they need to belong to a community of faith that includes others trying to live out the gospel.

Create Peace and Prosperity for the City

Ps. 122:6–9

Psalm 122 is one of several songs likely written for going up to the temple in Jerusalem. Pilgrimages to the worship center were a regular obligation and joyous occasion. The march through the city gates and ascent to the temple complex was spiritually uplifting and essential to building community.

One of the peak moments of this worship experience was a prayer for Jerusalem's peace and prosperity, an act of intercession for everyone who was part of life in the holy city. It also asked God's blessing on government decision-makers and their policies and programs.

The pilgrims' concern for Jerusalem did not end with prayer. Worshipers also pledged to look after the city's well-being. This suggests that Christians today should pray and work for the benefit of their communities. By promoting "peace within [the] walls" and "prosperity within [the] palaces" (122:7), we will fulfill Paul's charge to "do good to all" (Gal. 6:10).

Think About It: Do you find it easier to work toward the benefit of your community or pray toward it? Why? How do the two work together?

Where We Belong

Ps. 127:1

Psalm 127 links the good of the family to the health of the city, connecting both to God, who empowers parents and urban planners alike. Those who build their homes with God's wisdom aim to raise children who can "speak with their enemies in the gate," or public arena (Ps. 127:3–5; see also "The Gates of Hell" at Matt. 16:18). This psalm implies that God's people belong in the public sector and that God's followers are to raise children able to speak to community issues.

There is a chasm, however, between theocratic Israel and modern society. Some Christian parents look at contemporary culture, for example, and argue for private or home schooling. Others advocate for public schools. Some believe that children are a valued gift from God not to be thrown into a hostile environment. Others believe that children are a valued gift from God not to be taken from a place where they can have a positive influence.

Wherever we choose to educate our children, Scripture suggests that we do not have the option of total reclusion from the world. God's Word calls us to engage our communities.

Work and Family

Ps. 128:2–4

Work and family are two great callings that can cause one giant set of conflicts. This paradox appears in the Bible's first pages with the painful account of Adam and Eve (Gen. 2–3). They found joy and significance in tending the garden and in their relationship with each other. But sin turned their work into "toil" (3:17), and their family life bred sorrow and estrangement (3:16; 4:8, 16).

Abraham, too, struggled to balance work and family. He let his wife Sarah be taken to Pharaoh's harem in exchange for a dowry of food, supplies, and servants (12:10–20). Later, Abraham and his nephew Lot accumulated so much wealth that they had to part ways to maintain their friendship (13:1–18).

In fact, virtually every figure in the Old Testament, including Noah, Jacob and Esau, Rachel and Leah, Joseph, Moses, David, and Solomon, experienced profound family troubles. Solomon ultimately failed to find satisfaction in either work or family (Eccl. 1:1–2:26), even though he believed that both were treasures from God (3:12, 13; 5:18–20).

Psalms 127 and 128 teach us that we can find fulfillment in our work when we commit it to the Lord, and work according to God's guidelines. Likewise, we can find peace from family struggles when we build our homes on a godly foundation.

Hope for the Heartbroken

Ps. 130:1

The Book of Psalms includes many prayers offered out of the depths of heartache and moral misery. These cries for help and songs of confession are a source of comfort to each of us when we need reassurance that God welcomes the brokenhearted and the penitent. These songs also lend us words to speak to Him.

Psalm	Application
Psalm 6	A plea for help in the midst of illness.
Psalm 10	An expression of perplexity over the success of the wicked and a prayer for blessing.
Psalm 35	A cry for help when under attack or facing conflict.
Psalm 51	A heartfelt confession of sin and plea for cleansing.
Psalm 102	A prayer voiced in the midst of depression.
Psalm 130	A cry to God out of overwhelming guilt.
Psalm 143	A prayer about inadequacy and failure.

God is not limited by our troubles or failures, and He delights in forgiving our sins (Luke 15:1–7; 1 John 1:8, 9). We have nothing to gain by denying or hiding our needs or by delaying coming to God. He knows our deepest hurts and He longs to heal them. He will show us what to do about each.

Psalms for Children

Ps. 131:2

Psalm 131 expresses the childlike faith and humility before God that Jesus encouraged in His followers (compare Matt. 18:2–5). The psalm is one of several that speak to children:

Psalm(s)	Application for Children
Psalm 3	An evening psalm assuring us that God watches over us whether we are awake or asleep (see "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep" at Ps. 3:5).
Psalm 23	The "shepherd's psalm," a much beloved expression of trust in the Lord.
Psalm 100	A celebration psalm that helps children picture coming to God in worship.
Psalms 127–128	Two family psalms that help children see themselves in the Bible.
Psalm 131	One of the shortest psalms, spoken with sincere, childlike faith.
Psalm 136	A favorite for its refrain, "For His mercy endures forever."
Psalm 150	A praise song fun for children to perform with musical instruments.

Let Us Give Thanks

Ps. 136:1

Rather than expressing gratitude for the good gifts we have received from God, we often act as if we have a right to far more. We complain about the privileges God gives others and covet what belongs to them (compare James 4:1–3). The Psalms combat our bent toward selfishness by calling us to thank the Lord by . . .

- Rehearsing what God has mercifully done for us (Ps. 107, 136).
- Challenging us to express gratitude for what we have (92:1).
- Reminding us of the source of our possessions (Ps. 104).

By illustrating the dangers of ingratitude, Psalm 106 urges us not to minimize the importance of offering God our heartfelt thanks. It reviews Israel's history of faithlessness, from unbelief in Egypt to idolatry in the Promised Land. The psalm ends with a plea for God to save His people so that they will give Him thanks. We can avoid great pain and loss in this life by thanking the One who gives us life and every good gift (James 1:17).

Bitter Prayers

Ps. 137:8, 9

The closing lines of Psalm 137 may well cause us to wonder why such harsh expressions exist in a book of worship dedicated to a benevolent God. One way to understand these bitter prayers (similar passages can be found in Psalms 35, 55, 58, 59, 69, 83, 109, and 140) is to consider what authentic worship means. The Bible shows us that the way to manage feelings is to take them directly to God. This works better than covering over our feelings, no matter how dark they may be.

Scripture presents several accounts of people who bared their whole hearts before God, and received help. These figures include:

- Job, whose cries of pain and loss God welcomed, heard, and responded to.
- Solomon, whose bleak reflections on the meaninglessness of life can be found in the Book of Ecclesiastes.

- Habakkuk, whose despair over Israel's plight was answered by God (Hab. 1:1–17).
- Jeremiah, whose descriptions of Jerusalem's destruction and his own agony make up the Book of Lamentations.
- Paul, who felt trapped and tormented by his sinful inclinations until he discovered that God's strength is "made perfect in weakness" (Rom. 7:14–25; 2 Cor. 12:7–10).

True worship requires speaking the truth in love, including the facts about how we feel. If we hope to find freedom from our vengeful or hopeless feelings, we must first lay them down before the Lord. He will tell us what to do and how to do it.

The Creator's Craftsmanship

Ps. 139:13

God intimately knows every individual who has ever lived. Yet here the Hebrew word translated "formed" (or "created" in some translations) is not bara, which conveys the idea of creating from nothing (compare Gen. 1:1), but qanah, which connotes ownership. God knows our every detail because He owns us, like an inventor who painstakingly designs and builds a device and then becomes the owner of its patent. Paired with qanah is a word translated "covered" (or "knit together"), a term that communicates the idea of a person's body and soul being intricately molded, a process that involves time, skill, and craftsmanship.

Think About It: How will your daily habits be different because you are deeply loved by God?

From One Generation to Another

Ps. 145:4

Faith is never more than a generation from extinction, making it crucial that parents help children understand who God is and how to take their first steps with Him. The many ways of doing that include passing on stories about the mighty things that God has done, letting our children see us show kindness to every person, building friendships across all races, and much more. Taking kids to church is not enough; they must see truth lived before them. For more on cultivating the faith of new generations, see "The Faith of Our Children" at Deuteronomy 6:7–9.

Powerful Creator, Compassionate Savior

Ps. 146:2

As we praise God for saving us from sin, we should also thank Him for creating us—a two-part reality that gives us more than enough reason to worship Him every day of our lives. Many later psalms were written to help Israel keep in perspective both dimensions of God's work—His powerful work as Creator and His compassionate work as Savior.

God the Creator

- He brought everything into being (Ps. 146:6; 148:5).
- He sustains the world and its creatures with intimate care (147:4, 5).
- He provides water (147:8, 16, 17).
- He provides food and nourishment (145:15, 16; 147:14).
- He rules creation throughout eternity (146:10; 148:6).

God the Savior

- He is merciful (145:8, 19).
- He cares for those who suffer (145:14; 147:2–6).

- He delivers justice (145:20; 146:7, 9; 147:2–6).

Once we have trusted in the work of God's Son Jesus Christ and received salvation from sin, there is much more of God to experience. Conversion is merely the beginning of a lifelong spiritual journey. The Lord invites us to know more and more about who He is and who we are, opening our understanding of how to live our lives in honor of the Creator who created us and continues to care for us over the years.

More: The fact that God has created us is vital to our self-understanding. Psalm 139 expresses some of those fundamental truths. See also "You Are Unique" at Ps. 33:15.

The Book of Proverbs is a collection of biblical wisdom in the form of brief sayings based on God's perspective on human life. The truth contained in these proverbs is potent. The memorable words found in this book are intended to make us stop and think, and hopefully to redirect our lives.

Far from a hodgepodge of random remarks, Proverbs is a carefully constructed guidebook for life prepared by some of ancient Israel's most eminent wise men. These leaders sought to help people succeed in every part of life—relationships, family, business, ethics, government, community. If Psalms became Israel's hymnbook for worship, Proverbs became its textbook for practical living.

Proverbs exemplifies a form of writing known as Wisdom Literature (see the introduction to Job). Each saying distills a common situation in life into clear-cut categories of right and wrong, giving instructions for pursuing good and avoiding evil. The goal is to help people attain righteous, meaningful, and successful lives. Wisdom is more than abstract knowledge; it is a developed skill for living (see "What Wisdom Is" at Prov. 1:2).

Ultimately, wisdom is found in fearing God, discerning what He wants, and doing it.

The sayings of Proverbs are not promises for success but rather observations about how life usually works. Their characteristic two-line form was by design. The lines of the couplet can reinforce each other (for example, Prov. 11:29; 15:10; 18:10), provide a contrast (for example, Prov. 12:22; 19:16; 28:11), provide a comparison (for example, Prov. 11:22; 18:11; 21:1), or complete a thought (for example, Prov. 17:12; 22:6; 30:5). This structure made the couplet easy to remember and teach. It summarized the wisdom of the ages in a way that everyone could understand.

This formulaic approach became especially useful during periods of national crisis, when life's difficulties may have discouraged the people into believing that even the most basic truths were complicated and out of reach. During and after the Babylonian exile, for example, Jewish teachers are believed to have extensively used Proverbs to train their people to remember and practice God's ways. This book may have been the primer on which leaders such as Nehemiah (see his profile at Neh. 1:1), and Esther (see her profile at Esth. 2:7) were raised.

Many Christians seek the wisdom of Proverbs by reading one chapter each day. These words have the power to radically reshape our thinking and behavior, strengthening both heart and mind to honor God. And it is putting God above all else that is the beginning of wisdom.

Most of the Book of Proverbs is attributed to Solomon (Prov. 1:1; 10:1; 25:1; see also Solomon's profile at 1 Kin. 2:12), who is said to have spoken three thousand proverbs (1 Kin. 4:32). However, other writers also contributed to the collection:

- a group of sages simply called "the wise" (Prov. 22:17; 24:23),
- Agur (30:1), who may have been among "the wise," and
- Lemuel (31:1), possibly an Ishmaelite king, whose sayings are originally those of his mother.

The Book of Proverbs was likely being collected in its final form during the time of Hezekiah (25:1; see also Hezekiah's profile at 2 Chr. 29:1). This process probably continued into the Babylonian exile and may not have been completed until the middle of the fifth century B.C., after the Jews were resettled in their homeland.

Proverbs 1

The Beginning of Knowledge

1 The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel:

2 To know wisdom and instruction,
To perceive the words of understanding, What Wisdom Is 3 To receive the instruction of wisdom,
Justice, judgment, and equity;
4 To give prudence to the simple,
To the young man knowledge and discretion—
5 A wise man will hear and increase learning,
And a man of understanding will attain wise counsel,
6 To understand a proverb and an enigma,
The words of the wise and their riddles.

7 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge,
But fools despise wisdom and instruction.

Shun Evil Counsel

8 My son, hear the instruction of your father,
And do not forsake the law of your mother;
Wisdom for Men, Wisdom for Women
9 For they will be a graceful ornament on your head,
And chains about your neck.

10 My son, if sinners entice you,

Do not consent.
11 If they say, “Come with us,
Let us lie in wait to shed blood;
Let us lurk secretly for the innocent without cause;
12 Let us swallow them alive like Sheol,[a]
And whole, like those who go down to the Pit;
13 We shall find all kinds of precious possessions,
We shall fill our houses with spoil;
14 Cast in your lot among us,
Let us all have one purse”—
15 My son, do not walk in the way with them,
Keep your foot from their path;
16 For their feet run to evil,
And they make haste to shed blood.
17 Surely, in vain the net is spread
In the sight of any bird;
18 But they lie in wait for their own blood,
They lurk secretly for their own lives.
19 So are the ways of everyone who is greedy for gain;
It takes away the life of its owners.

The Call of Wisdom

20 Wisdom calls aloud outside;
She raises her voice in the open squares.
21 She cries out in the chief concourses,[b]
At the openings of the gates in the city
She speaks her words:
22 “How long, you simple ones, will you love simplicity?
For scorners delight in their scorning,

And fools hate knowledge.
23 Turn at my rebuke;
Surely I will pour out my spirit on you;
I will make my words known to you.
24 Because I have called and you refused,
I have stretched out my hand and no one regarded,
25 Because you disdained all my counsel,
And would have none of my rebuke,
26 I also will laugh at your calamity;
I will mock when your terror comes,
27 When your terror comes like a storm,
And your destruction comes like a whirlwind,
When distress and anguish come upon you.

28 "Then they will call on me, but I will not answer;
They will seek me diligently, but they will not find me.
29 Because they hated knowledge
And did not choose the fear of the LORD,
30 They would have none of my counsel
And despised my every rebuke.
31 Therefore they shall eat the fruit of their own way,
And be filled to the full with their own fancies.
32 For the turning away of the simple will slay them,
And the complacency of fools will destroy them;
33 But whoever listens to me will dwell safely,
And will be secure, without fear of evil."

Proverbs 2

The Value of Wisdom

1 My son, if you receive my words,
And treasure my commands within you,
2 So that you incline your ear to wisdom,
And apply your heart to understanding;
3 Yes, if you cry out for discernment,
And lift up your voice for understanding,
4 If you seek her as silver,
And search for her as for hidden treasures;
5 Then you will understand the fear of the LORD,
And find the knowledge of God.
6 For the LORD gives wisdom;
From His mouth come knowledge and understanding;
7 He stores up sound wisdom for the upright;
He is a shield to those who walk uprightly;
8 He guards the paths of justice,
And preserves the way of His saints.
9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice,
Equity and every good path.

10 When wisdom enters your heart,
And knowledge is pleasant to your soul,
11 Discretion will preserve you;
Understanding will keep you,
12 To deliver you from the way of evil,
From the man who speaks perverse things,

13 From those who leave the paths of uprightness
To walk in the ways of darkness;
14 Who rejoice in doing evil,
And delight in the perversity of the wicked;
15 Whose ways are crooked,
And who are devious in their paths;
16 To deliver you from the immoral woman,
From the seductress who flatters with her
words,
17 Who forsakes the companion of her youth,
And forgets the covenant of her God.
18 For her house leads down to death,
And her paths to the dead;
19 None who go to her return,
Nor do they regain the paths of life—
20 So you may walk in the way of goodness,
And keep to the paths of righteousness.
21 For the upright will dwell in the land,
And the blameless will remain in it;
22 But the wicked will be cut off from the
earth,
And the unfaithful will be uprooted from it.

Proverbs 3

Guidance for the Young

1 My son, do not forget my law,
But let your heart keep my commands;
2 For length of days and long life
And peace they will add to you.

3 Let not mercy and truth forsake you;
Bind them around your neck,
Write them on the tablet of your heart,
4 And so find favor and high esteem
In the sight of God and man.

5 Trust in the LORD with all your heart,
And lean not on your own understanding;
6 In all your ways acknowledge Him,
And He shall direct[a] your paths.

7 Do not be wise in your own eyes;
Fear the LORD and depart from evil.
8 It will be health to your flesh,[b]
And strength[c] to your bones.

9 Honor the LORD with your possessions,
And with the firstfruits of all your increase;

Honoring God with Your Whole Paycheck

10 So your barns will be filled with plenty,
And your vats will overflow with new wine.

11 My son, do not despise the chastening of the LORD,
Nor detest His correction;

12 For whom the LORD loves He corrects,
Just as a father the son in whom he delights.

13 Happy is the man who finds wisdom,
And the man who gains understanding;
14 For her proceeds are better than the profits of silver,
And her gain than fine gold.
15 She is more precious than rubies,
And all the things you may desire cannot compare with her.
16 Length of days is in her right hand,
In her left hand riches and honor.
17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace.
18 She is a tree of life to those who take hold of her,
And happy are all who retain her.

19 The LORD by wisdom founded the earth;
By understanding He established the heavens; The Wisdom That Built the World 20 By His knowledge the depths were broken
up,
And clouds drop down the dew.

21 My son, let them not depart from your eyes—
Keep sound wisdom and discretion;
22 So they will be life to your soul
And grace to your neck.
23 Then you will walk safely in your way,
And your foot will not stumble.
24 When you lie down, you will not be afraid;

Yes, you will lie down and your sleep will be sweet.
25 Do not be afraid of sudden terror,
Nor of trouble from the wicked when it comes;
26 For the LORD will be your confidence,
And will keep your foot from being caught.

27 Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due,
When it is in the power of your hand to do so.
28 Do not say to your neighbor,
“Go, and come back,
And tomorrow I will give it,”
When you have it with you.
29 Do not devise evil against your neighbor,
For he dwells by you for safety’s sake.
30 Do not strive with a man without cause,
If he has done you no harm.

31 Do not envy the oppressor,
And choose none of his ways;
32 For the perverse person is an abomination to the LORD,
But His secret counsel is with the upright.
33 The curse of the LORD is on the house of
the wicked,
But He blesses the home of the just.
34 Surely He scorns the scornful,
But gives grace to the humble.
35 The wise shall inherit glory,
But shame shall be the legacy of fools.

Proverbs 4

Security in Wisdom

1 Hear, my children, the instruction of a father,
And give attention to know understanding;
2 For I give you good doctrine:
Do not forsake my law.
3 When I was my father's son,
Tender and the only one in the sight of my mother, Learning at Home
4 He also taught me, and said to me:
"Let your heart retain my words;
Keep my commands, and live.
5 Get wisdom! Get understanding!
Do not forget, nor turn away from the words of my mouth.
6 Do not forsake her, and she will preserve you;
Love her, and she will keep you.
7 Wisdom is the principal thing;
Therefore get wisdom.
And in all your getting, get understanding.
8 Exalt her, and she will promote you;
She will bring you honor, when you embrace her. Court Wisdom
9 She will place on your head an ornament of grace;
A crown of glory she will deliver to you."

10 Hear, my son, and receive my sayings,
And the years of your life will be many.

11 I have taught you in the way of wisdom;
I have led you in right paths. Teachers in Scripture
12 When you walk, your steps will not be hindered,
And when you run, you will not stumble.
13 Take firm hold of instruction, do not let go;
Keep her, for she is your life.

14 Do not enter the path of the wicked,
And do not walk in the way of evil.
15 Avoid it, do not travel on it;
Turn away from it and pass on.
16 For they do not sleep unless they have done evil;
And their sleep is taken away unless they make someone fall.
17 For they eat the bread of wickedness,
And drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the just is like the shining sun,[a]
That shines ever brighter unto the perfect
day.
19 The way of the wicked is like darkness;
They do not know what makes them stumble.

20 My son, give attention to my words;
Incline your ear to my sayings.
21 Do not let them depart from your eyes;
Keep them in the midst of your heart;
22 For they are life to those who find them,
And health to all their flesh.
23 Keep your heart with all diligence,

For out of it spring the issues of life.
24 Put away from you a deceitful mouth,
And put perverse lips far from you.
25 Let your eyes look straight ahead,
And your eyelids look right before you. Spend Your Life Well
26 Ponder the path of your feet,
And let all your ways be established.
27 Do not turn to the right or the left;
Remove your foot from evil.

Proverbs 5

The Peril of Adultery

1 My son, pay attention to my wisdom;
Lend your ear to my understanding,
2 That you may preserve discretion,
And your lips may keep knowledge.
3 For the lips of an immoral woman drip honey,
And her mouth is smoother than oil;
4 But in the end she is bitter as wormwood,
Sharp as a two-edged sword.
5 Her feet go down to death,
Her steps lay hold of hell.[a]
6 Lest you ponder her path of life—
Her ways are unstable;
You do not know them.

7 Therefore hear me now, my children,
And do not depart from the words of my
mouth.
8 Remove your way far from her,
And do not go near the door of her house,
9 Lest you give your honor to others,
And your years to the cruel one;
10 Lest aliens be filled with your wealth,
And your labors go to the house of a foreigner;
11 And you mourn at last,
When your flesh and your body are consumed,
12 And say:

“How I have hated instruction,
And my heart despised correction!
13I have not obeyed the voice of my teachers,
Nor inclined my ear to those who instructed
me!
14I was on the verge of total ruin,
In the midst of the assembly and congregation.”

15Drink water from your own cistern,
And running water from your own well.
16Should your fountains be dispersed abroad,
Streams of water in the streets?
17Let them be only your own,
And not for strangers with you.
18Let your fountain be blessed,
And rejoice with the wife of your youth.
19*As a* loving deer and a graceful doe,
Let her breasts satisfy you at all times;
And always be enraptured with her love.
20For why should you, my son, be enraptured by an immoral woman,
And be embraced in the arms of a seductress?

21For the ways of man are before the eyes of
the LORD,
And He ponders all his paths.
22His own iniquities entrap the wicked man,
And he is caught in the cords of his sin.
23He shall die for lack of instruction,

And in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

Proverbs 6

Dangerous Promises

1 My son, if you become surety for your friend,
If you have shaken hands in pledge for a stranger, Don't Cosign Loans
2 You are snared by the words of your mouth;
You are taken by the words of your mouth.
3 So do this, my son, and deliver yourself;
For you have come into the hand of your friend:
Go and humble yourself;
Plead with your friend.
4 Give no sleep to your eyes,
Nor slumber to your eyelids.
5 Deliver yourself like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter,
And like a bird from the hand of the fowler.[a]

The Folly of Indolence

6 Go to the ant, you sluggard!
Consider her ways and be wise,
7 Which, having no captain,
Overseer or ruler,
8 Provides her supplies in the summer,
And gathers her food in the harvest.
9 How long will you slumber, O sluggard?
When will you rise from your sleep?
10 A little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of the hands to sleep—

11 So shall your poverty come on you like a prowler,
And your need like an armed man.

The Wicked Man

12 A worthless person, a wicked man,
Walks with a perverse mouth;
13 He winks with his eyes,
He shuffles his feet,
He points with his fingers;
14 Perversity is in his heart,
He devises evil continually,
He sows discord.
15 Therefore his calamity shall come
suddenly;
Suddenly he shall be broken without remedy.

16 These six things the LORD hates,
Yes, seven are an abomination to Him:
17 A proud look,
A lying tongue,
Hands that shed innocent blood,
18 A heart that devises wicked plans,
Feet that are swift in running to evil,
19 A false witness who speaks lies,
And one who sows discord among brethren.

Beware of Adultery

20 My son, keep your father's command,
And do not forsake the law of your mother.
21 Bind them continually upon your heart;
Tie them around your neck.
22 When you roam, they[b] will lead you;
When you sleep, they will keep you;

And when you awake, they will speak with you.
23For the commandment is a lamp,
And the law a light;
Reproofs of instruction are the way of life,
24To keep you from the evil woman,
From the flattering tongue of a seductress.
25Do not lust after her beauty in your heart,
Nor let her allure you with her eyelids.
26For by means of a harlot
A man is reduced to a crust of bread;
And an adulteress[c] will prey upon his precious life.
27Can a man take fire to his bosom,
And his clothes not be burned?
28Can one walk on hot coals,
And his feet not be seared?
29So is he who goes in to his neighbor's wife;
Whoever touches her shall not be innocent.

30*People* do not despise a thief
If he steals to satisfy himself when he is starving.
31Yet when he is found, he must restore sevenfold;
He may have to give up all the substance of his house.
32Whoever commits adultery with a woman lacks understanding;
He who does so destroys his own soul.
33Wounds and dishonor he will get,
And his reproach will not be wiped away.
34For jealousy is a husband's fury;

Therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.
35He will accept no recompense,
Nor will he be appeased though you give many gifts.

Proverbs 7

1 My son, keep my words,
And treasure my commands within you.
2 Keep my commands and live,
And my law as the apple of your eye.
3 Bind them on your fingers;
Write them on the tablet of your heart.
4 Say to wisdom, “You are my sister,”
And call understanding your nearest kin,
5 That they may keep you from the immoral
woman,
From the seductress who flatters with her
words.

The Crafty Harlot

6 For at the window of my house
I looked through my lattice,
7 And saw among the simple,
I perceived among the youths,
A young man devoid of understanding,
8 Passing along the street near her corner;
And he took the path to her house
9 In the twilight, in the evening,
In the black and dark night.

10 And there a woman met him,
With the attire of a harlot, and a crafty
heart.
11 She was loud and rebellious,
Her feet would not stay at home.

12 At times she was outside, at times in the open square,
Lurking at every corner.
13 So she caught him and kissed him;
With an impudent face she said to him:
14 "I have peace offerings with me;
Today I have paid my vows.
15 So I came out to meet you,
Diligently to seek your face,
And I have found you.
16 I have spread my bed with tapestry,
Colored coverings of Egyptian linen.
17 I have perfumed my bed
With myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
18 Come, let us take our fill of love until
morning;
Let us delight ourselves with love.
19 For my husband is not at home;
He has gone on a long journey;
20 He has taken a bag of money with him,
And will come home on the appointed day."

21 With her enticing speech she caused him to yield,
With her flattering lips she seduced him.
22 Immediately he went after her, as an ox goes to the slaughter,
Or as a fool to the correction of the stocks,[a] 23 Till an arrow struck his liver.
As a bird hastens to the snare,
He did not know it would cost his life.

24 Now therefore, listen to me, my children;
Pay attention to the words of my mouth:

25 Do not let your heart turn aside to her
ways,
Do not stray into her paths;
26 For she has cast down many wounded,
And all who were slain by her were strong
men.
27 Her house is the way to hell,[b]
Descending to the chambers of death.

Proverbs 8

The Excellence of Wisdom

1 Does not wisdom cry out,
And understanding lift up her voice?
2 She takes her stand on the top of the high hill,
Beside the way, where the paths meet.
3 She cries out by the gates, at the entry of the city,
At the entrance of the doors:
4 "To you, O men, I call,
And my voice is to the sons of men.
5 O you simple ones, understand prudence,
And you fools, be of an understanding heart.
6 Listen, for I will speak of excellent things,
And from the opening of my lips will come right things;
7 For my mouth will speak truth;
Wickedness is an abomination to my lips.
8 All the words of my mouth are with righteousness;
Nothing crooked or perverse is in them.
9 They are all plain to him who understands,
And right to those who find knowledge.
10 Receive my instruction, and not silver,
And knowledge rather than choice gold; The Value of Wisdom
11 For wisdom is better than rubies,
And all the things one may desire cannot be compared with her.

12 “I, wisdom, dwell with prudence,
And find out knowledge and discretion.
13 The fear of the LORD is to hate evil;
Pride and arrogance and the evil way
And the perverse mouth I hate.
14 Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom;
I am understanding, I have strength.
15 By me kings reign,
And rulers decree justice.
16 By me princes rule, and nobles,
All the judges of the earth.[a]
17 I love those who love me,
And those who seek me diligently will find me.
18 Riches and honor are with me,
Enduring riches and righteousness.
19 My fruit is better than gold, yes, than fine gold,
And my revenue than choice silver.
20 I traverse the way of righteousness,
In the midst of the paths of justice,
21 That I may cause those who love me to inherit wealth,
That I may fill their treasuries.

22 “The LORD possessed me at the beginning of His way,
Before His works of old.
23 I have been established from everlasting,
From the beginning, before there was ever an earth.
24 When there were no depths I was brought forth,

When there were no fountains abounding with water.
25 Before the mountains were settled,
Before the hills, I was brought forth;
26 While as yet He had not made the earth or
the fields,
Or the primal dust of the world.
27 When He prepared the heavens, I was
there,
When He drew a circle on the face of the deep,
28 When He established the clouds above,
When He strengthened the fountains of the deep,
29 When He assigned to the sea its limit,
So that the waters would not transgress His command,
When He marked out the foundations of the
earth,
30 Then I was beside Him as a master craftsman;[b]
And I was daily His delight, Rejoicing always before Him, Wisdom at Work and Play
31 Rejoicing in His inhabited world,
And my delight was with the sons of men.

32 "Now therefore, listen to me, my children,
For blessed are those who keep my ways.
33 Hear instruction and be wise,
And do not disdain it.
34 Blessed is the man who listens to me,
Watching daily at my gates,
Waiting at the posts of my doors.

35For whoever finds me finds life,
And obtains favor from the LORD;
36But he who sins against me wrongs his own soul;
All those who hate me love death.”

Proverbs 9

The Way of Wisdom

1 Wisdom has built her house,
She has hewn out her seven pillars;
2 She has slaughtered her meat,
She has mixed her wine,
She has also furnished her table.
3 She has sent out her maidens,
She cries out from the highest places of the city,
4 "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!"
As for him who lacks understanding, she says to him,
5 "Come, eat of my bread
And drink of the wine I have mixed.
6 Forsake foolishness and live,
And go in the way of understanding.

7 "He who corrects a scoffer gets shame for himself,
And he who rebukes a wicked man only harms himself.
8 Do not correct a scoffer, lest he hate you;
Rebuke a wise man, and he will love you.
9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be still wiser;
Teach a just man, and he will increase in learning.

10 "The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom,

And the knowledge of the Holy One is
understanding.
11 For by me your days will be multiplied,
And years of life will be added to you.
12 If you are wise, you are wise for yourself,
And if you scoff, you will bear it alone."

The Way of Folly

13 A foolish woman is clamorous;
She is simple, and knows nothing.
14 For she sits at the door of her house,
On a seat by the highest places of the city,
15 To call to those who pass by,
Who go straight on their way:
16 "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here";
And as for him who lacks understanding, she says to him,
17 "Stolen water is sweet,
And bread eaten in secret is pleasant."
18 But he does not know that the dead are
there,
That her guests are in the depths of hell.[a]

But a wise man will appease it.
15 In the light of the king's face is life,
And his favor is like a cloud of the latter rain.

16 How much better to get wisdom than gold!
And to get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver.

17 The highway of the upright is to depart from evil;
He who keeps his way preserves his soul.

18 Pride goes before destruction,
And a haughty spirit before a fall.
19 Better to be of a humble spirit with the lowly,
Than to divide the spoil with the proud.

20 He who heeds the word wisely will find
good,
And whoever trusts in the LORD, happy is he.

21 The wise in heart will be called prudent,
And sweetness of the lips increases learning.

22 Understanding is a wellspring of life to him who has it.
But the correction of fools is folly.

23 The heart of the wise teaches his mouth,
And adds learning to his lips.

24 Pleasant words are like a honeycomb, Sweetness to the soul and health to the bones.

25 There is a way that seems right to a man,
But its end is the way of death.

26 The person who labors, labors for himself,
For his hungry mouth drives him on.

27 An ungodly man digs up evil,
And it is on his lips like a burning fire.
28 A perverse man sows strife,
And a whisperer separates the best of friends.
29 A violent man entices his neighbor,
And leads him in a way that is not good.
30 He winks his eye to devise perverse
things;
He purses his lips and brings about evil.

31 The silver-haired head is a crown of glory,
If it is found in the way of righteousness.

32 He who is slow to anger is better than the mighty,
And he who rules his spirit than he who takes a city.

But he who repeats a matter separates friends. Protecting Confidences

Therefore a cruel messenger will be sent against him.

12 Let a man meet a bear robbed of her cubs,
Rather than a fool in his folly.

13 Whoever rewards evil for good,
Evil will not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is like releasing water;
Therefore stop contention before a quarrel starts.

15 He who justifies the wicked, and he who condemns the just,
Both of them alike are an abomination to the
LORD.

16 Why is there in the hand of a fool the purchase price of wisdom,
Since he has no heart for it?

17 A friend loves at all times,
And a brother is born for adversity.

18 A man devoid of understanding shakes hands in a pledge,
And becomes surety for his friend.

19 He who loves transgression loves strife,
And he who exalts his gate seeks destruction.

20 He who has a deceitful heart finds no
good,
And he who has a perverse tongue falls into evil.

sorrow,
And the father of a fool has no joy.

But a broken spirit dries the bones.

23 A wicked man accepts a bribe behind the back[c]
To pervert the ways of justice.

understanding,
But the eyes of a fool are on the ends of the
earth.

25 A foolish son is a grief to his father,
And bitterness to her who bore him.

26 Also, to punish the righteous is not good,
Nor to strike princes for their uprightness.

27 He who has knowledge spares his words,
And a man of understanding is of a calm spirit.
28 Even a fool is counted wise when he holds his peace;

When he shuts his lips, he is considered perceptive.

desire;
He rages against all wise judgment.

dripping.

fathers,

punishment;

For if you rescue him, you will have to do it again.

20 Listen to counsel and receive instruction,
That you may be wise in your latter days.

Nevertheless the LORD's counsel—that will stand.

22 What is desired in a man is kindness,
And a poor man is better than a liar.

He will not be visited with evil.

I am pure from my sin”?

10 Diverse weights and diverse measures,
They are both alike, an abomination to the
LORD.

11 Even a child is known by his deeds,
Whether what he does is pure and right.

12 The hearing ear and the seeing eye,
The LORD has made them both.

13 Do not love sleep, lest you come to knowledge.

Sayings of the Wise

17 Incline your ear and hear the words of the wise,

And apply your heart to my knowledge;
18For it is a pleasant thing if you keep them within you;
Let them all be fixed upon your lips,
19So that your trust may be in the LORD;
I have instructed you today, even you.
20Have I not written to you excellent things
Of counsels and knowledge, 21That I may make you know the certainty of the words of truth,
That you may answer words of truth
To those who send to you?

22Do not rob the poor because he is poor,
Nor oppress the afflicted at the gate;
23For the LORD will plead their cause,
And plunder the soul of those who plunder
them.

24Make no friendship with an angry man,
And with a furious man do not go,
25Lest you learn his ways
And set a snare for your soul.

26Do not be one of those who shakes hands
in a pledge,
One of those who is surety for debts;
27If you have nothing with which to pay,
Why should he take away your bed from under you?

28Do not remove the ancient landmark
Which your fathers have set.

29Do you see a man who excels in his work?

He will stand before kings;
He will not stand before unknown men.

Excellence at Work

If you are a man given to appetite.
3Do not desire his delicacies,
For they are deceptive food.

For riches certainly make themselves wings;
They fly away like an eagle toward heaven.

Nor desire his delicacies;

And waste your pleasant words.

9Do not speak in the hearing of a fool,
For he will despise the wisdom of your words.

10Do not remove the ancient landmark,
Nor enter the fields of the fatherless;
11For their Redeemer is mighty;
He will plead their cause against you.

Who has sorrow?
Who has contentions?
Who has complaints?
Who has wounds without cause?
Who has redness of eyes? Dangers of Alcohol Abuse
30 Those who linger long at the wine,
Those who go in search of mixed wine.
31 Do not look on the wine when it is red,
When it sparkles in the cup,
When it swirls around smoothly;
32 At the last it bites like a serpent,
And stings like a viper.
33 Your eyes will see strange things,
And your heart will utter perverse things.
34 Yes, you will be like one who lies down in the midst of the sea,
Or like one who lies at the top of the mast,
saying:
35 "They have struck me, but I was not hurt;

They have beaten me, but I did not feel it.
When shall I awake, that I may seek another drink?”

presence of the prince,
Whom your eyes have seen.

8 Do not go hastily to court;
For what will you do in the end,

19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of
trouble
Is like a bad tooth and a foot out of joint.

20 Like one who takes away a garment in cold weather,
And like vinegar on soda,
Is one who sings songs to a heavy heart.

21 If your enemy is hungry, give him bread to eat;
And if he is thirsty, give him water to drink;
22 For so you will heap coals of fire on his head,
And the LORD will reward you.

23 The north wind brings forth rain,
And a backbiting tongue an angry
countenance.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of a housetop,
Than in a house shared with a contentious
woman.

25 As cold water to a weary soul,
So is good news from a far country.

26 A righteous man who falters before the wicked
Is like a murky spring and a polluted well.

27 It is not good to eat much honey;
So to seek one's own glory is not glory.

28 Whoever has no rule over his own spirit
Is like a city broken down, without walls.

Proverbs 26

1 As snow in summer and rain in harvest,
So honor is not fitting for a fool. Fools

2 Like a flitting sparrow, like a flying swallow,
So a curse without cause shall not alight.

3 A whip for the horse,
A bridle for the donkey,
And a rod for the fool's back.
4 Do not answer a fool according to his folly,
Lest you also be like him.
5 Answer a fool according to his folly,
Lest he be wise in his own eyes.
6 He who sends a message by the hand of a fool
Cuts off his own feet and drinks violence.
7 Like the legs of the lame that hang limp
Is a proverb in the mouth of fools.
8 Like one who binds a stone in a sling
Is he who gives honor to a fool.
9 Like a thorn that goes into the hand of a drunkard
Is a proverb in the mouth of fools.
10 The great God who formed everything
Gives the fool his hire and the transgressor his wages.[a] 11 As a dog returns to his own vomit,
So a fool repeats his folly.
12 Do you see a man wise in his own eyes?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.

13The lazy man says, “There is a lion in the road!
A fierce lion is in the streets!”
14*As* a door turns on its hinges,
So does the lazy man on his bed.
15The lazy man buries his hand in the bowl;[b]
It wearies him to bring it back to his mouth.
16The lazy man is wiser in his own eyes
Than seven men who can answer sensibly.

17He who passes by and meddles in a quarrel not his own
Is like one who takes a dog by the ears.

18Like a madman who throws firebrands, arrows, and death,
19*Is* the man who deceives his neighbor,
And says, “I was only joking!”

20Where there is no wood, the fire goes out;
And where there is no talebearer, strife ceases.
21*As* charcoal is to burning coals, and wood to fire,
So is a contentious man to kindle strife.
22The words of a talebearer are like tasty trifles,
And they go down into the inmost body.

23Fervent lips with a wicked heart
Are like earthenware covered with silver dross.

24He who hates, disguises it with his lips,
And lays up deceit within himself;

25 When he speaks kindly, do not believe him,
For there are seven abominations in his heart;
26 Though his hatred is covered by deceit,
His wickedness will be revealed before the assembly.

27 Whoever digs a pit will fall into it,
And he who rolls a stone will have it roll back on him.

28 A lying tongue hates those who are crushed by it,
And a flattering mouth works ruin.

Proverbs 27

[1]Do not boast about tomorrow,
For you do not know what a day may bring forth.

[2]Let another man praise you, and not your own mouth;
A stranger, and not your own lips.

[3]A stone is heavy and sand is weighty,
But a fool's wrath is heavier than both of
them.

[4]Wrath is cruel and anger a torrent,
But who is able to stand before jealousy?

[5]Open rebuke is better Than love carefully concealed. Good v. Best

[6]Faithful are the wounds of a friend,
But the kisses of an enemy are deceitful.

[7]A satisfied soul loathes the honeycomb,
But to a hungry soul every bitter thing is
sweet.

[8]Like a bird that wanders from its nest
Is a man who wanders from his place.

[9]Ointment and perfume delight the heart,
And the sweetness of a man's friend gives delight by hearty counsel.

10 Do not forsake your own friend or your father’s friend,
Nor go to your brother’s house in the day of your calamity;
Better is a neighbor nearby than a brother
far away.

11 My son, be wise, and make my heart glad,
That I may answer him who reproaches me.

12 A prudent man foresees evil and hides
himself;
The simple pass on and are punished.

13 Take the garment of him who is surety for a stranger,
And hold it in pledge when he is surety for a seductress.

14 He who blesses his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning,
It will be counted a curse to him.

15 A continual dripping on a very rainy day
And a contentious woman are alike;
16 Whoever restrains her restrains the wind,
And grasps oil with his right hand.

17 As iron sharpens iron,
So a man sharpens the countenance of his friend.

18 Whoever keeps the fig tree will eat its fruit;
So he who waits on his master will be honored.

19 As in water face reflects face,
So a man's heart reveals the man.

20 Hell[a] and Destruction[b] are never full;
So the eyes of man are never satisfied.

21 The refining pot is for silver and the furnace for gold,
And a man is valued by what others say of
him.

22 Though you grind a fool in a mortar with a pestle along with crushed grain,
Yet his foolishness will not depart from him.

23 Be diligent to know the state of your flocks,
And attend to your herds;
24 For riches are not forever,
Nor does a crown endure to all generations.
25 When the hay is removed, and the tender grass shows itself,
And the herbs of the mountains are gathered
in,
26 The lambs will provide your clothing,
And the goats the price of a field;
27 You shall have enough goats' milk for your food,
For the food of your household,
And the nourishment of your maidservants.

Proverbs 28

[1]The wicked flee when no one pursues,
But the righteous are bold as a lion.

[2]Because of the transgression of a land,
many are its princes;
But by a man of understanding and
knowledge
Right will be prolonged.

[3]A poor man who oppresses the poor
Is like a driving rain which leaves no food.

[4]Those who forsake the law praise the
wicked,
But such as keep the law contend with them.

[5]Evil men do not understand justice,
But those who seek the LORD understand
all.

[6]Better is the poor who walks in his integrity Than one perverse in his ways, though he be rich.

[7]Whoever keeps the law is a discerning son,
But a companion of gluttons shames his father.

[8]One who increases his possessions by usury and extortion
Gathers it for him who will pity the poor.

9 One who turns away his ear from hearing the law,
Even his prayer is an abomination.

10 Whoever causes the upright to go astray in an evil way,
He himself will fall into his own pit;
But the blameless will inherit good.

11 The rich man is wise in his own eyes,
But the poor who has understanding searches him out.

12 When the righteous rejoice, there is great glory;
But when the wicked arise, men hide themselves.

13 He who covers his sins will not prosper,
But whoever confesses and forsakes them will have mercy.

14 Happy is the man who is always reverent,
But he who hardens his heart will fall into calamity.

15 Like a roaring lion and a charging bear
Is a wicked ruler over poor people.

16 A ruler who lacks understanding is a great oppressor,
But he who hates covetousness will prolong his days. A Time to Hate

17 A man burdened with bloodshed will flee into a pit;

Let no one help him.

18 Whoever walks blamelessly will be saved,
But he who is perverse in his ways will suddenly fall.

19 He who tills his land will have plenty of bread,
But he who follows frivolity will have poverty enough!

20 A faithful man will abound with blessings,
But he who hastens to be rich will not go unpunished.

21 To show partiality is not good,
Because for a piece of bread a man will transgress.

22 A man with an evil eye hastens after riches,
And does not consider that poverty will come
upon him.

23 He who rebukes a man will find more favor afterward
Than he who flatters with the tongue.

24 Whoever robs his father or his mother,
And says, "It is no transgression,"
The same is companion to a destroyer.

25 He who is of a proud heart stirs up strife,
But he who trusts in the LORD will be prospered.

[26]He who trusts in his own heart is a fool,
But whoever walks wisely will be delivered.

[27]He who gives to the poor will not lack,
But he who hides his eyes will have many curses.

[28]When the wicked arise, men hide themselves;
But when they perish, the righteous increase.

Proverbs 29

[1]He who is often rebuked, and hardens his neck,
Will suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

[2]When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice;
But when a wicked man rules, the people groan.

[3]Whoever loves wisdom makes his father rejoice,
But a companion of harlots wastes his wealth.

[4]The king establishes the land by justice,
But he who receives bribes overthrows it.

[5]A man who flatters his neighbor
Spreads a net for his feet.

[6]By transgression an evil man is snared,
But the righteous sings and rejoices.

[7]The righteous considers the cause of the poor,
But the wicked does not understand such knowledge.

[8]Scoffers set a city aflame,
But wise men turn away wrath.

9 If a wise man contends with a foolish man,
Whether the fool rages or laughs, there is no peace.

10 The bloodthirsty hate the blameless,
But the upright seek his well-being.[a]

11 A fool vents all his feelings,[b]
But a wise man holds them back.

12 If a ruler pays attention to lies,
All his servants become wicked. Leaders Build a Circle of Trust

13 The poor man and the oppressor have this in common:
The LORD gives light to the eyes of both.

14 The king who judges the poor with truth,
His throne will be established forever.

15 The rod and rebuke give wisdom,
But a child left to himself brings shame to his mother.

16 When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increases;
But the righteous will see their fall.

17 Correct your son, and he will give you rest;
Yes, he will give delight to your soul.

18 Where there is no revelation,[c] the people cast off restraint;
But happy is he who keeps the law.

19 A servant will not be corrected by mere
words;
For though he understands, he will not respond.

20 Do you see a man hasty in his words?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.

21 He who pampers his servant from childhood
Will have him as a son in the end.

22 An angry man stirs up strife,
And a furious man abounds in transgression.

23 A man's pride will bring him low,
But the humble in spirit will retain honor.

24 Whoever is a partner with a thief hates his own life;
He swears to tell the truth,[d] but reveals nothing.

25 The fear of man brings a snare,
But whoever trusts in the LORD shall be safe.

26 Many seek the ruler's favor,
But justice for man comes from the LORD.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous,
And he who is upright in the way is an abomination to the wicked.

Proverbs 30

The Wisdom of Agur

1 The words of Agur the son of Jakeh, his utterance. This man declared to Ithiel—to Ithiel and Ucal:

2 Surely I am more stupid than any man,
And do not have the understanding of a man.
3 I neither learned wisdom
Nor have knowledge of the Holy One.

4 Who has ascended into heaven, or descended?
Who has gathered the wind in His fists?
Who has bound the waters in a garment?
Who has established all the ends of the earth?
What is His name, and what is His Son's name,
If you know?

5 Every word of God is pure;
He is a shield to those who put their trust in Him.
6 Do not add to His words,
Lest He rebuke you, and you be found a liar.

7 Two things I request of You (Deprive me not before I die):
8 Remove falsehood and lies far from me;
Give me neither poverty nor riches—
Feed me with the food allotted to me;
9 Lest I be full and deny You,

And say, “Who is the LORD?”
Or lest I be poor and steal,
And profane the name of my God.

10 Do not malign a servant to his master,
Lest he curse you, and you be found guilty.

11 There is a generation that curses its father,
And does not bless its mother.
12 There is a generation that is pure in its own eyes,
Yet is not washed from its filthiness.
13 There is a generation—oh, how lofty are their eyes!
And their eyelids are lifted up.
14 There is a generation whose teeth are like swords,
And whose fangs are like knives,
To devour the poor from off the earth,
And the needy from among men.

15 The leech has two daughters—
Give and Give!

There are three things that are never satisfied,
Four never say, “Enough!”:
16 The grave,[a]
The barren womb,
The earth that is not satisfied with water—
And the fire never says, “Enough!”

17 The eye that mocks his father,
And scorns obedience to his mother,

The ravens of the valley will pick it out,
And the young eagles will eat it.

18There are three things which are too wonderful for me,
Yes, four which I do not understand:
19The way of an eagle in the air,
The way of a serpent on a rock,
The way of a ship in the midst of the sea,
And the way of a man with a virgin.

20This is the way of an adulterous woman:
She eats and wipes her mouth,
And says, “I have done no wickedness.”

21For three things the earth is perturbed,
Yes, for four it cannot bear up:
22For a servant when he reigns,
A fool when he is filled with food,
23A hateful woman when she is married,
And a maidservant who succeeds her mistress.

24There are four things which are little on
the earth,
But they are exceedingly wise: Creation’s Quiet Wisdom
25The ants are a people not strong,
Yet they prepare their food in the summer;
26The rock badgers[b] are a feeble folk,
Yet they make their homes in the crags;
27The locusts have no king,
Yet they all advance in ranks;
28The spider[c] skillfully grasps with its hands,

And it is in kings' palaces.

29There are three things which are majestic in pace,
Yes, four which are stately in walk:
30A lion, which is mighty among beasts
And does not turn away from any;
31A greyhound,[d]
A male goat also,
And a king whose troops are with him.[e]

32If you have been foolish in exalting
yourself,
Or if you have devised evil, put your hand on your mouth.
33For as the churning of milk produces butter,
And wringing the nose produces blood,
So the forcing of wrath produces strife.

Proverbs 31

The Words of King Lemuel's Mother

1 The words of King Lemuel, the utterance which his mother taught him:

2 What, my son?
And what, son of my womb?
And what, son of my vows?
3 Do not give your strength to women,
Nor your ways to that which destroys kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel,
It is not for kings to drink wine,
Nor for princes intoxicating drink;
5 Lest they drink and forget the law,
And pervert the justice of all the afflicted.
6 Give strong drink to him who is perishing,
And wine to those who are bitter of heart.
7 Let him drink and forget his poverty,
And remember his misery no more.

8 Open your mouth for the speechless,
In the cause of all who are appointed to die.[a] 9 Open your mouth, judge righteously,
And plead the cause of the poor and needy.

The Virtuous Wife

10 Who[b] can find a virtuous[c] wife?
For her worth is far above rubies. The Wise Woman of Proverbs 31

11 The heart of her husband safely trusts her;

So he will have no lack of gain.
12She does him good and not evil
All the days of her life.
13She seeks wool and flax,
And willingly works with her hands.
14She is like the merchant ships,
She brings her food from afar.
15She also rises while it is yet night,
And provides food for her household,
And a portion for her maidservants.
16She considers a field and buys it;
From her profits she plants a vineyard.
17She girds herself with strength,
And strengthens her arms.
18She perceives that her merchandise is good,
And her lamp does not go out by night.
19She stretches out her hands to the distaff,
And her hand holds the spindle.
20She extends her hand to the poor,
Yes, she reaches out her hands to the needy.
21She is not afraid of snow for her household,
For all her household is clothed with scarlet.
22She makes tapestry for herself;
Her clothing is fine linen and purple.
23Her husband is known in the gates,
When he sits among the elders of the land.
24She makes linen garments and sells them,
And supplies sashes for the merchants.
25Strength and honor are her clothing;
She shall rejoice in time to come.
26She opens her mouth with wisdom,
And on her tongue is the law of kindness.

27 She watches over the ways of her household,
And does not eat the bread of idleness.
28 Her children rise up and call her blessed;
Her husband also, and he praises her:
29 “Many daughters have done well,
But you excel them all.”
30 Charm is deceitful and beauty is passing,
But a woman who fears the LORD, she shall be praised.
31 Give her of the fruit of her hands,
And let her own works praise her in the gates.

What Wisdom Is
Prov. 1:2

The Book of Proverbs announces a straightforward purpose: "to know wisdom." Wisdom is not advanced learning or rare insight. It is not enigmatic truth hidden from most but revealed to a few. The wisdom mentioned more than forty times in Proverbs and twenty-seven times in Ecclesiastes is the Hebrew chokmah, meaning "the skill of living."

This skill of living is practical wisdom that details how to lead a responsible, productive, and prosperous life.

Wisdom is like common sense or even street smarts. It is an understanding of how the world works. The focus is not so much on what we know but on what we do. As truth applied to real life, this wisdom deals with everyday situations, especially decisions and moral choices that impact the future. The wise person (Hebrew: chakam) avoids evil and does good by observing what others choose and pursuing a course of action based on perceived results.

Wisdom for Men, Wisdom for Women
Prov. 1:8

Many proverbs were originally addressed to young men as a means of passing wisdom from fathers to sons (Prov. 1:8; 2:1; 3:1, 11, 21; 4:1). This stems from ancient Israel's patriarchal culture, with sons inheriting the roles of leadership over family and nation. In order to better prepare these youths for manhood, fathers warned their sons about traps that commonly ensnare young men:

- sexual temptation (5:15–20; 7:1–27),
- foolishness (12:15, 16),

- ill-gotten gain (10:2; 13:11),
- verbal abuse (13:2, 3; 15:1),
- strong drink (31:4), and
- pride, or selfish ambition (16:1–9).

Of course, women are no more immune to these pitfalls than men are and have also benefited from giving and receiving the teaching of the Book of Proverbs for millennia. In fact, the book repeatedly urges youths to heed their mothers' instruction (1:8; 6:20; 10:1; 30:17). Wisdom, because it is grounded in truth, is timeless, constant, and helps equally for both the sexes.

Honoring God with Your Whole Paycheck

Prov. 3:9, 10

Many Christians assume that once they have fulfilled their obligation to support their church, the rest of their income is theirs to use as they please. But God is as interested in what we do with the money we keep as He is with the money we give away. Scripture exhorts us to honor the Lord with our possessions.

The ancient Israelites gave God their "firstfruits," the firstborn of flocks and the first crops gathered at harvest. They dedicated these to God by presenting them at the temple on the day of Pentecost (Num. 28:26). Giving God the first and the best of each year's produce recognized that everything belongs to Him.

Yet the Israelites also sought to honor God with their other possessions. Included among these were their means of making a living—land, animals, tools, mills, looms, potter's wheels, carts, boats, and more. Honoring the Lord with these possessions went far beyond putting a check in the offering basket or giving a year-end contribution to a charity. It meant dedicating every act of work to God.

According to Proverbs, a God-honoring lifestyle results in prosperity (Prov. 3:10). It is tempting for Christians to read this as a promise of financial gain in exchange for obedience to God. The sayings of Proverbs, however, are not so much promises to be claimed as they are observations about the way life tends to work. People often prosper when they honor God with their work and the income—all the income—derived from their work.

Moreover, the Israelites enjoyed a specific covenant relationship with God in which obedience to God's law was directly related to abundance in the land (Deut. 28:1–14). God has struck no such deal with Christians. In fact, the New Testament cautions us against expecting God to reward us with material blessings for pursuing godliness (see "Giving to Get" at 1 Tim. 6:3–6).

Nevertheless, the Lord challenges Christians to honor Him in their work and finances (see "Codes of Conduct for the Christian Worker" at Col. 3:22–4:1 and "Christians and Money" at 1 Tim. 6:6–19). We should test ourselves to see if we let Christ be Lord of what we do, how we do it, what we make, what we keep, and what we give away. God's character and purposes should be reflected in everything we share, save, and spend.

The Wisdom That Built the World

Prov. 3:19, 20

One of Scripture's most fundamental and far-reaching truths is that God created the universe.

Like his father David before him (Ps. 8), Solomon realized the magnitude of this truth. He affirmed early in Proverbs that true wisdom comes not from human beings but from the Lord who made all things.

Because God is Creator, He is King of all the world's people. In wisdom He brings every person into existence (see "You Are Unique" at Ps. 33:15). Everyone therefore owes ultimate allegiance to God, an allegiance that transcends filial, cultural, or national claims. These human bonds matter, but wisdom says that each of us must fear the Lord above all (Prov. 1:7).

Learning at Home

Prov. 4:3, 4

Nothing can take the place of a stable home life. When parents are selfish, negligent, abusive, or absent children have a much harder time learning to cope with the world in healthy ways.

Proverbs stresses that parents are the key imparters of wisdom that children need to survive and thrive. Out of their own successes and failures, parents can offer invaluable insight to new generations and help to set them on the right course.

God intends for both parents to guide their children's learning process. Fathers are described as sources of instruction (for example, Prov. 1:8; 4:1; 6:20), and mothers are presented as possessors of household laws and principles based on God's Word (for example, Prov. 1:8; 6:20). Proverbs 4:3, 4 indicates that grandparents also play a role in their grandchildren's education through their parenting of their own children.

This is how families "train up a child in the way he should go" (22:6). It is the gift an intentional home gives. While children might not appreciate this gift until they grow older, the Lord urges parents to give it enthusiastically, patiently, unfailingly, and day-after-day. Their children's happiness, even their salvation, may depend on it.

Court Wisdom

Prov. 4:8

The father of Proverbs 4 counsels his son that above all else he needs to "get wisdom," because she offers immense blessings and honor "when you embrace her." In Proverbs, wisdom is often personified as a woman (Prov. 1:20, 21; 3:13–18; 4:8, 9; 7:4; 8:1–11; 9:1–12). Young men especially are urged to chase and embrace wisdom as a man would pursue a woman in a romantic relationship. They are to fall in love with her and please her, making her the object of their affection, devotion, and loyalty.

More: Note that the person in Proverbs who best displays wisdom is the virtuous woman of Prov. 31. She lived and worked in the supposed "man's world" of the city gates and the marketplace To learn more about her, read Prov. 31:10–31 and see "The Wise Woman of Proverbs 31" at Prov. 31:10.

Teachers in Scripture

Prov. 4:11–13

Teaching—to invest in the future of another person—is an activity worthy of praise. God especially calls parents to impact their children (Prov. 1:8; 4:1), but others also play an indispensable part. Teachers, coaches, mentors, and other adults can have a lasting influence on the development of young people. The Bible is full of teachers remembered for their contributions:

Moses	The leader of Israel who first taught God's law (Deut. 4:5).
Bezalel and Aholiab	Master craftsmen called to teach others in constructing the tabernacle (Ex. 35:30–35).
Samuel	The last judge before the monarchy who taught the people "the good and the right way" (1 Sam. 12:23).
David	Prepared his son Solomon to build and staff the temple (1 Chr. 28:9–21).
Solomon	Famed for his outstanding wisdom, which he used to teach literature, botany, and zoology (1 Kin. 4:29–34).

Ezra	A scribe and priest committed to keeping the Law and teaching it to others (Ezra 7:10).
Jesus	Called Rabbi ("Teacher," John 1:38; compare Matt. 9:11; 26:18; John 13:13); His teaching revealed the path to true life (John 14:6) and eternal salvation (Eph. 4:20, 21).
Barnabas	A teacher among the early Christians at Antioch (Acts 13:1) who had a lasting impact on Saul (Paul) after his conversion to the faith (9:26–30).
Gamaliel	A renowned Jewish rabbi who taught Saul (Paul) during his youth (Acts 22:3).
Paul	The early church's most gifted teacher; taught throughout the Roman world, notably at Antioch (Acts 13:1) and Ephesus (19:9).
Priscilla and Aquila	Husband and wife who taught "the way of God" to a talented young orator named Apollos (Acts 18:26).
Apollos	A powerful teacher from Alexandria in Egypt whose teaching paved the way for the gospel at Ephesus (Acts 18:24–26).
Timothy	Pastor-teacher of the church at Ephesus (1 Tim. 1:3; 2 Tim. 4:2).
Titus	Pastor-teacher of a church on the island of Crete (Titus 2:1–15).

More: The Bible says much about the importance of mentoring. See "Old Testament Mentors" at 2 Kin. 2:13; "Indispensable Role Models" at 2 Chr. 24:17–20; and "Kingdom Mentoring" at Acts 9:26–30.

Spend Your Life Well

Prov. 4:25–27

Humans are the only creatures that God created with the capacity for self-reflection—the ability to think about ourselves, evaluate our lives, and make significant changes on an individual basis.

But we often let ourselves become so consumed with day-to-day activities that we fail to consider where we are going—or why. Proverbs encourages us to stick to wisdom's path, taking care not to stray "to the right or the left." Use this inventory to discover if you are staying on God's path:

- Influence on others: Whose life have you changed for the better in the last year?
- Direction and purpose: If you continue on the same path at work for the next ten years, what will you have gained? What will your life look like ten years from now?
- Honoring God: What have you done in the last year that clearly brought God glory at work, at home, or in your community?
- Avoiding evil: What have you said no to in the past year in order to avoid going down evil paths? What did it cost you? What did you gain?
- Testimony: What characteristics clearly distinguish you from non-Christian neighbors or coworkers?
- Looking back: How have you grown or changed for the better in the last ten years? Or have you taken a step or two backward? What changes do you need to make to turn your life around?

More: This kind of reflection was a habit of many people in the Bible and can help us think accurately about life today. See "Discovering God's Purpose for You" at Gen. 45:5–8.

Don’t Cosign Loans

Prov. 6:1–5

Cosigning commits a third party to repaying a loan if the borrower fails to pay. Because it shifts the risk of the transaction from the lender and the borrower to the cosigner, Proverbs warns that the risk of cosigning is too great to accept, even for a friend (Prov. 17:18).

- Guaranteeing debts sooner or later results in loss (11:15).
- Cosigning lessens the incentive for a borrower to pay back the loan, possibly encouraging irresponsibility.
- God holds us accountable for how we manage our property (Matt. 25:14–30; Prov. 13:22). We are to use our resources for God’s glory and others’ good (1 Pet. 4:10) rather than risk them unnecessarily.
- If we cannot afford to lose the amount we pledge, we may jeopardize the security of our family and heirs, a folly that Scripture strongly condemns (1 Tim. 5:8).
- When we cosign for a friend or family member who fails to pay a debt, we not only lose our money but also risk losing something far more valuable: our relationship.

Nevertheless, there are circumstances described in Scripture where cosigning a loan is permissible, even admirable:

- Judah made himself human collateral for his younger half brother Benjamin (Gen. 43:8, 9), a willingness to assume personal risk that overwhelmed Joseph (44:32; 45:11). It was the kind of act that Jesus later encouraged: “Greater love has no one than this, than to lay down one’s life for his friends” (John 15:13).
- Paul offered himself as bond for the runaway slave Onesimus (Philem. 10–13, 18, 19). Paul did not incur this risk foolishly, because he knew Onesimus well (Philem. 12). His generous act put Christ’s grace on display.
- Christ became surety for sinners when He redeemed us on the cross (Heb. 7:22; 9:12). His atoning death “wiped out the handwriting of requirements that was against us” (Col. 2:14; compare 1 Pet. 1:18, 19).

Cosigning for money tends to hurt people rather than help them. But cosigning our time and interest can help. For example a Christian might provide opportunity for someone to earn the tools needed to earn a living. Thus the cosigner would not only share the gospel but show the gospel.

The Value of Wisdom

Prov. 8:10, 11

Education is one thing, wisdom another. Following wisdom is even more valuable than the most advanced learning or the riches that it often brings. The Book of Proverbs tells us that whatever we do, we should get, and live according to, wisdom (Prov. 4:5–7). Its practical insight into life yields benefits far beyond material comfort and convenience. Notice how Proverbs describes wisdom:

The Origin of Wisdom

- Comes from God Himself (Prov. 8:22).
- Is eternal (8:23).
- Has existed forever (8:23–30).

The Results of Wisdom

- Prudence (Prov. 8:5, 12).
- Understanding (8:5).
- Excellent things (8:6).
- Truth (8:7).
- Hatred of wickedness (8:7).
- Righteousness (8:8).
- Knowledge (8:12).
- Discretion (8:12).
- Fear of the Lord (8:13).

The Value of Wisdom

- Yields riches and honor (Prov. 8:11, 18).
- Is more valuable than rubies, gold, or silver (8:10, 11, 19).
- Blesses the wise (8:32, 34).
- Gives life to the wise (8:35).

More: Solomon demonstrated so much wisdom that it brought him worldwide acclaim. See "An Understanding Heart" at 1 Kin. 3:6–14.

Wisdom at Work and Play
Prov. 8:30, 31

Proverbs personifies wisdom as God's companion, who was with Him as He created the heavens and the earth. Wisdom was herself a master craftsman, and it is easy to see wisdom's hand at work. Creation's every aspect reveals infinite insight and genius (Prov. 8:27–30; compare Ps. 19:1–4; 104:24). But wisdom also brings a playful side to her work. In the act of creation, wisdom was God's daily delight, constantly rejoicing (literally "playing") before the Lord. Apparently God enjoyed both the product (Gen. 1:31) and the process of creation. Like any creative act, forming the universe was an act of both work and play.

The Tongue: Weapon or Tool?
Prov. 10:18–21

Hatred, slander, and wickedness thrive because of words we speak, or don't speak. Our tongues can cause lasting destruction, or bring life-healing connection. Jesus' brother James recognized this destructive pattern. Observing how effortlessly people spout words without testing their value, he warned early Christians of the bad outcomes of their lack of restraint.

- He urged them to be quick to listen but slow to speak (James 1:19).
- He cautioned them not to consider themselves spiritually mature if they could not control what they said (1:26).
- He told them not to claim to have faith unless their deeds matched their words (2:14–24).
- He wanted them to counter the reality that the tongue boasts great things despite its tiny size (3:5).
- He warned that the tongue is "a fire, a world of iniquity" (3:6), "an unruly evil, full of deadly poison" (3:8), and a fountain of grumbling (5:9).
- He pointed out that speech can be an unpredictable source of either blessing or cursing, like a spring that spouts both fresh and bitter water, or a fig tree that bears olives, or a grapevine that bears figs (3:10–12).
- He noted that some used their words to malign others (4:11).
- He admonished believers about making promises and oaths that they did not mean (5:12).

What we say and how we say it both matter. Our words often carry more weight than we know. The best way to avoid causing harm to others, to God, and to ourselves is to recognize the power of our tongues and harness that power, taking time to consider our words—and our tone—before we speak. Rather than using our tongues as a weapon, we can use them to invest goodness in everyone we know.

Hunted by Sin

Prov. 11:6

Proverbs often contrasts the righteous and the wicked, dividing human beings into those who honor God with their way of life, and those who show Him dishonor. Yet even the righteous sin, and when they succumb to temptation, they face consequences just as evil people do.

King David, for example, was "a man after [God's] own heart" (1 Sam. 13:14) who usually lived with respect for God. But he committed many sins, including adultery and murder (2 Sam. 11:1–27). He confessed his wrongdoing and received the Lord's forgiveness (12:13), but the painful consequences of his poor decisions haunted him for the rest of his life (12:11, 12; compare 16:21–22). Just as Proverbs 11:6 warns, he was ensnared by unfaithfulness.

Sin hunts and haunts us. We may think wrongdoing makes no difference if no one is hurt by it or knows about it. But committing sin hurts us, and it remains in our conscience even if it goes undiscovered. And the consequences overflow to those around us, even when we don't see those consequences. The only way to avoid sin's snare is to avoid it before it entraps us. God provides us with everything we need to avoid falling victim to sin (1 Cor. 10:13; James 1:5; 4:6–10).

Hold Your Tongue

The Peril of Pride

Prov. 11:14

History is full of stories about nations ruined by leaders so overconfident that they ignored their most trustworthy advisors and made foolish, ill-informed decisions. The disasters they caused prove a key truth of Proverbs: well-rounded counsel is a matter of national security. And the same is true for businesses and individuals. We can either go it alone as if we are omniscient—and let others pay the price for our mistakes—or we can solicit a variety of informed opinions to help us make the wisest possible choice. Care for Animals

Prov. 12:10

As society struggles to balance human demands with the needs of animals and their environment, we should not overlook that the Lord regards caring for an animal as an act of righteousness and animal cruelty as an act of wickedness.

God has given human beings authority over other creatures (Gen. 1:26), making animals a resource to manage and use as we see fit. Yet God holds us accountable for how we exercise this dominion. Wisdom suggests that we should treat animals as their Creator treats them. We know that God cares about preserving species (Gen. 7:1–5, 23, 24; 8:1, 17; Luke 12:6). We also know that He gave commands about treating animals properly (Ex. 23:12; Deut. 22:4). The Lord takes note of how we treat the rest of His creation, and His concerns should be our concerns.

More: God's care for animals is part of His overall concern for His creation. See "God and the Environment" at Ps. 104:14–23, 35.

Wise Relationships

Prov. 13:20

If we want to develop the kind of wisdom the Book of Proverbs describes, a good starting point is in the cultivation of friendships with wise people. Wisdom is not merely a list of facts to memorize; it is a never-ending, multifaceted collection of skills to master (see "What Wisdom Is" at Prov. 1:2). No amount of individual study can grant true wisdom; only relationships can make that happen.

Moses and his father-in-law Jethro beautifully illustrate this principle. Israel's leader was near exhaustion when Jethro took him aside. He wisely counseled his son-in-law to delegate authority (Ex. 18:17–27), and Moses responded by developing an organizational structure that enabled him to lead Israel for the next forty years. Apart from Moses' relationship with a wise older man, the system might never have come about.

Moreover, Proverbs does not simply tell us to seek wise companions; it warns us against developing friendships with those it deems fools (see "The Four Fools" at Prov. 14:24). We cannot cut off all contact with foolish people, but we should eschew their influence.

Solomon's son and successor Rehoboam took bad advice from his foolish counselors when he decided to raise Israel's already high taxes, which ultimately resulted in the split between the northern and southern kingdoms (1 Kin. 12:1–18). If Rehoboam had chosen to disregard the advice of his foolish counselors in favor of that offered by the wise men who had counseled his father, the history of Israel may have included much less sorrow and bloodshed.

Our growth in wisdom isn't just about ourselves. Who we spend time with, listen to, and make a part of our daily lives matters to others. It is through relationships that we may take some of our greatest strides toward honoring, or dishonoring, God.

Love Sets Limits

Prov. 13:24

No parent enjoys hearing the cries of a little one facing correction or punishment. Some parents see their child's pain and back off from enforcing rules and expectations. But Proverbs says that discipline demonstrates love, and a lack of correction is a form of hatred. Caring parents set limits on children's behavior. See "Rearing Children with the Rod" at Proverbs 19:18.

Run from Sin

Prov. 14:16

The fool is famous for his overconfidence about his ability to avoid evil. He lives by the motto, "It can't happen to me. And if it does, I can handle it."

The Bible says the fool is badly mistaken. "Let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he fall," the New Testament warns (1 Cor. 10:12). When the disciples insisted that they would stand with Jesus no matter the cost, He warned them, "Watch and pray, lest you enter into temptation. . . . The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak" (Matt. 26:35, 41).

Pride about our moral and spiritual strength can put us in a precarious spot. It shows our lack of understanding of evil's nature and power. If spiritual giants such as Moses, David, and Peter were tempted and fell into sin (Num. 20:2–13; Judg. 16; 2 Sam. 11; Matt. 26:69–75), how much more do the rest of us have reason to beware sin's attraction?

Proverbs tells us to abandon evil, turning our backs on temptation and refusing to toy with sin. That might mean finding new friends or a new job. It might mean shutting off a computer or canceling a subscription. Whatever tempts us to sin, we are wise to do whatever it takes to run from it and chase after "righteousness, faith, love, peace with those who call on the Lord out of a pure heart"

(2 Tim. 2:22). The other option is isolation and pain for us and those who care about us.

More: Scripture offers solid help for dealing with temptation. See "Escaping Temptation" at 1 Cor. 10:12, 13. Paul was both a brilliant theologian and someone who intensely struggled with sin. See "Even Those Who Fall Short Can Be Spiritual Giants" at Gal. 1:11–24.

The Four Fools

Prov. 14:24

Proverbs 14:24 describes a fool who makes poor choices about how and where to invest his life. He trades away his most valuable things for the most worthless, committing foolishness that yields nothing but loneliness and further foolishness. But this is not the only category of fool we meet in Proverbs. If we see in ourselves the traits listed below, we need to make some serious changes to gain wisdom.

The Simple: A person who cannot tell the difference between truth and falsehood. Because he lacks direction, he is headed for a fall.

The Scoffer: A person who laughs at wisdom and toys with wickedness. Warned of the consequences of pursuing evil, he arrogantly assumes nothing bad will happen to him.

The Arrogant: A person who willfully ignores wisdom and lives for himself. He does not care whether something is good or bad, only if he will selfishly benefit from it.

The Rebel: A person who hates wisdom. His rejection is so complete that he is nothing short of an aggressive unbeliever.

The Simple

- Loves simplicity (Prov. 1:22).
- Lacks understanding (7:7).
- Gullible (9:4, 16; 14:15).

The Scoffer

- Delights in scorning (Prov. 1:22).
- Shames and hates those who correct him (9:7, 8; 15:12).
- Refuses to listen to a rebuke (13:1).
- Searches for wisdom on his own—in vain (14:6).
- Is proud and haughty (21:24).
- Causes contention and strife (22:10).

The Arrogant

- Hates knowledge (Prov. 1:22).
- Makes a sport out of doing evil (10:23).
- Proclaims foolishness to others (12:23; 13:16).
- Rages at instruction and is self-confident (14:16).
- Despises his parents (15:20).
- More dangerous than an angry bear (17:12).
- Likes to give his opinion rather than learn (18:2).
- Despises wisdom (23:9).
- Wise in his own eyes (26:5).

The Rebel

- Despises wisdom and instruction (Prov. 1:7).
- Convinced he is right (12:15).
- Mocks the idea of sin (14:9).
- Despises his parents' instruction (15:5).
- Even his self-correction is folly (16:22).
- Quarrels easily (20:3).
- Cannot be separated from his foolishness (27:22).

The Simple

- Will die for turning away from wisdom (Prov. 1:32).
- Destined for folly (14:18, 24).

The Scoffer

- Will receive God's scorn (Prov. 3:34).
- Will inevitably face judgment (19:29).
- Detested by others (24:9).

The Arrogant

- Will be destroyed through his complacency (Prov. 1:32).
- Destined for a beating (19:29; 26:3).

The Rebel

- Will die for lack of wisdom (Prov. 10:21).
- Destined to fall (10:8, 10).

Respect Your Parents

Prov. 15:20

God does not require us to approve of everything our parents did—or do—but we are fools if we, as adults, despise our father and mother.

The Bible portrays parenting as a partnership between father and mother in which both are committed to each other and to the good of their children. A home that created a healthy childhood makes this easier. A home that contributed to painful childhood (and adult) memories can make it hard to think kindly of parents or to treat them kindly. Yet Proverbs urges us to show honor to our parents despite their faults. Many misinterpret how to do this, but these thoughts from Proverbs offer a few clarifications:

- How we treat our parents displays our values and attitudes (19:26).
- Disrespecting our parents can have terrible implications for our own life (20:20).
- Children have a significant impact on how parents view their lives and evaluate their significance (10:1; 15:20; 17:25; 23:24).
- As our parents grow older, we should give them the gifts of listening and caring (23:22).
- By pursuing wisdom, we benefit ourselves and bring our parents joy (23:25; 29:3).
- By pursuing evil and folly, we can be a destructive force in our parents' lives (28:24; 29:15).
- We will suffer if we lack respect for our parents (30:11, 17).

More: Proverbs says that parents are meant to offer more to children than practical care. They are to impart wisdom. See "Learning at Home" at Prov. 4:3, 4.

Shared Responsibility

Prov. 16:9

God makes human beings responsible and accountable for planning, organizing, and directing our lives—yet God also accomplishes His purposes in, through, and sometimes in spite of our best-laid plans. The tension of this shared responsibility between human beings and the sovereign Lord of the universe appears frequently in Scripture. The New Testament, for example, urges us to "work out" our salvation—to make responsible choices on a day-to-day basis in light of our eternal salvation—yet it adds that God is at work in us "both to will and to do for His good pleasure" (Phil. 2:12, 13). The lesson to take away from this is that all relationships are a two-way street. God calls us to fulfill our part, and also to trust Him to fulfill His part.

Hearing and Helping

Prov. 17:5

The Book of Proverbs declares that God so identifies with the poor that to ridicule the poor is to insult God. We mock the poor when we laugh at their condition, jump to conclusions about why they are poor, abuse them in conversation, ignore their pleas for help, or adopt an attitude of false piety, thinking to ourselves, "There but for the grace of God go I"—yet remaining just as removed as any other passerby.

Some people dismiss the needy by offhandedly quoting Jesus' remark, "You have the poor with you always" (Mark 14:7). They assume that Jesus meant, "The poor will always be around, and there's nothing we can do about poverty, so why bother?" But Jesus' way of life, His other words, and the rest of Scripture show that this is a grave misunderstanding. Taking this one remark out of context can have dire consequences not only for those in need but also for any who claim to imitate Christ yet smugly reject any responsibility to help or even care about the poor.

Jesus' words about the inevitability of the presence of poor people can also be read as a call for His followers to serve the poor after He had gone. By serving the poor, we serve Jesus. And if we shut our ears to their cries for help, God warns that when we ourselves fall on hard times, we, too, will go unheard (Prov. 21:13).

Protecting Confidences
Prov. 17:9

Friends often encourage each other to be vulnerable, to open up about their feelings, faults, and failures. But our willingness to reveal the darkest parts of our lives depends on whether those who hear us can keep confidences. Scripture encourages hearers to "cover" transgressions with love, protecting private information rather than broadcasting it to others. Proverbs also has more suggestions for choosing the right people to hear our thoughts and plans. See "Wisdom Needs Community" at Proverbs 24:6.

Talk Is Cheap (and Expensive)
Prov. 18:2

Some of us always offer an opinion. Regardless of whether we have any qualification to speak to a certain topic, we always have something to say. We tend to avoid, "I don't know," or simply listening long enough to learn something. We spout uninformed judgments to anyone who will listen.

The Book of Proverbs calls these people fools and offers principles to help us avoid falling into this category. Here are some ways for us to evaluate the worth of what we say:

- The saying goes that talk is cheap, but the fact is that unconsidered words can prove very expensive. Saying the wrong thing at the wrong time can lead to devastating consequences (18:21).
- Sometimes the wisest course to take is to keep quiet, weighing our thoughts and words to ensure they are helpful—and keeping them to ourselves if they are not (Prov. 11:12; 17:27, 28).
- We are never free to share secrets others have entrusted to us, unless that person is in danger (11:13).
- We must watch what we say; our mouths can get us in deep trouble (18:6, 7).
- Giving an opinion before hearing the facts exposes us to shame (18:13).
- Choosing to use our words wisely accomplishes noble ends, such as defusing a heated situation (15:1, 2).

A Good Friend

Prov. 18:24

Many types of friendship exist, but the test of a true friend is that even during tough times, this friend "sticks closer than a brother." It is this type of friendship that is at the heart of community at its best. The Book of Proverbs also describes other characteristics of good friends and neighbors:

- A good friend makes honest commitments and quickly acknowledges when promises cannot be fulfilled (Prov. 3:28, 29; 6:1–5).
- A good neighbor shows kindness to the poor (19:7; 22:9).
- A good friend forgives and then lets the matter rest. He or she does not bring up past mistakes (17:9, 14).

- A good friend is willing to share in adversity (17:17; 18:24; 27:10).
- A good neighbor does not wear out his welcome (25:17).
- A good friend sings others' praises (27:1, 2).
- A good friend sharpens others' thinking with good advice (27:17; 28:23).

By these characteristics we may measure our value as friends. As we follow the guidelines laid down by Proverbs, we transform ourselves into the type of friend whose wisdom is "more precious than rubies" (Prov. 3:15).

More: Jonathan and David were faithful friends. See "Man-to-Man" at 1 Sam. 20:41. Job had three friends who weren't perfect but had good intentions of helping him in his distress. See "A Friend in Need" at Job 2:13.

Rearing Children with the Rod

Prov. 19:18

The Book of Proverbs and, indeed, all of Scripture sees children as a special blessing. But the Bible also concedes that children are inheritors of original sin and, when left to their own devices, tend toward evil (Prov. 22:15). In light of that reality, God strongly urges us to discipline our offspring—discipline meaning guidance in all areas, not just punishment for wrongs. Neglecting to correct bad behavior in young children can lead to their own heartbreak in later life.

As to what sort of punishment is most effective, it goes without saying that Christians disagree on the subject just as much as other people do. But our debates about methods must never obscure our goal of raising children to adulthood with strong character and the ability to make wise choices (29:15). Whatever the term rod means to us as parents, Proverbs encourages us to take an active role in teaching our children to seek goodness and shun evil (23:13). Several principles of discipline are found in Proverbs:

- Children need far more than correction. Correction is only one part of a home environment that sets children on the path of wisdom, self-appreciation, understanding, and humility (2:1–22; 4:3–9; 15:31–33).
- Punishment for wrongdoing not only corrects past behavior but prevents children from engaging in deeper and more destructive forms of evil (5:12–14; 23:14).
- Correction demonstrates love. Failure to discipline is a form of hatred (13:24).
- Discipline is intended to purge children of the "foolishness" that comes from their lack of life experience (22:15).

Discipline is indispensable to raising healthy children, but Proverbs also recognizes that there are no guarantees for how our children will turn out. Christians may see a promise in the Bible's admonition, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it" (22:6). But like most sayings in Proverbs, this is not a promise but an observation about how life usually works. Children can experience consistent discipline but still veer from the path of righteousness:

- A child might grow up to be lazy, abusive, or immoral and bring his parents shame (10:5; 19:26; 29:3).
- A child might grow up to scoff at instruction and necessary rebukes (13:1).
- A child might grow up to despise his parents (15:20).
- A child might rob his parents and think he does right (28:24).
- A child might grow up to curse, mock, and scorn his parents (30:11, 17).

Given this sobering reality, God calls us as parents to demonstrate wisdom, truth, and service to our children, knowing that they may or may not choose to follow that path. Parents cannot force children to honor them or God; that is a choice each of us must make on our own. The Lord calls us as parents to do our best and leave the results to Him.

Drawing Deep
Prov. 20:5

The “deep water” of counsel is a precious resource, worth every bit of effort it takes to bring it to the surface. In much of the ancient Middle East, water for crops, cooking, drinking, and other purposes could be found only by digging a well deep into the ground. The work required was enormous, yet life could not be sustained without water. Similarly, our spiritual and moral lives cannot survive without tapping into the wisdom of people with different life experiences. It may seem as if it takes too much effort to locate and obtain sound advice. But it is well worth the struggle.

Deadly Indulgence
Prov. 21:25, 26

Instant gratification is hard to argue against, but Proverbs says that the impatient craving of a lazy person is fatal. Other similar cautions include:

- Illicit sex brings long-term penalties (Prov. 5:3–6).
- Dishonest wealth is worthless compared to gains made through hard work (13:11).
- Deferring hope can feel awful but leads to ultimate satisfaction (13:12).
- Quick fixes and fast answers are “folly and shame” (18:13, 17).
- Good advice can feel irritating at first but yields blessings (19:20).
- People may appear to get ahead by lying, cheating, and stealing, but God’s justice in the next life will show that righteousness is the right choice (23:17, 18).

- Intoxication seems satisfying, but its brief pleasure exacts a heavy price (23:29–35).

Proverbs 16:25 says, “There is a way that seems right to a man, but its end is the way of death.” Rather than listening to our own inclinations and desire for instant gratification, the New Testament urges believers to be “rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing steadfastly in prayer” (Rom. 12:12). Scripture assures us that the “testing of your faith produces patience,” so that “you may be perfect and complete, lacking nothing” (James 1:3, 4).

Delayed gratification offers rewards that are more than sufficient to bring us joy and satisfaction. Learning to wait for good things is a significant sign of wisdom because it requires seeing past fleeting indulgences to superior benefits that come with time. Scripture encourages us to be discerning and farsighted, distancing ourselves from anything that might destroy us (Prov. 27:12), saving ourselves for far better and truer pleasures.

Prov. 22:29

Many modern businesses operate on the idea that success follows excellence; if we consistently go above and beyond our customers’ expectations, those customers will recommend our business to others, and so on. This concept has reached greater prominence since the advent of social media, but the theme of excellence in work is as old as the Bible itself.

- God does His work with excellence. When He created the world, the result was “very good” (Gen. 1:31).
- God equips people with abilities that make them fit for specific work (see “Called by Name” at Ex. 31:1–11 and “You Are Unique” at Ps. 33:15). He wants us to use our skills for His purposes as a way of serving Him (Matt. 22:37, 38).
- Christians should work as if Christ were evaluating their effort, because indeed He is (Eph. 6:5–8; see also “The Lord’s Employees” at Col. 3:22–24).

- Christians are commanded to be "pleasing in all things" in their work because their effort makes the gospel attractive to coworkers and customers (see "Your Workstyle" at Titus 2:9–11).

Dangers of Alcohol Abuse

Prov. 23:29–35

The Book of Proverbs does more than catalog the dangers of substance abuse. It offers compelling reasons to take its warnings seriously by painting a picture of an individual controlled by alcohol:

- He is marked by woe, sorrow, contentions, complaints, wounds, and red eyes (Prov. 23:29).
- He wastes his time either looking for a drink or lingering over one (23:30).
- He lives in a fantasy that glorifies the appeal of drinking (23:31).
- He ends up feeling as if he has been bitten by snakes (23:32).
- He hallucinates and says things he doesn't mean (23:33).
- He becomes numb and foolish (23:34, 35).
- He craves alcohol more and more in spite of the hardship it brings him (23:35).

Alcohol abuse destroys not only the person who drinks too much but everyone around that person. The Bible gives these other cautions about alcohol abuse:

- Israelites who assumed significant responsibilities sometimes took vows of abstinence from alcohol. For example, priests were not allowed to drink on duty (Lev. 10:9), Nazirites vowed never to touch alcohol (Num. 6:3), and John the Baptist refrained from alcohol as he carried out his calling (Luke 1:15).
- Rulers are warned not to drink lest they pervert justice and forget God's ways (Prov. 31:4, 5).

- Isaiah identified drunken revelries as one cause of Israel's downfall (Is. 5:11, 12). Many priests and prophets were so frequently drunk that they could not fulfill their responsibilities (28:7, 8).
- Paul listed irresponsible partying and drunkenness alongside sins like lust, strife, sexual immorality, coveting, idolatry, slander, extortion, and envy. He contrasted these practices with "putting on the Lord Jesus," and warned Christians not to associate with people who professed belief yet persisted in these behaviors (Rom. 13:12, 13; 1 Cor. 5:11).
- Paul warned that in some situations even moderate alcohol consumption can contribute to the downfall of newer and weaker Christians, presumably those who have emerged from a lifestyle of alcohol abuse and who may stumble if their peers or leaders in the faith are drinkers (Rom. 14:19–21).
- Peter included drunkenness with the kinds of sins listed by Paul, pointing out that heavy drinking is part of a lifestyle of unbelief that wastes people's health and character (1 Pet. 4:3, 4).

The Bible's cautions about alcohol apply equally to substance abuse of any kind. But even as we come to grips with the dangers of abuse, we should remember that the Bible never demeans people in trouble. It encourages us to find ways to assist family and friends controlled by alcohol, reaching out to them with grace and forgiveness.

Finding Joy at Work

Prov. 24:3–6

The Bible affirms that God's original design for work was good—even "very good" (Gen. 1:31; see also "God: The Original Worker" at John 5:17). Only after Adam and Eve rebelled against the Lord did work come under the Curse, making labor toilsome (Gen. 3:17–19). Yet God still wants our work to be significant and satisfying. Proverbs suggests how we can make that happen:

- We are wise to honor God in our work and with the pay we receive (Prov. 3:9, 10; 16:3).
- It is smart to learn diligence and avoid laziness (6:6–11; 13:4; 19:15; 20:4; 21:25).
- Careful planning, as well as taking responsibility for our work, yields enormous benefits (12:11, 14, 27; 14:23).
- We will avoid pain and find joy if we work with integrity (16:11; 20:10, 17, 23).
- The natural motivation to provide for ourselves should prompt us to show initiative (16:26; 20:13).
- It is wiser to work for long-term outcomes than for short-term gains (20:21; 21:5; 24:3–7).
- Performing with excellence brings success (22:29; 24:3–7).

Wisdom Needs Community

Prov. 24:6

Wise decision-making is rarely a solo act. Effective leaders surround themselves with voices that provide timely information, accurately interpret data, and provide shrewd suggestions for a best course of action. A leader makes final decisions, but getting to that point is usually a team effort. Every individual who wants to honor God needs sound advice, and the Book of Proverbs offers principles for smart use of reliable counsel.

On the value of counsel

- Sound advice is essential to wisdom (Prov. 1:5; 8:14).
- Fools reject advice out of a conviction that they alone are right (1:25, 30; 12:15).
- The varied perspectives and opinions of multiple counselors promote success and safety (11:14; 15:22; 20:18; 24:6).
- Heeding good advice often avoids conflict (13:10).

- Listening to sound wisdom yields benefits that build over time (19:20).
- Tapping into the knowledge of the wise is worth every effort (20:5).

On selecting advisors

- Select advisors carefully (12:26; 13:20).
- Beware of gossip about trusted friends (16:28).
- Search out people who honor confidences (17:9).
- Look for advisors who are courteous and full of integrity (22:11; 27:9).
- Shun the opinions of angry people (22:24).
- Accept help from people who understand your situation (27:10).

On keeping things in perspective

- No matter what plans we devise, the Lord's plan will prevail (19:21; 21:30).
- True friends speak truth (27:6).

Let Go of Laziness

Prov. 24:30–34

All poverty does not result from laziness, but laziness usually results in poverty. That poverty may be financial or it may be social, emotional, or intellectual. Our lives are like vineyards that need diligent care, but the idler's vineyard wilts and withers in neglect. Its land is overgrown with thorns and weeds, and its broken-down walls leave it vulnerable to harsh winds and pests. Its harvest is doomed.

If we hope to fulfill our God-given responsibilities, we must remember that diligence is crucial. No matter how bad things get, they can always get better if we are willing to work—but surrendering to laziness will lead to ruin and defeat. Yet even in this we see that our God is great: it is never too late to shake off our sloth and reclaim our vineyards. In laziness we become our own worst enemy, and it can feel impossible to break free from ourselves —but to work is in our very nature as human beings (Gen. 2:15, 18), and with God's help, we can break free and engage in the meaningful, fulfilling work He has planned for us.

Evidence of Reform

Prov. 25:1

The proverbs collected in Proverbs 25–30 reflect important reforms enacted by King Hezekiah of Judah. Hezekiah's father and predecessor Ahaz had turned from the Lord by serving idols and practicing child sacrifice (2 Chr. 28:1–4). As a consequence, Judah suffered devastating defeats by the Assyrians and the Israelites of the northern kingdom. But when Hezekiah assumed the throne, he removed idolatrous structures, restored temple worship, and resumed a nationwide observance of Passover (2 Chr. 29–31). It was probably during this period that scribes found and copied these proverbs of Solomon.

More: Hezekiah was one of Judah's best kings, yet late in life he committed a proud foolish act that haunted his successors. See Hezekiah's profile at 2 Chr. 29:1.

Think About It: What specific reforms are you responsible for? How will you enact them?

Fools
Prov. 26:1–12

Proverbs is not shy about stating that some people pursue life in foolish ways and that foolishness is never anyone's fault but the fool's. Proverbs 26:1–12 reveals several facts about these people who choose not to help themselves:

- They do not deserve honor (Prov. 26:1, 8). To honor them would be out of place.
- They go through life suffering harsh treatment, punishment, and loss of freedom, like beasts of burden (26:3).
- They cannot listen to reason (26:4).
- Convinced that they are right, they must be taught the error of their ways (26:5).
- They are unreliable and irresponsible (26:6).
- They are morally and spiritually weak and even dangerous (26:7, 9).
- God cares for them despite themselves (26:10).
- They persist in their folly (26:11).
- As long as they cling to their foolish ways, they are hopeless (26:12).

More: Proverbs paints a picture of four kinds of fools. See "The Four Fools" at Prov. 14:24.

Good v. Best
Prov. 27:5

It is a universal truth that making the best choice is not always easy. Too frequently we settle for a "good" choice when the "best" choice just seems too difficult. But Scripture urges us to weigh every choice carefully because our actions can have profound implications both in our own lives and in the unseen lives of others. The Book of Proverbs frequently sets outs two alternatives and uses the word better to describe the wisest choice:

- Wisdom is better than riches (Prov. 3:13, 14; 8:11).
- Gaining little while fearing the Lord is better than a great treasure accompanied by trouble (15:16).
- A simple meal with love is better than a feast with hatred (15:17).
- Associating with the humble is better than getting rich with the proud (16:19).
- Ruling yourself is better than ruling your own city (16:32).
- It is better to be poor and honest than to be rich and crooked (19:1, 22; 22:1; 28:6).
- An open rebuke is better than love that is never expressed (27:5).

Proverbs challenges us to use every resource at our disposal—knowledge, intuition, conscience, wise counsel—to make not simply good choices but the best choices. Rather than passively watching life happen, we have been called to actively use our God-given abilities to make a difference in the world.

A Time to Hate

Prov. 28:16

Christianity is a religion of love. Yet the Lord calls us to hate things that offend Him and hurt His children. The word hate seems strong, but it is the logical response to sin, which is the antithesis of love. This does not mean that we should hate sinful people but rather hate sinful behaviors. Scripture uses the term hate to describe how the righteous should feel about . . .

- pride, arrogance, and evil (Prov. 8:13),
- lying and falsehood (8:13; 13:5),
- cosigning a loan for a stranger (11:15; see also "Don't Cosign Loans" at Prov. 6:1–5),
- bribery (15:27), and
- covetousness (28:16).

To love the Lord is to hate evil (8:13). The Book of Ecclesiastes says that there is a time to hate (Eccl. 3:8), and the Book of Proverbs helps define when that time has come.

Leaders Build a Circle of Trust

Prov. 29:12

Distinguishing truth from falsehood challenges people in positions of authority for several reasons:

- Subordinates often pursue personal agendas. Some might filter the truth to further their own goals.
- Subordinates often hesitate to tell their superiors bad news.
- Subordinates may be reluctant to voice ideas or opinions that they think that their boss is likely to disagree with.
- People often see the same thing in different ways.

Given these realities, perhaps a leader's greatest challenge is to create an atmosphere that respects and rewards openness and honesty. The first step toward achieving this type of environment is to encourage subordinates by describing truth-telling as a high priority and an appreciated code of behavior.

Creation's Quiet Wisdom

Prov. 30:24–28

The earth is full of fascinating creatures whose habits can teach us important lessons, if we only stop to notice them. Agur studied four inconspicuous species and found traits that display wisdom:

- Ants plan for long winters by storing up food in summer (Prov. 30:25; compare Gen. 41:17–57).
- Rock badgers build secure nests in the strongholds of rock (Prov. 30:26; compare Matt. 7:24–27; Luke 6:47–49).
- Locusts move in unison even without an obvious leader (Prov. 30:27).
- Spiders do such skillful work on their webs that they may be said to live in king's palaces (30:28).

Foresight, resourcefulness, teamwork, and excellence are inspiring traits. If even the animals exhibit such qualities, how much more should we as creatures created in God's image excel in our work?

The Wise Woman of Proverbs 31

Prov. 31:10

Proverbs 31:10–31 forms an acrostic poem with the first word of each line beginning with a successive letter of the Hebrew alphabet. This poem is a portion of the instruction that King Lemuel's mother used to teach her son about wisdom (Prov. 31:1). In describing a "virtuous wife" (31:10), Lemuel's mother showed her son what wisdom should look like in everyday life.

The woman of Proverbs 31 is more valuable than rare jewels because of her wisdom—her skill at living responsibly, productively, and prosperously (see "What Wisdom Is" at Prov. 1:2). In fact, the Book of Proverbs often personifies wisdom as a woman (8:1–11) and describes wisdom as more valuable than any amount of riches (3:15; 8:11). So it is no surprise that the woman of Proverbs 31 earns praise in the most public of places, the gates of the city (31:31). (In biblical times, city gates served as a setting for important legal and business transactions, almost like a combination city hall and marketplace. See "The Gates of Hell" at Matt. 16:18.)

The wise woman's hard work reaps material rewards (Prov. 31:13–16, 21, 22), and her happiness, honor, and long life are fruits of her wisdom. She pursues jobs sometimes thought of as nontraditional female work, such as real estate investment, farming, and marketing (31:16, 18), as well as more traditional occupations, such as making clothes (31:13, 19). She directs her energies not only toward providing for her family and household (31:11, 14, 15, 27) but also toward meeting her community's needs (31:20).

The woman of Proverbs 31 models for both women and men a way of living that brings fulfillment and contentment. Her life of work and love flows from godly wisdom.

From the very beginning, mankind has been consumed by one question: What is the meaning of life?

On the one hand, human ingenuity and compassion save and improve lives every day though large-scale technological advances, community missions, and individual acts of kindness. On the other hand, human selfishness and wastefulness have led to the tragedies of genocide, neglected family members, and environmental destruction. In light of this paradox, some choose to focus on the sunny side of life, while others doubt that the world can ever find a solution to its problems. Regardless of our general outlook, we have all felt the profound disappointment expressed in the Book of Ecclesiastes: that life is not as it should be.

The truth is that we live in a fallen world. We might deny it, fight it, hide from it, or even try to make sense of it. But we cannot escape it. This is a widely accepted truth among Christians; nevertheless, many believers struggle with Ecclesiastes because it is not easy to reconcile the hopeful message of our faith with a book that revolves around the theme that everything is meaningless: “Vanity of vanities, all is vanity” (Eccl. 1:2). How can such a bleak statement exist alongside the joy of the gospel?

Some view the Book of Ecclesiastes as the elegy of a man who has abandoned God. Spiritually dead, the man is unable to find light in a fallen world. His despair may be all the more unbearable because of his former experience of God; the shadows of life are made even darker by contrast with a light that has been lost. Others understand the book as more of a theoretical exercise: the author tries to imagine a meaningful life apart from God, humbly concluding that all is futile without God, the sole source of life's significance.

Still others see Ecclesiastes as an exploration of wisdom's response to a fallen world. The harsh truth is that life in a fallen world is fleeting, often painful, and puzzling (see "There is Nothing New Under the Sun" at Eccl. 1:3–11). This holds true for the believer and the unbeliever, the wise and the foolish, the Jew and the Gentile alike. Yet although life in a fallen world may be meaningless, God is not meaningless. And because of God, we can respond to life with wisdom, and in that, we can enjoy meaning and goodness. Just as Scripture commands us, we can be in the world but not of the world (Rom. 12:2), finding our meaning not in this life but in the promise of another (Matt. 6:20; John 15:17–19; 17:16–18; Rom. 8:21, 22; 2 Cor. 5:1–8; see also "Liberating Creation" at Rom. 8:21, 22).

Ecclesiastes is a work of Wisdom Literature (see the introduction to Job), a genre of writing widespread in the ancient world. Wisdom Literature aimed to provide instruction about life, though it often raises as many questions as it answers. In the case of Ecclesiastes, the answers themselves can be more troubling than the questions.

Yet the book provides one answer that is the foundation of all wisdom: "Fear God and keep His commandments" (Eccl. 12:13; compare Prov. 1:7).

Ecclesiastes states that it is the work of "the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem" (Eccl. 1:1). This notation and the description of the author's luxurious and, at times, reckless lifestyle (2:1–16) point to Solomon as the book's author. If so, Ecclesiastes was likely written sometime in the later part of Solomon's life, perhaps around 920 B.C.

Key Verses in Ecclesiastes

- “Vanity of vanities, all is vanity” (Eccl. 1:2).
- “There is nothing new under the sun” (Eccl. 1:9).
- “In much wisdom is much grief” (Eccl. 1:18).
- “To everything there is a season, a time for every purpose under heaven” (Eccl. 3:1).
- “Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their labor. For if they fall, one will lift up his companion. But woe to him who is alone when he falls, for he has no one to help him up” (Eccl. 4:9, 10).
- “A man’s wisdom makes his face shine, and the sternness of his face is changed” (Eccl. 8:1).
- “Remember now your Creator in the days of your youth” (Eccl. 12:1).
- “Fear God and keep His commandments . . . for God will bring every work into judgment, including every secret thing, whether good or evil” (Eccl. 12:13, 14).

Ecclesiastes 1

The Vanity of Life

1 The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

2 "Vanity[a] of vanities," says the Preacher;
"Vanity of vanities, all is vanity."

3 What profit has a man from all his labor
In which he toils under the sun? There Is Nothing New Under the Sun

4 One generation passes away, and another generation comes;
But the earth abides forever.
5 The sun also rises, and the sun goes down,
And hastens to the place where it arose.
6 The wind goes toward the south,
And turns around to the north;
The wind whirls about continually,
And comes again on its circuit.
7 All the rivers run into the sea,
Yet the sea is not full;
To the place from which the rivers come,
There they return again.
8 All things are full of labor;
Man cannot express it.
The eye is not satisfied with seeing,
Nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 That which has been is what will be,
That which is done is what will be done,
And there is nothing new under the sun.

10 Is there anything of which it may be said,
"See, this is new"?
It has already been in ancient times before us.
11 There is no remembrance of former things,
Nor will there be any remembrance of things that are to come
By those who will come after.

The Grief of Wisdom

12 I, the Preacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem.
13 And I set my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under heaven; this burdensome task God has given to the sons of man, by which they may be exercised. Life with and Without God
14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and indeed, all is vanity and grasping for the wind.

15 What is crooked cannot be made straight,
And what is lacking cannot be numbered.

16 I communed with my heart, saying, "Look, I have attained greatness, and have gained more wisdom than all who were before me in Jerusalem. My heart has understood great wisdom and knowledge."
17 And I set my heart to know wisdom and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also is grasping for the wind.

18 For in much wisdom is much grief,
And he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

Ecclesiastes 2

The Vanity of Pleasure

1 I said in my heart, “Come now, I will test you with mirth;
therefore enjoy pleasure”; but surely, this also was vanity.
2 I said of laughter—“Madness!”; and of mirth, “What does it accomplish?”
3 I searched in my heart how to gratify my flesh with wine, while guiding my heart with wisdom, and how to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was good for the sons of men to do under heaven all the days of their lives.
4 I made my works great, I built myself houses, and planted myself vineyards.
5 I made myself gardens and orchards, and I planted all kinds of fruit trees in them.
6 I made myself water pools from which to water the growing trees of the grove.
7 I acquired male and female servants, and had servants born in my house. Yes, I had greater possessions of herds and flocks than all who were in Jerusalem before me.
8 I also gathered for myself silver and gold and the special treasures of kings and of the provinces. I acquired male and female singers, the delights of the sons of men, and musical instruments[a] of all kinds.
9 So I became great and excelled more than all who were before me in Jerusalem. Also my wisdom remained with me.

10 Whatever my eyes desired I did not keep
from them.
I did not withhold my heart from any pleasure,
For my heart rejoiced in all my labor;

And this was my reward from all my labor.
11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had done
And on the labor in which I had toiled;
And indeed all was vanity and grasping for
the wind.
There was no profit under the sun.

The End of the Wise and the Fool

12 Then I turned myself to consider wisdom and madness and folly;
For what can the man do who succeeds the
king?—
Only what he has already done.
13 Then I saw that wisdom excels folly
As light excels darkness.
14 The wise man's eyes are in his head,
But the fool walks in darkness.
Yet I myself perceived
That the same event happens to them all.

15 So I said in my heart,
"As it happens to the fool,
It also happens to me,
And why was I then more wise?"
Then I said in my heart,
"This also is vanity."
16 For there is no more remembrance of the wise than of the fool forever, Since all that now is will be forgotten in the days to come.
And how does a wise man die?
As the fool!

17 Therefore I hated life because the work that was done under the sun was distressing to me, for all is vanity and grasping for the wind. Dreadful Master

18 Then I hated all my labor in which I had toiled under the sun, because I must leave it to the man who will come after me.

19 And who knows whether he will be wise or a fool? Yet he will rule over all my labor in which I toiled and in which I have shown myself wise under the sun. This also is vanity.

20 Therefore I turned my heart and despaired of all the labor in which I had toiled under the sun.

21 For there is a man whose labor is with wisdom, knowledge, and skill; yet he must leave his heritage to a man who has not labored for it. This also is vanity and a great evil.

22 For what has man for all his labor, and for the striving of his heart with which he has toiled under the sun?

23 For all his days are sorrowful, and his work burdensome; even in the night his heart takes no rest. This also is vanity.

24 Nothing is better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and that his soul should enjoy good in his labor. This also, I saw, was from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I?[b]

26 For God gives wisdom and knowledge and joy to a man who is good in His sight; but to the sinner He gives the work of gathering and collecting, that he may give to him who is good before God. This also is vanity and grasping for the wind. Possessed by Possessions

Ecclesiastes 3

Everything Has Its Time

1 To everything there is a season,
A time for every purpose under heaven:

2 A time to be born,
And a time to die;
A time to plant,
And a time to pluck what is planted;
3 A time to kill,
And a time to heal;
A time to break down,
And a time to build up;
4 A time to weep,
And a time to laugh;
A time to mourn,
And a time to dance;
5 A time to cast away stones,
And a time to gather stones;
A time to embrace,
And a time to refrain from embracing;
6 A time to gain,
And a time to lose;
A time to keep,
And a time to throw away;
7 A time to tear,
And a time to sew;
A time to keep silence,
And a time to speak;
8 A time to love,
And a time to hate;
A time of war,

And a time of peace. Love and Hatred

The God-Given Task

9What profit has the worker from that in which he labors?
10I have seen the God-given task with which the sons of men are to be occupied.
11He has made everything beautiful in its time. Also He has put eternity in their hearts, except that no one can find out the work that God does from beginning to end.
12I know that nothing is better for them than to rejoice, and to do good in their lives, 13and also that every man should eat and drink and enjoy the good of all his labor—it is the gift of God.

14I know that whatever God does,
It shall be forever.
Nothing can be added to it,
And nothing taken from it.
God does it, that men should fear before Him.
15That which is has already been,
And what is to be has already been;
And God requires an account of what is past.

Injustice Seems to Prevail

16Moreover I saw under the sun:

In the place of judgment,
Wickedness was there;
And in the place of righteousness,
Iniquity was there.

17I said in my heart,

“God shall judge the righteous and the wicked,
For there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.”

18 I said in my heart, “Concerning the condition of the sons of men, God tests them, that they may see that they themselves are like animals.” 19 For what happens to the sons of men also happens to animals; one thing befalls them: as one dies, so dies the other. Surely, they all have one breath; man has no advantage over animals, for all is vanity.
20 All go to one place: all are from the dust, and all return to dust.
21 Who knows the spirit of the sons of men, which goes upward, and the spirit of the animal, which goes down to the earth?[a]
22 So I perceived that nothing is better than that a man should rejoice in his own works, for that is his heritage. For who can bring him to see what will happen after him?

Ecclesiastes 4

[1]Then I returned and considered all the oppression that is done under the sun:

And look! The tears of the oppressed,
But they have no comforter—
On the side of their oppressors there is
power,
But they have no comforter.
[2]Therefore I praised the dead who were already dead,
More than the living who are still alive.
[3]Yet, better than both is he who has never existed,
Who has not seen the evil work that is done
under the sun.

The Vanity of Selfish Toil

4Again, I saw that for all toil and every skillful work a man is envied by his neighbor. This also is vanity and grasping for the wind.

[5]The fool folds his hands
And consumes his own flesh.
[6]Better a handful with quietness Than both hands full, together with toil and grasping for the wind. A Quiet Handful

7Then I returned, and I saw vanity under the sun:

[8]There is one alone, without companion:
He has neither son nor brother.

Yet there is no end to all his labors,
Nor is his eye satisfied with riches.
But he never asks,
"For whom do I toil and deprive myself of good?"
This also is vanity and a grave misfortune.

The Value of a Friend

9Two are better than one,
Because they have a good reward for their labor. The Value of Teamwork
10For if they fall, one will lift up his companion.
But woe to him who is alone when he falls,
For he has no one to help him up.
11Again, if two lie down together, they will keep warm;
But how can one be warm alone? Growing Together in Marriage
12Though one may be overpowered by another, two can withstand him.
And a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

Popularity Passes Away

13Better a poor and wise youth
Than an old and foolish king who will be admonished no more.
14For he comes out of prison to be king,
Although he was born poor in his kingdom.
15I saw all the living who walk under the sun;
They were with the second youth who stands in his place.

16 There was no end of all the people over whom he was made king;
Yet those who come afterward will not rejoice in him.
Surely this also is vanity and grasping for
the wind.

Ecclesiastes 5

Fear God, Keep Your Vows

1 Walk prudently when you go to the house of God; and draw near to hear rather than to give the sacrifice of fools, for they do not know that they do evil.

2 Do not be rash with your mouth,
And let not your heart utter anything hastily before God.
For God is in heaven, and you on earth;
Therefore let your words be few.
3 For a dream comes through much activity,
And a fool's voice is known by his many
words.

4 When you make a vow to God, do not delay to pay it;
For He has no pleasure in fools.
Pay what you have vowed—
5 Better not to vow than to vow and not pay.

6 Do not let your mouth cause your flesh to sin, nor say before the messenger of God that it was an error. Why should God be angry at your excuse[a] and destroy the work of your hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words there is also vanity. But fear God.

The Vanity of Gain and Honor

8 If you see the oppression of the poor, and the violent perversion of justice and righteousness in a province, do not marvel at the matter; for high official watches over high official, and higher officials are over them.

9 Moreover the profit of the land is for all; even the king is served from the field.

10 He who loves silver will not be satisfied
with silver;
Nor he who loves abundance, with increase.
This also is vanity.

11 When goods increase,
They increase who eat them;
So what profit have the owners
Except to see them with their eyes?

12 The sleep of a laboring man is sweet,
Whether he eats little or much;
But the abundance of the rich will not permit him to sleep.

13 There is a severe evil which I have seen
under the sun:
Riches kept for their owner to his hurt.
14 But those riches perish through misfortune;
When he begets a son, there is nothing in his hand.
15 As he came from his mother's womb,
naked shall he return,
To go as he came;
And he shall take nothing from his labor
Which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this also is a severe evil—
Just exactly as he came, so shall he go.
And what profit has he who has labored for
the wind?

[17]All his days he also eats in darkness,
And he has much sorrow and sickness and anger.

18Here is what I have seen: It is good and fitting for one to eat and drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labor in which he toils under the sun all the days of his life which God gives him; for it is his heritage.

[19]As for every man to whom God has given riches and wealth, and given him power to eat of it, to receive his heritage and rejoice in his labor—this is the gift of God.

[20]For he will not dwell unduly on the days of his life, because God keeps him busy with the joy of his heart.

Ecclesiastes 6

[1]There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men:

[2]A man to whom God has given riches and wealth and honor, so that he lacks nothing for himself of all he desires; yet God does not give him power to eat of it, but a foreigner consumes it. This is vanity, and it is an evil affliction.

3If a man begets a hundred children and lives many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his soul is not satisfied with goodness, or indeed he has no burial, I say that a stillborn child is better than he—

[4]for it comes in vanity and departs in darkness, and its name is covered with darkness.

[5]Though it has not seen the sun or known anything, this has more rest than that man,

[6]even if he lives a thousand years twice—but has not seen goodness. Do not all go to one place?

7All the labor of man is for his mouth,
And yet the soul is not satisfied.
[8]For what more has the wise man than the fool?
What does the poor man have,
Who knows how to walk before the living?
[9]Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of desire.
This also is vanity and grasping for the wind.

10Whatever one is, he has been named already,
For it is known that he is man;

And he cannot contend with Him who is mightier than he.
11 Since there are many things that increase vanity,
How is man the better?

12 For who knows what is good for man in life, all the days of his vain life which he passes like a shadow? Who can tell a man what will happen after him under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 7

The Value of Practical Wisdom

1 A good name is better than precious ointment,
And the day of death than the day of one's birth;
2 Better to go to the house of mourning
Than to go to the house of feasting,
For that is the end of all men;
And the living will take it to heart.
3 Sorrow is better than laughter,
For by a sad countenance the heart is made better.
4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning,
But the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

5 It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise
Than for a man to hear the song of fools.
6 For like the crackling of thorns under a pot,
So is the laughter of the fool.
This also is vanity.
7 Surely oppression destroys a wise man's reason,
And a bribe debases the heart.

8 The end of a thing is better than its beginning;
The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.
9 Do not hasten in your spirit to be angry,

For anger rests in the bosom of fools.
10 Do not say,
"Why were the former days better than these?"
For you do not inquire wisely concerning this.

11 Wisdom is good with an inheritance,
And profitable to those who see the sun.
12 For wisdom is a defense as money is a defense,
But the excellence of knowledge is that wisdom gives life to those who have it.

13 Consider the work of God;
For who can make straight what He has made crooked?
14 In the day of prosperity be joyful,
But in the day of adversity consider:
Surely God has appointed the one as well as the other,
So that man can find out nothing that will come after him.

15 I have seen everything in my days of vanity:

There is a just man who perishes in his righteousness,
And there is a wicked man who prolongs life in his wickedness.

16 Do not be overly righteous,
Nor be overly wise:
Why should you destroy yourself?
17 Do not be overly wicked,

Nor be foolish:
Why should you die before your time?
18 It is good that you grasp this,
And also not remove your hand from the other;
For he who fears God will escape them all.

19 Wisdom strengthens the wise
More than ten rulers of the city.

20 For there is not a just man on earth who does good
And does not sin.

21 Also do not take to heart everything people say,
Lest you hear your servant cursing you.
22 For many times, also, your own heart has known
That even you have cursed others.

23 All this I have proved by wisdom.
I said, “I will be wise”;
But it was far from me.
24 As for that which is far off and exceedingly deep,
Who can find it out?
25 I applied my heart to know,
To search and seek out wisdom and the reason of things,
To know the wickedness of folly,
Even of foolishness and madness.
26 And I find more bitter than death
The woman whose heart is snares and nets,
Whose hands are fetters.

He who pleases God shall escape from her,
But the sinner shall be trapped by her.

27“Here is what I have found,” says the Preacher,
“Adding one thing to the other to find out the reason,
28Which my soul still seeks but I cannot find:
One man among a thousand I have found,
But a woman among all these I have not found.
29Truly, this only I have found:
That God made man upright,
But they have sought out many schemes.”

Ecclesiastes 8

[1]Who is like a wise man?
And who knows the interpretation of a thing?
A man's wisdom makes his face shine,
And the sternness of his face is changed.

Obey Authorities for God's Sake

2I say, "Keep the king's commandment for the sake of your oath to God.
[3]"Do not be hasty to go from his presence. Do not take your stand for an evil thing, for he does whatever pleases him."

[4]Where the word of a king is, there is power;
And who may say to him, "What are you doing?"
[5]He who keeps his command will experience nothing harmful;
And a wise man's heart discerns both time and judgment,
[6]Because for every matter there is a time and judgment,
Though the misery of man increases greatly.
[7]For he does not know what will happen;
So who can tell him when it will occur?
[8]No one has power over the spirit to retain the spirit,
And no one has power in the day of death.
There is no release from that war,
And wickedness will not deliver those who are given to it.

9 All this I have seen, and applied my heart to every work that is done under the sun: There is a time in which one man rules over another to his own hurt.

Death Comes to All

10 Then I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of holiness, and they were forgotten[a] in the city where they had so done. This also is vanity.
11 Because the sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.
12 Though a sinner does evil a hundred times, and his days are prolonged, yet I surely know that it will be well with those who fear God, who fear before Him.
13 But it will not be well with the wicked; nor will he prolong his days, which are as a shadow, because he does not fear before God.
14 There is a vanity which occurs on earth, that there are just men to whom it happens according to the work of the wicked; again, there are wicked men to whom it happens according to the work of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity.
15 So I commended enjoyment, because a man has nothing better under the sun than to eat, drink, and be merry; for this will remain with him in his labor all the days of his life which God gives him under the sun.
16 When I applied my heart to know wisdom and to see the business that is done on earth, even though one sees no sleep day or night, 17 then I saw all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun. For though a man labors to discover it, yet he will not find it; moreover, though a wise man attempts to know it, he will not be able to find it.

Ecclesiastes 9

[1]For I considered all this in my heart, so that I could declare it all: that the righteous and the wise and their works are in the hand of God. People know neither love nor hatred by anything they see before them.
[2]All things come alike to all:

One event happens to the righteous and the wicked;
To the good,[a] the clean, and the unclean;
To him who sacrifices and him who does not sacrifice.
As is the good, so is the sinner;
He who takes an oath as he who fears an oath.

[3]This is an evil in all that is done under the sun: that one thing happens to all. Truly the hearts of the sons of men are full of evil; madness is in their hearts while they live, and after that they go to the dead.
[4]But for him who is joined to all the living there is hope, for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

[5]For the living know that they will die;
But the dead know nothing,
And they have no more reward,
For the memory of them is forgotten.
[6]Also their love, their hatred, and their envy have now perished;
Nevermore will they have a share
In anything done under the sun.

[7]Go, eat your bread with joy,

And drink your wine with a merry heart;
For God has already accepted your works.
8 Let your garments always be white,
And let your head lack no oil.

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of your vain life which He has given you under the sun, all your days of vanity; for that is your portion in life, and in the labor which you perform under the sun.
10 Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work or device or knowledge or wisdom in the grave where you are going.
11 I returned and saw under the sun that—

The race is not to the swift,
Nor the battle to the strong,
Nor bread to the wise,
Nor riches to men of understanding,
Nor favor to men of skill;
But time and chance happen to them all.
12 For man also does not know his time:
Like fish taken in a cruel net,
Like birds caught in a snare,
So the sons of men are snared in an evil time,
When it falls suddenly upon them.

Wisdom Superior to Folly

13 This wisdom I have also seen under the sun, and it seemed great to me:
14 There was a little city with few men in it; and a great king came against it, besieged it, and built great snares[b] around it.
15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city. Yet no one remembered that same poor man.

16 Then I said:

> “Wisdom is better than strength.
> Nevertheless the poor man’s wisdom is despised,
> And his words are not heard.
> 17 Words of the wise, spoken quietly, should be heard
> Rather than the shout of a ruler of fools.
> 18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war;
> But one sinner destroys much good.”

Ecclesiastes 10

1 Dead flies putrefy[a] the perfumer's ointment,
And cause it to give off a foul odor;
So does a little folly to one respected for wisdom and honor.
2 A wise man's heart is at his right hand,
But a fool's heart at his left.
3 Even when a fool walks along the way,
He lacks wisdom,
And he shows everyone that he is a fool.
4 If the spirit of the ruler rises against you,
Do not leave your post;
For conciliation pacifies great offenses.

5 There is an evil I have seen under the sun,
As an error proceeding from the ruler:
6 Folly is set in great dignity,
While the rich sit in a lowly place.
7 I have seen servants on horses,
While princes walk on the ground like
servants.

8 He who digs a pit will fall into it,
And whoever breaks through a wall will be bitten by a serpent.
9 He who quarries stones may be hurt by
them,
And he who splits wood may be endangered
by it.
10 If the ax is dull,
And one does not sharpen the edge,
Then he must use more strength;

But wisdom brings success.

11A serpent may bite when it is not charmed;
The babbler is no different.
12The words of a wise man’s mouth are gracious,
But the lips of a fool shall swallow him up;
13The words of his mouth begin with
foolishness,
And the end of his talk is raving madness.
14A fool also multiplies words.
No man knows what is to be;
Who can tell him what will be after him?
15The labor of fools wearies them,
For they do not even know how to go to the city!

16Woe to you, O land, when your king is a child,
And your princes feast in the morning!
17Blessed are you, O land, when your king is the son of nobles,
And your princes feast at the proper time—
For strength and not for drunkenness!
18Because of laziness the building decays,
And through idleness of hands the house leaks.
19A feast is made for laughter,
And wine makes merry;
But money answers everything.

20Do not curse the king, even in your thought;
Do not curse the rich, even in your bedroom;

For a bird of the air may carry your voice,
And a bird in flight may tell the matter.

Ecclesiastes 11

The Value of Diligence

1 Cast your bread upon the waters,
For you will find it after many days.
2 Give a serving to seven, and also to eight,
For you do not know what evil will be on the earth.

3 If the clouds are full of rain,
They empty themselves upon the earth;
And if a tree falls to the south or the north,
In the place where the tree falls, there it shall lie.
4 He who observes the wind will not sow,
And he who regards the clouds will not reap.

5 As you do not know what is the way of the wind,[a]
Or how the bones grow in the womb of her who is with child,
So you do not know the works of God who makes everything.
6 In the morning sow your seed,
And in the evening do not withhold your hand;
For you do not know which will prosper,
Either this or that,
Or whether both alike will be good.

7 Truly the light is sweet,
And it is pleasant for the eyes to behold the sun;

8 But if a man lives many years
And rejoices in them all,
Yet let him remember the days of darkness,
For they will be many.
All that is coming is vanity.

Seek God in Early Life

9 Rejoice, O young man, in your youth,
And let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth;
Walk in the ways of your heart,
And in the sight of your eyes;
But know that for all these
God will bring you into judgment.
10 Therefore remove sorrow from your heart,
And put away evil from your flesh,
For childhood and youth are vanity.

Ecclesiastes 12

1 Remember now your Creator in the days of your youth,
Before the difficult days come,
And the years draw near when you say,
“I have no pleasure in them”: Life Is Not Forever
2 While the sun and the light,
The moon and the stars,
Are not darkened,
And the clouds do not return after the rain;
3 In the day when the keepers of the house
tremble,
And the strong men bow down;
When the grinders cease because they are few,
And those that look through the windows
grow dim;
4 When the doors are shut in the streets,
And the sound of grinding is low;
When one rises up at the sound of a bird,
And all the daughters of music are brought
low.
5 Also they are afraid of height,
And of terrors in the way;
When the almond tree blossoms,
The grasshopper is a burden,
And desire fails.
For man goes to his eternal home,
And the mourners go about the streets.

6 Remember your Creator before the silver cord is loosed,[a]

Or the golden bowl is broken,
Or the pitcher shattered at the fountain,
Or the wheel broken at the well.
7 Then the dust will return to the earth as it was,
And the spirit will return to God who gave it.

8 "Vanity of vanities," says the Preacher,
"All is vanity."

The Whole Duty of Man

9 And moreover, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; yes, he pondered and sought out and set in order many proverbs.
10 The Preacher sought to find acceptable words; and what was written was upright—words of truth.
11 The words of the wise are like goads, and the words of scholars[b] are like well-driven nails, given by one Shepherd.
12 And further, my son, be admonished by these. Of making many books there is no end, and much study is wearisome to the flesh.
13 Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter:

Fear God and keep His commandments,
For this is man's all. Only with God
14 For God will bring every work into judgment, Including every secret thing,
Whether good or evil.

There Is Nothing New Under the Sun

Eccl. 1:3–11

Ecclesiastes opens with the statement that all of life is "vanity" (Eccl. 1:2), meaning "emptiness," "worthlessness," or "futility."

Following this gloomy introduction is a reflection on the endless, mind-numbing cycles of life. We work for rewards we cannot enjoy (1:3). One generation dies, and another generation follows (1:4). The sun rises and sets (1:5), the wind blows this way and that (1:6), the rivers empty into the sea again and again, yet it is never full (1:7).

From the viewpoint of the writer, nothing is ever enough; satisfaction is unattainable (1:8). No one learns from history, so we are all condemned to repeat it. Nothing changes. And "there is nothing new under the sun" (1:9–11). Consider in what ways this passage may resonate with you—and what you can do to break free from monotonous cycles in your life:

- Have you broken any sad patterns in what people have been doing for generations? If so, how? And why have you chosen a different path?
- Have you done anything that will last beyond your own life? If you could leave behind any legacy for future generations, what would it be?
- What motivates you to continue your daily patterns at work and home? What motivates you to break patterns?
- What rewards do you seek? Will they last—or will they fade away in a day, a week, or a few years' time? In what ways could you focus more on heavenly treasures than earthly riches?
- A brighter outlook on life is offered in Ecclesiastes 12:13, 14. After reflecting on those verses, can you think of any changes you could make to fulfill your duty in fearing the Lord and keeping His commandments?

Life with and Without God

Eccl. 1:13, 14

One way to begin to approach this enigmatic book is to read it as a contrast between two very different outlooks on life. One acknowledges God. The other does not.

Pursuing a relationship with the Lord is to live "from the hand of God" (Eccl. 2:24), which leads to joy and harmony (2:26; 3:13; 5:19). Failing to honor God, on the other hand, is to live "under the sun" (for example, Eccl. 1:3, 9, 14; 2:11, 17), "on earth" (1:4; 5:2; 8:14), and "under heaven" (1:13). This existence is filled with pain, toil, disillusionment, and sadness.

These contrasting ways of life reflect the experiences of Adam and Eve before and after the Fall. Originally, all of creation was good (Gen. 1:26–31), and man and woman felt no shame (2:24, 25). But after the first couple's rebellion (3:1–7), history was filled with pain and toil (3:8–24), murder (4:1–24), rampant evil (6:5–7), drunkenness, shame, and curses (9:20–27), and worldwide confusion (11:1–9). The world that God had designed for the good of humankind became evil and destructive.

Genesis and Ecclesiastes both emphasize the chasm between what God intended for us and what we actually experience as a result of sin. We cannot escape this fallen world, but we face a daily choice of acknowledging God or going it alone. Some things to remember as we make our choice:

- We are a fragile mixture of the dust of the earth and the life that God has breathed into us (Gen. 2:7; 3:19; Eccl. 12:7).
- We were created to be morally upright but we have a proclivity, as fallen creatures, to be trapped in unhealthy patterns (Gen. 1:26–31; 3:16–19; Eccl. 7:20, 29).
- Our hearts were created to worship and serve God but tend toward being dominated by selfish habits as a result of our separation from Him (Gen. 6:5–7; Eccl. 8:11; 9:3).
- People ensnare each other in sin just as Adam and Eve aided each other's sin in the garden (Gen. 3:6, 12; Eccl. 7:23–29; 2 Tim. 3:6).
- The earth's systems, designed by God to cooperate with people for their benefit, are now are out of balance (Gen. 3:17–19; Eccl. 1:15; 2:11; 5:16, 17).

Ecclesiastes is the account of a man who looked inside himself and honestly recorded what he found there. Ecclesiastes does not detail Solomon's spiritual apostasy. But it is possible that his disillusionment with pleasure and knowledge eventually caused him to hate life (Eccl. 2:1–17) and worship other gods. The kingdom of this great king came to nothing because he abandoned the God who gave him all that he possessed.

In the end, we are called to acknowledge our innermost thoughts, good and bad, to God (12:1–14), who will free us from the vanity of life without Him.

Dreadful Master

Eccl. 2:17

Solomon would have fit right into our world with his dedication to enjoying pleasure, gratifying his urges, expanding his influence, acquiring more possessions, increasing his fame, and getting whatever his heart desired (Eccl. 2:1–10). Solomon achieved the summit of instant gratification. Yet he eventually grieved his life's outcome (2:11, 17–21). His pursuits left him longing for something more.

That "something more" is God. Letting Him guide our lives frees us from self-centered pursuits. He introduces us to something far better: God has designed us to serve Him and other people, not simply look after ourselves. As Moses said and Jesus repeated, loving God and loving others are life's most important commands (Deut. 6:5; Lev. 19:8; Matt. 22:37–39).

If we do nothing more than exalt ourselves, we will become nothing more than slaves to our appetites. We will never find the fulfillment we seek. Pleasure can be a delightful servant—if dedicated to God—but pleasure makes a dreadful master.

Possessed by Possessions

Eccl. 2:26

Solomon devoted his life to acquiring riches. “Whatever my eyes desired I did not keep from them,” he said—yet he concluded that this was nothing but “vanity and grasping for the wind” (Eccl. 2:10, 11). And like Solomon, the sinner of Ecclesiastes 2:26 spent his entire life “gathering and collecting” with nothing to show for his efforts in the end.

Use these questions to assess your material attachments:

1. Do you have possessions you would never consider giving away? Why?
2. Do you use belongings to establish your identity and status among your friends, neighbors, or coworkers?
3. How do you define success? To what extent does income or net worth enter into your definition?
4. How many of your major decisions are calculated predominantly by their financial impact on you and your family?
5. Do you find it easier to buy luxury items than to give money to church, missions, or charity?
6. Do you have friends who are financially poor? If not, why not?
7. How do you measure fulfillment? How do you know when you’re happy?
8. How important is it for you to surpass your parents’ financial achievements?
9. Do you measure your progress in life by whether you will make more this year than last year?
10. How does your financial success impact the poor and needy in your community or far away?

Love and Hatred
Eccl. 3:8

God's people are urged to love their fellow human beings, but Scripture makes clear that there is an appropriate time and object for hatred. There are also people we are to avoid any alliances with. Find out more in "A Time to Hate" at Proverbs 28:16.

A Quiet Handful
Eccl. 4:6

Ecclesiastes 4:6 asserts that wealth is accompanied by trouble while frugality leads to contentment. This reinforces a common lesson of the Bible, which sometimes depicts material wealth as a blessing from God (for example, Deut. 7:1–14; 11:13–15; 28:1–14) but also warns against elevating riches or frugality above more valuable things, including:

- a right relationship with God (Prov. 15:16; Luke 12:13–21),
- love of family (Prov. 15:17),
- righteousness and justice (16:8),
- humility (16:19),
- peace in the home (17:1), and
- personal integrity (28:6).

As we evaluate our lives, let us consider where we might have chosen material prosperity, or vows of poverty, over these greater treasures and contemplate how we might alter our ways to seek the "quiet handful" over "both hands full, together with toil and grasping for the wind".

More: Like Ecclesiastes, the Book of Proverbs frequently sets two alternatives before the reader in order to identify the wisest choice, which is often not the choice the world would have us make. See "Good v. Best" at Prov. 27:5.

The Value of Teamwork

Eccl. 4:9–12

Modern culture often idealizes the self-made, self-reliant individual, whose success seems to be founded on little more than rugged independence and a dash of bravado. But everyone has had help somewhere along the way, and the more we realize the value of sharing our work with others, the greater our achievements will be. The writer of Ecclesiastes recognized this, advocating teamwork for four reasons:

1. Greater productivity. A person working solo rarely accomplishes as much as two people working together (Eccl. 4:9). A team expends far less effort to achieve the same results, and increased efficiency maximizes outcomes.
2. Access to immediate assistance. Sooner or later, everyone stumbles. Failing alone can be devastating, but working with partners creates a buffer against disaster. Mistakes happen less often, and when they do, allies are ready to get their friend back on track (4:10).
3. Human comfort. The world can be a cold place. But companions offer comfort when life is harsh. Even if they say nothing, their presence is reassuring (4:11).
4. Security. The world is dangerous, but there is safety in numbers. Wolves tend to attack solitary sheep, not the entire flock. It makes sense to journey through life in the company of others (4:12).

If we haven't invested recently in solid, lasting friendships, we are missing out on some of the wonderful benefits that God intended for us.

It is not wrong to be independent by nature or to need some time alone in life. But we all need someone to share ourselves with. We are social creatures; that is how God made us.

Growing Together in Marriage
Eccl. 4:11

Sadly, some couples squander their marriage rather than embrace the opportunity for the joys of companionship. Instead of growing closer as God intended (Gen. 2:18, 23, 24; Eccl. 4:11), couples often drift apart and develop entirely separate lives. Instead of enjoying the deepest human relationship possible, neither spouse really knows the other.

Consider these simple ideas for increasing communication, intimacy, and companionship in marriage:

1. Build on a shared interest. Share something as simple as a walk, a sunset, a song, or a memory, and tell your spouse what you like about it. Describe what it means to you. How would you feel if it were taken away? Ask your spouse these same questions and discover together what you have in common.
2. Open the lines of communication. Set aside time every day to converse with your spouse. Let one partner talk as the other listens. Then give the other partner a turn as the first listens. Start with five or ten minutes, and don't let anything interrupt. Devote that time to each other. This can be during meals, in the car, while walking, or during another time.
3. Pray with your spouse. If you feel too far apart to pray together every day, begin by talking together with God once a week. If you are not ready to pray out loud, pray silently side by side.

Pain Strategies

Eccl. 7:29

Today's society has become increasingly consumed with the fantasy that pain, suffering, and disappointment can be totally avoided, and that happiness, pleasure, and self-indulgence are inalienable human rights. But it takes some mental gymnastics to persist in this view, because the human condition inevitably involves pain. And yet we often engage in unhealthy strategies in our race to attain a suffering-free lifestyle:

- Escape. Taking a break from the daily grind is a necessary and important part of life (see "The Human Machine" at Ex. 23:12 and "Take a Break" at Ex. 35:1–3). But by constantly distracting ourselves, we develop a habit of neglecting problems that will only grow larger without our attention. Being busy is not inherently wrong, but God offers a life that is busy with joy (Eccl. 5:20).
- Denial. Refusing to admit the existence of conflict, telling ourselves and others that everything is "just fine," does not make it true. In doing so, we become like the scribes Jeremiah described, who cried "peace, peace" when there was no peace (Jer. 8:11). God gives us peace, but He also uses adversity to build our character (Eccl. 7:14).
- Indifference. Choosing to become callous to other people's pain, aware of their suffering but unmoved by it, actually brings suffering upon us, because it damages our hearts. Our attitude might be, "Life's tough, but so what? There's nothing I can do." But even if we can do very little, God longs for us to show compassion to the oppressed (4:1) and He values small gifts given with a big heart (Mark 12:41–44; Luke 21:1–4).
- Hedonism. Burying our pain under the weight of an extreme pursuit of pleasure, living from one high to the next, leads to an endless cycle of self-destruction. The original pain does not go away but rather is increased by the disappointments of an immoral lifestyle. There is a place for relaxing and feeling good, but the emptiness of constant thrill-seeking and self-worship leads to despair (Eccl. 2:1–11).
- Withdrawal. Avoiding unpleasant realities by turning inward and closing off contact with the outside world cuts relational ties that are vital to all human beings. We are social creatures, and turning inward leads to a lonely and barren existence (4:8).

Most of us can probably relate to one or more of the strategies for avoiding pain listed above. But we need not lose hope when seeing the errors of our ways. The first step in breaking out of these behaviors is to look to God for healing. We can pray, read the Scriptures, and reach out to others who can lend a hand as we learn to let go and trust God in hard times. A full life is one with good moments and bad, happiness and sadness, pleasure and pain.

Life Is Not Forever

Eccl. 12:1–8

Few young people grasp the reality that their lives will not go on forever. Ecclesiastes 12 supplies a portrait of old age, introduced by a caution to "remember now your Creator in the days of your youth." The following description is brutally honest:

- "Difficult days" bring "no pleasure."
- Hands ("keepers of the house") shake and tremble.
- Legs and back ("strong men") bend and stoop.
- Teeth ("grinders") fall out.
- Eyes ("windows") grow dim.
- Hearing ("doors") grows weak.
- Appetite ("grinding") diminishes.
- Insomnia (waking "at the sound of a bird") sets in.
- Voices ("daughters of music") grow feeble and faint.
- Falling becomes a familiar fear.
- Hair turns white like almond blossoms.
- Movement resembles an old grasshopper dragging itself along.
- The will to live begins to fail, and death awaits.

Many elderly people's experiences of growing old are not so bleak, but the writer of Ecclesiastes rightly desires to warn the young to remember God before life concludes. He uses images that convey the arrival of death: a silver cord loosens, a bowl breaks, a pitcher shatters, a wheel ceases to turn, the body returns to the ground (compare Gen. 3:19; Job 34:15), and the spirit goes to God, presumably for judgment (Eccl. 12:7, 14).

This is the fate of every human being. Young or old, our lives grow shorter today. Given that reality, we should actively live for God, because life without Him is meaningless.

Only with God

Eccl. 12:13, 14

The Book of Ecclesiastes shows that apart from God, everything is ultimately "vanity" (Eccl. 1:2).

- Without God, learning leads to cynicism (1:7, 8).
- Without God, greatness leads to sorrow (1:16–18).
- Without God, pleasure leads to disappointment (2:1, 2).
- Without God, labor leads to a hatred of life (2:17).
- Without God, philosophy leads to emptiness (3:1–9).
- Without God, eternity leads to a lack of fulfillment (3:11).
- Without God, life leads to depression (4:2, 3).
- Without God, religion leads to meaninglessness (5:7).
- Without God, wealth leads to trouble (5:12).
- Without God, existence leads to frustration (6:12).
- Without God, wisdom leads to despair (11:1–8).

The beginning of wisdom is the fear of God (Prov. 1:7; Eccl. 12:13), a deep respect for and commitment to God's words and ways. Only godly fear ultimately leads to fulfillment in this world and the next.

The physical, romantic, and sexual dimensions of human love can be pushed to two extremes—sensuality and asceticism. Sensuality turns desire into lust. Asceticism turns purity into sterility.

The alternative, captured here in the Song of Solomon, is to recognize romantic love as a gift from God to celebrate, enjoy, and protect. Here we see healthy romance captured in a poem of passion, intensity, imagery, and anticipation. The Song of Solomon offers a positive ideal to pursue, a portrait of married love that is neither obscene nor ashamed.

The Song of Solomon may strike some as an odd book to include in Scripture, alongside works that deal with the ultimate meaning of life and declare themselves to be the very words of God (2 Tim. 3:16). But truly loving relationships are a foundational element of meaningful life, and of families.

This issue has kept God's followers occupied for centuries, and their conclusions have been determined by their interpretation of the text. Many approach this book as an allegory either of the relationship between God and Israel or between Christ and the church. A related approach is to accept the poem as an earthly love story but regard its characters and events as types that portray higher spiritual meanings.

If we take the Song of Solomon at face value, we find a delightful love poem about the pure and powerful affection between a wedded couple. We could argue that it has earned its place in Scripture because it serves as a reminder of what authentic love looks like. God created us, male and female, and the first couple was "naked . . . and were not ashamed" (Gen. 2:25). It wasn't until after Adam and Eve's disobedience that human sexuality was tainted by shame and the potential for abuse (3:8–13, 21).

The Song of Solomon takes us back to the ideal of love as God intended, celebrating the romantic relationship of Solomon and his bride, called the Shulamite (Song 6:13). The poem is candid about physical love, staunch in its advocacy of commitment, devotion, and personal integrity, and beautiful in its expression of the care and gentleness shown by both members of the union.

The poem is cast in the language of agriculture and nature, with imagery that may at first feel unusual or unfamiliar to modern readers. In addition, readers will find a number of speakers besides Solomon and the bride. The Shulamite refers to a group called the daughters of Jerusalem (for example, Song 1:5; 2:7; 3:5), who likely form a chorus that responds to the main speakers (for example, 1:8; 5:9; 6:1). The bride's brothers also indirectly participate in the conversation (8:8, 9).

The Song of Solomon is not the only passage of Scripture to address love's virtues. First Corinthians 13, often referred to as "the Love Chapter," describes the unfailing love that should fill our lives as Christians. And Ephesians 5:25–33 discusses the love that men should show their wives—the same sacrificial love that Christ has for the church.

This "song of songs" is traditionally attributed to Solomon (Song 1:1), although the phrasing of the verse could also mean that the song was composed for Solomon. The fact that Solomon wrote 1,005 songs (1 Kin. 4:32), however, testifies to his qualifications to write such a masterpiece. If Solomon was indeed the writer, then this poem would have been composed sometime during his reign from 971 to 931 B.C. The Song of Solomon is set in and around the land of Canaan.

[5]I am dark, but lovely,
O daughters of Jerusalem,
Like the tents of Kedar,

6 Do not look upon me, because I am dark,
Because the sun has tanned me.
My mother's sons were angry with me;
They made me the keeper of the vineyards,
But my own vineyard I have not kept.

(To Her Beloved)

7 Tell me, O you whom I love,
Where you feed your flock,
Where you make it rest at noon.
For why should I be as one who veils herself[g]
By the flocks of your companions?

The Beloved

8 If you do not know, O fairest among women,
Follow in the footsteps of the flock,
And feed your little goats
Beside the shepherds' tents.
9 I have compared you, my love,

Behold, you are fair!
You have dove's eyes.

And the lily of the valleys.

The Beloved

[2]Like a lily among thorns,
So is my love among the daughters.

The Shulamite

[3]Like an apple tree among the trees of the woods,
So is my beloved among the sons.
I sat down in his shade with great delight,
And his fruit was sweet to my taste.

The Shulamite to the Daughters of Jerusalem

4He brought me to the banqueting house,
And his banner over me was love.
[5]Sustain me with cakes of raisins,
Refresh me with apples,
For I am lovesick.

[6]His left hand is under my head,
And his right hand embraces me.
[7]I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the gazelles or by the does of the field,
Do not stir up nor awaken love
Until it pleases.

The Beloved's Request

The Shulamite

8The voice of my beloved!

Behold, he comes
Leaping upon the mountains,
Skipping upon the hills.
9 My beloved is like a gazelle or a young stag.
Behold, he stands behind our wall;
He is looking through the windows,
Gazing through the lattice.

10 My beloved spoke, and said to me:
"Rise up, my love, my fair one,
And come away.
11 For lo, the winter is past,
The rain is over and gone.
12 The flowers appear on the earth;
The time of singing has come,
And the voice of the turtledove
Is heard in our land.
13 The fig tree puts forth her green figs,
And the vines with the tender grapes
Give a good smell.
Rise up, my love, my fair one,
And come away!

14 "O my dove, in the clefts of the rock,
In the secret places of the cliff,
Let me see your face,
Let me hear your voice;
For your voice is sweet,
And your face is lovely."

Her Brothers

15 Catch us the foxes,
The little foxes that spoil the vines,
For our vines have tender grapes.

The Shulamite

16 My beloved is mine, and I am his.
He feeds his flock among the lilies.

(To Her Beloved)

17 Until the day breaks
And the shadows flee away,
Turn, my beloved,
And be like a gazelle
Or a young stag
Upon the mountains of Bether.[a]

Song of Solomon 3

A Troubled Night

The Shulamite

1 By night on my bed I sought the one I love;
I sought him, but I did not find him.
2 "I will rise now," I said,
"And go about the city;
In the streets and in the squares
I will seek the one I love."
I sought him, but I did not find him.
3 The watchmen who go about the city found me;
I said,
"Have you seen the one I love?"

4 Scarcely had I passed by them,
When I found the one I love.
I held him and would not let him go,
Until I had brought him to the house of my mother,
And into the chamber of her who conceived me.

5 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the gazelles or by the does of the field,
Do not stir up nor awaken love
Until it pleases. True Love Waits

The Coming of Solomon

The Shulamite

6 Who is this coming out of the wilderness
Like pillars of smoke,

Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
With all the merchant's fragrant powders?
7Behold, it is Solomon's couch,
With sixty valiant men around it,
Of the valiant of Israel.
8They all hold swords,
Being expert in war.
Every man has his sword on his thigh
Because of fear in the night.

9Of the wood of Lebanon
Solomon the King
Made himself a palanquin:[a] 10He made its pillars of silver,
Its support of gold,
Its seat of purple,
Its interior paved with love
By the daughters of Jerusalem.
11Go forth, O daughters of Zion,
And see King Solomon with the crown
With which his mother crowned him
On the day of his wedding,
The day of the gladness of his heart.

Song of Solomon 4

The Bridegroom Praises the Bride

The Beloved

1 Behold, you are fair, my love!
Behold, you are fair!
You have dove's eyes behind your veil.
Your hair is like a flock of goats,
Going down from Mount Gilead.
2 Your teeth are like a flock of shorn sheep
Which have come up from the washing,
Every one of which bears twins,
And none is barren among them.
3 Your lips are like a strand of scarlet,
And your mouth is lovely.
Your temples behind your veil
Are like a piece of pomegranate.
4 Your neck is like the tower of David,
Built for an armory,
On which hang a thousand bucklers,
All shields of mighty men.
5 Your two breasts are like two fawns,
Twins of a gazelle,
Which feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day breaks
And the shadows flee away,
I will go my way to the mountain of myrrh
And to the hill of frankincense.

7 You are all fair, my love,
And there is no spot in you.
8 Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse,

With me from Lebanon.
Look from the top of Amana,
From the top of Senir and Hermon,
From the lions' dens,
From the mountains of the leopards.

9 You have ravished my heart,
My sister, my spouse;
You have ravished my heart
With one look of your eyes,
With one link of your necklace.
10 How fair is your love,
My sister, my spouse!
How much better than wine is your love,
And the scent of your perfumes
Than all spices!
11 Your lips, O my spouse,
Drip as the honeycomb;
Honey and milk are under your tongue;
And the fragrance of your garments
Is like the fragrance of Lebanon.

12 A garden enclosed
Is my sister, my spouse,
A spring shut up,
A fountain sealed.
13 Your plants are an orchard of pomegranates
With pleasant fruits,
Fragrant henna with spikenard,
14 Spikenard and saffron,
Calamus and cinnamon,
With all trees of frankincense,
Myrrh and aloes,
With all the chief spices—

15 A fountain of gardens,
A well of living waters,
And streams from Lebanon.

The Shulamite

16 Awake, O north wind,
And come, O south!
Blow upon my garden,
That its spices may flow out.
Let my beloved come to his garden
And eat its pleasant fruits. North and South Winds

Song of Solomon 5

The Beloved

1 I have come to my garden, my sister, my spouse;
I have gathered my myrrh with my spice;
I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey;
I have drunk my wine with my milk.

(To His Friends)

Eat, O friends!
Drink, yes, drink deeply,
O beloved ones!

The Shulamite's Troubled Evening

The Shulamite

2 I sleep, but my heart is awake;
It is the voice of my beloved!
He knocks, saying,
"Open for me, my sister, my love,
My dove, my perfect one;
For my head is covered with dew,
My locks with the drops of the night."

3 I have taken off my robe;
How can I put it on again?
I have washed my feet;
How can I defile them?
4 My beloved put his hand
By the latch of the door,
And my heart yearned for him.
5 I arose to open for my beloved,
And my hands dripped with myrrh,

My fingers with liquid myrrh,
On the handles of the lock.

6I opened for my beloved,
But my beloved had turned away and was gone.
My heart leaped up when he spoke.
I sought him, but I could not find him;
I called him, but he gave me no answer.
7The watchmen who went about the city found me.
They struck me, they wounded me;
The keepers of the walls
Took my veil away from me.
8I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
If you find my beloved,
That you tell him I am lovesick!

The Daughters of Jerusalem

9What is your beloved
More than another beloved,
O fairest among women?
What is your beloved
More than another beloved,
That you so charge us?

The Shulamite

10My beloved is white and ruddy,
Chief among ten thousand. Celebrate Interracial Marriage
11His head is like the finest gold;
His locks are wavy,
And black as a raven.
12His eyes are like doves
By the rivers of waters,

Washed with milk,
And fitly set.
13His cheeks are like a bed of spices,
Banks of scented herbs.
His lips are lilies,
Dripping liquid myrrh.

14His hands are rods of gold
Set with beryl.
His body is carved ivory
Inlaid with sapphires.
15His legs are pillars of marble
Set on bases of fine gold.
His countenance is like Lebanon,
Excellent as the cedars.
16His mouth is most sweet,
Yes, he is altogether lovely.
This is my beloved,
And this is my friend,
O daughters of Jerusalem!

Song of Solomon 6

The Daughters of Jerusalem

1 Where has your beloved gone,
O fairest among women?
Where has your beloved turned aside,
That we may seek him with you?

The Shulamite

2 My beloved has gone to his garden,
To the beds of spices,
To feed his flock in the gardens,
And to gather lilies.
3 I am my beloved's,
And my beloved is mine.
He feeds his flock among the lilies.

Praise of the Shulamite's Beauty

The Beloved

4 O my love, you are as beautiful as Tirzah,
Lovely as Jerusalem,
Awesome as an army with banners!
5 Turn your eyes away from me,
For they have overcome me.
Your hair is like a flock of goats
Going down from Gilead.
6 Your teeth are like a flock of sheep
Which have come up from the washing;
Every one bears twins,
And none is barren among them.
7 Like a piece of pomegranate
Are your temples behind your veil.

[8]There are sixty queens
And eighty concubines,
And virgins without number.
[9]My dove, my perfect one,
Is the only one,
The only one of her mother,
The favorite of the one who bore her.
The daughters saw her
And called her blessed,
The queens and the concubines,
And they praised her.

[10]Who is she who looks forth as the
morning,
Fair as the moon,
Clear as the sun,
Awesome as an army with banners?

The Shulamite

[11]I went down to the garden of nuts
To see the verdure of the valley,
To see whether the vine had budded
And the pomegranates had bloomed.
[12]Before I was even aware,
My soul had made me
As the chariots of my noble people.[a]

The Beloved and His Friends

[13]Return, return, O Shulamite;
Return, return, that we may look upon you!

The Shulamite

What would you see in the Shulamite—
As it were, the dance of the two camps?[b]

Song of Solomon 7

Expressions of Praise

The Beloved

1 How beautiful are your feet in sandals,
O prince's daughter!
The curves of your thighs are like jewels,
The work of the hands of a skillful workman.
2 Your navel is a rounded goblet;
It lacks no blended beverage.
Your waist is a heap of wheat
Set about with lilies.
3 Your two breasts are like two fawns,
Twins of a gazelle.
4 Your neck is like an ivory tower,
Your eyes like the pools in Heshbon
By the gate of Bath Rabbim.
Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon
Which looks toward Damascus.
5 Your head crowns you like Mount Carmel,
And the hair of your head is like purple;
A king is held captive by your tresses. Treasured

Tresses

6 How fair and how pleasant you are,
O love, with your delights!
7 This stature of yours is like a palm tree,
And your breasts like its clusters.
8 I said, "I will go up to the palm tree,
I will take hold of its branches."
Let now your breasts be like clusters of the vine,

The fragrance of your breath like apples, 9And the roof of your mouth like the best wine.

The Shulamite

The wine goes down smoothly for my beloved,
Moving gently the lips of sleepers.[a]
10I am my beloved's,
And his desire is toward me.

11Come, my beloved,
Let us go forth to the field;
Let us lodge in the villages.
12Let us get up early to the vineyards;
Let us see if the vine has budded,
Whether the grape blossoms are open,
And the pomegranates are in bloom.
There I will give you my love.
13The mandrakes give off a fragrance,
And at our gates are pleasant fruits,
All manner, new and old,
Which I have laid up for you, my beloved.

Song of Solomon 8

[1]Oh, that you were like my brother,
Who nursed at my mother's breasts!
If I should find you outside,
I would kiss you;
I would not be despised.
[2]I would lead you and bring you
Into the house of my mother,
She who used to instruct me.
I would cause you to drink of spiced wine,
Of the juice of my pomegranate.

(To the Daughters of Jerusalem)

[3]His left hand is under my head,
And his right hand embraces me.
[4]I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
Do not stir up nor awaken love
Until it pleases.

Love Renewed in Lebanon

A Relative

5Who is this coming up from the wilderness,
Leaning upon her beloved?

I awakened you under the apple tree.
There your mother brought you forth;
There she who bore you brought you forth.

The Shulamite to Her Beloved

6Set me as a seal upon your heart,
As a seal upon your arm;
For love is as strong as death,

Jealousy as cruel as the grave;[a]
Its flames are flames of fire,
A most vehement flame.[b] Love Is as Strong as Death

7 Many waters cannot quench love,
Nor can the floods drown it.
If a man would give for love
All the wealth of his house,
It would be utterly despised.

The Shulamite's Brothers

8 We have a little sister,
And she has no breasts.
What shall we do for our sister
In the day when she is spoken for?
9 If she is a wall,
We will build upon her
A battlement of silver;
And if she is a door,
We will enclose her
With boards of cedar.

The Shulamite

10 I am a wall,
And my breasts like towers;
Then I became in his eyes
As one who found peace.
11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal Hamon;
He leased the vineyard to keepers;
Everyone was to bring for its fruit
A thousand silver coins.

(To Solomon)

12 My own vineyard is before me.
You, O Solomon, may have a thousand,

And those who tend its fruit two hundred.

The Beloved

13You who dwell in the gardens,
The companions listen for your voice—
Let me hear it!

The Shulamite

14Make haste, my beloved,
And be like a gazelle
Or a young stag
On the mountains of spices.

A Dark and Lovely Bride
Song 1:5, 6

Based on her description of herself as “dark” like the tents of Kedar and “tanned” by the sun, it is possible that the bride in the Song of Solomon was a dark-skinned woman, perhaps of the tribe of Kedar, a nomadic tribe of Ishmaelites that controlled caravan routes between Palestine and Egypt and was said to live in black tents (see “Bent Toward Belligerence” at Ps. 120:5–7). Whatever her background, it is important to take note of the description of her appearance because it indicates that God supports and celebrates healthy marriage regardless of either partner’s ethnicity. His concern is not on outward appearances but on our hearts.

The Fragrance of Love
Song 1:12–14

It has been said that smell is the most emotionally evocative of the senses, and so it is not surprising that the Song of Solomon, like many romantic poems throughout the centuries, includes frequent allusions to sweet-smelling aromas:

- Spikenard (Song 1:12; 4:13, 14), a fragrant, costly oil derived from dried roots and stems of nard, an herb that grows in the Himalayas of Nepal, China, and India. It was used as an ointment or an expensive perfume.
- Myrrh (1:13; 3:6; 4:14; 5:5, 13), an aromatic, resinous extract of a stiff-branched tree with white flowers and plum-like fruit. Myrrh was an ingredient in anointing oil (Ex. 30:23) and perfume (Ps. 45:8; Prov. 7:17), and was used in purification rites for women (Esth. 2:12).

- Henna (Song 1:14; 4:13), a large plant with fragrant flowers often exchanged as a token of friendship. Solomon was known to have henna vineyards at En Gedi. The plants were used to make an orange-red dye used as a cosmetic.
- Cedar (1:17), the aromatic wood of the massive evergreen trees which in Solomon's time covered the hills and mountains of Lebanon (the "fragrance of Lebanon," 4:11). Solomon imported enormous quantities of cedar to build the temple and other projects, including his palace complex, the House of the Forest of Lebanon (1 Kin. 5:1–10; 7:1–8), perhaps the location of the scene described in Song 1:17.
- Frankincense (Song 3:6; 4:6, 14), an aromatic gum resin obtained from the Boswellia tree in tropical regions of Africa and Asia. The highly fragrant substance was used in Israel's religious rites (Ex. 30:7, 34; Lev. 2:1; 24:7) and was considered a symbol of religious fervor. Frankincense was a valuable trade item in the ancient world.
- Saffron (Song 4:14), a product of crocus blooms dried and pressed into cakes. The product was used as a coloring for curries and stews or as a perfume for floors and especially for weddings.
- Calamus (4:14), or sweet flag (as well as many other names), a fragrant, reed-like grass that grows along streams and river banks. The leaves are ginger-flavored when crushed. Calamus is listed as an ingredient of the anointing oil used in Israel's worship (Ex. 30:23).
- Cinnamon (Song 4:14), a product of the cinnamon tree native to Ceylon. The tree's oil was used as a perfume both for secular (Prov. 7:17) and religious (Ex. 30:32) purposes.
- Aloes (Song 4:14), the highly valued wood of the large eaglewood tree native to India. It was made into perfume and incense.
- Apples (2:5; 7:8), or possibly apricots, which may have been imported from groves in the Caucasus region to the north of Canaan.
- Mandrakes (7:13), perennial herbs with dark green leaves and small bluish-purple flowers in winter. The plant's springtime fruit is yellow, fragrant, and sweet. Said to have narcotic qualities, mandrakes were called "love apples" and were possibly used as a love potion (compare Gen. 30:14–16).

True Love Waits

Song 3:5

The Song of Solomon provides a crucial foundational principle for healthy human sexuality, three times giving the exhortation: “Do not stir up nor awaken love until it pleases” (Song 2:7; 3:5; 8:4).

It is perilous to awaken passion outside of a loving marriage bond. Like all good things, sex can be incredibly destructive in the wrong situation, and the only proper situation for something as powerful as sex is the one human relationship that is strong enough not to be shattered by it—and instead is enriched by it. That relationship is a loving marriage, a lifelong bond between two people who grow together emotionally and spiritually as well as physically.

Scripture encourages all who are unmarried to let sex wait until marriage. Sex is a jewel that must await the right setting.

The Bible’s instruction for Christians is clear—to remain abstinent until marriage. However, it is also important to remember that Christ offers compassion and healing for those who make mistakes but repent and seek His help (1 John 1:9, 10).

Furthermore, believers have been charged to help one another overcome sexual misconduct through accountability, forgiveness, and support. Read Matthew 18:15–35, Galatians 6:1–5, and 1 Thessalonians 4:3–8.

More: To learn more about Scripture’s perspective on the nature of love, see “Manage Your Passion” at Gen. 34:2; “Love Is as Strong as Death” at Song 8:6; and “A Lifestyle of Love” at 1 Cor. 13:1–13.

North and South Winds

Song 4:16

Song of Solomon 4:16 describes a beautiful and intimate scene of physical union between the king and his bride. The north wind was the coldest of the region, while the south wind was the gentlest. The bride urges these two winds to blow upon her as upon a fragrant "garden" (compare Song 4:12), revealing her charms in a way that will invite her husband to enter the garden and revel in its "pleasant fruits."

Celebrate Interracial Marriage
Song 5:10

The marriage celebrated in the Song of Solomon appears to have been a match between two members of different ethnic groups. The groom, presumably Solomon, is described as "white and ruddy" (Song 5:10), while the bride is "dark" like the black tents of Kedar (Song 1:5; see also "A Dark and Lovely Bride" at Song 1:5, 6).

Marriages across ethnic and racial lines were not uncommon in the ancient world (for example, Num. 12:1; Ruth 1:4; 1 Kin. 11:1), and the Bible never condemns or prohibits interracial unions. The ancient Israelites were forbidden to marry Canaanites, Ammonites, or Moabites (Deut. 7:1–4; 23:3), but these prohibitions were not based on ethnicity but on religious, moral, and political considerations.

God created all the diverse peoples of the earth. Differences in background and appearance that can be hard for some people to accept are a creation of God Himself. And His love extends to all (see "To Every Nation" at Matt. 28:19), so it is unsurprising that His Word includes a celebration of marriage between two people of different ethnicities.

Treasured Tresses
Song 7:5

King Solomon was captivated by his bride's beautiful hair. The simile between his beloved's head and the peak of Mount Carmel does not indicate that her hair was white like snow but rather that her head "crowned" her body just as Mount Carmel crowned northern Canaan. Likewise, the allusion to purple was not a comment on the bride's hair color but a statement of its value. Purple was an expensive dye that signified wealth and royalty. Purple cloth ranked in value with gold and was even used to pay tribute. No one knows the color of the Shulamite's hair, but it was likely dark (see "A Dark and Lovely Bride" at Song 1:5, 6).

Love Is as Strong as Death
Song 8:6

Human history and literature are filled with stories, both tragedies and comedies, about the achievements and failures of people in love. The Bible speaks extensively about the unfathomable power of true, selfless love:

- It can be "better than wine" (Song 1:2).
- It is "as strong as death" (8:6).
- It is greater even than faith or hope (1 Cor. 13:13).
- It is the root of evil when its object is money (1 Tim. 6:10).
- It "covers all sins" (Prov. 10:12).
- Perfect love "casts out fear" (1 John 4:18).
- The love of Christ "passes knowledge" (Eph. 3:19).
- It is the only debt we should owe each other (Rom. 13:8).
- It "does not envy" (1 Cor. 13:4).
- It makes believers capable of blessing those who curse them and doing good to those who hate or hurt them (Matt. 5:44).

- It is the essence of the commandments of God (Rom. 13:9; Gal. 5:14; James 2:8).
- Its absence is evidence that one does not know God (1 John 4:8, 12, 20).
- It empowers people to give their lives for someone else, just as Christ did (John 15:13–17; Eph. 5:25–28).

God is the source of love. Sinful human beings twist and abuse it and even confuse it with passion and lust. But God wants to help us rediscover love so that we restore and heal ourselves and everyone around us. This is one of the most basic tenets of the message of Christ.

Spoken during the days of Israel and Judah's divided monarchy, Isaiah's prophecies lay out God's intentions far into the future and across the globe. The prophet begins in the here-and-now with an evaluation of God's people, who are found far from the ideals set forth in the Law. Isaiah warns the Israelites that God will send judgment to purify His people until they are purged of sin. The Lord warns Isaiah, however, that the people will reject the prophet's words (Is. 6:10). Isaiah anticipates long years of the Lord disciplining His people, but one day His promises would revive the nation. The latter portions of the Book of Isaiah gaze ahead to a time when God will send a Messiah. This Servant will suffer for Israel—and for the whole world—and will one day usher in a reign of peace and righteousness.

The Book of Isaiah has been called the "fifth Gospel" because of its emphasis on the person and work of this Messiah, identified in the New Testament as Jesus Christ. Isaiah has also been likened to a miniature version of the Bible because the book seems to divide naturally into two major sections, chapters 1–39 and chapters 40–66, corresponding to the thirty-nine books of the Old Testament and the twenty-seven books of the New Testament. Isaiah 1–39 dwell on humanity's failures, while Isaiah 40–66 emphasize the hope of the coming Messiah.

The literary style of Isaiah alternates between prophecy expressed in poetic verse and historical narrative. The content can be challenging; the language is lofty, and the book's images are sometimes difficult to understand. Nevertheless, Isaiah is quoted more often in the New Testament than any other Old Testament writer, and his work has inspired countless artists and musicians throughout history.

From earliest times, tradition has held that the prophet Isaiah wrote the book that bears his name. Some now suggest that chapters 40–66 were produced by a second author writing in the tradition of Isaiah. Yet it is revealing that the oldest manuscripts we possess contain all sixty-six chapters of the text in a complete, unbroken progression.

Isaiah was probably born during the reign of King Uzziah (or Azariah, 767–740 B.C.) to a family related to the royal house. He received his call as a prophet in the year of Uzziah's death (6:1), and his work probably continued into the reign of Manasseh (686–642 B.C.). Isaiah's ministry extended for some forty years. To learn more about the prophet Isaiah, see his profile and "The Life and Times of Isaiah" at Isaiah 1:1.

Isaiah probably lived in Jerusalem, but his prophecies addressed lands throughout the Middle East and, in looking forward to the Messiah, indeed address all the earth.

Key Verses in Isaiah

- "They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore" (Is. 2:4).
- "I heard the voice of the Lord, saying: 'Whom shall I send, and who will go for Us?' Then I said, 'Here am I! Send me' " (Is. 6:8).
- "For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government will be upon His shoulder. And His name will be called Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace" (Is. 9:6).

- "The Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces" (Is. 25:8).
- "Those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint" (Is. 40:31).
- "Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you, yes, I will help you, I will uphold you with My righteous right hand" (Is. 41:10).
- "All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned, every one, to his own way; and the LORD has laid on Him the iniquity of us all" (Is. 53:6).

The Prophets: A Timeline

Beginning with Moses, God began to communicate His word to the Israelites through prophets. Prophetic activity appears to have conspicuously increased following the division of the kingdom into Judah and Israel (c. 925 B.C.). During the ninth century B.C., Elijah and Elisha arose as prominent spokesmen for the Lord. In the eighth century B.C., Isaiah became the first of a series of prophets whose detailed messages are recorded in the Old Testament. This timeline shows the approximate dates of several of these prophets' lifetimes or prophetic activity.

Isaiah 1

[1]The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah. Isaiah The Life and Times of Isaiah

The Wickedness of Judah

2Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth!
For the LORD has spoken:
"I have nourished and brought up children,
And they have rebelled against Me;
[3]The ox knows its owner
And the donkey its master's crib;
But Israel does not know,
My people do not consider."

[4]Alas, sinful nation,
A people laden with iniquity,
A brood of evildoers,
Children who are corrupters!
They have forsaken the LORD,
They have provoked to anger
The Holy One of Israel,
They have turned away backward.

5Why should you be stricken again?
You will revolt more and more.
The whole head is sick,
And the whole heart faints.
[6]From the sole of the foot even to the head,
There is no soundness in it,

But wounds and bruises and putrefying sores;
They have not been closed or bound up,
Or soothed with ointment.

7 Your country is desolate,
Your cities are burned with fire;
Strangers devour your land in your
presence;
And it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers. Burned by Sin
8 So the daughter of Zion is left as a booth in a vineyard,
As a hut in a garden of cucumbers,
As a besieged city.
9 Unless the LORD of hosts
Had left to us a very small remnant,
We would have become like Sodom,
We would have been made like Gomorrah.

10 Hear the word of the LORD,
You rulers of Sodom;
Give ear to the law of our God,
You people of Gomorrah:
11 "To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices to Me?"
Says the LORD.
"I have had enough of burnt offerings of rams
And the fat of fed cattle.
I do not delight in the blood of bulls,
Or of lambs or goats.

12 "When you come to appear before Me,
Who has required this from your hand,

To trample My courts?
13 Bring no more futile sacrifices;
Incense is an abomination to Me.
The New Moons, the Sabbaths, and the calling of assemblies—
I cannot endure iniquity and the sacred meeting. New Moon Feasts and Folly
14 Your New Moons and your appointed feasts
My soul hates;
They are a trouble to Me,
I am weary of bearing them.
15 When you spread out your hands,
I will hide My eyes from you;
Even though you make many prayers,
I will not hear.
Your hands are full of blood.

16 "Wash yourselves, make yourselves clean;
Put away the evil of your doings from before My eyes.
Cease to do evil,
17 Learn to do good;
Seek justice,
Rebuke the oppressor;[a]
Defend the fatherless,
Plead for the widow.

18 "Come now, and let us reason together,"
Says the LORD,
"Though your sins are like scarlet,
They shall be as white as snow;
Though they are red like crimson,
They shall be as wool.
19 If you are willing and obedient,

You shall eat the good of the land;
20But if you refuse and rebel,
You shall be devoured by the sword”;
For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.

The Degenerate City

21How the faithful city has become a harlot!
It was full of justice;
Righteousness lodged in it,
But now murderers. Isaiah the Urban Prophet
22Your silver has become dross,
Your wine mixed with water. Dross and Watered-Down Wine
23Your princes are rebellious,
And companions of thieves;
Everyone loves bribes,
And follows after rewards.
They do not defend the fatherless,
Nor does the cause of the widow come before them.

24Therefore the Lord says,
The LORD of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel,
“Ah, I will rid Myself of My adversaries,
And take vengeance on My enemies.
25I will turn My hand against you,
And thoroughly purge away your dross,
And take away all your alloy.
26I will restore your judges as at the first,
And your counselors as at the beginning.
Afterward you shall be called the city of righteousness, the faithful city.”

27Zion shall be redeemed with justice,

And her penitents with righteousness.
28 The destruction of transgressors and of sinners shall be together,
And those who forsake the LORD shall be consumed.
29 For they[b] shall be ashamed of the terebinth trees
Which you have desired;
And you shall be embarrassed because of the gardens
Which you have chosen.
30 For you shall be as a terebinth whose leaf fades,
And as a garden that has no water.
31 The strong shall be as tinder,
And the work of it as a spark;
Both will burn together,
And no one shall quench them.

Isaiah 2

The Future House of God

1 The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Now it shall come to pass in the latter days
That the mountain of the LORD's house
Shall be established on the top of the mountains,
And shall be exalted above the hills;
And all nations shall flow to it.
3 Many people shall come and say,
"Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
To the house of the God of Jacob;
He will teach us His ways,
And we shall walk in His paths."
For out of Zion shall go forth the law,
And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.
4 He shall judge between the nations,
And rebuke many people;
They shall beat their swords into plowshares,
And their spears into pruning hooks;
Nation shall not lift up sword against nation,
Neither shall they learn war anymore.

The Day of the LORD

5 O house of Jacob, come and let us walk
In the light of the LORD.

6For You have forsaken Your people, the house of Jacob,
Because they are filled with eastern ways;
They are soothsayers like the Philistines,
And they are pleased with the children of foreigners.
7Their land is also full of silver and gold,
And there is no end to their treasures;
Their land is also full of horses,
And there is no end to their chariots.
8Their land is also full of idols;
They worship the work of their own hands,
That which their own fingers have made.
9People bow down,
And each man humbles himself;
Therefore do not forgive them.

10Enter into the rock, and hide in the dust,
From the terror of the LORD
And the glory of His majesty.
11The lofty looks of man shall be humbled,
The haughtiness of men shall be bowed
down,
And the LORD alone shall be exalted in that
day.

12For the day of the LORD of hosts
Shall come upon everything proud and lofty,
Upon everything lifted up—
And it shall be brought low—13Upon all the cedars of Lebanon that are high and lifted up,
And upon all the oaks of Bashan;
14Upon all the high mountains,
And upon all the hills that are lifted up;

15 Upon every high tower,
And upon every fortified wall;
16 Upon all the ships of Tarshish,
And upon all the beautiful sloops.
17 The loftiness of man shall be bowed down,
And the haughtiness of men shall be brought low;
The LORD alone will be exalted in that day,
18 But the idols He shall utterly abolish.

19 They shall go into the holes of the rocks,
And into the caves of the earth,
From the terror of the LORD
And the glory of His majesty,
When He arises to shake the earth mightily.

20 In that day a man will cast away his idols of silver
And his idols of gold,
Which they made, each for himself to worship,
To the moles and bats,
21 To go into the clefts of the rocks,
And into the crags of the rugged rocks,
From the terror of the LORD
And the glory of His majesty,
When He arises to shake the earth mightily.

22 Sever yourselves from such a man,
Whose breath is in his nostrils;
For of what account is he?

Isaiah 3

Judgment on Judah and Jerusalem

1 For behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, Takes away from Jerusalem and from Judah
The stock and the store,
The whole supply of bread and the whole supply of water; A Lack of Leadership Leads to Public Crisis
2 The mighty man and the man of war,
The judge and the prophet,
And the diviner and the elder;
3 The captain of fifty and the honorable man,
The counselor and the skillful artisan,
And the expert enchanter.

4 "I will give children to be their princes,
And babes shall rule over them.
5 The people will be oppressed,
Every one by another and every one by his neighbor;
The child will be insolent toward the elder,
And the base toward the honorable."

6 When a man takes hold of his brother
In the house of his father, saying,
"You have clothing;
You be our ruler,
And let these ruins be under your power,"[a] 7 In that day he will protest, saying,
"I cannot cure your ills,
For in my house is neither food nor clothing;
Do not make me a ruler of the people."

8For Jerusalem stumbled,
And Judah is fallen,
Because their tongue and their doings
Are against the LORD,
To provoke the eyes of His glory.
9The look on their countenance witnesses
against them,
And they declare their sin as Sodom;
They do not hide it.
Woe to their soul!
For they have brought evil upon themselves.

10"Say to the righteous that it shall be well with them,
For they shall eat the fruit of their doings.
11Woe to the wicked! It shall be ill with him,
For the reward of his hands shall be given
him.
12*As for* My people, children are their oppressors,
And women rule over them.
O My people! Those who lead you cause you
to err,
And destroy the way of your paths."

Oppression and Luxury Condemned

13The LORD stands up to plead,
And stands to judge the people.
14The LORD will enter into judgment
With the elders of His people
And His princes:
"For you have eaten up the vineyard;
The plunder of the poor is in your houses.
15What do you mean by crushing My people

And grinding the faces of the poor?”
Says the Lord GOD of hosts.

16Moreover the LORD says:

“Because the daughters of Zion are haughty,
And walk with outstretched necks
And wanton eyes,
Walking and mincing as they go,
Making a jingling with their feet, A Light at the End of the Tunnel
17Therefore the Lord will strike with a scab
The crown of the head of the daughters of Zion,
And the LORD will uncover their secret parts.”

18In that day the Lord will take away the finery:
The jingling anklets, the scarves, and the crescents;
19The pendants, the bracelets, and the veils;
20The headdresses, the leg ornaments, and the headbands;
The perfume boxes, the charms,
21and the rings;
The nose jewels,
22the festal apparel, and the mantles;
The outer garments, the purses,
23and the mirrors;
The fine linen, the turbans, and the robes.

24And so it shall be:

Instead of a sweet smell there will be a stench;
Instead of a sash, a rope;
Instead of well-set hair, baldness;
Instead of a rich robe, a girding of sackcloth;
And branding instead of beauty.
25 Your men shall fall by the sword,
And your mighty in the war.

26 Her gates shall lament and mourn,
And she being desolate shall sit on the ground.

Isaiah 4

[1]And in that day seven women shall take hold of one man, saying,
"We will eat our own food and wear our own apparel;
Only let us be called by your name,
To take away our reproach."

The Renewal of Zion

2In that day the Branch of the LORD shall be beautiful and glorious;
And the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and appealing
For those of Israel who have escaped.

[3]And it shall come to pass that he who is left in Zion and remains in Jerusalem will be called holy—everyone who is recorded among the living in Jerusalem.

[4]When the Lord has washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and purged the blood of Jerusalem from her midst, by the spirit of judgment and by the spirit of burning,

[5]then the LORD will create above every dwelling place of Mount Zion, and above her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day and the shining of a flaming fire by night. For over all the glory there will be a covering.

[6]And there will be a tabernacle for shade in the daytime from the heat, for a place of refuge, and for a shelter from storm and rain.

Isaiah 5

God's Disappointing Vineyard

1 Now let me sing to my Well-beloved
A song of my Beloved regarding His vineyard:

My Well-beloved has a vineyard
On a very fruitful hill.
2 He dug it up and cleared out its stones,
And planted it with the choicest vine.
He built a tower in its midst,
And also made a winepress in it;
So He expected it to bring forth good grapes,
But it brought forth wild grapes.

3 "And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah,
Judge, please, between Me and My vineyard.
4 What more could have been done to My vineyard
That I have not done in it?
Why then, when I expected it to bring forth good grapes,
Did it bring forth wild grapes?
5 And now, please let Me tell you what I will do to My vineyard:
I will take away its hedge, and it shall be burned;
And break down its wall, and it shall be trampled down.
6 I will lay it waste;

It shall not be pruned or dug,
But there shall come up briers and thorns.
I will also command the clouds
That they rain no rain on it.”

7For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel,
And the men of Judah are His pleasant plant.
He looked for justice, but behold,
oppression;
For righteousness, but behold, a cry for help.

Impending Judgment on Excesses

8Woe to those who join house to house;
They add field to field,
Till there is no place
Where they may dwell alone in the midst of the land! The Dangers of Some Success
9In my hearing the LORD of hosts said,
“Truly, many houses shall be desolate,
Great and beautiful ones, without inhabitant.
10For ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath,
And a homer of seed shall yield one ephah.”

11Woe to those who rise early in the
morning,
That they may follow intoxicating drink;
Who continue until night, till wine inflames
them!
12The harp and the strings,
The tambourine and flute,
And wine are in their feasts;
But they do not regard the work of the
LORD,

Nor consider the operation of His hands.

13Therefore my people have gone into captivity,
Because they have no knowledge;
Their honorable men are famished,
And their multitude dried up with thirst.
14Therefore Sheol has enlarged itself
And opened its mouth beyond measure;
Their glory and their multitude and their pomp,
And he who is jubilant, shall descend into it.
15People shall be brought down,
Each man shall be humbled,
And the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled.
16But the LORD of hosts shall be exalted in
judgment,
And God who is holy shall be hallowed in
righteousness.
17Then the lambs shall feed in their pasture,
And in the waste places of the fat ones strangers shall eat.

18Woe to those who draw iniquity with cords of vanity,
And sin as if with a cart rope;
19That say, “Let Him make speed and hasten
His work,
That we may see it;
And let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come,
That we may know it.”

20Woe to those who call evil good, and good
evil;

Who put darkness for light, and light for
darkness;
Who put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

21Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes,
And prudent in their own sight!

22Woe to men mighty at drinking wine,
Woe to men valiant for mixing intoxicating
drink,
23Who justify the wicked for a bribe,
And take away justice from the righteous
man!

24Therefore, as the fire devours the stubble,
And the flame consumes the chaff,
So their root will be as rottenness,
And their blossom will ascend like dust;
Because they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts,
And despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.
25Therefore the anger of the LORD is aroused against His people;
He has stretched out His hand against them
And stricken them,
And the hills trembled.
Their carcasses were as refuse in the midst of the streets.

For all this His anger is not turned away,
But His hand is stretched out still.

26He will lift up a banner to the nations from afar,
And will whistle to them from the end of the
earth;
Surely they shall come with speed, swiftly.
27No one will be weary or stumble among
them,
No one will slumber or sleep;
Nor will the belt on their loins be loosed,
Nor the strap of their sandals be broken;
28Whose arrows are sharp,
And all their bows bent;
Their horses' hooves will seem like flint,
And their wheels like a whirlwind.
29Their roaring will be like a lion,
They will roar like young lions;
Yes, they will roar
And lay hold of the prey;
They will carry it away safely,
And no one will deliver.
30In that day they will roar against them
Like the roaring of the sea.
And if one looks to the land,
Behold, darkness and sorrow;
And the light is darkened by the clouds.

Isaiah 6

Isaiah Called to Be a Prophet

1 In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lifted up, and the train of His robe filled the temple. The Leper King
2 Above it stood seraphim; each one had six wings: with two he covered his face, with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew.
3 And one cried to another and said:

> "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts;
> The whole earth is full of His glory!" An Earth Full of Glory

4 And the posts of the door were shaken by the voice of him who cried out, and the house was filled with smoke.
5 So I said:

> "Woe is me, for I am undone!
> Because I am a man of unclean lips,
> And I dwell in the midst of a people of > unclean lips;
> For my eyes have seen the King,
> The LORD of hosts."

6 Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having in his hand a live coal which he had taken with the tongs from the altar.
7 And he touched my mouth with it, and said:

> "Behold, this has touched your lips;
> Your iniquity is taken away,

And your sin purged.”

8Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying:

“Whom shall I send,
And who will go for Us?”

Then I said, “Here am I! Send me.” Finding Direction
9And He said, “Go, and tell this people:

‘Keep on hearing, but do not understand;
Keep on seeing, but do not perceive.’

10“Make the heart of this people dull,
And their ears heavy,
And shut their eyes;
Lest they see with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their heart,
And return and be healed.”

11Then I said, “Lord, how long?” And He answered:

“Until the cities are laid waste and without inhabitant,
The houses are without a man,
The land is utterly desolate,
12The LORD has removed men far away,
And the forsaken places are many in the midst of the land.
13But yet a tenth will be in it,
And will return and be for consuming,
As a terebinth tree or as an oak,
Whose stump remains when it is cut down.
So the holy seed shall be its stump.”

Isaiah 7

Isaiah Sent to King Ahaz

1 Now it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to make war against it, but could not prevail against it.
2 And it was told to the house of David, saying, "Syria's forces are deployed in Ephraim." So his heart and the heart of his people were moved as the trees of the woods are moved with the wind. Seeing the Big Picture
3 Then the LORD said to Isaiah, "Go out now to meet Ahaz, you and Shear-Jashub[a] your son, at the end of the aqueduct from the upper pool, on the highway to the Fuller's Field,
4 "and say to him: 'Take heed, and be quiet; do not fear or be fainthearted for these two stubs of smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and the son of Remaliah.
5 'Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah have plotted evil against you, saying, 6 "Let us go up against Judah and trouble it, and let us make a gap in its wall for ourselves, and set a king over them, the son of Tabel"—
7 'thus says the Lord GOD:

"It shall not stand,
Nor shall it come to pass.
8 For the head of Syria is Damascus,
And the head of Damascus is Rezin.
Within sixty-five years Ephraim will be broken,

So that it will not be a people.
9The head of Ephraim is Samaria,
And the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son.
If you will not believe,
Surely you shall not be established." ' "

The Immanuel Prophecy

10Moreover the LORD spoke again to Ahaz, saying,
11"Ask a sign for yourself from the LORD your God; ask it either in the depth or in the height above."
12But Ahaz said, "I will not ask, nor will I test the LORD!"
13Then he said, "Hear now, O house of David! Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will you weary my God also?
14"Therefore the Lord Himself will give you a sign: Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a Son, and shall call His name Immanuel.[b]
15"Curds and honey He shall eat, that He may know to refuse the evil and choose the good.
16"For before the Child shall know to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land that you dread will be forsaken by both her kings.
17"The LORD will bring the king of Assyria upon you and your people and your father's house—days that have not come since the day that Ephraim departed from Judah."

18And it shall come to pass in that day
That the LORD will whistle for the fly
That is in the farthest part of the rivers of Egypt,
And for the bee that is in the land of Assyria.
19They will come, and all of them will rest
In the desolate valleys and in the clefts of the rocks,

And on all thorns and in all pastures.

20 In the same day the Lord will shave with a hired razor,
With those from beyond the River,[c] with the king of Assyria,
The head and the hair of the legs,
And will also remove the beard.

21 It shall be in that day
That a man will keep alive a young cow and two sheep;
22 So it shall be, from the abundance of milk they give,
That he will eat curds;
For curds and honey everyone will eat who is left in the land.

23 It shall happen in that day,
That wherever there could be a thousand vines
Worth a thousand shekels of silver,
It will be for briers and thorns.
24 With arrows and bows men will come
there,
Because all the land will become briers and thorns.

25 And to any hill which could be dug with the hoe,
You will not go there for fear of briers and
thorns;
But it will become a range for oxen
And a place for sheep to roam.

Isaiah 8

Assyria Will Invade the Land

1 Moreover the LORD said to me, “Take a large scroll, and write on it with a man’s pen concerning Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz.[a]
2 “And I will take for Myself faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.”
3 Then I went to the prophetess, and she conceived and bore a son. Then the LORD said to me, “Call his name Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz;
4 “for before the child shall have knowledge to cry ‘My father’ and ‘My mother,’ the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria will be taken away before the king of Assyria.”
5 The LORD also spoke to me again, saying:

6 “Inasmuch as these people refused
The waters of Shiloah that flow softly,
And rejoice in Rezin and in Remaliah’s son;
7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord brings up over them
The waters of the River,[b] strong and mighty
The king of Assyria and all his glory;
He will go up over all his channels
And go over all his banks.
8 He will pass through Judah,
He will overflow and pass over,
He will reach up to the neck;
And the stretching out of his wings
Will fill the breadth of Your land, O
Immanuel.[c]

9“Be shattered, O you peoples, and be broken in pieces!
Give ear, all you from far countries.
Gird yourselves, but be broken in pieces;
Gird yourselves, but be broken in pieces.
10Take counsel together, but it will come to nothing;
Speak the word, but it will not stand,
For God is with us.”[d]

Fear God, Heed His Word

11For the LORD spoke thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying:

12“Do not say, ‘A conspiracy,’ Concerning all that this people call a conspiracy,
Nor be afraid of their threats, nor be troubled.
13The LORD of hosts, Him you shall hallow;
Let Him be your fear,
And let Him be your dread.
14He will be as a sanctuary,
But a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense
To both the houses of Israel,
As a trap and a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
15And many among them shall stumble;
They shall fall and be broken,
Be snared and taken.”

16Bind up the testimony,

Seal the law among my disciples. Watch Out for Bad Advice

17 And I will wait on the LORD,
Who hides His face from the house of Jacob;
And I will hope in Him.
18 Here am I and the children whom the LORD has given me!
We are for signs and wonders in Israel
From the LORD of hosts,
Who dwells in Mount Zion.

19 And when they say to you, “Seek those who are mediums and wizards, who whisper and mutter,” should not a people seek their God? Should they seek the dead on behalf of the living?

20 To the law and to the testimony! If they do not speak according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.

21 They will pass through it hard-pressed and hungry; and it shall happen, when they are hungry, that they will be enraged and curse their king and their God, and look upward.

22 Then they will look to the earth, and see trouble and darkness, gloom of anguish; and they will be driven into darkness.

Isaiah 9

The Government of the Promised Son

1 Nevertheless the gloom will not be upon her who is distressed,
As when at first He lightly esteemed
The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,
And afterward more heavily oppressed her,
By the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan,
In Galilee of the Gentiles.
2 The people who walked in darkness
Have seen a great light;
Those who dwelt in the land of the shadow
of death,
Upon them a light has shined.

3 You have multiplied the nation
And increased its joy;[a]
They rejoice before You
According to the joy of harvest,
As men rejoice when they divide the spoil.
4 For You have broken the yoke of his burden
And the staff of his shoulder,
The rod of his oppressor,
As in the day of Midian.
5 For every warrior's sandal from the noisy
battle,
And garments rolled in blood,
Will be used for burning and fuel of fire.

6 For unto us a Child is born,
Unto us a Son is given;

And the government will be upon His shoulder.
And His name will be called Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God,
Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.
7 Of the increase of His government and peace
There will be no end,
Upon the throne of David and over His
kingdom,
To order it and establish it with judgment and justice
From that time forward, even forever.
The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.

The Punishment of Samaria

8 The Lord sent a word against Jacob,
And it has fallen on Israel. Swallowed by Pride
9 All the people will know—
Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria—
Who say in pride and arrogance of heart:
10 "The bricks have fallen down,
But we will rebuild with hewn stones;
The sycamores are cut down,
But we will replace them with cedars."
11 Therefore the LORD shall set up
The adversaries of Rezin against him,
And spur his enemies on,
12 The Syrians before and the Philistines behind;
And they shall devour Israel with an open
mouth.

For all this His anger is not turned away,

But His hand is stretched out still. The Force of God's Wrath

13For the people do not turn to Him who strikes them,
Nor do they seek the LORD of hosts.
14Therefore the LORD will cut off head and tail from Israel,
Palm branch and bulrush in one day.
15The elder and honorable, he is the head;
The prophet who teaches lies, he is the tail.
16For the leaders of this people cause them
to err,
And those who are led by them are destroyed.
17Therefore the Lord will have no joy in their young men,
Nor have mercy on their fatherless and widows;
For everyone is a hypocrite and an evildoer,
And every mouth speaks folly.

For all this His anger is not turned away,
But His hand is stretched out still.

18For wickedness burns as the fire;
It shall devour the briers and thorns,
And kindle in the thickets of the forest;
They shall mount up like rising smoke.
19Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts
The land is burned up,
And the people shall be as fuel for the fire;
No man shall spare his brother.
20And he shall snatch on the right hand
And be hungry;

He shall devour on the left hand
And not be satisfied;
Every man shall eat the flesh of his own arm.
21 Manasseh shall devour Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasseh;
Together they shall be against Judah.

For all this His anger is not turned away,
But His hand is stretched out still.

Isaiah 10

1 “Woe to those who decree unrighteous decrees,
Who write misfortune,
Which they have prescribed Institutionalized Injustice
2 To rob the needy of justice,
And to take what is right from the poor of
My people,
That widows may be their prey,
And that they may rob the fatherless.
3 What will you do in the day of punishment,
And in the desolation which will come from afar?
To whom will you flee for help?
And where will you leave your glory?
4 Without Me they shall bow down among the prisoners,
And they shall fall among the slain.”

For all this His anger is not turned away,
But His hand is stretched out still.

Arrogant Assyria Also Judged

5 “Woe to Assyria, the rod of My anger
And the staff in whose hand is My indignation.
6 I will send him against an ungodly nation,
And against the people of My wrath
I will give him charge,
To seize the spoil, to take the prey,
And to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

7 Yet he does not mean so,
Nor does his heart think so;
But it is in his heart to destroy,
And cut off not a few nations.
8 For he says,
‘Are not my princes altogether kings?
9 Is not Calno like Carchemish?
Is not Hamath like Arpad?
Is not Samaria like Damascus?
10 As my hand has found the kingdoms of the idols,
Whose carved images excelled those of Jerusalem and Samaria,
11 As I have done to Samaria and her idols, Shall I not do also to Jerusalem and her idols?’ ”

12 Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Lord has performed all His work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, that He will say, “I will punish the fruit of the arrogant heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his haughty looks.”
13 For he says:

“By the strength of my hand I have done it,
And by my wisdom, for I am prudent;
Also I have removed the boundaries of the people,
And have robbed their treasuries;
So I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man.
14 My hand has found like a nest the riches of the people,
And as one gathers eggs that are left,
I have gathered all the earth;

And there was no one who moved his wing,
Nor opened his mouth with even a peep.”

15Shall the ax boast itself against him who chops with it?
Or shall the saw exalt itself against him who saws with it?
As if a rod could wield itself against those who lift it up,
Or as if a staff could lift up, as if it were not
wood!
16Therefore the Lord, the Lord[a] of hosts,
Will send leanness among his fat ones;
And under his glory
He will kindle a burning
Like the burning of a fire.
17So the Light of Israel will be for a fire,
And his Holy One for a flame;
It will burn and devour
His thorns and his briers in one day.
18And it will consume the glory of his forest and of his fruitful field,
Both soul and body;
And they will be as when a sick man wastes
away.
19Then the rest of the trees of his forest
Will be so few in number
That a child may write them. The Ruin of the Land

The Returning Remnant of Israel

20And it shall come to pass in that day
That the remnant of Israel,
And such as have escaped of the house of Jacob,

Will never again depend on him who defeated them,
But will depend on the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.
21The remnant will return, the remnant of Jacob,
To the Mighty God.
22For though your people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea,
A remnant of them will return;
The destruction decreed shall overflow with
righteousness.
23For the Lord GOD of hosts
Will make a determined end
In the midst of all the land.

24Therefore thus says the Lord GOD of hosts: “O My people, who dwell in Zion, do not be afraid of the Assyrian. He shall strike you with a rod and lift up his staff against you, in the manner of Egypt.
25“For yet a very little while and the indignation will cease, as will My anger in their destruction.”
26And the LORD of hosts will stir up a scourge for him like the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb; as His rod was on the sea, so will He lift it up in the manner of Egypt.

27It shall come to pass in that day
That his burden will be taken away from your shoulder,
And his yoke from your neck,
And the yoke will be destroyed because of the anointing oil.

28He has come to Aiath,
He has passed Migron;

At Michmash he has attended to his equipment.
29They have gone along the ridge,
They have taken up lodging at Geba.
Ramah is afraid,
Gibeah of Saul has fled.
30Lift up your voice,
O daughter of Gallim!
Cause it to be heard as far as Laish—
O poor Anathoth![b]
31Madmenah has fled,
The inhabitants of Gebim seek refuge.
32As yet he will remain at Nob that day;
He will shake his fist at the mount of the daughter of Zion,
The hill of Jerusalem.

33Behold, the Lord,
The LORD of hosts,
Will lop off the bough with terror;
Those of high stature will be hewn down,
And the haughty will be humbled.
34He will cut down the thickets of the forest with iron,
And Lebanon will fall by the Mighty One.

Isaiah 11

The Reign of Jesse's Offspring

1 There shall come forth a Rod from the stem of Jesse,
And a Branch shall grow out of his roots. The Peaceable Kingdom
2 The Spirit of the LORD shall rest upon Him,
The Spirit of wisdom and understanding,
The Spirit of counsel and might,
The Spirit of knowledge and of the fear of
the LORD.

3 His delight is in the fear of the LORD,
And He shall not judge by the sight of His
eyes,
Nor decide by the hearing of His ears;
4 But with righteousness He shall judge the poor,
And decide with equity for the meek of the
earth;
He shall strike the earth with the rod of His
mouth,
And with the breath of His lips He shall slay
the wicked.
5 Righteousness shall be the belt of His loins,
And faithfulness the belt of His waist.

6 "The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb,
The leopard shall lie down with the young goat,
The calf and the young lion and the fatling
together;

And a little child shall lead them.
7The cow and the bear shall graze;
Their young ones shall lie down together;
And the lion shall eat straw like the ox.
8The nursing child shall play by the cobra's hole,
And the weaned child shall put his hand in the viper's den.
9They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain,
For the earth shall be full of the knowledge
of the LORD
As the waters cover the sea.

10"And in that day there shall be a Root of Jesse,
Who shall stand as a banner to the people;
For the Gentiles shall seek Him,
And His resting place shall be glorious." The Root of Jesse

11It shall come to pass in that day
That the Lord shall set His hand again the second time
To recover the remnant of His people who are left,
From Assyria and Egypt,
From Pathros and Cush,
From Elam and Shinar,
From Hamath and the islands of the sea.

12He will set up a banner for the nations,
And will assemble the outcasts of Israel,
And gather together the dispersed of Judah
From the four corners of the earth.

13 Also the envy of Ephraim shall depart,
And the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off;
Ephraim shall not envy Judah,
And Judah shall not harass Ephraim.
14 But they shall fly down upon the shoulder of the Philistines toward the west;
Together they shall plunder the people of the East;
They shall lay their hand on Edom and Moab;
And the people of Ammon shall obey them.
15 The LORD will utterly destroy[a] the tongue of the Sea of Egypt;
With His mighty wind He will shake His fist
over the River,[b]
And strike it in the seven streams,
And make men cross over dry-shod.
16 There will be a highway for the remnant of
His people
Who will be left from Assyria,
As it was for Israel
In the day that he came up from the land of Egypt.

Isaiah 12

A Hymn of Praise

1 And in that day you will say:

"O LORD, I will praise You;
Though You were angry with me,
Your anger is turned away, and You comfort me.
2 Behold, God is my salvation,
I will trust and not be afraid;
'For YAH, the LORD, is my strength and song;
He also has become my salvation.' "[a]

3 Therefore with joy you will draw water
From the wells of salvation.

4 And in that day you will say:

"Praise the LORD, call upon His name;
Declare His deeds among the peoples,
Make mention that His name is exalted.
5 Sing to the LORD,
For He has done excellent things;
This is known in all the earth.
6 Cry out and shout, O inhabitant of Zion,
For great is the Holy One of Israel in your midst!"

Isaiah 13

Proclamation Against Babylon

1 The burden against Babylon which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw.

2 “Lift up a banner on the high mountain,
Raise your voice to them;
Wave your hand, that they may enter the gates of the nobles.
3 I have commanded My sanctified ones;
I have also called My mighty ones for My anger—
Those who rejoice in My exaltation.”

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains,
Like that of many people!
A tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together!
The LORD of hosts musters
The army for battle.
5 They come from a far country,
From the end of heaven—
The LORD and His weapons of indignation,
To destroy the whole land.

6 Wail, for the day of the LORD is at hand!
It will come as destruction from the Almighty.
7 Therefore all hands will be limp,
Every man’s heart will melt,
8 And they will be afraid.
Pangs and sorrows will take hold of them;

They will be in pain as a woman in childbirth;
They will be amazed at one another;
Their faces will be like flames.

9 Behold, the day of the LORD comes,
Cruel, with both wrath and fierce anger,
To lay the land desolate;
And He will destroy its sinners from it.
10 For the stars of heaven and their constellations
Will not give their light;
The sun will be darkened in its going forth,
And the moon will not cause its light to shine.

11 "I will punish the world for its evil,
And the wicked for their iniquity;
I will halt the arrogance of the proud,
And will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.
12 I will make a mortal more rare than fine
gold,
A man more than the golden wedge of Ophir.
13 Therefore I will shake the heavens,
And the earth will move out of her place,
In the wrath of the LORD of hosts
And in the day of His fierce anger.
14 It shall be as the hunted gazelle,
And as a sheep that no man takes up;
Every man will turn to his own people,
And everyone will flee to his own land.
15 Everyone who is found will be thrust through,

And everyone who is captured will fall by the sword.
16 Their children also will be dashed to pieces before their eyes;
Their houses will be plundered
And their wives ravished.

17 "Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them,
Who will not regard silver;
And as for gold, they will not delight in it.
18 Also their bows will dash the young men to pieces,
And they will have no pity on the fruit of the womb;
Their eye will not spare children.
19 And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms,
The beauty of the Chaldeans' pride,
Will be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.
20 It will never be inhabited,
Nor will it be settled from generation to generation;
Nor will the Arabian pitch tents there,
Nor will the shepherds make their sheepfolds there.
21 But wild beasts of the desert will lie there,
And their houses will be full of owls;
Ostriches will dwell there,
And wild goats will caper there.
22 The hyenas will howl in their citadels,
And jackals in their pleasant palaces.
Her time is near to come,
And her days will not be prolonged."

Isaiah 14

Mercy on Jacob

1For the LORD will have mercy on Jacob, and will still choose Israel, and settle them in their own land. The strangers will be joined with them, and they will cling to the house of Jacob.
2Then people will take them and bring them to their place, and the house of Israel will possess them for servants and maids in the land of the LORD; they will take them captive whose captives they were, and rule over their oppressors.

Fall of the King of Babylon

3It shall come to pass in the day the LORD gives you rest from your sorrow, and from your fear and the hard bondage in which you were made to serve, 4that you will take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say:

"How the oppressor has ceased,
The golden[a] city ceased!
5The LORD has broken the staff of the
wicked,
The scepter of the rulers;
6He who struck the people in wrath with a continual stroke,
He who ruled the nations in anger,
Is persecuted and no one hinders.
7The whole earth is at rest and quiet;
They break forth into singing.
8Indeed the cypress trees rejoice over you,

And the cedars of Lebanon,
Saying, ‘Since you were cut down,
No woodsman has come up against us.’

9“Hell from beneath is excited about you,
To meet you at your coming;
It stirs up the dead for you,
All the chief ones of the earth;
It has raised up from their thrones
All the kings of the nations.
10They all shall speak and say to you:
‘Have you also become as weak as we?
Have you become like us?
11Your pomp is brought down to Sheol,
And the sound of your stringed instruments;
The maggot is spread under you,
And worms cover you.’

The Fall of Lucifer

12“How you are fallen from heaven,
O Lucifer,[b] son of the morning!
How you are cut down to the ground,
You who weakened the nations!
13For you have said in your heart:
‘I will ascend into heaven,
I will exalt my throne above the stars of God;
I will also sit on the mount of the congregation
On the farthest sides of the north;
14I will ascend above the heights of the clouds,
I will be like the Most High.’
15Yet you shall be brought down to Sheol,
To the lowest depths of the Pit.

16 “Those who see you will gaze at you,
And consider you, saying:
‘Is this the man who made the earth tremble,
Who shook kingdoms,
17 Who made the world as a wilderness
And destroyed its cities,
Who did not open the house of his prisoners?’

18 “All the kings of the nations,
All of them, sleep in glory,
Everyone in his own house;
19 But you are cast out of your grave
Like an abominable branch,
Like the garment of those who are slain,
Thrust through with a sword,
Who go down to the stones of the pit,
Like a corpse trodden underfoot.
20 You will not be joined with them in burial,
Because you have destroyed your land
And slain your people.
The brood of evildoers shall never be named.
21 Prepare slaughter for his children
Because of the iniquity of their fathers,
Lest they rise up and possess the land,
And fill the face of the world with cities.”

Babylon Destroyed

22 “For I will rise up against them,” says the LORD of hosts,
“And cut off from Babylon the name and remnant,
And offspring and posterity,” says the LORD.

23 “I will also make it a possession for the porcupine,
And marshes of muddy water;
I will sweep it with the broom of destruction,” says the LORD of hosts.

Assyria Destroyed

24 The LORD of hosts has sworn, saying, “Surely, as I have thought, so it shall come to pass,
And as I have purposed, so it shall stand:
25 That I will break the Assyrian in My land,
And on My mountains tread him underfoot.
Then his yoke shall be removed from them,
And his burden removed from their shoulders.
26 This is the purpose that is purposed against the whole earth,
And this is the hand that is stretched out over all the nations.
27 For the LORD of hosts has purposed,
And who will annul it?
His hand is stretched out,
And who will turn it back?”

Philistia Destroyed

28 This is the burden which came in the year that King Ahaz died.

29 “Do not rejoice, all you of Philistia,
Because the rod that struck you is broken;
For out of the serpent’s roots will come forth
a viper,

And its offspring will be a fiery flying serpent.
30 The firstborn of the poor will feed,
And the needy will lie down in safety;
I will kill your roots with famine,
And it will slay your remnant.
31 Wail, O gate! Cry, O city!
All you of Philistia are dissolved;
For smoke will come from the north,
And no one will be alone in his appointed times.”

32 What will they answer the messengers of the nation?
That the LORD has founded Zion,
And the poor of His people shall take refuge in it.

Isaiah 15

Proclamation Against Moab

1 The burden against Moab.

Because in the night Ar of Moab is laid waste
And destroyed,
Because in the night Kir of Moab is laid waste
And destroyed,
2 He has gone up to the temple[a] and Dibon,
To the high places to weep.
Moab will wail over Nebo and over Medeba;
On all their heads will be baldness,
And every beard cut off.
3 In their streets they will clothe themselves with sackcloth;
On the tops of their houses
And in their streets
Everyone will wail, weeping bitterly.
4 Heshbon and Elealeh will cry out,
Their voice shall be heard as far as Jahaz;
Therefore the armed soldiers[b] of Moab will cry out;
His life will be burdensome to him.

5 "My heart will cry out for Moab;
His fugitives shall flee to Zoar,
Like a three-year-old heifer.[c]
For by the Ascent of Luhith
They will go up with weeping;
For in the way of Horonaim

They will raise up a cry of destruction,
6For the waters of Nimrim will be desolate,
For the green grass has withered away;
The grass fails, there is nothing green.
7Therefore the abundance they have gained,
And what they have laid up,
They will carry away to the Brook of the Willows.
8For the cry has gone all around the borders of Moab,
Its wailing to Eglaim
And its wailing to Beer Elim.
9For the waters of Dimon[d] will be full of blood;
Because I will bring more upon Dimon,[e]
Lions upon him who escapes from Moab,
And on the remnant of the land.”

Isaiah 16

Moab Destroyed

1 Send the lamb to the ruler of the land,
From Sela to the wilderness,
To the mount of the daughter of Zion.
2 For it shall be as a wandering bird thrown out of the nest;
So shall be the daughters of Moab at the fords of the Arnon.

3 "Take counsel, execute judgment;
Make your shadow like the night in the middle of the day;
Hide the outcasts,
Do not betray him who escapes.
4 Let My outcasts dwell with you, O Moab;
Be a shelter to them from the face of the spoiler.
For the extortioner is at an end,
Devastation ceases,
The oppressors are consumed out of the
land.
5 In mercy the throne will be established;
And One will sit on it in truth, in the tabernacle of David,
Judging and seeking justice and hastening
righteousness."

6 We have heard of the pride of Moab—
He is very proud—
Of his haughtiness and his pride and his
wrath;

But his lies shall not be so.
7Therefore Moab shall wail for Moab;
Everyone shall wail.
For the foundations of Kir Hareseth you shall mourn;
Surely they are stricken.

8For the fields of Heshbon languish,
And the vine of Sibmah;
The lords of the nations have broken down
its choice plants,
Which have reached to Jazer
And wandered through the wilderness.
Her branches are stretched out,
They are gone over the sea.
9Therefore I will bewail the vine of Sibmah,
With the weeping of Jazer;
I will drench you with my tears,
O Heshbon and Elealeh;
For battle cries have fallen
Over your summer fruits and your harvest.

10Gladness is taken away,
And joy from the plentiful field;
In the vineyards there will be no singing,
Nor will there be shouting;
No treaders will tread out wine in the presses;
I have made their shouting cease.
11Therefore my heart shall resound like a harp for Moab,
And my inner being for Kir Heres.

12And it shall come to pass,

When it is seen that Moab is weary on the high place,
That he will come to his sanctuary to pray;
But he will not prevail.

13This is the word which the LORD has spoken concerning Moab since that time.

14But now the LORD has spoken, saying, “Within three years, as the years of a hired man, the glory of Moab will be despised with all that great multitude, and the remnant will be very small and feeble.”

Isaiah 17

Proclamation Against Syria and Israel

1 The burden against Damascus.

"Behold, Damascus will cease from being a city,
And it will be a ruinous heap.
2 The cities of Aroer are forsaken;[a]
They will be for flocks
Which lie down, and no one will make them afraid.
3 The fortress also will cease from Ephraim,
The kingdom from Damascus,
And the remnant of Syria;
They will be as the glory of the children of Israel,"
Says the LORD of hosts.

4 "In that day it shall come to pass
That the glory of Jacob will wane,
And the fatness of his flesh grow lean.
5 It shall be as when the harvester gathers the grain,
And reaps the heads with his arm;
It shall be as he who gathers heads of grain
In the Valley of Rephaim.
6 Yet gleaning grapes will be left in it,
Like the shaking of an olive tree,
Two or three olives at the top of the uppermost bough,
Four or five in its most fruitful branches,"
Says the LORD God of Israel.

7In that day a man will look to his Maker,
And his eyes will have respect for the Holy
One of Israel.
8He will not look to the altars,
The work of his hands;
He will not respect what his fingers have made,
Nor the wooden images[b] nor the incense altars.

9In that day his strong cities will be as a forsaken bough[c]
And an uppermost branch,[d]
Which they left because of the children of Israel;
And there will be desolation.

10Because you have forgotten the God of your salvation,
And have not been mindful of the Rock of your stronghold,
Therefore you will plant pleasant plants
And set out foreign seedlings; 11In the day you will make your plant to grow,
And in the morning you will make your seed
to flourish;
But the harvest will be a heap of ruins
In the day of grief and desperate sorrow.

12Woe to the multitude of many people
Who make a noise like the roar of the seas,
And to the rushing of nations
That make a rushing like the rushing of mighty waters!

13 The nations will rush like the rushing of many waters;
But God will rebuke them and they will flee
far away,
And be chased like the chaff of the mountains before the wind,
Like a rolling thing before the whirlwind.
14 Then behold, at eventide, trouble!
And before the morning, he is no more.
This is the portion of those who plunder us,
And the lot of those who rob us.

Isaiah 18

Proclamation Against Ethiopia

1 Woe to the land shadowed with buzzing wings,
Which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia,
2 Which sends ambassadors by sea,
Even in vessels of reed on the waters, saying,
"Go, swift messengers, to a nation tall and smooth of skin,
To a people terrible from their beginning onward,
A nation powerful and treading down,
Whose land the rivers divide."

3 All inhabitants of the world and dwellers on the earth:
When he lifts up a banner on the mountains, you see it;
And when he blows a trumpet, you hear it.
4 For so the LORD said to me,
"I will take My rest,
And I will look from My dwelling place
Like clear heat in sunshine,
Like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest."
5 For before the harvest, when the bud is perfect
And the sour grape is ripening in the flower,
He will both cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks
And take away and cut down the branches.

6They will be left together for the mountain birds of prey
And for the beasts of the earth;
The birds of prey will summer on them,
And all the beasts of the earth will winter on
them.

7In that time a present will be brought to the LORD of hosts
From[a] a people tall and smooth of skin,
And from a people terrible from their beginning onward,
A nation powerful and treading down,
Whose land the rivers divide—
To the place of the name of the LORD of hosts,
To Mount Zion.

Isaiah 19

Proclamation Against Egypt

1 The burden against Egypt.

Behold, the LORD rides on a swift cloud,
And will come into Egypt;
The idols of Egypt will totter at His presence,
And the heart of Egypt will melt in its midst.

2 "I will set Egyptians against Egyptians;
Everyone will fight against his brother,
And everyone against his neighbor,
City against city, kingdom against kingdom.
3 The spirit of Egypt will fail in its midst;
I will destroy their counsel,
And they will consult the idols and the charmers,
The mediums and the sorcerers.
4 And the Egyptians I will give
Into the hand of a cruel master,
And a fierce king will rule over them,"
Says the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

5 The waters will fail from the sea,
And the river will be wasted and dried up.
6 The rivers will turn foul;
The brooks of defense will be emptied and dried up;
The reeds and rushes will wither.
7 The papyrus reeds by the River,[a] by the mouth of the River,

And everything sown by the River,
Will wither, be driven away, and be no more.
8The fishermen also will mourn;
All those will lament who cast hooks into the River,
And they will languish who spread nets on the waters.
9Moreover those who work in fine flax
And those who weave fine fabric will be ashamed;
10And its foundations will be broken.
All who make wages will be troubled of soul.

11Surely the princes of Zoan are fools;
Pharaoh's wise counselors give foolish counsel.
How do you say to Pharaoh, "I am the son of the wise,
The son of ancient kings?"
12Where are they?
Where are your wise men?
Let them tell you now,
And let them know what the LORD of hosts has purposed against Egypt.
13The princes of Zoan have become fools;
The princes of Noph[b] are deceived;
They have also deluded Egypt,
Those who are the mainstay of its tribes.
14The LORD has mingled a perverse spirit in her midst;
And they have caused Egypt to err in all her work,
As a drunken man staggers in his vomit.
15Neither will there be any work for Egypt,
Which the head or tail,

Palm branch or bulrush, may do.[c]

16In that day Egypt will be like women, and will be afraid and fear because of the waving of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which He waves over it.
17And the land of Judah will be a terror to Egypt;
everyone who makes mention of it will be afraid in himself, because of the counsel of the LORD of hosts which He has determined against it.

Egypt, Assyria, and Israel Blessed

18In that day five cities in the land of Egypt will speak the language of Canaan and swear by the LORD of hosts;
one will be called the City of Destruction.[d] 19In that day there will be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar to the LORD at its border.
20And it will be for a sign and for a witness to the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt; for they will cry to the LORD because of the oppressors, and He will send them a Savior and a Mighty One, and He will deliver them.
21Then the LORD will be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians will know the LORD in that day, and will make sacrifice and offering; yes, they will make a vow to the LORD and perform it.
22And the LORD will strike Egypt, He will strike and heal it; they will return to the LORD, and He will be entreated by them and heal them.
23In that day there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian will come into Egypt and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians will serve with the Assyrians. A Spiritual Highway
24In that day Israel will be one of three with Egypt and Assyria—a blessing in the midst of the land,

[25]whom the LORD of hosts shall bless, saying, “Blessed is Egypt My people, and Assyria the work of My hands, and Israel My inheritance.”

Isaiah 20

The Sign Against Egypt and Ethiopia

1 In the year that Tartan[a] came to Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it,
2 at the same time the LORD spoke by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, “Go, and remove the sackcloth from your body, and take your sandals off your feet.” And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.
3 Then the LORD said, “Just as My servant Isaiah has walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and a wonder against Egypt and Ethiopia, 4 “so shall the king of Assyria lead away the Egyptians as prisoners and the Ethiopians as captives, young and old, naked and barefoot, with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.
5 “Then they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation and Egypt their glory.
6 “And the inhabitant of this territory will say in that day, ‘Surely such is our expectation, wherever we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria; and how shall we escape?’ ”

Isaiah 21

The Fall of Babylon Proclaimed

[1]The burden against the Wilderness of the Sea.

As whirlwinds in the South pass through,
So it comes from the desert, from a terrible land.
[2]A distressing vision is declared to me;
The treacherous dealer deals treacherously,
And the plunderer plunders.
Go up, O Elam!
Besiege, O Media!
All its sighing I have made to cease.

[3]Therefore my loins are filled with pain;
Pangs have taken hold of me, like the pangs of a woman in labor.
I was distressed when I heard it;
I was dismayed when I saw it.
[4]My heart wavered, fearfulness frightened me;
The night for which I longed He turned into fear for me.
[5]Prepare the table,
Set a watchman in the tower,
Eat and drink.
Arise, you princes,
Anoint the shield!

6For thus has the Lord said to me:
“Go, set a watchman,
Let him declare what he sees.”

7 And he saw a chariot with a pair of horsemen,
A chariot of donkeys, and a chariot of camels,
And he listened earnestly with great care.
8 Then he cried, “A lion,[a] my Lord!
I stand continually on the watchtower in the daytime;
I have sat at my post every night.
9 And look, here comes a chariot of men with a pair of horsemen!”
Then he answered and said,
“Babylon is fallen, is fallen!
And all the carved images of her gods
He has broken to the ground.”

10 Oh, my threshing and the grain of my floor!
That which I have heard from the LORD of hosts,
The God of Israel,
I have declared to you.

Proclamation Against Edom

11 The burden against Dumah.

He calls to me out of Seir,
“Watchman, what of the night?
Watchman, what of the night?”
12 The watchman said,
“The morning comes, and also the night.
If you will inquire, inquire;
Return! Come back!”

Proclamation Against Arabia

13The burden against Arabia.

In the forest in Arabia you will lodge,
O you traveling companies of Dedanites.
14O inhabitants of the land of Tema,
Bring water to him who is thirsty;
With their bread they met him who fled.
15For they fled from the swords, from the drawn sword,
From the bent bow, and from the distress of war.

16For thus the LORD has said to me: “Within a year, according to the year of a hired man, all the glory of Kedar will fail;
17“and the remainder of the number of archers, the mighty men of the people of Kedar, will be diminished; for the LORD God of Israel has spoken it.”

Isaiah 22

Proclamation Against Jerusalem

1 The burden against the Valley of Vision.

What ails you now, that you have all gone up to the housetops,
2 You who are full of noise,
A tumultuous city, a joyous city?
Your slain men are not slain with the sword,
Nor dead in battle.
3 All your rulers have fled together;
They are captured by the archers.
All who are found in you are bound together;
They have fled from afar.
4 Therefore I said, “Look away from me,
I will weep bitterly;
Do not labor to comfort me
Because of the plundering of the daughter of
my people.”

5 For it is a day of trouble and treading down and perplexity
By the Lord GOD of hosts
In the Valley of Vision—
Breaking down the walls
And of crying to the mountain.
6 Elam bore the quiver
With chariots of men and horsemen,
And Kir uncovered the shield.
7 It shall come to pass that your choicest valleys
Shall be full of chariots,

And the horsemen shall set themselves in array at the gate.

8He removed the protection of Judah.
You looked in that day to the armor of the House of the Forest;
9You also saw the damage to the city of David,
That it was great;
And you gathered together the waters of the lower pool.
10You numbered the houses of Jerusalem,
And the houses you broke down
To fortify the wall.
11You also made a reservoir between the two walls
For the water of the old pool.
But you did not look to its Maker, Nor did you have respect for Him who fashioned it long ago.

12And in that day the Lord GOD of hosts
Called for weeping and for mourning,
For baldness and for girding with sackcloth.

Making Merry Instead of Mourning

13But instead, joy and gladness,
Slaying oxen and killing sheep,
Eating meat and drinking wine:
“Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!”

14Then it was revealed in my hearing by the LORD of hosts,
“Surely for this iniquity there will be no atonement for you,

Even to your death," says the Lord GOD of hosts.

The Judgment on Shebna

15 Thus says the Lord GOD of hosts:

"Go, proceed to this steward,
To Shebna, who is over the house, and say:

God Humbles the Proud

16 'What have you here, and whom have you here,
That you have hewn a sepulcher here,
As he who hews himself a sepulcher on high,
Who carves a tomb for himself in a rock?
17 Indeed, the LORD will throw you away violently,
O mighty man,
And will surely seize you.
18 He will surely turn violently and toss you like a ball
Into a large country;
There you shall die, and there your glorious chariots
Shall be the shame of your master's house.
19 So I will drive you out of your office,
And from your position he will pull you down.[a]

20 'Then it shall be in that day,
That I will call My servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah;
21 I will clothe him with your robe
And strengthen him with your belt;
I will commit your responsibility into his hand.

He shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem
And to the house of Judah.
22 The key of the house of David
I will lay on his shoulder;
So he shall open, and no one shall shut;
And he shall shut, and no one shall open.
23 I will fasten him as a peg in a secure place,
And he will become a glorious throne to his father's house.

24 'They will hang on him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the posterity, all vessels of small quantity, from the cups to all the pitchers.

25 'In that day,' says the LORD of hosts, 'the peg that is fastened in the secure place will be removed and be cut down and fall, and the burden that was on it will be cut off; for the LORD has spoken.' "

Isaiah 23

Proclamation Against Tyre

1 The burden against Tyre.

Wail, you ships of Tarshish!
For it is laid waste,
So that there is no house, no harbor;
From the land of Cyprus[a] it is revealed to them.

2 Be still, you inhabitants of the coastland,
You merchants of Sidon,
Whom those who cross the sea have filled.[b]
3 And on great waters the grain of Shihor,
The harvest of the River,[c] is her revenue;
And she is a marketplace for the nations.

4 Be ashamed, O Sidon;
For the sea has spoken,
The strength of the sea, saying,
"I do not labor, nor bring forth children;
Neither do I rear young men,
Nor bring up virgins."
5 When the report reaches Egypt,
They also will be in agony at the report of Tyre.

6 Cross over to Tarshish;
Wail, you inhabitants of the coastland!
7 Is this your joyous city,
Whose antiquity is from ancient days,
Whose feet carried her far off to dwell?

8Who has taken this counsel against Tyre,
the crowning city,
Whose merchants are princes, Whose traders are the honorable of the
earth?
9The LORD of hosts has purposed it,
To bring to dishonor the pride of all glory,
To bring into contempt all the honorable of
the earth.

10Overflow through your land like the River,[d]
O daughter of Tarshish;
There is no more strength.
11He stretched out His hand over the sea,
He shook the kingdoms;
The LORD has given a commandment against Canaan
To destroy its strongholds.
12And He said, “You will rejoice no more,
O you oppressed virgin daughter of Sidon.
Arise, cross over to Cyprus;
There also you will have no rest.”

13Behold, the land of the Chaldeans,
This people which was not;
Assyria founded it for wild beasts of the desert.
They set up its towers,
They raised up its palaces,
And brought it to ruin.

14Wail, you ships of Tarshish!
For your strength is laid waste.

15Now it shall come to pass in that day that Tyre will be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king. At the end of seventy years it will happen to Tyre as in the song of the harlot:

> 16“Take a harp, go about the city,
> You forgotten harlot;
> Make sweet melody, sing many songs,
> That you may be remembered.”

17And it shall be, at the end of seventy years, that the LORD will deal with Tyre. She will return to her hire, and commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world on the face of the earth.

18Her gain and her pay will be set apart for the LORD; it will not be treasured nor laid up, for her gain will be for those who dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for fine clothing.

Isaiah 24

Impending Judgment on the Earth

1 Behold, the LORD makes the earth empty and makes it waste,
Distorts its surface
And scatters abroad its inhabitants. The Wasteland
2 And it shall be:
As with the people, so with the priest;
As with the servant, so with his master;
As with the maid, so with her mistress;
As with the buyer, so with the seller;
As with the lender, so with the borrower;
As with the creditor, so with the debtor.
3 The land shall be entirely emptied and utterly plundered,
For the LORD has spoken this word.

4 The earth mourns and fades away,
The world languishes and fades away;
The haughty people of the earth languish.
5 The earth is also defiled under its inhabitants,
Because they have transgressed the laws,
Changed the ordinance,
Broken the everlasting covenant.
6 Therefore the curse has devoured the
earth,
And those who dwell in it are desolate.
Therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned,
And few men are left.

7The new wine fails, the vine languishes,
All the merry-hearted sigh.
8The mirth of the tambourine ceases,
The noise of the jubilant ends,
The joy of the harp ceases.
9They shall not drink wine with a song;
Strong drink is bitter to those who drink it.
10The city of confusion is broken down;
Every house is shut up, so that none may go in.
11 There is a cry for wine in the streets,
All joy is darkened,
The mirth of the land is gone.
12In the city desolation is left,
And the gate is stricken with destruction.
13When it shall be thus in the midst of the land among the people,
It shall be like the shaking of an olive tree,
Like the gleaning of grapes when the vintage is done.

14They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing;
For the majesty of the LORD
They shall cry aloud from the sea.
15Therefore glorify the LORD in the dawning light,
The name of the LORD God of Israel in the coastlands of the sea.
16From the ends of the earth we have heard songs:
“Glory to the righteous!”
But I said, “I am ruined, ruined!
Woe to me!

The treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously,
Indeed, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.”

17 Fear and the pit and the snare
Are upon you, O inhabitant of the earth.
18 And it shall be
That he who flees from the noise of the fear
Shall fall into the pit,
And he who comes up from the midst of the pit
Shall be caught in the snare;
For the windows from on high are open,
And the foundations of the earth are shaken.

19 The earth is violently broken,
The earth is split open,
The earth is shaken exceedingly.
20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard,
And shall totter like a hut;
Its transgression shall be heavy upon it,
And it will fall, and not rise again.

21 It shall come to pass in that day
That the LORD will punish on high the host of exalted ones,
And on the earth the kings of the earth.
22 They will be gathered together,
As prisoners are gathered in the pit,
And will be shut up in the prison;
After many days they will be punished.
23 Then the moon will be disgraced
And the sun ashamed;

For the LORD of hosts will reign
On Mount Zion and in Jerusalem
And before His elders, gloriously.

Isaiah 25

Praise to God

1 O LORD, You are my God.
I will exalt You,
I will praise Your name,
For You have done wonderful things;
Your counsels of old are faithfulness and truth.
2 For You have made a city a ruin,
A fortified city a ruin,
A palace of foreigners to be a city no more;
It will never be rebuilt.
3 Therefore the strong people will glorify You;
The city of the terrible nations will fear You.
4 For You have been a strength to the poor,
A strength to the needy in his distress,
A refuge from the storm,
A shade from the heat;
For the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.
5 You will reduce the noise of aliens,
As heat in a dry place;
As heat in the shadow of a cloud,
The song of the terrible ones will be diminished.

6 And in this mountain
The LORD of hosts will make for all people
A feast of choice pieces,
A feast of wines on the lees,
Of fat things full of marrow,

Of well-refined wines on the lees.
7And He will destroy on this mountain
The surface of the covering cast over all
people,
And the veil that is spread over all nations.
8He will swallow up death forever,
And the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces;
The rebuke of His people
He will take away from all the earth;
For the LORD has spoken.

9And it will be said in that day:
"Behold, this is our God;
We have waited for Him, and He will save
us.
This is the LORD;
We have waited for Him;
We will be glad and rejoice in His salvation."

10For on this mountain the hand of the LORD will rest,
And Moab shall be trampled down under
Him,
As straw is trampled down for the refuse heap.
11And He will spread out His hands in their midst
As a swimmer reaches out to swim,
And He will bring down their pride
Together with the trickery of their hands.
12The fortress of the high fort of your walls
He will bring down, lay low,
And bring to the ground, down to the dust.

Isaiah 26

A Song of Salvation

1 In that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah:

"We have a strong city;
God will appoint salvation for walls and bulwarks. Perfection in Its Place
2 Open the gates,
That the righteous nation which keeps the truth may enter in.
3 You will keep him in perfect peace,
Whose mind is stayed on You,
Because he trusts in You.
4 Trust in the LORD forever,
For in YAH, the LORD, is everlasting strength.[a]
5 For He brings down those who dwell on high,
The lofty city;
He lays it low,
He lays it low to the ground,
He brings it down to the dust.
6 The foot shall tread it down—
The feet of the poor
And the steps of the needy."

7 The way of the just is uprightness;
O Most Upright,
You weigh the path of the just.
8 Yes, in the way of Your judgments,
O LORD, we have waited for You;
The desire of our soul is for Your name

And for the remembrance of You.
9 With my soul I have desired You in the night,
Yes, by my spirit within me I will seek You early;
For when Your judgments are in the earth,
The inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

10 Let grace be shown to the wicked,
Yet he will not learn righteousness;
In the land of uprightness he will deal unjustly,
And will not behold the majesty of the LORD.
11 LORD, when Your hand is lifted up, they will not see.
But they will see and be ashamed
For their envy of people;
Yes, the fire of Your enemies shall devour them.

12 LORD, You will establish peace for us,
For You have also done all our works in us.
13 O LORD our God, masters besides You
Have had dominion over us;
But by You only we make mention of Your name.
14 They are dead, they will not live;
They are deceased, they will not rise.
Therefore You have punished and destroyed them,
And made all their memory to perish.
15 You have increased the nation, O LORD,
You have increased the nation;
You are glorified;

You have expanded all the borders of the land.

16 LORD, in trouble they have visited You,
They poured out a prayer when Your chastening was upon them.
17 As a woman with child
Is in pain and cries out in her pangs,
When she draws near the time of her delivery,
So have we been in Your sight, O LORD.
18 We have been with child, we have been in pain;
We have, as it were, brought forth wind;
We have not accomplished any deliverance in the earth,
Nor have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

19 Your dead shall live;
Together with my dead body[b] they shall arise.
Awake and sing, you who dwell in dust;
For your dew is like the dew of herbs,
And the earth shall cast out the dead.

Take Refuge from the Coming Judgment

20 Come, my people, enter your chambers,
And shut your doors behind you;
Hide yourself, as it were, for a little moment,
Until the indignation is past.
21 For behold, the LORD comes out of His place
To punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity;
The earth will also disclose her blood,

And will no more cover her slain.

Isaiah 27

1 In that day the LORD with His severe sword, great and strong,
Will punish Leviathan the fleeing serpent,
Leviathan that twisted serpent;
And He will slay the reptile that is in the sea.

The Restoration of Israel

2 In that day sing to her,
"A vineyard of red wine![a]
3 I, the LORD, keep it,
I water it every moment;
Lest any hurt it,
I keep it night and day.
4 Fury is not in Me.
Who would set briers and thorns
Against Me in battle?
I would go through them,
I would burn them together.
5 Or let him take hold of My strength,
That he may make peace with Me;
And he shall make peace with Me."

6 Those who come He shall cause to take root
in Jacob;
Israel shall blossom and bud,
And fill the face of the world with fruit.

7 Has He struck Israel as He struck those who struck him?
Or has He been slain according to the slaughter of those who were slain by

Him?
8In measure, by sending it away,
You contended with it.
He removes it by His rough wind
In the day of the east wind.
9Therefore by this the iniquity of Jacob will be covered;
And this is all the fruit of taking away his sin:
When he makes all the stones of the altar
Like chalkstones that are beaten to dust,
Wooden images[b] and incense altars shall not stand.

10Yet the fortified city will be desolate,
The habitation forsaken and left like a wilderness;
There the calf will feed, and there it will lie down
And consume its branches.
11When its boughs are withered, they will be broken off;
The women come and set them on fire.
For it is a people of no understanding;
Therefore He who made them will not have mercy on them,
And He who formed them will show them no favor.

12And it shall come to pass in that day
That the LORD will thresh,
From the channel of the River[c] to the Brook of Egypt;
And you will be gathered one by one,
O you children of Israel.

13 So it shall be in that day:
The great trumpet will be blown;
They will come, who are about to perish in the land of Assyria,
And they who are outcasts in the land of Egypt,
And shall worship the LORD in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

Isaiah 28

Woe to Ephraim and Jerusalem

1 Woe to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim,
Whose glorious beauty is a fading flower
Which is at the head of the verdant valleys,
To those who are overcome with wine!
2 Behold, the Lord has a mighty and strong one,
Like a tempest of hail and a destroying storm,
Like a flood of mighty waters overflowing,
Who will bring them down to the earth with His hand.
3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim,
Will be trampled underfoot;
4 And the glorious beauty is a fading flower
Which is at the head of the verdant valley,
Like the first fruit before the summer,
Which an observer sees;
He eats it up while it is still in his hand.

5 In that day the LORD of hosts will be
For a crown of glory and a diadem of beauty
To the remnant of His people, 6 For a spirit of justice to him who sits in
judgment,
And for strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

7 But they also have erred through wine,

And through intoxicating drink are out of the way;
The priest and the prophet have erred through intoxicating drink,
They are swallowed up by wine,
They are out of the way through intoxicating drink;
They err in vision, they stumble in judgment.
8For all tables are full of vomit and filth;
No place is clean.

9"Whom will he teach knowledge?
And whom will he make to understand the message?
Those just weaned from milk?
Those just drawn from the breasts?
10For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept,
Line upon line, line upon line,
Here a little, there a little."

11For with stammering lips and another tongue
He will speak to this people, 12To whom He said, "This is the rest with which You may cause the weary to rest,"
And, "This is the refreshing";
Yet they would not hear.
13But the word of the LORD was to them,
"Precept upon precept, precept upon precept,
Line upon line, line upon line,
Here a little, there a little,"

That they might go and fall backward, and be broken
And snared and caught.

14 Therefore hear the word of the LORD, you scornful men,
Who rule this people who are in Jerusalem,
15 Because you have said, “We have made a covenant with death,
And with Sheol we are in agreement.
When the overflowing scourge passes through,
It will not come to us,
For we have made lies our refuge,
And under falsehood we have hidden ourselves.”

A Cornerstone in Zion

16 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

“Behold, I lay in Zion a stone for a foundation,
A tried stone, a precious cornerstone, a sure foundation;
Whoever believes will not act hastily.
17 Also I will make justice the measuring line,
And righteousness the plummet;
The hail will sweep away the refuge of lies,
And the waters will overflow the hiding place.
18 Your covenant with death will be annulled,
And your agreement with Sheol will not stand;
When the overflowing scourge passes through,

Then you will be trampled down by it.
19As often as it goes out it will take you;
For morning by morning it will pass over,
And by day and by night;
It will be a terror just to understand the report.”

20For the bed is too short to stretch out on,
And the covering so narrow that one cannot wrap himself in it.
21For the LORD will rise up as at Mount Perazim,
He will be angry as in the Valley of Gibeon—
That He may do His work, His awesome work,
And bring to pass His act, His unusual act.
22Now therefore, do not be mockers,
Lest your bonds be made strong;
For I have heard from the Lord GOD of hosts,
A destruction determined even upon the whole earth.

Listen to the Teaching of God

23Give ear and hear my voice,
Listen and hear my speech.
24Does the plowman keep plowing all day to sow?
Does he keep turning his soil and breaking the clods?
25When he has leveled its surface,
Does he not sow the black cummin
And scatter the cummin,
Plant the wheat in rows,

The barley in the appointed place,
And the spelt in its place?
26For He instructs him in right judgment,
His God teaches him.

27For the black cummin is not threshed with a threshing sledge,
Nor is a cartwheel rolled over the cummin;
But the black cummin is beaten out with a stick,
And the cummin with a rod.
28Bread flour must be ground;
Therefore he does not thresh it forever,
Break it with his cartwheel,
Or crush it with his horsemen.
29This also comes from the LORD of hosts,
Who is wonderful in counsel and excellent in guidance.

Isaiah 29

Woe to Jerusalem

1 “Woe to Ariel,[a] to Ariel, the city where David dwelt!
Add year to year;
Let feasts come around.
2 Yet I will distress Ariel;
There shall be heaviness and sorrow,
And it shall be to Me as Ariel.
3 I will encamp against you all around,
I will lay siege against you with a mound,
And I will raise siegeworks against you.
4 You shall be brought down,
You shall speak out of the ground;
Your speech shall be low, out of the dust;
Your voice shall be like a medium’s, out of
the ground;
And your speech shall whisper out of the dust.

5 “Moreover the multitude of your foes
Shall be like fine dust,
And the multitude of the terrible ones
Like chaff that passes away;
Yes, it shall be in an instant, suddenly.
6 You will be punished by the LORD of hosts
With thunder and earthquake and great noise,
With storm and tempest
And the flame of devouring fire.
7 The multitude of all the nations who fight against Ariel,

Even all who fight against her and her
fortress,
And distress her,
Shall be as a dream of a night vision.
8It shall even be as when a hungry man dreams,
And look—he eats;
But he awakes, and his soul is still empty;
Or as when a thirsty man dreams,
And look—he drinks;
But he awakes, and indeed he is faint,
And his soul still craves:
So the multitude of all the nations shall be,
Who fight against Mount Zion.”

The Blindness of Disobedience

9Pause and wonder!
Blind yourselves and be blind!
They are drunk, but not with wine;
They stagger, but not with intoxicating
drink.
10For the LORD has poured out on you
The spirit of deep sleep,
And has closed your eyes, namely, the prophets;
And He has covered your heads, namely, the seers.

11The whole vision has become to you like the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one who is literate, saying, “Read this, please.” And he says, “I cannot, for it is sealed.”

12Then the book is delivered to one who is illiterate, saying, “Read this, please.” And he says, “I am not literate.”

13Therefore the Lord said:

“Inasmuch as these people draw near with their mouths
And honor Me with their lips,
But have removed their hearts far from Me,
And their fear toward Me is taught by the commandment of men, 14Therefore, behold, I will again do a marvelous work
Among this people,
A marvelous work and a wonder;
For the wisdom of their wise men shall perish,
And the understanding of their prudent men shall be hidden.”

15Woe to those who seek deep to hide their counsel far from the LORD,
And their works are in the dark;
They say, “Who sees us?” and, “Who knows
us?”
16Surely you have things turned around!
Shall the potter be esteemed as the clay;
For shall the thing made say of him who made it,
“He did not make me”?
Or shall the thing formed say of him who formed it,
“He has no understanding”?

Future Recovery of Wisdom

17*Is* it not yet a very little while Till Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field,
And the fruitful field be esteemed as a forest?

18 In that day the deaf shall hear the words of the book,
And the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity and out of darkness.
19 The humble also shall increase their joy in
the LORD,
And the poor among men shall rejoice
In the Holy One of Israel.
20 For the terrible one is brought to nothing,
The scornful one is consumed,
And all who watch for iniquity are cut off—
21 Who make a man an offender by a word,
And lay a snare for him who reproves in the gate,
And turn aside the just by empty words.

22 Therefore thus says the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob:

"Jacob shall not now be ashamed,
Nor shall his face now grow pale;
23 But when he sees his children,
The work of My hands, in his midst,
They will hallow My name,
And hallow the Holy One of Jacob,
And fear the God of Israel.
24 These also who erred in spirit will come to understanding,
And those who complained will learn doctrine."

Isaiah 30

Futile Confidence in Egypt

1 “Woe to the rebellious children,” says the
LORD,
“Who take counsel, but not of Me,
And who devise plans, but not of My Spirit,
That they may add sin to sin;
2 Who walk to go down to Egypt,
And have not asked My advice,
To strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh,
And to trust in the shadow of Egypt!
3 Therefore the strength of Pharaoh
Shall be your shame,
And trust in the shadow of Egypt
Shall be your humiliation.
4 For his princes were at Zoan,
And his ambassadors came to Hanes.
5 They were all ashamed of a people who could not benefit them,
Or be help or benefit,
But a shame and also a reproach.”

6 The burden against the beasts of the South.

Through a land of trouble and anguish,
From which came the lioness and lion,
The viper and fiery flying serpent,
They will carry their riches on the backs of young donkeys,
And their treasures on the humps of camels,
To a people who shall not profit;

7For the Egyptians shall help in vain and to no purpose.
Therefore I have called her
Rahab-Hem-Shebeth.[a]

A Rebellious People

8Now go, write it before them on a tablet,
And note it on a scroll,
That it may be for time to come,
Forever and ever:
9That this is a rebellious people,
Lying children,
Children who will not hear the law of the
LORD;
10Who say to the seers, “Do not see,”
And to the prophets, “Do not prophesy to us right things;
Speak to us smooth things, prophesy deceits.
11Get out of the way,
Turn aside from the path,
Cause the Holy One of Israel
To cease from before us.”

12Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel:

“Because you despise this word,
And trust in oppression and perversity,
And rely on them,
13Therefore this iniquity shall be to you
Like a breach ready to fall,
A bulge in a high wall,
Whose breaking comes suddenly, in an instant.
14And He shall break it like the breaking of the potter’s vessel,

Which is broken in pieces;
He shall not spare.
So there shall not be found among its fragments
A shard to take fire from the hearth,
Or to take water from the cistern."

15For thus says the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel:

"In returning and rest you shall be saved;
In quietness and confidence shall be your strength."
But you would not, What's the Hurry?
16And you said, "No, for we will flee on horses"—
Therefore you shall flee!
And, "We will ride on swift horses"—
Therefore those who pursue you shall be swift!

17One thousand shall flee at the threat of one,
At the threat of five you shall flee,
Till you are left as a pole on top of a mountain
And as a banner on a hill.

God Will Be Gracious

18Therefore the LORD will wait, that He may be gracious to you;
And therefore He will be exalted, that He may have mercy on you.
For the LORD is a God of justice;
Blessed are all those who wait for Him.

19For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem;
You shall weep no more.
He will be very gracious to you at the sound of your cry;
When He hears it, He will answer you.
20And though the Lord gives you
The bread of adversity and the water of affliction,
Yet your teachers will not be moved into a corner anymore,
But your eyes shall see your teachers.
21Your ears shall hear a word behind you,
saying,
“This is the way, walk in it,”
Whenever you turn to the right hand
Or whenever you turn to the left.
22You will also defile the covering of your images of silver,
And the ornament of your molded images of
gold.
You will throw them away as an unclean
thing;
You will say to them, “Get away!”

23Then He will give the rain for your seed
With which you sow the ground,
And bread of the increase of the earth;
It will be fat and plentiful.
In that day your cattle will feed
In large pastures.
24Likewise the oxen and the young donkeys that work the ground
Will eat cured fodder,

Which has been winnowed with the shovel and fan.
25There will be on every high mountain
And on every high hill
Rivers and streams of waters,
In the day of the great slaughter,
When the towers fall.
26Moreover the light of the moon will be as the light of the sun,
And the light of the sun will be sevenfold,
As the light of seven days,
In the day that the LORD binds up the bruise of His people
And heals the stroke of their wound.

Judgment on Assyria

27Behold, the name of the LORD comes from afar,
Burning with His anger,
And His burden is heavy;
His lips are full of indignation,
And His tongue like a devouring fire.
28His breath is like an overflowing stream,
Which reaches up to the neck,
To sift the nations with the sieve of futility;
And there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the
people,
Causing them to err.

29You shall have a song
As in the night when a holy festival is kept,
And gladness of heart as when one goes with a flute,
To come into the mountain of the LORD,
To the Mighty One of Israel.

30 The LORD will cause His glorious voice to be heard,
And show the descent of His arm,
With the indignation of His anger
And the flame of a devouring fire,
With scattering, tempest, and hailstones.
31 For through the voice of the LORD
Assyria will be beaten down,
As He strikes with the rod.
32 And in every place where the staff of punishment passes,
Which the LORD lays on him,
It will be with tambourines and harps;
And in battles of brandishing He will fight with it.
33 For Tophet was established of old,
Yes, for the king it is prepared.
He has made it deep and large;
Its pyre is fire with much wood;
The breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone,
Kindles it.

Isaiah 31

The Folly of Not Trusting God

1 Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help,
And rely on horses,
Who trust in chariots because they are many,
And in horsemen because they are very strong,
But who do not look to the Holy One of Israel,
Nor seek the LORD!
2 Yet He also is wise and will bring disaster,
And will not call back His words,
But will arise against the house of evildoers,
And against the help of those who work iniquity.
3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God;
And their horses are flesh, and not spirit.
When the LORD stretches out His hand,
Both he who helps will fall,
And he who is helped will fall down;
They all will perish together.

God Will Deliver Jerusalem

4 For thus the LORD has spoken to me:

"As a lion roars,
And a young lion over his prey
(When a multitude of shepherds is summoned against him,
He will not be afraid of their voice
Nor be disturbed by their noise),

So the LORD of hosts will come down
To fight for Mount Zion and for its hill.
5Like birds flying about,
So will the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem.
Defending, He will also deliver it;
Passing over, He will preserve it." Mother Bird

6Return to Him against whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted.

7For in that day every man shall throw away his idols of silver and his idols of gold—sin, which your own hands have made for yourselves.

8"Then Assyria shall fall by a sword not of man,
And a sword not of mankind shall devour him.
But he shall flee from the sword,
And his young men shall become forced labor.
9He shall cross over to his stronghold for fear,
And his princes shall be afraid of the banner,"
Says the LORD,
Whose fire is in Zion
And whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 32

A Reign of Righteousness

1 Behold, a king will reign in righteousness,
And princes will rule with justice.
2 A man will be as a hiding place from the wind,
And a cover from the tempest,
As rivers of water in a dry place,
As the shadow of a great rock in a weary
land.
3 The eyes of those who see will not be dim,
And the ears of those who hear will listen.
4 Also the heart of the rash will understand
knowledge,
And the tongue of the stammerers will be ready to speak plainly.

5 The foolish person will no longer be called generous,
Nor the miser said to be bountiful;
6 For the foolish person will speak
foolishness,
And his heart will work iniquity:
To practice ungodliness,
To utter error against the LORD,
To keep the hungry unsatisfied,
And he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.
7 Also the schemes of the schemer are evil;
He devises wicked plans
To destroy the poor with lying words,
Even when the needy speaks justice.

8 But a generous man devises generous
things,
And by generosity he shall stand.

Consequences of Complacency

9 Rise up, you women who are at ease,
Hear my voice;
You complacent daughters,
Give ear to my speech.
10 In a year and some days
You will be troubled, you complacent
women;
For the vintage will fail,
The gathering will not come.
11 Tremble, you women who are at ease;
Be troubled, you complacent ones;
Strip yourselves, make yourselves bare,
And gird sackcloth on your waists.

12 People shall mourn upon their breasts
For the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine.
13 On the land of my people will come up thorns and briers,
Yes, on all the happy homes in the joyous
city;
14 Because the palaces will be forsaken,
The bustling city will be deserted.
The forts and towers will become lairs
forever,
A joy of wild donkeys, a pasture of flocks—15 Until the Spirit is poured upon us from on high,
And the wilderness becomes a fruitful field,
And the fruitful field is counted as a forest.

The Peace of God's Reign

16Then justice will dwell in the wilderness,
And righteousness remain in the fruitful field. The Spirit in the Wilderness
17The work of righteousness will be peace,
And the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance forever.
18My people will dwell in a peaceful habitation,
In secure dwellings, and in quiet resting places,
19Though hail comes down on the forest,
And the city is brought low in humiliation.

20Blessed are you who sow beside all waters,
Who send out freely the feet of the ox and the donkey.

Isaiah 33

A Prayer in Deep Distress

1 Woe to you who plunder, though you have not been plundered;
And you who deal treacherously, though they have not dealt treacherously with you!
When you cease plundering,
You will be plundered;
When you make an end of dealing treacherously,
They will deal treacherously with you.

2 O LORD, be gracious to us;
We have waited for You.
Be their[a] arm every morning,
Our salvation also in the time of trouble.

Security Comes from Honoring God

3 At the noise of the tumult the people shall flee;
When You lift Yourself up, the nations shall be scattered;
4 And Your plunder shall be gathered
Like the gathering of the caterpillar;
As the running to and fro of locusts,
He shall run upon them.

5 The LORD is exalted, for He dwells on high;
He has filled Zion with justice and righteousness.
6 Wisdom and knowledge will be the stability of your times,
And the strength of salvation;

The fear of the LORD is His treasure.

7Surely their valiant ones shall cry outside,
The ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.
8The highways lie waste,
The traveling man ceases.
He has broken the covenant,
He has despised the cities,[b]
He regards no man.
9The earth mourns and languishes,
Lebanon is shamed and shriveled;
Sharon is like a wilderness,
And Bashan and Carmel shake off their fruits.

Impending Judgment on Zion

10"Now I will rise," says the LORD;
"Now I will be exalted,
Now I will lift Myself up.
11You shall conceive chaff,
You shall bring forth stubble;
Your breath, as fire, shall devour you.
12And the people shall be like the burnings of lime;
Like thorns cut up they shall be burned in the fire.
13Hear, you who are afar off, what I have done;
And you who are near, acknowledge My might."

14The sinners in Zion are afraid;
Fearfulness has seized the hypocrites:

“Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire?
Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?”
15He who walks righteously and speaks
uprightly,
He who despises the gain of oppressions,
Who gestures with his hands, refusing bribes,
Who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed,
And shuts his eyes from seeing evil:
16He will dwell on high;
His place of defense will be the fortress of rocks;
Bread will be given him,
His water will be sure.

The Land of the Majestic King

17Your eyes will see the King in His beauty;
They will see the land that is very far off.
18Your heart will meditate on terror:
“Where is the scribe?
Where is he who weighs?
Where is he who counts the towers?”
19You will not see a fierce people,
A people of obscure speech, beyond perception,
Of a stammering tongue that you cannot understand.

20Look upon Zion, the city of our appointed feasts;
Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a quiet home,
A tabernacle that will not be taken down;

Not one of its stakes will ever be removed,
Nor will any of its cords be broken.
21 But there the majestic LORD will be for us
A place of broad rivers and streams,
In which no galley with oars will sail,
Nor majestic ships pass by 22 (For the LORD is our Judge,
The LORD is our Lawgiver,
The LORD is our King;
He will save us);
23 Your tackle is loosed,
They could not strengthen their mast,
They could not spread the sail.

Then the prey of great plunder is divided;
The lame take the prey.
24 And the inhabitant will not say, “I am sick”;
The people who dwell in it will be forgiven their iniquity.

Isaiah 34

Judgment on the Nations

1 Come near, you nations, to hear;
And heed, you people!
Let the earth hear, and all that is in it,
The world and all things that come forth from it.
2 For the indignation of the LORD is against all nations,
And His fury against all their armies;
He has utterly destroyed them,
He has given them over to the slaughter.
3 Also their slain shall be thrown out;
Their stench shall rise from their corpses,
And the mountains shall be melted with their blood.
4 All the host of heaven shall be dissolved,
And the heavens shall be rolled up like a scroll;
All their host shall fall down
As the leaf falls from the vine,
And as fruit falling from a fig tree.

5 "For My sword shall be bathed in heaven;
Indeed it shall come down on Edom,
And on the people of My curse, for judgment.
6 The sword of the LORD is filled with blood,
It is made overflowing with fatness,
With the blood of lambs and goats,
With the fat of the kidneys of rams.
For the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah,

And a great slaughter in the land of Edom.
7The wild oxen shall come down with them,
And the young bulls with the mighty bulls;
Their land shall be soaked with blood,
And their dust saturated with fatness.”

8For it is the day of the LORD’s vengeance,
The year of recompense for the cause of Zion.
9Its streams shall be turned into pitch,
And its dust into brimstone;
Its land shall become burning pitch.
10It shall not be quenched night or day;
Its smoke shall ascend forever.
From generation to generation it shall lie waste;
No one shall pass through it forever and ever.
11But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it,
Also the owl and the raven shall dwell in it.
And He shall stretch out over it
The line of confusion and the stones of emptiness.
12They shall call its nobles to the kingdom,
But none shall be there, and all its princes shall be nothing.

13And thorns shall come up in its palaces,
Nettles and brambles in its fortresses;
It shall be a habitation of jackals,
A courtyard for ostriches.
14The wild beasts of the desert shall also meet with the jackals,

And the wild goat shall bleat to its companion;
Also the night creature shall rest there,
And find for herself a place of rest.
15There the arrow snake shall make her nest and lay eggs
And hatch, and gather them under her shadow;
There also shall the hawks be gathered,
Every one with her mate.

16"Search from the book of the LORD, and read:
Not one of these shall fail;
Not one shall lack her mate.
For My mouth has commanded it, and His Spirit has gathered them.
17He has cast the lot for them,
And His hand has divided it among them with a measuring line.
They shall possess it forever;
From generation to generation they shall dwell in it."

Isaiah 35

The Future Glory of Zion

1 The wilderness and the wasteland shall be glad for them,
And the desert shall rejoice and blossom as
the rose;
2 It shall blossom abundantly and rejoice,
Even with joy and singing.
The glory of Lebanon shall be given to it,
The excellence of Carmel and Sharon.
They shall see the glory of the LORD,
The excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen the weak hands,
And make firm the feeble knees.
4 Say to those who are fearful-hearted,
"Be strong, do not fear!
Behold, your God will come with vengeance,
With the recompense of God;
He will come and save you."

5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened,
And the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.
6 Then the lame shall leap like a deer,
And the tongue of the dumb sing.
For waters shall burst forth in the wilderness,
And streams in the desert.
7 The parched ground shall become a pool,
And the thirsty land springs of water;
In the habitation of jackals, where each lay,
There shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

8A highway shall be there, and a road,
And it shall be called the Highway of Holiness.
The unclean shall not pass over it,
But it shall be for others.
Whoever walks the road, although a fool,
Shall not go astray.
9No lion shall be there,
Nor shall any ravenous beast go up on it;
It shall not be found there.
But the redeemed shall walk there,
10And the ransomed of the LORD shall return,
And come to Zion with singing,
With everlasting joy on their heads.
They shall obtain joy and gladness,
And sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Isaiah 36

Sennacherib Boasts Against the LORD

1 Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and took them.

2 Then the king of Assyria sent the Rabshakeh[a] with a great army from Lachish to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem.
And he stood by the aqueduct from the upper pool, on the highway to the Fuller's Field.

3 And Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph,
the recorder, came out to him.

4 Then the Rabshakeh said to them, "Say now to Hezekiah, 'Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria:
"What confidence is this in which you trust?

5 "I say you speak of having plans and power for war; but they are mere words. Now in whom do you trust, that you rebel against me?

6 "Look! You are trusting in the staff of this broken reed, Egypt, on which if a man leans, it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him.

7 "But if you say to me, 'We trust in the LORD our God,' is it not He whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, and said to Judah and Jerusalem, 'You shall worship before this altar'?" '

8 "Now therefore, I urge you, give a pledge to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses
—if you are able on your part to put riders on them!

9 "How then will you repel one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put your trust in Egypt for chariots and horsemen?

10 “Have I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said to me, ‘Go up against this land, and destroy it.’ ”

11 Then Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah said to the Rabshakeh, “Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it; and do not speak to us in Hebrew[b] in the hearing of the people who are on the wall.”

12 But the Rabshakeh said, “Has my master sent me to your master and to you to speak these words, and not to the men who sit on the wall, who will eat and drink their own waste with you?”

13 Then the Rabshakeh stood and called out with a loud voice in Hebrew, and said, “Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria!

14 “Thus says the king: ‘Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you;

15 ‘nor let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, “The LORD will surely deliver us; this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.” ’

16 “Do not listen to Hezekiah; for thus says the king of Assyria: ‘Make peace with me by a present and come out to me; and every one of you eat from his own vine and every one from his own fig tree, and every one of you drink the waters of his own cistern;

17 ‘until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 ‘Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, “The LORD will deliver us.” Has any one of the gods of the nations delivered its land from the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 ‘Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Indeed, have they delivered Samaria from my hand?

20‘Who among all the gods of these lands have delivered their countries from my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem from my hand?’ ”
21But they held their peace and answered him not a word; for the king’s commandment was, “Do not answer him.”
22Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn, and told him the words of the Rabshakeh.

Isaiah 37

Isaiah Assures Deliverance

1 And so it was, when King Hezekiah heard it, that he tore his clothes, covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.
2 Then he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.
3 And they said to him, "Thus says Hezekiah: 'This day is a day of trouble and rebuke and blasphemy; for the children have come to birth, but there is no strength to bring them
forth.
4 'It may be that the LORD your God will hear the words of the Rabshakeh, whom his master the king of Assyria has sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.' "
5 So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.
6 And Isaiah said to them, "Thus you shall say to your master, 'Thus says the LORD: "Do not be afraid of the words which you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed Me.
7 "Surely I will send a spirit upon him, and he shall hear a rumor and return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land." ' "

Sennacherib's Threat and Hezekiah's Prayer

8 Then the Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah, for he heard that he had departed from Lachish.

9 And the king heard concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, “He has come out to make war with you.” So when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,
10 “Thus you shall speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying: ‘Do not let your God in whom you trust deceive you, saying, “Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.”
11 ‘Look! You have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by utterly destroying them; and shall you
be delivered?
12 ‘Have the gods of the nations delivered those whom my fathers have destroyed, Gozan and Haran and Rezeph, and
the people of Eden who were in Telassar?
13 ‘Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, and
the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?’ ”
14 And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Hezekiah went up to the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD.
15 Then Hezekiah prayed to the LORD, saying:
16 “O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, the One who dwells between the cherubim, You are God, You alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth.
17 “Incline Your ear, O LORD, and hear; open Your eyes, O
LORD, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to reproach the living God.
18 “Truly, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations and their lands, 19 “and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were not gods, but the work of men’s hands—wood and stone.
Therefore they destroyed them.
20 “Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that You are the LORD, You alone.”

The Word of the LORD Concerning Sennacherib

21Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel, ‘Because you have prayed to Me against Sennacherib king of Assyria,
22‘this is the word which the LORD has spoken concerning him:

“The virgin, the daughter of Zion,
Has despised you, laughed you to scorn;
The daughter of Jerusalem
Has shaken her head behind your back!

23“Whom have you reproached and
blasphemed?
Against whom have you raised your voice,
And lifted up your eyes on high?
Against the Holy One of Israel. Cursing God’s People
24By your servants you have reproached the
Lord,
And said, ‘By the multitude of my chariots
I have come up to the height of the mountains,
To the limits of Lebanon;
I will cut down its tall cedars
And its choice cypress trees;
I will enter its farthest height,
To its fruitful forest.
25I have dug and drunk water,
And with the soles of my feet I have dried up
All the brooks of defense.’

26“Did you not hear long ago
How I made it,
From ancient times that I formed it?
Now I have brought it to pass,

That you should be
For crushing fortified cities into heaps of ruins.
[27]Therefore their inhabitants had little power;
They were dismayed and confounded;
They were as the grass of the field
And the green herb,
As the grass on the housetops
And grain blighted before it is grown.

[28]"But I know your dwelling place,
Your going out and your coming in,
And your rage against Me.
[29]Because your rage against Me and your tumult
Have come up to My ears,
Therefore I will put My hook in your nose
And My bridle in your lips,
And I will turn you back
By the way which you came." '

30"This shall be a sign to you:

You shall eat this year such as grows of itself,
And the second year what springs from the same;
Also in the third year sow and reap,
Plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them.
[31]And the remnant who have escaped of the house of Judah
Shall again take root downward,
And bear fruit upward.
[32]For out of Jerusalem shall go a remnant,

And those who escape from Mount Zion.
The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.

33 "Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria:

'He shall not come into this city,
Nor shoot an arrow there,
Nor come before it with shield,
Nor build a siege mound against it.
34 By the way that he came,
By the same shall he return;
And he shall not come into this city,'
Says the LORD.
35 'For I will defend this city, to save it
For My own sake and for My servant David's
sake.' "

Sennacherib's Defeat and Death

36 Then the angel[a] of the LORD went out, and killed in the camp of the Assyrians one hundred and eighty-five thousand; and when people arose early in the morning, there were the corpses—all dead.

37 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed and went away, returned home, and remained at Nineveh.

38 Now it came to pass, as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, that his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer struck him down with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. Then Esarhaddon his son reigned in his place.

Isaiah 38

Hezekiah's Life Extended

1In those days Hezekiah was sick and near death. And Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, went to him and said to him, "Thus says the LORD: 'Set your house in order, for you shall die and not live.' " Miracles and Creation

2Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed to the LORD,

3and said, "Remember now, O LORD, I pray, how I have walked before You in truth and with a loyal heart, and have done what is good in Your sight." And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

4And the word of the LORD came to Isaiah, saying,

5"Go and tell Hezekiah, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father: "I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears; surely I will add to your days fifteen years.

6"I will deliver you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city." '

7"And this is the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing which He has spoken:

8"Behold, I will bring the shadow on the sundial, which has gone down with the sun on the sundial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward." So the sun returned ten degrees on the dial by which it had gone down.

9This is the writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick and had recovered from his sickness:

10I said,
"In the prime of my life
I shall go to the gates of Sheol;
I am deprived of the remainder of my years."

11 I said,
“I shall not see YAH,
The LORD[a] in the land of the living;
I shall observe man no more among the inhabitants of the world.[b]
12 My life span is gone,
Taken from me like a shepherd’s tent;
I have cut off my life like a weaver.
He cuts me off from the loom;
From day until night You make an end of me.
13 I have considered until morning—
Like a lion,
So He breaks all my bones;
From day until night You make an end of me.
14 Like a crane or a swallow, so I chattered;
I mourned like a dove;
My eyes fail from looking upward.
O LORD,[c] I am oppressed;
Undertake for me!

15 “What shall I say?
He has both spoken to me,[d]
And He Himself has done it.
I shall walk carefully all my years
In the bitterness of my soul.
16 O Lord, by these things men live;
And in all these things is the life of my spirit;
So You will restore me and make me live.
17 Indeed it was for my own peace
That I had great bitterness;
But You have lovingly delivered my soul from the pit of corruption,
For You have cast all my sins behind Your back.
18 For Sheol cannot thank You,

Death cannot praise You;
Those who go down to the pit cannot hope for Your truth.
19The living, the living man, he shall praise
You,
As I do this day;
The father shall make known Your truth to the children.

20"The LORD was ready to save me; Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments
All the days of our life, in the house of the LORD."

21Now Isaiah had said, "Let them take a lump of figs, and apply it as a poultice on the boil, and he shall recover."
22And Hezekiah had said, "What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?"

Isaiah 39

The Babylonian Envoys

1 At that time Merodach-Baladan[a] the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he heard that he had been sick and had recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was pleased with them, and showed them the house of his treasures—the silver and gold, the spices and precious ointment, and all his armory—all that was found among his treasures. There was nothing in his house or in all his dominion that Hezekiah did not show them.

3 Then Isaiah the prophet went to King Hezekiah, and said to him, "What did these men say, and from where did they come to you?" So Hezekiah said, "They came to me from a far country, from Babylon."

4 And he said, "What have they seen in your house?" So Hezekiah answered, "They have seen all that is in my house; there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them."

5 Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD of hosts:

6 'Behold, the days are coming when all that is in your house, and what your fathers have accumulated until this day, shall be carried to Babylon; nothing shall be left,' says
the LORD.

7 'And they shall take away some of your sons who will descend from you, whom you will beget; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.' "

8 So Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "The word of the LORD which you have spoken is good!" For he said, "At least there will be peace and truth in my days." Clean Up Your Own Mess

Isaiah 40

God's People Are Comforted

1 "Comfort, yes, comfort My people!"
Says your God.
2 "Speak comfort to Jerusalem, and cry out to her,
That her warfare is ended,
That her iniquity is pardoned;
For she has received from the LORD's hand
Double for all her sins."

3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness:
"Prepare the way of the LORD;
Make straight in the desert[a]
A highway for our God.
4 Every valley shall be exalted
And every mountain and hill brought low;
The crooked places shall be made straight
And the rough places smooth;
5 The glory of the LORD shall be revealed,
And all flesh shall see it together;
For the mouth of the LORD has spoken."

6 The voice said, "Cry out!"
And he[b] said, "What shall I cry?"

"All flesh is grass,
And all its loveliness is like the flower of the field.
7 The grass withers, the flower fades,
Because the breath of the LORD blows upon it;

Surely the people are grass.
8The grass withers, the flower fades,
But the word of our God stands forever."

9O Zion,
You who bring good tidings,
Get up into the high mountain;
O Jerusalem,
You who bring good tidings,
Lift up your voice with strength,
Lift it up, be not afraid;
Say to the cities of Judah, "Behold your God!"

10Behold, the Lord GOD shall come with a strong hand,
And His arm shall rule for Him;
Behold, His reward is with Him,
And His work before Him. The Arm of God
11He will feed His flock like a shepherd;
He will gather the lambs with His arm,
And carry them in His bosom,
And gently lead those who are with young.

12Who has measured the waters[c] in the hollow of His hand,
Measured heaven with a span
And calculated the dust of the earth in a measure?
Weighed the mountains in scales
And the hills in a balance?
13Who has directed the Spirit of the LORD,
Or as His counselor has taught Him?
14With whom did He take counsel, and who instructed Him,

And taught Him in the path of justice?
Who taught Him knowledge,
And showed Him the way of understanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop in a bucket,
And are counted as the small dust on the scales;
Look, He lifts up the isles as a very little thing.
16 And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn,
Nor its beasts sufficient for a burnt offering.
17 All nations before Him are as nothing,
And they are counted by Him less than nothing and worthless.

18 To whom then will you liken God?
Or what likeness will you compare to Him?
19 The workman molds an image,
The goldsmith overspreads it with gold,
And the silversmith casts silver chains.
20 Whoever is too impoverished for such a contribution Chooses a tree that will not rot;
He seeks for himself a skillful workman
To prepare a carved image that will not totter.

21 Have you not known?
Have you not heard?
Has it not been told you from the beginning?
Have you not understood from the foundations of the earth?
22 It is He who sits above the circle of the earth,

And its inhabitants are like grasshoppers,
Who stretches out the heavens like a curtain,
And spreads them out like a tent to dwell in.
23 He brings the princes to nothing;
He makes the judges of the earth useless.

24 Scarcely shall they be planted,
Scarcely shall they be sown,
Scarcely shall their stock take root in the earth,
When He will also blow on them,
And they will wither,
And the whirlwind will take them away like stubble.

25 "To whom then will you liken Me,
Or to whom shall I be equal?" says the Holy One.
26 Lift up your eyes on high,
And see who has created these things,
Who brings out their host by number;
He calls them all by name,
By the greatness of His might
And the strength of His power;
Not one is missing.

27 Why do you say, O Jacob,
And speak, O Israel:
"My way is hidden from the LORD,
And my just claim is passed over by my God"?
28 Have you not known?
Have you not heard?
The everlasting God, the LORD,

The Creator of the ends of the earth,
Neither faints nor is weary.
His understanding is unsearchable.
29 He gives power to the weak,
And to those who have no might He increases strength.
30 Even the youths shall faint and be weary,
And the young men shall utterly fall, Strength for the Weary
31 But those who wait on the LORD
Shall renew their strength;
They shall mount up with wings like eagles,
They shall run and not be weary,
They shall walk and not faint.

Isaiah 41

Israel Assured of God's Help

1 "Keep silence before Me, O coastlands,
And let the people renew their strength!
Let them come near, then let them speak;
Let us come near together for judgment.

2 "Who raised up one from the east?
Who in righteousness called him to His feet?
Who gave the nations before him,
And made him rule over kings?
Who gave them as the dust to his sword,
As driven stubble to his bow?
3 Who pursued them, and passed safely
By the way that he had not gone with his feet?
4 Who has performed and done it,
Calling the generations from the beginning?
'I, the LORD, am the first;
And with the last I am He.' "

5 The coastlands saw it and feared,
The ends of the earth were afraid;
They drew near and came.
6 Everyone helped his neighbor,
And said to his brother,
"Be of good courage!"
7 So the craftsman encouraged the goldsmith;
He who smooths with the hammer inspired him who strikes the anvil,
Saying, "It is ready for the soldering";

Then he fastened it with pegs,
That it might not totter.

8 “But you, Israel, are My servant,
Jacob whom I have chosen,
The descendants of Abraham My friend.
9 You whom I have taken from the ends of the earth,
And called from its farthest regions,
And said to you,
‘You are My servant,
I have chosen you and have not cast you away:
10 Fear not, for I am with you;
Be not dismayed, for I am your God.
I will strengthen you,
Yes, I will help you,
I will uphold you with My righteous right hand.’

11 “Behold, all those who were incensed against you Shall be ashamed and disgraced;
They shall be as nothing,
And those who strive with you shall perish.
12 You shall seek them and not find them—
Those who contended with you.
Those who war against you Shall be as nothing,
As a nonexistent thing.
13 For I, the LORD your God, will hold your right hand, Saying to you, ‘Fear not, I will help you.’

14 “Fear not, you worm Jacob,

You men of Israel!
I will help you,” says the LORD
And your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.

The Names of God

15“Behold, I will make you into a new threshing sledge with sharp teeth;
You shall thresh the mountains and beat them small,
And make the hills like chaff.
16You shall winnow them, the wind shall carry them away,
And the whirlwind shall scatter them;
You shall rejoice in the LORD,
And glory in the Holy One of Israel.

17“The poor and needy seek water, but there is none,
Their tongues fail for thirst.
I, the LORD, will hear them;
I, the God of Israel, will not forsake them.
18I will open rivers in desolate heights,
And fountains in the midst of the valleys;
I will make the wilderness a pool of water,
And the dry land springs of water.
19I will plant in the wilderness the cedar and the acacia tree,
The myrtle and the oil tree;
I will set in the desert the cypress tree and the pine
And the box tree together,
20That they may see and know,
And consider and understand together,
That the hand of the LORD has done this,
And the Holy One of Israel has created it.

The Futility of Idols

21 "Present your case," says the LORD.
"Bring forth your strong reasons," says the King of Jacob.
22 "Let them bring forth and show us what will happen;
Let them show the former things, what they were,
That we may consider them,
And know the latter end of them;
Or declare to us things to come.
23 Show the things that are to come hereafter,
That we may know that you are gods;
Yes, do good or do evil,
That we may be dismayed and see it
together.
24 Indeed you are nothing,
And your work is nothing;
He who chooses you is an abomination.

25 "I have raised up one from the north,
And he shall come;
From the rising of the sun he shall call on
My name;
And he shall come against princes as though mortar,
As the potter treads clay.
26 Who has declared from the beginning, that we may know?
And former times, that we may say, 'He is
righteous'?
Surely there is no one who shows,
Surely there is no one who declares,

Surely there is no one who hears your
words.
27The first time I said to Zion,
‘Look, there they are!’
And I will give to Jerusalem one who brings good tidings.
28For I looked, and there was no man;
I looked among them, but there was no counselor,
Who, when I asked of them, could answer a word.
29Indeed they are all worthless;[a]
Their works are nothing;
Their molded images are wind and confusion.

Isaiah 42

The Servant of the LORD

1 “Behold! My Servant whom I uphold,
My Elect One in whom My soul delights!
I have put My Spirit upon Him;
He will bring forth justice to the Gentiles.

Justice to the Gentiles We are to Fulfill Aspects of the Servant’s Calling The Holy Spirit in the Old Testament

2 He will not cry out, nor raise His voice, Nor cause His voice to be heard in the street.
3 A bruised reed He will not break,
And smoking flax He will not quench;
He will bring forth justice for truth.
4 He will not fail nor be discouraged,
Till He has established justice in the earth;
And the coastlands shall wait for His law.”

5 Thus says God the LORD,
Who created the heavens and stretched them out,
Who spread forth the earth and that which comes from it,
Who gives breath to the people on it,
And spirit to those who walk on it:
6 “I, the LORD, have called You in
righteousness,
And will hold Your hand;
I will keep You and give You as a covenant to
the people,
As a light to the Gentiles,
7 To open blind eyes,

To bring out prisoners from the prison,
Those who sit in darkness from the prison house.
8 I am the LORD, that is My name;
And My glory I will not give to another,
Nor My praise to carved images.
9 Behold, the former things have come to pass,
And new things I declare;
Before they spring forth I tell you of them.”

Praise to the LORD

10 Sing to the LORD a new song,
And His praise from the ends of the earth,
You who go down to the sea, and all that is in it,
You coastlands and you inhabitants of them!
11 Let the wilderness and its cities lift up their voice,
The villages that Kedar inhabits.
Let the inhabitants of Sela sing,
Let them shout from the top of the mountains.
12 Let them give glory to the LORD,
And declare His praise in the coastlands.
13 The LORD shall go forth like a mighty man;
He shall stir up His zeal like a man of war.
He shall cry out, yes, shout aloud;
He shall prevail against His enemies.

Promise of the LORD’s Help

14 “I have held My peace a long time,
I have been still and restrained Myself.

Now I will cry like a woman in labor,
I will pant and gasp at once.
15I will lay waste the mountains and hills,
And dry up all their vegetation;
I will make the rivers coastlands,
And I will dry up the pools.
16I will bring the blind by a way they did not know;
I will lead them in paths they have not known.
I will make darkness light before them,
And crooked places straight.
These things I will do for them,
And not forsake them.
17They shall be turned back,
They shall be greatly ashamed,
Who trust in carved images,
Who say to the molded images,
'You are our gods.'

18"Hear, you deaf;
And look, you blind, that you may see.
19Who is blind but My servant,
Or deaf as My messenger whom I send?
Who is blind as he who is perfect,
And blind as the LORD's servant?
20Seeing many things, but you do not observe;
Opening the ears, but he does not hear."

Israel's Obstinate Disobedience

21The LORD is well pleased for His righteousness' sake;
He will exalt the law and make it honorable.

22 But this is a people robbed and plundered;
All of them are snared in holes,
And they are hidden in prison houses;
They are for prey, and no one delivers;
For plunder, and no one says, “Restore!”

23 Who among you will give ear to this?
Who will listen and hear for the time to come?
24 Who gave Jacob for plunder, and Israel to the robbers?
Was it not the LORD,
He against whom we have sinned?
For they would not walk in His ways,
Nor were they obedient to His law.
25 Therefore He has poured on him the fury of His anger
And the strength of battle;
It has set him on fire all around,
Yet he did not know;
And it burned him,
Yet he did not take it to heart.

Isaiah 43

The Redeemer of Israel

1 But now, thus says the LORD, who created you, O Jacob,
And He who formed you, O Israel:
"Fear not, for I have redeemed you;
I have called you by your name;
You are Mine.
2 When you pass through the waters, I will be with you;
And through the rivers, they shall not overflow you.
When you walk through the fire, you shall not be burned,
Nor shall the flame scorch you.
3 For I am the LORD your God,
The Holy One of Israel, your Savior;
I gave Egypt for your ransom,
Ethiopia and Seba in your place.
4 Since you were precious in My sight,
You have been honored,
And I have loved you;
Therefore I will give men for you,
And people for your life.
5 Fear not, for I am with you;
I will bring your descendants from the east,
And gather you from the west;
6 I will say to the north, 'Give them up!'
And to the south, 'Do not keep them back!'
Bring My sons from afar,
And My daughters from the ends of the
earth—

7 Everyone who is called by My name,
Whom I have created for My glory;
I have formed him, yes, I have made him.”

8 Bring out the blind people who have eyes,
And the deaf who have ears.
9 Let all the nations be gathered together,
And let the people be assembled.
Who among them can declare this,
And show us former things?
Let them bring out their witnesses, that they may be justified;
Or let them hear and say, “It is truth.”
10 “You are My witnesses,” says the LORD,
“And My servant whom I have chosen,
That you may know and believe Me,
And understand that I am He.
Before Me there was no God formed,
Nor shall there be after Me.
11 I, even I, am the LORD,
And besides Me there is no savior.
12 I have declared and saved,
I have proclaimed,
And there was no foreign god among you;
Therefore you are My witnesses,”
Says the LORD, “that I am God.
13 Indeed before the day was, I am He;
And there is no one who can deliver out of My hand;
I work, and who will reverse it?”

14 Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer,
The Holy One of Israel:
“For your sake I will send to Babylon,
And bring them all down as fugitives—

The Chaldeans, who rejoice in their ships.
15 I am the LORD, your Holy One,
The Creator of Israel, your King.”

16 Thus says the LORD, who makes a way in the sea
And a path through the mighty waters,
17 Who brings forth the chariot and horse,
The army and the power
(They shall lie down together, they shall not rise;
They are extinguished, they are quenched like a wick):
18 “Do not remember the former things,
Nor consider the things of old.
19 Behold, I will do a new thing,
Now it shall spring forth;
Shall you not know it?
I will even make a road in the wilderness
And rivers in the desert.
20 The beast of the field will honor Me,
The jackals and the ostriches,
Because I give waters in the wilderness
And rivers in the desert,
To give drink to My people, My chosen.
21 This people I have formed for Myself;
They shall declare My praise.

Pleading with Unfaithful Israel

22 “But you have not called upon Me, O Jacob;
And you have been weary of Me, O Israel.
23 You have not brought Me the sheep for your burnt offerings,

Nor have you honored Me with your sacrifices.
I have not caused you to serve with grain
offerings,
Nor wearied you with incense.
24You have bought Me no sweet cane with money,
Nor have you satisfied Me with the fat of your sacrifices;
But you have burdened Me with your sins,
You have wearied Me with your iniquities.

25"I, even I, am He who blots out your transgressions for My own sake;
And I will not remember your sins.
26Put Me in remembrance;
Let us contend together;
State your case, that you may be acquitted.
27Your first father sinned,
And your mediators have transgressed against Me.
28Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary;
I will give Jacob to the curse,
And Israel to reproaches.

Isaiah 44

God's Blessing on Israel

1 "Yet hear now, O Jacob My servant,
And Israel whom I have chosen.
2 Thus says the LORD who made you
And formed you from the womb, who will help you:
'Fear not, O Jacob My servant;
And you, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.
3 For I will pour water on him who is thirsty,
And floods on the dry ground;
I will pour My Spirit on your descendants,
And My blessing on your offspring;
4 They will spring up among the grass
Like willows by the watercourses.'
5 One will say, 'I am the LORD's';
Another will call himself by the name of Jacob;
Another will write with his hand, 'The LORD's,'
And name himself by the name of Israel.

There Is No Other God

6 "Thus says the LORD, the King of Israel,
And his Redeemer, the LORD of hosts:
'I am the First and I am the Last;
Besides Me there is no God.
7 And who can proclaim as I do?
Then let him declare it and set it in order for Me,
Since I appointed the ancient people.

And the things that are coming and shall come,
Let them show these to them.
8Do not fear, nor be afraid;
Have I not told you from that time, and declared it?
You are My witnesses.
Is there a God besides Me?
Indeed there is no other Rock;
I know not one.' "

Idolatry Is Foolishness

9Those who make an image, all of them are useless,
And their precious things shall not profit;
They are their own witnesses;
They neither see nor know, that they may be ashamed.
10Who would form a god or mold an image
That profits him nothing?
11Surely all his companions would be ashamed;
And the workmen, they are mere men.
Let them all be gathered together,
Let them stand up;
Yet they shall fear,
They shall be ashamed together.

12The blacksmith with the tongs works one in the coals,
Fashions it with hammers,
And works it with the strength of his arms.
Even so, he is hungry, and his strength fails;
He drinks no water and is faint.

13 The craftsman stretches out his rule,
He marks one out with chalk;
He fashions it with a plane,
He marks it out with the compass,
And makes it like the figure of a man,
According to the beauty of a man, that it may remain in the house.
14 He cuts down cedars for himself,
And takes the cypress and the oak;
He secures it for himself among the trees of the forest.
He plants a pine, and the rain nourishes it.

15 Then it shall be for a man to burn,
For he will take some of it and warm himself;
Yes, he kindles it and bakes bread;
Indeed he makes a god and worships it;
He makes it a carved image, and falls down to it.
16 He burns half of it in the fire;
With this half he eats meat;
He roasts a roast, and is satisfied.
He even warms himself and says,
"Ah! I am warm,
I have seen the fire."
17 And the rest of it he makes into a god,
His carved image.
He falls down before it and worships it,
Prays to it and says,
"Deliver me, for you are my god!"

18 They do not know nor understand;
For He has shut their eyes, so that they cannot see,

And their hearts, so that they cannot understand.
19 And no one considers in his heart,
Nor is there knowledge nor understanding to say,
"I have burned half of it in the fire,
Yes, I have also baked bread on its coals;
I have roasted meat and eaten it;
And shall I make the rest of it an abomination?
Shall I fall down before a block of wood?"
20 He feeds on ashes;
A deceived heart has turned him aside;
And he cannot deliver his soul,
Nor say, "Is there not a lie in my right
hand?"

Israel Is Not Forgotten

21 "Remember these, O Jacob,
And Israel, for you are My servant;
I have formed you, you are My servant;
O Israel, you will not be forgotten by Me!
22 I have blotted out, like a thick cloud, your transgressions,
And like a cloud, your sins.
Return to Me, for I have redeemed you."

23 Sing, O heavens, for the LORD has done it!
Shout, you lower parts of the earth;
Break forth into singing, you mountains,
O forest, and every tree in it!
For the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
And glorified Himself in Israel.

Judah Will Be Restored

24Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer,
And He who formed you from the womb:
“I am the LORD, who makes all things,
Who stretches out the heavens all alone,
Who spreads abroad the earth by Myself;
25Who frustrates the signs of the babblers,
And drives diviners mad;
Who turns wise men backward,
And makes their knowledge foolishness;
26Who confirms the word of His servant,
And performs the counsel of His messengers;
Who says to Jerusalem, ‘You shall be inhabited,’
To the cities of Judah, ‘You shall be built,’
And I will raise up her waste places;
27Who says to the deep, ‘Be dry!
And I will dry up your rivers’;
28Who says of Cyrus, ‘He is My shepherd,
And he shall perform all My pleasure,
Saying to Jerusalem, “You shall be built,”
And to the temple, “Your foundation shall be laid.” ’ Cyrus: The Anointed Shepherd

Isaiah 45

Cyrus, God's Instrument

1 "Thus says the LORD to His anointed,
To Cyrus, whose right hand I have held—
To subdue nations before him
And loose the armor of kings,
To open before him the double doors,
So that the gates will not be shut:
2 'I will go before you
And make the crooked places[a] straight;
I will break in pieces the gates of bronze
And cut the bars of iron.
3 I will give you the treasures of darkness
And hidden riches of secret places,
That you may know that I, the LORD,
Who call you by your name,
Am the God of Israel.
4 For Jacob My servant's sake,
And Israel My elect,
I have even called you by your name;
I have named you, though you have not known Me.
5 I am the LORD, and there is no other;
There is no God besides Me.
I will gird you, though you have not known Me,
6 That they may know from the rising of the sun to its setting
That there is none besides Me.
I am the LORD, and there is no other;
7 I form the light and create darkness,
I make peace and create calamity;

I, the LORD, do all these things.'

8"Rain down, you heavens, from above,
And let the skies pour down righteousness;
Let the earth open, let them bring forth salvation,
And let righteousness spring up together.
I, the LORD, have created it.

9"Woe to him who strives with his Maker!
Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth!
Shall the clay say to him who forms it, 'What are you making?'
Or shall your handiwork say, 'He has no hands'?
10Woe to him who says to his father, 'What are you begetting?'
Or to the woman, 'What have you brought forth?' "

11Thus says the LORD,
The Holy One of Israel, and his Maker:
"Ask Me of things to come concerning My sons;
And concerning the work of My hands, you command Me.
12I have made the earth,
And created man on it.
I—My hands—stretched out the heavens,
And all their host I have commanded.
13I have raised him up in righteousness,
And I will direct all his ways;
He shall build My city
And let My exiles go free,

Not for price nor reward,”
Says the LORD of hosts.

The LORD, the Only Savior

14Thus says the LORD:

“The labor of Egypt and merchandise of Cush
And of the Sabeans, men of stature, Shall come over to you, and they shall be
yours;
They shall walk behind you,
They shall come over in chains;
And they shall bow down to you.
They will make supplication to you, saying,
‘Surely God is in you,
And there is no other;
There is no other God.’ ”

15Truly You are God, who hide Yourself,
O God of Israel, the Savior!
16They shall be ashamed
And also disgraced, all of them;
They shall go in confusion together,
Who are makers of idols.
17*But* Israel shall be saved by the LORD
With an everlasting salvation;
You shall not be ashamed or disgraced
Forever and ever.

18For thus says the LORD,
Who created the heavens,
Who is God,
Who formed the earth and made it,
Who has established it,

Who did not create it in vain,
Who formed it to be inhabited:
"I am the LORD, and there is no other.
19 I have not spoken in secret,
In a dark place of the earth;
I did not say to the seed of Jacob,
'Seek Me in vain';
I, the LORD, speak righteousness,
I declare things that are right.

20 "Assemble yourselves and come;
Draw near together,
You who have escaped from the nations.
They have no knowledge,
Who carry the wood of their carved image,
And pray to a god that cannot save.
21 Tell and bring forth your case;
Yes, let them take counsel together.
Who has declared this from ancient time?
Who has told it from that time?
Have not I, the LORD?
And there is no other God besides Me,
A just God and a Savior;
There is none besides Me. God's Great Declaration

22 "Look to Me, and be saved,
All you ends of the earth!
For I am God, and there is no other.
23 I have sworn by Myself;
The word has gone out of My mouth in righteousness,
And shall not return,
That to Me every knee shall bow,
Every tongue shall take an oath.
24 He shall say,

‘Surely in the LORD I have righteousness and strength.
To Him men shall come,
And all shall be ashamed
Who are incensed against Him.
[25]In the LORD all the descendants of Israel
Shall be justified, and shall glory.’ ”

Isaiah 46

Dead Idols and the Living God

1 Bel bows down, Nebo stoops;
Their idols were on the beasts and on the cattle.
Your carriages were heavily loaded,
A burden to the weary beast.
2 They stoop, they bow down together;
They could not deliver the burden,
But have themselves gone into captivity.

3 "Listen to Me, O house of Jacob,
And all the remnant of the house of Israel,
Who have been upheld by Me from birth,
Who have been carried from the womb:
4 Even to your old age, I am He,
And even to gray hairs I will carry you!
I have made, and I will bear;
Even I will carry, and will deliver you.

5 "To whom will you liken Me, and make Me equal
And compare Me, that we should be alike?

Modern-Day Idols

6 They lavish gold out of the bag,
And weigh silver on the scales;
They hire a goldsmith, and he makes it a god;
They prostrate themselves, yes, they worship.
7 They bear it on the shoulder, they carry it
And set it in its place, and it stands;

From its place it shall not move.
Though one cries out to it, yet it cannot answer
Nor save him out of his trouble.

8"Remember this, and show yourselves men;
Recall to mind, O you transgressors.
9Remember the former things of old,
For I am God, and there is no other;
I am God, and there is none like Me,
10Declaring the end from the beginning,
And from ancient times things that are not yet done,
Saying, 'My counsel shall stand,
And I will do all My pleasure,' 11Calling a bird of prey from the east,
The man who executes My counsel, from a far country.
Indeed I have spoken it;
I will also bring it to pass.
I have purposed it;
I will also do it.

12"Listen to Me, you stubborn-hearted,
Who are far from righteousness:
13I bring My righteousness near, it shall not be far off;
My salvation shall not linger.
And I will place salvation in Zion,
For Israel My glory.

Isaiah 47

The Humiliation of Babylon

1 “Come down and sit in the dust,
O virgin daughter of Babylon;
Sit on the ground without a throne,
O daughter of the Chaldeans!
For you shall no more be called Tender and delicate.
2 Take the millstones and grind meal.
Remove your veil,
Take off the skirt,
Uncover the thigh,
Pass through the rivers.
3 Your nakedness shall be uncovered,
Yes, your shame will be seen;
I will take vengeance,
And I will not arbitrate with a man.”

4 As for our Redeemer, the LORD of hosts is His name,
The Holy One of Israel.

5 “Sit in silence, and go into darkness,
O daughter of the Chaldeans;
For you shall no longer be called
The Lady of Kingdoms.
6 I was angry with My people;
I have profaned My inheritance,
And given them into your hand.
You showed them no mercy;
On the elderly you laid your yoke very heavily.

7 And you said, ‘I shall be a lady forever,’
So that you did not take these things to heart,
Nor remember the latter end of them.

8 “Therefore hear this now, you who are given to pleasures,
Who dwell securely,
Who say in your heart,
‘I am, and there is no one else besides me;
I shall not sit as a widow,
Nor shall I know the loss of children’;
9 But these two things shall come to you
In a moment, in one day:
The loss of children, and widowhood.
They shall come upon you in their fullness
Because of the multitude of your sorceries,
For the great abundance of your enchantments.

10 “For you have trusted in your wickedness;
You have said, ‘No one sees me’;
Your wisdom and your knowledge have warped you;
And you have said in your heart,
‘I am, and there is no one else besides me.’
11 Therefore evil shall come upon you;
You shall not know from where it arises.
And trouble shall fall upon you;
You will not be able to put it off.
And desolation shall come upon you suddenly,
Which you shall not know.

12 “Stand now with your enchantments

And the multitude of your sorceries,
In which you have labored from your youth—
Perhaps you will be able to profit,
Perhaps you will prevail.
13You are wearied in the multitude of your counsels;
Let now the astrologers, the stargazers,
And the monthly prognosticators
Stand up and save you
From what shall come upon you.
14Behold, they shall be as stubble,
The fire shall burn them;
They shall not deliver themselves
From the power of the flame;
It shall not be a coal to be warmed by,
Nor a fire to sit before!
15Thus shall they be to you
With whom you have labored,
Your merchants from your youth;
They shall wander each one to his quarter.
No one shall save you.

Isaiah 48

Israel Refined for God's Glory

1 "Hear this, O house of Jacob,
Who are called by the name of Israel,
And have come forth from the wellsprings of Judah;
Who swear by the name of the LORD,
And make mention of the God of Israel,
But not in truth or in righteousness;
2 For they call themselves after the holy city,
And lean on the God of Israel;
The LORD of hosts is His name:

3 "I have declared the former things from the beginning;
They went forth from My mouth, and I caused them to hear it.
Suddenly I did them, and they came to pass.
4 Because I knew that you were obstinate,
And your neck was an iron sinew,
And your brow bronze,
5 Even from the beginning I have declared it
to you;
Before it came to pass I proclaimed it to you,
Lest you should say, 'My idol has done them,
And my carved image and my molded image
Have commanded them.' The Purpose of Prophecy

6 "You have heard;
See all this.
And will you not declare it?

I have made you hear new things from this time,
Even hidden things, and you did not know them.
7 They are created now and not from the beginning;
And before this day you have not heard them,
Lest you should say, ‘Of course I knew them.’
8 Surely you did not hear,
Surely you did not know;
Surely from long ago your ear was not opened.
For I knew that you would deal very treacherously,
And were called a transgressor from the womb.

9 “For My name’s sake I will defer My anger,
And for My praise I will restrain it from you,
So that I do not cut you off.
10 Behold, I have refined you, but not as silver;
I have tested you in the furnace of affliction.
11 For My own sake, for My own sake, I will do it;
For how should My name be profaned?
And I will not give My glory to another.

God’s Ancient Plan to Redeem Israel

12 “Listen to Me, O Jacob,
And Israel, My called:
I am He, I am the First,
I am also the Last.

13 Indeed My hand has laid the foundation of
the earth,
And My right hand has stretched out the heavens;
When I call to them,
They stand up together.

14 "All of you, assemble yourselves, and hear!
Who among them has declared these things?
The LORD loves him;
He shall do His pleasure on Babylon,
And His arm shall be against the Chaldeans.
15 I, even I, have spoken;
Yes, I have called him,
I have brought him, and his way will prosper.

16 "Come near to Me, hear this:
I have not spoken in secret from the
beginning;
From the time that it was, I was there.
And now the Lord GOD and His Spirit
Have[a] sent Me."

17 Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer,
The Holy One of Israel:
"I am the LORD your God,
Who teaches you to profit,
Who leads you by the way you should go.
18 Oh, that you had heeded My commandments!
Then your peace would have been like a river,
And your righteousness like the waves of the sea.

19 Your descendants also would have been like the sand,
And the offspring of your body like the grains of sand;
His name would not have been cut off
Nor destroyed from before Me.”

20 Go forth from Babylon!
Flee from the Chaldeans!
With a voice of singing,
Declare, proclaim this,
Utter it to the end of the earth;
Say, “The LORD has redeemed
His servant Jacob!”
21 And they did not thirst
When He led them through the deserts;
He caused the waters to flow from the rock
for them;
He also split the rock, and the waters
gushed out.

22 “There is no peace,” says the LORD, “for the wicked.”

Isaiah 49

The Servant, the Light to the Gentiles

1 “Listen, O coastlands, to Me,
And take heed, you peoples from afar!
The LORD has called Me from the womb;
From the matrix of My mother He has made mention of My name.
2 And He has made My mouth like a sharp
sword;
In the shadow of His hand He has hidden
Me,
And made Me a polished shaft;
In His quiver He has hidden Me.”

3 “And He said to me,
‘You are My servant, O Israel,
In whom I will be glorified.’
4 Then I said, ‘I have labored in vain,
I have spent my strength for nothing and in vain;
Yet surely my just reward is with the LORD,
And my work with my God.’ ”

5 “And now the LORD says,
Who formed Me from the womb to be His Servant,
To bring Jacob back to Him,
So that Israel is gathered to Him[a]
(For I shall be glorious in the eyes of the
LORD,
And My God shall be My strength),
6 Indeed He says,

‘It is too small a thing that You should be My Servant
To raise up the tribes of Jacob,
And to restore the preserved ones of Israel;
I will also give You as a light to the Gentiles,
That You should be My salvation to the ends of the earth.’ ” Let the Light Shine

7Thus says the LORD,
The Redeemer of Israel, their Holy One,
To Him whom man despises,
To Him whom the nation abhors,
To the Servant of rulers:
“Kings shall see and arise,
Princes also shall worship,
Because of the LORD who is faithful,
The Holy One of Israel;
And He has chosen You.”

8Thus says the LORD:

“In an acceptable time I have heard You,
And in the day of salvation I have helped
You;
I will preserve You and give You
As a covenant to the people,
To restore the earth,
To cause them to inherit the desolate
heritages;
9That You may say to the prisoners, ‘Go
forth,’
To those who are in darkness, ‘Show yourselves.’

“They shall feed along the roads,

And their pastures shall be on all desolate heights.
10 They shall neither hunger nor thirst,
Neither heat nor sun shall strike them;
For He who has mercy on them will lead
them,
Even by the springs of water He will guide
them.
11 I will make each of My mountains a road,
And My highways shall be elevated.
12 Surely these shall come from afar;
Look! Those from the north and the west,
And these from the land of Sinim."

13 Sing, O heavens!
Be joyful, O earth!
And break out in singing, O mountains!
For the LORD has comforted His people,
And will have mercy on His afflicted.

God Will Remember Zion

14 But Zion said, "The LORD has forsaken
me,
And my Lord has forgotten me."

15 "Can a woman forget her nursing child,
And not have compassion on the son of her
womb?
Surely they may forget,
Yet I will not forget you.
16 See, I have inscribed you on the palms of My hands;
Your walls are continually before Me.
17 Your sons[b] shall make haste;

Your destroyers and those who laid you waste
Shall go away from you.
18Lift up your eyes, look around and see;
All these gather together and come to you.
As I live," says the LORD,
"You shall surely clothe yourselves with them all as an ornament,
And bind them on you as a bride does.

19"For your waste and desolate places,
And the land of your destruction,
Will even now be too small for the inhabitants;
And those who swallowed you up will be far
away.
20The children you will have,
After you have lost the others,
Will say again in your ears,
'The place is too small for me;
Give me a place where I may dwell.'
21Then you will say in your heart,
'Who has begotten these for me,
Since I have lost my children and am desolate,
A captive, and wandering to and fro?
And who has brought these up?
There I was, left alone;
But these, where were they?' "

22Thus says the Lord GOD:

"Behold, I will lift My hand in an oath to the nations,
And set up My standard for the peoples;

They shall bring your sons in their arms,
And your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders;
23 Kings shall be your foster fathers,
And their queens your nursing mothers;
They shall bow down to you with their faces to the earth,
And lick up the dust of your feet.
Then you will know that I am the LORD,
For they shall not be ashamed who wait for Me.”

24 Shall the prey be taken from the mighty,
Or the captives of the righteous[c] be delivered?

25 But thus says the LORD:

“Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away,
And the prey of the terrible be delivered;
For I will contend with him who contends with you,
And I will save your children.
26 I will feed those who oppress you with their own flesh,
And they shall be drunk with their own blood as with sweet wine.
All flesh shall know
That I, the LORD, am your Savior,
And your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.”

Isaiah 50

The Servant, Israel's Hope

1 Thus says the LORD:
"Where is the certificate of your mother's divorce,
Whom I have put away?
Or which of My creditors is it to whom I have sold you?
For your iniquities you have sold yourselves,
And for your transgressions your mother has been put away.
2 Why, when I came, was there no man?
Why, when I called, was there none to answer?
Is My hand shortened at all that it cannot redeem?
Or have I no power to deliver?
Indeed with My rebuke I dry up the sea,
I make the rivers a wilderness;
Their fish stink because there is no water,
And die of thirst.
3 I clothe the heavens with blackness,
And I make sackcloth their covering."

4 "The Lord GOD has given Me
The tongue of the learned,
That I should know how to speak
A word in season to him who is weary.
He awakens Me morning by morning,
He awakens My ear
To hear as the learned. The Dangers of the Tongue
5 The Lord GOD has opened My ear;

And I was not rebellious,
Nor did I turn away.
6I gave My back to those who struck Me,
And My cheeks to those who plucked out the beard;
I did not hide My face from shame and spitting.

7"For the Lord GOD will help Me;
Therefore I will not be disgraced;
Therefore I have set My face like a flint,
And I know that I will not be ashamed.
8*He is* near who justifies Me;
Who will contend with Me?
Let us stand together.
Who is My adversary?
Let him come near Me.
9Surely the Lord GOD will help Me;
Who is he who will condemn Me?
Indeed they will all grow old like a garment;
The moth will eat them up.

10"Who among you fears the LORD?
Who obeys the voice of His Servant?
Who walks in darkness
And has no light?
Let him trust in the name of the LORD
And rely upon his God.
11Look, all you who kindle a fire,
Who encircle yourselves with sparks:
Walk in the light of your fire and in the sparks you have kindled—
This you shall have from My hand:
You shall lie down in torment.

Isaiah 51

The LORD Comforts Zion

1 “Listen to Me, you who follow after
righteousness,
You who seek the LORD:
Look to the rock from which you were hewn,
And to the hole of the pit from which you were dug.
2 Look to Abraham your father,
And to Sarah who bore you;
For I called him alone,
And blessed him and increased him.”

3 For the LORD will comfort Zion,
He will comfort all her waste places;
He will make her wilderness like Eden,
And her desert like the garden of the LORD;
Joy and gladness will be found in it,
Thanksgiving and the voice of melody.

4 “Listen to Me, My people;
And give ear to Me, O My nation:
For law will proceed from Me,
And I will make My justice rest
As a light of the peoples.
5 My righteousness is near,
My salvation has gone forth,
And My arms will judge the peoples;
The coastlands will wait upon Me,
And on My arm they will trust.
6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens,
And look on the earth beneath.

For the heavens will vanish away like smoke,
The earth will grow old like a garment,
And those who dwell in it will die in like manner;
But My salvation will be forever,
And My righteousness will not be abolished.

7 "Listen to Me, you who know righteousness,
You people in whose heart is My law:
Do not fear the reproach of men,
Nor be afraid of their insults.
8 For the moth will eat them up like a garment,
And the worm will eat them like wool;
But My righteousness will be forever,
And My salvation from generation to generation."

9 Awake, awake, put on strength,
O arm of the LORD!
Awake as in the ancient days,
In the generations of old.
Are You not the arm that cut Rahab apart,
And wounded the serpent?

10 Are You not the One who dried up the sea,
The waters of the great deep;
That made the depths of the sea a road
For the redeemed to cross over?
11 So the ransomed of the LORD shall return,
And come to Zion with singing,
With everlasting joy on their heads.
They shall obtain joy and gladness;
Sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

12“I, even I, am He who comforts you.
Who are you that you should be afraid
Of a man who will die,
And of the son of a man who will be made like grass?
13And you forget the LORD your Maker,
Who stretched out the heavens
And laid the foundations of the earth;
You have feared continually every day
Because of the fury of the oppressor,
When he has prepared to destroy.
And where is the fury of the oppressor?
14The captive exile hastens, that he may be loosed,
That he should not die in the pit,
And that his bread should not fail.
15But I am the LORD your God,
Who divided the sea whose waves roared—
The LORD of hosts is His name.
16And I have put My words in your mouth;
I have covered you with the shadow of My
hand,
That I may plant the heavens,
Lay the foundations of the earth,
And say to Zion, ‘You are My people.’ ”

God’s Fury Removed

17Awake, awake!
Stand up, O Jerusalem,
You who have drunk at the hand of the LORD
The cup of His fury;
You have drunk the dregs of the cup of trembling,
And drained it out.

18 There is no one to guide her
Among all the sons she has brought forth;
Nor is there any who takes her by the hand
Among all the sons she has brought up.
19 These two things have come to you;
Who will be sorry for you?—
Desolation and destruction, famine and sword—
By whom will I comfort you?
20 Your sons have fainted,
They lie at the head of all the streets,
Like an antelope in a net;
They are full of the fury of the LORD,
The rebuke of your God.

21 Therefore please hear this, you afflicted,
And drunk but not with wine.
22 Thus says your Lord,
The LORD and your God,
Who pleads the cause of His people:
“See, I have taken out of your hand
The cup of trembling,
The dregs of the cup of My fury;
You shall no longer drink it.
23 But I will put it into the hand of those who afflict you,
Who have said to you,[a]
‘Lie down, that we may walk over you.’
And you have laid your body like the ground,
And as the street, for those who walk over.”

Isaiah 52

God Redeems Jerusalem

1 Awake, awake!
Put on your strength, O Zion;
Put on your beautiful garments,
O Jerusalem, the holy city!
For the uncircumcised and the unclean
Shall no longer come to you.
2 Shake yourself from the dust, arise;
Sit down, O Jerusalem!
Loose yourself from the bonds of your neck,
O captive daughter of Zion!

3 For thus says the LORD:

"You have sold yourselves for nothing,
And you shall be redeemed without money."

4 For thus says the Lord GOD:

"My people went down at first
Into Egypt to dwell there;
Then the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.
5 Now therefore, what have I here," says the LORD,
"That My people are taken away for nothing?
Those who rule over them
Make them wail,"[a] says the LORD,
"And My name is blasphemed continually every day.

6 Therefore My people shall know My name;
Therefore they shall know in that day
That I am He who speaks:
‘Behold, it is I.’ ”

7 How beautiful upon the mountains
Are the feet of him who brings good news,
Who proclaims peace,
Who brings glad tidings of good things,
Who proclaims salvation,
Who says to Zion,
“Your God reigns!”
8 Your watchmen shall lift up their voices,
With their voices they shall sing together;
For they shall see eye to eye
When the LORD brings back Zion. Love Among the Ruins
9 Break forth into joy, sing together,
You waste places of Jerusalem!
For the LORD has comforted His people,
He has redeemed Jerusalem.
10 The LORD has made bare His holy arm
In the eyes of all the nations;
And all the ends of the earth shall see
The salvation of our God.

11 Depart! Depart! Go out from there,
Touch no unclean thing;
Go out from the midst of her,
Be clean,
You who bear the vessels of the LORD.
12 For you shall not go out with haste,
Nor go by flight;
For the LORD will go before you,

And the God of Israel will be your rear guard.

The Sin-Bearing Servant

13Behold, My Servant shall deal prudently;
He shall be exalted and extolled and be very high. The Suffering Servant
14Just as many were astonished at you,
So His visage was marred more than any man,
And His form more than the sons of men;
15So shall He sprinkle[b] many nations.
Kings shall shut their mouths at Him;
For what had not been told them they shall see,
And what they had not heard they shall consider.

Isaiah 53

[1]Who has believed our report?
And to whom has the arm of the LORD been revealed?
[2]For He shall grow up before Him as a tender plant,
And as a root out of dry ground.
He has no form or comeliness;
And when we see Him,
There is no beauty that we should desire Him.
[3]He is despised and rejected by men,
A Man of sorrows and acquainted with grief.
And we hid, as it were, our faces from Him;
He was despised, and we did not esteem Him.

4Surely He has borne our griefs
And carried our sorrows;
Yet we esteemed Him stricken,
Smitten by God, and afflicted.
[5]But He was wounded for our transgressions,
He was bruised for our iniquities;
The chastisement for our peace was upon Him,
And by His stripes we are healed.
[6]All we like sheep have gone astray;
We have turned, every one, to his own way;
And the LORD has laid on Him the iniquity of us all.

7He was oppressed and He was afflicted,
Yet He opened not His mouth;
He was led as a lamb to the slaughter,
And as a sheep before its shearers is silent,
So He opened not His mouth.
8He was taken from prison and from judgment,
And who will declare His generation?
For He was cut off from the land of the living;
For the transgressions of My people He was stricken.
9And they[a] made His grave with the wicked —
But with the rich at His death,
Because He had done no violence,
Nor was any deceit in His mouth.

10Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise Him;
He has put Him to grief.
When You make His soul an offering for sin,
He shall see His seed, He shall prolong His days,
And the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in His hand.
11He shall see the labor of His soul,[b] and be satisfied.
By His knowledge My righteous Servant shall justify many,
For He shall bear their iniquities.
12Therefore I will divide Him a portion with the great,
And He shall divide the spoil with the strong,
Because He poured out His soul unto death,

And He was numbered with the transgressors,
And He bore the sin of many,
And made intercession for the transgressors.

Isaiah 54

A Perpetual Covenant of Peace

1 “Sing, O barren,
You who have not borne!
Break forth into singing, and cry aloud,
You who have not labored with child!
For more are the children of the desolate
Than the children of the married woman,”
says the LORD.
2 “Enlarge the place of your tent,
And let them stretch out the curtains of your dwellings;
Do not spare;
Lengthen your cords,
And strengthen your stakes.
3 For you shall expand to the right and to the left,
And your descendants will inherit the
nations,
And make the desolate cities inhabited.

4 “Do not fear, for you will not be ashamed;
Neither be disgraced, for you will not be put to shame;
For you will forget the shame of your youth,
And will not remember the reproach of your widowhood anymore.
5 For your Maker is your husband,
The LORD of hosts is His name;
And your Redeemer is the Holy One of Israel;

He is called the God of the whole earth. Portrait of a Husband

6For the LORD has called you
Like a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit,
Like a youthful wife when you were refused,”
Says your God.
7“For a mere moment I have forsaken you,
But with great mercies I will gather you.
8With a little wrath I hid My face from you for a moment;
But with everlasting kindness I will have mercy on you,”
Says the LORD, your Redeemer.

9“For this is like the waters of Noah to Me;
For as I have sworn
That the waters of Noah would no longer cover the earth,
So have I sworn
That I would not be angry with you, nor rebuke you.
10For the mountains shall depart
And the hills be removed,
But My kindness shall not depart from you,
Nor shall My covenant of peace be removed,”
Says the LORD, who has mercy on you.

11“O you afflicted one,
Tossed with tempest, and not comforted,
Behold, I will lay your stones with colorful gems,
And lay your foundations with sapphires.
12I will make your pinnacles of rubies,

Your gates of crystal,
And all your walls of precious stones.
13 All your children shall be taught by the LORD,
And great shall be the peace of your children.
14 In righteousness you shall be established;
You shall be far from oppression, for you shall not fear;
And from terror, for it shall not come near you.
15 Indeed they shall surely assemble, but not because of Me.
Whoever assembles against you shall fall for your sake.

16 "Behold, I have created the blacksmith
Who blows the coals in the fire,
Who brings forth an instrument for his work;
And I have created the spoiler to destroy.
17 No weapon formed against you shall prosper,
And every tongue which rises against you in judgment
You shall condemn.
This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD,
And their righteousness is from Me,"
Says the LORD.

Isaiah 55

An Invitation to Abundant Life

1 “Ho! Everyone who thirsts,
Come to the waters;
And you who have no money,
Come, buy and eat.
Yes, come, buy wine and milk
Without money and without price.
2 Why do you spend money for what is not bread,
And your wages for what does not satisfy?
Listen carefully to Me, and eat what is good,
And let your soul delight itself in abundance.
3 Incline your ear, and come to Me.
Hear, and your soul shall live;
And I will make an everlasting covenant with
you—
The sure mercies of David.
4 Indeed I have given him as a witness to the people,
A leader and commander for the people.
5 Surely you shall call a nation you do not know,
And nations who do not know you shall run
to you,
Because of the LORD your God,
And the Holy One of Israel;
For He has glorified you.”

6 Seek the LORD while He may be found,
Call upon Him while He is near.
7 Let the wicked forsake his way,

And the unrighteous man his thoughts;
Let him return to the LORD,
And He will have mercy on him;
And to our God,
For He will abundantly pardon.

8"For My thoughts are not your thoughts,
Nor are your ways My ways," says the LORD.
9"For as the heavens are higher than the earth,
So are My ways higher than your ways,
And My thoughts than your thoughts.

10"For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven,
And do not return there,
But water the earth,
And make it bring forth and bud,
That it may give seed to the sower
And bread to the eater,
11So shall My word be that goes forth from My mouth;
It shall not return to Me void,
But it shall accomplish what I please,
And it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.

12"For you shall go out with joy,
And be led out with peace;
The mountains and the hills
Shall break forth into singing before you,
And all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 Instead of the thorn shall come up the cypress tree,
And instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree;
And it shall be to the LORD for a name,
For an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.”

Isaiah 56

Salvation for the Gentiles

1 Thus says the LORD:

"Keep justice, and do righteousness,
For My salvation is about to come,
And My righteousness to be revealed.
2 Blessed is the man who does this,
And the son of man who lays hold on it;
Who keeps from defiling the Sabbath,
And keeps his hand from doing any evil."

3 Do not let the son of the foreigner
Who has joined himself to the LORD
Speak, saying,
"The LORD has utterly separated me from His people";
Nor let the eunuch say,
"Here I am, a dry tree."
4 For thus says the LORD:
"To the eunuchs who keep My Sabbaths,
And choose what pleases Me,
And hold fast My covenant,
5 Even to them I will give in My house
And within My walls a place and a name
Better than that of sons and daughters;
I will give them[a] an everlasting name
That shall not be cut off.

6 "Also the sons of the foreigner
Who join themselves to the LORD, to serve Him,

And to love the name of the LORD, to be His servants—
Everyone who keeps from defiling the Sabbath,
And holds fast My covenant—
7Even them I will bring to My holy mountain,
And make them joyful in My house of prayer.
Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices
Will be accepted on My altar;
For My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations.”
8The Lord GOD, who gathers the outcasts of Israel, says,
“Yet I will gather to him Others besides those who are gathered to
him.”

Israel’s Irresponsible Leaders

9All you beasts of the field, come to devour,
All you beasts in the forest. Blind Watchmen
10His watchmen are blind,
They are all ignorant;
They are all dumb dogs,
They cannot bark;
Sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.
11Yes, they are greedy dogs
Which never have enough.
And they are shepherds
Who cannot understand;
They all look to their own way,
Every one for his own gain,
From his own territory.
12“Come,” one says, “I will bring wine,

And we will fill ourselves with intoxicating
drink;
Tomorrow will be as today,
And much more abundant.”

Isaiah 57

Israel's Futile Idolatry

1 The righteous perishes,
And no man takes it to heart;
Merciful men are taken away,
While no one considers
That the righteous is taken away from evil.
2 He shall enter into peace;
They shall rest in their beds,
Each one walking in his uprightness.

3 "But come here,
You sons of the sorceress,
You offspring of the adulterer and the harlot!
4 Whom do you ridicule?
Against whom do you make a wide mouth
And stick out the tongue?
Are you not children of transgression,
Offspring of falsehood,
5 Inflaming yourselves with gods under every green tree,
Slaying the children in the valleys,
Under the clefts of the rocks?
6 Among the smooth stones of the stream
Is your portion;
They, they, are your lot!
Even to them you have poured a drink offering,
You have offered a grain offering.
Should I receive comfort in these?

7 "On a lofty and high mountain

You have set your bed;
Even there you went up
To offer sacrifice.
8Also behind the doors and their posts
You have set up your remembrance;
For you have uncovered yourself to those other than Me,
And have gone up to them;
You have enlarged your bed
And made a covenant with them;
You have loved their bed,
Where you saw their nudity.[a] 9You went to the king with ointment,
And increased your perfumes;
You sent your messengers far off,
And even descended to Sheol.
10You are wearied in the length of your way;
Yet you did not say, 'There is no hope.'
You have found the life of your hand;
Therefore you were not grieved.

11"And of whom have you been afraid, or feared,
That you have lied
And not remembered Me,
Nor taken it to your heart?
Is it not because I have held My peace from of old
That you do not fear Me?
12I will declare your righteousness
And your works,
For they will not profit you.
13When you cry out,
Let your collection of idols deliver you.
But the wind will carry them all away,

A breath will take them.
But he who puts his trust in Me shall possess
the land,
And shall inherit My holy mountain.”

Healing for the Backslider

14And one shall say,
“Heap it up! Heap it up!
Prepare the way,
Take the stumbling block out of the way of
My people.”

15For thus says the High and Lofty One Who inhabits eternity, whose name is Holy:
“I dwell in the high and holy place,
With him who has a contrite and humble
spirit,
To revive the spirit of the humble,
And to revive the heart of the contrite ones.
16For I will not contend forever,
Nor will I always be angry;
For the spirit would fail before Me,
And the souls which I have made.
17For the iniquity of his covetousness
I was angry and struck him;
I hid and was angry,
And he went on backsliding in the way of his
heart.
18I have seen his ways, and will heal him;
I will also lead him,
And restore comforts to him
And to his mourners.

19“I create the fruit of the lips:

Peace, peace to him who is far off and to him who is near,”
Says the LORD,
“And I will heal him.”
20But the wicked are like the troubled sea,
When it cannot rest,
Whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21“There is no peace,”
Says my God, “for the wicked.”

Isaiah 58

Fasting that Pleases God

1 “Cry aloud, spare not;
Lift up your voice like a trumpet;
Tell My people their transgression,
And the house of Jacob their sins. Bad Religion
2 Yet they seek Me daily,
And delight to know My ways,
As a nation that did righteousness,
And did not forsake the ordinance of their God.
They ask of Me the ordinances of justice;
They take delight in approaching God.
3 ‘Why have we fasted,’ they say, ‘and You have not seen?
Why have we afflicted our souls, and You take no notice?’

“In fact, in the day of your fast you find pleasure,
And exploit all your laborers.
4 Indeed you fast for strife and debate,
And to strike with the fist of wickedness.
You will not fast as you do this day,
To make your voice heard on high.
5 Is it a fast that I have chosen,
A day for a man to afflict his soul?
Is it to bow down his head like a bulrush,
And to spread out sackcloth and ashes?
Would you call this a fast,
And an acceptable day to the LORD?

6 “Is this not the fast that I have chosen:
To loose the bonds of wickedness,
To undo the heavy burdens,
To let the oppressed go free,
And that you break every yoke? Real Worship
7 Is it not to share your bread with the hungry,
And that you bring to your house the poor who are cast out;
When you see the naked, that you cover him,
And not hide yourself from your own flesh?
8 Then your light shall break forth like the morning,
Your healing shall spring forth speedily,
And your righteousness shall go before you;
The glory of the LORD shall be your rear guard.
9 Then you shall call, and the LORD will answer;
You shall cry, and He will say, ‘Here I am.’

“If you take away the yoke from your midst,
The pointing of the finger, and speaking wickedness,
10 If you extend your soul to the hungry
And satisfy the afflicted soul,
Then your light shall dawn in the darkness,
And your darkness shall be as the noonday.
11 The LORD will guide you continually,
And satisfy your soul in drought,
And strengthen your bones;
You shall be like a watered garden,
And like a spring of water, whose waters do not fail.
12 Those from among you

Shall build the old waste places;
You shall raise up the foundations of many generations;
And you shall be called the Repairer of the Breach,
The Restorer of Streets to Dwell In.

13"If you turn away your foot from the Sabbath,
From doing your pleasure on My holy day,
And call the Sabbath a delight,
The holy day of the LORD honorable,
And shall honor Him, not doing your own
ways,
Nor finding your own pleasure,
Nor speaking your own words,
14Then you shall delight yourself in the
LORD;
And I will cause you to ride on the high hills
of the earth,
And feed you with the heritage of Jacob your
father.
The mouth of the LORD has spoken."

Isaiah 59

Separated from God

1 Behold, the LORD's hand is not shortened,
That it cannot save;
Nor His ear heavy,
That it cannot hear. Bad Business
2 But your iniquities have separated you from your God;
And your sins have hidden His face from
you,
So that He will not hear. Causes for Separation from God
3 For your hands are defiled with blood,
And your fingers with iniquity;
Your lips have spoken lies,
Your tongue has muttered perversity.

4 No one calls for justice,
Nor does any plead for truth.
They trust in empty words and speak lies;
They conceive evil and bring forth iniquity.
5 They hatch vipers' eggs and weave the spider's web;
He who eats of their eggs dies,
And from that which is crushed a viper breaks out.

6 Their webs will not become garments, Nor will they cover themselves with their
works;
Their works are works of iniquity,
And the act of violence is in their hands.
7 Their feet run to evil,

And they make haste to shed innocent blood;
Their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity;
Wasting and destruction are in their paths.
8The way of peace they have not known,
And there is no justice in their ways;
They have made themselves crooked paths;
Whoever takes that way shall not know peace.

Sin Confessed

9Therefore justice is far from us,
Nor does righteousness overtake us;
We look for light, but there is darkness!
For brightness, but we walk in blackness!
10We grope for the wall like the blind,
And we grope as if we had no eyes;
We stumble at noonday as at twilight;
We are as dead men in desolate places.
11We all growl like bears,
And moan sadly like doves;
We look for justice, but there is none;
For salvation, but it is far from us.
12For our transgressions are multiplied before You,
And our sins testify against us;
For our transgressions are with us,
And as for our iniquities, we know them:
13In transgressing and lying against the LORD,
And departing from our God,
Speaking oppression and revolt,
Conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.
14Justice is turned back,

And righteousness stands afar off;
For truth is fallen in the street,
And equity cannot enter.
15So truth fails,
And he who departs from evil makes himself a prey.

The Redeemer of Zion

Then the LORD saw it, and it displeased Him
That there was no justice.
16He saw that there was no man,
And wondered that there was no intercessor;
Therefore His own arm brought salvation for Him;
And His own righteousness, it sustained Him.
17For He put on righteousness as a breastplate,
And a helmet of salvation on His head;
He put on the garments of vengeance for clothing,
And was clad with zeal as a cloak.
18According to their deeds, accordingly He will repay,
Fury to His adversaries,
Recompense to His enemies;
The coastlands He will fully repay.
19So shall they fear
The name of the LORD from the west,
And His glory from the rising of the sun;
When the enemy comes in like a flood,
The Spirit of the LORD will lift up a standard against him.

20"The Redeemer will come to Zion,

And to those who turn from transgression in Jacob,”
Says the LORD.

21 “As for Me,” says the LORD, “this is My covenant with them: My Spirit who is upon you, and My words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart from your mouth, nor from the mouth of your descendants, nor from the mouth of your descendants’ descendants,” says the LORD,
“from this time and forevermore.”

Isaiah 60

The Gentiles Bless Zion

1 Arise, shine;
For your light has come!
And the glory of the LORD is risen upon you.
2 For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth,
And deep darkness the people;
But the LORD will arise over you,
And His glory will be seen upon you.
3 The Gentiles shall come to your light,
And kings to the brightness of your rising.

4 "Lift up your eyes all around, and see:
They all gather together, they come to you;
Your sons shall come from afar,
And your daughters shall be nursed at your side.
5 Then you shall see and become radiant,
And your heart shall swell with joy;
Because the abundance of the sea shall be turned to you,
The wealth of the Gentiles shall come to you.
6 The multitude of camels shall cover your land,
The dromedaries of Midian and Ephah;
All those from Sheba shall come;
They shall bring gold and incense,
And they shall proclaim the praises of the LORD.
7 All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together to you,

The rams of Nebaioth shall minister to you;
They shall ascend with acceptance on My altar,
And I will glorify the house of My glory.

8“Who are these who fly like a cloud,
And like doves to their roosts?
9Surely the coastlands shall wait for Me;
And the ships of Tarshish will come first,
To bring your sons from afar,
Their silver and their gold with them,
To the name of the LORD your God,
And to the Holy One of Israel,
Because He has glorified you.

10“The sons of foreigners shall build up your walls,
And their kings shall minister to you;
For in My wrath I struck you,
But in My favor I have had mercy on you.
11Therefore your gates shall be open continually;
They shall not be shut day or night,
That men may bring to you the wealth of the Gentiles,
And their kings in procession.
12For the nation and kingdom which will not serve you shall perish,
And those nations shall be utterly ruined.

13“The glory of Lebanon shall come to you,
The cypress, the pine, and the box tree together,
To beautify the place of My sanctuary;

And I will make the place of My feet
glorious.
14 Also the sons of those who afflicted you Shall come bowing to you,
And all those who despised you shall fall prostrate at the soles of your feet;
And they shall call you The City of the LORD,
Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15 "Whereas you have been forsaken and hated,
So that no one went through you,
I will make you an eternal excellence,
A joy of many generations.
16 You shall drink the milk of the Gentiles,
And milk the breast of kings;
You shall know that I, the LORD, am your Savior
And your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

17 "Instead of bronze I will bring gold,
Instead of iron I will bring silver,
Instead of wood, bronze,
And instead of stones, iron.
I will also make your officers peace,
And your magistrates righteousness.
18 Violence shall no longer be heard in your
land,
Neither wasting nor destruction within your borders;
But you shall call your walls Salvation,
And your gates Praise.

God the Glory of His People

19“The sun shall no longer be your light by
day,
Nor for brightness shall the moon give light
to you;
But the LORD will be to you an everlasting
light,
And your God your glory.
20Your sun shall no longer go down,
Nor shall your moon withdraw itself;
For the LORD will be your everlasting light,
And the days of your mourning shall be ended.
21Also your people shall all be righteous;
They shall inherit the land forever,
The branch of My planting,
The work of My hands,
That I may be glorified.
22A little one shall become a thousand,
And a small one a strong nation.
I, the LORD, will hasten it in its time.”

Isaiah 61

The Good News of Salvation

1 “The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon Me,
Because the LORD has anointed Me
To preach good tidings to the poor;
He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted,
To proclaim liberty to the captives,
And the opening of the prison to those who are bound; A Self-Proclamation
2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD,
And the day of vengeance of our God;
To comfort all who mourn,
3 To console those who mourn in Zion,
To give them beauty for ashes,
The oil of joy for mourning,
The garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness;
That they may be called trees of righteousness,
The planting of the LORD, that He may be glorified.”

4 And they shall rebuild the old ruins,
They shall raise up the former desolations,
And they shall repair the ruined cities,
The desolations of many generations. Reason to Work
5 Strangers shall stand and feed your flocks,
And the sons of the foreigner
Shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers.

6 But you shall be named the priests of the
LORD,
They shall call you the servants of our God.
You shall eat the riches of the Gentiles,
And in their glory you shall boast.
7 Instead of your shame you shall have double honor;
And instead of confusion they shall rejoice in their portion.
Therefore in their land they shall possess double;
Everlasting joy shall be theirs.

8 "For I, the LORD, love justice;
I hate robbery for burnt offering;
I will direct their work in truth,
And will make with them an everlasting
covenant.
9 Their descendants shall be known among the Gentiles,
And their offspring among the people.
All who see them shall acknowledge them,
That they are the posterity whom the LORD has blessed."

10 I will greatly rejoice in the LORD,
My soul shall be joyful in my God;
For He has clothed me with the garments of
salvation,
He has covered me with the robe of
righteousness,
As a bridegroom decks himself with ornaments,
And as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.

11 For as the earth brings forth its bud,
As the garden causes the things that are sown in it to spring forth,
So the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

Isaiah 62

Assurance of Zion's Salvation

1For Zion's sake I will not hold My peace,
And for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, Until her righteousness goes forth as brightness,
And her salvation as a lamp that burns. The High Calling of Marriage
2The Gentiles shall see your righteousness,
And all kings your glory.
You shall be called by a new name,
Which the mouth of the LORD will name.
3You shall also be a crown of glory
In the hand of the LORD,
And a royal diadem
In the hand of your God.
4You shall no longer be termed Forsaken,
Nor shall your land any more be termed
Desolate;
But you shall be called Hephzibah,[a] and your land Beulah;[b]
For the LORD delights in you,
And your land shall be married.
5For as a young man marries a virgin,
So shall your sons marry you;
And as the bridegroom rejoices over the bride,
So shall your God rejoice over you.

6I have set watchmen on your walls, O
Jerusalem;

They shall never hold their peace day or night.
You who make mention of the LORD, do not keep silent,
7And give Him no rest till He establishes And till He makes Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

8The LORD has sworn by His right hand
And by the arm of His strength:
“Surely I will no longer give your grain
As food for your enemies;
And the sons of the foreigner shall not drink
your new wine,
For which you have labored.
9But those who have gathered it shall eat it,
And praise the LORD;
Those who have brought it together shall drink it in My holy courts.”

10Go through,
Go through the gates!
Prepare the way for the people;
Build up,
Build up the highway!
Take out the stones,
Lift up a banner for the peoples!

11Indeed the LORD has proclaimed
To the end of the world:
“Say to the daughter of Zion,
‘Surely your salvation is coming;
Behold, His reward is with Him,
And His work before Him.’ ”
12And they shall call them The Holy People,

The Redeemed of the LORD;
And you shall be called Sought Out,
A City Not Forsaken.

Isaiah 63

The LORD in Judgment and Salvation

1 Who is this who comes from Edom,
With dyed garments from Bozrah,
This One who is glorious in His apparel,
Traveling in the greatness of His strength?—

"I who speak in righteousness, mighty to save."

2 Why is Your apparel red,
And Your garments like one who treads in the winepress?

3 "I have trodden the winepress alone,
And from the peoples no one was with Me.
For I have trodden them in My anger,
And trampled them in My fury;
Their blood is sprinkled upon My garments,
And I have stained all My robes.
4 For the day of vengeance is in My heart,
And the year of My redeemed has come.
5 I looked, but there was no one to help,
And I wondered
That there was no one to uphold;
Therefore My own arm brought salvation for Me;
And My own fury, it sustained Me.
6 I have trodden down the peoples in My anger,
Made them drunk in My fury,

And brought down their strength to the earth.”

God’s Mercy Remembered

7I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the LORD
And the praises of the LORD,
According to all that the LORD has bestowed on us,
And the great goodness toward the house of Israel,
Which He has bestowed on them according to His mercies,
According to the multitude of His lovingkindnesses.
8For He said, “Surely they are My people,
Children who will not lie.”
So He became their Savior.
9In all their affliction He was afflicted,
And the Angel of His Presence saved them;
In His love and in His pity He redeemed them;
And He bore them and carried them
All the days of old.
10But they rebelled and grieved His Holy Spirit;
So He turned Himself against them as an enemy,
And He fought against them.

11Then he remembered the days of old,
Moses and his people, saying:
“Where is He who brought them up out of the sea
With the shepherd of His flock?

Where is He who put His Holy Spirit within
them,
12Who led them by the right hand of Moses,
With His glorious arm,
Dividing the water before them
To make for Himself an everlasting name, 13Who led them through the deep,
As a horse in the wilderness,
That they might not stumble?”

14As a beast goes down into the valley,
And the Spirit of the LORD causes him to rest,
So You lead Your people,
To make Yourself a glorious name.

A Prayer of Penitence

15Look down from heaven,
And see from Your habitation, holy and
glorious.
Where are Your zeal and Your strength,
The yearning of Your heart and Your mercies toward me?
Are they restrained?
16Doubtless You are our Father,
Though Abraham was ignorant of us,
And Israel does not acknowledge us.
You, O LORD, are our Father;
Our Redeemer from Everlasting is Your
name.
17O LORD, why have You made us stray from Your ways,
And hardened our heart from Your fear?
Return for Your servants’ sake,
The tribes of Your inheritance.

[18]Your holy people have possessed it but a little while;
Our adversaries have trodden down Your
sanctuary.
[19]We have become like those of old, over whom You never ruled,
Those who were never called by Your name.

Isaiah 64

[1]Oh, that You would rend the heavens!
That You would come down!
That the mountains might shake at Your presence—
[2]As fire burns brushwood,
As fire causes water to boil—
To make Your name known to Your adversaries,
That the nations may tremble at Your presence!
[3]When You did awesome things for which we did not look,
You came down,
The mountains shook at Your presence.
[4]For since the beginning of the world
Men have not heard nor perceived by the ear,
Nor has the eye seen any God besides You,
Who acts for the one who waits for Him.
[5]You meet him who rejoices and does righteousness,
Who remembers You in Your ways.
You are indeed angry, for we have sinned—
In these ways we continue;
And we need to be saved.

[6]But we are all like an unclean thing,
And all our righteousnesses are like filthy rags;
We all fade as a leaf,
And our iniquities, like the wind,

Have taken us away.
7 And there is no one who calls on Your
name,
Who stirs himself up to take hold of You;
For You have hidden Your face from us,
And have consumed us because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O LORD,
You are our Father;
We are the clay, and You our potter;
And all we are the work of Your hand.
9 Do not be furious, O LORD,
Nor remember iniquity forever;
Indeed, please look—we all are Your people!
10 Your holy cities are a wilderness,
Zion is a wilderness,
Jerusalem a desolation.
11 Our holy and beautiful temple,
Where our fathers praised You,
Is burned up with fire;
And all our pleasant things are laid waste.
12 Will You restrain Yourself because of these things, O LORD?
Will You hold Your peace, and afflict us very severely?

Isaiah 65

The Righteousness of God's Judgment

1 "I was sought by those who did not ask for
Me;
I was found by those who did not seek Me.
I said, 'Here I am, here I am,'
To a nation that was not called by My name.
2 I have stretched out My hands all day long to a rebellious people,
Who walk in a way that is not good,
According to their own thoughts;
3 A people who provoke Me to anger continually to My face;
Who sacrifice in gardens,
And burn incense on altars of brick;
4 Who sit among the graves,
And spend the night in the tombs;
Who eat swine's flesh,
And the broth of abominable things is in their vessels;
5 Who say, 'Keep to yourself,
Do not come near me,
For I am holier than you!'
These are smoke in My nostrils,
A fire that burns all the day.

6 "Behold, it is written before Me:
I will not keep silence, but will repay—
Even repay into their bosom—
7 Your iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers together,"
Says the LORD,

"Who have burned incense on the mountains
And blasphemed Me on the hills;
Therefore I will measure their former work into their bosom."

8Thus says the LORD:

"As the new wine is found in the cluster,
And one says, 'Do not destroy it,
For a blessing is in it,'
So will I do for My servants' sake,
That I may not destroy them all.
9I will bring forth descendants from Jacob,
And from Judah an heir of My mountains;
My elect shall inherit it,
And My servants shall dwell there.
10Sharon shall be a fold of flocks,
And the Valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down,
For My people who have sought Me.

11"But you are those who forsake the LORD,
Who forget My holy mountain,
Who prepare a table for Gad,[a]
And who furnish a drink offering for Meni.[b]
12Therefore I will number you for the sword,
And you shall all bow down to the slaughter;
Because, when I called, you did not answer;
When I spoke, you did not hear,
But did evil before My eyes,
And chose that in which I do not delight."

13Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

"Behold, My servants shall eat,
But you shall be hungry;

Behold, My servants shall drink,
But you shall be thirsty;
Behold, My servants shall rejoice,
But you shall be ashamed;
14Behold, My servants shall sing for joy of heart,
But you shall cry for sorrow of heart,
And wail for grief of spirit.
15You shall leave your name as a curse to My chosen;
For the Lord GOD will slay you,
And call His servants by another name;
16So that he who blesses himself in the earth
Shall bless himself in the God of truth;
And he who swears in the earth
Shall swear by the God of truth;
Because the former troubles are forgotten,
And because they are hidden from My eyes.

The Glorious New Creation

17"For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth;
And the former shall not be remembered or come to mind.
18But be glad and rejoice forever in what I create;
For behold, I create Jerusalem as a rejoicing,
And her people a joy. The Dream Lives On 19I will rejoice in Jerusalem,
And joy in My people;
The voice of weeping shall no longer be heard in her,
Nor the voice of crying.

20“No more shall an infant from there live
but a few days,
Nor an old man who has not fulfilled his
days;
For the child shall die one hundred years old,
But the sinner being one hundred years old shall be accursed.
21They shall build houses and inhabit them;
They shall plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
22They shall not build and another inhabit;
They shall not plant and another eat;
For as the days of a tree, so shall be the days of My people,
And My elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.
23They shall not labor in vain,
Nor bring forth children for trouble;
For they shall be the descendants of the blessed of the LORD,
And their offspring with them.

24“It shall come to pass
That before they call, I will answer;
And while they are still speaking, I will hear.
25The wolf and the lamb shall feed together,
The lion shall eat straw like the ox,
And dust shall be the serpent’s food.
They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain,”
Says the LORD.

Isaiah 66

True Worship and False

[1]Thus says the LORD:

"Heaven is My throne,
And earth is My footstool.
Where is the house that you will build Me?
And where is the place of My rest?
[2]For all those things My hand has made,
And all those things exist,"
Says the LORD.
"But on this one will I look:
On him who is poor and of a contrite spirit,
And who trembles at My word.

3"He who kills a bull is as if he slays a man;
He who sacrifices a lamb, as if he breaks a dog's neck;
He who offers a grain offering, as if he offers swine's blood;
He who burns incense, as if he blesses an idol.
Just as they have chosen their own ways,
And their soul delights in their abominations,
[4]So will I choose their delusions,
And bring their fears on them;
Because, when I called, no one answered,
When I spoke they did not hear;
But they did evil before My eyes,
And chose that in which I do not delight."

The LORD Vindicates Zion

5Hear the word of the LORD,
You who tremble at His word:
“Your brethren who hated you,
Who cast you out for My name’s sake, said,
‘Let the LORD be glorified,
That we may see your joy.’
But they shall be ashamed.”

6The sound of noise from the city!
A voice from the temple!
The voice of the LORD,
Who fully repays His enemies!

7“Before she was in labor, she gave birth;
Before her pain came,
She delivered a male child.
8Who has heard such a thing?
Who has seen such things?
Shall the earth be made to give birth in one day?
Or shall a nation be born at once?
For as soon as Zion was in labor,
She gave birth to her children.
9Shall I bring to the time of birth, and not cause delivery?” says the LORD.
“Shall I who cause delivery shut up the womb?” says your God.
10“Rejoice with Jerusalem,
And be glad with her, all you who love her;
Rejoice for joy with her, all you who mourn for her;
11That you may feed and be satisfied
With the consolation of her bosom,

That you may drink deeply and be delighted
With the abundance of her glory.”

12For thus says the LORD:

“Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river,
And the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream.
Then you shall feed;
On her sides shall you be carried,
And be dandled on her knees.
13As one whom his mother comforts,
So I will comfort you;
And you shall be comforted in Jerusalem.”

The Reign and Indignation of God

14When you see this, your heart shall rejoice,
And your bones shall flourish like grass;
The hand of the LORD shall be known to His servants,
And His indignation to His enemies.
15For behold, the LORD will come with fire
And with His chariots, like a whirlwind,
To render His anger with fury,
And His rebuke with flames of fire.
16For by fire and by His sword
The LORD will judge all flesh;
And the slain of the LORD shall be many.

17“Those who sanctify themselves and purify themselves,
To go to the gardens
After an idol in the midst,

Eating swine's flesh and the abomination
and the mouse,
Shall be consumed together," says the
LORD.

18"For I know their works and their thoughts. It shall be that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come and see My glory. Meet the Person

19"I will set a sign among them; and those among them who escape I will send to the nations: to Tarshish and Pul[a] and Lud, who draw the bow, and Tubal and Javan, to the coastlands afar off who have not heard My fame nor seen My glory. And they shall declare My glory among the Gentiles.

20"Then they shall bring all your brethren for an offering to the LORD out of all nations, on horses and in chariots and in litters, on mules and on camels, to My holy mountain Jerusalem," says the LORD, "as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD.

21"And I will also take some of them for priests and Levites," says the LORD.

22"For as the new heavens and the new
earth
Which I will make shall remain before Me,"
says the LORD,
"So shall your descendants and your name remain.
23And it shall come to pass
That from one New Moon to another,
And from one Sabbath to another,
All flesh shall come to worship before Me,"
says the LORD.

24"And they shall go forth and look

Upon the corpses of the men
Who have transgressed against Me.
For their worm does not die,
And their fire is not quenched.
They shall be an abhorrence to all flesh.”

Isaiah

Is. 1:1

Name means: “The Lord Has Saved.”

Home: Probably Jerusalem.

Family: Possibly related to Judah’s royal house; married to a woman he called “the prophetess”; father of two sons, Shear-Jashub (“A Remnant Shall Return”) and Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz (“Speed the Spoil, Hasten the Booty”).

Occupation: An official of King Uzziah of Judah during his early years; later called by God to be a prophet.

Of special interest: Ancient tradition holds that Isaiah may have been martyred under King Manasseh by being sawed in two (compare Heb. 11:37, 38).

Best known as: The Old Testament prophet who vividly predicted the coming Messiah.

More: Jesus found in the record of Isaiah’s call a prediction of His own rejection by the people of His day.

Think About It: Prophets speak forth the truth as well as foretell the truth. What truth does God want you to communicate with your actions? What words accompany those actions?

Burned by Sin

Is. 1:7

Although Babylon loomed as an imminent threat over Judah, this superpower of the ancient world would not be the ultimate cause of the nation going up in flames. Isaiah saw cities on fire because of sin (Is. 1:4).

Evil covered the nation from head to toe, so to speak (1:6). The hearts of God's people were sick with iniquity. His people had turned against the meek among them, including orphans and widows (1:16, 17, 21–23; 3:13–15). Their arrogant, oppressive behavior invited punishment (1:8; 3:9).

Economic and military disaster could be averted not by more sacrifices (1:11–15) but by nationwide repentance (1:18–20). The nation needed moral leadership because authentic reform would happen only if leaders honored God.

Isaiah spoke to awaken Judah, but his words also apply to us. Our communities also have the potential to get burned, and not because of external pressures but because of an internal enemy—sin. Scripture warns us not to remain indifferent to society's evils.

New Moon Feasts and Folly

Is. 1:13, 14

New Moon festivals were a highlight of the Hebrews' religious calendar. But God detests vain religiosity. During Isaiah's day, the people observed holy days and their rituals with great pomp and ceremony, but their hearts were far from the Lord.

Isaiah the Urban Prophet

Is. 1:21

The Book of Isaiah uses frequent metaphors from rural life (Is. 5:1–7; 10:33–11:2; 53:6). But this is also a book of the city—even beyond Jerusalem, the once-faithful city that had forsaken God.

The book uses the words city or cities fifty-nine times. It addresses issues at the center of city life, including justice, politics, and business. The book makes capital cities symbols of an entire country or empire: Jerusalem stands for Judah, Samaria for Israel, Nineveh for Assyria, Damascus for Syria. And the book's prophecies point toward the establishment of a perfect city, Jerusalem (1:26; 4:3–6; 66:20). Cities captured the group identity of nations.

The prophet Isaiah saw the world in global terms. That fact shapes how modern believers read this book and apply its message to life today.

More: For more on applying Isaiah's message, see "A Lack of Leadership Leads to Public Crisis" at Is. 3:1–15, "The Force of God's Wrath" at Is. 9:12, and "Making Merry Instead of Mourning" at Is. 22:12–14.

Dross and Watered-Down Wine

Is. 1:22–26

Isaiah listed several symptoms and symbols of Judah's abandonment of God: murder, silver turned to dross (the residue left at the end of the smelting process after metal has been separated from the impurities), wine mixed with water, rebellious princes, thievery, rampant bribery, and failure to defend the weak and vulnerable. All of these things defy God's ways, either through direct contradiction to His law or, as in the cases of dross and watered-down wine, through opposition to the evenhanded spirit of His law.

Deceptive merchants mixed wine with water to sell more product at less cost to themselves. A customer might sample a wineskin filled with undiluted wine but walk away with other skins that held diluted wine.

Other merchants defrauded customers by mixing silver with dross. Silver was a common medium of exchange, but its value was determined by its weight and purity. Tainted currency could quickly spread just as counterfeit bills do today, potentially causing harm to an entire economy.

Whatever the commodity, deceptive lack of quality is unjust. God was determined to rid Jerusalem of its evil rulers and merchants and replace them with those who practiced justice. Jerusalem's restoration would be achieved by purging the nation's sin, just as dross is purged from silver.

A Lack of Leadership Leads to Public Crisis

Is. 3:1–15

At the time of the prophecies of Isaiah 3, the nation was likely prospering under the wise, godly leadership of King Uzziah (c. 767–740 B.C.) or his successor, King Jotham (c. 740–731 B.C.). But Isaiah foresaw a time when God would remove these leaders, leaving behind mere "babes" (Is. 3:4) with no experience running the institutions of society and no respect for the wisdom of the past. As a result, these "children" would become selfish oppressors (3:4, 5) who would abuse the poor. This disastrous turn of events happened in part when Jerusalem fell to Babylon (587 B.C.; 2 Kin. 25:11, 12, 22–26).

A lack of proper leadership inevitably leads to public catastrophes. As God's people, we should work to prevent a leadership void from forming in our own society. We can . . .

- recruit and appoint the wisest available candidates for a position,
- elect men and women with high moral character and proven leadership skills,
- appropriately reward people for faithful service,
- support leaders as they promote good government and prevent social, economic, and moral deterioration,
- pray for leaders and for God's ultimate leadership, and
- raise our children with the tools to carry on the work of good leadership and good support for others in authority.

A Light at the End of the Tunnel

Is. 3:16–4:6

God does not permit any evil—individual, corporate, or national—to continue forever. Judah's idolatry, hypocritical worship, and unjust treatment of the poor would eventually reap their own destruction.

Hundreds of years before Jerusalem's fall in 587 B.C., Isaiah described with stunning accuracy the dishonor that the Babylonians would inflict on their captives (Is. 3:24), grimly foretelling what awaited Jerusalem's women after the battle. Once proud, seductive, and ostentatious (Is. 3:16), they would be brought low when their men were slaughtered (3:1–3, 25), their city burned, and its walls demolished (3:26). Their beauty would be disfigured and their pride turned to shame (3:17). God would permit invaders to strip them of their expensive jewelry and fine clothing (3:17–23). Jerusalem's women would be left widowed, childless, and outnumbering male survivors by seven to one (4:1). Dying childless was seen as a disgrace by the ancient world (see "Barrenness" at Gen. 18:11, 12).

If Isaiah had stopped at this point of his vision, the people would have had reason to feel hopeless indeed. But just as fine metals must go through a fiery process of purification, so the Hebrews were given a further vision of light at the end of the tunnel. God would use Jerusalem's destruction to purify His people from sin (4:4). Once evil had been removed, He would raise up a people who would enjoy His presence and protection (4:5, 6). Many see this promise as foreshadowing the emergence of the Church.

The Dangers of Some Success

Is. 5:8–10

Hidden dangers lurk within success, which can change our values and behavior for the worse. For example, Isaiah attempted to alert the wealthy to the unfortunate results of their fortunes. They were accumulating houses and lands but losing their personal integrity. The same thing can happen to us when . . .

- We resort to unethical practices to increase gains (Is. 1:23; 5:20, 23).
- We quit caring about the poor (1:23; 3:14, 15).
- We accumulate material things far beyond our needs (2:7; 3:18–24; 5:8).
- We worship our own accomplishments (2:8; 5:21).
- We abuse God's people (3:15).

Some of these patterns of behavior may seem too obvious to sneak up on us, but it can be easy not to recognize them when we become engrossed in our work and in enjoying the products of our success. Some clues that we may be allowing our values to suffer include these disturbing outcomes:

- Our children become spoiled and disrespectful (3:5).

- We experience a breakdown in leadership (3:6, 7).
- Wars break out (3:25, 26; 5:26–30).
- We become wealthy but lonely (5:8).
- We swap self-discipline for self-indulgence, which leads to failure (5:11–13, 22).

Whenever we prosper materially, we risk the hazards of that success. We need to pause often and evaluate where our blessings are leading us, lest they destroy us.

The Leper King

Is. 6:1

Coming to power at age sixteen, King Uzziah was among Judah's best kings. He led the kingdom into a period of flourishing prosperity. But at the height of his power, he acted foolishly and was struck with leprosy. His death grimly reminds us that forgiveness does not necessarily do away with the consequences of sin.

An Earth Full of Glory

Is. 6:3

Paul explained to Christians in Rome that God's invisible attributes may be clearly seen through creation, so that everyone is without excuse if they refuse to give glory to God (Rom. 1:20, 21). Many centuries earlier, Isaiah heard the same truth proclaimed in God's throne room: "The whole earth is full of His glory!" (Is. 6:3).

God has revealed Himself through what He has made (Ps. 19:1–4). Creation shows not only that He exists but that He is just, righteous, and holy beyond comprehension.

When Isaiah saw the holy God seated on His throne, "high and lifted up" (Is. 6:1), surrounded by the praise of angels, he broke down. He confessed himself to be an unclean sinner unfit to stand before the living God (6:5). He threw himself on God's mercy, and the Lord responded by cleansing Isaiah from sin (6:6, 7).

God does not allow everyone to see Him as Isaiah did, but He has abundantly revealed Himself through His handiwork. And He calls each of us to respond to Him as Isaiah did, with sincere repentance, which leads to wholeness.

Finding Direction

Is. 6:8, 9

When Isaiah had a vision of heaven's throne room, the experience left no doubt about what he was to do next. The Lord called him to serve as His prophet. Other individuals in Scripture also experienced a dramatic encounter with God that prompted a major life decision:

- Moses stumbled on a burning bush while tending his father-in-law's herds in Midian. The Lord sent him back to Egypt to lead His people out of slavery into the Promised Land (Ex. 3:1–10).
- Gideon met the Angel of the Lord as he threshed wheat. The Lord appointed him to save the Israelites from the oppressive Midianites (Judg. 6:11–14).
- David was tending sheep when the Lord directed Samuel to anoint the young shepherd as Israel's next king (1 Sam. 16:1–13).
- Saul, later called Paul, encountered a blinding light and the voice of Jesus on the road to Damascus. He was told that he was to become the Lord's spokesman (Acts 9:1–22).
- Jesus left carpentry for public ministry after hearing His Father's voice at the Jordan River (Matt. 3:17).

God initiated each of these encounters, and each meeting led to a career change with a specific purpose. Yet dramatic callings like these appear to be the exception rather than the rule. Most people won't ever receive a sign from heaven detailing exactly what God wants them to do, yet many Christians wait for a divine signal, expecting God to make a decision for them. They must instead apply biblical principles to making choices about how to best use their God-given skills and abilities in whatever opportunities the Lord brings their way (see "You Are Unique" at Ps. 33:15).

As we look for our next step, our universal calling as believers is always to be faithful in the tasks and responsibilities that God has currently given us—in our family, at work, in school, and in the community. This is God's assignment for us right now, and in the future.

Seeing the Big Picture

Is. 7:2

Whether we react to trouble with despair or faith largely depends on the state of our relationship with God. King Ahaz of Judah had completely turned from the Lord, sacrificing his children as burnt offerings to pagan gods. When he heard that Syria and Israel had allied to prepare an attack, he had no faith to fall back on. He became so frightened that his heart shook like a tree in the wind.

Through Isaiah, God mercifully helped Ahaz gain perspective by giving him a long-term view of the forces aligning themselves against him. The prophet cited trends that pointed to the demise of Ahaz's enemies within the course of a lifetime (Is. 7:8). In place of anxious desperation, Ahaz was invited to exercise quiet faith.

We too are invited to take a long-term view of history's outcomes. As God's people, we are part of a process spanning generations. We build on our predecessors' legacy and contribute to our successors' future. Today's terrors may even become tomorrow's joys (7:18–25).

Watch Out for Bad Advice
Is. 8:16–22

Proverbs says that input from many counselors offers safety (Prov. 11:14) and that a variety of opinions brings success (15:22; 20:18; 24:6). But even with many counselors, we must choose truly helpful counselors, rather than those who will rubber stamp our plans. The people of Isaiah's day urgently needed wise counsel, but they had difficulty discerning good advice from bad. So Isaiah contrasted the two.

Reliable counsel . . .

- listens carefully to God (Is. 8:11);
- does not see conspiracies behind every problem (8:12);
- avoids acting out of fear (8:12);
- respects and praises God (8:13).

Unreliable counsel . . .

- ignores God's law (8:19, 20);
- allows anger to distort one's perspective (8:21);
- leads to trouble and anguish (8:22).

More: For more on the need to seek good advice, see "Wisdom Needs Community" at Prov. 24:6.

Swallowed by Pride
Is. 9:8–10

The Lord condemned the northern kingdom of Israel, called "Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria" by Isaiah, for its arrogance and pride. The prophet envisions a conversation between God and the Israelites. When God declares that their cities, buildings, and houses will be destroyed, they boast that they will rebuild with better materials than before—hewn stones instead of bricks, cedar instead of sycamores.

Excavations at Tirzah, the capital of the northern kingdom before it was moved to Samaria, suggest how the Israelites might have carried out this boast. Israel was likely a two-tiered society of a few wealthy landowners and a vast population of poor people. When the nation hit hard times, the rich maintained their extravagant lifestyles by bearing down on the poor even harder.

The Lord promised that the Syrians and the Philistines would devour the nation like two jaws (Is. 9:12) for these and other sins. Later, the Assyrians completely swallowed up the nation (10:6; Amos 5:11, 12).

More: The story of Jonah and the great fish is another biblical reference to being swallowed up because of sin—literally. For more, read Jon. 1–2.

Think About It: When have you been at least partially swallowed by sin? Why are the consequences of failing to heed God's warnings always greater than we anticipate?

The Force of God's Wrath

Is. 9:12

Four times Isaiah repeats the phrase, "For all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still" (Is. 9:12, 17, 21; 10:4), indicating that God's wrath can result in truly dire punishment when redemption demands it. Several sins invited this discipline of the northern kingdom, here called Jacob, Israel, Ephraim, and Samaria. Isaiah cites five crimes:

1. Pride and arrogance (9:9, 10).
2. Refusal to repent and return to the Lord despite His discipline (9:13).
3. Corruption of the nation's leaders (9:15, 16).
4. Hypocrisy and wickedness (9:17).
5. Unjust laws and policies that robbed the poor (10:1, 2).

After watching these sins continue for generations, the Lord promised to allow enemies to destroy the nation's cities (9:11, 12), depose its leadership (9:14), decimate the people (9:16, 17; 10:4), and trigger famine and civil war. These prophecies all came to their final fulfillment during the rule of King Hoshea (c. 732–722 B.C.; 2 Kin. 17:1–18).

We should consider where the sins that led to Israel's downfall are present in our own lives. Then we should consider how much the sins that led to Israel's downfall are present in our society and how we are contributing to those sins. No one knows how God will deal with modern nations that persistently disregard His ways. It could be that where sin is tolerated and institutionalized, God may let the same judgment fall. Regardless, sin has its own natural consequences that are unpleasant enough. We should do everything we can to abandon evil and develop a culture of honesty, purity, and justice.

Institutionalized Injustice

Is. 10:1–4

Anyone who believes that poverty is completely the fault of the poor must consider Isaiah's prophecy about Israel's destitute. He makes clear that the poor's worst foe is often a system in which the powerful institutionalize injustice and prey on the powerless.

This reality does not remove individual responsibility; rather, it calls for individuals to galvanize their communities to equip the underprivileged. Communities should evaluate how they treat the poor and hold public institutions accountable for the level of skill-imparting they provide in arenas such as housing, money lending, city planning, education, employment, crime prevention, rehabilitation, voting, and more. Two principles emerge from Isaiah's warning:

1. God watches how societies treat the poor. The Lord notices when policy makers "decree unrighteous decrees" that "rob the needy of justice" (Is. 10:1, 2). He sees how their system operates and recognizes it as robbery.
2. God promises to bring justice to the poor and to judge their oppressors. God promises a day of punishment for all who hinder the needy. Isaiah describes a reversal that lowers the powerful and lifts the poor.

If we aim to obey God, we should study the legal, regulatory, and social systems of our community and country to expose systems that promote institutionalized injustice against the poor. Then we should work to establish systems that do not victimize the poor but instead give them the support they need to gather the resources to support themselves.

More: Christians often feel powerless in the face of government organizations. But there are ways for us to influence large systems. Pandita Ramabai, Earl Warren, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Martin Luther King Jr., Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, and Albert Lutuli were all Christians who fought against institutionalized injustice.

The Ruin of the Land

Is. 10:19

Mediterranean coastal regions experienced extreme environmental challenges between the eighth and first centuries B.C. The forests of Lebanon and Ephraim disappeared. The firs on Mount Hermon ("Senir") became unavailable. Lions vanished from the Jordan River Valley. The land became "desolate," just as the prophets had warned (Mic. 7:13).

No one knows exactly what caused this ecological destruction, but human abuse of the environment played a part. Two factors stand out:

- Overcutting forests. Solomon imported vast amounts of cedar from the Phoenicians (1 Kin. 5:10). One project used so much cedar that the building was called the House of the Forest of Lebanon (7:2). The Phoenicians later sold even more timber to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon (see "The Cedar Trade" at 1 Kin. 7:2). Massive and apparently indiscriminate cutting of Lebanon's timber, with no attempts at reforestation, eventually left the land barren.
- Frequent battles and military campaigns. As ancient armies besieged cities, they plundered food from nearby fields and forests, then burned the countryside to prevent defenders from restocking their own supplies. Siege ramps and towers were built out of whatever timber was at hand. A prolonged siege might last several years. The Assyrian siege of Samaria, for example, lasted three years (2 Kin. 17:5), and the Babylonian siege at Tyre lasted thirteen. The Babylonians were said to "cut down the thickets of the forest with iron" (Is. 10:33, 34). These military campaigns could permanently ravage the ecosystem of an entire territory.

The situation changed for the better under the Roman empire. Engineers implemented careful water conservation and land use and built impressive canals, aqueducts, and reservoirs. They even attempted to replant Lebanon. But when the Romans passed from the scene, many areas reverted to desert, and much of the land that once flowed with milk and honey (Num. 13:27) once again became unproductive.

More: The environmental problems created in Canaan could not have pleased God, who watches over every aspect of creation, including its safekeeping. See "God and the Environment" at Ps. 104:14–23, 35.

The Peaceable Kingdom

Is. 11:1–10

Much of Isaiah's prophecies are about God's judgment and aggravation against Judah (Is. 5), Israel (7:1–10:4), and Assyria (10:5–23). The Lord promised to cut down these arrogant kingdoms like a logger fells Lebanon's massive cedars (10:33, 34).

God's fury might seem to contradict His loving character. But godly fury is a part of love.

God's compassion might be difficult to see as He strikes the earth "with the rod of His mouth." But the Lord's wrath is not the same as human anger. When people become angry, they often lash out in vindictive, selfish ways that vent emotion but fail to promote true justice.

God's wrath, however, flows from His loving character (11:5). He doesn't discipline individuals and nations because He feels hurt; He acts to right wrongs and put an end to evil.

God's anger also brings about a better outcome. When we act out of anger, we often trigger reactionary violence and bitterness. God's judgment can feel like a furious storm but it ultimately creates peace.

Isaiah's prophecies include God's promise to raise up a Rod and a Branch out of the stem of His people (11:1). This in its fullest sense refers to Christ, who will lead His followers into the life that the Lord always intended for us. His peaceable kingdom transforms relationships, places, and societies, symbolized by peace between animals that are natural enemies (11:6–9).

This vision will not be fully realized until Christ returns and assumes power over all the earth. Nonetheless, this ideal still inspires us to pursue the peace that we can achieve until that day. Renewal is God's work, but promoting justice for the poor and equity for the broken makes a part of His kingdom real here and now.

The Root of Jesse

Is. 11:10

The troubles of Isaiah's era made it seem as if nothing would be left of David and Solomon's celebrated reigns except dry stumps and roots. What was once a flourishing tree would die.

Yet the Lord promised to sprout a Rod and Branch (Is. 11:1), a descendant of David on whom His Spirit would rest, bringing wisdom, understanding, counsel, might, knowledge, and fear of the Lord (9:2–7). Scripture later revealed that this Branch of Jesse was Jesus.

Jesus affirmed His role as David's successor when He said, "I, Jesus, have sent My angel to testify to you these things. . . . I am the Root and the Offspring of David, the Bright and Morning Star" (Rev. 22:16). Elsewhere, Scripture expands on what this means:

- Jesus will condemn evildoers and save the righteous (Is. 11:4, 5; Matt. 25:31–46; Rev. 20:11–15).
- Jesus will end all war (Is. 11:6–9; Rev. 21:1–4).
- Jesus will save the Gentiles (Is. 11:10; Acts 15:11–17; Rev. 5:5–9).
- Jesus will break down the barriers that divide people from one another and from God Himself (Eph. 2:14–22).

A Spiritual Highway

Is. 19:23–25

Judah in Isaiah's era was flanked by two empires. To the northeast lay Assyria, a fiercely ambitious nation dominating the region. To the southwest was Egypt, an ancient nemesis that was now an aging superpower collapsing in political strife and civil war.

Isaiah had already predicted the demise of Egypt (Is. 19:1–15) and Assyria (10:5–12). But in the midst of God's discipline of the nations, the prophet offered hope. The Lord would one day build a roadway of peace and commerce from Egypt to Assyria, passing through a revived Israel.

Egyptians and Assyrians would join Israelites to worship God. The highway would pass through cities that had repented of their idolatry and set up altars to the Lord (19:18, 19).

This highway's completion still lies in the future, but its groundwork was laid when God allowed Israel and Judah to be taken into captivity. Jews were scattered not only in Assyria and Babylon but also in Egypt and across the Mediterranean. Some two million Jews are believed to have lived at Alexandria at the time of Christ.

This dispersion helped launch the gospel following Pentecost (Acts 2). Thousands of religious pilgrims responded to Peter's message about Christ, and they took their new faith with them when they returned home. As we continue to take the gospel into our communities and around the world, we help build a spiritual highway that will one day connect the entire world to each other and to the Lord.

Making Merry Instead of Mourning

Is. 22:12–14

Ecclesiastes says that there is "a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance" (Eccl. 3:4). Jerusalem's citizens seem to have failed to recognize that they lived in a time that called for weeping and mourning rather than joy and gladness.

The Lord saw little for His people to celebrate, especially in the final days of the southern kingdom. Yet even as Babylon's armies marched on Jerusalem, King Zedekiah (c. 597–586 B.C.) and his people refused to come back to God.

- The king "stiffened his neck and hardened his heart" against God (2 Chr. 36:13).
- The king ignored the prophet Jeremiah (36:12), and people mocked the Lord's spokespeople and despised their messages (36:16).
- Zedekiah broke an oath and rebelled against the Babylonians (36:13).
- Idolatrous abominations defiled the temple (36:14).

Rulers, priests, and the general population went about their lives as if God did not matter. When they should have been abandoning sin and crying to the Lord for help, they threw parties, violated God's commands, and indulged in a fatalistic attitude, shouting, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!"

Godly living means that we will be sensitive to the times of our lives and societies, meeting each moment with the reaction it deserves. It is foolish to ignore the times given to us to repent and to turn from trivialities to meaningful activities that help people and honor God.

God Humbles the Proud

Is. 22:15–23

God often reverses our positions and prospects depending on our response to Him. He lowers the proud and the wicked who defy Him, but He raises up the poor and the teachable who honor Him.

Shebna was a powerful official under King Hezekiah of Judah and was among the leaders who met the Assyrian officer Rabshakeh when he threatened Jerusalem (Is. 36:2, 3). Isaiah foretold that God would seize Shebna and toss him away like a ball because of the extravagant tomb he had built for himself (22:16–19).

Shebna's sepulcher typified the careless attitude of God's people (22:12, 13). Shebna was not merely planning for his death but building a monument to his memory. When he should have been crying out to the Lord for mercy, he was busy polishing his image. God informed him that he would never use the elaborately carved tomb. He would die in a foreign country, and an official named Eliakim would inherit Shebna's position (22:20–23).

God still humbles the proud (James 4:6). How have you seen Him do this for you? We would be wise to examine whether we arrogantly ignore the Lord's commands or do His will with humble obedience.

The Wasteland

Is. 24:1

Isaiah envisions an earth plundered, polluted, burned up, and destroyed—a wasteland where nothing remains untouched. Humanity has left God, and the earth languishes under the curse of a broken covenant (Is. 24:5, 6).

The earth will not be made new until "the new wine fails, the vine languishes" and "all the merry-hearted sigh" (24:7). In other words, joy will first turn to gloom. Society's breakdown is seen in boarded-up houses (24:10) and destroyed gates (24:12). The world will resemble war-ravaged areas today—no government, no police, no hospitals, no food. The earth will be wracked by disease, desolation, and death.

This somber outlook does include an assurance that God will reign in the end (24:23), but in the meantime, our world is headed for judgment. If we are sobered by that message, Isaiah's words have had their intended effect. We must look further, to the New Testament, for a resounding word of hope about the future of the world. For more, see "Liberating Creation" at Romans 8:21, 22.

Perfection in Its Place

Is. 26:1–3

Many Christians take phrases from Scripture and count them as personal promises without considering their biblical context. Isaiah's prophecies, for example, described events that will take place "in that day," presumably the day when the Lord Jesus Christ returns to reign. They clearly pertain to the institutions of a "strong city" that God upholds, as opposed to the "lofty city" that He brings low (Is. 26:1, 5). "Walls and bulwarks" imply community infrastructure such as buildings, government, business, transportation, and health care. God will save all of these aspects of the city's "gates" so that His righteous people may enter in (26:2).

It is in this redeemed city that "perfect peace" will be found (26:3). The peace is less of a promise than a description of what a person who enters the redeemed city will encounter. His mind will rest because he is confident that God upholds the city.

Isaiah's prophecies were given to urban dwellers whose neighboring cities were being captured by the Assyrians and whose own city would soon be overrun by the Babylonians. They had an urgent need for a "strong city." Their situation invites us to identify our own pressing needs and the threats staged against us. Then we can turn to the Lord for hope that only He can provide.

What's the Hurry?

Is. 30:15

The people addressed by Isaiah were consumed with anxiety as they got ready for an Assyrian invasion. But God warned them that the key to withstanding military threats was not frantic preparation but a quiet trust in Him.

Wise planning has godly value (see "Work and Prayer" at 2 Chr. 32:6–9), but faith in God must undergird that. Planning may require stopping work to reflect on God's ability to handle a dire situation. Scripture calls us to worship the Lord regularly (Ex. 20:8–10) during both planning and reflection. This principle of a measured life was established at the end of the world's first work week, when God paused from His work to consider what He had accomplished (Gen. 1:31–2:2).

Mother Bird

Is. 31:5

The Lord had pledged to protect Jerusalem from Assyria, and Isaiah pictured God as an angry bird that dives, pecks, and claws in order to guard its young. Similar images of God appear frequently in the Psalms. David described himself as resting in the shadow of God's wings (see "God is Devoted to Us" at Ps. 63:7).

Another psalmist offered the assurance that the Lord would "cover you with His feathers, and under His wings you shall take refuge" (Ps. 91:4). Seeing a bird darting about to protect its nestlings can be a reminder to us of God's care and intervention.

The Spirit in the Wilderness

Is. 32:16–20

Rural areas in Bible times were not serene retreats from a complicated urban existence. The countryside was usually short on law and order, with everyone doing “what was right in his own eyes” (Judg. 21:25). Cities offered relative peace and protection.

That reality makes Isaiah’s vision of justice in the wilderness (Is. 32:16) a remarkable promise. The key to the transformation would be the presence of the Spirit (32:15). But the Spirit would not impose God’s peace on unwilling people. Peace would result from the people’s righteous acts (32:17).

The Lord instructed Judah’s complacent women to wail for the consequences looming over their corrupt, escapist society (32:9–13). Yet God promised to intervene. Though the city’s walls would not make it secure, the Spirit would be its defender.

As we act with righteousness in our communities, we give the Spirit an opportunity to bless us and our neighbors. Those acts may be feeding the hungry, shutting down an immoral business, or supporting an ethical leader. Whatever action we take, the Spirit can multiply our efforts above and beyond our expectations.

Security Comes from Honoring God

Is. 33:2–24

God warns that His fury will descend like a plague of devouring locusts (Is. 33:3, 4) to disrupt complacency (33:7, 8). He will assert Himself among all who assume that He either overlooks their wrongdoing or is too weak to act (33:10–13).

As God executes judgment on evildoers, He offers hope to the righteous. Isaiah describes those who will escape punishment and live with the Lord in safety (33:15):

- They demonstrate righteous behavior.
- They speak only truth.
- They refrain from oppressing the powerless for a profit.
- They do not allow their integrity to be bought with a bribe.
- They do not violently eliminate competitors.
- They will not tolerate evil in their presence.

People who pursue godly character will enjoy the Lord’s protection (33:16). He will make their lives secure when He arrives to rule

Jerusalem.

The background of this passage may have been the Assyrian invasion of 701 B.C., when Sennacherib's forces captured cities across Judah before laying siege to Jerusalem (36:1, 2). Isaiah seems to invite people from the countryside to flee to the holy city for protection. Yet safety comes not from strong walls and strategic plans but from honoring God.

We daily face dangers that make us long for the Lord's protection. As we seek His refuge and security, we should also pursue a life that honors Him. It is hypocritical to spurn the Lord's ways yet feel entitled to His defense.

Cursing God's People

Is. 37:23

God so identifies with His people that He takes curses and taunts against them as affronts to His own character. The Assyrian Rabshakeh's defiant letter insulted Judah, but the Lord took it as an offense against Himself.

A similar situation occurred in the early church. Jewish elders and chief priests arrested Peter and John, but followers of Jesus soon recognized that the persecution aimed at them was actually an attack against their Lord. God affirmed their realization by manifesting His presence (Acts 4:23–31).

All of us who follow God are likely to face some measure of opposition and persecution. But the attack is directed not ultimately at us but at the God who stands behind us (1 Pet. 4:12–16). That fact puts our suffering in perspective and emboldends us, for though we are weak, our God can equip us to withstand it all.

Miracles and Creation

Is. 38:1–9

Some dismiss miracles as fables or frauds. Others regard them as surprises of nature that are difficult but not impossible to explain. Still others treat them as misperceptions by unintelligent, superstitious people. But the Bible presents miracles as matters of fact, including the story of King Hezekiah's healing and the reversal of the sundial's shadow.

The reality of miracles is easy to accept if we start—as the Bible does—with the premise that the entire world and all its systems are the creation of a powerful and engaged God who oversees it all (Gen. 1–2; Ps. 104; John 1:1–3). For this reason, the Bible speaks of creation and miracles in the same breath, like the psalmist who discusses creation alongside Israel's miraculous escape from Egypt (Ps. 135:5–9; 136:1–16).

The amazing systems that God has placed in our bodies are likewise reason to praise Him. We call them "natural," but something is no less miraculous if it has a natural description alongside a spiritual one. Furthermore, what we describe as "nature" has been created and is sustained by God, so that exceptions to the way things "naturally" operate must been seen in the larger picture of God ruling all. If everything belongs to Him, then exceptions to the norm are His prerogative.

Many of God's interventions into the routine of creation are well-known even by people who know little about the Bible. Each miracle provides insight into God's awesome power. A sampling of famous miracles is given below.

The Creation	God created the heavens and the earth by calling them into existence (Gen. 1:1–31).
The Flood	A great flood covered the earth, but God preserved Noah and his family in the ark (Gen. 6–8).
The Confusion of Languages at Babel	God stopped the world's people from building a tower at Babel by causing them to speak different languages (Gen. 11:1–9).
The Plagues on Egypt	God sent ten plagues on the Egyptians to force stubborn Pharaoh to free the Israelites from captivity (Ex. 7–12).
The Parting	God enabled the Israelites to escape Egypt by parting of the Red Sea	the Red Sea, allowing them to cross on dry land (Ex. 14:24–31).

The Fall of the Wall at Jericho	The Lord caused Jericho's mighty wall to collapse, enabling the Israelites to capture the city and score their first military victory in the Promised Land (Josh. 6:6–25).
Fire from Heaven at Mount Carmel	The prophet Elijah called down fire from heaven to prove that the Lord is God and Baal is not (1 Kin. 18:20–40).
The Fiery Furnace	God preserved the lives of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego after they were thrown into a furnace for refusing to bow down before an image of Nebuchadnezzar (Dan. 3:19–27).
Daniel in the Lions' Den	Daniel's enemies caused him to be tossed to the lions, but God preserved and vindicated him (Dan. 6).
Jonah and the Great Fish	The prophet Jonah was swallowed by a great fish but vomited onto dry land, preserving his life and causing him to repent of running from God (Jon. 1–2).
The Virgin Birth	Jesus was conceived in Mary by the Holy Spirit (Luke 1:26–38).
The Miracles of Jesus	Jesus performed many miracles (see "The Miracles of Jesus" at Mark 8:11, 12).
The Raising of Lazarus	Jesus raised His friend Lazarus from the dead (John 11:38–44).
The Resurrection of Jesus	Jesus rose from the dead after being executed by crucifixion and buried in a sealed tomb (Matt. 28:1–10).
Peter and John Heal a Lame Man	Peter and John authenticated their message about Jesus by healing a lame man through the Holy Spirit's power (Acts 3).

Clean Up Your Own Mess

Is. 39:8

King Hezekiah feared God and helped his nation prosper. Under his wise leadership, Judah regained much of the spiritual and political ground it had lost under Ahaz. The siege of Jerusalem by the Assyrians in 701 B.C. allowed Hezekiah to demonstrate his strategic skills and sincere faith (Is. 36–37; see also "Work and Prayer" at 2 Chr. 32:6–9).

But late in life, Hezekiah committed a serious misstep that put his descendants in grave danger, an act he justified with the thought, "At least there will be peace and truth in my days."

Hezekiah foolishly showed his entire horde of treasures to Babylonian representatives (Is. 39:1, 2; 2 Chr. 32:27–31). His blunder revealed the strength of Judah's defenses and disclosed the nation's wealth. Hezekiah may have hoped to ingratiate himself with the Babylonians, but instead he gave away state secrets to a future enemy.

The most significant flaw in Hezekiah's actions was the pride that motivated them. Before the ambassadors arrived, the Lord had healed Hezekiah from a life-threatening illness. Despite God's kindness, Scripture records that Hezekiah's "heart was lifted up" (2 Chr. 32:24–26). Unveiling his treasures was an opportunity to boast to his visitors from the east.

The saddest outcome of Hezekiah's pride was the impact it would have on those who came after him. Isaiah told the king that someday the Lord would permit the Babylonians to return and clean out the treasuries they had seen (Is. 39:5–7). Amazingly, Hezekiah took this as an encouraging word from God (39:8). Thinking only of himself, he was relieved that peace and security would last until he exited the scene.

Hezekiah died in comfort around 686 B.C. A century later, the Babylonians captured Jerusalem and its king, Hezekiah's great-great-grandson Zedekiah. The invaders plundered all the treasuries that Hezekiah had shown and took them back to Babylon (2 Kin. 25:8–17; 2 Chr. 36:17–21).

Through his selfishness, Hezekiah ensured that his descendants would have to deal with consequences of his foolishness. His unthinkable actions are a warning to our current generation as we pass unresolved problems down to our children—from personal troubles to community needs to national debt to environmental concerns. Unless we make hard choices now, our legacy may be nothing short of cataclysmic.

More: See Hezekiah's profile at 2 Chr. 29:1.

Think About It: Your actions are making things better or worse for those around you. Under Hezekiah's wise leadership, Judah regained much of the spiritual and political ground it had lost under Ahaz. But then he chose a self-centered path that hurt his great-great-grandson and others he never knew. What spiritual and political ground is being gained, or lost, because of your daily habits?

The Arm of God

Is. 40:10, 11

The arm of God embraces His people with a powerful and comforting love. God's arm rules with sovereign might. It protects, defends, and delivers from bondage and sin. Yet God's arm also feeds His flock and ensures that lambs are nursed. It watches over the vulnerable, weak, and innocent.

We need a God of both power and comfort. As we nurture, protect, and advocate for others, we can look to the Lord described in Isaiah 40 for the personal and spiritual resources we need to carry out the task.

Strength for the Weary

Is. 40:30, 31

God's concern for people on society's margins permeates Isaiah's prophecies.

In Isaiah 40–41, the prophet speaks directly to needy people, an audience of the weary held captive in Babylon. He assured the dislocated and disrupted that God would help them relocate and rebuild. He would bless their land with renewed prosperity (Is. 41:18, 19; compare Ps. 104:13–16; Is. 30:25; 44:3, 4).

God's concern for the lowly and despised, poor and needy, thirsty and hungry, and young and vulnerable never falters or grows weary (40:30, 31; 41:17). As we work with people worn out by the demands of life—or if we feel like giving up when circumstances weigh us down—we can gain comfort from God's promises for strength. Our task is to wait on God, trusting Him to supply what we cannot.

The Names of God

Is. 41:14

To the Israelites, a name was more than a label. It embodied identity. The power of naming was on display when God called Adam to name all the species of creation (Gen. 2:18–20). And God takes His own name seriously. When He showed Himself to Moses, He called Himself, "I AM WHO I AM. . . . This is My name forever" (Ex. 3:13–15). When Moses later wanted to see God's glory, the Lord told him, "I will make all My goodness pass before you, and I will proclaim the name of the LORD before you. . . . [But] you cannot see My face" (33:18–20).

God reveals Himself to us through His many names in Scripture. Isaiah comforted Judah, for example, with the fact that the Lord was the people's Redeemer. The Old Testament prophets described God with a variety of names, each filled with meaning.

Branch (Zech. 3:8; 6:12)	The Messiah who will come from David's line to rule in righteousness.
Commander (Is. 55:4)	The military leader of His people.

Counselor (Is. 9:6)	The Messiah responsible for leading His people.
Desire of Nations (Hag. 2:7)	The One to whom all nations will eventually come.
Everlasting Father (Is. 9:6)	The eternally compassionate One.
Foundation (Is. 28:16)	The One on whom we safely build.
Fountain (Zech. 13:1)	The One who removes sin and impurity.
Lawgiver (Is. 33:22)	The absolute standard of moral conduct.
Messiah (Dan. 9:25, 26)	The anointed Deliverer.
Mighty God (Is. 9:6)	The powerful and sovereign Lord.
Purifier (Mal. 3:3)	The God who washes away that which hinders or destroys.
Redeemer (Is. 59:20; 60:16)	The One who frees His people by paying a price.
Refiner (Mal. 3:3)	The One who uses trials to remove sin just as fire refines gold.
Refuge (Is. 25:4)	The Person in whom we find safety and protection.
Righteousness (Jer. 23:6; 33:16)	The One who is completely without sin and filled with absolute goodness.
Rod (Is. 11:1)	The Messiah descended from Jesse.
Servant (Is. 42:1; 49:5–7)	The faithful Son of God who does His Father's will.
Wonderful (Is. 9:6)	The God who causes awe in those who behold Him and His ways.

Think About It: Your actions determine what your name represents. What character traits would your family members say you display? What would coworkers say? What would people at your church say? All of these contribute to the meaning of your name.

Justice to the Gentiles

Is. 42:1

Judah's people felt they had suffered unjustly at the hands of ruthless people. The godless had stolen their property, slaughtered their relatives, and ruined their lives. God's people cried out for help, and then a reply finally arrived: The Lord promises to bring justice. To Judah's dismay, justice would come not only for them but also for their oppressors.

This was the surprising message that Isaiah delivered to Judah in his prophecy about the Servant of the Lord (Is. 42:1–9). The prophet said that God's Chosen One was coming "to bring justice to the Gentiles" (42:1). This must have been a rude awakening for the Hebrews. Yet the Lord declared again and again throughout Isaiah's prophecies that the Israelites were not the only people He cared about or who had a part in His plans. God also sought the salvation of the Gentiles—even nations that had abused and oppressed His people.

The New Testament reveals that Jesus Christ is the Servant of the Lord predicted by Isaiah (Matt. 12:17–21). He came to establish justice for the entire world. He opened blind eyes and freed prisoners (Is. 42:7; 61:1–3; compare Luke 4:16–30). And in carrying out this mission, He encountered hostility from the Jews, His own people, as well as the Gentiles.

From the beginning of creation, the entire world has been the object of God's love, mercy, and salvation. This is a wonderful hope for people of every nation. This truth must shape how we deal with people who do not know God, especially people from cultures and backgrounds different from our own.

We are to Fulfill Aspects of the Servant's Calling

Is. 42:1–4

The "Servant" who often appears in Isaiah is not merely a random follower of God. This Servant is the Messiah, a person called and empowered to carry out a unique mission fulfilling God's eternal purposes.

But the nation of Israel was also to fulfill many aspects of the Servant's calling. God told the returnees from Babylon to spread light to the Gentiles, non-Jews who lived in spiritual blindness and moral bondage (Is. 42:6, 7; see also "A Self-Proclamation" at Is. 61:1, 2). The result would be a "new song" (42:10) of ocean and coastland, wilderness and city, Kedar and Sela (42:11).

Kedar was a tribe of Ishmaelites known for their sizeable flocks and marauding ways (see "Bent Toward Belligerence" at Ps. 120:5–7). Sela ("Rock") was another name for Petra, the capital of Edom. These descendants of Esau (see "The Edomites: Perpetual Enemies of Israel" at Gen. 36:9) constantly antagonized the Israelites. So Isaiah envisioned Israel and its longstanding enemies joyfully singing praise to the Lord from the mountaintops to the coastlands—that is, to the ends of the earth.

The Israelites who came back from Babylon were probably not very pleased with this assignment of bringing God's light to the Gentiles. It would be far easier to focus on securing their own national interests. In fact, there is evidence that the people who returned home did indeed turn inward, and that the Jews' hatred of Gentiles, so evident by the time of Jesus, was spawned during this postexilic period.

One day Jesus would fulfill the mission of bringing God's light to a dark world (John 1:4, 5). But hundreds of years before Christ, the Lord called Israel to sing this new song as His people. Despite the travails of its past—perhaps because of them—Israel was to light the way toward God. And now Christ has called His church to shine as a light to the world (Matt. 5:14–16; Phil. 2:15), illuminating the path to God. This happens through our loving behavior, our calm problem solving, and many other redemptive actions.

The Four Servant Songs of Isaiah

The Just Servant (Is. 42:1–4)	The Lord's Servant will bring justice for both Jew and Gentile.

The Called Servant (Is. 49:1–6)	The Lord's Servant will be called from His mother's womb to restore Israel's tribes and bring light to the Gentiles.
The Wise Servant (Is. 50:4–9)	The Lord will give His Servant wisdom to withstand His enemies' attacks.
The Suffering Servant (Is. 52:13–53:12)	The Lord's Servant will take people's sins upon Himself.

The Holy Spirit in the Old Testament

Is. 42:1–9

The Old Testament offers no clearer statement of the intimate interworking of the triune God—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit—than Isaiah's prophecy of the Servant of the Lord, a passage summarizing the work of all three Persons of the Trinity in salvation. Isaiah ties together both Old Testament and New Testament understandings of God's grace and gives us fresh insight into the Holy Spirit.

It may surprise us that the Spirit's activity in Scripture is not limited to the New Testament, but He is just as active in the first part of the Bible as in the second:

- The Spirit participated in creation (Gen. 1:2; Job 26:13; Is. 32:15).
- The Spirit gives life to humanity and the other creatures (Ps. 104:29, 30). God endows people with life through the "breath of life" (Gen. 2:7); the word breath is the same word translated elsewhere as "spirit."
- The Spirit struggled with sinners (Gen. 6:3), a work perhaps related to His role in convicting people of sin (John 16:8–11).
- The Spirit gave rulers, judges, warriors, and prophets extraordinary power, including Joshua (Num. 27:18), Othniel (Judg. 3:10), Gideon (6:34), Samson (13:25; 14:6), and Saul (1 Sam. 10:9, 10). The Spirit later departed from Saul because of his disobedience (16:14).

- The Spirit was essential to Old Testament prophecy. David declared that "the Spirit of the LORD spoke by me, and His word was on my tongue" (2 Sam. 23:2). Ezekiel reported that "the Spirit entered me when He spoke to me" (Ezek. 2:2).
- The Spirit inspired holiness in Old Testament believers (Ps. 143:10). Scripture also promised that someday God would put His Spirit in His people and cause them to live according His statutes (Ezek. 36:27).
- The Spirit helped God's people anticipate the Messiah's ministry. Looking forward to the ministry of Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit inspired Isaiah to prophesy, "The Spirit of the LORD shall rest upon Him" (Is. 11:2). The Spirit would give God's Chosen One wisdom, understanding, counsel, might, knowledge, fear of the Lord, righteousness, and faithfulness. Jesus later claimed to be the fulfillment of this prophecy (61:1, 2; Luke 4:18, 19).

More: Sojourner Truth, an escaped slave, outspoken preacher, abolitionist, and women's rights activist, was profoundly moved by the Holy Spirit, famously saying, "The Spirit calls me, and I must go." Brother Lawrence, author of The Practice of the Presence of God*, made it his life's work to pursue God's holy presence.*

Cyrus: The Anointed Shepherd

Is. 44:28–45:1

Isaiah may have known of King Cyrus I, a Persian ruler of his era. But it was the grandson of Cyrus I, known as Cyrus II or Cyrus the Great, who fulfilled Isaiah's prophecy.

Cyrus II came to power in 559 B.C. Under his rule, Persia grew into an empire that first rivaled and then displaced Babylonia. His sympathetic policies toward captives taken into exile by the Babylonians made it possible for the Jews to return to Jerusalem and begin rebuilding the temple (2 Chr. 36:22, 23; see also "Cyrus's Decree" at Ezra 1:1). Cyrus II became a "shepherd" (Is. 44:28) to God's people, essentially leading them back home. He also became their “anointed” deliverer by overthrowing their former captors (Is. 45:1; compare 2 Chr. 36:20).

God’s selection of Cyrus II to serve His purposes should encourage students of government today. Many systems and leaders openly oppose God, and others promote policies that reject biblical values. But if God could work through Cyrus II, who did not know the Lord (Is. 45:4), He can also work through unbelieving leaders today. This fact gives us ample encouragement to pray for men and women in authority (1 Tim. 2:1, 2).

God’s Great Declaration

Is. 45:21, 22

The latter chapters of Isaiah relate declarations by God of who He is and what He has done. As He addresses the world’s nations with warnings of judgment and promises of redemption, the Lord states plainly that He alone can carry out these purposes. No other so-called god, no superpower on earth, no human being can match His sovereignty, authority, or power. To the kingdoms of Egypt and Cush He declares . . .

- God alone can say what will happen in the future.
- God alone is God.
- God is just.
- God is the Savior.
- There are no other gods beside the Lord.
- God is ready to save all the people of the earth if they will look to Him.
- God is God.

Elsewhere in chapter 45, the Lord declares . . .

- He rules over powerful kings (Is. 45:1–7).
- He is the source of all righteousness (45:8, 19, 24).
- He is the Holy One of Israel (45:11).
- He is Israel’s Savior (45:15).
- He stands against all false gods and idols (45:16, 20).

- He is the Creator of the universe (45:18).
- He is the Lord to whom every knee will ultimately bow (45:23).

These words were given by an awesome God who calls for our complete devotion.

Modern-Day Idols

Is. 46:5–10

Idols are not necessarily made of wood or stone or metal. Many of us may imagine idols as statues worshiped by ancient civilizations or primitive peoples. From the standpoint of Scripture, however, idolatry is treating anything or anyone as more important than God. The physical items are easier to recognize as idols. The intangibles can be more dangerous to us as Christians today.

The ancient Babylonians crafted idols for public and private worship. The Lord scorned these false gods, who were mute, powerless, and unable to move on their own. God's rebuke of idols also points to modern forms of idolatry. Reliance on a relationship to provide security or on a government to solve problems, for examples, can lead to treating God as secondary. Many place as much faith in technology as the ancients placed in their carved images, look to possessions to bring peace, experiences to create awe, and careers to instill significance. Wholeness is sought in other avenues even by those who claim to be wholly devoted to God.

All idols stand in the place of God, and worshipping them compounds pain (Deut. 7:25, 26). The first and second commandments continue to be in force no matter what form idolatry may take (Ex. 20:2–6). The Lord has not changed from long ago: "I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like Me" (Is. 46:9). The Lord is eternal, and only He can meet our needs.

The Purpose of Prophecy

Is. 48:5

Prophecy is often understood to be about foretelling the future, and God did at times use prophets to predict what lay ahead (for example, Is. 7:14–17; 45:1–7; Jer. 28:12–17). But the Lord spoke through the Old Testament prophets for at least two other reasons:

1. To reveal Himself as God. Through prophecy, the Lord made known His existence and power in compelling ways. He demonstrated His power through the prophets in ways that left no doubt about who He is (1 Kin. 18:36–39). And He proved His omniscience by revealing to the Israelites what would happen in the future, something no pagan idol could do (Is. 48:5).
2. To proclaim His Word for the present. God communicated truth through prophecy that would otherwise have remained unknown. He spoke not merely to inform but to instruct His people in how they should live. Prophecy both condemned evil and affirmed good. It is often referred to as the "word of the LORD" (for example, Is. 1:10; 28:14; 38:4) and is frequently prefaced by the phrase "thus says the Lord GOD" (for example, Is. 7:7; 10:24; 22:15).

Let the Light Shine

Is. 49:6, 7

Isaiah's Servant songs offered bold hope to Israel and the other nations of the world. The prophet promised a Servant who would "raise up the tribes of Jacob" and be a "light to the Gentiles." His salvation would reach "to the ends of the earth."

History later revealed Jesus as this Servant and light to the world (Matt. 12:17–21; John 1:4–13; 8:12). But Jesus also commissioned His followers to be His lights to every corner of earth (Matt. 5:14). Paul amplified this mission when he cited Isaiah as he spoke to the people of Pisidian Antioch: "For so the Lord has commanded us: 'I have set you as a light to the Gentiles, that you should be for salvation to the ends of the earth' " (Acts 13:47, emphasis added). We are servants of the Servant and bearers of His light.

The light of Christians at times shines miserably dim. There are many obstacles to our mission, including . . .

- Ethnic and racial prejudice. Jesus broke down walls between Jew and Gentile (Eph. 2:14–22), and the gospel penetrated beyond Judea's borders because a few brave followers acted on that truth (see "The Antioch Model" at Acts 13:1–3 and "Controversy in the Early Church" at Acts 15:1–21). We too must break through cultural boundaries.
- Moral or ethical compromise. We cannot shine a message about a pure and holy light if we live in moral darkness (1 John 1:5, 6). God wants us to live in a way that is morally attractive to people (Matt. 5:14–16; Titus 2:9, 10).
- Disunity or a lack of love for other believers. Few things undercut our mission more than internal conflict. The world will not believe Christ's message of love as long as His followers war with each other. Jesus prayed for our unity (John 17:22, 23).
- Lack of doctrinal clarity or authority. Christ's light illuminates the truth about God (John 7:16–18; 8:31, 32). If our thinking remains in the dark, we have nothing to persuade others to believe.
- A lost passion for evangelism. Christians stop spreading the light of Christ when they stop believing that His light needs to be spread. If Christians consider the mission complete, or expect someone else to carry it out, or think that the message is irrelevant, then the light goes no further. Someone dared to introduce us to God's grace; we must similarly spread His light to others.

The Dangers of the Tongue

Is. 50:4

Isaiah said the Lord's Anointed would "know how to speak" by receiving instruction from God. This divine coaching would teach Him to speak to the weary.

Our words may strike fear in others, or reveal our foolishness, or provide comfort to the hurting. Similar to the way the Lord's Anointed needed help learning what to say, we need God's instruction! Scripture repeatedly warns us about the dangers of the tongue:

- Words can cut like a sword (Ps. 57:4; 64:3).
- Words can be as poisonous as a snake (140:3).
- Words can convey lies with the impact of a bow (Jer. 9:3).
- Words can strike down others like an arrow (9:8).
- Words can curse and demean others (Hos. 7:16).

God commands us to test the impact of our words to see if we are building others up or tearing them down. As Paul told the Ephesians, we should only speak what imparts grace to our hearers (Eph. 4:29).

Love Among the Ruins

Is. 52:8, 9

Isaiah envisioned a jubilant celebration of Jerusalem's rebirth. The Babylonians had laid waste to the city (587 B.C.; 2 Kin. 25:8, 9), but a day would come when a messenger would bring "glad tidings of good things" (Is. 52:7). This person would announce to the handful of inhabitants left in Zion that the Lord was reviving the city by bringing its exiles home.

This news would so brighten the city that even its "waste places," or ruins, would "break forth into joy," praising God for the wonderful things He was about to do. A choir of city watchmen would sing when they saw the exiles approach (52:8, 9).

The waste places of modern cities and towns—abandoned houses, boarded-up businesses, neglected parks—need Isaiah's good news that God reigns (52:7). The people who inhabit these broken places need to know that rebuilding will soon begin (51:3; 52:9). God's followers can do much to revitalize these communities, for it is through a reform of hearts and minds that real change happens (see "The Ten Percent Solution" at Neh. 11:1, 2).

The Jews' redemption and return from Babylon foreshadowed the salvation and freedom that Jesus would bring. As we take that good news to our neighbors, we become owners of the "beautiful feet" that Isaiah celebrated (52:7; compare Rom. 10:15).

The Suffering Servant

Is. 52:13–53:12

Anyone who reads Isaiah's description of the suffering Servant alongside the New Testament accounts of Jesus' crucifixion cannot help but see compelling similarities. Isaiah spoke of a suffering Messiah, a concept unthinkable to Isaiah's listeners but easily understood in retrospect.

The Messiah not only came to show us God in the flesh, and to teach us how to live for God. He sacrificed his earthly life on behalf of humankind. He also endured an even greater sacrifice by taking on human sin and guilt so that we would not have to bear its eternal consequences. Jesus was "wounded for our transgressions" and "bruised for our iniquities" (Is. 53:5). He took on Himself the "chastisement," or punishment, that we deserved for our sins. He did not want to suffer, but He submitted to suffering because of His love for us.

Hundreds of years before Jesus came, Isaiah described in remarkable detail how the Messiah would suffer on our behalf:

Isaiah's Prophecy	Fulfillment
He would be exalted (Is. 52:13).	Phil. 2:9
He would be disfigured by suffering (Is 52:14; 53:2).	Mark 15:17, 19
He would make a blood atonement (Is. 52:15).	1 Pet. 1:2
He would be widely rejected (Is. 53:1, 3).	John 12:37, 38
He would bear our sins and sorrows (Is. 53:4, 5).	Rom. 4:25; 1 Pet. 2:24, 25
He would be our substitute (Is. 56:6, 8).	2 Cor. 5:21
He would voluntarily accept our guilt and punishment (Is. 53:7, 8).	John 10:11; 19:30
He would be buried in a rich man's tomb (Is. 53:9).	John 19:38–42
He would save those who believe in Him (Is. 53:10, 11).	John 3:16; Acts 16:31
He would die on behalf of transgressors (Is. 53:12).	Mark 15:27, 28; Luke 22:37

Portrait of a Husband

Is. 54:5

Men who struggle to define what it means to be a good husband might find help in Isaiah's description of God, the "husband" of Israel. Isaiah's portrait suggests that a godly husband . . .

- helps his wife find fulfillment (Is. 54:1–3),
- seeks to allay her fears (54:4, 14, 15),
- builds up her reputation (54:4),
- displays godly character toward his partner (54:5),
- does not allow prolonged conflict or lingering anger to distance him from his wife (54:6–8),
- replaces anger with kindness (54:9, 10),
- brings comfort in the midst of stress (54:11, 12),
- teaches their children to follow God (54:13), and
- protects his wife from danger (54:16, 17).

God's relationship toward Israel is a picture of selflessness, commitment, and the exceptional gifts that define a spouse who loves with a godly love.

Blind Watchmen

Is. 56:9–12

Even as Isaiah preached the availability of God's salvation to all people (Is. 56:1–8), he warned them about a group of blind watchmen who would be found sleeping on the job.

The Israelites erected towers in fields, pastures, and vineyards to enable watchmen to keep a lookout for wild animals, thieves, and other potential hazards. The security of crops, animals, and property depended on these guards, so the blind watchmen that Isaiah described were not only futile but dangerous.

These sightless guards may have symbolized the false prophets and corrupt religious leaders of Isaiah's day, as well as rulers and government officials who were foolish, incompetent, lazy, greedy, or irresponsible. The denunciation of derelict watchmen may also prophetically refer to the corrupt leaders of Jesus' day, who stubbornly opposed God's Son (Matt. 23:16, 17).

Whoever these leaders are, the Lord condemns them for failing in their responsibilities. His words warn everyone in leadership today—including spiritual leadership—to stay alert, watching not for our own gain or personal welfare but for the well-being of the people God has appointed us to serve.

Bad Religion

Is. 58:1–14

Jesus reserved His harshest criticisms for spiritual hypocrites (Matt. 23:13–26). Isaiah, too, rebuked God's people for practicing bad religion—empty rituals that benefited no one and offended the Lord. The prophet focused specifically on fasting (Is. 58:2–5), pointing out the people's abuses of this spiritual discipline:

- They nagged God for their own gain.
- They sought their own interests at the same time that they exploited their workers.
- Their fasts created strife, debate, and hostility.
- They used fasting to attract attention to themselves.

Isaiah then described what fasting should accomplish when it was brought on by purer motivations (58:6–13):

- It should result in relieving the oppressed.
- It created a situation in which to feed the hungry.
- It should cause the poor to be sheltered and clothed.
- Evil should decline.
- Finger-pointing should disappear.
- It should result in repaired relationships.
- It should restore the Sabbath to a day to worship rather an opportunity to continue working for personal profit.

It's easy to point fingers at others and criticize their religious practices. But the ones to look most closely at is ourselves. Invite God to show you places your own faith patterns measure up to the Lord's description of true religion, and to illuminate places to change your bad religion to good devotion.

Real Worship

Is. 58:6–12

Singing, reading Scripture, reciting prayers, listening to sermons, and taking communion can all be acts of worship. But they are preparation for more foundational worship. Isaiah shows that true worship goes beyond what happens inside the walls of God's house.

Isaiah saw many people full of religion but lacking in action. They "afflicted their souls" with fasting, "delighted" to know God's ways, inquired about "the ordinances of justice," and enjoyed rituals of worship (Is. 58:2, 3). Yet little of their piety extended beyond their inner selves. Nevertheless, they expected God to answer their prayers and bless them.

God thundered that true worship is not a mere facet of life but an entire lifestyle. What happens in a house of prayer belongs equally in the public square.

Real worship means responding to the hungry, the homeless, the prisoner, the minimum-wage worker, the debtor, the poor, and the hopeless. It includes treating well those in your own household. As Isaiah told the people of his day, God will not shower blessings on His people while they withhold good things from others (58:8, 9, 11, 12). From the Lord's point of view, real worship leads to loving action. The church gathered for worship on Sunday should become the church scattered for service on Monday through Saturday.

More: For more on worshiping throughout the week, see "Connecting Sunday to Monday" at Acts 2:46, 47. In his seminal work The Normal Christian Life*, Watchman Nee emphasized the Christian's inner spiritual life over outward conformity to ritual.*

Bad Business

Is. 59:1–15

The prophet Isaiah taught that faith should remake how God's followers do business. He called the Israelites to gauge their work by the Lord's clear standards. He found that the people of his day failed to measure up.

- They profited through manipulation.
- Their words were untrustworthy.
- Their evil acts poisoned the economic system.
- They had the blood of injustice on their hands.
- They exploited others through intrigue and violence.
- They left a trail of destruction in their wake.
- They ignored opportunities to engage in peaceful and just business.
- Their work was marked by darkness.

Isaiah challenges us to assess our work, testing whether our faith makes any difference in how we do our jobs. Others should see us as a source of long-term benefit and economic justice, not as a cause of trouble and net loss to an enterprise. If we are unsure how our work measures up, we should seek out honest appraisers.

More: Bad business goes hand in hand with spiritual abuses. See "Bad Religion" at Is. 58:1–14. Christians are called to work in a way that attracts others to Christ. See "Your Workstyle" at Titus 2:9–11.

Causes for Separation from God

Is. 59:2

The people of Isaiah's day felt that God had turned His back on their country. As they faced a dark and hazardous world, they looked for God's guidance but did not find it. They hoped that God would take up their cause and defend them, but help did not come (Is. 59:9, 10).

The problem was not with God but with the people: their own sins were separating them from the Lord (59:1, 2, 12).

Their failures were not occasional lapses of morality but a thoroughgoing acceptance of sin. Isaiah describes a society prone to violence, lies, and patterns of evil that were repeated by each passing generation (59:3–8). Absent were the justice, righteousness, truth, and equity that should characterize God's people (59:14). The Lord was deeply displeased. So instead of blessing his people's iniquity by relieving their troubles, He stood against them (59:15–18).

Israel had a relationship with God unlike that of any other country then or now. But God always opposes societies that dishonor Him. Where sin is widespread, institutionalized, and culturally sanctioned, we can expect to see Him bring wrongdoers to judgment.

A Self-Proclamation

Is. 61:1, 2

Jesus launched His ministry in his hometown of Nazareth by preaching from Isaiah 61:1, 2. He read the passage up through the phrase, "to proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD." He then startled His listeners by announcing, "Today this Scripture is fulfilled in your hearing" (Luke 4:21), thus declaring Himself to be the Messiah. Jesus then said other things that also surprised and outraged His listeners. For more, see "A Surprising First Message" at Luke 4:16–27.

Reason to Work

Is. 61:4–9

Drawing a paycheck is an inadequate reason to work—at least, according to Scripture. Earning a living is only part of God's intention for our labor. Every job gives us a chance to be like the citizens of Zion: "priests of the LORD" and "servants of our God" who discharge His assignments faithfully wherever He puts us. Note the interesting tasks that these servants accomplish:

- They rebuild ruined buildings.
- They undo desolation.
- They repair ruined communities.
- They recover what previous generations have lost.
- They produce food by working with strangers and foreigners.
- They break free of shame and earn double honor.
- They rejoice in their assignments.
- They are known and respected.

These workers do good to creation and enjoy the rewards of their labors, and their perspective can turn jobs into holy assignments. The Lord wants us to be dedicated to Him in all that we do, making our day-to-day responsibilities and relationships into opportunities to serve Him.

The High Calling of Marriage

Is. 62:1–5

In order to understand what God had in mind when He designed marriage, we can look at His own "marriage" to Israel. Notice what God as the bridegroom does for His bride:

- He protects and purifies her.
- He honors and values her.
- He identifies Himself with her.

Paul later recast this bridal portrait of God and Israel when he described the relationship between Christ and the Church (Eph. 5:21–33). Once again, the bridegroom shows His love by protecting and purifying His bride, honoring and valuing her, and identifying Himself with her. Paul urged Christians to use this model to build their own marriages. There is no higher love and commitment than when we exhibit God's character toward Israel and Christ's passion for the Church. This is the heart of a biblical marriage.

The Dream Lives On

Is. 65:18

Utopian schemes always collapse under the weight of human sin. Yet the dream of a perfect world lives on—and for good reason—because it was God's intention for His creation.

God placed humankind in a flawless world, and He promises to one day restore His creation to its original purpose and perfection (Rev. 21:1–4).

In the meantime, mankind lives with a memory of what Eden was and a hope of what the new creation will be. God keeps our vision alive with occasional glimpses into a better reality:

- Genesis described Eden as a perfect garden set in a world that was "very good" (Gen. 1:1–2:25).
- The Law promised peace and prosperity if Israel upheld God's commandments (Lev. 26:3). While not a return to Eden, life in the Promised Land would share many of its blessings.

- Psalms showed a fallen world nevertheless maintained by the Lord, a place where God rejoices in His handiwork (Ps. 104:24–30).
- Isaiah foresaw "new heavens and a new earth" that was without weeping, sin, or death. God's people will construct homes in a renewed Jerusalem and find satisfying work (Is. 65:17–23).
- Paul looked forward to creation being set free from "futility" and God's people from "the bondage of corruption" (Rom. 8:19–25).

God's people live in perpetual hope in God and in His purposes.

More: Although we live in a fallen world, we can certainly do our best to uphold Christlike living. Martin Luther King Jr. drew upon this longing when he fought tirelessly for racial equality.

Meet the Person

Is. 66:18–21

We can experience a piece of heaven on earth as we learn to communicate with, understand, and trust others who are unlike us in ethnic background, language, culture, gender, age, tradition, or other traits that often divide but can also enrich. Our experiences not only improve this world but ready us for the next. This starts by meeting a person, and getting to know that individual.

In Isaiah's final prophecy, Tarshish and the other cities he lists represent the ends of the earth. These distant lands have not heard of God or seen what He has done, but He will send messengers to them who will in turn recruit representatives to come to Him at His holy mountain.

Isaiah's vision is all the more interesting when read from a New Testament perspective. Jesus sent His followers out from Jerusalem to "all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth" (Acts 1:8). He sent them to "make disciples of all the nations" (Matt. 28:19).

Isaiah’s vision and the church’s mission have not changed. Christ still wants His people to carry His message to the ends of the earth. He continues to build a people from “all nations and tongues” (Is. 66:18). To the extent that we participate in that effort, we help to complete His plan.

The Lord will one day bring together people from every nation to live together under His lordship. He will triumph over the tensions that exist today between different races, colors, customs, and cultures.

Surmounting our differences relies on a realization that God has brought all peoples into being, and He calls all of us to live under Him (66:19; compare Gen. 10). Isaiah’s vision of international blessing and worldwide unity echoes God’s promise to Abraham and Sarah, that through them “all the families of the earth shall be blessed” (Gen. 12:2, 3). It also anticipates John’s apocalyptic vision of people from “every tribe and tongue and people and nation” worshiping and serving the Lord (Rev. 5:9, 10, 7:9).
